Hello, during the 2022 telecast of the Academy Awards, Will Smith physically assaulted Chris Rock on stage. This reprehensible act shocked my family and child, whom asked me innocently “ why did he hit that man?” I hope Mr Smith faces consequences for his actions as it demonstrates the wrong way to go about handling a disagreement. It also could embolden other individuals in similar events to assault people if they believe it is warranted.

The incident involving Will Smith and real time violence on prime time television is absolutely unacceptable and the fowl language that was mouthed from his mouth. I'm deeply offended by this and that they allowed him to stay for the rest of the show. With children watching to see a grown man walk in rage and assault another individual over a joke and he is allowed to stay with no repercussions. This is not shocking coming from ABC as Jimmy Kimmel and the View are allowed to say whatever they want. The government needs to rein in on these shows as they are public broadcast and it's not cable television. Do something about ABC and the shows they broadcast. It's full of violence and hate and nothing ever happens to them. Is this acceptable behavior?

Description

On the Oscars TV shot on March 27 2022 Will Smith climbed up on stage and assaulted Chris Rock on live television. Chris Rock immediately stated that Will Smith had physically assaulted him. Will Smith continued to swear at Chris Rock after he had returned to his seat. Chris Rock had not engaged Will Smith but address his wife in a joke about her bald head and GI Jane 2. Will Smith decided to approach Chris Rock and engage him in physical violence without saying a word.

The Oscars did not remove Will Smith from the audience and shortly thereafter awarded the criminal Will Smith with an award, further allowing him to go overtime in his self-serving crying speech when he proclaimed himself a protector of 3 women actresses (not including Jada Smith) and a vehicle of love. He apologized to everyone except Chris Rock and rationalized and justified his criminal violence by his love and protection, completely aware of what he had done and why, but failing to take responsibility or expressing regret to Chris Rock for his actions. Fine the Oscars and issue them a rebuke and bond wherein they must sign that they will not allow criminal acts on their show.

Congress provided the FCC with the responsibility for administratively enforcing the law(s) that governs obscene, indecent and profane broadcasts. The FCC has authority to issue civil monetary penalties - please do so immediately! As a military radio operator, we were constantly informed and occasionally charged with uttering a profane word during a non-combat radio communications - with the fee being $10,000.00. If you're are going to air this and allow ABC and Will Smith to not be held accountable they need to pay fines for this emotionally disturbing occurrence to the FCC and also all of the viewers who saw this seriously traumatic event happen live before our eyes. I wish to file a formal complaint about yesterday's Oscars broadcast on ABC and the incident with Will Smith physically assaulting the comedian host Chris Rock.

I don't know how this violence can be shown on a family friendly broadcast television show. Besides the violence, Will Smith then cursed several time--several times--- with no editing of his words.

I watch the Oscars with my family, it seems one of the few event shows we can all watch together. It's a special night for my children and we celebrate it with a late night viewing. My five-year-old daughter cried when he slapped Chris Rock, and started shaking when Will Smith foully cursed.

This display was disgusting, and beamed directly into our living room. I thought your agency was supposed to keep this type of violence and cursing off television. I hope you can bring sense and reason back to the public airways.

I am using this method of submitting my complaint because your website led me to this form for a formal complaint about something that appeared on television. It seems your questions ask about providers. I am severely disappointed that you have no convenient method of making a complaint about a violent episode on a family friendly show.

Not only did the show contain a violent assault on air but it also failed to censor the vulgar rant afterwards that explicitly contained the four-letter "F" word. ABC should be held accountable for the following failures: 1) They failed to take precautions to tape delay the show (like the Superbowl) to ensure no objectionable material gets broadcast. 2) ABC Failed to recognize the risk of unprofessional conduct by a large number of self-entitled actors. 3) ABC failed to post the required warnings for viewer discretion due to the show containing violence and crude language.

I would like to report that I have witnessed an assault on a live television show called, The Academy Awards. My 15-year-old son has been traumatized and fearful since watching the March 27th telecast. I am extremely saddened and disappointed in the overall broadcast. The show specifically sets the age recommendation to TV-14. If that is the case, the public and young impressionable kids should not be exposed to such behavior. In addition, to allow a man who has just assaulted another to continue to sit in the front row of the event is not acceptable. I am so traumatized by what I witnessed that I do not feel comfortable allowing my son to watch any live event based on the age requirements that apparently are not taken seriously or enforced. Immediately fines are expected and should be swift.

