Roger,

Thanks for the input. However, I'll admit to being a little fatigued in that I thought we had already laid most of these points to rest when we passed the document last year. That being said, we are a new organization, and if the majority don't think we have it right, than we can and should put issues back on the table.

Personally, I do not have strong feelings about whether or not we have one or two types of membership. As a non-Oakwood resident, I feel this is for others on the leadership team to decide.

However, on the role of the city, school, and library leaders, I feel we should be members that represent our institutions, just as other institutional leaders will be representing their institutions (faith leaders, business leaders, etc.).

Sounds like we'll have some things to discuss. I'm looking forward to all of your voices.

thanks for sending this round. please see and consider my editorial suggestions in the attached. in addition to drawing attention to a set of general edits, i would specifically point out the issue of how membership is defined (we presently have "general membership" ---read oakwood citizens--- and "affiliate membership"---read those who are not oakwood citizens. i fear that this sets of a A and B list set of members, and could be perceived externally as elitist . . . Also, i think we need a bit of conversation about whether individuals from the city (norb), the schools (kyle), and the library (kristi) are "members" or "liaisons." my recommendation is that we adhere to the language of "liaison" for these individuals, in the cases in which they are representing those entities (city, schools, and library), reserving to them as citizens/individuals the right and privilege to become members independent of their official roles with this city, schools, or library. in this way, we doubly make sure that the OIC is clearly a citizen-run organization and not an official or veiled wing of the city of oakwood, the schools, or the library. in other words, we are direct and upfront that individuals like norb, kyle, and krist are there as liasons as not as individuals who are guiding the OIC from their official positions.

I think it is important to remember that our mission is about Oakwood and therefore our focus is how best to move forward as a community. It is through success in that mission that the image of 'elitist' will disappear. At this point we cannot agree on how to establish a 'membership' category. Let's make sure we are being proactive and focused not defensive and protective.

dear all

i agree with kristi that i too thought that we were done with this document, but a year's reflection and work on the OIC brought me to a continued sense that that document was just not wholly where it needed to be or might be in two significant details: membership and matters of liaison members. i also agree with judy that our primary focus is on oakwood, but our organization was also founded in a concern for how oakwood interacts with and is perceived by surrounding communities. indeed, it was that external perception that initially brought us together in a concern that such an organization needed to be established. that additional dimension of our purpose and goals is also what we have stated, put in our documents, and expressed to the wider public in press releases. so we have already positioned and advertised ourselves as a community organization that is open to all communities, with and beyond oakwood. on the matter of membership, i wholly anticipate that our membership will always be 99.99 percent composed of residents of oakwood, so i think we stand nothing to lose and everything to gain by changing membership to be simply one category and not a structure of general members and affiliate members. thanks. yours, roger

OIC Team,

My apologies, but I had to revise the virtual meeting link for the 4/28 meeting. I cancelled the original one, and I resent a meeting appointment with the new one. This change was necessary so that the library carries only one Zoom license for meetings over 100 or more. While we may not get that many people, we want to be prepared for it.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

OIC Leadership and Library Support Team,

I've attached the agenda for next Wednesday's General Meeting.

- Wright Library's Brian Potts will again be our event producer, with Josh Green as his backup.
- The program includes a 30 minute breakout session from 7:30 – 8 p.m.
- Here's the preliminary list of discussion leaders for the breakout sessions. Please let me know if you would prefer to be removed from that role (please also let me know if I inadvertently left someone off the list!):
 - Kristi Hale
 - Judy Cook
 - Roger Crum
 - Sam Dorf
 - Leigh Ann Fulford
 - Madeline Iseli
 - Healy Jackson
 - Jeremy Newport
 - Kyle Ramey
 - Dan Turben
 - Elizabeth Schmidt
 - Victoria Hix (need to confirm her availability)
 - Michael Carter – need to confirm his preference
- Each breakout room discussion leader should prepare by reviewing the instructions and questions before the meeting.
 - Instructions and questions are included on the attached agenda under item 5 A – D.
 - I have attached a copy of the OIC Rules of Conduct, which each leader should read to their group at the beginning of the breakout session.
 - There are more discussion questions than needed, so you have choices if dialog starts to lag.

When I last checked, we had 46 people registered. We like to have 4 – 6 people per discussion. It's possible that more than one discussion leader may be assigned to one room, and if so, you can work together or assign one person to take the lead.

Please let me know if you have any questions or suggestions. I think it's going to be a great program. Thank you Michael, Madeline, and Leigh Ann for all your work putting this together!

