Attorneys for Plaintiff

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

FOR THE DISTRICT OF ALASKA

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Plaintiff, vs. STEPHEN HICKS, Defendant.	)	No. 3:19-cr-00143-SLG-MMS UNITED STATES' SENTENCING MEMORANDUM

COMES NOW the United States of America, by and through undersigned counsel, and files with the court a sentencing memorandum as to defendant Stephen Hicks. Hicks' criminal activity in Alaska, which spanned at least five hunting seasons and numerous illegally guided hunts, occurred irrespective of whether Hicks was guiding legally or illegally. Hicks' illegal activity demonstrates that he placed profit over professionalism, profit and income over guiding ethics and profit over hunting ethics. Because of these actions, the United States will urge the court to impose a term of imprisonment under the United States Sentencing Commission Guidelines, the sentencing factors under 18 U.S.C. § 3553 and, just as importantly, to protect Alaska's wildlife and communities from Stephen Hicks unsafe and unprofessional practices as a guide, hunter, and pilot. In previous rulings from the court regarding pretrial release, the court has determined that Hicks is a danger to the community through his impact to the legitimate market and documented history of unsafe and illegal guiding and flying practices. (See, Docket 40) As detailed in the Final Presentence Report, this investigation has proven Hicks is incapable and unwilling to conduct himself legally and ethically when it comes to guiding and hunting, all to the detriment of Alaska's wildlife and the professional guiding industry.

In addition to a term of imprisonment, the United States will also seek conditions of supervised release which are designed to prohibit the defendant from not only hunting any big game, worldwide, but to prevent him from manipulating and circumventing guiding and hunting rules which, as demonstrated, the defendant has done routinely and unapologetically for years.

I. SUMMARY OF SENTENCING RECOMMENDATIONS

TERM OF IMPRISONMENT..... 18 Months
SUPERVISED RELEASE..... 3 Years, No Hunting/Field Condition
FINE $50,000
RESTITUTION.....$186,500
SPECIAL ASSESSMENT.....$100.00
FORFEITURE ..... Per Attachment A to the Plea Agreement

1. Hicks' Illegal Guiding and Hunting Spree: October 2016, through November 2019.

As to the count of conviction, Hicks admitted to illegally guiding a client on BLM land in 2018. On this hunt, Hicks violated both state and federal laws in several ways: 1) by not being present with the client in the field as a guide when the client was hunting, as required by Alaska law, and 2) Hicks failed to obtain a permit from BLM to conduct guided, commercial activity on BLM land for this hunt. (see Dkt 75, pg 6). Additionally, when interviewed about this hunt and on numerous occasions, Hicks made false statements to investigators to conceal the illegal nature of his actions.

These agreed upon criminal acts are illustrative of Hicks disregard for the professional responsibility rules incumbent on big game guides in Alaska. In addition to this hunt, Hicks knowingly broke the law in the following and by no means exclusive ways while acting unlawfully as a big game guide:

-by lying on his initial big game guiding license about previous criminal convictions,

-by guiding paying non-resident hunters without being licensed to do so and after his guiding license had been revoked,

-by guiding paying clients illegally on federal lands,

-by illegally guiding paying clients without a permit on State of Alaska Mental Health Trust lands,

-by concealing his illegal guiding activity by filing false paperwork with the state of Alaska,

-by using aircraft illegally to take big game "same day airborne" for paying clients,

-through the unlawful use of electronic communication devices to take big game for paying clients,

-by failing to supervise numerous clients while in the field who, themselves, committed illegal acts,

-by illegally taking brown bears over bait,

-by illegally taking an over limit of black bears, two bears in the same regulatory season,

-and the wanton waste of big game animals (bull moose) taken by paying clients.

At the sentencing hearing, the United States will present the court with 21 instances of illegal big game guiding, and related acts, committed by Hicks and spanning the 2015-2019 hunting seasons. In each of these hunts, Hicks would violate the law in more than one manner and all, save for one, in violation of the Lacey Act. At the sentencing hearing, the government will call two witnesses who will testify as to these violations. The testimony will be provided by a Special Agents of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, who will testify as to illegal hunts relating to federal land, while an investigator from the Alaska State Troopers, Wildlife Investigative Unit will testify as to violations conducted by Hicks that are primarily state law violations, some of which have been charged by the state.

As to the recommendation for incarceration, the United States does not make this recommendation lightly. However, under the Section 3553 factors, and due to the defendant's multi-year wildlife crime spree, the defendant has placed himself in such a position. Had he not abandoned or ignored his legal, ethical, and professional responsibilities year after year, a sentence of imprisonment would not be in the offing. Here, Hicks' own choices place him in the position he finds himself today.

2. The Five Seasons: Relevant Conduct and Hicks' Illegal 2015 to 2019 Guided Hunts.

Paragraphs 4 through 12 of the Final PSR summarize hunts guided by Hicks from 2015 through the 2019 hunting season and which form the basis for the government seeking inclusion of these hunts into the court's sentencing guideline calculations and section 3552(a) factors. The addition of these hunts and related acts increases the offense conduct calculation on order of at least eight (8) levels.