Seeing Will Smith walk up to the Academy Awards stage and w/o a word or warning, he decided to "sucker punch" "B*tch Slap" Chris Rock in the face. Then walked off the stage, sat down, and began to curse and yell at Chris "Keep my wife's name out of ya mouth". At no time did I see security escort Will out of his front row seat, and at no time did anyone come to the aid of Chris Rock. Mr. Smith should have been escorted out of the building and not allowed to return. The academy could have sent someone from his family to accept his acting award. So he gets awarded for abusive and assault behavior? The entitlement of it all and the humiliation of Mr. Rock, the shock/ traumatizing of the majority of the people who were there in person, watching it. Further, by giving Mr. Smith the platform to accept the award, he then excused his behavior and never mentioned Mr. Rock. The

I find the assault that Will Smith committed against Chris Rock on was was traumatizing and egregious to myself who suffers from anxiety and my husband suffers from PTSD after serving in the US Army. This is a traditional family for us and our 5 year old granddaughter watched this act of violence as well and we had to explain to her that it was unacceptable. I am very disappointed at the Academy of Arts, Letters and Science as well they they call themselves a professional entity and could or DID NOT control the situation any better than they did. Because they ask him to leave and he did not does not mean that they could not had him escorted of the property. The FCC should take disciplinary action as well against the Academy and the CBS network for not doing a better job and controlling the matter.

During the broadcast of the Oscars on 3/27/2022, Will Smith went on stage and smacked Chris Rock with an open hand. It is devastating to watch something so violent and unexpected during a show. I have PTSD and I need counseling after seeing this behavior, I have been unable to sleep for nights. The swear words were able to be seen from his lips. The Academy awards show then allowed Will Smith to remain on screen and accept awards even after his clearly committing assault and swearing at unsuspecting Chris Rock on LIVE TV. During the live Oscars Ceremony broadcast on ABC on March 27, actor Will Smith physically assaulted a peer on live national television. While I understand that his actions are a criminal matter, the network airing the show failed to take any remedial action such as removing Will Smith from the remainder of the broadcast. Rather, he was allowed to maintain his seat in the center of the front row for the remainder of the show which made for not only incredibly uncomfortable viewing, but caused considerable distress to me as a viewer. The cameras frequently showed him laughing along as though nothing had happened and jokes were even made about the incident. Worse still, ABC then permitted him 6 minutes of uninterrupted air time to make a speech when he accepted the Best Actor Oscar and other attendees gave him a standing ovation. What ABC and the Academy have done is nothing short of condoning and celebrating an unprovoked and violent attack on another individual. Heads should roll as a result of ABC's disgusting failure in this matter.

If he refused to leave when asked to do so, why wasn't he forced to leave? If Eminem went up there and slapped someone he would've been escorted out of the building in handcuffs. The Academy condoned his behavior by allowing him to get onstage a 2nd time to accept an award and give a speech justifying his actions in front of the whole world. Description

As a victim of physical assault, it was deeply upsetting to watch the assault on Chris Rock by Will Smith on the academy awards program televised on Sunday, March 27. Worse still was the fact that after the assault, Will Smith was allowed to return to his seat and shout profanities at Mr. Rock. Then, the show continued and the adulation of Will Smith continued, as if nothing was amiss. This was certainly a trigger that has caused me physical illness and sleepless nights. I believe that action should have been immediate. For this reason, I will never watch an Academy Awards show again (I have been watching since I was eight years old-68 years). I will ask others not to support the program or the ABC network. And I will not pay a dime for a Hollywood-produced movie or program or anything attached to Will Smith or any of his family members.

Description

On March 27, 2022, in Los Angeles, California, the live Oscars broadcast featured Will Smith assaulting Chris Rock by slapping him in the face with an open hand and then thuggishly screaming TWICE "Keep my wife's name out of your FUCKING mouth." This physical violence and screaming was followed by the Academy broadcasting Will Smith receiving his Oscar, allowing him not only to make a speech but to exceed his allotted time and verbally rationalize his violence. I was not warned in advance that a live and violent crime followed by profanity would be included in the Oscars broadcast, then business as usual would resume.

