To the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office case number 10-405941.
To the associated Oregon Health & Sciences University (OHSU) medical records received on October 15, 2010.

MENTIONED OFFICER:

Detective James Eriksen, Multnomah County Sheriff's Office

MENTIONED:

Kyeron Jarrel Fair, DOB: 7/29/93

Kelli Jarrell, previously mentioned

SUMMARY:

On September 13, 2010 FAIR was arrested by the Portland Police Bureau and charged with multiple crimes related to an armed robbery. FAIR was lodged at the Juvenile Detention Hall (JDH); he was transferred to the Multnomah County Detention Center (MCDC) on September 17, 2010; FAIR was a patient, while in custody, at the Oregon Health & Sciences University (OHSU) on September 17-18 and September 21 – October 11, 2010. FAIR was diagnosed with a mental illness and pneumomediastinum. The Oregon State Police was asked to assist the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office with an investigation of FAIR's incarceration, any use of force, and whether or not any of FAIR's medical conditions are a result of treatment, or lack of, by employees at JDH and MCDC.

As part of this investigation, I received phone calls from Kelli Jarrell on November 8th and 12th, during which she expressed her concerns about the investigation and we agreed on what questions she wants to have answered. Mrs. Jarrell wants to know if anybody mistreated her son, and if they did they should be held accountable. Mrs. Jarrell wants to a history of her son's medical care—observations, opinions, and treatment, beginning the date of his arrest.

ACTION TAKEN:

On Wednesday October 13, 2010 at approximately 6:30pm Detective Sergeant Harrington asked me to assist the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office (MCSO) with an investigation. At approximately 8:30pm I met Detective Sergeant Lee Gosson and Detective James Eriksen at the MCSO.

Sergeant Gosson provided a copy of a newspaper article that had been printed in "The Portland Skanner". The article described the arrest of 17-year-old Kyeron Fair, who had later been transferred to the Oregon Health Sciences University (OHSU). The article was written by Lisa Loving and printed October 12, 2010.

Sergeant Gosson told us the county had been notified a tort claim had been filed by the child's mother and we were being asked to investigate the matter. We were not given a copy of the tort claim and we weren't given any details about the complaint.

We developed a list of tasks to accomplish as quickly as possible. Following is a list of those tasks and, if applicable, the resolution:

1. Collect MCDC log books that were used during observation of Kyeron at OHSU. Completed
2. Collect MCDC diary that was used during observation at Kyeron at OHSU. Completed
3. Collect MCDC booking videos. Completed
4. Check for videos in the MCDC psychiatric unit. Completed: there are no videos in that area
5. Collect all associated PPB reports. Completed
6. Check for any use-of-force reports filed at PPB. Completed. No such reports were filed. At the time this list was created, we didn't know anything about the arrest and interview by PPB.
7. Collect JDH disciplinary records and use-of-force reports. Completed: these reports were provided through County attorney Stephen Madkour.
8. Request all MCSO use-of-force reports. Completed: all reports were received by Detective Eriksen.
9. Request, via subpoena, all County Medical reports. Completed and received.
10. Conduct necessary staff interviews at JDH and MCDC. In-process: interviews are being performed as time permits and as information leads to the necessity of interviews with particular persons.
11. Subpoena medical records from OHSU. Completed
12. Research e-SWIS records. Completed by Detective Eriksen
13. Subpoena school records. Completed
14. Request Parkrose High School video of the arrest, if available. The video is unavailable at this late date, according to PPB School Resource Officer John Romero.
15. Contact county counsel to request reports and videos. Completed
16. Check for jail calls and visiting records. Completed: no calls or visits.
17. Request all records/reports from JDH. Completed
18. Interview Kyeron Fair. Completed
19. Check for Kyeron's MySpace account. Completed: Detective Eriksen was unable to locate an account.
20. Check with PPB and MCSO for any prior complaints that may have been filed by Kyeron's parents. Completed: no such complaints were found
21. Try to determine why a physical assessment was performed if Kyeron was taken to OHSU for a psychotic episode. Completed: information is in the OHSU medical records.
22. Request Trillium Children's Farm Home records, because Kyeron's mom said the staff expressed shock about his injuries. Completed

23. Request the PPB arrest reports. Completed
24. Determine what cell phone number(s), if any, Kyeron uses. Completed
25. Determine if there is any video footage available at JDH. Completed
26. Determine if Kyeron has any inmate property at JDH or MCDC.
Completed: no inmate property.
27. Request the PPB suspect interview video. Completed: video was requested and made available to Detective Eriksen.

On October 14, 2010 DDA Greg Moawad advised he has been assigned to assist with the investigation. He told us Greg Kaffoury, attorney, filed the tort claim on behalf of the child's family Detective Eriksen and I requested multiple subpoenas through the Multnomah County District Attorney's office.

I called and spoke with attorney Greg Kafoury at approximately 9:48am. I introduced myself and explained I'd been assigned to assist Detective Eriksen with the investigation. Mr. Kafoury agreed to make Kelli Jarrell available for an interview later that afternoon, at his office at 1:30pm. He agreed to make Kyeron Fair available for an interview, but he doubted it would be productive because "He's psychotic". He told me Kyeron was not psychotic when he was arrested and lodged. He told me Kyeron does not have a history of mental illness. (Refer to Detective Eriksen's report for details about Mrs. Jarrell's recorded interview)

At approximately 10:14am I spoke with PPB School Resource Officer Hank Hayes. He told me he transported Kyeron Fair from Parkrose High School to Central Precinct after Detective Hollins made the arrest. SRO Hayes told me he was not the arresting officer. SRO Hayes told me the transport was uneventful, but Kyeron did say he wanted to speak with his mother and SRO Hayes promised to relay his request to the detectives. SRO Hayes told me he wrote a report about his involvement.

Later that afternoon, I spoke with PPB School Resource Officer Romero. I asked Officer Romero for assistance locating video surveillance of Kyeron's September 13th arrest at Parkrose High School. SRO Romero told me there is video surveillance at the high school but it was his understanding the retention period was about three weeks, so it was probably unavailable; but, he was going to check with the IT department. SRO Romero told me the earliest available Parkrose High School video was September 22, 2010.

On October 15th I faxed Mrs. Jarrell's signed Authorization to Release Medical Information form to Trillium Family Services—Children's Farm Home. I called the program and informed Connie McCutcheon that I was going to send the authorization form.

I called PPB—PIO Peter Simpson and asked if he could provide recordings of the television news reports referencing this investigation.

I called PPB Robbery Sergeant Joe Santos. Sergeant Santos told me he has been made aware of this investigation. Sergeant Santos told me he and his officers would make all reports and interview recordings available to us. Sergeant Santos told us his officers would fully cooperate and they would provide anything we ask for.

At approximately 11:00am Detective Eriksen and I interviewed Anthony Stewart at JDH. Refer to Detective Eriksen's interview report.

At approximately 1:35pm we delivered Mrs. Jarrell's signed Authorization to Release Medical Information form to OHSU. The records department copied all available medical records and gave them to me at that time. Refer to my summary report of the OHSU medical records.

On October 19, 2010 Detective Eriksen and I interviewed MCSO Corrections Sergeant Michael Phelps. The interview was conducted in Captain Bishop's office from approximately 4:10pm until 4:50pm.

On Wednesday October 20th I received subpoenaed records from the Multnomah County Mental Health and Addiction Services. I delivered the records to Detective Eriksen; he requested permission to examine the records from a Multnomah County Grand Jury and was granted permission to do so.

On Thursday October 21st Detective Eriksen and I interviewed Melanie Parker, Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner at MCDC. Refer to Detective Eriksen's interview report.

On Thursday October 21st Detective Eriksen and I interviewed Corrections Deputy Tim Barker. Refer to my interview report and transcript.

On Monday October 25th I interviewed OHSU Dr. Robert Cloutier. Refer to my interview report.

On October 26th Mr. Kafoury and I scheduled an interview with Kyeron Fair at Trillium—Children's Farm Home. Mr. Kafoury spoke with Mrs. Jarrell and she wanted to be present. I re-faxed the Authorization to Release Medical Records to the Children's Farm Home and scheduled the interview with them. The interview was scheduled for November 3rd at 11:30am.

On October 27th Detective Eriksen and I interviewed Multnomah County Corrections Deputy Mike DeLuca. Refer to Detective Eriksen's interview report.

On November 2, 2010 Detective Eriksen and I interviewed JDH Customer Services Manger Craig Bachman. Refer to Detective Eriksen's interview report.

SUMMARY:

On September 13, 2010 FAIR was arrested by the Portland Police Bureau and charged with multiple crimes related to an armed robbery. FAIR was lodged at the Juvenile Detention Hall (JDH); he was transferred to the Multnomah County Detention Center (MCDC) on September 17, 2010; FAIR was a patient, while in custody, at the Oregon Health & Sciences University (OHSU) on September 17-18 and September 21 – October 11, 2010. FAIR was diagnosed with a mental illness and pneumomediastinum. The Oregon State Police was asked to assist the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office with an investigation of FAIR's incarceration, any use of force, and whether or not any of FAIR's medical conditions are a result of treatment, or lack of, by employees at JDH and MCDC.

As part of this investigation, I obtained a copy of FAIR's medical records from OHSU. I have reviewed the medical records and summarized them in chronological order, on the following pages.

ACTION TAKEN:

On October 14, 2010 Kelli Jarrell, Kyeron Fair's mother, signed an authorization to release medical records from the Oregon Health & Sciences University (OHSU). The form was signed in the presence of her attorney—Greg Kafoury, Detective Eriksen and I. Detective Eriksen and I delivered the signed form to the OHSU Medical Records Department, the next day. We were given the records before we left.

I reviewed the OHSU medical records and compiled a summary of the reports, in chronological order.

9/17 1154 Mark P. Vantighem, MD OHSU Medical Records

MCDC Nurse Tori reported FAIR had refused to eat for 24 hours at JDH. FAIR was transported to OHSU by EMS. FAIR was tazed twice by jail deputies, due to unwillingness to get onto the medical stretcher and erratic behavior. FAIR had been exhibiting suicidal and erratic behavior. Nurse Tori requested an examination for medical work-up versus behavioral.

Upon presentation at OHSU--ED, FAIR was screaming, mumbling unrecognizable sounds, not oriented and in 4-point restraints. FAIR had been in MCDC custody for only a few hours today, after being transferred from JDH because the juvenile system was unable to maintain his care.

FAIR has been on a three (3) day food and water strike. FAIR's mother had told the jail's medical staff that her son's behaviors prior to incarceration were "normal". FAIR had tied something around his neck, and had refused to remove it, earlier in the day.

Project Respond had been consulted earlier and they recommended FAIR be evaluated at OHSU to determine if this was a medical or psychiatric situation.

FAIR was given sedatives to calm him down. Efforts to assess FAIR at the time of his arrival were unsuccessful. Plans were made to evaluate FAIR after he calmed down and the lab results were back; if all medical work up appeared to be in the normal range, then Social Workers and Child Psychiatry would likely be involved to determine if FAIR's symptoms were behavioral or psychiatric.

9/17 2355 Robert Cloutier, MD OHSU Medical Records

Dr. Cloutier performed and confirmed the key portions of this service. He reviewed all nursing notes, vital signs and diagnostic test results. He agreed w/the documentation findings and plan of care.

Clinical Impression:

1. Agitation likely behavioral

Disposition:

Patient likely to be discharged to police custody in stable condition w/plans to follow-up with inmate healthcare. All indications for emergent re-evaluation discussed with pt prior to dc and she expressed understanding.

CT Head without contrast collected at 18:04. Findings are normal, with the exception of extensive air in the subcutaneous spaces of the face and parapharyngeal regions, greater on the left, with no evidence for fracture of the skull to account for this. The source must be lower in the neck or chest. The subcutaneous air in the face is greater on the left side than the right side. Reviewed by Dr. Gary Nesbitt

US Abdomen Limited: right upper quadrant was examined by Radiology because of elevated liver enzymes. Nothing remarkable was found.

CXR and CT

X-Ray Chest 2 View was ordered on 9/21, the results were provided on 9/22 at 8:42 am. Findings were a focal consolidation noted in the lower left lobe; pneumomediastinum is present, with air tracking into the soft tissues of the lower neck; no pneumothorax is seen; the aortic arch and gastric bubble are left-sided. Impression: Pneumomediastinum. No pneumothorax seen. Focal left lower lobe consolidation may be due to atelectasis or pneumonia. Reviewed by Dr. Kelli Schmitz

CT Chest, Abdomen & Pelvis w/ IV Contrast exam, reviewed by Dr. Katharine L. Hopkins, Dr. Kari Thomas, and Dr. Burke.

Findings:

Extensive pneumomediastinum with gas extending from mediastinum into the neck, anterior chest wall, axillae, and upper left retroperitoneum. No definable defect in trachea or esophagus. No pneumothorax. Small blebs versus interstitial gas in posterior right upper lobe. Small amount of interstitial gas in left lung. Otherwise, clear lungs. Normal appearance of heart and great vessels. No pleural or pericardial effusion.

Abdomen: Focal hepatic steatosis adjacent to the fissure for ligamentum teres; liver otherwise unremarkable. Pancreas, spleen, kidneys, adrenal glands, and bowel are unremarkable. An appendicolith is noted without periappendiceal inflammation.

Pelvis: Unremarkable. No free air or fluid. Chronic-appearing nondisplaced fracture of right L1 transverse process. No acute osseous abnormality.

Impression:

1. Pneumomediastinum, likely related to ruptured alveolus. Tracheal or esophageal injury is not excluded by this examination, though none is seen.
2. No acute abnormality in the abdomen or pelvis.

Lab results of a drug screen finalized at 9/21 at 5:43pm, note that cannabinoids are not recorded—negative for marijuana.

Blood collected for culture on 9/21, results come back on 9/24—positive for coagulase negative staphylococcus species, 2-colony types.

9/21 1903 Katrina Leone, MD OHSU Medical Records

FAIR was presented to the ED with agitation. The Jail Nurse reported two concerns: agitation and abnormal labs. FAIR had been seen at the Doernbecher ED a few days ago (9/17). On 9/17 FAIR had been yelling, screaming and was uncooperative; however, his mental status improved with time. FAIR's behavior is thought to be volitional.

FAIR was sent to OHSU—ED today because he had continual outbursts of agitation that required multiple officers to restrain him, or tazing. The MCDC medical staff is concerned because FAIR has been difficult to care for and they were concerned he would harm himself during these outbursts. Lab work done at the jail showed elevated white blood cell count and transaminitis.

On arrival at ED, FAIR was in 4-point cuffs and police escort. FAIR is able to be calmed with repeated verbal requests. FAIR was cooperative with blood draw and vital signs. FAIR was speaking in short phrases that are mostly nonsense and he was repeating himself; he yelled out occasionally.

SEPTEMBER 22, 2010

Lab results at 2:51am show a positive response for cannabinoids in the drug screen, urine. Lab results at 1:11pm are negative for ethanol in a blood screen.

X-ray Portable Chest View 1, 9/22, 08:37, reviewed by Dr. Kelli Schmitz. A frontal view of the chest was obtained in an upright position. Pneumomediastinum is slightly less conspicuous. Soft tissue air in the upper chest remains. No pneumothorax is seen. Left lower lobe consolidation is less conspicuous and may have been due to atelectasis.

17 yoa FAIR tazed multiple times for violent behavior at detention facility; admitted with altered MS; found pneumomediastinum on CT as incidental finding.

Assessment and plan, page 37 of 44

1. Altered MS-agitated-given benzos here in ICU now obtunded. CT head negative. UDS negative except for marijuana. Not academic—he's been isolated in custody, but he has elevated LFT's in pattern of alcohol.
2. Pneumomediastinum-unclear history, recent trauma is possibility with extreme violent behavior but no fx ribs or sternum he does c/o tenderness on upper sternum.

FAIR had disorganized thinking for a few days with violent outbursts. History is limited. Unclear if psychotic or something else. Will attempt to get more history—recent alcohol, ingestions, etc.

*Dr. Phillips is the attending physician

9/22 1839 Dr. Jon Boyum OHSU Medical Records

*also attended by Dr. Paul Schipper and Dr. Christopher R. Burke

The head CT revealed subcutaneous air. This led to a CT of the chest, abdomen/pelvis which showed pneumomediastinum w/o an obvious source. FAIR was unable to give a history and there was no known trauma or ingestion. FAIR would not answer questions.

No obvious external signs of trauma.
Subcutaneous air over his chest and base of the neck.
Respiration and cardiovascular are good, regular.

FAIR was recently tazered. Pneumomediastinum of uncertain etiology.

Findings Chest: Extensive pneumomediastinum with gas extending from mediastinum into the neck, anterior chest wall, axillae, and upper left retroperitoneum. No definable defect in trachea or esophagus. No pneumothorax. Small blebs versus interstitial gas in posterior right upper lobe. Small amount of interstitial gas in left lung. Otherwise, clear lungs. Normal appearance of heart and great vessels. No pleural or pericardial effusion.

Abdomen: Focal hepatic steatosis adjacent to fissure ligamentum teres; liver otherwise unremarkable. Pancreas, spleen, kidneys, adrenal glands, and bowel are unremarkable. An appendicolith is noted without periappendiceal inflammation.

Pelvis: Normal. No free air or fluid.

Chronic-appearing nondisplaced fracture of right L1 transverse process. No acute osseous abnormality.

Impression:

Pneumomediastinum, likely related to ruptured alveolus. Tracheal or esophageal injury is not excluded by this examination, though none is seen.

No acute abnormality in the abdomen or pelvis.

Procedure, exam and report by Dr. Kari Thomas. Discussed with Dr. Burke and Dr. Thomas at 12:51am on 9/21/

Assessment and Plan:

FAIR presents with mental status changes and finding of pneumomediastinum. There are no findings on CT to suggest pneumothorax or esophageal injury. We are unable to obtain any further history or details on exam. This may represent spontaneous pneumomediastinum, but FAIR should have an esophogram to rule out esophageal perforation. At present, FAIR will not cooperate with this study, therefore OHSU will follow clinically. If FAIR shows evidence of sepsis, he will require intubation with sedation to further evaluate his esophagus.

Patient examined by Dr. Katharine Hopkins and Dr. Schipper.

45-minute with FAIR. FAIR was not answering questions. Information was collected from other sources. FAIR was awake and alert, but did not speak. It was unclear if FAIR understood what Dr. Schipper was telling him. The MICU team was evaluating FAIR to determine if it has an organic basis or otherwise.

Reports indicate FAIR was possibly combative and restrained by guards. FAIR developed pneumomediastinum. Report said FAIR swallowed a razor blade, but there was no evidence of a foreign body in the full-body imaging.

PE: Abdomen soft and tender. Chest with crepitation in neck, upper chest. No crepitation in abdomen or arms or face.

CT Chest with pneumomediastinum appearing to originate from lungs—track up bronchi but source is unclear. No pleural effusions, no mediastinal fluid collections.

Impression: Pneumomediastinum. Most likely diagnosis is spontaneous primary pneumomediastinum from ruptured aleoli/baro trauma. Cannot rule out esophageal perforation and would recommend obtaining swallow study. FAIR was unable to cooperate with swallow study at the time. Would clinically observe. If worsens, will need to determine if he has decisional capacity and if not obtain consent for intubation and swallow study using NG tube. Would need swallow study to determine location of esophageal injury if needs surgical repair.

9/22 1929 Dr. Ogheneteg Badidi OHSU Medical Records

Patient History: FAIR was fine and had no issues on Monday morning September 13th. Dad was the last to see him. Dad gave him money to take the bus to school. FAIR was arrested at school, for armed robbery, and taken to JDH. JDH has not provided any verbal or written records to contribute to this history.

FAIR developed AMS at JDH with behaviors like combativeness, agitation, refusal to eat or drink, decreased communication with others, self-injurious behavior, and inappropriate speech and affect. FAIR was transported from JDH to MCDC on September 17th because he was difficult to manage.

At MCDC, FAIR continued bizarre behaviors and was tazed a couple of times. FAIR was seen at Doernbecher-ED on September 18th and was thought to exhibit volitional behavior. Drug screen drawn at Doernbecher-ED was significant for cannabinoids.

FAIR was discharged from Doernbecher-ED and returned to MCDC. At MCDC, FAIR continued to behave strangely. FAIR was given Geodone, Ativan, and Risperdal to help with symptoms. Labs drawn at MCDC showed elevated LFT's and elevated WBC. FAIR was returned to OHSU-ED on September 21st.

At the OHSU-ED, FAIR exhibited continued agitation and couldn't provide much history. FAIR had NCHCT what showed edema and air in subcutaneous tissues of his face. FAIR was given CXR and Chest CT that showed pneumomediastinum. FAIR's labs at OHSU-ED were normal except for elevation of Tbili and transaminitis. LP was performed and was within normal limits (wnl). FAIR was transferred to ICU.

General Appearance: NAD, apprehensive, terrified, refusing to open eyes or mouth.

Cardiac: Tachycardic, regular rhythm, no murmurs.

Neck: soft, supple, with crepitus on bilaterally

Gastrointestinal: soft, nontender, nondistended, voluntary guarding, liver edge felt below costal margin in midclavicular line.

Musculoskeletal: Crepitus and edema in supraclavicular area, area tender to touch.

Skin: superficial skin injury in wrist b/l, and in shoulders

Neurologic: Couldn't assess b/c FAIR wouldn't cooperate

Psychiatric: Scared, not communicative

Assessment and Plan: FAIR presents with AMS following incarceration. FAIR has pneumomediastinum, air in soft tissues of face, elevated LFT's, benign CSF analysis.

Neuro:

AMS: Etiology unknown. Parents say FAIR had no issues prior to incarceration. JDH had provided no data and the data provided by MCDC failed to shed light on etiology of AMS. FAIR was seen by psych who couldn't do an adequate evaluation. This could be a psychotic outbreak due to stressors or due to ingestion of toxic substances.

Respiratory:

Pneumomediastinum: This could be caused by trauma, vomiting leading to Boerhaave's syndrome, or it could just be spontaneous. There is no history of vomiting. This is likely caused by trauma relating to FAIR's arrest and incarceration. Tenderness in upper-chest, over the sternal notch. CT with no signs of rupture of esophagus, or large airway abnormalities.

GI:

Elevated LFT's: Etiology of this is unknown. No history of ingestions of toxic substances. AST>ALT suggesting alcoholic pattern, however, parents denies history of alcohol use/abuse.

Musculoskeletal:

Elevated CPK: Levels trending down. Likely due to trauma from incarceration.

9/23 2211 Dr. Craigan T. Usher, psychiatry OHSU Medical Records

Inpatient Psychiatric Consultation

Dr. Usher reports the same history that was provided by Dr. Badidi, page. 28.

Dr. Usher reports, upon entering FAIR's room, FAIR stared at him and was unable or unwilling to answer questions. FAIR eventually stared off to the side for several minutes before closing his eyes. FAIR has consumed very little food or drink over the past week. Earlier during the admission, FAIR was overheard talking to his mother saying "is anyone listening, can anyone hear us?" According to his mother, FAIR has made statements about "things being in the food" and that is why he refused to eat. FAIR has appeared scared, disorganized, and has been unpredictably aggressive. A psychiatric review of systems could not be performed as FAIR did not speak.

Past Psychiatric History: None
Family Psychiatric History: 26-ya half-sister diagnosed with bi-polar disorder
Social History: Lives at home with his mother
Legal History: In custody of the Multnomah County Jail for charges of armed robbery; apparently accused of stealing marijuana and using a handgun.
Substance History: Cannabis found in urine toxicology screen

Past Medical History: No known past medical history
Current Medical Problems: 1) Altered Mental Status (AMS); 2) Pneumomediastinum;
3) Elevated AST/ALT levels; and 4) Elevated CPK levels.

MENTAL STATUS EXAMINATION (P.26 of 44):

FAIR appears well developed and well nourished. FAIR was handcuffed to his hospital bed at his wrists and ankles. There are mild excoriations in the areas where his cuffs touch the skin. FAIR stared at the psychiatrist for several minutes without blinking or moving. FAIR did not respond to questions with verbal or motor responses. FAIR's grooming and hygiene were below average. No dysmorphic facial features were observed. FAIR was markedly hypoactive, but not rigid or with waxy flexibility. FAIR was virtually mute, though he did say "Stop!" when the psychiatrist was assessing his Babinski reflex. The psychiatrist was unable to assess FAIR's mood, which was described as "flat". The psychiatrist reported FAIR appeared profoundly disorganized, but this assessment was made through recent behavior and his inability to interact reasonably with others. FAIR's insight and judgment appear to be profoundly impaired.

Impression:

FAIR has no known psychiatric history. FAIR is being treated for injuries sustained in jail. FAIR has displayed multiple psychotic signs and symptoms over the past several days including disorganized speech and behavior, paranoid delusions, flat affect, and responding to internal stimuli. FAIR has recently become increasingly withdrawn with poverty of speech, hypoactivity, refusal to eat and drink, and negativism. At this time, FAIR appears to be suffering from catatonia which may be emerging from a primary psychotic process. Using the Bush-Francis Catatonia Rating Scale the patient currently scores at 21.

Although FAIR has several medical issues including pneumomediastinum, air in the soft tissues of the face, elevated LFT's and elevated CPK levels, most of those problems can be attributed to recent physical trauma suffered while in jail. It is highly unlikely FAIR's bizarre behavior is secondary to a primary medical problem.

Of concern is FAIR may have suffered from Neuroleptic malignant Syndrome (NMS) as evidenced by the elevated CPK levels and temperature earlier on admission. However, evidence against NMS is that FAIR did not suffer from extreme rigidity and his CPK level and temperature are trending down.

It is unclear if this psychotic episode was precipitated by an ingestion or use of an illicit substance. Methamphetamine is only positive in the urine for 3-5 days and may not have been detected. FAIR's presentation is less consistent with delirium in that his mental status has not waxed and waned with moments of lucid interactions.

FAIR was seen by Dr. Craigan Usher and Rodney Reid, MD, PhD—Child and Adolescent Psychiatry Fellow

Attending Addendum

Dr. Usher spoke with FAIR's mother, Kelli Jarrell for 40-min. Her phone numbers are 503.222.1615 work and 503.252.3321 home.

Mrs. Jarrell reported FAIR has never struggled with psychiatric illness. She notes FAIR occasionally smoked marijuana, but feels he was honest about his limited use and was committed to not using in order to play high school sports.

Following his arrest on 9/13, FAIR was quite scared and sleep deprived. The following day she and FAIR's father were able to visit him after his court appearance, 9/14. She noted FAIR was jittery, made poor eye-contact, and perseverative, repeating the utterance "I didn't do it. I didn't do it" Can they hear me? Can they hear me? (as if there were cameras or microphones monitoring him) and also saying things that didn't make sense; for example, that he had been with a young man whom she knows (and knew that Kyeron had clearly been aware) has been in jail for over a year.

The next day (9/15) FAIR was visited by his high school basketball coach, Anthony Stewart, who works at the JDH. Mr. Stewart told her FAIR said he didn't recognize his coach and asked who he was. Mr. Stewart told her FAIR was agitated, poorly cooperative, and reporting that he believed his food was poisoned.

Mrs. Jarrell said she continued to receive reports throughout the last week (9/15-22) that FAIR was amped, pacing and uncooperative. At one point, FAIR wailed that he had "signed his rights away" and rejected an attorney, even though this didn't make legal sense and was not reality-based. FAIR refused to meet with his attorney or the psychologist whom the attorney asked him to work with.

Mrs. Jarrell reported that by 9/17 FAIR's condition had become so severe that he was being transferred to the MCDC-adult facility. On that same day, Mrs. Jarrell received a report that her son had attempted to strangle himself with a pillowcase. Medical notes show that after FAIR physically struggled with staff he was tazed twice then transferred to OHSU. FAIR was medically and psychiatrically evaluated in the ED that evening and discharged back to the MCSO.

After discharge from OHSU on 9/17 FAIR was returned to the adult jail. His behavior continued to be bizarre and was therefore returned to OHSU. In the OHSU-ED he received Versed and Geodon, to which his bizarre behavior did not respond.

In the ICU, FAIR demonstrated anorexia, near mutism, negativism with marked physical hypersensitivity, staring, verbigeration, combativeness, which accompanies his elevated CPK, mild transaminitis, and transient temperature elevation in the absence of findings on contrast head CT and LP.

It is noteworthy to mention that FAIR has a pneumomediastinum, with no white blood cell (WBC) spike—currently awaiting blood cultures. These features point toward catatonia which may stem from underlying vulnerability to affective illness (half-sister with recent manic bout), and underlying psychotic illness, and been sparked by insomnia and extreme stress and perhaps substance use (with a UDS + for THC).

SEPTEMBER 24, 2010

Blood collected for culture on 9/21, results come back on 9/24—positive for coagulase negative staphylococcus species, 2-colony types.

9/24 0102 Dr. Andrea J. Moore OHSU Medical Records
Dr. Moore was called by the ICU resident because FAIR was alert, psychotic and combative. FAIR had been calmed earlier in the evening with Ativan, but the second dose had little effect.

FAIR was sitting upright, in bed with 4-point restraints, when Dr. Moore entered his room. FAIR was alert and greeted Dr. Moore by telling her to “Get out of here. You’re the devil.” FAIR showed his middle finger to Dr. Moore, in response to her questions. FAIR told Dr. Moore, “Don’t come over here or I will knock you the fuck out.”

FAIR’s nurse reported he’d been having brief episodes of being non-verbal and with decreased motor activity throughout the day; but, he has more often been alert and interactive, speaking in partial sentences. Earlier in the afternoon, FAIR spoke with his mother, on a phone call. He spoke to his mother in almost full sentences.

Earlier in the day, while being evaluated by child psychiatry, FAIR displayed behaviors consistent with catatonia and Ativan was recommended as treatment. FAIR has since become more alert and interactive, but also grossly psychotic and at times agitated. It appears FAIR has a psychic illness that is not fully diagnosable at this point.

Child psychiatry suspects possible NMS. If FAIR develops muscle rigidity, worsening of temperature and CK, these would be signs concerning for NMS; however, those signs are not present.

SEPTEMBER 25, 2010

A comparison X-ray Portable chest 1 view was collected for comparison with the 9/22 x-ray. The images were reviewed by Dr. Petra Vajtai.

Impression: Near resolution of pneumomediastinum. Significant decrease in subcutaneous emphysema in the neck. Normal cardiac and mediastinal contours. Clear lungs. No pleural effusion or pneumothorax.

9/27 1214 Dr. Ogheneteg Badidi OHSU Medical Records
INTENSIVE CARE TRANSFER NOTE

HPI/Internal Events:

FAIR, a 17-year-old male, admitted for AMS. FAIR had no significant past medical history. FAIR was reportedly fine, with no issues, on the morning of Monday September 13th. FAIR was arrested that morning, at school, for armed robbery and was taken to JDH. There is a lack of detailed knowledge from JDH about FAIR during his incarceration. Available information from JDH is that FAIR exhibited signs of an altered mental status (AMS) with behaviors such as combativeness, agitation, refusing to eat or drink, decreased communication with others, self-injurious behavior, and inappropriate speech and affect. FAIR was transferred to the adult jail—MCDC.

At MCDC, FAIR was tazed a couple of times on 9/17. FAIR was seen at Doernbecher ER on 9/17-9/18 and was thought to exhibit volitional behavior. Drug screen was significant for cannabinoids. FAIR was returned to MCDC where he continued to exhibit AMS behaviors. Labs drawn at MCDC revealed elevated LFT's and elevated WBC. FAIR was transferred to the OHSU-ED on 9/21.

At the OHSU-ED, FAIR exhibited continued agitation and couldn't provide a patient history. FAIR had NCHCT that showed edema and air in subcutaneous tissues of face. FAIR was CXR and Chest CT that showed pneumomediastinum. FAIR's labs at OHSU-ED were normal, except for elevated Tbili and transaminitis. LPL was within normal limits. FAIR was transferred to ICU.

In the ICU, FAIR became withdrawn, detached, and semi-catatonic. FAIR had periods of increased activity but was always disorganized and never well-related. FAIR had an episode of fever to 102, tachycardia, and hypertension on 9/22/10. Blood cultures were positive for coagulase negative staph (negative till date, prior).

Assessment and Plan:

AMS following incarceration. Pneumomediastinum, air in soft tissues of face, elevated LFT's, CPK benign CSF analysis. CPK trended down.

Pediatrician Psychiatrists think this is first break psychosis.

Respiratory:

Pneumomediastinum: This was likely caused by trauma. Other etiologies are vomiting, but there is no history of vomiting. The most likely possibility is trauma relating to FAIR's arrest and incarceration. Tenderness in upper-chest and over the sternal notch more improved. CT with no signs of rupture of esophagus or large airway abnormalities.

ID:

Positive blood cultures: Grew out coagulase negative staph 9/21 from one site which is likely a contaminant. Blood samples from another peripheral site were without growth. Blood culture repeated on 9/22 when FAIR spiked a fever that is negative to date. This was before any antibiotic was administered.

GI:

Elevated LFT's: Etiology of this is unknown. No history of ingestions of toxic substances. AST>ALT suggesting alcoholic pattern; however, parents deny history of alcohol use/abuse. FAIR's development of fevers and tachycardia are raising concerns of neuroleptic malignant syndrome (NMS); however, he does not demonstrate rigidity. Risperdal was given to FAIR at MCDC, which can cause increased LFT's. Will stop monitoring LFT's as it appears levels are undulating with no clear pattern.

Musculoskeletal:

Elevated CPK: Levels trending down; likely due to trauma from incarceration. Will stop following CPK levels.

9/27 1326 Dr. Patricia Ritze _____ OHSU Medical Records
Attending Physician: Sima Desai, MD
Hospital Day 6

Labs taken on 9/18 at Doernbecher--ED were significant for leukocytosis and transaminitis (p. 13 of 44). UDS was positive for cannanoids. FAIR was discharged back to the MCDC. FAIR's AMS behaviors continued despite prescriptions of Geodone, Ativan and Risperdal.

On 9/21 FAIR was returned to OHSU-ED. FAIR was admitted to ICU after air was found in his face and chest--pneumomediastinum. FAIR became withdrawn, detached, and semi-catatonic. He was started on scheduled Ativan and Abilify per psychiatry.

On 9/22 FAIR's temperature was 102 and diagnosed with tachycardia. He was started on empiric ceftriazone.

On 9/24 empiric ceftriazone was discontinued because blood cultures showed coagulase negative staph, likely caused by contamination.

FAIR is now transferred to GM service due to continued need for anti-psychotic medications. He cannot go to inpatient psychiatry because of the need for armed guards. FAIR is unable to go back to jail due to risk of medication refusal.

Psychiatric: alert, shouting, fighting his restraints as guards attempt to switch him from handcuffs to leather restraints. Will respond in one-word answers to questions, rarely. Clearly afraid, paranoid, (To guard) "Are you really Howard? Is that really Howard?" and "He has a knife! He has a knife! Devils!"

Assessment and plan: FAIR was a previously healthy 17-ya male admitted with new criminal activity, combative behavior, and catatonia thought to be secondary to acute primary psychotic disorder, ddx includes bipolar disorder with catatonic/psychotic features and Schizophreniform disorder. Also with pneumomediastinum, transaminitis, elevated CPK's secondary to trauma, all resolving.

1. Psychotic disorder: possibilities are acute primary psychotic disorder with catatonic features, possibly bipolar I with psychotic/catatonic features, or schizophreniform disorder.
2. Pneumomediastinum: Likely secondary to barotraumas. Ideally would obtain swallow study to rule out esophageal perforation, but patient unlikely to cooperate with evaluation, currently. CT scan w/o esophageal trauma.
3. Elevated liver enzymes: Liver enzymes trending downward since admission. Likely attributable to muscle injury 2/2 to trauma, as evidenced by elevated CK. CK has been downtrending since admission. Risperidone can be associated with elevated liver enzymes and drug induced cholestasis. Still under analysis.
4. Fever: recorded x3 on 9/22, was associated with tachycardia. Thought to be due to infection; however, blood cultures were coagulase negative staph, likely contamination. There was initial concern for NMS, but psychiatry notes indicate this is not suspected due to absence of rigidity and continued downward trend of CPK.

Mrs. Jarrell called today, upset about not receiving full access to FAIR's health care information. Dr. Dullanty also received a call from FAIR's court-appointed attorney, whom she referred to the Legal Department and the MCSO guards.

OHSU policy reads that patients who are under arrest may only be allowed visitors and phone calls if approved by the assigned law enforcement officer on duty. MCSO reported that Chief Deputy Schults authorized one phone call from Mrs. Jarrell, per day, based upon FAIR's special circumstances (juvenile, AMS); patient information should not be shared directly with the family; the guards can update the family about FAIR's day-to-day condition; if more patient information is desired, the family can contact MCSO directly, who will serve as an intermediary for OHSU. This plan fits the OHSU policy.

Child Psychiatry Consultation Liason Service, pages 11-12 of 44

Dr. Johnson saw FAIR at approximately 4pm today. Dr. Johnson interviewed the nursing staff and the guards. At the time of this visit, the nursing staff was trying to get FAIR out of bed to go to the bathroom, because he hadn't urinated since the day before. They were concerned they might need to straight cath him again. FAIR accepted help from staff to stand at side of the bed, but he was unwilling to walk to the bathroom. FAIR was out of restraints, but shackles remained on his legs.

FAIR was more alert and engaging than Dr. Johnson had seen him previously. FAIR was drinking a beverage and he recognized his nurse, whom he called by name; he even teased her some. Despite his improvement, he remained guarded with what appeared to be thought blocking.

Recommendation is to continue present regime of olanzapine. The Children's Farm home is a likely placement for FAIR's continued care.

Transfer to Trillium Children's Farm Home is arranged for tomorrow. FAIR has been urinating on his own for about 3 days. FAIR has tolerated being out of restraints; though he remains guarded and paranoid.

Mrs. Jarrell called to request more specific health care information, re: plan of care, MD consults, etc. MCSO Chief Deputy Schults approved the release of FAIR's health care information to his mother, Mrs. Jarrell. Chief Deputy Schults qualified this authorization by restricting Mrs. Jarrell to one or two calls per day and she is not allowed to dictate the plan for care. This plan is within OHSU policy.

GENERAL MEDICINE PROGRESS NOTE

FAIR is not urinating regularly, which is probably behavioral. FAIR has a urinary tract infection positive for coagulase negative staph >100,000m sensitive to nitrofurantoin. Pneumomediastinum is resolving on radiography. Elevated liver enzymes are trending downward since admission, not resolved. Was likely 2/2 to muscle injury c/w elevated CK.

Yesterday's discharge to the Children's Farm Home was delayed because FAIR was unable to urinate on his own. He is out of handcuffs and doing well. He should be released to the Children's Farm Home on Monday October 11, 2010.

OCTOBER 10, 2010

FAIR's new acute psychosis and initial catatonia are now improving on Olanzapine. Medical issues due to trauma during his arrest have been resolved.

1. Acute Psychosis: primary psychosis vs. bipolar I presenting with mania with psychotic/catatonic features versus schizophreniform disorder. Has not required restraints for several days, though still attended by armed MDCD deputies.
2. Decreased urination: appears to be behavioral rather than anatomical.
3. Pneumomediastinum: likely 2/2 barotrauma, resolved
4. Elevated LFT's: likely 2/2 trauma and muscle breakdown following arrest, resolved.
5. Elevated CPK: likely 2/2 trauma and resisting restraints following arrest, resolved.
6. Proposed discharge: to the Children's Farm Home in Corvallis on Monday October 11, 2010 at 1:00pm, 4455 NE Highway 20 Corvallis, OR 97339.

INPATIENT PHYSICIAN DISCHARGE SUMMARY

Attending Physician: Gregory Magarian, MD

Admission Date: 9/21/10

Discharge Date: 10/11/10

Diagnoses:

Principal Final Diagnoses:

1. Acute psychotic disorder

Additional Diagnoses:

- a. Urinary Tract Infection
- b. Pneumomediastinum
- c. Elevated liver enzymes

Reason for Admission:

FAIR was a previously health 17-ya male. He was arrested 9/13 for armed robbery and was taken to JDH. At JDH, FAIR is reported to have erratic behavior, including combativeness, self-injurious behavior, and inappropriate speech and affect. FAIR's bizarre behavior continued and he was apparently tazed and aggressively restrained several times in an effort to control his behavior. Behavior continued despite Geodone, Ativan, and Risperdal. Labs from OHSU were significant for leukocytosis and transaminitis.

FAIR was returned to OHSU on 9/21 due to irrational behaviors. He was admitted to the ICU and then transferred to GM service due to continued need for anti-psychotic medications.

Hospital Course by problem:

1. Acute psychotic disorder: FAIR's behavior has been improving and he has been out of 4-point restraints for several days.
2. Pneumomediastinum: resolved
3. Elevated LFT's: downtrending since admission. Attributed to muscle injury, secondary to trauma, as evidenced by elevated CK on admission.
4. Urinary Tract Infection: Catheter related with >100,000 coagulase negative staph aureus on culture. Resolved with medication.
5. Fevers: Recorded on 9/22, associated with tachycardia. Likely caused by Urinary Tract Infection.
6. Essential Thrombocytosis. Unclear etiology.

Discharged to the Children's Farm Home in Corvallis.

10/11 1823 Malu Marcelo OHSU Medical Records

FAIR was discharged to the Children's Farm Home at 11:45am. FAIR was not in distress. FAIR was in a wheelchair and accompanied by two guards.

SUMMARY:

On September 13, 2010 FAIR was arrested by the Portland Police Bureau and charged with multiple crimes related to an armed robbery. FAIR was lodged at the Juvenile Detention Hall (JDH); he was transferred to the Multnomah County Detention Center (MCDC) on September 17, 2010; FAIR was a patient, while in custody, at the Oregon Health & Sciences University (OHSU) on September 17-18 and September 21 – October 11, 2010. FAIR was diagnosed with a mental illness and pneumomediastinum. The Oregon State Police was asked to assist the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office with an investigation of FAIR's incarceration, any use of force, and whether or not any of FAIR's medical conditions are a result of treatment, or lack of, by employees at JDH and MCDC.

As part of this investigation, I met with OHSU Dr. Robert Cloutier, Pediatric Emergency Services, to discuss his observations and treatment of FAIR.

ACTION TAKEN:

On Monday October 25, 2010 I interviewed Dr. Robert Cloutier, at his Doernbecher Children's Hospital office. The interview took place between approximately 12:00pm and 12:40pm. Following is a summary of this interview:

Dr. Cloutier examined Kyeron Fair on September 17-18, 2010. FAIR was in the custody of the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office and had been brought to OHSU--Emergency Department for observation and examination because of aggressive, agitated behavior.

FAIR's behavior was strange. FAIR was physically out-of-control and had to be restrained. FAIR was not exhibiting signs of acute psychosis. FAIR appeared to be cycling between out-of-control and more lucid behavior. FAIR was not cooperating with the examination and did not provide a useful medical or behavioral history. There was little medical, or behavioral history available for FAIR upon admittance at the OHSU-ED to help clarify his current condition. It was however that FAIR had no past mental health history.

Dr. Cloutier considered whether or not FAIR was experiencing a psychological, physiological, or toxicological episode. Dr. Cloutier ruled out any toxicology cause of FAIR's altered mental state (AMS) because FAIR had been in-custody for at least four days and the effect of a foreign substance would have dissipated long before. Dr. Cloutier did not observe any physical explanation for FAIR's AMS. Dr. Cloutier was unable to definitively determine if FAIR's AMS was an acute onset of a previously undiagnosed psychosis or a behavioral matter brought on by situational factors. Dr. Cloutier considered FAIR's recent history, which included arrest, incarceration, and combativeness with corrections officers, as possible evidence of a behavioral explanation of AMS.

Dr. Cloutier was able to calm FAIR with medication, which supported the theory that FAIR's episode may be behavioral. Dr. Cloutier discharged FAIR to the Multnomah County Jail, where he would remain under medical observation.

Dr. Cloutier told me it is likely that FAIR's AMS was probably naturally occurring, and the added stressors of arrest and incarceration complicated the matter; however, Dr. Cloutier qualified his opinion as speculative because he is not a pediatric psychiatrist.

Dr. Cloutier did not observe any evidence of physical injuries on FAIR. FAIR did not make any complaint of physical discomfort. There was nothing to suggest FAIR had experienced any physical injuries on September 17th - 18th.

Dr. Cloutier told me he does not know what could have caused FAIR's pneumomediastinum. There are a number of possible causes and it is difficult to say exactly what could have caused this injury.

I described two episodes to Dr. Cloutier, as had been described by C.O. Tim Barker:

1. The physical escort from JDH into the transport van; and
2. The tazing encounter at the adult jail, before transport to OHSU on September 17th.

Dr. Cloutier told me it may be possible the pneumomediastinum was caused by FAIR's face-first fall onto the floor; though, he doesn't think it is probable.

Dr. Cloutier told me he did run the standard psychological tests on FAIR on September 17th-18th. FAIR's liver enzymes were elevated slightly, at 63. The normal range is 13-48. FAIR's level, at 63, was not evidence of liver injury, so it did not cause a great concern.

At the end of this conversation, Dr. Cloutier was able to tell me that FAIR's AMS was probably not caused by staff at JDH or the Jail and FAIR's pneumomediastinum could have been caused by any number of things; it is unclear what caused it.

On or about November 9, 2010 I sent a list of questions to Dr. Cloutier. I created the list of questions after I'd had an opportunity to review the transcript of Deputy Barker's interview. The list of questions, with answers, was returned to me on November 12, 2010 and is attached at the end of this report.

CASE STATUS:

2. Did Kyeron Fair make any statements about his involvement in the crimes he is charged with? For example, did he say that he committed the crimes, was only present, or that he was forced to be involved against his will? ---- Not to my knowledge
3. Did Kyeron Fair express any concerns for his safety? If yes, were those fears expressed as law enforcement officers, gang members, or doctors? ---- Not to my knowledge
4. If Kyeron Fair was making comments about his criminal charges, were those comments a factor in formulating the opinion that his behavior was possibly a result of situational factors, including his fear of the consequences for his involvement in a criminal act—arrest, incarceration, and punishment?---Cannot comment based on answers to questions 1-3
5. Did Kyeron Fair ask for his parents?---I do not recall him asking for his parents.
6. Was Kyeron Fair yelling obscenities at law enforcement or medical staff? If yes, do you remember any specific comments or direct targets of his outbursts?----Outbursts I saw did not seem directed at law enforcement directly
7. Is the pediatric psychiatric unit a part of the OHSU Emergency Department, or is it a separate location?---there is currently no official psych unit at OHSU. All ped psych patients need to be transferred to other facilities.
8. Was Kyeron Fair moved to an adult psychiatric section that was better insulated for sound and separated from the emergency room patients and children?----That would have been done had he not calmed down to the point where we felt he was a safe for Discharge.
9. Is it possible to identify the nurse(s) assigned to care for Kyeron Fair on September 17th-18th?----Sheryl Williams on the 17th --no idea on the 18th
10. Is it possible we can speak with Dr. Craigan Usher?—I do not know who this is?

SUMMARY:

On September 13, 2010 FAIR was arrested by the Portland Police Bureau and charged with multiple crimes related to an armed robbery. FAIR was lodged at the Juvenile Detention Hall (JDH); he was transferred to the Multnomah County Detention Center (MCDC) on September 17, 2010; FAIR was a patient, while in custody, at the Oregon Health & Sciences University (OHSU) on September 17-18 and September 21 – October 11, 2010. FAIR was diagnosed with a mental illness and pneumomediastinum. The Oregon State Police was asked to assist the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office with an investigation of FAIR's incarceration, any use of force, and whether or not any of FAIR's medical conditions are a result of treatment, or lack of, by employees at JDH and MCDC.

As part of this investigation, Detective Eriksen and I interviewed Corrections Deputy Tim Barker on October 21, 2010. Deputy Barker was assigned to transfer Kyeron Fair from JDH to MCDC, and then from MCDC to OHSU, on September 13, 2010. Kyeron Fair was not cooperative throughout this episode.

When making the transfer from JDH, Kyeron Fair kicked Deputy Barker and shoved into the side of the transport van. Deputy Barker threatened to use a Taser on Kyeron Fair, but he didn't. Deputy Barker punched Kyeron Fair in the back of his leg, about four times, while trying to gain control of him to secure him in the transport van.

At MCDC, Kyeron Fair was Tased because he wasn't following commands to allow officers to restrain him for transport to OHSU.

ACTION TAKEN:

On Thursday October 21, 2010 Detective Eriksen and I interviewed Corrections Deputy Tim Barker. Deputy Barker was attended by his Union Executive Vice President Doug Hewitt and attorney Heidi Brown. The interview was conducted in the break room/conference room at MCDC.

The interview began at approximately 4:05pm and ended around 5:29pm, with a thirteen minute break. The interview was recorded, with permission. I have uploaded the interview recording to CD and it is entered into evidence. The interview recording was transcribed. A copy of the interview transcript, which I have verified is accurate, is attached at the end of this report.

Following is a summary of Deputy Barker's statement:

Deputy Barker has been employed by the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office— Jail and Court Services, for approximately twelve (12) years.

On September 17th, he was assigned to the "Transfer" area. His responsibility was to transport inmates between facilities. Deputy DeLuca was assigned to be his partner.

At approximately 7:30pm he was assigned to pick up an "out-of-control youth seventeen years of age" from JDH and deliver the child to MCDC "for housing and custodial situation". The only information given to Deputy Barker, about the inmate, was he was "out-of-control" and JDH could not handle him; there were no warnings about the child being suicidal or on suicide watch. The supervisors had several conversations with administration about whether or not this assignment was going to happen, before the official order to complete the transfer was issued.

Sergeant Phelps, the OIC, instructed Deputy Barker and his partner they were not to enter the JDH building; instead, they were supposed to receive the youth from the JDH staff, outside of the building. They were instructed the inmate would be brought to them. They were not told why the transfer would be completed this way, though it was not normal practice. The normal practice would have required the JDH staff to transport Kyeron to MCDC.

Deputy Barker drove the transport van to JDH and parked approximately forty to fifty feet from the sally port. They used the voice box to notify the JDH staff that they were waiting for the inmate. After about six minutes, Deputy Barker heard the inmate screaming from inside the JDH building, through two sally ports. He was unable to make out what Kyeron was screaming, but he did hear grunting, yelling, screaming at the top of his lungs and profanities like "Fuck you!" Six to eight JDH staff members exited the JDH building, carrying the child—Kyeron, whose legs were restrained. Kyeron was kicking and thrashing his body around. It was Deputy Barker's impression that Kyeron had been behaving this way for quite awhile, because some of the JDH staff was perspiring and they appeared that they were about to drop him, because of fatigue.

Deputy Barker assessed the situation and removed the cartridge from his Taser because any involvement with the inmate would be close-range. Deputy Barker had observed FAIR had leg restraints; therefore, his hands were likely restrained, as well.

Deputy Barker told the JDH staff to set Kyeron down, on the ground. Kyeron was set onto the ground at Deputy Barker's feet.

Deputy Barker told Kyeron he was now in the custody of the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office adult system and his previous behavior would not be tolerated. He told Kyeron he would stand up and walk to the van; if he chose not to comply with this order he (Kyeron) would be Tased. Kyeron stopped screaming and maintained eye-contact with Deputy Barker while this instruction was given. Kyeron appeared to understand the instruction and gave a slight nod to Deputy Barker.

Kyeron was restrained with handcuffs behind his back and leg irons. Deputy Barker and one JDH staff member helped Kyeron to his feet. Deputy Barker escorted Kyeron to the van. About half-way to the van, Kyeron kicked his feet out in front of him and tried to sit down on the ground. Deputy Barker and his helper supported Kyeron's weight, so he didn't fall to the ground. Deputy Barker told Kyeron to "knock it off or he was going to get Tased". They were able to get Kyeron back onto his feet and proceeded to walk toward the van.

When they were near the van, Kyeron tried to drop to the ground, a second time. Deputy Barker moved behind Kyeron, grabbed both of his arms behind him, and tried lifting him (Kyeron) into the van. Deputy Barker told Kyeron to "knock it off"; "get his [Kyeron's] ass in the van"; and, "I'm tired of this crap." Nobody was assisting Deputy Barker. Kyeron decided to "just kind of fall into the van, but his legs were still out", so he (Kyeron) was only about half-way inside the van. Kyeron fell onto his left shoulder, between a padded seat and the cage.

When Kyeron fell into the van, he started to kick and brace and fight, trying to resist being put into the van. Kyeron kicked Deputy Barker in the groin, "which kind of took it out of me." Deputy Barker began yelling at his partner, Deputy DeLuca, telling him to Tase Kyeron. Deputy Barker struggled to control Kyeron, without being kicked again and to prevent escape. Deputy Barker realized his partner wasn't coming to assist him, so he wedged Kyeron against the van by manipulating his body into an "L-shape" around the doorjamb. Deputy Barker drew his Taser, pointed it at Kyeron's chest, and warned him he was about to be Tased; the laser light was pointed directly at his (Kyeron's) chest. Kyeron looked up at Deputy Barker and his expression was blank; he mumbled "I'm done. I'm done." Kyeron stopped resisting but was unable sit up and get into the van, because of the way his body was positioned.

Deputy Barker re-holstered his Taser and helped Kyeron scoot himself out of the van, so he could cooperate and get into the van properly. Kyeron got his feet onto the ground, lowered his shoulder and pushed it into Deputy Barker's chest, pushing him (Deputy Barker) back into the van. Deputy Barker fell into the edge of the door. Kyeron appeared to be trying to escape, so Deputy Barker shoved him, causing him to trip and fall. Kyeron fell onto his left upper shoulder area. Deputy Barker approached Kyeron and stepped on his leg chain, to prevent Kyeron from kicking up at him, "or whatever he might try to do".

Deputy Barker was still working without assistance. He withdrew his Taser and spark-tested it, to let Kyeron know the Taser was a serious threat. When he did the spark test, Kyeron started yelling, screaming, and flopping on the ground as if he was actually being Tased. Members of the JDH staff began yelling at Kyeron that he wasn't being Tased, and nobody was even touching him. Kyeron opened his eyes, looked up at Deputy Barker, and stopped moving, but was cursing Deputy Barker. Deputy Barker told Kyeron to get his "fucking ass up and get in the van. I am tired of this." Kyeron saw the Taser light was still pointed at his chest; he (Kyeron) sighed and he went limp again. Deputy Barker re-holstered his Taser, so he could help Kyeron stand up.

One of the JDH staff members came forward to help Deputy Barker stand Kyeron up, again. They escorted Kyeron about ten feet to the van. The helper climbed into the van and helped to pull Kyeron inside. When they tried to get Kyeron into the van, Kyeron started pushing off the cage and resisted being put into the van. They lost control of Kyeron, but he was three-quarters inside, between the seat and the cage. Kyeron continued to kick at Deputy Barker. The JDH staff member got out of the van. Deputy Barker punched (focus blows) the back of Kyeron's leg, four or five times, just above the knees. Kyeron withdrew his legs and Deputy Barker was able to control his feet long enough to push them into the van and close the door. Kyeron was lying on his stomach, but propped at an angle so his right shoulder was off the floor.

There were approximately ten JDH personnel present during this struggle. Deputy DeLuca did not assist with the inmate transfer. Deputy Barker did not know the name of any of the JDH employees, but he did recognize a nurse. He told us the nurse came up to him, after this incident, gave him a hug. Someone commented to Deputy Barker he had every right to Tase Kyeron.

Deputy Barker told us he had the option, based upon his training (department policies), knowledge and experience, to Tase Kyeron. Deputy Barker told us he made the decision not to Tase Kyeron because he stopped resisting and fighting every time the warning was issued.

Deputy Barker did not see any indications by Kyeron's behavior that he was injured; he didn't see any evidence of injury, either.

Deputy Barker gave the van keys to Deputy DeLuca. Deputy DeLuca drove the van, so they could complete the transfer to MCDC. The drive was uneventful.

Upon arrival at MCDC, Kyeron got out of the van without assistance and walked into the facility without protest. Kyeron was behaving strangely, "kind of like a three-year-old"; he was sticking his tongue out at people, and acting like he couldn't remember his name and asking how to pronounce his name.

During the booking process, Kyeron tried to drop to the floor again. Deputy Barker and Deputy Rodan caught Kyeron to keep him from falling. They supported his weight and leaned him forward onto the counter, so he couldn't fall. The decision was made to carry Kyeron and place him in an ISO cell.

Kyeron was laid, face down, in the ISO cell. He was told to not move because they were going to remove his restraints. The restraints were removed, the deputies exited the cell, and Kyeron was secured without further incident.

Once he was alone in the ISO cell, Kyeron stood up, moved to the corner of his cell and started playing peek-a-boo with the deputies, by pulling his tee-shirt up over his face.

Around the time Kyeron was placed in the ISO cell, Kyeron's JDH packet was received and reviewed at MCDC, which contained information that Kyeron was suicidal. That was the first Deputy Barker had heard about Kyeron possibly being suicidal. A decision was made that Kyeron needed to go to the hospital.

Kyeron was placed under constant supervision until he was transported to the hospital. It was decided Kyeron would be transported to OHSU via ambulance. Deputy Barker offered to assist with the transport to OHSU, and he was assigned to follow in the "chase car". A plan was formulated for the hospital transport. Kyeron was to be placed on a backboard and secured with four-point restraints, using electrical ties.

To safely secure Kyeron, he was ordered to back up to the ISO cell door and to place his hands behind his back, in the food port, so he could be handcuffed. Kyeron was told he was going to be transported to the hospital and he needed to comply with the orders, or he would be Tased. These orders were given at least six times. Kyeron did not cooperate and he was still playing peek-a-boo with the officers.

Kyeron was told the door was going to be opened and if he made any aggressive moves he would be Tased. Two officers were positioned behind, and to the sides of, Deputy Quist and Deputy Barker. Kyeron took a step toward the deputies, so Deputy Barker made the command to Tase him.

The two Tasers were deployed almost simultaneously, so Kyeron was struck with four barbs—two in the chest and two in his thigh. Kyeron's body stiffened and he fell forward, onto the concrete floor, between the bench and toilet. Kyeron's hands were underneath his body. Deputy Barker moved in to handcuff Kyeron, but Kyeron wouldn't allow him to gain control of his arm. Deputy Barker ordered another Taser cycle, making it the second Taser cycle. (Deputy Barker explained that even though Kyeron had been struck with two Tasers, he only experienced one cycle; not two simultaneous cycles). After the second Taser cycle, Deputy Barker was able to gain control of Kyeron's arm; he and Deputy Quist were able to handcuff Kyeron and stand him up. Kyeron walked out of the ISO cell and sat down on the gurney that had been prepared for him.

Deputy Barker attempted to remove the Taser probes from Kyeron. He noted the probe on Kyeron's chest had not imbedded in his skin; instead, the probes were tangled in Kyeron's shirt. His effort was interrupted, so he did not remove the probes from the shirt. The probes in Kyeron's thigh and shirt were probably removed by paramedics.

Kyeron was secured to the gurney by the Fire Department's paramedics. Kyeron was transported to OHSU via ambulance, accompanied by Deputies Croft and Parks. Deputy Barker followed in the chase car.

Deputy Barker told us Kyeron was not verbally communicating with anyone and he didn't express any significant feelings, such as fear or safety, toward any particular person, gender, or uniform type. Kyeron did not offer any indication that he'd been injured.

Upon arrival at OHSU, Kyeron was accepted at the Emergency Department and directed to a private room in the pediatric section. During his observation, Kyeron was so disruptive he was moved to a psychiatric section. Kyeron was uncooperative; he was yelling and screaming profanities, being disruptive. Kyeron's profanities were directed to officers and medical personnel. Kyeron was calling the nurses "bitches" and yelling "Leave me the fuck alone, bitch! I don't know you. I don't trust you." Throughout the night, Kyeron complained about the restraints and demanded to be let go.

Deputy Barker told us during his tirades at OHSU on September 17th-18th, Kyeron was making unsolicited comments about gang members. Kyeron made comments such as "They made me do this; they held a gun to my head; they made me hold a gun to this guy's head... [the gang] would get me."

Deputy Barker told us there was no use-of-force after Kyeron was tased; however, at one point the OHSU medical staff decided Kyeron needed to be sedated, so they asked for a "medical assist". Kyeron was thrashing around when the sedative was to be administered, so officers had to hold his arms down so the nurse could give him the injection.

Kyeron continued to yell and scream for about another hour, until the sedation finally took effect and he fell asleep. Kyeron slept for a couple of hours.

The doctor and medical staff continued to observe Kyeron and tried to determine what he was experiencing, but Kyeron was not cooperating or communicating. When the sedative started to wear off, Kyeron resumed his disruptive behavior. In the early morning hours, around 4:00am to 5:00am, Kyeron was moved to the adult psychiatric section because he was too disruptive for the pediatric area. The room was more soundproof and there weren't any children in the area.

After a while in the adult psychiatric area, the medical staff determined there was nothing they could do for Kyeron, so they prepared to discharge him back to the jail. Kyeron was still combative and out-of-control, so officers asked if Kyeron could be sedated again, to minimize the necessity of another use-of-force as part of the transfer to MCDC, which would require a transfer from the hospital bed to a wheel chair, change of restraints, and placement in a vehicle. Once he was sedated again, the transfer was completed.

Later that morning, on September 18th, Deputy Barker started to lose the ability to use his arm. He experienced "excruciating pain" when trying to lift it. He finished his paperwork and ended his shift. The pain lasted several days and he took photographs on or about the fourth day after the incident. Thos photos are on file at MCDC. He has filed a medical claim for the injury.

During his time with Kyeron, he (Kyeron) never expressed any concern about being moved to the adult jail. He never made any complaints about treatment, or mistreatment, by staff at JDH or MCDC. The only fears he expressed, that Deputy Barker heard, was fear about the gang. Deputy Barker doesn't know, or remember, if Kyeron ever mentioned a specific gang set; however, Kyeron did mention some names, but Deputy Barker didn't record what those names were.

Refer to the following pages for the interview transcript.

CASE STATUS:

Active. Open investigation.

Sudaisar: Okay, today is Thursday, October 21, 2010. The time is 4:05 p.m. I am with Detective Erickson at the Multnomah County Detention Center in the briefing room. Present is Attorney Heidi Brown and Union Executive Vice President, Doug Hewitt and we are here to interview Corrections Officer Tim Barker.

Barker: Correct.

Sudaisar: And we've had a couple minutes to talk about the interview and I asked for permission to record the interview and Mr. Barker and his attorney have agreed to do that. Is that correct?

Barker: That's correct.

Heidi Brown: Yes.

Sudaisar: Okay, all right. Deputy Barker can you go ahead and just give me your, your full name and your DPSST number and your length of employment here at the Sheriff's Office and then if you worked somewhere else before then just an employment history.

Barker: Timothy Barker, 35798, 35798 and I've been with the County for approximately 12 years.

Sudaisar: Okay. Did you work, excuse me, those 12 years you've been working at the Multnomah County Detention Center?

Barker: Correct. Three years with the Court Services Unit.

Sudaisar: Court Services? Okay. Did you work for any corrections department before you were hired at Multnomah County?

Barker: No.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: Private, private jobs before that, private sector.

Sudaisar: Private sector jobs?

Barker: Yeah.

Sudaisar: Okay. Obviously we're here to talk to you about inmate Kyeron Fair and you had involvement with him. Do you remember, do you have independent recollection of your dealings with that inmate?

Barker: I do.

Sudaisar: Okay. If you could what I'd like you to do is tell me what if, tell us what information you knew about the inmate before your initial contact with him. Tell us about that experience you had when you first had contact with him at, at JDH, and then about anything that happened since then. So just a running narrative of what you knew.

Barker: Okay. The night of the 17th, I believe it was a Friday night, the 17th I was informed I was in the transfer area which is one of my responsibility is running from facility to facility.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And picking up inmates and transporting them back to the, the Justice Center.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: Or to those facilities. I was informed probably approximately 7:30, between 7:00-7:30 that I needed to go out to JDH, that they had a out-of-control youth 17 years of age that he needed to be brought down to our facility for housing and custodial situation.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: At that time myself and my partner, uh, basically got the vehicle prepared and headed out to JDH. I was informed that there were several conversations with administration about whether or not that we were going or not to go and I was told that we are going to go. So, excuse me, we headed out to JDH and I'd have to refer to my, my report on the times.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: But once we arrived at JDH, I need to back up a little bit. I was informed by my OIC and my sergeant that night that I was not to enter the building that they were going to bring the inmate to me outside the facility.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: And I was directed that I was not to go inside they would bring the inmate to me.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: Once we arrived I positioned the vehicle about 40 feet away, 40 to approximately 50 feet away from the entrance of the sally ports.

Sudaisar: Outside of the sally ports –

Barker: Just outside the sally ports and we contacted the voice box on the door, doorbell box, whatever you want to call it.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: At the facility.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: And notified them that we were there.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And we were waiting for them to bring the inmate out. A few moments later, approximately five minutes, seven minutes, somewhere in that timeframe we, I could visually see through the double glass doors the sally port, I could see approximately six to eight JDH staff members carrying a young man that was kicking, physically moving his body around.

Sudaisar: Thrashing?

Barker: Thrashing around and screaming at the top of his lungs.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: As they were exiting the building, coming through the sally ports I went ahead and removed my cartridge from my Taser due to the fact that I could see that his legs were in restraints.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: And I assumed that he was restrained either by belly chains or handcuffs and so I knew that there would be no distance involved to utilize a taser at any distance.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: I placed the cartridge in my pocket, re-holstered my taser. As they came through the doors I could tell that my impression was that these guys had been at this for a while because there was bullets of sweat coming down off their faces.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: At least several of them. And as they came through the second set of doors it appeared to be that they were about ready to drop him so I told them just to put him down right here.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: Which happened to be at basically my feet in front of me. That's when I verbally engaged the youth and I informed him that he is now in the custody of the Multnomah County Sheriff's Department adult system (emphasis), that his previous behavior will not be tolerated because I understood that he was out of control.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: That he was going to stand up and walk to the van.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: If he did not choose to do this he possibly could be tased.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: And in no uncertain terms he, I told him very directly, very plainly.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: At this moment in time he stopped his screaming and yelling when I was talking to him and he made direct eye contact, eye to eye, and gave me a look of acknowledgment that he understood, he kind of gave a slight nod like okay, okay, okay, that type of situation.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: At this time I directed him to stand up. He was obviously leg ironed and handcuffed; so, he needed assistance. I grabbed hold of one side which would have been the right-hand side.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And a staff member from JDH took hold of his left side. We aided him standing up.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And then we proceeded to go towards the van. He was walking just fine at that moment in time, cooperative and then at one, some point in time he decided to, probably about midway he kicked his feet out in front of him, in front of him, and tried to get to the ground.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: Myself and the other individual kind of supported his weight going down.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: I told him to knock it off or he was going to get tased.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: Stood him back up and he proceeded to go forward again on his own accord. He tried it a second time. At this point in time we were to the point of being close enough to the van that at, basically I reached down, grabbed him by both arms behind him, standing behind him, and lifted him and moved him towards the van.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: And verbally directing him, telling him to knock it off and get, excuse me, I told him to get his ass in the van. I'm tired of this crap.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm, mm hmm.

Barker: As I was trying to get him in the van nobody else was moving up to assist me getting the inmate into the van. I tried to get him to step up onto, there's a lower step and then there's a step into the van. It's designed specifically for leg irons to be able to step up into the van and maneuver into it.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: But it's a balance issue so he was handcuffed behind his back and leg irons so I was holding him to make sure he would have his balance.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And at that point in time is when he decided to just kind of fall into the van but his legs were still out so he was only about, if you would say halfway in and –

Sudaisar: He fell forward?

Barker: He fell forward into the fan. He had a padded seat here at the cage. He fell between them.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: Onto, it would be his left shoulder as he was going in between them.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: Actually hit the seat and then slid off onto the floor. It was a shoulder hit, it was not a head strike or anything of that nature. Once he was on the floor he started to kick and tried to brace and kick and fight, trying to resist me getting him the rest of the way into the van. After numerous struggles with his feet he made contact with my groin.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And which kind of took it out of me.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And at that point in time I started yelling to my partner to, I said tase him, tase him.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: Fighting his feet trying to prevent being kicked again and also allowing him any room to get out or try to maneuver. I was trying to, you know, control him.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: Once I realized I was not getting help I basically grabbed a hold of his feet and wedged him into the doorjamb.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: Because if you were to look in the van you have a seat, the cage that was partial for like a two-seat cage.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: Entrance to the van, the door slides forward, I moved his feet around the corner of a, kind of an L-shaped his body to where his feet went forward and wedged him into the door, doorjamb. At that point in time I took my taser out, I pointed it at his chest and I told him you're going to be tased.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: I had the laser light on and it was directly on the center of his chest. He looked up at me and went blank. At that moment in time he was making eye-to-eye contact again. He looked at me and says "I'm done". He mumbled it. He didn't say it loudly. He said "I'm done, I'm done." At that point in time I didn't have a resistive fight. I told him to get his ass into the van and he said he can't because of the way his body was positioned, the way his legs were positioned. Realizing that I had wedged his feet in there pretty good I knew he needed to be able to move out of that position in order to get into the van.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: Again I was working myself, I had to re-holster my taser and kind of aided his feet out of that position that he was in. As soon as I got his feet out into a position where he can scoot himself into the van, if he so chose to cooperate, he sat up and his feet went to the ground and this was, at this moment in time he lowered his, which would be his left shoulder into my chest and kind of shoved me into the, pushed me back. That's when I fell into the edge of the door and not realizing how hard I had hit. He tried to bolt out of the van. At that moment in time I was in close proximity. I was able just to push and trip him 'cause I knew he had leg irons on, he wasn't going to get too far away. He kind of tripped and fell. When he fell he went to his shoulder, or side of his, on the side shoulder to protect himself. He kind of went down like this.

Barker: Yeah. But his hands were restrained so he had (clapping sound to imitate falling) right on his side. I believe it was his left side.

Barker: Yeah left upper shoulder area.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: So as if somebody knew how to fall to protect themselves. At this point in time I closed the distance between us because he kind of slid off a little bit as he, you know, fell and I reached out and stepped on the center of the leg iron chain.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: I wanted to protect myself from him kicking up because he was restrained and also to prevent him from trying to move over and try to do whatever he might try to do.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: At this moment in time I was expecting assistance. Once I ascertained that I was not getting assistance I withdrew my taser again. This time I turned it on and I spark tested it.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: One, to let him know that he was about to be tased and the fact that I was serious and I wanted to get his attention.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: When I spark tested it he, and so on, he started yelling and screaming and flopping on the ground like as if somebody was actually getting tased. The staff members and everybody that was standing around us started yelling at him he's not even touching you.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And they said it at least twice. And this is when he opened his eyes, looked up at me and, again, I'm red dotting laser on his chest and he was at this time using some profanities and I was telling him to get his fucking ass up and get in the van.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: I am tired of this.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: He went limp again as soon as he realized I had the laser on him, looked up at me, just kind of if you would say sighed, like okay this is, I'm not getting anywhere type situation and he went limp again. I'm still holding the red dot on his chest expecting somebody to maneuver in to aid him into position so that I can maintain the laser, taser excuse me. Once I realized that this was not happening, he's still in restraints, he's unable to stand himself up, I had to re-holster my taser, assist him to stand up.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: As he stood up one of the, the smallest of the group of the JDH men stepped forward and grabbed ahold of his left side again and we proceeded back to the van. We were probably I'd say less than 10 feet away from the van, that's from the furthest part of his body was approximately 10 feet away.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: As we get to the van the JDH member jumped into the van and assisted me in getting the inmate up and in.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: As we were doing this the inmate started resisting again. He started trying to push off the, the cage and trying to resist getting up in to the van. As we were going into it he was bracing himself, as we were trying to get in. The JDH member pulled on his left side to get him up into the van towards the seat...

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: ...up onto the seat, he lost his grip but he was three quarters of the way into the van at this point in time, so in between the seat and the cage again but he was still kicking at me with his feet. I was able to grab a hold of one foot and kind of try to bend it and I was unable to bend it back to where I could get the door closed but I was close enough that I told the JDH member to get out. At that moment in time I went to focus blows on the back side of his legs just above the knee on the bottom of the hamstring muscles.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And I struck him at least four, possibly five times, before his leg actually folded.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: That gave me the upper hand to basically control his feet in a bent position. As soon as the JDH member cleared the door I reached over, grabbed the door and slammed it shut.

Sudaisar: Was he laying on his stomach or his side or his back --

Barker: At that moment in time --

Sudaisar: -- when you were touching his leg?

Barker: It would be more towards his stomach but he was on a slight, his right shoulder was up off the ground, you know, a bit to where he was angled where he could still brace himself well enough to where I couldn't get that, you know, leg into the van safely without causing damage from the door being shut.

Sudaisar: Sure.

Barker: Once I was able to get that the door was shut and I turned around and there was probably I would say approximately ten people standing behind me at that point.

Sudaisar: Just watching?

Barker: Yes. My partner was standing there and then the rest were JDH staff members.

Sudaisar: What's the name of your partner?

Barker: Michael DeLuca.

Sudaisar: And do you know the names of any of those JDH staff members?

Barker: I do not. I, the following evening I had a friend that went out to JDH for a similar pickup, I asked if he could inquire from any reports or anything that I was writing my reports and if I had any names if he could ascertain those and at that point in time they told him we weren't working that night and we don't know who was working, so. I was unable to get any information or any reports from JDH.

Sudaisar: Okay. When you saw the inmate Kyeron –

Barker: Mm hmm.

Sudaisar: – being carried out was he face up or face down when they were carrying him out?

Barker: He was face up.

Sudaisar: And when, when they got to a point where, where you were at and you said just put him down here, where were you, were you inside of the sally port or were they, were you outside of the sally port still.

Barker: I was outside the sally port, the pedestrian sally port. We were inside the vehicle sally port.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: Which is a large, I don't know what the dimensions would be but it was a large vehicle sally port and I was standing approximately 5 feet outside that, the second door or their second door coming towards me, my first door ****.

Sudaisar: So the, the exterior door to the facility?

Barker: Yes.

Sudaisar: You were about 5 feet from that?

Barker: Yes.

Sudaisar: So if I understand this correctly once they got him out of that, out of, out of the building they basically put him on the ground and that's when you told me he was in your custody and so then you had to transport him from there, the door to your vehicle?

Barker: Correct.

Sudaisar: Okay so that was about 50 feet away?

Barker: Correct.

Sudaisar: Okay. The, can you describe the inside of that transport van where you had Kyeron?

Barker: If you were, to describe the van from the front and back you have a passenger van that has a driver's and passenger's bucket, bucket seats in front.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: Then you have a walled cage for –

Sudaisar: Plexiglas?

Barker: Plexi-glass and metal cage.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: Expanded steel, and then right behind that is a two-seat smaller security cage for separation of inmates if we were doing a female transport with males or with a, excuse me, a disciplinary individual with other inmates we have a secured location for them. Then you have on the side of the van that you would enter from, well that the inmates would enter from you would have a passenger's door for the officer, then you have the sliding door on the side of the van.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: As you're looking into the entrance to the inmate area you see the entrance to the small two-person cage and then it opens up and there is, I believe it's three rows of seating for inmates all the way to the very back of the van and so then you have a shorter seat, a second shorter seat and then you have a full bench on the back of the van.

Sudaisar: So if I understand this right that containment area is directly behind the right front passenger seat?

Barker: Yes.

Sudaisar: And it opens directly to the sliding door?

Barker: Yes. And it's a small entrance into that so you have to get a cooperative individual to get in there.

Sudaisar: Okay. What kinds of things do you remember Kyeron saying during his screaming?

Barker: I was, well initially when I heard him screaming it was profanities, top of your lung fuck you comments to that nature but I, it was through two doors that I could hear him screaming at the top of his lungs. So, discernable words, you know, I could tell fuck you and a few of those but beyond that I could not tell what he was yelling and screaming at that time.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: Once he got to the, my position where I was physically in contact with him there was a few profanities yelled at me once we got into a physical altercation but it was mostly just kind of grunting, yelling, screaming, you know, I, top of your lungs, you know, resisting type, you know, screams, nothing discernable.

Sudaisar: Was he making any kind of, was he saying anything to suggest he knew what was happening, that he knew he was going from juvenile hall to the adult jail?

Barker: He never verbally engaged that he knew what I was saying to him in regards to his transfer of custody other than his visual communication with me, eye-to-eye contact and the slight nod of confirmation of what I told him. That was the, then once we were in an altercation he made the comment I give up, I'm done, I'm done. He made comments to that nature.

Sudaisar: At any time did he express concern about being transported to the adult jail?

Barker: No. I don't think so.

Sudaisar: Did he, did he express any concern about being housed in a location where there were adult inmates?

Barker: Not at all.

Sudaisar: Did he express any concern for his safety about being incarcerated with other inmates of any kind like gang members or other kids or adults?

Barker: Not...

Sudaisar: Was he expressing concern for his safety while in custody either at JDH or at the jail?

Barker: Not during this timeframe.

Sudaisar: Okay. Did he express any concern about his treatment by staff at JDH or by officers in uniform or, or you yourself?

Barker: No.

Sudaisar: Okay. If he didn't mention anything about his concern for his safety at that time while you were trying to put him in the van, did he make any comments like that later?

Barker: He made some comments when we were at the hospital later that night in regards to people making him do things. And he, it was mostly street related type of comments.

Sudaisar: Okay. We're going to, we're going to, I'd like to follow up chronologically but since we're there what did he tell you specifically about his concerns for his safety?

Barker: He, I mean, can you please rephrase what you're asking and what time frame you're asking about?

Sudaisar: Did, at any time during your contact with Kyeron did he express any concern for his safety at the hands of other inmates or anybody in the, in the corrections, correctional system, either JDH or the jail or even doctors or attorneys or police officers, did he express concern for his safety with this whole process?

Barker: He made comments for, when we were at Oregon Health Sciences, in regards to they made me do things in reference to the gang members on the street, put a, held a gun to his head and made him do things that he didn't want to, put the gun to this other person's head and references and he made reference to certain other individuals. I don't recall their names. It was kind of utterances of, you know, they made me do this and he'd babble on about some other stuff.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: He a couple times when the nurse was trying to sedate him because of his thrashing in bed and screaming and yelling we were in a pediatrics ward.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And the staff there told him that he could not be doing this in this area because of the children and it's disturbing the other patients that they were going to have to sedate him if he continued with this behavior. When they came in to do that because of his prevailing behavior he started yelling and screaming don't do, don't give me that, don't, I don't want those drugs, I don't want those drugs and they had orders to sedate him.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: And they did sedate him.

Sudaisar: Was that at Doernbecher ED?

Barker: No.

Sudaisar: The Emergency department; or was that OHSU?

Barker: OHSU emergency psychiatric pediatrics area.

Sudaisar: He, he was talking about putting a gun to somebody's head and the gang members made him do it, do you remember specifically that can give us some context to those comments that he had?

Barker: He kept repeating that he wouldn't say the same name, he'd say street names and I don't recall what the street names are that they were making me do this, I didn't want to do this, making references to, he was alluding that it was, they were requiring him to do this but he never openly said in order to get in or to do this I had to do this but it was making reference and alluding around that and I wish I had wrote down the name but I don't recall the name. He always referred to a street name. He never gave me a, a legitimate name.

Sudaisar: So I want to make sure I understand, interpret this right he was saying while at OHSU Emergency Department that other gang members made him hold a gun to somebody and that's what got him in trouble and he didn't want to do that?

Barker: Yes.

Sudaisar: Okay that was your interpretation of what he was saying?

Barker: That was my interpretation of what he was saying and he made reference to the gang will kill me if I say anything.

Sudaisar: Did he say what gang?

Barker: No.

Sudaisar: Okay. All right, I'm going to go back a little bit and, and then we'll get caught up again.

Barker: Sure.

Sudaisar: When you were, when you were ordered to do the transport who made the order, who was the officer in charge and who was the sergeant in charge of transport?

Barker: The OIC that night was Sergeant Phelps.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: That's who notified us that we were going to be transporting through Sergeant Miller which was the intake sergeant that night which is where I work.

Sudaisar: Sure.

Barker: And my understanding is the final order came through the chief deputy.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: That was my interpretation of it.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: What was the second half of your question?

Sudaisar: You answered that part. When you were ordered not to enter the facility why were you ordered not to enter the facility that he would be brought to you? What were you given an explanation?

Barker: I was not really given a full explanation on why I was not to go into the facility.

Sudaisar: Is that normal practice?

Barker: The normal, the normal practice is that JDH would bring the inmates to us so this was kind of new and my sergeants and OIC were like why are we going to your facility to bring us an inmate.

Sudaisar: So JDH would typically transport the underage inmate to the adult facility?

Barker: Yes.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: That has been common practice since I've been working there.

Sudaisar: Okay. Did they give you, were you given any information other than it was an out-of-control juvenile inmate?

Barker: Not at that time.

Sudaisar: Did anybody give you an explanation for the inmate's behavior, Kyeron's behavior, why he was acting that way before you got there?

Barker: Before I got there the only explanation is he's physically out of control and they cannot handle him.

Sudaisar: While you were, I'm sorry continue.

Barker: I'm trying to recall whether or not I was informed at one point in time, I don't know if it was before or after that he attempted to assault a staff member but I don't recall if it was before I went there or after I got there.

Sudaisar: Okay. And had both you and your partner been given the same information that you were aware of, I mean was he present with you when you received the information?

Barker: Yes.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: To my knowledge he was, I informed him that we're going out there and then he left my presence for a little while so I don't know if something else was said to him or not.

Sudaisar: Okay. While you were at JDH getting Kyeron into, into custody had you made any observations of his behavior that led you to draw to a conclusion that he was just out of control, was bucking authority or that he was possibly having an altered mental state? Did you formulate an opinion at that time?

Barker: The opinion that I formulated when I first saw him was that he was physically out of control.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: I did not have enough information at that time to tell whether or not he was having an altered mental state at that point. I had no information to ascertain that type of decision or mental picture of what was going on.

Sudaisar: Okay. During that time when you were loading him up did you ever use your taser to drive stun him?

Barker: No.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Heidi Brown: To what?

Sudaisar: Drive stun, that's without the barb, right?

Barker: Right.

Sudaisar: Okay. Did you have the option to do that?

Barker: Yes.

Sudaisar: And what, under the circumstances would you have been justified to use the taser as force?

Barker: Yes. Yes.

Sudaisar: Can you tell me why you didn't?

Barker: During my altercation when I first drew my taser I had already taken my cartridge off.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: So I already knew I was in a drive stun situation and my training and my knowledge and my experience was it is to stop if you would say negative behavior.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: Or uncooperative behavior.

Sudaisar: Right.

Barker: Once I pulled the taser out the red dot on his chest and I informed him that he was about ready to be tased.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: He made eye contact with me and he went limp. He stopped fighting me. He stopped resisting me at that moment in time.

Sudaisar: Sure.

Barker: My training, my experience tells me I do not need to use the taser.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: That's the reason why once a moment or two went by I had to re-holster to assist.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: Because I had verbal confirmation that he was going to assist and if I was going to aid him in moving I needed to have both hands available not just one so I re-holstered for safety.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: And then the second time it was almost identical to the first.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: Once he realized I was serious he visually acknowledged that I had the taser on him –

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: – he again stopped fighting, stopped resisting and at that moment in time I made the conscious decision not to tase him.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: So and to try to end this, you know, without any more physical or escalating the use of force.

Sudaisar: Okay. Were you getting tired?

Barker: Yes.

Sudaisar: Okay. How long do you think that entire encounter lasted from the moment when you told him that he was in your custody to the time you were able to get the door closed finally?

Barker: Actual time I felt that it was probably about three to five minutes in length, possibly a little bit longer because initially when we got to the door he tried to push back on it that's when it took both hands to bring him back in but once we got into a physical altercation there was at least three to five minutes.

Sudaisar: Okay. Now that you've got him in custody or in the van and you turn around and you got people watching you, what kind of conversation occurs with you and the other people?

Barker: After he was –

Sudaisar: After you got him in the van?

Barker: He's secured?

Sudaisar: Yeah, now you've turned and you see you've got about ten people there.

Barker: As I turned basically I was trying to gather my personal thoughts.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: On some personal situation with my partner and everything else trying to ascertain what was going on.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: I told my partner he's driving, my adrenalin was too high right now and I cannot drive.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: So I had made sure he had the keys and then he acknowledged that he was going to drive, I turned around, one of the staff members approached me and I don't recall which one it was, I still had tunnel vision on what was going on and I told, they informed me that I should have tased him. Someone made the comment that you had every right to tase him and I didn't. I recognized another member that was there, it was a medical staff member, a nurse that was there and she came up and gave me a hug and then we had a quick conversation about, I hadn't seen her for a long time and then we proceeded to get into the van and leave.

Sudaisar: Okay. Who was the medical staff person, do you remember?

Barker: Zaguntay? I don't know her full name.

Sudaisar: Zaguntay? You don't know -

Barker: Okay a small female, Asian.

Sudaisar: Does she work there or here?

Barker: She works there now.

Sudaisar: At JDH?

Barker: She used to work in this facility and now she works with the juveniles.

Sudaisar: Okay. Is it possible that the other people didn't engage because they thought you might tase?

Barker: I don't want to speculate. I don't know.

Sudaisar: They didn't make any comment like they thought you were so they didn't?

Barker: No, no comments of that type of speculation.

Sudaisar: Did any of the staff at JDH give you any background history on Kyeron after he was in custody?

Barker: No.

Sudaisar: Okay. So at this point you and your partner get in the van, he's driving and now you're doing the transport him to the adult jail?

Barker: Yes.

Sudaisar: Did Kyeron at any time indicate to you or make a comment to anybody that he had been injured during the, during that process at JDH being loaded into the van?

Barker: No.

Sudaisar: Or did you, did you see any signs of distress or discomfort?

Barker: No. He was, once the door was closed and I knew that he was secure, visually looked into the window and he was laying face down at this point in time on the floor between the seat and the, the cage.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: The floor there is flat and it's a large enough area that a person can lay there, you know, without discomfort.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: 'Cause it's a flat floor.

Sudaisar: Okay. Did you see any signs of physical distress like labored breathing or rapid breathing or bleeding or grimacing or anything that would indicate to you that he was injured or impaired in some way?

Barker: No.

Sudaisar: Okay. And during that transport he never made a comment to that effect, is that correct?

Barker: No.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: He was silent the entire trip down.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: So.

Sudaisar: During that transport or after did you get any additional information about Kyeron and his behavior or incidents with staff at JDH?

Barker: Once we arrived at the Justice Center --

Sudaisar: Mm hmm

Barker: -- and other staff members came out to aid us in bringing him into the facility we got there, opened the door, he sat up, we told him to get out of the van, he scooted a bit forward to the edge of the seat or the edge of the door, excuse me, and he stood up on his own.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And we told him to walk into the jail and he proceeded to walk on his own accord without any help. We held his arm for safety, in case, you know, he tripped and fell but he literally walked all the way in from the transfer sally port, through the double sliders, small entry hallway into a single door over to the booking counter.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: And once we arrived to the first station from the direction he was coming he stood there and was acting kind of like a 3-year-old in regards of he was sticking his tongue out at people and, yeah and then someone engaged him in a, asked him how to pronounce his name and then he started acting like he couldn't remember his name and how do I pronounce it, I don't know how to pronounce it and he was going that type of interaction game. And he would stick his tongue out at people but he stood there on his own accord and I did not see any physical marks or marks on him.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: At that moment.

Sudaisar: Did you remain with Kyeron, or near him, throughout that booking process?

Barker: During the booking process I stayed on his, would be his right side.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: And I held onto him in an escorting position in case he decided to act out I had something to hold on and I held him by his upper arm just if you were to hold a person to walk them somewhere that was being, that was handcuffed, that's how I was holding him.

Sudaisar: Okay. How did the booking process go?

Barker: After a few minutes of trying to get verbal engagement from Deputy DeLuca, that's who was actually trying to ask him his name.

Sudaisar: W DeLuca?

Heidi Brown: Deputy.

Barker: Michael.

Sudaisar: Oh, Deputy.

Barker: Deputy.

Sudaisar: Sorry.

Barker: He at one point in time tried to drop to the floor again.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And myself and Deputy Rodan who was on the other side caught his weight as he was going to the floor and lifted him back up and held him if you would say up on the, leaning on a counter so where he couldn't fall. We stood there for a moment or two and he tried to go the floor again. At this moment in time, we said that's enough, let's just take him to his cell.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: So we actually carried him and I don't recall if somebody got his feet or not. I had a hold of his right arm and we carried his weight into the cell, laid him face down on the cell, in the cell, and actually told him that we're removing the restraints, don't move.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And to place his hands on top of his head if I recall correctly. We removed the restraints, handcuffs, removed the leg irons first, removed the handcuffs and we were all able to step out of the cell without any more physical altercations.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: He immediately stood up as soon as the door was closed and he followed directions not to move until we, the door was closed. As soon as the door was closed he stood up. He turned around, looked at us and then he went over to a corner of the cell and started playing peek-a-boo with us, by grabbing his shirt, lifting it up over his face, looking at us, then bringing it back over his face. And at that moment in time we just, that was our last physical contact with him until after the medical staff, I don't know if they received it or package was given to DeLuca or how they ascertained the medical records from JDH but conversation between the sergeant and the medical staff I could overhear certain things and they basically said he needed to go to the hospital and I don't know what the time lapse would be at that point in time.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: I was informed we were going to transport him to the hospital. We had somebody standing in front of the door the entire time watching his behavior to see if he's going to try to, because the, I guess the paperwork or someone else, someone ascertained that he's suicidal.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: And I was informed that JDH information said that he was suicidal.

Sudaisar: Had you been told that before?

Barker: Nope that was the first I heard of it.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: There was some conversations I don't want to say what it was 'cause it wasn't with me.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: There's some conversations between sergeants, there were multiple sergeants in the area at the time between the medical staff and the OIC which was Sergeant Phelps.

Sudaisar: Sergeant Phelps.

Barker: And they ascertained that he had to be transported but we are going to transport by ambulance. We are not going to transport him ourselves and they called for an ambulance to come in and we all basically watched him, observed him until the, they arrived.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Heidi Brown: Can we get, take a second, I just need some water.

Sudaisar: Sure. It's 4:50 I'll turn the recorder off.

Heidi Brown: Thanks.

END OF PART 1

Sudaisar: All right. It's 5:03 p.m. and we're going, going back on the recording so we continue the interview, and if I remember the correctly, and if, I may be wrong, but if I remember correctly you guys now have information you are going to be transporting him to, you're going to transport Kyeron from MCDC to OHSU but it's, the decision was made that transport's gonna be done by ambulance. Is that correct?

Barker: That is correct.

Sudaisar: Okay. So why don't we resume there.

Barker: Once the decision was made then, once we basically stood by and observed him until the ambulance arrived, arrived, excuse me, and also the fire department crews also came out as well. We had formulated a plan about how they were going to transport. They were going to place him on a backboard and four-point restrain him using electrical ties and once that decision was made we got everything prepared. Myself, Deputy Quist engaged through the door and through the food court asking and advising Kyeron to turn around and place his hands through food port so he could be handcuffed; that he was going to go to the hospital and he was still playing the peek-a-boo game, lifting up his shirt. He was asked, ordered, and advised that if he needed to comply, he needed to be handcuffed. If we had to come in there, if he made an aggressive move that he would be tazed.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: This was done minimum amounts, six, eight, possibly ten times, with no response from him on cooperation.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: We then told him that we were going to open the door and that if he made any aggressive moves he would be tazed. I don't recall who had the key in the door but they opened the door. I was standing in the physical center of the door if you would say as it was opened up. There was two deputies on my right hand side that had tazers, that had a direct line of sight on him and Deputy Quist was on my right. The deputies with the tazers were on my left, not my right.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: As the door opened up we told him not to move. We then proceeded to rotate him, take him one step towards me. As he took a step towards me I was, I had the intent of handcuffing him. As he turned and took a step towards me I told them to taze him.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: Almost simultaneously two tazers went off and he was shot with a, in essence four probes --

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: -- and his body locked up just like it should with a tazer and as he fell, he fell kind of face down towards the ground and between the seat and the toilet, so he didn't strike anything as he was going down, not that I observed.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: I moved in to the cell and I actually one of the tazer lines and got a bit of a jolt on my, my calf, not calf, my thigh, excuse me, and I pulled back away from it because it was cycling. I moved in. I told him to put his hands behind his back and at this point in time both hands went further underneath his body.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: I told him to, by this time the, the tazer had stopped. I'm not sure if they had shut it off or if actually cycled the full 5 seconds. I grabbed a hold of his right arm trying to gain compliance of getting him handcuffed and he kept pulling it back underneath him so Deputy Quist, who was on my left, I believe he was doing the same. He still was resisting, not cooperating. I told him to cycle, to cycle again and I know at least one of the two deputies cycled him again.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: At this time I was able to get his left arm right behind him and, excuse me, his right arm right behind him. His left arm eventually came out as well. We were able to hook him up. Once he was handcuffed we were able to stand him up and he actually walked out and sat down. We had the gurney set up with the back board on top of it. He sat down on it. As we were planning on how to restrain him at this point in time the paramedics and the fire department started to aid in helping restrain him on the board and at some point in time in this time frame I went to remove some of the probes. One of the probes was tangled in his shirt so it did not actually penetrate and then I stopped what I was doing because they were trying to still position him and eventually the probes were removed. I don't recall at that moment in time whether it was myself or somebody else who took the, who finished taking the probes out.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: He was four-point restrained using electrical ties and medical staff came in and checked him out which would be the paramedics and the fire department, and then I was given car keys to, with the chase car. Deputy Parks and Deputy Croft rode in the ambulance and I was in the chase car right behind the vehicle, the ambulance, where I could see through the, the back of the door and we drove straight up to OSHU emergency room.

Sudaisar: Is there a reason why you were asked to assist with the transport if you'd already done the earlier transport and had a use-of-force with him? I guess it was a use-of-force...

Barker: Yeah.

Sudaisar: ...hands-on.

Barker: There were, it was late in the evening, it was towards the end of shift change –

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: – and I volunteered to go with. I'd already been engaged, I'm already you know into the middle of this in regards to taking responsibility of getting this kid taken care of so I volunteered to stay.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And I did the transport.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: So...

Sudaisar: And at this point of the, your interaction with Kyeron, was he responding to you?

Barker: Well, not –

Sudaisar: Was he responding to any, any corrections officer more than others?

Barker: No. He wasn't verbal at all.

Sudaisar: When, when the fire department, the medics and the AMR and the medical staff were there, was Kyeron partial to any particular group of people more than the others? Meaning was he more interested in talking to the fire department than the corrections officers, or the nurses rather than the AMR medics? Or was he completely unresponsive or unengaging?

Barker: He was unengaging.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: He was responding by doing what we told him to do by, you know put your hand, put it here. You know he was following directions but he was not verbally engaging with anybody –

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: – at this moment in time.

Sudaisar: Did he make any comments or any, or did he display any, any indication that he was injured during the tazing or the, or that custody from the cell to the ambulance?

Barker: There was no physical signs of any injury at all.

Sudaisar: What about anything he said?

Barker: He really didn't say anything. He was just f, after the tazing, and we stood him up he followed direction and came out and sat down on the board. He put his feet up on the, you know up on top of the board and he laid back on the board as he was being directed. He was, handcuffs were removed and each arm was placed in a restraint so he wasn't resisting at that moment in time. He just followed direction.

Sudaisar: Okay. So then tell me what happened when he gets to OHSU because I believe you, you stayed with him. I mean you, you followed until he got there, and finally how do you reengage with him?

Barker: I followed.... Basically once we arrived at the Oregon Health Sciences, the emergency room entrance is an open air entrance –

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: – I parked the vehicle 100 feet away, if that, approximately where I could still see the ambulance. When I park it and get out of my vehicle the paramedics were just starting to open the doors and if I remember correctly someone at Oregon Health Science security staff came out of their, came out the doors and kind of noticed to see what was going on 'cause law enforcement was arriving with them.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: Once I quickly got over to where the ambulance was. The doors came open. They brought him out and they wheeled him in through the doors and we were met by medical staff and they were informed of what was, why we were there, I believe through our medical staff here but I don't know for sure, and but they knew why we were there and they directed us into a private room in the pediatric side of the emergency area.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And that's where we stayed majority of the –

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: At one point in time we could moved to a psychiatric section because of his yelling and screaming profanities and uncooperativeness.

Sudaisar: Okay. Were you involved with the transport of Kyeron from OHSU back to the detention center?

Barker: In the early morning hours, yes I was.

Sudaisar: Okay. And that's been a long interview, so far. Go ahead and tell me about your observations of Kyeron during the time he was at OHSU and then try to wrap it up with the transport back to MCDC where you disengaged with him before you end your shift.

Barker: Okay. Throughout the evening he would start yelling profanities –

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: – he would direct them towards us at times. He would direct them towards medical staff. I'd see medical staff, nurses would come in and out. He would call them bitches and all kinds of other profanities.

Sudaisar: Mmm. What kinds of things was he saying?

Barker: Leave me the fuck alone bitch. I don't know you. I don't trust you. Then he would go from that subject over to another subject about how the gang members, this is kind of what we talked about earlier in regards to the utterances of "They made me do this. They held a gun to my head. They made me hold a gun to this guy's head. That the gang would get me", making references to that throughout the whole evening, and it was always those same kind of comments. It was never elaborating any more than that but it would always cycle back to that eventually throughout the evening. He would thrash around in the, the bed. He would pull up on his re-, when we got to the hospital and transferred from a back board over to the bed, they put him in hard restraints, the leather restraints, four pointed, to prevent him from thrashing around too much and I don't recall if they actually put a restraint on his forehead or not. I don't recall that, but he was thrashing in the bed a lot and it was more of a defiance-resistant behavior. You know "Let me the fuck go. Get these fucking things off me." Those type of comments throughout the whole evening.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: I don't recall what hour it was. It was in the early hour of morning. The nurses told him that he had to stop; that if he did not stop he would have to be sedated. I believe we talked about this earlier.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: At one point in time the medical staff and the doctors determined enough's enough and they came in to sedate him and he'd tell him you know "I don't want any of your drugs. Get the fuck away from me you bitch", and we had to basically, I don't want to say physically, he started thrashing harder so we had to basically you know hold his arms so the nurse could you know give him an injection.

Sudaisar: Sure.

Barker: It wasn't a use-of-force type hold. It was a more of a –

Sudaisar: It was medical assistance.

Barker: Medical assist. Once the medication was introduced to him, it took a while for it to actually take effect on him.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: And for at least another hour he still yelled and screamed and, throughout the evening, but finally at one point in time he did fall asleep and he was under sedation for a couple of hours. The medical staff team came in and aroused him a couple of times to engage him and I believe that a doctor came in prior to the medication and couldn't get any type of, if you would say a coherent conversation with him without his behavior jumping into flight –

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: – and the doctor finally said “I ain’t going to get anything out of you” and walked out. After the sedation took place he came back in and had a con-, actually had a conversation with him, and got some information out of him and then yeah, I think that’s when a physician made a determination of whatever his situation was.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: A few hours went by, the sedation started wearing off again and his behavior started back up again. He started yelling and screaming and he had some conversations with us. He started the conversations about the gangs again, and other people –

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: He never had an indication, an indication of concerns about me or the other deputies other than you know get these fucking cops away from me.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: He made comments about that periodically through the night. He never made any accusations about somebody harming him during custody. He continued his behavior and it started to ramp up again in the early morning hours. At this point in time it’s probably, I guess around that time it’s probably 4:00/5:00 in the morning and medical staff determined that he could not stay in the pediatrics area anymore. His behavior determined that he needed to go into an adult psychiatric area because of his behavior.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: Which was, if you want to say, a couple of hundred yards away from where we were –

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: – but it was in a more of an isolated private room that were more soundproof –

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: – and there was no children in the present area.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: And there was very few people around where we went to.

Sudaisar: Were the other two deputies still with you, Croft –

Barker: Yes.

Sudaisar: – and Parks?

Barker: We were together pretty much the entire time. If, at one point in time we had a standby with a security office I believe it was when the deputies, when he was heavily sedated, went and got dinner for the three of us and they brought it back to our room –

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: – and that happened to be about the time that we got ready. We were starting to eat. He came back out of sedation –

Sudaisar: Mmm.

Barker: – and as soon as his behavior kicked up again and that's when they decided we're moving and so we basically set everything aside and transported him to a new area.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: We were in the psychiatric area for a while. Some of us, I believe someone of the psych staff engaged him several times trying to determine what's going on. The, a couple of them did have a couple of conversations with him. I was actually in the hallway when this took place so I don't know how in depth they got. When I say I was in the hallway, I had visual sight of him but I was not in audible, other than his yelling profanities and –

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: -- Um. At that moment, at that time we were there for a couple of hours. The medical staff told us that there's nothing they can do for him. They informed us that he is good to go back to the jail –

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: – and the discharge process started. At, at that time we asked if, because his behavior was still thrashing about occasionally and resisting the restraints and all the bull again, yelling and cussing and stuff –

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: – to prevent another use-of-force with him we asked the medical staff would it be appropriate to give him some more sedation –

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: – so we could safely transport him from their restrained bed over to a basically a wheelchair and restrain him with you know via handcuffs and leg irons, or whatever we would do at that moment in time.

Sudaisar: Sure.

Barker: And the medical staff said yeah, that would be appropriate. That's way there's no more chance of use-of-force. Once they had sedated him it started taking a little bit of effect. He never went, fell asleep. He was just a little more calmer.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: Once that took place, let's see, staff members brought a different vehicle up to where we were at. It was more accommodating for our transport needs and we took him out of the facility to the emergency room entrance area and he started to resist us a little bit but we were able to get him into the vehicle safely without any use-of-force.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: Once he was in the vehicle we basically drove down to the jail, got into the vehicle's, down here in the sally port at the justice center we were met with other staff members and placed him on a restraint chair. The hard restraints were removed and he was placed in a restraint chair without any resistance, and we basically took him into the booking area again –

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: Where they photographed him and I wasn't directly involved so I don't know if they fingerprinted him or not. I know they got him photographed in my presence and then they placed him into an isolation cell, and at that point in time it was pretty much other than paperwork and filling out some, the 801 information from earlier.

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: By then throughout that evening I started losing the ability to use my arm. It was excruciating pain trying to lift it and stuff like that, and it progressively got worse throughout the evening, so I basically disengaged any involvement with him, took care of the paperwork and then at the end of the shift I went home, and that was about, it was after 7:00.

Sudaisar: What time did you start your shift that day?

Barker: I started at 3:15 on the 17th and I left here at 7:30 in the morning, so –

Sudaisar: About sixteen, was that a double shift for you?

Barker: Double shift, yeah. Overtime, everything (indiscernible).

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: So.

Sudaisar: Did you file a medical commit, complaint or a medical claim on your injury, or a SAIF claim?

Barker: Yes, yes I did. I'm in the process of that right now.

Sudaisar: Okay. Have, did you have any other dealings with Kyeron after that?

Barker: No, I did not.

Eriksen: Okay. Did you file any report for the injury that –

Barker: No.

Eriksen: – from the kicking or?

Barker: I recorded it in my, my initial report that I was kicked in the groin. I, I informed them of my arm that morning when I got back here. I actually called them while I was the hospital and told them hey, I'm having some difficulties with my arms, with my right arm, and they said to, when I got back to the facility to make sure I filled out the paperwork and notify, I can't remember what it's called, basically notify them that I have an injury and if I seek medical attention that I was going to do that. So that paperwork was filled out. I, three days later it was pain, discomfort and where some difficulty for a day and a half, not utilizing my arm very well. About three days later, four days later, a bruise about, I don't know how to describe the size, almost the entire width of my arm on an angle, about the size of my hand going across there, dark blue and yellowish. There, there was a greenish yellowish bruise and we have taken a photo of it and it's on file that (indiscernible) the bruise.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: So.

Sudaisar: After you, after booking you guys put him in an iso cell. Do you remember which deputy was posted outside the iso cell to keep an eye on him?

Barker: At one point in time I was –

Sudaisar: Mm hmm.

Barker: – for a few minutes while it was, everybody was moving 'cause we were still in the booking process so if somebody had a second or two they stood by. There were sev, several people that actually stood by.

Sudaisar: Okay. That makes sense.

Barker: And once it was determined that the paperwork said that he was suicidal, that's when it was basically put that everybody, well you would have somebody visually in sight until he actually got transported.

Sudaisar: Were the AMR paramedics and any of the fire department personnel present when you guys used the tazer?

Barker: Yes.

Sudaisar: Okay. Do you know any of their names?

Barker: I do not.

Sudaisar: Okay. How many fire personnel were there that you can think of?

Barker: At least four.

Sudaisar: Okay. So four fire and two AMR.

Barker: Yes.

Sudaisar: Okay.

Barker: Now their presence because of the way the dynamics in the hallway and the cell, they would not have had visual sight of inside the cell activity.

Sudaisar: Okay. Mm hmm. All right. Okay. It's 5:29. We thank you very much for being patient and so helpful. We're gonna end the interview. Thank you.

SUMMARY:

On September 13, 2010 FAIR was arrested by the Portland Police Bureau and charged with multiple crimes related to an armed robbery. FAIR was lodged at the Juvenile Detention Hall (JDH); he was transferred to the Multnomah County Detention Center (MCDC) on September 17, 2010; FAIR was a patient, while in custody, at the Oregon Health & Sciences University (OHSU) on September 17-18 and September 21 - October 11, 2010. FAIR was diagnosed with a mental illness and pneumomediastinum. The Oregon State Police was asked to assist the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office with an investigation of FAIR's incarceration, any use of force, and whether or not any of FAIR's medical conditions are a result of treatment, or lack of, by employees at JDH and MCDC.

As part of this investigation, I received medical records from Trillium Family Services, which were authorized by permission of FAIR's mother and subpoena.

ACTION TAKEN:

On Wednesday October 27, 2010 I received Kyeron Fair's medical records from Trillium Family Services, by facsimile. Following is a summary of the information contained within:

FAIR was admitted on October 11th. A history and physical examination was performed on October 12th. FAIR's past medical history included "acute psychosis, pneumomediastinum" and a history of marijuana use. FAIR's pneumomediastinum and urinary tract infection had been resolved before admittance at Trillium. The examination was incomplete because of FAIR's "current mental status: anxious and disoriented".

An October 11th Diagnostic History of Psychiatric Symptoms included the following information:

FAIR had no psychiatric problems before September 13th, according to his parents. The parents deny FAIR ever having problems with concentration, moodiness, aggression, depression, or any psychotic symptoms, ever. The parents describe FAIR's substance abuse as only experimentation with marijuana a few times; no other drugs or alcohol. FAIR received speech therapy early in life, but he is an average student. In September FAIR "got involved in an incident and is currently charged with armed robbery. He developed combativeness, agitation, refusing to eat or drink, decreased communication, self-injurious behavior, inappropriate speech and affect on 9/13/10", [which is the date of his arrest]. FAIR has been given Geodon, Ativan, and Risperdal to help with these symptoms. FAIR was tazered multiple times while in-custody. FAIR was taken to the OHSU-Emergency Department and administered Ativan and Versed. It was later discovered FAIR had edema of the face and subcutaneous tissue of the chest and a chest X-ray revealed pneumomediastinum. FAIR still, as of October 11, 2010, has a slight elevation of liver enzymes and he'd recently been treated for a urinary tract infection. FAIR appears clearly disorganized and needs his wristband to identify who he is. He is not oriented to time or place. He is able to recognize his parents. He presented with psychomotor agitation, is extremely paranoid, and at one point started masturbating during the interview.

FAIR's current health examination on October 11th revealed dry skin on both shins. The examination was not fully completed because FAIR was unable to, or would not, follow directions.

FAIR's mental status exam revealed he is unable to sit still (akathisia) and severely disorganized. FAIR was unable to express if he was having suicidal or homicidal thoughts. FAIR undresses and masturbates.

FAIR's mother reported FAIR was a normal kid the last day he went to school, before he was arrested and charged with armed robbery. His mother said FAIR suffered a psychotic break quickly after he was arrested. His mother knew something was wrong when he went into custody, because he was disoriented on September 16th during a phone call and he hung up on her because he didn't know who she was. When the parents visited, FAIR spoke in sentences that didn't make sense and made reference to people from his past who had no context with their discussion.

FAIR's mother reports that he was transferred from JDH to OHSU, where he was hospitalized, supervised by two guards at all times, and he was placed in four-point restraints. His mother reports that while he was at OHSU, FAIR was "hypervigilant and fearful of the guards and would whisper to medical staff for fear the guards would hear him. He would tell the guards to stop a behavior when they were not doing anything and appeared to be paying attention to internal stimuli. He also was combative toward staff at times during his hospitalization".

At the time he was being admitted to Trillium Family Services on October 11th, FAIR "appeared that he thought he was being questioned about the crime and he would vacillate between clinging to the male staff, standing in their personal space, and hugging them to stating he felt unsafe around them, glaring at them, calling them names of the guards from JDH, and telling them to leave. He repeatedly wrote "Code 99" and stated it was an emergency during the intake though he could not clearly articulate what the emergency was or why he was feeling unsafe. He was so confused at one point that he started masturbating in front of the three female interviewers and the male floor staff during this intake."

FAIR is a Senior at Parkrose High School. His attendance is sporadic. He was expelled once "when a gang tried to jump him and he fought back against them according to his parents".

There is a history of mental illness in FAIR's family, including Bipolar disorder and Attempted Suicide. FAIR's older sister, Diamond, has been diagnosed with bipolar disorder and is described as having "high anxiety". She attempted suicide in college and had to get treatment.