The United States will be ready to prove under U.S.S.G. Section 3B1.1 (a)(1)(A) and (B) (i)-(iii) and (a)(2) that Hicks' is accountable for this conduct as relevant conduct in that these actions are groupable, part of the same course of conduct and/or part of the same scheme or plan. (See U.S.S.G. § 3B1.1(a)(2)). The legal standard of proof, because inclusion of the entire amount of relevant conduct would raise the offense level by at least eight (8) levels, is the heightened clear and convincing standard. United States v. Hymas, 780 F.3d 1285, 1291 (9th Cir. 2015) (where non-plea relevant conduct had disproportionate effect on sentence, heightened standard of proof to be used)

At sentencing, agents will be prepared to testify with respect to paragraphs 4-12 of the Final PSR. With respect to these hunts, agents will testify that, as to each hunt, their testimony will be based on and will rely on the following evidence, among others:

-Hunt Records and harvest reports filed by Hicks and his clients.

-Wildlife sealing records from the state of Alaska

-Client interviews

-Interviews with Hicks

-Photographic/video evidence

-Electronic communications between Hicks and his clients, in the form of emails, private messages, and public social media posts.

-Data from GPS trackers installed pursuant to tracker warrants

In addition to the foregoing, each agent will be testifying with aid of a PowerPoint presentation. The agents PowerPoint attached hereto as Exhibit 12. It is provided to the court and defense in advance of the hearing so that the court can review the PowerPoint in connection with this memorandum and the Final PSR. During the hearing, government counsel will examine each witness with respect to facts collected by the investigation, the evidentiary foundation for those facts, and the source of them with respect to establishing the illegal acts set forth in paragraphs 4-12 of the Final PSR.

When completed, the government anticipates that the adjusted offense level will be proven beyond the clear and convincing standard, thus the total value of the illegal hunts performed by Hicks will be $186,500, which includes the cost of the hunt for the count of conviction, $15,500.

II. GUIDELINE APPLICATIONS

A. Application

The Guideline provisions for this offense would provide for an adjusted sentencing guideline range of 17, with a sentencing range of 24-30 months.

In addition, and based on the facts of the hunts, and other information obtained by the investigation, the parties will also be recommending a term of supervised release for three years, with a world-wide hunting ban, and no accompaniment of anyone in the field who is hunting, a fine of $50,000. The fine range is an amount available under the guidelines, but below the statutory maximum of $250,000. The court has discretion, under the section 3553 factors, to impose a fine range in that amount. At sentencing the government will ask the court to direct in the judgment that the fine be directed toward the Lacey Act Reward Fund.

B. Acceptance of Responsibility

As of this writing, and due to the plea agreement, the defendant is entitled to a three-point reduction for acceptance of responsibility. After contact by law enforcement the defendant immediately obtained counsel and an agreement was quickly structured. Mr. Hicks never considered a trial track for this as Hicks took responsibility for the count of conviction, which the government wishes the court to recognize.

C. Criminal History Category Computation

The defendant's criminal record is Category 1.

III. APPLICATION OF 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a)

In addition to the Guidelines, the following sentencing factors set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a) apply with respect to the sentence to be imposed in this case: (1) the nature and circumstances of the offense and history and characteristics of the defendant; (2) the need for the sentence to reflect the seriousness of the offense, afford deterrence, protect the public from further crimes and provide the defendant training and treatment; (3) the kinds of sentences available; (4) the established Guidelines sentencing ranges; (5) any pertinent Guidelines policy statements; (6) the need to avoid unwarranted sentence disparity between defendants with similar records convicted of similar crimes; and (7) the need to provide restitution to victims of the offense. See, 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a)(1) through (7). Each sentencing factor is addressed in turn:

A. Nature and Circumstances of Offense and the History and Characteristics of the Defendant.

1. History and Characteristics of the Defendant – Unlawful Conduct

The defendant's criminal history is Category 1. However, the following guided hunts, as reflected in the PSR all amount to illegal and uncharged conduct.

PSR¶	Date	Species	Violation Description	Hunt Price
5	Aug-15	Sheep (Not Count 1)	Commercial operations without a permit, illegal take of sheep, false statements	$15,500
71	Oct-16	Moose	Commercial operations without a permit, false records, moose hunt	$6,000

1 Hicks Guide License was placed on probation in Feb, 2016 for failing to provide clients hunting contracts before providing guiding services and failing to maintain safe and satisfactory field conditions. Hicks guide license was later revoked due to the hunts summarized in paragraph 8 of the PSR, as the hunters reported Hicks' activity to the state.

11 (see FN 3)2	May-19	Black Bear	Illegal take of black bear, over limit, false records	$4,500
11 (see FN3)	May-19	Black Bear	Guiding after license revoked	$5,500

Count of Conviction BLM Hunt no Permit	Aug 2015	Sheep	No Permit (Count of conviction)	$15,000
			Total Value of Illegal Sales	$186,000

Photographs of each of these hunts are provided as Exhibits 1-11 at the conclusion of this brief.

2. The Instant Offense – The Count of Conviction

Count 1 –Illegal Guiding-Dall Sheep on BLM Land

The United States relies on the factual basis of the plea agreement for facts supporting the count of conviction. (See, Docket 75)

2 The United States expects Hicks will argue that hunts listed after his guide license was revoked were not guided hunts, but were, instead, 'buddy hunts' or some of other type of nomenclative semantics designed to cover his illegal guiding activity. However, Hicks received payment, for these hunts, drew up contracts, accompanied hunters in the field and thus, per statutory definitions, he provided 'big game hunting services.' (see, pgs 4-6 of plea agreement). In addition, communications continued to be run through and social media posts promoted his guide service when his license to do so was revoked.

