

The New York City Police Department

DISORDER CONTROL GUIDELINES

A MESSAGE FROM THE POLICE COMMISSIONER

Raymond W. Kelly

One of the most challenging problems confronting law enforcement agencies today is the threat of civil disorder. In times of civil unrest, it is especially important that the New York City Police Department be successful in its mission to protect the lives and property of all New Yorkers while enforcing the laws impartially.

In recent years, we have successfully demonstrated our ability to restore order at a number of large scale disturbances in New York City. We have learned much from these experiences and, as a result, have enhanced our procedures and revised our Disorder Control Plan.

This booklet has been prepared to provide every member of the Department with a simple, comprehensive, and practical resource for effective policing at the scenes of civil disturbances.

It contains important information about the recently revised Disorder Control Plan, as well as specific guidelines for police officers, sergeants, lieutenants and captains, for responding to the scene of a civil disorder. In addition, the book contains various tactics and formations that have been designed to restore order as expeditiously and safely as possible.

One of the most important elements of the Disorder Control Plan is a rapid and controlled initial response. It is, therefore, imperative that every member of this Department become aware of the contents of this book. Read it carefully and become familiar with your responsibilities as a member of the Disorder Control Team. Keep this book readily accessible so that, in an emergency, it will be available to you as a resource.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this booklet is to provide members of the department with basic information on their duties and responsibilities when responding to civil disorders.

No two incidents are alike and each will require structure, tactics, and strategies tailored to its particular characteristics. However, some fundamental rules and guidelines are generally applicable in all such situations.

NYPD POLICY REGARDING RESPONSE TO CIVIL DISORDER

It is the policy of the New York City Police Department to protect the rights of peaceful assembly and free speech, as well as the right to safe and unhindered passage for all people. The successful implementation of this policy requires a balance between the Department's mandate to preserve public order and its obligation to protect the First Amendment rights of varied and often competing groups. In all cases, the Police Department must remain neutral in its oversight of peaceful assemblies.

Civil disorders, by their nature, have the potential to cause damage to property, injury or even death and infringement on the rights of citizens. Because of the dangerous nature of civil disorders, the Department has an obligation to restore a lawful and safe environment as expeditiously as possible.

In fulfilling this duty, members of the Department will work within the framework of the law and Department rules and regulations. Should force be necessary, only the minimum needed to accomplish the mission will be utilized. Firearms will always be utilized only as a last resort and in STRICT compliance with Department Guidelines.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Mission of the New York City Police Department during times of Civil Disorder is to:

PROTECT LIFE;

It is the primary duty of all members of the service to preserve human life.

RESTORE ORDER;

By responding promptly and decisively to all civil disorders and providing a safe environment.

PROTECT CRITICAL LOCATIONS;

By ensuring that all basic public services continue to operate without interruption.

ARREST VIOLATORS;

By pursuing and taking into custody those engaged in criminal acts.

PROTECT PROPERTY;

By providing a strong visible presence in the community.

OBJECTIVES

1. Rapid Mobilization and Deployment of Police Resources

The early moments of a civil disorder are critical. The rapid mobilization and deployment of police resources is a visual representation of the Department's firm commitment to maintaining the peace. This display of police resolve, coupled with orders for the crowd to disperse, will often result in the prevention and/or quelling of the disorder without actually employing further measures.

2. Contain and Isolate.

The disorder will be contained to the smallest possible geographical area and participants isolated from the public by:

- Posting teams to patrol in sectors within the disorder area;
- Establishing checkpoints on appropriate roadways along the borders of the disorder; and
- Creating staging areas for support units outside the borders of the disorder area on appropriate commercial roadways.

3. Secure Critical or Sensitive Locations

Police commanders will immediately identify and secure critical or sensitive locations within the disturbance area, (e.g. hospitals, communication centers, firearms establishments, public utility centers, religious institutions, etc.) that, if not protected, could serve to escalate the disturbance. Use the minimum amount of personnel for these assignments.

4. Disperse and Demoralize Disorderly Groups

The police commander must rapidly deploy forces and utilize equipment that will quickly demonstrate the Department's unwavering determination to restore order. The arrest of violators and the repeated dispersal of unlawful groups will demoralize the crowd's will to resist lawful police orders. Lawful demonstrations or marches must be provided police escorts that will also demonstrate the Department's resolve to protect the right of dissent while providing for public safety.