The Clinical Formulation included the following summarization of FAIR's symptoms and history:

FAIR had no previous behaviors or trauma history per his parents' report. They described FAIR as a normal boy until he was arrested and charged with armed robbery. Shortly after his arrest he demonstrated signs of disorientation and disorganized thinking. FAIR was transferred to the hospital and he presented paranoia and hypervigilance, especially toward the guards, "and was possibly responding to internal stimuli". FAIR's primary diagnosis is Psychotic Disorder NOS, because he is unable to provide more history as to the onset of his symptoms or discuss his internal experiences. Some diagnoses to rule out are Delirium NOS (sudden change in his consciousness and appearing disoriented) and Schizophreniform Disorder (like Schizophrenia, but less than 6 months). Some of the information missing in this clinical picture are:

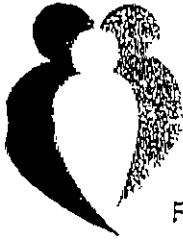

1. If there was some kind of trauma during the investigation process (as the parents suspect is the case);
2. If there were drugs involved that could have altered his mental state and account for the symptoms;

3. Whether or not he was involved in the criminal activity which he is accused of (which his parents deny he did); and,
4. If there were peers influencing him to do [the] criminal activity.

The doctor noted "The one clear factor in this case is that the stress of the arrest and interrogation seems to have affected him and worsened the symptoms if not been the original cause for their onset. The parents note a sudden change in being hypervigilant around uniformed people such as the guards when that fear was not there before. They also note a fixation on trying to "tell the truth" and references during his disoriented state to him being investigated and interrogated for the crime".

CASE STATUS:

Open. Active investigation.

Diagnostic History of Psychiatric Symptoms

Kyeron is a 17-year-old African-American male who prior to September 13th was a healthy male with no past psychiatric problems. During the interview with the parents they deny him ever having problems with concentration, moodiness, aggression, depression, or any psychotic symptoms ever. In terms of substance abuse, he has tried marijuana a few times but they deny any other substance or alcohol use. Early in life he received speech therapy but is an average student. In September he got involved in an incident and is currently charged with armed robbery. He developed combativeness, agitation, refusing to eat or drink, decreased communication, self-injurious behavior, inappropriate speech and affect on 09/13/2010. He had been given Geodon, Ativan, and Risperdal to help with these symptoms. A medical workup was done. He had elevated liver function tests and an elevated white blood cell count. He was then sent to OHSU Emergency Department, where he was given Ativan and Versed. He had been tasered multiple times at the JDH. Apparently he had edema of the face and subcutaneous tissue of the chest and an x-ray of the chest and chest CT showed pneumomediastinum. His CPK was in the 5000s. The reports from OHSU Internal Medicine has shown a decrease of the white blood cell count to within normal limits. CPK is in the 200s currently. He still has slight elevation of liver enzymes and was just recently treated for a urinary tract infection. A CT scan of the head was within normal limits. He appears clearly disoriented and needs his wristband to identify who he is. He is not oriented to time or place. He is able to recognize his parents. He presented with psychomotor agitation, is extremely paranoid, and at one point started masturbating during the interview.

He is not oriented to time or place but to person. He responds to internal stimuli. Eye contact is fluctuant between staring and looking away. He changes body posture from laying down, giving staff hugs, to sitting down. He is experiencing some kind of akathisia. He is not able to state whether he has suicidal thoughts or not or homicidal thoughts. He is severely disorganized, undressing himself, masturbating. Treatment Recommendations

Admit Kycron to SAIP unit on one-to-one supervision. Obtain further lab workup, including UA, liver function tests, ammonia, and have him followed regularly by our pediatrician. We will provide a low stimulation environment, reorient him frequently, and continue the regimen of Zyprexa Zydys and Ativan as needed to treat his psychotic symptoms. Currently we recommend only having limited visits, preferably parents only, while he is still this severely disorganized. Once symptomatology clears, we advise Kycron to have his own attorney and he will then have individual therapy and family therapy. We will provide further psychoeducation.

Reason for referral

Kyeron is admitting due to a sudden psychotic break following arrest for armed robbery and is entering the Secure Adolescent Inpatient Program at Powers Cottage, being referred as a court-ordered client.

History of presenting illness

Kyeron, who pronounces his name as "Kay-Ron," is a court-ordered client here for a sudden onset of paranoia and disorganized and psychotic behaviors. His parents are very concerned as they report he was "a normal teenage boy" with no trauma history or problem behaviors who just went off to school one day in September 2010, asking for money to ride the bus that morning when they last saw him in a normal state, and then he was arrested later that day and charged with armed robbery. Quickly after his arrest, he had a psychotic break. His mother notes that she knew something was wrong when he went into custody because he was disoriented during a phone call on 9/16/2010 and hung up on her because he said he did not know who she was. When they tried to visit, he would talk to his parents in sentences that did not make sense and make reference people from his past like his 6th grade basketball coach when it had no context in the current discussion. From JDH, he was hospitalized at OHSU, but had to be under supervision of 2 guards at all times and was placed in 4 point restraints attached to the bed. While there, he was hypervigilant and fearful of the guards and would whisper to medical staff for fear the guards would hear him. He would tell the guards to stop a behavior when they were not doing anything and appeared to be paying attention to internal stimuli. He also was combative toward staff at times during his hospitalization. From the hospital, he was court-ordered to come to the Children's Farm Home.

He is currently very paranoid and not always in touch with reality. His thinking is disorganized and he is not able to talk about the progression of his symptoms and how they developed. For instance, during the intake, it appeared that he thought he was being questioned about the crime and he would vacillate between clinging to the male staff, standing in their personal space, and hugging them to stating he felt unsafe around them, glaring at them, calling them names of the guards from JDH, and telling them to leave. He repeatedly wrote "Code 99" and stated it was an emergency during the intake though he could not clearly articulate what the emergency was or why he was feeling unsafe. He was so confused at one point that he started masturbating in front of the three female interviewers and the male floor staff during this intake and had to be redirected to stop.

Mom says the family is spiritual and appears to get some strength from their religious ties and spiritual beliefs when asked about their cultural affiliations.

Kyeron's family says he does not personally associate himself with a gang. But he does have friends who are in gangs. It is unclear if these ties are somehow connected with his recent arrest and charges for armed robbery.

In terms of popular culture, Kyeron is drawn to sports, video games, and rap music. Mom says all of his rap is "not bad" and there is some she will listen to as well.

Quote(s) Quote previous assessment(s)

Kyeron had no previous problem behaviors or trauma history per his parents' report. They describe him as a "normal teenage boy" and were surprised to hear their son was arrested on charges of armed robbery in September, 2010. Shortly after his arrest, he started showing signs of being disoriented and having disorganized thinking. When he was moved to the hospital, he presented with paranoia and hypervigilance, especially toward the guards from JDH detention, and was possibly responding to internal stimuli. Given that he cannot give us more history as to the onset of his symptoms or talk to the interviewers about his internal experiences, his primary diagnosis listed is Psychotic Disorder NOS. Some rule out diagnoses to consider are Delirium NOS (sudden change in his consciousness and appearing disoriented) and Schizophreniform Disorder (like Schizophrenia, but less than 6 months). Several factors of Kyeron's clinical picture are missing as he is unable to communicate them. Some of the missing factors include: if there was some kind of trauma during the investigation process (as the parents suspect is the case), if there were drugs involved that could have altered his mental state and account for the symptoms, whether or not he was involved in the criminal activity which he is accused of (which his parents deny he did), and if there were peers that influencing him to do criminal activity. The one clear factor in this case is that the stress of the arrest and interrogation seems to have affected him and worsened the symptoms if not been the original cause for their onset. The parents note a sudden change in being hypervigilant around uniformed people such as the guards when that fear was not there before. They also note a fixation on trying to "tell the truth" and references during his disoriented state to him being investigated and interrogated for the crime.

Update

Recommendations: Kyeron is currently out of touch with reality and will likely benefit from medication management for his psychotic behaviors and also learning some reality testing techniques. Staff should try to establish rapport with him first as he appears to be paranoid currently and may be distrustful of others at first. Teaching anxiety management techniques and coaching on deep breathing may help him when he is feeling unsafe. Staff should also use grounding techniques to bring him back to reality when he is disoriented. He may benefit from some direct behavior coaching on hygiene and socially appropriate behaviors until he is showing more clear thinking and able to care for himself.

The family would likely benefit from some psychoeducation and work to process through the sudden change in their son's behavior as they were not prepared and do not know how to manage his behaviors given his current presentation.

Medication Management

Subjective: I met with Kyeron for a medication management follow up. This is the first encounter with this client. He is unable to provide information. He is unable to participate and elaborate any details regarding this psychiatric admission. He is not able to stay in the room for more than 2 minutes. He is wandering around. He is guarded and paranoid. His line of thoughts and conversation make no sense. He goes from one topic to another. He is unable to stay still. In terms of medication management, he has been compliant with medications. He is not presenting medication side effects. Staff report that he has not been engaged in any aggressive behavior; however, he is still wandering around, reporting paranoid thoughts. When he is on the basketball court, he asks questions about seeing shadows and ghosts. He becomes kind of paranoid and defensive and he tends to isolate during certain times of the day. I was able to review most recent blood workup available in the computer system. He had a urine toxicology positive for marijuana on October 13, 2010 with a reported value of 39, it should be less than 1.9, so that is high. Other blood workup including CMP was mildly elevated for Phop; thyroid function was within normal limits; lipid panel within normal limits. A second urine toxicology was done today. The unconfirmed report was negative. I will be doing the follow up on the confirmed report from the lab tomorrow. In terms of staff support, he needs one-to-one staffing to prevent him from acting out on the paranoid thoughts and so he does not respond to internal stimuli with aggression towards staff or peers. Staff provide a lot of support in terms of redirection to prevent him from taking his clothes off and expose himself and run naked in the milieu.

Mental Status Exam

Kyeron is alert. Thought process is disorganized. He is oriented only to person. Affect is inappropriate, kind of elated. Mood he reports no answer. Insight and judgment are poor. Impulse control has been fair and manageable with support from staff. He did not present any suicidal or homicidal gestures. He looked responding to internal stimuli, hallucinating, and paranoid.

Assessment including justification for level of care

Kyeron is still meeting criteria for SAIP level of care. Currently he is psychotic and disorganized and not able to participate in treatment. He is in need of one-to-one support.

Plan: Continue medication management and monitoring medication side effects, vital signs, weight gain, and ALMS score. Continue monitoring mental status exam on a weekly basis, providing support, and one-to-one staff. Forensic psychological evaluation will be done by Dr. Tim Catlow.

SUMMARY:

On September 13, 2010 FAIR was arrested by the Portland Police Bureau and charged with multiple crimes related to an armed robbery. FAIR was lodged at the Juvenile Detention Hall (JDH); he was transferred to the Multnomah County Detention Center (MCDC) on September 17, 2010; FAIR was a patient, while in custody, at the Oregon Health & Sciences University (OHSU) on September 17-18 and September 21 – October 11, 2010. FAIR was diagnosed with a mental illness and pneumomediastinum. The Oregon State Police was asked to assist the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office with an investigation of FAIR's incarceration, any use of force, and whether or not any of FAIR's medical conditions are a result of treatment, or lack of, by employees at JDH and MCDC.

As part of this investigation, Detective Eriksen and I interviewed Kyeron Fair on November 3, 2010. Kelli Jarrell and her attorney's representative, Jason Kafoury, were present throughout the interview.

ACTION TAKEN:

On Wednesday November 3, 2010 Detective Eriksen and I interviewed Kyeron Fair, in the presence of his mother, Kelli Jarrell, and her attorney's representative, Jason Kafoury. I had pre-arranged this interview with Greg Kafoury and the staff at Trillium Family Services Children's Farm Home in Corvallis, Oregon. The interview was conducted in a private meeting room in the "Powers" unit, on the Children's Farm Home campus, between approximately 11:30am and 1:30pm.

Detective Eriksen and I were dressed in plain clothes. We were unarmed and our badges were concealed. Detective Eriksen was wearing a short-sleeved button-up shirt, untucked. I was dressed in slacks and a dress shirt with a sport coat.

FAIR was dressed in a collared long-sleeve shirt (black and white) over a black tee shirt, denim blue jeans over black nylon basketball shorts and underwear, white sneakers and socks. FAIR was not wearing a belt and he did not have shoelaces.

We all sat around a rectangular-shaped table. Mrs. Jarrell was seated to Kyeron's (hereafter referred to as "FAIR") right; I was seated to FAIR's left, at the corner of a table end. Detective Eriksen was to my left, diagonally opposite of FAIR. Mr. Kafoury was directly opposite Mrs. Jarrell.

FAIR remained engaged throughout this interview. FAIR was able to answer all of our questions and did not appear upset or nervous, at any time. FAIR responded directly to my questions. FAIR told me when he didn't remember things, events, or people/names. FAIR occasionally looked to his mother for help answering questions. FAIR told us about memories that he believes are real and memories that he now knows, because of his counseling/therapy, were not real (hallucinations or delusions).

On several occasions, Mrs. Jarrell offered additional information and/or comments. Some of the information she provided was repetitive of her interview statement; however, some of the information was new and/or a clarification of her son's statement, based upon information known to her.

Following is a summary of this interview:

FAIR told us he didn't know who we were and he didn't know why we wanted to speak with him.

1. FAIR told us he "can't remember a lot of stuff". FAIR told us he doesn't remember a lot about his arrest, incarceration, and hospital treatment. FAIR told us his therapist, "Trevor", has been helping him remove "the trash" in his head. FAIR told us he has been able to remember some things, but not much, about his time at JDH. FAIR told us he doesn't remember being in the adult jail. FAIR told us he remembers a little bit from his OHSU visit. FAIR was able to tell us the names of some of the MCSO Corrections Deputies and medical personnel at OHSU; particularly, he remembered the names "Officer Bunker" (there is a Corrections Deputy named Tim Bunker), Officer Schodder (FAIR provided multiple pronunciations of this name, which may be Corrections Deputy Tom Schroeder), the name of a doctor which I believe was Dr. Divya Gollapudi, and several nurses.

FAIR told us he remembers "Officer Bunker" had pounded on his chest and slapped him several times on his forehead, asking "Are you stupid?" FAIR told us Officer Bunker pounded his chest with the bottom of his (Officer Bunker's) fist. FAIR told us this happened while he was in a hospital bed and he had pulled his IV out of his arm, with his teeth. FAIR told us he was trying to escape his hospital bed to "save my little brother". FAIR told us "Sheriff Bunker" told him to "spit that thing out [the IV]" and he (unclear if it was Deputy Bunker or FAIR) gave it to the nurse. FAIR told us he remembers he was handcuffed when Officer Bunker pounded his chest and he remembers calling to the nurses for help.

FAIR told us he remembers he and the officers were watching the television show "Glee" when this happened. FAIR told us he didn't want to watch Glee and was asking the officers if they could watch football instead; because, the New England Patriots were playing the Miami Dolphins at PSU in Portland.

FAIR talked to us about this episode, when he pulled the IV out of his arm and Officer Barker pounded his chest, a number of times throughout the interview, sometimes in full and sometimes to offer additional bits of information about it. For example, FAIR told us that an abrasion (or scar) on his right forearm is evidence of where he had pulled the IV from, out of his mouth. Mrs. Jarrell told us one of the nurse's had told her FAIR had removed the IV from his arm, during the final weekend he was at OHSU. Mrs. Jarrell told us FAIR's scheduled discharge from OHSU to the Children's Farm Home, on October 8th, was delayed because of a urinary tract infection. Mrs. Jarrell told us this incident, when FAIR removed his IV, happened during that weekend. Based upon the information provided in the OHSU medical records, FAIR's pneumomediastinum had been resolved by October 10th; so, if one of the guards had struck FAIR's chest, it was not the cause of the pneumomediastinum. FAIR was discharged to the Children's Farm Home on October 11th. (notes page 12—I can't read your notes about what mom said)

FAIR was able to describe Officer Bunker as a white man with his hair combed back from his forehead. I asked if his hair was "slicked back". FAIR said yes and after that he referred to Officer Bunker as having his hair slicked back. FAIR was unable to give any physical descriptors, such as approximate height, weight, tall or short, thin or fat, etcetera. FAIR sometimes seemed to refer to Officer Bunker as "Deputy Bull" and Officer "Bull".

FAIR told us another Corrections Deputy with Officer Bunker was "Officer Schodder". Again, FAIR announced this name in different ways. I heard the name as "Scrotum" and "Schroeder"; Detective Eriksen told me he also heard this name announced differently, including "Schodder". Hereafter, this person will be referred to as Deputy Schroeder. FAIR described Deputy Schroeder as having a red beard, like a goatee. FAIR offered no other descriptions of Deputy Schroeder. Later, during the interview, FAIR told us Deputy Bull was watching him while he was in ICU and Deputy Bull had a red goatee.

FAIR told us his therapist (Trevor) told him about a lot of things he doesn't remember. FAIR told us he was told he was screaming "Code 99...next thing, I'm here [at the Children's Farm Home]."

I asked FAIR if he knows why he was screaming Code 99. FAIR told us he was screaming Code 99 because he was lying, in his hospital bed, on top of his "Saviors", Tre and Demerius. FAIR explained "My mind was playing tricks on me" FAIR told us he started getting his memory back when he got here (Children's Farm Home).

FAIR told us his therapist, Trevor, explained that he has a "sprain in my brain". FAIR told us he has marked on a calendar, in his bedroom, when he started to get his memories back, since he was admitted at this facility. FAIR told us Trevor told him sleep and nutrition have helped him recover his memories. FAIR, and Mrs. Jarrell, told us he is ahead of his treatment schedule, which has been astonishing to staff and family.

FAIR told us his last memory before being admitted at the Children's Farm Home is being strapped into a chair to be transported to this facility. FAIR told us his mind was telling him to think of his friends who were there to help him the whole time.

FAIR told us he remembers the drive from OHSU to the Children's Farm Home. FAIR told us he was in the back seat and there were two Officers. FAIR told us he remembers asking the driver to slow down. FAIR remembers thinking the front passenger had an iPhone. FAIR remembers thinking the officer was recording him, with the iPhone. FAIR told us he didn't want to look in the Officer's eyes, because he thought he was "the devil". FAIR told us he was playing "copy-cat" by trying to copy the front passenger's head movements; for example, if the passenger tipped his head to the side, FAIR copied the movement.

FAIR told us he remembers eating "a lot of lunch" when he got to this place. FAIR told us he remembers being told he could have more and if he was hungry, he would be given more.

I asked FAIR if he could recall his last memory before he was arrested. FAIR told us he remembers going to a Wiz Khalifa rap concert on Friday (September 10, 2010—I verified the concert via the Internet) at the Roseland Theater in downtown Portland. FAIR told us he went with two friends. FAIR told us he and his two friends smoked marijuana (after he looked to Mrs. Jarrell to make sure it was okay to tell us he had been smoking marijuana) before the concert. FAIR told us he and his friends met up with a large group of Parkrose High School students at the concert. FAIR told us he went home after the concert, because he wanted to be home before his curfew. Mrs. Jarrell told us FAIR was home before his curfew, which was midnight.

FAIR told us he did not do any mosh pits or crowd surfing. FAIR told us he was in the front row at the concert; he told us he and his friends stood at the front row and were nodding his heads to the beat. FAIR told us the concert was “chill”.

FAIR told us he wasn't in any fights that night. FAIR told us he wasn't in any fights in the days before he was arrested, Monday September 13, 2010. FAIR told us he wasn't in any unreported car crashes, he didn't fall down, and he didn't have any injuries before he went to school. FAIR couldn't recall any other situation that could have caused chest trauma.

FAIR, and his mother, told us that over the weekend (September 11-12, 2010) he stayed at home on Saturday to spend the day with his nephew. On Sunday he went shopping for his school supplies, with Mrs. Jarrell. FAIR told us he did not get hit in the chest by a basketball, or anything. Mrs. Jarrell told us FAIR had dinner with his friends on Sunday. Mrs. Jarrell told us FAIR was fine over the weekend.

FAIR told us he remembers going to Parkrose High School on Monday (September 13, 2010). FAIR told us he went to the library to see his friend “Mondo”. FAIR told us he was met by a detective with a gold tooth, when he came out of the library. FAIR told us the detective told him he had to go with them. Detective Eriksen told me he has meet PPB Detective Hollins and knows Detective Hollins has a gold tooth. FAIR told us he doesn't remember anything else after that, except sporadic memories that happened before he was transferred to the Children's Farm Home.

FAIR told us he remembers being Tased at JDH. FAIR description of being Tased seems to be a confusion of two separate episodes, which we have learned about by reviewing reports and conducting interviews. The two episodes that he seemed to be combining were the inmate transfer at JDH and the tazing incident at MCDC, before he was transported to OHSU. I've developed this opinion because FAIR told us particular information about the incident at JDH, but he described backing up to a small window and placing his hands through the slot, with his back to the door, which I know happened at MCDC:

1. FAIR told us he remembers being handcuffed, behind his back.
2. FAIR told us "I remember faking it" when he heard the tazer, when he was on the ground. Fair told us he doesn't remember where this happened; however, based on interviews of Corrections Deputy Tim Barker, Corrections Deputy Mike DeLuca, and Craig Bachman, we know this in fact happened at JDH, when FAIR was being transferred from JDH to MCDC custody.
3. FAIR told us he had put "my hands outside of the thing", an officer appeared to be preparing to kick the thing, so he pulled his hands in so they wouldn't be smashed. FAIR explained there was a small slot on the door and he was instructed to back up to it and to put his hands behind his back, in the slot. FAIR said he saw one of the officers was going to kick the slot, so FAIR withdrew his hands and moved away from the slot. I know, because of Corrections Deputy Tim Barker's statement, that FAIR was asked to back up to a slot in the door at MCDC, when officers were preparing to secure FAIR for transport to OHSU. There has been no mention, during interviews or reports, of any Corrections Deputy attempting to kick the slot onto FAIR's hands. (I took photographs of the cell adjacent to where this happened, to provide some context to what FAIR was describing. Those photos of the ISO cell are included as part of Attachment A.)
4. FAIR told us he was in a small room, by himself, when he was instructed to put his hands in the door slot, so he backed up to the slot, put his hands in the slot and held his hands together. FAIR told us he remembered a small window in that room. FAIR told us he remembers "a lot of officers...standing outside" and FAIR was telling them to "talk to me".
5. FAIR told us he doesn't remember how long he was in this small room (cell).
6. FAIR told us he remembers the flap was shut, but he couldn't recall seeing or hearing an officer actually kick it. FAIR told us he doesn't remember being kicked by anybody, at any time while he was in custody.
7. FAIR remembers there were "a lot of guards" with him when he was put into an ambulance.
8. I asked FAIR if he was Tased at this room with the small slot. FAIR said no, he was Tased at JDH, when he was on the ground.
9. I asked FAIR if he remembers being at the adult jail. FAIR told us he has no memory of being in the adult jail, MCDC.

10. FAIR told us he remembers being Tased when he was outside of the JDH facility, outside the door: FAIR told us he was Tased "Once I got outside" of JDH.
11. FAIR told us he only remembers some of the JDH workers were outside, then he was on the ground and he was Tased.
12. FAIR told us Officers Bunker and Schroeder were there when he was Tased.
13. FAIR told us he doesn't know why he was Tased, but he was warned they were going to "Tase ya."
14. FAIR told us he remembers being Tased only one time and that was at JDH.
15. (notes page 10—I don't recall this, or remember the context of this statement) FAIR told us "I can't tell who hit me or what happened".
16. Mrs. Jarrell told us when doctors were examining FAIR's chest on September 21st, FAIR grimaced when pressure was applied to his chest region. FAIR wasn't talking, but his facial expressions showed his discomfort and/or pain.

I asked FAIR if he has any memories of his time at JDH, or if he remembers any of the staff members. FAIR told us he doesn't have any memories of what happened when he was at JDH.

I asked FAIR if he remembers his basketball coach visited him at JDH. FAIR told us he doesn't remember talking to his basketball coach, but his mother had told him he had.

FAIR told us about several injuries that he didn't have before he was arrested. Mrs. Jarrell pointed out the marks on FAIR's body, and she told us about some that were no longer visible, that weren't present before he was arrested:

1. In particular, Mrs. Jarrell pointed out several scars around FAIR's wrists and ankles; I observed these injuries and suspect, based on my experience, the marks in those locations are the result of handcuffing, ankle restraints, four-point restraints, and resistance (rubbing) against those restraints. During our interview with Melanie ____ at MCDC, she told us that she had to go to OHSU to cleanse the areas where FAIR was being restrained, because those areas weren't being properly cleaned.
2. Mrs. Jarrell pointed out an abrasion on FAIR's right shoulder, right shin, and left forearm. We've been unable to discover an incident that specifically addresses any of these particular injuries; however, Mrs. Jarrell agreed that the shin abrasion looks like it was rubbed against something and is possibly the result of FAIR's shin rubbing against the van threshold when he was being transferred from JDH to MCDC custody. It is therefore possible that the other abrasions in these areas were created during the same incident.

3. FAIR pointed to two small scratches at the base of his neck, above his right collarbone. FAIR explained these are probably the result of being tucked in, which he asked the officers and/or nurses to do for him at OHSU.
4. FAIR pointed to two small marks on his right forearm and explained those were the IV entry points. He explained he pulled the IV out of his arm in this area.
5. FAIR, and Mrs. Jarrell, did not tell us about any marks that were no longer visible; though, they did tell us that the abrasion on the right shin was about six inches long, and much more visible, before. Mr. Kaffoury pointed out that we were documenting these injuries many weeks after they first appeared. I agreed, though the OHSU medical records and police reports do not document when each injury first appeared, or their progression of discoloration and healing.
6. I examined FAIR's chest and upper thighs for evidence of the Taser probes. I saw no marks in those areas. Mrs. Jarrell did not find any marks in those areas, either.

At the end of the interview, FAIR allowed me to photograph those marks and injuries. I've uploaded the images to CD and have entered those into evidence. I've also included the images (except those that are unclear because of flash) in Attachment A.

FAIR told us several times that he doesn't have a lot of memories during the time he was in custody. Mrs. Jarrell told us FAIR doesn't remember talking to her on Monday (check notes on page 10) or at court; FAIR doesn't remember visiting with his parents after court. Mrs. Jarrell told us she and her husband weren't going to be allowed to visit with their son after his court appearance, because he was behaving strangely; they convinced the Deputies to allow a visit and she and her husband saw right away that FAIR was not behaving normally; something was wrong.

I asked FAIR if he remembers visiting with his attorney, while at JDH. FAIR told us he remembers telling his attorney "he wasn't Gary Bertoni"; he thought it was someone else pretending to be Gary Bertoni. FAIR told us he remembers yellow court papers; jumping up and down trying to get out of the room.

I asked FAIR if he remembers anything that happened while he was OHSU, or if he remembers any of the people who cared for him. FAIR told us he remembered Dr. Galapooia (I believe FAIR meant "Dr. Divya Gollapudi"). FAIR told us he remembers "dude with a scratch on his glasses", in the ICU.

I asked FAIR to tell us about this place, the Children's Farm Home. FAIR told us "this place has really helped me". FAIR told us he was told that when he first got to this place he was calling everyone "The devil".

I asked FAIR if he has any specific memories of anybody at JDH or jail treating him well, or badly. FAIR told us "I try to remember, but [I] can't".

I asked FAIR if anybody hurt him, other than the Taser, while he was at JDH or the jail. FAIR said he can't remember.

FAIR told us when he removed the IV from his arm, he was trying to protect his little brother. FAIR told us this is one of those pieces of trash that Trevor has been helping him remove from his head. FAIR told us he was thinking he needed to get out of his bed to protect his brother, but that wasn't something real. (notes page 12, at the bottom, please make sure this is right)

I asked FAIR if he remembers being afraid of anybody in particular at JDH or the jail. FAIR said no.

I asked FAIR if there is anybody that he is afraid of, today. FAIR answered, "Schroeder and Bunker. That's about it."

I asked FAIR if he was afraid of any of the other inmates, or kids at JDH. FAIR said no. I asked FAIR if any kids threatened him, or intimidated him, while at JDH. FAIR said no. FAIR told us he wasn't frightened of any kids, he didn't remember being in any confrontations, and he can't remember being in any fights with staff.

I asked FAIR if he has trouble communicating with people. FAIR said no.

FAIR told us "My mind is coming back". FAIR told us this place (Children's Farm Home) has been helpful. FAIR told us he likes the structure here better than at JDH. FAIR told us the environment here is more "gentle" than at JDH. FAIR told us he likes having the ability to talk with his therapist about "why I had a mental breakdown".

I asked FAIR if the medical staff at JDH or the jail were helpful. FAIR said he couldn't remember. (notes page 15—I can't decipher the last paragraph)

Mrs. Jarrell told us the medical system has failed her son everywhere but here, at the Children's Farm Home.

Mrs. Jarrell told us Chief Deputy Schults was understanding of her concerns about her son's mental condition.

Mrs. Jarrell told us the entire law enforcement process became "stressful" for Kyeron. Mrs. Jarrell explained Kyeron is not used to confrontation and he probably would not have understood the JDH environment. Mrs. Jarrell told us the whole process would have been an "overload", from day one. Mrs. Jarrell told us she is the disciplinarian in the household.

Mrs. Jarrell told us JDH didn't accurately assess his mental and physical health. She told us the JDH staff misperceived FAIR's behavior as defiance.

Mrs. Jarrell told us this entire process has been confusing and frustrating. She told us she wanted to be included in FAIR's medical treatment, but she wasn't. She wanted to know what treatment FAIR was receiving, and although Chief Deputy Schults arranged for her to be involved in her son's medical care, that decision was not necessarily being passed on to his Corrections Deputies and OHSU would not abide by his decision, because it was inconsistent with the OHSU policies. Mrs. Jarrell told us the silence, or lack of information she has received from JDH, OHSU, MCSO and PPB, has been difficult to understand.

Mrs. Jarrell told her "Lori", who is a nurse at JDH and works with Anne Smith, told her FAIR had a mental health condition. Mrs. Jarrell told us "Lori" recommended she hire a private attorney. Mrs. Jarrell told us "Lori" recommended she hire "Chuck Paulson", who is a civil rights attorney. Mrs. Jarrell told us "Lori" never said why she should hire a private attorney and she said anything more than that. Mrs. Jarrell told us after Dr. Craig Usher failed to return a phone call he'd promised to make to her, she decided to follow "Lori's" advice and she hired an attorney. On November 16, 2010 Mrs. Jarrell informed me that the name "Lori" is incorrect. She told me the Sheryl Procter was "filling in for Anne Smith on Thursday September 16. She suggested Chuck Paulson".

At the end of this interview, I took the aforementioned photographs of FAIR.

Mrs. Jarrell pointed out a small scar/abrasion on FAIR's left forearm. The scar is difficult to see, but it appeared to be an approximately 1/2-inch abrasion along the vertical line in the "a" tattoo.

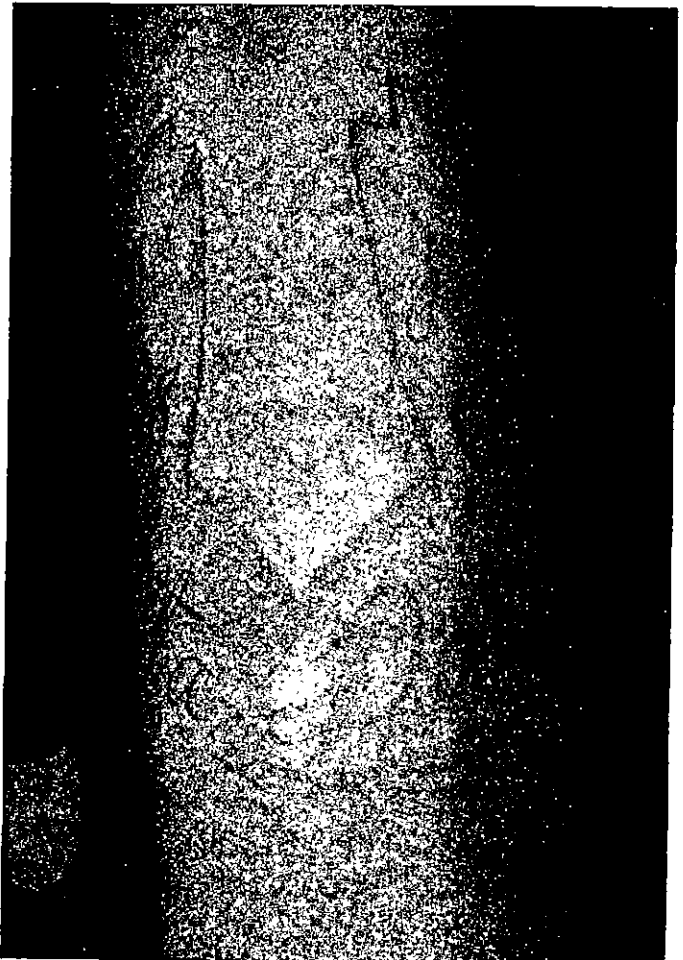

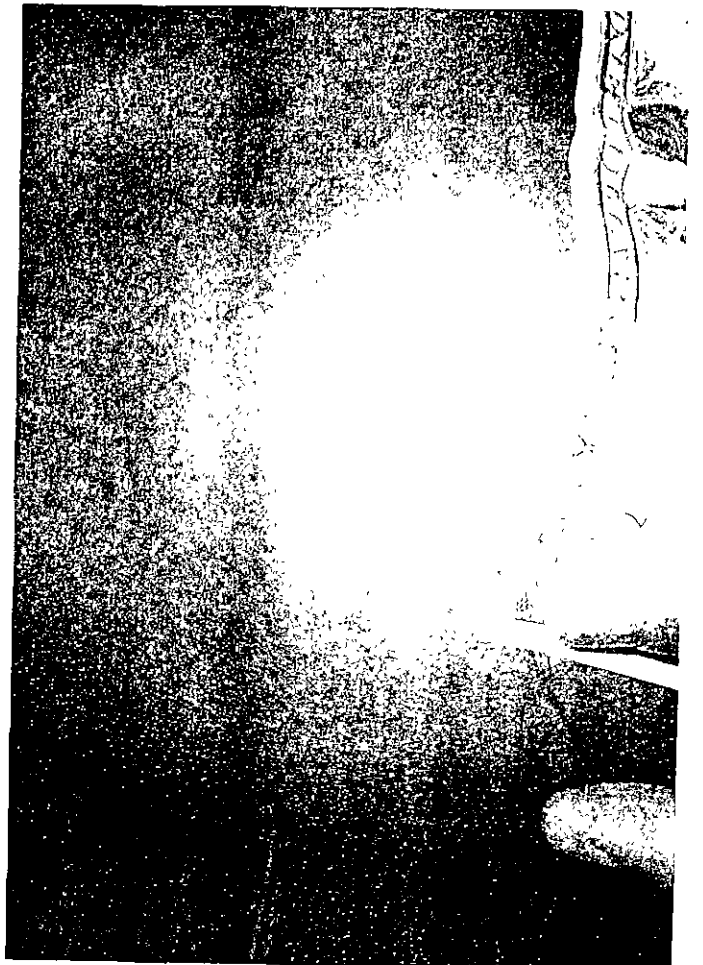

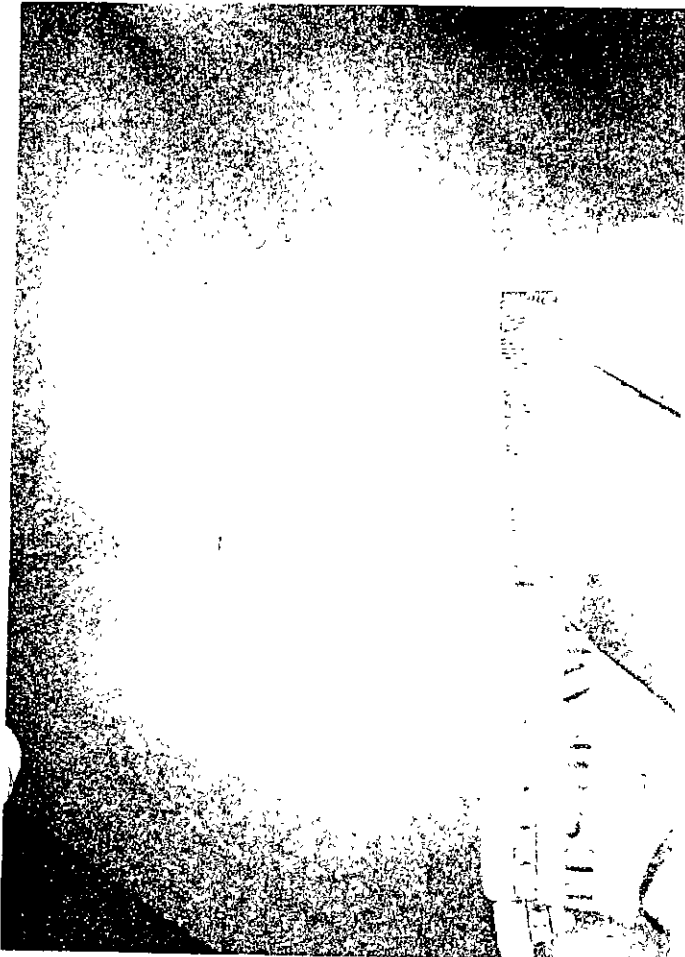

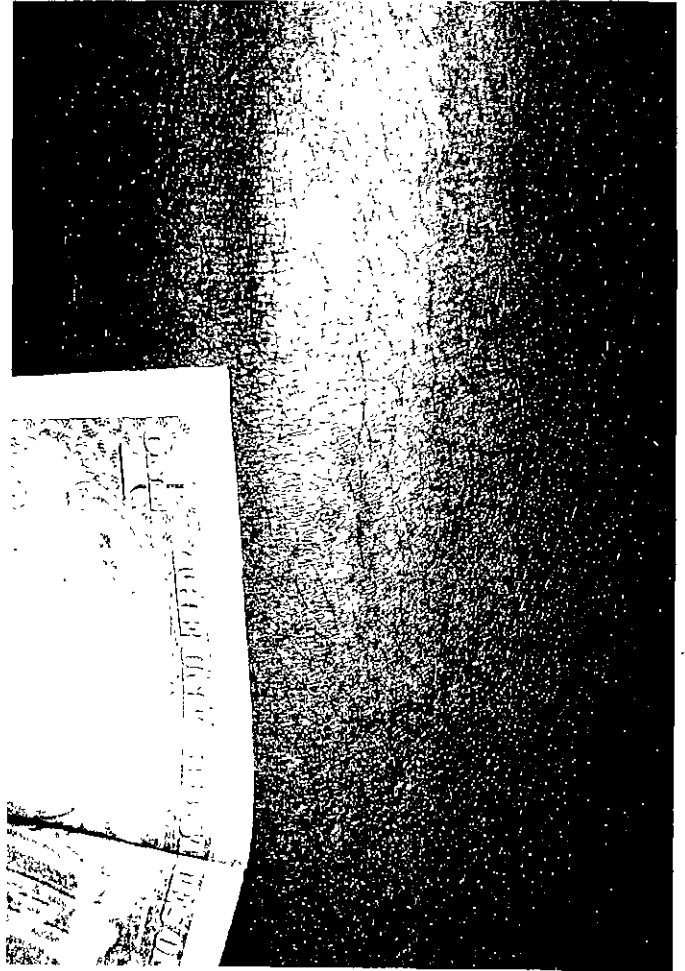

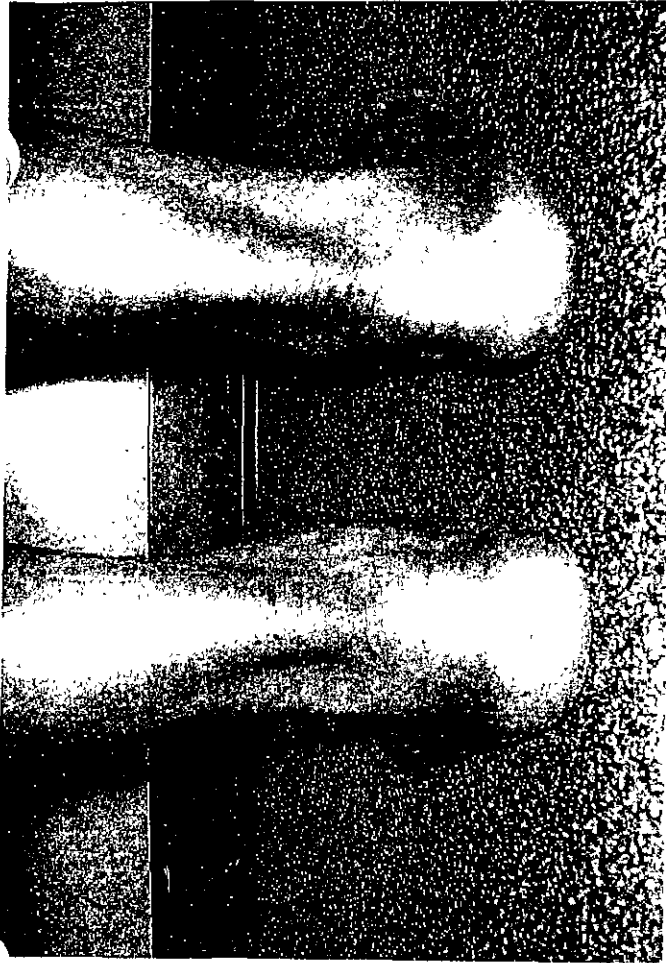

Mrs. Jarrell and Mr. Kafoury pointed out possible scarring on FAIR's heels. It was my observation that his skin was dry in this area and there is some abrasion, that is presumably caused by ankle chains. FAIR told us he was not beaten, or struck at any time, on this area of his body. (Dry Skin) (Abrasions)

MENTIONED:

Kyeron Jarrel Fair, DOB: 7/29/93

Kelli Jarrell, previously mentioned

SUMMARY:

On September 13, 2010 FAIR was arrested by the Portland Police Bureau and charged with multiple crimes related to an armed robbery. FAIR was lodged at the Juvenile Detention Hall (JDH); he was transferred to the Multnomah County Detention Center (MCDC) on September 17, 2010; FAIR was a patient, while in custody, at the Oregon Health & Sciences University (OHSU) on September 17-18 and September 21 – October 11, 2010. FAIR was diagnosed with a mental illness and pneumomediastinum. The Oregon State Police was asked to assist the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office with an investigation of FAIR's incarceration, any use of force, and whether or not any of FAIR's medical conditions are a result of treatment, or lack of, by employees at JDH and MCDC.

As part of this investigation, I received phone calls from Kelli Jarrell on November 8th and 12th, during which she expressed her concerns about the investigation and we agreed on what questions she wants to have answered. Mrs. Jarrell wants to know if anybody mistreated her son, and if they did they should be held accountable. Mrs. Jarrell wants to a history of her son's medical care—observations, opinions, and treatment, beginning the date of his arrest.

ACTION TAKEN:

On Monday November 8, 2010 I receive a voicemail from Kelli Jarrell, requesting I return her call. I was able to speak with her from approximately 1:21pm until 1:40pm.

Mrs. Jarrell told me she has concerns that an employee of Multnomah County (Detective Eriksen) is involved with the investigation. She asked me for my opinion on the matter. I explained that the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office is ultimately responsible for the investigation and they were under no obligation to ask for assistance from an outside agency and I view their request for assistance as indicative of their effort to prohibit any conflict of interest. I explained further that Deputy Eriksen's familiarity with the Multnomah County system has been beneficial and I believe that we are striving to conduct a thorough, unbiased investigation.

Mrs. Jarrell expressed her frustration with the length of this process. She concurred, when I summarized that it sounds as though she is mostly frustrated because she wasn't included in her son's medical care and decision making from the beginning and she has been unable to get answers from anybody to the questions she has about her son's symptoms, treatment and care. We discussed her concerns and agreed we are both looking to answer the same questions; so, the investigation is headed in the appropriate direction.

Mrs. Jarrell told me her husband was approached by another man, recently, who said his son was at JDH at the same time Kyeron Fair was there. This unidentified man said his son heard Kyeron yelling all night long. The man said he couldn't talk anymore about it at that time, suggesting the information was too sensitive to discuss in a public place. Mrs. Jarrell told me the man's comment and behavior has alarmed her. She told me she would try to find out who the man is and get him to call me, or provide his name and phone number.

Mrs. Jarrell thanked me at the end of her phone call. I invited her to call me at any time.

Mrs. Jarrell called me again on Friday November 12, 2010. We spoke for approximately thirty minutes, between about 9:40am and 10:10am.

Mrs. Jarrell told me she had read a blog on "The Portland Skanner" that has bothered her. She told me she doesn't normally read blogs, but she was bothered when she read this. She told me an anonymous Juvenile Court Counselor (JCC) expressed concerns about the treatment of children at JDH and the perception by some managers that these inmates are criminals, not children.

Mrs. Jarrell told me she is angry, upset, and doesn't know what to think. She told me she has good days and bad days. She told me her family has been good to her and is allowing her to work through this. She told me she misses her son deeply and just wants to have him back again, hopefully as he was before the arrest. Mrs. Jarrell told me she doesn't know who she can talk to. She told me she doesn't know if she should talk to me, her attorney, or if she should even talk to me. I told her she can call me anytime she wants to. She told me she doesn't know who to trust, but she thinks I am sincere when I tell her that we are doing our best to answer the questions she has and to determine if anybody mistreated her son. She told me she is a good judge of character and she thinks she can trust me.

Mrs. Jarrell told me Kyeron had recently had an assessment at Trillium Children's Farm Home and was told he is ahead of schedule. She was told Kyeron is one of the most polite, well-behaved children who has been at the Farm Home. She told me Kyeron has been doing well with his schooling and he's been excited because he seems to be understanding his course material (history lessons) better in this environment than he did in the public schools.

Mrs. Jarrell told me Kyeron is not stupid, but his mind does work slowly. She told me if he has too much information thrown at him quickly, his mind shuts down. She told me he processes information fine; but, it is clear he is functioning better in the Children's Farm Home environment.

Mrs. Jarrell told me she is concerned with Kyeron's medical treatment because the doctors at Trillium Children's Farm Home have not been provided the medical records from OHSU, so they aren't able to view this mental episode from its onset, which began on September 13, 2010 when he was arrested. We discussed this, as we had briefly on September 8th, that there have been a number of people who have observed and treated Kyeron and they haven't all been in agreement with what was happening, because they lacked information and needed time to make observations; additionally, there hasn't been one professional conducting observations and making decisions. Because of the discontinuity in his treatment, Mrs. Jarrell is interested in viewing Kyeron's treatment chronologically: what observations were made, when were decisions made to seek medical treatment, what opinions were formulated, etcetera. I assured Mrs. Jarrell that is an objective of this investigation.

I explained to Mrs. Jarrell that we are investigating all use-of-force incidents and trying to determine if Kyeron was mistreated at any point, by anybody and we are trying to establish a history of medical treatment and decision making while Kyeron was in custody. Mrs. Jarrell agreed this strategy is appropriate.

Mrs. Jarrell told me the doctors at Trillium Children's Farm Home diagnosed three mental illnesses during the last assessment: 1) Psychosis w/cannaboid effect; 2) Bi-Polar Disorder; and, Delirium. She told me she advocated for her son, with Dr. Sales (spelling?), regarding the diagnosis of Psychosis w/cannaboid effect. Mrs. Jarrell argued that marijuana cannot be the cause of her son's psychotic episode/symptoms; Dr. Sales agreed and changed that diagnoses to Psychosis NOS (not otherwise specified).

Mrs. Jarrell expressed frustration that JDH staff couldn't see that something was wrong with Kyeron, early on; she was angered because they weren't listening to her complaint that something was wrong with her son. Mrs. Jarrell is upset that some of the JDH staff thought her son was faking the mental episodes.

Mrs. Jarrell and I discussed the onset of Kyeron's altered mental state (AMS). We agreed the AMS began after his arrest and was likely caused because of the magnitude of the stressors associated with such a life-altering event: arrest, Ballot Measure 11 charges with possible sentencing into the adult prison system, removal from family and friends, and incarceration. We agreed, especially in light of the fact that Kyeron kind of shuts down when faced with too much information, that the stressors of this event triggered the AMS. With that agreement, it becomes necessary to document what was known and what decisions were made, to determine if Kyeron was properly cared for. Mrs. Jarrell acknowledged that it is likely that some opinions were inaccurate, because not even she, her husband, or Mr. Stewart (Kyeron's basketball coach) could figure out what was going on with him. Mrs. Jarrell expressed relief that we both seem to be headed in the same direction.

Mrs. Jarrell expressed concern that those involved may not be cooperative witnesses. She fears this not only from City and County employees, but the doctors as well. I assured her we have received no resistance from anybody, during this investigation. I empathized that this is taking so long; however, I pointed out that her son is in a safe place and we've collected all of the records available, so when we are called to an investigation that requires more immediate attention, this loses some priority. Mrs. Jarrell understood. She told me multiple times she doesn't want to waste our time with this investigation and she apologized if she is. I told Mrs. Jarrell it is not a waste of our time, but it is not getting worked rapidly, because nobody is in imminent danger and we have no fear that information or evidence will not be available later.

Mrs. Jarrell told me another black teenager was recently admitted at Trillium Children's Farm Home. Kyeron told her the boy knows him and said he was at JDH when Kyeron was there. Kyeron told her the boy said he (Kyeron) had been yelling all night, he peed in his cell, and he fired his attorney, Gary Bertoni. Kyeron told her the boy wanted to know why he (Kyeron) fired Gary Bertoni, because Gary Bertoni is the best juvenile criminal defense lawyer.

Mrs. Jarrell expressed her concerns about Ballot Measure 11 and its effect on children. I told Mrs. Jarrell that our investigation is not going to address the legal issues of Ballot Measure 11 and children, nor will we be addressing the policies of medical care and parental involvement with decision making for an inmate, whether juvenile or adult. Mrs. Jarrell told me she understood and agreed those discussions should happen amongst other people.

At the end of the phone call, Mrs. Jarrell told me she is satisfied that we are both seeking answers to the same questions. Mrs. Jarrell told me she would e-mail the aforementioned newspaper blog. I sent a test e-mail to the e-mail address provided and she replied with the blog, which is attached at the end of this report.

This is FYI only, in lieu of the story I was just amazed because I have lived this scenario everything that could have gone wrong in K's situation did and as a result has caused me to cry and I'm usually a very strong woman question things that have no answers one beautiful thing is my faith and knowing that I have never seen the righteous forsaken makes me say hallelujah..

In fear of retaliation and my being employed I can not say; or state what I'd really like to. But Measure 11 should be against the law, period! I see frightened children everyday; in graved fear of what is really going to happen to them after been arrested and much of the time, these are first time offenders, usually hanging out with the wrong crowd, or just afraid of been bullied by a stronger peer in the first place. Now please don't misunderstand...There are a few dangerous young adult who are incarcerated for some pretty serious crimes; but really it is just a few. Since I have been employed here at JCC; I see mostly Hispanic Youth and Blacks that are the majority of measure 11 crimes. And sometimes, even the White poor kids get the bad breaks too, and many of them are not represented properly. It's really sad to see how our society looks at our kids. Most of the time they are pre-judged even before anything else is ever found out... (One top manager, referred to a kid to me as a criminal; and would be rid of this young person at the drop of a hat; not wanting to solve the problem, but just throw the baby out with the bath water so to speak) I was shocked, fearful and confused even as an adult person; so I can only imagine what a youth must be going through much of the time. Most of the Managers here are good professional people; but honestly a few of them have too much authority, and perhaps have been on these grounds too damn long; not to mention their own prejudices against kids of color...believe me, you do not want to open up that can of worms, your butt will be out the door! So I can only hope that the authorities will get to the bottom of this case. And for the entire community out there, please heard this...Measure 11 is a crime! This kind of law should be, for real hardcore criminals; not for children who are caught-up in making a mistake for the first time, and need the support of their families, dedicated professionals and support from all communities, at large. Honestly, we all need to come together and fight injustice as it occurs almost daily where I work. It's really a heart breaker...

SUMMARY:

On September 13, 2010 FAIR was arrested by the Portland Police Bureau and charged with multiple crimes related to an armed robbery. FAIR was lodged at the Juvenile Detention Hall (JDH); he was transferred to the Multnomah County Detention Center (MCDC) on September 17, 2010; FAIR was a patient, while in custody, at the Oregon Health & Sciences University (OHSU) on September 17-18 and September 21 - October 11, 2010. FAIR was diagnosed with a mental illness and pneumomediastinum. The Oregon State Police was asked to assist the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office with an investigation of FAIR's incarceration, any use of force, and whether or not any of FAIR's medical conditions are a result of treatment, or lack of, by employees at JDH and MCDC.

As part of this investigation, Detective Eriksen and I interviewed Sergeant Michael Phelps. Sergeant Phelps was the Officer In Charge (OIC) at MCDC on September 17, 2010. Sergeant Phelps was involved with the decision making process to transfer FAIR from JDH to MCDC and he was involved with the decision to transport FAIR to OHSU.

ACTION TAKEN:

On October 19, 2010 Detective Erikson and I interviewed Multnomah County Corrections Sergeant Michael Phelps. The interview was conducted in MCSO Captain Bishop's office at MCDC between approximately 4:10 and 4:50 p.m.

Sergeant Phelps told us that he has been employed by MCSO at the jail for approximately 15 years. He told us that he worked at the Oregon State Penitentiary for about one year before coming to MCSO. He told us that he worked for approximately 3½ at the Children's Farm Home before that.

Sergeant Phelps was represented by his Union Executive Vice President Doug Hewitt.

Sergeant Phelps told us that on September 17, 2010 he was the officer in charge (OIC) for the swing shift. He told us that it was his responsibility to ensure that staffing was adequate and that all special needs were covered. He told us that his equal in rank during that shift was Sergeant Miller, Sergeant Kindall, and Sergeant Scott. He told us that Sergeant Miller was responsible for intake, Sergeant Kindall was responsible for Floors 3 through 5, and Sergeant Scott was responsible for Floors 6 to 10. He told us that he was the officer in charge by rotation.

Sergeant Phelps told us that he was notified at approximately 4:00 p.m. by Nurse Tori that JDH had a suicidal kid with mental health issues. Sergeant Phelps told us that he received information that Inmate Kyeron Fair was on suicide watch, but there was no mention of behavioral issues.

Sergeant Phelps told us that normal practice would require a panel review of the juvenile's situation to be prepared and provided to the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office before the juvenile inmate would be accepted at the adult facility. He told us that the only reason a juvenile would be transferred to the adult facility was if the juvenile was remanded, sentenced, or was awaiting transport to an adult facility, or he was behaviorally out of control. Sergeant Phelps told me that he can recall maybe ten such instances during his career when a juvenile was transferred from the JDH to the adult facility.

Sergeant Phelps told me that when Nurse Tori told him that JDH was going to send a juvenile to the adult facility he denied the transfer. Sergeant Phelps told me that he consulted with the other sergeants and they all agreed that they would not accept the juvenile at the facility. The four sergeants came to agreement that the juvenile would not be accepted and that information was relayed to the juvenile facility.

Sergeant Phelps told me that at about 7:00 p.m. he received a call from the Holding Deputy--Deputy Harris. Sergeant Phelps explained that the holding deputy is usually notified of any custody with special circumstances. Deputy Harris told him that JDH was sending the juvenile inmate to the adult facility. Sergeant Phelps told us that he called JDH and he spoke with the Custody Services Manager Craig Bachman about the juvenile inmate they wished to transfer to the adult facility. Sergeant Phelps told me that he and Craig Bachman had a lengthy conversation. Mr. Bachman said the juvenile inmate exhibited aggressive and assaultive behavior, he wouldn't follow orders or directives, he tied something around his head (not his neck), he had tried to escape his room by running through JDH staff members, and he was facing Measure 11 charges. Sergeant Phelps asked Mr. Bachman if the juvenile was suicidal. Mr. Bachman said he wouldn't send someone to the adult facility who was suicidal. Sergeant Phelps ended the conversation by saying he would have to consult his superiors before the adult facility would accept the juvenile as a transfer inmate.

Sergeant Phelps told us that Mr. Bachman gave no information that the juvenile inmate was or was not injured; Mr. Bachman did not notify him that the juvenile inmate was acting aggressively or assaultive at the moment; Mr. Bachman did not advise if the juvenile inmate did or did not require medical attention for any need, whether that be physical or psychological; Mr. Bachman only told Sergeant Phelps that the juvenile inmate was restrained because he had been out of control.

Sergeant Phelps told me that Sergeant Kindall called Captain Bishop. Captain Bishop decided they would not accept the juvenile at the adult facility. Captain Bishop had conferred with Deputy Chief Schults before making that final decision. At that time the agreement was the juvenile inmate would not be accepted at the adult facility.

Sergeant Phelps called Mr. Bachman and explained that the captain and the Deputy Chief had decided the adult facility would not accept transfer of the juvenile inmate. Mr. Bachman was frustrated and he made a request for a return phone call from Captain Bishop or Deputy Chief Schults. Sergeant Phelps passed that request along to Captain Bishop.

About ten minutes later Sergeant Phelps received a phone call from Captain Bishop. Captain Bishop said that he had spoken with Mr. Bachman and the decision was made that the adult facility would accept transfer of the juvenile inmate. Captain Bishop ordered that Sergeant Phelps should send two transport deputies to JDH to receive the juvenile inmate from JDH. Sergeant Phelps told us that he did not receive any information from Mr. Bachman that the juvenile inmate was in a violent state. Sergeant Phelps sent Corrections Deputies Barker and DeLuca to complete the transfer.

Sergeant Phelps told us that once at the juvenile facility Deputies Barker and DeLuca received the juvenile inmate. There was a use of force incident at the JDH by Deputy Barker while he was trying to get the inmate into the transport van. Both Deputies Barker and DeLuca wrote reports about the incident. Sergeant Phelps was critical of Deputy DeLuca's report because it had extraneous information; information that Deputy DeLuca did not have direct knowledge of. Sergeant Phelps was critical that Deputy DeLuca had written a full-page lead in to the use of force incident about phone conversations that he may or may not have overheard. Sergeant Phelps wrote a report about this incident and the report was based on his knowledge and his reading of Deputy DeLuca's and Deputy Barker's reports.

Sergeant Phelps told us that after the juvenile inmate was received at the adult facility he found he saw in the juvenile inmate's paperwork that he had been on suicide watch beginning at approximately 1:30 p.m. that day. Sergeant Phelps told us that Mr. Bachman had told him the juvenile inmate was not suicidal but the form showed that he was on suicide watch.

Sergeant Phelps told us that his deputies (Barker and DeLuca) had notified him about the use of force with the juvenile inmate before they arrived at the adult facility. He told us that Deputy Barker told him, by telephone, that he had injured his shoulder a little bit during the struggle with the juvenile inmate. He told us that Deputy Barker told him that the juvenile did fight quite a bit and that there were maybe three or more engagements with the combative juvenile; he told us that Deputy Barker told him that the juvenile transitioned from combative to non-combative behavior several times. Sergeant Phelps asked if the juvenile inmate was injured at all. Deputy Barker said that the juvenile inmate was okay, he was in the van and he was not complaining of any injuries. Deputy Barker told him there was no obvious sign of injury to the juvenile inmate. Sergeant Phelps said that he could not hear any complaint or noise being made by the juvenile inmate in the background of this phone conversation.

Upon their arrival at the adult facility with the juvenile inmate (Kyeron), Sergeant Phelps told us he went to the booking area to talk to Nurse Tori. He had only seen Kyeron for about four seconds. Kyeron was cooperating with Deputies, at the time. He conferred with Nurse Tori because he had heard from somebody that Kyeron was going to be placed on suicide watch or transported to OHSU. Kyeron was moved to an isolation cell—ISO #3, while Nurse Tori called the on-call doctor for a decision.

At approximately 9:55pm, Nurse Tori told him a decision had been made to transfer Kyeron to OHSU. Sgt. Phelps requested permission from Captain Bishop for a three person transport: two Deputies in the ambulance with Kyeron and a third Deputy in a "chase car". Sgt. Phelps told us the three person transport is rarely requested or authorized, but it was approved in this case. Deputy Barker offered to follow the ambulance in the chase care, because he thought Kyeron was beginning to respond to him.

Sergeant Phelps told us he was not present when Kyeron was placed into a restraint chair (or gurney) for transport, during which use-of-force was used to accomplish the transport. He told us he was in the OIC's office, upstairs, and was told about the use-of-force incident after it happened.

Sergeant Phelps told us the JDH suicide watch form showed Kyeron was placed on suicide watch at about 1:30pm on September 16th and wasn't terminated. He pointed out the form is dated September 17th.

Sergeant Phelps told us Kyeron was placed on suicide watch at MCDC when he returned from OHSU on September 18th. Kyeron remained on suicide watch until he was returned to OHSU.

Sergeant Phelps told us all of the use-of-force incidents were reported. He told us the CERT team was activated to facilitate a blood draw from Kyeron, but no force was used. He told us it was obvious Kyeron was experiencing mental health issues, he was compliant but not tracking.

The Oregon State Police was asked to assist the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office with an investigation of FAIR's incarceration, any use of force, and whether or not any of FAIR's medical conditions are a result of treatment, or lack of, by employees at JDH and MCDC.

As part of this investigation, Kelli Jarrell sent me an e-mail that included four questions she has regarding medical decisions made at JDH and her personal notes of her involvement in this episode. Kelli Jarrell also faxed to me a medical report from her son's primary physician.

ACTION TAKEN:

On Friday November 19, 2010 I received an e-mail from Kelli Jarrell, which included her notes of the chronological history of her interaction with JDH, the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office, and OHSU regarding her son, Kyeron Fair. She included four questions she has formulated regarding medical decisions made at JDH, which she hopes are answered in the course of this investigation. I've included the e-mail and her personal notes within this report.

1. This is the content of Mrs. Jarrell's e-mail, date/time stamped November 18, 2010 at 9:35pm:

Hello Detective Sudaisar,

So sorry that it took so long to get this to you. I have been super busy. Well if you see the documentation from 9/16/10 I will be faxing over the call made to Kyeron's Primary Physician with her recommendation for him. I just have a question or two.

On 9/16/10 When I spoke with Susan the nurse at JDH and she agreed that Kyeron needed medical attention in a medical facility and went to ask Craig about transporting him to get medical treatment at that time Craig made the decision that Kyeron would not be taken to a medical facility. Susan is a nurse and a qualified medical professional why would her medical recommendation for treatment be denied?

Does Craig have any medical training or medical certification that would qualify him in determining the medical needs of a individual?

In the event that medical treatment was denied what would be the appropriate process to ensure that the individual received the medical treatment needed?

Upon entering the JDH facility is a medical history form or medical intake completed and if so could JDH provide you with a copy of Kyeron's?

These are just somethings that have crossed my mind. Not trying to tell you how to do your job and I mean no disrespect.

Kelli Jarrell

On November 19, 2010, I e-mailed Mrs. Jarrell's questions to Detective Eriksen, asking him to present these questions to Mr. Craig Bachman. Detective Eriksen e-mailed the questions to Mr. Bachman on November 22, 2010. Mr. Bachman replied on November 23, 2010 with the following answers to the questions:

1. When Kyeron Fair was admitted at JDH on September 13th was a medical intake, or medical history form completed? Mr. Bachman wasn't prepared to answer the question and needed time to research the matter. He was scheduled for vacation, so the answer would be delayed.

a. If no, is that not a normal procedure?

b. If yes, please identify who conducted that initial medical assessment and provide a copy of the medical assessment.

2. At any time were you asked by medical personnel to have Kyeron Fair transported outside of JDH to seek medical attention at a doctor's office or a hospital? I was not asked by medical to have him transported.

3. At any time did JDH medical personnel recommend that Kyeron Fair needed medical treatment that could only be provided outside of the JDH facility? Not that I am aware

a. If yes, who made that recommendation.

b. If yes, who made the decision not to follow-through on that recommendation?

4. Does Mr. Bachman have any medical training or certification? The only medical training or certifications that I hold are American Red Cross First Aid/CPR with AED.

2. This is the content of Mrs. Jarrell's personal notes:

Received a call Monday 9/13/10 from Diamond (Kyeron's sister) that Kyeron had been placed under arrest I called the non emergency number to locate Kyeron was transferred to dispatch they director me to the detective unit. I called the and the front desk person stated that officer Hollins was handling his case and I stated that my son was not to be questioned without having myself or legal representation present I was transferred to Detective Hollins voicemail I left a message not to question Kyeron.

Monday 9/13 11:56 am Cary from Brownstein, Rask, Desylvia and Hay Law Firm made a curtsey call and instructed the Detective Hollins to come get me from downstairs and to stop questioning Kyeron immediately and he was their client. (The law firm represented his sister Diamond in a liability claim against Trillium Charter School so they did the call due to her being a client) Detective Hollins came and got me at 2:45pm and explained the charges.

Monday 9/13/10 Mr. Lincoln a CSS of JDH called to inform me that Kyeron was "ampt" and wanted to talk to me and allowed Kyeron to call He was rambling about his case. It was 9:16pm Mr. Lincoln understanding was that K was not allowed to talk to me or call when he was arrested.

Tuesday 9/14/10. Kyeron went to court and after court his dad and I were allowed to visit, we were told by staff member that he was "ampt" up again and that we could not visit his dad protested and we were allowed to see him, he was not himself at that visit he was rambling and not speaking rational or in complete sentences or thoughts. I was concerned about his mental state.

Wednesday 9/15/10 Mental conditional was in a downward spiral he was not getting any sleep and had not slept since Monday when he was institutionalized. HE had not eaten or slept since Monday 9/13/10. Mr. Lincoln and I discussed Kyeron's mental state Mr. Lincoln stated that Kyeron was still amp up I asked to define amp up he said that he was not cognoscente, could not follow simple directions and did not speak in complete sentence- without thought stating the same thing repetitive. Mr. Lincoln gave me some information on the process. I explained to Mr. Lincoln my concern about Kyeron mental state and that he was beginning to show signs of chemical in-balance and that he needed some help. A natural supplement is called tryptophan which will help improve the mental in-balance naturally. Kyeron's dad and I went to visit Kyeron and we were told by Izzy and Anne Smith Mental Health Care Coordinator stated that they were concerned about Kyeron and that he was not doing well mentally. They would watch him.

We visited with Kyeron he was not able to hold a conversation with us and we tried to get him to calm down. Izzy and Anne Smith met us at the end of the visit and Anne Smith took us into a room and expressed her concerns at that time she told us that Kyeron was unable to leave his cell because he could not complete the orientation process watching a video and answering a few simple questions and she thought that if they could get him to eat and sleep and get out of his cell he might be able to function. She stated that she would be out of the office Thursday and that we could talk to her co-worker Sheryl Procter 503-988-4775

9/16/10 called Susan again today due to Kyeron's condition and explained that I had talked to Kyeron's pcp assistant and let her know of the circumstances around K's worsening condition and had explained his symptoms and the recommendation of his pcp's ma that he get some IV fluids to balance his electrolytes and that his symptoms would not do anything but get worse and increased discombobulating behavior. She agreed and said that he did need medical attention and she would speak to Craig about transporting Kyeron to get medical attention and a consent form faxed to my job to treat Kyeron I waited for about an hour and called her back and she said that her manager said that they would not be getting medical attention for Kyeron I called his Attorney to go and check on Kyeron's dad received a call and he could hear Kyeron screaming in the back ground and the Attorney ended the call to attend to Kyeron the Attorney then called me and I heard Kyeron's say I can't have a Attorney they made me sign a paper I cannot have one you are not my Attorney the Attorney gave Kyeron the phone I said Kyeron this is moma and sit down that is your attorney he said this is not my mom this is not my mom and put the phone down I then heard the jdh staff directing k to sit down he then snatched the papers and said those are mine the attorney said Kyeron you have a copy of your own the attorney then said that he would call me back.

Gary then called me back and said that if Kyeron was at the justice center it would be easier to get him medical help he said that he was having Kyeron evaluated due to the fact that in his observation Kyeron could not aide and assist in his own defense he said that he would get the mental exam expedited for possibly Friday 9/17/10 Later I spoke with Izzy he explained what had happened and that Kyeron was still accelerated and that he was trying to get him to calm down he then explained that k would not go to his cell and sat on the floor and that they had to pick him up and place him in his cell we discussed Kyeron condition getting worse I was pushing to get him medical help and agreed for him to give me a call for a visit he stated that he felt for our family and that Kyeron was a classic case of why he had reserves about measure 11 I agreed, he also stated that the shift he worked was familiar with Kyeron mental condition and that he staff was handling him carefully but if it was another shift they might not be as understanding to his condition.

I then received a call but was in the restroom and missed Izzy call regarding the visit had been cancelled due to Kyeron accelerated behavior and he would be unable to be controlled.

9/17/10 called to see what time was Kyeron evaluation with Eric Johnson and the phone was answered by Anthony Stewart and he was Kyeron basketball coach from Parkrose and he explained what had been happening with Kyeron since he saw him and he did not know who he was when he was giving Kyeron his breakfast he stated that he had called my brother Antone Jarrell and stated that something was wrong with Kyeron and to call his parents have them come see about Kyeron. He then said that Kyeron evaluation was sometime that morning.

Eric Johnson was scheduled to evaluate Kyeron I went to be present, when I got there I called back to the unit by the front desk receptionist and spoke with Steve Walker who gave little information he then came out to the front lobby to speak with me he said that k had talked to Eric and that he was eating and talking because I expressed my concerns of his mental state and health he said that he was fine.

6:10 received call from Craig saying that k had to be restrained due to the fact he would not remove a pillowcase from around his neck he explained that he was not choking himself he just needed to remove it from his neck and when he did not they entered the room and had to restrain him because he yelled something like budda 29 and ran towards them at the front of his cell Craig then said that he pushed Kyeron back and had another counselor hold him while they exited the cell and that I would receive a full written report of the incident in 2 days that was the policy when anything physical was done to a youth, and that because of his mental health needs that he was being transferred to MCDC I said you guys knew that all week he was having problems. We ended the conversation. I then called the MCDC medical unit to inform them of his medical record and H&P's of Kyeron recent state of mind and what had been taking place over the last week spoke with Brinn she stated that she would call upon his arrival no call called mcdc in the middle of the night to confirm if he was there they said yes waited for Brinn call never received so called back about 3:30am to find out Kyeron had been taken to the hospital and was not given any information later that morning reached Gary Berton K attorney and he called and found out he was in Dorenbecker and that he was back in reception never told what happened why he was in hospital that day was told he would stay in medical unit and that he would then be evaluated by the mental health nurse on Monday but they would keep him safe and that he was extremely scared. Per Brinn I checked on him at least 3 times and day until Monday

Heather 9/19/10 spoke with Heather about Kyeron status c/b @ 10:00

Heather 9/19/2010 conversation regarding Kyeron and how he was doing still not doing well

On Monday 9/20/10 I spoke with Melodie Parker about Kyeron she stated that she was watching him and that he appeared very frightened and that he accelerated when co came around and that she was keeping them with as little of contact as possible she then stated that they were trying to get him to sign a medical release of information to release information about his health to me she was able to get him to sign but she was still concerned and wanted to do a blood draw she stated that I needed to send a consent to treat and that I needed to include psychiatric treatment and diagnosis I did that. I then came home from work and called to see how he was and did they get the blood draw. Ray stated that Kyeron was in the hospital I was upset and said for what he had just been in the hospital on Friday he said call back later when he returned

Ray 9:58pm 9/20/10 Kyeron still in hospital not back until the morning checking for diagnosis.

Escape concern why I could not know what hospital, white blood cell count high red blood cell high and not getting complete answers dancing around specific questions being asked put on hold again. Concern with his lab results and results were beyond their ability to determine the cause is the high count of labs due to lack of medical treatment and equipment needed for his care. Hospitalized Friday transfer that was the reason given at that time. So were the appropriate labs not done on Friday when he was admitted? Labs out of normal range worried elevated white blood cell count. Can't be determine what the bacterial strain and where it came from. That is what I was told by Ray on 9/20/10 Power of Attorney call the hospital public help desk 503-988-3689

9/21/10 Called at 7:30am Kyeron not back called court to see if he still had court was told he would not be there but call court to see if rescheduled not rescheduled went to court Gary Bertoni got a set over and said that he found out that Kyeron was at OHSU and that he would see if we could get a visit

I dropped Kyeron's dad off and then received a call from him stating that he had received call from Melodie Parker asking for me he said I was not home and she then identified herself and stated that k was in the Cardiac ICU and he ever had any injury to his liver or blunt force trauma dad stated no and she then instructed him to tell me to call Lt. Poole for us to get a visit that day. She said that our son was stable. Lt. Poole and I spoke and I identified myself and asked her if she was Vera Poole she said yes she was a very good friend of my mother who is now deceased, so she asked me questions about k and his medical background I explained everything from JDH to all the contacts that I made getting help for him and made no progress getting my son help.

Went to see him he at first did not recognize his father he then began to cry we visited for about 1 hour and left, I called that night to see how he was still not responding and very scared Called Senna Kyeron had a fever of 101 gave him antibiotics 9/22/10 5:30

Called 9/23/10 to check status Mary over night nurse no answer, asked why was my son in cardiac icu if he had a liver infection she stated that he was there because of difficulty breathing and something to do with his lungs is what they brought him in cardiac icu for

6:30am called back to get Kyeron status Mary stated that Kyeron did eat and that he was somewhat responsive at that time he is still unable to talk psychiatrist would not talk cannot do assessment due to Kyeron will not communicate. His fever was down

9/23/10 spoke with Dr. Usher about k he stated that k was suffering from catatonia, air in his chest, he did not want to alarm me but he was very concerned with the muscle breakdown, and that he was very concerned with that we had a long conversation due to the fact that I work in the medical field and understand the elimination of primary and secondary diagnosis so in fact we were able to rule the primary diagnosis in his injuries and we were both concerned. He stated that k was extremely traumatized and that the more family contact and that should help with the ability to treat him but he was in a cationic state and that they had to treat that with a small dose of ativan. I agreed and he said that they would start the meds that night. The conversation ended, I called later to see if they had given them to him

I continued to get daily updates but was not allowed to see my son.

On Sunday 9/26/10 Senna nurse explained that they were going to try to get k out of custody because of the fear and trauma from the presence of the correction officer that they were going to try to get him in to another facility without the guards

3. On November 19, 2010 Mrs. Jarrell faxed the attached medical report from Kyeron's primary physician, Dr. Mari Kay Evans-Smith on November 16, 2010. The report shows that Mrs. Jarrell called Pediatric Associates of the Northwest to express concern over her son's medical condition. Dr. Evans-Smith returned the phone call. Dr. Evans-Smith recommended Mrs. Jarrell seek medical care for her son and have him assessed. Dr. Evans-Smith explained that Kyeron's behavior may be attributable to dehydration. Dr. Evans-Smith offered to see Kyeron when he is released from custody.

Summary of Call: Pt was arrested and is currently in Jail. Mom is very upset Pt isn't eating and acting very unusual.

Initial call taken by: Dahnelle Dykes, September 16, 2010 11:19 AM

Contact: mom

Follow-up Details: Kyeron has been in jail for 3d." He was present at a robbery and they didn't get the people involved so they took him". Has never been in trouble at all. He hasn't eaten; hasn't sleep and isn't recognizing those he should. Mom saw him yesterday and his palms were sweaty; he didn't talk much. Today the coach from Parkrose went to see him and he didn't recognize him; he was saying non-sensical things. The coach called mom's brother and then mom. She said they are denying her rights to get him any medical care. He did get evaluated by a psychologist/mental health provider. I disc this with Dr. Evans Smith; she advised mom to seek out the medical care and have him assessed. If he is dehydrated he could be acting this way. Mom said he has not done any drugs and isn't on any currently. At this time there is nothing more that we can do however reassured mom that we will see him after he is released if she desires. She will try to work through the system to get him the help/care he needs.

SUMMARY:

On September 13, 2010 FAIR was arrested by the Portland Police Bureau and charged with multiple crimes related to an armed robbery. FAIR was lodged at the Juvenile Detention Hall (JDH); he was transferred to the Multnomah County Detention Center (MCDC) on September 17, 2010; FAIR was a patient, while in custody, at the Oregon Health & Sciences University (OHSU) on September 17-18 and September 21 – October 11, 2010. FAIR was diagnosed with a mental illness and pneumomediastinum. The Oregon State Police was asked to assist the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office with an investigation of FAIR's incarceration, any use of force, and whether or not any of FAIR's medical conditions are a result of treatment, or lack of, by employees at JDH and MCDC.

As part of this investigation, I receive a phone call from Kelli Jarrell on December 7, 2010.

ACTION TAKEN:

On December 7, 2010 I received a phone call from Kelli Jarrell. Mrs. Jarrell told me she'd had a conversation with Kyeron yesterday. She told me Dr. Chang is one of the doctor's who is treating Kyeron at the Trillium Family Services Children's Farm Home in Corvallis. She told me Dr. Chang is one of the doctor's who treated Kyeron at OHSU, as well.

She told me Dr. Chang told Kyeron (she may or may not have been present, but it is my belief she heard this from Kyeron) that when he was admitted at OHSU, one of the Correction Officer's said that Kyeron was "faking" his mental illness. She told me Dr. Chang said all of the Correction Officers seemed to be treating him well at OHSU.

Mrs. Jarrell told me Kyeron is doing remarkably well and doctors are coming to observe/examine him because of his extraordinary response to treatment. Mrs. Jarrell told me that even though Kyeron is doing well, she knows he will not be home for Christmas.

Mrs. Jarrell told me she knows this is not a criminal matter; it is more likely a case of medical negligence. She told me her complaint is that the Hospital and the County (JDH and the Jail) did not ask for Kyeron's medical history, which would have been available through herself and/or his primary care physician. She told me it is her opinion that if that simple effort had been made, Kyeron would have received appropriate medical care much sooner and his medical/mental condition may not have worsened, as a result. Mrs. Jarrell, which I asked her to confirm I had understood correctly, told me she is frustrated that Kyeron was not treated as a child; he was treated as an individual with no representative, parent or advocate; as a result, he did not receive necessary medical care and his condition(s) was not allowed to worsen, when it could have been managed.

Mrs. Jarrell told me she remembers speaking to a female nurse at JDH, who is named "Susan". She told me Susan told her that the JDH staff was trying to determine if Kyeron was suffering a true medical emergency, or if he was faking it.

Kyeron Fair's injuries while in county custody remain unexplained

Portland-area lawmakers are spearheading an investigation into why 17-year-old Kyeron Fair was hospitalized in an intensive care unit while in the custody of Multnomah County law enforcement last month. The youth suffered a nervous breakdown and severe psychiatric problems – as well as unexplained internal injuries -- after being arrested at Parkrose High School for Measure 11 crimes including armed robbery and burglary.

Kyeron, who reportedly spent as long as two weeks chained to a bed at Oregon Health and Sciences University with a sheriff's guard at the door, was finally transferred Monday night to the Trillium Farm children's unit operated by Washington County Mental Health near Corvallis.

However, Oregon State Rep. Lew Frederick and Sen. Chip Shields, as well as staff members for Rep. Mike Dembrow and U.S. Rep Earl Blumenauer, have spent the past week trying to determine how Fair was injured, when, and by whom.

Shields said Monday an investigation into Fair's internal injuries, which his parents say included liver damage, "is progressing."

The parents say Kyeron has never been in trouble with law enforcement before and the Portland Police confirmed he has no arrest record. The police bureau also confirmed that he has yet to be adjudicated or brought before a judge for any crimes.

Attorney Greg Kafoury confirmed that his office has agreed to investigate the case and is sending a tort claim notice, although he declined to specify Friday who would be named in the legal action.

Kyeron's family says the teen - who in fact has been hospitalized twice since his arrest -- was never put into the general population at either the adult or the juvenile facilities where he has been held.

Neither the Multnomah County Sheriffs Department, the Portland Police, or a spokesman for Multnomah County Chair Jeff Cogan would comment for the record on what exactly happened to the student.

"I've talked with folks at the city and the county, they're continuing their investigations, both of them," Rep. Frederick said Friday. "The city believes the young fellow was in fact anxious because they were looking at charging him with a Measure 11 crime, the county is looking into the situation regarding the injuries that he sustained as well as how he might have been treated regarding any sort of mental breakdown."

"He's never been away from home this long in his life," his mother Kelli Jarrell told the Skanner News. "He doesn't really know what happened to him."

Jarrell, a medical professional, says she and Kyeron's father, Gail Fair, have spent weeks trying to find out the status of his case and the source of his injuries.

They say the combination of Measure 11 charges, and physical and mental health crisis, have created a battle of jurisdictions between the school, the juvenile authorities, the Portland Police, the Multnomah County jail, and the hospital - and nobody's talking about what happened.

"If, as a parent, I took my child into the ER (emergency room) with internal injuries and acute psychosis, and I said I didn't know what happened, I would be in jail," Jarrell says.

"This is beyond ridiculous."

His parents say that because Kyeron is a basketball player, first at Jefferson High School and

Bi sig
Eon then at Parkrose, they have complete physical examination records showing he was perfectly healthy until his arrest one month ago.

Monday night, Jarrell says, Trillium staff expressed shock at how his body has atrophied from the past month's round of injuries and incarceration.

The parents say their odyssey to find out what happened to their son after he left for school on the morning of Sept. 13 has been a nightmare.

About an hour after Kyeron, a high school senior, walked out his front door, Jarrell received a cell phone call from Kyeron's older sister, who said Kyeron's best friend called her to say he had been arrested at school.

Jarrell and Fair say Parkrose High School never notified them that Kyeron was taken into custody on school grounds. Rep. Frederick, who spent years as the public information officer at Portland Public Schools, says other districts have a notification policy in such instances, and Parkrose's lack of parental notification is troubling.

Parkrose School Superintendent Dr. Karen Fischer Gray's secretary declined to take a call from the media, instead referring questions to Parkrose Principal Ana A. Gonzalez; no one at the school answered telephones Thursday, and its voicemail system was full.

Emails to the superintendent, the principal, and three vice principals of the school have so far gone unanswered.

Unable to get any information from the school, Jarrell says she left a message on the Portland Police non-emergency line to try to track down where Kyeron was, and then jumped in her car and started driving to the Northeast Precinct office.

She says a manager at the precinct office made phone calls on her behalf, locating Kyeron downtown at the Multnomah County Detention Center in the Justice Center on Southwest Third Avenue. Jarrell says she immediately drove downtown, where she was made to wait for an hour and a half before finding out Kyeron's status.

A Portland Police spokeswoman confirms Kyeron was being questioned by Det. Robert Hollins, while his mother waited outside.

Jarrell alleges that Hollins was questioning her son without an attorney; the police spokeswoman says the session between the teen and Hollins was cordial, and that Hollins stretched the rules to allow Jarrell to visit Kyeron in his cell and hug him goodbye before he was released. Jarrell says she is still trying to determine how long Kyeron was questioned before her attorney was called. "He had not eaten, he was not cognizant, not talking with complete thought processes,"

Kyeron was that day transported to the Donald E. Long Home, but what happened after that remains unclear. Jarrell and Fair say they were notified Sept. 20 that Kyeron was at Oregon Health and Sciences Un internal injuries.

They maintain that they were never notified by juvenile authorities or the sheriffs' office that their son was hospitalized. Later they found out he had been to OHSU before, then released and transported back to the OHSU intensive care unit.

Jarrell said the juvenile authorities insist Kyeron was not injured when he left their facility.

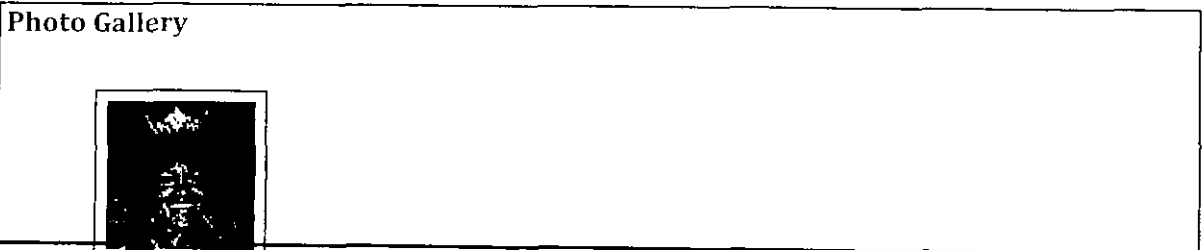

"If he was transported to the big jail, then who was the guard? I don't know how they couldn't know he was getting," Jarrell said. "Now he's at least going to be getting some treatment, it's kind of far away, but he's getting it."

"There are two issues. Is he getting the care he needs now? My sense is, he is," Shields said this week.

"The policy issue is sending young juveniles to jail to begin with," he said. Shields cited an upcoming report from the Oregon Department of Safety and Justice that describes Oregon's policy on housing youth in adult jails such as MDCDC as "outdated." The report, Reconsidering Oregon's Detention Policy for Youth Charged with Measure 11, cites statistics that show that juveniles arrested and held in pre-trial confinement before trial were never convicted of an adult crime. Half of those arrested for a non-Measure 11 crime that "would not have required them to be in the adult system if they had been in the juvenile justice system."

"In other words, young people are exposed to the hazards of adult jails because they are initially confined in adult jails. They are exposed to conditions that might lead to future criminal behavior - even though a majority of those arrested for a Measure 11 crime," the report says.

Multnomah County juvenile justice officials were unavailable for immediate comment, as they were attending the annual Oregon Juvenile Justice Symposium.

Portland Teen Hospitalized with Severe Internal Injuries While In Custody

Kyeron Fair's injuries while in county custody remain unexplained

Portland-area lawmakers are spearheading an investigation into why 17-year-old Kyeron Fair was hospitalized in an intensive care unit while in the custody of Multnomah County law enforcement last month.

The youth suffered a nervous breakdown and severe psychiatric problems -- as well as unexplained internal injuries -- after being arrested at Parkrose High School for Measure 11 crimes including armed robbery and burglary.

Kyeron, who reportedly spent as long as two weeks chained to a bed at Oregon

Health and Sciences University with a sheriff's guard at the door, was finally transferred Monday night to the Trillium Farm children's unit operated by Washington County Mental Health near Corvallis.

However, Oregon State Rep. Lew Frederick and Sen. Chip Shields, as well as staff members for Rep. Mike Dembrow and U.S. Rep Earl Blumenauer, have spent the past week trying to determine how Fair was injured, when, and by whom.

Shields said Monday an investigation into Fair's internal injuries, which his parents say included liver damage, "is progressing."

The parents say Kyeron has never been in trouble with law enforcement before and the Portland Police confirmed he has no arrest record. The police bureau also confirmed that he has yet to be adjudicated or brought before a judge for any crimes.

Attorney Greg Kafoury confirmed that his office has agreed to investigate the case and is sending a tort claim notice, although he declined to specify Friday who would be named in the legal action.

Kyeron's family says the teen -- who in fact has been hospitalized twice since his arrest -- was never put into the general population at either the adult or the juvenile facilities where he has been held.

Neither the Multnomah County Sheriffs Department, the Portland Police, or a spokesman for Multnomah County Chair Jeff Cogan would comment for the record on what exactly happened to the student.

"I've talked with folks at the city and the county, they're continuing their investigations, both of them," Rep. Frederick said Friday. "The city believes the young fellow was in fact anxious because they were looking at charging him with a Measure 11 crime, the county is looking into the situation regarding the injuries that he sustained as well as how he might have been treated regarding any sort of mental breakdown."

"He's never been away from home this long in his life," his mother Kelli Jarrell told the Skanner News. "He doesn't really know what happened to him."

Jarrell, a medical professional, says she and Kyeron's father, Gail Fair, have spent weeks trying to find out the status of his case and the source of his injuries.

They say the combination of Measure 11 charges, and physical and mental health crisis, have created a battle of jurisdictions between the school, the juvenile authorities, the Portland Police, the Multnomah County jail, and the hospital – and nobody's talking about what happened.

"If, as a parent, I took my child into the ER (emergency room) with internal injuries and acute psychosis, and I said I didn't know what happened, I would be in jail," Jarrell says. "This is beyond ridiculous."

His parents say that because Kyeron is a basketball player, first at Jefferson High School and then at Parkrose, they have complete physical examination records showing he was perfectly healthy until his arrest one month ago.

Monday night, Jarrell says, Trillium staff expressed shock at how his body has atrophied from the past month's round of injuries and incarceration.

The parents say their odyssey to find out what happened to their son after he left for school on the morning of Sept. 13 has been a nightmare.

About an hour after Kyeron, a high school senior, walked out his front door, Jarrell received a cell phone call from Kyeron's older sister, who said Kyeron's best friend called her to say he had been arrested at school.

Jarrell and Fair say Parkrose High School never notified them that Kyeron was taken into custody on school grounds. Rep. Frederick, who spent years as the public information officer at Portland Public Schools, says other districts have a notification policy in such instances, and Parkrose's lack of parental notification is troubling.

Parkrose School Superintendent Dr. Karen Fischer Gray's secretary declined to take a call from the media, instead referring questions to Parkrose Principal Ana A. Gonzalez; no one at the school answered telephones Thursday, and its voicemail system was full.

Emails to the superintendent, the principal, and three vice principals of the school have so far gone unanswered.

Unable to get any information from the school, Jarrell says she left a message on the Portland Police non-emergency line to try to track down where Kyeron was, and then jumped in her car and started driving to the Northeast Precinct office.

She says a manager at the precinct office made phone calls on her behalf, locating Kyeron downtown at the Multnomah County Detention Center in the Justice Center on Southwest Third Avenue. Jarrell says she immediately drove downtown, where she was made to wait for an hour and a half before finding out Kyeron's status.

A Portland Police spokeswoman confirms Kyeron was being questioned by Det. Robert Hollins, while his mother waited outside.

Jarrell alleges that Hollins was questioning her son without an attorney; the police spokeswoman says the session between the teen and Hollins was cordial, and that Hollins stretched the rules to allow Jarrell to visit Kyeron in his cell and hug him goodbye before he was sent to the Donald E. Long Home.

Jarrell says she is still trying to determine how long Kyeron was questioned before her attorney was able to halt the proceedings via telephone. "He had not eaten, he was not cognizant, not talking with complete thought processes," Jarrell says.

Kyeron was that day transported to the Donald E. Long Home, but what happened after that remains unclear.

Jarrell and Fair say they were notified Sept. 20 that Kyeron was at Oregon Health and Sciences University's cardiac intensive care unit with internal injuries.

They maintain that they were never notified by juvenile authorities or the sheriffs' office that their son had been transported to the hospital. Later they found out he had been to OHSU before, then released and transported back to MCDC's medical ward, before being brought unconscious to the OHSU intensive care unit.

Jarrell said the juvenile authorities insist Kyeron was not injured when he left their facility.

"If he was transported to the big jail, then who was the guard? I don't know how they couldn't know what happened, but that's what we're getting," Jarrell said. "Now he's at least going to be getting some treatment, it's kind of far away, but at least he'll be away from the guards."

"There are two issues. Is he getting the care he needs now? My sense is, he is," Shields said this week.

"The policy issue is sending young juveniles to jail to begin with," he said. Shields cited an upcoming study by the nonprofit Partnership for Safety and Justice that describes Oregon's policy on housing youth in adult jails such as MCDC as "inconsistent and contradictory."

The report, Reconsidering Oregon's Detention Policy for Youth Charged with Measure 11, cites statistics showing 18 percent of all youth arrested and held in pre-trial confinement before trial were never convicted of an adult crime. Half of those who were charged pled guilty to a non-Measure 11 crime that "would not have required them to be in the adult system if they had been charged with that in the first place."

"In other words, young people are exposed to the hazards of adult jails because they are initially charged with a Measure 11 offense – and exposed to conditions that might lead to future criminal behavior – even though a majority of these youth will not be convicted of a Measure 11 crime," the report says.

Multnomah County juvenile justice officials were unavailable for immediate comment, as they were in Eugene this week attending the annual Oregon Juvenile Justice Symposium.

		A3 - Blunstrox, B4 - Germain, and A5 - Marstell out to the track to run while the girls stayed inside the gymnasium. Bell said that while he was running Mr. Miller went back inside the gym and A1 - Fair ran up behind him and pushed him on the ground. Bell said that Fair, Turex, Blunstrox, Germain and Marstell all started kicking him in the arms and legs. Bell said they each kicked him 3-4 times and then ran off. Bell said, "I get beat up at school almost every day and I hate it, Keyron is always starting trouble with me." Bell told me he has been slapped, punched and poked in the groin with pencils numerous times by Keyron Fair in the past.
		Bell said that after PE class he was walking to his homeroom class taught by Mr. Phelps. Bell said he was in the hallway walking when Fair walked up from behind him and pumped into him. Bell said he asked Fair, "what did you do that for?" Bell said that Fair had a pair of scissors in his left hand that he was clenching. Bell asked Fair, 8 I was contacted by Sgt Stewart from NE Precinct who spoke with SB-Fair and learned that Fair wanted to document his side of the story regarding case #05-34833. Sgt Stewart requested I contact SB-Fair + write a special report.

Fair reports that he was walking to class with a pair of scissors when he was confronted by CO-Bell. Fair said Bell looked at him and said, "what are you gonna do, stab me with those?" Fair replied "no". Bell then punched Fair and pulled him to the ground where Bell was the initial aggressor, according to Fair. Fair said when Bell punched him he dropped the scissors and they were never used in the fight. Fair said teachers had to pull Bell off of him as Bell was trying to choke him on the ground. After Bell was pulled off of Fair, Fair punched Bell in the face with his fist and that is how he got the black eye.

Fernando after school today" and they had been talking about this for the last couple of weeks, "cause I was supposed to be touching his girl."

(SB)1 Lewis- Carter also said his friend (SB)4 Demetrius Brown told him on Monday that the Mexicans said they were going to kill us, so he said, "I took it as they'd have weapons." (SB)1 also said he bought the mini bat at "Copeland's" a while back, he found the steak knife at home, and he said he found the metal knuckles with blade in his neighborhood about 2 months ago.

I contacted Multnomah County Deputy District Attorney, Jose Cien-Fuegos, and I faxed a copy of the metal knuckles to him. He and I concluded that this weapon met the criteria for metal knuckles as it is referred to as a "Wyoming Knife", because the handle has 2 finger holes with a black plastic cover, including a metal skeleton within the plastic cover, as the metal is visible through the hole on the end of the handle for a strap, along with a hooked metal end on the blade with a sharp edge on both sides of the blade, along with a serrated edge also, and it is typically used to skin wild game. DDA Cien-Fuegos cited the Oregon Court of Appeals case, "Oregon v. Fredette", and therefore I charged (SB)1 Michael Lewis-Carter with Carrying a Concealed Weapon and faxed this report to the JDH. This report should be reviewed by DDA Jose Cien Fuegos per his request.

Ofc Tallman, Ofc. Stroh, (SB)13 Walters, (SB)14 Hobson, and I contacted all the students we learned were potentially involved or had been involved in this ongoing incident. The school sent 10 students home in their parents custody to avoid any potential assault or disturbance at the school. I conducted consent searches with each student involved and the school searched their lockers and found 1 more mini baseball bat that (SB)7 Gonzalo Martinez admitted was his. I took (SB)7 Martinez's bat into evidence under receipt #960613, as he acknowledged an ongoing disagreement with the other subjects and indicated something big was supposed to occur today. I found (SB)7 Martinez and (SB)9 Jose Dominquez-Parra were in possession of black bandanas neatly folded, (SB)7's was in his backpack with the mini baseball bat and (SB)9 had his in his backpocket. (SB)7 had a long sleeved, black shirt with white letters going down the sleeves that said, "SUR" (right sleeve) and "Side" (left sleeve). We advised their parents and or guardians that gang attire would not be permitted at the school, as both these subjects were wearing Latino gang clothing, based on my training and experience.

On the above date and time, I responded to Gregory Heights Middle School located at 7334 NE Siskiyou Street regarding a couple of 7th graders who punching on each other and staff was having a difficult time controlling. Upon arriving, Ofc. Morinville served as primary while I covered and contacted complainants/witness.

School staff had two students (later identified as Diamond Fair and Kyeron Fair) in the student services office. Staff had indicated K. Fair was still talking aggressively and was the student whom was out of control. I placed K.Fair in handcuffed and advised him that he was only in handcuffs for safety purposes because of his reported behavior. Staff noted that K.Fair seemed much calmer once he was placed in handcuffs.

I contacted a witness and the two students whom K. Fair allegedly assaulted while Ofc. Morinville spoke with the Fair siblings and their parents.

Thuy Nguyen Statement (Teacher)

Ms. Nguyen is a teacher at Gregory Heights Middle School who was in the hallway when see saw Kyeron Fair walking down the stairs followed by one of the staff. Ms. Nguyen stated the door to her classroom was propped open and Jose Serralto was standing inside. She related "Kyeron" walked past her and went straight towards "Jose." She stated she saw "Kyeron" hit "Jose." Ms. Nguyen ran to her phone to call for help while another staff member tried to stop the fight.

Ms. Nguyen stated after she got off the phone she noticed a female (whom she later found out was "Kyeron's" sister) was also hitting "Jose." More staff members responded to the classroom to stop the fight. The two Fair siblings were escorted out and Ms. Nguyen locked her classroom door so that they couldn't get back at "Jose." Please refer to attached statement written by Ms. Nguyen.

Jose Serralto Statement

Jose Serralto stated he was in Ms. Nguyen's classroom when "Kyeron" came in. Serralto said "Kyeron" was crying and told him something like, "I should whoop your ass too." "Kyeron" supposedly then rushed Serralto trying to tackle him. Serralto related he grabbed on to "Kyeron" so he would get hit but "Kyeron" was throwing him around banging him into desks and chairs.

As Serralto was holding on to "Kyeron," he stated a girl he didn't know came up to him and starting hitting him in the back. He related the girl (Diamond Fair) hit him at least four times as he was struggling with "Kyeron."

Serralto stated he had an issue with "Kyeron" two weeks ago but had thought the matter was settled. He added that there has been ongoing issues with "Kyeron" and his friends "mean mugging" Serralto and his friends.

Serralto did not want to pursue charges and had no visible signs of injury nor did he complain of any. Please refer to Serralto's written statement for additional information.

Jose Torres-Jimenez Statement

Jose Torres-Jimenez was the first person K.Fair fought before going downstairs and fighting with Jose Serralto. Torres-Jimenez wrote in his statement that "Kyeron" said something like, "What the fuck you looking at?" as Torres-Jimenez passed him in the hallway. The pair exchanged words and Torres-Jimenez tried to walk away. He wrote they were surrounded by a crowd which pushed him back. He bumped into "Kyeron" who responded by throwing a couple of punches.

Torres-Jimenez wrote he got hit in the ear so he tackled "Kyeron." The pair continued to fight until staff broke it up. Torres-Jimenez related he went to class but "Kyeron" followed him. Another student supposedly blocked "Kyeron" from getting to Torres-Jimenez.

Torres-Jimenez told me he did not want to pursue charges.

I called (SB)② Antonia West's father, Tony West and left a voice mail message concerning my contact with her.

This report is being forwarded to the juvenile DA's office for review of harassment and assault III charges against (SB)② Antonia West. I left a voice mail message with the (CO) Smith's phone number, but have not heard from her as of yet. This report was copied to Ofc. DeFrain, J.C. Please note, prior to turning my report in (CO) Smith's mother Sally Stevens called me back and said they definitely want to press charges against (SB)② West. She said her daughter was too afraid to return to this school, as she didn't even know (SB)② West or why she wanted to hurt her. Ms. Stevens transferred her daughter to a different school so she would feel safe and be able to go to school without being concerned about someone assaulting her. Ms. Stevens said her daughter related to her that there were several students with (SB)② West that crowded around her throughout the incident while walking EB on NE Siskiyou St. and then crowded around her in the bus Kiost so she couldn't get out, while (SB)② West assaulted her.

Explanation of HIPAA

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) requires an Authorization to Release Medical Information in order for health care providers to release medical information or records. New requirements for authorizations became effective April 16, 2003. This requirement also extends to organizations related to health care providers, such as insurance companies and other organizations closely associated with health care providers, and their contractors. It is necessary to use this form when requesting information from health care providers because this law requires specific information to be provided on an authorization. This form should not be used to request records not covered by HIPAA (records obtained from a source other than a health care provider).

Medical providers are mandated to protect information and to require the use of forms that comply with the law. This form complies with the requirements of HIPAA and should be accepted by all medical providers. However, if a medical provider insists that the provider's form be used, you may want to use that form if it will expedite the process of obtaining records. Please notify the legal department if this situation arises so that the problem can be resolved.

Requirements for using the form:

HIPAA also requires specific steps in obtaining and utilizing an authorization to release medical information. Therefore, it will be necessary that you:

- Utilize one form for each medical provider from whom records are requested.
- Complete the forms in their entirety before asking a client to sign the form.
- Date the form at the time it is signed.
- Provide a copy of each completed form to the client.

Advice for using the form:

In addition, in order for you to make the best use of this form, you should:

- Make a written request for copies of records, if possible.
- Specify the exact records you are requesting in a cover letter. You may want to have a client check items to release that you do not need at the time. For example, you may have the client check an item such as 'Medication administration logs...' which may or may not be relevant to an investigation. You could then request those records at a later time if necessary.
- Specify the period of time for which you are requesting records.
- Clearly specify the location to which the records should be mailed or another method of delivery.
- It may be helpful to call some medical providers in advance to obtain an estimate of the cost involved and the provider's procedure for billing.

Note on records authorized to be released

All types of notes that you may need to request at any time from a particular provider should be checked. Otherwise, you may need to have another authorization signed before requesting additional records. There may be additional issues with some particular types of records:

- Records related to HIV status may not be released unless the individual has signed a separate release specific to HIV related information. 5 U.S.C. §19203-D.
- Psychotherapy notes may not be released unless the individual has signed a separate release specifying that such notes may be released. 45 CFR §164.508(b)(3)(ii).
- You must specify on the authorization the extent or nature of records to be released for drug or alcohol records. 42 U.S.C. 290dd-3; 42 U.S.C. 290ee-3; 42 C.F.R., Part 2. The individual may also use this section to limit other records to be released.
- 'Medication administration logs...' relates to information that is not a part of an individual's medical record. Such information may be particularly useful in abuse/neglect investigations but must be specifically requested and have other patients' information redacted. This is time-consuming and costly, and such records should only be requested if necessary to investigate the specific allegations or a serious incident.

Note on statement of purpose

The statement of purpose should reflect the reason for the request. The client may elect to check the last statement 'other activities at the request of the individual' if desired.

Note on patient representatives

If a patient's representative is signing the authorization, you must specify the relationship of the representative to the patient. Common relationships include:

- Parent or Guardian
- Conservator (a copy of the order appointing the conservator should also be provided)
- Attorney-in-fact (a copy of the notarized Power of Attorney should also be provided)
- Administrator of an Estate (a copy of the letters of administration from the court should also be provided)

Process Instructions

CT INST #2 Body Out-patient

The evening before your CT scan:

Drink at least 4 cups (1 liter) of water unless your doctor has instructed you not to do so.

On the day of your CT scan:

- " Please arrive at the CT reception area 1 hour before your scheduled CT scan time.
- " Wear comfortable clothing. Avoid clothing with zippers or snaps. You may be asked to remove jewelry worn at the neck.
- " You should not eat or drink anything for 2 hours before your scheduled CT scan time. Take your usual medications with a few sips of water. You may eat a lite meal 3 to 4 hours before your CT scan.
- " You may be asked to drink a large cup of contrast (special x-ray dye). It is important that you drink it slowly, over 45 minutes. Please let the CT technologist know if your doctor has told you that you are limited in the amount of fluid you can drink each day.
- " Some CT scans require the use of IV (intravenous) contrast. If your doctor has requested this type of scan, our staff will place an IV (a very small, soft plastic tube) into a vein in your arm so that you may be given contrast during your CT scan.
- " It is important that you lie still during the scan so the pictures are as clear as possible. If you think you or your family member will have difficulty lying still, please discuss this with the doctor who ordered your CT scan. The CT scan itself usually takes 5 to 10 minutes.
- " Please plan on being in the CT department for 60 to 90 minutes.

Please contact Imaging Services at (503) 418-0990 at least two days before your scheduled procedure date if:

- " You are allergic to Iodine or CT contrast (you may need to take medication the day before your CT scan).
- " You are pregnant or think you may be pregnant.

INPATIENT PHYSICIAN DISCHARGE SUMMARY

Attending Physician: Gregory Magarian, MD

PCP: No Pcp Per PATIENT

Admission Date: 9/21/2010
Discharge Date: 10/11/2010

Diagnoses

Principal Final Diagnosis:

- 1. Acute psychotic disorder
- Additional Diagnoses
- 1. Urinary tract infection
 - 2. Pneumomediastinum

3. Elevated liver enzymes

Procedures

1. Lumbar puncture

Reason For Admission:

Mr. Fair is a previously healthy 17 y/o male, a high school basketball point guard, when he was arrested 9/13 for armed robbery. The patient was taken to juvenile detention center, where he was reported to have erratic behavior, including combativeness, self-injurious behavior, and inappropriate speech and affect. His bizarre behavior continued, and he was apparently tazed and aggressively restrained several times in an effort to control behavior. Behavior continued even despite Geodone, Ativan, and Risperdal. Labs from this facility significant for leukocytosis and transaminitis.

Pt was brought to OHSU ED on 9/21 due to irrational behaviors. He was admitted to the ICU, and then transferred to the GM service due to continued need for anti-psychotic medications.

Hospital Course by problem:

1. Acute psychotic disorder: Patient had onset of erratic behavior in the juvenile detention center, with no prior history of this behavior, per pt's mother. In the aftermath of his arrest on charges of armed robbery, the patient became paranoid, with aggressive behavior, pressure speech, and psychomotor agitation. LP was performed upon presentation, and CSF was WNL. Contrast head CT negative. Pt was admitted to the ICU. He subsequently became withdrawn, detached, and semi-catatonic. He was started on scheduled Ativan and Abilify, and showed improvement. Based on concern for ongoing psychosis and decreased sleep, Abilify was changed to Zyprexa (5mg po am and 15mg qHS). Patient has continued to improve with behavior, answering questions, sleeping, and has progressively required less as needed lorazepam and Zyprexa. He has been managed without 4 point restraints for several days

Our PRN routine for treating his agitation was as follows:

1. Zyprexa, 2.5mg PO
 2. If continued agitation, try Ativan, 2mg PO
 3. If continued agitation or not accepting PO meds try equivalent dose of IM Zyprexa.
(NO Lorazepam IM if Olanzapine was given IM in the previous 12 hours.)
-  He never required any IM medications throughout his stay, and always accepted PO.

2. Pneumomediastinum: Chest CT and CXR with pneumomediastinum on admission, presumed to be secondary to barotrauma in setting of trauma relating to pt's incarceration. CT without signs of esophageal rupture or large airway abnormalities. Thoracic surgery consulted, with no surgical interventions needed. CXR after admission with resolution of pneumomediastinum. Swallow study considered, but patient deemed unable to tolerate procedure. Patient tolerating oral intake, without pain throughout hospitalization.

3. Elevated LFTs: AST 174 and ALT 132 at admission, downtrending to normal since admission. Hep serologies, HIV, and Tylenol levels negative. Was attributed to muscle injury secondary to trauma, as evidenced by elevated CK (5946) on admission. CK also downtrending throughout hospitalization.

4. Urinary tract infection: Catheter related with >100,000 coagulase negative Staph aureus on culture. Foley discontinued upon positive UTI screen. Treated with ciprofloxacin 500 bid x 2 days, then nitrofurantoin 100mg BID based on sensitivities, completed a 7 day course.

5. Fevers: Recorded x 3 on 9/22, was associated with tachycardia. It was thought to be due to infection, with blood cultures drawn - received ceftriazone x 2 days (9/22-9/24). However, blood cultures positive with Coag neg staph, likely contamination and antibiotic stopped. No growth to date on additional blood cultures. No rigidity suggestive of neuroleptic malignant syndrome. Ultimately found to have UTI which was the likely cause.

6. Essential thrombocytosis: Platelet levels between 450-550. Unclear etiology. ESR and CRP negative. CSF negative for protein.

GM 3 Attending Discharge Note:

I have seen and reviewed Mr. Fair with the GM 3 team of Drs. Gollapudi and Ritze. We have discussed 24 hour events, the reason he was not transferred to another facility as planned on Friday and the lack of medical reasons for this transfer to be effected as soon as Mr. Fair can be transferred by the sherriff's department. He has not active medical problems and has demonstrated his abilities to urinate, though he seems to hold on longer than others. He has been witnessed voiding by the guard with him, who stated he "peed like a horse.". Why he delays so long is not clear to me, but form a voiding standpoint, he does not need further catheterizations, such that he is ready to be discharged.

R2 Progress Note - Inpatient General Medicine Assessment & Plan

17yo M admitted with new acute psychosis and initial catatonia which are now improving on Olanzapine, also initially with medical issues due to trauma during his arrest, which have resolved. His discharge was held up on Friday by refusal to urinate, which seems behavioral rather than anatomical, he is still refusing when asked to urinate, but does so voluntarily at least once daily

1. Acute psychosis - primary psychosis vs Bipolar I presenting with mania with psychotic/catatonic features, vs schizophreniform disorder.

- Continue olanzapine Zydys 5mg po qAM and 15mg po qHS (IM same dosing if pt refuses po meds)
- For severe agitation, olanzapine Zydys 2.5mg po prn q6hrs
- Can use Ativan 1mg po q4hrs prn for emergent/extreme agitation
- No Ativan IV or IM if Olanzapine was given IM in previous 12 hours.
- Up out of bed as tolerating, has not required restraints over several days

2. Decreased urination - Pt was straight cathed intermittently last week, delaying his transfer to psych facility.

Do not believe he is obstructed, as he has intermittently been able to urinate and fully empty his bladder.

