Hi Daneel

Thanks for the update. Your work certainly has had great impact as indicated in your email. We really welcomed your excellent investigations and reporting on the topic. It has without a doubt contributed to a greater understanding of the extent to which the internal accountability mechanisms are dysfunctional and given impetus to efforts to improve them.

I don't know of any initiatives other than those that you have mentioned.

We will be embarking on a process to support SAPS reform this year and will be in touch to include you in this.

Kind regards,

Gareth