5. Provide Protection to City Agencies or Utilities

In the disorder area, the continuance of basic quality of life services to the community is a necessity for the eventual return to normalcy. Therefore, an organized system of police escorts will be provided in appropriate circumstances.

6. Return to Normalcy

Provide for a smooth transition to a state of normalcy by gradually reducing police patrols in the affected area.

  - Notify Command Post of results.

CAPTAIN AND ABOVE

Follow all of the above and;

- Confer with Emergency Service supervisor to implement plan for rescuing injured officers or civilians and to begin anti-sniper operations.

SPECIALIZED TACTICS

LOOTING

If units on patrol discover incidents of looting:

- Quietly take up positions of cover and advise the radio dispatcher and the command post.
- Supervisors should be cognizant of the possibility of “crossfire” and should direct officers to positions of cover opposite the subject location.

- Additional responding units will be directed by the supervisor to take up blocking positions at both ends of the block to prevent entry to the area during the operation and to capture any suspects fleeing from the location.
- Officer or officers should be designated as the “cover team.” Only this officer(s) will have weapon displayed.
- Supervisor will designate members at each end of the police line as apprehension teams. They will be instructed not to chase fleeing suspects unless directly ordered.
- Supervisor will now announce the police presence and control the orderly exiting from the location of suspects one at a time: These orders will be given from positions of cover, flashlights trained on subjects and location if at night. Have suspect(s) turn back(s) to officers and raise hands above their heads.
- Supervisor will direct suspects to either apprehension team. Teams will not leave cover, and will continually advise suspects to keep their hands up.
- Apprehension teams will work as a team in frisking, cuffing, searching, and securing suspects.
- When it is believed that all suspects have left the location, the sergeant will request emergency service to search the premise, while securing the perimeter. If emergency service is unavailable the sergeant will reform the team into an entry team and an outside security team. The sergeant will enter the premise with the entry team in single file, with flashlight and designated “cover” officers. All others should have their hands free for arrests. Don’t split up - DO NOT set up a cross fire situation.
- When search is completed, secure premises, notify command post and dispatcher of disposition, and remove prisoners for processing. If available, 50 feet of emergency mesh barrier can be used to secure storefronts. Refer to figure # 1-17.

HIGH PROFILE RESCUE

During civil disorders rescuing persons injured and trapped in their vehicles by the disorder provides new challenges. This “tactical rescue” plan is not absolute but is flexible enough to be adjusted to the specific incident. Refer to figure #1-18.

STRATEGY -Three elements are needed:

- SURPRISE FOR SHOCK AND CONFUSION.
  - SPEED
  - EFFECTIVE ACTION
- Four (4) vans or R.M.P.S will be assembled and numbered one (1) through four (4). Each vehicle will have one (1) sergeant and eight (8) officers per van or one (1) sergeant and three (3) police officers in each R.M.P.. The supervisor in vehicle one (1) is in command of the rescue.
  - Approach to target area should be as silent as possible until reaching the spot where the hostile crowd can observe the rescue group.
  - At this point, approach must become high profile using all overhead lights, spotlights, high beams, sirens, etc.
  - Vehicles should maintain rapid approach and remain in column formation until arriving at the scene of the victim’s vehicle.
  - The left rescue vehicle, (1), places its right front bumper to the left side or bumper of the target vehicle. The right rescue vehicle (2) places its left front bumper to right side or bumper of the target vehicle. Vehicle 3 pulls up to the rear left of vehicle 1, vehicle 4 to the rear right of vehicle 2. No gaps should be allowed between all vehicles.
  - A fifth or sixth vehicle, if available, can be stationed in the rear for general support or for blocking the intersection.
  - Once the vehicles have come to a full stop, the drivers of each rescue vehicle will announce “stopped” loudly and clearly. All officers, with the exception of the vehicle drivers, will exit their vehicles.
  - The officers on the outside seats of the vehicles are the security of entire rescue group. These officers could use their open doors as cover. The officers should stay close to their vehicles. Supervisors in vehicles 3 and 4 will provide rear guard security as well.

- All personnel on the inside seats of the vehicle will exit into the barricade formed by the vehicles and complete the rescue. The officers will stand guard or help lift and carry the victim(s), as necessary.
- Victim(s) should then be placed in rescue vehicle 1.
- The target vehicle, if not disabled, may be moved at the discretion of a supervisor. But under no circumstances will an officer’s safety be jeopardized in this regard.
- Once the victim is secured, officers should be ordered by a voice command or hand signal to re-enter their vehicles.
- Supervisor in vehicle 1 who is in command of the rescue will give the command for departure. Each supervisor is charged with relaying these commands to their respective team members.
- Vehicles should proceed forward in the same order as they arrived, vehicle one, then two, etc. If the crowds will not permit them to go forward, the supervisor will order the formation to reverse out of the block. In this instance, the vehicles will leave in reverse order, vehicle four, then three, two and one.