Seems behavioral rather than anatomical - did have recent UTI and reported burning with urination, possible that discomfort contributing to his occasional refusal to void. No anticholinergic medications to explain this. Will hold off of any further straight cathing, he seems perfectly capable of urinating voluntarily at least once per day

- Pyridium added to eliminate any burning with urination

- No further straight cathing today - has urinated this weekend without difficulty, and we believe he will continue to do so

- Complete 7 days nitrofurantoin for possible UTI (Day 1: 10/5/10)

3. Pneumomediastinum - likely 2/2 barotrauma, resolved

4. Elevated LFTs - likely 2/2 trauma and muscle breakdown following arrest, resolved

5. Elevated CPK - likely 2/2 trauma and resisting restraints following arrest, resolved

Dispo: Spoke with Case Manager at Children's Farm Home in Corvallis, we are currently planning on discharge Monday at 1pm, with Laura Lynn (CM at Children's Home) to arrange for transport with the Sheriff's Office.

I have discussed the patient with my attending Dr. Magarian, who agrees with the assessment and plan as above.

GENERAL MEDICINE PROGRESS NOTE

Author: DIVYA GOLLAPUDI, MD
 Attending Physician: Gregory Magarian, MD
 Hospital Day: 18

Assessment and Plan:

Pt is a 17 y/o previously healthy male admitted with new criminal activity, combative/bizarre behavior, and catatonia thought to be secondary to acute primary psychotic disorder, ddx includes bipolar disorder with catatonic/psychotic features and Schizophreniform disorder.

Acute psychotic disorder: Previously healthy male, with new onset psychosis. Psychiatry following closely. Possibly bipolar I with psychotic/catatonic features, or schizophreniform disorder.

- Continue olanzapine Zydis 5mg po qAM and 15mg po qHS (IM same dosing if pt refuses po meds)
- For severe agitation, olanzapine Zydis 2.5mg po prn q6hrs
- Can use Ativan 1mg po q4hrs prn for emergent/extreme agitation
- No Ativan IV or IM if Olanzapine was given IM in previous 12 hours.
- Up out of bed as tolerating

Urinary retention: Appears to be behavioral, based on voluntary urination at times. Will avoid straight cath, and simply encourage pt to urinate on his own. Pt with past urinary irritation (complaining of pain with urination), likely 2/2 to UTI, currently being treated. Pt may be scared to induce pain right now with urination.

- Avoid straight cath
- Encourage frequent urination
- Pyridium for urinary irritation

Urinary tract infection: UTI positive for coag neg staph >100,000, sens to nitrofurantoin. Will treat based on long term Foley insertion, pt unable to express symptoms, and fever during first few days of hospitalization. No recent fevers.

- Nitrofurantoin 100mg bid (Day 4)
- Pyridium for urinary irritation

Pneumomediastinum: Likely 2/2 to barotrauma, following arrest. Resolving on radiography, tolerating po diet.

Elevated liver enzymes: Trending down since admission, now resolved. Was likely 2/2 to muscle injury c/w elevated CK. Negative work-up with Hep serologies, HIV, and Tylenol.

Disposition: Plan on d/c Monday to Children's Farm Home

Patient has been staffed with Dr. Magarian, who agrees with the above action and plan.

Interval Update:

- Discharge yesterday delayed by pt reportedly unable to urinate on his own
- However, pt at times willingly urinating, so refusal thought to be behavioral
- Has been urinating large volumes on his own today
- Out of upper handcuffs and restraints - doing well

Kyeron's mother called our unit asking about more specific health care information re: plan of care, MD consults etc. I spoke with Chief Deputy Mike Shults (503)793-6888 regarding the release of PHI. According to him, due to the patient's status as a minor is it okay that we release health information to the mother as we would any other underage patient. The restrictions on this being that she can call 1-2 times a day only and does not get to dictate his care (placement etc) just learn about it. According to pt advocacy and the 7C nurse manager it is within OHSU's policies to release Kyeron's

PHI to his mother. If any further questions arise Susan Yoder is familiar with the issue as is deputy Shults.

I saw Kyeron today at approximately 4 pm. I interviewed the nursing staff and the guards. When I was in the room, the nursing staff were attempting to get him out of bed to go to the BR since he has not urinated since yesterday. They were concerned they might need to straight cath him again.

Kyeron was more alert and engaging than I have seen him. He drinking a beverage and recognized his nurse calling her by name. He even seemed to tease her some. He accepted help from staff to stand at side of the bed but was not willing to walk to the BR. He was out of restraints but shackles remained on his legs.

Despite this improvement, he remained guarded with what appeared to be thought blocking.

Recommend continuing present regimen of olanzapine. Administrators are helping determine the best disposition for Kyeron. The Children's Farm Home is a likely placement although it is not certain whether or not he can go directly from 7C to this residential program. He will need to be routinely urinating on his own to go there.

We will continue to follow.

Kyeron's mother called 7CIM today upset about not receiving full access to his health care information. I also received a call from his court appointed attorney (?), whom I gave our Legal Department's number and transferred to the guards.

Per OHSU's policy: Law Enforcement Relations, Section II: Management of Patients Under Arrest "D. All patient visitors and phone calls require approval by the assigned Law Enforcement Officer on duty."

According to the 2 security guards on duty and their supervisor at corrections (Chief Deputy Martin Shults) due to the patient special circumstances (mental status, not 18 years old yet) he can have one phone call from his mother per day. This must be approved by the guards every time before the call should be transferred. No PHI should be shared directly between the RN and the family. The guards can update the family about the patient's day to day condition. If more in-depth health information than what the guards can provide the family is to contact Multnomah County Correction directly. The corrections facility can then contact OHSU if needed and act as the intermediary of Kyeron's health information.

I discussed this with Patti the AOD and the guards on duty. We are all in agreement that this plan fits within OHSU's policy, the correction facility's rules and takes into account the patient's unique circumstances. The EPIC security note has been updated accordingly.

TRANSFER ACCEPT NOTE

Author: Patricia Ritze, MD
 Attending Physician: Sima Desai, MD
 Hospital Day: 6

Brief HPI:

Pt is a 17 y/o male with no significant pmh who was previously healthy, a high school basketball point guard, when he was arrested 9/13 for armed robbery. The circumstances surrounding the robbery are unknown, but pt was arrested and taken to a juvenile detention facility (reportedly for attempting to steal marijuana at gunpoint). At the juvenile facility, pt was reported to have erratic behavior, including combativeness, self-injurious behavior, and inappropriate speech and affect. No records are available from this facility. He was transferred to an adult detention facility on 9/17 due to difficulty in managing behavior. His bizarre behavior continued, and he was apparently tazed and aggressively restrained (?beaten) several times in an effort to control behavior. He was brought to Dornbecher ED on 9/18/10 for volitional behavior. UDS was positive for cannabinoids, and pt was d/c'ed back to adult facility. Behavior continued even s/p Geodone, Ativan, and Risperdal. Labs from this facility significant for leukocytosis and transaminitis.

Pt was brought to OHSU ED on 9/21. History was limited by irrational behaviors. Significant labs on presentation included AST 174, ALT 132, and CK 5946. Non-contrast CT with subQ air in face. Chest CT and CXR with pneumomediastinum. LP performed and CSF WNL. Pt admitted to the ICU, and subsequently became withdrawn, detached, and semi-catatonic. He was started on scheduled Ativan and Abilify, per psychiatry. On 9/22, pt with tachycardia and temp 102. Started on empiric ceftriazone, d/c'ed on 9/24 due to blood cultures with coag neg staph, likely contamination.

Pt now transferred to the GM service due to continued need for anti-psychotic medications. He cannot go to inpt psychiatry b/c of need for armed guards. Pt unable to go back to jail due to risk of medication refusal.

Assessment and Plan:

Pt is a 17 y/o previously healthy male admitted with new criminal activity, combative behavior, and catatonia thought to be secondary to acute primary psychotic disorder, ddx includes bipolar disorder with catatonic/psychotic features and Schizophreniform disorder. Also with pneumomediastinum, transaminitis, elevated CPKs secondary to trauma, all resolving.

Psychotic disorder:

Psychiatry following closely. Currently, ddx includes acute primary psychotic disorder with catatonic features, possibly bipolar I with psychotic/catatonic features, or schizophreniform d/o.

- Greatly appreciate continued Child/Adolescent Psych assistance
- Abilify 5mg BID, titrating up per psychiatry
- Continue ativan IV 2mg q4h scheduled
- For agitation, PRN ativan IV is ordered

Pneumomediastinum:

Likely secondary to barotrauma. Ideally would obtain swallow study to r/o esophageal perforation, but pt unlikely to cooperate with evaluation currently. CT scan w/o esophageal trauma.

- Appreciate CT surg recs
- Continue to monitor for increased sx's
- swallow study when possible

Elevated liver enzymes:

Liver enzymes downtrending since admission. Hep serologies, HIV, Tylenol levels negative. Likely attributed to muscle injury 2/2 to trauma, as evidenced by elevated CK. CK has also been downtrending since admission. Risperidone can be associated with elevated liver enzymes and drug-induced cholestasis. No lab e/o cholestasis. Unclear of how much risperidone pt received and how much is required for hepatocellular injury.

- Resolving, will not check every day

Fever:

Resolved, recorded x 3 on 9/22, was associated with tachycardia. Thought to be due to infection, blood cultures however with coag neg staph, likely contamination. No growth to date on blood cultures since. S/p ceftriazone x 2 days (9/22-9/24), no recurrent fevers since they were stopped. There was initially concern for NMS s/p risperidone tx, however, psychiatry notes indicate this is not suspected due to absence of rigidity, and continued downtrend of CPK.

INTENSIVE CARE TRANSFER NOTE

Author: OGHENETEG BADIDI, MD
Attending Physician: Charles Phillips, MD

HPI/Interval Events:

17y/o male with no significant past medically history admitted for AMS. According to details pieced from multiple sources, pt was fine and with no issues on the AM of Monday the 13th of September. Pt was last seen by his Dad who gave him money to take the bus to school. Pt was subsequently arrested for armed robbery and was taken into detention at Juvenile facility. The details from here are murky because we don't have clear records (written or verbal) from the juvenile facility. Available records indicates pt had altered mental status at the Juvenile facility with behaviors like combativeness, agitation, refusing to eat or drink, decreased communication with others, self-injurious behavior, and inappropriate speech and affect. Pt was then transferred to the Adult detention (9/17) facility due to difficulty in management.

In Adult facility, pt continued bizarre behaviors and was tazed a couple of times. Pt was seen at Dorenbecher ED (9/18) and was thought exhibit volitional behavior. Drug screen drawn at that ED encounter was significant for cannabinoids . Pt was then transferred back to the adult detention facility where he continued to exhibit bizarre behaviors. Pt was given Geodone, Ativan, and Risperdal to help with symptoms. Labs drawn at the adult facility showed elevated LFTs and elevated WBC. Pt was then brought to OHSU ED on 9/21.

In the ED pt exhibited continued agitation and couldn't provide much history. Pt was given 2mg Ativan and 2mg Versed. Pt had NCHCT what showed edema and air in subcutaneous tissues of face. Pt with CXR and Chest CT that showed pneumomediastinum. Pt labs in ED was normal except for elevation of Tbili and transaminitis. LP was performed and was wnl. Pt was then transferred to ICU.

In the ICU pt behavior became withdrawn, detached, and semi-catatonic. Pt had periods of increased activity but was always disorganized and never well-related. Pt had an episode of fever to 102, tachycardia, and hypertension on 9/22/10. Blood cultures sent were negative till date. Pt was then placed on Ceftriaxone. Pt was seen by child-psychiatry which recommended scheduled ativan for catatonia. Pt was then placed on scheduled administration of ativan. Pt initially placed on ceftriaxone due to fevers, tachycardia, and blood cultures positive for coagulase negative staph. Ceftriaxone d/ced 9/24 after the blood culture results was deemed likely due to contamination

PMHx: None non file.

Important Labs:

Na=136, K=3.9, HCO3=29, BUN=10, Cr=0.8,
 WBC=7.3, Plt=586

Assessment and Plan:

17y/o with no PMH presents from adult detention facility with AMS following incarceration. Pt with pneumomediastinum, air in soft tissues of face, elevated LFT's, CPK benign CSF analysis. CPK trended down.

Neuro:

AMS: Etiology unknown. According to parents, pt with no issues prior to incarceration. Seen by peds psych who thinks this is first break psychosis.

- Will start Ambilify 5mg BID. First dose tonight
- Currently on ativan 2mg q4h scheduled and, ativan 2mg q4h prn for agitation
- F/u with child psych recs. Child psych closely follows patient

Respiratory:

Pneumomediastinum: This was likely caused by trauma. Other etiologies are vomiting leading to Boerhaave's syndrome, or spontaneous. There is no history of vomiting. The most likely possibility is trauma relating to pt's arrest and incarceration. Tenderness in upper-chest and over the sternal notch more improved. CT with no signs of rupture of esophagus, or large airway abnormalities. Seen by thoracic surgery, no surgical interventions at this point. Repeat CXR 9/25/10 showed remarkable resolution of pneumomediastinum

- swallow study is indicated here. However, pt will not cooperate at this time. Should reassess as pt's psych status improves

ID

Positive blood cultures: Grew out coagulase negative staph 9/21 from one site which is likely a contaminant. Pt was afebrile at the time blood samples were drawn. Blood sample from another peripheral site without growth. Pt with repeat blood cultures 9/22 when he spiked a fever that is negative to date. This was before any antibiotic was administered. Pt was started on Ceftriaxone on 9/22. Ceftriaxone d/ced 9/24

GI

Elevated LFT's: Etiology of this unknown. No history of ingestions of toxic substances. AST>ALT suggesting alcoholic pattern, however, pt parents denies h/o of alcohol use/abuse. Acetaminophen and Silycacate blood levels wnl. Pt with fevers, tachycardia on floor raising concern of neuroleptic malignant syndrome. However no rigidity. NMS highly Unlikely looking at entirety of patients presentation. Pt received Risperdal at adult detention facility which can cause increased LFT. Hep B and C negative

- At this point will stop following LFTs as it seems levels are undulating with no clear pattern

Musculoskeletal:

Elevated CPK: Levels trending down. Likely due to trauma from incarceration
 -Will stop following CPK levels. Last level 813 (9/23/10)

Diet - Regular food as tolerated

Psychiatry cross cover note:

S: Called by ICU resident stating that pt is alert, psychotic and combative. Earlier in evening had calmed with dose of ativan, but has received second dose with little effect.

Went to see pt, who is sitting up in bed in 4 pt restraints. Alerts and greets with writer as I enter the room stating, "get out of here. You're the devil." Tried to explain several times who I was and how I would try to help him and received similar response. Asked orientation questions and pt responded by showing me his middle finger to each question. Pt then stated, "Don't come over here or I will knock you the fk out."

Spoke also with pt's nurse who stated he has been having brief episodes of being non-verbal and with decreased motor activity throughout the day (as noted by child psychiatry), but more often has been alert and interactive, speaking in partial sentences. Earlier this afternoon his mother called and he was speaking on almost full sentences on the phone with her.

A:

17 yo male with no known psych hx being treated for pneumomediastinum in ICU, with changes in mental status and psychosis. When seen earlier today by child psych, pt was displaying behaviors consistent with catatonia and ativan was recommended at treatment. He has since become more alert and interactive, but also grossly psychotic and at times agitated. It appears he has a psychotic illness, not fully diagnosable at this point, which is leading to this behavior. Psych called for additional recs for agitation. Child psych had concerns for possible NMS, given pt's elevated temp and CPK, but would not expect such improvement in catatonic sx with lorazepam if NMS were present, making it less likely, although cannot be ruled out. At the time of my interview, pt was alert, interactive and did not appear to be agitated to the point of being danger to himself. At this time would recommend continuing ativan for agitation and tx/prevention of catatonia, and can slightly increase dose/schedule as suggested by child psych attending. If agitation proceeds to point where he is a danger to himself, would recommend an antipsychotic, to be used with caution. If pt were to develop muscle rigidity, worsening of temp and ck these would be signs concerning for NMS and the antipsychotic should be stopped immediately. Please call if any concerns about this arise.

P:

- cont ativan 1-2mg IV q4hrs, nte 10mg/24 hrs
- haldol 1-2mg iv/po/im q1hr prn extreme agitation not responsive to ativan, nte 20mg/24hrs

HISTORY OF PRESENT ILLNESS: Kyeron Fair is a 17yo male with no/unknown psychiatric history who is being treated for injuries sustained in jail. Per Dr. Badidi's note on 9/22:

"17y/o male with no significant past medically history admitted for AMS. According to details pieced from multiple sources, pt was fine and with no issues on the AM of Monday the 13th of September. Pt was last seen by his Dad who gave him money to take the bus to school. Pt was subsequently arrested for armed robbery and was taken into detention at Juvenile facility. The details from here are murky because we don't have any records (written or verbal) from the juvenile facility. Pt developed AMS at the Juvenile facility with behaviors like combativeness, agitation, refusing to eat or drink, decreased communication with others, self-injurious behavior, and inappropriate speech and affect. Pt was then transferred to the Adult detention (9/17) facility due to difficulty in management.

In Adult facility, pt continued bizarre behaviors and was tazed a couple of times. Pt was seen at Dorenbecher ED (9/18) and was thought exhibit volitional behavior. Drug screen drawn at that ED encounter was significant for cannabinoids. Pt was then transferred back to the adult detention facility where he continued to exhibit bizarre behaviors. Pt was given Geodone, Ativan, and Risperdal to help with symptoms. Labs drawn at the adult facility showed elevated LFTs and elevated WBC. Pt was then brought to OHSU ED on 9/21.

In the ED pt exhibited continued agitation and couldn't provide much history. Pt was given 2mg Ativan and 2mg Versed. Pt had NCHCT what showed edema and air in subcutaneous tissues of face. Pt with CXR and Chest CT that showed pneumomediastinum. Pt labs in ED was normal except for elevation of Tbili and transaminitis. LP was performed and was wnl. Pt was then transferred to ICU."

Upon entering the room, the patient stared at me and was unable or unwilling to answer any questions. He eventually stared off to the side for several minutes before closing his eyes. He has consumed very little food or drink over the past week. Earlier during the admission he was overheard talking to his mother saying, "is anyone listening, can anyone hear us?" According to his mother, he made statements about "things being in the food" and that is why he refused to eat. He has appeared scared, disorganized, and has been unpredictably aggressive. A psychiatric review of systems could not be performed as the patient did not speak.

MENTAL STATUS EXAMINATION:

Patient is a well developed, well nourished appearing African-American male handcuffed to his hospital bed at the wrists and ankles, mild excoriations in the areas where his cuffs touch the skin. Patient stared at this examiner without blinking or moving for several minutes. He did not respond to any questions with verbal or motor responses. Grooming and hygiene are below average. No dysmorphic facial features are observed. Patient was markedly hypoactive, but not rigid or with waxy flexibility. Virtually mute, patient did say "stop!" when assessing Babinski reflex. Unable to assess mood. Affect: flat. Pt appears profoundly disorganized, but this is assessed only through recent behavior and inability to interact reasonably with others. Insight and Judgment are profoundly impaired.

IMPRESSION: Kyron Fair is a 17yo African American male with no/unknown psychiatric history who is being treated for injuries sustained in jail. The patient has displayed multiple psychotic signs and symptoms over the past several days including disorganized speech, disorganized behavior, paranoid delusions, flat affect, and responding to internal stimuli. Recently his behavior has become increasingly withdrawn with poverty of speech, hypoactivity, refusal to eat and drink, and negativism. At this time, he appears to be suffering from catatonia which may be emerging from a primary psychotic process. Using the Bush-Francis Catatonia Rating Scale the patient currently scores at 21. Although the patient has several medical issues including pneumomediastinum, air in soft tissues of face, elevated LFT's, and elevated CPK levels, most of these problems can be attributed to recent physical trauma suffered while in jail. It is highly unlikely the patient's bizarre behavior is secondary to a primary medical problem. Of concern, is the possibility that the patient may have suffered from Neuroleptic Malignant Syndrome as evidenced by the elevated CPK levels and temperature earlier on admission. Evidence against NMS is that the patient did not suffer from extreme rigidity and his CPK level and temperature are trending down. It is unclear if this psychotic episode was precipitated by an ingestion or use of an illicit substance. Methamphetamine is only positive in the urine for 3-5 days and may not have been detected. His presentation is less consistent with delirium in that his mental status has not waxed and waned with moments of lucid interactions.

DSM IV-TR DIAGNOSES:

AXIS I: Catatonia NOS, Psychotic Disorder NOS, r/o Schizophreniform Disorder, r/o Substance Induced Psychotic Disorder, r/o Mood Disorder NOS
 AXIS II: deferred
 AXIS III: Catatonia, Pneumomediastinum, Elevated AST/ALT levels, Elevated CPK levels
 AXIS IV: Recent incarceration
 AXIS V: 10

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. Would start Lorazepam 1mg IV q 4hrs. Pt will need ongoing monitoring to assure he does not become disinhibited, combative. Could use Bush-Francis Catatonia Rating Scale as well as Folstein Mini-mental status exam to determine if treatment is effective.
2. Patient will likely need antipsychotic medication following the resolution of catatonia. Should not use an antipsychotic until catatonia has fully resolved as these medications have shown to worsen the condition.

Source of Information: primary team, inpatient record, patient's mother (Jarrel Kelli, work-503.222.1615 and home-503.252.3321)

Please note that I reviewed this young man's chart, spoke with his mother for 40min, and examined Kyeron. In summary, Kyeron (pronounced "Kay-Ron", but who usually goes by "K") is a 17-year-old senior at Park Rose HS where he plays point guard and had hoped to play defense for the football team. Last Monday (09/13/2010) the patient was approached by police officers and arrested on charges which his mother states stemmed from an incident one month ago. She notes that Kyeron has no history of medical problems and has never struggled with psychiatric illness. She notes that he occasionally smoked marijuana, but she feels he was honest about his limited use and was committed to not using in order to play high school sports. Following Kyeron's arrest last Monday he was, according to his mother, sleep-deprived and quite scared. The day following his arrest Kyeron's father and she were able to visit him after a court appearance. She notes at that point he was jittery, made poor eye contact, and perseverative, repeating the utterance: "I didn't do it. I didn't do it," "can they hear me?, can they hear me?" (as if there were cameras or microphones monitoring him) and also saying things that did not make sense, for example, that he had been with a young man whom she knows (and knew that Kyeron had clearly been aware) has been in jail for over a year. The next day Kyeron's mother reports that his basketball coach, who works at the youth correctional facility where Kyeron was being held, saw him. He noted to her that Kyeron asked who he was. That Kyeron was agitated, poorly cooperative, and reporting that he believed his food was poisoned. She continued to receive reports throughout last week that her son was "amped," "pacing," and "uncooperative." At one point Kyeron wailed that he had "signed his rights away" and rejected an attorney, even though this did not make legal sense and was non-reality based. He refused, then, to meet with his attorney or the psychologist whom the attorney asked him to work with. By 09/17/2010 Kyeron's mother reports that her son's condition was reported to be so severe that he was being transferred to a Multnomah County Adult facility. On that same day she received report that her son attempted to strangle himself with a pillowcase. Notes indicate that, after physically struggling with staff that evening and twice being tazed, the patient was medically and psychiatrically evaluated in the ED that evening and discharged back to the custody of the Multnomah County Sheriff's Dept. The patient's behavior subsequently remained bizarre and hence again returned to OHSU. In the ED he received Versed and Geodon to which his bizarre behavior did not respond. In the ICU Kyeron has demonstrated: anorexia, near mutism, negativism with marked physical hypersensitivity, staring, verbigeration, combativeness, which accompanies his elevated CPK, mild transaminitis, and transient temperature elevation in the absence of findings on contrast head CT and LP. It is noteworthy to mention that the patient has a pneumomediastinum, with no WBC spike--currently awaiting blood cultures. These features point toward catatonia which may stem from underlying vulnerability to affective illness (1/2 sister with recent manic bout), and underlying psychotic illness, and been sparked by insomnia and extreme stress and perhaps substance use (with a UDS + for THC). I agree with Dr. Reid's assessment and formulation and explored this case with OHSU Adult Psychiatry attending, Dr. Anthony Cull. We will continue to follow with you.

- 1) Ativan 1mg IV q4hrs; should patient fail to respond to this intervention, will consider with you intensifying dose/schedule or looking at alternative diagnoses. May consider consulting neurology.
- 2) If agitated, please contact us to discuss treatment options.
- 3) Please continue to monitor for autonomic lability, follow CPK and LFT trend as part of regular medical monitoring.
- 4) Psychologically, reports from multiple sources (including the officers in the patient's room) indicate that this patient is terrified and may benefit from steady orientation to place and purpose of his medical stay. If appropriate, family support may be helpful and I would ask that social work become involved to best assess this and how to make it possible.

Thank you for the opportunity to participate in the care of this young man.

Assessment and Plan:

17y/o with no PMH presents from adult detention facility with AMS following incarceration. Pt with pneumomediastinum, air in soft tissues of face, elevated LFT's, benign CSF analysis.

Neuro:

AMS: Etiology unknown. According to parents, pt with no issues prior to incarceration. Currently have no data from Juvenile facility but data from adult facility sheds no light on etiology of AMS. Seen by psych who couldn't do adequate evaluation. Could be psychotic outbreak due to stressors or due to ingestion of toxic substances.

- followed by psych, will follow recs
- On Geodon 20mg BID

Respiratory:

Pneumomediastinum: This could be caused trauma, vomiting leading to Boerhaave's syndrome, or it could just be just spontaneous. There is no history of vomiting. This is likely caused by trauma relating to pt's arrest and incarceration. Tenderness in upper-chest, over the sternal notch. CT with no signs of rupture of esophagus, or large airway abnormalities

- Followed by thoracic surgery, will follow recs

GI

Elevated LFT's: Etiology of this unknown. No history of ingestions of toxic substances. AST>ALT suggesting alcoholic pattern, however, pt parents denies h/o of alcohol use/abuse. Acetaminophen and Silycagate blood levels

- Will follow hepatic panel
- Sent Hepatitis viral serologies will follow

Musculoskeletal:

Elevated CPK: Levels trending down. Likely due to trauma from incarceration

- will follow up CPK levels

Filed: 09/22/10 1927	Note: 09/22/10 1919	Time:

I performed a history and physical examination of the patient and discussed his management with the fellow. I reviewed the fellow's note and agree with the documented findings and plan of care.

I spent 45 minutes on this consult. The majority of history collection was from alternative sources than the patient as he is not answering questions at present. Please see note of Jon Boyum for details of this encounter.

Greater than 50% of this time was spent counseling him and coordinating his care.

Information is second hand from guards, primary service as Kyeron does not answer questions. I introduced myself and explained the CT Chest findings. Unclear if he understood. He is awake and alert but does not speak. This situation is currently under evaluation by MICU team to determine if it has an organic basis or otherwise.

17 yo recently incarcerated in children's facility and transferred to adult facility. Possible combative behavior with restraining by guards. Developed pneumomediastinum which is also seen on CT Chest.

Report he says he swallowed a razor blade although no evidence of foreign body on full body imaging.

PE: Abdomen soft and non-tender.
Chest with crepitance in neck, upper chest
No crepitance in abdomen or arms or face

CT Chest with pneumomediastinum appearing to originate from lungs--track up bronchi but source is unclear. No pleural effusions, no mediastinal fluid collections.

Imp: Pneumomediastinum. Most likely diagnosis is spontaneous primary pneumomediastinum from ruptured aleoli/baro trauma. Cannot rule out esophageal perforation and would recommend obtaining swallow study. Pt is not currently able to cooperate with swallow study. Would clinically observe. If worsens, will need to determine if he has decisional capacity and if not obtain consent for intubation and swallow study using NG tube. Would need swallow study to determine location of esophageal injury if needs surgical repair.

Discussed this situation with Dr. Phillips of MICU and will follow with him and ICU team.

CT CHEST, ABDOMEN & PELVIS W CONTRAST (no units)

Date	Value	Low	High	Status
9/22/2010				Final

Value: CT CHEST, ABDOMEN, AND PELVIS WITH CONTRAST 09/21/10 22:44:00

INDICATIONS: Recently tazered. Pneumomediastinum of uncertain etiology.

TECHNIQUE: IV contrast (150 mL Omnipaque). 5 mm axial images at 2.5 mm intervals through chest, abdomen and pelvis.

COMPARISON: None.

FINDINGS

CHEST: Extensive pneumomediastinum with gas extending from mediastinum into the neck, anterior chest wall, axillae, and upper left retroperitoneum. No definable defect in trachea or esophagus. No pneumothorax. Small blebs versus interstitial gas in posterior right upper lobe (representative images 38-40). Small amount of interstitial gas in left lung (representative images 35 and 45). Otherwise clear lungs. Normal appearance of heart and great vessels. No pleural or pericardial effusion.

ABDOMEN: Focal hepatic steatosis adjacent to fissure for ligamentum teres; liver otherwise unremarkable. Pancreas, spleen, kidneys, adrenal glands, and bowel are unremarkable. An appendicolith is noted without periappendiceal inflammation.

PELVIS: Bladder, prostate and seminal vesicles are normal in appearance. No free air or free fluid. No abdominal or pelvic adenopathy.

Chronic-appearing nondisplaced fracture of right L1 transverse process. No acute osseous abnormality.

IMPRESSION:

- 1. Pneumomediastinum, likely related to ruptured alveolus. Tracheal or esophageal injury is not excluded by this examination, though none is seen.
- 2. No acute abnormality in the abdomen or pelvis.

Discussed with Dr. Burke by Dr. Thomas at 12:51 am on 9/21/10.

I have personally viewed this procedure/exam and reviewed this report.

STATUS FINAL / Dr. KATHARINE L. HOPKINS

Assessment and Plan:

17 year old male who presents with mental status changes and finding of pneumomediastinum. There are no findings on CT to suggest pneumothorax or esophageal injury. We are unable to obtain any further history or details on exam. This may represent spontaneous pneumomediastinum, but he should have an esophogram to rule out esophageal perforation. At present he will not cooperate for this study, we will therefore follow clinically. If he shows evidence of sepsis, he will require intubation with sedation to further evaluate his esophagus.

The patient was seen with Dr. Schipper who agrees with the plan.

17 yo M presenting to the ED with agitation. Pt is in custody at Multnomah County Corrections and was sent in by the RN at the facility for two concerns: agitation and abnormal labs. Pt was seen in the Dornbecher ED a few days ago, after initially being taken into custody. That day he was screaming and yelling, not cooperative, but his mental status improved with time. His behavior was thought to be volitional. Sent over today because he has continued to have outbursts of agitation requiring multiple officers to restrain him or tazing. They are concerned that he is becoming difficult to care for and a harm to himself with these outbursts. Pt also has had labs done at the facility and they are concerned about findings of elevated WBC count and mild transaminitis.

On arrival to the ED, pt is brought in 4-point cuffs and police escort. He is able to be calmed with repeated verbal requests. Was cooperative with blood draw and vital signs. Speaking in short phrases that are mostly nonsense and repeating himself. Yells out occasionally.

 Skin: superficial abrasions to the wrists bilaterally
 Neuro: CN II-XII intact, strength 5/5 in the bilateral upper and lower extremities, follows commands, gait appears normal but pt walking with cuffs on ankles, Reflexes normal and symmetric at knee and achillies.

Assessment and Plan:

17 yo M presenting with agitation and uncooperative behavior at Mult county correctional facility. Pt is 17, but in the adult ED and mult. County corrections instead of juvenile detention due to his yelling and behavioral issues.

Uncertain exactly what the pt's baseline mental status is, but presumably he is a normal kid with known medical or psychiatric illnesses. Will make an attempt to contact his mother if possible. Case discussed with RN at Mult. County. They are concerned about the possibility of infection given his WBC count elevation.

Initiated a work up for organic causes of his agitation: CT brain, CBC, CMP, lactate, ammonia, EtOH, salicylate, acetaminophen level, blood cultures x2, UA and urine culture. Pt's lungs are clear, my suspicion for a pulmonary cause is very low, will hold on CXR right now.

My impression is that the pt has underlying psychiatric illness, instead of infectious or metabolic causes for his agitation. We can consider LP in his work up, but this will be difficult and require heavy sedation to perform safely. My suspicion for meningitis is low at this time and I do not think the benefits outweigh the risks of this test at this time.

Not requiring sedation at this time, but will continue to reassess.

Officers at bedside with the pt, in hand cuffs per their protocol but no other restraints ordered or required at this time.

Social work and psych to see the pt.

SBAR to Dr. McKeown at 5pm with labs and SW/psych consults pending and pt just returned from CT. Please see their note for further ED course documentation.

Pt presents to the ED screaming, mumbling unrecognizable sounds, not oriented, and in 4 point restraints. Prior to coming by EMS, pt was tazed twice at Multnomah County Corrections due to unwillingness to get onto the medical stretcher and erratic behavior. Pt has been in Mult Co Sherrif custody for only a few hours today, having been transferred from Donald E Long Juvenile Justice Center. Per Sheriff Officers who are present in the ED at OHSU, pt was remanded into adult custody today because the juvenile system was unable to maintain his care.

Pt has been on a three day food and water striker. Officers report that pt's mother was notified by their medical staff at jail of pt's behaviors and that the mother says that pt was "normal" and did not exhibit these behaviors prior to incarceration. Officers state that pt has been in custody this time for approximately one week. Earlier today pt had tied an unknown object around his neck and refused to remove it.

Prior to bringing pt to the ED, Project Respond was consulted by the Mult Co Sheriff's dept and they recommended pt come to the ED for evaluation of psychiatric vs medical situation.

Pt currently in 4 point restraints, placed on a hold, in custody (with officers at bedside), and has been given sedatives to calm him down.

Upon initial arrival, while agitated, this Social Worker attempted to assess pt and was unable to do so. After pt calms and labs are back, if all medical work up appears in normal range, Social Workers and Child Psychiatry should likely be involved to determine behavioral vs psychiatric symptoms.

ED Course:

Pt arrived by and was triaged the acute side of the ED. Nursing and police notes reviewed. Pt was seen by myself and cosigned attending physician who was present for all pertinent aspects of pt care, management and critical decision making while in the ED.

After initial history and physical exam I placed the patient on a two physician psychiatric hold with the attending physician. I contacted our social worker who attempted to interview the pt.

I obtained labs including CBC, CMP and UA to eval for organic disease. These tests were negative. I also obtained a serum ETOH level and UDS. ECG NSR w no acute etiology

Pt was given geodon for his acute aggitation and thrashing behavior w good effect. Pt on re-exam directable, follows commands and variably answers questions. The pt has responded to questioning and requests w variable compliance. Though he follows all my commands on motor re-assessment. Awaiting social work re-eval at this time. Given patient's history and concern for maladaptive behavior vs acute psychiatric or morbidity pt's psychiatric hold was withdrawn though his medical wkup continues.

The pt was moved to the secure psychiatric room for continued evaluation. Pending social work re-eval. At this time the psychiatric hold was withdrawn though the pt remains under legal custody arrest.

MDM:

Patient presents destructive aggitated behavior with threatening behavior to staff and self. Immediate concern was for pt and staff safety and an acute medical etiology for his symptoms. The patient could not be safely cared for given his aggitation and geodon/ativan was ordered.

We considered medical etiologies of the patient's symptoms including metabolic and toxicologic and none were found in our history, physical exam, or lab workup. There was no indication of significant trauma on exam. No neurologic defecits to suggest CNS mass though the pt's exam was variable.

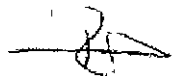

There was nothing to suggest toxic ingestion or toxin and the pt has been in continuous legal custody w limited/no access to mood altering substances.

On re-evaluation Mr. Fair was oriented, followed commands and was re-directable though he continued to repeat words, yell at the officers in the room. I do not believe the pt's sx's are necessarily consistent w an acute psychiatric or medical etiology and certainly appear more volitional and behavioral as time passes.

The patient remained afebrile, hemodynamically stable and comfortable during ED stay

Pt on cont re-eval answered appropriately, oriented, interactive though continued to yell and call out to staff and officers. Pt transferred to adult acute side pending likely discharge.

NARRATIVE
06 Stradley #16129 (partner)

08 Myself and Ofc. Stradley responded to a call of a robbery at gunpoint. We arrived at 3729 NE Columbia Blvd. and contacted the complainant, VI Hensley. Mr. Hensley invited us into his house. Mr. Hensley was visibly shaken and upset, because he had just been robbed several minutes ago. Also present was VI Christine Montgomery, VI Jayden Montgomery and VI Douglas.

I asked Mr. Hensley to tell me exactly what had happened. He gave me the following account: The night before, Mr. Hensley and his housemates had received a shipment of medical marijuana, a total of 1.5 pounds. There were three varieties in three bags, 1/2 pound each, a supply that was to last until November. The marijuana had been delivered by Mr. Hensley's grower from southern Oregon. Mr. Hensley and his housemates, VI Douglas and VI Montgomery, all have medical marijuana cards and regularly "smoke out." They often have friends over, all of whom are aware of the medical marijuana. Mr. Hensley displays his medical marijuana card on the wall of his family room.

INVESTIGATION REPORT

Mr. Hensley told me that he had met X1 K Ron through a friend of his at the HIV clinic. His friend's name is "Ne-Ne", and Mr. Hensley thinks that K Ron may be related to Ne-Ne. K Ron has been to Mr. Hensley's house on a couple of occasions.

On the day of the robbery, there was a knock at the door of Mr. Hensley's house. He opened the door and saw K Ron, so he let him in. With K Ron was X2 and X3. X2 brandished a gun and simply said "Give it all to me." X2 pointed the gun at VI Christine Montgomery and VI Jayden Montgomery. Christine Montgomery said "oh my god, my baby's right here." X2 pointed the gun at Mr. Hensley and at VI Douglas. Mr. Hensley handed the three bags of marijuana over to K Ron. X3 did not say anything. The gun was described as having a long slender barrel, charcoal in color, possibly a revolver.

After they acquired the three bags of marijuana, the three suspects left. Mr. Hensley's dog, a 90 pound pitbull, chased after them. Mr. Hensley then called his grower to ask what he should do. His grower told him to call the police, so Mr. Hensley did so.

Ms. Montgomery told me that her son (VI Brown) wanted to chase after the suspects but she told him not to. VI Brown instead went to look for the dog, who had apparently ran down to the river behind the house.

Mr. Hensley described the three bags as large plastic bags with the marijuana variety written on the bottom of each one: one written "DUB", one written "JTBR" for Jack the Bubble Ripper, and one written "CD2" for Chocolate Dank.

Mr. Hensley, Ms. Montgomery and Mr. Douglas were all very upset by the robbery and expressed to me that they are interested in prosecution of the suspects. All three were very cooperative during the investigation. Mr. Hensley and Ms. Montgomery are legal medical marijuana cardholders. I gave Mr. Hensley my card with the case # written on it.

After our initial investigation, I spoke with Mr. Hensley over the phone. He told he had talked with a friend of "Ne-Ne." The friend knows K Ron and says he went to Parkrose High School. The friend was trying to contact K Ron's mother to find out more information about him.

This report will be faxed to the Robbery Detectives.

8 R/C at (loc) to assist Det. R. Hollins with a robbery investigation. Det. Hollins told Ofc. Scott and I that he had probable cause to arrest (SB) Fair, and wanted us to transport him to the detective division if we were able to locate him. We contacted school staff, who led us past the library and pointed out (SB) as his class was meeting there this morning. (SB) and a friend walked out of the library into the hallway where we were standing, and Det. Hollins called him by name. (SB) stopped and turned around, and Det. Hollins told (SB) he needed to talk to him and instructed Ofc. Scott and I to take (SB) into custody, which we did. I conducted an inventory of (SB)'s person with no items of major value found. As I placed (SB) in my patrol car, he asked if he could call his mother. I told Det. Hollins of this request, and Det. Hollins told me he would contact (SB)'s mother after he returned to the Detective Division. I transported (SB) to the Detective Division on the 13th floor of the Justice Center and placed him in holding cell #6. Det. Hollins arrived and took custody of (SB) and I cleared the call. I did not ask (SB) any questions during the transport and he did not make any statements.

AFFIDAVIT OF PROBABLE CAUSE
TO SUPPORT CONTINUED DETENTION
OF DEFENDANT

I, Glen R. Banfield, swear that I am a Deputy District Attorney for Multnomah County and that I have reviewed the police reports which have been filed in this case by police officers; that the crimes charged against defendant occurred in Multnomah County and that the probable cause for detention following the arrest of defendant is as follows:

On 8/23/10 Martin Hensley reported to PPB Officer Todd Sorensen that the above named defendant and two other unidentified subjects robbed him of approximately a pound and a half of Marijuana at gunpoint. Hensley said he knows defendant through a mutual friend and that defendant has been over to his house on a couple of occasions. Hensley told Officer Sorensen that he is a medical marijuana card holder and that on 8/22/10 he received a shipment of three half pound bags of marijuana at his home located at 3729 NE Columbia Blvd, Portland Oregon. Hensley said that on 8/23/10 he was at home with his housemates Christine Montgomery, Jayden Montgomery (DOB 11/15/2006), Marchel Douglass and Jordan Brown when he heard a knock on the door and saw that it was defendant and let him in. Defendant was with two unidentified males. One of the unidentified males brandished a gun and said "give it all to me." The gunman pointed the gun at everyone in the house. Hensley handed the three bags of marijuana to the defendant. All three suspects then left the house

On 9/13/10 PPB Detective Robert Hollins arrested and interviewed defendant. I know from speaking with Detective Robert Hollins that post Miranda defendant told Hollins multiple different stories about his involvement in the robbery. Ultimately, defendant said he knew who did it, then said he did not know who did it, then said he would not rat out his friends.

I believe there is probable cause to believe the defendant has committed the crime(s) of: COUNT 1 - ROBBERY IN THE FIRST DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 2 - ROBBERY IN THE FIRST DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 3 - ROBBERY IN THE FIRST DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 4 - ROBBERY IN THE FIRST DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 5 - ROBBERY IN THE FIRST DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 6 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 7 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 8 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 9 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 10 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 11 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 12 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 13 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 14 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 15 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 16 - BURGLARY IN THE FIRST DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, and COUNT 17 - UNLAWFUL USE OF A WEAPON.

whom was known as to Mr. HENSLEY and Ms. MONGOMERY as "KYERON", later identified as KYERON JARREL FAIR. During the aforementioned Home Invasion Robbery, one of the three suspects utilized a firearm and robbed Mr. HENSLEY of his medical marijuana and of $80.00 in cash. For additional detail and specific information related to the aforementioned Home Invasion Robbery, please refer to a police report prepared by Officer Sorensen.

NARRATIVE

In working in the official capacity as a detective with the Portland Police Bureau's Robbery Detail, I was assigned Portland Police Bureau case #10-69858 which is an Armed Home Invasion Robbery of a medical marijuana patient where money and medical marijuana was taken. The initial police report indicated that at least one of the robbers was known to the victims.

I subsequently contact MARTIN DALE HENSLEY hereafter referred to as Mr. HENSLEY, who reiterated to me what he previously reported to Officer Sorensen regarding the robbery. Mr. HENSLEY did tell me some additional details related to the robbery. Mr. HENSLEY told me that he knew at least one of the robbers as an acquaintance who had been to his residence at least three to four different occasions. Mr. HENSLEY told me that he knew the aforementioned individual as "K-RON". Mr. HENSLEY told me that KYERON had a tattoo of his name on his forearm. Mr. HENSLEY also told me that he had since learned that KYERON had attended Parkrose High School.

Mr. HENSLEY told me that he did not know who the two other robbers were, however he described the robber with the firearm as being a male black individual with a dark complexion, approximately 5'05", with a medium build, short hair, and "bushy eyebrows".

Ms. MONTGOMERY told me that she remembered that the taller unknown robber was the individual with the gun during the robbery.

Mr. HENSLEY told me that after the robbers took his marijuana and $80.00 in cash at gunpoint, they left his residence. NOTE: for additional information and specific details related to the aforementioned robbery, please refer to the police report prepared by Officer Sorensen.

I asked Mr. HENSLEY if he thought that he could identify KYERON if he saw a photograph of him. Mr. HENSLEY told me that he could. I subsequently obtained an Oregon Driver's License photograph #2408103, which depicted a photograph of KYERON JARREL FAIR, male black, DOB 072993, and met with Mr. HENSLEY and Ms. MONGOMERY at their residence. I displayed the aforementioned DMV photograph of KYERON JARREL FAIR individually to Mr. HENSLEY and Ms. MONGOMERY. Both Mr. HENSLEY and Ms. MONGOMERY positively identified KYERON JARREL FAIR as the same black individual known to them as 'K-RON', and the same black individual that one was one of the three robbers that robbed them of medical marijuana and $80.00 in US currency on 082310 at there residence identified as 3729 NE Columbia Blvd., Portland, Oregon. Both Mr. HENSLEY and Ms. MONGOMERY signed and dated the aforementioned DMV photographs.

Ms. MONGOMERY also told me that her three year old son, identified as JAYDEN CHRISTIAN MONGOMERY was present during the robbery and has since demonstrated some negative traumatic emotions related to the aforementioned armed robbery which has caused her concern.

During the investigation and in my attempt to located KYERON JARREL FAIR, I collaborated the information provided to me by Mr. HENSLEY and subsequently learned that KYERON JARREL FAIR was currently attending Parkrose High School. For additional information and specific detail related to my contact with KYERON JARREL FAIR, please refer to the associated police reports.

For additional information and complete details related to the interview with KYERON JARREL FAIR, please refer to the DVD recording of the interview.

NARRATIVE

On 091310 at approximately 0912 hours, KYERON JARREL FAIR hereinafter referred to as FAIR, was taken into custody as he exited the library at Parkrose High School by me with the assistance of the aforementioned School Resource Officers. Once taken into custody, at the direction of the school principle (ANA GONALEZ), per school protocol, FAIR was escorted to a small room located in the east section of Parkrose High School. Shortly thereafter, FAIR was escorted to a marked patrol car and subsequently transported to the Portland Police Bureau's Detective Division for an interview.

Upon arriving at the Portland Police Bureau's Detective Division, FAIR was placed in a holding cell at approximately 0943 hours. I contacted FAIR and identified myself as a detective with the Portland Police Bureau and informed him that I would speak to him momentarily. I asked FAIR if he needed to use the restroom and he indicated he did. I subsequently transported FAIR to the restroom facilities which he utilized. After utilizing the restroom facilities, FAIR was placed back inside the holding cell.

At approximately 1056 hours, Detective Christensen and I escorted FAIR from the holding cell to an adjacent interview room for the purpose of interviewing him. Note; Prior to interviewing FAIR, Detective Christensen and I activated the Detective Division audio and video recording system for the purpose of recording the interview with FAIR. As previously indicated, the following is a summary of the interview with FAIR. For additional information and specific details related to the interview with FAIR, please refer to the DVD recording of the interview which has been provided in the case envelope.

Statements made by KYERON JARREL FAIR

Prior to interviewing FAIR, at approximately 1058 hours, I advised him of his constitutional Miranda rights, by reading aloud from a Portland Police Bureau approved Miranda rights advice form. After I had completed advising FAIR of his constitutional Miranda rights, I asked him if he understood his constitutional Miranda rights as explained to him by me. FAIR verbally acknowledged understanding his constitutional Miranda rights by stating, "Yeah." FAIR also signed the Miranda rights advice form.

FAIR told me that he is a senior at Parkrose High School, and asked if he could call his mother. FAIR told me his mother told him to always call her when he had police contact and / or when he was being questioned by the police. FAIR told me he wanted his mother there with him. When I asked for his mother's contact phone number, FAIR told me that he did not know it. FAIR told me he lives with his aunt in order to attend Parkrose High School and play sports. FAIR also told me not to call his mother and informed me he did not know his mother's or his aunt's phone number. FAIR said he just recently had gotten a new cell phone and had deleted all of their numbers out of his phone. FAIR said he got a new phone, because he was getting prank phone calls.

I explained to FAIR, that I was investigating a robbery. FAIR initially told me he did not know anything about a robbery. I explained to FAIR, that he did not need to answer any questions that he did not want to. As I continued talking to FAIR, he told me he was done answering questions, and did not want to talk about a home-invasion robbery. When I asked how he knew I was inquiring about a home-invasion robbery, FAIR told me he saw it written on the file which I was holding when he was initially taken into custody.

I produced a photograph depicting the address 3729 NE Columbia Blvd and informed FAIR that the residence depicted in the photograph was the residence where the home-invasion robbery occurred. I displayed the aforementioned photograph to FAIR and asked him if he had ever been there. FAIR acknowledged that he had previously been to the residence in order to purchase marijuana from "MARTIN." FAIR told me he has purchased marijuana from MARTIN in the following amounts; $10 sacks, dubs, and eighths. FAIR told me his play cousin whom he referred to as DEMARCUS HATTER and his (DEMARCUS HATTER's) aunt whom he referred to as "RENEE," introduced him to MARTIN. FAIR told me his (FAIR's) friends whom he regularly associates with were DEMARCUS HATTER, RAYMONDO FLINTROY, KEVIN LOWE, and HUNG VE.

When asked about his knowledge of the robbery, FAIR told me the robbery never happened, and he didn't know what the victims were talking about. FAIR told me MARTIN was his "weed supplier." FAIR acknowledged that MARTIN knew him by the name KYERON. FAIR continually told me that he had no knowledge of a robbery and was not involved.

I displayed Oregon driver's license photograph #2408103, which depicted a photograph of FAIR, to him (FAIR). I asked FAIR if the person depicted in the aforementioned photograph was him. FAIR acknowledged that the aforementioned photograph was a photograph of him. I also informed FAIR that he was identified by the photograph as the individual known to the victims as KYERON, and as one of the three individuals involved in the robbery.

FAIR told me MARTIN was angry at him because he (FAIR) owed him $40 for some marijuana he had purchased from him, and now refused to pay for. FAIR told me he (FAIR) has lots of friends and associates that he takes to MARTIN's house in order to buy marijuana. When asked how many times he had been to MARTIN's house, FAIR said he has been there approximately 40 to 50 times, and probably more. FAIR said he had been to MARTIN's house "hundreds of times," while also stating he did not know.

When I continued to ask FAIR about the robbery, FAIR told me he knew what I was talking about and knew who did it.

FAIR said MARTIN called him and told him the dudes he brought over to his house, robbed him for a pound of weed. FAIR told me he informed MARTIN, that he (FAIR) had nothing to do with it. FAIR said MARTIN told to tell him to tell him where the guys lived, to which FAIR told MARTIN he could not tell him anything. FAIR told me MARTIN informed him that he (MARTIN) was a legal marijuana grower and he (MARTIN) was going to call the police because

FAIR had brought some shady people to his house who subsequently robbed him. FAIR told me MARTIN blamed him for the robbery.

I asked FAIR what phone number MARTIN called him on. FAIR told me MARTIN called him on his (FAIR's) old cellular phone number. When asked what his old cell phone number was, FAIR told me he did not know. FAIR said he had changed his phone number a long time ago and could not remember his old cellular phone number. I asked FAIR when did MARTIN call him to tell him about the robbery. FAIR told me MARTIN called him last month. FAIR told me that MARTIN has since stopped selling marijuana to him. FAIR also told me that he (FAIR) has found a new marijuana dealer to purchase marijuana from.

FAIR also told me, during the aforementioned conversation, that MARTIN told him the guys who robbed him were DEMARCUS, KEVIN, and HUNG VE. I asked FAIR when did he bring the aforementioned individuals to MARTIN's residence. FAIR told me he did not know.

FAIR told me DEMARCUS, KEVIN, and RAYMONDO FLINTROY would not rob MARTIN and say, "Give me everything" and put a gun to his head and rob him. FAIR told me that "was not them." Note; during my conversation with FAIR, I did not inform him of the phrases utilized by the robbers, i.e. "Give me everything." Furthermore, I did not discuss where the robber pointed the gun, i.e. the victim's head.

I asked FAIR if he had gone to MARTIN's house last month (August). FAIR acknowledged that he did, and further told me that he had gone there a lot. FAIR told me he told his mother that MARTIN had called his cellular phone and told him that he (MARTIN) was going to call the police because the individuals he (FAIR) had brought to his house had robbed him of his marijuana, and he (MARTIN) was going to call the police to report the marijuana that was stolen during the robbery. FAIR told me his mother changed his phone number because of the calls from MARTIN.

I asked FAIR if his mother had ever called MARTIN to inquire why he (MARTIN) was accusing and / or holding FAIR responsible for the robbery. FAIR told me he did not. FAIR then told me that he never told his mother about

MARTIN, the robbery, and / or the marijuana taken during the robbery. FAIR admitted that he had lied to me when he told me that he informed his mother about the aforementioned ordeal.

I asked FAIR if he could remember when he last bought marijuana from MARTIN. FAIR told me he could not.

FAIR also told me that when MARTIN called him, MARTIN told him that one of his friends came to his house and robbed him. I asked FAIR if MARTIN told him who the friend was. FAIR told me no, and told me that MARTIN did not know his friends.

I asked FAIR how long he had been taking his friends and associates to MARTIN's house to purchase marijuana. FAIR said he has been taking friends and associates to MARTIN's house since this year. FAIR told me he has brought between 40 to 60 friends and associates to MARTIN's house in order to purchase marijuana.

FAIR told me his friend, DEMARCUS HATTER, called and asked him if he robbed MARTIN. FAIR also told me DEMARCUS HATTER's aunt had also called him and informed him that MARTIN was a legal marijuana grower and was going to file a police report regarding the robbery.

At approximately 1145 hours, we took a short break from the interview, because FAIR was getting excited and animated. Note: Prior to taking the aforementioned break, FAIR said he knew about the robbery, because his friends told him about it. FAIR said he was not going to give the names of his friends who committed the robbery. FAIR reiterated that he (FAIR) was not the individual who committed the robbery, rather it was his friends. FAIR said he knew what happened because his friends had told him. FAIR also said he knew who did it but reiterated that he was not going to provide their names.

At approximately 1149 hours, we took a break from interviewing FAIR, and provided him with a drink of water and a bathroom break. FAIR was then placed back in a holding cell and asked to calm down. Note: While proceeding back to the holding cell, FAIR continued to say he knew who committed the robbery, however, he indicated he did not want to tell on his friends.

At approximately 1203 hours, FAIR acknowledged that he had calmed down and was subsequently transported back to the interview room to continue the interview. Upon entering the interview room, FAIR told me it was not him, and he did not know who did it. FAIR said he did not know anything. While talking to me, FAIR said he was the "connect." Note; I know from my training and experience as a police officer that the term "connect" when used in the aforementioned context, is drug culture vernacular and street terminology commonly used to refer to a person who brings individuals together for the purpose of committing crimes and / or one that facilitates illegal activities. After making the aforementioned statement, FAIR quickly recanted what he had previously told me and said that he did not know who robbed MARTIN.

I explained to FAIR that I was trying to learn the truth of what happened and determine what his (FAIR's) role was during the robbery. FAIR told me he had made up the whole story regarding his friend calling him and telling him about the robbery. FAIR also told me that he made it up when he told me that he (FAIR) knew who committed the robbery. FAIR told me he (FAIR) was lying.

I asked FAIR why he had lied to me. FAIR told me because I was asking him questions regarding who did it, and he did not want to tell on his friends.

FAIR also told me out of all his (FAIR's) marijuana dealers, MARTIN had the best marijuana which he (FAIR) referred to as "the fire."

FAIR also told me he did not want to tell on his friends because he (FAIR) would be called a snitch.

FAIR told me the day of the robbery, he (FAIR) was at home. Note: FAIR had not been informed of the date and / or time of the robbery. FAIR said his friends were trying to say that he was there. However, FAIR would not tell us which friend was trying to say he was there.

FAIR told us he did not know what happened or how it happened; the only thing he knew was that he was not there. FAIR acknowledged that he understood I was asking questions of him and had not lied to him. FAIR admitted that he had lied to me during the interview.

FAIR told me his mother had previously told him not to answer questions asked of him by the police, and acknowledged that he had already "messed up." I explained to FAIR that he did not have to answer any questions that he did not want to.

I asked FAIR if someone had forced him to go to MARTIN's house. FAIR told me he was not forced to go there. FAIR also again said he did not know anything, and did not know about the robbery. FAIR told me he lied when he said MARTIN had called him and told him about the robbery. FAIR also told me he lied to me when he told me his friend called him and told him about the robbery.

I asked FAIR to tell me the truth and to tell me where he was standing inside MARTIN's house during the robbery. FAIR told me he did not want to tell on his friends. FAIR said he knew exactly what I was talking about.

At approximately 1306 hours, FAIR asked me if I would remove the handcuffs which had been previously placed back on his wrists (hand-cuffed in front) for officer safety reasons during the prior break. I subsequently removed the handcuffs and continued talking to FAIR. It should be noted, that during the interview with FAIR, he displayed a range of emotions ranging from being calm to being loud, excited, and animated.

At approximately 1310 hours, while continuing to interview FAIR, he stood up and referenced an attorney. In order to clarify his reference of an attorney, I informed him that he had said something regarding an attorney. I asked FAIR if he wanted an attorney, and informed him if he did want an attorney, that we were done talking with him and we would precede with what we had. I informed FAIR that he needed to make it clear, if he wanted an attorney before we continued questioning, or if he wanted to tell and explain his side of the story without an attorney. I told FAIR that he needed to make it clear to us what he wanted to do. I asked FAIR if he wanted to continue talking to us. FAIR replied, "Yes."

I explained to FAIR, that asking questions of him was my job. As I continued to ask FAIR questions, he told me that he felt like he was being "used". When asked if it made him angry that a weed dealer called the police on him, FAIR responded by saying, "Yes, that is exactly what it is." FAIR said someone used him. FAIR then stated that it was because of his last name while simultaneously pointing to the tattoo of his name "K FAIR" on his arm, and because his father was a known gang member, as the reasons why he was being accused of being involved in the robbery. I again explained to FAIR that I was only trying to get to the truth of the matter.

At approximately 1319 hours, FAIR stood up and stated, "Fuck what you all are talking about," and attempted to walk out of the interview room. For officer safety reasons, I attempted to stop FAIR from leaving the room. He then pushed my arm away and said, "Get the fuck off me. Can I get out of here?" For officer safety precautions, I restrained FAIR's movement and handcuffed him and subsequently terminated the interview. I escorted FAIR back to the holding cell at approximately 1320 hours.

At approximately 1350 hours, I learned that FAIR's mother, identified as KELLI MARIE JARREL, hereinafter referred to as Ms. JARREL, was in the Central Precinct lobby area. I subsequently went downstairs to the Central Precinct lobby and observed Ms. JARREL sitting on the south stairway. I asked Ms. JARREL if she was KYERON's mother to which she acknowledged she was. I identified myself as Detective Hollins with the Portland Police Bureau and asked Ms. JARREL if she would accompany me upstairs to the 13th floor so I could explain to her what was going on with her son. Ms. JARREL complied. I subsequently escorted Ms. JARREL to the 13th floor Detective Division and spoke with her in the small conference room.

During my conversation with Ms. JARREL, I explained to her the reason why her son was arrested and transported to the Detective Division for an interview. I also explained to Ms. JARREL some of the details of the investigation which subsequently led to the arrest of her son. Ms. JARREL informed me that although she was aware that her son smoked marijuana, she did not approve of it. Ms. JARREL told me her son (FAIR) did not tell her about the robbery or his (FAIR's) dealings with MARTIN. Ms. JARREL told me she had recently gotten a new phone number for her son (FAIR), because he told her he was getting prank phone calls. Ms. JARREL told me she assumed that the prank phone calls were related to disagreements that FAIR was having with individuals associated with his school.

I asked Ms. JARREL when did she get a new cellular phone for her son. Ms. JARREL told me she got a new phone number for him approximately a week ago.

During my conversation with Ms. JARREL, she was polite and cordial and demonstrated concern for the welfare of her son. In order to let Ms. JARREL know that her son was okay, at approximately 1330 hrs, I facilitated a brief meeting between Ms. JARREL and her son (FAIR) during which she was allowed to give him a hug and tell him that she loved him.

With FAIR's permission, I gave his mother his school backpack which contained his books and miscellaneous school items.

At approximately 1536 hrs, after FAIR was allowed to meet with his mother, he (FAIR) was transported to the Donald E. Long juvenile detention center (JDH) by me. Note; Prior to being transported to JDH, FAIR was fingerprinted and photographed in the Forensic Evidence Division.

It should be noted, that while at the Juvenile Detention Center, after being unhandcuffed in the main lobby of the Juvenile Detention Center In Take area, FAIR attempted to flee from the building by running toward a closed security door which upon his initial entry, opened automatically. However, his attempt to flee from the building was unsuccessful because the glass security door was not activated and did not automatically open as he approached it. FAIR was subsequently placed in a temporary holding facility because of his unpredictable behavior prior to being fully processed into the Juvenile Detention Center.

Statements made by MARTIN DALE HENSLEY

After my interview with FAIR, I contacted MARTIN DALE HENSLEY, herein after referred to as MARTIN. During my conversation with MARTIN, I explained to him the accusations made by FAIR, regarding him (MARTIN) being a marijuana dealer and providing marijuana to FAIR and his (FAIR's) friends. I asked MARTIN to be candid with me regarding any transactions

8 R/C at (loc) to assist Det. R. Hollins with a robbery investigation. Det. Hollins told Ofc. Scott and I that he had probable cause to arrest (SB) Fair and wanted us to transport him to the detective division if we were able to locate him. We contacted school staff, who led us past the library and pointed out (SB) as his class was meeting there this morning. (SB) and a friend walked out of the library into the hallway where we were standing, and Det. Hollins called him by name. (SB) stopped and turned around, and Det. Hollins told (SB) he needed to talk to him and instructed Ofc. Scott and I to take (SB) into custody, which we did. I conducted an inventory of (SB)'s person with no items of major value found. As I placed (SB) in my patrol car, he asked if he could call his mother. I told Det. Hollins of this request, and Det. Hollins told me he would contact (SB)'s mother after he returned to the Detective Division. I transported (SB) to the Detective Division on the 13th floor of the Justice Center and placed him in holding cell #6. Det. Hollins arrived and took custody of (SB) and I cleared the call. I did not ask (SB) any questions during the transport and he did not make any statements.

Incident Summary

On 09/16/2010 at approximately 4:00 pm, I transported Kyeron F. to an attorney visit with Gary Bertoni. Once we got to the attorney visiting room, Kyeron yelled to Gary "You're not my attorney, my attorney's taller! You misspelled my attorney's name!" At that point I asked Gary if he wanted to continue his visit with Kyeron as Kyeron continued yelling the above statement repeatedly.

Gary said that he'd be okay and asked Kyeron to have a seat. Kyeron was able to have a seat and continue his discussion with Gary.

About 15 minutes later I was called to transport Kyeron back to his unit from the visiting room. When I opened the attorney visiting door, Kyeron snatched the majority of Gary's papers and kept them. I informed Kyeron that those papers belonged to Gary and he needed to give them back to Gary. Kyeron refused and Gary said that it's okay and that Kyeron can go back to the unit. Kyeron then approached the janitorial staff and yelled at him "Are you pushing buttons? You're pushing buttons!". Deb was able to redirect Kyeron and started walking him to the unit.

After finishing the discussion with Gary, I helped Deb transport Kyeron back to B-1. During the entire transport from visits to B-1 Kyeron continued yelling "That's not my attorney, I fired my attorney!" I called B-1 staff on the radio and instructed them to send all of their youth to their rooms. Once we arrived to B-1, Kyeron sat on the floor and continued yelling "I fired my attorney!" I opened B-1's door and asked for assistance from B-1 staff Michael Cruse and Kay Armstrong. Michael and I grabbed underneath Kyeron's arms and applied the two-person escort hold and instructed Kyeron to walk to his room. Kyeron complied with our directives.

At 4:25 p.m. I went back down to finish my discussion with Gary regarding Kyeron's inability to track or follow staff's requests when it comes to Kyeron continually wanting to reset and talk about his case and his mental health needs while in detention. Gary was able to coordinate a mental health assessment through Erik Johnson for tomorrow morning, 9/17. Gary then requested that he needed his papers from Kyeron.

I returned to B-1 to retrieve Gary's papers from Kyeron. Kyeron refused to give me the attorney papers. I asked B-1 staff Michael Cruse and Kay Armstrong to help me with obtaining papers from Kyeron. Michael and I entered Kyeron's room and I instructed Kyeron again to give us the papers and Kyeron continued yelling about firing his attorney. Michael grabbed Kyeron's right arm and I grabbed Kyeron's left arm and the papers and handed them to Kay. I instructed Michael to release and leave Kyeron's room. We both left the room and locked the door.

At 5:00, I requested Lanita Duke to be the one-on-one staff and observe Kyeron's behaviors so the rest of B-1 staff and youth could continue with their normally scheduled day.

At 5:30, I called Kyeron's mother, Kelly Jarell to inform her of Kyeron's situation with his attorney and that Kyeron required to physical escort to his room and a physical hold to retrieve Gary's papers. I also informed her that we would possibly need to cancel their family visit tonight due to Kyeron still yelling and not being able to track staff's requests/directions. I told her I'd give her a call at 6:30 for an update. I let her know that we have a staff constantly watching Kyeron through the night to observe his behaviors until the mental health

Re: Fair, Kyeron

Over the past 2 days Fair's behavior has deteriorated to a level where he cannot safely be managed at the Juvenile Detention Center. Corrections Health nursing also believes that his mental health issues may be better addressed with 24 hour nursing.

On Sept. 16, 2010, Fair had a series of behavior incidents that included, approximately 25 minutes of screaming at his attorney during a visit. Youth was unable to comply with directives. At the termination of the visit the youth grabbed all of the attorney's papers and refused to return them. Following this incident he yelled loudly in the hallway and then refused to walk, sitting in the hall. He had to be physically escorted into his room. Youth also had to have the attorney's paperwork physically removed from his possession by staff. Youth made no threats of self harm, but 1:1 staff was provided to ensure management of his behavior through the night.

On Sept 17, 2010, Fair was to participate in an evaluation with Dr. Eric Johnson, youth refused to participate in the evaluation. Dr. Johnson observed the youth in his room for a short time. The youth refused to speak with Dr. Johnson. Youth spent the remainder of the day pacing in his room. He was generally quiet with a couple of loud outburst.

At approx. 1620 on September 17, 2010 the youth was observed with a pillow case tied very loosely around his neck like a tie. Youth was using he pillow case to wipe sweat from his face. Youth was directed to remove the pillow case and he complied. However, when his door was opened to speak with him, the youth charged at the staff and began pushing the staff and the door in an attempt to leave the room. The youth had to be physically restrained and moved back into his room by staff. When staff attempted to leave the room and lock the door, the youth charged the door a second time. Staff again had to physically restrain the youth. Youth was yelling loudly and non compliant through out this time. After the second time of being placed back in this room the youth complied and was locked in his room.

Today, Friday, September 17, 2010 at approximately 1620 hours, Manager Craig Bachman noticed Kyeron had a pillow case tied loosely around his neck. Manager Bachman opened the medical isolation room door in order to talk to youth Kyeron and ask him to remove the pillow case. Kyeron began yelling "29" and "I swear to Buddha" as he attempted to force his way out of room by pushing Manager Bachman away from the door. Manager Bachman instructed Kyeron to stop and he continued to push on the door and Manager Bachman more aggressively in his attempts to leave the room while continuing to yell. JCSS Blanco, assisted Mr. Bachman and Pam Davis in pushing this youth back into his room. Manager Bachman grasped Kyeron on the upper arms and JCSS Blanco grasped Kyeron's legs. We walked with him as he was resisting and placed him in his room. As staff released Kyeron to leave the room, he stood back up and attempted to rush out of the room again. At this time back up had been called and the youth continued to push staff in an attempt to leave the room. TO: Mike Shults, Chief Deputy Corrections Division

FROM: Captain Ron Bishop, MCDC Facility Commander RB

DATE: September 23, 2010

SUBJECT: Acceptance of Juvenile from JDH

On September 17, 2010 around 1900 hours I called MCDC to speak with the Officer in Charge, Sergeant Mike Phelps. During our conversation Sergeant Phelps said that he had received a request from JDH to take a suicidal inmate as they did not have the FTE to provide observation. I told Sergeant Phelps that this did not fit criteria to accept an inmate from JDH. Over the next approximately 15 minutes Phelps and I exchanged one calls. Phelps, during one of the calls said that the manager of JDH wanted to talk with me. I called Craig Bachman at JDH. Mr. Bachman said that they had a juvenile that was out of control and too violent to be housed at JDH. I told Mr. Bachman that I was told that it was a staffing issue regarding a suicide watch. Bachman said that this was not accurate and described several incidents in which the inmate, later identified as Fair, Kyeron, in which force had to be used at JDH to contain him.

I determined that Inmate fair met the criteria to be lodged at MCDC. I told Mr. Bachman that I would arrange a transport from JDH to MCDC but my staff would not enter JDH to restrain Fair. At this time I spoke with you over the phone and relayed the information and my direction. I called Sergeant Phelps and conveyed my instructions.

I have several reports regarding Inmate Fair once he arrived at MCDC. I will forward these reports through the proper chain of command. RB

CHRONO

09/18/2010 0619hrs (#38150 DENISE DIAMOND) - Inmate Fair has never been in our custody before. He was booked in at JDH on 9/13/2010 and was transported here tonight. His custody states "Kyeron has had some incidents while in JDH of mental health issues and has become violent toward staff. In addition, Kyeron attempted to escape during his intake process when he was brought into detention on 9/13/2010". Intel and Classification Sergeant notified of this information to see if more details can be gathered. ES code added. His negative behavior at JDH includes "approximately 25 minutes of screaming at his attorney during a visit, grabbing the attorney's papers and refusing to return them, being physically escorted to his room where the attorney's paperwork was physically removed from his possession by staff, loud outbursts and pacing in his room, and being observed with a pillow case tied very loosely around his neck. When staff tried to talk to him after the incident, he charged at the staff and began pushing the staff and the door in an attempt to leave the room. He repeated this behavior a second time. He was yelling and non-compliant through out this time". Information to be scanned into Kovis.

Tonight, he was picked up by our Deputies where he was non-compliant and fighting. He assaulted Deputy Barker by kicking him in the groin. Disciplinary report to follow. He was brought in hobbled and placed in isolation. Medical decided to send him to the hospital and he refused to be handcuffed. He turned towards staff as if to assault one of them and was tased. He was written up for FTDAO and Attempted Staff Assault for this incident. He is on Level IV. After returning from the hospital, he was placed on the restraint chair and suicide watch.

Inmate Fair was polite during the interview but denies being in Juvenile custody. He says that he has no detox issues or mental health problems. He states that he has no enemies. He is a 17 year old Juvenile with no previous arrests in LEDS/NCIC. When he is off suicide watch, he should be sent to 4E/4F and placed on Ad Seg Status when off suicide watch.

Summary: On Friday September 17 at approximately 2050 Hr I was order to go JDH to retrieve an out of control and disruptive juvenile inmate.

| Deputy DeArmond | DPSST #49601 |
| Deputy Deluca | DPSST #18567 |

Narrative: On September 17th, at approximately 2000 hours I was directed to go to JDH to pick up a inmate that was being transferred to MCDC. 2115 hours, I arrived at JDH and waited for the staff of JDH to bring Inmate Fair to the sally port I was waiting as they approached the door and could see at least six to eight staff members carrying a thrashing, disruptive youth. They exited the doors and stopped in front of me, then placed the inmate on the ground. The inmate was handcuffed behind his back and had leg irons on. At this time, I had my first verbal contact with Inmate Fair. I told Inmate Fair that he was now in the custody of Multnomah County Sheriff's Office adult jail system. The behavior he has been up to will not be tolerated, and that he needed to stand up and walk to the van on his own. I further explained if he resisted he could be Tased. I then ordered Inmate Fair to stand up and walk over to the van that was parked about 40 feet away. Inmate Fair then stood up with my assistance. As we began to walk over to the van, I took hold of the right arm of Inmate Fair just as a JDH staff member took a hold of the left side. As we approached the van Inmate Fair tried to flop to the ground by kicking out his feet in front of himself. I told him twice to stop what he was doing or he was going to be tased. Once the van door was open and I attempted to place the Inmate Fair in the van. Inmate Fair began pushing off the van with his feet, pushing me back. I attempted to push his body in by taking hold of both arms from behind and placing his body in first. As I did this, Inmate Fair turned and fell back in the van and started kicking me. One of the kicks hit my groin area. At this time I told Deputy Deluca to tase him. I then turned to see where Deputy Deluca was and to see why he didn't tase Inmate Fair, I didn't see Deputy Deluca anywhere. I used my left hand to push his feet down so not to be kicked again. I then pulled my Taser out and pointed it at Inmate Fair. He went limp. I ordered him to get in the van and he said "ok I'm done". At this time he was twisted and needed to turn over and move to get in. He needed help to pull his feet out from where I pushed them. To do this I had to re-holster my taser and help him move his feet. He then sprang up and out of the van. Inmate Fair pushed past me and tried to run, I was able to trip him before he got a few feet away from the van. He fell to his side, and rolled onto his back and tried to kick up, but I was standing on the chain of the leg irons. I pulled the Taser and did a spark test to show him that I was going to use it on him. He then started yelling and flopping on the ground as if he was being tased. JDH staff told him that I wasn't even touching him. He stopped yelling and looked up as I had the taser pointed at him. I then ordered him to get up and get into the van. At this time he stopped moving and he looked up at me. He didn't move, so I repeated the order to get up. He was unable to stand on his own and no one stepped up to help him, I re-holstered the Taser, took hold of his right arm and stood him up. A JDH staff member aided me by getting into the van to help me lift the Inmate Fair in. As we started lifting him into the van, Inmate Fair started to resist again. The staff member was pulling him in and I was lifting him in. Inmate Fair started bracing himself on the cage and the seat. I used focus blows to the right leg just above the knee with a closed right fist. I struck him at least four times to stop the resistance, so I could fold the legs back. Once I had Inmate fair in, I told the staff member to get out and as he cleared the door I was then able to slide it closed. As soon as we left JDH, I contacted Sergeant Phelps who was the OIC at MCDC. I informed him about the use of force that was used, and I would need other deputy's to assist when we arrived.

After arriving at MCDC we were able to move Inmate Fair to the booking counter where he stood there for a few minutes before trying to fall to the floor. Deputy Roldan and I held him up and against the counter. Then he became restive and we ordered him to stand. He would not comply with the orders. This is when Deputy Roldan and I carried him to ISO #3 where we laid him face down on the floor and removed the handcuffs and the leg irons. We were able to move out without further incident.

Supervisor Review:

I have reviewed all of the reports included in this use of force package. The reports appear to be complete. Accuracy issues will be addressed in an addendum to Deputy DeLuca's report. Inmate Fair became statically resistive when he dropped to the ground on his way to the van. He continued to escalate his resistance at the entrance of the van, becoming actively resistant displaying intent meant and opportunity by pushing backwards into Deputy Barker. Inmate Fair then quickly became an ominous threat by assaulting Deputy Barker while kicking him. Due to lack of engagement from both JDH staff and Deputy DeLuca, Deputy Barker was forced to deal with Inmate Fair's assaultive and resistive behavior for a prolonged period of time. It appears that Deputy Barker reacted appropriately by reducing the amount of force used on Inmate Fair when he was being compliant, and disengaging from him when he was finally secured in the van.

III. Narrative: At approximately 1900 hours on Friday 17 September 2010 discussions began about bringing a suicidal juvenile from the Donald E. Long Home to MCDC. Nurse Sokunthy Eath had contacted Lead Nurse Victoria Marshall and had apprised her about the possibility of transporting a youth from JDH to MCDC and placing him on suicide watch. The youth, Fair, Kyeron Jarrel had been exhibiting unusual behavior over the last three days. Nurse Eath reported Fair had been refusing to eat or drink, his interactions with staff were becoming violent and in discussions with Fairs' mother she had never witnessed behavior like this from her son. Nurse Marshall spoke with Fairs mother and contacted Sergeant Phelps who was the E-Shift acting OIC. Sergeant Phelps spoke with the staff at Donald E. Long Home and heard much the same story about Fairs' behavior. The staff at Donald E. Long stated it had been necessary to assign a staff member to watch Fair, Several times Fair had tried to run out of the holding room where he was being watch and that he had refused to eat or drink for the past three days. It was also stated Fair was a Measure 11 juvenile offender having recently been arrested on Robbery 1 with a Firearm charges. Sergeant Phelps told the staff at Donald E. Long it was not in our policy to transport juveniles to be place on suicide watch in an adult facility. The staff at Donald E. Long asked to speak with the facility commander and Sergeant Phelps contacted Captain Bishop at home. Captain Bishops' initial response was we would not be transporting a juvenile from Donald E. Long to MCDC. Sergeant Phelps contacted the staff at Donald E. Long with this information but the Shift Commander Bachman from DELH asked to speak with Captain Bishop directly. Sergeant Phelps contacted Captain Bishop at home and gave him Shift Commander Bachman's phone number. Several minutes later Captain Bishop called Sergeant Phelps and instructed him to dispatch the Transfer Deputies to Donald E. Long Home and transport the possibly suicidal juvenile to MCDC.

At approximately 2010 hours Deputy Barker and I left in Van 324 from MCDC to DELH. We arrived at Donald E. Long Home at approximately 2030, parked the van and waited for the juvenile detention staff to bring Fair from their booking area out to the van. Six Donald E. Long Home staff members exited the building carrying a thrashing, disruptive youth from the booking area to the sallyport. The youth was handcuffed behind his back and his legs were restrained with leg irons. The Donald E. Long staff stopped just outside of the booking area door and set Fair on his feet but maintained physical control of Fair. Deputy Barker attempted to explain to Fair that he was being transferred to adult custody and he was now our prisoner. At this time DELH staff and Deputy Barker attempted to place Fair in the passenger compartment of Van 324. Fair began thrashing and braced his feet against the seat and the cage in the back of the van and refused to be placed in the van. Fair pushed his way out of the van onto the ground. Deputy Barker drew his Taser and removed the cartridge. Deputy Barker told Fair if he did not cooperate and get in the van without resistance he would use the Taser. Fair got to his feet but when we tried to get him in the van he became disruptive and resisted getting in the van. Deputy Barker wrapped his arms around Fair's chest and attempted to pick him up and put Fair in the van, Fair continued to resist and ended up on the ground again. Deputy Baker pointed his Taser at Fair and placed the laser dot on his chest. Barker told Fair if he did not cooperate he would be tased. Deputy Barker turned the Taser away from Fair and did a spark check to show Fair what the Taser was. Fair began writhing, twitching and yelling like he was being tased. I told Fair to stop his act and cooperate. Fair attempted to kick Deputy Barker in the groin with his feet. At this time the Donald E. Long staff assisted us in getting Fair to his feet and once again we attempted to get him into the van. We were able to get Fair onto the floor of the van. His body was between the seat and the cage and his face was under the seat towards the rear of the van. We managed to get his feet inside and secure the sliding door. Fair was quiet in the back of the van and did not continue his disruptive behavior. It took me several minutes to back the van out of the confines of the Donald E. Long Home sallyport. There was a Portland Police car blocking my ability to turn the van around and with Deputy Barkers' assistance I was able to back out of the sallyport and not hit any poles or call boxes.

Due to traffic congestion on Interstate 84 we returned to MCDC via Glisan Street to Sandy Boulevard. Deputy Barker contacted Intake Sergeant Miller by phone and asked him to have additional staff meet us in the Transfer sally port. When we arrived at MCDC there were staff members in the sally port. We were able to extract Fair from the van without resistance. When Fair was at the booking counter I asked him how to pronounce his first name. Fair seemed confused by this question and did not respond. He looked around but not focused on anything in particular. I asked him several times about his name but with no response. Fair was moved from the booking counter to Isolation Cell number 3 under his own power but once in the cell he was unable to follow instruction. We were able to remove the leg restraints without resistance but when it came to removing the handcuffs Fair was not cooperating. We repeatedly asked, advised and ordered him to put his hands through the service port so we could remove the cuffs while he was secured in the cell. The cell door was still opened and at this point a decision was made to use adjustable nylon restraints. Deputy Parks placed an adjustable nylon restraint around Fairs wrist and fed it through the open service port. The adjustable nylon restraint was used to keep control of Fair and allow us to remove the handcuffs. The handcuffs and the nylon restraint were removed, Fair stood in the cell looking around unfocused and not communicating. Nurse Marshall attempted to talk to Fair and received no response. Fair hid his face in is sweatshirt and refused to interact with anyone. The decision was made to transport Fair to OHSU for an evaluation.

ADDENDUM: In reviewing Deputy Deluca's report, I found an overabundant amount of extraneous and inaccurate information. This information passed was the prelude to an actual incident that involved Deputy Barker and a JDH staff member using force on Inmate Fair, and Deputy Deluca not engaging to assist while being present. The following is a more accurate description of the evolution of information:

At approximately 1615 hours, I received a phone call from Lead Nurse Tori. At that time she informed me that JDH was going to send a suicidal inmate that was having mental health issues. I explained to her that we do not take juveniles from JDH under those parameters, but that I would double check policy and have a discussion with the other sergeants on shift to make sure. After confirming my initial thoughts, I contacted Nurse Tori and reiterated that we would not be taking JDH's juvenile for those reasons. I also asked her to convey that message to her counterpart staff at JDH.

At approximately 1900 hours I received a phone call from Deputy Harris, who was assigned to the Holding desk. He informed me that JDH was going to be bringing in a juvenile that would need to be on suicide watch. I told him that I already had this conversation with medical staff and we would not be taking their juvenile. Deputy Harris advised me that I should contact JDH because his impression was that they were about to transport Inmate Fair to MCDC. I immediately called JDH and was forwarded to their Manager, Craig Bachman. I had a lengthy conversation with Mr. Bachman and he explained to me the behavior that Fair had been exhibiting the past few days including; refusing directives from staff, grabbing papers from his attorney, tying material around his head, and trying to power past staff to get out of his room. He added that Fair was also booked on Measure 11 armed robbery charges, and had been on a one on one watch, but was not suicidal. He followed that information up by stating "I wouldn't send you someone that is suicidal." I explained to Mr. Bachman that our policy states that Fair would have to be accepted by our management team prior to us accepting him for booking due to behavioral problems. I then asked that he prepare documentation outlining Fair's behavior leading up to his request to be transferred to an adult facility. I then spoke with MCDC Facility Commander Captain Bishop and advised him of all of the elements of the discussion I had with Mr. Bachman. At that time, Captain Bishop stated that we would not be accepting Fair, but he would run the information by Chief Deputy Shults for a final decision. Captain Bishop asked that I wait for his return phone call before relaying any information to Mr. Bachman. Approximately 10 minutes later Captain Bishop called me to inform me that Chief Shults was in agreement and that we would not be taking Fair from JDH. I then called Mr. Bachman back and gave him the information. Mr. Bachman asked me if he could speak with Captain Bishop. I explained to him that the Captain was at home, but I would contact him and pass on that request. After obtaining Mr. Bachman's phone number, I called Captain Bishop at home and informed him that Mr. Bachman requested to talk to him directly. About 10 minutes later, Captain Bishop called me back to inform me that not only would we be taking Fair into custody, but that I would need to send over two staff members to pick him up because JDH was running short on staff that evening. I then directed Sergeant Miller to send Deputies Barker and Deluca, both assigned to Transfer, to pick up and transport Inmate Fair to MCDC.

The events that were then depicted in this use of force package are Deputy Barker's and Deputy Deluca's recollection of what unfolded once they arrived to pick up Inmate Fair from JDH. It is my understanding that a discussion was later had between Captain Bishop, Lieutenant Seiler, Sergeant Miller and Deputy Deluca in regards to Deputy Deluca's lack of involvement in the use of force that Deputy Barker had in order to get Inmate Fair secured in the Transport Van.

Comments: This Use of Force began at JDH and concluded at MCDC. After a small period of time when there was no contact with Inmate Fair, another use of force occurred. That force is documented separately. Initially, this documentation consisted of only Dep. Deluca and Dep. Barker reports. A review of the video showed that force was used at booking that was not documented by witnesses. Once all (I still have not received Dep. Phillips' report) those reports received and reviewed, I concluded: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Force was used by JDH staff before we took possession of Inmate Fair. 2. Failure of Dep. Deluca to engage in providing assistance to Dep. Barker led to ineffective force, injury to Dep. Barker and the need for intervention by JDH staff. 3. Dep. Deluca's report has vague and inconclusive statements about his actions during the initial force situation and inaccuracies during the final (booking) part of the force used. LT BK SEILER

- III. Narrative: On Friday, 09/17/2010 at about 1830 hours, while working as the Intake Sergeant, I received a phone call from a counselor at JDH advising they had a measure 11 juvenile who was out of control and needed to be transported to MCDC. I told the counselor that they need to transport the juvenile. About 45 minutes I went to the OIC's office and spoke with the OIC Sgt. Phelps who had spoken with the supervisor at JDH. Sgt Phelps told me that he was attempting to contact the Facility Commander Capt. Bishop. Capt. Bishop called and Sgt. Phelps spoke with him. Later I was advised that we would send deputies to JDH and take the juvenile into custody, then transport him to MCDC. At about 2200 hours Deputies Barker and DeLuca returned to MCDC with Inmate FAIR. I was advised by Dep. Barker that he fought with FAIR to get him into the transport van and had been kicked in the groin. FAIR was removed from the van and taken to the booking counter. FAIR failed to cooperate by not following orders and would not answer any questions posed by deputies. I had FAIR moved to ISO cell 3 by Deputies Barker and Roldan the leg irons were removed and handcuffs removed. I advised our medical staff that FAIR had arrived. RN Tori came and attempted to speak with FAIR. FAIR would say nothing only pull his sweatshirt up to cover his eyes. I then tried to talk with FAIR but he would not respond. RN Tori spoke with the on call doctor and advised me that FAIR needed to sent out to the hospital for a medical evaluation.

Summary: Inmate Fair was carried to an ISO cell after becoming "dead weight" on the counter.

Mentioned: Inmate Fair, Kyeron #749852
 Deputy Barker
 Deputy Roldan
 Deputy Phillips

Narrative: On 091710 at about 2200hrs I was working as a utility when Inmate Fair was brought in from JDH. Inmate Fair was disruptive at JDH and the decision was made to have him housed at MCDC. While being picked up at JDH, force was used to get Inmate Fair into the transport vehicle. When Inmate Fair arrived at MCDC it was obvious that he was suffering from some type of mental illness. Inmate Fair was slow to respond to orders and seemed to have a hard time understanding what was being told to him. Inmate Fair would be calm one moment, and then have outbursts where he would say things that did not make any sense. After being escorted from the transport area, Inmate Fair was led to the booking counter to be searched. Deputies Barker and Roldan conducted a pat search of Inmate Fair while I stood behind them holding a Taser at my side in case it was needed. After the pat search was finished Inmate Fair started to move around on the counter; moving from side to side and trying to walk back toward myself and the deputies searching him. Deputy Roldan tried to keep him still on the counter by placing his hand on Fair's left arm, but this seemed to only make Inmate Fair more upset. Inmate Fair then started to drop to the floor to get away from Deputy Roldan.

At that time Deputy Barker moved in to assist Deputy Roldan. Once Deputy Barker moved to Inmate Fair's right side Inmate Fair became "dead weight", almost dropping entirely to the floor. The only thing holding him up was Deputy Roldan holding his left arm, and Deputy Barker holding his right. Both deputies attempted to move Inmate Fair to an ISO cell, but Inmate Fair continued to balk at their efforts. Deputy Phillips then came around the booking counter to assist. While Deputies Barker and Roldan continued to control Inmate Fair's arms, Deputy Phillips reached down and picked up Inmate Fair's legs. The three of them then carried Inmate Fair to ISO cell number three. Once we reached the cell, Inmate Fair's leg irons were removed and a hobble was attached to the chain of Inmate Fair's handcuffs. Inmate was then backed up to the foodport and his handcuffs were removed. After the door was secured, Nurse Tori from medical was called to check on Inmate Fair.

Action Pending: Forward to Sgt for review.

III. NARRATIVE: On Friday September 17, 2010 I was assigned as Utility Deputy Number Two. At approximately 2000 hours the Utilities Deputies were inform that transfer had gone to JDH to transport a violent, uncontrollable Inmate that was causing disruption at that facility. Inmate Fair was booked and held at JDH on a Measure-11 for Robbery with a firearm. Before the transport Deputies arrived at MCDC, the reception Deputies were inform that Inmate Fair had assaulted Deputy Barker prior to the transport. When the transport Deputies arrived at MCDC, Deputy Parks, Sgt Miller and I walked to the transfer vehicle sally port. The transport Deputies opened the encage compartment of the van. There I saw Inmate Fair lying with his chest against the vehicle floor in between the two rows of seats. His hands were handcuffed behind his back, and his legs were secured with leg irons. The transport Deputies helped Inmate Fair out the vehicle and on to his feet. At that point Sgt Miller informed Inmate Fair that he needed fallow every order given to him. Deputy Barker escorted Inmate Fair to the search counter holding him by his left arm (escort hold) to prevent a fall.

Inmate Fair was directed to the search counter closest to the property window. I stood to the left of Inmate Fair, Deputy Barker to his right, and Deputy Parks stood approximately 6 feet behind him. Deputy DeLuca from the opposite side of the search counter asked Inmate Fair to say his name, but Inmate Fair did not answer. Inmate Fair suddenly removed his hands from the counter and turned his body in the direction of Deputy Barker. At this point it appeared to me that Inmate Fair was going to assault Deputy Barker again. I ordered Inmate Fair turn towards the counter, but he did not obey. With my two hands I grasped inmate Fair elbow and turned him toward the search counter. Then Inmate Fair resisted by trying to move his body again, for I put my body against his back to hold him against the search counter. I felted Inmate Fair tensing his muscle and exerting pressure against me. Then again he tried to turn his body in the direction of Deputy Barker. I placed my left hand on his head and exerted the necessary forward pressure to try to lower his head to the search counter, where I could control his upper body more easily. I was not able to lower the head to the desired location because Inmate Fair is a very strong person and resisted by becoming static. Then Inmate Fair proceeded to bulk his body to the floor, he lifted his knees up and bended his feet back. Deputy Barker and I held Inmate Fair upright and ordered him numerous times to stand up on his own feet. Inmate Fair did not comply. Deputy Barker and I made the decision to escort Inmate Fair to an isolation cell, where he would be closely monitored until he was willing to comply with our orders. Before moving Inmate Fair to the isolation cell, I again ordered Inmate Fair to stand on his feet and walk, but Inmate Fair ignored my orders. I pass my right hand up to my elbow under his left axilla, both of Inmate Fair's hands continued to be handcuffed behind back, firmly holding Inmate Fair. Deputy Barker held Inmate Fair's right arm, and Deputy Phillips held Inmate Fair's feet. We carried Inmate Fair to isolation cell 3. Deputy Barker and I entered the cell then placed Inmate Fair on the floor with chest against it and his feet on the door threshold to facilitate the removal of restraints. Leg irons were removed from Inmate Fair's feet. I with my hands grasped Inmate Fair's feet and moved them inside the cell. Inmate Fair stayed on the floor repeatedly yelling his last name. A tether was placed in the handcuffs restraining Inmate Fair, for later removal through the food port. I exited the cell and Deputy Barker passed me the tether through the food port and exited the cell. The cell door was secured. I held on to the cord while Deputy Barker ordered Inmate Fair more than three times to walk to the food port and put his hands through it. Inmate Fair did not comply, so I pulled the tether to guide Inmate Fair to the food port. Inmate Fair put his hands through the food port. Deputies Barker and Phillips held Inmate Fair's hands while I removed the handcuffs. Then I closed the food port. Medical was notified and Inmate Fair was placed on constant suicide watch.

III Narrative: On September 17th, 2010 at 2220 hours Inmate Fair was in Isolation Cell #3. Inmate Fair was going to go on a medical transport. Inmate Fair was booked in at about 2100 hours and had not been compliant. Deputy Quist opened the food port of Isolation Cell #3 and asked Inmate Fair to back up to the food port and to put his hands through the food port. Inmate Fair did not do as ordered. Deputy Quist then advised Inmate Fair to back up to the food port and to put his hands through the food port. Inmate Fair once again did not comply. Deputy Quist ordered Inmate Fair to put his hands through the food port. Deputy Quist also advised Inmate Fair that he will be tased if we have to go into the cell to handcuff him. I was standing slightly behind and between Deputy Glasser and Deputy Quist. Sgt. Miller was to my right. Sgt. Miller told us to get two tasers ready before they open the door. Deputy Quist then unlocked the door to Isolation Cell #3 and Inmate Fair turned his body and took a step towards Deputy Quist. I deployed the taser. Inmate Fair then fell to the floor in Isolation Cell #3. I ran up to where he fell and put my knees across his legs. I could see to my left that Deputy Glasser had also deployed his taser and was standing over Inmate Fair. Deputy Barker and Deputy Quist were trying to get Inmate Fair's arms from under is body. Inmate Fair continued to resist the orders given to him. Deputy Barker and Deputy Quist could not get control of Inmate Fair's arms. I heard someone yell to cycle the taser again. I then cycled the taser once more. Inmate Fair was still resisting. Deputy Barker and Deputy Quist were able to gain control of Inmate Fair's arms and handcuff him. Deputy Barker and Deputy Quist tried to pick Inmate Fair and he still was trying to resist. I continued to keep my weight on his legs. Someone came over to Inmate Fair's feet and but leg irons on him. Once the leg irons were secured, Inmate Fair was picked up and taken to a stretcher. The paramedics secured Inmate Fair to the stretcher with flex cuffs. The four taser probes were pulled out of Inmate Fair's skin and taken for evidence. Two of the taser probes were removed from Inmate Fair's stomach area and two were removed from his legs. Inmate Fair was then transported to the hospital.

III Action Pending: Forward to Hearing's Office for Disciplinary Hearing procedure.

IV Supervisor's Review: I attempted to interview Inmate Fair twice regarding this incident.

Each time Inmate Fair interrupted me and began repeating non-sensical phrases. At one point in time he said "you know I did it. I did it. I did it". However I believe he is currently in the middle of a psychotic break down — 2nd 2023

I. Summary: On September 17th, 2010 at about 2220 hours I deployed the taser when Inmate Fair, Kyeron #749852 refused to do as order and attempted assault on staff when he turned and stepped towards Deputy Quist.

Inmate Fair, Kyeron	SWIS #749852

III. Narrative: On September 17th, 2010 at 2130 hours Transfer deputies returned from JDH with Inmate Fair. Inmate Fair was recently booked into JDH on a Robbery I charge on September 13th, 2010. Transfer deputies went to pick up Inmate Fair from JDH tonight because he was out of control. When Inmate Fair was turned over to Transfer deputies from the JDH staff, he started to resist deputies' orders. Deputy Baker was assaulted when Inmate Fair kicked him in the groin when he was trying to secure Inmate Fair in the van.

When Inmate Fair arrived at MCDC booking I was in the process of moving other Inmates out of the area to keep it clear due to his behavior. While Inmate Fair was standing at the booking counter he was being passive aggressive by not answering simple standard booking questions. Deputy DeLuca was asking Inmate Fair how to pronounce his first name and Inmate Fair just stared at him. Due to Inmate Fair's lack of corporation at the booking counter, Inmate Fair was carried to Isolation Cell #3. A hobble was attached to Inmate Fair's handcuffs. The hobble was fed through the food port and the cell door was secure. Inmate Fair was ordered to stand up and to place his hands through the food port so the handcuffs could be removed. Inmate Fair would not stand up. Inmate Fair was ordered several times to stand up. Inmate Fair continued not to comply. Inmate Fair finally stood up placed his hands through the food port. He was still resisting when Deputy Roldan was trying to remove his handcuffs. The handcuffs were removed after sometime. Medical tried to talk to Inmate Fair through the cell door. Inmate Fair did not respond to any of the nurse's questions and kept his face covered with his shirt.

At about 2200 hours medical decided that Inmate Fair needed to be evaluated at the hospital. At about 2220 hours AMR and Portland Fire arrived to transport Inmate Fair to the hospital. Deputy Quist opened the food port of Isolation Cell #3 and asked Inmate Fair to back up to the food port and to put his hands through the food port. Inmate Fair did not do as ordered. Deputy Quist then advised Inmate Fair to back up to the food port and to put his hands through the food port. Inmate Fair once again did not comply. Deputy Quist ordered Inmate Fair to put his hands through the food port. Deputy Quist also advised Inmate Fair that he will be tased if we have to go into the cell to handcuff him. I was standing slightly behind and between Deputy Glasser and Deputy Quist. Sgt. Miller was to my right. Sgt. Miller told us to get two tasers ready before they open the door.

Deputy Quist then unlocked the door to Isolation Cell #3 and Inmate Fair turned his body and took a step towards Deputy Quist. I deployed the taser. Inmate Fair then fell to the floor in Isolation Cell #3. I ran to where Inmate Fair fell and put my knees across his legs. I could see to my left that Deputy Glasser had also deployed his taser and was standing over Inmate Fair. Deputy Barker and Deputy Quist were trying to get Inmate Fair's arms from under is body. Inmate Fair continued to resist the orders given to him. Deputy Barker and Deputy Quist could not get control of Inmate Fair's arms. I heard someone yell to cycle the taser again. I then cycled the taser once more. Inmate Fair was still resisting. Deputy Barker and Deputy Quist were able to gain control of Inmate Fair's arms and handcuff him. Deputy Barker and Deputy Quist tried to pick up Inmate Fair but he was still trying to resist. I continued to keep my weight on his legs. Someone came over to Inmate Fair's feet and put leg irons on them. Once the leg irons were secured, Inmate Fair was picked up and taken to a stretcher. The paramedics secured Inmate Fair to the stretcher with flex cuffs. The four taser probes were pulled out of Inmate Fair's skin and taken for evidence. Two of the taser probes were removed from Inmate Fair's stomach area and two were removed from his legs. Inmate Fair was then transported to the hospital.

III. NARRATIVE: On 09/17/10 at about 2200 hrs. I was standing in Transfer when Sgt. Miller told me inmate Fair who was in ISO #3 had assaulted Dep. Barker and earlier a JDH Officer. He told me paramedics were there to transport inmate Fair to OHSU for a crisis intervention hold. Sgt. Miller said inmate Fair would not go without a fight.

I asked Sgt. Miller if he would like me to help with inmate Fair. He said yes because he knew that inmate Fair was extremely violent and unpredictable. I walked over to ISO # 3 and saw inmate Fair standing in the middle of the cell facing the door wearing a grey sweat top and bottoms that were torn and dirty. He was staring at the ground swaying side to side. I asked inmate Fair to turn around and place his hands through the food port to get handcuffed.

Inmate Fair did not comply by pulling his sweat top over his face. I advised him that force would be used if he did not cuff up and possibly be tased. Inmate Fair then turned around to the food port as if to be handcuffed then quickly walked over to the corner of the cell. I gave inmate Fair a direct order to walk over to the food port to get handcuffed. He refused by tucking himself into the corner of the cell.

I key opened the cell door when inmate Fair attempted to rush out almost running into Deputies entering his cell. Inmate Fair was tased immediately; he fell to the floor in the cell screaming. Inmate Fair was told to turn over onto his belly to be handcuffed.

Inmate Fair did comply, but he tucked his hands under his chest refusing to be handcuffed. I entered the cell to pull his left arm out to be cuffed. He was actively resisting by wrestling to keep his hands under his chest and using his body weight to prevent me from getting to his left hand out. I attempted to apply a pressure point behind his left ear when inmate Fair was tased a second time. Inmate Fair was handcuffed at that time, but was still resisting.

Inmate Fair was kicking his feet resisting to be controlled by his legs. I immediately applied leg irons for control. Inmate Fair was on his belly face down on the cell floor, handcuffed and leg ironed. I assisted other Deputies stand him to his feet and sat him down on the paramedic's board that was on a gurney. The paramedics applied zip ties to inmate Fair's wrists and was secured to the board with no resistance.

- III. Narrative: On Friday, 09/17/2010 at about 1830 hours, while working as the Intake Sergeant, I received a phone call from a counselor at JDH advising they had a measure 11 juvenile who was out of control and needed to be transported to MCDC. I told the counselor that they need to transport the juvenile. About 45 minutes I went to the OIC's office and spoke with the OIC Sgt. Phelps who had spoken with the supervisor at JDH. Sgt Phelps told me that he was attempting to contact the Facility Commander Capt. Bishop. Capt. Bishop called and Sgt. Phelps spoke with him. Later I was advised that we would send deputies to JDH and take the juvenile into custody, then transport him to MCDC. At about 2200 hours Deputies Barker and DeLuca returned to MCDC with Inmate FAIR. I was advised by Dep. Barker that he fought with FAIR to get him into the transport van and had been kicked in the groin. FAIR was removed from the van and taken to the booking counter. FAIR failed to cooperate and would not answer any questions posed by deputies. I had FAIR moved to ISO cell 3 and the handcuffs removed. I advised our medical staff that FAIR had arrived. RN Tori came and attempted to speak with FAIR. FAIR would say nothing only pull his sweatshirt up to cover his eyes. I then tried to talk with FAIR but he would not respond. RN Tori spoke with the on call doctor and advised me that FAIR needed to sent out to the hospital for a medical evaluation. I gathered the pertinent information and contacted master control to send an ambulance for a medical transport. While we waited for the ambulance to arrive, I spoke with all involved deputies and told them that I wished no one to get injured, if we had to deploy a taser to subdo FAIR, we would do so. When the ambulance arrived I spoke with AMR personnel and advised them we would probably have to fight FAIR to remove him from the ISO cell. AMR personnel then obtained a backboard and hard restraints to strap FAIR to the board. I then advised FAIR that if he did not comply with our orders he would be tased as we needed to send him to the hospital for an evaluation. Dep. Quist then opened the food port and asked FAIR to put his hands out the port to be handcuffed, FAIR gave no response. Dep. Quist advised then ordered FAIR to place his hands out the open food port. FAIR started to place his hands out the open port, he then moved away from the door. I told Deputies DeArmond and Glasser to take out their tasers and deploy them if FAIR resisted. Dep. Quist then opened the ISO cell door, FAIR had his back to the door. Dep. Quist started to engage FAIR, he turned to face Dep. Quist and faced off with his hands in a fighting stance. Deputies DeArmond and Glasser then deployed their tasers to the chest of FAIR. FAIR then dropped to his knees and then face down onto the floor. FAIR had his hands under his chest, Dep. Quist was kneeling on FAIR's legs ordering him to place his hands behind his back. Dep. Barker was on the right side of FAIR trying to take control of his right wrist. FAIR was ignoring the orders and refusing to remove his hands. Standing behind Dep. DeArmond, I told her to tase FAIR again in an attempt to get him to place his hands behind his back. After several attempts FAIR complied and placed both hands behind his back and the handcuffs were placed on both wrists by Dep. Barker. Deputies then moved FAIR to his feet and walked him to the gurney, then placed him sitting onto the backboard. AMR personnel the secured FAIR's legs, the handcuffs were removed and FAIR's torso, arms and head were secured. FAIR was then transported to OHSU for an evaluation.

Summary: On Friday September 17 at approximately 2220 Hours Inmate Fair was transported by ambulance to OHSU for a medical evaluation.

Mentioned: Inmate Fair, Kyeron SWIS #749852
 Deputy Quist, D. DPSST # 31559
 Deputy Glasser, G. DPSST # 35301
 Deputy Barker, T. DPSST # 35798

Narrative: At approximately 2220 hours we were informed that Inmate Fair was going to be sent out by ambulance to the hospital to be checked out. After the ambulance arrived, Deputy Quist asked Inmate Fair to turn around and place his hands thru the food port to be handcuffed. Inmate Fair did not comply Deputy Quist asked at least six times and I asked at least four times myself. Deputy Quist told Inmate fair that if he didn't comply he would be tased. After several more times ordering him to comply we opened the door and ordered him not to move or he would be tased. This is when Inmate Fair turned towards me and raised his hands. I told Deputy Glasser to Tase him. After the Taser was deployed I moved into the cell where Inmate Fair was on the floor face down with the probes in his front torso and the Taser was in full effect. I was on Inmate Fair's right side ordering him to place his hands behind his back Inmate Fair was not complying with the orders after trying several times to pull his hand free I told them to cycle the Taser again after a few more attempts I was able to get the right side out and behind his back where I placed handcuff's on the right wrist as Deputy Quist was working on the left. As Deputy Quist pulled the left arm out I was able to handcuff the left wrist. We then held Inmate Fair on the ground till the leg irons were placed on his ankles. We than lifted Inmate Fair up walked him out of the separation cell and had him sit down on the stretcher that was just outside the cell. Portland Fire along with AMR ambulance crew's then strapped him to the stretcher. After being strapped down the four probes from the Taser were removed. Only three of the four probes were in the torso, the other one was in the heavy shirt he was wearing. He was transported to the OHSU hospital to be evaluated.

III.NARRATIVE: On Friday September 17, 2010 I was assigned as utility two in reception. At approximately 2000 hours we were informed that transfer went to JDH to transport Inmate Fair to MCDC because he was, "uncontrollable and disruptive". Inmate Fair was held at JDH on a M-11 Rob 1 with a firearm charge. During the transport process, force was used on Inmate Fair for kicking Deputy Barker. When transport Deputies arrived at MCDC transfer vehicle sally port, Sgt Miller, Deputy ~~Barker~~ ^{GARDNER}, and I helped the transport Deputies escorted Inmate Fair to the booking counter. We directed Inmate Fair to the counter near the property window. At the search counter Inmate Fair refused to answer any questions and tried to walk away from the counter. Deputy Barker and I held Inmate Fair against the counter to prevent him from walking away. Deputy Barker ordered Inmate Fair to lean forward against the counter but he became static. Then he bulked his body to the floor. Deputy Barker and I held Inmate Fair upright and ordered him to stand on his feet but Inmate fair did not comply. Deputy Barker, Philips and I carried Inmate Fair to ISO 3. I removed the handcuffs through the food port using a tether.

At approximately 2220 the Paramedic arrived to the reception area to take Inmate Fair to the hospital. Sgt Miller organized all the available Deputes at reception and told us to try to restrain Inmate Fair hands through the food port and if he did not comply, to taze him. Deputies Barker and Quist were in front of the ISO 3 door to talk to Inmate Fair and cuff him. Sgt Miller stood behind Deputies Barker and Quist. Deputy DeLuca stood to the right of Deputy Barker. Deputy Glasser stood to the left of Deputy Quist followed by Deputy DeArmond and I. Deputy Quist opened the food port and asked Inmate Fair to put his hands through the port.

Inmate Fair did not complied. Deputy Quist advised Inmate Fair to put his hands through the port or he was going to be tased. Again Inmate Fair ignored Deputy Quist. Deputy Quist ordered Inmate Fair to put his hand through the food port, but Inmate Fair was unwilling to comply with the order given to him. After more unsuccessful attempt to persuade Inmate Fair to put his hands through to food port, Deputy Quist closed the food port door to open the cell door. Before the cell door was open, Sgt Miller asked the present tazer holders Deputies to have their tazers ready. Deputy Quist opened to cell door and Inmate Fair was standing with his back against the door. Deputy Quist ordered Inmate Fair to not move and tried to grab his hands to cuff them, but suddenly Inmate Fair turned 180 degrees towards Deputy Quist and lifted his hands in front of him in a fighting stance manner. Deputy Glasser and DeArmond simultaneously deployed their tazers. The probes hit Inmate Fair on the torso area and left leg. Inmate Fair screamed, dropped to his knees and later to his chest. Deputy Quist moved next to Inmate Fair and ordered him numerous times to put his hands behind his back. Inmate Fair did not complied and kept his hands under his torso. Deputy Quist tried to grab Inmate Fair's arms but he yanked them free back under his torso. Then Deputy DeArmond cycled her tazer again. This time Deputy Quist was able to grab Inmate Fair's hands and cuffed them behind Inmate Fair's lower back. Deputy Barker and Quist helped Inmate Fair to stand up on his feet and escorted him to the medical gurney that was waiting next the sliding door near Intake floor control. The Paramedic secured Inmate Fair to the gurney with flex-cuffs and removed the probes from Inmate Fair chest and leg. The Paramedics rolled the gurney to the ambulance parked in the intake vehicle sally port.

Narrative of Incident:

1. Summary: On 091710 around 2220 hrs I deployed the taser on inmate Fair in ISO # 3 for refusing to do as ordered.

2. Mentioned: Inmate: Fair, Kveron SWIS # 749852

On 091710 around 2220 hrs I was involved in a use of force with inmate Fair who was transported from JDH and was also involved in a prior use of force incident earlier in the evening with Deputy Barker. When Inmate Fair was in ISO cell #3 he was given opportunities to be handcuffed through the food port by Sgt. Miller, Deputy Barker, and Deputy Quist. Sgt. Miller made it clear by telling us he did not want anybody injured in this situation, and would rather have inmate Fair tasered instead of risking anybody being hurt. Deputy Quist asked, advised, than ordered inmate Fair to place his hands in the food port to be handcuffed. Inmate Fair refused by not complying. Deputy Quist opened the door and tried again to have inmate Fair cooperate without the use of force. Inmate Fair did have his back towards the door when Deputy Quist was attempting to ask inmate Fair to comply with his orders. Inmate Fair then turned and began to move towards the door. Standing to the left of Deputy Quist in the doorway I deployed the taser and two probes hit inmate Fair in the chest, Deputy DeArmond then deployed her Taser and inmate Fair then yelled and turned and laid belly down on the ground with his hands under his belly. Deputies Barker and Quist then attempted to handcuff inmate Fair without success. Inmate Fair would not release his hands from under his belly. I cycled the taser again and Deputies Barker and Quist were able to gain control of inmate Fairs wrists only after struggling with inmate Fair. Inmate Fair was lifted off the ground and put onto the stretcher. The paramedics then applied flexcuffs to inmate Fairs wrist and attached the flexcuffs to the stretcher. The handcuffs were removed, and taser probes were pulled from inmate Fair's body and put into a Bag and given to Sgt. Miller. Inmate Fair was transported to the hospital via ambulance.

