FBI Keeps Watch On Atom Agent

By HOWARD RUSHMORE
Copyright, 1945, by New York Journal-American
Agents of the Communist International not only tried to steal secrets of the atomic bomb, but bribed technicians and engineers to furnish blueprints of military equipment including jet-propelled airplanes, the N. Y. Journal-American learned today.

Although these espionage activities are known to the State Department, no action has been taken to date against a Russian spy ring, which for two years has operated with unlimited funds and skilled personnel in an effort to steal confidential scientific developments.

Both the FBI and the State Department refused to comment on the exposure of one of these Soviet agents who is living under an assumed name at a midtown hotel. A squad of G-men is keeping a 24-hour watch on his activities.

Got Atom Bomb Plan in '43

For identification purposes, he will be called Alfred Adamson, although this newspaper knows the real name under which he operates and the name of the hotel at which he resides.

The State Department months ago was given what the FBI considers to be irrefutable proof that Adamson had in his possession secret plans of the atomic bomb given him by an American scientist in Chicago, in 1943.

Activity of still another Russian agent in this country also has been given the State Department by the FBI, the news-

Speed Rescue Of Troopship Adrift at Sea

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The House Military Affairs Committee prepared today to give President Truman all he asked for—and more in the way of legislation to stop the wave of strikes and lockouts.

With lightning speed, the committee's guiding leaders—Republicans as well as Democrats—planned to draft the President's recommendations in law. They will bring the matter to the floor for a vote possibly late this week.

STEADY ACTION SEEN.
Speedy action was expected despite the opposition of labor to Mr. Truman's proposals.

These would, in effect, forestall strikes or lockouts for 30 days while a panel of three or more persons studied the facts in the controversy and made a public report of its findings and recommendations.

Rep. May (D-Ky.), chairman of the military group, disclosed he was prepared to add the Chief Executive's recommendations onto the bill repealing the Smith-Connally "anti-strike" law.

Democratic and Republican committee members left little doubt but that their chairman had struck a sympathetic chord, and a majority of the committee would support the move.

Under an unusual parliamentary situation in the House, the President's proposals for labor laws similar to the Railway Mediation Act, can be brought up for a vote.

McVay to Face 35 Survivors

By JOSEPH A. BORS,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Capt. Charles E. McVay, III, was expected to plead not guilty today when arraigned on charges of neglect and inefficiency in connection with the sinking of the cruiser Indianapolis in the Pacific last July.

The prosecution was reportedly prepared to call up 15 officers and 20 enlisted men who were among the survivors when the ship sank off the Philippines with the loss of 880 men.

1946 License Plates Go On Sale Today

Next year's auto license plates became available today, but must not be used until Jan. 1. Motor Vehicle Commissioner Fletcher said he hoped the early sale would cut down the annual deadline rush.

MARITAL MIXUP . . . Mrs. Jean Carbone, subject of a "missing persons" search instituted by her husband, a former flier, is shown with the man of her choice, Capt. Fliers Go to Top In Navy Shakeup

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (INS).—Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal announced a sweeping shake-up today of the Navy's top command ashore and afloat. He stressed the fact that aviators would be put in many key positions.

Forrestal said three of the six key positions in the office of Chief of Naval Operations would go to aviators. He also revealed:

Admiral John H. Towers, the Navy's number one aviator, will replace Admiral Raymond A. Spruance as commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet. Spruance's new assignment was not revealed.

Vice-Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, of task force 58 fame, will be relieved as deputy chief of naval operations for air to become commander of the Eighth Fleet in the Atlantic. His successor was not named.

Vice-Admiral D. C. Ramsey, now deputy commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet, eventually will become vice-chief of naval operations. Ramsey is an aviator.

Presumably most of the changes will take place when Admiral

Chen, like the United States, advocates an "elaborate and careful" investigation into the war guilt of Nazism.

The results would be used to provide an "authoritative, impartial record where to future historians may turn for truth, and future politicians for warning."

This was made clear today by Sir Hartley Shawcross, chief British prosecutor on the Allied war crimes tribunal.

OPENS SECOND PHASE.

He opened the second phase of the trial of top Nazi leaders with an indictment demonstrating the "basis of the crime against peace" and their personal responsibility to that crime.

Julius Streicher, Hermann Goering, Rudolf Hess and other defendants were directly attacked by the British prosecutor.

"These men under their leathern and associated," he said, "destroyed the high hopes of mankind and sought to revert to international anarchy."

Kent Due Today After Delay

Delayed by one day, Tyler Kent, 34, who served five years for the theft of diplomatic documents from the American Embassy in London, is scheduled to arrive today at Pier 3, Hoboken, aboard the British steamer Silver Oak.

The Silver Oak's owner, the Kerr Steamship Line, was unable to explain the delay, stating the U. S. Customs Office "clamped a blackout on information regarding its arrival."

Government officials, however, denied the charge. They said no Federal agency "had any more interest" in Kent.

Mukden Entry Waits on Reds

CHINHSHIEN, Manchuria, Dec. 3 (Delayed) (AP).—Bolstered by airborne supplies, Chinese Nationalist armies in Manchuria today awaited a green light from Russia to begin a final march on Mukden.

Although his main forces are 130 miles from Manchuria's greatest city, the Nationalist commander, Lt. Gen. Yu Yuming, emphasized that no entry would be made into Mukden until the Russians complete occupation negotiations or until it definitely is established they have withdrawn and it is necessary to battle Chinese Communists for the city.

banner in 1944, was given more of an advance war warning than his counterpart at Hawaii, Gen. Walter C. Short.

The line of questioning was directed at Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles, the Army's 1941 intelligence chief who testified the same warnings of possible hostilities went to both outposts.

