Hello Kim,

I'm writing as Chairperson of the Oakwood Inclusion Coalition to express interest in finding a time for our leadership team and a few others to schedule a docent tour of the UnDesign the Red Line exhibit.

Please tell me how long we should set aside for the tour, and what hours are available the week of August 9 (are both daytime and evening available). Once I have that information, I'll reach out to my group to see what fits most of our schedules.

Thank you for this opportunity!

Kristi

Leigh Ann and Kristi:

It might be a good idea to give the Executive Committee a couple of date options and then we just go with when the most people can go. Then we will need to contact Kim Dellinger at Metro to set up the room reservation and get the docent scheduled; Leigh Ann, going forward you'll probably want contact Kim directly since you're in charge of OIC Programming. Let me know if you think this is a plan and I can tell her that the OIC contact will be you as head of the Programming Committee and she'll know to be on the lookout for your email.

Again, for our Executive Committee tour there would be a $20 charge for the docent, no charge for the room but Kim said that she could be flexible on the docent fee. Metro will have evening hours (closing at 8:30 PM) starting on July 19th so we could book the tour on a Monday, Tuesday or Thursday night, which I think might be better since so many people work during the day. No charge for parking in the garage at DML Main.

Kim did suggest we get this booked for the week of August 9th when the exhibit opens so we'll have flexibility to decide whether we want to book an event space before the exhibit leaves on September 25 or give members plenty of time to view on their own if we decide to host a webinar through OIC or WMPL. But if that's not a good week for very many people, we can do it the next week or so.

I love the idea of starting with a docent-led tour for the OIC leadership and Program & Events Committee folks. What do you think?

Elizabeth, Kristi and Brian:

We talked about this upcoming Undesign the Redline Exhibit (August 6-September 25) at Metro as a possible OIC program; it's probably better suited for the Programming Committee but maybe we could support it by hosting a post-tour webinar. It looks like there are a couple of options that might work for groups. The thing is, we don't know the interest with the OIC membership; if we get 20-ish interested, then it could be a docent-led tour that we call the Ask Me Line to book. If we get like 60, then it's an EVENT!! and needs to be scheduled through the Events Manager.

I did talk to Kim Dellinger in Events here about possibilities and here's what she's recommending (and she's recommending we do this the opening week of August 9th through the 14th):

FIRST STEP:

- We start with an OIC Executive Committee and/or Programming Committee docent-led tour
- She books us a COMPED Meeting Room (no charge) + a docent ($20) for that time
- We can get together in the Meeting Room before the event, then take the tour, then meet afterwards in the Meeting Room to discuss

THEN:

- IF WE THINK SELF-GUIDED TOURS for individuals will work, then those can just be booked through the Visit link below
  - We could then host a webinar for OIC participants through WMPL or OIC and recommend they tour the exhibit at their convenience before the webinar
- IF WE THINK IT'S A PROGRAM WE WANT TO HIGHLIGHT, she can talk to us about booking the Community Room, adding a food/beverage package + the docent tour

I actually like the option of the OIC Executive and/or Programming Committees touring first and deciding how we can best proceed. If someone can forward this to Leigh Ann (I don't have her email here with me!), that would be great!

VISIT: Self-Guided or Register Online for a Free Docent-Guided Tour for individuals or for groups of 10+; call 463-2665 for times not listed

HOST: For an EVENT that combines a tour (either self-guided or docent-led for $20) with a reserved meeting space for discussion)

Per-person price includes room rental with AV equipment and a food & beverage package: this may be too costly. Add docent-led tour for $20.

Annual Community Document Shred Event

The city contracted with Shred-It, a mobile document destruction company, to be at the J. D. Frell Public Works Center at 210 Shafar Blvd. on Saturday, September 25 from 8:00—11:00 a.m. to provide document destruction services. Besides paper products, Shred-It has the capability to destroy microfilm, microfiche, and other material of a secure or confidential nature. All material will be destroyed beyond recognition on-site and, if recyclable, will be baled and shipped to paper mills to be manufactured into new paper products. Any non-recyclable material processed will be disposed of in a secure location. If you have confidential papers or other material of a private nature being stored at your home and would like to have it destroyed, please take advantage of this opportunity. There will be individuals on-hand to assist you with unloading your documents. This event is free of charge. Please be prepared to present identification confirming residency.

