

Statement for Wisconsin Public Radio
Feb. 4, 2022

Regency Senior Communities offers independent living, assisted living and memory care, but it is not licensed as a nursing home and is not able to provide higher levels of care. As they age and their needs change, Regency residents sometimes reach a point where they require care beyond what Regency can offer. This can be a difficult time for the resident and the family, and we support them however we can. At all times, families are treated with the dignity and respect they deserve.
