

What About the Fish?

Nine miles of rapids that begin behind Gorge Powerhouse serve as an effective natural fish barrier.

Even before Gorge Dam was built, few migratory fish had the energy or stamina to swim any farther up the Skagit River's steep grade.