Mr. Smith's violence and offensiveness, and the Academy's tacit approval of it, are both wholly unacceptable. The FCC must fine Mr. Smith, the Academy and the broadcasters for imposing on viewers around the world an unprovoked and violent battery suffered by Mr. Rock. The above disgusting acts were broadcasted to those who merely tuned in to see an award show, not witness a crime being committed, be subjected to profanity, all without timely consequences.

Mr. Smith should have swiftly been escorted from the immediate premises and the police should have been called, as would occur with any other perpetrator who committed an act of violence witnessed by the world. The Oscars certainly has on-premises security. By not taking instantaneous action, and expressly apologizing to its viewers, ABC and the Academy are communicating to everyone that violence and profanity do not result in consequences but are good things rewarded by a universal standing ovation honoring the perpetrator who is allowed to remain on the premises as if nothing happened. This is appalling, must be rectified and Mr. Smith's disgraceful behavior must be penalized. The world is watching him, the Academy, ABC and the FCC. I demand public accountability where it hurts the most - in the pocketbook of the wrongdoer, those who did not attempt to mitigate the harm, and those who broadcast these acts.

The "F" word was used several times during the threatening outburst. This is a criminal act and there should be actions taken to reprimand the guilty party (Will Smith) and find out why Mr. Smith was not escorted out of the theatre after the live attack, and why ABC and The Academy allowed Mr. Smith to remain there and receive an Oscar just a short time after the brutal assault. This greatly disturbed me and countless other home audience members.

I didn't know you can report violence or inappropriate scenes to the fcc. Hence why this is coming a couple days following my watching the Oscars on Monday via Hulu. I watched assault, nothing done to correct or address the assault and now see photos everywhere - online media outlets, publishing images of the moment just after Will Smith violently attacked Chris Rock. This is scary, feels me with terror and makes me afraid that I've become so normalized to violence that it took a day after watching the slat to understand my feelings. I'm horrified that news, tv, and media are using an image of a man just assaulted - again desensitizing and sensationalizing violence. It's not okay. Please fine the Oscar's and Hulu for running this video and all outlets publishing the photos of the violent act.

The atrocious attitude of Will Smith at the Oscars. First he laughs at the Joke, then from his front row seat, walks on stage and is violent smacking Chris Rock on the face. Smith turns with a small grin, wife Jada leans over to laugh. Smith vulgar tirade follows. smith 45 minutes later "tearfully" says he does crazy things for love. Wife is smiling and nodding at this statement. So violence is oK for Jada too. Will won and many in the audience gave a standing ovation, basically applauding the violence. Disgusting! Hollywood is full of overprivedged fools.Later at a party, no embarrassment Will is dancing energetically with Oscar in hand. If you are rich and liked you can get away with assault in front of millions of tv viewers. If Chris Rock were a big muscular guy or a white guy or tried to physically protect himself, it would have been a lot worse.

Not a great joke, perhaps not knowing of jadas medical condition, who should, unless the Smiths think everyone should.

Bottom line... real violence on a tv show in prime time with children watching is unacceptable and no consequences to Smiths action almost as bad. Oscar org should be fined. Smith should be fined and cancelled for next year onward.

To whom it may concern,

I'm not sure if I'm sending this to the right person, but I have a complaint about the Oscars 2022. I was disgusted about witnessing Will Smith slap Chris Rock. I know the Oscars could not have known that would have happened, but I definitely do not feel that they did enough afterwards to punish Smith for his actions. Will Smith was a bully, he was disrespectful, and very insulting. I am a woman that suffer from hair loss and did not feel as insulted by Chris's Joke and did not feel that he deserved what Will did to him. As a person that has been bullied I was more traumatized over Smith's actions. I felt like he should have been removed because seeing him up there to receive one of the highest honor of the night felt like what he did was acceptable. I'm sickened by his actions even more because we watched as a family and my son witnessed that mess. I hope that in the future the awards handle security better and don't allow something like this to happen to another individual. I will not witness the change if it does happen because I have no plans on watching this award show ever again. I'm just really in shocked and very hurt by what happened.

Sincerely A concerned Veiver.

