PLAINTIFF DEREK L. MOBLEY'S NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION FOR CONDITIONAL CERTIFICATION OF COLLECTIVE ACTION PURSUANT TO 29 U.S.C. § 216(b)

3 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that, on April 8, 2025, at 10:00 a.m., in Courtroom 15, of this 4 Court, located at 450 Golden Gate Avenue, 18th floor, San Francisco, California, before the 5 Honorable Rita F. Lin, Plaintiff Derek L. Mobley will move the Court for an order conditionally 6 certifying the proposed collective pursuant to Section 216(b) of the Fair Labor Standards Act and 7 Section 626(b) of the Age Discrimination in Employment Act ("ADEA"). This motion is based on 8 9 the Plaintiff's allegations and the declarations of the Opt-In Plaintiffs which unequivocally show 10 that the Plaintiff and Opt-Ins are similarly situated to the members of the potential collective and 11 there exists no material distinctions between them that would prohibit conditional certification. 12 Therefore, the Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court authorize the issuance of notice pursuant 13 to 29 U.S.C. § 626(b), which incorporates the standards of § 16(b) of the Fair Labor Standards Act 14 (29 U.S.C. § 216(b) so that potential collective members may learn of their rights and decide whether 15 to join the lawsuit. 16 17 In support of this motion, the Plaintiff incorporates the attached memorandum of points and 18 authorities and the accompanying declarations of Opt-In Plaintiffs Jill E. Hughes, Vanessa Knight-19 Bell, Sheilah Johnson-Rocha, and Richard Lieb, Jr. and the exhibits attached thereto. For the reasons 20 set forth below, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court grant this motion and conditionally 21 certify the proposed collective. 22 23 24 25 26 27

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

Plaintiff, Derek L. Mobley ("Mobley" or "Plaintiff"), brings this suit challenging Defendant Workday, Inc.'s ("Workday" of "Defendant") alleged policy or practice of discriminatory job screening-which disproportionately disqualifies individuals over the age of forty (40) from securing gainful employment. This motion seeks certification of a nationwide ADEA collective, as set forth below.

MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR CONDITIONAL CERTIFICATION

The Plaintiff, and Opt-In Plaintiffs, Jill E. Hughes, Vanessa Knight-Bell, Sheilah Johnson-10 Rocha, and Richard Lieb, Jr. all have submitted hundreds of employment applications to prospective 11 employers at a Uniform Resource Locator ("URL") that ends with @myworkday.com. Each time 12 13 their employment applications have been rejected, sometimes within minutes of submission. Any 14 employment applications submitted to employers via @myworkday.com are subject to Workday's 15 proprietary screening processes during the Class Period, including the Plaintiffs and the proposed 16 collective. It is thus reasonable to attribute any systematic disparate impact in the scoring of 17 applicants to Workday's policy of using algorithmic decision-making tools. This causal connection 18 is unsurprising: algorithmic decision-making tools have been known to cause disparate impact in 19 scoring applications. 20

As the Court has already determined, "[t]o plead a prima facie case of disparate impact, a plaintiff must (1) show a significant disparate impact on a protected class or group; (2) identify the specific employment practices or selection criteria at issue; and (3) show a causal relationship between the challenged practices or criteria and the disparate impact." Order at 13 (Doc. 80) (quoting Bolden-Hardge v. Off. of Cal. State Controller, 63 F.4th 1215, 1227 (9th Cir. 2023)). The Court has also found that the Plaintiffs satisfied those elements of a disparate impact claim by having identified and pled "a specific employment practice" in the form of Workday's "algorithmic decision-making tools to screen applicants . . . [that] rely on biased training data and information obtained from pymetrics and personality tests," Order at 13 (Doc. 80) (quoting FAC ¶¶ 28 38–39, 57), as well as "sufficiently allege[ed] that the disparity is caused by Workday's algorithmic screening tools." Id. at 15.

Because their applications are more likely to be flagged for rejection, applicants over 40 are disproportionately more likely to be denied jobs. As a result, those over 40 experience significantly greater rates of rejection for employment which negatively impacts their career prospects, earnings, and quality of life. The detailed allegations of the First Amended Complaint, basic information obtained during this litigation, and the declarations of the opt-in Plaintiffs show that the proposed collective members are "similarly situated" and far exceed the "lenient standard" required for conditional certification under 29 U.S.C. § 626(b) and 29 U.S.C. § 216(b).

13 The Plaintiff and the Opt-Ins similarly situated in that they were all denied employment 14 because of the Defendant's algorithmic decision-making tools. Thus, they have made a showing that 15 a group of individuals were victims of a common policy or practice, meeting the lenient standard for 16 maintaining a collective action. This warrants conditional certification. Moreover, the elements that 17 must be proven to support a ADEA disparate impact claim are common to all members of the 18 collective, i.e. proof of impact, causation, and RFOA affirmative defenses are common elements of 19 liability, as are the resulting collective-wide injunctive and declaratory relief and objectively -based 20 21 backpay calculations.