QUIZZED ON "SURPRISE."

Meanwhile, Rep. Gearhart (R-Cal.) said he hoped to bring out that the Army and Navy chiefs in Pearl Harbor or Singapore attack was likely until they learned early on Dec. 7 that the Japs planned to break off relations at 1 p. m. that day.

"Then they saw that it pointed to Pearl Harbor," Gearhart declared.

4,000 Killed By Tidal Wave

LONDON, Dec. 4 (INS).—A Reuters dispatch from Karachi reported 4,000 persons were believed killed and 40,000 driven from their homes by a tidal wave which struck a 100-mile coastal belt west of the Indian seaport today.

Several villages were washed away, the dispatch said.

The Beecher radioed an urgent call for help at 2:26 a. m., as it floundered in pitch darkness, unable to navigate, and helpless to protect itself from collision.

The weather at the time of the accident was moderate. No storms were expected.

At 5:40 a. m. the Coast Guard reported one of the rescue ships had sighted the stricken vessel.

The Beecher is bound from Marseilles to Norfolk, Va.

U. S. to Paris Air Mark Set

PARIS, Dec. 4 (INS).—Civilian flying records between the United States and Paris were broken today with the arrival at Orly Field of a giant Constellation airliner.

The plane completed a flight from Washington, D. C. in 12 hours, 57 minutes of flying time. Total time elapsed was 74 hours, 47 minutes, including halts at Gander, Newfoundland, and Shannon, Ireland.

The sky gant required but six hours and 25 minutes to cross the Atlantic—another civil record.

John T. Flynn's Interpretation: New Deal Seeks Whitewash for Roosevelt, Hull

By JOHN T. FLYNN
Investigator, Publicist and Author of "The Truth About Pearl Harbor" Copyright, 1945, by New York Journal-American

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—For the first time the Administration members of the Pearl Harbor committee have gone into aggressive action.

The men who had bumbled so coolingly to Mr. Hull on the stand, tore into Gen. Miles, prewar head of Army Intelligence. It is very easy to see through the present objectives of these Administration members.

It may be stated thus. Somebody is responsible for Pearl Harbor. There does not seem to be any doubt that the Japs knocked it into a cocked hat in a few hours, Dec. 7, 1941. The responsibility must rest on someone.

On Kimmel and Short, or on the military and naval officials in Washington, or on the politicians, which means Mr. Roosevelt and his political advisers—Hull, Stimson and Knox.

The Administration members are going to pounce on the professional armed services. They do not seem to care whether ber of a Soviet, making use of America's largest airplane manufacturing plant, spent several years of a "friendly" relationship.

This plant was working on jet-propulsion for military aircraft.

Although Russia, as an ally, was given many of these plain certain "top-drawer" secrets were withheld by American engineers.

Linked to Red Diplomatic Staff

The FBI obtained confessions from at least two of these persons who said the Russian had offered them money.

The State Department was notified immediately, but a year later, has still taken no action against this Russian visitor. Adamson's link with a member of the Russian diplomatic staff, and possibly the Soviet trading executive mentioned above, also has been cited to the State Department by the FBI.

The FBI believes Adamson passed on atomic bomb information to a Soviet vice-consul a year ago. The vice-consul left for Moscow two weeks later and has not returned to this country.

In Washington, a member of the State Department admitted that if Adamson was on Russia's payroll, his activities "became a serious matter, perhaps even an overt act."

Adamson's link to Stalin's dictatorship was proved by the FBI two years ago, when they obtained a photograph of a Soviet purchasing commission which in 1931 visited the United States. Adamson was a member of this commission.

Interviewed by a N. Y. Journal-American reporter at an obscure Communist musical shop where he is "employed," Adamson admitted using the other name under which he entered the United States illegally from Canada in 1938.

Denies Being Moscow Agent

He also denied being a Moscow agent, although he said he was not a citizen. The small, bespectacled man was visibly nervous and his hands shook as he told the reporter:

"I don't want to talk to newspaper men. I don't know anything about the FBI." However, a girl secretary employed in the office told the reporter she had twice gone to lunch with Adamson and had noticed two men following them wherever they went.

Although Adamson's "salary" at the music shop is $75 weekly, the FBI asserts he has accounts in a number of Manhattan banks running into thousands of dollars.

W. P. Eno Dead, Traffic Expert

William Phelps Eno, 87, internationally known authority on traffic control, died last night at Norwalk Hospital, Norwalk, Conn.

He was the originator of one-way streets and traffic rotaries and was author of the first traffic plans for New York City, London and Paris.

Mr. Eno, who resided in Westport, Conn., became interested in highway traffic subjects prior to the advent of the automobile. The Eno Foundation for Highway Traffic Control in Westport was founded by him in 1921, and he was active head of this center until his death.

Born in New York, Mr. Eno spent much time studying traffic regulation in Europe after his graduation from Yale in 1882.

REGULATIONS ADOPTED.
He was in the real estate business in New York City from 1884 until 1898 and later resided in Washington, D. C. In 1928 Mr. Eno moved to Connecticut.

New York City's first police traffic regulations, compiled by Mr. Eno, were adopted in 1902. Two years later his "rotary traffic plan" was tried out at Columbus Circle. That plan was later adopted in Paris.

His "Road Traffic Control Code with Safety Rules for Pedestrians" was used by all Allied troops in France during World War I. The Allied forces also relied upon it in North Africa in World War II.

Surviving are his wife, the former Alberta Averill; a nephew, Gifford Pinchot, former Governor of Pennsylvania, and two nieces, Mrs. Hakan Stefanson, of New York, and Mrs. W. L. Graves, of Beverly Hills, Calif.