Oakwood Citizens Demonstrate High Interest in Inclusion Coalition

Oakwood citizens are proving their determination to promote a welcoming community for everyone who lives, works, and visits Oakwood. The Oakwood Inclusion Coalition (OIC), a citizen-driven coalition dedicated to inclusivity and diversity, has held two public meetings, and nearly 200 citizens have joined the discussions.

The first meeting held in January was an opportunity for residents to learn about the OIC's vision and mission. Citizens expressed specific activities they would like the leadership team to pursue. The meeting provided citizens the opportunity to share their reasons for living in Oakwood and how they can personally demonstrate a commitment to inclusion, equity, and diversity.

The organization exists for people who want to explore how others' experiences have shaped their values and perspectives. Participants seek to discover and understand rather than persuade. Wright Memorial Public Library Director and OIC Chair Kristi Hale explains, "We want to ensure that everyone's views are represented and respected." Meetings allow residents to speak authentically from their hearts and personal experience. "It's not about 'window dressing,' and its focus isn't political," assures Hale. "It's an openness to community building and a recognition that Oakwood has long benefitted from its citizens' imagining what could be."

The second meeting held in April explored the role assumptions and preconceived notions play when we meet "others" unfamiliar to us. Participants viewed bestselling author Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie's TED Talk and then broke into small groups to consider how their own efforts to make sense of the world lead them to make assumptions. Adichie acknowledges the human naturalness of stereotyping but warns that there is a real danger in making a judgment about a person or group of people based on what she calls "a single story."

One former "West Virginian" participant shared her angst about relocating to Oakwood for employment. Now a longtime Oakwood resident, she is thankful that she ignored her prejudices about Oakwood gained only through the single story she formed about a whole community based solely on her experience with a disagreeable college roommate from Oakwood. Several participants agreed that they had suppressed the negative impressions they conceived before moving here to take advantage of the school system. "It's pretty amazing," said one participant, "how many of us negatively 'stereotyped' our community before we experienced it."

Behind the scenes of the public meeting, the leadership team has gone about the business of establishing a solid organizational framework. Government, school, library officials, private citizens, faith, ethnic and cultural leaders, and representatives from the business and media communities in the Oakwood area have garnered the support of city, school, and library governing boards. The organization's establishing documents and the expectations and code of conduct for OIC participation are on the OakwoodOIC website at www.oakwoodoic.org.

The Program and Events Committee launched a big read and book club this summer. The Current Issues Committee, best described as the organization's "think tank," plans to qualify and quantify perspectives of Oakwood during this next year. Its objective is to use data-based research to understand the many stories of Oakwood and allow this information to guide the mission and purpose of the OIC. The Communications Committee is working with Wright Library and other Oakwood organizations to increase the resources available on the OIC website to address residents of activities and opportunities advancing issues of inclusivity, diversity, and equity.

The OIC leadership team is deeply grateful for the interest Oakwood citizens have shown in this endeavor.

Johnny Applesed Tree Planting Project

The city of Oakwood and Oakwood Beautification Committee will again offer trees for purchase through the Johnny Applesed Street Tree Planting Project. Applications and detailed brochures describing the project and the tree species will be available in mid to late September at the OCC and on the City website. Oakwood property owners may choose from four or five varieties of trees. The trees selected will be approximately 2 inches in diameter and will be discounted at 50%. One tree will be allocated for each approved property site at the discounted price but must be planted in the city right-of-way (property frontage). Trees will be planted in the latter part of November or early December. They will be planted by a local nursery, wrapped, staked, mulched and guaranteed for one growing season. Call the OCC at (937) 298-0775 for more information.

This error occurs when the recipient's domain has security or policy settings that reject the sender's message. However, we were unable to determine the specific setting that's causing this rejection. Usually the error is reported by an email server outside of Office 365. Common issues include the following: the receiving server suspects the message is malicious or spam; the Sender Policy Framework (SPF) record for oakwood.oh.us is incorrectly configured or doesn't exist; or the message includes an attachment larger than the receiving server will accept. Try one or more of the following:

Review the reported error - Check the Reported error shown below to help determine what the issue might be. For example, if the issue is related to an SPF failure, the reported error will usually include the acronym "SPF" or the phrase "Sender Policy Framework."

