PREFACE

This document provides a statistical overview of corrections and conditional release within a context of trends in crime and criminal justice. A primary consideration in producing this overview was to present general statistical information in a “user friendly” way that will facilitate understanding by a broad audience. Accordingly, there are a number of features of this document that make it different from typical statistical reports.

- First, the visual representation of the statistics is simple and uncluttered, and under each chart there are a few key points that will assist the reader in extracting the information from the chart.
- Second, for each chart there is a table of numbers corresponding to the visual representation. In some instances, the table includes additional numbers, e.g., a five-year series, even though the chart depicts the data for the most recent year (e.g., Figure A2).
- Third, rather than using the conventional headings for statistics (e.g., “police-reported crime rate by year by type of crime”) the titles for each chart and table inform the reader about the matter at hand (e.g., “Police-reported crime rate has decreased since 1998”).
- Fourth, notes have been kept to a minimum, that is, only where they were judged to be essential for the reader to understand the statistics.
- Finally, the source of the statistics is indicated under each chart so that the interested reader can easily access more information if desired.

This is the 17th issue of the Corrections and Conditional Release Statistical Overview (CCRSO). Readers are advised that in some instances figures have been revised from earlier publications. Also, the total number of offenders will vary slightly depending on characteristics of the data set.

It is hoped that this document will serve as a useful source of statistical information on corrections and conditional release and assist the public in gaining a better understanding of these important components of the criminal justice system.

PREFACE (CONTINUED)

Regarding police crime data from Statistics Canada, until the late 1980s, the Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) survey provided aggregate counts of the number of incidents reported to police and the number of persons charged by type of offence. With the advent of microdata reporting, the UCR has become an “incident-based” survey (UCR2), collecting in-depth information about each criminal incident. The update to this new survey, as well as revisions to the definitions of Violent crime, Property crime, and Other Criminal Code offences has resulted in data only being available from 1998 to the present. It is worth noting that the Total Crime Rates presented in the CCRSO differ from those reported by Statistics Canada in their publications. The Total Crime Rate reported in the CCRSO includes offences (i.e., traffic offences in the Canadian Criminal Code and offences against federal statutes) that are excluded in rates published by Statistics Canada.

Correctional Service Canada (CSC) has shifted the focus of its population counts from offenders serving a federal sentence to offenders under the responsibility of CSC. As such, CSC no longer reports on the status of only those offenders serving a federal sentence. CSC now focuses on the “in custody” and “community” populations under the responsibility of CSC. Some of the more significant changes include: (a) offenders temporarily detained in a CSC facility while their conditional releases are under suspension are now counted as part of the “in custody” population; (b) offenders serving a provincial sentence incarcerated in a CSC facility are now counted as part of the “in custody” population; and (c) offenders who have been deported are no longer counted as part of the “community” population. These changes bring the CSC population figures more in-line with CSC’s financial commitments.

Since 2010 the CCRSO excludes information found in earlier editions on the mental health of federal offenders. No valid and reliable data are available. The Correctional of Service of Canada is in the process of addressing this issue so as to provide reliable and valid information on the mental health issues of federal offenders.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

SECTION A. CONTEXT - CRIME AND THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM

1. Police-reported crime rate has been decreasing since 1998	1
2. Crime rates are higher in the west and highest in the north.....	3
3. Canada's incarceration rate is high relative to most western European countries	5
4. The rate of adults charged has declined.....	7
5. Administration of justice cases account for 22% of cases in adult courts	9
6. Most adult custodial sentences ordered by the court are short.....	11
7. Relatively few crimes result in sentences to federal penitentiaries	13
8. The rate of youth charged has declined over the past seven years.....	15
9. The most common youth court case is theft	17
10. The most common sentence for youth is probation	19

SECTION B. CORRECTIONS ADMINISTRATION

1. Federal expenditures on corrections decreased in 2012-13	21
2. CSC employees are concentrated in custody centres	23
3. The cost of keeping an inmate incarcerated.....	25
4. The number of Parole Board of Canada employees.....	27
5. The number of employees in the Office of the Correctional Investigator	29
6. Conditions of confinements the most common area of offender complaint received by the Office of the Correctional Investigator	31

SECTION C. OFFENDER POPULATION

1. Offenders under the responsibility of the Correctional Service of Canada	33
2. The number of offenders in custody in a CSC facility has increased in the last five years	35
3. The number of admissions to federal jurisdiction has fluctuated	37
4. The number of women admitted from the courts to federal jurisdiction increased in 2013-14	39
5. Almost half of offenders under federal jurisdiction are serving a sentence of 5 years or longer ...	41
6. Offender age at admission to federal jurisdiction is increasing	43
7. The average age at admission is lower for Aboriginal offenders than for non-Aboriginal offenders.....	45
8. 23% of the in custody offender population is aged 50 or over	47
9. 61% of federal offenders are Caucasian	49
10. The religious identification of the offender population is diverse	51
11. The proportion of Aboriginal offenders in custody is higher than for non-Aboriginal offenders	53

12. The majority of in custody offenders are classified as medium security risk	55
13. Admissions with a life or indeterminate sentence were stable in 2013-14	57
14. Offenders with life or indeterminate sentences represent 23% of the total offender population ...	59
15. 68% of federal offenders are serving a sentence for a violent offence	61
16. The number of Aboriginal offenders has increased	63
17. The total number of admissions to administrative segregation has fluctuated	65
18. Almost half of admissions to administrative segregation stay for less than 30 days.....	67
19. The number of offender deaths while in custody has fluctuated	69
20. The number of escapes has declined	71
21. The population of offenders in the community under supervision has decreased in the past five years	73
22. The provincial/territorial community corrections population decreased in 2011-12	75
23. The number of offenders on provincial parole has decreased over the past decade	77

SECTION D. CONDITIONAL RELEASE

1. The percentage of offenders released from federal penitentiaries at statutory release is increasing.....	79
2. The percentage of offenders released from federal penitentiaries on day and full parole is decreasing.....	81
3. The federal day and full parole grant rates increased in 2013-14.....	83
4. The federal full parole grant rate for Aboriginal offenders increased for the fourth consecutive year	85
5. Federal parole hearings involving an Aboriginal Cultural Advisor has decreased	87
6. Proportion of sentence served prior to being released on parole decreased	89
7. Aboriginal offenders serve a higher proportion of their sentences before being released on parole.....	91
8. The majority of federal day paroles are successfully completed	93
9. The majority of federal full paroles are successfully completed	95
10. Statutory releases have the lowest rates of successful completion	97
11. Over the past decade, the rate of violent conviction for offenders while under supervision has declined	99
12. The number of offenders granted temporary absences has been stable in the last three years.....	101

SECTION E. STATISTICS ON SPECIAL APPLICATIONS OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE

1. The number of detention reviews decreased in 2013-14	103
2. 78% of judicial review hearings result in earlier parole eligibility	105
3. The number of dangerous offender designations	107
4. Most long term supervision orders are for a 10-year period.....	109
5. The number of record suspension applications received has decreased	111

SECTION F. VICTIMS OF CRIME

1. Victimization rates for theft of personal property have increased.....	113
2. The majority of victims of violent crime are under 30	115
3. The majority of victims receiving services are victims of violent crime	117
4. The number of victims registered with the federal correctional system has increased.....	119
5. Offences causing death is the most common type of offence that harmed the victim registered with Correctional Service of Canada	121
6. Temporary Absence information is the most common type of information provided during a notification to registered victims with Correctional Service of Canada	123
7. Parole Board of Canada contacts with victims have decreased.....	125

CONTRIBUTING PARTNERS

Public Safety Canada

Public Safety Canada is Canada's lead federal department for public safety, which includes emergency management, national security and community safety. Its many responsibilities include developing legislation and policies governing corrections, implementing innovative approaches to community justice, and providing research expertise and resources to the corrections community.

Correctional Service of Canada

The mandate of the Correctional Service of Canada, as set out in the Corrections and Conditional Release Act, is to contribute to the maintenance of a just, peaceful and safe society by carrying out sentences imposed by courts through the safe and humane custody and supervision of offenders with sentences of two years or more, and assisting in the rehabilitation of offenders and their reintegration into the community as law-abiding citizens through the provision of programs in penitentiaries and in the community.

Parole Board of Canada

The Parole Board of Canada is an independent administrative tribunal responsible for making decisions about the timing and conditions of release of offenders to the community on various forms of conditional release. The Board also makes pardon decisions and recommendations respecting clemency through the Royal Prerogative of Mercy.

Office of the Correctional Investigator

The Office of the Correctional Investigator is an ombudsman for federal offenders. It conducts investigations into the problems of offenders related to decisions, recommendations, acts or omissions of the Correctional Service of Canada that affect offenders individually or as a group.

Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics (Statistics Canada)

The Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics (CCJS) is a division of Statistics Canada. The CCJS is the focal point of a federal-provincial-territorial partnership, known as the National Justice Statistics Initiative, for the collection of information on the nature and extent of crime and the administration of civil and criminal justice in Canada.

SECTION A

CONTEXT - CRIME AND THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM

Figure A1

Source: Uniform Crime Reporting Survey, Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics, Statistics Canada.

- The overall crime rate has decreased 33.1% since 1998, from 8,915 per 100,000 to 5,968 in 2013.
- Over the same period, there was a 44.8% decrease in the property crime rate, from a rate of 5,696 per 100,000 to 3,146 in 2013. In contrast, the crime rate for drug offences has increased 31.9% since 1998, from 235 per 100,000 population to 310.
- The rate of violent crime has fluctuated over the last fifteen years, peaking in 2000 at 1,494 per 100,000 population. Since 2000, the rate of violent crimes has decreased 26.9% to 1,092 in 2013.
- In general, the crime rates for traffic offences and other Criminal Code offences have fluctuated since 1998.