4. Action Pending: Forwarded to Sgt. Miller for review.

Hi,
Inmate Kyeron Fair #749852 is pending a major misconduct dated 9/17/10 for Failed To Do As Ordered & Attempt Assault on Staff.
Fair allegedly would not put his hands through the foodport and stepped toward the officer once the door was opened.
Sgt Phelps states in the report "I believe Fair is currently in the middle of a psychotic breakdown." is he mentally competent right now to proceed with the hearings process?

Erika,

Thanks for the heads up. It doesn't surprise me that this one turned out this way. I just wanted to minimize his exposure to staff and the best way to do that is to put him on lock down 3 uses of force, being placed on the restraint chair, and 2 trips to the hospital.... This kid is more than a handful, and will continue to be so for a while.

Thanks,

Mike

Hi Mike,

I want you to be aware that I dismissed the misconduct you and DeArmond wrote on Inmate Fair. After talking with psych and reading your review, I feel he's too unstable to proceed with a fair/impartial hearing. I read the CIMS entries and apparently there were more incidents with him than I have paperwork for (ie. Kicking an officer, trying to assault hospital staff, getting tased). Let me know if you have any questions.

I have attached the entry I made into CIMS.

09/22/2010 1306hrs (#36128 ERIKA MURRAY) - Misconduct dismissed per psych issues. Fair is very unstable and unable to proceed with the disciplinary process. The misconduct paperwork I have is NOT for the above mentioned behavior. The report I have is dated 9/17/10, Iso cell #3, Fair allegedly would not put his hands through the foodport Once the cell door was opened Fair "took a step toward the officer." Misconducts relating to Fair kicking an officer, assaulting hospital staff, or anything relating to a taser have yet to arrive.

Summary: On two separate days Inmate Fair spit food on staff. This caused Inmate Fair to be placed in a spit sock.

Mentioned: Fair, Keyron, Inmate
Deputy Johnson, J
Deputy Phillips

Narrative: On 092510 at about 1540 hrs, I was working at OHSU, room 12K12, with Inmate Fair. Deputy Johnson was trying to feed him food when he suddenly spit a mouthfull of food onto Deputy Johnson. Shortly after, a spit sock was placed on Inmate Fair to keep him from spitting again. The sock was removed two hours later when Inmate Fair calmed down.

On 092610 at about 0900 hrs, Inmate Fair was being fed breakfast when he tried to spit on Deputy Phillips. Inmate Fair looked around, saw where Deputy Phillips was, and then spit a mouthfull of food toward Deputy Phillips. He missed, and a spit sock was placed onto Inmate Fair. A short time later, Inmate Fair tried to spit on a nurse that was feeding him. This time the sock was able to block the food. The mask was kept on for an hour until the nurse requested that it be taken off and he ~~tried~~ ^{attempted} to spit again.

CHRONO

09/18/2010 0619hrs (#38150 DENISE DIAMOND) - Inmate Fair has never been in our custody before. He was booked in at JDH on 9/13/2010 and was transported here tonight. His custody states "Kyeron has had some incidents while in JDH of mental health issues and has become violent toward staff. In addition, Kyeron attempted to escape during his intake process when he was brought into detention on 9/13/2010". Intel and Classification Sergeant notified of this information to see if more details can be gathered. ES code added. His negative behavior at JDH includes "approximately 25 minutes of screaming at his attorney during a visit, grabbing the attorney's papers and refusing to return them, being physically escorted to his room where the attorney's paperwork was physically removed from his possession by staff, loud outbursts and pacing in his room, and being observed with a pillow case tied very loosely around his neck. When staff tried to talk to him after the incident, he charged at the staff and began pushing the staff and the door in an attempt to leave the room. He repeated this behavior a second time. He was yelling and non-compliant through out this time". Information to be scanned into Kovis.

Tonight, he was picked up by our Deputies where he was non-compliant and fighting. He assaulted Deputy Barker by kicking him in the groin. Disciplinary report to follow. He was brought in hobbled and placed in isolation. Medical decided to send him to the hospital and he refused to be handcuffed. He turned towards staff as if to assault one of them and was tased. He was written up for FTDAO and Attempted Staff Assault for this incident. He is on Level IV. After returning from the hospital, he was placed on the restraint chair and suicide watch.

Inmate Fair was polite during the interview but denies being in Juvenile custody. He says that he has no detox issues or mental health problems. He states that he has no enemies. He is a 17 year old Juvenile with no previous arrests in LEDS/NCIC. When he is off suicide watch, he should be sent to 4E/4F and placed on Ad Seg Status when off suicide watch.

09/20/2010 2003hrs (#35286 KRISTIN MOORE) - Fair mentioned in briefing as being subject of CERT callout for a forced blood draw.

09/21/2010 0759hrs (#36128 ERIKA MURRAY) - Paperwork received today for major misconduct dated 9/17/10. FTDAO & Attempt Assault on Staff. Level 4.

09/22/2010 1306hrs (#36128 ERIKA MURRAY) - Misconduct dismissed per psych issues. Fair is very unstable and unable to proceed with the disciplinary process. The misconduct paperwork I have is NOT for the above mentioned behavior. The report I have is dated 9/17/10, Iso cell #3, Fair allegedly would not put his hands through the foodport. Once the cell door was opened Fair "took a step toward the officer." Misconducts relating to Fair kicking an officer, assaulting hospital staff, or anything relating to a taser have yet to arrive.

09/23/2010 1032hrs (#24637 GUADALUPE DE LA GARZA) - Classification Update submitted by Deputy Bunker stating that it took 6 to 8 JDH staff members to prepare Fair for transport to MDCD. Bunker also said that Fair kicked him when he attempted to place him in the transport van. The Deputy felt that his aggressive behavior was due to his severe mental health issues and thought it would not be a good use of a misconduct report.

SUMMARY:

The following Special Report is an overview of the investigation into this incident by both Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar and I.

MENTIONED:

(VICTIM) FAIR, KYERON JARREL M/B
 DOB – 07/29/1993

(LAW ENFORCEMENT) Detective Scott Sudaisar – DPSST #35372
 Oregon State Police

OVERVIEW:

On October 13th, 2010 I was requested to co-lead with Oregon State Police Trooper Scott Sudaisar regarding this investigation. I was informed that a 17 year old male by the name of Kyeron FAIR was in custody for armed robbery (Portland Police incident) and that FAIR was in the Multnomah County Juvenile Detention Center. I was informed that while at the Juvenile Detention Center, FAIR was moved to the Multnomah County Detention Center due to his out-of-control behavior.

I was informed that while at the Multnomah County Detention Center, FAIR was taken to the Oregon Health Science University for evaluation and treatment. During this process, I was told that a taser was employed on FAIR.

FAIR'S mother is concerned that FAIR was possibly assaulted by jail staff, which caused internal injuries, which in turn caused psychotic behaviors with FAIR.

KELLI JARRELL STATEMENT (MOTHER OF KYERON FAIR)

The following are excerpts from the transcribed interview with JARRELL:

Okay, um, September 13th my son went to school, Parkrose High School, where he's a senior; between 9:30, 10 o'clock, a Detective Hollins came to the school, spoke with the principal regarding taking Kyeron into custody, and I learned that part through the school, but I received a call from my daughter who received a call from Kyeron's best friend who said Kyeron was arrested. At that point I called his dad, then I left work, I called the non-emergency number to try to locate where my son was being held at and to instruct them that I wanted him to have an attorney or that I wanted a parent present.

I was then told that I would need to speak with Dispatch to find out where he was taken because the non-emergency number did not have that information. En route to the Northeast Precinct I assumed he was going to the Northeast Precinct, I called Dispatch; Dispatch said he was taken from Parkrose by the Detectives but they did not have the location of where he was taken to. Getting to Northeast Precinct, I asked if my son was there, they said No. I asked did they know where he was and gave his name, they said No, which would be the two front receptionists.

At that time I requested to speak with the supervisor because I was not getting any answer; the supervisor came out, I gave her all his information, she went to the back, returned shortly, explained that Kyeron was being held on the 13th floor of the Justice Center by some detective, by the Detectives working the case. I then said I would call because the number, I had the 823-0400 number which was the detectives number I called and I asked to speak, or the gentleman that answered the phone, I told him I was Kyeron Fair's mother, and I was under the standing that my son was brought in and that I did not want him questioned until I could get there or an attorney could be present; he said he was not working the case and transferred me to a voice mail of Detective Hollins. I left the same voice mail message for Detective Hollins.

The supervisor who came out at Northeast Precinct took all the appropriate information which was my cell phone number, his dad's cell phone numbers, and said that she would call and let them know that I was coming, and that I did want me son not to be questioned until an adult or until an attorney can be present. When I went into the Justice Center on the Portland Police side which is the entrance on Second, the lady said, Somebody will be down here to talk to you. I said, Okay. I waited and waited, and waited, and waited; approximately an hour had passed. I went back in and said that I need to be there with my son, I don't want him questioned until an adult or until I can get an attorney there; she said, Wait they'll be down here in a minute, there's nothing we can do. I then, my daughter had been injured so she had an attorney, I called their office, they said they would make a courtesy call for Kyeron in his behalf to say, Don't question him, you know, we're legal counsel, blasé. He was not allowed to talk to a detective, he was transferred into voicemail.

Approximately 2:45 which is like two-and-a-half hours later, Detective Hollins came and got me, took me upstairs, gave me, I asked him the question of why you guys didn't talk to me, he said, We don't do things like that around here; that was his response. And I asked what was going on; he explained to me Kyeron was being charged with Armed Robbery. I said, Armed Robbery, my son, that doesn't sound like him. He told me about the interrogation that took place...

Okay. But that went from there. I gave him a hug, he let me hug him, he said it was not what he wasn't supposed to do. So we went home and that night at 9:16 Mr. Lincoln from JDH called and said Kyeron was amp'd up and that he was told that he didn't get to call me when he was arrested so he was allowing him to give me a call because he was amp'd up, and so I got on the phone; Kyeron was explaining he didn't do it, we had a conversation, at that point in time I noticed he was a little edgy, so I told him to take deep breaths, go lay down. On the 14th we went to his arraignment, on the 14th after the arraignment we were told we could see him at JDH on a visit because the Measure 11 charge I guess allows you to visit, I'm not sure. And they came back to the door which was Michael Spencer and I believe the same Mr. Lincoln and said, Oh he's f'd up he's real emotional we don't know if we're gonna let you visit because he's kind of emotional; so his dad said, No I need to see my son.

If he's emotional I'm sure some, seeing his parents and talking to his parents will get him; he immediately came in the room, straight, paranoid, scared, didn't want to, didn't want to talk about people were listening to him; made his dad read the sign where it says, We cannot hear your conversation, push a button if you need service. Very scared, very, you know, just like, Dad I didn't do it, I didn't do it; so at that point in time they told us he seemed a bit stressed out which they've seen that in kids that have never been in trouble before, they saw that type of behavior; I said, That's a little more than stressed out. That was Tuesday the 14th.

Wednesday the 15th Kyeron's basketball coach from Parkrose is also employed as one of the counselors Anthony Stewart, went to give him his food and he didn't recognize him and he kept trying to get Kyeron to remember, This is Coach Stu, what's going on man, what's going on? Kyeron said he didn't want the food, there was something in the food, something so- Anthony Stewart at that time said he notified whoever was necessary that Kyeron was having some difficulties and that was not his character, that he had coached him in basketball, and that was well outside his character.

Um, he then notified my brother who he knows personally from basketball and told him, Get in touch with the parents and let them know something's going on, and they need to you know get down here and see what's going on with Kyeron. At that point I started making phone calls to JDH to ask them to actually start watching him because he hadn't eaten, he hadn't slept, and he was showing signs of a mental problem, a chemical imbalance mentally is what I explained to them, because I work in the medical field so I know the signs, and I explained to them that, and I explained that more than likely with the sleep and the nutritional deprivation, these symptoms would do nothing but get worse, so at that time she concurred which was Susan, and she was the medical lady; she concurred that that was possible.

We went on a visit that night, very clammy, his hands clammy, um, shaking, not holding a decent conversation; earlier that day I had spoke with Mr. Lincoln explaining my concern and after talking to Susan, I explained my concern, he said Well Kyeron, he said he's amp'd up again, I said, Well can you please define 'amp'd up' for me because I don't, I don't know what that is, you need to be more um, precise with me. He said amp'd up in his, was Kyeron was not cognizant, not able to follow simple directions, and that he was not speaking in complete thoughts with thought process.

Um, so upon visiting him that night we were met by Izzy who is a counselor and Ann Smith who is the mental health care coordinator, and they came to our visit and they expressed a concern with his mental condition; and Stewart said, Anne Smith excuse me said that he demonstrated a lot of, it seemed like he was having problems, and that Kyeron was not even able to do the orientation which he has to watch a movie and answer a series of questions in order for him to start doing groups and going to their little school that they have; so basically he was locked up 24-hours-a-day because he couldn't pass this little orientation.

Right, he wasn't able to function. So I, we joked and laughed about uh, tryptophan and turkey, you know try to feed him some turkey and hopefully he'll balance out, you know, and so she said, Well we'll watch him, you know, call my assistant if you have any questions tomorrow. The following day, which was Thursday, Kyeron, I, I called his doctor to cancel his appointment because he was just reestablishing himself, spoke with her MA, she said the same thing, Tell them to get him some IV fluids, these symptoms are going to get worse, he needs rest, he needs some IV fluids because his electrolytes are probably out of balance, tell 'em, you know, to get medical attention for him and since he was establishing himself with care with us, there's not too much that the doctor can do right now for him.

So I called them and I spoke with the nurse again; this time she said she would speak with her manager about getting him transferred out because she was becoming more concerned with him and his medical condition and that I needed to send over consent and then she came back an hour later, I didn't get the consent so I called her back, she said, Well they said that we're just going to keep him here, we're not going to transfer him.

So I then called the attorney who's representing him in the other case to please go take a check to look at him; he said he hadn't received the paperwork yet and da-da-da, but then I just explained, you have to go.

When he went in there, he called, Kyeron was very scared then, and so he called the dad to try to see if the dad knew anything or what, but they had to hang up because his behavior just kept escalating, they finally got me on the phone and Kyeron was in the background screaming, I can't have an attorney, they made me sign a paper saying I couldn't have an attorney, you can't have an attorney, he gave me the phone, I said, K this is mommy, you need to calm down, sit down, that is your attorney; and he said This is not my mom, this is not my mom, and threw the phone down.

And then I heard the attorney say, No Kyeron you can't have those papers, you have your own, and I heard the counselor saying, K sit down, sit down Kyeron sit down; so that was Thursday; so at that time the attorney said he was going to try to get an expedited psychological exam because it did not appear that Kyeron could aid and assist in his own defense, so he was calling Eric Johnson who was a clinical psychologist to go observe Kyeron and do an evaluation, and I called Friday morning to be present.

I didn't want to be in the room but I just wanted my presence to be there so I could find out what the outcome was; by the time I got there I had to keep, they called to the back where they had Kyeron housed, Steve Walker came out and talked to me, he said Oh Kyeron's doing fine, he went through the interview, he's fine, he's fine. I found that hard to believe. So at that time I said Well I'm going to go back to work.

I went back to work; upon getting back to work I got home, 6:10 I got a call from Craig, one of the counselors, stating that Kyeron had put a pillowcase around his neck and it was loose, he wasn't trying to hurt himself, but when they had entered the room, Kyeron yelled something and ran towards them, and that they had to notify me because they had to hold him, they had to hold him back, and that I would receive a written report of the incident because they had to physically touch him but at this point in time they had determined that his mental health needs were beyond their ability to care for him and they were sending him to the Justice Center. So upon finding that out I said, Why would you send; I said, Don't send him there, don't send him there.

And they said, you know, we can't meet his needs here. I said, Okay, so between some time I called to the Justice Center and touched base with the nurse so that I could give her all the information, asking did she need anything like his primary care physician's numbers, pass anything so that they could, you know, treat him appropriately; she said she would give me a call when he got there.

In the meantime I called back to the Center, Kyeron was still escalating, so I said can I bring a picture of his dad and me down there, that might calm him down because they said they were having a hard time; so around 8:30 I took the picture down there. Then I came back home and the nurse assured me she was going to call me when he got there so that she could, you know, let me know he was okay.

I didn't receive a call. I fell off to sleep, then I called them, they said he was coming, didn't get a call at that time, so I woke about 3:30 called and I was told that he was in the hospital. I asked, What hospital? They wouldn't tell me. What's wrong with him; they wouldn't tell me. Was up all night, finally got his attorney's number that's handling his case, told him to give a call. He gave a call, at that time they said he was in Reception; I said No he was in the hospital, so they, he called back again, he said, Yeah he went to Doernbecher, or he went to Doernbecher, uh, but he's back now?

Okay. So he was transferred back to the Justice Center, at that point in time he was placed I guess in their medical ward; I begin speaking with the nurse, at that point in time if my notes are accurate, I have my notes at home, I believe her name was Brinn, B-R-I-N-N, and she was the weekend nurse that was observing Kyeron and she said that he was very, very scared; her role was to keep him safe and that she was keeping his contact with the Corrections Officers to a minimum because that's when it seemed that more problems came about.

Um, he became accelerated, nervous, scared, um, wouldn't, wouldn't do anything, wouldn't let 'em in the room, she wasn't able to physically examine him because I guess he would keep his face to the window and she was only able to see, basically he wasn't dehydrated from his eyes, his tongue and stuff, she said but he would keep his face and they would be instructing him to move I guess to the back of the cell and then go to the box that's located in the left of the cell, then they know that she could enter safely but she was unable to do that because the behavior that he had with the trauma, with the guards around, he wouldn't, he wasn't complying, so they kept him, they just kept a close eye on him, they started a food log on Sunday supposedly for food intake because he wasn't intaking food, and on Monday is when the mental health nurse practitioner Melanie Parker would do her assessment at that point in time.

On Monday I called her first thing in the morning, she was glad that I called, she was trying to get me to sign a consent, him to sign a consent so that she could release information because I wanted to know what was going on with him, and so um, she had a hard time doing that and he kept screaming, They made me sign a paper; just that same old repetitive, they made me sign a paper, I can't do it, I can't do it, I can't do it. She was able to get him to sign the paper. She said that she was using some of the most gentle guards that she knew to be employed within that facility in contact with Kyeron. She stated also that she did not work as an employee of the detention center and she was a totally separate entity and she was having problems with Kyeron being able to identify her as a separate person from the Correctional officers.

She finally able to get him to sign the consent, he signed the consent to give me the information; she explained to me she was going to try and draw his blood to see exactly what was going on with him and if there was anything internally going on with him, so she called me back and said, Can you send us a medical consent to treat? Um, so I did and I sent it the way I would send any medical document, prognosis, diagnosis, and she instructed me to put treatment of psychiatric also, so psychiatric treatment, diagnosis, and I did that and I faxed it over; so I went through the day, I called back when I got home, I was told by a nurse named Ray, they were able to get the blood draw but Kyeron was back, he didn't say back in the hospital, he said, But he's at a hospital now; and I said, For what?

I was told he had an elevated white blood cell count which means he had an infection in his system and I said, Well why can't they treat it there with antibiotics if it's an infection, he said because we don't have the equipment and we don't have what's needed to treat him right now; that was on Monday the 20th.

So I said, Well he has court in the morning; Oh he should be back for court. Okay, fast forward the next day, called to see if he was back; was told by nurse Neese he was not back, was told to call the courts to see if the court date was still on or did they cancel; they didn't cancel because I guess his attorney was going to ask for a set over; at that time the attorney said, I'll try to find out what hospital he's in; I'll try to get you guys a visit, uh, looks like about eight of the charges have dropped off, um, to my understanding it was bad for your son during the interrogation but I haven't gotten the DVD because no true bill has come down and I can't do a Motion to Discover, and that's what his attorney said and left it at that, we left.

I went home, dropped off his dad, then dad called me approximately eight minutes later because I had, we live on 42nd and Killing-, probably eight, maybe a little bit longer than that and said that he had received a call from some lady, Melody, he didn't know because I had been working closely with Melody, when he said the nurse at the jail, and she asked, she told me Kyeron was in the Cardiac ICU Unit at OHSU; she asked his dad had he ever had any blunt force or trauma injury to his liver; his dad said No. I then said, um, his dad said you need to call Lieutenant Pool to set up an appointment for you guys to get a visit to see, so that the parents could see our son.

I immediately called Lieutenant Pool and uh, come to find out she was the Vera Pool who was close friends with my mother who's deceased, she didn't match the names up because my mother's last name is Darby, he's a Fair, I'm a Jarrell, and so she didn't match it up but she said, Do I know anything about what happened to my son and I said, No. Um, so she said okay, she set the visit up, we went up there, he was like in a cationic state, he didn't recognize his dad when he first came in, a tear came down, um, it was just horrible. He was chained to the bed and they had all the machines going and um that's, we got to visit with him; then we talked with the nurse, Sena, who said she's never seen a child, she's never seen anybody so scared in all their life, in all her life, she explained his, at that time about the infection in the liver, and then some other doctors came down, you know, it's a learning institution so there were a lot, the doctors came and asked us questions about drinking and stuff, which he don't drink, you know, none of that; went home, probably, I called every day to see how he was doing. He ran a fever that night, um, they were still administering the antibiotics for the liver infection, so as I got a call from Doctor Usher, which was the following Wednesday, who was a child psychiatrist who was seeing him because they were unable to get anywhere with Kyeron, he was scared to death when the guards, I mean even when we were there, he would, batta-batta-batta to the guards, um, and they were very nice guards, they'd be like, Okay, you know, you're okay Kyeron, you're safe.

Um, so Doctor Usher told me that Kyeron was, that was when he diagnosed him with catatonia, they were going to treat him with Atavan and hopefully that the catatonic state would come down and they could better assess the psychiatric aspect, but he then said, I don't want to alarm you but my main concern is the muscle breakdown, Kyeron had muscle breakdown, bad-

He did not say anything, but as I explained to him, then he was, Kyeron had air in his chest and I asked him about the air in his chest, um, he ruled out all the medical things because I'm in the medical field, um, you only get that if you have a collapsed lung or a punctured lung, or if you have COPD, that's a primary, air in your lung; the next one is gunshot, knife wound, trauma or auto accident.

So we ruled out the first primary, the secondary we know there are no guns in JDH, we know there's no knives, we know there's no cars, so the only thing would have been trauma to the chest, and then we found out later he had, they did some other kind of, I don't know if it was a brain scan that there was air pockets in his face, uh, and we come to find this out by every time you talk to a different doctor, a different thing, a different illness, a different injury, then we come to find out that he was actually brought to Cardiac ICU for breathing; he was, I don't know if he was unable to catch his breath, I don't know if his heart stopped, we don't know, but he was in cardiac ICU, he just wasn't in ICU, and from there it just became a nightmare. We don't know what happened, uh, I became very cra-, I became very upset one day crying at work because when I actually called Kyeron I was allowed to have a phone call, Kyeron began to scream, Don't break my arm, don't break my arm, don't break my arm, please don't break my arm.

That sent me through the roof, so I called Barbara Willer's office, Commissioner Willer's office; I said, Somebody's got to do something, her administrative assistant Sarah Brownstein is the one I believe who got in contact with Chief Deputy Martin Shults -

- who I then spoke with him, he was, explaining to him, he was very aware of Kyeron's situation, that he had went up and saw Kyeron and he, for all appearances looked like a good kid, didn't know what was going on, was very empathetic; I know you're concerned as a parent, um, I'm going to allow you another visit, um, I'll, you know, continue to give him a call and see how he's doing, and if you run into any problems do not hesitate to call and he gave me his cell phone number, he said, I don't care, day or night, if you just want somebody to talk to, just give me a call. I said, Okay.

I wasn't fully aware of his, his um, where he was as to the level of his position, um, I called, they told me I couldn't talk to him on Sunday, I immediately called him, he immediately called up there and was like, Yeah let the mom through. Um, we did go see him that Monday and it was more of the same behavior, it was Dad get them off my back, get them off my back, don't do that head thing, don't do that head thing, those are the things that he was screaming. He also has reverted back to like a child type of state where he's talking about old friends from back in the day, the pop church; they keep saying that he's afraid of a Tony Louse and Darias Tarver, he keeps saying he's scared of them, he's scared of them, and I know Darias Tarver to be a friend, uh, they went to Parkrose together and played basketball together, um, and he uh, he's just, all stuff like that; he always asks are we safe, Mom are you safe? Are you safe? Are you safe? Are you safe?

And when you talk to him you have to talk to him like he's a little kid, you know, I call him from work because I try to call him at the same time when he was at OHSU so he could kind of get a familiarity that he can count on me calling and when I would call, you know, you have to talk to him like, the people in there are mommy's friends Kyeron, you don't have to be scared, they're mommy's friends and he um, would say Mommy friend or, I said Yeah there's no more bad people, nobody else can hurt you, no one, and he just screamed, No more bad people, no more bad people, no more bad people; and that's about it, I mean not about it, but that's what we're going through and I just got off the phone with his, his therapist at Trillium was saying the same thing, he's unable to determine that he's not the police, and he has a fear of the office of males and people in uniform and he's never had that before, ever.

During the course of the investigation (on November 3rd, 2010 during an interview with FAIR in Corvallis, Oregon), Kelli JARRELL (Kyeron's mother) said "Lori" recommended she hire a private attorney and recommended "Chuck Paulson", who is a civil rights attorney. JARRELL said "Lori" works with Anna Smith at the Multnomah County Juvenile Department. JARRELL said "Lori" never said why she should hire a private attorney. JARRELL called back on November 16th, 2010 and said "Lori" was the incorrect name for the person who recommended the private attorney. She said the person was "Sheryl Procter".

KYERON FAIR STATEMENT

FAIR was able to answer all of the questions asked of him and did not appear upset or nervous at any time. FAIR didn't remember things, events, or people/names. FAIR occasionally looked at his mother for help answering questions. FAIR told us about memories that he believes are real and memories that he knows, because of his counseling/therapy, were not real.

FAIR told us he has been able to remember some things, but not much, about his time in JDH. FAIR told us that he doesn't remember being in adult jail. He said he recalls a little bit from his OHSU visit. Regarding OHSU, FAIR recalls "Officer Bunker" had pounded on his chest and slapped him several times on his forehead, asking "are you stupid?" FAIR told us this happened while he was in a hospital bed and he had pulled his IV out of his arm, with his teeth.

FAIR told us he was trying to escape his hospital bed to "save my brother." He said "Sheriff Bunker" told him to "spit that thing out (the IV)" and he gave it to the nurse (unclear if it was Deputy Bunker or FAIR). FAIR remembered he was handcuffed when Officer Bunker pounded on his chest and he remembered calling the nurse for help. FAIR said he and the officers were watching the television show "Glee" when this happened. FAIR said he didn't want to watch "Glee" and asked the officers if they could watch football instead; the New England Patriots were playing the Miami Dolphins at PSU in Portland.

FAIR later said he was screaming "code 99" because he was lying, in the hospital bed, on top of his "Saviors", Tre and Demerius. FAIR explained, "My mind was playing tricks on me".

FAIR remembered driving from OSHU to the Children's Farm (in Corvallis, Oregon). He said he was sitting in the back seat and there were two Officers. FAIR said he remembers asking the driver to slow down. FAIR remembers thinking the front passenger Officer had an iPhone. FAIR said he didn't want to look at the Officer's eyes, because he thought he was "the devil." FAIR told us he was playing "copy-cat" by trying to copy the front passenger's head movements.

CRAIG BACHMAN STATEMENT (Custody Services Manager at JDH)

The following is an excerpt from the transcript regarding FAIR'S time at the juvenile department:

...Friday the 17th was my first direct interaction with him. I knew he had been brought in on Measure 11 charges on Monday because I get a daily population report and I check and, you know, see who's been brought in and those kind of things, but I didn't have any personal interactions with him until that Friday morning. I had been called at home on Thursday night regarding an incident with Kyeron; my on-duty manager had called me to debrief and talk about what was going on to try and make a plan based on his behavior that evening but then on Friday morning I came in and actually had some interaction with him on the unit with an evaluator that his attorney had asked to come in and evaluate him, um, and then had more interactions later that afternoon. I had come down in the unit to check on the staff and talk with him, um, see how he was doing, and then we had an incident where he physically assaulted me which I can describe more for you if you want to get into details later, um, and then made the decision based on his behavior and arguing with the Sheriff's officers with Measure 11 youth, that we were going to transfer him to MCSO custody, and then I was involved when he was being placed in restraints for that transport.

My supervisor called because Kyeron had a visit with his attorney, Gary Bittoni, and then when he got, he was walked up to the visiting room, when he got there he started yelling, You're not my attorney, I fired you, that kind of stuff to Mr. Bittoni, um, my supervisor interacted with him and tried to calm him down; basically the attorney I believe and him agreed that he wasn't in a place to visit right now and they were going to take him back to the unit; he continued to yell and scream, he grabbed all the attorney's paperwork and refused to give it back; so rather than get into a big restraint take-down in the visiting area, they escorted him back to the unit and part way back to the unit, he sat down on the floor, was still screaming about, That's not my attorney, I fired him, and all this stuff.

My supervisor and other staff, I can't remember his name I'd have to look it up, escorted him back to the unit, kind of picked him up by his armpits and kind of walked him back into the unit; walked him back into his room, talked to him, he's still going, kind of yelling and making comments about not being his attorney, he doesn't need to be here, that kind of stuff is my understanding and then um, they got the paperwork back, the manager took it to the attorney and said, you know, Here's your paperwork, sorry about this, and all that, and the attorney was concerned about his mental state and wanted to get an evaluator in, so he arranged while in this 15-minute period or 20-minute period to have Doctor Eric Johnson come in and do an evaluation the next morning at nine o'clock.

Long story short, Kyeron continues to verbally yell and kind of act out in his room and pace around, not doing any physical self-harm behaviors, not assaulting staff or himself or anything but just pace around, yelling loudly, for quite a while, a couple hours I guess, um, and my manager was concerned about whether he was decompensating or escalating and so our normal response is to call the crisis mental health team from Multnomah County, Project Respond, they came out to do an evaluation about what was going on, um, at that point they came out and they talked, they looked and watched, they observed and talked to staff, they were considering, they wanted us to put him in four-point restraints at that point which we don't have access to here, um, and possibly transport him to a hospital.

The concern we had with that is I was informed by Izzy that when Kyeron arrived he attempted to run out the sliders from the police detectives brought him in on Monday, the sliders were closed obviously, he couldn't get out, but it was an attempt to the staff's opinion that it looked like he was trying to get out. Um, based on that the concern was if we transported him to the hospital he would escape or make an attempt to escape and with his serious charges we were, I was concerned about that, um, I asked Izzy to talk to the Project Respond folks because he wasn't being assaultive and he wasn't doing any self-harm behavior and we had the evaluation scheduled for nine the next morning, if we put a one-on-one staff with Kyeron and we could manage his behavior overnight, if we could then do the evaluation and make a decision at that point about whether he needed to be hospitalized; Project Respond agreed.

My manager called in a one-on-one staff, Kyeron spent the night in his room. His behavior settled down, he actually um, the reports I got the next morning was that he slept and he ate, which is the first time that the staff had told me they actually seen him, you know, sleep an amount of time and he slept for about four hours they said, he ate some breakfast which was the first time he really ate any breakfast in the four days he's been here. Um, and so then continuing on to the next morning when I got in here, went down to the unit, checked him, he was awake but quiet in his room, Doctor Johnson, the evaluator came at about nine to see Kyeron to do his evaluation, staff went to talk to Kyeron, he refused to come do the evaluation; I was concerned enough about Kyeron's mental state that I wanted to make sure we had somebody doing a more formal evaluation than myself or any of my staff because we're not mental health professionals, could do, so I asked Doctor Johnson to come with me down to the unit where Kyeron was to try and do some of the evaluation there and interact and do that stuff.

Doctor Johnson went down for about twenty minutes, sat in his room with myself outside and another staff observing, attempted to engage Kyeron in conversation for about twenty minutes; throughout the whole time Kyeron paced around the room, didn't answer any of the questions but was aware the doctor was there. The doctor would ask him a question, he would stop pacing and he would look at the doctor but then not respond but making good eye contact. After about twenty minutes, Doctor Johnson said that he couldn't do any more since Kyeron was refusing to talk to him. So we went back up here to visiting and I sat with Doctor Johnson and I asked him for his initial kind of assessment, it wasn't, he said you know I can't do a full assessment but my initial is, um, that this isn't an acute psychiatric emergency-

And I said, so that means you don't believe hospitalization would be necessary at this point and he said, No. Um, he said he was oriented at the time and place, he could give eye contact, he didn't have any visible signs of any sort of voices or hallucination; he responded nonverbally to questioning but he just wasn't answering, and Doctor Johnson said he didn't feel like he required hospitalization. He said in his opinion he felt like it was 'bargaining' to use his words, that there was probably some mental health issues but that this was um, an attempt for Kyeron to get to go somewhere else and he couldn't, he didn't know what that would be for Kyeron but in his opinion it wasn't a psychiatric emergency that required hospitalization, so we didn't take him to the hospital or anything else, we just kind of managed his behavior.

Throughout the rest of the day he was fine in his room, he was pacing around but he wasn't yelling and he wasn't assaulting anyone and he wasn't hurting himself or doing any of that other stuff, um, about four o'clock that afternoon I had gone back down to check in with the afternoon staff; as shifts were changing, and as I was down there he was pacing around his room but he was quiet and he wasn't acting out at all but he had taken his pillowcase and tied it loose around his neck and was pulling it up and using it to wipe his face; we don't allow kids obviously tie anything around their neck. So I went to his door because there's a little window in the room I said, Kyeron can you take that thing off your neck and he didn't respond, he looked at me and so I repeated it louder, and he went like this, like kind of a gesture I took to mean that he couldn't hear what I was saying –

Yeah, he kind of pointed up to his ear and went like, you know, raised his palms up and shrugged his shoulders like he couldn't hear what I was saying; so to make sure that I was heard, I opened his door and I had my foot by the door and I repeated I said, Kyeron could you take that thing off your neck, I know you use it to wipe your face but you know, you can't have something around your neck, and so he looked at me for a second and he didn't do anything, he was standing there in his room and I said, Kyeron take the thing off your neck; so he took it off his neck, tossed it on his bed, and then um, he ran at the door after he tossed it on his bed and shoved me and tried to come out of the room, and so as he was shoving on me I was holding on the door and I grabbed hold of his arm, um, as he kept pushing on me; another staff came and helped me and he picked him, so the other staff grabbed one leg and I had his arm and kind of walked him in his room and sat him down on his floor, on his backside sitting up, and we said, Stay down, and he, as we let go of him because we were going to back out of the room and we let go of him and we backed out of the room, he jumped up and ran at me again and pushed me again as we tried to go out the door.

So again I grabbed him on the arm, the other staff grabbed his leg and we picked him up and we sat him back down again and at this time I third staff came in and he put his hand on his chest, he wasn't in restraints or anything, he wasn't resisting us, he just, once we had him picked up and put back in the room he was just sitting there; the other staff said, Kyeron you stay in your room, you stay down and we walk out, and so he sat there, we walked out and shut the door, and um, that was it, he didn't yell, he didn't scream, didn't flail, didn't fight, um so based on that escalation of behavior because with the agreement we have, one of the things I, my own personal kind of lines I draw is when a Measure 11 youth, we manage all the Measure 11 youth unless their behavior becomes unmanageable here, and then we have an agreement with the Sheriff to transfer him to adult custody, um, one of my bottom lines with Measure 11 youth is if they assault staff is we recommend send them to the adult custody.

So in this situation because he had come after me and pushed me, I made a decision there was an escalation in his behavior that he needed to be transferred to MCSO custody. I typed up a memo for the officer in charge, I can't remember who it was, we went round-and-round because there was some confusion about the reason why, and I actually spoke to Chief Deputy Ron Bishop that night at about seven o'clock and kind of ran through the scenario with him, he said it met the protocol and they would arrange transport by their Corrections deputies; they would come and get him here and he just asked that we would have him in restraints so they could take custody of him instead of going all the way down the unit, put him in restraints, and bring him out.

Um, prior to this conversation I, or after I had that conversation, I guess with Captain Bishop, one of our procedures and one of the requirements we have is any time we put our hands on a kid we have to notify the parent, um, additionally whenever we transfer a youth who's housed on a Measure 11 charge to adult custody, we notify the parents. So I called and I talked to Kyeron's mother that night, kind of walked her through what happened during the day, told her of our decision that we were going to transfer him to the adult custody, she was upset and angry; obviously we had a couple of fairly lengthy conversations, ten or fifteen minutes about it, by the end of it she didn't agree with my decision but she said she understood that we were doing what we had to do, end of conversation.

She called me back about an hour later and said, you know, I got a picture of myself and Kyeron's dad, can I bring it into him, maybe it will help calm him down; I told her yeah, you know, we're going to be transferring him to adult custody but I'll make sure he has the picture and it gets in his property. I don't know if they'll have it at the jail or whatever, but I'll make sure he gets it. So she came in and brought the picture in, you know, we ended our conversation at that point, she was calm, um, you know, she expressed her displeasure with the way his arrest happened and charging and all of that, and the whole system and youth being charged as adults, but um, I thought we had a very pleasant conversation because of the circumstances.

Shortly thereafter the Sheriff Deputies got here, we went down to the unit to put the handcuffs and leg irons on Kyeron and transport, you know, we were going to walk him up to the Admissions area and hand over him over custody to the Sheriff's deputies; so we went down to the room, I asked him to step back away from the door, he's still pacing in his room, I asked him to step back, he stepped back; I told him the situation that based on his assaultive behavior towards me and his escalation we were transferring him to MCSO custody; he didn't respond, he didn't say anything.

Um, I asked him to turn around so we could put the handcuffs on him, he turned around, I went to grab I guess it would have been his left hand to put the handcuffs on him, um because I was an adult parole and probation officer and supervisor for a while so I have more experience putting handcuffs on than any of my staff do so I was leading the handcuffing. I wasn't expecting it to be any big deal. As I reached out and grabbed his left hand, he started to swing around and try and get away from me and pull away, so I grabbed on with both hands and another staff came in behind me and grabbed his right arm to keep him from fighting more, we lowered him down to his bed because it, in our unit there's a concrete slab and mattress where the beds are, and that's the area we were close to so we lowered him down to his bed to try, you know, keep him from getting hurt or hurting anybody else; we couldn't get the handcuffs on because he was still fighting too much, so we lowered him from the bed to the floor; other staff came in and held his legs and got his legs in leg irons; he struggled, we managed to get the handcuffs put on, um, and he was still struggling at that point, started to calm him down, and I explained to him what I needed him to do, roll over onto his side, asked him to bring his knees up to his chest so we could set him up on his backside and stand him up for the transport; he brought his knees up, we rolled him up, sat him up, started to raise him up and he started standing up, he got about halfway up and he kicked his feet out from under himself, kind of sat back down and then started flailing around on the floor, rolling around onto his stomach, hollering, um, Let me pull my pants up, his pants were up at this point, um, and then he scooted across the floor a little ways, and then he said, Let me pull my pants up, and he pulled his pants down, and he said Let me pull my pants up, and he pulled his pants down again; and then one of my staff pulled them up.

So he sat there and we talked to him and said, Kyeron you need to calm down, I need you to walk up to the Admissions are, that stuff, he eventually quit yelling, Calm down, so I said again, pull your knees up, we're going to stand you up and walk you up there, he did all that, he stood up, I had one side and another staff had the other, we walked out of the unit and started walking on the hallway, we got about half way up the hallway and he kind of slipped his feet out again and we were holding his shoulders so he didn't fall down or anything, and we stood him up and he kind of walked a couple of steps and he kicked his feet out again, so we kind of walked with him doing that down the hallway until we got to our main corner; when we got there he started kicking and flailing around, um, trying to avoid going through the doorway, and he was flailing, and I didn't want to drop him or anything else, so I asked the other staff to hold his legs, so we picked him up and we carried him from the doorway and we carried him into the area you guys came out, the police sally port where the Sherriff's deputies were and they were outside, and they said, Put him down, when we got to the sally port door, so we sat him down and they gave him commands and directives, you know, You're under our custody now, you're going to stop this, you're going to do what we say; he looked at them, he didn't respond, wasn't yelling, wasn't screaming or swearing or anything else, um, so the Sheriff's deputies started to pick him up and he started struggling with them as violently as he could.

him back up, he started struggling again, deputies displayed the taser, said, Stop we're going to tase you. He stopped, they went to pick him up again, he started fighting again, eventually you know, they put the red light on him and said, Stop, three or four times, we're going to tase you; never did fire the taser or tase him, um, and he, every time they were giving him a command to stop or he would be tased, he would stop for a minute and then the minute that they tried to pick him up and put him in the van he started fighting again. Eventually my staff, one or two of my staff helped get him into the van, they secured the door and they left.

ANTHONY STEWARD STATEMENT (JDH Custody Service Specialist)

STEWARD said he knows the FAIR family "well" and described FAIR as an honor student who was good in class, but did have some "behavioral stuff". He said FAIR was a "low energy kid" who had associated with gang members. He said he thought the associated gang members were the "60s". He said he recalled "Darius Tarver" as someone that associated with.

STEWARD said when he started his work week; he was informed by his co-workers that there was a "kid" at the juvenile department "who is cuckoo". He said he was told that this "kid" couldn't orient himself. He was also told that the staff felt this person was "playing a game".

STEWARD said after finding out that FAIR was the person with the behavioral issues; he said he went to talk with him since he knew him well from coaching him years earlier. He said he went into the cell where FAIR was located and said introduced himself as "Coach Steward". He said FAIR said, "Who are you?" He said FAIR then said, "You're my Dad."

STEWARD said he was informed that FAIR had been at the juvenile facility for two days prior to the start of his work week. He said FAIR refused all his meals for those two days. He said FAIR told Steward that he wanted to talk about his case and STEWARD said that he couldn't talk with him until he drank some water. STEWARD said FAIR then drank ten cups of water. STEWARD then said he told FAIR that he would talk with him after he ate his sack lunch. STEWARD said FAIR ate his sack lunch and requested additional sack lunches to eat.

STEWARD said "the majority of folks" (referring to his co-workers at the Juvenile Department) thought FAIR was "playing a game". He said he told his co-workers that FAIR couldn't fake these unusual behaviors for this long of a period. When asked what unusual behaviors he observed by FAIR, STEWARD said he saw FAIR place his clothes in the toilet of his cell and observed FAIR "messing with the towel hook, like it was a light switch".

STEWARD said he spent about five to six hours with FAIR on that first day of his work week. He said as the day went on, FAIR "would go in and out of normality" then back to "difficult and weird behaviors". He recalled FAIR having a visitation with his defense attorney when FAIR "snatched some papers" from the attorney and FAIR had to be removed from the visiting room. STEWARD said FAIR had admitted to him that he (FAIR) had smoked marijuana "all the time" and the last time was before FAIR was arrested. STEWARD said he was concerned that someone had "slipped him something", would he said would explain his unusual behaviors. STEWARD said that FAIR told him that he smoked some "weed" with the "guys caught up with the robbery" and said they kept them coming (referring to the marijuana joints). STEWARD said FAIR mentioned that he never saw anyone roll up the marijuana joints and said the marijuana joints were already rolled when given to him.

STEWARD said he knew FAIR'S Uncle and called him regarding his concern with FAIR. He said he asked the Uncle to have FAIR'S mother call him. He said FAIR'S mother and father did have a visitation with FAIR at the Juvenile Department and recalled FAIR'S father asking FAIR if he was "high?"

STEWARD recalled FAIR'S unusual behavior as "repeating things over and over again." He said FAIR had no disputes with the other juvenile custodies and added that FAIR "never came out of his room". STEWARD also said there was a time when FAIR told him that he couldn't leave his cell, because "some of the kids know my case". He said FAIR was scared to leave his cell.

STEWARD said that since he still has some contacts at the Parkrose High School, he checked with them and said FAIR was "fine in the halls" before the arrest (on the arrest date).

TRANSPORTATION FROM JDH TO MCDC (Deputy Barker's summary)

At about 1930 hours, BARKER was assigned to pick up an "out-of-control" youth who was seventeen years of age from JDH to MCDC. Deputy BARKER drove to JDH and had Deputy DeLUCA to assist him. Once at JDH, he used the voice box to notify staff members they were waiting for the inmate. About six minutes later, BARKER heard the inmate (FAIR) screaming from inside the JDH building (through two sally ports).

BARKER said six to eight JDH staff members exited the building with FAIR and FAIR was screaming, kicking, and thrashing his body around. BARKER's impression was FAIR was behaving this way for quite awhile, because some of the JDH staff members were perspiring and they appeared that they were about to drop him, because of fatigue.

BARKER assessed the situation and removed the cartridge from his Taser because any involvement with FAIR would be close range. BARKER had observed FAIR had leg restraints, therefore his hands were likely restrained too. FAIR was set to the ground at BARKER's feet.

BARKER and a JDH staff member helped FAIR to his feet. BARKER escorted FAIR to the jail van. About half-way to the van, FAIR kicked his feet out in front of him and tried to sit down on the ground. BARKER and his helper supported FAIR so he didn't fall to the ground. BARKER warned FAIR to "knock it off or he was going to get Tased". They were able to get FAIR back onto his feet and proceeded to walk toward the van.

When they were near the jail van, FAIR tried to drop to the ground a second time and BARKER moved behind FAIR. BARKER grabbed FAIR'S by both of his arms and tried lifting FAIR into the van. BARKER said he told FAIR to "knock it off", "get his ass in the van", and "I'm tired of this crap". BARKER said nobody was helping him at this time.

BARKER said FAIR decided to "just kind of fall into the van, but his legs were still out", so FAIR was only about half-way inside the van. FAIR fell onto his left shoulder between a padded seat and the cage.

BARKER said when FAIR fell into the van, he started to kick and brace and fight, trying to resist being put in the jail van. FAIR kicked BARKER in the groin at this point and BARKER said the kick "kind of took it out of me." BARKER then yelled at his partner (DeLUCA) to tase FAIR. BARKER struggled to control FAIR, without being kicked again and to prevent escape. BARKER realized his partner wasn't coming to assist him, so he wedged FAIR against the van by manipulating his body into a "L-shape" around the doorjamb.

BARKER said he drew his Taser and pointed it at FAIR's chest. BARKER warned FAIR that he was going to tase him. The light of the taser was pointed directly at FAIR's chest. FAIR looked at BARKER and his expression was blank; FAIR mumbled "I'm done. I'm done." FAIR stopped resisting but was unable to sit up and get into the van, because of the way his body was positioned.

BARKER re-holstered the Taser and helped FAIR scoot himself out of the van, so FAIR could cooperate and get into the van properly. FAIR got his feet to the ground, lowered his shoulder and pushed it into BARKER's chest, pushing BARKER back into the van. BARKER fell into the edge of the door and FAIR appeared to be trying to escape, so BARKER shoved him, causing him to trip and fall. FAIR fell onto this left upper shoulder area. BARKER approached FAIR and stepped on his leg chain to prevent FAIR from kicking up at him "or whatever he might try to do."

BARKER said he was still working without assistance. BARKER withdrew his Taser and spark-tested it, to let FAIR know the Taser was a serious threat. When he spark-tested the Taser, FAIR started yelling, screaming and flopping on the ground as if he was actually being tased. Members of the JDH staff were yelling at FAIR that he wasn't being tased and nobody was even touching him. FAIR opened his eyes, looked up at BARKER, and stopped moving but was cursing at BARKER. BARKER told FAIR to get his "fucking ass up and get in the van. I am tired of this." FAIR saw the taser light was still pointed at his chest and FAIR sighed and went limp again. BARKER re-holstered the Taser so he could help FAIR stand up.

One of the JDH staff members came forward to help BARKER stand FAIR up. They escorted FAIR about ten feet to the van. The JDH member went into the jail van and helped to pull FAIR inside. When they tried to get FAIR into the van, FAIR started pushing off the cage and resisted being placed in the van. They lost control of FAIR, but was three-quarters inside, between the seat and the cage. FAIR continued to kick at BARKER. The JDH staff member got out of the van and BARKER punched (focus blows) the back of FAIR's leg, four or five times, just above the knees. FAIR withdrew his legs and BARKER was able to control his feet long enough to push them in the van and close the door. FAIR was lying on his stomach, but propped at an angle so his right shoulder was off the floor.

There were approximately ten (10) JDH staff members who were present during this struggle and DeLUCA did not assist with the inmate transfer. BARKER said he didn't tase FAIR because FAIR stopped resisting and fighting every time the warning was issued. BARKER did not see any indications by FAIR's behavior that he was injured nor did he see any evidence of injury.

BARKER had DeLUCA drive back to MCDC from JDH and said the drive was uneventful.

TASING EVENT AT MCDC

(Sgt. Miller's summary – refer to individual reports for each Deputies account)

This started actually when I got a call from JDH, from a counselor at JDH, at about 6, 6:30, somewhere in that timeframe, called me and said they had an unruly juvenile over there who was a Measure 11, 17-years-old, and they wanted to know if we would house him. Our policy with them is that we would, we do in fact house them, so I informed him Yeah we can house him; he said fine, I didn't think anything of it, I thought maybe they were going to bring him over.

A short time later he called me back and told me that he, when he was moving him or some reason, opened the door or something, he rushed him and had some physical altercation with him; I said, Fine. At that point I didn't think anything of it. Then I don't know, maybe thirty minutes later I came up to the OIC's office and talked to Sergeant Phelps about it. At that time I found out that he had been in contact with the supervisor over there at JDH talking about the same subject, wanting to house him here.

He called Captain Ron Bishop who is the facility commander, talked to him, and I don't, their conversation I wasn't in on it, I was just you know, listening being in there, and he hung up the phone and said well we're not going to take him. Then he called back the supervisor over there, Sergeant Phelps did, and he wanted to talk to Captain Bishop; so he called Captain Bishop back and says, hey call this guy and talk to him. Captain Bishop hung up and about ten minutes later he calls back and I happened to pick up the phone because Sergeant Phelps was dealing with something else, and he said We're going to take him now and I want you to send the Transfer deputies to go pick him up. I can tell you I wasn't happy with that, but he's the Captain so we had to do it that way.

I still felt that they shouldn't be transported to us. So I contacted the Transfer deputies and told them that they needed to go to JDH and pick this juvenile up. I informed them that he was disruptive and that he had, obviously some form of assault, I'm not sure what happened with the counselor over there; they departed.

When they came back to the building they radioed over the radio that they were coming back, so when they did I went over to Transfer because I work in the basement, went over to Transfer to meet them when they got there. Deputy Barker at that time got out and told me he had been assaulted by him and told me that when they got there, the counselor over at IC carried him out and kind of dumped him out on the sally port there, and that while he was attempting to get him in the van there was an altercation with him and he had assaulted Deputy Barker, kicked him in the groin.

At that point I felt well, he hadn't been moved out of the van yet, so I said, okay, well let's make sure we have enough people, we'll just move him out of the van, move him to the counter. He was, he had belly chains on him and leg irons. We got him out of the van, and he was somewhat cooperative, helped him to the Booking counter, got him to the Booking counter, we're asking him questions, he didn't want to answer any questions, he was kind of like playing, I thought he was playing games, truthfully I thought he was playing games; he just, you try to ask him something he'd kind of turn his head, he would mumble a couple of things, and just not cooperative at all.

Tried to get the cuffs off and he kind of pulled away a little bit and twisted on him, and I said let's just take him to his cell, put him in a sub cell, and that's what we did, we carried him over to the sub cell, or assisted him to the sub cell, put him in the sub cell, removed the handcuffs and leg irons off him, which on hindsight I would never have done, had I known he was going to go out on a medical transport 20 minutes later. Once we got him in his cell, tried to talk to him, he just wouldn't talk to us, he was kind of playing hide-and-seek, kind of like a child that gets under the covers and thinks everyone is going to go away, you know, and just, that's what it sounded like.

I felt he was, I didn't see any, I didn't feel there were any mental issues, I felt he was just playing games with us, at that point Nurse Torey came up, Torey Marshall, I don't know if you talked to her yet, anyways she came up, tried to converse with him and he basically wouldn't say anything to her, just the same type of stuff, and so she said she would need to go call her supervisor and see what they were going to do. And apparently she had been in contact with Nurse Gunte at JDH and so she had some background on what was going on. Also I was told that he was, they had him on, he wasn't on suicide watch, he was on one-on-one officer observation, and I have no idea what that meant from JDH, so.

She talks to the on-call doctor, comes back to me a few minutes later and said the doctor wants him sent out to the hospital. Okay, we were, we all this time were trying to converse with him, there was a number of deputies trying to talk with him but he wouldn't do it, he just kept turning away or he'd act like he was going to talk to us, and then go over and move under the corner or pull his, he had his sweatshirt on, pull his sweatshirt up over his head, you know, I thought again he was playing with us, you know like a child would do. When I found out he was going to the hospital, I contacted our master control and had them send us Code-3 ambulance for him, which they did.

And in the meantime we're waiting for, again we were talking to him, Nurse Torey tried to talk with him, he just was again, the same way, just acted the same way. Deputy Quist was there, he's one of the transport deputies and he asked me, he said, Hey do you want me to hang around; and I knew he had been a member of SERT so I said, okay, I'll have him, you know, just in case we have any problems with this young man. And he kind of took the lead in trying to talk to him, um, trying to converse with him to see if we could make it easy on him, uh, the ambulance showed up, I pulled all the deputies involved aside and I said, Hey I don't want anybody to get hurt, I want two tasers there, two people with tasers, I said if any action at all on him if he tries to come at us, if he tries to fight with us or anything, I want him tased, it makes it much easier for us to deal with him if he's tased, you know, rather than us getting hurt or him getting hurt, so.

So Deputy Quist again took the lead, he opened the food port, was talking to him. At one point he backed up to the door, I thought he was going to let us handcuff him and then as we grabbed one hand he pulled away and went back over in the corner. Again I asked him, advised him, and ordered him to back up to the food port so we could handcuff him; he refused everything.

So I had everybody in place, so I said okay when we open the door, you take the lead, Quist to take the lead and go ahead and you know, so he opened the door, and this whole time I was standing right behind him, I was right there so it's not like I was anywhere else, I was right there; he opened the door and I think he had Deputy Barker to his right, and Deputy DeArmond and Glasser with the tasers were standing to my left.

As he opened the door, Kyeron turned and kind of like he was going to fight him or something, kind of moved towards him like he was going to move towards him to do something, at that point I advised Glasser and DeArmond to go ahead and tase him because I didn't want any problems with him; which they did. They cycled one time, he went down to his knees and just kind of fell to the floor, not hard, he didn't touch anything on the floor, I mean didn't hit anything as he went to the floor, he went to the floor gently on his own, at that point he had his arms underneath his body.

Deputies Barker and Quist, Quist was kind of standing over him, Barker was standing to his right, and Barker I think had his right arm and Quist was trying to pull the left arm out from underneath, which he refused, he was holding it and just kind of, I don't know if he had his hands together or whatever, they couldn't get his hands, so I advised them to cycle the taser one more time which they did.

At that point he gave up and put his arm, they got his arms behind his back and got him handcuffed, and then we also put leg irons on him, moved him to his feet, as he came out of the cell they took the probes out, pulled the probes of the taser out, we took him over to the gurney and assisted him onto the gurney, and they, he had the leg irons on, he was kind of shuffling his feet and they were kind of somewhat carrying him or assisting him, so.

MELANIE PARKER STATEMENT (Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner at MCDC)

PARKER is employed with Multnomah County as a Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner for three years. She said she first had contact with Kyeron FAIR on the 20th of September (Monday) in the morning hours. She said FAIR was in the 4D dorm at the Multnomah County Detention Center and she was told that FAIR was transferred here from the Juvenile Detention Center during the weekend because of behavioral issues.

PARKER said she had received a phone call from FAIR'S mother regarding her child. PARKER said she spoke with FAIR'S mother in the morning of September 20th and said his mother was angry and insistent that FAIR had medical problems and psychotic behaviors while at the Juvenile Department.

PARKER said after speaking with FAIR'S mother, she went to meet with FAIR in his cell. She said FAIR was naked and "hitting the wall" with the palm of his hand. She further said FAIR was "slapping the wall" and "hitting the medical call light" button. She said when she tried talking with FAIR, FAIR wouldn't engage with her.

PARKER said that she since she knew FAIR "could be aggressive" and since FAIR wouldn't back away from the cell door, she wasn't able to go in and examine him.

PARKER said she wanted to get a blood draw from FAIR and to check his vitals. She said she talked with other personnel at the Multnomah County Detention Center regarding the options of treating FAIR. She said she again spoke with FAIR'S mother and received a "release to treat" form signed by her regarding FAIR'S treatment. She said the final decision to start treating FAIR was to have CERT (Cell Extraction Response Team) enter the cell and secure FAIR to the restraint chair.

PARKER said she watched from outside the cell when CERT entered. She said CERT was able to get FAIR restrained into the cell with no use of force. She said she was then able to enter the cell and take blood from FAIR, to get his vital signs, and to start IV fluids (this occurred in the afternoon of September 20th, 2010).

PARKER said FAIR slept for a few hours that night and on Tuesday morning (September 21st, 2010) she received the lab results from the blood draw. The results indicated elevated liver enzymes and elevated white blood cells, which PARKER said can occur when the body is over producing palates. She said everything else appeared "okay". She said FAIR was transported to OHSU because of the lab results.

PARKER said she observed FAIR being taken from his cell to the Sheriff's Office vehicle. She said "Deputy Howard" was helping FAIR and said the two of them were engaged verbally and FAIR was "kinda" tracking the conversation.

PARKER said on Wednesday or Thursday (September 22nd or September 23rd), she went to OHSU to check on FAIR. She said FAIR was in a "four point restraint" and "appeared catatonic". She noted that after examining FAIR, there was a scratch on his shoulder (maybe right side), and a scratch on his elbow that appeared to have been healing. She also noted a "mild discoloration" on FAIR'S forehead, which she said was consistent with hitting his head on the wall or in the transport vehicle. PARKER said she checked and there appeared to be no abdominal injuries with FAIR. She said FAIR had been admitted to the Cardiac ICU because he had air in the chest cavity. She said this can occur because of several different reasons, to include blunt trauma injury, running to walls, or can occur spontaneously.

PARKER said none of these physical indicators would have caused the psychosis FAIR was experiencing. She said the psychosis appeared to be bi-polar with psychotic features and she had observed evidence of the mania. She said it appeared the first manic episode occurred at the Juvenile Department, which included him not being able to sleep. She said doctors at OHSU were giving FAIR anti-psychotic drugs, but in small dosages.

PARKER said she went back to OHSU on Friday (September 24th, 2010) and observed FAIR "actively fighting with the guards" even in his four-point restraints. Because of FAIR'S conditions and because she was an adult psychiatric nurse practitioner, her goal was not to have FAIR back at the Multnomah County Detention Center. She said since FAIR was considered a juvenile, there would have possibly been some ethical issues if she continued to treat FAIR.

PARKER said OHSU had a pediatric psychologist examine FAIR at OSHU (Dr. Rodney Reid). She said OHSU didn't want to keep FAIR at their hospital because he was a danger to their staff. She said the staff at OHSU was "more hands off" with FAIR because he was being "impulsive" and "lunging" at them. She said during her visits at OHSU, she would ask medical staff to bring her some towels so she and her assistant could give FAIR a "bed bath". She said she also noticed the handcuffs were "chaffing" FAIR'S wrist, so she used a bandage to help prevent the "chaffing".

PARKER said that since she wasn't able to treat FAIR at the jail and since OHSU didn't want him there; her priority was to find a facility suited for him. She said most juvenile facilities don't accept kids in restraints and the Deputies would not be allowed in the unit. She said these facilities required the juvenile to be out of restraints. She said a medical doctor associated with Trillium Children

Health Care happened to be at OHSU and was asked to evaluate FAIR for their center in Corvallis, Oregon.

PARKER said the medical doctor agreed to take FAIR to their facility and he was transferred soon after.

PARKER noted that the first time FAIR went to OHSU (the day FAIR was released from the Juvenile Department to the Multnomah County Detention Center), blood work was done and it was noted that he had an elevated white blood cell count and enzyme level. She said this could be stress related from being in jail. She said the second visit to OHSU (after she examined him on September 20th, 2010), the lab results showed a "gradual" increase level of the white blood cell count and enzyme level. She said she "couldn't rule out infection and liver issues" which is why he was transported back to OHSU. She said that FAIR'S mother thought FAIR was experiencing an electrolyte imbalance (from her conversation with FAIR'S mother in the morning of September 20th, 2010). She said the lab results indicated he was not having an imbalance of his electrolytes (which she said could be dangerous if he was).

When asked about the "gradual" increase in the white blood cell count and the enzymes level, PARKER said this doesn't mean there was further injuries sustained by FAIR. When asked about the elevated levels of the liver enzymes, the white blood cells, and the air in the chest cavity and the possible causes, PARKER said it was probably not caused by being tased, but could be caused by falling and hitting something or could be caused by the use of force during his custody.

PARKER said there were no signs of blunt force trauma other than the healing scratch on his elbow, the scratch on his shoulder, and the redness on his forehead. She said when she did an abdominal palpation on FAIR; there was no pain response, no bruising, no shortness of breath, and no cracked ribs.

PARKER said while at the hospital, she was able to rule out infection and said the elevated white blood cell count was probably due to the stress of being in custody. She said FAIR did have an infection while at OHSU (on the second visit) because the medical staff left the catheter in too long. She said the Deputies that were guarding him at OHSU noticed that FAIR had a fever and notified hospital staff. The fever was because of the infection with the catheter.

PARKER said the air in the chest cavity could have been self-induced. She said with information she heard about FAIR "slamming into the wall", this could have caused the air. She said she wasn't sure who she heard that FAIR was slamming himself into the wall. She also said this could have occurred before he was taken into custody (from playing basketball or getting into a fight, etc.). She said the air in the chest cavity most likely migrated to his head, which is why OHSU found air in his head.

PARKER also mentioned that she found no physical signs of trauma from physical use by staff at the Multnomah County Detention Center. She said Deputies had to be in FAIR'S jail cell three times (after she started seeing FAIR on Monday morning – September 20th, 2010) and said she was there each time observing the contact with FAIR by the Deputies. She said FAIR did not appear medically injured when he left to OHSU on the second visit and said she was surprised that there was air in his chest cavity.

PARKER concluded that the mental state of FAIR is separate to the internal medical results.

MEDICAL REPORTS FROM OHSU/MULTNOMAH COUNTY CORRECTIONS HEALTH:

After the interview, Kelli JARRELL signed a release of information for Kyeron FAIR'S medical records from MCDC Corrections Health, JDH Corrections Health, and OHSU. Subpoenas were also authorized to obtain these same medical records. The medical records were reviewed by OSP Detective Scott Sudaisar (who also spoke with a doctor at OHSU) and wrote the following regarding the medical condition for FAIR (taken from his report):

Dr. Cloutier & Dr. Vantighem – OHSU (09/17/2010 at 1154 hours)

MCDC Nurse Tori reported FAIR had refused to eat for 24 hours at JDH. FAIR was transported to OHSU by EMS. FAIR was tazed twice by jail deputies, due to unwillingness to get onto the medical stretcher and erratic behavior. FAIR had been exhibiting suicidal and erratic behavior. Nurse Tori requested an examination for medical work-up versus behavior.

Upon presentation at OHSU-ED, FAIR was screaming, mumbling unrecognizable sounds, not oriented and in 4-point restraints. FAIR had been in MCDC custody for only a few hours today, after being transferred from JDH because the juvenile system was unable to maintain his care.

FAIR has been on a three (3) day food and water strike. FAIR'S mother had told the jail's medical staff that her son's behaviors prior to incarceration were "normal". FAIR had tied something around his neck, and had refused to remove it, earlier in the day.

Project Respond had been consulted earlier and they recommended FAIR be evaluated at OHSU to determine if this was a medical or psychiatric situation.

FAIR was given sedatives to calm down. Efforts to assess FAIR at the time of his arrival were unsuccessful. Plans were made to evaluate FAIR after he calmed down and the lab results were back; if all medical work up appeared to be in the normal range, then Social Workers and Child Psychiatry would likely be involved to determine if FAIR'S symptoms were behavioral or psychiatric.

Dr. Cloutier – OHSU (09/17/2010 at 2355 hours)

Dr. Cloutier performed and confirmed the key portions of this service. He reviewed all nursing notes, vital signs and diagnostic test results. He agreed with the documentation findings and plan of care.

Clinical impression – agitation likely behavioral

Disposition – Patient likely to be discharged to police custody in stable condition with plans to follow-up with inmate behavior. All indications for emergent re-evaluation discussed with patient prior to dc and she expressed understanding.

LAB RESULTS (09/18/2010)

Lab results available at 3:25am, drug screen – urine: Positive for cannabinoids

Dr. Gary Nesbitt – OHSU (09/21/2010)

CT head without contrast collected at 18:04. Findings are normal, with the exception of extensive air in the subcutaneous spaces of the face and parapharyngeal regions, greater on the left, with no evidence for fracture of the skull to account for this. This source must be lower in the neck or chest. The subcutaneous air in the face is greater on the left side than the right side.

US Abdomen Limited: right upper quadrant was examined by Radiology because of elevated liver enzymes. Nothing remarkable found.

CXR and CT (09/21/2010) – Reviewed by Dr. Kelli Schmitz

X-Ray Chest 2 View was ordered on 09/21, the results were provided on 09/22 at 8:42 am. Findings were a focal consolidation noted in the lower left lobe; pneumomediastinum is present, with air tracking into the soft tissues of the lower neck; no pneumothorax is seen; the aortic arch and gastric bubble are left-sided. Impression: Pneumomediastinum. No pneumothorax seen. Focal left lower lobe consolidation may be due to atelectasis or pneumonia.

CT Chest, Abdomen & Pelvis with IV Contract Exam (Dr. Hopkins, Dr. Thomas & Dr. Burke)

Findings – Extensive pneumomediastinum with gas extending from mediastinum into the neck, anterior chest wall, axillae, and upper left retroperitoneum. No definable defect in trachea or esophagus. No pneumothorax. Small blebs versus interstitial gas in posterior right upper lobe. Small amount of interstitial gas in left lung. Otherwise, clear lungs. Normal appearance of heart and great vessels. No pleural or pericardial effusion.

Abdomen – Focal hepatic steatosis adjacent to the fissure for ligamentum teres; liver otherwise unremarkable. Pancreas, spleen, kidneys, adrenal glands, and bowel are unremarkable. An appendicolith is noted with periappendiceal inflammation.

Pelvis – Unremarkable. No free air or fluid. Chronic-appearing nondisplaced fracture of right L1 transverse process. No acute osseous abnormality.

Impressions – Pneumomediastinum, likely related to ruptured alveolus. Tracheal or esophageal injury is not excluded by this examination, though none is seen. No acute abnormality in the abdomen or pelvis.

Dr. Katrina Leone – OHSU (09/21/2010 at 1903 hours)

FAIR was sent to OHSU-ED today because he had continual outbursts of agitation that required multiple officers to restrain him, or tazing. The MCDC medical staff is concerned because FAIR has been difficult to care for and they were concerned he would harm himself during these outbursts. Lab work done at the jail showed elevated white blood cell count and transaminitis.

Dr. Charles Phillips – OHSU (09/22/2010)

Assessment and Plan – Altered MS-agitated-given benzos here in ICU now obtunded. CT head negative. UDS negative except for marijuana. Not academic – he's been isolated in custody, but he has elevated LFT's in pattern of alcohol. Pneumomediastinum – unclear history, recent trauma is possibility with extreme violent behavior but no fx ribs or sternum he does c/o tenderness on upper sternum.

Dr. Jon Boyum, Dr. Paul Schipper & Dr. Christopher Burke – OHSU (09/22/2010)

The head CT revealed subcutaneous air. This led to a CT of the chest, abdomen/pelvis which showed pneumomediastinum w/o an obvious source. FAIR was unable to give a history and there were no known trauma or ingestion. FAIR would not answer questions.

No obvious external sign of trauma. Subcutaneous air over his chest and base of the neck. Respiration and cardiovascular are good, regular.

FAIR was recently tazered. Pneumomediastinum of uncertain etiology.

Dr. Paul Schipper – OHSU (09/22/2010)

Impression – Pneumomediastinum. Most likely diagnosis is spontaneous primary pneumomediastinum from ruptured aleoi/baro trauma. Cannot rule out esophageal perforation and would recommend obtaining swallow study. FAIR was unable to cooperate with swallow study at the time.

Dr. Ogheneteg Badidi – OHSU (09/22/2010)

Assessment and Plan – FAIR presents with AMS following incarceration. FAIR has pneumomediastinum, air in soft tissues of face, elevated LFT's, benign CSF analysis.

several days including disorganized speech and behavior, paranoid delusions, flat affect, and responding to internal stimuli.

Using the Bush-Francis Catatonia Rating Scale the patient currently scores at 21.

Although FAIR has several medical issues including pneumomediastinum, air in the soft tissues of the face, elevated LFT's and elevated CPK levels, most of those problems can be attributed to recent physical trauma suffered while in jail. It is highly unlikely FAIR'S bizarre behavior is secondary to a primary medical problem.

It is unclear if this psychotic episode was precipitated by an ingestion or use of illicit substances. Methamphetamine is only positive in the urine for 3-5 days and may not have been detected. FAIR'S presentation is less consistent with delirium in that his mental status has not waxed and waned with moments of lucid interactions.

Dr. Andrea Moore – OHSU (09/24/2010)

Dr. Moore was called by the ICU resident because FAIR was alert, psychotic and combative. FAIR had been calmed in the evening with Ativan, but the second dose had little effect.

It appears FAIR has a psychic illness that is not fully diagnosable at this point.

Dr. Ogheneteg Badidi – OHSU (09/27/2010)

Assessment and Plan – AMS following incarceration. Pneumomediastinum, air in soft tissues of face, elevated LFT's, CPK benign CSF analysis. CPK trend down. Pediatrician Psychiatrists think this is first break psychosis.

GI – Elevated LFT's: Etiology of this is unknown. No history of ingestion of toxic substances. AST>ALT suggesting alcoholic pattern; however, parents deny history of alcohol use/abuse. FAIR'S development of fevers and tachycardia are raising concerns of neuroleptic malignant syndrome (NMS); however, he does not demonstrate rigidity. Risperdal was given to FAIR at MCDC, which can cause increased LFT's. Will stop monitoring LFT's as it appears levels are undulating with no clear pattern.

1. Psychotic disorder – possibilities are acute primary psychotic disorder with catatonic features, possibly bipolar I with psychotic/catatonic features, or schizophreniform disorder.
2. Pneumomediastinum – likely secondary to barotraumas. Ideally would obtain swallow study to rule out esophageal perforation, but patient unlikely to cooperate with evaluation, currently. CT scan w/o esophageal trauma.
3. Elevated liver enzymes – liver enzymes trending downward since admission. Likely attributed to muscle injury 2/2 to trauma, as evidence by elevated CK. CK has been downtrending since admission. Risperidone can be associated with elevated liver enzymes and drug induced cholestasis. Still under analysis.
4. Fever – recorded x3 on 09/22, was associated with tachycardia. Thought to be due to infection; however, blood cultures were coagulase negative staph, likely contamination. There was initial concern for NMS, but psychiatry notes indicate this is not suspected due to absence of rigidity and continued downward trend of CPK.

Interview with Dr. Cloutier (10/13/2010)

Dr. Cloutier said that FAIR's AMS was probably naturally occurring, and added stressors of arrest and incarceration complicated the matter (however this is speculation since Dr. Cloutier is not a pediatric psychiatrist).

Dr. Cloutier did not observe any evidence of physical injuries on FAIR. FAIR did not make any complaint of physical discomfort. There was nothing to suggest FAIR had experienced any physical injury on September 17th -18th.

Dr. Cloutier said FAIR'S AMS was probably not caused by staff at JDH or the Jail and FAIR'S pneumomediastinum could have been caused by any number of things; it is unclear what caused it.

CONCLUSION:

1. A household in NE Portland called police to report they were robbed at gunpoint by three black males. One of the black males had a tattoo on his right forearm that read "K RON". The complainants called police on August 23rd, 2010 at 1523 and said the crime occurred at 1515 hours. The complainants said the suspects robbed the victims of their medical marijuana.

2. PPB Robbery Detective Hollins was assigned the case. On September 13th, 2010 at about 0912 hours, FAIR was arrested at Parkrose High School and transported to the 13th flood Central Precinct for an interview. FAIR was charged with Robbery I with a Firearm and transported to JDH.
3. FAIR is seen entering the booking area of JDH on September 13th, 2010 at about 1615 hours. FAIR is seen walking towards the exit door, through the metal detector (setting off the detector) and attempting to leave the building. Because of the security measures in place, the door would not open. No use of force was seen in the video or reported on any police reports during the booking process.
4. The first two days at JDH, FAIR refused to eat any of his meals and he was isolated in his cell. FAIR was seen by Project Response on September 16th at JDH and their recommendation was that the youth be hospitalized, however they expressed concern that he would likely injure himself if placed in shackles and handcuffs. FAIR was on 1:1 watch.
5. BACHMAN reported to JDH medical staff on September 17th, 2010 that youth was seen by YMD (hired by FAIR's attorney) who deemed that FAIR didn't need to be hospitalized.
6. FAIR was transferred on September 17th, 2010 from JDH to MCDC. During the transfer, FAIR struggled with staff, causing injury to Deputy BARKER.
7. FAIR was booked into MCDC and shortly after arriving, placed in an isolation cell. Staff determined that FAIR needed to be seen at OHSU. During the process of getting FAIR out of the cell, he was tased by two different MCSO Deputies.
8. FAIR was seen by doctors at OHSU on September 17th, 2010. The clinical impression of FAIR was "agitation likely behavioral". Urine lab test showed positive for marijuana. FAIR was released back to MCDC.
9. While back at MCDC, FAIR was being evaluated by Melanie Parker, who is the Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner at MCDC. Blood work was done and it was noted that FAIR had an elevated white blood cell count and enzyme level.
10. FAIR was transported again to OHSU on September 21st, 2010 since more lab results showed a "gradual" increase level of the white blood cell counts and enzyme level. He was taken back to OHSU because she "couldn't rule out infection and liver issues". When asked about the "gradual" increase in the white blood cell count and the enzymes level, PARKER said this doesn't mean there was further injuries sustained by FAIR. When asked about the elevated levels of the liver enzymes, the white blood cells, and the air in the chest cavity and the possible causes, PARKER said it was probably not caused by being tased, but could be caused by falling and hitting something or could be caused by the use of force during his custody.

11. PARKER said there were no signs of blunt force trauma other than the healing scratch on his elbow, the scratch on his shoulder, and the redness on his forehead. She said when she did an abdominal palpation on FAIR; there was no pain response, no bruising, no shortness of breath, and no cracked ribs.
12. PARKER said while at the hospital, she was able to rule out infection and said the elevated white blood cell count was probably due to the stress of being in custody. She said FAIR did have an infection while at OHSU (on the second visit) because the medical staff left the catheter in too long. She said the Deputies that were guarding him at OHSU noticed that FAIR had a fever and notified hospital staff. The fever was because of the infection with the catheter.
13. PARKER said the air in the chest cavity could have been self-induced. She said with information she heard about FAIR "slamming into the wall", this could have caused the air. She said she wasn't sure who she heard that FAIR was slamming himself into the wall. She also said this could have occurred before he was taken into custody (from playing basketball or getting into a fight, etc.). She said the air in the chest cavity most likely migrated to his head, which is why OHSU found air in his head.
14. PARKER also mentioned that she found no physical signs of trauma from physical use by staff at the Multnomah County Detention Center. She said Deputies had to be in FAIR'S jail cell three times (after she started seeing FAIR on Monday morning - September 20th, 2010) and said she was there each time observing the contact with FAIR by the Deputies. She said FAIR did not appear medically injured when he left to OHSU on the second visit and said she was surprised that there was air in his chest cavity.
15. PARKER concluded that the mental state of FAIR is separate to the internal medical results.

16. While FAIR was at OHSU for the second visit, the following was reported by medical personnel:

- a. Psychotic disorder – possibilities are acute primary psychotic disorder with catatonic features, possibly bipolar I with psychotic/catatonic features, or schizophreniform disorder.
- b. Pneumomediastinum – likely secondary to barotraumas. Ideally would obtain swallow study to rule out esophageal perforation, but patient unlikely to cooperate with evaluation, currently. CT scan w/o esophageal trauma.
- c. Elevated liver enzymes – liver enzymes trending downward since admission. Likely attributed to muscle injury 2/2 to trauma, as evidence by elevated CK. CK has been downtrending since admission. Risperidone can be associated with elevated liver enzymes and drug induced cholestasis. Still under analysis.
- d. Fever – recorded x3 on 09/22, was associated with tachycardia. Thought to be due to infection; however, blood cultures were coagulase negative staph, likely contamination. There was initial concern for NMS, but psychiatry notes indicate this is not suspected due to absence of rigidity and continued downward trend of CPK.

17. During an interview with Dr. Cloutier (OHSU – medical doctor who treated FAIR), he made the following comments:

- a. Dr. Cloutier said that FAIR's AMS was probably naturally occurring, and added stressors of arrest and incarceration complicated the matter (however this is speculation since Dr. Cloutier is not a pediatric psychiatrist).
- b. Dr. Cloutier did not observe any evidence of physical injuries on FAIR. FAIR did not make any complaint of physical discomfort. There was nothing to suggest FAIR had experienced any physical injury on September 17th -18th.
- c. Dr. Cloutier said FAIR'S AMS was probably not caused by staff at JDH or the Jail and FAIR'S pneumomediastinum could have been caused by any number of things; it is unclear what caused it.

18. During an interview with FAIR, he told us he has been able to remember some things, but not much, about his time in JDH. FAIR told us that he doesn't remember being in adult jail. He said he recalls a little bit from his OHSU visit. Regarding OHSU, FAIR recalls "Officer Bunker" had pounded on his chest and slapped him several times on his forehead, asking "are you stupid?" FAIR told us this happened while he was in a hospital bed and he had pulled his IV out of his arm, with his teeth.

19. FAIR told us he was trying to escape his hospital bed to "save my brother." He said "Sheriff Bunker" told him to "spit that thing out (the IV)" and he gave it to the nurse (unclear if it was Deputy Bunker or FAIR). FAIR remembered he was handcuffed when Officer Bunker pounded on his chest and he remembered calling the nurse for help. FAIR said he and the officers were watching the television show "Glee" when this happened. FAIR said he didn't want to watch "Glee" and asked the officers if they could watch football instead; the New England Patriots were playing the Miami Dolphins at PSU in Portland.

FAIR'S mother is concerned that FAIR was possibly assaulted by jail staff, which caused internal injuries, which in turn caused psychotic behaviors with FAIR. I was requested to work with OSP Detective Sudaisar to obtain jail and medical records and to conduct any follow-up interviews.

During the course of the investigation, Detective Sudaisar and I spoke with an employee at the Multnomah Juvenile Detention Center by the name of Anthony STEWARD. It should be noted that STEWARD had also coached FAIR two years ago while at Parkrose High School. STEWARD was interviewed on October 15th, 2010 at about 1054 hours at the Multnomah County Juvenile Detention Center – refer to STATEMENTS section of this report for his statement.

STATEMENTS:

STEWARD, Anthony R. – 01/24/1968. Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar and I interviewed Anthony Steward in a vacant office at the Multnomah County Juvenile Department (1401 NE 68th Avenue in Portland, Oregon). The interview took place on October 15th, 2010 at about 1054 hours.

Anthony STEWARD said he is employed with the Juvenile Department as a Custody Service Specialist. He said he has been employed with the Juvenile Department for fifteen years. STEWARD also said he has coached basketball for Parkrose High School and said he coached FAIR when FAIR was in the 9th and 10th grade (2007 through 2008).

STEWARD said he knows the FAIR family "well" and described FAIR as an honor student who was good in class, but did have some "behavioral stuff". He said FAIR was a "low energy kid" who had associated with gang members. He said he thought the associated gang members were the "60s". He said he recalled "Darius Tarver" as someone that associated with.

STEWARD said when he started his work week; he was informed by his co-workers that there was a "kid" at the juvenile department "who is cuckoo". He said he was told that this "kid" couldn't orient himself. He was also told that the staff felt this person was "playing a game".

STEWARD said after finding out that FAIR was the person with the behavioral issues; he said he went to talk with him since he knew him well from coaching him years earlier. He said he went into the cell where FAIR was located and said introduced himself as "Coach Steward". He said FAIR said, "Who are you?" He said FAIR then said, "You're my Dad."

STEWARD said he was informed that FAIR had been at the juvenile facility for two days prior to the start of his work week. He said FAIR refused all his meals for those two days. He said FAIR told

Steward that he wanted to talk about his case and STEWARD said that he couldn't talk with him until he drank some water. STEWARD said FAIR then drank ten cups of water. STEWARD then said he told FAIR that he would talk with him after he ate his sack lunch. STEWARD said FAIR ate his sack lunch and requested additional sack lunches to eat.

STEWARD said "the majority of folks" (referring to his co-workers at the Juvenile Department) thought FAIR was "playing a game". He said he told his co-workers that FAIR couldn't fake these unusual behaviors for this long of a period. When asked what unusual behaviors he observed by FAIR, STEWARD said he saw FAIR place his clothes in the toilet of his cell and observed FAIR "messaging with the towel hook, like it was a light switch".

STEWARD said he spent about five to six hours with FAIR on that first day of his work week. He said as the day went on, FAIR "would go in and out of normality" then back to "difficult and weird behaviors". He recalled FAIR having a visitation with his defense attorney when FAIR "snatched some papers" from the attorney and FAIR had to be removed from the visiting room.

STEWARD said FAIR had admitted to him that he (FAIR) had smoked marijuana "all the time" and the last time was before FAIR was arrested. STEWARD said he was concerned that someone had "slipped him something", would he said would explain his unusual behaviors. STEWARD said that FAIR told him that he smoked some "weed" with the "guys caught up with the robbery" and said they kept them coming (referring to the marijuana joints). STEWARD said FAIR mentioned that he never saw anyone roll up the marijuana joints and said the marijuana joints were already rolled when given to him.

STEWARD said he knew FAIR'S Uncle and called him regarding his concern with FAIR. He said he asked the Uncle to have FAIR'S mother call him. He said FAIR'S mother and father did have a visitation with FAIR at the Juvenile Department and recalled FAIR'S father asking FAIR if he was "high?"

STEWARD recalled FAIR'S unusual behavior as "repeating things over and over again." He said FAIR had no disputes with the other juvenile custodies and added that FAIR "never came out of his room". STEWARD also said there was a time when FAIR told him that he couldn't leave his cell, because "some of the kids know my case". He said FAIR was scared to leave his cell.

STEWARD said that since he still has some contacts at the Parkrose High School, he checked with them and said FAIR was "fine in the halls" before the arrest (on the arrest date).

Since STEWARD had a long history of dealing with juveniles, I asked him if he had ever seen a child act like this while in the Juvenile Detention Center and STEWARD said he hadn't. He said he did recall seeing someone act similar to FAIR while he was attending college. He said he saw a college football player with similar behaviors after using "acid".

STEWARD said he heard that "deputies tased" FAIR in the parking lot of the Juvenile Detention Center during the transport from JDH to MCDC.

At the end of the interview, STEWARD said he last saw FAIR (prior to his custody) in the beginning of June (2010). He said he saw FAIR walking down the street with some friends. He said he has had little contact with FAIR in the last eight to twelve months.

(LAW ENFORCEMENT) Detective Scott Sudaisar – DPSST #35372
 Oregon State Police

ACTION TAKEN:

On October 14th, 2010 at about 1341 hours, Detective Sudaisar and I interviewed Kyeron FAIR'S mother, identified as Kelli JARRELL. The interview took place at the law office of Greg Kafoury (320 SW Stark Street #202 in Portland, Oregon). Also present was FAIR'S attorney, Greg KAFOURY. The interview was audio recorded – attached is the transcript of the interview.

Prior to the interview with JARRELL, Detective Sudaisar and I met privately with Greg KAFOURY. When KAFOURY found out that I was employed by the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office, he was concerned that this investigation would not be impartial due to my employment. After informing KAFOURY that this would be an impartial investigation and that I was working as "co-lead" with Oregon State Police Detective Sudaisar, we were able to continue with our objective of speaking with JARRELL.

During the interview, JARRELL talked in specifics about her attempting to locate her son, FAIR, after he was arrested at Parkrose High School for armed robbery. She also spoke about her difficulties in obtaining information on her son while he was in custody at the Multnomah County Juvenile Detention Center and then at the Multnomah County Detention Center. She said prior to FAIR'S arrest, FAIR was a normal child that didn't display any mental health behaviors.

The following is a summary of the statements made by JARRELL:

- FAIR was arrested at Parkrose High School between 0930 hours to 1000 hours on September 13th by Detective Hollins (of the Portland Police Bureau). FAIR is a senior at the High School.
- Detective Hollins talked with JARRELL at about 1445 hours (091310) regarding the armed robbery arrest (on the 13th floor of the Portland Police Bureau – Central Office)
- At about 2116 hours (091310), JARRELL received a phone call from Mr. Lincoln at JDH telling her that "Kyeron was amp'd up and that he was told that he didn't get to call me when he was arrested so he was allowing him to give me a call because he was amp'd up, and so I got on the phone." She said when she spoke with FAIR, FAIR was "a little edgy".
- On September 14th, JARRELL was told that she could have a visitation with FAIR (after his arraignment). She said while waiting for the visitation, "Michael Spencer and I believe the same Mr. Lincoln" came to them and said, "Oh he's f'd up he's real emotional we don't know if we're gonna let you visit because he's kind of emotional."
- JARRELL insisted on seeing FAIR, hoping that will get help with his behavior. She said when FAIR came into the room, he was "...paranoid, scared, didn't want to, didn't want to talk about people were listening to him; made his dad read the sign where it says 'we cannot hear your conversation, push a button if you need service'."
- JARRELL said on September 15th, 2010 FAIR'S basketball coach from Parkrose (who said she was also employed as one of the counselors at the juvenile facility) went to give FAIR food and FAIR didn't recognize him and he kept trying to get FAIR to remember him. She said FAIR told the coach (identified as Anthony STEWARD) he didn't want the food, that "there was something in the food."
- JARRELL said she started communicating with the staff at JDH asking them to "start watching him (FAIR) because he hadn't eaten, he hadn't slept, and he was showing signs of a mental problem, a chemical imbalance mentally is what I explained to them, because I work in the medical field so I know the signs..."

- JARRELL said she had another visitation with FAIR that night (possibly September 15th, 2010) and noted that FAIR was "very clammy, his hands clammy, um, shaking, not holding a decent conversation." JARRELL said earlier that day, Mr. Lincoln from JDH told her that FAIR was not cognizant, not able to follow simple directions, and that he was not speaking in complete thoughts with thought process."
- JARRELL said she met with Izzy (counselor) and Ann Smith (mental health care coordinator) who "expressed a concern with his mental condition..."
- On September 16th, 2010 JARRELL said she called FAIR'S doctor to cancel his appointment because he was "just reestablishing himself. She said she later spoke with a nurse again who said she was speaking with her manager about getting FAIR transferred out "because she was becoming more concerned with him and his medical condition..."
- JARRELL said after speaking with the nurse, she called FAIR'S defense attorney and asked that he check in on him. She said when FAIR'S attorney met with him, FAIR was "very scared". She said they "finally got me on the phone and Kyeron was in the background screaming, I can't have an attorney they made me sign a paper saying I couldn't have an attorney, you can't have an attorney..." She said FAIR told her on the phone, "this is not my mom, this is not my mom" and threw the phone down. JARRELL said, "And then I heard the attorney say 'no Kyeron, you can't have those papers, you have your own' and I heard the counselor saying, 'K sit down, sit down Kyeron sit down'."
- JARRELL said on September 17th, she was in the building at JDH when Eric Johnson (a clinical psychologist) observed FAIR for an evaluation. She said during this event, Steve Walker approached her and told her FAIR "was doing fine, he went through the interview, he's fine, he's fine." She said she found that hard to believe. She said she went back to work, then to her house.
- She said at about 1810 hours (091710), "I got a call from Craig, one of the counselors, stating that Kyeron had put a pillowcase around his neck and it was loose, he wasn't trying to hurt himself, but when they had entered the room, Kyeron yelled something and ran towards them, and that they had to notify me because they had to hold him, they had to hold him back, and that I would receive a written report of the incident because they had to physically touch him but at this point in time they had determined that his mental health needs were beyond their ability to care for him and they were sending him to the Justice Center."

- On September 18th, 2010 JARRELL said she called to check on FAIR and was told that he was in the hospital. She said she was told that FAIR went to Doernbecher Hospital. She said FAIR was transferred back to the Multnomah County Detention Center to the medical ward. She said she spoke with "Brinn", who was the weekend nurse that was observing FAIR, who said FAIR was "very, very scared." JARRELL said FAIR became "accelerated, nervous, scared, um, wouldn't, wouldn't do anything, wouldn't let 'em in the room, she wasn't able to physically examine him because I guess he would keep his face to the window and she was only able to see, basically he wasn't dehydrated from his eyes, his tongue and stuff, she said but he would keep his face and they would be instructing him to move I guess to the back of the cell and then go to the box that's located in the left of the cell, then they know that she could enter safely but she was unable to do that because the behavior that he had with the trauma, with the guards around, he wouldn't, he wasn't complying, so they kept him, they just kept a close eye on him..."
- JARRELL said on September 20th she called Melanie Parker (who is the mental health nurse practitioner) "first thing in the morning, she was glad that I called, she was trying to get me to sign a consent, him to sign a consent so that she could release information because I wanted to know what was going on with him, and so um, she had a hard time doing that and he kept screaming, They made me sign a paper; just that same old repetitive, they made me sign a paper, I can't do it, I can't do it, I can't do it. She was able to get him to sign the paper. She said that she was using some of the most gentle guards that she knew to be employed within that facility in contact with Kyeron. She stated also that she did not work as an employee of the detention center and she was a totally separate entity and she was having problems with Kyeron being able to identify her as a separate person from the Correctional officers."
- JARRELL said the medical staff at the Multnomah County Detention Center was able to draw blood from FAIR to see what was going on internally with FAIR. She said she was told that FAIR was sent to the hospital and was told "he had an elevated white blood cell count which means he had an infection in his system..." She said this conversation was on Monday, September 20th.
- JARRELL said FAIR had court on September 21st and she was concerned he would miss it. She said FAIR'S attorney requested a set-over (on 092110) and informed JARRELL "...looks like about eight of the charges have dropped off, um, to my understanding it was bad for your son during the interrogation but I haven't gotten the DVD because no true bill has come down..."

- JARRELL said FAIR'S father received a phone call from "Melody" (a nurse at the jail) telling him that FAIR was in the Cardiac ICU Unit at OHSU. She also asked his father if FAIR had ever had any blunt force or trauma injury to his liver and his father told her he hadn't.
- JARRELL said she went to OHSU to visit FAIR. She said FAIR "...was like in a cationic state, he didn't recognize his dad when he first came in, a tear came down, um, it was just horrible. He was chained to the bed and they had all the machines going and um that's, we got to visit with him; then we talked with the nurse, Sena, who said she's never seen a child, she's never seen anybody so scared in all their life, in all her life, she explained his, at that time about the infection in the liver, and then some other doctors came down, you know, it's a learning institution so there were a lot, the doctors came and asked us questions about drinking and stuff, which he don't drink, you know, none of that; went home, probably, I called every day to see how he was doing. He ran a fever that night, um, they were still administering the antibiotics for the liver infection..."
- JARRELL said she was informed by medical staff at OHSU that FAIR had "muscle breakdown" and also FAIR had had air in his chest. She said she asked the medical staff about the air in FAIR'S chest and they told her they "ruled out all the medical things because I'm in the medical field, um, you only get that if you have a collapsed lung or a punctured lung, or if you have COPD, that's a primary, air in your lung; the next one is gunshot, knife wound, trauma or auto accident. So we ruled out the first primary, the secondary we know there are no guns in JDH, we know there's no knives, we know there's no cars, so the only thing would have been trauma to the chest, and then we found out later he had, they did some other kind of, I don't know if it was a brain scan that there was air pockets in his face, uh, and we come to find this out by every time you talk to a different doctor, a different thing, a different illness, a different injury, then we come to find out that he was actually brought to Cardiac ICU for breathing; he was, I don't know if he was unable to catch his breath, I don't know if his heart stopped, we don't know, but he was in cardiac ICU, he just wasn't in ICU, and from there it just became a nightmare."
- JARRELL said after FAIR was released from OHSU, he was sent to Trillium in Corvallis, a facility that is able to treat FAIR.

The conclusion of the interview (off recording), JARRELL commented that she observed a scab on FAIR'S right shin (three or four inch in length) and scratches along his back side. She also said when FAIR would talk with her; FAIR would rock back and forth.

After the interview, Detective Sudaisar and I walked out of the building together with JARRELL and walked on SW Stark Street for about a half of block. While walking together, JARRELL continued talking with us about her children, to include specific information about her other son who is recovering from a broken leg (he was a quarterback for his high school). At no time, did it appear that JARRELL felt any tension or apprehension with us, specifically myself for being employed with the Sheriff's Office. It should also be noted that JARRELL spoke highly of several other deputies of the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office.

SS: OSP Detective Scott Sudaisar
JE: MCSO Detective James Eriksen, DPSST 28931
KJ: Kelli Jarrell (mother of Kyeron Jarel Fair)
GK: Attorney Greg Kafoury

SS: This is Detective Scott Sudaisar from the Oregon State Police, I am with Detective James Eriksen from the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office; we're in a conference room at attorney Greg Kafoury's office at 320 SW Stark Street, Suite 202. Mr. Kafoury is present and also his client, I'm going to read your name and if I'm wrong please tell me, it's Kelli K-E-L-L-I Jarrell -

KJ: Jarrell.

SS: J-A-R-R-E-L-L, and your birth date is November 17, 1964, is that correct?

KJ: That is correct.

SS: What is your home address and your phone number Ma'am.

KJ: My home address is 4025 NE Roselawn, one word, R-O-S-E-L-A-W-N, Portland, Oregon 97211. My home phone number is 503-252-3321.

SS: Okay. And you are the mother of Kyeron -

KJ: Kyeron Fair.

SS: Kyeron Fair. How do you spell Kyeron?

KJ: K-Y-E-R-O-N.

KJ: Is his middle name the same as your last name, Jarrell?

KJ: Yes, with one 'L'.

SS: Oh one 'L', J-A-R-R-E-L.

KJ: Yes.

SS: Fair, is that spelled F-A-I-R?

KJ: Yes it is.

SS: What is his birth date Ma'am?

KJ: July 29, 1993.

SS: Okay. Can you just tell us about how all this has ensued beginning with the arrest and how you learned about it, up to this point where we're meeting with you.

KJ: Okay, um, September 13th my son went to school, Parkrose High School, where he's a senior; between 9:30, 10 o'clock, a Detective Hollins came to the school, spoke with the principal regarding taking Kyeron into custody, and I learned that part through the school, but I received a call from my daughter who received a call from Kyeron's best friend who said Kyeron was arrested. At that point I called his dad, then I left work, I called the non-emergency number to try to locate where my son was being held at and to instruct them that I wanted him to have an attorney or that I wanted a parent present. I was then told that I would need to speak with Dispatch to find out where he was taken because the non-emergency number did not have that information. En route to the Northeast Precinct I assumed he was going to the Northeast Precinct, I called Dispatch; Dispatch said he was taken from Parkrose by the Detectives but they did not have the location of where he was taken to. Getting to Northeast Precinct, I asked if my son was there, they said No. I asked did they know where he was and gave his name, they said No, which would be the two front receptionists. At that time I requested to speak with the supervisor because I was not getting any answer; the supervisor came out, I gave her all his information, she went to the back, returned shortly, explained that Kyeron was being held on the 13th floor of the Justice Center by some detective, by the Detectives working the case. I then said I would call because the number, I had the 823-0400 number which was the detectives number I called and I asked to speak, or the gentleman that answered the phone, I told him I was Kyeron Fair's mother, and I was under the standing that my son was brought in and that I did not want him questioned until I could get there or an attorney could be present; he said he was not working the case and transferred me to a voice mail of Detective Hollins. I left the same voice mail message for Detective Hollins. The supervisor who came out at Northeast Precinct took all the appropriate information which was my cell phone number, his dad's cell phone numbers, and said that she would call and let them know that I was coming, and that I did want me son not to be questioned until an adult or until an attorney can be present. When I went into the Justice Center on the Portland Police side which is the entrance on Second, the lady said, Somebody will be down here to talk to you. I said, Okay. I waited and waited, and waited, and waited; approximately an hour had passed. I went back in and said that I need to be there with my son, I don't want him questioned until an adult or until I can get an attorney there; she said, Wait they'll be down here in a minute, there's nothing we can do. I then, my daughter had been injured so she had an attorney, I called their office, they said they would make a courtesy call for Kyeron in his behalf to say, Don't question him, you know, we're legal counsel, blasé. He was not allowed to talk to a detective, he was transferred into voicemail. Approximately 2:45 which is like two-and-a-half hours later, Detective Hollins came and got me, took me upstairs, gave me, I asked him the question of why you guys didn't talk to me, he said, We don't do things like that around here; that was his response. And I asked what was going on; he explained to me Kyeron was being charged with Armed Robbery. I said, Armed Robbery, my son, that doesn't sound like him. He told me about the interrogation that took place, that Kyeron –

GK: Save all that.

KJ: Okay. But that went from there. I gave him a hug, he let me hug him, he said it was not what he wasn't supposed to do. So we went home and that night at 9:16 Mr. Lincoln from JDH called and said Kyeron was amp'd up and that he was told that he didn't get to call me when he was arrested so he was allowing him to give me a call because he was amp'd up, and so I got on the phone; Kyeron was explaining he didn't do it, we had a conversation, at that point in time I noticed he was a little edgy, so I told him to take deep breaths, go lay down. On the 14th we went to his arraignment, on the 14th after the arraignment we were told we could see him at JDH on a visit because the Measure 11 charge I guess allows you to visit, I'm not sure. And they came back to the door which was Michael Spencer and I believe the same Mr. Lincoln and said, Oh he's f'd up he's real emotional we don't know if we're gonna let you visit because he's kind of emotional; so his dad said, No I need to see my son. If he's emotional I'm sure some, seeing his parents and talking to his parents will get him; he immediately came in the room, straight, paranoid, scared, didn't want to, didn't want to talk about people were listening to him; made his dad read the sign where it says, We cannot hear your conversation, push a button if you need service. Very scared, very, you know, just like, Dad I didn't do it, I didn't do it; so at that point in time they told us he seemed a bit stressed out which they've seen that in kids that have never been in trouble before, they saw that type of behavior; I said, That's a little more than stressed out. That was Tuesday the 14th. Wednesday the 15th Kyeron's basketball coach from Parkrose is also employed as one of the counselors Anthony Stewart, went to give him his food and he didn't recognize him and he kept trying to get Kyeron to remember, This is Coach Stu, what's going on man, what's going on? Kyeron said he didn't want the food, there was something in the food, something so- Anthony Stewart at that time said he notified whoever was necessary that Kyeron was having some difficulties and that was not his character, that he had coached him in basketball, and that was well outside his character. Um, he then notified my brother who he knows personally from basketball and told him, Get in touch with the parents and let them know something's going on, and they need to you know get down here and see what's going on with Kyeron. At that point I started making phone calls to JDH to ask them to actually start watching him because he hadn't eaten, he hadn't slept, and he was showing signs of a mental problem, a chemical imbalance mentally is what I explained to them, because I work in the medical field so I know the signs, and I explained to them that, and I explained that more than likely with the sleep and the nutritional deprivation, these symptoms would do nothing but get worse, so at that time she concurred which was Susan, and she was the medical lady; she concurred that that was possible. We went on a visit that night, very clammy, his hands clammy, um, shaking, not holding a decent conversation; earlier that day I had spoke with Mr. Lincoln explaining my concern and after talking to Susan, I explained my concern, he said Well Kyeron, he said he's amp'd up again, I said, Well can you please define 'amp'd up' for me because I don't, I don't know what that is, you need to be more um, precise with me. He said amp'd up in his, was Kyeron was not cognizant, not able to follow simple directions, and that he was not speaking in complete thoughts with thought process. Um, so upon visiting him that night we were met by Izzy who is a counselor and Ann Smith who is the mental health care coordinator, and they came to our visit and they expressed a concern with his mental condition; and Stewart said, Anne Smith excuse me said that he demonstrated a lot of, it seemed like he was having problems, and that Kyeron was not even able to do the orientation which he has to watch a movie and answer a series of questions in order for him to start doing groups and going to their little school that they have; so basically he was locked up 24-hours-a-day because he couldn't pass this little orientation.

KY: Because he wasn't following, wasn't able to function?

KJ: Right, he wasn't able to function. So I, we joked and laughed about uh, tryptophan and turkey, you know try to feed him some turkey and hopefully he'll balance out, you know, and so she said, Well we'll watch him, you know, call my assistant if you have any questions tomorrow. The following day, which was Thursday, Kyeron, I, I called his doctor to cancel his appointment because he was just reestablishing himself, spoke with her MA, she said the same thing, Tell them to get him some IV fluids, these symptoms are going to get worse, he needs rest, he needs some IV fluids because his electrolytes are probably out of balance, tell 'em, you know, to get medical attention for him and since he was establishing himself with care with us, there's not too much that the doctor can do right now for him. So I called them and I spoke with the nurse again; this time she said she would speak with her manager about getting him transferred out because she was becoming more concerned with him and his medical condition and that I needed to send over consent and then she came back an hour later, I didn't get the consent so I called her back, she said, Well they said that we're just going to keep him here, we're not going to transfer him. So I then called the attorney who's representing him in the other case to please go take a check to look at him; he said he hadn't received the paperwork yet and da-da-da, but then

I just explained, you have to go. When he went in there, he called, Kyeron was very scared then, and so he called the dad to try to see if the dad knew anything or what, but they had to hang up because his behavior just kept escalating, they finally got me on the phone and Kyeron was in the background screaming, I can't have an attorney, they made me sign a paper saying I couldn't have an attorney, you can't have an attorney, he gave me the phone, I said, K this is mommy, you need to calm down, sit down, that is your attorney; and he said This is not my mom, this is not my mom, and threw the phone down. And then I heard the attorney say, No Kyeron you can't have those papers, you have your own, and I heard the counselor saying, K sit down, sit down Kyeron sit down; so that was Thursday; so at that time the attorney said he was going to try to get an expedited psychological exam because it did not appear that Kyeron could aid and assist in his own defense, so he was calling Eric Johnson who was a clinical psychologist to go observe Kyeron and do an evaluation, and I called Friday morning to be present. I didn't want to be in the room but I just wanted my presence to be there so I could find out what the outcome was; by the time I got there I had to keep, they called to the back where they had Kyeron housed, Steve Walker came out and talked to me, he said Oh Kyeron's doing fine, he went through the interview, he's fine, he's fine. I found that hard to believe. So at that time I said Well I'm going to go back to work. I went back to work; upon getting back to work I got home, 6:10 I got a call from Craig, one of the counselors, stating that Kyeron had put a pillowcase around his neck and it was loose, he wasn't trying to hurt himself, but when they had entered the room, Kyeron yelled something and ran towards them, and that they had to notify me because they had to hold him, they had to hold him back, and that I would receive a written report of the incident because they had to physically touch him but at this point in time they had determined that his mental health needs were beyond their ability to care for him and they were sending him to the Justice Center. So upon finding that out I said, Why would you send; I said, Don't send him there, don't send him there. And they said, you know, we can't meet his needs here. I said, Okay, so between some time I called to the Justice Center and touched base with the nurse so that I could give her all the information, asking did she need anything like his primary care physician's numbers, pass anything so that they could, you know, treat him appropriately; she said she would give me a call when he got there. In the meantime I called back to the Center, Kyeron was still escalating, so I said can I bring a picture of his dad and me down there, that might calm him down because they said they were having a hard time; so around 8:30 I took the picture down there. Then I came back home and the nurse assured me she was going to call me when he got there so that she could, you know, let me know he was okay. I didn't receive a call. I fell off to sleep, then I called them, they said he was coming, didn't get a call at that time, so I woke about 3:30 called and I was told that he was in the hospital. I asked, What hospital? They wouldn't tell me. What's wrong with him; they wouldn't tell me. Was up all night, finally got his attorney's number that's handling his case, told him to give a call. He gave a call, at that time they said he was in Reception; I said No he was in the hospital, so they, he called back again, he said, Yeah he went to Doernbecher, or he went to Doernbecher, uh, but he's back now?

SS: Was it Doernbecher?

KJ: Yeah he went to Doernbecher the first time. That was late, either late on the 17th or early in the morning on the 18th, so between the 17th and the 18th was his first hospital visit.

SS: Okay.

GF: She believes they don't have a mental facility at Doernbecher and wonders why he was there.

SS: Doernbecher Children's Hospital?

KJ: Yes.

SS: Doernbecher, I'll tell you from my experience, I don't think Doernbecher has that kind of a facility, but Doernbecher is attached to OHSU and OHSU does have that facility

KJ: Right.

SS: - so they may have just been inaccurate with what they were telling you, but the location was probably correct.

KJ: Okay. So he was transferred back to the Justice Center, at that point in time he was placed I guess in their medical ward; I begin speaking with the nurse, at that point in time if my notes are accurate, I have my notes at home, I believe her name was Brinn, B-R-I-N-N, and she was the weekend nurse that was observing Kyeron and she said that he was very, very scared; her role was to keep him safe and that she was keeping his contact with the Corrections Officers to a minimum because that's when it seemed that more problems came about.

GK: Speak specifically, what do you mean more problems came about?

KJ: Um, he became accelerated, nervous, scared, um, wouldn't, wouldn't do anything, wouldn't let 'em in the room, she wasn't able to physically examine him because I guess he would keep his face to the window and she was only able to see, basically he wasn't dehydrated from his eyes, his tongue and stuff, she said but he would keep his face and they would be instructing him to move I guess to the back of the cell and then go to the box that's located in the left of the cell, then they know that she could enter safely but she was unable to do that because the behavior that he had with the trauma, with the guards around, he wouldn't, he wasn't complying, so they kept him, they just kept a close eye on him, they started a food log on Sunday supposedly for food intake because he wasn't intaking food, and on Monday is when the mental health nurse practitioner Melanie Parker would do her assessment at that point in time. On Monday I called her first thing in the morning, she was glad that I called, she was trying to get me to sign a consent, him to sign a consent so that she could release information because I wanted to know what was going on with him, and so um, she had a hard time doing that and he kept screaming, They made me sign a paper; just that same old repetitive, they made me sign a paper, I can't do it, I can't do it, I can't do it. She was able to get him to sign the paper. She said that she was using some of the most gentle guards that she knew to be employed within that facility in contact with Kyeron. She stated also that she did not work as an employee of the detention center and she was a totally separate entity and she was having problems with Kyeron being able to identify her as a separate person from the Correctional officers.

SS: Okay.

KJ: She finally able to get him to sign the consent, he signed the consent to give me the information; she explained to me she was going to try and draw his blood to see exactly what was going on with him and if there was anything internally going on with him, so she called me back and said, Can you send us a medical consent to treat? Um, so I did and I sent it the way I would send any medical document, prognosis, diagnosis, and she instructed me to put treatment of psychiatric also, so psychiatric treatment, diagnosis, and I did that and I faxed it over; so I went through the day, I called back when I got home, I was told by a nurse named Ray, they were able to get the blood draw but Kyeron was back, he didn't say back in the hospital, he said, But he's at a hospital now; and I said, For what? I was told he had an elevated white blood cell count which means he had an infection in his system and I said, Well why can't they treat it there with antibiotics if it's an infection, he said because we don't have the equipment and we don't have what's needed to treat him right now; that was on Monday the 20th. So I said, Well he has court in the morning; Oh he should be back for court. Okay, fast forward the next day, called to see if he was back; was told by nurse Neese he was not back, was told to call the courts to see if the court date was still on or did they cancel; they didn't cancel because I guess his attorney was going to ask for a set over; at that time the attorney said, I'll try to find out what hospital he's in; I'll try to get you guys a visit, uh, looks like about eight of the charges have dropped off, um, to my understanding it was bad for your son during the interrogation but I haven't gotten the DVD because no true bill has come down and I can't do a Motion to Discover, and that's what his attorney said and left it at that, we left. I went home, dropped off his dad, then dad called me approximately eight minutes later because I had, we live on 42nd and Killing-, probably eight, maybe a little bit longer than that and said that he had received a call from some lady, Melody, he didn't know because I had been working closely with Melody, when he said the nurse at the jail, and she asked, she told me Kyeron was in the Cardiac ICU Unit at OHSU; she asked his dad had he ever had any blunt force or trauma injury to his liver; his dad said No. I then said, um, his dad said you need to call Lieutenant Pool to set up an appointment for you guys to get a visit to see, so that the parents could see our son. I immediately called Lieutenant Pool and uh, come to find out she was the Vera Pool who was close friends with my mother who's deceased, she didn't match the names up because my mother's last name is Darby, he's a Fair, I'm a Jarrell, and so she didn't match it up but she said, Do I know anything about what happened to my son and I said, No. Um, so she said okay, she set the visit up, we went up there, he was like in a cationic state, he didn't recognize his dad when he first came in, a tear came down, um, it was just horrible. He was chained to the bed and they had all the machines going and um that's, we got to visit with him; then we talked with the nurse, Sena, who said she's never seen a child, she's never seen anybody so scared in all their life, in all her life, she explained his, at that time about the infection in the liver, and then some other doctors came down, you know, it's a learning institution so there were a lot, the doctors came and asked us questions about drinking and stuff, which he don't drink, you know, none of that; went home, probably, I called every day to see how he was doing. He ran a fever that night, um, they were still administering the antibiotics for the liver infection, so as I got a call from Doctor Usher, which was the following Wednesday, who was a child psychiatrist who was seeing him because they were unable to get anywhere with Kyeron, he was scared to death when the guards, I mean even when we were there, he would, batta-batta-batta to the guards, um, and they were very nice guards, they'd be like, Okay, you know, you're okay Kyeron, you're safe. Um, so Doctor Usher told me that Kyeron was, that was when he diagnosed him with catatonia, they were going to treat him with Atavan and hopefully that the catatonic state would come down and they could better assess the psychiatric aspect, but he then said, I don't want to alarm you but my main concern is the muscle breakdown, Kyeron had muscle breakdown, bad-

SS: From what, did he say?