B. Need for the Sentence to Reflect the Seriousness of the Offense, Afford Deterrence, Protect the Public, and Rehabilitate the Defendant.

The Significance of Wildlife to Alaska

This case began as a fraud, wherein Hicks failed to disclose on his guide application prior misdemeanor convictions. Since that time, Hicks' conduct has not changed. From 2015-2019 Hicks without fail ignored and disregarded the common sense, fair, and ethical regulations placed upon big game guides who hold a responsibility to uphold the law. His conduct reflects poorly on sport hunting, the big game guiding industry, and has an impact to the state's wildlife and legitimate guiding industry due to his combined illegal actions taken over many years.3

The hunting and viewing of wildlife is a significant component of the economic engine powering the state of Alaska's economy. Alaska, in so many ways, is the last best place. Certainly, the world's citizenry view Alaska through that lens, and many do so with their pocketbooks. In 2011, the year topic was last studied, residents and visitors spent $3.4 billion in Alaska on wildlife, with those funds supporting local businesses, lodging, transport companies, retail stores, and providing salaries, employment and other commercial opportunities statewide. During that year, Alaska residents alone spent $1 billion on hunting while visitors to this state spent approximately $150 million on hunting and $1.2 billion on wildlife viewing. Spending on hunting and wildlife viewing in 2011, supported roughly 8% of Alaska's total economic output, 6% of its employment and provided $343 million in revenue to state and local governments. By these figures alone, and without regard to wildlife's intrinsic value, wildlife is a significant business enterprise by any calculation and one of the most important draws to visitors near and far for a multitude of outdoor related activities.[4]

As to deterrence, the agencies entrusted to protect and defend the resources of Alaska face daunting obstacles with limited resources to cover a state of such geographical scale. There are no Fish and Wildlife Service Agents or Alaska Wildlife Troopers concealed behind every alder patch attempting to ensure compliance with state and federal hunting law, nor should there be. State law has delegated compliance with the law to the guide who is with the hunter in the field. Guides are obligated, by state law, to report any violations of law committed in their presence or by their employees. While most take that responsibility seriously, Hicks' conduct is at the far end of the spectrum. He illegally applied for a license and thereafter repeatedly and constantly violated the law in what appears is every instance of his unlawful guiding activity spanning years. Given the years' long, unbroken string of violations, deterrence to others similarly inclined is a large component of the government's sentencing argument.

Summary report to the Alaska Department of Fish and Game, Division of Wildlife Conservation. See, http://www.adfg.alaska.gov/static/home/news/ongoingissues/pdfs/the-economic-importance-of-alaskas-wildlife-in-2011-summary-report.pdf

C. Kinds of Sentences Available

The only other type of sentence available for this defendant is one that imposes a term of jail time or home confinement, neither which the government is recommending based on the offense conduct, the defendant's personal characteristics and background.

D. Sentencing Ranges Available

The sentence recommended by the United States is within that which would ultimately be calculated by the Presentence Report and the Sentencing Guidelines.

E. Pertinent Policy Statements

The United States is unaware of any pertinent policy statements applicable to the sentence it recommends.

F. Need to Avoid Sentence Disparity

The sentence recommended by the United States is comparable to other illegal hunting cases based on the evidence and matters believed to be provable at trial. The most recent, and only case of similar magnitude was United States v. Clark Dixon, et. al. Clark Dixon, (Dixon) (4:15-cr-00023-RRB). Dixon pleaded guilty to two felony counts of the Lacey Act for illegal guiding of wildlife in the Noatak National Wildlife Refuge. Hicks' actions in this case paralleled and equaled Dixon's in both volume and egregiousness. Dixon led and guided more than a dozen illegal hunts claiming the hunts were legal under state residency. Friends and associates paid for the illegal hunts claiming they were 'buddy/friend' hunts, similar to how Hicks described his hunts after his guiding license was revoked. Dixon, who was a resident of Alabama, and not Alaska, used almost all of his illegal hunts as footage for his cable television show called 'The Syndicate,' which, due to his conviction, is now off the air. Like Hicks, Dixon maintained an active social media presence, posting his illegal hunts as legal and boasting of exploits to further his business aspirations. Dixon agreed to a plea of two felony Lacey Act counts for transporting unlawfully taken game, agreed to pay a fine of $75,000 and agreed to a term of 18 months imprisonment. The plea terms and the plea agreement were accepted by the Judge Beistline, who sentenced Dixon in conformity with the terms of the plea agreement.

With respect to the present case, Hicks and his clients filed false paperwork with the state of Alaska, claiming game, such as brown bears, Dall sheep, moose and mountain goats, were taken legally, thus concealing the crime until the paperwork was examined and compared to known facts surrounding each hunt. In another instance, an illegally taken bear was not reported or presented for sealing at all, and it's whereabout are unknown. In this case, there was virtually nothing legal about anything connected to these hunts. Illegal from the start, illegal at the end, and all concealed by lies and false reports.

In another recent matter, U.S. Richardson, et al, 3:17-cr-00087-TMB-KFM, the defendants pleaded guilty to various felony violations of the Lacey Act for the illegal take of game within the Wrangell St. Elias National Park and Preserve. Defendants Richardson and Harris were each sentenced to serve three months in a halfway house followed by three months of home confinement. Defendant Lackner was sentenced to six months of home confinement.