Note:

*Unlike Statistics Canada, the Total Crime Rate in the Corrections and Conditional Release Statistical Overview includes traffic offences and offences against federal statutes to provide a measure of all criminal offences. As a result, the Total Crime Rate reported here is higher than that reported by Statistics Canada.

The definitions for Violent, Property and Other Criminal Code offences have been revised by Statistics Canada to better reflect definitions used by the policing community. As a result of these changes, comparable data are only available starting in 1998 and the data presented in this year's report are not comparable to the data reported in previous versions of the Corrections and Conditional Release Statistical Overview.

These crime statistics are based on crimes that are reported to the police. Since not all crimes are reported to the police, these figures underestimate actual crime. See Figure F1 for rates based on victimization surveys (drawn from the General Social Survey), an alternative method of measuring crime.

Figure A3

Source: World Prison Population List online (retrieved December 8, 2014 at <http://www.prisonstudies.org/world-prison-brief>)

- Canada's incarceration rate is higher than the rates in most Western European countries but much lower than the United States, where the most recent incarceration rate was 707 per 100,000 general population.
- Based on the most up to date information available from the International Centre for Prison Studies, Canada's incarceration rate was 118 per 100,000, calculated based on the 2012 population.

Note:

The incarceration rate, in this figure, is a measure of the number of people (i.e., adults and youth) in custody per 100,000 people in the general population. Incarceration rates from the World Prison Population List are based on the most recently available data at the time the list was compiled. Due to variations in the availability of information, the 2006 and 2008 dates reported in Figure A3 refer to when the World Prison Population Lists (Seventh and Eighth Editions respectively) were published, but may not necessarily correspond to the date the data were obtained. For 2014, the data was retrieved online on December 8, 2014 from <http://www.prisonstudies.org/world-prison-brief> which contains the most up-to-date information available. These data reflect incarceration rates based on the country's population. Additionally, different practices and variations in measurement in different countries limit the comparability of these figures.

Figure A4

Source: Uniform Crime Reporting Survey, Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics, Statistics Canada.

- Since 1998, the rate of adults charged has decreased from 2,236 adults per 100,000 to 1,889 in 2013, a decrease of 15.6%.
- Over the same period, the rate of adults charged with violent crimes decreased by 11.4%, such that in 2013, 499 adults were charged per 100,000. Whereas the rate of adults charged for property offences has decreased 39.1% from 677 adults per 100,000 to 412 in 2013.

Source: Adult Criminal Court Survey, Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics, Statistics Canada.

- Administration of justice cases (offences related to case proceedings such as failure to appear in court, failure to comply with a court order, breach of probation, and unlawfully at large) account for more than one fifth of cases completed in adult criminal courts.
- Apart from administration of justice cases, impaired driving and theft are the most frequent case in adult courts.

Note:

*Cases completed in adult criminal courts.

The concept of a case has changed to more closely reflect court processing. Statistics from the Adult Criminal Court Survey used in this report should not be compared to editions of the Corrections and Conditional Release Statistical Overview prior to 2007. A case is one or more charges against an accused person or corporation, processed by the courts at the same time, and where all of the charges in the case received a final disposition. Where a case has more than one charge, it is necessary to select a charge to represent the case. An offence is selected by applying two rules. First, the "most serious decision" rule is applied. In cases where two or more offences have the same decision, the "most serious offence" rule is applied. All charges are ranked according to an offence seriousness scale.

Superior Court data are not reported to the Adult Criminal Court Survey for Prince Edward Island, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. In addition, information from Quebec's municipal courts is not collected.

The Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics continues to make updates to the offence library used to classify offence data sent by the provinces and territories. These improvements have resulted in minor changes in the counts of charges and cases as well as the distributions by type of offence. Data presented have been revised to account for these updates.

Due to rounding, percentages may not add to 100 percent.

Source: Adult Criminal Court Survey, Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics, Statistics Canada.

- Over half (54.2%) of all custodial sentences imposed by adult criminal courts are one month or less.
- Prison sentences for men tend to be longer than for women. About two-thirds (67.8%) of women and just over half of men (52.9%) who are incarcerated upon guilty* finding receive a sentence of one month or less, and 91.6% of women and 86.1% of men receive a sentence of six months or less.
- Of all guilty findings that result in custody, only 3.6% result in federal jurisdiction (i.e., a sentence of two years or more).

Note:

*The type of decision group "guilty" includes guilty of the offence, of an included offence, of an attempt of the offence, or of an attempt of an included offence. This category also includes cases where an absolute or conditional discharge has been imposed.

Figure A8

Source: Uniform Crime Reporting Survey, Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics, Statistics Canada.

- The rate of youth charged has declined over the past seven years.
- In 2003, there was a notable decrease in all major crime categories, in part attributable to the implementation of the Youth Criminal Justice Act (YCJA) in April 2003, which places greater emphasis on diversion.
- The rate of youth charged with property crimes have decreased since 1998 by 71% from 2,500 per 100,00 youth to 725 in 2013.
- The rate of youth charged with violent crimes have decreased 40% since reaching its peak in 2001 from 1,157 per 100,000 youth to 697 in 2013.

Note:

*Unlike Statistics Canada, the Total Crime Rate in the Corrections and Conditional Release Statistical Overview includes traffic offences and offences against federal statutes to provide a measure of all criminal offences. As a result, the Total Crime Rate reported here is higher than that reported by Statistics Canada. In addition, the definitions for Violent, Property and Other Criminal Code offences have been revised by Statistics Canada to better reflect definitions used by the policing community. As a result of these changes, comparable data are only available starting in 1998 and the data presented in this year's report are not comparable to the data reported in previous versions of the Corrections and Conditional Release Statistical Overview.

For criminal justice purposes, youth are defined under Canadian law as persons aged 12 to 17 years.

Rates are based on 100,000 youth population (12 to 17 years).

Violent crimes include homicide, attempted murder, assault, sexual offences, abduction, extortion, robbery, firearms, and other violent offences such as uttering threats and criminal harassment.

Property crimes include break and enter, motor vehicle thefts, other thefts, possession of stolen property, fraud, mischief and arson.

- Following the enactment of the Youth Criminal Justice Act in 2003, fewer youth are in court.
- Theft is the most common case in youth court.
- Homicides and related offences account for 0.1% of all youth cases.
- Females account for 23% of all cases, but they account for 36% of common assaults.

Source: Youth Court Survey, Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics, Statistics Canada.

- Consistent with the objectives of the YCJA, fewer youth are sentenced to custody. In 2011-12, about 15% of all guilty cases resulted in the youth being sentenced to custody. This compares to 16% of all guilty cases in 2007-08.
- In 2011-12, 49% of youth found guilty were given probation as the most serious sentence. This rate has remained relatively stable since the implementation of the YCJA in April 2003.
- Of the new YCJA sentences, deferred custody and supervision orders were handed down most frequently. In 2011-12, 4.3% of all guilty cases received such an order as the most serious sentence.

Note:

"Other Sentence" includes absolute discharge, restitution, prohibition, seizure, forfeiture, compensation, pay purchaser, essays, apologies, counselling programs and conditional discharge, conditional sentence, intensive support and supervision, attendance at non-residential program(s) and reprimand. This category also includes deferred custody and supervision, intensive support and supervision, attendance at non-residential program(s) and reprimand where sentencing data under the Youth Criminal Justice Act (YCJA) are not available.

Unlike previous years, this data represents the most serious sentence and therefore, sanctions are mutually exclusive. However, each case may receive more than one sentence.

Note:

"Other Sentence" includes absolute discharge, restitution, prohibition, seizure, forfeiture, compensation, pay purchaser, essays, apologies, counselling programs and conditional discharge, conditional sentence, intensive support and supervision, attendance at non-residential program(s) and reprimand. This category also includes deferred custody and supervision, intensive support and supervision, attendance at non-residential program(s) and reprimand where sentencing data under the Youth Criminal Justice Act (YCJA) are not available.

Unlike previous years, this data represents the most serious sentence and therefore, sanctions are mutually exclusive. However, each case may receive more than one sentence.