KJ: He did not say anything, but as I explained to him, then he was, Kyeron had air in his chest and I asked him about the air in his chest, um, he ruled out all the medical things because I'm in the medical field, um, you only get that if you have a collapsed lung or a punctured lung, or if you have COPD, that's a primary, air in your lung; the next one is gunshot, knife wound, trauma or auto accident. So we ruled out the first primary, the secondary we know there are no guns in JDH, we know there's no knives, we know there's no cars, so the only thing would have been trauma to the chest, and then we found out later he had, they did some other kind of, I don't know if it was a brain scan that there was air pockets in his face, uh, and we come to find this out by every time you talk to a different doctor, a different thing, a different illness, a different injury, then we come to find out that he was actually brought to Cardiac ICU for breathing; he was, I don't know if he was unable to catch his breath, I don't know if his heart stopped, we don't know, but he was in cardiac ICU, he just wasn't in ICU, and from there it just became a nightmare. We don't know what happened, uh, I became very cra-, I became very upset one day crying at work because when I actually called Kyeron I was allowed to have a phone call, Kyeron began to scream, Don't break my arm, don't break my arm, don't break my arm, please don't break my arm. That sent me through the roof, so I called Barbara Willer's office, Commissioner Willer's office; I said, Somebody's got to do something, her administrative assistant Sarah Brownstein is the one I believe who got in contact with Chief Deputy Martin Shults –

SS: Okay.

KJ: - who I then spoke with him, he was, explaining to him, he was very aware of Kyeron's situation, that he had went up and saw Kyeron and he, for all appearances looked like a good kid, didn't know what was going on, was very empathetic; I know you're concerned as a parent, um, I'm going to allow you another visit, um, I'll, you know, continue to give him a call and see how he's doing, and if you run into any problems do not hesitate to call and he gave me his cell phone number, he said, I don't care, day or night, if you just want somebody to talk to, just give me a call. I said, Okay. I wasn't fully aware of his, his um, where he was as to the level of his position, um, I called, they told me I couldn't talk to him on Sunday, I immediately called him, he immediately called up there and was like, Yeah let the mom through. Um, we did go see him that Monday and it was more of the same behavior, it was Dad get them off my back, get them off my back, don't do that head thing, don't do that head thing, those are the things that he was screaming. He also has reverted back to like a child type of state where he's talking about old friends from back in the day, the pop church; they keep saying that he's afraid of a Tony Louse and Darias Tarver, he keeps saying he's scared of them, he's scared of them, and I know Darias Tarver to be a friend, uh, they went to Parkrose together and played basketball together, um, and he uh, he's just, all stuff like that; he always asks are we safe, Mom are you safe? Are you safe? Are you safe? Are you safe? And when you talk to him you have to talk to him like he's a little kid, you know, I call him from work because I try to call him at the same time when he was at OHSU so he could kind of get a familiarity that he can count on me calling and when I would call, you know, you have to talk to him like, the people in there are mommy's friends Kyeron, you don't have to be scared, they're mommy's friends and he um, would say Mommy friend or, I said Yeah there's no more bad people, nobody else can hurt you, no one, and he just screamed, No more bad people, no more bad people, no more bad people; and that's about it, I mean not about it, but that's what we're going through and I just got off the phone with his, his therapist at Trillium was saying the same thing, he's unable to determine that he's not the police, and he has a fear of the office of males and people in uniform and he's never had that before, ever. And you guys can ask me, what else, that's the basis of it. Where he wants to start family counseling without Kyeron first, the therapist said, um, he knows there's a lot going on right now outside of, but his job is to meet his medical mental health needs, that's his job, and he wants to keep everything to what's comfortable for Kyeron as possible at this time because when he came out of his room from sleeping yesterday and the kids were going to group, he became extremely scared and he called, they let him call me and he was like, Mom I don't feel safe, I don't feel safe, Mommy, Mommy, Mommy, and I had to reassure him again, Those are mommy's friends, you're safe, you know, and they're having to keep reassuring him, you're not there any longer. The Doctor Meyer who was his Intake doctor when he intaked into Trillium School said that when she got his lab work the enzyme for muscle breakdown the enzyme that goes into the bloodstream she said was extremely high and that she had to call and verify that it wasn't a mistake, she wanted to make completely sure that his levels were that high and that his levels now are about 200, she said that's, that's, that's, that's you know, the enzyme is still in his body so it hasn't even completely gone, and she said that a lot of the injuries and infections that set up in his system could probably contribute to some of the mental confusion that he's going through. So they're assuring that they're going to keep those infections, they're drawing his blood I think every other day to make sure that the infections are still clearing out, and that's what she said. And that was on Monday when they did his intake, and when they did his intake they just took him, and they had a consent to treat that I gave to them but they didn't give any of that to Trillium so they called me on my cell phone while his dad and I were en route and said they didn't have no medical consent form and they needed to medicate him because he was very scared and they, you know, and he uh, so I gave them a verbal consent to medicate him, but they didn't even give them, you know, anything to even to anything with him, you know, no, they had a consent, you know, in which, the consent I'm sure they could have, by being the facility when they dropped him off when they talked to the other facility they could of administered meds or something, and that was about the gist of that for him. And right now, I just got off, like I said, I talked to the counselor today, last night he had a bad night, they said he uh, they had a bad night with him last night, I guess he took his clothes off in which they said that when you're in that mental state and you're that young, you can't process what's going on with you, you can't process, you know something's wrong with you the way the therapist explained it to me, and it's like, Why can't they see what I see, why can't they feel what I feel, and that's like the mental state how he tried to describe it why Kyeron maybe doing things like taking his clothes off or something; I have no idea about that but that's what he said, that when you're young and you have this type of trauma that sometimes this is what happens.

GK: Questions?

SS: A lot; I'm just not sure where to begin, so just; I can't imagine being in a position that you're in right now, I haven't answers to those kind of questions and to hear your son say those kinds of things. Okay, so let's do this. He's at Trillium right now, right?

KJ: Yes he is.

SS: Do, is Trillium in Eugene?

KJ: In Corvallis.

SS: Oh it's in Corvallis.

KJ: Uh-huh.

SS: Have you been there to visit yet?

KJ: I was going today, we were going to try to go up there this evening, because like I said, everybody's saying the more interaction with the family, they even said that at OHSU because they were trying to get us to get more visits and more contact with him up at OHSU, but then OHSU kind of backed away too because they keep throwing around this liability word, that issue came up when I was trying to get information regarding Kyeron's medical status, they were putting it on the Sheriff's Department, that they were basically instructed not to disclose his medical information with me, but then when I asked Deputy Martin Shults about it he said, We never told them they couldn't give you that information. That's them, that's them with their policies. So for a while they were going back and forth about what they could and couldn't share, but all the doctor kept saying is that, We've been, you know, told there are liability issues by the Sheriff's Department and you know, that's why I haven't talked to you, and I didn't talk to his medical doctor until he had been, until the middle of the week after he had been there approximately, after he was at ICU so it was well over seven days, and that was what she relayed to me.

SS: Okay.

KJ: And they had a meeting with their attorneys and that was –

GF: 'They', who's they?

KJ: Uh, the Department of Corrections, Martin Shults had a meeting with the attorney for the Department of Corrections; he said the DA was going to be in there but Kyeron's defense attorney wasn't in there and that they were discussing the medical obligations that they had to Kyeron's care and he assured me that Kyeron would not be going back to the Justice Center, but they had a meeting and that would probably be between maybe a week after he had been there, that's what Martin Shults told me that they had a meeting.

SS: So your son was at OHSU on two occasions?

KJ: Yes.

SS: The first one was on the 17th that was just overnight it sounds like?

KJ: Yeah.

SS: So then again on the 21st, the day of court, he went back?

KJ: No he went back the 20th.

SS: The 20th.

KJ: We weren't notified that he was in the ICU Unit until the 21st.

SS: He was sent there the 20th, and you were notified on the 21st?

KJ: The 21st that he was in ICU, when I called and spoke with Ray. Ray was like, Oh he's in the hospital because of the infection.

SS: You called, they didn't call you?

KJ: No, I called and I asked Ray what happened with the blood work, were they able to draw the blood from Kyeron Fair, and he said, Yes but he's at the hospital because he has a high white blood cell count to indicate there's an infection in his system. And that's when I asked him, Well why wouldn't you treat it there? Because I'm thinking a medical facility, you guys have antibiotics and you have IV fluids, why didn't you? He said because we don't have the equipment to monitor him at this time. I was so, still trying to find out where he was, it didn't click, what equipment is needed to monitor?

SS: Uh-huh.

KJ: And that's all that we were told on the 20th.

SS: Okay. You referred to, what is your occupation, what is your training, your background?

KJ: I worked in the medical field, right now I do surgery scheduling and transcriptions for the surgical specialty group which is the colon and rectal clinic, I work for five surgeons, and I was employed with Providence Health Systems for six years. Um, it's back office but in the details of my job I research a lot of things, I have to make sure that, in one capacity I work as the insurance authorization specialist so I actually had to get diagnosis and prognosis's and chart notes and everything else so that I can get the treatment authorized for payment from the insurance company, so that's why I'm so familiar with the wide vast of medical because not only did I just do the insurance authorizations for the, the illnesses, but I also did it for people who needed wheelchairs, oxygen and things of such, so I'm very familiar with saturation levels, you know, how much saturation levels at work, you know when you're moving, non-ambulatory and all that, so that's why I was able to understand a lot of the symptoms that were coming about and um, one of my daughter's at 27 was diagnosed with bipolar disorder so I was able, I was able to identify some of the things, um, Kyeron had no, no other mental issues, he had no aggression, not overly aggressive, he didn't suffer from depression, in for lack of better terms he was a normal teenager, uh, when I say normal, I mean he went to school, he had chores, he was responsible for what he needed to do, um, I'm not saying we didn't have our fair share of disagreements but they never escalated, he's never disrespectful; they even say even in his state of mind that he's still very polite and very respectful, um, even in the meeting when we were enrolling him, he put his feet up on the thing, you know, and I said, Now Kyeron are those good manners, do we, that's how you have to talk to him like he's a baby and I said, Are those good manners Kyeron, even though we don't feel good we still have to practice our good manners, and he said, Okay mom. You know, and took his feet down, um, I was worried because he spit in one of the guard's face when he was in OHSU, I guess the guard got close to him and I, I immediately wanted to apologize, you know, that's, he said it was Deputy Johnson and Deputy Marshall are two of the best people that I've ever come in contact and he said, Don't worry about it Kelli, we understand, you know, he's going to be okay. And Deputy Marshall would ask for double shifts to be there and they said he would feed him because he's chained to the bed, he was chained the whole time, and they said that was imposing a problem also, he could not separate even for them to get him the help, so he went all this time until Monday without any psychological help so he was just like marinating within this illness in his mind outside of the medication that they were treating him which, in which Trillium is trying to get some of the medication out of his system so that they can start working better with him.

SS: How many children are in the family?

KJ: There are five children; I have two daughters who have graduated from college, one of 'em has a Masters in science and one of 'em is getting her Masters in criminal law. And after speaking with her and her finding out what happened to her brother, she's back East and her, now she's been wanting to be a lobbyist for juvenile rights, so that's where her focus is going now, especially after this happened to her brother, and then there is an older sister who has her own apartment, and he's at home with me, dad and the other little brother.

SS: Okay, how old is the little brother?

KJ: Fifteen, and he just had knee surgery so Kyeron had kind of taken on taking care of him too because he was not, he couldn't walk for about three to four weeks he was supposed to be no pressure on that knee, a football injury, he's a quarterback.

SS: At Parkrose?

KJ: No he was, he was quarterback for Jefferson and then um, he went, he transferred to Lincoln, so this would have been his first year playing but he can't play.

SS: That's too bad, that's tough on a young kid.

KJ: Yeah, that's what he keeps saying, you know, he lost football and now he lost his brother, his best friend.

GK: Do you have something to sign?

SS: I have more questions, if that's okay.

GK: I'm sorry, please go ahead.

SS: Okay. And his 15-year-old brother is in Lincoln High School?

KJ: Yes.

SS: And the older sister is 27?

KJ: No. Yeah the oldest is 27; then 26; and then 18. He has three sisters and two brothers.

SS: Okay. Okay, now if I understand right, Kyeron has not had any episodes of this kind of behavior, this abnormal thinking pattern?

KJ: None.

SS: Never before?

KJ: Never.

SS: Okay. Had he complained about any injuries prior to this?

KJ: No.

SS: Prior to the arrest?

KJ: No.

SS: What about, what about any fighting or anything like that?

KJ: No.

SS: Okay. Please don't take offense to any of these questions; they're questions that I need to ask. He was arrested for that robbery charge, had he been hanging out with a bad crowd or had he been doing anything that would of led you to believe that there could have been trouble coming?

GK: I really feel uncomfortable about her comment on these things. The kid's got a criminal lawyer and –

SS: But again, I'm sorry, I understand your concern with that, I'm not asking if he is committing crimes, I'm trying to see if there was any changes in his behavior –

KJ: There was no changes in his behavior, none at all. We spent the weekend together, he was still coming home according to his curfew, um, there was no, no, nothing.

SS: What about changes in friends or changes in pattern –

KJ: He kept the same, he's had the same friends since fifth grade, you know, uh, no new friends. He's not like a girl, my daughter changes friends every week, but no he's maintained the same friends. Now associates, people he might meet or talk to, I mean we live, they go to school, they go to parties, well he's really not a party-goer, um, we don't do house parties, I say they're not safe, so all of his interactions, no nothing significantly changed.

SS: Okay. During one of those episodes he was talking about two of his friends from his childhood that he was scared of, one of them was Tarver?

KJ: Uh-huh.

SS: Do you have any idea why he would bring those names up, or are those friends that he still associates with, or are those really from the past?

KJ: They play basketball together.

SS: Okay.

KJ: I don't know the other guy they kept about me about, I don't know who he is, um, why he would be, I don't, his mind, I believe his mind is, I don't know, I can't say because I don't know. I know that Darias Tarver, they play school basketball together, they hung out on certain occasions but Kyeron stopped hanging around him, you know, he stopped, he, I overheard him talk to a friend, he said, you know man DT be driven, so you know Demarcus was like, yeah man, and that was all, so they haven't even had, to my knowledge, they stopped hanging around each other.

SS: Okay. Is your home located in the Parkrose School District?

KJ: His auntie's house is.

SS: His auntie's house is.

KJ: His auntie's house is in the Parkrose district and Kyeron was going to spend the weeks there so that he could go to Parkrose because that's where he originated, because of all these old changes with what boundaries you live in, they put him in the Jefferson district which Kyeron had some gang members try to jump him; he's not a gang member and he even made that clear the other day, we couldn't believe it, how he just kept saying, This is not gang related, but some gang members did try to jump him; and in the process of that he used, he tried to use a knife, it was, his dad was there, you know, everybody was there, and they kicked him out of Jefferson so he was going to go back to Parkrose and stay with Aunt Stephanie through the week and his dad would be there because, you know, like his dad said, We're not going to just put him on somebody else, so we can do this and that's how he was going to Parkrose.

SS: Okay. What is the auntie's name?

KJ: Stephanie Fair.

SS: Stephanie Fair.

KJ: Uh-huh.

SS: And do you have a phone number for her?

KJ: Uh-huh.

SS: We may want to talk to her, I'm not sure if we will or not.

KJ: Sure, they hadn't really started the school year yet, so just give me a moment please.

SS: Yes Ma'am.

KJ: You use codes so much that you don't even remember people's phone numbers. 503-970-7219.

SS: Years ago I'd have dozens of numbers memorized in my head but now they're in my contact list –

KJ: That's all you do.

SS: - it's much easier. I'm not going to dwell on this, but do you know what gang was trying, was messing with him?

KJ: The 6 O's.

SS: The 6 O's. Did he ever give you a reason why?

KJ: His sister was assaulted by a 6 – O. They bashed her in the head with a chair and the gentleman that his sister was fighting, knew Kyeron was her brother and would always accost him going to Jefferson, because you know where Killingsworth, well I don't know if you know, but he would always tell Kyeron I don't like you, I don't like you, I don't like you. And Kyeron just said, Mom I'm tired of him, I'm tired of him. He's in jail right now for a whole bunch of stuff.

SS: Who is that guy?

KJ: Donjraye White. And he um, they had words, and um, he followed him to the bus stop and they just kept having words and so this was last year, I guess they had a physical altercation in which Kyeron isn't a gang member but Kyeron did get the best of him and um, supposedly he was embarrassed you know, because everybody knows Kyeron is a basketball player, he's a hooper, so you're this hard core gang member and you get beat up by a hooper, and that's what started the actual why they don't like him no more, why they didn't like him because they're cowards, but that had died down and Kyeron was going and coming because they would, they would post up at the house down the street from our house, um, a gentleman who was just recently killed, lived there; and he would let them come over his house and they would just post up and Kyeron's little basketball friends, they would be in the yard playing basketball, and I would always make sure I was outside to make sure they were safe and that they didn't really mess with the kids because they wasn't going to mess with them, you know, with me being right there, sitting on the porch or I took them everywhere they had to go, you know, I'd drop all the kids off and they would come over and play basketball because we got a huge driveway and Kyeron, like I said the same friends Demarcus and them.

SS: Okay. It's tough being a kid right now.

KJ: Huh?

SS: It's tough being a kid in this –

KJ: I agree, very hard. That's why it's just as hard being a parent.

SS: It's hard raising them at this age too. Um, you mentioned that Kyeron doesn't drink. Do you know if he's using any drugs or if he's hanging out with –

KJ: I know he dabbled in some marijuana, you know, he did dabble in that, but then as school time came around and he was having to get ready because he's going to play football and basketball this year, he's like, I ain't doing that no more. That never was his forte, you know I don't believe it was more or less like, I got to get high, got to get high, you know, I don't think that was it because he was too dead-set you know, once his mind was made up to get back into sports, his body became important to him and they got the weights in the back, in the garage so he and his dad and his brother do lift, they do like, you know, do little stuff, nothing extreme, my son is only, for one thing he's only 5'9", he's not even as tall as my other son and he's small build. He's built kind of like me.

GK: That's enough, any more questions?

SS: Okay, so based upon what you've been told by medical staff at the jail, JDH, and OHSU and Trillium, what I think I'm hearing is that they suspect that this emotional change, or the mental change may be attributed or could be attributed to internal injuries which could be air in the chest and not internal bleeding but um -

GK: Infection -

SS: Infection, is that right? Is that, that's what I was gathering from what you were saying, but I want to make sure I get it.

KJ: Um --

GK: Don't speculate, I mean --

KJ: I would --

GK: - they would either give you some cause or they didn't, did they?

KJ: Yeah.

GK: What did they say?

KJ: Um, that it's possible, but because of psychiatric break came prior to the injuries, there, they could only be attributing to the ability not to bounce back so quick, is the way I understand it. Is that the psychotic break happened before the internal injuries but becau --

SS: That's what they suspect? That's the way they found it, they found the psychotic episode and then they found the medical or the physical injury, correct?

KJ: Well see I know the psychotic is what got him to the Justice Center --

SS: Right.

KJ: - so between the Justice Center and the 20th is when the injuries took place because JDH, Donald Cox is saying that he did not have those injuries when he left JDH.

SS: Donald who?

KJ: Donald Cox, the head of JDH, talked to me on the phone and he said, Your son did not have those internal injuries when he left JDH. And he's the head guy and he called me based on Chip Shields, Senator Chip Shields calling him and telling him, You need to basically call his parent and let her know what happened. And his words were, He didn't have all them injuries when he left here, when he left JDH, that's what he said.

SS: Has Kyeron told you about any injuries that he --

KJ: He can't talk –

SS: - suffered or any assaults or anything like that?

KJ: He can't talk.

SS: So he hasn't been able to.

KJ: When I say 'he can't talk' is that he can't, I mean I haven't asked him because I don't want to send him over the edge, um, and the therapists aren't asking him questions, they're only using his behavior to try to assess; there was some sort of trauma, it has something to do with police officers, and we're not concerned what, but we're going to get him help.

SS: Okay.

JE: Did the Portland detective say anything about how he was acting on the 13th floor for those hours?

KJ: No. No. He didn't say, one thing that is, I mean this might not be important to you guys, but the uh, when he went to Trillium the lady said that she was trying to get Kyeron to make eye contact with her because she needed him to give eye contact and as she got in his face like this, he began to be scared, pull back, and get accelerated, and when I was talking to Detective Hollins, when I sat down, I was sitting there, he was here, and as we were talking and I said, Well why didn't you allow a parent to be there because never being in trouble before, him being intimidating to a child, so why wouldn't you allow a parent or why wouldn't you allow an attorney; he did this: Am I intimidating to you? And I said, No I'm a grown woman, and when he said that, we've never seen this, we've never seen anything about this interrogation thing, that triggered in my mind as to what he did to me, and being that my son is 17 and he's a minor you don't know who the disciplinary is in the home, so you may be intimidating if his father's never chastised him, so the protection I feel of having a parent there is not just for the child but for the authority figure too, because Kyeron's dad isn't the discipline, I am. I do most of the disciplining, dad sits down and has almost grown-man conversations with you about being responsible and being a young man, dad very seldom raises his voice when he's arguing with you, you know, you know when dad comes in, he'll come in, if they're in the family room and it doesn't look right to dad, Kyeron will you step in here, I need to speak with you. That's how dad talks so, that's it.

SS: Okay. Detective Hollins, was he wearing a uniform or was he in a suit?

KJ: He was in a suit like you.

SS: Kyeron said multiple times that he already signed something so that he didn't need an attorney and he referred to it at different times, do you know what he was talking about, has anybody –

KJ: He signed some kind of paper because Detective Hollins even said to me, I can show you the paper he signed. Because I asked did he sign? Asked for an attorney? When I gave Kyeron the hug when they allowed me to hug him, I said K why you didn't ask for an attorney; he said Momma I asked for an attorney and I asked for you, and he said you weren't asking for your momma when you were doing what you were doing.

SS: Okay. Aside from the care and treatment your son is receiving right now, what is it that is your, what do you, what is your greatest expectation from us in this investigation; what questions do you want answered?

KJ: I want to know what happened to my son, first and foremost. I want to know what regulations or what policies are in place that allow a child to be, if it's restrained or whatever, to that degree that it lands in an ICU. To me, that's not restraint; as I said I don't believe in excessive force with children. I believe child abuse because at 17-years-old, it should not take that much to restrain a 17-year-old, especially if you're in an adult prison and you're dealing with men of all shapes and sizes, that your training enables you to maintain a level of control within you that would not need to resort to a child being in a hospital in any shape or form. I've said it again, I'll say it again, there's no way I could of taken my son to the hospital with those injuries, me or his dad and say we don't know what happened, you know we would be, we'd be in the same facility he was. I'd be there because I didn't call and he'd be in there for doing it, or he'd be in there not calling and me doing it, so those are the things; I want the people that had care of my child to be subject to the same rules and laws that I would be as a parent because I would go and say the same thing, and as I use to hear from my grandmother, I beat you because I love you; they're gonna beat you because it's their job, and that's the philosophy that I'm going under right now. Mine is out of love that I discipline my child, yours for whatever intents and purposes was, for whatever reason you did, for whatever they did, because there's no reason that my son should be subject to the injuries and the mental state that he's in right now based on working within the regulations and the guidelines that you're supposed to work in those perimeters. I want to see whatever took place to him, and those people be made, held accountable. It's not that it's just my son, it could be anybody's son, right, wrong or indifferent, we have got to stop holding court in cells, police cars, street corners. We got to let the judges and the district attorneys, and the attorneys do their job, and that's what I want to see come out of this. I want to see changes in the Measure 11 laws, and we can only do that through voting and through speaking out against that. The changes, just because your child is charged with a Measure 11 crime does not take your rights as a parent; we felt like our rights were stripped from us as parents, they can't tell us this, they can't tell us that, we can't know about this, if he gets attorneys, the attorneys may work with you but they may feel that they're not gonna work with you because they're your child's attorney; well all in a nutshell and for all intents and purposes if they have to come after some money, they're coming after the parents. When they give restitution, all the things, okay Kyeron when you get 21 you start these payments; if he's placed on house arrest, that brace and stuff they want payment for that from the parent, but then you want to straddle the fence and okay, when it's convenient for him to be tried as an adult and we can go this way and go that way and maneuver this way, he's an adult. Okay but we want something else, we're gonna let him be a child. So that to me, I mean we can't change that with your investigation, we can only change that through speaking out and people saying, you know, this part of this law is not correct, if we really want to clean stuff up, why aren't drugs under the Measure 11 charges but drugs bring more violence, more chaos to a community than anything. Minors in possession of a weapon are a Measure 11 charge, I don't care if my son has a gun, I don't care if your son has a gun, that bullet is not gonna say, Oh that was a minor shooting me, I'm not gonna kill that person, let me just turn and go that way. So it's things about this and with my son that I want to see this investigation show that look we do care about the youth in Portland, we do care about our Oregon's youth, they are our future, every kid, this isn't McDonald's and we're gonna process every kid like we make Big Macs, same price, same cooking time, same condiments, you know, we're not going to do our youth like that. Each youth is different and each child or each youth that comes into our justice system may have a specific need that needs to be met and correcting them; to me jail is either correcting you or directing you, it's not for you to be afraid of, it's to correct you out of a behavior that is going to hold a lifetime of turmoil for you, and direct you into a more positive, but how are you going to direct a child to be positive when you gone through what my son has gone through. How are you going to tell him that going to jail is going to make you a better, and going to make you see that consequences have to be met, and when you do the time son you're going to be just okay, when his mind isn't right. So that's what I want this investigation to show that, you know what, we don't care how many of you all do it, the ones that are doing it, you're gone. There's nothing, I would not be a police officer for that reason because of the ones that are out there aren't doing their job are making it harder for me who want to stand up and be law abiding, want the city safe, and I'm gonna treat everybody the way they need to be treated, and I'm going to let the courts decide their fate. I'm not taking justice in my own hands.

GK: Do you have anything more to say?

SS: Yes we do. Do you know the name of your son's criminal attorney?

KJ: Gary Bertoni.

SS: Okay. Okay, I got two forms that I'd like to fill out, one is for Oregon Health & Science University and it's to request medical records, all the medical records from, I'm just putting from the date of arrest forward; and then the other one is more generic and that's going to be for a couple of other providers, um, I'm going to request from Trillium, if that's okay, Multnomah County Corrections, that will include JDH and the jail; and do you know if your son has had any treatment or records with Multnomah County Mental Health or with Washington County Mental Health?

KJ: He hasn't; would you like his primary care physician information?

SS: And that too.

KJ: Do I have to give you the, the –

GK: Here –

KJ: Is that okay?

GK: Well I, it's awful broad, just put in any medical records since the date of his incarceration which was –

SS: On the OHSU form.

GK: On everything.

SS: On both forms, okay. OHSU requires their own form and this other one is going to be for the other agencies that I talked about, they may accept it, sometimes they want me to come back to you with a form that they specifically designed and if that's the case I'll bring it to you sir and we can get that done.

GK: Sure.

SS: Okay. Last name is Fair, how do you spell Kyeron?

JK: K-Y-E-R-O-N.

SS: Kyeron, okay. And what's your phone number?

KJ: 503-252-3321.

SS: And his birth date is July 29th?

KJ: Uh-huh. 1993, uh-huh.

SS: Okay. You can read those, or I can read those a loud as we go through them.

KJ: No, I can read.

SS: Okay.

GK: I'm familiar with the form, just put in big letters somewhere Records, Please produce records only since, and then put the date of his original custody.

SS: Which consist of physician reports, x-rays, labs, emergency –

GK: And put since such-and-such day.

SS: Records from September 13 –

JK: Of September –

GK: 13?

KJ: Yeah he was arrested on the 13th.

SS: So the 13th, '10 to the present date.

KJ: I have requested those too from Juanita but she said I couldn't have them because he's still in custody.

GK: No hurry.

SS: From Juanita Spears?

JK: Uh-huh.

SS: That's the person that we're going to direct this subpoena to. Okay. I know we've been here for a while, so thank you for taking time for us.

GK: I have about fourteen phone calls to return, why don't you just bring these to my office when you've got them written the way you want.

SS: Sure.

GK: Come on in and we'll –

SS: Okay. Thank you.

KJ: Thank you very much.

SS: Thank you. 2:53.

STATEMENTS:

PARKER, Melanie - Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner with Multnomah County. PARKER was interviewed on October 21st, 2010 at about 1050 hours. The location of the interview was the Multnomah County Detention Center (Capt. Bishop's office). Also present was Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar.

Melanie PARKER said she has been employed with Multnomah County as a Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner for three years. In regards to this incident, she said she first had contact with Kyeron FAIR on the 20th of September (Monday) in the morning hours. She said FAIR was in the 4D dorm at the Multnomah County Detention Center and she was told that FAIR was transferred here from the Juvenile Detention Center during the weekend because of behavioral issues.

PARKER said she had received a phone call from FAIR'S mother regarding her child. PARKER said she spoke with FAIR'S mother in the morning of September 20th and said his mother was angry and insistent that FAIR had medical problems and psychotic behaviors while at the Juvenile Department.

PARKER said after speaking with FAIR'S mother, she went to meet with FAIR in his cell. She said FAIR was naked and "hitting the wall" with the palm of his hand. She further said FAIR was "slapping the wall" and "hitting the medical call light" button. She said when she tried talking with FAIR, FAIR wouldn't engage with her.

PARKER said that she since she knew FAIR "could be aggressive" and since FAIR wouldn't back away from the cell door, she wasn't able to go in and examine him.

PARKER said she wanted to get a blood draw from FAIR and to check his vitals. She said she talked with other personnel at the Multnomah County Detention Center regarding the options of treating FAIR. She said she again spoke with FAIR'S mother and received a "release to treat" form signed by her regarding FAIR'S treatment. She said the final decision to start treating FAIR was to have CERT (Cell Extraction Response Team) enter the cell and secure FAIR to the restraint chair.

PARKER said she watched from outside the cell when CERT entered. She said CERT was able to get FAIR restrained into the cell with no use of force. She said she was then able to enter the cell and take blood from FAIR, to get his vital signs, and to start IV fluids (this occurred in the afternoon of September 20th, 2010).

PARKER said FAIR slept for a few hours that night and on Tuesday morning (September 21st, 2010) she received the lab results from the blood draw. The results indicated elevated liver enzymes and elevated white blood cells, which PARKER said can occur when the body is over producing palates. She said everything else appeared "okay". She said FAIR was transported to OHSU because of the lab results.

PARKER said she observed FAIR being taken from his cell to the Sheriff's Office vehicle. She said "Deputy Howard" was helping FAIR and said the two of them were engaged verbally and FAIR was "kinda" tracking the conversation.

PARKER said on Wednesday or Thursday (September 22nd or September 23rd), she went to OHSU to check on FAIR. She said FAIR was in a "four point restraint" and "appeared catatonic". She noted that after examining FAIR, there was a scratch on his shoulder (maybe right side), and a scratch on his elbow that appeared to have been healing. She also noted a "mild discoloration" on FAIR'S forehead, which she said was consistent with hitting his head on the wall or in the transport vehicle. PARKER said she checked and there appeared to be no abdominal injuries with FAIR. She said FAIR had been admitted to the Cardiac ICU because he had air in the chest cavity. She said this can occur because of several different reasons, to include blunt trauma injury, running to walls, or can occur spontaneously.

PARKER said none of these physical indicators would have caused the psychosis FAIR was experiencing. She said the psychosis appeared to be bi-polar with psychotic features and she had observed evidence of the mania. She said it appeared the first manic episode occurred at the Juvenile Department, which included him not being able to sleep. She said doctors at OHSU were giving FAIR anti-psychotic drugs, but in small dosages.

PARKER said she went back to OHSU on Friday (September 24th, 2010) and observed FAIR "actively fighting with the guards" even in his four-point restraints. Because of FAIR'S conditions and because she was an adult psychiatric nurse practitioner, her goal was not to have FAIR back at the Multnomah County Detention Center. She said since FAIR was considered a juvenile, there would have possibly been some ethical issues if she continued to treat FAIR.

PARKER said OHSU had a pediatric psychologist examine FAIR at OSHU (Dr. Rodney Reid). She said OHSU didn't want to keep FAIR at their hospital because he was a danger to their staff. She said the staff at OHSU was "more hands off" with FAIR because he was being "impulsive" and "lunging" at them. She said during her visits at OHSU, she would ask medical staff to bring her some towels so she and her assistant could give FAIR a "bed bath". She said she also noticed the handcuffs were "chaffing" FAIR'S wrist, so she used a bandage to help prevent the "chaffing".

PARKER said that since she wasn't able to treat FAIR at the jail and since OHSU didn't want him there; her priority was to find a facility suited for him. She said most juvenile facilities don't accept kids in restraints and the Deputies would not be allowed in the unit. She said these facilities required the juvenile to be out of restraints. She said a medical doctor associated with Trillium Children Health Care happened to be at OHSU and was asked to evaluate FAIR for their center in Corvallis, Oregon.

PARKER said the medical doctor agreed to take FAIR to their facility and he was transferred soon after.

PARKER noted that the first time FAIR went to OHSU (the day FAIR was released from the Juvenile Department to the Multnomah County Detention Center), blood work was done and it was noted that he had an elevated white blood cell count and enzyme level. She said this could be stress related from being in jail. She said the second visit to OHSU (after she examined him on September 20th, 2010), the lab results showed a "gradual" increase level of the white blood cell count and enzyme level. She said she "couldn't rule out infection and liver issues" which is why he was transported back to OHSU. She said that FAIR'S mother thought FAIR was experiencing an electrolyte imbalance (from her conversation with FAIR'S mother in the morning of September 20th, 2010). She said the lab results indicated he was not having an imbalance of his electrolytes (which she said could be dangerous if he was).

When asked about the "gradual" increase in the white blood cell count and the enzymes level, PARKER said this doesn't mean there was further injuries sustained by FAIR. When asked about the elevated levels of the liver enzymes, the white blood cells, and the air in the chest cavity and the possible causes, PARKER said it was probably not caused by being tased, but could be caused by falling and hitting something or could be caused by the use of force during his custody.

PARKER said there were no signs of blunt force trauma other than the healing scratch on his elbow, the scratch on his shoulder, and the redness on his forehead. She said when she did an abdominal palpation on FAIR; there was no pain response, no bruising, no shortness of breath, and no cracked ribs.

PARKER said while at the hospital, she was able to rule out infection and said the elevated white blood cell count was probably due to the stress of being in custody. She said FAIR did have an infection while at OHSU (on the second visit) because the medical staff left the catheter in too long. She said the Deputies that were guarding him at OHSU noticed that FAIR had a fever and notified hospital staff. The fever was because of the infection with the catheter.

PARKER said the air in the chest cavity could have been self-induced. She said with information she heard about FAIR "slamming into the wall", this could have caused the air. She said she wasn't sure who she heard that FAIR was slamming himself into the wall. She also said this could have occurred before he was taken into custody (from playing basketball or getting into a fight, etc.). She said the air in the chest cavity most likely migrated to his head, which is why OHSU found air in his head.

PARKER also mentioned that she found no physical signs of trauma from physical use by staff at the Multnomah County Detention Center. She said Deputies had to be in FAIR'S jail cell three times (after she started seeing FAIR on Monday morning - September 20th, 2010) and said she was there each time observing the contact with FAIR by the Deputies. She said FAIR did not appear medically injured when he left to OHSU on the second visit and said she was surprised that there was air in his chest cavity.

PARKER concluded that the mental state of FAIR is separate to the internal medical results.

Chief Schultz,

Thank-you so much for all your assistance. I cant thank-you enough I love my son very, very much and the thought of what happen to him makes me sick at the thought what happened to him, please get to the bottom of it. I'm begging accept no excuses - tolerance, that is a child. I respect the good men in law enforcement but their are challenges in life this is a challenge I know your a man of character I can tell. You are a caring person and that's what counts.

You know I think that my son will have a sense of trust shattered because he always thought that he was loved and most people did the right thing. When he needed his dad + mom we weren't there. I could not protect him, But if I was there I would have died for him before I let him be harmed by Maxwell - listen to it my song to him is "Fistful of tears"

Thank-you

Thank-you so much for all your assistance. I can't thank-you enough. I love my son very, very much and the thought of what happen to him makes me sick at the thought what happened to him, please get to the bottom of it. I'm begging accept no excuses - tolerance, that is a clue. I respect the good men in law enforcement but there are challenges in life this is a challenge I know your a man of character I can tell. You are a caring person and that's what counts.

You know I think that my son will have a sense of trust shattered because he always thought that he was loved and most people did the right thing. When he needed his dad & mom we wasn't there. I could not protect him. I was there I would have died for him before I let him be harmed for my son to him is fistful of tears by Maxwell - listen to it

Thank-you

...Friday the 17th was my first direct interaction with him. I knew he had been brought in on Measure 11 charges on Monday because I get a daily population report and I check and, you know, see who's been brought in and those kind of things, but I didn't have any personal interactions with him until that Friday morning. I had been called at home on Thursday night regarding an incident with Kyeron; my on-duty manager had called me to debrief and talk about what was going on to try and make a plan based on his behavior that evening but then on Friday morning I came in and actually had some interaction with him on the unit with an evaluator that his attorney had asked to come in and evaluate him, um, and then had more interactions later that afternoon. I had come down in the unit to check on the staff and talk with him, um, see how he was doing, and then we had an incident where he physically assaulted me which I can describe more for you if you want to get into details later, um, and then made the decision based on his behavior and arguing with the Sheriff's officers with Measure 11 youth, that we were going to transfer him to MCSO custody, and then I was involved when he was being placed in restraints for that transport.

My supervisor called because Kyeron had a visit with his attorney, Gary Bittoni, and then when he got, he was walked up to the visiting room, when he got there he started yelling, You're not my attorney, I fired you, that kind of stuff to Mr. Bittoni, um, my supervisor interacted with him and tried to calm him down; basically the attorney I believe and him agreed that he wasn't in a place to visit right now and they were going to take him back to the unit; he continued to yell and scream, he grabbed all the attorney's paperwork and refused to give it back; so rather than get into a big restraint take-down in the visiting area, they escorted him back to the unit and part way back to the unit, he sat down on the floor, was still screaming about, That's not my attorney, I fired him, and all this stuff.

My supervisor and other staff, I can't remember his name I'd have to look it up, escorted him back to the unit, kind of picked him up by his armpits and kind of walked him back into the unit; walked him back into his room, talked to him, he's still going, kind of yelling and making comments about not being his attorney, he doesn't need to be here, that kind of stuff is my understanding and then um, they got the paperwork back, the manager took it to the attorney and said, you know, Here's your paperwork, sorry about this, and all that, and the attorney was concerned about his mental state and wanted to get an evaluator in, so he arranged while in this 15-minute period or 20-minute period to have Doctor Eric Johnson come in and do an evaluation the next morning at nine o'clock.

Long story short, Kyeron continues to verbally yell and kind of act out in his room and pace around, not doing any physical self-harm behaviors, not assaulting staff or himself or anything but just pace around, yelling loudly, for quite a while, a couple hours I guess, um, and my manager was concerned about whether he was decompensating or escalating and so our normal response is to call the crisis mental health team from Multnomah County, Project Respond, they came out to do an evaluation about what was going on, um, at that point they came out and they talked, they looked and watched, they observed and talked to staff, they were considering, they wanted us to put him in four-point restraints at that point which we don't have access to here, um, and possibly transport him to a hospital.

The concern we had with that is I was informed by Izzy that when Kyeron arrived he attempted to run out the sliders from the police detectives brought him in on Monday, the sliders were closed obviously, he couldn't get out, but it was an attempt to the staff's opinion that it looked like he was trying to get out. Um, based on that the concern was if we transported him to the hospital he would escape or make an attempt to escape and with his serious charges we were, I was concerned about that, um, I asked Izzy to talk to the Project Respond folks because he wasn't being assaultive and he wasn't doing any self-harm behavior and we had the evaluation scheduled for nine the next morning, if we put a one-on-one staff with Kyeron and we could manage his behavior overnight, if we could then do the evaluation and make a decision at that point about whether he needed to be hospitalized; Project Respond agreed.

My manager called in a one-on-one staff, Kyeron spent the night in his room. His behavior settled down, he actually um, the reports I got the next morning was that he slept and he ate, which is the first time that the staff had told me they actually seen him, you know, sleep an amount of time and he slept for about four hours they said, he ate some breakfast which was the first time he really ate any breakfast in the four days he's been here. Um, and so then continuing on to the next morning when I got in here, went down to the unit, checked him, he was awake but quiet in his room, Doctor Johnson, the evaluator came at about nine to see Kyeron to do his evaluation, staff went to talk to Kyeron, he refused to come do the evaluation; I was concerned enough about Kyeron's mental state that I wanted to make sure we had somebody doing a more formal evaluation than myself or any of my staff because we're not mental health professionals, could do, so I asked Doctor Johnson to come with me down to the unit where Kyeron was to try and do some of the evaluation there and interact and do that stuff.

Doctor Johnson went down for about twenty minutes, sat in his room with myself outside and another staff observing, attempted to engage Kyeron in conversation for about twenty minutes; throughout the whole time Kyeron paced around the room, didn't answer any of the questions but was aware the doctor was there. The doctor would ask him a question, he would stop pacing and he would look at the doctor but then not respond but making good eye contact. After about twenty minutes, Doctor Johnson said that he couldn't do any more since Kyeron was refusing to talk to him. So we went back up here to visiting and I sat with Doctor Johnson and I asked him for his initial kind of assessment, it wasn't, he said you know I can't do a full assessment but my initial is, um, that this isn't an acute psychiatric emergency-

And I said, so that means you don't believe hospitalization would be necessary at this point and he said, No. Um, he said he was oriented at the time and place, he could give eye contact, he didn't have any visible signs of any sort of voices or hallucination; he responded nonverbally to questioning but he just wasn't answering, and Doctor Johnson said he didn't feel like he required hospitalization. He said in his opinion he felt like it was 'bargaining' to use his words, that there was probably some mental health issues but that this was um, an attempt for Kyeron to get to go somewhere else and he couldn't, he didn't know what that would be for Kyeron but in his opinion it wasn't a psychiatric emergency that required hospitalization, so we didn't take him to the hospital or anything else, we just kind of managed his behavior.

Throughout the rest of the day he was fine in his room, he was pacing around but he wasn't yelling and he wasn't assaulting anyone and he wasn't hurting himself or doing any of that other stuff, um, about four o'clock that afternoon I had gone back down to check in with the afternoon staff; as shifts were changing, and as I was down there he was pacing around his room but he was quiet and he wasn't acting out at all but he had taken his pillowcase and tied it loose around his neck and was pulling it up and using it to wipe his face; we don't allow kids obviously tie anything around their neck. So I went to his door because there's a little window in the room I said, Kyeron can you take that thing off your neck and he didn't respond, he looked at me and so I repeated it louder, and he went like this, like kind of a gesture I took to mean that he couldn't hear what I was saying --

Yeah, he kind of pointed up to his ear and went like, you know, raised his palms up and shrugged his shoulders like he couldn't hear what I was saying; so to make sure that I was heard, I opened his door and I had my foot by the door and I repeated I said, Kyeron could you take that thing off your neck, I know you use it to wipe your face but you know, you can't have something around your neck, and so he looked at me for a second and he didn't do anything, he was standing there in his room and I said, Kyeron take the thing off your neck; so he took it off his neck, tossed it on his bed, and then um, he ran at the door after he tossed it on his bed and shoved me and tried to come out of the room, and so as he was shoving on me I was holding on the door and I grabbed hold of his arm, um, as he kept pushing on me; another staff came and helped me and he picked him, so the other staff grabbed one leg and I had his arm and kind of walked him in his room and sat him down on his floor, on his backside sitting up, and we said, Stay down, and he, as we let go of him because we were going to back out of the room and we let go of him and we backed out of the room, he jumped up and ran at me again and pushed me again as we tried to go out the door.

So again I grabbed him on the arm, the other staff grabbed his leg and we picked him up and we sat him back down again and at this time I third staff came in and he put his hand on his chest, he wasn't in restraints or anything, he wasn't resisting us, he just, once we had him picked up and put back in the room he was just sitting there; the other staff said, Kyeron you stay in your room, you stay down and we walk out, and so he sat there, we walked out and shut the door, and um, that was it, he didn't yell, he didn't scream, didn't flail, didn't fight, um so based on that escalation of behavior because with the agreement we have, one of the things I, my own personal kind of lines I draw is when a Measure 11 youth, we manage all the Measure 11 youth unless their behavior becomes unmanageable here, and then we have an agreement with the Sheriff to transfer him to adult custody, um, one of my bottom lines with Measure 11 youth is if they assault staff is we recommend send them to the adult custody.

So in this situation because he had come after me and pushed me, I made a decision there was an escalation in his behavior that he needed to be transferred to MCSO custody. I typed up a memo for the officer in charge, I can't remember who it was, we went round-and-round because there was some confusion about the reason why, and I actually spoke to Chief Deputy Ron Bishop that night at about seven o'clock and kind of ran through the scenario with him, he said it met the protocol and they would arrange transport by their Corrections deputies; they would come and get him here and he just asked that we would have him in restraints so they could take custody of him instead of going all the way down the unit, put him in restraints, and bring him out.

Um, prior to this conversation I, or after I had that conversation, I guess with Captain Bishop, one of our procedures and one of the requirements we have is any time we put our hands on a kid we have to notify the parent, um, additionally whenever we transfer a youth who's housed on a Measure 11 charge to adult custody, we notify the parents. So I called and I talked to Kyeron's mother that night, kind of walked her through what happened during the day, told her of our decision that we were going to transfer him to the adult custody, she was upset and angry; obviously we had a couple of fairly lengthy conversations, ten or fifteen minutes about it, by the end of it she didn't agree with my decision but she said she understood that we were doing what we had to do, end of conversation.

She called me back about an hour later and said, you know, I got a picture of myself and Kyeron's dad, can I bring it into him, maybe it will help calm him down; I told her yeah, you know, we're going to be transferring him to adult custody but I'll make sure he has the picture and it gets in his property. I don't know if they'll have it at the jail or whatever, but I'll make sure he gets it. So she came in and brought the picture in, you know, we ended our conversation at that point, she was calm, um, you know, she expressed her displeasure with the way his arrest happened and charging and all of that, and the whole system and youth being charged as adults, but um, I thought we had a very pleasant conversation because of the circumstances.

Shortly thereafter the Sheriff Deputies got here, we went down to the unit to put the handcuffs and leg irons on Kyeron and transport, you know, we were going to walk him up to the Admissions area and hand over him over custody to the Sheriff's deputies; so we went down to the room, I asked him to step back away from the door, he's still pacing in his room, I asked him to step back, he stepped back; I told him the situation that based on his assaultive behavior towards me and his escalation we were transferring him to MCSO custody; he didn't respond, he didn't say anything.

Um, I asked him to turn around so we could put the handcuffs on him, he turned around, I went to grab I guess it would have been his left hand to put the handcuffs on him, um because I was an adult parole and probation officer and supervisor for a while so I have more experience putting handcuffs on than any of my staff do so I was leading the handcuffing. I wasn't expecting it to be any big deal. As I reached out and grabbed his left hand, he started to swing around and try and get away from me and pull away, so I grabbed on with both hands and another staff came in behind me and grabbed his right arm to keep him from fighting more, we lowered him down to his bed because it, in our unit there's a concrete slab and mattress where the beds are, and that's the area we were close to so we lowered him down to his bed to try, you know, keep him from getting hurt or hurting anybody else; we couldn't get the handcuffs on because he was still fighting too much, so we lowered him from the bed to the floor; other staff came in and held his legs and got his legs in leg irons; he struggled, we managed to get the handcuffs put on, um, and he was still struggling at that point, started to calm him down, and I explained to him what I needed him to do, roll over onto his side, asked him to bring his knees up to his chest so we could set him up on his backside and stand him up for the transport; he brought his knees up, we rolled him up, sat him up, started to raise him up and he started standing up, he got about halfway up and he kicked his feet out from under himself, kind of sat back down and then started flailing around on the floor, rolling around onto his stomach, hollering, um, Let me pull my pants up, his pants were up at this point, um, and then he scooted across the floor a little ways, and then he said, Let me pull my pants up, and he pulled his pants down, and he said Let me pull my pants up, and he pulled his pants down again; and then one of my staff pulled them up.

So he sat there and we talked to him and said, Kyeron you need to calm down, I need you to walk up to the Admissions are, that stuff, he eventually quit yelling, Calm down, so I said again, pull your knees up, we're going to stand you up and walk you up there, he did all that, he stood up, I had one side and another staff had the other, we walked out of the unit and started walking on the hallway, we got about half way up the hallway and he kind of slipped his feet out again and we were holding his shoulders so he didn't fall down or anything, and we stood him up and he kind of walked a couple of steps and he kicked his feet out again, so we kind of walked with him doing that down the hallway until we got to our main corner; when we got there he started kicking and flailing around, um, trying to avoid going through the doorway, and he was flailing, and I didn't want to drop him or anything else, so I asked the other staff to hold his legs, so we picked him up and we carried him from the doorway and we carried him into the area you guys came out, the police sally port where the Sherriff's deputies were and they were outside, and they said, Put him down, when we got to the sally port door, so we sat him down and they gave him commands and directives, you know, You're under our custody now, you're going to stop this, you're going to do what we say; he looked at them, he didn't respond, wasn't yelling, wasn't screaming or swearing or anything else, um, so the Sheriff's deputies started to pick him up and he started struggling with them as violently as he could.

My staff assisted them trying to get control of him, to get him to the van to get him in, he wrestled around and at some point, he was wrestling around a lot trying to resist getting in the van, he ended up on the pavement outside, still fighting with the deputies and my staff to avoid it. Deputies told him to stop or they were going to tase him, he stopped; deputies went to pick him back up, he started struggling again, deputies displayed the taser, said, Stop we're going to tase you. He stopped, they went to pick him up again, he started fighting again, eventually you know, they put the red light on him and said, Stop, three or four times, we're going to tase you; never did fire the taser or tase him, um, and he, every time they were giving him a command to stop or he would be tased, he would stop for a minute and then the minute that they tried to pick him up and put him in the van he started fighting again. Eventually my staff, one or two of my staff helped get him into the van, they secured the door and they left.

JE: Detective James Eriksen, MCSO, DPSST 28931
CB: Craig Bachman, Custody Services Manager for Mult County Juvenile Dept.
SS: OSP Detective Scott Sudaisar

JE: Today is November 2, 2010; this is Detective James Eriksen, Multnomah County Sheriff's Office, DPSST 28931. We're here to talk about MCSO case number 10-405941. This is an interview with Craig Bachman, B-A-C-H-M-A-N; he's a custody services manager for the Multnomah County Juvenile Department. We're in his office located at 1401 NE 68th Avenue, and also present during the interview is Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar. Craig, you realize we're being recorded?

CB: Yes.

JE: All right, and you're okay with that?

CB: Yes.

JE: All right, so mainly we're just here to kind of find out your interactions regarding Kyeron Fair the time he's been here and any other information you may have about his time at the juvenile department. So do you recall when he came into your custody?

CB: The calendar, I believe it was September 13?

JE: Okay, September 13th, a Monday. And do you know how long he was here for?

CB: He was here until the evening of September 17th, Friday.

JE: Friday, okay. During that time did you have any interactions with Kyeron?

CB: I did on Friday the 17th was my first direct interaction with him. I knew he had been brought in on Measure 11 charges on Monday because I get a daily population report and I check and, you know, see who's been brought in and those kind of things, but I didn't have any personal interactions with him until that Friday morning. I had been called at home on Thursday night regarding an incident with Kyeron; my on-duty manager had called me to debrief and talk about what was going on to try and make a plan based on his behavior that evening but then on Friday morning I came in and actually had some interaction with him on the unit with an evaluator that his attorney had asked to come in and evaluate him, um, and then had more interactions later that afternoon. I had come down in the unit to check on the staff and talk with him, um, see how he was doing, and then we had an incident where he physically assaulted me which

I can describe more for you if you want to get into details later, um, and then made the decision based on his behavior and arguing with the Sheriff's officers with Measure 11 youth, that we were going to transfer him to MCSO custody, and then I was involved when he was being placed in restraints for that transport.

JE: Okay, so let's go back to the Thursday evening when you were at home and you got a phone call from one of your supervisors?

CB: Yeah.

JE: What was that involving?

CB: My supervisor called because Kyeron had a visit with his attorney, Gary Bittoni, and then when he got, he was walked up to the visiting room, when he got there he started yelling, You're not my attorney, I fired you, that kind of stuff to Mr. Bittoni, um, my supervisor interacted with him and tried to calm him down; basically the attorney I believe and him agreed that he wasn't in a place to visit right now and they were going to take him back to the unit; he continued to yell and scream, he grabbed all the attorney's paperwork and refused to give it back; so rather than get into a big restraint take-down in the visiting area, they escorted him back to the unit and part way back to the unit, he sat down on the floor, was still screaming about, That's not my attorney, I fired him, and all this stuff. My supervisor and other staff, I can't remember his name I'd have to look it up, escorted him back to the unit, kind of picked him up by his armpits and kind of walked him back into the unit; walked him back into his room, talked to him, he's still going, kind of yelling and making comments about not being his attorney, he doesn't need to be here, that kind of stuff is my understanding and then um, they got the paperwork back, the manager took it to the attorney and said, you know, Here's your paperwork, sorry about this, and all that, and the attorney was concerned about his mental state and wanted to get an evaluator in, so he arranged while in this 15-minute period or 20-minute period to have Doctor Eric Johnson come in and do an evaluation the next morning at nine o'clock. Long story short, Kyeron continues to verbally yell and kind of act out in his room and pace around, not doing any physical self-harm behaviors, not assaulting staff or himself or anything but just pace around, yelling loudly, for quite a while, a couple hours I guess, um, and my manager was concerned about whether he was decompensating or escalating and so our normal response is to call the crisis mental health team from Multnomah County, Project Respond, they came out to do an evaluation about what was going on, um, at that point they came out and they talked, they looked and watched, they observed and talked to staff, they were considering, they wanted us to put him in four-point restraints at that point which we don't have access to here, um, and possibly transport him to a hospital. The concern we had with that is I was informed by Izzy that when Kyeron arrived he attempted to run out the sliders from the police detectives brought him in on Monday, the sliders were closed obviously, he couldn't get out, but it was an attempt to the staff's opinion that it looked like he was trying to get out. Um, based on that the concern was if we transported him to the hospital he would escape or make an attempt to escape and with his serious charges we were, I was concerned about that, um, I asked Izzy to talk to the Project Respond folks because he wasn't being assaultive and he wasn't doing any self-harm behavior and we had the evaluation scheduled for nine the next morning, if we put a one-on-one staff with Kyeron and we could manage his behavior overnight, if we could then do the evaluation and make a decision at that point about whether he needed to be hospitalized; Project Respond agreed. My manager called in a one-on-one staff, Kyeron spent the night in his room. His behavior settled down, he actually um, the reports I got the next morning was that he slept and he ate, which is the first time that the staff had told me they actually seen him, you know, sleep an amount of time and he slept for about four hours they said, he ate some breakfast which was the first time he really ate any breakfast in the four days he's been here. Um, and so then continuing on to the next morning when I got in here, went down to the unit, checked him, he was awake but quiet in his room, Doctor Johnson, the evaluator came at about nine to see Kyeron to do his evaluation, staff went to talk to Kyeron, he refused to come do the evaluation; I was concerned enough about Kyeron's mental state that I wanted to make sure we had somebody doing a more formal evaluation than myself or any of my staff because we're not mental health professionals, could do, so I asked Doctor Johnson to come with me down to the unit where Kyeron was to try and do some of the evaluation there and interact and do that stuff. Doctor Johnson went down for about twenty minutes, sat in his room with myself outside and another staff observing, attempted to engage Kyeron in conversation for about twenty minutes; throughout the whole time Kyeron paced around the room, didn't answer any of the questions but was aware the doctor was there. The doctor would ask him a question, he would stop pacing and he would look at the doctor but then not respond but making good eye contact. After about twenty minutes, Doctor Johnson said that he couldn't do any more since Kyeron was refusing to talk to him. So we went back up here to visiting and I sat with Doctor Johnson and I asked him for his initial kind of assessment, it wasn't, he said you know I can't do a full assessment but my initial is, um, that this isn't an acute psychiatric emergency-

SS: Is not?

CB: - Is not. And I said, so that means you don't believe hospitalization would be necessary at this point and he said, No. Um, he said he was oriented at the time and place, he could give eye contact, he didn't have any visible signs of any sort of voices or hallucination; he responded nonverbally to questioning but he just wasn't answering, and Doctor Johnson said he didn't feel like he required hospitalization. He said in his opinion he felt like it was 'bargaining' to use his words, that there was probably some mental health issues but that this was um, an attempt for Kyeron to get to go somewhere else and he couldn't, he didn't know what that would be for Kyeron but in his opinion it wasn't a psychiatric emergency that required hospitalization, so we didn't take him to the hospital or anything else, we just kind of managed his behavior. Throughout the rest of the day he was fine in his room, he was pacing around but he wasn't yelling and he wasn't assaulting anyone and he wasn't hurting himself or doing any of that other stuff, um, about four o'clock that afternoon I had gone back down to check in with the afternoon staff; as shifts were changing, and as I was down there he was pacing around his room but he was quiet and he wasn't acting out at all but he had taken his pillowcase and tied it loose around his neck and was pulling it up and using it to wipe his face; we don't allow kids obviously tie anything around their neck. So I went to his door because there's a little window in the room I said, Kyeron can you take that thing off your neck and he didn't respond, he looked at me and so I repeated it louder, and he went like this, like kind of a gesture I took to mean that he couldn't hear what I was saying –

JE: So he was pointing to his ear or –

CB: Yeah, he kind of pointed up to his ear and went like, you know, raised his palms up and shrugged his shoulders like he couldn't hear what I was saying; so to make sure that I was heard, I opened his door and I had my foot by the door and I repeated I said, Kyeron could you take that thing off your neck, I know you use it to wipe your face but you know, you can't have something around your neck, and so he looked at me for a second and he didn't do anything, he was standing there in his room and I said, Kyeron take the thing off your neck; so he took it off his neck, tossed it on his bed, and then um, he ran at the door after he tossed it on his bed and shoved me and tried to come out of the room, and so as he was shoving on me I was holding on the door and I grabbed hold of his arm, um, as he kept pushing on me; another staff came and helped me and he picked him, so the other staff grabbed one leg and I had his arm and kind of walked him in his room and sat him down on his floor, on his backside sitting up, and we said, Stay down, and he, as we let go of him because we were going to back out of the room and we let go of him and we backed out of the room, he jumped up and ran at me again and pushed me again as we tried to go out the door. So again I grabbed him on the arm, the other staff grabbed his leg and we picked him up and we sat him back down again and at this time I third staff came in and he put his hand on his chest, he wasn't in restraints or anything, he wasn't resisting us, he just, once we had him picked up and put back in the room he was just sitting there; the other staff said, Kyeron you stay in your room, you stay down and we walk out, and so he sat there, we walked out and shut the door, and um, that was it, he didn't yell, he didn't scream, didn't flail, didn't fight, um so based on that escalation of behavior because with the agreement we have, one of the things I, my own personal kind of lines I draw is when a Measure 11 youth, we manage all the Measure 11 youth unless their behavior becomes unmanageable here, and then we have an agreement with the Sheriff to transfer him to adult custody, um, one of my bottom lines with Measure 11 youth is if they assault staff is we recommend send them to the adult custody. So in this situation because he had come after me and pushed me, I made a decision there was an escalation in his behavior that he needed to be transferred to MCSO custody. I typed up a memo for the officer in charge, I can't remember who it was, we went round-and-round because there was some confusion about the reason why, and I actually spoke to Chief Deputy Ron Bishop that night at about seven o'clock and kind of ran through the scenario with him, he said it met the protocol and they would arrange transport by their Corrections deputies; they would come and get him here and he just asked that we would have him in restraints so they could take custody of him instead of going all the way down the unit, put him in restraints, and bring him out. Um, prior to this conversation I, or after I had that conversation, I guess with Captain Bishop, one of our procedures and one of the requirements we have is any time we put our hands on a kid we have to notify the parent, um, additionally whenever we transfer a youth who's housed on a Measure 11 charge to adult custody, we notify the parents. So I called and I talked to Kyeron's mother that night, kind of walked her through what happened during the day, told her of our decision that we were going to transfer him to the adult custody, she was upset and angry; obviously we had a couple of fairly lengthy conversations, ten or fifteen minutes about it, by the end of it she didn't agree with my decision but she said she understood that we were doing what we had to do, end of conversation. She called me back about an hour later and said, you know, I got a picture of myself and Kyeron's dad, can I bring it into him, maybe it will help calm him down; I told her yeah, you know, we're going to be transferring him to adult custody but I'll make sure he has the picture and it gets in his property. I don't know if they'll have it at the jail or whatever, but I'll make sure he gets it. So she came in and brought the picture in, you know, we ended our conversation at that point, she was calm, um, you know, she expressed her displeasure with the way his arrest happened and charging and all of that, and the whole system and youth being charged as adults, but um, I thought we had a very pleasant conversation because of the circumstances. Shortly thereafter the Sheriff Deputies got here, we went down to the unit to put the handcuffs and leg irons on Kyeron and transport, you know, we were going to walk him up to the Admissions area and hand over him over custody to the Sheriff's deputies; so we went down to the room, I asked him to step back away from the door, he's still pacing in his room, I asked him to step back, he stepped back; I told him the situation that based on his assaultive behavior towards me and his escalation we were transferring him to MCSO custody; he didn't respond, he didn't say anything. Um, I asked him to turn around so we could put the handcuffs on him, he turned around, I went to grab I guess it would have been his left hand to put the handcuffs on him, um because I was an adult parole and probation officer and supervisor for a while so I have more experience putting handcuffs on than any of my staff do so I was leading the handcuffing. I wasn't expecting it to be any big deal. As I reached out and grabbed his left hand, he started to swing around and try and get away from me and pull away, so I grabbed on with both hands and another staff came in behind me and grabbed his right arm to keep him from fighting more, we lowered him down to his bed because it, in our unit there's a concrete slab and mattress where the beds are, and that's the area we were close to so we lowered him down to his bed to try, you know, keep him from getting hurt or hurting anybody else; we couldn't get the handcuffs on because he was still fighting too much, so we lowered him from the bed to the floor; other staff came in and held his legs and got his legs in leg irons; he struggled, we managed to get the handcuffs put on, um, and he was still struggling at that point, started to calm him down, and I explained to him what I needed him to do, roll over onto his side, asked him to bring his knees up to his chest so we could set him up on his backside and stand him up for the transport; he brought his knees up, we rolled him up, sat him up, started to raise him up and he started standing up, he got about halfway up and he kicked his feet out from under himself, kind of sat back down and then started flailing around on the floor, rolling around onto his stomach, hollering, um, Let me pull my pants up, his pants were up at this point, um, and then he scooped across the floor a little ways, and then he said, Let me pull my pants up, and he pulled his pants down, and he said Let me pull my pants up, and he pulled his pants down again; and then one of my staff pulled them up. So he sat there and we talked to him and said, Kyeron you need to calm down, I need you to walk up to the Admissions area, that stuff, he eventually quit yelling, Calm down, so I said again, pull your knees up, we're going to stand you up and walk you up there, he did all that, he stood up, I had one side and another staff had the other, we walked out of the unit and started walking on the hallway, we got about half way up the hallway and he kind of slipped his feet out again and we were holding his shoulders so he didn't fall down or anything, and we stood him up and he kind of walked a couple of steps and he kicked his feet out again, so we kind of walked with him doing that down the hallway until we got to our main corner; when we got there he started kicking and flailing around, um, trying to avoid going through the doorway, and he was flailing, and I didn't want to drop him or anything else, so I asked the other staff to hold his legs, so we picked him up and we carried him from the doorway and we carried him into the area you guys came out, the police sally port where the Sheriff's deputies were and they were outside, and they said, Put him down, when we got to the sally port door, so we sat him down and they gave him commands and directives, you know, You're under our custody now, you're going to stop this, you're going to do what we say; he looked at them, he didn't respond, wasn't yelling, wasn't screaming or swearing or anything else, um, so the Sheriff's deputies started to pick him up and he started struggling with them as violently as he could. My staff assisted them trying to get control of him, to get him to the van to get him in, he wrestled around and at some point, he was wrestling around a lot trying to resist getting in the van, he ended up on the pavement outside, still fighting with the deputies and my staff to avoid it. Deputies told him to stop or they were going to tase him, he stopped; deputies went to pick him back up, he started struggling again, deputies displayed the taser, said, Stop we're going to tase you. He stopped, they went to pick him up again, he started fighting again, eventually you know, they put the red light on him and said, Stop, three or four times, we're going to tase you; never did fire the taser or tase him, um, and he, every time they were giving him a command to stop or he would be tased, he would stop for a minute and then the minute that they tried to pick him up and put him in the van he started fighting again. Eventually my staff, one or two of my staff helped get him into the van, they secured the door and they left.

JE: And the van was located inside the little caged area –

CB: Yeah, our police sally port –

JE: Okay.

CB: - a secure area here.

JE: Okay. How close were they from the van to the doors to the Intake, the sliding doors?

CB: Oh, fifteen feet.

JE: Okay.

CB: They were parked, yeah it's no more than thirty feet from the farthest point, so it was, he struggled basically the whole way back and forth.

JE: Okay. Did any of your staff members get injured during the altercation?

CB: I asked them all if any of them got injured or punched and none of them said they did, um, I think, you know, they were tired -

JE: Yeah.

CB: - because he struggled pretty hard for, it was probably 20 minutes total from the time he went down into the unit and initiated trying to put the restraints on him until he got into the van.

JE: And for this 20 minutes, most of the time he was struggling, there were a few times you said that he stopped?

November 2, 2010

CB: Yeah, he would stop for 20, 10, 15 seconds, you know, catch his breath or whatever, um, but then whenever we would try and move him again or do something else, he would start struggling.

JE: Was he complaining of any injuries?

CB: He didn't complain of anything. He didn't appear to have any injuries, he had no external, you know, there were no bruises, no cuts that I could see, um, he really didn't complain at all, he didn't really say anything from the time we walked him up the hallway, um, and you know carried him to the Intake area, once he had stopped doing the, Let me pull my pants up, kind of behavior he really didn't say anything the whole time up there until he got out and he was struggling with the deputies, and at one point when they said, I'm going to tase you and they made it click, the taser went click, click, click, he started screaming, um, and the deputy said, I'm not tasing you, stop screaming; and he quit, but that was really the only thing he verbalized.

JE: So what do the kids wear here, what was Kyeron wearing when he left, is it like a long sleeve, short sleeve type shirt, sweatshirt?

CB: I don't remember if he had a sweatshirt on, he was wearing sweatpants, pair of socks, um, normally they wear a t-shirt or a, and a sweatshirt or just a t-shirt, I can't remember whether he had the sweatshirt on or not, um, but he was wearing a t-shirt and pair of sweatpants and socks at least, and underwear obviously, um, let me think if he had, I don't think he had a sweatshirt on but I'm not for sure.

JE: At any time during his time here, were there any complaints made by him regarding any physical injuries?

CB: Not that I know of.

JE: Okay. There was no time that the medics came to look at him for any reason that you know of?

CB: Well our nurses come around three times a day for med call and medical stuff, but I don't know of any times where he complained that he was hurt or injured.

JE: Okay. Was there any time that he would have been with another inmate or was he always isolated in his own cell?

CB: Um, I don't know if he was always isolated in his own cell, if he could have had access to, I mean normally our, the kids when they're complying and following the rules and stuff, they're out, they go to school, they eat meals together, that stuff, um, but we have only, as far as I know from at least um, Thursday on he was in his room basically the whole time, um, with one-on-one staffing from Thursday night until about noon on Friday when we had talked to the nurse and based on the fact that he wasn't doing any self-harm behavior or any of that other stuff, we took the one-on-one off um, and went back to our normal staffing.

JE: So if a juvenile needed to go to the hospital, the policy isn't that they have to go to MCDC it would the staff member or ambulance would come and take him?

CB: Yeah, we, the medical staff or we would call, you know, for emergency after-hours when our nurses aren't here, we'd call 911.

JE: Okay.

CB: Paramedics, Fire come, make an assessment if they say he needs to go to the hospital, we take him to the hospital. If he's here and the nurses say, you know, we need to take this kid to the hospital for whatever illness, injury, we, I have my staff transport him to the hospital.

JE: Okay.

CB: And the nurses can also arrange routine medical visits for kids who need to go see a clinic or something if they need it; we put them in restraints and we take them to the hospital or the doctor, or wherever they need to go. There is no policy that would require us to take them to MCDC before they go to the hospital.

JE: Okay. And then consulting with Doctor Johnson, his impression was that it wasn't an emergency where he had to go to the hospital immediately?

CB: Yeah.

JE: But Project Respond wanted or thought he should go to the hospital, but in a four-point restraint, which you guys aren't able to do.

CB: Yeah, and then in talking with Project Respond I had my manager kind of run 'em down the fact that we had Doctor Johnson coming the next morning, he wasn't doing self-harm behaviors or acting out physically at that point; he was basically pacing around his room, um, and I had him ask if it was okay if we brought in, if we thought we could manage the one-on-one staff would that be sufficient, and um I told him, you know, if they think that's sufficient, then we could manage it that way; that we would and if that wasn't sufficient for them and they felt it wasn't a good plan, we would take him to the hospital, so my understanding is he talked with the Project Respond people and told them about what our plan was and the reason why we wanted to keep him for the evaluation the next morning, and so he stayed.

SS: Who was that manager?

CB: Izzy.

SS: Oh that was Izzy?

CB: Yeah.

SS: Okay.

JE: And do you know Doctor Johnson, do you know what his title is, is he like a child psychologist or –

CB: I don't know what his title is, maybe forensic child psycholog-, I don't know, he's a psychologist that's been used a lot for juveniles.

JE: And so you worked with him before on other cases?

CB: I know other cases where he's worked, I know um, in the past when I worked for a treatment program the department ran, I've seen his evaluations and know his work, and um –

JE: Okay.

CB: - and feel like he has a good basis for making an assessment.

SS: And his assessments are used, I'm assuming his assessments are used in court in the legal process because he's being hired by the defense attorneys?

CB: Yeah, I believe that's when he's, what he primarily does.

SS: Okay.

CB: I don't know if he's ever used by the prosecution or not, but he does go to court.

SS: Okay. When you're talking about one-on-one with Kyeron, are you saying that started Thursday night after that phone call that you received at home?

CB: I think that's when it started, yeah.

SS: Okay, so that was after the meeting with his attorney?

CB: Yeah.

SS: What is this one-on-one, how does that set up?

CB: Normally what we do with a one-on-one, um, it's for, primarily it's for youth that have expressed active self-harm behaviors and so the staff is, the youth can engage in normal behaviors but the staff's within arms reach or right next to 'em to make sure they don't hurt themselves. Um, in this case because it was bedtime and everything, normally what we do is have somebody sit at the door and their job is to observe that one youth all the time, so there's always one person watching that youth and making sure that they're um, staying safe.

SS: Okay, if he was not doing any self harm, what was it about Thursday that necessitated the one-on-one?

CB: The manager Izzy felt like that it was an unusually long kind of disruptive behavior; I think his concern was that his behavior would escalate and at night our staffing is minimal, and he didn't want to put the staff in a position with limited resources for help of not being, having somebody around, so by having a lone one particularly for the overnight hours gave us an additional staff person who's, because at night our staffing is one staff for 32 kids, and so by having an additional one-on-one staff overnight, it gave somebody specifically there to observe and make sure Kyeron stayed safe and let the other staff continue to maintain the other youth.

SS: Okay, when you implement the one-on-one I guess program for any one child, is there any kind of form that you have to fill out or any kind of policy that you're operating under?

CB: Yeah they usually fill out a Constant Watch Form, um, and I'm sorry I don't have it with me or know if they filled it out on this one. Normally when it's done, the nurses are putting them on a self-harm thing so we document every 5, 10, 15 minutes exactly what he's doing, sleeping, sitting in his room, going to school, that kind of stuff just to keep track of it; um, in this case because it wasn't based on self-harm, I'm not sure if they had him fill out that log or not.

SS: Okay, is it constant watch?

CB: Yeah.

SS: Constant watch, is that the same as suicide watch or is it different?

CB: Um, well in our policy, the suicide watches, there's three levels: there's an um, there is the Q-15 which is every 15 minutes somebody's checking on the youth; there's the constant watch which is the highest level; and then there's the close observations which is, there's been some, either in the past or some idea this kid might try to hurt himself and so you're, the staff are told to keep him under close observation, and so those are the three levels of the suicide watch.

November 2, 2010

SS: So the constant watch is part of the suicide watch?

CB: Normally, yeah, but we also utilized it for other behavior type kids who are just having a hard time maintaining their behavior; kids that have a lot of physical acting out and aggression we found that sometimes if you have a one-on-one staff to come and interact with those kids, it can minimize those behaviors.

SS: Okay. During that week were there any reports of any attempts at self-harm by Kyeron?

CB: Not to my knowledge.

SS: Okay. At the time did you or your staff consider him putting the pillowcase around his neck an indication of self-harm or possible concern for self-harm?

CB: I didn't, only because I saw him, he kind of had like a headband and he pulled on it and wiped his face, and it was there and then he would wipe his face with it again, um, and it was tied kind of like a bandanna, not like he had it tied tight around his neck or was trying to choke himself; I thought it was more of like a headband he was using to wipe his face, um, I didn't think it was a self-harm type behavior.

SS: Okay. Do you remember who was with you when you guys handcuffed Kyeron on Friday the 17th and then made the exchange with the deputies?

CB: Uh, there were several staff, um, Steve Brennan is one of the staff, um, Souk Phandousy –

SS: Souka Phandousy?

CB: Souka is his first name, S-O-U-K-A, and then his last name is spelled P-H-A-N-D-O-U-S-Y I believe, um; Bruce Kosharek –

SS: Kosharek?

CB: K-O-S-H-A-R-E-C A-R-E-K, I believe.

SS: Okay.

CB: Um, and then I can't remember the other ones off the top of my head, I could look it up on the incident report if you want.

SS: How many more people were there?

CB: There was a couple of others but I can't remember, two, maybe three?

JE: So there was probably seven of you total trying to get him from outside –

CB: Yeah, and I don't know if all of those folks actually were involved in the restraint or anything else, I know um, Steve and Suke, I think Ahn Winn was there, he's another of my staff. I think Suke and Ahn put the leg irons on, um, and then Steve Brennen and Bruce and I put the handcuffs on, um, but I was kind of involved with getting the handcuffs secured and he was resisting and grabbing and everything else, and so I didn't really, I wasn't really watching who all um, actually helped out with putting the restraints on.

SS: Okay. And the restraints, was that belly chains or was it just ankle or –

CB: No, it was a set of handcuffs and then the leg irons.

SS: Handcuffs in the back?

CB: Yeah, in the back.

SS: When he was resisting you during the cuffing phase, I've been in those situations before, and he has, and you were a parole officer, I'm sure you have, they just become fluid, I mean were there times where he was either thrown to the ground or people fell on top of him, or was he shoved into walls or anything like that?

CB: No, we –

SS: I mean what kind of take-downs did you have to use, or did you use take-downs?

CB: We didn't use –

SS: - with physical control with numbers?

CB: Just physical control; when I had him by the arm and he kind of pulled away from me and started to swing around, I grabbed one arm and another staff grabbed the other, and we kind of just laid him down because it was in the corner of the room by his mattress so we laid him down on his mattress and he was still struggling and we couldn't obviously reach to get the handcuffs on because of how he was struggling, and so we kind of lifted him up and physically, I know probably somebody has his legs but I can't remember who it was, we kind of lifted him up and sat him down while he was you know, flailing his arms, trying to flail his arms and we had a hold of him so he couldn't, um, and then I was kneeling next to him, the other guy who had his other arm was pulling it out, wasn't even next to him and they were holding his feet but nobody kneeled on his back, nobody jumped on him. It wasn't like a pile-up where people were diving on him, we had him under pretty good um, physical control when we lowered him down to the ground, um, and then when we stood him up, he did the, we had our hands on him and we kicked his feet out, he kind of sat down and started rocking side to side and kind of kicking his feet so we just kind of let him do that rather than trying to wrestle with him, he was already in restraints, there's no need for us to use any sort of force to get compliance, so we just kind of let him do that until he quit.

SS: Okay. At one point you said that somebody's hand was on his chest –

CB: Yeah, that was earlier in the day –

SS: Okay.

CB: - when he shoved me and tried to get out of the room the second time –

SS: Right, okay.

CB: - we kind of, I had lifted up his upper body by holding onto his arms and another staff one leg, and we kind of walked him in the room, we sat him down on his backside and the third staff, because this was the second time, came in and just put his hand on his chest to, and said Stop you need to stay down and we'll let go of you.

SS: Was he, okay. Was that pressure just like pushing him, Kyeron to the ground or was this something where he came in with a thud and –

CB: No.

SS: - pushed him real hard, hit him hard –

CB: He came running right behind us and we already had him sitting down, and he was basically, placed his hand on him, he didn't push, he didn't run in and shove him or anything, he was already down and he just kind of put his hand there to calm him down and say, Look you need to stay, you know that kind of, Look you need to stay here, and then um, and basically put his hand on his chest, didn't use any sort of force, you know, or shove him to the ground. We don't do arm-

November 2, 2010

bar take-downs or joint manipulation or pressure points or pain compliance when we're um, working with the kids.

SS: Okay.

JE: So at the van, what type of interaction were the deputies having with Kyeron to get him in the van? What, except for the taser, did you see any other type of, you talked about like pain compliance or pressure points?

CB: No, they didn't do any of that, I mean basically he was in restraints so they were trying to pick him up and get him in the van, he would kick and he would prop his feet against the door and you know, flop around and wiggle around and so they couldn't get him in the van, but they didn't do any pain compliance or pressure points or anything like that, they basically, you know, he would do that and they would end up, put him back down on the ground and he would kick and do some more and then they would say, you know, Stop or I'll tase you, and he would stop, so they would go to pick him up and he would start kicking and flailing around again, um, but they never did any sort of pain compliance or joint manipulation or any of that stuff with him.

SS: Did it seem to you that Kyeron may have been reacting that way because of the way he was being treated by the deputies or were the deputies responding to his behavior?

CB: I felt like they were responding to his behavior, I mean we set him down, they said they were going to, you know, they said he was under their custody and they were going to take him to the van and he would need to follow their directions, and when they went to pick him up he started resisting; they didn't, they weren't aggressive, they weren't, you know, over the top, they weren't trying to, it didn't appear to me that they were trying to do anything other than get him in the van so they could take him down to MCDC.

SS: Okay. When he was attempting, when he did first try to run out of the room and tried to push you out of the way, who were the other two staff members there?

CB: Uh, Martine Blanco, B-L-A-N-C-O; and then another staff was Pam Davis, and then Mike Peterson was the staff that actually came in and kind of put his hand on his chest and said, You need to stay down.

JE: At any time were there any medical staff observing to make sure they were needed for anything, is that like a policy where you might have a nurse watching?

CB: Um, whenever we have a kid, a youth that's put in restraints for behavior, um, we always call the nurse down in the unit to observe; in this case, um, he was never put in restraints, um, and so they weren't down on the unit and then with the transport, um and the handcuffs, the nurse didn't come down at that point either because we were anticipating just put him in the restraints and walking him out, we didn't think he was going to resist like he did.

SS: Prior to your phone call on Thursday, you had a period between Monday when you saw that he had arrived, and then Thursday night when you got your first phone call about Kyeron, had you had any notice by staff members between that time of his behavior, maybe that he was deteriorating, maybe he was out of control, not eating, not sleeping; were you made aware of anything like that?

CB: Nothing that was what I would consider out of the ordinary; staff had said that he was having some trouble adjusting, that he wasn't sleeping well at night, but we get a lot of kids who come in and they don't eat regularly, they don't really sleep very well initially, um, that's kind of a normal adjustment. I hadn't heard that he was having any sort of outlandish behaviors, voices, or anything else, um, that I considered to be outlandish, um, and then on Thursday was really the first time that I had gotten a report that he was um, after the visit incident.

SS: Okay. On Friday he attempted to run past your, through you to escape that room, you said that on Monday when he was brought in, it was reported to you that he attempted to run out of the Intake area also. Were you given any other information about him trying to escape from his cell or another room at any time?

CB: No.

SS: What about him trying to knock down doors or run through walls or anything like that?

CB: No.

SS: Did you hear about any reports of any kind of –

CB: Huh-uh.

SS: Okay, just normal kid with normal stressors, is that what I'm hearing?

CB: Well to be honest, I didn't hear a whole lot of reports at all –

SS: Okay.

CB: - because I don't, in general.

SS: So the only red flags were the not eating and not sleeping, but that's fairly typical for kids when they're first placed here, is that –

CB: I won't say it's typical because we get all sorts of kids, but there are -

SS: But it's not abnormal?

CB: It's not abnormal for kids not to eat and not to sleep well particularly when they first come in on the Measure 11 charge; where they're facing, you know, significant, the possibility of significant prison time.

SS: Right.

CB: Um, so –

SS: Okay. Doctor Johnson's opinion that Kyeron may have been bargaining with staff, had that been the opinion of other staff members also that had been relayed to you or had you not heard that?

CB: I hadn't really heard that, my concern was like with any of the kids when we transport them out, whether or not it's, the opportunity for them to escape is much greater obviously, um, but I, nobody ever had told me they thought he was bargaining or trying to get to go somewhere different or anything like that, that he was um, like I said, I honestly before Thursday hadn't, really hadn't had any interactions with Kyeron or the case, and didn't really know a whole lot other than what was, what I talked about, so um, yeah.

SS: Okay. The staff, when his packet was transferred, they provided to the jail their form for the one-on-one, that it was on a suicide watch form, instead of, I can't remember what you use that, the term you use –

CB: The constant watch.

SS: - you said a constant watch was on a suicide watch form. Is that something that would strike you as strange or is that something that would be normal practice -

CB: Is it –

SS: - in that situation he would be on suicide watch?

CB: Which form was it, sorry. Yeah, that's going to be the form that the nurses always use, um, whenever we have somebody that's on constant watch, um, when they're taken off, that's the form the nurses always fill out, um –

November 2, 2010

SS: Okay.

CB: - that's the only form we have basically and the way the policy and protocol is set up is the nurses are the only ones, when we put somebody on like that, the nurses are the only ones that can take them off.

SS: Okay.

CB: So they fill out the form, um -

SS: Because this one shows that he was on the 15-minute observation checks, it looks like it began at 1:30 in the afternoon on the 17th; and the numbers are crossed out -

CB: Yeah, I'm not sure. I think this was where they filled out when they stepped him off the constant -

SS: Okay. So that would be a different form for the constant watch?

CB: Well normally when they are placed on, by medical for a suicide watch, the medical staff fills out one of these forms to place him on it and then a different form when they step him down or take them off; and so I'm not sure if this form got filled out initially Thursday night, but this form looks like the one that they filled out when they took him off.

SS: Okay.

CB: When we decided that he was, basically his behavior wasn't in need of the constant watch.

SS: Because our recollection is there's another form that was also used, same form, just different. Okay.

CB: I haven't seen any of the paperwork from the Corrections Health, so.

SS: When, what I'm trying to understand is the decision-making process correctly; is JDH or your staff equipped to take Kyeron to the hospital and provide, I guess one-on-one supervision or one-on-one custody supervision while he's at the hospital? Is your staff equipped for that?

CB: Yeah.

SS: Okay. What was, what factors led your decision to send Kyeron to the adult facility where he would be supervised by their staff and the medical staff, rather than to the jail for an assessment, or rather than to the hospital for an initial assessment?

CB: It was based on his behavior and his escalation of the, trying to run out of the room and pushing me, assaulting me for lack of a better term, um, and my own kind of bottom line expectation of the kids that are here for Measure 11, that they don't assault staff. It wasn't about his mental health or any other sort of health issue; it was based solely on the criteria we have established at the Sheriff's Office that we house Measure 11 youth until they turn 18, unless their behavior warrants transfer to the adult jail; Um, it wasn't based on anything else other than that escalation of his behavior.

SS: Okay.

JE: How long have you worked at JDH?

CB: I've been the custody service manager for a year now.

JE: Okay. And in that year, how many times do you think you transferred a juvenile that isn't 18 on a Measure 11 to MCDC?

CB: I don't know the rough ballpark; I want to say less than ten.

JE: Okay.

CB: But I don't have the number off the top of my head, uh --

JE: And that's all for behavioral issues?

CB: Yeah.

JE: Okay.

CB: Either they assaulted peers, they've refused to follow the program, they act out physically, I mean, and they don't respond to other interventions here, um --

JE: So why did MCDC initially say they weren't going to take him?

CB: Um, well when I talked to Captain Bishop, he told me that it was the first time he had heard that it was a Measure 11, that he was charged with a Measure 11 crime, and so I think there was confusion about why, I think they, I'm not sure the communication happened clearly that this was a youth that was charged with a Measure 11 crime that was 17-years-old that we were transferring based on the protocols we set up with the Sheriff's Office, and so whatever that communication happened, it was um, unclear and then when I talked to Captain Bishop I walked him through the events and said, you know, we'd like to transfer him based on his behavior, he's 17-years-old, he's charged with a Measure 11 crime, um, and he said he met the protocol and he would arrange to have it done.

JE: So if you have a kid that had a felony non-Measure 11, and he acts out, what's your guys protocol, just for my information?

CB: We do, it really depends on what acting out is, you know, for physically assaultive behavior, we can use what's called a room-lock, where they're locked in their rooms for a certain amount of time, um, we also have individualized behavior programs where we set up expectations for behavior and what the, privileges are different, um, we have you know, obviously we have soft physical restraints if the kid's so out of control he has to be physically restrained, um, we have a seclusion room which can be used to seclude the kid from the rest of the unit, um, until they're calm enough to go back to their own room; so we have, and then we just have obviously just other graduated kind of interventions based on behaviors.

JE: Okay.

SS: During that time that Kyeron was here, your personal observations and anything you may have seen or heard from your staff members, was he expressing any concerns or complaints about the way he was treated by the arresting officers from the Portland Police Bureau, by any of the staff here, or his attorney, was he complaining about use of force, was he complaining about injuries, was he complaining about not being treated fairly, I mean was he, or was he complaining about, you know, gang members or fears for his safety; was he expressing any of those kinds of concerns or complaints about injuries or fears?

CB: Not to my knowledge. The only time I had heard about any complaints is during my conversation with his mom, um, that Friday evening when I called her to tell her about when he pushed me and us putting him back in his room and that we were going to transfer him to the Sheriff's Office; she told me about her concerns about the fact that he interrogated him for so long, he didn't have a parent notified and those issues, but prior to that I hadn't heard any of those kinds of things.

SS: Did you only have one conversation with the mother?

CB: Well I had two that same night.

SS: Okay.

CB: I talked to her, um, initially about the incidents that had happened since he's been transferred to the Sheriff's custody, and then she called back later on and asked to bring the picture in, and I approved doing that. And I talked to her then in our visiting when she brought the picture in.

SS: Did she express any concerns about his behavior, maybe mentioning that there was a change in his behavior or is abnormal, or did she act like this was something normal and not unexpected?

CB: She, she during our conversation said, This isn't like him. You can talk to Anthony he's never been like this before, I don't know what's going on. Um, and I know she had talked to another, one of my manager's, Don Lincoln, prior to that, I think she had talked to Dave Cook our assistant director, I know she talked to our medical staff, I know she had talked to Izzy, um, and so those were obviously we had concerns which is why I wanted to have him here for Doctor Jones' evaluation, um, just like we would with any other, I mean mental health issues are a huge concern for us when the kids are here.

SS: Okay. Did she have any explanation for why he may have been acting differently? Did she have any suggestions or thoughts?

CB: She didn't really, I mean the only thing she told me was that she felt like this was, I think I'm paraphrasing because I don't remember exactly how she said it, but she made some references that she thought it was triggered by his interaction possibly with the police and being here um, but she really didn't tell me, you know what caused it or what she knew or anything else, she just said it was not like him and she thought that the police had mistreated him or whatever, by questioning him for so long and not notifying the parents, and that whole issue which I, you know, I told her I heard where she was coming from and understood her concerns, but I couldn't really respond to what that was.

SS: Okay. I don't have any other questions.

JE: Anything else, you think that might be important to the case, or we didn't ask you about?

CB: I can't think of anything.

SS: Okay. Your staff exercised no use of force, is that true?

CB: As far as, when you say 'use of force'?

SS: I mean you put hands on him, but there was no hitting, no striking, no tasing, no use of chemical agents?

CB: No we're not allowed to, we don't have tasers, chemical agents, we do not hit or strike, we don't use joint manipulation or pain compliance, or arm bar take-downs or any of that other stuff. Um, so no to my knowledge there was no use of force like that.

SS: Did he have routine medical checkups three times a day?

CB: The nurses came to the unit three times a day, now whether he agreed to see them or whether he engaged with them, I don't know.

SS: Okay and he had family visits?

CB: He did.

SS: And he had an attorney visit?

CB: He did.

SS: And he had a, I guess, psychiatrist visit per the request his attorney?

CB: Yep.

SS: Okay. And Kyeron made no complaints about injuries or mistreatment at any time that you're aware of?

CB: Not that I'm aware of.

SS: Okay. And when he left your facility, are you aware of him having any physical injuries?

CB: No.

SS: Okay.

CB: He didn't appear to have any when I, when he was in the van.

SS: Okay, and as far as his mental condition, the doctor that had been recommended by the defense attorney that doctor recommend-, or it was his opinion that it was more of a bargaining issue?

CB: Yeah, I -

SS: Do you remember?

CB: I remember his words very clearly because I was really trying to figure out, and he said in his opinion he did not believe it was an acute psychiatric emergency which was a statement that I would never speak that way so it kind of stuck in my memory; and then he talked about it being bargaining or something else to get him to go somewhere different.

SS: Okay. And then your decision to transfer Kyeron from your facility to the jail, the adult jail was based on his behaviors?

CB: Yeah.

SS: His out of control behavior?

CB: Well his trying to push out of the room and pushing me and putting his hands –

SS: Assaultive and physical?

CB: Yeah.

SS: Okay.

CB: His escalation to physical behavior which was, after a debrief with staff that was the first time he'd shown any sort of physical behavior towards staff, I mean he paced in his room but he never done anything like that before.

SS: Okay.

CB: And the concern with that type of escalation in behavior is that if it continues to escalate either he or a staff member was going to get hurt.

SS: Okay. If Kyeron had been throwing himself up against the walls or throwing himself against the doors or doing any other self-harm, would that be in the reports by the doctors or would that be in regular notes, or would that be in medical records?

CB: Probably, if he had been throwing himself against the wall to a point where staff was concerned about him hurting himself, they would have called the nurse down and the nurse would of done an evaluation and made a decision so it would probably be in the medical records.

SS: Okay.

CB: But um, so yeah.

SS: And the transfer of Kyeron from your facility to the transfer deputies, the force used by the transfer deputies from what I understand you saying, it was all in reaction to Kyeron's behavior and appropriate?

CB: That's my opinion.

SS: And that's your opinion, right. Okay, all right. I have no more questions.

JE: All right, I'm going to go ahead and end the interview. The time is 1055, the interview lasted 55 minutes. Thank you Mr. Bachman.

ACTION TAKEN:

On December 15th, 2010 at about 1343 hours, I spoke with Shirl PROCTOR over the phone regarding her involvement in this incident. Shirl PROCTOR is a Mental Health Coordinator (therapist) with the Multnomah County Juvenile Department.

During the course of the investigation (on November 3rd, 2010 during an interview with FAIR in Corvallis, Oregon), Kelli JARRELL (Kyeron's mother) said "Lori" recommended she hire a private attorney and recommended "Chuck Paulson", who is a civil rights attorney. JARRELL said "Lori" works with Anna Smith at the Multnomah County Juvenile Department. JARRELL said "Lori" never said why she should hire a private attorney. JARRELL called back on November 16th, 2010 and said "Lori" was the incorrect name for the person who recommended the private attorney. She said the person was "Sheryl Procter".

Based on this information, I called and spoke with PROCTOR to see what observations she had seen and why she recommended JARRELL to hire a private attorney for FAIR.

The interview was taped over the phone and the transcript of the interview is attached to this report.

STATEMENTS:

PROCTOR, Shirl – Mental Health Coordinator with the Multnomah County Juvenile Department. The phone interview occurred on December 15th, 2010 at about 1343 hours. The full transcript of the interview is attached.

The following are excerpts from the interview:

I only had observations with him. And I don't think he was here that long. He may have been here one and a half to two days, or m-, if he was here three days it would be a surprise to me. I think it was that weekend because I saw him, I believe I saw him on, on that Thursday a little bit and then that Friday was when I was really worried and wrote my supervisor a note saying that I thought he was rap-, rapidly decompensating. And then Monday it seems like he was gone.

(Regarding any conversations she had with FAIR while at JDH) - I tried. I tried to have conversation with Kyeron but, umm, he was, he was not able to focus. At first I didn't know maybe if it was something that had to, 'cuz sometimes the kids come in here high, you know, or they come in here, you know, with a little bit of drugs or coming down off something so, so I didn't really make too much of it at first. But then on the second day he just kept doing the same kind of repetitious talking, you know, just saying staff, staff, staff and that he did not belong here is what he repeatedly said. And so he wasn't able, excuse me, he wasn't able to follow directions. He wasn't able to stay seated. He wasn't able to answer any of the questions that I had for him. He just continued repeating himself, you know, over and over again. So I don't even know that he was, I don't know that he was really coherent to the point of being able to answer the questions that I wanted him to answer.

(Regarding any signs of physical injuries on FAIR while at JDH) - When I saw him, uh, James, there wasn't anything physically wrong with him. He was getting up. There were, no, he wasn't hurt. He wasn't hurt that way. He may have been a little bit, you know, scared or emotional o-, emotionally off balance because he kept saying that he didn't, he never went to jail before and that they had the wrong person.

(Regarding her interactions with FAIR while at JDH) - No. The only thing that I saw was him being just, you know, inter-, they interceded when he was, he was coming toward me but I didn't think he was coming toward me to hurt me; I think he was coming toward me to try and make me understand what he wanted to say, even though he could not convey that.

So and then a staff person just got between me and him. But there was no physical, you know, he just stopped because this guy just stand in front of him, says, okay, you need to sit down, you need to sit down. And so he would go back over and sit on the bench or sit on the bed.

And then, but shortly after he was told that he would get right back up again. So there, but I never saw any physical, you know, touching him or anything like that from the staff. Uh, just trying to calm him down and when I, when I saw him there was only one staff there and there was just, that was this big guy and he was just saying okay, now, Kyeron you need to stay on your, you know, you need to listen to what we're saying here and stay on your, stay on your cot, you need to stay on your bed. So he was pretty, umm, he wasn't coherent or making any sense, but he was not physically hurt.

(Regarding her contact with Kelli Jarrell) - Uh, yeah, I did. I had, she called here frantic and crying one time and I just basically told her that, you know, I, I wasn't really the person that really could help her because I was just the therapist and what, and I basically told her what my job was and I says I don't really have any power, any control I'm just another staff member.

And I said so and the kids are not really, we don't determine what a kid does or whether they're guilty or innocent or any of that. When they're picked up by law enforcement and brought here and if they're on charges that are serious enough and if they're kept I said they have to wait until they get a hearing. And so because she was more or less, you know, very emotional of course and was telling me that he's a good kid and that they, they are mistaken and, and that they have the wrong kid, but, you know, again, James, lots of mothers do that.

And so I'm hearing it and I was respecting what she was saying but I was trying to convey to her that I was sympathizing with her, uh, with the, with the condition, you know, the, the situation with her son but the main thing that I could do was just tell her that she probably need to talk to her, Kyeron's attorney or get an attorney or get some kind of legal, umm, you know, person to talk to because that wasn't anything that I could do to help her and by way of, uh, you know, getting him out or anything like that.

(Regarding her recommendation to hire a private attorney) - I don't remember recommending a certain attorney, I may have, but I don't think that I have because I don't really know any attorneys.

I don't know any attorneys per se as if to say, you know, go to such and such and such a person. Umm, I think the attorneys here are provided, uh, you know, by the, they are provided for the kids and so I didn't know if Kyeron had an attorney or not. Uh, but that's, that's what I would do if my kid would have been in a situation like that and I felt like there was something that n-, he needed to be legally protected, or whatever, that, you know, the only thing that we tell kids is that, well, you know, you need to talk to your attorney about that when they start talking about their case.

And I think that that's what I would say to any parent, is that you need to get legal, you know, advice because I, I'm not the person that would be able to help you with that.

I don't remember if there was any concerns that I had. Umm, this situation was kind of like, umm, Kyeron was, umm, very agitated and irritable. And so this was kind of like all day long, this was all day long. So I'm sure that he probably kind of wore the staff out that's back there, you know, like for any length of time because he just, he was in a very panic, umm, mode, you know, chronically panic, you know, he just, he, he could not calm himself down.

And so with him being very upset and then of course the mother being very upset, umm, I don't remember our conversation because it was kind of a long time ago, but when a parent is that, you know, distraught and upset and emotional and saying that they have the wrong kid and all that when you're in a legal situation the only thing you can do is say, you know, well, maybe you should seek legal advice or maybe, maybe that's something that you could take up with, with an attorney, or that kind of thing, somebody to help them, you know, because I was a person that wasn't able to do that.

I don't know any civil right attorneys. I don't know, uh, how she understood our conversation or what, you know, a lot of time when you're talking to people sometimes you may think that they're understanding you and they're interpreting it a totally different way. So I don't really know how she interpreted our conversation. But I know that she seemed to be very emotional because of her son and that was, that was wholly understood. And I know that if she were to get anywhere it would probably be through legal advice, or not legal advice but legal, umm, representation, you know, because there was nothing that I could do to help her or help her son, you know, she wanted him out. She wanted him not to be here and, and we don't, you know, I don't, as a therapist, you know, we don't have any clout to do that. No one does except for the judge.

(Regarding her concern of the treatment given to FAIR at JDH) - That would have been my biggest concern, is that he, is that because when I left on Friday night I believe that I wrote my supervisor and I said I think this kid is rapidly decompensating and, you know, I don't, I don't believe that we have qualified staff to determine that. And, uh, that was my biggest concern. But then, too, when I left I was gonna go in and talk to one of the managers, but he was on the phone so I was thinking, well, I, I feel okay about this because, because Greg is here. And so he's, you know, the boss over that, the detention so whatever he does, you know, I trust his judgment.

No, I just felt real bad about the kid. I felt, I felt like, you know, he was just kind of having to wait it out of whatever, whatever, who was, I think sometimes, generally speaking I think sometimes the kids are here longer before they can find out anything. I think there's a waiting period that might be too long, especially when they're first time offenders and they don't know what's gonna happen, you know.

(PROCTOR'S theory on what happened to FAIR) - Well, I was just really sad. I was sad that the kid, umm, you know, like I said, when I see kids that are coming down from being intoxicated sometimes they have similar reactions like Kyeron had so I didn't really know if he was, you know, drug addicted or not. But then after it went on for such a long time it didn't seem like, it,

I, I would have wanted him to see somebody sooner, you know, in the mental health field in the psych-, psychiatric department in the hospital. But when it came up that he was hurt, uh, everybody has their own theories, but I don't think it happened here. I'll be very honest about that, James, I do not believe that, that that kid was hurt here. Umm, and, and I think that when, when he was transported he probably kept being very obnoxious, probably not sitting down, probably not keeping still, probably really becoming irritating to others and, and somebody just got tired of it and hit him and/or either hurt him some kind of way.

And, and you would only do that, you're not gonna do that when a kid is being transf-, uh, you're not gonna do that when a kid is going from the door to, to the, to the, uh, a van or whatever, or, you know, being released from a truck or from a van to being in custody. You're gonna do, you're gonna do that in, while you're driving.

That, that's gonna happen in the privacy of just you and, and the, and the, uh, inmate; or you and the victim; or you and whomever. And for a person to be that deranged and to hurt a kid like that it's obvious that, uh, somebody did that and they should not be around kids if they can't, if you can't take that kind of, uh, what do you call that, if you can't, if you don't, if you're not strong enough to take that kind of reaction and mentality of a kid being scared and maybe being incoherent you certainly shouldn't be transporting them anywhere.

My observation of trying to understand what happened. I believe that something happened in, when he was being transported from here to downtown.

I read the, I read the newspaper, something, it says something about, uh, he, it was a damaged kidney or something, or, or, I don't know, I don't know anything more than that. That's what I, I don't know if I read that or somebody said it, but I think I read it.

TAPED TELEPHONE INTERVIEW – SHIRL PROCTOR

December 15, 2010

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

Page 1 of 13

JE: DETECTIVE JAME ERIKSEN, Multnomah County Sheriff's Office
SP: SHIRL PROCTOR

JE: Hi, this is James Eriksen.

SP: Oh, James, I'm sorry, this is Shirl Proctor.

JE: Hi, Shirl, how are you?

SP: I'm fine. I was supposed to be at my desk at 1:30 and I didn't even have it on my mind.

JE: Oh, no problem, no problem.

SP: I'm sorry. But anyways, too many, too many holiday things going on –

JE: Oh, I know.

SP: -- at work.

JE: I know. Umm, so today's your last day, then you're on vacation?

SP: No, actually today is the last day that I'll sort of like be in the office –

JE: Okay.

SP: -- but I don't really actually go on vacation 'til Friday. But I just kind of won't be available for office stuff too much.

JE: Okay. Good. Well, we'll get this done real quick.

SP: Okay.

JE: Umm, Kyeron Fair, do you recall ever having any evaluations or any observations with him?

SP: I only had observations with him. And I don't think he was here that long. He may have been here one and a half to two days, or m-, if he was here three days it would be a surprise to me. I think it was that weekend because I saw him, I believe I saw him on, on that Thursday a little bit and then that Friday was when I was really worried and wrote my supervisor a note saying that I thought he was rap-, rapidly decompensating. And then Monday it seems like he was gone.

JE: Okay.

SP: That's my recollection of it.

JE: Were you able to have any conversations with him?

SP: I tried. I tried to have conversation with Kyeron but, umm, he was, he was not able to focus. At first I didn't know maybe if it was something that had to, 'cuz sometimes the kids come in here high, you know, or they come in here, you know, with a little bit of drugs or coming down off something so, so I didn't really make too much of it at first. But then on the second day he just kept doing the same kind of repetitious talking, you know, just saying staff, staff, staff and that he did not belong here is what he repeatedly said. And so he wasn't able, excuse me, he wasn't able to follow directions. He wasn't able to stay seated. He wasn't able to answer any of the questions that I had for him. He just continued repeating himself, you know, over and over again. So I don't even know that he was, I don't know that he was really coherent to the point of being able to answer the questions that I wanted him to answer.

JE: Okay. Did you see any physical injuries on him?

SP: When I saw him, uh, James, there wasn't anything physically wrong with him.

JE: Okay.

SP: He was getting up. There were, no, he wasn't hurt. He wasn't hurt that way. He may have been a little bit, you know, scared or emotional o-, emotionally off balance because –

JE: But physically no.

SP: -- he kept saying that he didn't, he never went to jail before and that they had the wrong person.

JE: Okay.

SP: But, but kind of like all the kids say that, you know, 'cuz they're, especially if they're first time offenders. So you don't really, only thing that my job is to try to keep the kids calm and try to keep him stabilized enough to know that we can't let them out of jail, they've been charged with something that's illegal and in order for that to happen the judge has to do that. So we try to keep kids from, you know, hurting themselves, we try to keep them stabilized and try to keep them pleasantly, you know, umm, relaxed, if you will.

JE: Okay. And what's your job title and duties?

SP: I'm a mental health coordinator, so I'm a therapist.

JE: All right.

SP: Uh-huh.

JE: And, umm, did you see any, any interactions between Kyeron and any of the staff at JDH?

SP: I never saw any interactions except for the time when, when he kept, you know, like when I see the kids that are on lockdown and he was in Q-15, meaning that we did not feel safe with him being in the unit with other kids, and so a lot of times when kids come near and they kind of like emotional distraught they will go into Q-15, especially if there's, we, if we feel like they're gonna hurt themselves or be a risk, a high risk, at a high risk. So he, uh, was not, he was not ever; what was your question, James, I'm sorry?

JE: Any interactions between the staff?

SP: Him and another staff person?

JE: Yeah.

SP: No. The only thing that I saw was him being just, you know, inter-, they interceded when he was, he was coming toward me but I didn't think he was coming toward me to hurt me; I think he was coming toward me to try and make me understand what he wanted to say, even though he could not convey that.

JE: Okay.

SP: So and then a staff person just got between me and him. But there was no physical, you know, he just stopped because this guy just stand in front of him, says, okay, you need to sit down, you need to sit down. And so he would go back over and sit on the bench or sit on the bed. And then, but shortly after he was told that he would get right back up again. So there, but I never saw any physical, you know, touching him or anything like that from the staff. Uh, just trying to calm him down and when I, when I saw him there was only one staff there and there was just, that was this big guy and he was just saying okay, now, Kyeron you need to stay on your, you know, you need to listen to what we're saying here and stay on your, stay on your cot, you need to stay on your bed. So he was pretty, umm, he wasn't coherent or making any sense, but he was not physically hurt.

JE: Okay. Did you at all see any of the Multnomah County Detention Center deputies have any interactions with Kyeron when they went to pick him up to go to MCDC?

SP: I don't know when that happened, James, because I, on Friday night I, I left, I leave like, sometimes it depe-, it's dependent on whether the kids are settled or not, or if a kid has to go to the hospital, or if a kid is, you know, acting like he's gonna harm himself. That night was a late night and so Kyeron was kind of doing the same kind of interaction that I had had with him earlier, and that was just repeating himself over and over and over again and, uh, I never saw the deputies that picked him up.

JE: Okay.

SP: But I, you know, most of the personalities back there I kind of, I've been working with these people for about a year and a half now, going on two years, and I've, even though, you know, like I, I never, I've never seen anybody that, in that state of mentality, I've never seen anybody that would strike a kid or hurt a kid, even in privacy, you know, and I've just never gotten the sense of anybody not wanting to, or getting to the point where they would need to, you know, need to express themselves that way. Umm, and I don't agree with everybody that's here and how they do things with the kids, but I've never seen anybody ever hit or strike or anything like that. And I've only seen like two other kids, uh, having to be restrained and that was not in a battle, that was kind of like we're doing this for your own good and, you know, so they'd make sure that, they kind of have each other's back. I haven't had any training like that so the only thing I can tell you is that I, when I did see one kid that tried to commit suicide and had put a sock down his throat I only saw staff holding the kid and then the nurse trying to, uh, get the sock from, from down in his throat and he was coughing and gagging and all of that. And that was the first time that I'd ever seen, uh, that kind of, you know, commotion go on right in front of me.

JE: Okay. Did you have any conversations with Kyeron's mother?

SP: Uh, yeah, I did. I had, she called here frantic and crying one time and I just basically told her that, you know, I, I wasn't really the person that really could help her because I was just the therapist and what, and I basically told her what my job was and I says I don't really have any power, any control I'm just another staff member. And I said so and the kids are not really, we don't determine what a kid does or whether they're guilty or innocent or any of that. When they're picked up by law enforcement and brought here and if they're on charges that are serious enough and if they're kept I said they have to wait until they get a hearing. And so because she was more or less, you know, very emotional of course and was telling me that he's a good kid and that they, they are mistaken and, and that they have the wrong kid, but, you know, again, James, lots of mothers do that. And so I'm hearing it and I was respecting what she was saying but I was trying to convey to her that I was sympathizing with her, uh, with the, with the condition, you know, the, the situation with her son but the main thing that I could do was just tell her that she probably need to talk to her, Kyeron's attorney or get an attorney or get some kind of legal, umm, you know, person to talk to because that wasn't anything that I could do to help her and by way of, uh, you know, getting him out or anything like that.

JE: And did you recommend a certain attorney to contact?

SP: I don't remember recommending a certain attorney, I may have, but I don't think that I have because I don't really know any attorneys.

JE: Okay.

