

Tom and Heather -

I'm writing to inform you that I will be using the internal email sent inadvertently to me by Lucas on 08/27 for my story today. I am not bound by your confidentiality rules, and I believe it is in the public interest to publish it.

The email from Lucas casts doubts on APOC's draft decision to implement a $1,500 limit and suggests staff know it's not legally sound.

You can reach out to me by phone or by Zoom today to discuss APOC's reasoning for the draft decision issued yesterday and to explain any context I need to know or if there is more information. I would also again request a copy of Morgan's memo, you are her clients and can release that.