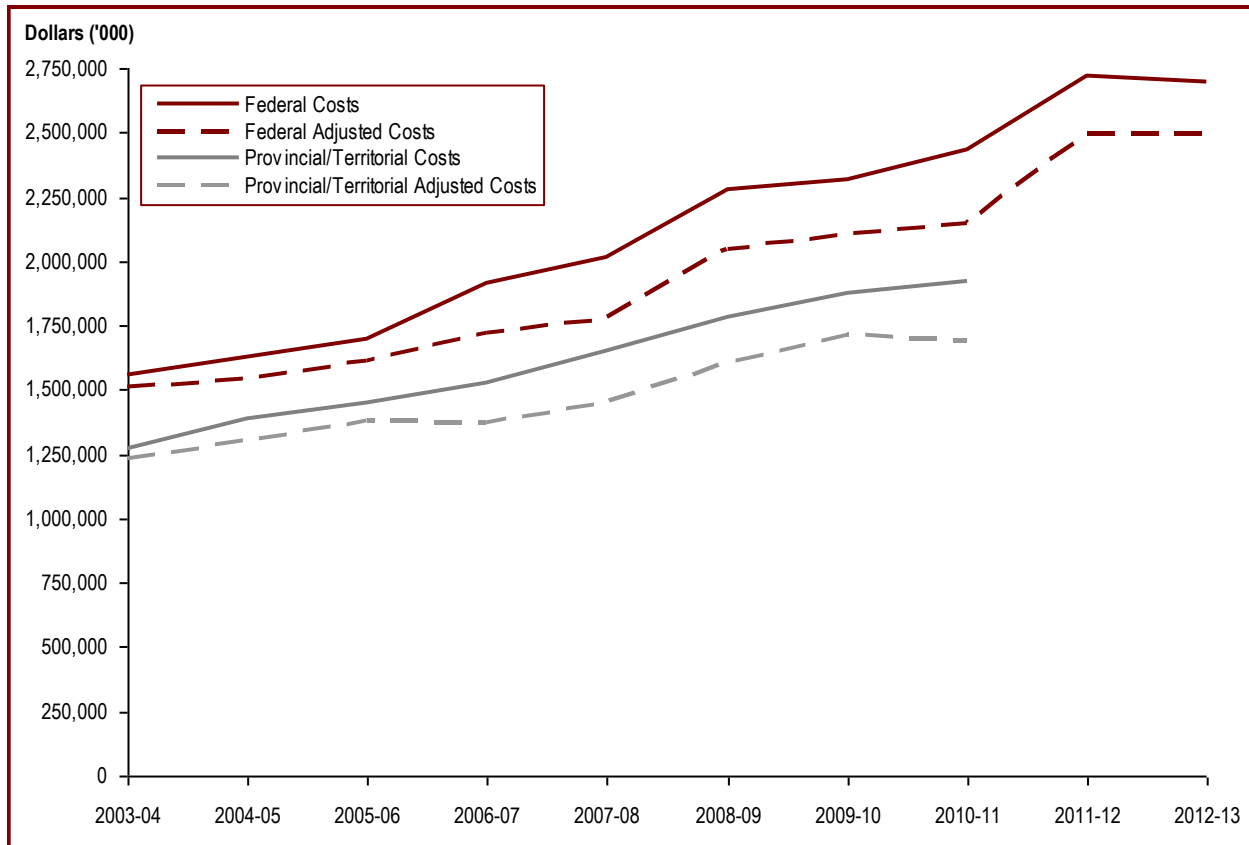

The concept of a case has changed to more closely reflect court processing. Statistics from the Youth Court Survey used in this report should not be compared to editions of the Corrections and Conditional Release Statistical Overview prior to 2007.

CORRECTIONS ADMINISTRATION

EXPENDITURES ON CORRECTIONS DECREASED IN 2012-13

Figure B1

Source: Correctional Service Canada; Parole Board of Canada; Office of the Correctional Investigator; Statistics Canada Consumer Price Index.

- In 2012-13, expenditures on federal corrections in Canada totaled approximately $2.7 billion a slight decrease from 2011-12.
- Since 2003-04, expenditures on federal corrections has increased 72.5% from $1.56 billion to $2.69 billion. In constant dollars, this represents an increase of 64.7%.
- Provincial/territorial expenditures totaled about $1.92 billion in 2010-11 an increase of 50.7% since 2003-04. In constant dollars, this represents an increase of 37.2%.

Note:

Federal expenditures on corrections include spending by the Correctional Service Canada (CSC), the Parole Board of Canada (PBC), and the Office of the Correctional Investigator (OCI). The expenditures for the CSC include both operating and capital costs. CSC expenditures exclude CORCAN (a Special Operating Agency that conducts industrial operations within penitentiaries).

Constant dollars (2002) represent dollar amounts calculated on a one-year base that adjusts for inflation, thus allowing the yearly amounts to be directly comparable. Changes in the Consumer Price Index were used to calculate constant dollars.

Note:

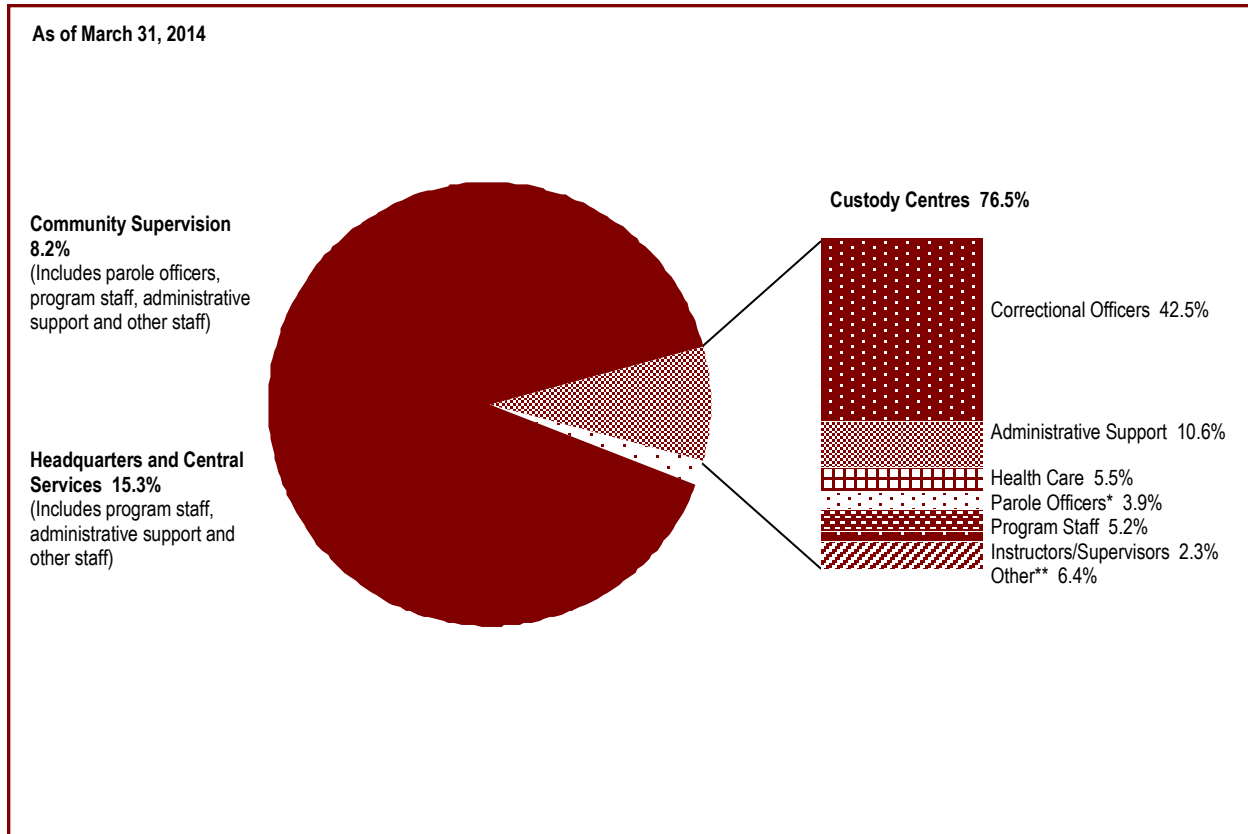

Due to rounding, constant dollar amounts may not add to "Total".

Per capita cost is calculated by dividing the total expenditures by the total Canadian population and thus represents the cost per Canadian for federal correctional services.

Constant dollars represent dollar amounts calculated on a one-year base (2002) that adjusts for inflation allowing the yearly amounts to be directly comparable. Changes in the Consumer Price Index were used to calculate constant dollars.

CSC EMPLOYEES ARE CONCENTRATED IN CUSTODY CENTRES

- The Correctional Service of Canada (CSC) has a total staff of about 18,000.
- Approximately 77% of CSC staff work in institutions.
- Staff employed in community supervision account for 8% of the total.

Note:

*These parole officers are situated within institutions, with the responsibility of preparing offenders for release.

The "Other" category represents job classifications such as trades and food services.

CSC has changed its definition of employee. Previously, the total number of employees included casual employees, employees on leave without pay and suspended employees. These categories have been removed from the total as of 2005-06. These numbers represent Indeterminate and Term equal to, or more than 3 months substantive employment; and Employee Status of Active and Paid Leave as of March 31, 2014.

Figure B3

Source: Correctional Service Canada.

- The federal average daily inmate cost has increased from $300 in 2008-09 to $307 in 2012-13.
- In 2012-13, the annual average cost of keeping an inmate incarcerated was $112,197 per year, up from $109,699 per year in 2008-09. In 2012-13, the annual average cost of keeping a men inmate incarcerated was $108,376 per year, whereas the annual average cost for incarcerating a women inmate was $210,695.
- The cost associated with maintaining an offender in the community is 70% less than what it costs to maintain an offender in custody ($33,799 per year versus $112,197 per year).

Note:

The average daily inmate cost includes those costs associated with the operation of the institutions, such as salaries and employee benefit plan contributions, but excludes capital expenditures and expenditures related to CORCAN (a Special Operating Agency that conducts industrial operations within penitentiaries). In 2001-02, the cost allocation methodology was refined to better reflect expenditures directly related to offenders. In addition, the cost of keeping a woman incarcerated includes the cost of maximum security units for women co-located within institutions for men.

- The total number of full-time equivalents at the Office of the Correctional Investigator was stable over the last two years.
- In 2013-14, 5,434 complaints/inquires* were received by the Office of the Correctional Investigator.

Note:

*The Office of the Correctional Investigator (OCI) may commence an investigation on receipt of a complaint by or on behalf of an offender or on its own initiative. Complaints are made by telephone, letter and during interviews with the OCI's investigative staff at federal correctional facilities. The dispositions in response to complaints involve a combination of internal responses (where the information or assistance sought by the offender can generally be provided by the OCI's investigative staff) and investigations (where, further to a review/analysis of law, policies and documentation, OCI investigative staff make an inquiry or several interventions with Correctional Service Canada and submit recommendations to address the complaint). Investigations vary considerably in terms of scope, complexity, duration and resources required.