SP: I don't know any attorneys per se as if to say, you know, go to such and such and such a person. Umm, I think the attorneys here are provided, uh, you know, by the, they are provided for the kids and so I didn't know if Kyeron had an attorney or not. Uh, but that's, that's what I would do if my kid would have been in a situation like that and I felt like there was something that n-, he needed to be legally protected, or whatever, that, you know, the only thing that we tell kids is that, well, you know, you need to talk to your attorney about that when they start talking about their case. And I think that that's what I would say to any parent, is that you need to get legal, you know, advice because I, I'm not the person that would be able to help you with that.

JE: Okay. So there was no concerns that you had to recommend to her to talk to a certain attorney?

SP: I don't remember if there was any concerns that I had. Umm, this situation was kind of like, umm, Kyeron was, umm, very agitated and irritable. And so this was kind of like all day long, this was all day long. So I'm sure that he probably kind of wore the staff out that's back there, you know, like for any length of time because he just, he was in a very panic, umm, mode, you know, chronically panic, you know, he just, he, he could not calm himself down. And so with him being very upset and then of course the mother being very upset, umm, I don't remember our conversation because it was kind of a long time ago, but when a parent is that, you know, distraught and upset and emotional and saying that they have the wrong kid and all that when you're in a legal situation the only thing you can do is say, you know, well, maybe you should seek legal advice or maybe, maybe that's something that you could take up with, with an attorney, or that kind of thing, somebody to help them, you know, because I was a person that wasn't able to do that.

JE: Okay. Because we talked to mom and mom had mentioned that you had r-, recommended a certain attorney and gave the name and the attorney is a civil rights attorney, and so we were just wondering if there was something that you had observed to request that she herself get an attorney, 'cuz Kyeron would have his own attorney –

SP: Uh-huh.

JE: -- for criminal charges, but the attorney regarding the, uh, you know, or some attorney that specializes in those type of cases, umm –

SP: Uh-huh.

JE: -- and so we were just kind of wondering what observations you had noticed to have recommend that attorney that specializes in, you know.

SP: You know what, James, I don't even know any civil right attorneys.

JE: Okay.

SP: I don't know any civil right attorneys. I don't know, uh, how she understood our conversation or what, you know, a lot of time when you're talking to people sometimes you may think that they're understanding you and they're interpreting it a totally different way. So I don't really know how she interpreted our conversation. But I know that she seemed to be very emotional because of her son and that was, that was wholly understood. And I know that if she were to get anywhere it would probably be through legal advice, or not legal advice but legal, umm, representation, you know, because there was nothing that I could do to help her or help her son, you know, she wanted him out. She wanted him not to be here and, and we don't, you know, I don't, as a therapist, you know, we don't have any clout to do that. No one does except for the judge.

JE: Right.

SP: Yeah, and so I was just, uh, mainly saying, you know, well, in order for that to happen it seems like you might need, or it seems like one would need legal representation. But I don't remember any names 'cuz I don't know any legal right, I don't know any human right attorneys.

JE: Okay. So if you were to suggest an attorney it would be, hey, if you think your son's in the wrong and you think he needs to be out of here then the only person that can do that would be an attorney through a judge?

SP: Well, I don't really know the law that well.

TAPED TELEPHONE INTERVIEW – SHIRL PROCTOR

December 15, 2010

Page 7 of 13

JE: Uh-huh.

SP: And so –

JE: Well, I'm just thinking of what your, what you're thinking 'cuz, 'cuz –

SP: My interpretation, if I had a kid that was in trouble that way the first thing that I would, that would come to my mind is that I need to get legal representation, you know, whether, whether my son or daughter was right or wrong because I just didn't, I just don't know enough about the law and what my rights would be and so I would not want to tell anybody or advise anybody on something like. I think those are kind of regular, you know, normal things that people do when they come in contact with the law and feel that they may be mistreated or feel that they may, you know, have been wronged in some way. I think that people automatically think, well, I need an attorney, you know.

JE: Okay.

SP: So, it was, it was kind of to me, I don't know how she interpreted it, but to me it was kind of like common sense conversation. And mostly I was just trying to calm her down because she was, uh, very scared and very frightened for her son and, and really felt as though he had been, umm, apprehended, umm, by mistake.

JE: So would it be something that you would tell another parent in a similar situation where they were looking for advice, you would tell them the same thing?

SP: Well, I don't know that I would tell them anything unless they were in a position to where they thought they needed that, you know. I don't know, that particular was, uh, it was, it was different. It was more or less dealing with a mother who was just totally out of her mind, you know, she was scared, she was, she was frightened. She was feeling that her son was, uh, in jail for, for something that he did not do. And so in order to try to calm her down, because I wouldn't be in a, I wouldn't be in a position to give anybody legal advice because I'm not, I'm not a legal person.

JE: Right.

SP: But I think that if anybody were in trouble with the authorities I think that the first step would be to, you know, for anybody, you know, to, first thing I would think of is, well, maybe, you know, maybe I should get some legal help, or get some legal, uh, information or something, you know, to help my, my child or something. And so that's the make of the conversation, but I don't know that I could advise anybody to do anything. I wouldn't want to think that I would, you know, say okay, you need to do this. No, I'm not, that's not what a therapist does.

JE: Okay. So because when we heard about it we thought, well, maybe you had seen something or heard something that you thought that mom should get an attorney because there was some violations of Kyeron's rights, you know, maybe he was assaulted or abused or wasn't being treated fairly, which is why this attorney name was given to her she said, you know, a specific attorney that deals with these issues of, uh, you know, violation of civil rights and so we just wanted to confirm with you, you know, if there was something that you observed to let us know so we could, you know, do a complete thorough investigation.

SP: Well, I don't know, it's kind of like a thin line, James, because, it's kind of like a, a conflict of interest for me. Umm, because when you see things on one of the, on one end of the spectrum, you know, a lot of times kids are not treated the same, generally speaking. On the other end of the spectrum this could be a very dangerous kid as to why he or she is not treated the same. So a lot of times you don't, you don't really know how to call the, the situation. But I would think that if anybody was feeling like they were being treated unfairly that, uh, I think anybody would say, you know, well, you might need legal representation, you know, you might need something legal. But as far as me seeing anything, I didn't see anybody put their hands on Kyeron. Umm, but are the children treated differently here? Sometimes they are, you know, sometimes they are treated differently.

JE: And they're treated differently because of what reasons do you think?

SP: I think there's a lot of different reasons that the kids are treated differently. Umm, I think that some, that this is not by all staff, sometimes this is just a person that's on a certain shift or a person that's had a bad day but, and sometimes this is a person who, uh, are, are, are prejudging kids sometimes. I think the Hispanic kids and the black kids sometimes get treated a little bit h-, more harshly than others, you know. Or either they're assumed guilty before, you know, their trials and things. But I think that's across the board. I don't particularly think it's just something that happens here. I think it's just our nature. I think it's what society has given us.

JE: So based on your observations do you think Kyeron was treated differently or unfairly?

SP: I wish that Kyeron could have gotten maybe, maybe medical attention sooner than he did. But it wasn't, but it wouldn't have been physical because he wasn't hurt physically.

JE: Okay.

TAPED TELEPHONE INTERVIEW – SHIRL PROCTOR

December 15, 2010

Page 9 of 13

SP: Umm, but sometimes those kind of, I'm not a manager so sometimes those kind of decisions are difficult to make because kids do all kind of things, you know, they pretend that they're crazy.

JE: Right.

SP: Or some kids are kind of, you know, a little bit, you know, umm, a little bit deranged, if you will, and then sometimes they are just, you know, conning; so it's really hard to determine, umm, when, when one goes to the hospital unless he or she is just so adamant about hurting themselves or hurting somebody else or they can't be restrained or they have to be restrained and they will not calm down and, and so you, those kind of things that you can see it's easy to call a decision like that. But when somebody is just being, you know, uh, repetitiously repeating themselves over and over and over again you don't know if they're just being obnoxious because every kid comes, every kid that comes in here for, as a first time offense, you know, they, some are more, some act out more than others, but a lot of times they're scared and they, they don't think that they should be here, you know, I didn't do that, I was around the kids but I didn't do it. And so and a lot of them don't understand the law. And so, uh, I only wish that after such a long period of time that Kyeron could have maybe gotten mental health attention from, umm, a psychiatric doctor sooner than he did.

JE: Okay. So that would be probably the, your biggest concern.

SP: That would have been my biggest concern, is that he, is that because when I left on Friday night I believe that I wrote my supervisor and I said I think this kid is rapidly decompensating and, you know, I don't, I don't believe that we have qualified staff to determine that. And, uh, that was my biggest concern. But then, too, when I left I was gonna go in and talk to one of the managers, but he was on the phone so I was thinking, well, I, I feel okay about this because, because Greg is here. And so he's, you know, the boss over that, the detention so whatever he does, you know, I trust his judgment.

JE: Okay. Any other concerns that you had other than that?

SP: No, I just felt real bad about the kid. I felt, I felt like, you know, he was just kind of having to wait it out of whatever, whatever, who was, I think sometimes, generally speaking I think sometimes the kids are here longer before they can find out anything. I think there's a waiting period that might be too long, especially when they're first time offenders and they don't know what's gonna happen, you know.

JE: Okay.

SP: But the old timers that come and go and come and go and come and go, they're fine with because they kind of know the routine.

JE: Yeah.

SP: Uh-huh.

JE: All righty, uh --

SP: I'm sorry if I wasn't more help, but that's basically how I, I saw things, James.

JE: That's no problem. I just wanted to, since your name came up as somebody who Kelly, the mom, said recommended this attorney we just wanted to make sure we talked to you and --

SP: Uh-huh.

JE: -- you know, talk about your observations and if you, if you saw something that maybe nobody else is talking about, or saw something just so we can make our investigation very thorough.

SP: Well, I was just really sad. I was sad that the kid, umm, you know, like I said, when I see kids that are coming down from being intoxicated sometimes they have similar reactions like Kyeron had so I didn't really know if he was, you know, drug addicted or not. But then after it went on for such a long time it didn't seem like, it, I, I would have wanted him to see somebody sooner, you know, in the mental health field in the psyc-, psychiatric department in the hospital. But when it came up that he was hurt, uh, everybody has their own theories, but I don't think it happened here. I'll be very honest about that, James, I do not believe that, that that kid was hurt here. Umm, and, and I think that when, when he was transported he probably kept being very obnoxious, probably not sitting down, probably not keeping still, probably really becoming irritating to others and, and somebody just got tired of it and hit him and/or either hurt him some kind of way. And, and you would only do that, you're not gonna do that when a kid is being transf-, uh, you're not gonna do that when a kid is going from the door to, to the, to the, uh, a van or whatever, or, you know, being released from a truck or from a van to being in custody. You're gonna do, you're gonna do that in, while you're driving. That, that's gonna happen in the privacy of just you and, and the, and the, uh, inmate; or you and the victim; or you and whomever. And for a person to be that deranged and to hurt a kid like that it's obvious that, uh, somebody did that and they should not be around kids if they can't, if you can't take that kind of, uh, what do you call that, if you can't, if you don't, if you're not strong enough to take that kind of reaction and mentality of a kid being scared and maybe being incoherent you certainly shouldn't be transporting them anywhere.

JE: And that's just your –

JE: Theory, okay.

SP: -- my observation of trying to understand what happened. I believe that something happened in, when he was being transported from here to downtown.

JE: And did somebody tell you what kind of injuries that he sustained?

SP: I read the, I read the newspaper, something, it says something about, uh, he, it was a damaged kidney or something, or, or, I don't know, I don't know anything more than that. That's what I, I don't know if I read that or somebody said it, but I think I read it.

JE: Okay. 'Cuz I know the paper did a story about it, so.

SP: Yeah, I think I read it in the paper, and I don't even know if that's correct or not.

JE: Yeah.

SP: But nobody here would, would hurt a kid like that. Not even the, I mean I like everybody but even the least qualified person in my, in my opinion would not do that.

JE: Okay. All right. Can I get the spelling of your last name.

SP: It's Proctor, P-r-o-c-t-o-r.

SP: 'Cuz everything I said was true from my point of view.

JE: Right, no –

SP: But I don't want managers looking at me out of the corner of their eye thinking I've said something that's not true, 'cuz I would never do that.

JE: Right. No. So it's just gonna be, and you probably weren't, or you weren't on our list to be interviewed for our investigation but when we talked to Kelly, Kelly's like, well, I talked to, I think gave your name, and said she told me to call this attorney and this attorney specializes in these types of cases, uh, like civil rights type case.

SP: Hmm.

JE: And she said that you told her not to say where it came from type thing.

SP: Oh, really.

JE: So we wanted to, 'cuz that is on record, well, we have to follow up. We wouldn't be doing our job if we didn't follow up with you and to give your side of the story to say, you know, is there something that you saw personally that maybe you felt there was a civil rights violation and so what was it so we could have a clear picture. Or was it, like you had said, you know, what, what your statement was.

SP: Hello.

JE: Hello.

SP: Oh.

JE: So that's kind of –

SP: Uh-huh.

JE: -- that's why your name came up.

SP: Oh, I see.

JE: And in fact you're our last interview.

SP: Okay.

JE: So we're all done after you.

SP: Okay. Well, I, I do hope that, umm, something is found if this kid was actually physically injured I hope that something is found from it, but in all honesty, if I was on my very worse day of working or being upset I don't think anybody here would do that to a kid.

JE: All right. Well, thank you for your time.

SP: Uh-huh.

JE: Okay. Bye-bye.

SP: Bye-bye.

JE: The time is 2:13 p.m. on December 15th, 2010 and the interview lasted 30 minutes and 50 seconds.

Multnomah County Corrections Union Representative Doug Hewitt, and Attorney Heidi Brown (associated with the Corrections Union).

The following is an excerpt from the transcript regarding the transportation:

So we pull in the parking lot at Donald E. Long home and we get out and the next thing we're sort of sitting there, there's a Portland police car parked, I had the van 324, actually Barker drove out there; so he pulls in, we're kind of off to the left side of the parking lot at Donald E. Long, there's a Portland police car and then there's this sally port.

While we're standing there and we look up and the next thing we see is like, I think it's 5 or 6 Donald E. Long staff carrying this kid. I mean they got him, he's up, he's struggling and he's just kind of; and I'm kind of looking going, debating what we're going to do. He comes out, they open the door, they come out – I'm thinking they are going to take him all the way over to the van and they basically drop him at our feet. So, I looked down. Kid sort of looking around. He's restrained; he's got handcuffs behind him, he's got leg irons on. So I figure, okay we got a few minutes to figure out what the next plan of action is here. At that time Barker went down, basically told the kid, Look you're going to the adult facility now, took him by the arm, got him to his feet and on his way over to the van.

So I had the door open on the van. So Barker gets him, and I'm trying to get, you know, get over, I figure okay this is the plan of action we're going with here because it's like this is what's happening, you know, we really didn't have time to stop and discuss it or anything. We're going over to the van, tries to get him in the van and he takes his feet, even though they are restrained, and he can spread them out far enough to brace himself so he can't get in the van. So he's sort of pushing back, sort of pushing back and at that point Barker sort of like takes him and he slumps to the ground. Not really dropped on the ground, just sort of like, cause there's a step on the van and he sort of slumps down and gets down on the ground. So the next thing I know Barker's got him, he picks him up and has him kind of around the chest like this, getting in the back door of the van.

I'm thinking, well if he doesn't go in the van the first time, we need to come up with a better plan than this. I mean I had a nylon restraint we could have hobbled his legs so he couldn't have spread them apart, and the other thing too is, I kept thinking was, we're in a secure parking lot, the kid's secure, we have time, you know; so can we think about this, but the plans in. So anyway, Barker tries to get the kid back in the van again, down on the ground, and at some point that's when he kicked Barker. I didn't know he kicked Barker. I had no idea; I mean I really didn't know he kicked Barker at that point. So he's down on the ground, Barker gets his taser out, takes the cartridge off, does an arc display, you know, just basically this is what you're gonna get. Kyeron's on the ground squirming around, screaming like he's being tased, even though there is not any contact with the taser or anything like that.

About three came over (referring to JDH staff members), two or three came over, and we picked him up and got him in the van. He was still restrained; his hands are still behind his back, his legs are still restrained and we laid him in the van cause basically we can't get him on the seat so he gets in the van, he's on the floor, and his back is against the cage, cause there is a small cage in the very front part of the passenger compartment, and then he's facing backwards under the seat.

So there is no pressure on his chest or anything like that because it is a big open area underneath the seat. Well, and it's odd because even though he had been sort of recalcitrant getting into the van, as soon as he got in the van and he was just instantly still; like almost like not, I mean he just kind of laid there and was sort of like, okay, what's going on here. He's just sort of in there and we close the door and Barker basically told me he was, you know, his adrenaline was going too much and he asked if I could drive.

The following is an excerpt from the transcript regarding the booking process at MCDC:

About the time we get outside of MCDC, Barker's already called downtown and asked if we could have some people meet us in the sally port. So we get in the sally port, open up the door, Fair is still laying there on the floor, still same position we put him in, you know, kind of facing the back of the van, his hands behind him and we go to get him, you know, we get him out and said take your time, careful don't catch his arm on anything or anything like that. So we get him out of the van and he kind of, he stands up and he's sort of walking along with us and we get him up to the Booking Counter.

So we're standing at the Booking Counter and we're at the end booth, the one closest to where the property window is, and he's on the prisoner side and I go around to the other side and I look at him and say 'How do you say your name'. And he just sort of looking around; he's just sort of unfocused, he's looking around. I said "How do you say your name, is it Kyeron, is it Kayron, how do you say your name?". And I'm not getting any response, I mean like no response. And it's not like he's, it's not like he's being you know, just not, I'm trying to think of the, it's not like he's being aggressive or it's not like he's just being -

There's no focus. There's no, I'm not looking at you, I'm not focused on you, I'm just kind of like looking for the butterflies flying around or something. So at that point they move him over to one of the separation rooms. We put him in there; we get the leg irons off of him. He still has handcuffs on. So we get him in the separation cell, and we're in there and we close the door and we're trying to decide what to do. Well, it's odd because his behavior is just like he's sort of staring at the wall, he's staring at the ceiling, he's staring at the wall, he's staring at the ceiling, kind of looks out the window every now and then; and then we figure we need to get the handcuffs off and we're trying to figure out the best way to do it.

So at that point, Sergeant Miller is there, Tim Barker is there, Brian Parks, one of the deputies, he comes over and we put a nylon restraint around his hands and I think Roldan was there also, Jose, yeah Ron Roldan he was there, so basically we put the strap around his wrist, put the strap through the service port on the door, close the door, draw him back to the door so this way, you know, we can get the handcuffs off in case he does become belligerent. So we take the handcuffs off and he just kind of, we get them off, and he's just sort of standing in the cell and I'm kind of standing there watching him. And he's doing things like hiding his face inside of his t-shirt, he's sort of staring at the wall, he's kind of like making little gestures with his hands, kind of just sort of waving his fingers almost like he's doing peek-a-boo is what it is.

He'll put his face inside his sweatshirt; he'll look up and he'll put his face back inside his sweatshirt and this goes on for quite awhile. So the discussions were going on we figured well, jail wasn't the place for him he really needed to be in the hospital. So a phone call was made to dispatch an ambulance and about that time ambulance got there, we had the ambulance crew. Bob Miller was the Sergeant, he was standing there. So Dennis Quist, he's one of the Transport Deputies, he came over and basically the decision was, Okay we need to handcuff him so we can move him out of the cell and then get him onto the board for transport. So we, and Bob's there and Denise Quist goes over and basically I mean he does the ask, advise and order.

The doors closed; he says I'm asking you to put your hands behind your back so we can handcuff you. Says I'm advising you to put your hands behind your back so we can handcuff you; giving him plenty of time between each one. Still no focus, still no response, still just kind of staring around, staring at the cell, just sort of looking around. Sergeant Miller at that point decided to have two people with tasers ready and that was Gordon Glasser and Mindy DeArmond; and they both stood there and they opened up the cell, I'm standing just outside, Dennis Quist and Barker go into the cell, they are standing on either side of Kyeron there and Dennis once again says 'I'm asking you, I'm advising you and I'm ordering you to put your hands behind your back' and he just sort of unfocused looking around and Bob Miller basically said, okay go ahead and taser him.

So two cartridges were fired, he went down but not dropped to the floor because there were two guys there basically to get him down to the floor and he went through one cycle is what it came down to and I think, I don't know if there was a second cycle or not, there may have been a second cycle. I remember distinctly there were two cartridges so two cycles right there. There might have been a third cycle but, and at that point they got his hands behind his back, got him out of the cell. He was kind of struggling just a little bit when they put him on the board but it was more of just kind of not so much active resistance as more of a calcitrant; I don't want to do this, it's not like he's flashing his arms around and all that other stuff. So basically they got him restrained to the board and took him off to the hospital and that was the last I saw of him.

SS: OSP Detective Scott Sudaisar

DH: Deputy Doug Hewitt, DPSST 19963

JE: Today is October 27, 2010; it's 1436 hours; this is Detective James Eriksen, DPSST 28931. We're doing an interview regarding Multnomah County Sheriff's report number 10-405941. We're at the Multnomah County Justice Center, third floor in the conference room. Present in the interview is attorney Heidi Brown; Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar; Deputy Doug Hewitt, and Deputy Mike Deluca, DPSST 18567. Mike, you understand you're being recorded?

MD: Yes I do.

JE: And you see the recorder in front of you?

MD: Yes I do.

JE: Alright. As we talked about briefly before I turned the recorder on we are here to talk about Kyeron Fair.

MD: Yes.

JE: His is the seventeen-year-old that was brought from the Juvenile Department on September 17th to Multnomah County Detention Center. Are you familiar with that transport?

MD: Oh I'm very familiar with that transport.

JE: Alright. Do you recall much of that transport?

MD: I recall just about everything of that transport.

JE: Perfect. Who is your partner that day?

MD: My partner that night was Tim Barker; and I believe you already talked to him.

JE: Yes, correct. So why don't you go ahead and chronologically just start from the beginning maybe when you got word of the transport all the way to when you lost contact with Kyeron.

MD: Pretty much it all started around 7 o'clock. I believe you talked to Sergeant Phelps, Mike Phelps. There was one of the lead nurse, Victoria Marshall. She was the lead nurse, she got a call from Secuthey who was the nurse at JDH that night and told us they had Kyeron, who was just kind of for three days hadn't eaten, hadn't drank, his behavior had been just out of control and everything and that they were worried about him being suicidal. And they felt that he needed to be transported to the adult facility where he could be placed on suicide watch. So discussions went back and forth pretty much, it's like, well no this is really not in our policy to go out there and pick up juveniles and bring them down here for suicide watch. Basically there was a lot of back and forth. At one point, you know, basically what happened was, Phelps told them no. He says no it is not in our policy to do this. Well let's move it up the chain. So Phelps called Captain Bishop; Bishop initially told him no we're not going to do this. This is not anything we're going to do. Phelps called back and he talked to the supervisor at Donald E. Long; told him he says no, our Captain says no we're not taking the guy. The guy says, well can I talk with the Captain. Phelps calls Bishop, gives Bishop the phone number for the guy at Donald E. Long to talk to. Next thing you know we get a phone call comes back and says Dispatch transferred to go out and get him.

JE: About what time was that do you think?

MD: That was about, oh, I think we, that was probably about quarter to eight because we left the building right around 8 o'clock. So it took a few minutes to put our stuff on, go put all our gear on and everything and get ready to go. So we have really no idea; I mean we get out there expecting, we don't know what to expect. So we pull in the parking lot at Donald E. Long home and we get out and the next thing we're sort of sitting there, there's a Portland police car parked, I had the van 324, actually Barker drove out there; so he pulls in, we're kind of off to the left side of the parking lot at Donald E. Long, there's a Portland police car and then there's this sally port. While we're standing there and we look up and the next thing we see is like, I think it's 5 or 6 Donald E. Long staff carrying this kid. I mean they got him, he's up, he's struggling and he's just kind of; and I'm kind of looking going, debating what we're going to do. He comes out, they open the door, they come out - I'm thinking they are going to take him all the way over to the van and they basically drop him at our feet. So, I looked down. Kid sort of looking around. He's restrained; he's got handcuffs behind him, he's got leg irons on. So I figure, okay we got a few minutes to figure out what the next plan of action is here. At that time Barker went down, basically told the kid, Look you're going to the adult facility now, took him by the arm, got him to his feet and on his way over to the van. So I had the door open on the van. So Barker gets him, and I'm trying to get, you know, get over, I figure okay this is the plan of action we're going with here because it's like this is what's happening, you know, we really didn't have time to stop and discuss it or anything. We're going over to the van, tries to get him in the van and he takes his feet, even though they are restrained, and he can spread them out far enough to brace himself so he can't get in the van. So he's sort of pushing back, sort of pushing back and at that point Barker sort of like takes him and he slumps to the ground. Not really dropped on the ground, just sort of like, cause there's a step on the van and he sort of slumps down and gets down on the ground. So the next thing I know Barker's got him, he picks him up and has him kind of around the chest like this, getting in the back door of the van. I'm thinking, well if he doesn't go in the van the first time, we need to come up with a better plan than this. I mean I had a nylon restraint we could have hobbled his legs so he couldn't have spread them apart, and the other thing too is, I kept thinking was, we're in a secure parking lot, the kid's secure, we have time, you know; so can we think about this, but the plans in. So anyway, Barker tries to get the kid back in the van again, down on the ground, and at some point that's when he kicked Barker. I didn't know he kicked Barker. I had no idea; I mean I really didn't know he kicked Barker at that point. So he's down on the ground, Barker gets his taser out, takes the cartridge off, does an arc display, you know, just basically this is what you're gonna get. Kyeron's on the ground squirming around, screaming like he's being tased, even though there is not any contact with the taser or anything like that.

JE: Is he on his back or on his chest?

MD: I thought he was on his back.

JE: Okay.

MD: I kind of remember him being on his back but like I said everything was kind of happening, so I really, he's squirming around and everything and about that time then finally the Donald E. Long group came over and helped us pick him up and get him into the van.

JE: And how many staff members -

MD: About three came over, two or three came over, and we picked him up and got him in the van. He was still restrained; his hands are still behind his back, his legs are still restrained and we laid him in the van cause basically we can't get him on the seat so he gets in the van, he's on the floor, and his back is against the cage, cause there is a small cage in the very front part of the passenger compartment, and then he's facing backwards under the seat. So there is no pressure on his chest or anything like that because it is a big open area underneath the seat. Well, and it's odd because even though he had been sort of recalcitrant getting into the van, as soon as he got in the van and he was just instantly still; like almost like not, I mean he just kind of laid there and was sort of like, okay, what's going on here. He's just sort of in there and we close the door and Barker basically told me he was, you know, his adrenaline was going too much and he asked if I could drive. So it took us probably a good five minutes to get out of the parking lot because the parking lot at Donald E. Long is pretty small in the secure area there. The Portland Police car's here so I had to back up the van and move it around and then eventually I finally backed it out through the security gate. I worked my way around, went up 68th to Halsey, just took my time, you know, basically drove like 25 going up 68th. Got onto Halsey, came down Halsey; we pulled onto Sandy Boulevard, came around, worked our way back over to the MCDC. About the time we get outside of MCDC, Barker's already called downtown and asked if we could have some people meet us in the sally port. So we get in the sally port, open up the door, Fair is still laying there on the floor, still same position we put him in, you know, kind of facing the back of the van, his hands behind him and we go to get him, you know, we get him out and said take your time, careful don't catch his arm on anything or anything like that. So we get him out of the van and he kind of, he stands up and he's sort of walking along with us and we get him up to the Booking Counter. So we're standing at the Booking Counter and we're at the end booth, the one closest to where the property window is, and he's on the prisoner side and I go around to the other side and I look at him and say 'How do you say your name'. And he just sort of looking around; he's just sort of unfocused, he's looking around. I said "How do you say your name, is it Kyeron, is it Kayron, how do you say your name?". And I'm not getting any response, I mean like no response. And it's not like he's, it's not like he's being you know, just not, I'm trying to think of the, it's not like he's being aggressive or it's not like he's just being -

HB: Belligerent.

JE: What is it?

HB: Belligerent.

JE: It's not like that. There's no focus. There's no, I'm not looking at you, I'm not focused on you, I'm just kind of like looking for the butterflies flying around or something. So at that point they move him over to one of the separation rooms. We put him in there; we get the leg irons off of him. He still has handcuffs on. So we get him in the separation cell, and we're in there and we close the door and we're trying to decide what to do. Well, it's odd because his behavior is just like he's sort of staring at the wall, he's staring at the ceiling, he's staring at the wall, he's staring at the ceiling, kind of looks out the window every now and then; and then we figure we need to get the handcuffs off and we're trying to figure out the best way to do it. So at that point, Sergeant Miller is there, Tim Barker is there, Brian Parks, one of the deputies, he comes over and we put a nylon restraint around his hands and I think Roldan was there also, Jose, yeah Ron Roldan he was there, so basically we put the strap around his wrist, put the strap through the service port on the door, close the door, draw him back to the door so this way, you know, we can get the handcuffs off in case he does become belligerent. So we take the handcuffs off and he just kind of, we get them off, and he's just sort of standing in the cell and I'm kind of standing there watching him. And he's doing things like hiding his face inside of his t-shirt, he's sort of staring at the wall, he's kind of like making little gestures with his hands, kind of just sort of waving his fingers almost like he's doing peek-a-boo is what it is. He'll put his face inside his sweatshirt; he'll look up and he'll put his face back inside his sweatshirt and this goes on for quite awhile. So the discussions were going on we figured well, jail wasn't the place for him he really needed to be in the hospital. So a phone call was made to dispatch an ambulance and about that time ambulance got there, we had the ambulance crew. Bob Miller was the Sergeant, he was standing there. So Dennis Quist, he's one of the Transport Deputies, he came over and basically the decision was, Okay we need to handcuff him so we can move him out of the cell and then get him onto the board for transport. So we, and Bob's there and Denise Quist goes over and basically I mean he does the ask, advise and order. The doors closed; he says I'm asking you to put your hands behind your back so we can handcuff you. Says I'm advising you to put your hands behind your back so we can handcuff you and I'm ordering you to put your hands behind your back so we can handcuff you; giving him plenty of time between each one. Still no focus, still no response, still just kind of staring around, staring at the cell, just sort of looking around. Sergeant Miller at that point decided to have two people with tasers ready and that was Gordon Glasser and Mindy DeArmond; and they both stood there and they opened up the cell, I'm standing just outside, Dennis Quist and Barker go into the cell, they are standing on either side of Kyeron there and Dennis once again says 'I'm asking you, I'm advising you and I'm ordering you to put your hands behind your back' and he just sort of unfocused looking around and Bob Miller basically said, okay go ahead and taser him. So two cartridges were fired, he went down but not dropped to the floor because there were two guys there basically to get him down to the floor and he went through one cycle is what it came down to and I think, I don't know if there was a second cycle or not, there may have been a second cycle. I remember distinctly there were two cartridges so two cycles right there. There might have been a third cycle but, and at that point they got his hands behind his back, got him out of the cell. He was kind of struggling just a little bit when they put him on the board but it was more of just kind of not so much active resistance as more of a calcitrant; I don't want to do this, it's not like he's flashing his arms around and all that other stuff. So basically they got him restrained to the board and took him off to the hospital and that was the last I saw of him.

JE: So you had no other contact with him after that?

MD: No, not at all.

JE: Okay. So going back a little bit, when you first got to JDH and you saw the staff, five or six staff members carrying him out, was Kyeron saying anything?

MD: He might have been yelling a bit but not anything I could understand. He just kind of 'Ahh', that kind of thing. It was more that kind of thing, just sort of, I didn't really pick up any distinctive words, more of it was just yelling.

JE: And how were they carrying him? Were they carrying him, you know, like did somebody have a hold of one foot and another one had another foot?

MD: That's what it looked like; looked like they were carrying like a log. Looked like somebody had one foot, somebody had an arm, two guys around at his waist carrying him that way and they had him sort almost shoulder height I would say because that's what it looked like, it looked like they had him up that, it looked like they were carrying him along like a log like that.

JE: And his face would have been down, chest high?

MD: Yes, face down, chest down.

JE: So when you guys said you parked, you got out of the van, and then they dropped him at your feet, how close were you and Deputy Barker to Kyeron when he was down on the ground?

MD: Basically from me to you, I mean we were right there.

JE: So a couple of feet?

MD: Yeah, a couple of feet.

JE: Anything else Kyeron saying at that point?

MD: No. When they put him down on the ground he just sort of, kind of started staring around, like I said it was sort of, I'm trying to get some kind of indication of what's going on here and he sort of, once he hit the ground he was just looking around; he kind of squirmed a little bit but just, not really anything like I'm going to get up and run or any of those other things. It was just like he was down there and he sort of started looking around.

JE: And what was your impression of Kyeron at that point?

MD: I wasn't sure, I didn't know if it was just, if there was something mentally wrong, if there was some other kind of problem whether he was just being belligerent, I wasn't really, it was too short a time to try and make a decision of exactly what was wrong. It wasn't until we got downtown that I could really tell something was not connecting somewhere.

JE: Can you tell anything physically about Kyeron? Any injuries or –

MD: No.

JE: - excessive sweating?

MD: Not really, couldn't tell, I mean you know, it's kind of dark in the parking lot. And then when we got into the back of the van it was pretty dark in the back of the van, and then when we got him downtown it was, I mean he was, from rolling around in the parking lot his JDH sweat suit was pretty dirty. It was clean when he came out and then from rolling around the parking lot it was pretty dirty.

JE: The parking lot is a gravel road?

MD: Well it's asphalt.

JE: So after he's dropped to the ground can you go into more detail about how Deputy Barker went to pick him up or went to get him up?

MD: Yeah he basically, you know, he told him and then he took him, I think it was, trying to think, if I'm facing this way, so it would have probably been the right arm.

JE: Okay.

MD: And basically, he didn't yank him to his feet or anything like that, he stood him to his feet. He got him, Barker is a pretty big guy, got him by the arm and sort of leaned back and just pulled him up with him.

JE: So at this point Kyeron's standing up now then what happened?

MD: Then Barker and Kyeron are on their way to the van.

JE: So Kyeron's walking at that point?

MD: Yeah, right, sort of walking, sort of kind of being kind of pulled along so -.

JE: And you get to the van and is it one of those where the doors -

MD: No the door slides back. The door slid back, it's open and Barker kind of gets him and tries to get him up and into the van and that's when he braces his feet.

JE: Okay.

MD: One side against, I think either against the door and then one side against the cage is what I kind of remember.

JE: All right, and so when that didn't work what happened again?

MD: He went down. He was down on the ground and then at that point then I said, you know, Barker once again tried to get him up onto his feet and try and get him back into the van.

JE: And when he went down to the ground was it on his back or his side?

MD: I think it was either his back or his side.

JE: Okay.

MD: It wasn't like dropped on the ground, it was kind of like he sort of pushed back and Barker had him and it was just kind of down to the ground; it wasn't dropping or anything like that; it was more just like kind of like he sort of went dead weight, and so sort of a dead weight down to the ground, so.

JE: Okay. Was Kyeron saying anything at this point?

MD: No. Once in awhile he would make a noise. Most of the time he was actually pretty quiet. I don't really recall him saying much of anything. Other than he was acting like he was being tased; once I, he never really said anything; he was actually very quiet through the whole thing.

JE: Where were you at when this was happening, the part trying to get Kyeron to the van.

MD: Probably from me to you. Barker was there and I was kind of behind Barker and I was trying to get around him to get the kid's legs but I just couldn't quite get around him to get the legs, so.

JE: And then you either heard or been told that Deputy Barker had been kicked but you didn't see it.

MD: I really didn't see it. The only thing I recall is at some point he said, I thought, what I heard was 'He tried to kick me' so but I guess he did get kicked, I really, I didn't see it.

JE: Okay. Plus if you didn't see that, so –

MD: Barker, he was on his back, that's what it was, because he was on his back and Barker was kind of down at his feet. I think that's when, then I was kind of focused on, I was focused on Kyeron at that point and I wasn't really watching what was going on with his feet because I figured the next step is we take him by the arms and get him up and into the van.

JE: Okay. And staff members were just watching.

MD: Pretty much yeah, Donald E. long staff members pretty much just watching.

JE: Now Leg irons, I'm not too familiar with them. How much room do you have from one leg to the other?

MD: About that much. So it's maybe a foot I would say, I think it's 12 inches between each leg iron. I think it's a 12 inch chain. It's enough that they can walk with taking small steps but it's also enough that like I said he could get enough spread on his feet to be able to block between the door and the cage in the van so we couldn't quite get him in, so.

JE: Okay and then how did Deputy Barker finally get him inside the van?

MD: That's when the Donald E. Long group came over and helped us and we picked him up at that point. I think the Donald E. Long group, Barker, I don't know if I had a hand in it or not, I think I probably had the edge of a leg or something; we just kind of picked him up and sort of carried him over and laid him down inside the van.

JE: So he probably would have been on his right side?

MD: Yeah, his right side.

JE: Okay, so he's facing towards the seats–

MD: Back of the van, yeah.

JE: And his back is against that little separation cage you have.

MD: Yeah.

JE: Anything Kyeron is saying then?

MD: No. Like I said, that was the odd part, because once he was in the van he was very quiet. He was very still, very quiet.

JE: And Deputy Barker was giving commands to cooperate during this time? At the beginning you said he was.

MD: At the beginning but, and then when he was down on the ground, when he did the arc display that's when he told him, he said, you know, cooperate or you'll get tased.

JE: It looked like, to you, that Kyeron was kind of acting like he had been tased?

MD: Right. Even though there was no possible way.

JE: So when you finally get him inside the van and you pull out of the parking lot and drive back to MCDC, does Kyeron say anything?

MD: Nothing, nothing at all. We didn't hear a peep out of him. There was no yelling, no kicking, no banging. I mean that's what I was expecting; I was expecting him to be kicking the door, you know, I was expecting him to be kicking the door or yelling, or doing something, there was nothing. I mean he was just very quiet the whole time, so.

JE: Okay. How was he at the counter?

MD: Like I said, he just kind of stood there and I kept asking him different questions, he was, he stood there, he was unfocused and you know, I asked him his name, he looked around, he wouldn't say anything, and it wasn't, he was actually in the separation cell at one point, and I think it's when, I don't know if it was when we were taking the handcuffs off or just before that he started yelling 'My name's Kyeron, my name's Kyeron'. So it was apparently whatever I was asking him registered somewhere but he wasn't giving me any kind of immediate responses. So he just sort of stood at the counter and we walked him over to the separation cell, so it was, it was odd, it was odd behavior, you know, it was very odd behavior.

JE: Now one of the things you talked about was he was inside the cell playing like peek-a-boo and –

MD: Yeah it was just –

JE: - how long do you think of a time period you were watching him?

MD: Well I was there probably, I think it was, well from the time we got him in which was about quarter to nine and I don't know what time exactly the ambulance left, I think it was probably maybe quarter to ten or so when the ambulance left, so maybe an hour, 45 minutes to an hour I stood there in front of him. Kind of keeping an eye on him because technically he was on suicide watch at that point so someone needed to watch him. So I just kind of stood there and watched him. I didn't actually have a, I don't think I had an official sheet going at that point but I just figured somebody needed to be there and stand there watching what he's doing so I just stood there.

JE: And were you there when the nurse came –

MD: Yeah.

JE: - to look in the cell?

MD: Oh yeah, yeah. The nurses checked him out almost immediately when we got there. Actually it was Victoria Marshall's nurse that came down and checked him out. She was actually the lead nurse that night, so she's the one; it wasn't the regular reception nurse. The reception nurses came over but it was Nurse Marshall that came over to check him out. And I don't if they actually, I think they brought the equipment over to do his blood pressure and all those others things. I can't recall them actually ever getting any of the stuff on him.

JE: Okay. Now you said when you got to the reception area booking that his clothes were kind of dirty from rolling around.

MD: Yeah.

JE: Any other things that you noticed on him, any physical injuries?

MD: No. Not really, you know, I didn't see, I didn't see any, you know, because basically I didn't see anything around his face or his hands or any of those other things so I didn't notice, I couldn't see anything other than that. So it was mostly his face, his neck and his hands, that's the only things I really saw.

JE: And he was wearing a long sleeve or short sleeve shirt?

MD: I think it was a long sleeve shirt.

SS: Was there any blood or holes rubbed into the clothing?

MD: There was a hole rubbed into the clothing from just him rolling around the parking lot. I remember it was either around the elbows, I think it was around the elbows is where the hole was rubbed, so, but that's the only thing I can really recall at this point.

SS: Did you see any blood or bruising or anything like that?

MD: No not really.

SS: I don't think we asked you this earlier. How long have you been employed at the Sheriff's Office here or working in the jail.

MD: Twenty five years.

JE: At this jail?

MD: Uh-huh.

SS: And what did you do before that?

MD: I was a corrections officer back east.

SS: How many years experience do you have back there?

MD: 8 ½ - about 34 years altogether.

SS: That's a long time. Your assignment on that day, on the 17th of September, what was that assignment? Were you booking or were you transport?

MD: I was a Transfer Officer. And there is a difference between Transfer and Transport.

JE: Can you explain it?

MD: Transfer actually, Transport is an assignment where they actually do transportation, they drive the big trucks and transport prisoners between the facilities. They take them to other counties, they take them out of state, those kinds of things; they'll do a cross, they'll do the shuttle run to take them over to Vancouver, those kinds of things. Our job, the Transfer Officers, basically our job is we're assigned in the jail, it's just another one, it's part of the Booking Area assignment and mostly what we do is we are the ones who gather up the people to be sent out to the other facilities or if someone is going out of state or somewhere we gather them up. And it is only on rare occasions that we actually drive. We drive on the weekend because there is no transport and then also at night we drive out to GTH to help out and pick up prisoners that have been booked into the Gresham temporary hold, so but mostly it's you know, it's not in our duty to drive around and pick people up for the most part.

SS: Have you been a Transport Officer as well as a Transfer Officer?

MD: No. I've never been, all I ever been is a Transfer-. I've been on line the entire time.

SS: So are you specially trained to be a Transfer Officer?

MD: I've been doing it since 1997, so I just kind of, yeah it's, Was there any special training? No.

SS: If there any training that, is there different responsibilities between a Transfer Officer and a Transport Officer that would require any difference in training?

MD: Yeah, they have CDLs. They have basically is what it comes down to, they have CDLs, they tend to work together as teams on a regular basis instead of having a different partner, you know, like ours is a facility assignment so you might have a different partner, two or three different partners in a week. If you're down there three days, you might have three different partners, whereas the Transport deputies, they're basically paired up at the beginning of the year and they work together.

JE: Now, the Transfer Officer do you have to _____ qualified?

MD: Yes you do.

JE: So there is some training for -

MD: Yeah, there's our unit training is what we had and mostly that comes down to, we are, you know, basically we had our training for uncontrolled environment and then mostly you just kind of, with that and then you also have your couple force options. You have your firearm, your OC, at that time I wasn't taser qualified so I didn't have a taser with me, now I guess it's everybody is taser qualified now so

I've done that. But mostly it's just kind of, sort of, you know, learn as you go along, and try to learn. A lot of it is, um, a lot of the job is trying to fill the beds at Inverness, try to pick the proper number of inmates to go out to Inverness, and especially now you have to pick the right type of inmates to go out to Inverness, you know, and basically they send us a menu and say this is what we need for these dormitories. Most of the job is mostly office work is what it comes down to.

SS: For the Transfer Officer?

MD: Yeah the Transfer Officer is mostly office work.

SS: Okay, and on the 17th, was Deputy Barker a Transfer Officer or Transport?

MD: He was Transfer. He was my partner in Transfer. I was the Transfer 1 Officer, he was the Transfer 2 Officer.

JE: Have you two worked together in the past?

MD: Since about February, I think is when the assignments came in. I've been on swing shift for the last two years and basically have had the same schedule. I've been in Transfer on Thursday and Friday nights for the last two years on this schedule.

SS: So if I understand this correctly, on that day, on September 17th, you and Barker were the Transfer Officers –

MD: Right.

SS: - and you were assigned to do a transport function.

MD: Right.

SS: Have you and Barker done a transport together.

MD: Yes.

SS: Okay, have you done a transport together where you had a resistive or a resisting or combative inmate.

MD: Um, not just –

SS: Anything similar to Kyeron –

MD: Not any, not any like, you know, drunks at Gresham temporary hold where we get them up and put them into the van, that kind of stuff but not anywhere to this level of resistance, so you know, mostly that's what it comes down to, you know, you get drunks at Gresham temporary hold, you help them up into the van, you get them into the van but nothing to this level of resistance.

SS: Okay. When you were at, before you went to JDH, before you and Deputy Barker left for JDH and you'd been given the assignment to take Kyeron Fair, had you been told at that time that he may be suicidal or is that something you learned later?

MD: That's, I was under the understanding that's why we were going out to pick him up was that they were; they felt they could not handle a suicidal prisoner at that point so and that's, to me that was the whole crux of why he was transferred downtown. Was because we were expecting to go out and pick up someone who was showing suicidal tendency and that's what we were, I think that's what I was expecting. I was expecting to find someone who, okay, you don't know what to do with him, he's exhibiting suicidal tendencies, apparently they dealt with him for three days. I heard somewhere that Project Respond looked at him the day before and said, Send the kid to the hospital.

JE: Did you know that before you went there?

MD: No, I didn't know any of that before we went. And so we get out there and it is a whole different ball of wax from what we're expecting.

SS: Okay, well explain this to me. When you guys, when you and Deputy Barker leave the detention center here it sounds to me like you're leaving knowing that you are going to pick up a juvenile –

MD: Right.

SS: - who is being incarcerated for a pretty hefty charge –

MD: Right.

SS: - and he may be suicidal –

MD: Right.

SS: - or probably suicidal and so much so that they can't control him.

MD: Right.

SS: Did you and your partner develop any kind of strategy or discuss what you may, strategize about how you handle him or discuss what you may be encountering when you get there?

MD: No, not really.

SS: So no pre-planning?

MD: No pre-planning.

SS: So when you arrived and your first observation of him is he's being hustled out by six staff members right.

MD: Right.

SS: Describe his behavior what was going through your mind and what you thought you were supposed to do but what Deputy Barker did and if you had a chance to communicate what you should do.

MD: At that point, you know, we were; my thing was I would have probably taken more time to develop a plan because it's one of those things where it's like, you know, anytime things go wrong in law enforcement is because you're in a hurry and you don't have a plan. So I think if we had developed some kind of plan, how are we going to do it, are we going to take him, are we going to call and get the wheelchair van; where I've done that before where we've had prisoners transported out of here on a backboard to be sedated at the hospital because they've been so out of control. And we have taken the wheelchair van with us with the restraint chair, placed the prisoner in the restraint chair and brought them back in the back of the wheelchair van, but um, you know like I said, it's, it was, I'm trying to figure out what the next step is and then the situation when Barker took a hold of him and then the situation took a whole different turn.

SS: Obviously we've spoken to Deputy Barker –

MD: Right.

SS: - so part of my question is based on my impression of the things that he had said. Okay. But when you guys arrive and then you see Kyeron Fair –

MD: Right.

SS: - did you actually enter the facility to get him?

MD: No. No, we were outside of the door. We were outside, there's -

SS: Walking into the facility?

MD: No. We were -

SS: So did they bring him to you?

MD: They bring him to us.

SS: Was that planned?

MD: We had no idea what to expect.

SS: Is that normal though?

MD: No, normally if we go somewhere to pick somebody up, we go into the facility, do the restraints and pick them up.

SS: Okay.

MD: The normal procedure would be, if you are going to go pick up a prisoner, you're the one who's responsible for transporting that prisoner. You're the one responsible for making sure that the restraints are applied properly so it's always been one of my things as we go in we take custody of the prisoner, we do a pat search, we apply the restraints and then we take him out to the vehicle so, and it's pretty much what it comes down to.

SS: So this was unexpected?

MD: This was all unexpected.

SS: And correct me if I'm wrong, but they brought him to you?

MD: Yes.

SS: Out of that transfer from JDH custody to your custody; how did that go, explain that to me.

MD: Like how did -

SS: How did they do it. Did they hand him off and say here's the paperwork for this kid, he's now yours. What did they do?

MD: They brought Fair out through the door and dropped him at our feet, they handed us a bag with his property and a copy of the original custody report.

SS: Okay, I'm piecing together what you said, I want to make sure I'm accurate.

MD: Okay. No that's fine.

SS: He's resisting, well he's not resisting but he's -

MD: He's resisting with them -

SS: Okay.

MD: - and then when he is on the ground he's just sort of sitting and staring.

SS: What kinds of things is he saying to them?

MD: All I heard was just kind of like, you know, aaah, I didn't hear any words -

SS: Like guttural noises?

MD: Guttural noises, screams, you know, that kind of things.

SS: Is he making any protests about treatment?

MD: No.

SS: Is he making any protest about the way he's been treated?

MD: No.

SS: About any injuries?

MD: No.

SS: About being transferred from JDH to the jail?

MD: No.

SS: So it's just strange behavior?

MD: It's just odd behavior.

SS: Nothing –

MD: There was nothing, he does not vocalize anything.

SS: Nothing in particular?

MD: Nothing in particular, it's not like, Why am I going?

SS: So no simple complaints?

MD: No, you know, I would expect from someone if it was, if he was a belligerent juvenile, I would be expecting him to go, Why are you taking me to the adult jail; why are you doing this, you know, why are you guys doing these things. I heard none of those things. As like I said, they handed us a prisoner, a bag of property, and a booking sheet.

SS: When they put him down and essentially handed him over –

MD: Right.

SS: - did he stop saying anything, did he stop thrashing around?

MD: Yeah. He just, he kind of just sort of sat there and sort of stared around for a moment; I mean he just, he was sort of sitting there for a moment, I didn't know how long it was going to last, but for a moment while he sat there he just sort of, once they put him on the ground, he wasn't yelling, he was, he sat down, he was kind of, just sort of staring around the parking lot, and I in fact kept expecting, you know, some kind of interaction but there really wasn't anything. When Barker said, you're going, you know he kind of looked at Barker and there was no immediate response to when Barker told him you're going to the jail.

SS: Did, was there some resistance or combativeness when he was picked up or moved by Barker or when he was being placed into the van?

MD: When he was being placed into the van. There may have been some resistance when he first got to his feet but mostly the resistance was when he was getting into the van. And it was more of a bracing recalcitrant thing trying to push himself out of the van rather than actively kicking. I didn't see any actively kicking trying to strike at that point.

SS: Okay. And the way you described it the first time, Barker was trying to get him into the van, he pushed off with his feet –

MD: Right.

SS: - and Barker eventually, essentially, I wasn't sure if you said, dropped him or set him down or he -

MD: He just kind of slumped to the ground, sort of like he went dead weight.

SS: The kid did?

MD: Yeah, Fair did. He sort of went dead weight and Barker sort of stepped back and he was just down on the ground.

SS: And just let him sit there?

MD: Yeah.

SS: Okay, it's not like he was holding him up and dropped him?

MD: No. He just sort of slumped to the ground and then Barker picked him up once again and tried to get him back into the van. I think that's when he picked him up and had his arms around his chest trying to get him back into the van and the same result. And once again he did the dead weight thing, braced himself, stiffened up and went dead weight and slumped down to the ground.

SS: At any point did he complain about injuries?

MD: No. We heard nothing from him. The only noise I heard out of him when he was laying on the ground, and we were in the, when we were in the sally port at Donald E. Long the only noise I heard from him when he was laying on the ground acting like he was being tased, that's the only time I, that's the only thing I recall, the only noise from him I recall. He said basically nothing. I mean really he said nothing.

SS: Before you left JDH did you guys swap handcuffs? Did you remove JDH's restraints?

MD: No. No, I still have JDH's restraints.

SS: Would that be normal for you to swap those out?

MD: It would have been. The normal procedure would have been we would have had him stand with his hands on the wall; we would have applied our belly chains and then placed him in the van for transport. Or if he was a new booking, as we do it at Gresham holding, we would have handcuffed him behind his back and placed him in the van. But because of the situation I think we just laid him in the van and just kept the restraints.

SS: Was there a, I mean you were with a group of JDH staff while Deputy Barker was trying to get him into the van, was there any communication amongst that group of people saying okay we need to go forward –

MD: No, I heard nothing –

SS: - and just get him in the van or just the movement?

MD: I heard nothing. I just saw movement eventually after Barker did the arc display, then I saw some movement, I heard nothing from anybody else.

SS: So eventually somebody decided to move forward and then everybody else kind of stepped in and came alongside –

MD: Right, right and came alongside and we'd better step in and help.

JE: So after you get him in the van was there any communications with the JDH staff about his prior behaviors or anything?

MD: Not that I can recall right off hand. I think that Nurse Heath came out at that point and just said hello to us since she hasn't seen us in awhile and just basically they seemed to be more relieved to get him out of their facility than anything else. It wasn't any real communication about this is what happened, this is what's been going on. I think that communication took place with Sergeant Phelps on what his behavior had been and everything. While I was expecting someone, like I said, we were expecting someone whose behavior was suicidal or maybe belligerent but I wasn't expecting, you know, such bizarre behavior is what it comes down to.

SS: You describe the bizarre behavior? Is that what you expected when you're told somebody was possible suicidal?

MD: No, I was not expecting that at all.

SS: Have you been around suicidal people before?

MD: Many, many. The unit I work is, we tend to get a lot of the suicide watches and those kinds of things, and difficult prisoners and those sort of things; I've dealt with difficult prisoners for a long time, so.

SS: The last, the last hands on with Fair is when he got picked up and put into the van.

MD: Right.

SS: Where was he at in relationship to that van? Was he like right at the stair-

MD: He was on the ground.

SS: - or was he a couple feet away?

MD: I would say he was probably, if Fair, Barker and I where I'm sitting now, the van was probably 10 to 12 feet away. So it wasn't a huge distance.

SS: When Barker tried to get him in the first time and he was pushing off and went dead weight -

MD: Right.

SS: I'm assuming, based on that, that Fair was very close to the van.

MD: He was.

SS: How did he get from there to 10 to 12 feet away?

MD: It was when Barker kind of picked him up and sort of moved him around and then the next time he pushed off and came down again it was sort of as he was pushing off, Barker had him and he was dead weight and Barker was sort of stepped in back, and I think that's when he got down on the ground at that point so it's basically, I'm trying to think how to explain it. He pushes off the van, he goes kind of dead weight, as he drops I can see Barker's having, kind of stepping back with him, so he steps back several feet as he is, you know, laying him, getting him down to the ground. So it could have been less than 10 or 12 feet, it could have been 10 or 20, it's hard to say, you know, I'm just trying to picture how far we actually had to move him. It wasn't that far that we had to move him.

SS: Okay.

MD: I can visualize where we were in relationship to the van. It was more than 6 feet. It was less than 15. so.

SS: And in that time between the time that Barker pulled him back away from the van and then –

MD: Right.

SS: - before he put him in, that's when he also did the threatening with the taser –

MD: Right.

SS: - and thrashing around.

MD: And you stop and think, the way I look at is basically what happened was Fair's about 6 feet tall. So it was about a body length that he pushed off from the van so it's about another body length on top of that.

SS: Okay.

MD: So basically you have one body length and then I'm looking at from, you know, where we stood him up at around the shoulders and stuff like that, picked him up to get him over to the van.

SS: That makes sense. At MCDC, after the decision was made to transport Fair to the hospital and you guys were doing the extraction because he wasn't –

MD: He wasn't responding to any commands.

SS: Okay.

MD: There was no response to any commands. There was no belligerent behavior, there was just no response.

SS: Okay. Describe for us, if you would, where Fair was in that cell. Was he constantly moving, was he pacing, was he walking in circles, was he hunkered in a corner, and I want to know where he was when you guys were asking him to come out and I want to know where he was when you guys went in and about his movements during that interaction.

MD: Okay. Mostly what would happen was he would do two things. One he would pace the cell, he would pace around in the cell, he would walk around in a tight circle. Or he would stand in a corner, which would probably be the corner closest to the door and kind of peek out the door every now and then and sort of hide his face and then he'd pace for awhile, he'd hide for awhile, he'd pace for awhile and he'd hid for awhile; and when they went to extract him from the cell he had been pacing and then he kind of stood in the middle of the cell and just sort of stopped; He kind of stood there, just static; and just kind of not really responding to any kind of commands or anything, any orders, any direction, anything, he was just not responding; he sort of stood there static, his head would kind of roll around a little bit, he would make, basically what happened was he had his hands locked in front of him. I think he had one hand locked over the other which is why they kept asking him to put his hands behind his back, I think he was holding on to his hands in front of him, just basically kind of standing static in the center of the cell at that point. Just not really responsive to any kind of, and there was no response of any kind that you would expect.

SS: Which deputies were in the cell and were all six of you in the cell?

MD: No. Barker and Quist were in the cell.

SS: Where were the two with tasers?

MD: Just outside of the cell.

SS: In the doorway?

MD: In the doorway.

SS: Where were you?

MD: I was standing just to the, they were here, so I was standing just to the right of them.

SS: Could you see directly into the cell?

MD: Yes.

SS: Were you able to see directly into the cell when they shot the tasers?

MD: Yes.

SS: Okay.

MD: He was basically in the doorway at that point. He was kind of like toward, he was sort of angled toward the doorway, he was just kind of standing in the cell angled toward the doorway by himself. There was nobody else in the cell at that point. We were all outside; it was, basically the way it works is, if I can try and get it correct, cell doors open, then you have Glasser, DeArmond, I think it was Quist was standing there, then I was there, and Barker and Bob Miller. So kind of in a semi-circle around. Taser was fired, Barker and Quist went in, laid him down, and then at that point then they got him to put his hands behind his back and restrain him.

SS: I only have one more question; I've know I've been asking a lot.

MD: No that's fine. No, that's what we're here for.

SS: At the beginning you describe the decision making process that happened here at the jail to transport Fair from JDH to the jail -

MD: Yeah.

SS: - were you actually a participant in that or did somebody tell you that information later.

MD: I was in the office when the whole decision making process was going on.

SS: So you were hearing that through the other side of the phone calls.

MD: Right. The other side of the phone calls; I wasn't involved in the phone calls but we were in the office and heard the phone calls. Thought none of this sounded quite right.

SS: Okay. All right, and then did you have a discussion with Sergeant Phelps about the decision making -

MD: Uh, no -

SS: - at the time?

MD: - not at the time.

SS: Okay, or with the lead nurse, Victoria Marshall?

MD: No. Not at the time.

SS: Okay, so you were just present when they were having those communications.

MD: Right.

SS: Okay.

JE: At the JDH parking lot, you describe Barker showing the taser, displaying the taser; did you ever see any focus blows made by Barker?

MD: No, there was nothing. There was no focus blow, there was no strikes of any kind.

JE: Okay.

MD: There was nothing, I mean it was mostly just trying to get him into the van, picking him up trying to get him into the van and dealing with dead weight. That was the two things. He would either resist getting into the van and then become dead weight; that's what I saw.

JE: So in your 34 years of experience the level of force used on Mister Fair was less than it should have been, was it appropriate, was it more than it should have been?

MD: I think it was, I think it was probably appropriate for what, you know, when you're trying to get someone into a van. I think that, you know, at that point, especially when Barker's trying to kind of doing it on his own because I'm trying to get in there to help but he's doing it on his own, and I think the fact that, I mean really it was, he was, it was, he was basically he would resist and then bulk, resist and then bulk, so I thought it was one of those things like, okay Barker; I thought Barker did a very good job, I thought he, you know, he told him, he was trying to tell Fair this is, you need to cooperate, he tried to tell Fair this is what's going to happen, but that was pretty much after he wouldn't get in the van. And I thought, you know, mostly like I said, he picked him up, tried to put him in the van but there was no excessive use of force anywhere. I didn't see any blows, there was nothing, you know, and then basically like I said, when the JDH group came over to help us we just picked him up, laid him in the van and that was it, there was no, you know, it was just basically put him in the van, close the door, they were glad to be done with him, we were glad to have him in the van.

SS: And my last question, when Mr. Fair was tased in the isolation cell, did he fall to the ground?

MD: No, I believe they stepped in at that point and he slumped to the ground. He didn't really fall; it's not like he fell forward and hit his chest or anything, he just slumped down to the ground. And at that point Barker and Quist stepped in and kind of, they sort of took control over him at that point, and they handcuffed him; and the handcuffing was actually very short because they handcuffed him and brought him over and we laid him on the restraint board for the hospital, for the EMTs to transport him and then unhooked him and laid him flat on the board, so.

JE: And you weren't one of those transporting to the hospital?

MD: No. No I didn't go.

JE: Do you have anything more you want to add or MD: No. That is pretty much it. I mean that's the story the best I can remember it. I think that we kind of, I mean, it wasn't anything I was expecting so it was very strange behavior on Fair's part. I'm glad he went to the hospital, you know, basically, I don't know what happened with him. I have no idea what happened with him. But we were dispatched to a job and it could have gone better but I think Barker did pretty good; I thought Barker did pretty good.

JE: And it could have gone better, you're talking about the planning before.

MD: Yeah, I think we could have had a better plan -

JE: Okay.

MD: - if we had a better plan it would have gone better. .

JE: Heidi, do you have any clarifying questions or -

HB: No.

SS: After he was tased in the Isolation cell, did he make any exclamations about pain or discomfort or injury?

MD: No, that was the odd thing. When he wasn't being tased he was acting like, when we were in the parking lot and Barker was doing the arc display and he would lay on his back and squirm and yell like he was being tased. When he was actually tased there was no noise; he just slumped to the ground.

SS: Did he complain about being mistreated in any way or MD: I heard nothing. I didn't hear anything.

SS: Did you see anybody mistreat him in any way.

MD: I didn't. I thought, you know, I thought that what we were, from our end from the time we actually took custody, I thought we did a pretty good job with him, you know, it's, I think we tried to use the least amount of force possible.

SS: Was taser the least amount of force you could have used in that situation?

MD: I think it's probably the most, the best, I think it's the best choice in that situation because the other option would have been hands on and then you're, especially if he's resistive, then all of a sudden you are pulling against muscle, pulling against bone and you don't know what is going to happen. I think, having been tased and I know what it's like and for that five seconds it gives you a chance to take control with the least amount of force necessary. And I think that's one of the things that, as the tools evolve in law enforcement, I think the taser is one of the one's that helps you take control without causing a lot of damage. And I think, you know, he looked like a fairly young, fairly healthy man, you know, he's 17-years-old, he looked like he was in pretty good shape and I think that was, being determined to restrain him before he got on the board, I think that was the best thing we could have done at that point without having to go in and actually cause any real damage by trying to get his hands behind his back. I think that gave us the opportunity where he was distracted enough that we could get his hands behind his back and restrain him.

SS: And before you went to JDH to pick him up, had JDH provided any information to you or your staff that would have led you to be of the opinion that you would need to restrain this kid or put him in a wheelchair or a backboard or anything like that. Were you given any information like that?

MD: No. We weren't. All they told us is that he hadn't eaten or drank anything for three days; that he would occasionally rush the door. They had to put a staff member on him to watch him. Those were the things we were informed of. So we weren't really, we weren't given the full picture at all. Had I been given better information we would have come up with a better plan and had a better way to deal with him.

SS: I am done now.

HB: Can I just have a minute with Mike because I'm just a little confused on one thing.

SS: Okay, it's 3:30 by my watch.

Multnomah County Detention Center. Also present was Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar, and Attorney Heidi Brown (associated with the Corrections Union).

The following is an excerpt from the transcript regarding QUIST'S interaction with FAIR at MCDC:

What I recall is, umm, I came in on a transport, and it was the last transport of the night, and I looked over at the booking counter from the transfer area and I noticed the booking counter area was pretty busy and there was paramedics standing over by some holding cells. Uh, we unhooked our last inmates to be, to be there, here at the facility. Sergeant Miller came over and, uh, he had told me that, uh, what was going on with Kyeron and that they were trying to get him out of the cell to get him to a hospital. And, umm, and he told me that, that one of our fellow deputies had been assaulted by him and he had fought the JDH fellows and basically, umm, Kyeron was basically resisted everything that we could have done to help him to get him here at MCDC.

And I said, okay, so what, what'd you want to do. He goes, well, we're gonna try and get him on the, the paramedics up on the gurney and get him to OHSU. Uh, because it was busy over there I asked him, I said, well, do you need a hand with helping him out. And he says, yeah, if you want to stick around. I said, sure I'll help you out. I sent my partner away, he went home for the night, and I stepped across into the booking area. I walked past paramedics and I noticed in one of the iso-cells and, uh, I walked up to the door and I saw Kyeron, he was, he was wearing gray sweats, top and bottom, and they were dirty like he'd been on the ground or just basically dirty.

And he was looking down at the ground, facing the door. And I said, hey, how you doing, man? And he wouldn't respond. And I said what, I asked for his first name, they told me. I said, you okay, man? What's going on with you? And he wouldn't respond. And I said, uh, well, you know, we're trying to get you out of here, man, and get you on this gurney and get you to the hospital and get you some help. I said, you know, let's get this done. And, uh, he wouldn't respond to me. And I said, well, if we have to come in there and if force is being used we might have to tase you. So I need you to cooperate, turn around and put your hands behind, you know, behind, behind your back to the food port. I'll cuff you up, we'll get you on the gurney and we'll get you out and get you some help, man, it can be that quick. So he kind of thought about it for a minute as he's looking down and, and he mumbled something. It wasn't clear to me what he was mumbling. But he's looking away, he wouldn't look at me.

And, uh, I said, okay, we need to get this done now, okay. So go ahead and turn around for me. And he was just standing there. I said, okay, I'm telling you right now if we got to come in the cell force might have to be used on you, you might get tasered if you resist us. And something kind of clicked in his head where he decided he might want to cooperate. So he turned around like he's gonna cuff up to the food port. So I went to grab a hand to get cuffed and he at that second later spun away in towards the cell and ran to the corner of the cell.

And there I had two deputies lined up on the door 'cuz we're gonna make entry on him now to get, get him secured and get him out of here. So before we did that I asked him, come on over here, let's get this done, I need you, like I said before, man, get you some help. I advised him again that if, when we come in if you resist us you might get, there's a chance you're gonna get tased. And, and this time I said, you know what, you're done. Get over here, I'm ordering you now to come over to the food port and get cuffed up, we're done playing, let's go, let's go and get you some help. And he stayed tucked up in that corner. And I, it was, the minute that I went to key the door open, as I was simultaneously opening the door my, my coworkers were right at the door, as I was opening the door he was like right there, like he, he wanted to come out of the cell.

And I kind of backed off from the door and, and I heard tasers, I heard somebody yelling taser, taser and they nailed him. Well, I'm sorry, they tasered him, sorry. And he instantly went to the floor. He didn't hit anything on the way down, he went straight down to the floor. And I don't mean to laugh at him 'cuz I've been tased and I know what it feels like so it's, he went straight to the floor, screaming. And we're telling him to put his hands behind his back, get on his belly, get hands behind your back, you know, get on your belly, hands behind your back. Well, he, as soon as the cycle of the tasing stopped he immediately was on his belly and tucked his hands up underneath them, underneath his body so we couldn't get, we couldn't pull his wrist out to get handcuffed.

So we're still yelling at him, giving the command; get your hands out, get your hands out. I reached, I'd stepped to the left side of him, avoiding the wires, and I went to grab his hand out from underneath his chest and he was just actively resisting, trying to keep his hands underneath his chest so I couldn't get it out. And, uh, I decided then I wanted to do a pressure point and somebody tased him again. At that time it was enough distraction to where I could get his hand out, but we still had to wrestle him to get his hands behind his back. I mean he resisted the whole time.

So we got his hands cuffed and I noticed his feet were all over the place. And he, he's stilling yelling something, it's unclear to me what he was yelling. I kept on hearing the commands to stop resisting. I wasn't giving the commands, but I could hear 'em. And I noticed his feet were just flaying all over the place and people were trying to, a couple deputies were trying to grab hold of his feet. I looked across the floor and by the control center I saw a pair of leg irons.

I immediately grabbed those leg irons and helped try to secure his feet the best we could and I put the leg irons on him. Once we got him to settle down a little bit we stood him up to his feet. The paramedics rolled the gurney up and we just basically walked him over and sat him down on the gurney, took his legs up on the gurney. And the paramedics use zip ties, so we exchanged the cuff for the zip tie to each side one at a time. He was actually resisting, but he was still almost, you know, allowing us to get, or we could feel him pulling away from us. And I was afraid that he was gonna pull that cuff out, but he, you know, we're, put enough pressure on him enough to where we could get the exchange over. They zip tied him, both sides, laid him down.

I guided his head down to the, down to the, uh, 'cuz it was there on the wood part of it, to secure him, laid him down. And the paramedics, you know, we're gonna remove the probes so they removed the probes and put 'em in a plastic bag and they whooshed him out to OHSU. And, uh, after that was, is report time, so and that went pretty smooth as far as what I could tell it went very smooth.

TAPED INTERVIEW, DENNIS QUIST

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

JE: DETECTIVE JAMES ERIKSEN, Multnomah County Sheriff's Office
DQ: CORRECTIONS DEPUTY DENNIS QUIST, Multnomah County Sheriff's Office
SS: DETECTIVE SCOTT SUDAISAR, Oregon State Police
HB: HEIDI BROWN

JE: Today is November 29th, 2010. It's 1523 hours. This is Detective James Eriksen with the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office, DPSST number 28931. We're at MCDC, Room 231, and we're here talking about Kyeron Fair investigation. Present during the interview is Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar and Heidi Brown and Multnomah County Corrections Deputy Dennis –

DQ: Quist.

JE: -- Quist, Q-u-i-s-t. DPSST number 31559. Dennis, you understand and see that we're being recorded?

DQ: Yes, sir.

JE: And you're okay with that?

DQ: Yes.

JE: So, like I said, uh, the little introduction is we're talking about, uh, Kyeron Fair. In reading some of the reports, and a report you had written, a use of force report, either a witness, I can't remember if you were, it was a witness report or not, but it, uh, it indicated that you were present during, uh, an incident with Kyeron Fair in the isolation cell.

DQ: That's correct.

JE: Can you go ahead and, uh, go over what you recall of that.

DQ: What I recall is, umm, I came in on a transport, and it was the last transport of the night, and I looked over at the booking counter from the transfer area and I noticed the booking counter area was pretty busy and there was paramedics standing over by some holding cells. And there I had two deputies lined up on the door 'cuz we're gonna make entry on him now to get, get him secured and get him out of here. So before we did that I asked him, come on over here, let's get this done, I need you, like I said before, man, get you some help. I advised him again that if, when we come in if you resist us you might get, there's a chance you're gonna get tased. And, and this time I said, you know what, you're done. Get over here, I'm ordering you now to come over to the food port and get cuffed up, we're done playing, let's go, let's go and get you some help. And he stayed tucked up in that corner. And I, it was, the minute that I went to key the door open, as I was simultaneously opening the door my, my coworkers were right at the door, as I was opening the door he was like right there, like he, he wanted to come out of the cell. And I kind of backed off from the door and, and I heard tasers, I heard somebody yelling taser, taser and they nailed him. Well, I'm sorry, they tasered him, sorry. And he instantly went to the floor. He didn't hit anything on the way down, he went straight down to the floor. And I don't mean to laugh at him 'cuz I've been tased and I know what it feels like so it's, he went straight to the floor, screaming. And we're telling him to put his hands behind his back, get on his belly, get hands behind your back, you know, get on your belly, hands behind your back. Well, he, as soon as the cycle of the tasing stopped he immediately was on his belly and tucked his hands up underneath them, underneath his body so we couldn't get, we couldn't pull his wrist out to get handcuffed. So we're still yelling at him, giving the command; get your hands out, get your hands out. I reached, I'd stepped to the left side of him, avoiding the wires, and I went to grab his hand out from underneath his chest and he was just actively resisting, trying to keep his hands underneath his chest so I couldn't get it out. And, uh, I decided then I wanted to do a pressure point and somebody tased him again. At that time it was enough distraction to where I could get his hand out, but we still had to wrestle him to get his hands behind his back. I mean he resisted the whole time. So we got his hands cuffed and I noticed his feet were all over the place. And he, he's stilling yelling something, it's unclear to me what he was yelling. I kept on hearing the commands to stop resisting. I wasn't giving the commands, but I could hear 'em. And I noticed his feet were just flaying all over the place and people were trying to, a couple deputies were trying to grab hold of his feet. I looked across the floor and by the control center I saw a pair of leg irons. I immediately grabbed those leg irons and helped try to secure his feet the best we could and I put the leg irons on him. Once we got him to settle down a little bit we stood him up to his feet. The paramedics rolled the gurney up and we just basically walked him over and sat him down on the gurney, took his legs up on the gurney. And the paramedics use zip ties, so we exchanged the cuff for the zip tie to each side one at a time. He was actually resisting, but he was still almost, you know, allowing us to get, or we could feel him pulling away from us. And I was afraid that he was gonna pull that cuff out, but he, you know, we're, put enough pressure on him enough to where we could get the exchange over. They zip tied him, both sides, laid him down. I guided his head down to the, down to the, uh, 'cuz it was there on the wood part of it, to secure him, laid him down. And the paramedics, you know, we're gonna remove the probes so they removed the probes and put 'em in a plastic bag and they whooshed him out to OHSU. And, uh, after that was, is report time, so and that went pretty smooth as far as what I could tell it went very smooth. So that was my involvement in it, umm, just to help out and (can't understand) actually doing the ask, advise and order type of thing and that was it. I mean it was –

JE: And was this your only contact with Kyeron?

DQ: Yes, sir.

JE: Okay. And so you said you were doing transports, umm, is that in full uniform?

DQ: Yes, sir.

JE: And you were still wearing the full uniform when you went and –

DQ: Absolutely.

JE: -- asked, advised and tell? Umm, so you were at the end of your day and your partner went home and --

DQ: Well, he went back to the shops, yeah.

JE: Went back to (can't understand), okay. So when you went to help out the door was closed, the isolation door at first was closed?

DQ: Yes.

JE: Okay. And is there a little place that you can open up, like a little window, something you can talk to Kyeron?

DQ: Uh, there wasn't one on there.

JE: Okay.

DQ: There wasn't one on there. Well, I don't (can't understand) I don't think so because I walked straight up to the window and talked to him. So I don't, don't recall if it was on there or not. If it was it was up.

JE: Okay.

DQ: But there was, I mean they have 'em on there but I was, when I got to him I, it might have been there, but when I opened it up it was, or it was there it was up, so that I can remember.

JE: And how big are these rooms?

DQ: Oh, I don't know exact measurement, umm --

JE: Just a rough estimate.

DQ: Three by five I guess.

JE: Okay, pretty small.

DQ: Yeah, they're pretty, pretty small, iso-cells.

JE: Umm, and so when you first saw Kyeron what was he, how was he positioned?

DQ: Facing the door.

JE: Standing up?

DQ: Yes, standing up, facing the door, his head down.

JE: Okay. Umm, then you had other deputies assisting you before you opened the door? You already had a plan made up?

DQ: Yeah, I had somewhat of a plan in case, in case he did resist that my fellow deputies would be right next to the door so when I open the door they can go right in without opening the door and then try to find people to get in. So, yeah, I had a couple people lined up to, I think it was, umm, Glasser, De Armond and there might have been someone assisting, probably Barker is nearby, too.

JE: Okay.

DQ: But they all knew that as soon as I open the door that we need to go in and get him. So basically, yeah, it was a pre-planned thing, that if he did resist then we'd go in, go in and take care him, try to get him out.

JE: Okay. Is it, I can't remember, is it one of these doors that it actually opens either outward or inward, or does it slide back in –

DQ: Outward.

JE: Okay.

DQ: Outward, yeah.

JE: Umm, and so let's, let's go over the list of people who were present. So was Sergeant Miller there?

DQ: Yeah, he was there. He was the one who told me about what was going on.

JE: Okay. And then, uh, who had the tasers?

DQ: Uh, Deputy De Armond, Deputy Glasser and I know Barker was carrying one, I don't know if he had it out because I know he was trying to assist me handcuffing –

JE: Okay.

DQ: -- inside the cell. I know he had, he's been carrying one. At least I know his post requires him to carry one and he probably had one on him. I know for sure Glasser and De Armond did, yeah.

JE: And then other than Barker, for those other two deputies to get the tasers do they have to get them checked out or is it something they carry all the time?

DQ: I assume they carry it all the time downstairs.

JE: Okay.

DQ: If they're certified in carrying it.

JE: Umm, was anybody else there that you could recall, deputy-wise or sergeant-wise?

DQ: Yeah, umm, he's a, he's a newer, newer guy and I'm kind of embarrassed to say that 'cuz he's a really kid, umm, bald head. I just talked to him on the way in here, umm –

JE: Hispanic?

DQ: Yeah.

HB: Juan.

JE: Juan.

DQ: Oh, no, no. No.

HB: No.

DQ: A short-statured guy, bald.

HB: (can't understand)

DQ: That's embarrassing.

HB: What's Juan's last name?

SS: Roldan. Is it Roldan?

JE: .Roldan.

HB: Roldan maybe? Does that sound right?

DQ: Might be, yeah.

JE: Okay.

DQ: I remember him being there, yeah.

JE: Was, uh, I know Barker's partner that night was Deluca. Do you remember if he was there?

DQ: He, I remember seeing him at the end where we got on the, on the, uh, on the gurney.

JE: Okay.

DQ: I remember kind of getting a glimpse of him to my left a little bit.

JE: Okay.

DQ: I didn't see him 'til towards the end, yeah.

JE: All right. And so is it pretty easy to communicate through the, you said the glass is how you were communicating, or was it through the little food port?

DQ: Oh, it was, uh, it was through the, through the glass. I mean, yeah, you can communicate pretty well 'cuz they're --

JE: Okay.

DQ: -- they're not really insulated, so, yeah, he can hear you very well.

JE: Okay.

DQ: And once I got the food port door open, I mean it echoes, I mean you can hear pretty well in there. I've never been in that position myself, but.

JE: Well, I know that when I'm in booking I can hear them from their room out.

DQ: Oh, (can't understand) yeah, they definitely, they definitely can hear you.

JE: Umm, so everybody was wearing a uniform.

DQ: Absolutely.

JE: So everybody was obvious. Uh, when you said that Kyeron was mumbling, umm, do you think it was like a, a mumble that you could barely hear him or was it something where you just couldn't understand what he was saying?

DQ: I just couldn't understand him.

JE: Okay.

DQ: I just couldn't understand him.

JE: Was his tone of voice, you know, like a normal talking tone of voice?

TAPED INTERVIEW, DENNIS QUIST

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

Page 8 of 25

DQ: No, it was a little higher pitch.

JE: Higher pitch.

DQ: Not yelling, but it was, you know, like uhh, just kind of in between.

JE: Okay.

DQ: And every once in awhile he'd go up to, not a yell but a little bit higher pitch. And I couldn't understand a word he was saying. I kept on asking him, too, I said, (can't understand) what, what are you saying? And he wouldn't repeat it. And then once I, once I got to the point where it's like, you know, I can't, you know, communicate and find out what's going on, that's when we stuck to the orders, advised, directed him, and there's no communicating with him from my, my opinion it wasn't.

JE: Okay.

DQ: I couldn't understand what he was saying.

JE: So who made the pre-plan, uh, before you were going to open the door who was gonna do what?

DQ: I did.

JE: Okay. Umm, so you're, when you opened the door, uh, where was Kyeron positioned when you were opening the door?

DQ: Facing the door, kind of, what I remember it was just that fast that when I opened the door he was facing the door like wanting to, like he was almost on the glass coming out, wanting to come out of the cell almost. So I couldn't tell, you know, it happened so fast I couldn't know what his intentions were but I know he was almost like right in the door open, that's how close he was. So it was all in one motion, I looked and I turned back and I was like, oh, and as the door opened I noticed he was coming out or, I don't know if he was coming out or he, he had his hands like he wanted to come out or standing in the doorway.

JE: Where was he located before you were opening the door, like right before you were to open the door where was he located?

DQ: He was in the corner cell.

JE: In the corner cell.

DQ: Yeah, which is only about --

JE: In the corner of the cell?

DQ: Yeah, which is only like three feet.

JE: Okay.

DQ: I mean it's just like, it's not that far away.

JE: So as you're opening the cell then he's right by the door?

DQ: Yeah, 'cuz then I stuck the key in, I put the key in and got everybody a nod to get up on the door and about the time I turned the key and opened it up he's like, there's like, oh, I opened the door and I heard tasers going off and they yelled taser, taser and get on the ground and they did their thing and he went to the ground, so.

JE: And where was Kyeron's hands when you looked up and you saw him right in front of the door?

DQ: It appeared to me they were up, above his shoulders. I know they were above his shoulders.

JE: Okay. And –

DQ: I know they were above his shoulders.

JE: And palms open or were they, were his hands in a fist or do you recall?

DQ: I don't recall.

JE: Okay.

DQ: I know his hands were above his shoulders, I know that.

JE: And was he still mumbling or saying anything?

DQ: Umm, not that I remember, I don't.

JE: So you opened the door and then what happens?

DQ: They were, uh, the two deputies gave him orders to, I think he said taser, taser, taser and they, and they lit him same time, they just shot the taser same time. And as soon as he got on the ground then, I mean everybody started yelling stop resisting and get on the ground and get on your belly and give me your hands, that type of thing. So all kinds of commands were coming out from everywhere.

TAPED INTERVIEW, DENNIS QUIST

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

Page 10 of 25

But as soon as they, as soon as I opened the door they, you know, taser and they, they both just –

JE: Did you see Kyeron get tased and go to the ground?

DQ: Oh, yeah.

JE: Okay.

DQ: Yeah.

JE: Umm, and when he landed on the ground did he land on his side, his back, his front, or do you recall?

DQ: I, I don't recall if he landed straight on, if he landed on his belly. I think if he initially started on his side he went to his belly and then he, and as soon as the cycle stopped that's when he went full on his, on his stomach and tucked his arms underneath. So if I recall he went to the side first and then he, 'cuz he was like this I believe and then he, when he was coming over the cycle had stopped and he, if I recall. Yeah, but I don't think he, he didn't go to his back, he didn't go straight down, but I think he went to his side first and kind of was half on his way to his belly and kind of half on his side, so, not really on his, on his back or not really on his chest either, it was kind of like his side and then he, when the cycle stopped he was fully on his stomach with his hands underneath his chest.

JE: And did both those deputies taser him at the same time or do you –

DQ: I heard, I heard one taser.

JE: Okay.

DQ: I only heard one taser.

JE: Okay.

DQ: So –

JE: So, so you hear a taser and you see him go to the ground and then you said a cycle. How long is a cycle?

DQ: Umm, from what I know of cycles can last five seconds, but if there's no, if they're not actively resisting then they can, I think they can cut it shorter.

JE: Okay.

DQ: Well, actually when you hit it goes for automatically five seconds.

TAPED INTERVIEW, DENNIS QUIST

Page 11 of 25

JE: Okay.

DQ: And you can't stop, I don't think you can stop the cycle.

JE: And so after those five seconds, uh, and then kind of go in more detail about what, what Kyeron was doing.

DQ: He just basically, well, after he got tased?

JE: The first time after the five second cycle was done, you said he put his hand underneath his chest.

DQ: Yeah, he tucked his hands underneath his chest.

JE: And what else was going on that you can recall?

DQ: That Kyeron was doing? Nothing.

JE: Okay.

DQ: He wasn't saying anything, he just was resisting having his hands being pulled out to be handcuffed.

JE: Okay.

DQ: He's actively keeping his hands tucked underneath his chest.

JE: And were his feet or anything kicking at that time?

DQ: I don't remember seeing his feet.

JE: Okay.

DQ: I just remember I was so focused on his left so I tried to get his hand out. And I think Barker was on the right side trying to do the same thing, if I remember right. I know I was trying to get his left hand out 'cuz he had it tucked underneath there, underneath his chest there.

JE: And then you thought there was another cycle occurred?

DQ: Oh, I know there was because when, umm, somebody said that again, they're gonna tase him again or they're gonna cycle again then they, they hit him with a taser again, and it was enough distraction to where I could get his arm out. He was still, surprisingly was still resisting me but I was, we were able to get his hand out.

TAPED INTERVIEW, DENNIS QUIST

November 29, 2010

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

Page 12 of 25

JE: Okay.

DQ: And then wrestled to the, to his other hand to get cuffed. But he was still actively resisting even, even after the, but I think it was enough distraction to him that I was able to, you know, not do 100 percent wrestling on him to get him, to get his arm out.

SS: At any point, before earlier in your interaction with him he was mumbling, you couldn't understand what he was saying –

DQ: Yeah.

SS: -- at any point did he start to communicate effectively? Was he saying anything like after being tased that you guys could understand, or you could understand?

DQ: Uh, he said something about name, something about his name when we got him to his feet and went to put him on the gurney. But after that I don't know, something, my name or something name and I don't, it just didn't make all sense to me. And what he was trying to say after that it didn't make any sense, I couldn't even understand what he was saying.

SS: Okay. Did he say he wanted to talk to anybody or wanted help from anybody?

DQ: Not that I recall.

SS: Okay. What about did he, did he say that he'd been hurt in any way or did he talk about being in any kind of pain or discomfort?

DQ: No. He wouldn't talk to me at all.

SS: Okay.

DQ: In fact he wouldn't even look at me.

SS: Okay. And you said that you were, you did the pre-planning with, with the group of officers.

DQ: If you call it that, yeah.

SS: Okay. Well, go, well first off, there were what; three, six; six or seven officers there, right? Is that normal for, for this type of a, an inmate?

DQ: Yeah, it depends on how, if it, you know, if he's known to assault an officer or any staff or anything like that and we know his potentials to be, you know, dangerous or unpredictable.

TAPED INTERVIEW, DENNIS QUIST

November 29, 2010

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

SS: Sure.

DQ: Mental. Especially mental. And we, you know, from what I understood he was, he might be possibly mental and so that's what I took it as when he wasn't responding to me and that type of thing, and you know they're unpredictable. So it's not uncommon, umm, just in case something, they didn't get a hand on to help out with, you know, getting restrained or, or, you know, being a good witness to something. But normally yeah.

SS: So when you were planning this that was, were those your concerns then; one, that he had assaulted an officer already; two, that he wasn't communicating and, and three, that it was possible he was having some kind of a mental episode?

DQ: Uh, yeah, his unpredictable behavior and the fact he assaulted another deputy, umm, really gave me, you know, you know, the common sense what I'd like to say, you know. I'm not just gonna be able to walk into the cell and say, come on, let's go.

SS: Right.

DQ: You know, I could get hurt or another deputy could get hurt or two or three of us are gonna get hurt as we just walk into a cell. So it was kind of a pre-planned thing for our own safety, and his, and, umm, yeah, I mean those are, uh, the communicating part of it, that kind of thing kind of goes hand to hand with the unpredictable behavior in case he is mental –

SS: Sure.

DQ: -- you know, I'd kind of get a, that's why I tried to get a feel where he was when I kind of did initial contact with him. And so that was also part of it, yeah, but not so much. But just the fact that he, he had prior experience of assaulting another deputy and JDH people, I guess –

SS: Okay.

DQ: -- from what I hear, so.

SS: But had you guys talked about him possibly being mentally ill?

DQ: No.

SS: No, didn't.

DQ: No.

SS: Was he acting crazy?

DQ: No. No one, no one said he was acting crazy. He was just kind of, you know, just acting real, so I, I didn't know, I don't know if was either that was going on or he's just wanting to be a fighter.

SS: Okay.

DQ: So I, you know, I didn't know either way, so I'm not gonna take a chance.

SS: Okay. So what was the purpose for him going to the hospital that you were aware of?

DQ: Umm, I understand it was supposed to be a, a courtesy hold. I don't know exactly what a courtesy hold is.

SS: Okay.

DQ: But he needed to go to OHSU.

SS: So you had no specific understanding of what his method of transport was –

DQ: No. Other than the fact that he, they were there to get him some help. That's what I was told and they had a courtesy hold on him and we needed to get him out of there so they could get him some help. So that was, that was my goal to get him out of there.

SS: Sure. And so then when you planned this with this group of people did you guys talk about who was gonna be entering the cell if necessary, or who was going to be deploying a taser if it came to that, and what conditions needed to be met; or is that part of your typical training?

DQ: Umm, I don't, I don't so much say it's typical training. Umm, my experience, I was on the SERT team, so when we have a pre-planned extraction or something like that, yeah, we kind of designate who is gonna do what. But, so that, that to me, I kind of went with that saying, well, I'm gonna open the door, once, once everything is, a determination that we are going in I'll open the door and you guys go in and go ahead and just try to secure him the best you can.

SS: Okay.

DQ: Umm, nobody had said, I don't think anybody said about, hey, I'll deploy a taser, I'll deploy it, nothing like that. It was just, hey, you guys when I open the door we'll go in.

SS: Okay.

TAPED INTERVIEW, DENNIS QUIST

November 29, 2010

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

Page 15 of 25

DQ: That was it. I mean it wasn't no, you know, so I guess I don't really call it a pre-plan thing, I mean I guess you would 'cuz it's not spur of the moment, but, you know, I said I'll open, as soon as I open the door you guys go ahead and we'll all go in and try to do the best we can.

SS: So if I understand this right, the plan was you were to open the door, your team would go in –

DQ: Right.

SS: -- and get him secured.

DQ: Right.

SS: But that plan failed when he –

DQ: He was right there at the door wanting to, almost appeared to come out.

SS: Okay. So explain that to me. When you're getting this door open, right?

DQ: Uh-huh.

SS: You're pulling it to you?

DQ: Yeah.

SS: Okay. And you obviously have to, you have to look away from him for a moment so you can get the key in, right?

DQ: Yeah. Right.

SS: And then when you open it up he's already there. Did anybody give you any, uh, any kind of a warning that he –

DQ: No.

SS: -- was there, or is there just tasers deployed automatically or –

DQ: Umm, I don't recall if the tasers were deployed automatically or not. I'm assuming how, how it happened so fast that either they were quick on the draw or they did, they had 'em at the ready in case they needed 'em. And I mean it did happen that fast to were, I mean the door I, I went to key it and as soon as I opened the door I mean he was, I looked up and as I was pulling on the door looked up like this and he was like right at the door, I mean.

SS: I mean you're showing us what your reaction was, what were you experiencing? Were you surprised, were you shocked?

DQ: Absolutely. I was surprised. I was surprised. I thought he was still in the corner of the cell to be honest with you. Yeah, I was surprised.

SS: So when you were opening the door you thought you were okay and you had room to, you had time to react to this.

DQ: Right.

SS: But then when you got the door open you realized –

DQ: He was right there.

SS: -- that issue had changed.

DQ: That's, that, yeah, that surprised the heck out of me, yeah, you betcha. Sorry about that.

SS: That's okay.

DQ: Yeah, I was assuming he was still in the corner of the cell, I mean 'cuz he wouldn't come out.

SS: Okay. Okay. And when you guys were, when he, when he was on the ground and you were trying to get his hands out from under his chest –

DQ: Uh-huh.

SS: -- right?

DQ: Right.

SS: Were you standing off to the side and pulling on his arms –

DQ: Off to his left.

SS: -- or did you have to have like a knee on his back or something like that?

DQ: No. I was, I bent over 'cuz I was trying to avoid the wires.

SS: Okay.

DQ: And so I'd, I stepped over and I was trying to reach down and grab his, grab his hand out and wrestle and try and pull his hand out and with my left hand went, so that wasn't working so I went to use a pressure point. Before I could do that somebody had cycled a taser again and it was enough to distract him and we were able to wrestle his hand out, I was able to wrestle his hand out and wrestled it to the back of his back and we, we cuffed him from there.

TAPED INTERVIEW, DENNIS QUIST

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

SS: Okay. What do you mean use a pressure point?

DQ: I went to use a, like a just a little bit behind the ear, kind of push behind the ear, like a little pressure point to distract him to get his hand out.

SS: Okay.

DQ: So it was like a distraction device or technique just to, just to get his hand out so we can handcuff him.

SS: Okay. Do you or did any, did you or any of the other people there, uh, you know, sit on him or kneel on him or put a foot on him or anything to hold him down so you could work to get his arm free or his legs?

DQ: Not that I recall.

SS: Not that you recall.

DQ: Yeah. My main concern was trying to get his hand while at the same time avoid getting tased myself 'cuz there was wires on the ground. And I knew there was enough people there that, that he was, I had the confidence to know that if, if, if it, I wasn't doing enough that we, we would be able to manipulate something and give us some control on to get his hand back there. So I didn't, I didn't see, I don't recon-, no, I didn't see anybody pounce on him or bust his knee on his back or anything like that. It was, it was pretty much the way I said it was, trying to pull him out and then pressure point, he got cycled again, I was able to wrestle his arm out and get a hand cuffed, so.

SS: Was there anything that would have led you to believe that he was injured, I mean by expression on his face or awkward movements or anything like that?

DQ: No. Other than the fact he was rightfully uncomfortable getting tased.

SS: Right.

DQ: Absolutely. But nothing other than that, no. I didn't see nothing or he didn't express anything and there was, saw nothing.

SS: Okay.

DQ: Other than the fact that tasing sucks. Excuse the expression.

SS: That's okay.

DQ: It hurts.

JE: So how long have you worked for the sheriff's office?

DQ: A little over 12 years.

JE: And did you work anywhere else in corrections or law enforcement before that?

DQ: I worked at OSCI correctional institution.

JE: How long did you work there?

DQ: I worked for the State for two and a half years.

JE: Okay.

DQ: Yeah, went for OSCI and then I came to, Col-, Columbia River Correctional Facility when I got promoted. And then I wanted to get full time permanent corporal so I re-interviewed back at OSCI so I kind of did the switch back and forth and then I ended up staying at OSCI until I got with the County, so.

JE: Okay.

DQ: Yeah.

JE: And, uh, what special training, other than like the basic corrections academy, could you, that you have, 'cuz you talked a little bit about being on the SERT team. What other training, including SERT team?

DQ: Uh, SERT team, you know, we do the cell extractions, securing inmates, umm, when they're resisting, barricaded subjects, umm, person with weapon, umm, any kind of tactical entry stuff. Umm, we worked a lot of defensive tactics, worked on hand control, digital controls, the whole nine yards for distraction or to get their hands, feet under control. Umm, I was a, I'm a defensive tactics instructor. In fact, I went to teach it this year, I learned new, umm, Gracies, so that's, that's fairly new to me, so and that, I'm pretty sore. But I'm a DT instructor. I've been a DT instructor for the last couple years. Been more or less being a firearms instructor. I more or less teach firearms than the DT's, but if he needs help I go to DT's. Umm, SERT team five and a half years doing our normal training, our defensive tactics, umm, room entries, booking, umm, old booking stuff. Umm, if we want to go back to the State I was a cell extraction instructor, cell extraction instructor, instructor. So I taught instructors to be cell extractors. Wow. And DT's also. Umm, but other than that that's pretty much it.

JE: So you, you've worked long enough and had experiences similar to this in other years or other time working with the sheriff's office?

DQ: Yes. Yes, sir.

JE: Okay. So this wasn't something that was completely out of the norm?

DQ: No.

JE: And it sounded like at the beginning you were trying to use verbal skills to get him to cooperate first and you gave him ample time. Umm, I think the only clarification that I wanted to bring up real quick before I forget is did you actually get to use the pressure point or did you start to and then he got tased again?

DQ: I started to. My decision was to go and use the pressure point so I started to move up and –

JE: Okay.

DQ: But I do, and I remember it cycling because I automatically went oop and let it go it go 'cuz there's wires around me and I didn't, you know –

JE: Okay.

DQ: -- I just --

JE: I just want to, 'cuz at first I thought you said you were going to, then I thought maybe you had done it so I wanted to make sure.

DQ: No. No.

JE: Umm, and the tasers, where were they located on Kyeron?

DQ: Uh, when the paramedics took them off I remember seeing one, uh, one on his chest, one on his chest and one, they were pretty much in the chest, stomach. The one I remember specifically was one was in his chest because the paramedics, I wasn't helping 'em but I was still there when the paramedics were taking the one out that I remember definitely was in the chest. The other ones I'm not sure how low they were because I was getting a bag, but they were, the one I definitely saw was getting pulled out of his chest.

JE: So did the medics take off his shirt at all or did they just pull it from his sweatshirt?

DQ: I think they lifted his shirt I believe and they, they pulled the probes out from his, yes, so they actually went to the skin and pulled the probe out.

JE: And did you see his chest, his bare chest at all when you were standing there? And the reason why I'm asking you this is if you saw anything injury-wise from his chest or –

DQ: I didn't see anything injury-wise. Umm –

JE: But do you recall seeing his chest when you were there?

DQ: Just when they were in there pulling the probes out I remember seeing his chest. Umm, if it, I don't know, I don't think they had his shirt off him. But I could see his chest when they were pulling the probes out. And I mean his, his sweatshirt was pulled way down here where –

SS: Was it off? Was it up or off?

DQ: I think, I remember they were pulling it through his T-shirt I believe. But as far as I could see, I mean I could see his stomach and the lower part of his chest and I didn't see, other than the probe being pulled out I didn't see anything.

JE: Okay.

DQ: And I mean there was more probes I know was involved but I just remember specifically seeing one being pulled out of his chest and I didn't see anything else, so.

JE: All right.

DQ: I honestly don't. Can't recall to a hundred percent if there was anything else there other than what I do remember seeing was being, the probe being pulled out of his chest.

JE: So after he's taken out of the isolation cell how much longer are you down in the booking area before you leave?

DQ: Umm, I want to say a good 10 or 15 minutes 'cuz I talked to Sergeant Miller and I made sure that the bag and the probes all got in one bag and just trying to help everybody else out and everybody got their, that everybody was cool and the people that used their tasers got replacements and, I mean they knew what they were doing so I didn't really need to do anything.

JE: Right.

DQ: So I stuck round about 10 or 15 minutes.

TAPED INTERVIEW, DENNIS QUIST

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

Page 21 of 25

JE: And did you write your report that night or –

DQ: I wrote a rough draft that night and then the next day I went and did it on the computer.

JE: Okay.

DQ: 'Cuz I don't have the best handwriting in the world.

JE: And then the purpose of collecting the taser probes?

DQ: It was just so no one else have access to it, to get 'em.

JE: Okay.

DQ: And so no one else, another inmate can't get a hold of 'em or staff member getting hurt by an inmate grabbing it and also accountability of what we use. That's the number one thing is accountability of what tools were used so, you know, when questions come up there it is, there's the chain of evidence so to speak, I guess, what was used in use of force. So pretty much accountability of the tools we use and also safety and secure and we don't an inmate getting a hold of a probe that wasn't picked up, so I'm assuming that they got picked up.

JE: So from the time you started talking to Kyeron until the time that he left on the gurney, how long do you think that was?

DQ: Oh, I couldn't tell you. A safe window, maybe half hour at the most.

JE: Okay.

DQ: I mean it wasn't lengthy, but at the same time it wasn't like right now 'cuz I tried to talk to him.

JE: And how long do you think you tried talking to him before opening the door?

DQ: Probably two minutes or so, if not longer. I mean it probably took longer than it should have, but I just wanted to get a feel for where this kid's at, I mean 'cuz in my opinion he was a kid. So I just want to get to where he was at. So I think probably two minutes or longer. In my opinion on an average (can't understand) it probably took too long in my opinion, but we'll leave those out because, you know, I wanted to get it done and get it over with and get him some help, so it wasn't 'cuz we wanted to take care of business; it was because we just wanted to get in and get him out and get him some help.

JE: Okay.

DQ: Probably norm, what I normally do, too long, definitely. 'Cuz if I had someone up in housing it wouldn't have been that long. I kept saying, hey, come on, this, that and the other. It appears to me obviously (can't understand) so that's the last time I'm gonna tell and then we make entry, if that's the next step to do, so. Probably two minutes or longer easily.

JE: Okay.

DQ: Probably too long.

SS: This, the iso-cell, it was iso-cell number three, right?

DQ: I believe so, yeah.

SS: The, uh, the door has a mirror or a window on the door and then on the wall is there another, is there also a window there, too? What's the view like into the cell -

DQ: Oh.

SS: -- from the outside?

DQ: Say for example that's the door right there.

SS: Okay.

DQ: Umm, if I'm facing the door it's a big window that, I mean it stretches above taller than I am. And it stretches down to about, oh, I'll say about, just about to the top of my stomach and it's wider, I mean it's wide. I mean you could walk up to the cell and you could see everything in the cell just standing there like this. And, you know, in looking, and even in the corner you can see the corner of the cell this way and the corner of the cell that way, you can see all corners of the cell. Umm, but other than that that's direct view of the cell. It's not a little three by five window, it's a pretty big window, you can see right in.

SS: Is that the only window that you can see into the cell through?

DQ: Yes.

SS: Or is there another window?

DQ: No. That's it.

SS: Okay.

HB: (can't understand) take a picture next to it.

SS: So to see –

HB: (can't understand) saw it last time. I don't remember a lot of the details.

SS: Yeah. I took a picture, I just don't remember.

HB: Where is your pictures, Scott?

SS: View of the, umm, so looking into the cell is, if you're not directly in front of that window is your view, uh, compromised?

DQ: Well, if I'm, if I'm standing in front of the door and I'm off to the left and I'm looking in I probably can't see what's to my direct left in the corner of the cell this way.

SS: Okay.

DQ: But everything's still visible to this corner and probably not quite this corner 'cuz I'm off to the left, if I'm not up against the door. But if I'm against the door and I'm looking I can see this corner and I can see that corner, I can see in front, probably see a little bit of the left, but I can't see directly in here, I mean that's, and if you go to the right side it'd be the same way, if you couldn't see the right side if I'm up against the door but you could see everything else. Stand in the middle, if you lean up against there I could probably see both sides, not real clear but I can tell if there's a person standing there. I mean I couldn't see if there's a piece of pickle down on the floor down there, probably couldn't see that.

SS: Sure.

DQ: But if there was a person standing there I definitely would know, yeah.

SS: Okay.

DQ: I hope that's, that kind of answered the question.

SS: It helps for what I'm after.

DQ: Okay.

SS: Okay. That's all I have.

JE: Anything else you want to add or that you forgot to add?

TAPED INTERVIEW, DENNIS QUIST

November 29, 2010

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

DQ: Umm, no. Umm, that's pretty much it. I mean I thought it went, went smoothly. I mean I'm just glad none of us and, none of us, and from what I could tell he didn't get hurt either, so I thought it went pretty smooth.

JE: As an instructor in DT's, if you're debriefing this would there be anything that you would change or that you liked that you wanted to keep doing, you know, how would you debrief this incident?

DQ: Umm, I liked, uh, I'd say 'cuz we, we assessed the situation, umm, and when I say we, myself and I kind of made the decision upon myself, you know, it just had gone far enough to where you know we, we're at a (can't understand) where we have nothing else but to go and get him. So, but that decision was made before I came to the door. In case this doesn't happen this is what we're gonna do. If he does cuff up to the food port then we'll take him out like we normally do and everything will be cool. But if it goes that way then this is what we're gonna do. So I'm gonna open the door if he, if the decision is made make entry on the cell then that's when, and then it went pretty smooth, other than the fact it was unexpected him being, being right there, it was like oh. So I think everybody reacted the way, I wouldn't do it any different (can't understand) that I remember. And I, and I know none of my people got hurt, at least in that situation. I honestly don't think Kyeron got hurt because I know he got tased and I know that sucks. And, but other than that, I mean I didn't see anything else being done or any kind of use of force being done on him to where him or our deputies could have got hurt. I mean it went pretty smooth to the best of my opinion. Somebody else might tell you different, but I thought it was well orchestrated and it went smooth. Paramedics didn't get involved other than they did their job and they took him on out of here. So being an instructor I thought it went pretty smooth. But with every, every situation, you know, there's always somebody, you could do better on this or, always. But for my opinion I thought it went pretty smooth and my, the deputies that were working with me I thought they did pretty well. They held their own and they didn't hesitate and they didn't, you know, they did what they had to do. And that's, that's my opinion. Obviously I think something went right 'cuz none of our people got hurt, or I didn't think Kyeron get hurt either. So I thought it went pretty smooth.

JE: All right.

HB: How many cell extractions would you say you've been involved in?

DQ: Umm, probably two or three, umm, active, active cell extractions. 'Cuz you understand a lot of 'em, well, when we did SERT a lot of times is where we make approach to the door and they were like, uh, okay, I want nothing to do with the black, umm, I'm good, you know, no, but, you know, it's just, when it gets to that point where, you know, you know it was like, and I, and I'll have to say it's, (can't understand) because on a cell extraction and the guy's like, hey, you know, I'm cool, you know I'm not, you know, and he's complying, period, and that's what you can see, we still make entry but it's not full blown entry, it's, we're still being protective and protecting ourselves and him, secure him, get him on a chair or what we got to do and we get him out of there. So that's I kind of feel the same way as what I, you know I guess training, what I've been trained to do. If Kyeron's gonna be cool and cooperative we still make entry but it'll only be enough to get cuffs on him or get him out of the cell, put 'em on; but if he does go this way, it's like on SERT, you know, execute plans as quickly and possible, as possible without anyone possibly getting hurt. So I took it, as I say, that same way, so, you know, (can't understand) probably two or three cell (can't understand) we train on all the time and a of couple times been, been the bad guy and it's not the fun, so. That's for sure. So I'm never raising a hand, I said, nah, I'm good, I'll stay in the stack. But, umm, State it's a little different. I have been, I've seen some cell extractions but I haven't been involved in the extraction, the extraction team there. It always came to the point where they just come up to the bars, so.

TAPED INTERVIEW, DENNIS QUIST

JE: Any other questions, Heidi?

HB: No.

JE: Scott?

SS: No, sir.

JE: All right. Let's go ahead and conclude the interview. It's 4:06 p.m. Thanks, Dennis.

DQ: You betcha.

Multnomah County Detention Center. Also present was Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar, and Attorney Heidi Brown (associated with the Corrections Union).

The following is an excerpt from the transcript regarding GLASSER'S interaction with FAIR at MCDC:

Deluca going out to pick up a JDH juvenile and that was the last I heard about it. Um, I was working through the night and sometime later that evening, I'm not sure of the exact time, around I guess it was like 10:20, somewhere around there, um, they had an individual in the sep cell and it just happened to be the JDH juvenile, and they wanted to pull him out of the sep cell to put him on a stretcher, an ambulance, and take him to a medical transport. Um, I offered my services and so I was there with the taser.

Deputy Quist and Deputy Barker, and Sergeant Miller all tried to, you know, convince him to have him cuff up through the food port, and Fair was acting very, very strange, he was hiding his face, keeping his back to the door so he was facing away from the door, pacing back and forth, he'd pull his shirt over his eyes, um, sort of like playing peek-a-boo with everybody, uh, they tried multiple times to get him to handcuff through the food port, get his hands out so they could handcuff him, and evidently Deputy Barker was injured earlier on the transport, and the Sergeant told us that, you know, if anything you know, if we have to open that door, I don't want anybody else getting hurt, because he's not, he wasn't a small juvenile, he was you know, I don't know if he wore a lot of sweaters that day, he looked, you know, pretty big; um, he said, you know, Let's use our tasers instead of anybody getting hurt, that's the last thing he wants to happen again.

So the door opened, Deputy Quist opened the door, I was standing to the left of Deputy Quist and a few other deputies were standing behind me, I believe DeArmond was right behind me with her taser, opened the door, Deputy Quist again, you know, he's been asking, advising, ordering, and he started in on the same routine of trying to get this guy to put his hands behind his back so he could handcuff him. Inmate Fair was still standing with his back to the door, directly like a foot or two, some, you know, a distance away from the door, um, inmate Fair turned around suddenly and started coming towards the door and, you know, he did it so fast I, I think I heard someone yell Taser, I'm not sure, but I did tase him at that point and then I heard another taser go off and that's when he sort of stood up as, you know, everybody's been tased almost in this room except for Heidi, but you just get that shock, you sort of stand up and he turned around, uh, and went to the ground.

Through my experience, you know, he didn't slam on the ground, no one put hands and forced him to the ground, he just went down and he didn't hit his head on anything, he was far enough away from the wall where nothing hit the wall on his way down, I think he sort of caught himself going down like this with his hands next to his stomach or something, and there he laid in the prone position; I believe his feet were sort of out of the room and his head was inside the room, face down, and his hands were underneath his belly.

Quist and Barker went to try and get his hands out from underneath his belly, they didn't have any success. I heard the 'Cycle it again' so I cycled it again, they got success, his hands started coming out and they handcuffed him. I didn't see anybody on top of him as far as like putting a knee in his kidneys, on his spine, on his upper back, um, they were more standing over him, uh, he was handcuffed, I had the taser in my hand of course, so maintained control of the taser and they picked him up and moved him over to where the paramedics were with the stretcher, and I couldn't really tell what was going on over there because there were a lot of bodies and all sorts standing in the background but they, uh, put, I guess flex cuffed him to the stretcher and off he went to the hospital. And it was late at night so I tried to write my report as fast as I could and uh, that was it, I didn't think anything of it.

(Regarding the reason to tase FAIR) - Unsure of his actions, he was peculiar, you know, his odd behavior beforehand, um, we were informed that Deputy Barker was already injured by this inmate, and I wasn't sure of the circumstances if he was handcuffed or belly chained or was it before that happened, um, Sergeant Miller also said he would like no one else to get hurt that night, and so the totality of everything that happened that I've heard, um, and seeing this from a past experience. When someone's not following or cooperating with you when you're going through a cell extraction, all of a sudden they turn and they come at you, whether it's, who knows what their intentions are, and usually in jail it's bad.

(Regarding the distance FAIR was to Deputy Quist) - Oh, he was inside the cell, probably, you know, it's not a very big cell of course, we're not talking about a housing cell, the cell upstairs at the Justice Center, this is a temporary isolation cell so it's a little smaller but he was, I don't know, he was inside halfway.