The two men, and one other, previously pleaded guilty to several violations of the Lacey Act and other federal laws. Richardson pleaded guilty to one count of misdemeanor Conspiracy to violate the Lacey Act and two counts felony Conspiracy to violate the Lacey Act. Harris pleaded guilty to one count felony Conspiracy to violate the Lacey Act, one count felony Lacey Act False Record, one count False Statements, and one count Conspiracy to Use Substance to Incapacitate Game. Defendant Lackner pleaded guilty to one count misdemeanor Conspiracy to violate the Lacey Act and one count Lacey Act False Record. In contrast, Hicks' activity is all felony level category, done knowingly and willfully. While Hicks didn't represent himself as a licensed guide to the clients he guided after he was revoked, he continued to function as one and be compensated as one after he was revoked. He did continue to advertise as one on his truck and social media when the opposite was true. In connection with those acts, as shown in the included chart none of Hicks hunts were conducted in compliance with the law and each hunt violated several laws before, during, and after the hunts.

Fine/Forfeiture

The fine of $50,000 sought by the United States is significant. It is, however, still well below the statutory maximum of $250,000. Hicks' conduct easily justifies a significant fine. The government requests that the fine amount be directed toward the Lacey Act Reward Fund, administered by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Specific Conditions of Supervision

Because this defendant cannot abide by the rules regulating hunting, guiding and the taking of big game, and because the defendant intentionally wasted game and failed to abide by the legal and ethical standards of hunting and guiding, the United States requests the following conditions of supervision:

-No hunting worldwide, nor accompanying anyone in the field hunting, worldwide for the term of supervision.

-No aircraft ownership, lease, 'buddy exchange for hunts' nor any type of promissory or possessory interest in any aircraft for the term of supervision.

-No social media presence for the term of supervision as it concerns hunting

-No applying for any type of guide, assistant guide or any other guiding and/or hunting license for the term of supervision

-No flying of any type of private aircraft. Any commercial flying for employment must be applied for and approved by the court.

IV. CONCLUSION

The court has before a lengthy and detailed investigation which documents beyond doubt years of egregious violations of federal and Alaska law by Stephen Hicks. Because he could not guide legally, he instead elected to skirt the laws in place designed for safe, ethical, and legal big game guiding. The fact that each hunt, illegal on its own, had several other violations occur during the illegal hunt is further testament to Hicks' mindset of the ends justifying the means. He should be sentenced in accord with the recommendations made herein.

Excerpts from C.F. Interview

(I asked if Kiser had any concerns about the goat going over a cliff). Well, that's why we got close. And he was pretty excited. He said, "You can drop this. You got enough gun power." We had the .338. And I'm taking the shot. I kind of agreed with him. I said, "There he is." I can almost reach out and touch him. And if he goes sliding then he's a goner. But I think we can get him. We discussed it.

So, now, by this point, this is kind of getting to where I shoot. This is Dave. So, this goat that I shot, that was me, my feet, sitting back here. This is about 55 yards. Dave is walking upright, he's not crawling. There's a little thing. I thought, "For the love of God, if we had a rope, we could tie off." Look at all this shrubbery. We could have tied and gone after him. Dave is in the picture. He's about to be exactly where I shot. So, I was just running pictures off, because I'm like, "God, where did that goat go?"

Dave had communication with Hicks. He said, "Stephen, we got a goat down, I need help." I think it was his Delorme. He said, "I need help," and "send up a rope."

This is the third day of the hunt. The location I was when I shot was pretty much where I was taking these pictures, which is about 55 yards (the photo showed the back of Kiser while he was standing near shrubs). I'm back across this little shaling here. Dave is where the goat was. The goat was sitting. You could see his face and his whole body. There's a little bit of a rock there.

Dave and I were here. We both saw the goat. The goat was where Dave is in the picture, where the bush is.

After I shot the goat, he stood up, and he turned around, and I tried to put another round in him. All he did was stand, did a pirouette on the rock that he was on, and then that was it. He was out of sight.

I took a second shot when I saw him stand. But we saw like just (Fox made a sound), up in the shoulder. The first shot was in the shoulder. He was looking at us, and it was right on shoulder.

The first shot was in the shoulder. I took one more shot quick. Who knows where that one went on the body. Then, that was it. Dave got down to the spot, and he looks, shit, he lit up a cigarette. I go, "God, he's not seeing him." I'm seeing these birds circle right over Dave's head, he's gotta be there.

So, we backtracked and went up higher. And sure enough. I didn't take a picture of the higher spot. I was so pissed, I didn't even want a picture of my goat when he said that we're not getting any help, we're not getting a rope. I was so disgusted, I wished I had never shot him.

Exhibit #5

Wanton Waste of a Moose

In October of 2016, client JD took a moose and at the direction of HICKS discarded the meat while in the field.

2020 State Charging Document

COUNT VII

That in the Third Judicial District, State of Alaska, on or about October 10, 2016, at or near Anchorage, STEPHEN JEREMY HICKS, a registered guided under AS 08.54 knowingly failed to promptly report to the Department of Public Safety a violation of AS 16.30.010. To wit: wanton waste of Dabbaghian moose.

All of which is a Not Classified Misdemeanor offense being contrary to and in violation of AS 16.30.010 and against the peace and dignity of the State of Alaska.