OCI has updated the categories of complaints to better reflect their corporate priorities and the changing nature of the complaints that they received in the 2010-11 fiscal year. As a result, some categories reported in previous years have been changed or removed.

- As of 2009-10, the "Conditions of Confinement" category was eliminated to better capture the specific nature of the complaint filed. Therefore, no data are available for 2009-10.
- Previously, Decisions (General) - Implementation, Correspondence, and Mental Health were reported in "Other", therefore, numbers previous to 2010-11 are not reported.
- *"Other" refers to other types of complaints not specified in the table and includes: Cell Placement, Claims Against the Crown, Community Programs/Supervision, Conditional Release, Death or Serious Injury, Diets, Discipline, Discrimination, Double Bunking, Employment, Financial Matters, Food Services, Health and Safety - Inmate Worksites/Programs, Hunger Strike, Inmate Requests, Ion Scan/Drug Dog, Methadone, OCI, Official Languages, Operation/Decisions of the OCI, Release Procedures, Religious/Spiritual, Safety/Security - Incompatibles/Worksite, Search and Seizure, Sentence Administration, Temporary Absence, Temporary Absence Decision, Uncategorized, Urinalysis and Use of Force. The number of individual complaints processed by the OCI has decreased in recent years because the OCI has reallocated resources to sharpen its focus on systemic issues and death in custody investigations.

SECTION C

OFFENDER POPULATION

OFFENDERS UNDER THE RESPONSIBILITY OF CORRECTIONAL SERVICE OF CANADA

Figure C1

Source: Correctional Service Canada.

Definitions:

Total Offender Population includes all active offenders, who are incarcerated in a CSC facility, offenders on temporary absence from a CSC facility, offenders who are temporarily detained, offenders who are actively supervised and offenders who are unlawfully at large for less than 90 days.

In Custody includes all active offenders incarcerated in a CSC facility, offenders on temporary absence from a CSC facility, and offenders who are temporarily detained in a CSC facility.

Temporarily Detained includes offenders who are physically held in a CSC facility or a non-CSC facility after being suspended for a breach of a parole condition or to prevent a breach of parole conditions.

Actively Supervised includes all active offenders on day parole, full parole or statutory release, as well as those who are in the community on long-term supervision orders.

CSC Facilities include all federal institutions and federally funded healing lodges.

In Community Under Supervision includes all active offenders on day parole, full parole, or statutory release, or in the community supervised on a long term supervision order, offenders who are temporarily detained in a non-CSC facility, and offenders who are unlawfully at large for less than 90 days.

In addition to that Total Offender Population, there are excluded groups such as:

Federal jurisdiction offenders incarcerated in a Community Correctional Centre or in a non-CSC facility. Federal jurisdiction offenders deported/extradited including offenders for whom a deportation order has been enforced by Citizenship and Immigration Canada. Federal offenders on bail which includes offenders on judicial interim release; they have appealed their conviction or sentence and have been released to await results of a new trial. Escaped includes offenders who have absconded from either a correctional facility or while on a temporary absence and whose whereabouts are unknown. Unlawfully at Large for 90 days or more. This includes offenders who have been released to the community on day parole, full parole, statutory release, or a long-term supervision order for whom a warrant of suspension has been issued at least 90 day but has not yet been executed.

Note:

*The definition of "Offender Population" changed in the 2014 edition of the Corrections and Conditional Release Statistical Overview (CCRSO). As such, comparisons to editions of the CCRSO prior to 2014 should be done with caution.

The definition of "Offender Population" changed in the 2014 edition of the Corrections and Conditional Release Statistical Overview (CCRSO). As such, comparisons to editions of the CCRSO prior to 2014 should be done with caution.

THE NUMBER OF OFFENDERS IN CUSTODY IN A CSC FACILITY HAS INCREASED IN THE LAST FIVE YEARS

Figure C2

Source: Correctional Service Canada.

- Following consecutive increases in the number of offenders in custody in a CSC facility from 2004-05 to 2007-08, there was a decrease in 2008-09, followed by consecutive increases thereafter (an increase of 8.1% for the past five fiscal years).
- The provincial/territorial sentenced offender population in custody increased 13.4% from 2004-05 to 2011-12 from 9,823 to 11,138 and the remand population increased by 38.4% from 9,656 to 13,369 during this period. Since 2005-06, the number of remanded inmates has exceeded the number of sentenced inmates in provincial/territorial custody.

Note:

*The data reflect the number of offenders in custody in a CSC facility at the end of each fiscal year. A fiscal year runs from April 1 to March 31 of the following year.

The term "In Custody Offenders" includes all active offenders incarcerated in a CSC facility, offenders on temporary absence from a CSC facility, and offenders who are temporarily detained in a CSC facility.

Figure C3

Source: Correctional Service Canada.

- After peaking at 8,606 in 2006-07, the number of admissions has decreased by 5.8% to 8,105 in 2013-14.
- The number of warrant of committal admissions has fluctuated over the past decade but has been fairly stable over the last three years.
- The number of women admitted to federal jurisdiction under warrants of committal increased 4.8% from 312 in 2009-10 to 327 in 2013-14.

Note:

"Other" includes transfers from other jurisdictions (exchange of services), terminations, transfers from foreign countries, and admissions where a release is interrupted as a consequence of a new conviction.

These numbers refer to the federal jurisdiction admissions during each fiscal year and may be greater than the actual number of offenders admitted, since an individual offender may be admitted more than once in a given year. A fiscal year runs from April 1 to March 31 of the following year.

- In 2013-14, 36.1% of offenders admitted to federal jurisdiction were between the ages of 20 and 29, and 26.9% were between 30 and 39 years of age.
- The distribution of age upon admission is similar for both men and women.
- The median age of the population upon admission is the same in 2013-14 as it was in 2004-05, 33 years of age.
- The number of offenders between the ages of 40 and 49 at admission increased from 927 in 2004-05 to 993 in 2013-14, representing a 7.1% increase.
- The number of offenders between the ages of 30 and 34 at admission increased from 716 in 2004-05 to 789 in 2013-14. However, as a proportion of the total warrant of committal admissions it was about the same in 2004-05 and 2013-14, 15.7% in 2004-05 and 15.3% in 2013-14.

THE PROPORTION OF ABORIGINAL OFFENDERS IN CUSTODY IS HIGHER THAN FOR NON-ABORIGINAL OFFENDERS

Figure C11

Source: Correctional Service Canada.

- As of end of fiscal year 2013-14, the proportion of offenders in custody was about 8.5% greater for Aboriginal offenders (72.9%) than for non-Aboriginal offenders (64.4%).
- Aboriginal women in custody represent 34.5% of all in custody women while Aboriginal men in custody represent 22.6% of all in custody men.
- In 2013-14, Aboriginal offenders represented 21.0% of the total offender population while Aboriginal adults represent 3.0% of the Canadian adult population*.
- Aboriginal offenders accounted for 23.1% of the in custody population and 16.8% of the community population in 2013-14.

- Approximately two-thirds (64.3%) of offenders are classified as medium security risk.
- Aboriginal offenders are more likely to be classified to a medium or high security institution compared to non-Aboriginal offenders (84.5% compared to 76.5%)
- Compared to non-Aboriginal offenders, a lower percentage of Aboriginal offenders are classified as minimum security risk (15.4% vs. 23.5%) and a higher percentage are classified as medium (68.1% vs. 63.2%) and maximum (16.4% vs. 13.3%) security risk.

Figure C13

Source: Correctional Service Canada.

- From 2004-05 to 2013-14, the number of admissions to federal jurisdiction with a life/indeterminate* sentence was relatively stable, ranging from 149 to 193.
- As of end of fiscal year 2013-14, there were a total of 3,536 offenders in custody with a life/indeterminate sentence. Of these, 3,414 (96.5%) were men and 122 (3.5%) were women; 811 (22.9%) were Aboriginal and 2,725 (77.1%) were non-Aboriginal.
- As of end of fiscal year 2013-14, 22.7% of the total offender population was serving a life/indeterminate sentence. Of these offenders, 67.2% were in custody and 32.8% were in the community under supervision.

Note:

*Although life sentences and indeterminate sentences both may result in imprisonment for life, they are different. A life sentence is a sentence of life imprisonment, imposed by a judge at the time of sentence, for example, for murder. An indeterminate sentence is a result of a designation, where an application is made to the court to declare an offender a Dangerous Offender, and the consequence of this designation is imprisonment for an indeterminate period. This table combines offenders serving life sentences and offenders serving indeterminate sentences.

A warrant of committal is a new admission to federal jurisdiction from the courts.

Figure C14

Source: Correctional Service Canada.

- As of end of fiscal year 2013-14, there were 5,258 offenders serving a life sentence and/or an indeterminate sentence. This represents 22.7% of the total offender population. The majority (67.2%) of these offenders were in custody. Of the 1,722 offenders who were in the community under supervision, the majority (82.2%) were serving a life sentence for 2nd Degree Murder.
- There were 21 offenders who were serving both a life sentence and an indeterminate sentence*.
- There were 528 offenders who were serving an indeterminate sentence as a result of a special designation. The remaining 4,709 offenders have not received a special designation, but were serving a life sentence.
- 96.8% of the 503 Dangerous Offenders with indeterminate sentences were in custody and 3.2% were in the community under supervision. In contrast, 50.0% of the 22 Dangerous Sexual Offenders were in custody and all (three) Habitual Offenders were in the community under supervision. There is one Habitual Offender included in the Life and Indeterminate group, this offender was in the community under supervision as well.