Correctly configure your SPF records - If you're the sender's email admin, make sure your domain's SPF records at your domain registrar are properly configured. Office 365 supports only one SPF record (a TXT record that defines SPF) for your domain. Include the following domain name: spf.protection.outlook.com. If you have a hybrid configuration (some mailboxes in the cloud and some mailboxes on premises) or if you're an Exchange Online Protection standalone customer, add the outbound IP address of your on-premises servers to the TXT record. To learn how, see Customize an SPF record to validate outbound email sent from your domain and External Domain Name System records for Office 365.

Unable to relay - If the Reported error indicates a problem with relaying (e.g. "unable to relay"), then the email server that reported the error likely isn't set up correctly to receive and relay messages from the sender's domain. This server will usually be one of your on-premises servers in a hybrid environment, a smart host email service that you're trying to route messages through, or possibly even an email hosting service you used in the past yet still have mail flow settings pointing to (e.g. your MX record at your domain registrar still points to your previous email service provider). Check Error reported by shown below to determine what domain, service, or server is reporting the error. The email server needs to be configured to either accept messages from anonymous users or to include the sending domain or IP in its list of authenticated senders. On an Exchange server, you can set this up in the server's receive connector. If it's a smart host managed by another service or partner, contact the service or partner to configure their servers to accept and relay messages from your senders. Also, work with your domain registrar to make sure your MX records are properly configured.

Contact the recipient's email admin - For some scenarios, you can fix the issue by contacting the email admin at the recipient domain to ask them to add the sender's email address or your domain to their allowed senders list, or to relax the setting that's causing the rejection.

For more information and tips for fixing this issue, see Fix email delivery issues for error code 5.7.1 in Office 365.

That's great news. Masha is on the planning committee for this. Thank you, Healy!

Healy Jackson contacted me today to discuss this program... and volunteered to attend. Given Healy's seat on our Oakwood Planning Commission (2010 to present), and her leadership role in our Oakwood Inclusion Coalition, I think she is an excellent candidate. I spoke with Vice Mayor Steve Byington about it, as our city council representative on the Planning Commission, and he concurs.

I will put Healy in touch with Brian Martin and Carlton Eley at MVRPC to get the ball rolling.

Fyi below from MVRPC Executive Director Brian Martin. I pulled the paragraph below from the United States EPA website... <https://www.epa.gov/oh/ej-academy>

When and where will sessions be held?

Sessions are tentatively scheduled for two consecutive days each month between September 2021 and May 2022, generally from Friday afternoon through Saturday. Sessions will be held in the Dayton, Ohio area. To graduate, participants must attend eight of nine sessions and complete additional programmatic requirements, including a portfolio and all homework. All COVID-19 safety precautions will be in place, and in-person meeting will be dependent on local conditions.

Is anyone interested in attending this? It's a significant time commitment that I am not sure I would want to ask a staff member to take on.

If none of you are interested, might you know of a citizen that would consider it?

If not, I could contact the members of our OIC Leadership Team to see if one of them might be interested, or might know someone interested.

Hi Norb,

I hope you're doing well! I'm writing to ask you to consider sending a staff member or resident to the upcoming Miami Valley Environmental Justice Academy. <https://www.mvrpc.org/news/general-news/environmental-justice-academy-registration-opens>

We have 5 seats available and I thought of you and your community. Please read the attached web link and then let me know as soon as you can the name and contact information of the interested participant. The current deadline is Monday, July 19 and an email from you will hold open the seat. The selected person would then fill out the application and return it back to us before July 22 for consideration.

The cost for attending this 9 month course which will be held at the Fitz Center on South Main Street in Dayton is $250. We are soliciting donors for funding that could bring the cost to participants down considerably.

I believe this opportunity is timely for our region! The coursework will increase your staff's knowledge of Environmental Justice and the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) which could then lead to strengthened policies within the city to ultimately attract businesses and residents.

Thank you for your consideration. If you have any questions, please contact Carlton Eley at 937-531-6552 or at his email above.

I spoke with Vice Mayor Steve Byington about it, as our city council representative on the Planning Commission, and he concurs.

I will put Healy in touch with Brian Martin and Carlton Eley at MVRPC to get the ball rolling.

Fyi below from MVRPC Executive Director Brian Martin. I pulled the paragraph below from the United States EPA website... <https://www.epa.gov/oh/ej-academy>
When and where will sessions be held?

