① Your tuition cost, also known as net tuition, is the cost of tuition, minus your grants and scholarships. Since your scholarships and grants will increase each year, your net tuition cost stays the same. The result? You don't need to worry about annual tuition increases.

Ensuring your success from every angle — like no one else can.

By working with your academic adviser and following your degree plan, we help ensure you will graduate on time — and be poised for a successful future.

Your estimated four-year gift aid is $95,210 (including a $55,810 merit scholarship, $4,000 textbook scholarship and $3,000 summer abroad scholarship).

We're invested in your success. Through grants and scholarships, the University is contributing 40% to your tuition.

Employers want global leaders, and you can globalize your education at the University of Dayton China Institute at no additional cost.

Unlike other universities, we have no fees for labs, courses, etc. This could save you up to $12,000 in unexpected fees over four years.

Because you received the textbook scholarship, we will provide $4,000 toward your textbooks.

② This four-year overview is based on your projected graduation in May 2019.

③ Residential students are required to live on campus and have a meal plan for the first two years. The amounts shown are for the most popular options.

④ Nonbillable expenses include transportation and projected personal expenses that won't appear on your bill. The third and fourth year values include estimated meal costs, if you opt not to purchase a meal plan.

⑤ If you prefer to budget your costs on a monthly basis, payment options are available. Your personal savings can also be used to meet your costs.

⑥ Education loans are an option available to finance your costs. Consider interest rates and repayment terms before borrowing. Actual amounts may vary based on your financial circumstances.