ADDITIONAL SPECIALIZED TACTICS

The following specialized tactics will normally be implemented by a Captain or above.

JOINT EMERGENCY SERVICE AND TASK FORCE / VIOLENT CROWD DISPERSAL PLAN

This plan has been formulated to counter violent and potentially dangerous crowd situations by using the combined resources of the emergency service unit and task force personnel. Refer to figure # 1-16. To use this tactic you should:

Assemble at least one (1) task force, with vans, under the command of a Captain or above.

- Direct the highest ranking member from ESU or SOD to assemble the ESU vehicles and personnel necessary for this tactic. Assign two (2) Police Academy Firearms and Tactics Officers if available to work in conjunction with emergency service unit. The vehicles needed for this operation are:
  - One (1) Photo Observation Truck (P.O.T.).
  - One (1) Mobile Light Generator (M.L.G.).
  - One (1) Radio Emergency Patrol (R.E.P.) vehicle or truck.
  - One (1) ESU supervisors vehicle.
  - One (1) ESU van.
  - Task force vans to transport assigned officers if required.
  - Two (2) additional task force vans with teams inside to follow the formation.
- Out of sight of the targeted block, assemble the above personnel in the following formation:
  - Lead vehicle: P.O.T. truck, will contain a squad of task force officers assigned as a roof top clearing/arrest team, accompanied by the two (2) Firearms and Tactics officers as an anti-sniper cover team, plus at least two ESU officers. If the Firearms and Tactics officers are not available, ESU or task force officers will fill that assignment.
  - Task force personnel will follow the lead vehicle on foot, in a supported wedge or line formation, with two (2) squads in general support assigned as arrest teams and with four person mini wedge formations on each sidewalk. The officers in front of this formation will be equipped with tactical shields. All others will have their hands free.
  - Followed by: The ESU supervisors vehicle, followed by the R.E.P., then the empty task force vans, then the M.L.G..
  - Taking up the rear will be the staffed task force vans which will block off the entrance to the street during the operation and assist if necessary.

- Once assembled the formation can safely enter the most hostile street, clearing roofs, making arrests, and relocating quickly to follow a violent crowd if necessary.
- The M.L.G. can be deployed to illuminate rooftops or directed at crowds to distract them.

Note: The POT truck will be equipped with sledge hammers and halligan tools for rooftop door entry and can be used independent of the rest of the formation to rescue wounded officers downed by sniper fire or to insert anti-sniper teams on rooftops.

If the rooftop clearing/arrest team riding in the POT truck is deployed, it will be replaced automatically by one of the teams in the formation. This will allow the P.O.T. truck to continue to move with the disorderly crowd.

REMEMBER

- Task Force personnel are equipped with pepper mace and gas masks.
- Emergency Service Unit personnel are equipped with tactical smoke grenades, gas masks and Flash Sound Diversionary Devices. Use these items to surprise, startle and deceive a crowd and overcome resistance while effecting arrest, or to mask police rescue operations from a sniper or a violent crowd.
- Before smoke or Pepper Mace are used:
  - Affix gas masks.
  - Determine wind direction.
  - Ascertain proximity of unprotected members of the service and non-participants.
- Render first aid to member of the service, civilians and prisoner exposed to pepper mace.
- Use Emergency Mesh Barrier to clearly mark areas of police control and to safeguard storefronts.
- If crowd regroupes and resorts to violence repeat process as necessary.

CROWD DISPERSAL FROM FLANKS

Follow all instructions for crowd dispersal contained in Tactics section and, in addition:

- After placing a sufficient number of officers directly in front of the crowd, position sufficient forces, out of sight of the crowd on both the right and left sides, or on just one side. This unit(s) becomes a flanking force.
- When the decision to disperse the crowd has been reached, coordinate the flanking unit's action with yours to surprise and startle the crowd while dispersing them. See figure # 1-15.
- This tactic can be employed from either or both flanks, but must be coordinated. Flanking units must be in a state of readiness.