Quist was at the door and I believe close to the, I don't think Deputy Quist went inside yet, he was still at the threshold, somewhere there, but inmate Fair was inside the cell more than halfway if not further.

(Regarding FAIR'S behavior while at MDCD) - His behavior was so, you know, so odd, the type of behavior you'd see in the psych unit upstairs, I didn't know if he was under the influence, you know, but usually when a JDH individual comes into our custody, there's usually a reason for it, um, so we're just there to house 'em because JDH can't.

GG: - Deluca going out to pick up a JDH juvenile and that was the last I heard about it. Um, I was working through the night and sometime later that evening, I'm not sure of the exact time, around I guess it was like 10:20, somewhere around there, um, they had an individual in the sep cell and it just happened to be the JDH juvenile, and they wanted to pull him out of the sep cell to put him on a stretcher, an ambulance, and take him to a medical transport. Um, I offered my services and so I was there with the taser. Deputy Quist and Deputy Barker, and Sergeant Miller all tried to, you know, convince him to have him cuff up through the food port, and Fair was acting very, very strange, he was hiding his face, keeping his back to the door so he was facing away from the door, pacing back and forth, he'd pull his shirt over his eyes, um, sort of like playing peek-a-boo with everybody, uh, they tried multiple times to get him to handcuff through the food port, get his hands out so they could handcuff him, and evidently Deputy Barker was injured earlier on the transport, and the Sergeant told us that, you know, if anything you know, if we have to open that door, I don't want anybody else getting hurt, because he's not, he wasn't a small juvenile, he was you know, I don't know if he wore a lot of sweaters that day, he looked, you know, pretty big; um, he said, you know, Let's use our tasers instead of anybody getting hurt, that's the last thing he wants to happen again. So the door opened, Deputy Quist opened the door, I was standing to the left of Deputy Quist and a few other deputies were standing behind me, I believe DeArmond was right behind me with her taser, opened the door, Deputy Quist again, you know, he's been asking, advising, ordering, and he started in on the same routine of trying to get this guy to put his hands behind his back so he could handcuff him. Inmate Fair was still standing with his back to the door, directly like a foot or two, some, you know, a distance away from the door, um, inmate Fair turned around suddenly and started coming towards the door and, you know, he did it so fast I, I think I heard someone yell Taser, I'm not sure, but I did tase him at that point and then I heard another taser go off and that's when he sort of stood up as, you know, everybody's been tased almost in this room except for Heidi, but you just get that shock, you sort of stand up and he turned around, uh, and went to the ground. Through my experience, you know, he didn't slam on the ground, no one put hands and forced him to the ground, he just went down and he didn't hit his head on anything, he was far enough away from the wall where nothing hit the wall on his way down, I think he sort of caught himself going down like this with his hands next to his stomach or something, and there he laid in the prone position; I believe his feet were sort of out of the room and his head was inside the room, face down, and his hands were underneath his belly. Quist and Barker went to try and get his hands out from underneath his belly, they didn't have any success. I heard the 'Cycle it again' so I cycled it again, they got success, his hands started coming out and they handcuffed him. I didn't see anybody on top of him as far as like putting a knee in his kidneys, on his spine, on his upper back, um, they were more standing over him, uh, he was handcuffed, I had the taser in my hand of course, so maintained control of the taser and they picked him up and moved him over to where the paramedics were with the stretcher, and I couldn't really tell what was going on over there because there were a lot of bodies and all sorts standing in the background but they, uh, put, I guess flex cuffed him to the stretcher and off he went to the hospital. And it was late at night so I tried to write my report as fast as I could and uh, that was it, I didn't think anything of it.

JE: Was this your first contact with Kyeron Fair?

GG: Yes.

JE: And did you have any other contact with him afterwards?

GG: I looked in the cell, you know, walking by, you know, to see what this guy was doing and so it's not like I went, as far as contact, previously to that night, no. I walked by the cell maybe once or twice to see what he was doing, to see what kind of situation we're getting into –

JE: And how was he like when he walked by before the tasing?

GG: Same thing, just, you know, very odd behavior, um, didn't want to look at you, sort of pulled his sweater above his head to cover his eyes, to cover his nose, like a mask, um, turned around, wouldn't talk to you, wouldn't talk to the deputy that was trying to talk to him, um, just observing his behavior.

JE: Was there anything that he was saying that you could understand, that you recall?

GG: No, not that I, no I wasn't there long enough to really, that was, you know, when we pulled him out of the cell that was my first real interaction with him, other than observing other deputies trying to get him to cooperate with the orders, and then just shortly before we took him out of the cell.

SS: You wrote your report that night?

GG: About half of it, and then the other half I wrote, I think I worked Monday or Tuesday, and I finished it off.

SS: After two days off?

GG: Okay.

SS: How long is that report, how many pages do you remember?

GG: Just like a half a page.

SS: Okay, is that what you were referring to earlier when you pulled it out of your pocket?

GG: Yeah I wanted to see what, I didn't realize how late it was in the evening, yeah that's -

SS: Okay, but that's what you were reading, the one report you turned in?

GG: Uh-huh.

SS: And you only turned in the one report?

GG: Yes.

SS: Okay.

GG: That's what I was told to write, so I wrote it.

SS: Okay, when Kyeron was tased, you said that he fell down to the ground, where was his head and where were his legs?

GG: His head was, the door's, you know, you're standing at the door, I believe his head was towards the wall, towards the back end of the cell, uh, between the toilet and the bench, because I believe the toilet's on the right and the bench is on the left in the cell, so directly opposite of the door is the wall, it's just like this office, the wall's right here.

SS: Okay. Can you tell me what, what was the deciding factor that caused you to use your taser?

GG: His behavior and his sudden movement of turning, and coming towards Deputy Quist, that was mainly the deciding factor because he wasn't responding to any orders, any directions, anything.

SS: Okay. Him just turning around, I mean why would, what was the need to tase him?

GG: Unsure of his actions, he was peculiar, you know, his odd behavior beforehand, um, we were informed that Deputy Barker was already injured by this inmate, and I wasn't sure of the circumstances if he was handcuffed or belly chained or was it before that happened, um, Sergeant Miller also said he would like no one else to get hurt that night, and so the totality of everything that happened that I've heard, um, and seeing this from a past experience. When someone's not following or cooperating with you when you're going through a cell extraction, all of a sudden they turn and they come at you, whether it's, who knows what their intentions are, and usually in jail it's bad.

SS: Okay, and that cell space where Kyeron was, about how far was he from that first deputy, Deputy Quist?

GG: Oh, he was inside the cell, probably, you know, it's not a very big cell of course, we're not talking about a housing cell, the cell upstairs at the Justice Center, this is a temporary isolation cell so it's a little smaller but he was, I don't know, he was inside halfway.

SS: Deputy Quist was or Kyeron?

GG: Quist was at the door and I believe close to the, I don't think Deputy Quist went inside yet, he was still at the threshold, somewhere there, but inmate Fair was inside the cell more than halfway if not further.

SS: So based on what you would guess, would that be a step away, two steps away, three, four, five, six steps away?

GG: From what I remember, he advanced quickly towards Deputy Quist and how many steps he took, I think it was probably one big step, so –

SS: I mean how far apart were Deputy Quist and Kyeron do you think?

GG: Three feet maybe at the most.

SS: Three feet?

GG: Yeah.

SS: Not steps but feet?

GG: Okay.

SS: So within arms reach maybe?

GG: Yeah, it's close quarters.

SS: Okay, so it happened pretty quickly.

GG: Uh-huh.

SS: And you said that Sergeant Miller, was it Sergeant Miller you said he didn't want anybody else to get hurt?

GG: Uh-huh.

SS: Were there any instructions about, about the taser, if you should tase him, or if you should wait for an action, was there any kind of prediscussion about what use of force maybe necessary?

GG: Not that I was involved with.

SS: Okay, so just that he didn't want anybody else to get hurt. So he's cautioning everyone to be careful.

GG: Yes.

SS: Okay. Before this interview, did you talk to anybody else that had been involved and may have been interviewed already?

GG: About?

SS: About what to say, or was it based on your recollection; is what you're telling us based on your recollection or what other people told you?

GG: What my recollection, my recollection.

SS: Okay, have other people that have been interviewed told you what they were interviewed about?

GG: No.

SS: Did they tell you what questions to expect?

GG: No.

SS: Okay. All right.

HB: Other people that were interviewed?

SS: Other people that were interviewed, attorneys and –

HB: Oh, attorney client privilege.

SS: Okay, I just want to make sure you didn't confer with anybody else. Okay.

HB: Outside of me.

SS: Yes.

HB: I just don't want you to think he's not being straight forward.

SS: No I just wanted to make sure.

GG: One thing is I told Heidi and Hewitt I believe it was, you know, we get paid pretty good for what we do, and we get paid to tell the truth. You don't tell the truth, you get fired. So it's proven over and over, you know, and that's what I'm here to do today, you know, the reason why I wrote such a short report and I, hopefully, will never do it again, but um, it seemed like a text book move, I mean, simple cell extraction, it went quick, unfortunately we had to taser him, um, in a perfect world he would have complied with the food port, came out on his own.

SS: Right.

GG: But it didn't happen that way.

JE: So how many cycles of the taser did you do?

GG: I want to say two. Taser once, I heard 'cycle' he wasn't cooperating, hit it again, mid-cycle I want to say, from what I remember, he complied.

JE: Okay.

GG: I didn't hold the trigger down, press the trigger to release the cycle.

SS: Okay. I still want to make sure, you know, who was there and what positions were they at? Which deputies were present?

GG: Quist was at the door, he was interacting the most with him just before we opened the door trying to get him to comply; I was to the left; DeArmond was sort of, sort of between us, behind me -

SS: Okay.

GG: I know I saw some other faces, I believe Barker might have been, he was definitely behind us, where he was in the crowd, I couldn't tell ya, um, Roldan, Roldan was there, and -

SS: Sergeant Miller.

GG: - Sergeant Miller was there, sorry, and uh, Deluca, yeah he was in the back back.

SS: Okay, that's all I want.

JE: Do you remember Quist telling Fair before the door opened, do you remember anything, were you there?

TAPED INTERVIEW / GORDON GLASSER

December 9, 2010 2:37 p.m.

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

Page 8 of 9

GG: Yeah, I was there. Um, he did the whole, asked, advised, ordered, I remember that, um, and you know before that I'm sure from what I recall he was saying, you know, come on guy, open the door, something like that, come on over here, let's get you cuffed up, you know, trying to talk to him man-to-man, and as far as what he said exactly, I don't know, but I do know, you know, typically you want to get the ask him to comply, advise him to comply, and order him to comply; if you can't get those three things in there you're, you know, open the door –

JE: So there's ample opportunity for Fair to comply?

GG: Like I said, I believe other people were talking to him before this whole situation came about to try to get him to cuff up.

JE: Did Fair ever mention anything about being hurt?

GG: Fair, not that I, he never interacted with me, I never heard him interact with us.

JE: Did you see him on the stretcher after they got him –

GG: It was sort of in the background, I had the taser so you know, try not to get too involved when you have a taser.

JE: Who pulled out the probes?

GG: I'm not sure, I couldn't tell you.

JE: Did you see Fair's chest or his, the back of him at all when they took off his shirt or pulled it up?

GG: No, I think whoever handed me the probes, I think someone had a Ziploc bag we put them in and I just walked right over once he was secured on the stretcher, I did not see his chest, I was more of the person in the background. I was just waiting for them to say, Cycle it again, if I needed to cycle it again because of his uncoop-, you know, being uncooperative.

JE: So do you know where your probes went?

GG: No, no. I, I do remember someone saying, and I think it might have been DeArmond saying there are only three probes that went into his skin. I don't know if that's what's on the medical report or not, but one of ours missed him. If that's the case, then I bet mine missed because, you know, he didn't react when I popped mine, so –

JE: Okay.

SS: That's all I got, thank you.

GG: Thank you.

JE: Heidi, do you have anything you want to clarify or ask?

HB: I think the only thing I may have asked you about, whether you saw Fair acting in a way like you've seen people injured before in your work, in your line of work you've seen people come in with injuries; did Fair show any signs of having any injuries that you saw?

GG: His behavior was so, you know, so odd, the type of behavior you'd see in the psych unit upstairs, I didn't know if he was under the influence, you know, but usually when a JDH individual comes into our custody, there's usually a reason for it, um, so we're just there to house 'em because JDH can't.

JE: Okay, anything you want to clarify or add, or we forgot to ask?

GG: No, I'm good.

JE: So we're going to conclude the interview, it's 2:57 p.m. Thank you.

Multnomah County Detention Center. Also present was Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar, Multnomah County Corrections Deputy Doug Hewitt (union representative) and Attorney Heidi Brown (associated with the Corrections Union).

The following is an excerpt from the transcript regarding the incident in the isolation cell with FAIR:

Okay, I knew that we had gotten a call from JDH that there was an individual that was out of control, um, whether he was coming to our facility or not, that kept going back and forth. Eventually Deputy DeLuca and Deputy Barker went out to JDH to pick up Kyeron.

Apparently there were six individuals that brought Kyeron out to the sally port where they had to load him up in the truck or the van, and when Deputy Barker was trying to secure him in the van, he got kicked in the groin by Kyeron, so there was an incident out there. And I think I knew that before Kyeron got here, I'm not sure if I knew it when he got here or before that the incident had taken place.

Um, when he showed up to the Booking counter, I was actually escorting inmates out of the booking area to move them out of the way for Kyeron to come in, um, while at the counter he was basically pretty passive aggressive; wasn't answering any of the basic booking questions, wouldn't even answer Deputy DeLuca's question how to pronounce your first name. It was kind of like, acting really weird, kind of lunging forward, like kind of bugging his eyes out, but not responding in any way.

Um, once they did a pat search on him, they escorted him over to isolation cell 3, they had a hobble, they hobbled the handcuffs, fed that through the food port, once they did that I think Kyeron went down to his knees as they secured the door and wasn't standing up so they could remove the handcuffs, so somebody kept asking, you know, Stand up so we could put your hands through the food port and take your cuffs off; they asked him three times, didn't respond, um, there was three deputies I believe it was Deputy Roldan, Barker and Deputy Parks trying to get the handcuffs, get his hands through there, um, finally he did stand up, I think Deputy Roldan actually took off the handcuffs and the food port was closed and he was left in there.

He was standing at the window with his, he basically had his shirt over his head, just kind of keeping his face out of our view, wouldn't respond to anybody, wouldn't even communicate in any way; the nursing staff came by and he wouldn't even talk to them, um, and then about a half-hour later they decided that he had to go to the hospital to get evaluated. So basically we needed to remove him out of the cell, Sergeant Miller was down there, Deputy Quist was basically the point person trying to talk to Kyeron, trying to get him to put his hands through the food port so we could handcuff him.

Deputy Quist asked him, advised him, and ordered him three separate times, you know, just put your hands through the food port, we'll cuff you, and he could be on his way. Sergeant Miller at some point stated he wanted two tasers on him, so at that time I was, Deputy Glasser was basically to the left of me and I was slightly behind him, and then Deputy Quist was at the door, so I was kind of like behind both of them. Um, I'm trying to think where I left off; so at that point after the third time Deputy Quist ordering him to put his hands through the food port and he didn't, he said if we have to go in we will tase you because we have to handcuff you. At that point Kyeron had his back to Deputy Quist. Deputy Quist started opening the door, he opened the door, Kyeron turned, I saw him take a step forward and I pulled the trigger to tase him.

Kyeron went to the floor and I immediately ran over, kind of put my knees across his, the back of his thighs just to keep his legs from kicking or squirreling around, and I basically was there for a while; they were trying to get his hands, his hands were underneath his stomach, wouldn't give up his hands, and they asked him numerous times. At one point somebody said, Cycle the taser again. I pressed the trigger again and another five seconds he's still resisting, finally they did get his hands, cuffed him, and then somebody ran over and got leg irons so they secured his legs, and then once his legs were secured I think Deputy Quist and Deputy Barker picked him up to his feet, walked him over to where the paramedics were standing with the stretcher and put him on there.

(Regarding DeARMOND'S observations of FAIR prior to the tasing event, while in the isolation cell) - I was standing right there basically the whole time waiting to find out what was going to happen, what we were doing, if we were taking him out, and he just had his face covered, kind of the shirt over his face and was by the window.

(Regarding DeARMOND'S decision to discharge her taser at FAIR) - ...and when he opened that door, Kyeron was right there, and then it looked like he took a step, that's when I pulled the trigger.

JE: Today is December 9, 2010; it's 3:07 p.m. This is Detective James Eriksen, Multnomah County Sheriff's Office, DPSST 28931. We are at room 231, MCDC; we're here to talk about Kyeron Fair. Present during the interview is Deputy DeArmond, D-e A-R-M-O-N-D.

HB: He's cheating with the –

JE: And your first name?

MD: Mindy.

JE: And what's your DPSST number?

MD: It's 49601.

JE: Also present during the interview is Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar; Attorney Heidi Brown, and Deputy Doug Hewitt. Mindy, do you see that we're being recorded. Do you see the recorder in front of you?

MD: Yes.

JE: All right. So like I said earlier, we're here to talk about Kyeron Fair, he was the 17-year-old that was brought in from JDH to MCDC, and from reading the report it looked like you were involved with an incident at the isolation cell?

MD: That's correct.

JE: So I guess I'll turn it over to you, kind of go over what you recall, and then we'll ask questions after that.

MD: Do you want me to start from before he came or when he came?

Um, once they did a pat search on him, they escorted him over to isolation cell 3, they had a hobble, they hobbled the handcuffs, fed that through the food port, once they did that I think Kyeron went down to his knees as they secured the door and wasn't standing up so they could remove the handcuffs, so somebody kept asking, you know, Stand up so we could put your hands through the food port and take your cuffs off; they asked him three times, didn't respond, um, there was three deputies I believe it was Deputy Roldan, Barker and Deputy Parks trying to get the handcuffs, get his hands through there, um, finally he did stand up, I think Deputy Roldan actually took off the handcuffs and the food port was closed and he was left in there. He was standing at the window with his, he basically had his shirt over his head, just kind of keeping his face out of our view, wouldn't respond to anybody, wouldn't even communicate in any way; the nursing staff came by and he wouldn't even talk to them, um, and then about a half-hour later they decided that he had to go to the hospital to get evaluated. So basically we needed to remove him out of the cell, Sergeant Miller was down there, Deputy Quist was basically the point person trying to talk to Kyeron, trying to get him to put his hands through the food port so we could handcuff him. Deputy Quist asked him, advised him, and ordered him three separate times, you know, just put your hands through the food port, we'll cuff you, and he could be on his way. Sergeant Miller at some point stated he wanted two tasers on him, so at that time I was, Deputy Glasser was basically to the left of me and I was slightly behind him, and then Deputy Quist was at the door, so I was kind of like behind both of them. Um, I'm trying to think where I left off; so at that point after the third time Deputy Quist ordering him to put his hands through the food port and he didn't, he said if we have to go in we will tase you because we have to handcuff you. At that point Kyeron had his back to Deputy Quist. Deputy Quist started opening the door, he opened the door, Kyeron turned, I saw him take a step forward and I pulled the trigger to tase him.

JE: Okay. Then after you tased him, what happened?

MD: Kyeron went to the floor and I immediately ran over, kind of put my knees across his, the back of his thighs just to keep his legs from kicking or squirreling around, and I basically was there for a while; they were trying to get his hands, his hands were underneath his stomach, wouldn't give up his hands, and they asked him numerous times. At one point somebody said, Cycle the taser again. I pressed the trigger again and another five seconds he's still resisting, finally they did get his hands, cuffed him, and then somebody ran over and got leg irons so they secured his legs, and then once his legs were secured I think Deputy Quist and Deputy Barker picked him up to his feet, walked him over to where the paramedics were standing with the stretcher and put him on there.

JE: Okay. So when Kyeron was in Booking and you were in there trying to get the inmates out of the area, was he saying anything, Kyeron?

MD: He wasn't saying a word, he didn't say a word, I don't recall him saying a word, um, when I came back he was, you know, standing at the Booking counter, I was kind of at the other end and he was just, just looking at them weird, not really responding in any way.

JE: Okay, and then when he was taken to the isolation cell, before anyone showed up, did you walk by, look in the windows and –

MD: I was standing right there basically the whole time waiting to find out what was going to happen, what we were doing, if we were taking him out, and he just had his face covered, kind of the shirt over his face and was by the window.

JE: At any time did you see like his stomach or his chest when he was pulling up his shirt, or was it like an undershirt on.

MD: No it was like he was pulling the collar of his shirt over his face, not like this, but like that, so.

JE: Okay, and did he say anything inside the isolation cell?

MD: I don't recall him saying anything.

JE: Okay. Did he look sick or injured?

MD: No.

JE: What was your impression from your training and experience?

MD: I didn't know if he was being passive aggressive or if he might have been crazy, you know, he could have been crazy, I don't know –

JE: Okay.

MD: - it could have gone either way.

JE: Okay, so when the decision to take Kyeron to the hospital on a stretcher, who was kind of in charge of those decisions?

MD: To take him to the stretcher?

JE: Or the preplanning of how to get him out of the cell, if he wasn't –

MD: I believe Sergeant Miller and Deputy Quist were kind of, and Deputy Quist was the point person trying to communicate with him.

JE: Okay, and so since you were taser trained, you were picked to be one of the taser people?

MD: I had a taser on me and Deputy Glasser had a taser and I think just where we were, everybody else was on the other side, kind of here's the door, they were all to the right –

JE: Okay.

MD: - and we were to the left. And I believe Deputy Roldan was there but he wasn't taser trained at the time, so.

JE: Okay.

MD: We had the best view when the door opened.

JE: And so when Quist opened the door, you said Kyeron was facing away from the door?

MD: Before he opened the door.

JE: Before –

MD: - and when he opened that door, Kyeron was right there, and then it looked like he took a step, that's when I pulled the trigger.

JE: Okay. And before this time you were told by somebody, you talked about his behavior at JDH and being transported –

MD: Correct.

JE: Okay. Do you know where your probes went into Kyeron?

MD: I believe one went in the stomach area side and then one on the, on the side of his leg so –

JE: Do you know what side, left or right?

MD: Would have been his left, because he was facing, and then I think when I pulled the trigger he was turning again and just so the way he landed when he fell, I think it was on this side.

JE: Okay. How did he go to the ground after being tased?

MD: Um, I think he went to his knees first and then just fell down.

JE: Okay. And his head was away from the door or was it next to the door?

MD: It was facing the inner wall against the cell, the back wall of the cell.

JE: The back of the cell, okay. Was he on his chest or his stomach?

MD: On his stomach.

JE: Or I guess it would be –

SS: Trick question.

JE: Back or stomach, stomach okay. Did he say anything at this point, you know how we've all been tased and some people are more verbal than others.

MD: I don't recall him yelling, I don't recall him yelling anything out.

JE: Okay.

MD: I think I was so focused that I tased him and I was just trying to do what I needed to do; I wasn't aware if he was saying anything or not.

JE: And then after he went to the ground, you said you put your leg or your knees –

MD: Yeah, I went over to the back of his thighs and just kind of kneeled down my legs across his so just to keep some body weight so if his legs started thrashing around.

JE: And were his legs thrashing around?

MD: No, not his legs or anything.

JE: And then once the handcuffs were on, what did you do?

MD: I stayed there and then somebody came in, put leg irons on him and then once the leg irons were on, they picked him up.

JE: And then when you got to the stretcher, were you nearby?

MD: I was standing on the, I'm trying to think how he was facing, I was on the left hand side of him along the stretcher, because his probes are still in him so I was kind of walking wherever he was going and then they removed the probes.

JE: And who took out the probes?

MD: I don't remember.

JE: Do you remember how they were taken out, like did they take off his shirt, did they pull up his shirt –

MD: I believe they pulled up his shirt and they pulled them out.

JE: And when they did that, did you, were you able to see his chest or his back or whatever body area –

MD: I saw his body but I didn't recognize nothing out of the ordinary.

JE: No bleeding, no –

MD: No.

JE: - okay, did Kyeron at this time complain of any injuries?

MD: He was quiet on the stretcher.

JE: Okay, and how long have you worked in the Sheriff's Office?

MD: Two-and-a-half years.

JE: And did you work anywhere before that in Corrections or Law Enforcement?

MD: No.

JE: Okay.

SS: When you said the nursing staff went by and tried to talk to Kyeron –

MD: Yes.

SS: - but he wasn't responding, do you remember what nursing staff was trying to talk to him?

MD: I believe Nurse Torrie.

SS: Okay.

MD: That's short for her real name, but I can't –

HB: That's not her real name?

SS: It's probably Victoria.

MD: Yeah, Victoria, thank you.

SS: Do you have any idea why Sergeant Miller, if I understood you correctly, do you have any idea why Sergeant Miller wanted two tasers?

MD: Probably because of the problems that we heard of him having at JDH, um, what happened when Deputy Barker and Deputy Deluca went to get him. And the fact that, we couldn't get any response out of him so we really didn't know what he was going to do or what he was capable of doing.

SS: Okay. And that brings me to my next question: You said that you weren't sure if he was just passive aggressive or if he had a mental health issue –

MD: Correct.

SS: Was that the opinion you were forming based on your opinion, or did you have that same conversation with other people?

MD: I thought, when I was watching him at the counter, I was like, you know, is he doing this like playing with us or he really doesn't understand what's going on.

SS: Okay.

MD: And then as the night went on and on, and all that happened, I mean I think basically people are still wondering, was he kind of playing the part or was he, you know –

SS: So at that point is it fair to say that you and the people you were around weren't sure if he was passive aggressive or had a mental health issue, you just didn't know?

MD: Yeah, didn't know.

SS: Is that probably why the decision was to send in two. Okay. Did Kyeron complain about having any injuries or suffering any pain or complain about any mistreatment by any one person?

MD: No.

SS: That's all I got.

JE: Heidi?

HB: Nothing that I can remember to ask.

JE: Is there anything that we forgot to ask or that you want to make sure is clarified?

MD: I don't think so.

JE: All right, I'm going to go ahead and end the interview. The time is 3:21 p.m.
Thank you.

Multnomah County Detention Center. Also present was Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar, Multnomah County Deputy Doug Hewitt (Union representative) and Attorney Heidi Brown (associated with the Corrections Union).

The following is an excerpt from the transcript regarding MILLER'S interaction with FAIR at MCDC:

This started actually when I got a call from JDH, from a counselor at JDH, at about 6, 6:30, somewhere in that timeframe, called me and said they had an unruly juvenile over there who was a Measure 11, 17-years-old, and they wanted to know if we would house him. Our policy with them is that we would, we do in fact house them, so I informed him Yeah we can house him; he said fine, I didn't think anything of it, I thought maybe they were going to bring him over.

A short time later he called me back and told me that he, when he was moving him or some reason, opened the door or something, he rushed him and had some physical altercation with him; I said, Fine. At that point I didn't think anything of it. Then I don't know, maybe thirty minutes later I came up to the OIC's office and talked to Sergeant Phelps about it. At that time I found out that he had been in contact with the supervisor over there at JDH talking about the same subject, wanting to house him here.

He called Captain Ron Bishop who is the facility commander, talked to him, and I don't, their conversation I wasn't in on it, I was just you know, listening being in there, and he hung up the phone and said well we're not going to take him. Then he called back the supervisor over there, Sergeant Phelps did, and he wanted to talk to Captain Bishop; so he called Captain Bishop back and says, hey call this guy and talk to him. Captain Bishop hung up and about ten minutes later he calls back and I happened to pick up the phone because Sergeant Phelps was dealing with something else, and he said We're going to take him now and I want you to send the Transfer deputies to go pick him up. I can tell you I wasn't happy with that, but he's the Captain so we had to do it that way.

I still felt that they shouldn't be transported to us. So I contacted the Transfer deputies and told them that they needed to go to JDH and pick this juvenile up. I informed them that he was disruptive and that he had, obviously some form of assault, I'm not sure what happened with the counselor over there; they departed.

When they came back to the building they radioed over the radio that they were coming back, so when they did I went over to Transfer because I work in the basement, went over to Transfer to meet them when they got there. Deputy Barker at that time got out and told me he had been assaulted by him and told me that when they got there, the counselor over at IC carried him out and kind of dumped him out on the sally port there, and that while he was attempting to get him in the van there was an altercation with him and he had assaulted Deputy Barker, kicked him in the groin.

At that point I felt well, he hadn't been moved out of the van yet, so I said, okay, well let's make sure we have enough people, we'll just move him out of the van, move him to the counter. He was, he had belly chains on him and leg irons. We got him out of the van, and he was somewhat cooperative, helped him to the Booking counter, got him to the Booking counter, we're asking him questions, he didn't want to answer any questions, he was kind of like playing, I thought he was playing games, truthfully I thought he was playing games; he just, you try to ask him something he'd kind of turn his head, he would mumble a couple of things, and just not cooperative at all.

Tried to get the cuffs off and he kind of pulled away a little bit and twisted on him, and I said let's just take him to his cell, put him in a sub cell, and that's what we did, we carried him over to the sub cell, or assisted him to the sub cell, put him in the sub cell, removed the handcuffs and leg irons off him, which on hindsight I would never have done, had I known he was going to go out on a medical transport 20 minutes later. Once we got him in his cell, tried to talk to him, he just wouldn't talk to us, he was kind of playing hide-and-seek, kind of like a child that gets under the covers and thinks everyone is going to go away, you know, and just, that's what it sounded like.

I felt he was, I didn't see any, I didn't feel there were any mental issues, I felt he was just playing games with us, at that point Nurse Torey came up, Torey Marshall, I don't know if you talked to her yet, anyways she came up, tried to converse with him and he basically wouldn't say anything to her, just the same type of stuff, and so she said she would need to go call her supervisor and see what they were going to do. And apparently she had been in contact with Nurse Gunte at JDH and so she had some background on what was going on. Also I was told that he was, they had him on, he wasn't on suicide watch, he was on one-on-one officer observation, and I have no idea what that meant from JDH, so.

She talks to the on-call doctor, comes back to me a few minutes later and said the doctor wants him sent out to the hospital. Okay, we were, we all this time were trying to converse with him, there was a number of deputies trying to talk with him but he wouldn't do it, he just kept turning away or he'd act like he was going to talk to us, and then go over and move under the corner or pull his, he had his sweatshirt on, pull his sweatshirt up over his head, you know, I thought again he was playing with us, you know like a child would do. When I found out he was going to the hospital, I contacted our master control and had them send us Code-3 ambulance for him, which they did.

And in the meantime we're waiting for, again we were talking to him, Nurse Torey tried to talk with him, he just was again, the same way, just acted the same way. Deputy Quist was there, he's one of the transport deputies and he asked me, he said, Hey do you want me to hang around; and I knew he had been a member of SERT so I said, okay, I'll have him, you know, just in case we have any problems with this young man. And he kind of took the lead in trying to talk to him, um, trying to converse with him to see if we could make it easy on him, uh, the ambulance showed up, I pulled all the deputies involved aside and I said, Hey I don't want anybody to get hurt, I want two tasers there, two people with tasers, I said if any action at all on him if he tries to come at us, if he tries to fight with us or anything, I want him tased, it makes it much easier for us to deal with him if he's tased, you know, rather than us getting hurt or him getting hurt, so.

So Deputy Quist again took the lead, he opened the food port, was talking to him. At one point he backed up to the door, I thought he was going to let us handcuff him and then as we grabbed one hand he pulled away and went back over in the corner. Again I asked him, advised him, and ordered him to back up to the food port so we could handcuff him; he refused everything.

So I had everybody in place, so I said okay when we open the door, you take the lead, Quist to take the lead and go ahead and you know, so he opened the door, and this whole time I was standing right behind him, I was right there so it's not like I was anywhere else, I was right there; he opened the door and I think he had Deputy Barker to his right, and Deputy DeArmond and Glasser with the tasers were standing to my left.

As he opened the door, Kyeron turned and kind of like he was going to fight him or something, kind of moved towards him like he was going to move towards him to do something, at that point I advised Glasser and DeArmond to go ahead and tase him because I didn't want any problems with him; which they did. They cycled one time, he went down to his knees and just kind of fell to the floor, not hard, he didn't touch anything on the floor, I mean didn't hit anything as he went to the floor, he went to the floor gently on his own, at that point he had his arms underneath his body.

Deputies Barker and Quist, Quist was kind of standing over him, Barker was standing to his right, and Barker I think had his right arm and Quist was trying to pull the left arm out from underneath, which he refused, he was holding it and just kind of, I don't know if he had his hands together or whatever, they couldn't get his hands, so I advised them to cycle the taser one more time which they did.

At that point he gave up and put his arm, they got his arms behind his back and got him handcuffed, and then we also put leg irons on him, moved him to his feet, as he came out of the cell they took the probes out, pulled the probes of the taser out, we took him over to the gurney and assisted him onto the gurney, and they, he had the leg irons on, he was kind of shuffling his feet and they were kind of somewhat carrying him or assisting him, so.

HB: Heidi Brown, Attorney
DW: Doug Hewitt, MCSO, DPSST 19963

JE: Today is December 9, 2010; it's 3:26 p.m. This is Detective James Eriksen, Multnomah County Sheriff's Office, DPSST 28931. We are located at MCDC room 231 and we're here to talk about Kyeron Fair. Present during the interview is Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar, Attorney Heidi Brown, and Deputy Doug Hewitt, and also present is Sergeant Robert Miller M-I-L-L-E-R, DPSST 12625. Sergeant Miller you see that we're being recorded and you're okay with that?

RM: Yes.

JE: All right. So like I said just a few seconds ago, we're here to talk about Kyeron Fair. From reading the reports it looks like you were involved in an incident down in Booking and also the isolation cell?

RM: Yes.

JE: Why don't you go ahead and just kind of go from what you recall.

RM: This started actually when I got a call from JDH, from a counselor at JDH, at about 6, 6:30, somewhere in that timeframe, called me and said they had an unruly juvenile over there who was a Measure 11, 17-years-old, and they wanted to know if we would house him. had to do it that way. I still felt that they shouldn't be transported to us. So I contacted the Transfer deputies and told them that they needed to go to JDH and pick this juvenile up. I informed them that he was disruptive and that he had, obviously some form of assault, I'm not sure what happened with the counselor over there; they departed. When they came back to the building they radioed over the radio that they were coming back, so when they did I went over to Transfer because I work in the basement, went over to Transfer to meet them when they got there. Deputy Barker at that time got out and told me he had been assaulted by him and told me that when they got there, the counselor over at IC carried him out and kind of dumped him out on the sally port there, and that while he was attempting to get him in the van there was an altercation with him and he had assaulted Deputy Barker, kicked him in the groin. At that point I felt well, he hadn't been moved out of the van yet, so I said, okay, well let's make sure we have enough people, we'll just move him out of the van, move him to the counter. He was, he had belly chains on him and leg irons. We got him out of the van, and he was somewhat cooperative, helped him to the Booking counter, got him to the Booking counter, we're asking him questions, he didn't want to answer any questions, he was kind of like playing, I thought he was playing games, truthfully I thought he was playing games; he just, you try to ask him something he'd kind of turn his head, he would mumble a couple of things, and just not cooperative at all. Tried to get the cuffs off and he kind of pulled away a little bit and twisted on him, and I said let's just take him to his cell, put him in a sub cell, and that's what we did, we carried him over to the sub cell, or assisted him to the sub cell, put him in the sub cell, removed the handcuffs and leg irons off him, which on hindsight I would never have done, had I known he was going to go out on a medical transport 20 minutes later. Once we got him in his cell, tried to talk to him, he just wouldn't talk to us, he was kind of playing hide-and-seek, kind of like a child that gets under the covers and thinks everyone is going to go away, you know, and just, that's what it sounded like. I felt he was, I didn't see any, I didn't feel there were any mental issues, I felt he was just playing games with us, at that point Nurse Torey came up, Torey Marshall, I don't know if you talked to her yet, anyways she came up, tried to converse with him and he basically wouldn't say anything to her, just the same type of stuff, and so she said she would need to go call her supervisor and see what they were going to do. And apparently she had been in contact with Nurse Gunte at JDH and so she had some background on what was going on. Also I was told that he was, they had him on, he wasn't on suicide watch, he was on one-on-one officer observation, and I have no idea what that meant from JDH, so. She talks to the on-call doctor, comes back to me a few minutes later and said the doctor wants him sent out to the hospital. Okay, we were, we all this time were trying to converse with him, there was a number of deputies trying to talk with him but he wouldn't do it, he just kept turning away or he'd act like he was going to talk to us, and then go over and move under the corner or pull his, he had his sweatshirt on, pull his sweatshirt up over his head, you know, I thought again he was playing with us, you know like a child would do. When I found out he was going to the hospital, I contacted our master control and had them send us Code-3 ambulance for him, which they did. And in the meantime we're waiting for, again we were talking to him, Nurse Torey tried to talk with him, he just was again, the same way, just acted the same way. Deputy Quist was there, he's one of the transport deputies and he asked me, he said, Hey do you want me to hang around; and I knew he had been a member of SERT so I said, okay, I'll have him, you know, just in case we have any problems with this young man. And he kind of took the lead in trying to talk to him, um, trying to converse with him to see if we could make it easy on him, uh, the ambulance showed up, I pulled all the deputies involved aside and I said, Hey I don't want anybody to get hurt, I want two tasers there, two people with tasers, I said if any action at all on him if he tries to come at us, if he tries to fight with us or anything, I want him tased, it makes it much easier for us to deal with him if he's tased, you know, rather than us getting hurt or him getting hurt, so. So Deputy Quist again took the lead, he opened the food port, was talking to him. At one point he backed up to the door, I thought he was going to let us handcuff him and then as we grabbed one hand he pulled away and went back over in the corner. Again I asked him, advised him, and ordered him to back up to the food port so we could handcuff him; he refused everything. So I had everybody in place, so I said okay when we open the door, you take the lead, Quist to take the lead and go ahead and you know, so he opened the door, and this whole time I was standing right behind him, I was right there so it's not like I was anywhere else, I was right there; he opened the door and I think he had Deputy Barker to his right, and Deputy DeArmond and Glasser with the tasers were standing to my left. As he opened the door, Kyeron turned and kind of like he was going to fight him or something, kind of moved towards him like he was going to move towards him to do something, at that point I advised Glasser and DeArmond to go ahead and tase him because I didn't want any problems with him; which they did. They cycled one time, he went down to his knees and just kind of fell to the floor, not hard, he didn't touch anything on the floor, I mean didn't hit anything as he went to the floor, he went to the floor gently on his own, at that point he had his arms underneath his body. Deputies Barker and Quist, Quist was kind of standing over him, Barker was standing to his right, and Barker I think had his right arm and Quist was trying to pull the left arm out from underneath, which he refused, he was holding it and just kind of, I don't know if he had his hands together or whatever, they couldn't get his hands, so I advised them to cycle the taser one more time which they did. At that point he gave up and put his arm, they got his arms behind his back and got him handcuffed, and then we also put leg irons on him, moved him to his feet, as he came out of the cell they took the probes out, pulled the probes of the taser out, we took him over to the gurney and assisted him onto the gurney, and they, he had the leg irons on, he was kind of shuffling his feet and they were kind of somewhat carrying him or assisting him, so.

JE: Okay. So how long have you worked for the Sheriff's Office?

RM: Thirteen years.

JE: And where did you work before that?

RM: Yamhill County and in Jackson County.

JE: Corrections or Law Enforcement?

RM: Both.

JE: Okay, so many years total?

RM: Thirty-two.

JE: Thirty-two years. So based on your training and experience, what were you thinking based on your observations of Kyeron throughout from the time that he heard from JDH to the time he was transported by ambulance, what were you thinking of his behavior?

RM: Oh I thought he was acting out and at some point, you know, he had obviously assaulted, or attempted to assault somebody, that we were going to, I knew we were going to have problems with him when he came in; I just figured at one point he was going to try to assault us or he was going to be disruptive or something.

JE: Okay. So when the decision was made to open the door and to get him out of his isolation cell, before Quist opened the door where was Kyeron located?

RM: He was standing to the left in the cell, he was kind of off to the left.

JE: How far inside the cell?

RM: Maybe a foot.

JE: Okay.

RM: A foot-and-a-half.

JE: Was he facing you or was his back towards the door?

RM: Oh I believe he was facing, I believe he was facing the wall to the left.

JE: Okay, so his back would be towards, so you could see his back?

RM: Somewhat, yeah. Right.

JE: And then you had said as soon as the door opened, he had turned around and –

RM: Kind of spun, you know, was in a fighting stance and attempted to move towards Deputy Quist.

JE: Okay, and you gave the order to –

RM: Yes I did.

JE: Okay. During any contact or any observations of Kyeron, did Kyeron mention anything about being hurt?

RM: No.

JE: About being in pain; about wanting to go to the hospital or anything?

RM: No, he might of only said a couple of words that weren't coherent, you know.

JE: Okay. All right. Heidi, anything?

HB: No.

JE: Do you have anything you want to add that you can think of?

RM: No I don't.

SS: The report you're referring to, is that the report you wrote?

RM: Yes it is.

SS: Okay. Do you have a report from other people there, or is it just your –

RM: No this is just mine.

SS: Okay.

RM: Everything else was turned in.

SS: That's all I have.

JE: All right, we'll go ahead then and end the interview, the time is 3:40 p.m. Thank you sergeant.

Multnomah County Detention Center. Also present was Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar, and Attorney Heidi Brown (associated with the Corrections Union).

The following is an excerpt from the transcript regarding the booking process at MCDC:

Well Sergeant Miller, Deputy Parks and I went to Transfer to receive Kyeron, and Deputy Barker and Deputy DeLuca just came back from JDH; because we had previous good knowledge that day that Kyeron kicked Deputy Barker at JDH, that's why we went there to provide assistance.

(In reference to ROLDAN'S first contact with FAIR) - He was glaring the opposite direction; he wasn't making any eye contact with us, and wasn't complying with the orders or saying anything.

(In reference to the decision to take FAIR from the booking counter to the isolation cell) - It wasn't a spoken decision, saw that, we saw him, well I saw him continued moving against Deputy Barker so Deputy Barker grabbed him by his arm, I grabbed him by the arm, and Deputy Phillips grabbed him by his legs and we carried him into the separation cell.

(In reference to the tasing incident of FAIR) - So the paramedics arrive, from this point on, Deputy Quist took over the, actually with Kyeron he was ordering Kyeron to, back to the door, he advised Kyeron to back to the door, put his back against the door, and he asked Kyeron to put his back against the door and to put his, I'm not sure if he asked him to put his hands through the food port but Kyeron didn't comply but Kyeron did put his back against the door, and we opened the door, Deputy Quist advised Kyeron, ordered Kyeron not to move because we were going to handcuff him, as soon as he opened the door, Kyeron turned around with his, well jumped in a circle in a 300 degree angle, to face us now with his hands in front of his body in a fight-, like in a fighting stance, at that point Deputy Glasser and DeArmond deployed their tasers and tased him.

He jumped to face us with his hands in front of his body, of his body in a fighting stance, that's when Deputy DeArmond and Glasser deployed their tasers.

(In reference to seeing any physical injuries to FAIR after the tasing) - Yes I saw his bare chest, yeah. Besides the bleeding from the probes, nothing else (referring to injuries).

JE: Detective James Eriksen, MCSO, DPSST 28931

JR: Juan Roldan, Corrections Deputy, DPSST 50442

SS: OSP Detective Scott Sudaisar

HB: Heidi Brown, Attorney

JE: Today is November 29, 2010; it's about 4:12 p.m. This is Detective James Eriksen with the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office, DPSST 28931. We're at MCDC room 231. We're here to talk about the Kyeron Fair investigation. Present during the interview is Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar, and Heidi Brown, and also the person being interviewed is Deputy Juan Roldan, R-O-L-D-A-N, DPSST 50442. Juan you see that we're being recorded and you're okay with that?

JR: Yes.

JE: All right. Like I said just a few seconds ago, we're here to talk about Kyeron Fair and you had mentioned that you had two or three incidents with him –

JR: Two.

JE: Two. So if you could go ahead and kind of talk about the first time you had contact with him and then we'll go onto the second one after –

JR: The first time I had contact with him he was brought back from JDH, he was at the counter; Deputy Barker was giving him orders, he wasn't complying, so we, Deputy Barker, Phillips, Deputy Phillips and myself carried him to a separation cell I-3, from there we placed him on the floor, removed the restraints, and I exited his cell, and Deputy Barker and Phillips took the handcuffs off and closed the doors.

JE: So that was your first contact with him?

JR: Yes.

JE: And you were working the Booking counter that day?

JR: Yes and another deputy, there were two.

JE: Okay and when he was at the counter, where were you located when Kyeron was at the Booking counter?

JR: Well Sergeant Miller, Deputy Parks and I went to Transfer to receive Kyeron, and Deputy Barker and Deputy DeLuca just came back from JDH; because we had previous good knowledge that day that Kyeron kicked Deputy Barker at JDH, that's why we went there to provide assistance.

November 29, 2010 4:12 p.m.

Page 2 of 16

JE: Okay, so did you provide assistance with Kyeron coming out of the van in the sally port to the Booking counter?

JR: No, just giving verbal orders to turn, directions to the Booking counter.

JE: Okay, and what was Kyeron like when you first had contact with him, walking him to the counter?

JR: He was glaring the opposite direction; he wasn't making any eye contact with us, and wasn't complying with the orders or saying anything.

JE: Okay. And you were in uniform?

JR: Yes.

JE: Okay. When he gets to the counter, where are you located?

JR: Right to his left.

JE: Okay, and who is located behind him, if anybody?

JR: Deputy Parks.

JE: Okay.

JR: And Barker to his right.

JE: Okay.

JR: And Deputy DeLuca was on the other side of the counter, asking Fair some questions, basic questions like his name and he wasn't answering.

JE: Okay. Was Kyeron saying anything?

JR: No, all he was trying to face Deputy Barker, because I have previous knowledge that he kicked Deputy Barker, and held Kyeron against the counter so he wouldn't turn against Deputy Barker.

JE: Okay, so you were actually holding onto Kyeron at the counter?

JR: Yes.

JE: Okay, and now were you holding onto him?

JR: By his arms, and later on we were trying to pat search him and he was erect and still, he wasn't moving, I would raise my hand on the back of his head to try and lower him to the counter to gain better, better access to his upper body because he's taller than I am.

JE: Okay. And how tall are you?

JR: 5'4".

JE: Okay, and how tall do you think he was?

JR: About 5'9", 6".

JE: Okay. So he wasn't cooperative and you said that he was --

JR: He was very strong, I couldn't move him.

JE: Okay.

JR: I wasn't able to move him at all.

JE: So to get the advantage position with him, you wanted him to kind of lean forward against the counter?

JR: Against the counter, yes.

JE: Okay. And he wasn't doing that?

JR: Prior to that we gave him verbal orders to do it and he didn't do it.

JE: Okay. And what were those orders?

JR: Well Deputy Barker told him to lean against the counter and he didn't do it.

JE: Okay, how many times did you hear Barker say that?

JR: I don't recall that specifically how many times.

JE: Okay, more than once?

JR: Probably.

JE: Okay, and so the whole point of getting him to lean into the counter was for what reason?

JR: The first reason to search his feet, and if he leans against the counter we can lift his foot and search, take his foot out and search his foot; and for me it was to gain control of his upper body.

JE: Okay. And is that common with new inmates that you –

JR: That are not complying.

JE: - that aren't complying, you take off their shoes and look underneath their feet?

JR: Yes.

JE: Okay.

JR: Otherwise we ask them to do it and they'll do it; if they're complying we ask them to do it and they'll do it.

JE: Okay. And so how long do you think he was at the counter before he had to be moved to the isolation cell? Just a rough estimate guess.

JR: In minutes, maybe four minutes.

JE: Okay.

JR: Four, five minutes.

JE: All right. So at what point was it decided to take Kyeron into the isolation cell and who made that decision?

JR: It wasn't a spoken decision, saw that, we saw him, well I saw him continued moving against Deputy Barker so Deputy Barker grabbed him by his arm, I grabbed him by the arm, and Deputy Phillips grabbed him by his legs and we carried him into the separation cell.

JE: Okay.

JR: I do not recall anyone making that decision, someone probably did but I do not recall who did.

JE: Okay. So were you on Kyeron's left or right arm?

JR: I continued to held him by his left arm, left arm.

JE: Barker did the right arm -

JR: And Deputy Phillips his legs.

JE: Okay. Do you mean Sergeant Phelps, is that who was doing it or Phillips?

November 29, 2010 4:12 p.m.

Page 5 of 16

JR: Doing what?

JE: The legs, who was doing the legs?

JR: No, no, Deputy Phillips.

JE: Okay.

JR: It was Deputy Phillips.

JE: Okay. And then you guys pretty much carry him to the isolation room –

JR: Yes and place him on the ground; from there on I don't recall if we put, if we (can't understand) him or not.

JE: So the isolation room is pretty small.

JR: Yes.

JE: Did all four of you, were able to go in there, or how –

JR: No just Deputy Barker and I.

JE: Okay.

JR: And after Deputy Barker got control of inmate Fair, he asked me to exit the cell, I exited the cell and Deputy Barker removed the restraints from inmate Fair.

JE: And the only restraint on Fair was the handcuffs?

JR: I'm pretty sure he had leg irons too.

JE: Oh okay.

JR: Every time an inmate comes from Transport, we do belly chains and leg irons.

JE: And when you get him into the cell, is his feet facing the door?

JR: Yes, the threshold, so that's one of the things I did, I grabbed his feet and moved him into the inside, rotate his whole body to inside, to accommodate him inside the cell.

JE: Okay. And when you get to the door, only you and Barker go in with Kyeron?

JR: Yes because we were carrying him by his upper body.

JE: Okay, and so the legs, how did the legs get to the ground, did the deputy just –

JR: We placed his whole body on the ground.

JE: On the ground before opening the door?

JR: Yes.

JE: Okay.

JR: Well the door was open already but I don't know what deputy opened the door, there was a sergeant and several deputies out there.

JE: Okay, so before entering the cell he was placed on the ground?

JR: No, placed on the ground inside the cell because the door cell was already opened.

JE: Okay and he was placed on his chest?

JR: On his chest, yes.

JE: Was he resistive at all during this time?

JR: At that time, no, he was restrained.

JE: So –

JR: He was yelling his name repeatedly.

JE: Okay. His first name or –

JR: His last name, Fair.

JE: He kept saying his last name?

JR: Yes.

JE: Anything else you could understand him saying?

JR: No.

JE: Okay. Was he trying to kick or trying to –

JR: I don't recall.

JE: Okay. So you're, you leave his cell, or Barker tells you to leave the cell, you leave –

JR: Yes.

JE: - and then he takes off the restraints, both the leg irons and the handcuffs?

JR: I'm not sure about the legs, but I'm pretty sure he took the hand chains off, or the handcuffs.

JE: And did Barker have any difficulty getting out of his cell once he got those off? Like did Kyeron do anything once he got the restraints off? You know, sometimes they'll have to rush out and close the door real quickly or sometimes they can just walk out

JR: I don't recall that part if he had any difficulties. I know I exited his cell and didn't have any other visual inside the cell; didn't see inside the cell anymore because there were other deputies around there that were already -

JE: All right, so once Barker left did you hear Kyeron say anything?

JR: Deputy Deluca was, stood there on the other side of the door talking to Kyeron, and I think he was constantly saying his name, calling his first and his last name and some other stuff, yelling, but I don't know what he was yelling.

JE: Did he ever yell that he was hurt?

JR: No.

JE: Did he ever yell that he wanted to see a doctor or a nurse or the hospital?

JR: No. Not that I recall, no.

JE: Did he ever yell or say that he was in pain or scream like somebody would be in pain?

JR: All I recall was he's saying his last name.

JE: Okay. And this is the first time you've ever seen this person?

JR: Yes.

JE: Okay. Once you got out of the cell and Barker got out of the cell, what happened?

JR: The door was closed.

JE: Okay.

JR: And I think medical decided to transport him to a hospital.

JE: And how long did medical come and evaluate him?

JR: Pretty quick, about two, three minutes maximum.

JE: And was medical, did they actually go inside the cell?

JR: No they tried to talk to him from the outside of his cell. Yeah, the cell wasn't opened again until the paramedics arrived.

JE: Were you present when the nurses were at the cell trying to talk to Kyeron? Were you there or did you go back to the Booking area?

JR: I went back to the Booking area because we had other inmates -

JE: Okay. Any questions on that incident -

SS: Just one question -

JR: Yes.

SS: The medical staff, when they came to assess him, had you made any observations of Kyeron's medical condition, did you see any injuries or anything that indicated a medical problem?

JR: No. No.

SS: So you saw no medical problems?

JR: No.

SS: Okay, thank you.

JE: And Juan before I forget, how long have you worked with the Sheriff's Office as a Correctional Deputy, how long?

JR: I was hired January 12, 2009, laid off for three months, and rehired July 7, 2009.

JE: Okay. Did you work anywhere else before that in Corrections or Law Enforcement?

JR: No.

JE: Anything in the medical field or anything before that?

JR: No.

JE: Okay. Any military?

JR: No.

JE: So before we go to the second one, Heidi can you think of anything you want to clarify?

HB: No.

JE: Okay. So how long do you think it is until the ambulance arrives to take him to the hospital? You don't have to give the exact time, just kind of an estimate.

JR: After we placed him in the cell, maximum ten minutes; maximum ten minutes.

JE: Okay, so they arrived pretty quickly then.

JR: They did, yes.

JE: Do you recall how the medics got there, did they get there to the sally port or did they park –

JR: Intake, the sally port –

JE: Okay. Go ahead and talk about the second incident.

JR: So the paramedics arrive, from this point on, Deputy Quist took over the, actually with Kyeron he was ordering Kyeron to, back to the door, he advised Kyeron to back to the door, put his back against the door, and he asked Kyeron to put his back against the door and to put his, I'm not sure if he asked him to put his hands through the food port but Kyeron didn't comply but Kyeron did put his back against the door, and we opened the door, Deputy Quist advised Kyeron, ordered Kyeron not to move because we were going to handcuff him, as soon as he opened the door, Kyeron turned around with his, well jumped in a circle in a 300 degree angle, to face us now with his hands in front of his body in a fight-, like in a fighting stance, at that point Deputy Glasser and DeArmond deployed their tasers and tased him.

JE: Okay. Where were you located?

JR: Next to Deputy DeArmond.

JE: Okay and where was Deputy DeArmond located? What part of the door?

JR: Dep, uh, Glasser was to the right of the door followed by Deputy DeArmond and I.

JE: Okay. And who was kind of the leader at this point of making decisions of what was going to happen?

JR: What was going to happen when?

JE: To get Kyeron out of the cell, was there a deputy that kind of took control and kind of made decisions -

JR: Like talking or --

JE: - with you guys of what was going to happen and who was going to do what?

JR: No, well Sergeant Miller advised deputies that were carrying tasers, it wasn't at that time to, that if Kyeron didn't comply with the orders to tase him if it was necessary.

JE: Okay. And now you're taser qualified now, but you weren't --

JR: I wasn't at the time, yes.

JE: So when the door gets opened, before the door is opened you said that his, that Kyeron's back was to the door?

JR: Against the door, yes, like Deputy Quist asked him.

JE: Okay, so Deputy Quist asked him to stand against the door with his back --

JR: Yes.

JE: - to it?

JR: Uh-huh,.

JE: And where was Kyeron's hands at this point, do you remember?

JR: I, if I remember, his hands were above his shoulder.

JE: Okay. So when the door's opened --

JR: He jumped to face us with his hands in front of his body, of his body in a fighting stance, that's when Deputy DeArmond and Glasser deployed their tasers.

JE: They both did?

JR: They both did, yes, simultaneously.

JE: When Kyeron jumped around, was he still in the entry of the cell --

JR: The threshold, yes, I think in the same place, if I recall correctly I think he jumped in the same place.

JE: So when he jumped, he didn't go back any, he pretty much stayed in the same spot and jumped facing you guys now?

JR: Yes.

JE: Okay. What were you thinking at the time when he did that?

JR: That he was going to attack Deputy Quist, the closest deputy to him.

JE: Okay. And you said that Kyeron had his hands up, were they above his shoulders or -

JR: Now his hands were in front of his chest.

JE: In front of his chest?

JR: Yes.

JE: Do you know if his hands were open or in a fist, or do you recall?

JR: I don't recall that part.

JE: Do you recall if Kyeron was saying anything?

JR: No.

JE: After Kyeron is tased, I'm assuming since he's facing you guys, that he got tased in the chest or -

JR: I think one probe hit on the chest and the other one hit in the leg, if I recall correctly yes.

JE: Okay, and then what happens to Kyeron when he gets tased, what does he do?

JR: He stood back because there were other deputies taking control, there were too many deputies taking control of that scene, so I stood back and I wasn't able to see what was happening there, because there were deputies in front of me.

JE: At what point were you able to see what was going on after the door was opened?

JR: After he was secured and put on the gurney.

JE: Okay, so you didn't see how Kyeron went to the ground?

JR: No. There were some deputies in front of me.

JE: Did you recall what was being said, either from the deputies or from Kyeron, if anything?

JR: Deputies before they tased him I think they advised, they mentioned taser, taser before they deployed their tasers.

JE: All right. Do you remember if when the tasing happened, if Kyeron said anything or screamed anything?

JR: No.

JE: Okay.

JR: I don't recall that part.

JE: So the next time you were able to look into the cell, what do you see?

JR: Inside the cell?

JE: Yeah, as soon as the deputies get out of your way and you're able to see what's going on, what do you see?

JR: I wasn't looking inside the cell because at that point Kyeron was already out of the cell.

JE: Oh, okay.

JR: So I didn't look inside the cell anymore.

JE: So the next time you see Kyeron after the tasing, what do you see?

JR: He was on the ground, his hands were secure and the paramedics were moving the probes from his chest.

JE: And how did they remove the probes, did they take off or pull up his shirt, take off his shirt or sweatshirt? Like did you see his bare chest or stomach?

JR: Yes I saw his bare chest, yeah.

JE: Did you see anything that would indicate a sign of injury?

JR: Besides the bleeding from the probes, nothing else.

JE: Okay. And how many probes did you see in the chest?

JR: In the chest, I only recall one.

JE: Okay and that one there was some blood from it?

JR: Yes.

JE: Did you see anything else in his chest area that would indicate anything of trauma or injury or anything?

JR: No.

JE: Did Kyeron say anything about being in pain?

JR: No.

JE: Did –

JR: When he got tased, I think he screamed from the pain of the tase, but besides that I don't recall anything else when he screamed from the pain of the tase.

JE: Did he say anything about wanting to go to the hospital?

JR: No.

JE: Okay. What was your impression of the situation after, you know, he was tased and brought out, and from your observation what were you thinking about?

JR: Thinking what, since –

JE: Well like, do you have somebody who's high on drugs, do you have somebody who's mental, do you have somebody who's just trying to be belligerent, what was your, I know you don't have a lot of experience –

JR: Probably belligerent and maybe a bit of mental too, that's what I thought.

JE: Okay.

SS: Follow-up on that, why do you think he; what was your impression as to why he was being noncompliant? Just your opinion.

JR: Because I, my impression was that he had a little bit of mental problems, that he wasn't looking at us when we were talking to him, he was saying things that we were not asking him to say, like his last name so that's the impression I got from his behavior.

SS: Was he being directly threatening to anybody or making threats or saying what he was going to do to you guys, or that he wasn't going to comply?

JR: I, at what point?

SS: At any point –

JR: I don't recall.

SS: Okay. If he was being mean to you guys, would you remember that?

JR: Mean?

SS: If he was, pardon my language, he was 'mother fucker'ing you?

JR: Yes.

SS: I'm not gonna do this, or I'm not gonna do that, and you guys can piss off, like some of the other belligerent that you may or may not have dealt with, was he acting like that at any time?

JR: No, not verbally.

SS: So he wasn't acting like that kind of person, he was acting like someone that wasn't thinking very clearly –

HB: When you say, 'not verbally' what do you –

JR: Yeah, he wasn't saying the words, like you just said, he wasn't saying anything-

SS: Saying the naughty words.

JR: Yes.

SS: When you were at the door with the other deputies, do you remember which deputies were there and where they were in relation to the door?

JR: When?

SS: Before you guys –

JR: Okay, Deputy Quist was right across the door on the outside of the door talking to Kyeron, uh, paramedics were right behind him by I'm thinking at the search counter, by the search counter, on the other side of the door was Deputy Glasser, DeArmond and myself, and Sergeant Miller if I recall correctly was right behind Deputy Quist.

SS: Were you directly, you and Glasser and DeArmond, were you directly behind Deputy Quist, or were you off to the left or the right?

JR: Off to Deputy Quist's left.

SS: Okay, and is the door handle on the right or the left?

JR: The door handle is on the left. And Deputy Quist was, if we're going to use the door handle as a reference point, Deputy Quist was next to the door handle, followed by DeArmond to the left, and to the right of not Deputy Quist, Deputy Glasser and it was to the right of Deputy DeArmond.

HB: So the door handle was on the right?

JR: On the left.

SS: The door handle's on the left?

JR: Yes.

SS: You're on Quist's, Deputy Quist's left?

JR: Deputy Quist's left and –

HB: You said left?

JR: Left, and Deputy DeArmond's right.

SS: Okay, so when the door opens up do you see into the door or do you have to go to around the –

JR: No because I didn't, I didn't have any taser so I was, I tried to stay off the point where he might be able to get tased.

SS: Okay, so if the door is open are you, are you facing the opening or are you off behind the door still?

JR: Behind the door.

SS: What about DeArmond and Glasser?

JR: They were, they were able to see in there.

SS: So the door opens to them.

JR: To them, yes.

SS: And Deputy Quist and yourself are behind the door?

JR: Well Deputy Quist opened the door so he, at that point he –

SS: Was closer?

JR: So he moved. He moved to be able to open the door and pull the door handle open.

SS: Okay, what about any other deputies that were there? Were there any other deputies that the door opened to?

JR: (No audible response).

SS: Or do you remember other deputies being there?

JR: No I only remember Glasser, DeArmond and Deputy Quist, and the sergeant.

SS: Okay. And during the period after you initially placed Kyeron into the cell, before medical got there did you have an opportunity to see or hear Kyeron, to see what he was doing, or hear what he was saying?

JR: No I went on with my work because Deputy Deluca was there talking to him.

SS: Okay. That's all I've got.

JE: Heidi, do you have anything?

HB: No, thank you.

JE: Is there anything you want to add that we forgot to ask, Juan?

JR: No.

JE: All right. I'm going to go ahead and end the interview. The time is 4:37 p.m.
Thanks Juan.

SUMMARY OF KYERON FAIR CASE

#74852 Black, Male, 17 years old, DOB 7/21/1993.
SEPTEMBER 29, 2010

- ◆ Booked into JDH on 09/13/10
- ◆ Transferred to Adult System MCDC on 9/17/10
- ◆ Sent to OHSU via ambulance on 9/18/10 and sent back from ER to MCDC
- ◆ Sent to OHSU on 9/21/10 after changes in blood values and inability to stabilize his psychotic behavior. Received consent to treat from Mother.
- ◆ Current physical situation is that he is receiving antipsychotic medications and so far has not yet responded to this treatment.
 - ◆ On 4 point restraints since 9/21 (9 days) due to his violent and unpredictable behavior.
 - ◆ Eating and drinking a little so has to receive IV fluids.
 - ◆ Receiving IV medications, along with some oral medications.
 - ◆ Has a Foley catheter in place for urination monitoring.
 - ◆ Frequent monitoring of lab values.
 - ◆ Frequent oversight from a team of medical and mental health providers. Dr. Rodney Reid is the psychiatrist on the case. He can be reached at 503-494-9000 and ask the operator to page him.
 - ◆ Kyeron is in a step down medical unit due mainly because he is an adolescent, has health issues and cannot go into the adult psychiatric unit. OHSU does not have an adolescent unit
- ◆ September 28, 2010 (Tuesday)
 - Conference with MCSO, Health, County Attorney and Judge Frantz to make a plan for his care and safety.
 - Judge Franz wrote an order to move him to PAMC for treatment until an adolescent bed is available.
 - PAMC will not accept this youth with IV's and in restraints.
 - MCSO will NOT move him.
 - Stopped any movement pending action plans in the morning.
 - It is too dangerous to move this youth and we do not want harm to come to him during this critical time of his life.
 - His legal issues, such as arraignment, are being discussed by the DA.

◆ September 29, 2010 (Wednesday)

- Conference in Corrections Health with a plan developed to contact the Psychiatrist on the case to hopefully keep him at OHSU.
- Melanie Parker PMHNP called Dr. Reid and they discussed the Judges order to treat and the options that are not available until this youth is stable.
- Dr. Reid agreed to call a psychiatrist at PAMC to discuss options that may be available for his care until an adolescent treatment bed becomes available in the community.

◆ PLAN FOR TODAY September 29, 2010:

- To keep Kyeron at OHSU until his condition is stabilized,
- To keep him there until the mental health team of physicians makes a discharge plan which will include someone in another treatment facility accepting him into their care.
- The jail is not an option for treatment of this youth. We cannot deliver this level of care that is needed to treat this youth. We are not a treatment facility for adolescents.
- Request Judge Frantz to consider revising her order to include "Treat until Fit at any hospital facility or adolescent treatment facility." That will give the system the guidance to find the appropriate place for his mental health treatment as he improves.

◆ Mental Health System Facts:

- We have found out the following things about the mental health system in our community.
 - Providence Adolescent Unit will not take him in restraints and are concerned about him being in a unit with small children.
 - Children's Farm Home will not take him in restraints.
 - PAMC does not have an adolescent mental health unit, however, there is a chance they would HOLD him there until a bed is available in the community. We feel he will receive a higher level of care at OHSU than holding him in a hospital not equipped to care for him.
 - OHSU does not have an adolescent mental health unit and will hold him in a medical unit pending improvement and transfer to a mental health treatment facility.
 - Emanuel Hospital has some adolescent treatment beds but do not know criteria for admission at this time.

I will keep you all informed as this case proceeds. We can hope this emergency type treatment for this youth allows him to stabilize soon so further treatment can begin to help him with his life. His parents are involved and with him at the hospital. Chief Deputy Mike Shults and Corrections Health staff and managers have talked with the parents. Working together, we can help this young man get through this life crisis.

Good morning.

We received a call today from the OHSU case manager that Mr. Fair is stable and she would like him to go to a "medical-psychiatric bed" in the jail. Do we need to ask Judge Frantz for any change from the current court order? It states that he was to be transported to PAH and once his violent behavior was treated and he had stabilized, he was to be transferred to the Children's Farm Home. He has remained at OHSU, and is undergoing treatment. We can't take him back with the current order, nor is he appropriate as yet for jail.

He will need to be ordered out of custody on whatever method can be used in order to go to an adolescent treatment facility. We are just hoping to get our ducks in a row, so that we don't miss an important step once an adolescent bed is found.

Thank you for your help in this matter.

Hi Everyone—

The key areas are:

1—for the psychiatrist at OSHU to locate a bed in an adolescent psy unit so he can continue care. That must happen. We know PAH will NOT take him as they do NOT have an adolescent unit.

2—we can request Judge Frantz to write an order to allow Mr. Fair to be without guards at the unit while he is there and then return to custody when he is stable and able to return to our care.

<https://mail.google.com/a/multco.us/?...>

3—if there is not an order to remove his deputy guards in the unit, Mike said he would stage a deputy outside the unit until we can get an order.

I will add both Mike Shults and Judge Frantz to his message so we can coordinate this process when OHSU has secured an adolescent bed—

Thanks for all your assistance keeping this youth safe and in treatment.

Based on the evaluation and finding on 9/22/10 by OHSU Child Psychiatrist, Dr. Reed, that defendant is suffering from a mental illness, Bipolar I w/ Psychotic Features, and his observations and those since 9/20/10 of the psychiatric nurse practitioner, Melanie Parker, with Corrections Health, that the defendant has exhibited extreme aggression and violence toward others, including staff, necessitating a four-point restraint, and based upon the representations of Dr. Reed, Ms. Parker and defendant's counsel, Gary Berton, that the defendant hears voices, talks to nonexistent parties, cannot engage in comprehensible conversation, and demonstrates bizarre behavior,

The Court finds the defendant is unable to aid and assist pursuant to the criteria set forth in ORS 161.360, and, being a juvenile, orders the defendant shall be treated until capacity is restored at the Children's Farm Home (per ORS 161.370) once his violent behavior arising from mental illness is adequately treated at Portland Adventist Hospital such that he has stabilized and is able to be admitted to the Children's Farm Home.

Accordingly, the Court orders, the defendant shall be immediately TRANSPORTED from OHSU to the Emergency Room at Portland Adventist Hospital for emergency treatment of the mental illness causing the violent behavior.

Subject: Update - Fair

Gayle – I just spoke to Dr. Reid at OHSU. As you recall he is the child psychiatrist treating Kyeron Fair. He has had communication with an admitting physician at Portland Adventist who said definitively that they would not accept Mr. Fair into the psychiatric unit, due to his age.

Although we have been fielding calls from the social worker at OHSU who is strongly advocating for his discharge, Dr. Reid told me that he WILL NOT be discharged from OHSU until he has an adolescent psych bed. However – it would be really helpful if Judge Frantz would be willing to amend the order to include OHSU as a possible treating hospital.

He is still in 4 point restraints. They have been more aggressive with increases of his antipsychotic and Dr. Reid feels that he is making small improvements. Although the medical unit (7C) is not a perfect fit for Kyeron – it is allowing him to be seen daily by a child/adolescent psych team, and he is provided IV fluids/meds as needed. In addition – if he decompensates to a greater degree, they have the ability to offer medical interventions that the psych units could not provide without a transport.

I am monitoring his progress via my OHSU access, and will communicate any changes. At this point the OHSU team is in contact with Providence and Emanuel and will facilitate a transfer as soon as it is possible. Please forward to all appropriate parties.

Adjustment Disorder

749852

Fair, Kyeron (MR # 06345746) DOB: 07/21/1993

Printed 9/18/10 4:40 AM

Most changes in life can cause stress. Getting used to changes may take a few months or longer. If feelings of stress, hopelessness, or worry continue, you may have an adjustment disorder. This stress-related mental health problem may affect your feelings, thinking and how you act. It occurs in both sexes and happens at any age.

SYMPTOMS

Some of the following problems may be seen and vary from person to person:

- Sadness or depression.
- Loss of enjoyment.
- Thoughts of suicide.
- Fighting.
- Avoiding family and friends.
- Poor school performance.
- Hopelessness, sense of loss.
- Trouble sleeping.
- Vandalism.
- Worry, weight loss or gain.
- Crying spells.
- Anxiety
- Reckless driving.
- Skipping school.
- Poor work performance.
- Nervousness.
- Ignoring bills.
- Poor attitude.

DIAGNOSIS

You caregiver will ask what has happened in your life and do a physical exam. They will make a diagnosis of an adjustment disorder when they are sure another problem or medical illness causing your feelings does not exist.

TREATMENT

When problems caused by stress interfere with you daily life or last longer than a few months, you may need counseling for an adjustment disorder. Early treatment may diminish problems and help you to cope better with the the stressful events in you life. Sometimes medication is necessary. Individual counseling and or support groups can be very helpful.

PROGNOSIS

Adjustment disorders usually last less than three to six months. The condition may persist if there is long lasting stress. This could include health problems, relationship problems, or job difficulties where you can not easily escape from what is causing the problem.

PREVENTION

Even the most mentally healthy, highly functioning people can suffer from an adjustment disorder given a significant blow from a life-changing event. There is no way to prevent pain and loss. Most people need help from time to time. You are not alone.

SEEK MEDICAL CARE IF:

Your feelings or symptoms listed above do not improve or worsen.

TAKE THESE PAPERS WITH YOU TO YOUR APPOINTMENT.

When you call for an appointment, tell then you were seen in this Emergency Department and told to follow up in that clinic. An Emergency Department referral does not guarantee that the Provider will be able to see you or that your insurance will cover the visit. Please check with your Primary Care Provider and insurance company.

Thank you for coming to the OHSU Emergency Department today.

Please return to the Emergency Department at any time you experience any worsening of your symptoms or other concerns. It is important to report any new, remaining or worsening symptoms to your Primary Care Provider so please make an appointment to be seen as directed.

PLEASE NOTE: The care you received in the Emergency Department was given to evaluate and treat your current emergency medical needs only. Your visit today should not take the place of a complete medical exam or care given by a Primary Care Physician. We may not have been able to completely identify and treat all parts of your injury or illness today so it is important to make sure to get follow up with Medical Providers as directed.

MULTNOMAH COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE		SPECIAL REPORT				Page 1 of 2
CASE NO 10-405941	CLASSIFICATION INTERNAL EXCESSIVE FORCE INVESTIGATION
SUBJECT'S NAME (VICTIM) FAIR, KYERON JARREL		CRN	SEX M	RACE B	DOB 07/29/93
LOCATION OF OCCURRENCE MULTNOMAH CO. JUVENILE DEPARTMENT/MULTNOMAH CO. DETENTION CENTER

SUMMARY:

I received information from Project Response (the clinical notes) through a Subpoena regarding this investigation.

MENTIONED:

(VICTIM) FAIR, KYERON JARREL M/B
 DOB – 07/29/1993
 4025 NE Roselawn – Portland, Oregon 97211 (Parents)
 (503) 252-3321

(BUSINESS) Project Response – Cascadia Behavioral Health
 P.O. Box 8459 – Portland, Oregon 97207

ACTION TAKEN:

During the course of this investigation, I received the clinical notes from Project Response (affiliated with Cascadia Behavioral Health) through a Subpoena. It should be noted that the information was requested because a staff member with Project Response responded to the Juvenile Department on September 16th, 2010 at about 1945 hours to evaluate Kyeron FAIR. The clinical notes are attached to this report.

In reading the clinical notes on Kyeron FAIR, the evaluator for Project Response "recommended that if possible they get client (FAIR) to the hospital tonight. If they are not PRE recommended they work on t first thing in the morning. Staff spoke about different transport means, i.e. mountain retreat or their car, PRE suggested that client appears to be so out of touch with reality that transporting him just in handcuffs could be dangerous as he may not be aware if he hurts himself while moving around. PRE suggested AMR with soft restraints so he would be unable to harm himself. Staff agreed that would probably be the safest. The detention center staff are looking in to how to have him transported tonight. Because his crime is a Measure 11 crime he will have to be processed down town in the regular jail prior to being taken to the hospital. They stated that they will continue to consult about what do to. PRE to respond to future calls as appropriate."

CLINICAL NOTE

9/16/2010 7:45 pm

Brief History:

Client is a 17 yo Male who was recently charged with a crime that under Measure 11 (Measure 11 crime: "when the offense represented a threat of serious physical injury".) will be treated as an adult crime. He was brought to the Donald E. Long Detention center 4 days ago. During the entire time client has displayed psychotic symptoms including, talking gibberish, yelling, not recognizing people he has known for a long time, and has not slept for the entire 4 days. Today clients symptoms worsened and he spent most all day yelling at the top of his lungs and acting bizarrely.

Description of the Call:

PRE arrived at the detention center and spoke with Izzy and several other staff. They told PRE that client's basket ball coach who he has work very closely with, from high school is currently working there and client did not recognize him most of the time. Client ate today only because his coach insisted that the only way he would talk to him is if he ate. Staff stated that client has been in the isolation medical room right by their office all 4 days. He has an appointment to see their visiting psychiatrist tomorrow morning but because clients symptoms have worsened they are not sure what they should do with him. If they wanted to transfer him to the hospital he would have to go down town to the adult jail to be processed first, and they did not know how safe that would be.

PRE observed client for a few minutes and watched him tear toilet paper in strips and hide under it, or try to hang it on the wall, he stood on the sink and held on to the sealing. Client spoke to PRE through the window and asked what we wanted PRE stated we were just saying hi, he did not understand that and said I don't get it. Client danced around the room swinging his arms and at times put his pillow case over his head. Client did not sit down one time and PRE was told that he has spent many, many hours of the day standing on the end of his bed with one arm in the air holding a paper looking up at it and screaming at the top of his lungs. They stated that his speaking quiet now is the first time he has been quite since some time this morning, maybe longer.

Psychosocial:

Clients mother is very supportive and concerned about client.

Psychiatric History:

Client has no history of MH issues, and has never been on MH medications. He was active in Basket ball in high school and a fairly normal adolescent.

Medical Concerns/Medication:

No medical history was given nor any medication history.

Substance Use:

None reported. However staff have been wondering if client had smoked something that was laced that has caused these new and abrupt psychotic symptoms. But they seem to have been worsening rather than lessening over the last 4 days dispelling that probability.

Mental Status:

Client is a 17 year old African American male. He is approx 5' 7" tall and 145 lbs. He has hair in an afro approx 3" long. Client was aware that someone (us) new entered the office space that his room has a window to but was unable to actively engage in any coherent conversation. He quickly forgot about PRE and continued on with his bizarre rituals and movements. Client does not appear oriented, he is currently agitated however to a much lesser degree than he was an hour earlier. Client's judgment, insight, and memory were impossible to assess due to his psychotic symptoms.

Clinical Formulation:

Client appears to be experiencing some significant psychotic symptoms. He has no history of psychosis, and these symptoms appear to have begun when he arrived at the detention center 4 days ago. His mother believes he has experienced a "mental break down" caused by the stress of being incarcerated and charged with such a serious crime.

DSM-IV Diagnosis:

Axis I: 2989.9 psychotic disorder NOS
Axis V: 12

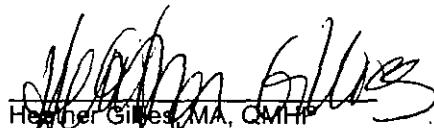

Plan:

PRE recommended that if possible they get client to the hospital tonight. If they are not PRE recommended they work on it first thing in the morning. Staff spoke about different transport means, i.e. mountain retreat or their car, PRE suggested that client appears to be so out of touch with reality that transporting him just in hand cuffs could be dangerous as he may not be aware if he hurts himself while moving around. PRE suggested AMR with soft restraints so he would be unable to harm himself. Staff agreed that would probably be the safest. The detention center staff are looking in to how to have him transported tonight. Because his crime is a Measure 11 crime he will have to be processed down town in the regular jail prior to being taken to the hospital. They stated that they will continue to consult about what to do. PRE to respond to future calls as appropriate.

SUBJECT'S NAME (VICTIM) FAIR, KYERON JARREL			CRN	SEX M	RACE B	DOB 07/29/93
LOCATION OF OCCURRENCE MULTNOMAH CO. JUVENILE DEPARTMENT/MULTNOMAH CO. DETENTION CENTER

SUMMARY:

I received a copy of the Court order to place Kyeron FAIR to the custody of the Children's Farm Home (a secure intensive community inpatient facility designated by the Department of Human Services for defendants under 18 years of age). This order was dated on October 8th, 2010 by Multnomah County Circuit Court Frantz.

MENTIONED:

 DOB - 07/29/1993
 4025 NE Roselawn - Portland, Oregon 97211 (Parents')
 (503) 252-3321

ACTION TAKEN:

During the course of this investigation, I received a copy of the Multnomah County Circuit Court ordering Kyeron FAIR to be committed to the custody of the Children's Farm Home (a secure intensive community inpatient facility designated by the Department of Human Services for defendants under 18 years of age).

The order states:

The Court reviewed and considered the evaluation and finding on 09/22/10 by OHSU Child Psychiatrist, Dr. Reed, that defendant is suffering from a mental illness, Bipolar I with Psychotic Features.

Based upon the review and based upon the representations of Dr. Reed, Melanie Parker (Mult. Co. Corrections Health) and defense attorney Bertonì that defendant hears voices, talks to nonexistent parties, cannot engage in comprehensible conversation, and demonstrates bizarre behavior, the Court hereby finds that the defendant lacks fitness to proceed by reason of incapacity, that is, that the defendant, as a result of a mental disease or defect, is unable to aid and assist in his defense as defined in ORS 161.360(2).

A copy of the order is attached to this case file.

In this matter, Deputy District Attorney Glen Banfield (OSB # 03078) represents the State and Gary Bertoni (OSB # 78141) represents the defendant, who is in custody.

The Court reviewed and considered the evaluation and finding on 9/22/10 by OHSU Child Psychiatrist, Dr. Reed, that defendant is suffering from a mental illness, Bipolar I with Psychotic Features.

Based upon that review and based upon the representations of Dr. Reed, Melanie Parker (Mult. Co. Corrections Health) and defense attorney Bertoni that defendant hears voices, talks to nonexistent parties, cannot engage in comprehensible conversation, and demonstrates bizarre behavior,

THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED:

4. In keeping with the notice requirement under ORS 161.370(4)(b), the Director shall, for the duration of the defendant's period of commitment, submit a progress report to the Court concerning the defendant's capacity or incapacity at least once every 90 days, as measured from the date of defendant's delivery into the Director's custody;
5. The Multnomah County Sheriff shall transport defendant forthwith from the Jail to the Children's Farm Home in Corvallis, Oregon;

NARRATIVE

06 Stradley #16129 (partner)

08 Myself and Ofc. Stradley responded to a call of a robbery at gunpoint. We arrived at 3729 NE Columbia Blvd. and contacted the complainant, VI Hensley. Mr. Hensley invited us into his house. Mr. Hensley was visibly shaken and upset, because he had just been robbed several minutes ago. Also present was VI Christine Montgomery, VI Jayden Montgomery and VI Douglas.

I asked Mr. Hensley to tell me exactly what had happened. He gave me the following account: The night before, Mr. Hensley and his housemates had received a shipment of medical marijuana, a total of 1.5 pounds. There were three varieties in three bags, 1/2 pound each, a supply that was to last until November. The marijuana had been delivered by Mr. Hensley's grower from southern Oregon. Mr. Hensley and his housemates, VI Douglas and VI Montgomery, all have medical marijuana cards and regularly "smoke out." They often have friends over, all of whom are aware of the medical marijuana. Mr. Hensley displays his medical marijuana card on the wall of his family room.

REPORTING OFFICER(S) Todd Sorensen	DPSST 50671	PREC / DIV North/U	RLF / SHIFT AP	ASSN / DIST 634	SUPERVISOR'S SIGNATURE John Birkinbine (29351)
---------------------------------------	----------------	-----------------------	-------------------	--------------------	---

Mr. Hensley told me that he had met X1 K Ron through a friend of his at the HIV clinic. His friend's name is "Ne-Ne", and Mr. Hensley thinks that K Ron may be related to Ne-Ne. K Ron has been to Mr. Hensley's house on a couple of occasions.

On the day of the robbery, there was a knock at the door of Mr. Hensley's house. He opened the door and saw K Ron, so he let him in. With K Ron was X2 and X3. X2 brandished a gun and simply said "Give it all to me.". X2 pointed the gun at VI Christine Montgomery and VI Jayden Montgomery. Christine Montgomery said "oh my god, my baby's right here." X2 pointed the gun at Mr. Hensley and at VI Douglas. Mr. Hensley handed the three bags of marijuana over to K Ron. X3 did not say anything. The gun was described as having a long slender barrel, charcoal in color, possibly a revolver.

After they acquired the three bags of marijuana, the three suspects left. Mr. Hensley's dog, a 90 pound pitbull, chased after them. Mr. Hensley then called his grower to ask what he should do. His grower told him to call the police, so Mr. Hensley did so.

Ms. Montgomery told me that her son (VI Brown) wanted to chase after the suspects but she told him not to. VI Brown instead went to look for the dog, who had apparently ran down to the river behind the house.

Mr. Hensley described the three bags as large plastic bags with the marijuana variety written on the bottom of each one: one written "DUB", one written "JTBR" for Jack the Bubble Ripper, and one written "CD2" for Chocolate Dank.

Mr. Hensley, Ms. Montgomery and Mr. Douglas were all very upset by the robbery and expressed to me that they are interested in prosecution of the suspects. All three were very cooperative during the investigation. Mr. Hensley and Ms. Montgomery are legal medical marijuana cardholders. I gave Mr. Hensley my card with the case # written on it.

After our initial investigation, I spoke with Mr. Hensley over the phone. He told he had talked with a friend of "Ne-Ne." The friend knows K Ron and says he went to Parkrose High School. The friend was trying to contact K Ron's mother to find out more information about him.

This report will be faxed to the Robbery Detectives.

whom was known as to Mr. HENSLEY and Ms. MONGOMERY as "KYERON", later identified as KYERON JARREL FAIR. During the aforementioned Home Invasion Robbery, one of the three suspects utilized a firearm and robbed Mr. HENSLEY of his medical marijuana and of $80.00 in cash. For additional detail and specific information related to the aforementioned Home Invasion Robbery, please refer to a police report prepared by Officer Sorensen.

NARRATIVE

In working in the official capacity as a detective with the Portland Police Bureau's Robbery Detail, I was assigned Portland Police Bureau case #10-69858 which is an Armed Home Invasion Robbery of a medical marijuana patient where money and medical marijuana was taken. The initial police report indicated that at least one of the robbers was known to the victims.

I subsequently contact MARTIN DALE HENSLEY hereafter referred to as Mr. HENSLEY, who reiterated to me what he previously reported to Officer Sorensen regarding the robbery. Mr. HENSLEY did tell me some additional details related to the robbery. Mr. HENSLEY told me that he knew at least one of the robbers as an acquaintance who had been to his residence at least three to four different occasions. Mr. HENSLEY told me that he knew the aforementioned individual as "K-RON". Mr. HENSLEY told me that KYERON had a tattoo of his name on his forearm. Mr. HENSLEY also told me that he had since learned that KYERON had attended Parkrose High School.

Mr. HENSLEY told me that he did not know who the two other robbers were, however he described the robber with the firearm as being a male black individual with a dark complexion, approximately 5'05", with a medium build, short hair, and "bushy eyebrows".

Ms. MONTGOMERY told me that she remembered that the taller unknown robber was the individual with the gun during the robbery.

Mr. HENSLEY told me that after the robbers took his marijuana and $80.00 in cash at gunpoint, they left his residence. NOTE: for additional information and specific details related to the aforementioned robbery, please refer to the police report prepared by Officer Sorensen.

I asked Mr. HENSLEY if he thought that he could identify KYERON if he saw a photograph of him. Mr. HENSLEY told me that he could. I subsequently obtained an Oregon Driver's License photograph #2408103, which depicted a photograph of KYERON JARREL FAIR, male black, DOB 072993, and met with Mr. HENSLEY and Ms. MONGOMERY at their residence. I displayed the aforementioned DMV photograph of KYERON JARREL FAIR individually to Mr. HENSLEY and Ms. MONGOMERY. Both Mr. HENSLEY and Ms. MONGOMERY positively identified KYERON JARREL FAIR as the same black individual known to them as 'K-RON', and the same black individual that one was one of the three robbers that robbed them of medical marijuana and $80.00 in US currency on 082310 at there residence identified as 3729 NE Columbia Blvd., Portland, Oregon. Both Mr. HENSLEY and Ms. MONGOMERY signed and dated the aforementioned DMV photographs.

Ms. MONGOMERY also told me that her three year old son, identified as JAYDEN CHRISTIAN MONGOMERY was present during the robbery and has since demonstrated some negative traumatic emotions related to the aforementioned armed robbery which has caused her concern.

During the investigation and in my attempt to located KYERON JARREL FAIR, I collaborated the information provided to me by Mr. HENSLEY and subsequently learned that KYERON JARREL FAIR was currently attending Parkrose High School. For additional information and specific detail related to my contact with KYERON JARREL FAIR, please refer to the associated police reports.

For additional information and complete details related to the interview with KYERON JARREL FAIR, please refer to the DVD recording of the interview.

NARRATIVE

On 091310 at approximately 0912 hours, KYERON JARREL FAIR hereinafter referred to as FAIR, was taken into custody as he exited the library at Parkrose High School by me with the assistance of the aforementioned School Resource Officers. Once taken into custody, at the direction of the school principle (ANA GONALEZ), per school protocol, FAIR was escorted to a small room located in the east section of Parkrose High School. Shortly thereafter, FAIR was escorted to a marked patrol car and subsequently transported to the Portland Police Bureau's Detective Division for an interview.

Upon arriving at the Portland Police Bureau's Detective Division, FAIR was placed in a holding cell at approximately 0943 hours. I contacted FAIR and identified myself as a detective with the Portland Police Bureau and informed him that I would speak to him momentarily. I asked FAIR if he needed to use the restroom and he indicated he did. I subsequently transported FAIR to the restroom facilities which he utilized. After utilizing the restroom facilities, FAIR was placed back inside the holding cell.

At approximately 1056 hours, Detective Christensen and I escorted FAIR from the holding cell to an adjacent interview room for the purpose of interviewing him. Note; Prior to interviewing FAIR, Detective Christensen and I activated the Detective Division audio and video recording system for the purpose of recording the interview with FAIR. As previously indicated, the following is a summary of the interview with FAIR. Statements made by KYERON JARREL FAIR

Prior to interviewing FAIR, at approximately 1058 hours, I advised him of his constitutional Miranda rights, by reading aloud from a Portland Police Bureau approved Miranda rights advice form. After I had completed advising FAIR of his constitutional Miranda rights, I asked him if he understood his constitutional Miranda rights as explained to him by me. FAIR verbally acknowledged understanding his constitutional Miranda rights by stating, "Yeah." FAIR also signed the Miranda rights advice form.

FAIR told me that he is a senior at Parkrose High School, and asked if he could call his mother. FAIR told me his mother told him to always call her when he had police contact and / or when he was being questioned by the police. FAIR told me he wanted his mother there with him. When I asked for his mother's contact phone number, FAIR told me that he did not know it. FAIR told me he lives with his aunt in order to attend Parkrose High School and play sports. FAIR also told me not to call his mother and informed me he did not know his mother's or his aunt's phone number. FAIR said he just recently had gotten a new cell phone and had deleted all of their numbers out of his phone. FAIR said he got a new phone, because he was getting prank phone calls.

I explained to FAIR, that I was investigating a robbery. FAIR initially told me he did not know anything about a robbery. I explained to FAIR, that he did not need to answer any questions that he did not want to. As I continued talking to FAIR, he told me he was done answering questions, and did not want to talk about a home-invasion robbery. When I asked how he knew I was inquiring about a home-invasion robbery, FAIR told me he saw it written on the file which I was holding when he was initially taken into custody.

I produced a photograph depicting the address 3729 NE Columbia Blvd. and informed FAIR that the residence depicted in the photograph was the residence where the home-invasion robbery occurred. I displayed the aforementioned photograph to FAIR and asked him if he had ever been there. FAIR acknowledged that he had previously been to the residence in order to purchase marijuana from "MARTIN." FAIR told me he has purchased marijuana from MARTIN in the following amounts; $10 sacks, dubs, and eighths. FAIR told me

FAIR had brought some shady people to his house who subsequently robbed him. FAIR told me MARTIN blamed him for the robbery.

I asked FAIR what phone number MARTIN called him on. FAIR told me MARTIN called him on his (FAIR's) old cellular phone number. When asked what his old cell phone number was, FAIR told me he did not know. FAIR said he had changed his phone number a long time ago and could not remember his old cellular phone number. I asked FAIR when did MARTIN call him to tell him about the robbery. FAIR told me MARTIN called him last month. FAIR told me that MARTIN has since stopped selling marijuana to him. FAIR also told me that he (FAIR) has found a new marijuana dealer to purchase marijuana from.

FAIR also told me, during the aforementioned conversation, that MARTIN told him the guys who robbed him were DEMARCUS, KEVIN, and HUNG VE. I asked FAIR when did he bring the aforementioned individuals to MARTIN's residence. FAIR told me he did not know.

FAIR told me DEMARCUS, KEVIN, and RAYMONDO FLINTROY would not rob MARTIN and say, "Give me everything" and put a gun to his head and rob him. FAIR told me that "was not them." Note; during my conversation with FAIR, I did not inform him of the phrases utilized by the robbers, i.e. "Give me everything." Furthermore, I did not discuss where the robber pointed the gun, i.e. the victim's head.

I asked FAIR if he had gone to MARTIN's house last month (August). FAIR acknowledged that he did, and further told me that he had gone there a lot. FAIR told me he told his mother that MARTIN had called his cellular phone and told him that he (MARTIN) was going to call the police because the individuals he (FAIR) had brought to his house had robbed him of his marijuana, and the (MARTIN) was going to call the police to report the marijuana that was stolen during the robbery. FAIR told me his mother changed his phone number because of the calls from MARTIN.

I asked FAIR if his mother had ever called MARTIN to inquire why (MARTIN) was accusing and / or holding FAIR responsible for the robbery. FAIR told me he did not. FAIR then told me that he never told his mother about

MARTIN, the robbery, and / or the marijuana taken during the robbery. FAIR admitted that he had lied to me when he told me that he informed his mother about the aforementioned ordeal.

I asked FAIR if he could remember when he last bought marijuana from MARTIN. FAIR told me he could not.

FAIR also told me that when MARTIN called him, MARTIN told him that one of his friends came to his house and robbed him. I asked FAIR if MARTIN told him who the friend was. FAIR told me no, and told me that MARTIN did not know his friends.

I asked FAIR how long he had been taking his friends and associates to MARTIN's house to purchase marijuana. FAIR said he has been taking friends and associates to MARTIN's house since this year. FAIR told me he has brought between 40 to 60 friends and associates to MARTIN's house in order to purchase marijuana.

FAIR told me his friend, DEMARCUS HATTER, called and asked him if he robbed MARTIN. FAIR also told me DEMARCUS HATTER's aunt had also called him and informed him that MARTIN was a legal marijuana grower and was going to file a police report regarding the robbery.

At approximately 1145 hours, we took a short break from the interview, because FAIR was getting excited and animated. Note: Prior to taking the aforementioned break, FAIR said he knew about the robbery, because his friends told him about it. FAIR said he was not going to give the names of his friends who committed the robbery. FAIR reiterated that he (FAIR) was not the individual who committed the robbery, rather it was his friends. FAIR said he knew what happened because his friends had told him. FAIR also said he knew who did it but reiterated that he was not going to provide their names.

At approximately 1149 hours, we took a break from interviewing FAIR, and provided him with a drink of water and a bathroom break. FAIR was then placed back in a holding cell and asked to calm down. Note: While proceeding back to the holding cell, FAIR continued to say he knew who committed the robbery, however, he indicated he did not want to tell on his friends.

At approximately 1203 hours, FAIR acknowledged that he had calmed down and was subsequently transported back to the interview room to continue the interview. Upon entering the interview room, FAIR told me it was not him, and he did not know who did it. FAIR said he did not know anything. While talking to me, FAIR said he was the "connect." Note; I know from my training and experience as a police officer that the term "connect" when used in the aforementioned context, is drug culture vernacular and street terminology commonly used to refer to a person who brings individuals together for the purpose of committing crimes and / or one that facilitates illegal activities. After making the aforementioned statement, FAIR quickly recanted what he had previously told me and said that he did not know who robbed MARTIN.

I explained to FAIR that I was trying to learn the truth of what happened and determine what his (FAIR's) role was during the robbery. FAIR told me he had made up the whole story regarding his friend calling him and telling him about the robbery. FAIR also told me that he made it up when he told me that he (FAIR) knew who committed the robbery. FAIR told me he (FAIR) was lying.

I asked FAIR why he had lied to me. FAIR told me because I was asking him questions regarding who did it, and he did not want to tell on his friends.

FAIR also told me out of all his (FAIR's) marijuana dealers, MARTIN had the best marijuana which he (FAIR) referred to as "the fire."

FAIR also told me he did not want to tell on his friends because he (FAIR) would be called a snitch.

FAIR told me the day of the robbery, he (FAIR) was at home. Note: FAIR had not been informed of the date and / or time of the robbery. FAIR said his friends were trying to say that he was there. However, FAIR would not tell us which friend was trying to say he was there.

FAIR told us he did not know what happened or how it happened; the only thing he knew was that he was not there. FAIR acknowledged that he understood I was asking questions of him and had not lied to him. FAIR admitted that he had lied to me during the interview.

FAIR told me his mother had previously told him not to answer questions asked of him by the police, and acknowledged that he had already "messed up." I explained to FAIR that he did not have to answer any questions that he did not want to.

I asked FAIR if someone had forced him to go to MARTIN's house. FAIR told me he was not forced to go there. FAIR also again said he did not know anything, and did not know about the robbery. FAIR told me he lied when he said MARTIN had called him and told him about the robbery. FAIR also told me he lied to me when he told me his friend called him and told him about the robbery.

I asked FAIR to tell me the truth and to tell me where he was standing inside MARTIN's house during the robbery. FAIR told me he did not want to tell on his friends. FAIR said he knew exactly what I was talking about.

At approximately 1306 hours, FAIR asked me if I would remove the handcuffs which had been previously placed back on his wrists (hand-cuffed in front) for officer safety reasons during the prior break. I subsequently removed the handcuffs and continued talking to FAIR. It should be noted, that during the interview with FAIR, he displayed a range of emotions ranging from being calm to being loud, excited, and animated.

At approximately 1310 hours, while continuing to interview FAIR, he stood up and referenced an attorney. In order to clarify his reference of an attorney, I informed him that he had said something regarding an attorney. I asked FAIR if he wanted an attorney, and informed him if he did want an attorney, that we were done talking with him and we would precede with what we had. I informed FAIR that he needed to make it clear, if he wanted an attorney before we continued questioning, or if he wanted to tell and explain his side of the story without an attorney. I told FAIR that he needed to make it clear to us what he wanted to do. I asked FAIR if he wanted to continue talking to us. FAIR replied, "Yes."

I explained to FAIR, that asking questions of him was my job. As I continued to ask FAIR questions, he told me that he felt like he was being "used". When asked if it made him angry that a weed dealer called the police on him, FAIR

In order to let Ms. JARREL know that her son was okay, at approximately 1330 hrs, I facilitated a brief meeting between Ms. JARREL and her son (FAIR) during which she was allowed to give him a hug and tell him that she loved him. With FAIR's permission, I gave his mother his school backpack which contained his books and miscellaneous school items. At approximately 1536 hrs, after FAIR was allowed to meet with his mother, he (FAIR) was transported to the Donald E. Long juvenile detention center (JDH) by me. Note; Prior to being transported to JDH, FAIR was fingerprinted and photographed in the Forensic Evidence Division. It should be noted, that while at the Juvenile Detention Center, after being unhandcuffed in the main lobby of the Juvenile Detention Center In Take area, FAIR attempted to flee from the building by running toward a closed security door which upon his initial entry, opened automatically. However, his attempt to flee from the building was unsuccessful because the glass security door was not activated and did not automatically open as he approached it. FAIR was subsequently placed in a temporary holding facility because of his unpredictable behavior prior to being fully processed into the Juvenile Detention Center. Statements made by MARTIN DALE HENSLEY After my interview with FAIR, I contacted MARTIN DALE HENSLEY, herein after referred to as MARTIN. During my conversation with MARTIN, I explained to him the accusations made by FAIR, regarding him (MARTIN) being a marijuana dealer and providing marijuana to FAIR and his (FAIR's) friends. I asked MARTIN to be candid with me regarding any transactions

TO SUPPORT CONTINUED DETENTION
OF DEFENDANT

I, Glen R. Banfield, swear that I am a Deputy District Attorney for Multnomah County and that I have reviewed the police reports which have been filed in this case by police officers; that the crimes charged against defendant occurred in Multnomah County and that the probable cause for detention following the arrest of defendant is as follows:

On 8/23/10 Martin Hensley reported to PPB Officer Todd Sorenson that the above named defendant and two other unidentified subjects robbed him of approximately a pound and a half of Marijuana at gunpoint. Hensley said he knows defendant through a mutual friend and that defendant has been over to his house on a couple of occasions. Hensley told Officer Sorenson that he is a medical marijuana card holder and that on 8/22/10 he received a shipment of three half pound bags of marijuana at his home located at 3729 NE Columbia Blvd, Portland Oregon. Hensley said that on 8/23/10 he was at home with his housemates Christine Montgomery, Jayden Montgomery (DOB 11/15/2006), Marchel Douglass and Jordan Brown when he heard a knock on the door and saw that it was defendant and let him in. Defendant was with two unidentified males. One of the unidentified males brandished a gun and said "give it all to me." The gunman pointed the gun at everyone in the house. Hensley handed the three bags of marijuana to the defendant. All three suspects then left the house

On 9/13/10 PPB Detective Robert Hollins arrested and interviewed defendant. I know from speaking with Detective Robert Hollins that post Miranda defendant told Hollins multiple different stories about his involvement in the robbery. Ultimately, defendant said he knew who did it, then said he did not know who did it, then said he would not rat out his friends.

I believe there is probable cause to believe the defendant has committed the crime(s) of: COUNT 1 - ROBBERY IN THE FIRST DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 2 - ROBBERY IN THE FIRST DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 3 - ROBBERY IN THE FIRST DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 4 - ROBBERY IN THE FIRST DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 5 - ROBBERY IN THE FIRST DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 6 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 7 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 8 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 9 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 10 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 11 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 12 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 13 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 14 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 15 - ROBBERY IN THE SECOND DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, COUNT 16 - BURGLARY IN THE FIRST DEGREE WITH A FIREARM, and COUNT 17 - UNLAWFUL USE OF A WEAPON.

SUMMARY:

I collected evidence regarding this investigation – the DVD of the closed-circuit camera from the booking area of when Kyeron FAIR was booked into JDH on September 13th, 2010 and video of when KYERON was transported from JDH to MCDC (of the booking area of JDH) on September 17th, 2010.

 DOB – 07/29/1993

ACTION TAKEN:

During the course of this investigation, I collected the DVD of the closed-circuit camera from the booking area of when Kyeron FAIR was booked into JDH on September 13th, 2010 and video of when KYERON was transported from JDH to MCDC (of the booking area of JDH) on September 17th, 2010.

The video shows FAIR entering the booking reception area at about 1615 hours. FAIR is standing near the reception counter and PPB Hollins is completing paperwork at the same counter. Also at 1615 hours, FAIR is seen walking towards the exit door (through the metal detector – which he set it off) and attempting to leave the building. Because of the security measures in place, the door would not open. FAIR is seen walking back towards the counter. At about 1616 hours, FAIR was seen entering a holding cell and is out of view of the camera. No use of force was seen in this footage. A photo from the camera when FAIR is trying to exit the building was printed and is attached to this report.

The same camera shows FAIR being carried out of the building, through the JDH booking area. FAIR is being carried by four JDH staff members. Once they exit the building at about 2031 hours (on September 17th, 2010), FAIR is out of view of the camera.

The DVD was placed into MCSO evidence – property receipt #B84180.

 DOB – 07/29/1993

ACTION TAKEN:

During the course of this investigation, I collected the DVD of the closed-circuit camera from the booking area when Kyeron FAIR was booked into MDCD from JDH on September 17th, 2010. It should be noted there are two times shown on the video, an hour difference from one another.

The video shows FAIR entering the booking reception area at about 2206 hours/2106 hours (two different times on the screen). FAIR is led to the book counter (left side) and is standing there with a MCSO Corrections Deputy on FAIR'S left side (identified as Deputy Roldan – who was later interviewed), a Deputy standing behind FAIR, and a Deputy standing to the right side of FAIR (identified as Deputy BARKER – who was later interviewed).

At about 2209 hours/2109 hours, the video shows FAIR turning to his right – toward Deputy BARKER and taking a step towards him. FAIR is then placed against the counter (while still standing up) to gain control. It appears FAIR then becomes dead-weight and the three MCSO Corrections Deputies are holding FAIR up. FAIR is then carried to a nearby isolation cell and out of view of the booking camera. The method of carrying FAIR from the booking counter to the isolation cell is a Deputy carry FAIR by his legs while two other Deputies are carrying fair by his arms.

The video shows FAIR being leaving the camera view to enter the isolation cell at about 2210 hours/2110 hours. The DVD was placed into MCSO evidence – property receipt #B84178.

STATEMENTS:

IRVAN, Leo – Multnomah County Correctional Deputy. Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar and I interviewed Leo IRVAN on February 8th, 2011 at about 1019 hours. The interview took place in room 231 (Captain Bishop's Office) at MDCD. Also present was Union Representative Doug Hewitt (MCSO Correctional Deputy). The interview was recorded and attached is the transcript of the interview.

IRVAN said he became involved with Kyeron FAIR when he was requested to do a "two-person transport" of FAIR from MDCD (downtown Portland) to OHSU. He said the transport was done with Deputy James HOWARD and said they drove FAIR in a "patrol car". He said when they started the transport; FAIR was already handcuffed, in leg irons, and secured with belly chains.

IRVAN said he recalled the transportation of FAIR to be "very smoothly", adding FAIR was "cooperative" and that FAIR "didn't talk".

IRVAN said once they arrived at OHSU (which he said was about 1530 hours), he and HOWARD stayed with FAIR until they were relieved at about 2330 hours. He said while at the OHSU, neither he nor HOWARD had any problems with FAIR. He recalled FAIR trying to get up from his hospital bed, but the OHSU security staff were there and "they just strapped him down, umm, with the secure sheet and that was it, 'cuz the nurse is right there and the doctor is right there. So they took over that. We didn't do anything."

.....

HOWARD, James – Multnomah County Correctional Deputy. Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar and I interviewed James HOWARD on February 8th, 2011 at about 1039 hours. The interview took place in room 231 (Captain Bishop's Office) at MDCD. Also present was Union Representative Doug Hewitt (MCSO Correctional Deputy). The interview was recorded and attached is the transcript of the interview.

HOWARD said he and IRVAN transported Kyeron FAIR from MDCD to OHSU for medical evaluation. He said prior to the transport, he went up in the unit where FAIR was located (at MDCD) to observe him. He said he observed FAIR to be "just sitting there, wasn't saying anything, the Lt. was trying to get him to talk but he wouldn't talk to anybody..."

HOWARD said there wasn't anything unusual about the transportation from MCDL to OHSU with FAIR, other than FAIR didn't want to put "some shoes on him, he was bitching while I was putting some shoes on, but other than that, um, there was nothing out of the ordinary."

HOWARD said after arriving at OHSU, he and IRVAN stayed for security purposes for about eight hours. He said while at the hospital, FAIR "got out of control pretty much", which got the attention of hospital staff. He said the hospital security "came in to intervene and did the restraints and stuff like that because I wasn't quite sure of their procedures of how to handle a person like that."

HOWARD said he worked several days after the transport at OHSU, providing security for FAIR. When asked if he noticed any injuries on FAIR during the days he was providing security, HOWARD said, "Um, I was looking but I didn't see anything, you know, so I was looking but I didn't see anything because I was curious as everybody else but I didn't see any injuries and nor did the doctors saw any obvious injuries so, and I was looking, listening to what the doctors were saying, so on and on forth, trying to get some information on this guy but I didn't see any injuries at all."

HOWARD said during his time providing security at OHSU, he had spoken with FAIR'S parents because, "I was concerned about the kid too, if he was a normal kid, you know, a week prior coming to jail, yeah like wow that's strange, because the way he's behaving now is like a whole new person."

When asked if he had heard or seen anyone mishandle FAIR, HOWARD said, "I never heard about anybody saying, Hey this guy did this to this guy, or these people did this to this guy, but I heard the rumors about the altercation at JDH was, of course I'm not there so I can't validate it, I mean um, but as far as, you know, blow-Joe did this to Kyeron, no. No."

HOWARD said he has been employed as a Multnomah County Correction since 1994 (17 years).

Uh, present in the office is Oregon State Police Detective Scot Sudaisar. His DPSST number is 35372. And also union rep Deputy Doug Hewitt, H-e-w-i-t-t. And the person being interviewed is Deputy Leo Irvan, I-r-v-a-n, DPSST number 22759. Uh, Leo, you understand we're being recorded and you're okay with that?

LI: Yes.

JE: All right. So we're talking about Kyeron Fair, he was the 17-year-old that was at JDH for a while, because of some issues was taken to MCDC, uh, and we're just kind of tracking down everybody who had any interaction with Kyeron Fair. And one of the visits to the hospital, uh, it looks like you and Deputy James Howard transported Kyeron to OHSU.

LI: Yes.

JE: And from my notes it looks like September 22nd, 2010, does it sound about right?

LI: Yes, sir.

JE: Okay. Can you, uh, recall that transport?

LI: We were, umm, Lieutenant Poole or medical called me back in that day and said we have a two-man transport to OHSU, umm, to have some tests done on, uh, an inmate.

JE: And they didn't tell you who the inmate was or did you find out when you got to medical?

LI: I, I found out when I got the packet.

JE: And what is the procedures when, for like medical transports?

LI: Well, the two, two-person transport we, umm, get the medical packet and then we, umm, get ready to gear up and get a patrol car and, umm, safely transport the inmate to the, umm, facility where, whatever medical facility he has to go to.

JE: And in this case where was, uh, Kyeron Fair located at MCDCC, what part of the jail?

LI: When I got, umm, my patrol car downstairs he was already downstairs in transfer.

JE: Okay. And was he handcuffed?

LI: Yes, sir.

JE: Was he leg iron cuffed?

LI: He was, he was handcuffed, leg iron and secured with belly chains.

JE: Okay. What information did you have about Kyeron before taking him to OHSU? Did anybody tell you about some of the history or what he was involved with?

LI: Umm, no, that he just basically, umm, he was a two-person transport and he was, umm, a juvenile and that's it.

JE: And when you first, uh, came in contact with Kyeron what was his behavior like?

LI: He just stared at me. He didn't talk.

JE: Okay.

LI: He was very cooperative, he just didn't talk.

JE: Okay. So when you got the transfer, uh, how did that go?

LI: Oh, very smoothly. Umm, Deputy Howard, he seemed to bond more with Deputy Howard so, umm, we walked him to the car, placed him safely back in, in the backseat of the car and secured him in and went up to the hospital.