Note:

*Although life sentences and indeterminate sentences may both result in imprisonment for life, they are different. A life sentence is a sentence of life imprisonment, imposed by a judge at the time of sentence, for example, for murder. An indeterminate sentence is a result of a designation, where an application is made to the court to declare an offender a Dangerous Offender, and the consequence of this designation is imprisonment for an indeterminate period. The Dangerous Sexual Offender and Habitual Offender designations were replaced with Dangerous Offender Legislation in 1977.

- As of end fiscal year 2013-14, Aboriginal offenders were more likely to be serving a sentence for a violent offence (78.1%) than non-Aboriginal offenders (65.9%).
- 74.7% of Aboriginal women offenders were serving a sentence for a violent offence compared to 50.2% of non-Aboriginal women offenders.
- Of those offenders serving a sentence for Murder, 4.5% were women and 19.3% were Aboriginal.
- A greater proportion of Aboriginal offenders than non-Aboriginal offenders were serving a sentence for a Schedule I offence (60.1% versus 45.9%, respectively).
- 8.8% of Aboriginal offenders were serving a sentence for a Schedule II offence compared to 19.1% of non-Aboriginal offenders.
- 25.4% of women were serving a sentence for a Schedule II offence compared to 16.5% for men.

Note:

*Violent offences include Murder I, Murder II and Schedule I offences.

Schedule I is comprised of sexual offences and other violent crimes excluding first and second degree murder (see the Corrections and Conditional Release Act).

Schedule II is comprised of serious drug offences or conspiracy to commit serious drug offences (see the Corrections and Conditional Release Act).

- From 2004-05 to 2013-14, the in custody Aboriginal offender population increased by 45.6%, while the total Aboriginal offender population increased 40.9% over the same period.
- The number of in custody Aboriginal women increased steadily from 115 in 2004-05 to 218 in 2013-14, an increase of 89.6% in the last ten years. The increase for in custody Aboriginal men was 43.5% for the same period, increasing from 2,317 to 3,324.
- From 2004-05 to 2013-14, the number of Aboriginal offenders on community supervision increased 29.6%, from 1,017 to 1,318. The Aboriginal community population accounted for 16.8% of the total community population in 2013-14.

Figure C17

Source: Correctional Service Canada.

- Over the past five years, the total number of admissions to administrative segregation has fluctuated between 7,508 and 8,323. In 2013-14, 95.7% of the total admissions were men, and admissions of Aboriginal offenders accounted for 29.2%.
- On April 1, 2014, there were 749 offenders in administrative segregation. Of these, 740 were men and 9 were women. A total of 228 Aboriginal offenders were in administrative segregation.

Note:

These reports count admissions, not offenders. Offenders admitted multiple times to segregation are counted once for each admission. Offenders segregated under paragraph (f), subsection 44(1) of the Corrections and Conditional Release Act (Disciplinary Segregation) are not included.

Administrative segregation is the involuntary or voluntary separation, when specific legal requirements are met, of an inmate from the general population, other than pursuant to a disciplinary decision.

Voluntary administrative segregation is when the inmate requests placement in administrative segregation, and the Institutional Head believes, on reasonable grounds, that the continued presence of the inmate in the general population would jeopardize the inmate's own safety and that there is no reasonable alternative to placement in administrative segregation.

Involuntary administrative segregation is when the placement meets the requirements of subsection 31(3) of the Corrections and Conditional Release Act and the placement in administrative segregation is not voluntary.

Note:

These reports count admissions, not offenders. Offenders admitted multiple times to segregation are counted once for each admission. Offenders segregated under paragraph (f), subsection 44(1) of the Corrections and Conditional Release Act (Disciplinary Segregation) are not included.

Administrative segregation is the involuntary or voluntary separation, when specific legal requirements are met, of an inmate from the general population, other than pursuant to a disciplinary decision.

Voluntary administrative segregation is when the inmate requests placement in administrative segregation, and the Institutional Head believes, on reasonable grounds, that the continued presence of the inmate in the general population would jeopardize the inmate's own safety and that there is no reasonable alternative to placement in administrative segregation.

Involuntary administrative segregation is when the placement meets the requirements of subsection 31(3) of the Corrections and Conditional Release Act and the placement in administrative segregation is not voluntary.

- Just under half (47.4%) of offenders stayed in administrative segregation for 30 days or less, and 18.3% stayed between 30 and 60 days. 18.0% of offenders in administrative segregation stayed more than 120 days.
- 92.9% of women stayed in administrative segregation for less than 30 days.
- The number of offenders who stayed more than 120 days in administrative segregation is higher for Aboriginal (22.8%) than for non-Aboriginal offenders (15.6%).

Figure C19

Source: Adult Correctional Services Survey, Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics, Statistics Canada

- In the ten-year period from 2001-02 to 2010-11, 530 federal offenders and 328 provincial offenders have died while in custody.
- During this time period, suicides accounted for 17.4% of federal offender deaths and 28.1% of provincial offender deaths. The suicide rate was approximately 70 per 100,000 for incarcerated federal offenders, and approximately 43 per 100,000 for incarcerated provincial offenders. These rates are significantly higher than Canada's 2007 rate of 10.2 suicides per 100,000 people.
- Between 2001-02 and 2010-11, 5.5% of the federal offender deaths were due to homicide, whereas homicide accounted for 1.5% of provincial offender deaths. The homicide rate for incarcerated federal offenders was approximately 22 per 100,000 and 2.3 per 100,000 for incarcerated provincial offenders. These rates are significantly higher than the national homicide rate of 1.6 per 100,000 people in 2007.

Note:

*Other causes of death include: natural causes, accidental deaths, death as a result of a legal intervention, other causes of death and where cause of death was not stated.

For the calculation of rates, the total actual in-count numbers between 2001-02 and 2010-11 was used as the denominator.

The data on cause of death are subject to change following an official review or investigation, and should be used/interpreted with caution. THE NUMBER OF ESCAPES HAS DECLINED

Figure C20

- In 2013-14, there were 11 escape incidents involving a total of 13 offenders. All of the 13 offenders were recaptured. This represents the lowest number of escape incidents in the past 10 years.
- In 2013-14, one of the escapees was from a medium security facility, and all other escapees were from minimum security facilities.
- Offenders who escaped from federal institutions in 2013-14 represented less than 0.1% of the in custody population.

Note:

The data represent the number of escape incidents from federal facilities during each fiscal year. A fiscal year runs from April 1 to March 31 of the following year.

An escape incident can involve more than one offender.

THE POPULATION OF OFFENDERS IN THE COMMUNITY UNDER SUPERVISION HAS DECREASED IN THE PAST 5 YEARS

Figure C21

Source: Correctional Service Canada.

- Over the past five years, there has been a decrease of 2.7% for the total offender population in the community. For the same time period, there has been a 13.6% decrease in offenders on full parole and an increase of 11.9% in offenders on statutory release.
- As of end of fiscal year 2013-14, there were 6,993 men and 484 women on active community supervision.

Note:

*A fiscal year runs from April 1 to March 31 of the following year.

The data presented above reflect the offender population in the community under supervision which includes all active offenders on day parole, full parole, statutory release, offenders who are temporarily detained in a non-CSC facility, and offenders who are unlawfully at large for less than 90 days.

Day parole is a type of conditional release granted by the Parole Board of Canada whereby offenders are permitted to participate in community-based activities in preparation for full parole or statutory release. The conditions require offenders to return nightly to an institution or half-way house unless otherwise authorized by the Parole Board of Canada.

Full parole is a type of conditional release granted by the Parole Board of Canada whereby the remainder of the sentence is served under supervision in the community.

Statutory release refers to a conditional release that is subject to supervision after the offender has served two-thirds of the sentence.

PROVINCIAL/TERRITORIAL COMMUNITY CORRECTIONS POPULATION DECREASED IN 2011-12

Figure C22

Source: Corrections Key Indicator Report for Adults and Youth, Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics, Statistics Canada.

- The provincial/territorial community corrections population decreased 3.3% in 2011-12 from 2010-11 from 112,894 to 109,215.
- Since the introduction of the conditional sentence as a sentencing option in September 1996, the number of offenders serving a conditional sentence had increased steadily until 2002-03. In the years since, the number of offenders serving a conditional sentence has fluctuated.
- In 2011-12, the total number of offenders on probation was 96,643.

Note:

A conditional sentence is a disposition of the court where the offender serves a term of imprisonment in the community under specified conditions. This type of sentence can only be imposed in cases where the term of imprisonment would be less than two years. Conditional sentences have been a provincial and territorial sentencing option since September 1996.

To allow for comparisons, the numbers exclude information from Newfoundland & Labrador, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, Northwest Territories, and Nunavut, as complete statistics for these jurisdictions were not available. As a result of these changes, the data presented in this year's report may not be comparable to the data reported in previous versions of the Corrections and Conditional Release Statistical Overview.

- In fiscal year 2013-14, 73.1% of all releases from federal institutions were at statutory release.
- In fiscal year 2013-14, 84.6% of releases for Aboriginal offenders were at statutory release compared to 69.3% of releases for Non-Aboriginal offenders.
- Over the past ten years, the percentage of releases at statutory release increased from 67.8% to 73.1%.

Note:

The data includes all releases from federal penitentiaries in a given fiscal year excluding offenders with quashed sentences, offenders who died in custody, LTSO releases, offenders released at warrant expiry and offenders transferred to foreign countries. An offender may be released more than once a year in cases where a previous release was subject to revocation, suspension, temporary detention, or interruption.

Statutory release refers to a conditional release that is subject to supervision after the offender has served two-thirds of the sentence.

Note:

Percentage is calculated based on the number of day and full paroles compared to the total releases for each offender group.

