

ODIN HMIS

HOMELESS MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEM

ODIN
INTELLIGENCE

Bridges and coordinates the various people and agencies currently working independently to assist those who want and need help.

- Also allows police to conduct investigations and hold offenders and criminal accountable
- Empowers police to contain those who prey on the less fortunate, while helping others transcend hardship and regain a solid footing in society.
- Good people going through difficult times, they need help and desperately want it.
- Criminals amongst the homeless are preying on the weak and engaging in nuisance and petty crimes as well as serious felonies.

WHAT'S THE PROBLEM?

Crime

Poor Hygiene
(use street as a restroom)

Reduction of property values

Degradation of a city's culture

Unchecked predatory behavior

Panhandling and petty crimes

Frustrations and anger of citizens of the community

Extreme tax on city's resources

What is ODIN HMIS?

01

ODIN HMIS is used primarily by Law Enforcement, Fire Departments, Other First Responders, and local government partners and stakeholders.

02

ODIN HMIS coordinates the efforts of various agencies while ensuring community safety.

03

Police use ODIN facial recognition to identify even non-verbal or intoxicated individuals. ODIN instantly displays information about the person including:

- A picture, DOB, and other identifiers
- Prior Contacts
- Officer Safety warnings such as "Needles" or "Assaultive"
- Prior service referrals and their outcomes
- Flags such as "Registered Sex Offender"
- Warrant Status
- Immediate notification of who their Probation Officer or Parole Agent is, as well as their contact information.
- Professional's contact information such as a Therapist, Social Worker, Probation Officer, etc.
- Family or friends contact information
- Arrest History
- Temporary Housing History

04

Officers or teams of officers and a paramedic or firefighter can conduct Medical and or Psychological evaluations, on scene, and document the outcomes.

05

First responders can then make service referrals very quickly from a selection of approved providers who are part of the Agency's or community's network. The service provider receives an email with the referral information.

06

ODIN HMIS Bed Tracker

Keeps track of how many people are in which temporary shelter and how many beds are taken and available. They can be "checked-in" from the street and have their bed reserved while they make their way to the shelter. No lines, no hassle and an accurate count for gov't officials who must keep track of this information.

One button reporting provides stakeholders an instantaneous view of available temporary bed-space on a city, country, or even statewide basis.