II. STATEMENT OF RELEVANT FACTS

23

Workday, Inc.

Mr. Mobley alleges that Workday, Inc. has engaged in a policy or practice that causes disparate impact by discriminating against applicants (including [Mr. Mobley]) who are age 40 and older in hiring with the resultant effect of disqualifying persons aged 40 or older from positions for which they are well qualified. (FAC at pgs. 2-3). Because Workday is the gatekeeper to employment 1 2 opportunities for millions of applicants, its alleged discriminatory screening practices have a 3 significant disparate impact on older workers seeking employment.¹ In May of 2023, the Bureau of 4 Labor Statistics reported more than 9.8 million job openings in the U.S., and Workday recruiting 5 processed 2.2 million of those U.S. job requisition transactions in May, representing nearly 22% of 6 all U.S. job openings that month. (FAC at pg. 2). At that rate, in 2023 alone, Workday was projected 7 to process more than 36 million requisitions, screen 266 million applications, and make 24 million 8 9 job offers in 2023 alone. Id. Workday processes this massive number of applications by using 10 automated screening tools that rely on artificial intelligence. Id. Workday's job screening practices 11 have systematically favored younger applicants at the expense of older candidates. (FAC at pgs. 2-12 3). Workday's market dominance ensures that a significant portion of applicants must bypass its 13 artificial intelligence ("AI") and Machine Learning ("ML") systems and screening tools to get jobs 14 thereby depriving older workers of employment. (FAC at pg. 2). 15 B.

28

Plaintiffs' Efforts to Secure Employment

17 Plaintiff Mobley and Opt-In Plaintiffs Hughes, Knight-Bell, Johnson-Rocha, and Lieb, have 18 each submitted hundreds of applications to various employers who use Workday to screen 19 applications. Plaintiffs were over the age of 40 when they applied and allege that they were qualified 20 for the positions but were unlawfully refused employment despite their qualifications.

1. Derek L. Mobley

Mr. Mobley is over the age of 40 [d.o.b. 1974]. (FAC¶19). Mobley graduated from Morehouse College in 1995 with a bachelor's degree in finance and is also an honors graduate of ITT Fechnical Institute. (FAC¶¶20-24). Over his career Mobley has worked in various financial, IT helpdesk, and customer service-oriented jobs. (FAC¶¶25-26). He possesses extensive knowledge in multiple critical roles within the Enterprise server, banking, finance, and insurance industries.
8 (FAC¶27).

⁹ Beginning in 2017, Mobley applied for over 100 positions with employers that exclusively
¹⁰ use Workday as a screening platform for talent acquisition and/or hiring. (FAC¶49-55). The emails ¹¹ by which Mobley communicated with these employers all say myworkday.com. (FAC¶53).
¹² Mobley's applications were rejected by Workday every time. Id at 49. Many of the positions for ¹³ which Mobley submitted applications required him to take a Workday branded assessment and/or ¹⁴ personality test. (FAC¶56).

Mobley never received an interview for most of the jobs for which he submitted applications, and in numerous instances he was informed of his rejection within hours of submitting his application. (FAC¶¶61-87). For example, on January 29, 2022, he applied for a job at 12:55 a.m. and received a rejection email less than an hour later, at 1:50 a.m. (FAC¶¶84-85). Despite his qualifications and experience, Mobley never received an offer of employment.

The companies listed above have sent at least one automated rejection email for role(s) 7 for which Mr. Hughes met or exceeded the posted hiring requirements. (Ex. 1-Hughes Dec. ¶5) In 8 9 some cases, the automated rejection emails stated "You do not meet the minimum requirements for 10 this role" even though she met or exceeded all posted requirements based on her professional resume 11 and portfolio of prior work. Id. The automated rejections Ms. Hughes received were often received 12 within a few hours of applying or at odd times outside of business hours (i.e., 2:40 a.m. on a Sunday 13 morning; 11:00 pm on a weekday), indicating a human did not review the applications. (Ex. 1-14 Hughes Dec. ¶6). 15

Despite her qualifications, experience, and numerous applications, Ms. Hughes has only been offered an opportunity to interview once, via Cardinal Health, which resulted in a rapid rejection, only to see that same role re-posted over and over again for multiple years since. (Ex. 1-Hughes Dec.
 ¶10).

3. Vanessa Knight-Bell

Ms. Knight-Bell is over the age of 40 [year of birth 1970]. (Ex. 2-Knight-Bell Decl. ¶6). She different employers. Id. During this period, she specifically recalls submitting 180 applications to Boeing, 131 applications to Northrop Grumman, 121 applications to Parsons Corporation, and 110 applications to General Dynamics Information Technology. Id. She never received an interview or job offer from these employers even though she met the qualifications for the positions for which she applied. Id. She received automated rejection emails, most often within 24 hours of her interview.

(Ex. 2-Knight-Bell Decl. ¶5).