The data includes all releases from federal penitentiaries in a given fiscal year excluding offenders with quashed sentences, offenders who died in custody LTSO releases, offenders released at warrant expiry and offenders transferred to foreign countries. An offender may be released more than once a year in cases where a previous release was subject to revocation, suspension, temporary detention, or interruption.

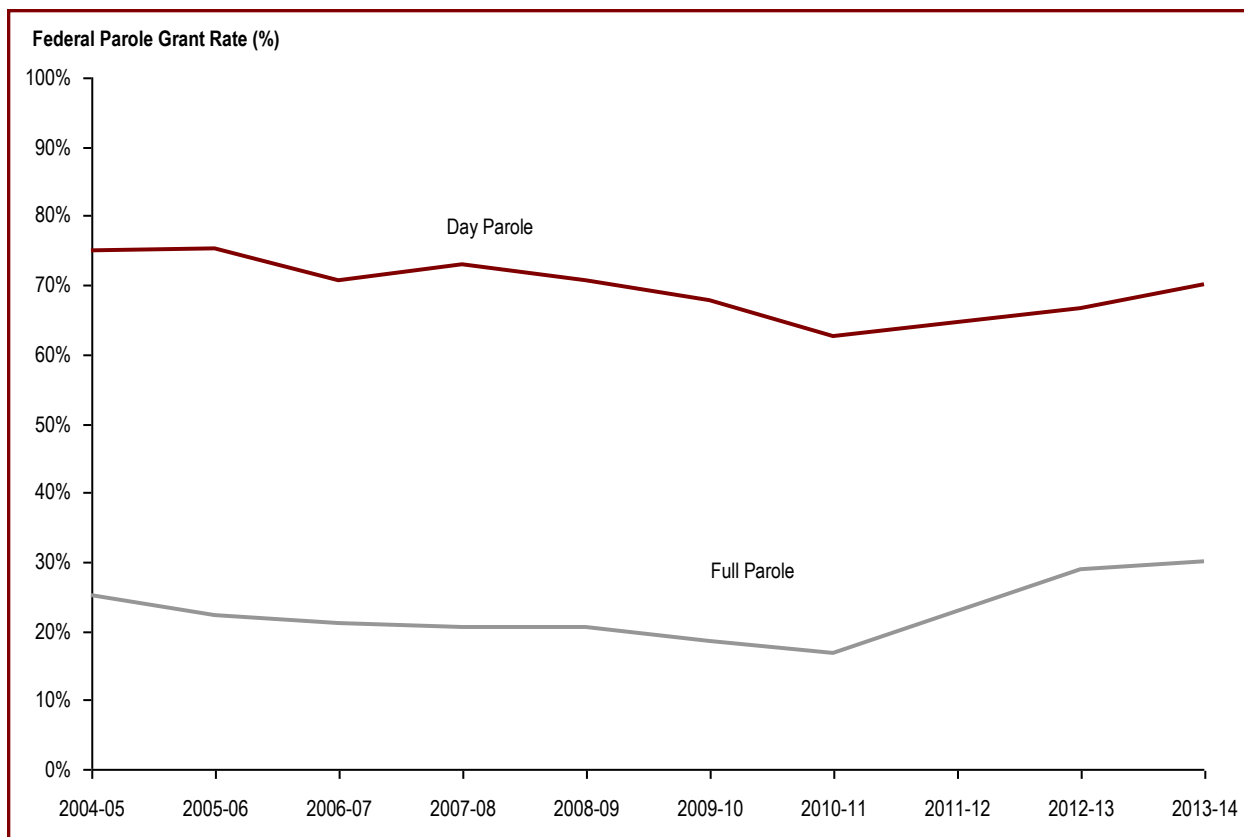

Day parole is a type of conditional release granted by the Parole Board of Canada whereby offenders are permitted to participate in community-based activities in preparation for full parole or statutory release. The conditions require offenders to return nightly to an institution or half-way house unless otherwise authorized by the Parole Board of Canada.

Full parole is a type of conditional release granted by the Parole Board of Canada whereby the remainder of the sentence is served under supervision in the community.

A fiscal year runs from April 1 to March 31 of the following year.

THE FEDERAL DAY AND FULL PAROLE GRANT RATES INCREASED IN 2013-14

Figure D3

Source: Parole Board of Canada.

- Compared to the grant rates in 2010-11, the lowest in the last decade, the federal day and full parole grant rates increased (7.3% and 13.4% respectively) in 2013-14.
- Over the last 10 years, women offenders were more likely to be granted day and full parole than men offenders.
- When compared with the rates in 2004-05, the grant rate for federal day parole decreased to 69.9% (-5.1%), while the grant rate for federal full parole increased to 30.0% (+4.9%).

Note:

The grant rate represents the percentage of pre-release reviews resulting in a grant by the Parole Board of Canada.

The conditions require offenders to return nightly to an institution or half-way house unless otherwise authorized by the Parole Board of Canada. Not all offenders apply for day parole, and some apply more than once before being granted day parole.

Full parole is a type of conditional release granted by the Parole Board of Canada in which the remainder of the sentence is served under supervision in the community. The Parole Board of Canada must review the cases of all offenders for full parole at the time prescribed by legislation, unless the offender advises the Parole Board of Canada in writing that he/she does not wish to be considered for full parole.

On March 28, 2011, Bill C-59 (Abolition of Early Parole Act) eliminated the accelerated parole review (APR) process, affecting first-time non-violent offenders serving sentences for schedule II and non-scheduled offences, who in 2011-12 were no longer eligible for an APR review. These offenders are now assessed on general reoffending as compared to the APR risk assessment, which considered the risk of committing a violent offence only. To better illustrate historical trends, APR decisions were excluded.

Grant rates should be read with caution. Even though comparisons were made between federal regular day parole and full parole grant rates only, they nevertheless contain an APR residual effect between 2011-12 and 2013-14. A sufficiently large proportion of APR-affected population were granted regular federal day parole and full parole, perhaps inflating the grant rates.

FEDERAL PAROLE HEARINGS INVOLVING AN ABORIGINAL CULTURAL ADVISOR DECREASED

Figure D5

Source: Parole Board of Canada.

- In 2013-14, the number of federal hearings involving an Aboriginal Cultural Advisor decreased to 375 (-20%) compared to 2012-13, and was the lowest of the last 10 years.
- In 2013-14, 38.7% (340) of all federal hearings for Aboriginal offenders were held with an Aboriginal Cultural Advisor.
- In 2013-14, 0.9% (35) of all federal hearings for offenders who did not self-identify as Aboriginal were held with an Aboriginal Cultural Advisor.

Note:

The presence of an Aboriginal Cultural Advisor is an alternative approach to the traditional parole hearing, and was introduced by the Parole Board of Canada to ensure that conditional release hearings were sensitive to Aboriginal cultural values and traditions. This type of hearing is available to both Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal offenders.

Figure D6

Source: Parole Board of Canada.

- In 2013-14, the average proportion of sentence served before the first parole release for offenders serving determinate sentences decreased to 37.9% (-0.5%) for day parole and to 46.4% (-0.3%) for full parole, as compared to the previous year.
- Since 2004-05, women offenders have served less of their sentences before the first federal day parole release than men offenders. However, in 2012-13, women offenders served an average of 0.5% more of their sentences before the first federal day parole than men offenders (38.9% versus 38.3%, respectively).
- In 2013-14, women offenders served an average of 2.6% less of their sentences before the first federal full parole supervision than men offenders compared to 1.4% in 2012-13.
- In 2013-14, women offenders and men offenders served an average of 6.0% and 4.9% more of their sentence before first federal day parole supervision and 6.8% and 7.0% more of their sentence before the first federal full parole supervision compared to 2004-05.

Note:

Timing of parole in the sentence refers to the percentage of the sentence served at the time the first day parole or full parole starts during the sentence. In most cases a full parole is preceded by a day parole.

These calculations are based on sentences under federal jurisdiction, excluding life sentences and indeterminate sentences.

Offenders (other than those serving life or indeterminate sentences or subject to judicial determination) normally become eligible for full parole after serving 1/3 of their sentence or seven years, whichever is less. Eligibility for day parole is normally at 6 months before full parole eligibility.

The increases in the average proportion of time served after 2010-11 are in part due to the effect of Bill C-59 and were driven primarily by offenders serving sentences for schedule II and non-scheduled offences (some of whom were former APR-eligible offenders).

Offenders (other than those serving life or indeterminate sentences or subject to judicial determination) normally become eligible for full parole after serving 1/3 of their sentence or seven years, whichever is less. Eligibility for day parole is normally at 6 months before full parole eligibility.

The increases in the average proportion of time served after 2010-11 are in part due to the effect of Bill C-59 and were driven primarily by offenders serving sentences for schedule II and non-scheduled offences (some of whom were former APR-eligible offenders).

Figure D8

Source: Parole Board of Canada.

- Since 2004-05, over 80% of federal day paroles have been successfully completed.
- In 2013-14, the successful completion rate of federal day parole was 89.6%, the highest of the last ten years.
- During the five-year period between 2009-10 and 2013-14, the successful completion rate for offenders released on APR day parole was slightly higher (88.7%) than for offenders released on regular day parole (87.9%).
- In 2013-14, 1.0% of federal day paroles ended with a non-violent offence and 0.2% with a violent offence.
- In 2013-14, for the second consecutive year, the successful completion rate was higher for women offenders than for men offenders (91.4% versus 89.5%, respectively).

Note:

*Revocation for Breach of Conditions includes revocation with outstanding charges.

A day parole is considered successful if it was completed without a return to prison for a breach of conditions or for a new offence.