This type of behaviour should never be tolerated in our community and the perpetrator should be held accountable for his actions by being fined and charged with criminal assault. Dear FCC,

I've never filed a complaint with the FCC. However, I feel that violence and assault backed by verbal threats on a Live TV show for the Academy Awards is the most tasteless and poor example for our children.

My entire family was astonished at the fact that the Oscars allowed this to happen. My children could not sleep for the following several days and were wondering if black people would, without reason just simply come up to them and beat them up.

Our entire community found your failure to mediate such a violent event on Live TV a complete reversal of our constant teaching of our children that words are no cause for physical violence!

We are appalled at the failure of the Oscars inability, inappropriate telecast.

We will no longer be viewing the Academy Awards or the stations that air this kind of violence.

We expect nothing less than an arrest, revocation and expulsion for Will Smith! We sat through the lies of Jessie Smollet and now see there is a color agenda being propagated upon color at the expense of other races! We are a black family and are trying to teach our children to be honorable and kind to others.

Please correct this issue accordingly!

AND he was not removed, nor repentant... he won, tried to justify what he did + dragged an innocent man (Serena + Venus Williams' father) into his speech to justify. THEN he went to the Vanity Fair party and partied down (zero remorse).

To NOT have removed him sends a message about privilege, toxic masculinity and what we are supposed to accept. That is indecent, wrong + something watching a show to honor film accomplishment no one should be subjected to.

Description

What happened on TV was not OK. This is not a western or some thing where we could expect something like this to happen. It was downright traumatizing and very disturbing. Will Smith needs to be accountable. He needs to lose whatever he won he should've been kicked out and he should have been arrested. Why hasn't this happen? I understand that Chris rock did not press charges. But why doesn't the LA PD Steppin? This can't happen on TV anymore. I am complaining about this. We are as a big group who are not OK with this.

I would like to complain about Will Smith slapping Chris Rock on television. My daughter, who is six and who was watching, was tramatized by the violence and by the use the word "Fucking," which Will Smith repeated twice.

Description

Chris Rock's joke at the Academy Awards was discrimination to someone with a medical condition. It was inappropriate. It is never acceptable behavior to mock and make someone suffering from a medical condition the butt of a "joke". Imagine joking about the people in the audience with a hearing loss, the people with cancer etc. Since the Academy Awards saw fit to allow a nominee who was accused of sexual assault previously I wonder what the motivation this time really is? Shame on all of you allowing this behavior on television for people to watch!!

In the Supreme Court's 1964 landmark case on obscenity and pornography, Justice Potter Enforcement of the obscenity, indecency and profanity rules usually begins with complaints from the public that FCC staff review for possible violations. If an investigation is warranted and the FCC finds a station in violation of its rules, it has the authority to revoke a station license, impose a fine ABC for the Oscars lack of action and for the security allowing the violence of Mr. Smith.

During the Oscar's ceremony, Will Smith assaulted Chris Rock on live TV. After this act of violence, he was not ejected or penalized in any way. This is highly offensive and shows support of random acts of violence.

My family and I were offended by the Oscars showing the video of Will Smith assaulting Chris Rock and Will Smith shouting visually obscenities. They should have immediately went to commercial and removed Will Smith from the remainder of the program. This is setting a bad example to my 3 elementary aged children and others throughout our country. The Oscars and Will Smith should be fined and made an example so others would think twice on allowing this to happen in the future.

Description

The physical and verbal violence Will Smith exhibited on Chris Rock during the Oscars was inexcusable. I work with and am a survivor of abuse and the incident was triggering for not only myself but the people I work with. One of my co-workers has started getting night terrors again after she had viewed the show. Smith degraded the Academy and the Oscars. He tarnished the remainder of the evening for all the other artists who worked so hard for their accolades. Smith should be expelled from the Academy.

I don't care if Chris rock is not pressing charges I did not need to see this violence. I had carefully been staying away from internet and news in my fragile state of mind only to be accosted while watching an entertainment value program. What makes it worse is that nothing was done to cut. If that was a man abusing a woman on stage what would have happened. I'm not so sure anymore. It cannot go unpunished. There absolutely has to be real consistencies. Martha Stewart doesn't go to jail and will smith get be his acceptance speach!