JE: Okay. And, uh, any issues in the, from the trans-, uh, transfer area to the patrol car, any issues with Kyeron?

LI: No, sir.

JE: Any issues from the actual transport to the hospital with Kyeron?

LI: No, sir.

JE: Any conversations?

LI: He didn't talk.

JE: He didn't talk at all. And then when you got up to the hospital where do you guys normally park?

LI: Right there at the ER in the, where the patrol car designee and then we walked him into, uh, ER and they gave us the, uh, a psych room and we stood by with security. And they, umm, did procedures and tests on him.

JE: Okay. So how long do you think you stood by at the hospital?

LI: It took us, umm, until 11:30 before we got relieved.

JE: Okay. And what time did you get at the hospital do you think?

LI: Oh, we got there at 3-, 3:10.

JE: 3:10 p.m.?

LI: Yes.

JE: So you were there from –

LI: On or about.

JE: So you were there for over eight hours about?

LI: Yes, sir.

JE: Okay. Any issues during those eight hours with Kyeron?

LI: He just, just talked and general talking but, uh, no problem with us. We didn't have a problem with Kyeron.

JE: What, uh, what things were he, was he saying?

LI: Couldn't make sense of it.

JE: Okay.

LI: Couldn't make sense of it. At one point in time, umm, he was, umm, he just try to get up and then security there, who were used to doing what they did, they just strapped him down, umm, with the secure sheet and that was it, 'cuz the nurse is right there and the doctor is right there. So they took over that. We didn't do anything.

JE: Okay. When, uh, you guys do transports is it normal practice to, to do like a pat down before they get in the patrol car?

LI: Umm, he was already, like I said, I was met by, with him with, umm, a barrage of other people, so –

JE: Okay.

LI: – umm, with him being handcuffed and leg ironed I think he was already pat down when I got him.

JE: And did you notice any obvious injuries or anything to him?

LI: No, sir.

JE: Okay.

SS: At any point did he make any complaints about anything? He may have just been rambling but was he making any kind of complaints about any one person or any behavior or treatment?

LI: No, sir.

SS: Was he asking for any help or, uh, was he asking for anybody in particular?

LI: No, sir, he just stared, stared.

SS: When he was trying to get up was, would you, how would you, uh, how would you describe his movement, I mean was it, I don't know, was it aggressive, what it was just passive like, or was he just trying to get up, was, did he have an intent to leave or anything like that?

LI: He, he just got up like and he tried to, but he was already belly chain and a leg iron so when he got up from the, umm, hospital bed a nurse was there to get him some more tests and, umm, she called for security when he kind of like sat up. And, umm, they were there. They were right there. The hospital's, uh, OHSU security was there.

SS: Okay. Did they use any force to, to get him back in a position that was safe for the nurse?

LI: No.

SS: At any time did you witness anybody use any force with Kyeron?

LI: No. No, sir, no force.

SS: How would you, would you be able to describe succinctly how you, what kind of treatment he was receiving?

LI: They actually ran, umm, EKG's, head scan things, ultra sounds, blood tests. They were doing a full test on him.

SS: I'm sorry, I misund-, I misstated what I was asking. When Kyeron was in your presence did you or other officers, umm, use any language with him that may be adversarial or have any, umm, intimidating conduct or anything like that? How would you describe the treatment by the staff?

LI: It was, like I said, it was, umm, Kyeron kind of stared a lot, stared like, a kid who stares and, umm, he, it was not weird because I've been doing this for awhile, it's just, that's the way it was, it was like he stare and then he would just look around and he'd just mumble. And nobody could really understand what he was saying, but it was, it was nothing that I haven't, I'm, I'm not, what I'm trying to say is it's just a normal action of somebody who I thought may be 12-34, I mean I just thought he was, you know, was psyched (can't understand)

SS: Okay.

LI: Yeah.

SS: And that's where they, that's what he was being evaluated for at the hospital?

LI: I think so. I don't know 'cuz it's a packet, we don't, uh -

SS: Right.

LI: -- we don't open the packet. We get him there and then they, then medical opens the packet and then they direct us to whatever department, but everybody was coming to him more than anything.

SS: Okay. But they directed him to a psych room?

LI: Yes, sir. Yes, sir.

SS: Okay. Did you see or hear anything that would be, you know, constitute mistreatment -

LI: No, sir.

SS: -- to Kyeron?

LI: No, they treated him real good.

SS: Okay.

LI: Treat him real good.

JE: So the only other contact you might have had with Kyeron was maybe doing lunch relief?

LI: Well, he was up there, they kept him and so I had to give the deputies lunch relief every day while I'm in that position of 732. And, you know, from 11:00 to 12:00 cuz there'll be two deputies always up there.

JE: Okay. And then during the lunch relief any issues with Kyeron that you noticed?

LI: Umm, the nurse, he had more medical staff around him, umm, than deputies so they were alw-, every time I arrived medical staff was working with him, whatever procedures they were doing.

JE: And what was his behavior like, uh, after you transport him, when you went up there to do the relief?

LI: Sometimes he'd be sleep. Sometimes he just be staring, be asleep.

JE: But any aggressive behavior that you saw?

LI: No, sir.

JE: And just to clarify, you didn't witness any, uh, employee of the sheriff's office or any hospital staff or security, uh, use degrading language against Kyeron?

LI: No, sir.

JE: Okay. Or use any force against Kyeron?

LI: No, sir.

JE: Unnecessary force?

LI: No, sir.

JE: Okay.

SS: That, when you received that packet and then Kyeron was brought to your patrol car for transfer –

LI: Yes, sir.

SS: – was that your first direct contact with Kyeron?

LI: Yes, sir.

SS: Had you heard about him before that?

LI: It was a briefing item, but like many briefing items, umm, some I listen, some I don't.

SS: Okay. Did you have, oh, I'm sorry, at 11:30 that night, did you transport, transport him back to the jail?

LI: No. We were relieved by two other deputies.

SS: Okay. Do you know who you were relieved by?

LI: Yeah. Deputy Branch and Deputy Thompson.

SS: And that was about 11:30?

LI: Yeah.

SS: What's your regular shift?

LI: 3-, uh, 7:00 to 3:30.

JE: How long have you worked at the sheriff's office?

LI: 22 in May. 23 years.

JE: And all correction?

LI: Yes, sir.

JE: Did you work anywhere else before the sheriff's office?

LI: Yes.

JE: Uh, in corrections or law enforcement?

LI: Uh, no, uh, security, an investigator for Fred Meyers Corporation.

JE: Okay. Perfect. Uh, and you were wearing your uniform transporting?

LI: Yes, sir.

JE: Okay. Perfect. Anything else you can think of that –

LI: No, sir.

JE: All right. Doug, anything?

DH: Nope.

JE: All right, I'm gonna go ahead and conclude the interview. The time is 10:31.

TAPED INTERVIEW / CORR DEPUTY JAMES HOWARD

February 8, 2011 – 10:39 a.m.

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

JE: Detective James Eriksen, MCSO, DPSST 28931
SS: Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar, DPSST 35372
JH: Corrections Deputy James Howard, DPSST 29892
DH: Corrections Officer Doug Hewitt, DPSST 19963, Union Rep

JE: Today is February 8, 2011; the time is 1039. This is Detective James Eriksen, Multnomah County Sheriff's Office, 28931. I'm in room 231 in the Captain's Office at MCDC. Also in the office is Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar and his number is 35372; also present is union rep Deputy Doug Hewitt, H-E-W-I-T-T; and the person being interviewed is Deputy James Howard, DPSST 29892. And James you see that we're being recorded and you're okay with that?

JH: Yes.

JE: All right, so we're here to talk about Kyeron Fair, looks like you had some interactions with him. What we'll talk about first is the transport, his second transport to OHSU which is on or near September 22, 2010 and from my investigation, or our investigation, it looks like you and Leo did the transport, do you recall that?

JH: Yes I do.

JE: Okay, what can you recall from that transport?

JH: Um, I can recall, even before prior the transport, I was up in the unit he was at, 4D, the psych unit and um Lieutenant Pool wanted me to do the transport, so I'd like to go see what I was transporting first, but uh he was just sitting there, wasn't saying anything, the Lt was trying to get him to talk but he wouldn't talk to anybody, um, he wasn't acting or saying anything at that point in time, and when they brought him down to transfer was the first time I heard him say anything, um, but um, there was nothing unusual about the transport, um, and he knew of the transport at that point in time, in this transport I think he didn't want to wear his shoes, or something was only the little hesitation he had, yeah, I think he didn't have his shoes on, I went to put some shoes on him, he was bitching while I was putting some shoes on, but other than that, um, there was nothing out of the ordinary.

JE: Okay, so no use of force was used during transport?

JH: No.

JE: All right, when he first said something to you, like I think you said in the transfer room area, what did he say or what -

JH: I think he was saying he wanted no shoes on.

JE: Okay it was about the shoes –

JH: Yeah and he didn't want to put the shoes on; he said, Oh no shoes on, no shoes on, something like that –

JE: And during that time did you notice any injuries or anything on Kyeron?

JH: No injuries.

JE: Okay.

JH: I didn't notice anything.

JE: Did Kyeron act like he was injured?

JH: Um, no.

JE: Did he act like he was scared?

JH: He was, he was, his behavior was unusual, you know, but he wouldn't say, my arm, my head, my feet, my toes and nothing like that.

JE: Okay.

JH: Well I can tell you something was wrong with the guy but what it was I don't know.

JE: And when you guys transport, do you, you and Leo are in the front seat and Kyeron in the back seat?

JH: Yeah.

JE: And who was driving?

JH: Good question. I think Leo was.

JE: Okay, that's okay, it's a few months ago. So was there any conversation or anything in the car with Kyeron?

JH: I think he, we had no conversation but I think he had like a little meltdown like um, shoes, screaming stuff I can't recall right now, but there wasn't no conversation like you know, Hey man what's going on with you, nothing like that, um, he might have had an outburst or two but no conversation that I recall.

JE: Okay, it's a pretty short drive to the hospital.

JH: Yeah the hospital is only five, ten minutes.

JE: Did he bang around in the back at all, bang his head, or kick?

JH: No.

JE: Okay.

JH: I think he was moving about, probably uncomfortable with it, but there was no banging, no kicking, no screaming -

JE: Okay.

JH: I mean nothing like that, he wasn't trying to hurt himself or wasn't trying to hurt us or nothing like that.

JE: Okay. So when you get to the hospital, what's the procedure?

JH: Well they knew we was coming and which is a plus, this is the first, I hate when they just drop somebody off and go hey, this guy's all yours, or bring him to get some type of assessment, but uh, he pretty much walked in and they wasn't really ready for him, I mean so we kind of like stood around waiting for somebody to make a decision about, you know, who's going to take him where and, you know, oh they didn't have the information, enough information to go, Hey we're going to put him in this room or that room, or you know, just wait here; and I thinking it was already cleared up at that point but it wasn't, so it was kind of like no one couldn't point us in the right direction in that point in time. But anyway we finally talked to the nurses staff there and they decided to give him a room over here, and they kept asking me, What's wrong with him? And I said, Well M'am I really don't know what's wrong with him, you know what I mean, um, so I just gave them the information I had and whatever the doctors wrote on the medical package and I gave it to them, and um, and basically they did an assessment and started asking him questions so on and so forth but it wasn't getting really far at first; he wasn't really giving them feedback.

JE: Did you know about what time of the day that you guys got at the hospital?

JH: It was definitely our shift, "C" shift here, day shift, but I don't recall off the top of my head but it was towards the end of the shift, I would say, I would guess between 1 and 2:30'ish, 3 probably.

JE: Oaky.

JH: Yeah, I was still on duty.

JE: And do you know about how long you were at the hospital that day?

JH: That day, uh, I think I, I might have done a double day that day, I'm not sure. I did a lot of doubles with him.

JE: Okay.

JH: Yeah, but I'm not quite sure exactly that particular day, but I did a lot of doubles with that guy, yeah.

JE: So after –

JH: And I'll tell you what, I was relieved by, I think it was Branch and somebody, so yeah, two deputies relieved me that day; it was, yeah, I went home like 11, 11:30 swing shift, the end of swing shift.

JE: So you're probably at the hospital like eight hours or nine hours or so?

JH: Oh yeah. Yeah easy from, I worked from 1:30 to like 11, 11:30, yeah.

JE: Okay. And during that time anything stands out about Kyeron's behavior or anything that he said?

JH: I mean he was acting weird, he was yelling and started screaming eventually, something about didn't want to be there, um, wasn't quite, I don't know if he was continuing it, I didn't have any information on this guy, but he didn't know where he was at, didn't know why he was here, uh, just stuff like that. At one point in time he got a little out of hand.

JE: And then when he got out of hand what happened, or who tried to control it?

JH: Uh, well he was already in leg irons and belly chains already so it wasn't like he was going nowhere, you know what I mean.

JE: Okay.

JH: Uh, he first got out of control pretty much, you know he just made sounds; he made sounds, and when he really got out of control, he got the attention of the, the hospital staff –

JE: Okay.

JH: - that's when their security staff came in to intervene and did the restraints and stuff like that because I wasn't quite sure of their procedures of how to handle a person like that.

JE: So after that night, you came back to the hospital to do like overtime shifts to do-

JH: I did regular shifts there, I did overtime shifts there, and I must have done at least six or seven shifts there.

JE: Okay.

JH: Just guessing, and sometimes for 16 hours straight.

JE: Okay.

JH: Yeah.

JE: Okay, so you spent a lot of time with Kyeron?

JH: Yeah.

JE: And would you be in the room or would you be in a room across watching through a camera?

JH: As close to him as we are right now.

JE: Okay, so right, a foot or two either way.

JH: Yeah.

JE: Anything during those six or eight shifts that stand out, good, bad? Any conversations?

JH: He may have had bad behavior that's why he had two deputies with him because he just wouldn't um, he wouldn't, he wouldn't, yeah he'd have these loud outbursts, he wouldn't face you, he had restraints on at all times, um, just yelling crazy stuff that had nothing to do what we were talking about. Uh, he did have issues when I was up there and then he'd calm down, he would go Howard this, Howard that, um, but the only good thing I guess when his mom and dad came a few times that he somewhat acted okay at that point in time, I mean but they'd see a definite change in him, they was very concerned with his behavior from what they told me he was to what I saw, you know what I mean; they said just a week prior to him coming here he was perfect kid, not perfect kid, but he didn't have the issues that he has now.

JE: Okay.

JH: So -

TAPED INTERVIEW / CORR DEPUTY JAMES HOWARD

February 8, 2011 – 10:39 a.m.

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

Page 6 of 11

JE: So during your numerous times with Kyeron did you notice anybody use excessive force on him or language you know that might be like degrading or anything to Kyeron?

JH: No, no. No. No.

JE: Okay.

JH: I never seen anybody put hands on him, everybody said, Hey man, blah-blah-blah-blah, not on the shifts when I was with him, no.

JE: Okay. During your time with Kyeron did you notice any injuries to him, either face, arms, legs, anything that you could see outside the clothes?

JH: Um, I was looking but I didn't see anything, you know, so I was looking but I didn't see anything because I was just curious as everybody else but I didn't see any injuries and nor did the doctors saw any obvious injuries so, and I was looking, listening to what the doctors were saying, so on and so forth, trying to get some information on this guy but I didn't see any injuries at all.

JE: Okay. So –

JH: I'm not saying he didn't have any, I just didn't see any.

JE: Right. So out of all your transports you've done, have you had inmates who have acted worse or in the similar –

JH: Uh, transport wasn't bad –

JE: Right.

JH: - it was just when he gets to the hospital is when things were out of control I guess at times; but transport wasn't –

JE: So at the hospital was Kyeron the worst inmate ever up there or –

JH: In my experience, yes. Yes, yeah, yeah.

JE: Okay.

JH: He was, he had to, he had to be restrained at all times. Yeah, yeah, I wouldn't, if he wasn't restrained I'd assumed he'd easily venture into the hallways, you know, or run down the hallway or what have you, you know, yeah.

JE: So I'm sure when you've been in the room with him, you tried to have somewhat, some type of conversation –

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

Page 7 of 11

JH: Many times I tried to have a conversation with him, have a conversation with him.

JE: And did anything work or did, or do you recall anything that he actually was able to understand?

JH: Well once I found out that he played sports in high school or wherever, I said, Hey man, who's your favorite basketball player, you like Kobe Bryant or LeBron James, or just trying to get him to talk, you know, and he go, Who's that, who's that, who's that. And the next five minute he goes, Yeah I like Kobe, you know so I don't know if he was playing with me or what, you know, I'm just trying, you know, to make some conversation with him, you know what I mean, um, so.

JE: Okay.

JH: Little things like that, I asked him, I think he went to Parkrose High School, or something, so I asked him about Parkrose High School, and get him to talk but he, he gave me very little conversation.

JE: Okay.

SS: Was he making any requests for any specific person, or asking for anybody to visit him or anything like that?

JH: I heard him, the time I was up there, he screamed my name after I left from what I hear, you know, where's Howard, I want Howard, I want Howard, where's Howard, so whoever came on shift after I left, I heard he kept screaming my name and he wanted to see me, where's Howard, where's Howard.

SS: He had comfort with you being around.

JH: I think so, I think so, I think he was, I think his parents were, I talked to his parents, um, because I was concerned about the kid too, if he was a normal kid, you know, a week prior coming to jail, yeah like wow that's strange, because the way he's behaving now is like a whole new person.

SS: But if that made you curious, so you were looking at him, what kinds of things were you looking at for Kyeron, what were you trying to figure out?

JH: I was talking about up here, you know, his school, yeah he's been, I mean something happened to him devastating to make you turn from, you know, person A to person B, like I was just kind of like startled, you know.

SS: Could you see any evidence that would have caused him to turn from person A to person B?

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

Page 8 of 11

JH: No.

SS: You didn't see anything, you just don't know what –

JH: I don't know what, I have no idea, yeah I was asking, Hey man what happened, what's going on, you know, but he just, he wouldn't really communicate.

SS: But your experience with him was more of a mental –

JH: Yeah, yeah.

SS: That's what I'm gathering from your observation –

JH: Yeah, right, exactly.

SS: When Kyeron was here in 4D, did he have constant medical observation at that time?

JH: I think –

SS: Or routine medical observation?

JH: I think he was –

SS: Because that's a psych ward, right.

JH: Yeah it's a psych ward, I think he was, but like I say, when I'm given an assignment to transport, I just, I didn't know the guy prior to that, you know what I mean, so I think he was on some type of watch I think.

SS: So he's on some kind of watch there in the psych ward –

JH: Right.

SS: - and you get to transport him to the hospital.

SS: And the hospital staff, what kind of room did they put him in, did they put him in a medical like an ER room, did they take him to the psych ward or what?

JH: I think at first he was, I think he was in a medical room at first, or just your little average emergency room there, then we moved from there a few hours later to, I wouldn't call it a psych ward because he wasn't in the psych ward when I was up there, you know, I think he got moved to the psych ward maybe the next day or whatever.

SS: Okay.

JH: Because he was in just like a regular, like a meeting type room.

SS: Okay, but it wasn't like an ER room?

JH: Well ER, yeah, ER room type thing. Yeah. And so I guess, I know for sure it wasn't a psych unit at that point in time.

SS: Okay.

JH: I know for sure it wasn't a psych room.

SS: Okay, I guess what, I'll be more direct with my question –

JH: Okay.

SS: When you got him up to OHSU were they examining him for external injuries or physical injuries, or were they more dealing with internal –

JH: They weren't dealing with this, I never, I never heard them say, you know, are you hurt here, are you hurt there, you know what I'm saying, they did, but I don't recall if they went all over his body, but at one point they did, I mean on the first day it was more him just here.

SS: So they were, so what you're saying when you first got him there they were concerned with his mental condition –

JH: Right, right, exactly what I'm saying.

SS: So he was under observation in the psych ward here, when he got there they started looking at the mental condition, and less at any physical injuries?

JH: That's what I recall. Yeah.

SS: Okay.

JH: Because even at that point I wasn't worried about his physical condition, I was worried about his mental condition also because he was just acting weird.

SS: You had an opportunity to speak with his mom and dad?

JH: Uh-huh.

SS: They're pretty concerned –

JH: Yeah.

TAPED INTERVIEW / CORR DEPUTY JAMES HOWARD

February 8, 2011 – 10:39 a.m.

MCSO Case No. 10-405941

SS: - about their son. Do they express what their concerns would be, or do they express what they thought may have happened to trigger their son to go from a normal mental status to an altered mental status?

JH: They was more concerned about what happened like, What happened to our son? I said, man I don't know I wasn't here when he came here, I wasn't here at JDH, they wanted answers from me and I couldn't give them, I mean I said, hey man I don't know, I wasn't here, I just met the guy yesterday or last night, or whatever, so I don't know what happened to him. So they wanted answers from me. I mean they were worried something happened to him, they thought, they said they felt there was some physical stuff happened to him, I mean they tried to figure out where did it happen, who did it, blah-blah-blah; I said, M'am once again, I have no idea, you know, I'm just assigned to the cell yesterday or whatever it was.

SS: So they thought something had been done physically to him -

JH: Yeah. Yes.

SS: - and he'd be traumatized.

JH: They definitely thought that part yes.

SS: Okay, but you never saw anything like that?

JH: Not at all.

SS: Did you see or hear anybody say that, did you hear any rumors or anything about anybody doing anything roughly to Kyeron or speaking to him roughly or intimidating so much that he was scared into this mental state?

JH: I never heard about anybody saying, Hey this guy did this to this guy, or these people did this to this guy, but I heard the rumors about the altercation at JDH was, of course I'm not there so I can't validate it, I mean um, but as far as, you know, blow-Joe did this to Kyeron, No. No.

SS: Okay.

JE: How long have you worked for the Sheriff's Office?

JH: Since '94.

JE: And did you work in Corrections or Law Enforcement before that?

JH: No.

TAPED INTERVIEW / CORR DEPUTY JAMES HOWARD

On February 24th, 2011, Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar and I interviewed Kyeron FAIR. The location took place at 1058 hours at the Oregon State Police Office (8085 SE Deer Creek Lane in Milwaukie, Oregon). Present during the interview was Kyeron's mother (Kelli JARRELL) and Kyeron's civil attorney (Jason KAFOURY).

This second interview with Kyeron FAIR was done because he had some more memory back about this investigation than he did when he was interviewed in late 2010 in Corvallis, Oregon at the Brillium Children's Facility. The interview was recorded and a copy of the transcript is attached. See STATEMENTS section of this report for a summary of the interview.

After the interview was concluded, I left the Oregon State Police Office. When I left, Kyeron FAIR, Jason KAFOURY, and Kelli JARRELL were still talking in a small interview room at the Office.

A couple of hours later, I received an e-mail from Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar. The e-mail had additional information told to Detective Sudaisar from Kyeron FAIR. Detective Sudaisar requested I include the information he was given after the interview in this report. The following is the e-mail (in full) from Detective Sudaisar regarding the additional information:

James,

Kyeron and his mother asked to speak with me before they left. I met with them in the interview room. Mr. Kafoury had departed and they told me he had recommended they share this information with me.

Kyeron wanted us to know that he has a memory to share, but he is unsure if it is a dream or reality. He remembers at least one Deputy, there may have been more, rode with him in the ambulance to OHSU. The Deputy he remembers is Deputy Foster. Deputy Foster is described as a WMA, average height, stocky-muscular build, short brown or black hair cut to a length about 3". He remembers Deputy Foster told him to "Stop crying." He remembers Deputy Foster said something to the effect, [Don't do the crime if you can't do the time.]

Kyeron was treated by Dr. Chen at Trillium in Corvallis. Dr. Chen told him he also treated and observed Kyeron at OHSU. Dr. Chen said the deputies told him, while Kyeron was at OHSU, that Kyeron was faking it. Dr. Chen said it was obvious something was wrong with Kyeron. Dr. Chen said the deputies aren't trained to make mental health diagnoses.

Please add that to your report.

BTW...Kyeron's mom is mostly concerned about the medical staff's, and corrections (at MCDC and JDH), inability to immediately recognize a mental health problem and obtain appropriate services immediately. She is also concerned about the physical symptoms that were revealed while at OHSU the second time. She mentioned receiving a phone call that Kyeron had been transferred to ICU, but the good news was that he was breathing on his own again. She lacks medical answers to these issues.

During the interview with Kyeron FAIR, he talked about spitting on a "Deputy Bunker" and being hit in his chest by "Deputy Bunker". It should be noted that Deputy Barker wrote a special report documenting that FAIR spat on him. This occurred on October 1st, 2010 and during the incident, Deputy Barker said he placed the spit sock on FAIR'S head. It should be noted that Deputy Barker did not document any fist strikes to FAIR'S chest. It should also be noted that this happened after FAIR was being treated for the pneumomediastinum.

STATEMENTS:

FAIR, Kyeron – Inmate at JDH/MCDC during this date of this incident. FAIR was interviewed on February 24th, 2011 at about 1058 hours. The location of the interview was the Oregon State Police Office in Milwaukie, Oregon (8085 SE Deer Creek Lane) in a large conference room. Also present during the interview was Oregon State Police Detective Scott Sudaisar, Kyeron FAIR'S mother (Kellie ARRELL), and Kyeron FAIR'S civil attorney (Jason KAFOURY). The interview was audio recorded and a copy of the audio compact disc was placed into property (at MCSO – Hansen Building). Attached to this report is the transcript of the interview.

In reference to Kyeron FAIR'S memory of his time at the Portland Police Bureau (before being transferred to JDH), he said the following:

- "I remember when we were leaving the station after I, before I had got fingerprinted he was talking to his partner 'cuz when I first got there I asked can I get an attorney and my mom 'cuz they wanted to question to me. And then we were basically getting fingerprinted he, he told his partner that's how you know if a kid is guilty or not, when he asks for his attorney or his mom when he first gets in the office."
- Kyeron FAIR said the person who made that comment to him was "Detective Hollins".

In reference to Kyeron FAIR'S memory of being tasered, he said the following:

- FAIR said he remembered being tasered from JDH "when I was going to the car I was trying to step on the officer's shoe.
- FAIR said the "officer" elbowed him in his stomach and in his chest for trying to step on his shoe. He said he was standing "side to side" with the officer and "I was trying to step on his toes." He said the officer elbowed him "like three" times. When asked if he fell to the ground, complained or cried after being elbowed, Kyeron FAIR said "no".

- FAIR said after the third time of being elbowed, he "just stopped and just walked into the car with him (the officer) and got in the back."
- "I remember it was raining and I was outside and I got thrown to the ground and tasered, or I was either standing up but somehow I hit the ground 'cuz I have a scrape on my shoulder from last time I showed you from (can't understand) and then I remember being handcuffed and walking towards the car and trying to step on the shoe. And then when I had got in the back of the car, back of the van it was a officer sitting with me in the back of the van. And then after that it's basically blank. I don't remember anything until October 21st when I woke up at Trillium Farm Home, Children's Farm Home. And then basically the stuff for like you're safe, you're here at Children's Farm Home in Corvallis. This is a mental health hospital. And then later on when my mom came and visit me that week she was able to tell me like you had a mental breakdown and basically tell me what happened.
- When asked if he recalled how many times he was tasered at JDH, Kyeron FAIR said, "I remember the officer counting to ten."
- Kyeron FAIR said he was tasered with the "probes" in his left forearm. He said he had been using "cocoa butter to clear it up, but it used to be pink..."

In reference to Kyeron FAIR'S memory of being at the hospital, he said the following:

- "I remember I was watching the, watching ESPN and I seen Michael Vick on the television. And I don't know for some odd reason I thought that was my little brother had made it to the N, NFL, and for some odd reason. It was, uh, basically saying that he had broke, remember when he had broke his wrist against the Washington Redskins? I was thinking that he was coming to the hospital to visit me, so, and I don't know. I don't know, I was just saying like I got to save him. And then I remember going to my IV and biting it out. And then trying to swallow the IV thing. And I remember Bunker, Officer Bunker saying what are you doing, what are you doing, opening my mouth and pulling it out of my mouth. And then called a nurse and the nurse helped me. And then I still got the little IV marks from when I ripped it out from here to here."

In reference to being at the jail, Kyeron FAIR made the following comments:

- "That was when I was at the jail transported from the van and JDH. And basically I was handcuffed and I had my hands in the slot and when they were releasing the cuffs they would tell me move your hands from the pouch, move your hands from the thing. And I was saying, no, no, no, I got to talk to you, I got a actual question, no, no, no, I need to talk to you, no, no, no, I need to talk to you. And he said move your hands, this is the last time I'm gonna tell you move your hands. And I kept 'em there and then I seen his foot coming up to slam the thing and he slammed that, uh, thing shut and I just moved my hands out, so they didn't get smashed."
- Attorney Jason Kafoury asked Kyeron FAIR, "Do you remember, uh, you said you remember some pellets or a bean gun or something like that being shot at you" and Kyeron FAIR responded, "I can't really remember". Jason Kafoury then said, "Uh, I have, uh, uh, yeah, these are my notes so its' possible...that's something he talked to me about...separately."

In reference to "Officer Bunker" hitting Kyeron FAIR'S chest with his knuckle, Kyeron FAIR said:

- "When I was trying to spit on him. And I don't know why I was trying to spit on him, but I think it was like, 'cuz he seemed a little more aggressive when he first started working with me and that was like he only worked with me one time so I think after like he was kind of fed up with me trying to spit on him and stuff so he never came back to work, to work with me at the hospital 'cuz I don't remember seeing him again. And I think, and he was quick..."
- "And I think he had knew that 'cuz I had to ask my mom did I spit on a deputy. And she was like, yes, you spit on Officer Johnson, one of my friends. And I was like, like I couldn't remember that. I just rem-, I don't remember, I just remember spitting. And then like I remember like soon as Bunker got to work, it was basically like the spit socket on my head and then he had asked me, are you gonna spit? And I'd be like no. And then I was like, I remember like going (clearing throat sound), like that then he had immediately just put the spit socket on me. And then I remember like getting it on his, like on his body somewhere. And I remember that's when it was like (slapping sound) on my chest. And then he was like don't spit on me, don't you ever spit on me. And then that was like the grabbing on the head like this and then he just stuck the spit socket over me. And then even when I wasn't gonna spit and he'd take the spit socket off, like 30 minutes, a hour later he would take the spit socket off and I remember I wasn't even spitting like and then he had come in and just put it back on my head. And then he was like I'm gonna try to feed you now. And then I remember him just feeding me after that. And then after that the night went good, he just sat and I eventually fell asleep."

- Kyeron FAIR said he didn't remember why he spat on Officer Johnson and had "no explanation for it".

Near the beginning of the interview, Detective Scott Sudaisar asked Kyeron FAIR if he had any "memory of anybody mistreating" him while he was in custody at JDH or at the adult jail and Kyeron FAIR said "no".

Kyeron FAIR said he started to become aware of his surroundings while at the Trillium hospital on October 21st, 2010 (he first arrived at Trillium in Corvallis on October 13th – per Kyeron FAIR'S memory).

Detective Scott Sudaisar asked Kyeron FAIR, "Do you have, other than the time that you were tased and you, and you got elbows from, from the deputy, do you remember at any time any staff member, umm, physically touching you or physically assaulting you?" and Kyeron FAIR replied by saying, "no".

JE: DETECTIVE JAMES ERIKSEN, Multnomah County Sheriff's Office
KF: KYERON FAIR
KJ: KELLI JARRELL
JK: JASON KAFOURY, Attorney at Law

SS: Today is Thursday, February 24th, 2011. The time is 10:58 a.m., according to my watch. I am Detective Scott Sudaisar, S-u-d-a-i-s-a-r, from the Oregon State Police. My DPSST number is 35372. Umm, also present is Multnomah County Sheriff's Office Detective James Eriksen, No. 28931. We are here to interview Kyeron Fair, that's K-y-e-r-o-n and Fair is F-a-i-r. Umm, he is accompanied by his mother Kelli Jarrell, K-e-l-l-i J-a-r-r-e-l-l and his, and their attorney, his attorney, their attorney –

JK: His attorney.

SS: Kyeron's attorney, uh, Jason Kafoury, K-a-f-o-u-r-y. Uh, this is a matter related to Oregon State Police case No. 10-401186 and MCSO case No. 10-405941. We agreed beforehand that we would record this interview. And, Kyeron, do you understand that we're recording?

KF: Yes.

SS: Okay. Hey, Kyeron, can you start just, uh, let me know your birthday again, if you don't mind.

KF: July 29th, 1993.

SS: Okay. And what's your phone number?

KF: 503-252-3321.

SS: Thank you. All right. And you've had a chance to speak with your mother and Mr. Kaufoury and we laid out, uh, a plan about what we're gonna talk about today. What we'd like you to do is talk about what you remember from the point of arrest forward up until this date. Okay. And when you have specific memories that you indep-, independently recollect let us know those. Umm, if you've heard things, umm, or people have told you that they saw things happen to you let us know what you heard about and if you remember who told you then let us know who that was, and also if there's anything that you heard from staff or other professional services people let us know, so we know what the source of the memory is.

KF: Okay.

SS: Okay. Go ahead and begin, please.

KF: Okay. I remember from downtown being transported to JDH.

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: And then from there to my cell and then I don't remember anything that happened while I was there.

SS: Okay.

KF: But then I got transported to the hospital. And then from there to Farm Home and then, do you want to talk about what I remember?

SS: Please.

KF: Okay. Then I remember that when I was tasered from JDH, I remember when I was going to the car I was trying to step on the officer's shoe.

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: And him elbowing me in my stomach and in my chest for trying to step on his shoe. And then I remember having dreams at Trillium because I was, I was having nightmares and dreams like with the officers and then them asking me questions and if I answered wrong or something, I was having dreams of falling into hell or going into heaven if I answered the right questions. And these dreams was on a daily, like day by day by day.

SS: Okay.

KF: And then I would just get up and think like, like this is not true, this is just a dream. And then I met with my therapist and told him about the dreams that I was having. And he basically told me the same thing, just say they're, just take a brief like timeout, like basically take five minutes to think like is that true, did this happen, did that happen.

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: So I did that. And then the dreams stopped coming. And then Russell Atkins, a juvenile from JDH came to Children's Farm Home and he told me, oh, well, dude, it took like six staff to control you while you were in your cell, man, you're a strong kid. And then when I went back to J, JDH kids told me, I don't know his last name but Warif, oh, Warif Mufasa told me, uh, you thought your food was poison and every time they served you food you'd smell it and then put it down and say you wasn't eating it. And then Marcel Upton, Trevon Miniweather and

TAPED INTERVIEW, KYERON FAIR

Carlos, I can't remember his last name, Carlos, they said that the staff came around and came to their cells and took them out one by one, (can't understand) do you know this kid, do you know Kyeron Fair, have you hung out with him outside of jail.

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: And like does he normally act like this, is, is he faking, is this how he acts when he's not in, not in here. And they told me that. And then basically my basketball coach, my old basketball coach from Parkrose High School told me, uh, I was calling him dad and I really didn't know him and I didn't recognize him. And also Michael Spencer were one of the staff that came in there to checkup on me and basically see how I was doing. And then I met him last week and he asked me did I recognize him and did I remember him. And I couldn't remember him.

SS: So for clarification, Michael Spencer works at JDH?

KF: Yes.

SS: And he, he told you that when you were there the first time –

KF: Yes.

SS: -- he was trying to help you out and he wanted to know if you remembered him?

KF: Yes.

SS: Okay. Your, uh, do you, you, you remember being moved from, uh, the Portland Police Bureau to JDH?

KF: Yes.

SS: Okay. Do you remember was that in a police car?

KF: Yes.

SS: And what do you remember about being placed in your cell and being admitted at JDH?

KF: Nothing really.

SS: Or do you just remember the drive?

KF: Just remember driving there and then taking off my property, my clothes and changing into their clothes.

SS: Okay.

KF: I remember when we were leaving the station after I, before I had got fingerprinted he was talking to his partner 'cuz when I first got there I asked can I get an attorney and my mom 'cuz they wanted to question me. And then we were basically getting fingerprinted he, he told his partner that's how you know if a kid is guilty or not, when he asks for his attorney or his mom when he first gets in the office.

SS: That was at the Portland Police Bureau or at JDH?

KF: Portland Police Bureau.

SS: Okay. At Port-, at PPB. Do you know who said that?

KF: Detective Hollins.

SS: Hollins?

KF: Yes.

SS: Is that how he said it or did he say anything else?

KF: That's how he said it.

SS: Okay.

KF: And then like when I first got transported from, from Trillium to, back to the detention, I mean back to MCDC the second time on January 30th -

SS: Yeah, yeah, okay.

KF: -- when I was transferred back, once I was getting off the bus I had chain links on my ankles and I was getting off the bus and I asked, basically asked the guy to like help me down. Well, I was just moving too slow and he was just like don't fall because I'm not gonna catch you. And then the other det-, or the other officer, Aljets, his last name is Aljets, he said excuse me to the officer and then grabbed my arm and helped me down the stairs. And then when I was walking inside I asked the officer can I call my mom to let me, let her know that I'm down here. And he was basically like this is not TV. And then at the release hearing there were, there were officers that transported me up to court and when I was in the holding cell the officer didn't see me in the cell, or I don't know if he seen me or not seen me, but I was sitting in my cell and he was looking at the paper and was like, oh, we got a transfer Kyeron Fair to court and he was like, oh, that Kyeron kid is a crazy mother, or he's a nutty mother f'er and then -

SS: You can cuss, it's okay.

KF: Oh, he was a n-, a nutty mother fucker. And then I was, then I just looked at him and then he looked at me and just was like, oh, well, he was a nutty mother fucker, mother fucker. And then after that I just, after that I went to court.

SS: That transport officer, was that at JDH?

KF: No, that was at, uh, courthouse.

SS: At the courthouse.

KF: Yes.

KJ: The old one.

SS: At the old courthouse. Do you know who that officer was who said that?

KF: No.

KJ: He was in the courtroom (can't understand)

SS: Okay. These things that the, the other children talked to you about while you were at JDH, umm, you being, umm, it requiring six staff members to control you, uh, you thinking your food was poison and you wouldn't eat it; do you remember any of that or is that just what they've told you?

KF: I remember the food part.

SS: What do, what do you remember about the food?

KF: I remember smelling all my food, like basically any food that they brought to me I smelled.

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: But I don't remember the specific staff and I don't remember them asking people did they know me or have they hung out with me outside of jail.

SS: When you talk to your friends, when Carlos and, uh, I don't remember what you said, Merriweather –

KF: Trevon Miniweather.

SS: Trevon Merriweather.

KF: Miniweather and –

SS: Mini, Miniweather?

KF: Yes. And Marcel Upton.

SS: And what about Carlos?

KF: Uh, they just basically said that, yeah, Carlos too, they just basically said that, the same thing like they asked, they was asking people about you.

SS: Did they tell you if the staff was asking those questions while you were there or after you left?

KF: While I was there.

SS: While you were there?

KF: Yes.

SS: So they were trying to figure out –

KF: What was wrong with me.

SS: -- what was wrong with you. Okay.

KJ: And Marcel Upton's father is the one who approached Kyeron's dad to give him information about some stuff that was going on with Kyeron –

SS: Okay.

KJ: -- that Marcel was relaying back to his dad.

SS: Okay.

KJ: And that was when I told you he said this isn't the time or the place.

SS: Right.

KJ: Umm, it was a birthday party, you know, adults and (can't understand)

SS: Okay.

KJ: And that was Marcel Upton's dad.

SS: Okay.

KJ: Who stopped Kyeron's dad.

SS: Okay.

KJ: And that was in November, umm, I remember –

SS: We can talk about that a little bit, too. I don't know if, uh, do you at this point know what he wanted to talk about, what he, what information he had to share, or was it just this kind of stuff?

KJ: He just brought up that his son had relayed to him that Kyeron would be screaming through the whole night.

SS: Uh-huh.

KJ: And, umm, that's when he said then this isn't the time or the place, but.

SS: Okay.

KJ: You know, that's what he was telling him, man, something's going on with your, something was going on with your son because, you know, Marcel had told me that he would be screaming all through the night.

SS: Okay. So what I'm, what I'm gathering from what Marcel Upton's dad said to you was that they were concerned about Kyeron and his condition there –

KJ: Correct.

SS: -- at that time?

KJ: Correct.

SS: Okay. But they weren't saying that he was being abused at the time, they were just concerned?

KJ: Yeah, 'cuz he didn't go –

SS: 'Cuz he, he didn't go into details.

KJ: He didn't go into details, right.

SS: Right, okay. Do you have any memory of anybody mistreating you while you were in custody at JDH or at the adult jail?

KF: No.

SS: Do you remember being at the adult jail?

KF: No.

SS: Okay. Do you rem-, you said you remembered the tasing incident at JDH. Can you tell me about, what do you remember about that, that whole scene?

KF: I remember it was raining and I was outside and I got thrown to the ground and tasered, or I was either standing up but somehow I hit the ground 'cuz I have a scrape on my shoulder from last time I showed you from (can't understand) and then I remember being handcuffed and walking towards the car and trying to step on the shoe. And then when I had got in the back of the car, back of the van it was a officer sitting with me in the back of the van. And then after that it's basically blank. I don't remember anything until October 21st when I woke up at Trillium Farm Home, Children's Farm Home. And then basically the stuff for like you're safe, you're here at Children's Farm Home in Corvallis. This is a mental health hospital. And then later on when my mom came and visit me that week she was able to tell me like you had a mental breakdown and basically tell me what happened.

SS: So are you saying that you, you started to become aware of what was going on when you got to Trillium?

KF: Yeah, October 21st. I had got there the 13th. And then on the 21st basically it was like when I got my memory back. And then once I got there I was just kind of scared and not knowing anything so I was thinking like why am I here, where is my mom, where is my brothers, what am I doing here, how did I get here.

SS: Okay. There's two things I just want to clarify that, so when you get to Trillium on the 13th, and I don't know if that date's exact, but we'll go with that, you get to Trillium and about a week or so later you start to get your memories back, but is that also, there's a difference between memory and being aware of what's going on around you; is that when you started to realize what was going ar-, on around you when you realized people were talking to you and you could relate to them –

KF: Yes.

SS: -- and you knew where you were so you had spatial awareness and time, time awareness?

KF: Yes, because the staff there said like I would come out of my room and look while they were having group, just walk around staring at people walking around. And then I had took my clothes off twice there. So I didn't remember any of that stuff, like taking my clothes off or anything. And then basically they just said I ate a lot and just slept and never came out of my room basically.

SS: During that first week?

KF: Yeah.

SS: Okay. When we were at Trillium the last time you told us that you liked it there, that it was a safe, you felt safe and it was a good environment for you.

KF: Uh-huh.

SS: Did you enjoy it there, I mean was it a –

KF: Yes.

SS: You felt better there than, well, I don't know if you, you've been back to JDH is; which is better, JDH or Trillium?

KF: Trillium.

SS: That's an easy one.

KF: Trillium is most definitely better. It's just diff-, it's just a lot different. Like you have a bigger mattress.

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: You don't have to sit on a steel toilet when you have to use the bathroom. You get to play X-Box, you get to watch TV when you want, you get to eat candy and pop and cookies if you, when you want to. And the food was warm there, but once I got to JDH the food was hotter so I kind of liked it at JDH.

SS: Oh, yeah.

KF: Yeah, and then JDH wasn't, like basically it wasn't bad or anything, it was just so, it was okay the second time I went. I don't really remember the first time I went, but the second time 'cuz it was –

KJ: (can't understand) minor infractions too, that's important, the little minor infractions.

KF: It was, it was basically all right when I got to JDH. And then like I noticed that the staff were like, basically like I was having little stuff that happened, like my room is, I was in the observation room when I got back there.

SS: At JDH?

KF: When I got back to JDH 'cuz they didn't know like my, like how, how I was gonna act, like if I was gonna act the same way as last time, so they put in a room right by the office again.

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: And when I was over there, like I was singing in my room, I got in trouble for singing in my room, got in trouble for looking, you're not supposed to look in other units. So like as soon I looked in another unit they gave me NE, and NE is negative or, or no effort. So basically NE is just an incident report like saying you did this and that's why, and they document it. So basically like I got in trouble for taking too long of a shower for ten minutes. Got in trouble for taking my shoes in my room. Got in trouble for whistling. You can't whistle at all so when I was whistling I got in trouble for that. It was just like little things that they were basically picking at. And then like the stuff that really wasn't in the orientation video like, what was in, I watched the orientation video and did my test and what I watched on the orientation video was when the blue light comes on at the building you rush to your room. A fight brought out and I walked to my room, and I didn't know that I was supposed to run to my room if any incident broke out. And then they put me on, uh, lockdown for the rest of that night and the previous morning. So basically I was in my room from 7:00 'til 12:00 the next day and they came out, so.

SS: What, what time period are we dealing with here?

KF: What the –

JK: This is the most recent –

SS: The most recent.

KF: Yes. And this happened February 6th on the Super Bowl.

SS: On Super Bowl day?

KF: Yeah. When the fight broke out between the juveniles. And then I was, and then I was at, uh, we all had to go to our room for room lock and I had to stay in there longer for walking to my room instead of running. But like I tried to talk to the staff and tell 'em like that's not in the orientation video that you're supposed to run to your room when a fight breaks out, only when the blue light is on, and basically explain to them what, why I shouldn't be in my room.

SS: Okay. So you, you clearly don't know what their rules and expectations are there?

KF: Yeah, I didn't know like all their rules. And then like going to the ping pong table without asking. Like everything was like, oh, you did this so you're getting this, so it was just like.

SS: Okay. And there's more rules at JDH than there are at Trillium?

KF: Yes.

SS: Okay.

KF: That's what I was basically telling the staff. It's kind of hard for, like it's hard for me just knowing the rules without like any warnings or basically help out, so I was basically telling 'em like, like I forget to take my shoes out of my room. At Trillium you could have your shoes in your room, so I was forgetting like to take my shoes off and remove my shoes before I entered my room.

SS: Okay. Different rules in a different place.

KF: Yes.

SS: Yeah. Okay. When you were tasered at JDH do you remember how many times you were tasered?

KF: I remember the officer counting to ten.

SS: Which officer?

KF: The one that tasered me.

SS: Do you remember, an officer, do, do you visualize that officer, can, can you see him in your, in your mind's eye?

KF: Uh, no.

SS: No.

KF: 'Cuz sometimes I, I think of people, but then I think of different officers that I've --

SS: Right.

KF: -- seen before, like, like when I try to remember an incident or something that happened I visualize hospital, the people that were at the hospital with me.

SS: Sure.

KF: And then basically I know that they didn't taser me in the hospital and I know that this didn't happen so I remember basically stuff in the hospital.

SS: Okay. So some of it is a little bit jumbled still?

KF: Yes.

SS: Okay. But when you were, do you remember feeling the taser, I mean can you, do you remember what that felt like?

KF: Yes. Yeah.

SS: Okay. Do you remember where you were at when, when you were tasered?

KF: Outside in a parking lot.

SS: At, at where at?

KF: JDH.

SS: At JDH. Do you know who was there? Do you remember anybody that was there?

KF: No.

SS: Do you remember if, do you remember why they tased you or if there was any warning given that you didn't, or if there were any rules you weren't following?

KF: I don't know, I can't remember.

SS: So your memory isn't being tased?

KF: Yeah.

SS: Okay.

KF: Basically.

JK: Were you being tased while the officer was counting to ten?

KF: Yes, so I-, that's why I was thinking like was it procedure for him to count to ten when they're tasing you. But I just remember him counting to ten.

SS: Okay.

JE: There's two ways to get tased. One is they actually put the taser on your body and tase you. Or another one is from a distance away.

KF: Uh-huh.

JE: They can shoot the little barbs out and then they tase you that way. Do you remember if the gun was on your body or if it –

KF: It was, it was the probes –

JE: The probes.

KF: -- hitting me. And I still have the scars to show.

SS: Is it on your forearm?

KF: Yeah, it came to me right here and right here.

JE: So your left forearm?

KF: Yeah. And I've been using, I use cocoa butter to clear it up, but it used to be pink right here and it used to be pink right here. And I, and when I was at Trillium I didn't really remember being tased there. I just remember having to go see a doctor 'cuz my feet were tingly and prickly and my hands, my fingertips, so we didn't know if it was nerve damage or not. But then we did a test and it wasn't nerve damage or anything like a pinched nerve. But it was still like tingly for like a month. And then basically these were just pink burns. And then like my mom, it was like them are taser burns.

SS: Okay. After you were tased, and what I'm hearing is that (can't understand) being tased and being put into the van, right, do you remember, and that you tried to step on his shoe?

KF: Yes.

SS: Were you like trying to give him a fl-, a flapjack, or, my daughter calls 'em a flapjack when you try to get the back of their shoes so they walk out of their shoe, or were you trying to step on his toes, I mean?

KF: I was trying to step on his toes.

SS: Okay. So he was behind you and you were trying to step on his toes?

KF: Like we were side to side.

SS: Side to side.

KF: And he had my arm and I was going like this trying to step on his toes.

SS: Okay. And then he elbowed you?

KF: Yes.

SS: Okay.

JK: Do you remember how many times he elbowed you?

KF: Like three.

SS: Did it hurt?

KF: Uh –

SS: And did you fall to your knees, did you fall down, did you complain or cry, or anything like that, do you remember?

KF: No.

SS: Did you just stop trying to step on his foot?

KF: Yes. I remember after the, I remember after the third time I just stopped and just walked to the car with him and got in the back –

SS: Okay.

KF: – to the van with him, got in the back. But I remember at first just trying to step on his toes.

SS: Okay. Do you remember somebody sitting, you said you remember somebody sitting in the van with you?

KF: Yes.

SS: In the back.

KF: In the back.

SS: Okay. Do you know who that was?

KF: No.

SS: Okay.

JE: Was there a cage in the van, like between the driver –

KF: Yeah, cage.

JE: Okay. Is there a cage all the way around the back of the van?

KF: I don't know. I know it was comfortable, kind of comfortable seats more, not the plastic ones.

JE: Okay.

KF: It was cushion seats.

JE: Sometimes those vans have a little cage area in the back for like females and then the rest of the van has cages for males so they can separate males and females. Do you know if you were in a small little area or in kind of a larger area of the van?

KF: I don't know how.

JE: Was the, was the officer that rode with you, do you remember if it was a male or a female?

KF: It was a male.

JE: And do you remember, like, uh, white, Hispanic, African American?

KF: Huh-uh.

JE: Do you remember if they're older or younger?

KF: No.

JE: Uh, how about what color the uniform was, or if they were wearing a uniform?

KF: Green, I think.

JE: Green you think. So it was a uniform?

KF: Yes.

JE: Okay.

SS: You said you remember after you were tased and put in the van at JDH you remember going to a hospital. Do you, do you remember anything in between that and, no?

KF: I just didn't know if I had, 'cuz I remember being in two hospital rooms.

SS: Okay.

KF: And, and that was about it. Like I remember being in two hospital rooms and that's why I had to ask like was I moved from hospital to hospital and I was but that's what I remember is being in two hospital rooms. And then in the second hospital room I remember like being with the nurses, them feeding me and helping me to the bathroom.

SS: Right.

KF: And the officers helping out.

SS: Okay. One of the things that, that has come up, umm, during our interviews with you and other witnesses is the time when you were at the hospital in your bed and you removed your IV. Do you remember that?

KF: Yes.

SS: Okay. What do you remember about that?

KF: I remember I was watching the, watching ESPN --

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: -- and I seen Michael Vick on the television.

SS: Right.

KF: And I don't know for some odd reason I thought that was my little brother had made it to the N, NFL, and for some odd reason. It was, uh, basically saying that he had broke, remember when he had broke his wrist against the Washington Redskins.

SS: Right.

KF: I was thinking that he was coming to the hospital to visit me, so, and I don't know, I don't know, I was just saying like I got to save him, I got to save him. And then I remember going to my IV and biting it out. And then trying to swallow the IV thing. And I remember Bunker, Officer Bunker saying what are you doing, what are you doing, opening my mouth and pulling it out of my mouth. And then called a nurse and the nurse helped me. And then I still got the little IV marks from when I ripped it out from here to here.

SS: In your right forearm there.

KF: Yeah.

SS: Okay. Do you have, other than the time that you were tased and you, and you got the elbows from, from the deputy, do you remember at any time any staff member, umm, physically touching you or physically assaulting you?

KF: No.

SS: Okay. What about anybody calling you names or saying anything inappropriate?

KF: I remember the deputy saying it's just another dumb nig-, nigger making a crime.

SS: Which deputy said that?

KF: I can't remember. I just remember the insult. Or he said another stupid nig-, nigger making the cr-, doing a crime.

SS: Do you remember that or –

KF: Yes, I remember that.

SS: – or is that what somebody told you? 'Cuz my, my, your mom talked to me about that and maybe I was mistaken, but I thought that it was something that when you got to JDH one of the kids told you that they had heard that. Maybe I misunderstood your mother, but is that what you remember?

KF: No, that's what I remember and I told my mom that.

SS: Okay. So that's what you remember, not what somebody else told you about?

KF: Yes.

SS: Did that happen the first time or the second time you got there?

KF: The first time.

SS: Okay. When did that happen, do you remember?

KF: No.

SS: 'Cuz your mem-, do you, my understanding is you remember being transported there to JDH and then you remember not eating the food and you remember, umm, being taken out of JDH and put in the van. And do you remember when in that timeframe that you heard somebody say this?

KF: The transporting from --

SS: I mean when you were moved from JDH to the van and they tased you and you got the elbows?

KF: Yeah.

SS: Is --

KF: That was all in the same process.

SS: Oh, so somebody said it at that time?

KF: Yes.

SS: Okay. Do you remember who said that?

KF: No. One of the deputies.

SS: One of the deputies?

KF: Yes. And I don't know, did I go from, from the JDH from the van, did I go from the van to downtown or to the hospital?

SS: When you were, when you were at JDH your memory is correct, I mean you were taken outside and then you were put into the van by the deputies and then you were transported to the jail, but you weren't there very long, you were transferred from the jail to the hospital.

KF: And that's --

SS: So your memory is --

KF: Yeah, and that's what I think, that's what I think I remember when I told you last time that I was having my hands outside the thing before they took the cuffs off in the room, the little --

SS: Yeah, yeah, yeah, you remember that last time.

KF: Yeah.

SS: Yeah.

KF: So I think that's what happened after the van to downtown.

SS: You're right.

KF: And then from the hospital, and being in the hospital.

SS: Okay. Okay. But at what point, it was before you got placed in the van that somebody said it's just another stupid nigger committing a crime?

KF: Yes.

SS: Okay. And do you remember which person said that?

KF: One of the deputies, I don't remember.

SS: Do you remember what either of those two deputies looked like?

KF: No.

SS: Okay.

JK: Were they wearing the green outfit?

KF: Yes. I remem-, I think all, all the officers were wearing the green outfits that came and got me from JDH.

JE: And how many do you think there were?

KF: Four or three.

JE: Three or four?

KF: Yeah.

JK: And just for the record, Scott, as you and Detective Eriksen I think are doing, umm, a good job of what I notice about my client's memory, uh, general questions are much less effective at generating memories than very, very specific questions (can't understand)

SS: We just want to be careful not to create a memory.

JK: No. Obviously.

SS: Other than that, that deputy's comment at the time you were being placed into the van, was there any other, do you remember anybody else saying or doing anything to you that was offensive or, umm, harmful?

KF: No.

SS: Okay. So it's, okay.

JE: Do you remember going into an ambulance at all?

KF: No.

SS: When you were at JDH the first time did you have any interactions with the other children that were there?

KF: No.

SS: Or were you kept alone?

KF: I was kept alone in my room for five days and 24 hours.

SS: Were you able to talk to any of them, like yell through, yell through the doors at 'em, or see 'em when they were walking by? Were you pretty much kept alone?

KF: Yes.

SS: Since you've returned to JDH you've obviously had some chances to talk to the kids that, umm, were there when you were there the first time.

KF: Uh-huh.

SS: Have they talked to you about anything else about your memories about things that happened?

KF: No.

SS: Okay. All right. Mr. Kafoury, what, do you have specify things that you think that we should ask questions about?

JK: Well, he had some specific instances of, uh, you know, allegations of abuse last time, umm, and it might be helpful just to run through them quickly and see if any, if there's any other memories that has from those instances.

SS: Okay.

JK: Umm, you talked about the time where you had the, uh, the last time we talked you had the memory of your hands behind your back and you had a, and you had a memory of an officer raising a boot and kicking at you. Does that –

KF: Yeah.

JK: Okay.

SS: Do you remember that?

KF: Yes, (can't understand)

JK: Do you want, do you want to walk back through what you can remember from that, 'cuz I have it written down here but I'm curious.

KF: That was when I was at the jail transported from the van and JDH. And basically I was handcuffed and I had my hands in the slot and when they were releasing the cuffs they would tell me move your hands from the pouch, move your hands from the thing. And I was saying, no, no, no, I got to talk to you, I got a actual question, no, no, no, I need to talk to you, no, no, no, I need to talk to you. And he said move your hands, this is the last time I'm gonna tell you move your hands. And I kept 'em there and then I seen his foot coming up to slam the thing and he slammed that, uh, thing shut and I just moved my hands out, so they didn't get smashed.

SS: Okay.

JK: Do you remember, uh, you said you remember some pellets or a bean gun or something like that being shot at you.

KF: I can't really remember.

JK: Okay. And you were in a, but you remember last time being in a really, really small room, like just four by five feet or something like that?

KF: Yes.

SS: I don't remember the beanbag or pellets from the last time. Are you sure –

JK: Uh, I have, uh, uh, yeah, these are my notes so it's possible –

SS: Okay.

JK: -- that's something he talked to me about –

SS: Okay.

JK: -- separately.

SS: And any --

JK: I, I, I, I r-, I had written down from our last time that there was something about pellets.

SS: Okay.

JK: Does that not ring any bells?

KF: No.

SS: Not with me either, but. The one time that you were describing being tased at JDH, is that the, when you were being placed in the van, is that the only time that you were tased that you remember?

KF: Yes.

SS: Is that the only time that you were threatened with a taser? Do you remember any other times that you were warned that you would be tased if you didn't comply, but you weren't tased?

KF: And that's where it's kind of like shaky for me, for my memory.

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: I remember being in the hospital and Johnson, Officer Johnson and he was, the Deputy Aljets told when I had got back from the transport from Trillium and I was telling him can you thank the officers that were there with me, and I thanked him, and I was saying basically thanking them for basically being there with me and basically keeping me safe and watching over me. And he said that Johnson was there a lot with you. And I remember Johnson being like a nice guy. And he was saying Johnson was there with you a lot when you were down then. And then, and now that's what I'm saying I don't remember, I don't remember, and I don't know if it was a dream or not but I remember that I was on my bed and I was basically trying to get to Johnson or something and him saying, Kyeron, get back in bed, you don't want this to happen, you don't want to get tased again and he showed the red light on the taser on the ground like this.

SS: That was Johnson?

KF: Yeah.

SS: That was the one you liked?

KF: Yes. And that's what I said, I d-, that's why I'm saying I don't remember if it was a dream or was it true or not.

SS: Okay.

JK: Uh, Kyeron, the last time we talked about the tasing incident when you were outside JDH, uh, you had, this is what I had down, uh, while laying on the ground you were pleading with an officer telling him not to step on your ankle chains anymore.

KF: Yes.

JK: Okay. Do you remember that?

KF: I remember briefly, like kind of, but I remember it more at the hospital saying not to, please don't step on my ankle chains, 'cuz that did happen once, and it hurted a lot, 'cuz I remember telling 'em don't, please don't step on my ankle chains when I was, like when I had to be to the bathroom and back to my bed. And off-, and, uh, officer, Deputy Wilson –

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: -- he said that, he said that, uh, I was in my bed for a couple of days, like four days or five days, and he said that I wasn't making any movement or any progress, like going to the bathroom (can't understand) and basically I had to go to the bathroom in a bottle, in a container.

SS: Yep.

KF: And he said that, uh, I had slid to the end of my bed, and I would slide to the end of my bed and get on my knees and pray and then get back on my bed. And he said that, uh, the nurses were glad or basically happy that I was making improvement to get off the bed –

SS: Right.

KF: -- and at least move to the end of the bed and do stuff like that, so.

SS: That would have been a good thing.

KF: Yes. And then he was basically saying like, and then when I had went to the old courthouse he was basically just saying like you changed a lot, yeah, you're a polite kid, uh, do you r-, and he was just basically saying that me and another officer were in the room and we stayed up all night rapping with each other and just doing stuff like that. And then he made a comment to my mom like you have the most politest son and well mannered son and basically –

KJ: He came and said hi to you at (can't understand)

KF: And basically saying hi to me. And every time I seen him he was always saying hi and that basically just laughing and stuff like, he said that it was a nurse in, a old little nurse lady that came in there and was being real rude and he said like he had to tell her like this kid is kind of ill, can't you see, basically said that he stood up for me at the hospital. He was like do you remember that mean old little nurse lady? And I was like, no, I don't remember. And he was just like, basically he was like, man, she was mean even to us.

SS: Yeah.

KF: And then I was just like oh. And then he was just telling me like, man, just bas-, just saying you look way better and basically just.

SS: That's good. So he advocated for you with the nurse.

KF: Yes.

SS: Okay.

KJ: He's got red hair. He's really nice. He always tells me what a nice kid he is. And he made, uh, Kyeron made coming to work enjoyable.

SS: Really? Good. You seem to be doing much better.

KF: Yes.

SS: Good. Is there anything that you think that we, we haven't covered or we should cover?

KJ: I think I, I, for the most part I think everything's been covered. Umm –

JK: You guys have all the reports. We don't know what happened.

KJ: 'Cuz we, I don't know if it, you know, certain things that the nurses said to me, if they have any relevance or if they're important. Remember I spoke of the nurse Sena, who was the nurse that was there when we came up there on the 21st and she was saying that this is the scarest person she's ever seen in her life. You know, she's never, ever seen anybody this scared. And she was really concerned about it being a permanent, uh, psychotic state. And she was a nurse, her, that was the very first nurse that I came in contact with on my very first visit. Uh, she said she'd never seen a kid so scared, ever, in her life. Umm, she was also the one who called me in, uh, a semi-panic state of him going back to jail to the MCDC place and that is when I started calling around to multiple, you know, different people. That was how I hooked up with, umm, Deputy Shults.

SS: Uh-huh.

KJ: Was because her phone call alarming me that, you know, he can't go back there, he can't. Umm, over the time of the 17th when he was returned to MCDC from, as I learned it was Doernbecher, he was treated at Doernbecher first.

SS: Right.

KJ: And that whole weekend I called regularly, you know, throughout the day. And I was steadily, constantly informed that he was gonna be safe and that they were having as minimum contact with guards as possible. Uh, Melanie Parker, when she spoke with me on Monday to get the consent, she was needing to get a blood draw and that her observation was very agitated when the guards came so she was gonna get the gentlest guards she possibly could to do the blood draw. Now, I'm sure you sti-, you have those notes but –

SS: Uh-huh.

KJ: Umm, those are the main things that, and then upon finding out that he was in, umm, the ICU unit.

SS: Do you remember the blood draw?

KF: Huh-uh, no.

KJ: Now, umm, the JDH contact that I had, I don't know if that, that's important, when I was calling through the whole week.

SS: Uh-huh.

KJ: You, you have those notes, correct?

SS: Uh-huh. Which JDH contact is it?

KJ: Umm, when I, when I noticed and started notifying people that there was –

SS: Right.

KJ: -- uh, issues with, uh Kyeron. And I don't know if you have a copy of it, but, I don't know if you got a copy of the doctor, his primary care physician. Did I fax that over to you?

SS: Yeah, that; yeah, yeah, yeah.

KJ: Okay.

SS: Yeah, you sent that to me.

JK: I got a couple other specific, uh, memories you talked about last time and I want to see if you have any other further memories of them. Uh, when you pulled the IV out of your arm, uh, you described, uh, an Officer Schroeder who, he was a guy with a red beard and you describe him as a bald, does that ring a bell?

KF: Uh-huh, yes.

JK: Umm, and that you thought there was also this Officer Bunker that was with you at that point.

KF: Yes.

JK: Uh, and you remembered somebody screaming at you, are you stupid, are you stupid, are you stupid; does that –

KF: Yes.

JK: Do you remember that stuff?

KF: Yes.

JK: Does that, do those memories bring back any other memories of that IV?

KF: No. And then I remember having a spit socket on me.

JK: Having a what?

KF: The spit socket on me.

JK: Okay. And it was, was it at that time that there was the code 999 started?

KF: Yes. 'Cuz I started saying code 999. And when I had got to Trillium they said do you like to draw and they gave me a paper and I just put code 999, I put a lot of 9s on the whole paper, and just saying code 999. And I seen that that was emergency and I was just saying it's an emergency, and I was just, I don't know what I was thinking. I was thinking like, I don't know, I was thinking that like, I don't know, for some reason like we were watching CNN and Obama was on TV, I was just saying Obama is gonna save me, code 999, code 999. And then the officers and deputies that were with me in the hospital kept saying you can't be screaming that in the hospital, you can't scream that in the hospital. And I just kept saying code 999. And I remember just crying and screaming code 999, code 999. This is a code 999.

SS: All of these, well, the medical staff that, that your mom's describing were concerned that you were very, very scared. Were you really scared after, after being arrested?

KF: Uh, yes.

SS: What were you most scared of?

KF: Uh, I don't know, I just, I just, I don't know, I think like the break (can't understand), I don't know, there's just like, like once I, after I got fingerprinted and was interrogated and stuff I think I just was thinking like this is really, like this really happening, this is not, this is not joking around, this is not fake, this is not a dream, this is like really happening. And then, then like when I had to take the picture with the thing I'm like, like, oh, my gosh, like I'm having to go to jail. And then I was just thinking like, oh, I'm gonna have to, and then like all the stuff, like all the bad things, like all the food is gonna be nasty, oh, I'm gonna have to sleep on a brick, 'cuz when I was at the MCDC I had to sleep on like a concrete brick with no bed, no covers, I was like oh, my gosh, this is how it's gonna be, this is how this is gonna be, this is how this is gonna be, this, I'm gonna, I'm not gonna be able to have a shower by myself, I'm not gonna be able to do this, I'm not gonna be able to do that. And it's just like, I think that was just overwhelming for me. And then like in my cell I remember doing like basketball drills and hopping over the line back and forth and just trying to keep myself occupied while I was in my cell and then, and then like, I don't know, I tried reading and stuff and just saying like this is jail basically, you know, I was just like, in there I think that shows just more stress and stress.

SS: Are you still that stressed about it?

KF: Uh, no, not really. Like after the Child-, Trillium I basically got like, like even being in there and just seeing the (can't understand) fences I had a clue like, basically like this is a treatment center but it basically is not no open gates so you could just be free and –

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: -- I can't leave campus, I can't leave the area so if I want, I can't go to the gym and play basketball because of my legal court stuff.

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: Not because I had a mental health problem.

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: And it's just like they're sending me here to get help, they're sending me here to help, but I'm also incarcerated while I'm getting help, so basically I just still looked at things like I'm still in trouble. I'm still in trouble because there's locked fences and stuff like that. And then when I went back to JDH I still was basically, I had a handle on things like, okay, now I'm back in jail, the real jail like with two inch mattress, one pillow, covers, and basically like I'm just in jail, have to sit on a toilet, toilet paper's not as good. Basically I just was like, okay, you just got to go through it and try to be as easy and as calm as I can. And then after that, after a couple of days I started thinking of ways I can occupy my mind, like reading books and then I started reading books and basically being able to function.

SS: Okay. Well, your mom takes about Ms. S-, or nurse Sena saying that you were the most scared, scared kid she's ever seen. Is that pretty true, I mean you were just really, really, really, really scared?

KF: I remember being, I just remember scared of the, I don't know, I was scared of the detectives, even at the hospital.

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: Like, I don't know, I just was scared for some reason, like I don't know. Like I don't know why I was scared, it was just like I just was scared.

SS: Okay. Just didn't know what it was gonna be like?

KF: Yeah, like, yeah, like I don't know, I was too scared like to even like, I don't remember, like I don't, I just was scared, really scared like not to talk. I didn't want to talk to a det-, the deputies.

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: And –

KJ: And when he first got to Trillium his counselor, Trevor, was really unable to even talk to him because he said he was the white devil. And, umm, that was when I gave him the friend thing, the friend you have to tell him, you know me, you've talked to me and that you're a friend, and that you're a friend, say your mom knows I'm a friend and that's how Trevor was able to even break through to even get Kyeron to talk to him or to say anything to him and to identify that he, it was okay with him. And Kyeron does not have a fear of white people, period, because his grandfather's white, so it's not a, a, us/them mentality level. It's more or less at that point in time maybe his mind identified where the fear because that's what he kep-, Trevor kept saying, he just keeps calling me the white devil. And I said, okay, just tell him you're his friend.

KF: Yeah, and I remember like the staff having to like, like I would get real nervous like, and get like scared when the door shut and slammed or a kid got and threw a little temper tantrum and he was banging on the door, I would just be like, them sounds would just like kind of triggers.

SS: Uh-huh.

KF: And I would just, that's what would make 'em like more like, okay, I don't know these people, I have to defend myself. And all the staff was coming around like are you okay, are you, what's wrong with you, are you feeling okay? And I would just be like, in more like defense like, and then like, even, and they would just say do you need to talk to your mom? And like that's when they gave me that access calling my mom anytime I needed to. And I was able to call my mom and say, mom, like I used to be on the phone with mom –

KJ: Mom, am I safe.

KF: Mom, am I safe? Who are these people? It's too many people in here, it's too many people in the room. Like the staff would come in the office (can't understand) there's too many people in this room, there's too many people around me, there's too many people around me. And then it's just like, and then like they said, I used to like some, like around like, I don't know, they, it was aggression and like the staff told me like I snatched a clipboard from one of the staff and just snapped it for no reason. Kids was playing Scrabble and I just messed up the Scrabble game and like it was just like stuff like, stuff I couldn't remember in there. It was just stuff like that, so.

JK: A couple other specific incidents I want to take, uh, you, you thought it was Officer Bunker or maybe the guy named Bull and you had some memory of him not hitting you with a fist, but not the knuckle part, like this part.

KF: Yes. On my chest and –

JK: Yeah, and, but do you remember when that happened, or why that happened?

KF: When I was trying to spit on him. And I don't know why I was trying to spit on him, but I think it was like, 'cuz he seemed a little more aggressive when he first started working with me and that was like he only worked with me one time so I think after like he was kind of fed up with me trying to spit on him and stuff so he never came back to work, to work with me at the hospital 'cuz I don't remember seeing him again. And I think, and he was quick –

JK: Was spitting out the IV?

KF: No. Like spit when –

JK: Oh, I see, okay.

KF: And I think he had knew that 'cuz I had to ask my mom did I spit on a deputy. And she was like, yes, you spit on Officer Johnson, one of my friends. And I was like, like I couldn't remember that. I just rem-, I don't remember, I just remember spitting. And then like I remember like soon as Bunker got to work, it was basically like the spit socket on my head and then he had asked me, are you gonna spit? And I'd be like no. And then I was like, I remember like going (clearing throat sound), like that then he had immediately just put the spit socket on me. And then I remember like getting it on his, like on his body somewhere. And I remember that's when it was like (slapping sound) on my chest. And then he was like don't spit on me, don't you ever spit on me. And then that was like the grabbing on the head like this and then he just stuck the spit socket over me. And then even when I wasn't gonna spit and he'd take the spit socket off, like 30 minutes, a hour later he would take the spit socket off and I remember I wasn't even spitting like and then he had come in and just put it back on my head. And then he was like I'm gonna try to feed you now. And then I remember him just feeding me after that. And then after that the night went good, he just sat and I eventually fell asleep.

JK: Okay.

KF: And that was the only time I remember seeing him.

JK: Uh, detective, uh, asked you, uh, when we met at Trillium what the difference was about how you were treated at JDH versus, uh, uh, the jail. And you said, uh, or at Trillium, umm, the difference, and you said at Trillium, here they don't take my arm, hit you and try to break your arm. That's what I had written down. Does that, do you remember saying that?

KF: Yes.

JK: Do you remember what that was in reference to?

KF: Just, I think it was just, I don't know if I was over like, like over emphasizing it but being put in handcuffs and stuff and like having my arms bent up, just basically like thinking that my arm was gonna break 'cuz it was kind of hurting and it was tensed up, so.

SS: When, I want to go back to this real quick, if you don't mind, Mr. Kafoury.

JK: No problem.

SS: But when, umm, when Officer, well, if it was Officer Johnson, do you remember why you spit on Officer Johnson?

KF: No.

SS: Or Deputy Johnson?

KF: No.

SS: Do you remember anything about it?

KF: No.

SS: Do you remember why you were getting ready to spit on Deputy Bunker, Officer Bunker?

KF: No.

SS: Okay.

KF: I don't remember anything.

SS: Just don't, no explanation for it.

KF: No explanation for it.

SS: Okay. And other than the handcuffs, I want to make sure I understand, did anybody at any time do anything that made you fear your arms were gonna be broken?

KF: Just the hand, (can't understand)

SS: Well, those handcuffs are uncomfortable.

KF: Yeah.

SS: Very uncomfortable. Umm –

JK: And just for the record, he described his arms being wrenched backward, uh –

SS: Right.

JK: That was (can't understand)

SS: Okay. So for the description, his hands were behind his back but his shoulders were lifted up and his arms out so –

JK: Yeah.

SS: -- that would be painful on the shoulder joint. And I guess the elbow could be, is that correct?

KF: Yes.

SS: Okay. The, umm, ankle chains, do you remember when that happened? You said you didn't want somebody to step on your ankle chains, when, do, do you remember somebody did step on your ankle chains?

KF: Yes.

SS: Where at?

KF: In the hospital.

SS: At the hospital. Okay.

KF: And also when I was being transported to the van.

SS: Okay. Do you know why, do you know who did it and why they did that?

KF: Maybe it was an accident or, maybe it was an accident from the thing, but I don't --

JK: Don't guess or speculate. Either you know or you don't.

KF: No.

SS: Okay. I don't do transports so I don't know if it was an accident, I don't know if that's something that they do, they, they press down on that chain to make sure you don't move, I don't know. Maybe it was something they did intentionally. I don't know. But it might be an accident. What else do you think we should know about, anything at all, or anything that you want us to follow up on that you want us to look into?

KF: No, not really. I just, I just wanted to know like how the injuries occurred, basically that was it.

SS: Which injuries?

KF: Where me leaving to going to the ICU.

SS: Okay. Okay. All right.

JK: I was looking through my notes to see if there was anything I had from my last discussion that you might be able to flush out. You talked to Trillium, uh, about writing into a calendar when you started having memories.

KF: Yeah.

JK: Do you know where that calendar is?

KF: It's at Trillium.

JK: It's at Trillium. Do you know where that is?

KJ: They're supposed to be shipping his stuff. None of his stuff has come back yet. They keep telling me they can't find boxes. Because whenever the, umm, aid and assist report went in we weren't notified, so they just went and picked him up and we didn't, you know, I didn't h-, they didn't have time to get any of his stuff ready or anything, so -

JK: Oh.

KJ: -- all his personal belongings are still at Trillium.

JK: Okay. That must have been a personal journal or something?

KJ: Yeah.

KF: Uh, it was the October 21st when I first got my memory back and then I basically seen this med-, met a staff and then made, and then we made a calendar, October calendar. And then I marked on it first day back, well, first day here and first day memory back. And then it was just basically a calendar that I kept.

SS: Okay. Now, I, I've had a chance to talk to, uh, Trevor Pittman, your, your therapist, or your counselor, right. And he's, he's talked to me about your treatment and he talked to me about the fact that you were released and I was able to read their notes, okay. One of the things that they talk about is cannabis, your, your marijuana usage.

KF: Uh-huh.

SS: Okay. Is that something that we can talk about now, Mr. Kafoury, or should we just leave that to the medical reports?

JK: Yeah, medical reports.

SS: Okay. So I won't ask you questions about that then. All right. Umm, if, then I don't have any other questions if we're not gonna talk about that.

JK: Okay. Give me a second.

SS: Sure.

KJ: Will your report be conclusive before we do actually find out what did, or what really happened, like the extent of the injuries. Like I said, we don't, still don't know the basic injuries.

SS: About the basic injuries.

KJ: We just know cardiac ICU (can't understand) and certain other things about other things. We don't know anything else.

SS: Okay. We've received those medical records and so they're with reports that, uh, Greg Moawad is reviewing now. So I think this is the last report that we, we have.

KJ: And upon that will they notify you and you'll notify the par-, us?

SS: No, I think they, I don't want to speak out of turn, but I believe that Greg Moawad will speak will speak with Mr. Kafoury and then you guys will –

JK: I think that's –

SS: I think that's how it's going to play out.

KJ: Okay.

SS: You playing basketball again?

KF: Uh, no.

SS: No, just watching it?

KF: Yeah.

JK: Tough game for the Blazers last night.

SS: Yeah. Yeah, I got to see the last 45 seconds and then the overtime.

KF: I think they held a nine point lead with three or four minutes left and blew it.

JK: I was there. It was terrible.

SS: Tough loss.

KF: I thought I seen you on TV.

JK: Uh, no, I was in the third deck, I don't think they had me on TV.

SS: I hated seeing Andre go out at the last minute of regulation. I didn't like to see him out, but that was the coach's call not mine. I'm an Andre Miller fan.

KF: Lamarcus Aldridge is playing good.

SS: Oh, yeah.

JK: I think that's all I have. Let me just look, one last page. Yep, that's all I got.

SS: Okay. Ms. Jarrell?

KJ: (can't understand)

SS: Okay. All right. It's 12:01 by my watch and I will end the recording. Thank you, everybody.

SUMMARY:

On September 13, 2010 Kyeron Kyeron was arrested by the Portland Police Bureau and charged with multiple crimes related to an armed robbery. Kyeron was lodged at the Juvenile Detention Hall (JDH); he was transferred to the Multnomah County Detention Center (MCDC) on September 17, 2010; Kyeron was a patient, while in custody, at the Oregon Health & Sciences University (OHSU) on September 17-18 and September 21 – October 11, 2010. Kyeron was diagnosed with a mental illness and pneumomediastinum. The Oregon State Police was asked to assist the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office with an investigation of Kyeron's incarceration, any use of force, and whether or not any of Kyeron's medical conditions are a result of treatment, or lack of, by employees at JDH and MCDC.

As part of this investigation, on February 10, 2011 I spoke with Trevor Pittman, MSW who provided Kyeron's mental health counseling and treatment at the Trillium Family Services—Children's Farm Home in Corvallis, Oregon.

I also received the Trillium Family Services medical records. The records indicate Kyeron's final clinical diagnosis is Psychotic Disorder, NOS by History and Delirium, NOS by History with Cannabis Abuse, primary. Kyeron's mother, Kelli Jarrell, argued against the diagnosis of drug use as a primary factor and asked to have the diagnosis changed to show PTSD as the primary clinical disorder. Mrs. Jarrell "was more concerned with how detrimental it will be for his case going on in the criminal courts". The doctors refused to change their opinion, which was a group decision.

ACTION TAKEN:

On January 10th, 21st and 25th, 2011, Kelli Jarrell left me voicemessages asking me to speak with Trevor Pittman, MSW and Nova Sweet, who had been working with her son, Kyeron, at the Trillium Family Services—Children's Farm Home in Corvallis. Mrs. Jarrell told me Mr. Pittman is a Forensic Psychiatrist (he's not, he's a Therapist) and Kyeron has told him about memories that he'd been able to recall, recently. Mrs. Jarrell provided me with the names and phone numbers, via e-mail. Mrs. Jarrell told me she had granted permission, at Trillium, for Kyeron's treatment counselors to speak with me about him and his treatment.

On or about January 31st, Mrs. Jarrell left me a voicemail advising that Kyeron had been transferred from Trillium Family Services—Corvallis Farm Home to the Donald E. Long Juvenile Detention Center. A day or two later (the date and time of the call were not available on my phone), she left a message to inform me that some of the kids at JDH were telling Kyeron about his first experience at JDH; things that Kyeron didn't remember. I was able to speak with Mrs. Jarrell and she told me Kyeron remembered, or one of the other kids told him (I'm not sure which), that one of the staff members had spoken disparagingly to Kyeron, something to the effect of "[Just another nigger committing crimes]".

On Thursday February 10, 2011 I received permission to speak with Mr. Pittman from Regina Renn, the Records Director at the Trillium Family Services—Corvallis Farm Home. Mrs. Renn told me that Sheila Jenkins had located the Release of Information Authorization that had been signed by Kelli Jarrell on October 14, 2010 at her attorney's office.

Trevor Pittman phone interview

On Thursday February 10, 2011 at approximately 11:00am, I spoke with Trevor Pittman, MSW, by telephone, about Kyeron. Mr. Pittman was not in his office, and was away from the campus, so he spoke to me from memory without the assistance of chart notes and calendars. This phone interview was not recorded.

Mr. Pittman provided the following information:

Mr. Pittman is currently assigned as an Outpatient Manager at the Children's Farm Home. Previously, Mr. Pittman was a Child and Family Therapist and in that capacity he had been involved in Kyeron's treatment. Mr. Pittman was involved in Kyeron's treatment from the date he was admitted until about one week before Kyeron was discharged.

Mr. Pittman told me Nova Sweet was assigned as Kyeron's treatment counselor, after Mr. Pittman changed jobs; however, Kyeron was discharged before Ms. Sweet was able to continue Kyeron's Treatment. With this information, I have decided not to seek Ms. Sweet for interview.

Mr. Pittman told me Kyeron was "very scared" and obviously "fearful", when he was admitted at the Children's Farm Home. He told me he found Kyeron "curled up in a ball" on one occasion. He told me Kyeron was not oriented to time and place. He told me Kyeron referred to him, Mr. Pittman, as the "White Devil". Mr. Pittman told me he is multi-ethnic, so his complexion is not very white.

Mr. Pittman told me as Kyeron's treatment progressed, Kyeron was able to articulate memories since his arrest and incarceration. For instance, Kyeron remembered jumping up and down on his bed and screaming off the wall stuff. Kyeron told Mr. Pittman he wasn't making any sense, but his mind was playing tricks on him. Kyeron explained that his mind was going so fast, he had to jump up and down and shoot hoops. to keep his mind busy.

Mr. Pittman told me Kyeron described an incident when he was restrained, though he isn't exactly sure what necessitated the action. Kyeron was unable to describe how long he was restrained, what facility he was restrained at, or the amount of pain associated with the restraint.

Mr. Pittman told me Kyeron was able to separate and identify personal memories from information that was suggested to him by others, such as his mother. Mr. Pittman told me Kyeron is a good kid and he doesn't think Kyeron would lie to him. Mr. Pittman told me Kyeron acknowledges that his mind was playing tricks on him. Mr. Pittman told me it is his opinion that Kyeron was/is very scared, but Kyeron did not articulate a particular incident or person as the source of his fear.

I asked Mr. Pittman if Kyeron talked to him about having been subjected to any physical, emotional or verbal abuse by any person, or group of people, while in custody; or, if Kyeron described any event that may be the source of the fear he has demonstrated. Mr. Pittman told me he was not allowed to probe in this area, as part of the treatment he was offering to Kyeron. Mr. Pittman told me Kyeron did not express recall of physical abuse, verbal abuse, or emotional abuse by any individual or group of people.

Mr. Pittman told me about an event that Kyeron described to him. Kyeron recalled that while he was in the hospital, he was restrained in a bed and an IV was in his arm. Kyeron was watching a professional football game on television. Kyeron imagined his brother was playing in the professional football game and needed Kyeron's help. Kyeron took the IV out of his arm, because he thought he had to go help his brother. Kyeron described himself as pretty out of control. In hindsight, Kyeron acknowledged that his mind was playing tricks on him.

I asked Mr. Pittman if he is able to formulate an opinion about Kyeron: is his current mental condition the result of fear or a medical phenomenon. Mr. Pittman told me he does not have enough information to formulate an opinion like that. Mr. Pittman told me Kyeron's current, and recently past, mental condition may be the result of a mental break from reality; or, maybe, something may have happened to create the mental break from reality such as a use of force incident while in-custody? Mr. Pittman told me Kyeron is a big kid, about 6'1" and about 200-pounds. Mr. Pittman told me Kyeron may be difficult to handle if he gets out-of-control, thereby putting himself and others at risk of injury.

Mr. Pittman told me Kyeron did not demonstrate any moments of aggression, while in his care at the Children's Farm Home.

Mr. Pittman told me Kyeron was able to sort information in his head, during the treatment. For example, Kyeron was careful not to make any statement regarding the criminal action for which he was arrested. It is Mr. Pittman's opinion that Kyeron's mother and/or attorney coached him about things he should not discuss during treatment.

I asked Mr. Pittman if Kyeron ever disclosed that a staff member at either JDH or the jail called him something to the effect of "Just another nigger". Mr. Pittman said no.

Mr. Pittman told me Kyeron was discharged from the Children's Farm Home when Dr. Catlow completed the "370 Discharge". Mr. Pittman explained that "A 370 Evaluation is when a Client is mandated to SAIP Unit for an evaluation to determine whether they are competent to stand trial or not. Usually takes about 90 days or so and includes a couple of different cognitive tests."

I asked Mr. Pittman to review my report of our discussion. I sent the content of this report section to Mr. Pittman, via e-mail, for his review. Mr. Pittman told me I accurately recorded the information he shared.

Trillium Family Services Medical Records

On February 15th, I received the attached medical records from Trillium Family Services that show the following information:

1. Kyeron was admitted at Trillium on October 11, 2010 and was discharged on January 31, 2011.
2. Kyeron was discharged to the Multnomah County Juvenile Justice Department because his competency restoration and evaluation was complete.
3. Kyeron, upon discharge, was prescribed a multi-Vitamin with Flouride and Vitamin D.
4. Kyeron was diagnosed with three clinical disorders: a) Psychotic Disorder NOS; b) Cannabis Abuse; and c) Delirium NOS.
5. Kyeron was not diagnosed with any personality disorder or mental retardation.
6. Kyeron was not diagnosed, upon discharge, with any general medical disorders. His urinary tract infection and pneumomediastinum had been resolved.
7. Kyeron's psychological and environmental problems were diagnosed as "severe: recent legal charges and incarceration".
8. Kyeron's treatment plan, or "Recommended Intervention" included on-going psychiatric services and activities, but no medication.
9. Kyeron's "level of Client's Safety during course of stay" was "Improved: Psychotic and disorganized, hyper sexualized requiring constant staff support for

- the first two weeks. Then he cleared and was more manageable, able to follow expectations and had behavior that was appropriate to the context.”
10. Kyeron was receiving antipsychotic medication during his treatment, along with psychiatric services.
 11. On November 11, 2010 Kyeron was diagnosed with the same clinical disorders listed in number 4, plus he was diagnosed with Schizophrenic Disorder. It should be noted he was not diagnosed with Schizophrenic Disorder at the date of discharge.
 12. On December 9, 2010 Dr. Gilberto De Jesus-Rentas made the note “...this could be a brief psychotic episode or this could be substance induced and probably he could be stable without the need for any psychotropic medications”.
 13. Kyeron’s psychotropic medication therapy ended around mid-December, or around Christmas.
 14. According to Dr. Gilberto De Jesus-Rentas, Mr. Pittman is Kyeron’s therapist.
 15. On January 7, 2011 Dr. Gilberto De Jesus-Rentas noted “I expressed to mom that I have some concerns if he returns back to closed custody if he is going to be able to continue stable with no psychotropic medications.”
 16. On January 7, 2011 Dr. Gilberto De Jesus-Rentas changed and clarified his clinical diagnosis: “I am going to be changing the diagnosis from Psychosis NOS, by History and continue as a primary Cannabis Abuse.” He made Cannabis Abuse as the primary disorder, followed by Psychotic Disorder, NOS by History and Delirium, NOS by History.
 17. Dr. Gilberto De Jesus-Rentas noted that he discussed this change in diagnosis with Kyeron’s mother (Kelli Jarrell), on January 6, 2011. He noted that “mom was in disagreement of having Cannabis Abuse as one of the primary diagnoses. She felt that his substance abuse did not meet that criteria. I explained to mom why the difference between cannabis abuse and dependency and what my rationale was in the diagnosis. She was more concerned with how detrimental it will be for his case going on in the criminal courts to have that diagnosis and I sympathize with mom in that concern; however, based on the information provided I cannot make any changes at this point.
 18. Kyeron worked with Dr. Catlow on the forensic evaluation for competency to aid and assist.
 19. Kyeron described his marijuana usage. He began smoking marijuana when he was sixteen years old and had been smoking the drug for more than twelve months. He said he smoked marijuana four to five times per week, as joints and blunts. He denied any other drug usage.
 20. Kyeron’s school performance diminished when he began smoking marijuana. His studies and grades suffered; he began skipping classes and missing time in school when he was doing other things.
 21. Kyeron’s interaction with staff was different, after he’d been off of his antipsychotic medications for about two weeks, or so. He was quieter and staff reported that he was more defiant and he was making jokes with staff than can sometimes be interpreted as threats.

22. Kyeron was increasingly guarded as he discussed his Cannabis Abuse with Dr. Gilberto De Jesus-Rentas, as reported on January 11th, about five days after the discussion with Mrs. Jarrell about this very subject.
23. On January 11th, Dr. Gilberto De Jesus-Rentas noted "Making a final determination in terms of the diagnosis in the sense that if he should be finally diagnosed with another mental illness is going to be difficult. It is in question whether he is [going] to remain stable once he is discharged from the controlled environment."
24. On January 19th Dr. Gilberto De Jesus-Rentas reported that Kyeron was not "presenting or endorsing any symptoms of psychosis, mania, hypomania, anxiety, panic disorder, or mood disorder....He [Kyeron] had an incident during the weekend related to a peer making a racist statement against another client and he reacted against this individual and he states that he was upset because the other client was making a racist statement and he feels like he identifies himself as an African American and that was trigger for him."
25. On January 19th, Dr. Gilberto De Jesus-Rentas made the assessment "It will be difficult to clarify and make a final diagnosis in terms of saying if this was a substance induced psychotic disorder versus an acute manic episode of bipolar disorder versus the possibility of brief psychotic disorder."
26. On January 20th Dr. Cindy Smith met with Mrs. Jarrell, Mr. Pittman and Nova Sweet, upon Mrs. Jarrell's request. Mrs. Jarrell had three complaints, two of which were related to his medical treatment. The third complaint was that she wanted Kyeron's diagnosis changed to indicate PTSD was the cause of his symptoms. Dr. Smith replied that Kyeron's final diagnosis had been reviewed by other psychiatrists and they agreed with the opinion of Dr. Gilberto De Jesus-Rentas. Dr. Smith said the diagnosis would not be changed.

Subjective

Kyeron feels like he is continuing to improve. His hallucinations are continuing to decrease and not bother him as much. He also states his nightmares he has been experiencing every day seem to also be decreasing in intensity and frequency. He states he feels a whole lot better than he had when he first came. He feels like being at the SAIP Unit has been very helpful to him.

Mental Status Exam:

Kyeron is alert, awake, and well groomed during our interview. He has no tics or abnormal movements on visual inspection. No evidence of EPS or tardive dyskinesia. His speech is clear and coherent. His affect seems bright. No obvious depression noted. No suicidal or homicidal ideation elicited. His insight into why he ended up in the hospital still is somewhat impaired. He says his memory is fuzzy for why he got put there in the first place and still has not seemed to put that all together. Otherwise his insight and judgment seems intact.

Assessment

Diagnoses unchanged. Psychosis, NOS. He seems to be recovering nicely with the antipsychotic medication. He also has weight gain secondary to antipsychotic medication, but seems to be still gaining weight despite our metformin titration. From the 18th to 27th of November he went from 205 pounds to 213 pounds. We will continue to encourage him to use dieting and exercise to manage weight gain, as well as titrate his metformin when Dr. De Jesus returns from vacation next week.

Continue current medications and titrate metformin as indicated next week when Dr. De Jesus returns. Continue his 370 assessment with Dr. Catlow. He is part way through the assessment. Overall he is doing well and if discharge is possible back to the community the team may consider recommending that at the end of his stay here.

Subjective

Today I met with Kyeron for a medication management follow up. He reports being compliant with treatment. There are no medication side effects in terms of akathisia or EPS; however, he has had significant weight gain. He was admitted on October 12, 2010 and his weight was 166 pounds and on December 3rd he weighed 208 pounds; this is almost a 40 pound gain in a short amount of time and definitely associated to multiple reasons, one of them is the use of Zyprexa, a second generation antipsychotic that has been associated to significant weight gain. He is also very inactive. He is a client who came from a detention facility with OYA involvement, so he is not allowed to go outside of the secure building and he was an athlete before and someone who was doing sports on a daily basis and right now he has very limited physical activity. He was started on metformin and the medication is currently at 850 mg twice a day to manage weight gain. Metformin has been used as an off-label treatment to manage weight gain and prevent metabolic syndrome in patients on second generation antipsychotics. At this point Kyeron is clear, not psychotic, and stable. He does not report any symptoms like he did when he was admitted, so I plan to continue the plan that I started a couple of weeks ago to taper off the medications if he is on board with the treatment and if mom is on board with the treatment and see if he can be off medications. If that happens, I will also have to update the diagnosis and like I mentioned in previous assessments this could be a brief psychotic episode or this could be substance induced and probably he could be stable without the need for any psychotropic medications.

directed. He is doing really well in the school setting. Insight and judgment are good. Impulse control has been good during the time that he has been in the milieu now that he is stable.

Assessment

Kyeron is at the SAIP level of care. He is a forensic evaluation requested by the courts. Currently he is free of psychotic symptoms.

Plan

Continue the taper off the Zyprexa. I will be decreasing the dosage to 10 mg p.o. at bedtime and monitor the mental status exam for at least 2 weeks. If there is no presentation that indicates the opposite, I will decrease the Zyprexa to 5 mg and eventually my goal is to stop the medication. He has been able to be symptom free. I plan to continue without any psychotropic medications. This is a patient who had his first psychotic break, so hopefully this is able to resolve and go back to the community without the need for psychotropic medications. Right now he is presenting significant weight gain due to the use of psychotropics, so definitely he will get benefit from being tapered off of the Zyprexa and if he needs to be on any psychotropic medications I will probably use Abilify that has less significant weight gain associated to the use. I plan to continue monitoring mental status exam and medication management follow ups on a weekly basis until final disposition. Most recent AIMS score is zero

Subjective

I met with Kyeron for a medication management follow-up. Currently he reports being compliant with treatment. We have been doing a taper off the Zyprexa Zydys that he has been on since his arrival to the milieu 66 days ago. He has tolerated the taper off very well. He has not reported any psychotic symptoms. No psychotic break, no paranoia, no manic or hypomanic symptoms. I have been following carefully, getting feedback from staff on a daily basis, trying to identify any possible psychotic break or symptomatology. My theory is that Kyeron presented for a psychotic break and that he is going to be able to resolve and hopefully go off medication to baseline. He has had a significant amount of weight gain related to the use of Zyprexa. So if he is able to tolerate the discontinuation of the medication without presenting symptoms, he will be discharged without medication; if not, I will be switching to a different antipsychotic medication. Currently he feels comfortable, he is engageable, I have seen, visible in the unit, appropriate in terms of peer and staff interaction.

In terms of the mental status exam, Kyeron is alert and oriented x3. He is calm, cooperative, very outgoing in the conversation. Affect full. Mood reported as feeling well. Denied psychotic features. No hallucinations, no delusions. Thought process is well organized. No distortions. Insight and judgment look good. Impulse control is good. No suicidal or homicidal ideation.

Assessment

Kyeron is a client admitted to the unit for competency restoration and to complete a forensic evaluation, Aid and Assist, that Dr. Tim Catlow, psychologist at the Children's Farm Home, has been working on. Currently he is psychotic-symptom free. We are working the taper off medication, and the goal is to achieve no medication at the time of discharge.

Subjective

I met with Kyeron for a medication management follow up. We stopped all psychotropic medications 2 weeks ago. He reports feeling well and no changes. He reports no auditory or visual hallucinations. He denies any racing thoughts. No hypomanic features. He denied hypersexual thoughts. He is concerned about the observation that the CATS and TTLs have in terms of his boundaries. He states that this is part of how he usually is and the baseline and that he tends to be very silly and play around with his family and he feels that he can do that with the staff. Definitely I had a conversation with him, mom, and his therapist Trevor regarding also the cultural factor and the interaction with peers and family members and how that can be misinterpreted. It is still too soon to see how he is going to do in the final evaluation in terms of determining his competency but definitely at this point he is not meeting criteria for medication management but I expressed to mom that I have some concerns if he returns back to closed custody if he is going to be able to continue stable with no psychotropic medications.

Mental Status Exam

Kyeron is alert and oriented x3. He was calm and cooperative. He was a little bit guarded in terms of expressing his thoughts. Insight and judgment look good. Impulse control is good during the time that he has been here. He was stable on medications and without the medications during the last 2 weeks. Denies suicidal or homicidal ideation. Denies psychotic features. Thought process looked logical, coherent, and goal directed. Speech is in a normal tone, speed, and volume.

Assessment

At this point Kyeron is currently without psychotropics for the last 2 weeks. He has no presented any change in the mental status in terms of manic or hypomanic symptoms or any psychotic features. He looks stable so far. I am going to be changing the diagnosis from Psychosis, NOS by History and continue as a primary Cannabis Abuse. The CGAS will be increased to 50. I am going to be updating the diagnosis after I complete my first month of observing Kyeron without medication in terms of what if I have to do any change in the primary diagnosis I have to mention that during the IPC yesterday January 6, 2011 mom was in disagreement of having Cannabis Abuse as one of the primary diagnoses. She felt that his substance abuse did not meet that criteria. I explained to mom why the difference between cannabis abuse and dependency and what my rationale was in the diagnosis. She was more concerned with how detrimental it will be for his case going on in the criminal courts to have that diagnosis as a primary diagnosis and I sympathize with mom in that concern; however based on the information provided I cannot make any changes at this point.

Subjective

I met with Kyeron for a medication management follow up. Currently he is not taking any psychotropic medications. The diagnosis was updated during the last appointment to Cannabis Abuse as a Primary; Psychotic Disorder, NOS by History; and Delirium, NOS by History. He is currently not endorsing any psychiatric symptoms, including no manic symptoms, no hypomanic symptoms, no symptoms of depression, helplessness, hopelessness, and no anxiety. We have been working on some diagnostic clarification. It was brought up during the last IPC by his biological mom that she has some concerns and disagreement related to the substance abuse history.

I did review my notes and I went over again during my interview today with Kyeron his substance abuse history. He is 17 years old. He was admitted at the Children's Farm Home for a forensic evaluation on October 11, 2010. He endorsed the use of cannabis since he was 16 years old for at least more than 12 months. He endorsed that he has not tried any other substances and that he was smoking marijuana 4-5 times per week. He was using the marijuana in joints and blunts and he denied the use of any other illegal substances. He endorsed that the only period that he was avoiding the use of marijuana was during the season he was playing basketball, but since he first turned 16 years old he has been using this illicit drug.

I inquired about how it was interfering with his activities of daily living and his school performance. He denied it was but when we went into detail he stated that in the beginning of his high school year in 9th and 10th grade he was doing academically much better and that he was getting A's, B's and C's and the academic performance deteriorated significantly during 11th grade after he started using the marijuana. He also stated that during that year he also started skipping classes or missing time in school when he was doing other things, like hanging out with friends, playing basketball, etc. Definitely the substance use resulted in a failure for him to fulfill his obligation in the school setting that would be ideal for a teenager and definitely based on his report made a significant difference from the freshman year to the junior year. We were not able to explore his performance in the senior year because he was based on his report in school for no more than 2 weeks before he was arrested.

In terms of his interaction with peers and staff, he has been quieter. Staff report that he has been more defiant, making jokes with staff that can sometimes be interpreted as threats. During this appointment with me he was quieter and more defiant.

Mental Status Exam:

Kyeron was alert and oriented x3. He was cooperative but definitely he needs some reinforcement. His affect was kind of irritable. He was defiant in answering questions. He was more quiet in terms of answering yes or no or giving details in his answers. Thought process was goal directed, coherent, and logical. Insight and judgment were good. He was able to participate besides the fact that he was kind of irritable and guarded on some of questions. There are no psychotic features. There are no hallucinations or delusions. I want to clarify that when I use the word guarded I have the impression that after our last IPC last week when we were discussing the substance abuse, now he is more cautious in terms of the information that he provides. Impulse control has been good in the milieu. He denies suicidal or homicidal ideation. He denies any other kind of psychotic features.

Assessment

At this point Kyeron looked like he is stable without psychotropic medications. I will not be doing any update in the diagnosis. At this point he carries a diagnosis of Psychotic Disorder, NOS by History; Cannabis Abuse as Primary; and Delirium, NOS by History. Based on the information that I have right now in terms of the clinical presentation and past history and after taking into consideration that he does have a history of substance abuse, he does have a significant stressor after being arrested and he does have based on the report from biological mom and him a genetic load of mental illness. Making a final determination in terms of the diagnosis in the sense that if he should be finally diagnosed with another mental illness is going to be difficult, I believe that time will tell and in the meantime he looks stable without medications. It is in question whether he is going to remain stable once he is discharged from the controlled environment.

Subjective

We met for a medication management follow up. Currently Kyeron is not meeting criteria for medication management. He is not presenting or endorsing any symptoms of psychosis, mania, hypomania, anxiety, panic disorder, or mood disorder. He is pending the final evaluation by Dr. Tim Catlow to complete the competency restoration treatment and competency to stand trial evaluation. He is not endorsing any symptoms and he is more quiet. He states that he is trying to keep things to himself and be cautious in terms of the interaction with staff. He believes that things could be seen differently and he states that it is more like a culture or any background difference. He had an incident during the weekend related to a peer making a racist statement against another client and he reacted against this individual and he states that he was upset because the other client was making a racist statement and he feels like he identifies himself as an African American and that was trigger for him.

Mental Status Exam

He is alert and oriented x3. He was calm and cooperative. Eventually he was able to engage in the conversation and was less guarded. Affect locked full. Mood he reports doing well. No suicidal or homicidal ideation. No psychotic features. Attention and concentration are good. Insight and judgment are good. Impulse control has been good in the milieu. Speech was of normal tone, speed, and volume. No racing thoughts. No manic or hypomanic symptoms.

Assessment

At this point he is not meeting criteria for medication management. He is not endorsing or presenting any kind of symptomatology that requires an update in the diagnosis or change in the CGAS. His diagnosis was recently updated to Cannabis Abuse as a primary; Psychotic Disorder, NOS, by History; and Delirium, NOS, by History. It will be difficult to clarify and make a final diagnosis in terms of saying if this was a substance induced psychotic disorder versus an acute manic episode of bipolar disorder versus the possibility of brief psychotic disorder.

Plan

Continue monitoring mental status exam on a weekly basis. Disposition will be pending of the courts. At this point he is psychiatrically stable and no danger to himself or others. No psychotic symptoms, including hallucinations or delusions. Continue working with his therapist in one-to-one and group therapy until final disposition. A sleep deprived EEG has been requested to rule out any organic cause that could have precipitated the psychotic break that he had in the past. Arrangements have been made with the sheriff's office in his home county and with the district attorney to do the paperwork required, including a court order, so we can schedule the EEG and arrange transportation for it. I will be following up with this request during CARDEX.

General Format

Progress: Met with Kelli Jarrell, Trevor Pittman and Nova Sweet at Ms. Jarrell's request to talk about issues she had concerns about and was thinking about writing a grievance about Ms. Jarrell had concerns about not being notified in advance about two medical treatment appointments: One was a sleep-deprived EEG that didn't end up happening because it was denied by the court but she felt she would have been quite upset if she would have arrived and Kyeron wouldn't have been here and the other was an appointment for medication management with Dr. De Jesus where Ms. Jarrell was clearly concerned that Dr. De Jesus would be talking to Kyeron about medications without her influence. Regarding the EEG, I both conveyed that the test did not represent an admission to the hospital but was a relatively minor procedure that takes about an hour (she had a misunderstanding that the test would involve hospital admission) but that I was sorry she wasn't notified in advance of when it would occur. Dr. De Jesus meeting with Kyeron alone for a medication management appointment (with a plan to call the mother later) I indicated was a normal practice and that it is important for adolescent psychiatrists to spend some time with teens alone (while keeping parents fully informed). She indicated that she had actually participated by phone in the session in question but was angry that she hadn't been told in advance that Dr. De Jesus was going to meet for a medication appointment with Kyeron.

Her last point of concern raised today was regarding the diagnosis. She would like the diagnosis changed to indicate PTSD was the cause of his symptoms. I told her that after she had raised her concerns that Dr. De Jesus sought consultation with the other psychiatrists here regarding the diagnoses of Psychosis, NOS and Cannabis Abuse and that we concurred with his diagnoses and that they would not be changed unless something really changes about Kyeron's condition (and that she is certainly free to disagree with the diagnosis).

She thanked us for our time and the meeting concluded when I had to attend to another appointment.

Subjective

I met with Kyeron for a medication management follow up. Currently he is not taking any psychotropic medications. His diagnosis has been updated to Cannabis Abuse as a primary; Psychotic Disorder, NOS by History, and Delirium, NOS by History. He has a CGAS of 50. He has been with no psychotropic medications for 1 month and he has not decompensated or presented any psychotic symptoms. His forensic evaluation was completed by Dr. Tim Catlow and now after submitting the report to the courts we are pending the disposition based on the judge's decision. As the physician working on the competency restoration, I did request an EEG to be scheduled and done. Judy Franz from Multnomah County submitted an order requesting Benton County Sheriff's Department to transport Kyeron for the EEG; however, I was notified by Lynae McGrath who coordinates SAIP level of care at the Children's Farm Home that the Benton County Sheriff's Office will not follow through with the order due to the fact that Judge Franz has no jurisdiction over them. I was also notified that the EEG was scheduled for mid-February and the courts have decided that Kyeron will be returning back to closed custody in Multnomah County on January 31, 2011 and this is before the appointment is scheduled. In terms of the clinical significance, the purpose of the EEG was to rule out any seizure or any organic condition that could explain the psychotic break. Currently he is symptom free and this is something that could be done in the next level of care if his primary care physician or psychiatrist considers it necessary.

Brief Overall Review for Each Treatment Focus: Kyceron continues to make steady progress in treatment. With regards to psychosis, these symptoms are currently resolved and considered stable. Ongoing treatment with regards to stress management and anxiety will continue as well as psychoeducation about psychosis. Kyceron is court ordered here for a 370 evaluation which he continues with Dr. Callow.

Kyceron is doing well with identifying his thought distortions and is using skills to ground himself and maintain his reality. This review Kyceron has needed little more staff support with managing his thoughts and emotions due to stress over the holiday and feeling anxious about ambivalence of what court outcome will be. Kyceron continues to report good sleeping patterns and ability to track information and memory recall. He is managing his hygiene age appropriately and completing unit chores. Kyceron has developed terms and ways of communicating with others that conveys his level of disorganization and confusion. He requests to take naps when he is cognitively worn out from challenging distorted thinking but this has gone down since stabilizing. Kyceron has been able to identify life goals and make realistic expectations for himself. Kyceron denies any auditory or visual hallucinations this review. Kyceron and his family are benefiting from psychoeducation and will continue to benefit from this.

Family Involved in Treatment: Participating fully in treatment

Family Therapy: Participating fully in treatment

Family Notes and Youth and Family Suggestions: Kyceron's family is participating fully in his treatment and attending weekly family sessions and visits to campus. They are responding very well to psychoeducation and learning ways to support Kyceron in his treatment and court anxiety. Kyceron's siblings are adjusting to Kyceron's current legal situation and being out of the home in treatment and have responded well to sibling work. Kyceron and his family have strong bond and willingness to support one another. Continued family therapy to focus on ongoing psychoeducation, problem solving and communication.

Education Attendance: Regressed Behavior: Same Academic progress: Regressed

Education Notes: Per report from the teachers: His attendance is around 50% of his assigned classes. He participate's in about 2 of the 3 classes he attends. He was safe and respectful in 100% of the classes he attended but has showed more passive non-compliance. His progress is slow but he continues to show an investemnt in completing high school requirments. However, he continues to struggle with attending his first morning class of the day. He has shown an interest in working on a credit recovery program in Language Arts.

Clinical progress toward discharge: Kyceron continues to make progress with identifying his thought distortions and is using skills to ground himself and maintain his reality. He check's in less frequently about his thoughts for their validity and shows stability around his thinking. Kyceron has developed terms and ways of communicating with others that conveys his level of disorganization and confusion, however, has needed to use these less this review. Kyceron continues to show improvement in his ability to attend school as expected and participates in milieu activities. He is requesting to take naps less when he is cognitively worn out from challenging distorted thinking and denies auditory or visual hallucination. He is benefiting from psychoeducation and will continue to benefit from this.

Ongoing discharge planning: Currently Kyceron is here at CFH for a 370 nid and assiat evaluation. His disposition is determined by the court.

Medication Review: Since the last IPC, Kyeron was tapered off the medication. He has tolerated being without medication well. He has had approximately 2 weeks off of the Zyprexa. He had no previous psychiatric treatment before this psychotic break. We have been monitoring him closely. He has not presented any psychotic features, no suicidal or homicidal threats, no manic or hypomanic symptoms. The treatment goal is to continue observing. The disposition, in terms of placement once he completes the forensic evaluation with Dr. Tim Callow, is dependant upon the court. At this point, the clinical team is recommending just to observe and decide if he will need to continue on psychotropic medications or not. Mom is requesting no psychotropic medications. If he is able to continue without medication, the diagnosis will be updated.