9 The denials of employment recommendations were received via automated rejection emails
10 for role(s) for which Ms. Knight-Bell met or exceeded the posted hiring requirements. (Ex. 2-Knight11 Bell Decl. ¶5). In some cases, the automated rejection emails stated "You do not meet the minimum 12 requirements for this role" even though she met or exceeded all posted requirements based on his various pharmaceutical and biotech companies. (Ex. 3-Johnson-Rocha Decl. ¶4). A large majority of the companies to which she applied use the Workday, Inc. job application platform. Id. Ms. Johnson -6-Rocha's qualifications and experience exceeded all criteria in the job requisitions for each of the 1 2 roles for which she applied, however almost all her applications were met with an automated rejection 3 notification. Id. Furthermore, many of the jobs for which she applied were not filled but were 4 continuously re-posted. (Ex. 3-Johnson-Rocha Decl. ¶5). When the jobs were re-posted, she re-5 applied only to receive an automated rejection email. Id. In some cases, the automated rejection 6 emails stated "You do not meet the minimum requirements for this role" even though she met or 7 exceeded all posted requirements based on her professional resume. (Ex. 3-Johnson-Rocha Decl. 8 9 ¶5). Automated rejections were often received within a few hours of applying or were sent at odd 10 times outside of business hours, indicating a human did not review the applications. some companies, such as Allstate, he has submitted multiple applications. Id. He has been denied employment each time. Id.

The denials of employment were received via automated rejection emails for role(s) for which Mr. Lieb met or exceeded the posted hiring requirements. (Ex. 4-Lieb Decl. ¶5). In some cases, the automated rejection emails stated "You do not meet the minimum requirements for this role" even -7-though he met or exceeded all posted requirements based on his professional resume. Id. Automated

How Workday, Inc. Operates

Workday acts as an agent for firms who have delegated their employment decision-making 6 authority to its algorithmic decision-making tools. FAC¶91, 107. Workday's "artificial 7 intelligence", "machine learning", assessments, tests, and pymetrics decide who to recommend for 8 9 jobs and who to reject. FAC 107. Submission of application via @myworkday.com is the only way 10 to gain employment opportunities with these employers. FAC 41, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 76, 78, 80, 82, 11 84, and 92. Workday's subscription-based service reflects an on-going relationship with their client-12 employers and includes significant engagement in the process of hiring employees. FAC¶93. 13 Workday boasts that it can "reduce time to hire by automatically dispositioning or moving candidates 14 forward in the recruiting process." FAC¶94. Via what it terms as "Talent Management", Workday 15 sources candidates and then uses algorithmic decision-making tools to recommend job opportunities. 16 17 FAC¶95.

18 Workday's relationships with its client-employers are not one-off transactions but 19 ongoing business arrangements where employers delegate their selection decisions to Workday who 20 in turn uses its algorithmic decision-making tools to screen out applicants who are over the age of 21 40. FAC¶108. Vis-a'-vis pymetrics Workday's Assessment Connector uses neuroscience data and 22 AI to help client-employers make their hiring and internal mobility decisions more predictive, and 23 allegedly free of bias; however, these algorithms are only trained on incumbent employees at a 24 25 company, allowing the pymetrics Workday Assessment Connector to build a homogenous workforce 26 not representative of the applicant pool. FAC¶¶101-102. Workday also encourages and uses the 27 recommendations of incumbent employees for hiring decisions. FAC 103. This facially neutral 28

1	employment practice has a differential effect upon applicants over 40, because any lack of work force
2	diversity allows for incumbent employees to consciously or unconsciously refer or recommend few
3	workers over the age of 40. FAC¶¶103-104.
4	III. PROPOSED CLASS
5	Mr. Mobley requests that the Court conditionally certify the following class:
6
7	All individuals aged 40 and over who, from September 24, 2020, through the present who applied for job opportunities using Workday, Inc.'s job application platform and
8	were denied employment recommendations.
9	The class is objectively defined in a way that allows class members to easily determine
10	whether they are part of the proposed class as it only includes candidates over the age of 40 who used
11	Workday, Inc.'s platform to access and apply for employment opportunities.
12	IV. ARGUMENT
13 14	A. Legal Framework for Conditional Certification
14	Under the ADEA "the term "employer" means a person engaged in an industry affecting
16	commerce who has twenty or more employees for each working day in each of twenty or more
17	calendar weeks in the current or preceding calendar year. The term also means (1) any agent of such
20	"discriminating against any individual with respect to his compensation, terms, conditions, or
21	privileges of employment, because of such individual's age." 29 U.S.C. § 623(a)(1); Mobley v.

27	a collective action is appropriate if the proposed opt-in class of employees is "similarly situated":
28	-9-
	PLAINTIFF DEREK MOBLEY'S NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION FOR CONDITIONAL

CERTIFICATION OF COLLECTIVE ACTION PURSUANT TO 29 U.S.C. § 216(b)

"An action to recover the liability . . . may be maintained against any employer . . . in any Federal or State court of competent jurisdiction by any one or more employees for and in behalf of himself or themselves and other employees similarly situated. No employee shall be a party plaintiff to any such action unless he gives his consent in writing to become such a party, and such consent is filed in the court in which such action is brought."