PROPOSED AGENDA (v3 Draft 4/23/21)

April 28, 2021 OIC General Membership Meeting

DURING PRE-MEETING SIGN-IN...??

Possible “teaser” for the membership meeting perhaps on the zoom screen as people start to enter the zoom session on the 24th?

- When someone sees you walking down the street, what lists might they make about you?
- What lists do you sometimes make about others?
- How might these lists shape choices people make (beyond greeting each other)?
- What would it take to change the lists people make about each other?

1. WELCOME <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • OIC Updates • Introduce Madeline 	Kristi Hale	7:00 pm (2 min.)
2. INTRODUCE FACILITATOR, MICHAEL CARTER	Madeline Iseli	7:02 pm (1 min)

4. SHOW TED TALK, “The Danger of a Single Story”	Video	7:08 pm (20 min)
5. BACK TO MICHAEL <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Now we’re going to go into the breakout groups for about 30 minutes, after which we’ll reconvene as an entire group for observations and reflections 	Michael	7:28 pm (1 min)

Code of Conduct

Guiding Oakwood Inclusion Coalition Participation

All Oakwood Inclusion Coalition (OIC) participants agree to treat one another respectfully. With a spirit of humility, we agree to exercise the following principles and attitudes in order to facilitate OIC's mission to study, promote, and celebrate an inclusive and welcoming environment.

- Open-mindedness: Be curious and listen to understand. Explore how others' experiences have shaped their values and perspectives.
- Acceptance: Listen without interruption or crosstalk. Suspend judgment so you can be open to learning from others.
- Curiosity: Seek to discover and understand rather than persuade. Look for areas of agreement and shared values and take an interest in others' differing beliefs and opinions.
- Sincerity: Speak authentically from your heart and personal experience. Welcome that from others.
- Brevity: Keep your comments concise and relevant. Strive for honesty and depth while being conscious of sharing airtime.

I watched "The Danger of a Single Story" TED Talk several months ago and found it very powerful. I think it will be a good program.

- Each breakout room discussion leader should prepare by reviewing the instructions and questions before the meeting.
 - Instructions and questions are included on the attached agenda under item 5 A – D.
 - I have attached a copy of the OIC Rules of Conduct, which each leader should read to their group at the beginning of the breakout session.
 - There are more discussion questions than needed, so you have choices if dialog starts to lag.

When I last checked, we had 46 people registered. We like to have 4 – 6 people per discussion. It's possible that more than one discussion leader may be assigned to one room, and if so, you can work together or assign one person to take the lead.

Please let me know if you have any questions or suggestions. I think it's going to be a great program. Thank you Michael, Madeline, and Leigh Ann for all your work putting this together!

All,

Sorry for taking so long to respond to the string below. I like Roger's thinking, without exception. I also fully appreciate Kristi's words, particularly given our heavy workloads.

That said, I think the only real meaty issue we have before us has to do with membership. I spoke recently at some length with Judy and also with Healy and think we are starting to figure out how best to address what membership means. Attached is Roger's mark-up, along with a couple additions from me. The additions basically remove from our OIC the formal "voting" requirement of the general membership. With that done, we can eliminate the distinction between General and Affiliate member... and simply have members, which I really like. Anyone and everyone can be a Member, regardless where they reside... and being a Member simply means that you want to be part of this thing we created... this OIC. And you can be a Member that regularly attends events, or rarely attends. Being a Members simply means that you like what we are doing and, again, want to be part of it, in whatever capacity works for you.

Anyway, I think we are ready to have a good discussion about this at our next Leadership Team meeting.

Regarding April 28, I will likely not be able to participate in the evening meeting. Debbie and I will be in Columbus late that day moving Sam out of his freshman dorm and bringing him (and a carload of stuff) home for the summer. I hope to be able to participate in the 11:30 am meeting regarding the logo. Carol Collins (Leisure Services Director) and Chief Alan Hill (Public Safety Director) will participate in the evening OIC meeting, and I anticipate that two city council members (Vice Mayor Steve Byington and Leigh Turben) will also attend, possibly a third. Carol is acting city manager in my absence, and is prepared to lead a breakout session if needed.

Roger,

Thanks for the input. However, I'll admit to being a little fatigued in that I thought we had already laid most of these points to rest when we passed the document last year. That being said, we are a new organization, and if the majority don't think we have it right, than we can and should put issues back on the table.

Personally, I do not have strong feelings about whether or not we have one or two types of membership. As a non-Oakwood resident, I feel this is for others on the leadership team to decide.

