

I can confirm that the combined number of formal complaints for sexual misconduct is five or fewer for the requested period and as such we are unable to provide any further details. On a general basis, suspension, expulsion or sacking may be taken as a precautionary action in such cases.