

- The largest pink salmon run on record occurred in 2009, over 1.6 million spawners. Pink salmon populations have rapidly rebounded in the Skagit following a record flood event in 2003, with the majority of fish spawning in the 25-mile reach below Seattle City Light's hydroelectric project.