

No Service

7:23 AM

investigators

Today

Jeff Parsons 6:54 AM

@channel good morning. More and more people are reaching out to me with concerns about the "mob mentality" and how it is going unchecked, especially on 9 which has been described as "a full on mob scene". Anyone who tries to counter the outrage with anything resembling support is made to feel like a pariah. People are hurting, due to my terrible behavior, but some of those people are now causing others pain in the name of "social justice". It is unconscionable to me that some of those accusing me of harrassment are now harrassing others. There also seems to be, in some, this misguided notion that my stepping down as Director means I am leaving. I think that misperception should be corrected sooner rather than later. I'm not leaving, I am still the PI of my projects, and contribute 64% of the funding to CHEST. If I leave, 6 out of 10 jobs are lost. I understand that emotions are on edge right now, and again I know that I am responsible for that. But we can't let some

Message investigators

Send

investigators

scene. Anyone who tries to counter the outrage with anything resembling support is made to feel like a pariah. People are hurting, due to my terrible behavior, but some of those people are now causing others pain in the name of "social justice". It is unconscionable to me that some of those accusing me of harrassment are now harrassing others. There also seems to be, in some, this misguided notion that my stepping down as Director means I am leaving. I think that misperception should be corrected sooner rather than later. I'm not leaving, I am still the PI of my projects, and contribute 64% of the funding to CHEST. If I leave, 6 out of 10 jobs are lost. I understand that emotions are on edge right now, and again I know that I am responsible for that. But, we can't let some of our staff treat others with disrepect because not everyone is on the same page about what a demon I am. And, we can't create the unrealistic expectation that I'm leaving CHEST for good. I'm only sharing this with you all, but you might want to convey this to [REDACTED] as well.

Message investigators

Send