- In 2013-14, the successful completion rates of federal full parole was 85%, the same as the previous year, and an increase of 9.8% compared to 2009-10.
- In the last five years, the successful completion rate on APR full parole was on average 2% lower (78.8% compared to 80.8%) than the rate on regular full parole.
- In 2013-14, 2.9% of federal full paroles ended with a non-violent offence and 0.3% with a violent offence. That represents a decrease of 0.8% and 0.3% compared to 2012-13.

Figure D10

Source: Parole Board of Canada.

- Over the past ten years, the successful completion rate for offenders on statutory release increased from 56.3% to 62.1%.
- In 2013-14, 7.4% of statutory releases ended with a non-violent offence and 1.1% ended with a violent offence. That represents a decrease of 2.1% and 1.3% compared to 2009-10.
- Over the last five years, the successful completion rate of statutory releases was higher for women offenders than for men offenders. In 2013-14, women offenders had a successful rate 8.8% higher (70.5% versus 61.7%) than men offenders. When compared with the year 2009-10, the successful completion rate of statutory releases increased for both women offenders and men offenders (+1.3% and +1.4%, respectively).

Note:

*Revocation for Breach of Conditions includes revocation with outstanding charges.

A statutory release is considered successful if it was completed without a return to prison for a breach of conditions or for a new offence.

An offender serving a determinate sentence, if he/she is not detained, will be subject to statutory release after serving 2/3 of his/her sentence if he/she is not on full parole at that time. On statutory release, an offender is subject to supervision until the end of his/her sentence.

OVER THE PAST DECADE, THE RATE OF VIOLENT CONVICTION FOR OFFENDERS WHILE UNDER SUPERVISION HAS DECLINED

Figure D11

Source: Parole Board of Canada.

- The rate of conviction for violent offences in 2012-13 decreased by 21% for day parole, by 6% for full parole, and by 32% for statutory release, compared to 2004-05.
- Those offenders under discretionary release (day and full parole) are less likely to be convicted of a violent offence while under supervision than those on statutory release.

Note:

*Supervised offenders include offenders who are on parole, statutory release, those temporarily detained in federal institutions, and those who are unlawfully at large.

Violent offences include murder and Schedule I offences (listed in the Corrections and Conditional Release Act) such as assaults, sexual offences, arson, abduction, robbery and some weapon offences.

Figure D12

- The number of offenders receiving escorted and unescorted temporary absences has been stable in the last three years.
- The number of offenders receiving work releases has decreased by 25.0%, from 424 in 2012-13 to 318 in 2013-14.
- For the past 10 years, the average successful completion rates for escorted and unescorted temporary absences was 99% and 95% for work releases.

Note:

A temporary absence is permission given to an eligible offender to be away from the normal place of confinement for medical, administrative, community service, family contact, personal development for rehabilitative purposes, or compassionate reasons, including parental responsibilities.

A work release is a structured program of release of specified duration for work or community service outside the penitentiary, under the supervision of a staff member or other authorized person or organization.

These numbers depict the number of offenders who received at least one temporary absence permit (excluding those for medical purposes) or at least one work release. An offender may be granted more than one temporary absence permit or work release over a period of time.

THE NUMBER OF INITIAL DETENTION REVIEWS DECREASED IN 2013-14

Figure E1

Source: Parole Board of Canada.

- The annual number of initial detention reviews has been fluctuating since 1999-00.
- Out of 3,789 initial detention reviews since 1999-00, 93.1% have resulted in a decision to detain.
- In 2013-14, the initial detention rate was 96.2%, a decrease of 2.1% compared to 2012-13.
- Since 1999-00, men accounted for 98.4% of all referrals for detention. During the same period, 60 women were referred for detention and 54 were detained
- In 2013-14, Aboriginal offenders accounted for 23.2% of the Total In Custody Population serving determinate sentences while they accounted for 42.3% of offenders referred for detention and 42.0% of offenders detained.

Note:

According to the Corrections and Conditional Release Act, an offender entitled to statutory release after serving two-thirds of the sentence may be held in custody until warrant expiry if it is established that the offender is likely to commit, before the expiry of his/her sentence, an offence causing death or serious harm, a serious drug offence or a sex offence involving a child.

Figure E2

Source: Correctional Service Canada.

- Since the first judicial review hearing in 1987, there have been a total of 207 court decisions.
- Of these cases, 78.3% of the court decisions resulted in a reduction of the period that must be served before parole eligibility.
- Of the 813 offenders eligible to apply for a judicial review, 292 have already served 15 years of their sentence whereas 521 have not.
- Of the 162 offenders who have had their parole eligibility date moved closer, 157 have reached their revised Day Parole eligibility date. Of these offenders, 145 have been released on parole, and 95 were being actively supervised in the community*.
- A higher percentage of second degree (87.0%) than first degree (77.2%) murder cases have resulted in a reduction of the period required to be served before parole eligibility.

Note:

*Of the 50 offenders no longer under active supervision, 19 were in custody, 26 were deceased, four were deported, and one was unlawfully at large. Judicial review is an application to the court for a reduction in the time required to be served before being eligible for parole. Judicial review procedures apply to offenders who have been sentenced to imprisonment for life without eligibility for parole until more than fifteen years of their sentence has been served. Offenders can apply when they have served at least 15 years of their sentence. Judicial reviews are conducted in the province where the conviction took place.

Figure E3

Source: Correctional Service Canada.

- As of end of fiscal year 2013-14, there have been 678 offenders designated as Dangerous Offenders (DOs) since 1978. 72% have at least one current conviction for a sexual offence.
- As of end of fiscal year 2013-14, there were 573 DOs active, and of those 91.3% had indeterminate sentences.
- Of the 573 active DOs, 548 were in custody (representing 3.6% of the In Custody Population) and 25 were in the community under supervision.
- There were four women with a Dangerous Offender designation.
- Aboriginal offenders accounted for 29.7% of DOs and 21.0% of the Total Offender Population.

Note:

*The number of Dangerous Offenders designated per year does not include overturned decisions.

Offenders who have died since receiving designations are no longer classified as "active"; however, they are still represented in the above graph, which depicts the total number of offenders "designated".

Dangerous Offender legislation came into effect in Canada on October 15, 1977, replacing the Habitual Offender and Dangerous Sexual Offender provisions that were abolished. A Dangerous Offender (DO) is an individual given an indeterminate or determinate sentence on the basis of a particularly violent crime or pattern of serious violent offences where it is judged that the offender's behaviour is unlikely to be inhibited by normal standards of behavioural restraint (see section 753 of the Criminal Code of Canada). Determinate sentences for Dangerous Offenders must be a minimum punishment of imprisonment for a term of two years and have an order that the offender be subject to a long-term supervision period that does not exceed 10 years.

In addition to the DOs, there were 22 Dangerous Sexual Offenders and four Habitual Offenders.

Figure E4

- As of end fiscal year 2013-14, the courts have imposed 899 long term supervision orders. Of these, 70.5% were for a period of 10 years.
- There were 737 offenders with long term supervision orders, and of these, 486 (65.9%) had at least one current conviction for a sexual offence.
- There were 14 women with long term supervision orders.
- There were 382 offenders being supervised in the community on their long term supervision order at the end of fiscal year 2013-14. Of these, 341 offenders were supervised in the community, 40 offenders were temporarily detained, and one offender was unlawfully at large for less than 90 days.

Note:

Long Term Supervision Order (LTSO) legislation, which came into effect in Canada on August 1, 1997, allows the court to impose a sentence of two years or more for the predicate offence and order that the offender be supervised in the community for a further period not exceeding 10 years. Forty-four offenders under these provisions have died and 91 offenders have completed their long term supervision period.

Note:

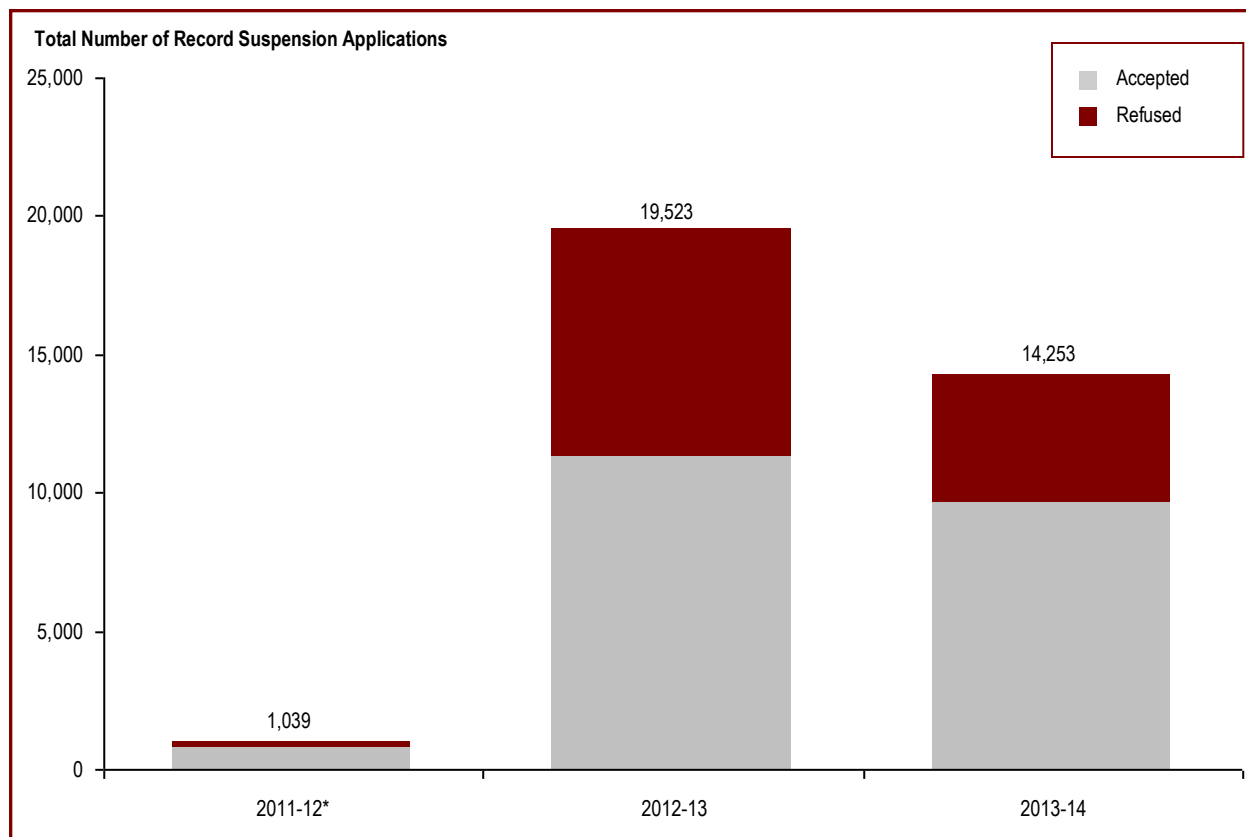

*This category includes offenders whose current status is either supervised on day parole (DP), full parole (FP) or statutory release (SR).

