Your bicycle registration is entered into a national law enforcement database.

Pawn-proof your bicycle. If your bicycle is stolen and sold at pawn shop, law enforcement can receive notification.

Bicycle DNA registration stickers. This security sticker will deter criminals when they see that your bicycle is registered and forensically marked so law enforcement can identify the true owner

This high-security sticker has several microscopic dots embedded into the adhesive. If the sticker is removed, the adhesive holding the microdots remain on the bicycle allowing law enforcement to authenticate ownership.