(I asked Burns what Hicks knew about the two moose being killed within four hours of each other and the circumstances) I would imagine I would have told him 'cause, at least that they're down, 'cause that's good. I can't say for certain I said, hey, Rick's wet and cold and we're drying him out. Like I say, I don't talk to Steve a whole lot, 'cause he's hot tempered. I can tell you, I didn't think that was going to be an issue. I thought it's dark already, it's cold. There was frost. It was cold. It was cold enough, I wasn't worried about the meat. It was cold enough that I was blown to pieces that it started turning that quick. To me, this was a real learning experience, something I won't do again. Just because of all these factors of rushing these things. So, it was a real good learning experience for me, but I don't know I would not have said, hey, Steve, get somebody out here right now. I wouldn't have been like that to him. But I would have said, there's two moose on the ground, we need to get them out. To me, urgency would have been that day anyway because that's just a long time, two days in the field.

(I said that four hours was a collapsed time frame to kill two moose when Burns was the only one there to do anything) Yeah. That's the part I'm talking about, I will not do that again.

This was the first year I was an assistant guide. So, there's bound to be learning done. That's what I learned. As great as a story that is, I'm guy who, you know, we got it done. I'm good enough, that we've seen all that stuff, and that's good. But, I will not do that again just because of that learning experience. I didn't know there was water there, shouldn't have taken that long to get to him, could have been, there's a ton of variables.

Excerpts from C.F. Interview and InReach messages

(Inv. Hinton asked what would have happened if the second moose wasn't shot) I'm sure Steve would have been disappointed. If you don't get a kill for everybody, that's bad, they pay big money to come up here and, you hunt, show them a good time, that's why I get up every morning and cook them coffee. I think I do a lot more than some people do for the comfort of the people.

DIVISION'S PROPOSAL FOR ACTION

The Division of Corporations, Business & Professional Licensing ("Division") moves to adopt the proposed decision dated March 7, 2019 as the financial agency decision of the Big Game Commercial Services Board.

DATED March 18, 2019.

KEVIN G. CLARKSON
ATTORNEY GENERAL

40

STEPHEN HICKS) Agency No. 2017 001107/
) Agency No. 2018 000181

DECISION

I. Introduction

In the aftermath of a thoroughly miserable October 2017 hunting trip, the Division of Business, Corporations, and Professional Licensing accused Registered Guide Stephen Hicks of maintaining unsatisfactory field conditions; encouraging clients to hunt in a restricted area; misrepresenting his services; engaging in same-day airborne taking of big game; and failing to report violations by other licensed guides – and of doing all of these things while under probation for an earlier licensing violation. At a hearing on the Division's allegations, the Division met its burden of proving the majority of allegations in its Accusation. Accordingly, and given the serious nature of the violations, this decision recommends that the Big Game Commercial Services Board REVOKE Mr. Hicks's license, and impose a fine of $15,000.

DECISION

IV. Conclusion

The Division met its burden of proving that Hicks engaged in misrepresentations with regard to soliciting hunting clients for the October 2017 hunt, and that, during that hunt, he failed to provide clients with minimally adequate shelter, encouraged clients to engage in multiple violations of state hunting laws, and improperly engaged in same-day airborne hunting. Further, he did all of this while on probation under a consent agreement with the Division. The totality of the circumstances supports a civil fine in the amount of $15,000, a public reprimand, and revocation of Hicks's registered guide license.

Hicks Request to Postpone Revocation

4. In any combination with the options above, revise the proposed enforcement action to not take effect until December 1, 2019. This will allow Mr. Hicks to accommodate clients already booked and invested in their 2019 hunts, and income to pay any civil penalty imposed by the Board.

Incident Type:	Wildlife Call [WILD]
Incident time:	05/24/2019 14:32 -

Incident location:	333 RASPBERRY ROAD, ANCHORAGE, AK USA 99518 (ANCHORAGE ADF&G) (Beat/zone: UANC, ANCHORAGE)
Incident status:	Closed referred to DAO
Summary:	Trp. Morrisett reported that on May 13th, 2019, he saw Stephen J. Hicks with people at the bear sealing area at ADF&G. Hicks' registered guide license is currently revoked, he was served with the revocation order on April 9th, 2019, at his residence. I obtained the sealing records from ADF&G for that day. One of the hunters was from Texas, CS r, reported killing a black bear in GMU 6 near the White River on May 6th, 2019. The form had cross-outs where the hunter initially reported he had a registered guide and it was a guided hunt. Investigation continues.

C.S. Interview

SA Bryant turned the focus back to the spring 2019 hunt and asked about the money exchange. CS and Hicks had agreed he would pay $5,000 for the black bear direct to Hicks. The plan originally was to shoot a big brown bear, but Hicks lost his license and the plan changed. According to S CS e fee was about normal for a black bear, but would have been a great discount on the brown bear. Schaefer advised he had already paid Hicks the deposit for the spring hunt prior to learning about his license. CS couldn't remember how much he had given for the deposit and stated that he might have paid for the whole thing at that time. The payment would have been in a check and there should be record of it. CS had CS clarify the sequence of events. CS agreed that he planned to hunt brown and black bear with Hicks, paid Hicks for the hunt prior to coming to Alaska, found out about the license issue and then came to Alaska anyway to hunt black bear. CS again stated he hunted on his own without Hicks as he did not need a guide to hunt black bear. SA Bryant asked if he used Hicks' cabin and other facilities as well as paid for Hicks' airfare one way. CS agreed, but stated the airfare was for the tip from last years hunt.