5 29 U.S.C. § 216(b) (emphasis added).

6 District courts in the ninth circuit employ the familiar two-step approach to determine 7 whether plaintiffs are similarly situated. Zeman v. Twitter, Inc., 2024 WL 4032051, *2 (N.D. Cal. 8 2024). First, the court makes an initial, conditional determination "whether the proposed class should 9 be given notice of the action based on the pleadings and affidavits submitted by the parties." Id. at 10*2 (internal quotations omitted). "The standard for certification at step one is lenient and "typically 11 results in certification." Zeman v. Twitter, Inc., 2024 WL 4032051, *2 (N.D. Cal. 2024); Kincheloe 12 13 v. American Airlines, Inc., No. 5:21-cv-00515-BLF, 2021 WL 2322322, at *3 (N.D. Cal. June 7, 14 2021).

At step one, "district courts have required little more than substantial allegations, supported 16 by declarations or discovery, that the putative class members were together the victims of a single 17 decision, policy, or plan and a showing that plaintiffs are generally comparable to those they seek to 18 represent. Stated differently, plaintiffs must show that there is some identifiable factual or legal nexus 19 [that] binds together the various claims of the class members in a way that hearing the claims together 20 21 promotes judicial efficiency and comports with the broad remedial policies underlying the FLSA." 22 Zeman, at 2 (internal quotations and citations omitted). Because of this lenient standard, courts need 23 not consider evidence provided by defendants at this stage. Kress v. Pricewaterhouse Coopers, LLP, 24 263 F.R.D. 623, 628 (E.D. Cal. 2009). "Given that a motion for conditional certification usually 25 comes before much, if any, discovery, and is made in anticipation of a later more searching review, 26 a movant bears a very light burden in substantiating its allegations at this stage." Prentice v. Fund 27 for Pub. Interest Research, Inc., 2007 WL 2729187, *2 (N.D. Cal. 2007). Therefore, the "sole 1 2 consequence of a successful motion for preliminary certification is the sending of court-approved 3 written notice to workers who may wish to join the litigation as individuals." Campbell v. City of Los 4 Angeles, 903 F.3d 1090, 1101 (9th Cir. 2018) (internal quotation marks and citations omitted). 5 Accordingly, courts in the ninth circuit overwhelmingly "refuse to depart from the notice stage 6 analysis prior to the close of discovery." Ramirez v. Ghilotti Bros. Inc., 941 F.Supp.2d 1197, 1203 7 (N.D. Cal. 2013) (quoting Kress, 263 F.R.D. at 629). This is because at the second step of the 8 9 analysis, which is made after the close of discovery and usually on a motion for decertification by 10 the defendant, a stricter standard for "similarly situated" is employed. Ramirez, at 1203.

28

11 Consequently, numerous ninth circuit district courts have granted conditional certifications 12 for collective actions alleging violations of the ADEA and authorized notice to ADEA classes. See 13 Zeman v. Twitter, Inc., 2024 WL 4032051 (N.D. Cal. 2024); Kincheloe v. American Airlines, Inc., 14 2021 WL 2322322 (N.D. Cal. 2021); Rabin v. PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, 2019 WL 9078785 15 (N.D. Cal. 2019); Heath v. Google Inc., 215 F.Supp.3d 844 (N.D. Cal. 2016); Pines v. State Farm 16 17 Gen. Ins. Co., 1992 WL 92398, at *4, 13 (C.D. Cal. 1992). Also, any finding of differences between 18 class members or opt-ins does not bar conditional certification because they are "simply not relevant 19 at the notice stage when plaintiff . . . has set forth substantial allegations that all plaintiffs were 20 subjected to a pattern or age discrimination." Williams v. Sprint/United Mgmt. Co., 222 F.R.D. 483, 21 487 (D. Kan. 2004). "Courts in this District have "rejected similar arguments during the first stage 22 of the [ADEA] conditional certification process, finding that these arguments go to the merits and 23 are better addressed at the second stage, after discovery has closed." Heath, 215 F. Supp. 3d at 854-24 25 55 (citing Sanchez v. Sephora USA, Inc., 2012 WL 2945753, at *4 (N.D. Cal. July 18, 2012) 26 (collecting cases)). Additionally, "'[t]he fact that a defendant submits competing declarations will 27 not as a general rule preclude conditional certification." Heath v. Google Inc., 215 F.Supp.3d 844, 28

1 852 (N.D. Cal. 2016); (quoting Harris v. Vector Mktg. Corp., 716 F. Supp. 2d 835, 838 (N.D. Cal.
2 2010). Judge Labson-Freeman of this District, citing Judge Alsup also of this District, endorses this 3 view, "competing declarations simply create a "he—said—she—said situation" and while "[i]t may 4 be true that the [defendant's] evidence will later negate [Plaintiffs'] claims, that should not bar
6 conditional certification at the first stage." Heath, at 852 (internal citation omitted).

