

Greenest Means

The Skagit River, where three Seattle City Light dams are located, has the highest returns of wild Chinook salmon, steelhead and chum salmon of all Puget Sound rivers. That means inexpensive hydroelectricity for you, and a healthy salmon population for the Skagit.