However, on the role of the city, school, and library leaders, I feel we should be members that represent our institutions, just as other institutional leaders will be representing their institutions (faith leaders, business leaders, etc.).

Sounds like we'll have some things to discuss. I'm looking forward to all of your voices.

I am getting a good response from those I have sent the invitation to (approx 200 folks) and I hope our other board and committee members are having the same reaction from their invitations. We are slowly growing our choir and getting more folks from both sides of the aisle and even the ones in the front and back pews as well. I am hopeful our advocacy will make this next meeting even bigger and we just keep growing.

THANK YOU for all you are doing, Kristi. I know you have your hands are super full of juggle balls--I don't know how you do it.

Thanks for the input. However, I'll admit to being a little fatigued in that I thought we had already laid most of these points to rest when we passed the document last year. That being said, we are a new organization, and if the majority don't think we have it right, than we can and should put issues back on the table.

Personally, I do not have strong feelings about whether or not we have one or two types of membership. As a non-Oakwood resident, I feel this is for others on the leadership team to decide.

However, on the role of the city, school, and library leaders, I feel we should be members that represent our institutions, just as other institutional leaders will be representing their institutions (faith leaders, business leaders, etc.).

Sounds like we'll have some things to discuss. I'm looking forward to all of your voices.

Also, i think we need a bit of conversation about whether individuals from the city (norb), the schools (kyle), and the library (kristi) are "members" or "liaisons." my recommendation is that we adhere to the language of "liaison" for these individuals, in the cases in which they are representing those entities (city, schools, and library), reserving to them as citizens/individuals the right and privilege to become members independent of their official roles with this city, schools, or library. in this way, we doubly make sure that the OIC is clearly a citizen-run organization and not an official or veiled wing of the city of oakwood, the schools, or the library. in other words, we are direct and upfront that individuals like norb, kyle, and krist are there as liasons as not as individuals who are guiding the OIC from their official positions.

This is AWESOME news! As is the article in the DDN (and OR). YAY!!!
I am getting a good response from those I have sent the invitation to (approx 200 folks) and I hope our other board and committee members are having the same reaction from their invitations. We are slowly growing our choir and getting more folks from both sides of the aisle and even the ones in the front and back pews as well. I am hopeful our advocacy will make this next meeting even bigger and we just keep growing.
THANK YOU for all you are doing, Kristi. I know you have your hands are super full of juggle balls--I don't know how you do it.

Subject: OIC Establishing Document and April 28 Meetings

All,

Sorry for taking so long to respond to the string below. I like Roger's thinking, without exception. I also fully appreciate Kristi's words, particularly given our heavy workloads.

That said, I think the only real meaty issue we have before us has to do with membership. I spoke recently at some length with Judy and also with Healy and think we are starting to figure out how best to address what membership means. Attached is Roger's mark-up, along with a couple additions from me. The additions basically remove from our OIC the formal "voting" requirement of the general membership. With that done, we can eliminate the distinction between General and Affiliate member... and simply have members, which I really like. Anyone and everyone can be a Member, regardless where they reside... and being a Member simply means that you want to be part of this thing we created... this OIC. And you can be a Member that regularly attends events, or rarely attends. Being a Members simply means that you like what we are doing and, again, want to be part of it, in whatever capacity works for you.

Anyway, I think we are ready to have a good discussion about this at our next Leadership Team meeting.

Regarding April 28, I will likely not be able to participate in the evening meeting. Debbie and I will be in Columbus late that day moving Sam out of his freshman dorm and bringing him (and a carload of stuff) home for the summer. I hope to be able to participate in the 11:30 am meeting regarding the logo. Carol Collins (Leisure Services Director) and Chief Alan Hill (Public Safety Director) will participate in the evening OIC meeting, and I anticipate that two city council members (Vice Mayor Steve Byington and Leigh Turben) will also attend, possibly a third. Carol is acting city manager in my absence, and is prepared to lead a breakout session if needed.