Because the plaintiff's burden for certification at step one is exceedingly light, most courts 7 consider only the plaintiff's evidence. See Sanchez v. Sephora USA, Inc., No. 11 Civ. 03396, 2012 8 9 WL 2945753, at *4 (N.D. Cal. July 18, 2012) (Armstrong, J.) ("federal courts are in agreement that 10 evidence from the employer is not germane at the first stage of the certification process, which is 11 focused simply on whether notice should be disseminated to potential claimants"); Ramirez v. 12 Ghilotti Bros. Inc., 941 F. Supp. 2d 1197, 1203 (N.D. Cal. 2013) (Breyer, J.) ("courts need not even 13 consider evidence provided by defendants at this stage"); Luque v. AT & T Corp., No. 09 Civ. 5885, 14 2010 WL 4807088, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 19, 2010) (Breyer, J.) (same); cf. Villa v. United Site Servs. 15 16 Of California, Inc., No. 12 Civ. 318, 2012 WL 5503550, at *13-15 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 13, 2012) (Koh, 17 J.) (certifying collective based on plaintiff's allegations and three declarations, and declining to 18 consider over 200 declarations submitted by defendants, which had little "probative value" and were 19 gathered under circumstances giving rise to a risk of coercion). 20

21

B. Plaintiffs Easily Satisfy the Lenient First-Step Standard for Conditional Certification.

Plaintiffs have presented evidence well exceeding what is required to satisfy the lenient standard of step one conditional certification. Plaintiffs' declarations, documents, and allegations that the Defendant treated all applicants over the age of 40 alike regarding the critical questions in this litigation is the glue that binds the opt-in class members' claims, making adjudication on a collective-wide basis appropriate. K.H. v. Sec 'y of the Dep't of Homeland Sec., 2016 WL 3879246,

28

*3 (N.D. Cal. 2016). These allegations and evidence support Plaintiffs' contention that Workday's 1 2 artificial intelligence and machine learning screening products treat applicants over age 40 3 discriminatorily and have a disparate impact against them. Specifically, each plaintiff alleges that 4 they each have submitted 100's of applications for employment to jobs for which they either met or 5 exceeded the minimum qualifications with no success. Plaintiffs are rejected due to their age and 6 Workday's algorithmic decision-making tools which discriminatorily score their application in the 7 hiring process and prevent them from obtaining employment. Therefore, Plaintiffs have offered 8 9 enough evidence of Workday's alleged practice of age discrimination to meet the lenient standard 10 for conditional certification.

11

Notice

Plaintiff requests that the Court approve the notice attached hereto. As the Supreme Court 13 recognized in Hoffman-La Roche, the goal of judicial economy weighs heavily in favor of conditional 14 certification and the issuance of notice to potential class members. Hoffman-La Roche Inc. v. 15 Sperling, 493 U.S. 165, 170 (1989). Collective actions benefit the judicial system by enabling the 16 17 "efficient resolution in one proceeding of common issues of law and fact." Id. "The benefits, 18 however, depend upon employees receiving accurate and timely notice concerning the pendency of 19 the collective action." Id. Under FLSA's collective action provisions, trial courts have the authority 20 to facilitate notice to potential plaintiffs to inform them of an action and allow them an opportunity 21 to opt in. Id. at 170-71. Notice should be provided in the early stages. Id. at 171. 22

Prompt notice to potential opt-in plaintiffs is essential because in a representative action under the FLSA, the statute of limitations on an individual's claim is not tolled until that individual files a consent form with the Court. 29 U.S.C. §§ 256(b) & 257. Because of this, courts have moved quickly to certify representative actions and facilitate notice by granting requests for expedited discovery of employee information. Soler v. G&U, Inc., 86 F.R.D. 524, 528-31 (S.D.N.Y. 1980).

The earliest possible notice will promote the broad remedial purpose of the FLSA and promote 1 2 efficient case management by ensuring that similar claims are combined in one proceeding. Dybach 3 v. Fla. Dept. Corr., 942 F.2d 1562, 1567 (11th Cir. 1991); of Kautsch v. Premier Commun's., 504 F. 4 Supp. 2d 685, 690 (W.D. Mo. 2007) ("At this stage of litigation, justice is most readily served by 5 notice reaching the largest number of potential plaintiffs."). Moreover, the only consequence of 6 conditional certification is the sending of court- approved written notice to potential class members, 7 who join the collective action only if they file written consent with the court. Tyson Foods Inc. v. 8 9 Bouaphakeo, 136 S. Ct. 1036, 1043 (2016). Court approval and facilitation of written notice serves 10 the goals of "avoiding a multiplicity of duplicative suits and setting cutoff dates to expedite 11 disposition of the action." Hoffmann-La Roche, 493 U.S. at 172. 12