Sessions are tentatively scheduled for two consecutive days each month between September 2021 and May 2022, generally from Friday afternoon through Saturday. Sessions will be held in the Dayton, Ohio area. To graduate, participants must attend eight of nine sessions and complete additional programmatic requirements, including a portfolio and all homework. All COVID-19 safety precautions will be in place, and in-person meeting will be dependent on local conditions. Is anyone interested in attending this? It's a significant time commitment that I am not sure I would want to ask a staff member to take on.

If none of you are interested, might you know of a citizen that would consider it?

If not, I could contact the members of our OIC Leadership Team to see if one of them might be interested, or might know someone interested.

Hi Norb,

I hope you're doing well! I'm writing to ask you to consider sending a staff member or resident to the upcoming Miami Valley Environmental Justice Academy. <https://www.mvrpc.org/news/general-news/environmental-justice-academy-registration-opens>

We have 5 seats available and I thought of you and your community. Please read the attached web link and then let me know as soon as you can the name and contact information of the interested participant. The current deadline is Monday, July 19 and an email from you will hold open the seat. The selected person would then fill out the application and return it back to us before July 22 for consideration.

The cost for attending this 9 month course which will be held at the Fitz Center on South Main Street in Dayton is $250. We are soliciting donors for funding that could bring the cost to participants down considerably.

I believe this opportunity is timely for our region! The coursework will increase your staff's knowledge of Environmental Justice and the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) which could then lead to strengthened policies within the city to ultimately attract businesses and residents.

Thank you for your consideration. If you have any questions, please contact Carlton Eley at 937-531-6552 or at his email above.

Ohio Humanities Taking Applications for $1.3M in ARP Funds for Public Humanities Nonprofits

Arts nonprofit Ohio Humanities is currently accepting grant applications from nonprofits with a public humanities mission that have been affected by the pandemic. It will award a total of $1.3 million through the American Rescue Plan (ARP) Act of 2021, under the National Endowment for the Humanities' (NEH) Sustaining the Humanities through ARP (SHARP) program.

The ARP allocated $51.6 million in emergency funding to NEH for local distribution through 56 state and jurisdictional humanities groups, according to an Ohio Humanities release. Funds support organizations, programs and professionals at the local level to advance economic recovery within the cultural sector due to the effects of the pandemic. Eligible projects may include humanities programming, general operating costs, strategic planning and pandemic recovery efforts and digital or accessible program development.

To be eligible, applicants must be public humanities nonprofits that experienced financial hardship as a result of the pandemic including reduction, loss or furlough of staff, or loss of annual operating revenue. SHARP grants are not available to individuals, for-profit organizations, political or advocacy organizations, or for activities supported by non-NEH federal funding.

The application window opened on Monday, July 12 and carries a deadline of Monday, Aug. 2. Additional deadlines may be announced pending the availability of funds. In the release, Ohio Humanities Executive Director Rebecca Brown Asmo noted the group previously distributed over $750,000 to cultural groups through the CARES Act. (See The Hannah Report, 5/8/20.)

"Ohio's public libraries, museums,

"Ohio's public libraries, museums, historical societies and other cultural organizations are the cornerstones of many of our communities, places where we can once again come together as our state reopens. Through the SHARP program, we will continue to provide critical support to these local organizations," Brown Asmo said.

"With so many of our nation's cultural and educational institutions reeling from the economic fallout of the pandemic, NEH's state and jurisdictional humanities partners are on the front lines of the crisis, adapting and responding to urgent needs within their states and communities to shore up the humanities organizations and resources that enrich the lives of so many citizens," added NEH Acting Chairman Adam Wolfson.

"NEH is grateful to our state and jurisdictional partners for joining us in this effort to quickly distribute American Rescue Plan relief funding to where it is most needed."

Hi Dan,

Hope you've been well. I was able to talk to the Board about this and look back at the history of our grants. Unfortunately while the larger theme of inclusivity and diversity is certainly a piece of enhancing excellence in our schools, without this being directly tied to the school district, the Board doesn't feel it can grant funds for this particular project.

I am hopeful the work of OIC will inspire administrators and staff at Oakwood Schools to think of new ways to engage with students on themes of diversity and inclusion, and that while maybe not at this step, our grants will help the mission of OIC in the future.

Thank you,
Bre A.

I am sharing the editorial in today's paper. Ray Marcano expresses exactly what we are trying to do with the OIC. I wonder if he could be involved in a future program? Or help us promote the OIC and what we are doing to the larger Dayton community?

Enjoy the rest of your weekend. It's a good day to relax, reflect, and/or read.

My best,
