

The Full Statement from Representative of Kevin Chalker

The AP has presented us with a handful of forged documents and a long list of meritless allegations from unidentified sources. Given their refusal to share their purported evidence with us, we are unable to fully defend ourselves against the false allegations. For the record, however, GRA never had the projects described by the AP: "Pickaxe", "Falconeye", "Merciless," "Deviant," "Clockwork," or "Viper." GRA also never agreed to undertake the immoral and illegal conduct that was allegedly the mission of those non-existent projects. Similarly, we did not nor would we ever engage in illegal surveillance or covertly obtain individuals' financial records. All documents that we were shown are forgeries and simple forgeries at that---for example, anyone with access to Microsoft PowerPoint could generate the slides that the AP claims without support to be GRA documents. We hope the reader will approach this story with a healthy dose of skepticism and an understanding of the reasons "anonymous sources" would have to spin such tales ahead of this major sports event.