The 2019 bear was east of the cape around five to seven miles down the beach. He advised he got to the location by four wheelers. He had been cruising looking for tracks and saw a black spot farther up. He knew it was a black bear, but was not sure how big it was. He moved up to about two hundred yards away and the bear was walking away from him. He was able to close to within about forty yards but had no good shot. CS indicated he "shot it up the ass" and it started running around. He grabbed a 450 bushmaster and put a round in it. It ran up over the embankment and then died. It took one shot with the arrow and one shot with the rifle. The bear went only about fifteen yards and he confirmed it was dead. He went back to the cabin and brought everyone back to skin out the bear. The bear was skinned and cleaned at the location it died. Schaefer advised he chose the hunt location and it was morning when he shot the bear. He and Hicks skinned the bear. CS put the tag on the hide immediately. They gave the meat to the miner "Richard". Half of the meat was left in the field. They filled out the transfer of possession form for the meat to go to Richard. Schaefer stated he filled out his own paperwork for the hunt and did not need help. He advised that he didn't think this was all a big deal and it was just a "buddy hunt".

Texts between HICKS and C.S.

- [redacted] "Ok, I gotcha. So we are good for black bear but not brown on this trip then. Eric said that Ovis called him."
- Hicks "Ahh. Yeah we good black only in spring just on buddy deal. We can talk about when you here or give me a call. I can have Craig do the black bear just through orvis I'm sure but Eric never calls me back so stopped even trying. He hadn't called me back for months."

Subject: Alaska combo hunt 2019/2020
Date: 01/02/2019 14:51 From: Stephen Hicks <akstickshooter@gmail.com> To: Harold Rank <hrank@aol.com>

Below is the breakdown of the hunt we discussed last week. Once we sort everything out then I'll put it in a contract and we can lock everything in from there.

Combo Hunt for one or two years however it works out.

Species will be moose, Brown bear, black bear and mtn goat. Wolf and Wolverine free if we see them.

We can do something like what I suggested on phone, come down in September 2019 and hunt for 2 weeks then depending on schedules either come back in October 2019 for 2 weeks for the remaining half of the hunt or come back in 2020 to finish up the 2 weeks.

Hunt cost: $40,000.00
4 species with 30 days in camp to hunt.

Flights to/from camp, license tags and tips not included.

Breakdown of full price costs per species and extra days just as a reference:

Moose: $22,000
Brown B $18,000
Black B $5,500
Goat $13,000

$550 per additional day in camp.
Combo Hunt would normally be booked at 14 days. So 14 additional days @$550 p/d would be $7,700.

Understanding this hunt will be Archery, we are looking for legal respectable animals but obviously will hunt for the best we can find with the amount of time given. Hunt will be any and/or all methods we use and will be legal methods only!!!

Deposit will be $25,000 this year to confirm the hunt then if you come back in October the balance will be due then or if you don't come back till fall of 2020 then balance will be due by January of that year.

Let me know if I missed anything or need to discuss details. Looking forward to finials getting you here my friend!!! It will be a great adventure for us both!!

C.S. Interview Re: H.R.

[redacted] thought he must have made the plans to come back to Alaska a couple months prior to the hunt. [redacted] stated they had planned to try to get a black bear and a brown bear. Once he got to Alaska he bought his bear tag and license at Sportsman's Warehouse, in Anchorage. Hicks was with him at the time and drove him to the store in Hicks' company truck. [redacted] advised he stayed at Hicks' house prior to the hunt and then at a hotel after the hunt. Schaefer stated [redacted] SID AK9177008 was with him and Hicks on the 2019 hunt. He stated he has talked [redacted] every once in a while since [redacted] is big into Safari Club International. They knew of each other because they are both on the SCI record book [redacted] accompanied them out to Yakutaga. [redacted] and Hicks were together while [redacted] hunted by himself. [redacted] indicated [redacted] was "not too keen" on doing what he did (hunting alone). Schaefer advised he prefers to hunt alone. At Sportman's Warehouse, [redacted] paid for the items by credit card.

A: Correct.

Q: Okay.

A: Yeah. It would've been the same day as flying.

68

906	Q:	Okay.
907
908	A:	Um, so I was, like, all right well I guess that's good news. And then, you
909		know, then they told me that they did.
910
911	Q:	Okay, and it was your understanding at that point that that was illegal. They
912		shouldn't have hunted the same day they were airborne.
913
914	A:	Yeah.
915
916	Q:	Okay.

Illegal Take, Sale of Brown Bear, Use of Bait, No Permit

In October of 2017 HICKS directed client A.T. to take a brown bear over bait without the proper permit and tag and concealed the illegal take by not reporting it as required.

72

Interview with A.T.

Q: Okay. Um, so in the licenses and the tags, what did he tell you?

A: Um, he told me to get all three of them, um, for the bear, the - the goat and the, ah, moose. But I decided not - I asked him about, you know, getting a big bear because I already shot a - the, ah, black bear.

Q: Okay.

A: And I wanted a brown bear. I wanted a big one.

A: And he said at that time of year they weren't gonna be very big so I decided not to get the, ah, the bear tag.

Q: Okay.

A: And he said if - if there's one I have, like his tags, if - if there's one that you like or whatever you want to shoot he - he would give me, ah, one of his tags.