This category includes offenders convicted of a new offence while on the supervision portion of an LTSO. When this occurs, the LTSO supervision period is interrupted until the offender has served the new sentence to its warrant expiry date. At that time, the LTSO supervision period resumes where it left off. These numbers are as of end of fiscal year 2013-14.

Forty-four offenders under these provisions have died and 91 offenders have completed their long term supervision period.

Figure E5

Source: Parole Board of Canada.

- The number of record suspension applications received decreased from 19,523 in 2012-13 to 14,253 in 2013-14. Of these 14,253 applications, 67.6% were accepted, an increase of 9.7% compared to 2012-13.
- Approximately 3.8 million Canadians have a criminal record, but less than 11.0% of people convicted have received a pardon/record suspension. Since 1970, when the pardon process began, 480,035 pardons/record suspensions have been granted/issued or ordered.

Note:

*Refers to record suspension applications received between March 13 and March 31, 2012.

The number of record suspension applications received and accepted in 2012-13 should be considered with caution as the Record Suspension program, formerly the Pardon Program, underwent substantial changes between 2010-11 and 2012-13.

On March 13, 2012, Bill C-10 amended the CRA by replacing the term "pardon" with the term "record suspension". The Record Suspension and Clemency program involves the review of record suspension applications, the ordering of record suspensions and the making of clemency recommendations. The amendments to the CRA increased the waiting periods for a record suspension to five years for all summary convictions and to ten years for all indictable offences. Individuals convicted of sexual offences against minors (with certain exceptions) and those who have been convicted of more than three indictable offences, each with a sentence of two or more years, became ineligible for a record suspension.

The Record Suspension program, formerly the Pardon Program, underwent substantial changes between 2010/11 and 2012/13.

Revocations fluctuate due to resource re-allocation to deal with backlogs.

On June 29, 2010, Bill C-23A amended the CRA by extending the ineligibility periods for certain applications for pardon. Additionally, the bill resulted in significant changes to program operations. The process was modified to include additional inquiries and new, more exhaustive investigations by staff for some applications and required additional review time by Board members. New concepts of merit and disrepute to the administration of justice form part of the statute. As a result of these new changes, application processing time increased. On March 13, 2012, Bill C-10 amended the CRA by replacing the term "pardon" with the term "record suspension". The Record Suspension and Clemency program involves the review of record suspension applications, the ordering of record suspensions and the making of clemency recommendations. - On May 24, 2012, the Victim Services Survey snapshot day, 10,664 victims received formal assistance from a victim service office. This represents an increase of 12.7% from 9,462 on May 27, 2010. Of the 9,637 where the crime was known, the majority, 79.8% were victims of a violent crime.
- Of the 9,709 cases in which gender of the victim was noted, women accounted for 74.9% of the victims who received formal assistance from a victim service office, and men represented 25.1%.
- Of the 6,959 women who received formal assistance where the type of crime was known, 83.8% were victims of violent crime. A total of 2,105 women (30.2%) were victims of sexual assault.
- Of the 2,359 men who received formal assistance where the type of crime was known, 69.2% were victims of violent crime. A total of 356 men (15.1%) were victims of sexual assault.

Note:

Victim services are defined as agencies that provide direct services to primary or secondary victims of crime, and that are funded in whole or in part by a ministry responsible for justice matters. Survey respondents included 684 victim service providers.

- Since 2006-07, there has been a 57.4% increase in the number of victims registered with the Correctional Service of Canada and the Parole Board of Canada combined, from 4,979 to 7,838.
- Of the 23,154 offenders under the responsibility of the Correctional Service Canada in 2013-14, 17.3% (4,017) have registered victims.
- In 2013-14, the Correctional Service of Canada provided 51,697 notifications to registered victims.

Note:

*In order to register to receive information under sections 26 and 142 of the Corrections and Conditional Release Act, a person must meet the definition of a victim that appears in section 2, or subsections 26(3) or 142(3) of the Act. Victims can register with the Correctional Service of Canada or the Parole Board of Canada by completing a Victims Request for Information form, though a signed letter of request can be considered as meeting this requirement.

A notification is a contact with a registered victim, by phone or mail, to provide information to which sections 26 and 142 of the Corrections and Conditional Release Act entitles them.

Data is reported by CSC's data warehouse using a snapshot of data as of April of each year.

TEMPORARY ABSENCE INFORMATION IS THE MOST COMMON TYPE OF INFORMATION PROVIDED DURING A NOTIFICATION TO REGISTERED VICTIMS* WITH CORRECTIONAL SERVICE OF CANADA

Figure F6

Source: Correctional Service Canada.

- In 2013-14, information on Temporary Absences (52.4%), Travel Permits (17.8%), and Institutional Location (9.1%) were the most frequent pieces of information about offenders that was provided during a notification to registered victims*.
- There has been over a twofold increase in the number of pieces of information provided to registered victims* during notifications from 81,139 in 2009-10 to 192,692 in 2013-14.

Note:

Temporary Absence information includes information on unescorted and escorted temporary absences and work release. Conditional Release information includes information regarding day and full parole, statutory release, suspensions, detention, and long-term supervision orders. Sentencing information includes information on the offender's sentence, offender information, warrant expiry date, judicial review, and public domain.

Disclosure means a type of information identified in section 26 of the CCRA that has been disclosed to a registered victim during a notification.

As of December 2, 2011 as per Bill S6, Correctional Services Canada now provides information to some victims who are not registered which requires providing information to family members of murdered victims where the offender is still eligible to apply for Judicial Review including when the offender does not apply for a Judicial Review within the allotted time period, as well as the next date the offender can apply. Notification to unregistered victims are excluded for the data.

*In order to register to receive information under section 26 and 142 of the Corrections and Conditional Release Act, a person must meet the definition of a victim that appears in section 2 or subsection 26(3) or 142(3) of the Act. Note:

Temporary Absence information includes information on unescorted and escorted temporary absences and work release. Conditional Release information includes information regarding day and full parole, statutory release, suspensions, detention, and long-term supervision orders. Sentencing information includes information on the offender's sentence, offender information, warrant expiry date, judicial review, and public domain.

Disclosure means a type of information identified in section 26 of the CCRA that has been disclosed to a registered victim during a notification.

As of December 2, 2011 as per Bill S6, Correctional Services Canada now provides information to some victims who are not registered which requires providing information to family members of murdered victims where the offender is still eligible to apply for Judicial Review including when the offender does not apply for a Judicial Review within the allotted time period, as well as the next date the offender can apply. Notification to unregistered victims are excluded for the data.

*In order to register to receive information under section 26 and 142 of the Corrections and Conditional Release Act, a person must meet the definition of a victim that appears in section 2 or subsection 26(3) or 142(3) of the Act. Victims can register with the Correctional Service of Canada or the Parole Board of Canada by completing a Victims Request for Information form, though a signed letter of request can be considered as meeting this requirement.

New type of information now released to victims as of June 13, 2012 as per Bill C10.

PAROLE BOARD OF CANADA CONTACTS WITH VICTIMS HAVE DECREASED

- In 2013-14, the Parole Board of Canada (PBC) had 22,323 contacts* with victims, a slight decrease of 0.7% (152 fewer contacts) compared to 2012-13. Since 1999-00, there has been a 99.7% increase in the number of contacts with victims by the PBC.
- Most of the contacts were with victims of violence, such as victims of sexual assault, or the family members of murdered victims.
- The majority of victims surveyed in 2003 and 2009 expressed satisfaction with the quality and timeliness of the information provided by PBC staff.
- In 2013-14, victims made 264 presentations at 142 hearings, 10 more presentations than the previous year.

Note:

*A victim contact refers to each time the Parole Board of Canada has contact with a victim by mail, fax, or by telephone.

Bill C-10 (Safe Streets and Communities Act)*, which came into force on June 13, 2012, resulted in changes to the categories of victims defined in section 2 of the CCRA. An actual victim is a person who survived a crime 2(1). If the person is dead, ill or otherwise incapacitated, a) a spouse/common law 2(1)(a), b) a relative/dependant 2(1)(b), c) anyone who is responsible for the care of the person 2(1)(c), d) anyone who is responsible for the care of a dependant of the person 2(1)(d) are considered as victims. If physical or emotional harm was done to a person as a result of the offender's act, whether or not the offender is prosecuted or convicted of the act, and if the person made a complaint to the police or the Crown attorney, the person is recognized as a victim per CCRA 26 (3) and 142(3).