Plaintiff is concurrently filing a proposed notice and consent form. Plaintiff proposes a 90-13 day opt-in period, consistent with what other courts have approved for large potential classes. Woods 14 v. Vector Mktg. Corp., No. C-14-0264, 2015 WL 1198593, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 16, 2015) (citing 15 Adams v. Inter-Con Sec. Sys., Inc., 242 F.R.D. 530, 542 (N.D. Cal. 2007)); Adams v. Inter-Con Sec. 16 17 Sys., Inc., 242 F.R.D. 530, 542 (N.D.Cal.2007) (90-day opt-in period is warranted in light of the 18 large number of potential plaintiffs). Plaintiff proposes that notice be given as follows: e-mail 19 through a third-party administrator and an official case web page will be created where potential 20 collective action members can review the official notice and submit an opt-in form. Fernandez v. 21 Tox Corp., 677 F. Supp. 3d 1089, 1100 (C.D. Cal. 2023) (Approving notice via email through a third-22 party administrator with a 90-day opt-in period). Notice via text message may also be appropriate to 23 24 consider. See Thrower v. Universal Pegasus, Int'l Inc., 484 F. Supp. 3d 473, 490 (S.D. Tex. 2020) 25 (approving text messages as a form of FLSA Notice following conditional certification to give 26 potential plaintiffs an opportunity to join the case "Unlike e-mail, text messages, at the very least, 27 have eyes laid on them before being opened or ignored. And while one's e-mail account is quickly 28

becoming inseparable from their cell phone—that is to say, most people own a smartphone on which they receive text messages and e-mails—a short vacation or busy workweek can result in literally hundreds of unread e-mails."). Collective action members will be permitted to submit opt-in claim forms on the official case web page using online signatures and may be permitted to submit claim forms via e-mail.

Workday Should Be Ordered to Produce Names and Contact Information of Potential Class Members.

8 Workday should be ordered to provide, within 45 days, the names and contact information 9 for potential class members, i.e., whose employment application(s) was scored by Workday's AI for 10 any of their customers and who were 40 years of age as of the application date based on date of birth 11 (if known), employment history dates, or college graduation date (if known). See Hoffmann-La 12 13 Roche, 493 U.S. at 170 ("The District Court was correct to permit discovery of the names and 14 addresses of the discharged employees."). This contact information should be provided in electronic 15 format and should include name, positions by company applied for, along with their e-mail address, 16 telephone number, and mailing address. See Hubbard v. Cnty. of Los Angeles, No. CV 23-3541 PA 17 (RAOX), 2023 WL 11884620, at *3 (C.D. Cal. Oct. 23, 2023) ("...courts regularly require disclosure 18 of potential plaintiffs' contact information to plaintiffs' attorneys in FLSA collective action cases."). 19 20 /// 21 /// 22 /// 23 24 25 26 27 28 -15-PLAINTIFF DEREK MOBLEY'S NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION FOR CONDITIONAL CERTIFICATION OF COLLECTIVE ACTION PURSUANT TO 29 U.S.C. § 216(b)

DEREK L. MOBLEY for and on behalf of himself and other persons similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

Case No. 4:23-cv-00770-RFL

DECLARATION OF JILL E. HUGHES

v.

WORKDAY, INC.

Defendant.

DECLARATION OF JILL E. HUGHES

1. My name is Jill E. Hughes. I am an opt-in Plaintiff in this proposed collective action against Workday, Inc. I am over the age of nineteen ("19") and competent to testify about the matters set forth in this declaration. The statements made in this declaration are made based on my personal knowledge, experiences, and observations.

I am an adult resident of the state of Illinois.

3. I understand that a class and collective action lawsuit alleging, inter alia, age discrimination have been filed against Workday, Inc., Derek L. Mobley v. Workday, Inc., Case No. 4:23-cv-00770-RFL (N.D. Cal.), and that this declaration may be used by the plaintiffs in relation to this case.

My Applications Via Workday, Inc.'s Jobs Platform

4. Since December of 2023, I have applied for hundreds of positions that use Workday, Inc. as a screening tool for sourcing, recruiting, talent acquisition and/or hiring. Examples of employers that I have submitted applications to include 3M; Cigna; Veralto; Stryker; Becton Dickinson; FIS Global; General Electric; Huntington; and Parsons Corporation. I have been denied employment each time.

5. The companies listed above have sent at least one automated rejection for role(s) for which I met or exceeded the posted hiring requirements. In some cases, the automated rejection emails stated "You do not meet the minimum requirements for this role" even though I met or exceeded all posted requirements based on my professional resume and portfolio of prior work.

6. Automated rejections were often received within minutes or a few hours of applying and were often sent at odd times outside of business hours (ie, 2:40 a.m. on a Sunday morning; 11:00 pm on a weekday), indicating a human did not review the applications.

I was born in 1974, and at the time of my applications, I was 49 or 50 years old.