I mentioned before that I watched the Single Story TED Talk several months ago and found it very powerful. I think it will be a great program.

dear all

i agree with kristi that i too thought that we were done with this document, but a year's reflection and work on the OIC brought me to a continued sense that that document was just not wholly where it needed to be or might be in two significant details: membership and matters of liaison members. i also agree with judy that our primary focus is on oakwood, but our organization was also founded in a concern for how oakwood interacts with and is perceived by surrounding communities. indeed, it was that external perception that initially brought us together in a concern that such an organization needed to be established. that additional dimension of our purpose and goals is also what we have stated, put in our documents, and expressed to the wider public in press releases. so we have already positioned and advertised ourselves as a community organization that is open to all communities, with and beyond oakwood. on the matter of membership, i wholly anticipate that our membership will always be 99.99 percent composed of residents of oakwood, so i think we stand nothing to lose and everything to gain by changing membership to be simply one category and not a structure of general members and affiliate members. thanks. yours, roger

Let's make sure we are being proactive and focused not defensive and protective.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY Vaccine clinics moving

Public Health - Dayton & Montgomery County is moving its COVID-19 vaccination clinics to two new places: Sinclair College, Centerville and SugarCreek in Dayton.

These two new locations are replacing the Dayton Convention Center and Bethesda Temple sites.

Vaccinations will begin the week of April 26 at Sinclair College Centerville, 5800 Clio Road in Centerville, with dates and times to be determined.

The start date and times at SugarCreek, in the former Kroger at 900 N. Gettysburg Ave. in Dayton, also have yet to be determined.

The vaccine clinics were moved from the convention center because of work planned in preparation for upcoming events. The move from Bethesda Temple will allow Public Health to host larger clinics, the health department said.

Individuals who have received their first dose of vaccine at either of the previous locations and are scheduled to receive their second dose after April 24 will be notified by email or phone regarding the time and location of their second dose.

Public Health is currently only administering the two-dose series of the COVID-19 vaccine. To register for an appointment to receive your first dose, visit <https://gettheshot.coronavirus.ohio.gov> or call Public Health at 937-225-6217, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

OAKWOOD Coalition to meet

The Oakwood Inclusion Coalition (OIC), a citizen-driven coalition dedicated to inclusivity and diversity, will hold its next quarterly public meeting on April 28 from 7-8:30 p.m. The meeting is open to all and will be held virtually.

At the April 28 meeting, the community is invited to explore the power of stories, and "The

Michael Carter, senior advisor to the president and chief diversity officer at Sinclair Community College, will be the meeting facilitator. The OIC held its first public meeting in January, which engaged more than 100 participants. During lively breakout group discussion, participants shared their many reasons for living in Oakwood, concerns for ensuring that all are welcomed, and visions for extending all that is good about Oakwood to all who reside in and visit it. Those stories illustrate a rich tapestry of hopes and visions for the future of Oakwood.

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the organization. Do not click links or open attachments unless you recognize the sender and know the content is safe.

When you invite people via email, I suggest pasting the link to the registration site rather than to www.oakwoodic.org. For some reason, folks sign up for our email list and think they have registered for the meeting. Below is the invitation I sent to folks if you want to use it. (I also attach the DDN article Norb shared with my email.)

Can't wait to see everyone!
LA

Dear Friends,

Here's info about our next Oakwood Inclusion Coalition meeting that will be held via zoom at 7:00 p.m. this Wednesday. I have also attached the article from today's Dayton Daily News. The OIC has worked with Michael Carter, the Chief Diversity Officer at Sinclair, to create the program for this educational and helpful meeting for all of the Dayton community, not just Oakwood residents. Please invite your friends and family.

Here's the link for registration:

I hope to see you Wednesday and THANK YOU for all you do to make the world better for all. :)

My best,

Oakwood Inclusion Coalition on April 28

The Oakwood Inclusion Coalition (OIC)
April 28 from 7 – 8:30 p.m.

This meeting is open to all and will be held virtually.

At the April 28 meeting, the community is invited to explore the power of stories, and “The Danger of a Single Story.” Participants will watch best-selling author Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie’s powerful TED Talk of that title, which illustrates the role assumptions play when we meet “others,” or anyone unfamiliar. Afterward, participants will break out into small discussion groups to explore the power of stories and the pitfalls of “single stories,” as well as how to prevent them from interfering with their relationships with others.

Michael Carter, Senior Advisor to the President and Chief Diversity Officer at Sinclair Community College, will be the meeting facilitator.

Visit www.OakwoodIC.org to register to attend and learn more about Oakwood Inclusion Coalition.

OIC Leaders,

If you would like a meeting reminder, please go ahead and register for the meeting at <https://www.oakwoodic.org/event-details/oic-general-membership-meeting-3>.

Jeremy and Norb will not be unable to attend. The rest of you will be assigned a small group unless you tell me by Wednesday that you do not wish to do so. For our producer, here's the list of available breakout room leaders:

- Kristi Hale
- Judy Cook
- Roger Crum
- Sam Dorf
- Leigh Ann Fulford
- Madeline Iseli
