I wonder if we could respond to "The Danger of a Single Story" with other Oakwood, local stories regarding diversity. Instead of "panelists" we would have story tellers. I think of something like Chabad coming to Oakwood and now having community Menorah each year. I'm sure there are other areas of diversity that have stories. Break out discussions could follow.

I know Glen and I am not familiar with Julius. Can you provide a bit more info about their backgrounds--what departments they teach/work in?

Thank you so much for these ideas!

Security Checkpoint: External Email

Hi All

It was nice "seeing" everyone on Monday and getting comments/ideas about the program for our next general membership meeting on April 28th. Thank you.

Since our meeting, I haven't received any feedback yet regarding panelists so I am sending this reminder email. Please send ideas of people (and their contact info) who could participate in a panel discussion after we watch the TED Talk "The Danger of a Single Story." After we collect names, we will need to narrow down to three panelists and invite them to join us pronto. April is a busy (as well as cruel :) month and I don't want to leave this too late, so thank you for getting your ideas for panelists to me as soon as possible.

Something to think about: If we don't have a panel, we will go with our alternate plan of separating into breakout sessions after watching the video and have small group discussions instead. We would need questions or a format for those breakout sessions and also some kind of closure at the end when we all come back together.... perhaps a spokesperson for each breakout session could share something that stands out from their discussion? OR, we could ask a specific question that each breakout group would need to work together to answer?

I look forward to your feedback and appreciate your help. I am eager for our next meeting.

Hi all!

If you like "Stronger Together", " like I do, but want to stay away from the political connection, then try doing what the US Marine Corps (USMC) does.

The motto of the USMC is "Alway Faithful." But they NEVER say that. Instead, they say "Semper Fi," or the motto in Latin. It's a lot cooler ;-)

Now it's been 3.5 decades since did a Latin translation, so I punted, used the Google, and got this:

Fortior Una

Which translates... somewhat (Latin's tricky that way)... to "Stronger Together."

Just my two cents...

Gah! Had no idea about that! I have a feeling a lot of the ideas for tag lines may be used in other places ... but avoiding a Clinton Q-Anon association would be a good idea.

Perhaps "building together" "working together" "learning together" "growing together"....

I like the connotation of the word "together."

I also like the idea of action verbs but we need to keep this short... and I am having a hard time finding succinct verb phrases. Ideally, the image in the logo will get our main message across and the tag line is the extra stuff. Oakwood Inclusion Coalition is certainly very clear in its meaning. I see the tag line as a way to pull folks in... that's why I like the "we're all in this together" approach.

I will have spotty access to email starting tomorrow... back next Friday. So if I don't reply quickly, you know I'm not disengaged... just unattached to WiFi.

My best,

ciao leigh ann:

thanks. i'm confident that your suggestion of last night got through to all; i was just waiting to see if there were any responses. your suggestion of "stronger together" would, i think, be an excellent addition were it not for the fact that that same statement was hillary clinton's campaign slogan in 2016 (see this NPR story on that fact: <https://www.npr.org/2016/08/08/489138602/trump-comment-gives-clinton-a-campaign-slogan-with-layered-meaning>).

so i think we ought to steer clear of that one for the obvious political reasons, not to mention any copyright matters that this might touch up against. do you and others concur with this reservation?

my goal is to get out the possibilities today or tomorrow morning at the latest for a vote among the members of the leadership team, so please all send any other ideas in addition to the ones that we have.

thanks. yours, roger i just touched base with jayne whitaker, and she brought up an interesting possibility for us, namely that we should aim to have 1 tagline BUT that the student design firms could also work creativity---say for possible Far Hills banner proposals---with a set of key words that are important to the OIC.

so, i'd suggest that as we boil things down toward our tagline, we think also about maybe a dozen words that we could also furnish to the students? this might be a nice way for us "to have our cake and eat it too" (have our tagline and other words that we like!).

Healy,

I like your thinking.

The draft logos are most certainly, and appropriately, OIC focused.

The words "belong" and "enrich" bother me. To me, "belong" sounds somewhat prescriptive, and "enrich" could be taken as going in the direction of physical wealth or maybe even elitist... maybe???

How about: "Citizens Building Community for All"?

I also agree that making a final decision on the tag line is best done in conjunction with finalizing the logo.

More thoughts:

I suggested the words, "Citizens" to drive the point that we are a citizen-driven organization.

Ideally, shouldn't the logo/tagline compliment or at least interplay with one another? For example, with one possible logo that incorporates anything that looks like our often-used "O" or oak tree motif, the tagline: OIC: Growing Inclusion could work. In short, we may wait to make a final decision about the tagline until after we see the logo designs.

Roger, have you previewed the students' designs? Are they City of Oakwood or OIC focused?