Declaration of Jill E. Hughes

My Qualifications

8. I have B.A. from the University of Cincinnati and an M.A. from the University of Chicago and have more than 28 years of executive-level experience in my professional career as a Senior Medical Writer, Project Manager, and Scientific Director with experience writing/strategizing for major media as well as the corporate and medical arenas.

9. Attached to this declaration is my resume'. [See, Att. A].

Workday, Inc. Handling of My Applications

10. Despite my qualifications, experience, and numerous applications, I have only been offered an opportunity to interview once, via Cardinal Health, which resulted in a rapid rejection, only to see that same role re-posted over and over again for multiple years since. It appears that nobody who applies for/interviews for that role as posted via Workday is ever hired, and I have submitted exhibits in the Request for Production accordingly.

My Concerns About Discrimination

11. It is my understanding that Workday, Inc., is a third-party vendor that screens applicants for the companies that I have applied to for jobs. For the companies that use Workday as the gatekeeper to employment opportunities, I am required to create a Workday account and submit my application to the employer @myworkday.com. It is also my understanding that most if not all my applications were screened by artificial intelligence processes and/or applications.

12. I am challenging Workday, Inc.'s use and marketing of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning which I believe discriminated against me on the basis of my age in scoring my application in the hiring process and preventing me from obtaining employment.

13. I believe this because I was more than qualified for the positions I applied to, and I was never given an interview or a legitimate, nondiscriminatory reason for why I was rejected.

The Importance of a Job at Workday, Inc.

15. Other than one short-term/temporary (90 days) part-time job in the past 2 years, which ended January 31, 2025, I have been unable to obtain gainful employment to support myself and my family. I firmly believe that Workday, Inc.'s Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning disqualifies applicants aged 40 and over, such as myself, no matter how qualified.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

DEREK L. MOBLEY for and on behalf of himself and other persons similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

v.

WORKDAY, INC.

Defendant.

Case No. 4:23-cv-00770-RFL

DECLARATION OF VANESSA KNIGHT-BELL

DECLARATION OF VANESSA KNIGHT-BELL

1. My name is Vanessa Knight-Bell. I am an opt-in Plaintiff in this proposed collective action against Workday, Inc. I am over the age of nineteen ("19") and competent to testify about the matters set forth in this declaration. The statements made in this declaration are made based on my personal knowledge, experiences, and observations.

V&B

2. I am an adult resident of the state of Alabama.

3. I understand that a class and collective action lawsuit alleging, inter alia, age discrimination have been filed against Workday, Inc., Derek L. Mobley v. Workday, Inc., Case No. 4:23-cv-00770-RFL (N.D. Cal.), and that this declaration may be used by the plaintiffs in relation to this case.

My Applications Via Workday, Inc.'s Jobs Platform

4. Since 2018, I have applied for hundreds of positions that use Workday, Inc. as a screening tool for sourcing, recruiting, talent acquisition and/or hiring. I have submitted numerous job applications to approximately 40 different employers. For example, I have submitted 180 applications to Boeing, 131 applications to Northrop Grumman, 121 applications to Parsons Corporation, and 110 applications to General Dynamics Information Technology. I have been denied employment all but one time when I was offered and accepted a position with Target Distribution Center (Madison, Alabama) as a seasonal Warehouse Associate. Due to its physical requirements, I was only able to work this job for a couple of days.

5. Except for Target, I have received automated rejection emails within 24 hours of applying for a job. The automated rejections I received were often emailed within a few hours of applying or at odd times outside of business hours indicating a human did not review the applications. These automated rejection emails were for role(s) that I met or exceeded the posted hiring requirements. In some cases, the automated rejection emails stated "You do not meet the minimum requirements for this role" even though I met or exceeded all posted requirements based on my professional resume.

6. I was born in 1970. At the time of my applications, I was 48 or older.

My Qualifications

7. I have a B.A. from the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa in Commerce and Business Administration, with a Minor in Computing Technology and Applications. Since 1996, I have worked in various financial, business analyst, and customer service-oriented jobs.

8. Attached to this declaration is my resume'. [See, Att. A].

Workday, Inc. Handling of My Applications

9. Despite my qualifications, experience, and hundreds of applications, almost every employer, except for Target, that used the Workday, Inc. platform has never offered me an opportunity to interview for any of the positions to which I applied that best suited my knowledge, skills, and abilities. Instead, the only offer of employment I received and which I accepted was from Target Distribution Center as a seasonal Warehouse Associate. This position was stocking shelves and unloading trucks. I was 52 or 53 years old when I accepted this position and resigned shortly thereafter due to the job's physical demands.

My Concerns About Discrimination

10. It is my understanding that Workday, Inc., is a third-party vendor that screens applicants for the companies that I have applied to for jobs. For the companies that use Workday as the gatekeeper to employment opportunities, I am required to create a Workday account and submit my application to the employer @myworkday.com. It is also my understanding that most if not all my applications were screened by artificial intelligence processes and/or applications.