73

A: And I'm like waking up, holding the revolver, and like, "What's going on? What's going on?" He's like, "There's a huge bear out there. Shoot it." "I don't have a tag." And he's like, "It's okay. I have a tag. We'll tag it." And I was like, "Okay." So I - I cocked the gun. I sat up on the cot. And I'm in long johns. Um, I sit up on the cot and he's - he's like, "You're not gonna shoot it from there. You have to get up." So I - I put the - the hammer down and I get up and I kind of - because I had to sleep in my - one of those mummy sleeping bags, so I just rolled it to my waist and I kind of rolled off and I walked - kind of walked out of it as I'm holding the gun. And it was - it was - it was real early. It was like 5:30, 6:00. So there wasn't - the sun wasn't up but there was a little bit of light, you know. And, um, he - he looked through the - through the window. He just popped his head a little bit and he came down and he's like, "He's eating a can of beans. He's eating a can of beans." He's whispering at me. So he cracks the door open and I could see the bear. You see the handrail here?

74

815 And, ah, and then, ah, we were sitting there waiting, waiting. And then the 816 bear kind of turns, playing with the can. And when he turned, um, he had his 817 head down and I could - I could clearly see his head playing with the can.
818 And, um, he's like, "Shoot it center of mass. Shoot it center of mass." So I 819 picked up the - the gun and when the bear had his head down I just aimed for 820 this right here, and baboom, I shot it. And the bear, ah, jumped up, did one of 821 these and he went around the cabin. Um, like this is - this is the cabin, right, 822 and the barn is right here. So the - the bear's in the front.

75

Interview with C.L., Packer for HICKS

3323 A: Um, yeah, one of those, uh, silver revolver. And, uh, I think he - I don't know
3324 if [AT] was already awake or he woke him up or whatever, uh, but there
3325 was kinda commotion and I remember I sat up and he was like, "Bear, bear
3326 here"" And, uh, (Steve) was like, "[AT], take this and shoot it." And, uh, 3327 [AT] was, like, in his boxers or something I think. And, you know - I 3328 don't know. I think it - it was right outside the cabin I think.

3372 A: A loud bang, um, I - I wanna say (Steve), like, was, like, pushin' him to kinda 3373 do it or like, "Come on," and, um, I don't know if, you know, it was whatever 3374 - big enough for [AT] or, like, what he wanted. But, anyway, I just 3375 remember (Steve) telling [AT] to do it or...

3389 Q: Any discussion, uh, whether or not, uh, uh, [AT] [AT] had purchased or 3390 acquired tags or licenses to shoot a bear?
3391
3392 A: Um, I don't know if he had, uh, the correct tag or licenses. Um, I do
3393 remember after that their - that (Steve) and [AT] had talk- I think 3394 [AT] or whatever was like, "I don't want it," and, you know, whatever.
3395 Um, which I don't know if he, you know, you get, like, you can only have one 3396 bear a year or something, uh, and he either wanted a bigger one or different 3397 one or what the dynamic was but I remember there was something and (Steve) 3398 was like, "Oh, I'll put it on my tag." Um, and so I remember they were kinda - 3399 there was somewhat passing the buck back and forth.

In October of 2017 HICKS directed client P.G. to take a mountain goat without a guide present.

78

Interview with C.L., HICKS' Packer

4062 A: Well yeah, I think that's me, uh, next to him.
4063
4064 Q: Is that your laughter?
4065
4066 A: I think so.
4067
4068 Q: Okay.
4069
4070 A: I don't think that - it sounds like him saying, "Awesome."
4071
4072 Q: Okay.
4073
4074 A: Um, but yeah.
4075
4076 Q: Was Stephen Hicks actually there for that or was the laughter, um, in re - 4077 regards to him actually not being there?
4078 Audio Time 2:31:05
4079 A: Yeah. Um, I don't think (Steve) was there. Um, I think, you know, that 4080 PG was makin' a sarcastic joke there...

79

3702 Q1: And then I have same question for PG PG do you remember the 3703 circumstances surrounding when he shot his goat and then where Hicks 3704 woulda been...
3705
3706 A: Uh...
3707
3708 Q1: ...at that time?
3709
3710 A: I don't believe that (Steve) was with us when, uh, PG, uh, shot his goat.
3711
3712 Q1: Mm-hm. Where do you think he was at?
3713
3714 A: I think (Steve) - (Steve) was in the cabin I think.
3715
3716 Q1: The bottom most cabin back at the beach?
3717
3718 A: Yeah. My main memory of that is, uh, once it was retrieved, uh, taking

80

Interview with R.R.

896	Q:	Okay. Um, when [AT] [CL] and [PG] went up the mountain to get
897		goats, um, after the bear, kind of the second time that people went up the
898		mountain to get goats, uh, did (Stephen Hicks) go with him?
899
900	A:	No.

Subject: Alaska combo hunt 2019/2020
Date: 01/02/2019 14:51 From: Stephen Hicks <akstickshooter@gmail.com> To: [HR] [HR]

Below is the breakdown of the hunt we discussed last week. Once we sort everything out then I'll put it in a contract and we can lock everything in from there.

Combo Hunt for one or two years however it works out.

Species will be moose, Brown bear, black bear and mtn goat. Wolf and Wolverine free if we see them.

We can do something like what I suggested on phone, come down in September 2019 and hunt for 2 weeks then depending on schedules either come back in October 2019 for 2 weeks for the remaining half of the hunt or come back in 2020 to finish up the 2 weeks.

