TELLING THE STORIES OF IOWANS LOST

More than 1,400 Iowans have died from the coronavirus.

Each of them was a friend and a neighbor.

Each of them left a mark on their families and their communities.

Each of them deserves to be remembered as more than a number.

In an unprecedented partnership, nine Iowa newsrooms

across two companies have come together to lift up these Iowans' stories.

The Des Moines Register

In partnership with other USA TODAY Network and Lee Enterprises newsrooms in Iowa.
