

This letter is directed to all students at K.S.U. who organized, supported or in any way participated in or observed the recent tragic events on campus. The entire nation was shocked, frightened, and appalled at these events but probably none as badly as you were. For many of you this was your first close encounter with sudden, violent death.

But death is not a new arrival on the K.S.U. campus. Remember, just last month Jerry Rubin came to Kent and told you that you should be ready to kill your own parents in support of "the revolution."

Unquestionably a few were glad this tragedy took place and will seek to cause others. But for the majority of you who were saddened--if you don't like the heat perhaps now is a good time to get out of the kitchen.
