COUNCIL FOR NATIONAL POLICY

THE RITZ-CARLTON, LAGUNA NIGUEL
FEBRUARY 24-26, 2022

WELCOME

Welcome to beautiful Dana Point for the first Council for National Policy meeting of 2022!

Exactly two years ago, CNP met at this very spot just weeks before the nation shut down due to the coronavirus. The pandemic led to unprecedented government mandates, the erosion of civil liberties, and an outright assault on freedom.

As the months passed, crisis after crisis arose with little resistance, recourse, or relief to the upending of our lives.

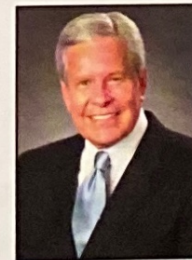

Now, the tide is turning.

Americans have seen and experienced what unchecked government power can do, and they have had enough. It is our job to demonstrate that the principles of freedom and constitutional protections are essential to the pursuit of happiness.

The time to save our nation is now. Let's get to work.

President*

Executive Director*

Members may disclose their own membership in CNP but not the names of fellow members. Members may use the membership list and directory to correspond with other members, with the following courtesy guidelines in mind:

- Recurring mailings and emails must have an unsubscribe mechanism.
- Bulk emails must be sent in a manner that keeps a member's email address private from other recipients.
- CNP should not be referenced in the mailing or email without prior approval.

Book Sales and Signings

- CNP and CNP Action, Inc. speakers may arrange with the staff to host a book sale and signing.
- Book sales and signings during or after evening receptions and dinners are reserved for speakers addressing those events.

COUNCIL FOR NATIONAL POLICY MEETING RULES

- Registration for a CNP event presumes dues and fees are current.
- Please refrain from one-on-one solicitation of funds while in attendance.
- Meeting materials, agendas, and booklets are for the use of official attendees only.
- Speakers often address CNP "off the record," so we ask that you refrain from recording remarks or publishing direct quotations.
- Should one observe behavior inconsistent with one of our values, please contact CNP staff.

Security - Nametags

- Security personnel will rely upon nametags for entrance into all CNP sessions.
- Do not leave bags/packages of any kind unattended in the meeting space.
- If you notice a security issue, report it to CNP's registration desk, and staff will alert our security team.

- Speakers at CNP meetings are our guests. Unlike other organizations, we pay no honorarium to speakers.
- We at CNP relish debate and spirited discussion over issues. However, we always keep points of contention civil and respectful.
- Speaker remarks at CNP meetings are "off the record" and not for circulation, except with special permission.
- During meetings, the CNP members and spouses are invited to ask questions. Please keep questions succinct and polite.

- Organizations with multiple CNP members may only give one report at each meeting.
- Please submit your Member Report request in writing to Alex Tokie (Alex@cfnp.org).