CROWD DISPERSAL FROM REAR

Follow all instructions for crowd dispersal contained in tactics section and in addition:

- After placing an additional number of officers directly in front of the crowd, station sufficient forces out of sight of the crowd and to the rear. Refer to figure #1-14.
- When the decision to disperse the crowd has been reached, coordinate your frontal dispersal with the other unit's rear dispersal operations to surprise, startle and demoralize the crowd.
- Again coordination is crucial. The unit stationed to the rear must be in a heightened state of readiness.
- This is a particularly effective tactic when missiles are being thrown from the rear of the crowd, or when observers have identified person to be arrested in rear of the crowd.

CROWD DISPERSAL WITH SMOKE

Follow all instructions for crowd dispersal contained in tactics section and in addition:

- When a crowd must be dispersed immediately because of the level of violence encountered, or amount of property damage being done, or to effect a rescue, or additional forces are not available, smoke can be an effective dispersal agent. See figure #1-19 .
- Ascertain wind direction.
- Ascertain if air intakes or other persons or places that might be effected by smoke are in the immediate area. If so this tactic should not be use.
- Confer with Emergency Service supervisor about the tactical use of smoke.
- Affix gas masks.
- Notify crowd that GAS will be used. Indicate escape route for them.
- Depending on wind direction, smoke will be delivered in front of or behind the crowd.
- As smoke begins to dissipate move your forces to clear street.

CORDON AND DOUBLE CORDON FORMATION

Both of these formations are used to surround and escort a group that is intent on marching or demonstrating in the street.

DEFINITIONS

CORDON: Is a wedge formation with lateral support on each side. Each of the lateral support columns is joined in the rear by a line formation. Refer to figures # 1-11 and 1-11a.

DOUBLE CORDON: Surrounds the cordon with another cordon formation, creating an inner and outer cordon of officers in a wedge, lateral support and line formation. Refer to figures # 1-12 through 1-13.

SHADOW MOBILE RESPONSE UNITS: Refers to vans staffed by teams of one (1) sergeant and eight (8) police officers that track or shadow the movement of the escorted crowd on parallel streets. These units are staged on parallel streets on both sides of the formation. They will coordinate their movements with that of the main cordon or double cordon formation and will be prepared to deploy in blocking, dispersal or arrest team formations.

PURPOSE

Both the cordon and double cordon are used to:

- Provide police escort to marching groups of demonstrators.
- Prevent violence by or against the group or any other threats to public safety.
- Prevent formation of unlawful roving bands.
- Control the speed, direction and route of group to minimize any dangers or threats to the group to public safety.

CORDON FORMATION

- The shadow mobile response units are responsible for enforcement action against any unlawful groups encountered along the route.
- Coordination of action is critical, as are constant informational updates from the police commander regarding the location of the main body and of any developments requiring assistance.
- The police commander must ensure that two (2) teams of one (1) sergeant and eight (8) police officers each are pre-designated as rooftop security teams for right and left side security of the formation. They will patrol on foot, close to the building lines along the route of the march.
- Following the cordon will be:
  - Patrol wagons for prisoner transportation;
  - Mobile Light Generator for illuminating rooftops or distracting violent crowds;
  - Disorder Response Teams in vans ready for deployment.

These vans can be used to institute traffic and pedestrian detours;

- Vans, sufficient to provide transportation to all officers on foot; and
- R.E.P. Emergency Service team to supply specialized equipment or assistance.
- Flexibility is the key to the success of this formation.
- Units must be aware of the traffic flow and provide for detours as the formation proceeds.
- The cordon will stay with the main body or group at all times, but may have to slow or halt the group to allow for detours, traffic flow, etc.
- As the right and left rooftop security teams are deployed to rooftops or take enforcement action, they must be replaced with pre-designed replacement teams until the original teams rejoin the formation. Refer to figure # 1-11 and 1-11a.

DOUBLE CORDON

- Outer cordon of officers is primarily responsible for securing the formation from attacks from spectators or counter-demonstrators. They are also used to take enforcement action against crowds or other disorderly groups encountered.
- Shadow flanking units, as designated, will assist the outer cordon in enforcement operations.
- The inner cordon will remain with the main body of the group.
- If one shadow flanking unit is engaged in enforcement activity, the other flanking unit will split in two and continue flanking the cordon; one group on the original position, the other on the flank vacated by shadow units taking enforcement action.
- Rooftop security teams will be deployed as in the cordon formation.
- Coordination and heightened state of readiness for shadow units is identical to that employed in cordon. Refer to figure #1-12 and 1-13.
