Hi Bill and Bill,

I received the below message from our main contact at Exelon. It appears that they have specific information regarding a number of planned protests, one which appears to be planned for right outside our office. Hopefully this is information you can verify and share, if necessary.

Thanks,
Erin

on behalf of Vice President and Chief Security Officer Ed Goetz.*

April 30, 2015

Corporate and Information Security Services (CISS) continues to monitor protest activity that has the potential to impact Exelon employees or other company assets. The BGE, Constellation and Exelon buildings in downtown Baltimore remain closed today (with the exception of Spring Gardens). CISS is sharing this update to alert employees who live or perform work within Baltimore City regarding potential protest activity. This information may change rapidly and we will continue to share credible information as we learn about potential activity in the area. At the current time, CISS is aware of the following planned activities:

- Thursday, April 30th – Social media indicates a possible gathering at City Hall at 4:30 p.m.
- Thursday, April 30th – Social media and several news outlets indicate a protest scheduled for 5:00 p.m. at Bel Air High School (100 Heighe St, Bel Air, MD 21014)
- Friday, May 1st - People's Power Assembly is organizing a day of action. There will be a protest beginning at 5 p.m. at McKeldin Square; there are currently 1,600 scheduled to attend according to Facebook (E Pratt Street and Light Street, .5 miles from Candler and Pratt Buildings)
- Friday, May 1st – “300 Men March” protesters are expected to convene at 7:30 p.m. at Park Heights and Cold Spring Lane
- Saturday, May 2nd – Youth of the DMV Peaceful Protest scheduled for 1:00 p.m. at 3400 N. Charles Street
- Saturday, May 2nd – Rally and national march planned from 2:00 p.m. – 6:00 p.m. at Baltimore City Hall. At 6 p.m. protesters are scheduled to participate in a mass march through downtown Baltimore
- Sunday, May 3rd - Religious groups will be organizing beginning at 3 p.m. at City Hall

Residents of Baltimore City are reminded that the curfew is expected to remain in effect every night between 10:00 PM and 5:00 AM local time through Tuesday May 5th, unless rescinded by the Mayor.

In addition, we recommend that employees not based in Baltimore avoid travel to the city this week, rearranging meetings to alternative locations if needed. Employee safety is our first priority, and we encourage you to exercise caution and be mindful of your surroundings whenever you travel.

To report an emergency or suspicious activity, please contact the Exelon Security Operations Center (ESOC) at 1-800-550-6154.

Continue to monitor the Business Continuity Hotline (888-232-8282) for information on the status of company buildings and work reporting instructions.