11. I am challenging Workday, Inc.'s use and marketing of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning which I believe discriminated against me on the basis of my age in scoring my application in the hiring process and preventing me from obtaining employment.

The Importance of a Job at Workday, Inc.

14. I have been unable to obtain gainful employment to support myself and my family. I firmly believe that Workday, Inc.'s Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning, disqualifies applicants aged 40 and over, such as myself, no matter how qualified.

PROFESSIONAL BIO

As a recognized thought leader in clinical development operations and project management with over 20 years of experience, I excel in navigating the intricate clinical trial ecosystem. Expertise in cell and gene therapy has driven my success in leading the development of independent business units. In my role as a Business Unit Leader, I have spearheaded organizational strategy, developed processes and SOPs, integrated cross-functional processes, and managed Operational and Program Managers.

As a patient-centric leader and strategist, I ambitiously build high-performing, cohesive teams to ensure early, high-quality program execution. My deep immersion in clinical development includes leading from concept, contributing to formulation, early strategic development during the concept phase, protocol development (IND submissions and responses), CDA, feasibility assessments, informed consents, contract and budget negotiations, NDAs, CSRs, and developing lay summaries.

As a subject matter expert in Oncology, Hematology, CGT, Autologous, Allogeneic, Rare Disease, and Pediatric Rare Disease, I bring a wealth of knowledge and experience that allows me to pivot, adapt, and innovate. This expertise ensures the successful delivery of early-phase, novel programs, evidenced by the successful enrollment of four pediatric patients identified globally for a rare gene program. Additionally, I hold certifications in Artificial Intelligence and Digital Technologies and have successfully deployed AI-enabled, integrated forecasting applications and portfolio analytics platforms at the enterprise level.

Attorneys for the Plaintiff and Proposed Class and Collective Members

NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

DEREK L. MOBLEY for and on behalf of himself and other persons similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

Case No. 4:23-cv-00770-RFL

DECLARATION OF RICHARD W. LIEB, JR.

v.

WORKDAY, INC.

Defendant.

DECLARATION OF RICHARD W. LIEB, JR.

1. My name is Richard W. Lieb, Jr. I am an opt-in Plaintiff in this proposed collective action against Workday, Inc. I am over the age of nineteen ("19") and competent to testify about the matters set forth in this declaration. The statements made in this declaration are made based on my personal knowledge, experiences, and observations.

2. I am an adult resident of the state of Ohio.

3. I understand that a class and collective action lawsuit alleging, inter alia, age discrimination have been filed against Workday, Inc., Derek L. Mobley v. Workday, Inc., Case No. 4:23-cv-00770-RFL (N.D. Cal.), and that this declaration may be used by the plaintiffs in relation to this case.

My Applications Via Workday, Inc.'s Jobs Platform

4. Since 2022, I have applied for hundreds of positions that use Workday, Inc. as a screening tool for sourcing, recruiting, talent acquisition and/or hiring. For some companies, such as Allstate, I have submitted multiple applications. I have been denied employment each time.

5. The denials of employment were received via automated rejection emails for role(s) for which I met or exceeded the posted hiring requirements. In some cases, the automated rejection emails stated "You do not meet the minimum requirements for this role" even though I met or exceeded all posted requirements based on my professional resume.

6. Automated rejections were often received within a few hours of applying or were sent at odd times outside of business hours, indicating a human did not review the applications.

7. I was born in 1971, and at the time of my applications, I was over the age of 50.

My Qualifications

8. I was qualified for each position that I applied for because I have a degree from Art Institute of Pittsburgh, PA, (2015 - 2017) in Graphic Design with a concentration in Graphic Design/Adobe Cloud and a minor in Social Marketing. I have held management positions in prior jobs and have an extensive background in Marketing and its integration with social media. I am also enrolled in courses pursuing CompTIAServer+ certifications.

Initial

9. Attached to this declaration are the resumes` I have used in my attempts to obtain employment. [See, Att. A-D].

Workday, Inc. Handling of My Applications

10. Despite my qualifications, experience, and numerous applications, I have never been offered an opportunity to interview for the positions to which I applied by any company that uses the Workday, Inc. application platform.

My Concerns About Discrimination

11. It is my understanding that Workday, Inc., is a third-party vendor that screens applicants for the companies that I have applied to for jobs. For the companies that use Workday as the gatekeeper to employment opportunities, I am required to create a Workday account and submit my application to the employer @myworkday.com It is also my understanding that most if not all my applications were screened by artificial intelligence processes and/or applications.

12. I am challenging Workday, Inc.'s use and marketing of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning which I believe discriminated against me on the basis of my age in scoring my application in the hiring process and preventing me from obtaining employment.

13. I believe this because I was more than qualified for the positions I applied to, and I was never given an interview or a legitimate, nondiscriminatory reason for why I was rejected.

14. I suspect that Workday, Inc.'s Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning scored my application in manner which screened out applicants over the age of 40, such as myself, and favored younger, less qualified applicants, instead.