Hunt cost: $40,000.00
4 species with 30 days in camp to hunt.

Flights to/from camp, license tags and tips not included.

Breakdown of full price costs per species and extra days just as a reference:

Moose: $22,000
Brown B $18,000
Black B $5,500
Goat $13,000

$550 per additional day in camp.
Combo Hunt would normally be booked at 14 days. So 14 additional days @$550 p/d would be $7,700.

Understanding this hunt will be Archery, we are looking for legal respectable animals but obviously will hunt for the best we can find with the amount of time given. Hunt will be any and/or all methods we use and will be legal methods only!!!

Deposit will be $25,000 this year to confirm the hunt then if you come back in October the balance will be due then or if you don't come back till fall of 2020 then balance will be due by January of that year.

Let me know if I missed anything or need to discuss details. Looking forward to finials getting you here my friend!!! It will be a great adventure for us both!!

Body Hey buddy!! How goes it?? Good here just getting ready for a sheep hunt for myself then starting moose etc... just got a few things we doing in October in southeast for finishing up schedule. Craig one of my other registered guides is taking over most of contract stuff for me so trying to fill in a couple spots just to make it all work but looking like gonna be good fall so far!! Lots of critters but the weather has been great so that helps!!
Got a couple hints can do discounted if you know anyone.
Doing moose in rut in October as usual so will come to call. Can do a 2x1 for $14,000 pp or 1x1 $15,000 for this year only! Hunters pay own way in and out but I have flights scheduled with multiple people so will be efficient. Can do a 2x1 goat for $9,500 pp or 1x1 for $11,500.
All the discounted hints hunters pay own flights.
Bears on trophy fees
Brown for $7,000
Black $1,500
All these are just for October 2019.
Just trying to book one or two more hunts to I'll some big stuff this year. I'm only doing 1 on there hunt in October other than these. He's a combo hunter for all species and good friend. I'll be there managing camp and flying goofing off. Got some new goat spots for this year as well. Anyway let Me know if you know anyone or can help out! If you want to come down we can sort out a deal for ya!! I'll hunt with you as buddies too!! I'm killing stuff this year!! Lol.

False statements, B.G. Sheep Hunt

During several separate interviews conducted by law enforcement, HICKS made false statements about many aspects of his illegal hunts and activities.

104

Excerpt from Interview Transcription, HICKS

3676	SA GENTZEL	Um, how 'bout you? Where were you at when those guys were out in the
3677		field?
3678
3679	HICKS	What's that? Uh, one day, uh, or two days of it I was over in, uh, Chilligan
3680		Bay.
3681
3682	SA GENTZEL	Hm. Chilligan Bay, I don't know where that's at.
3683
3684	HICKS	...yep, and I've got a bait station that I went to. I was workin' that a little bit
3685		and...
3686
3687	SA GENTZEL	Hm.
3688
3689	HICKS	...uh, up the Beluga River.

105

3706	HICKS	...got stuck in Chilligan for I think a day or two with weather.
3707
3708	SA GENTZEL	Oh, wow. Got ya. Is that in, uh...
3709
3710	HICKS	But yeah, you know, I was back and forth...
3711
3712	HICKS	...you know? I'll come to town and get gas and drop...
3713
3714	SA GENTZEL	Is that in the same guide use area or an adjacent guide use area or where?
3715
3716	HICKS	Yeah, it's all the same, 1602...
3717

106

630 HICKS: I mean, I went up into - I went around the corner too and stayed the night over

631 in, uh, whatever that one's called. I can't think of the other one. I was tryin' to 632 see if there was any bears in there. Um, what's the one - whatever the one in 633 the Chakachamna to the north...

671 HICKS: No. I looked around. I was kinda lookin' for some bear for my kid a little bit. I
672 was gonna try to get him out and then it just didn't - the weather just wouldn't 673 cooperate. It was just a pain so - I got stuck a couple days on the ground with 674 wind.
675

107

881 HICKS: ...'cause he bought a brown bear tag to shoot brown bear so if he shot a sheep
882 I was gonna try to move 'em over there for - I can't think of it. I've been 883 trying to think of it. I can't think of the name of that creek. It's just a few 884 miles around the corner though - of Chakachamna. You can look it up. It's 885 easy. Um, but I camped there - I camped there one night and I got stuck there 886 two nights but then I had another camp too around the corner, uh, over by - 887 what the hell is the name of the creek? I can't think of the name of the creek.
888 Coal Creek. I had a camp over there too. But that's more - that's bear too.
889 Move - I did move some bear over there but I just mostly saved that for bear.
890
891 LOWY: Mm-hm.
892
893 HICKS: For those two spots. That's those two spots is what I was lookin' for for bear 894 for him. So that's, I mean, in that instance that's what I was doin' was just 895 lookin' around, you know, spottin' - tryin' to - tryin' to find a good spot to kill 896 brown bear for him just 'cause I make trophy fee on the brown bear so - but,
897 uh, but yeah, it doesn't do me good to just sit right there. Usually if I'm gonna 898 stay out, you know, I'll go do other - other scouting or whatever I'm doing.

False Statements, E.P. and C.C. Hunts

During interviews conducted by law enforcement, HICKS made false statements about many aspects of his illegal hunts and activities.

110

Excerpt from Interview Transcription, HICKS

LT FRENZEL: Um, kinda wanna start it off what all did you hunt this year, who all did you have out with you this year?

HICKS: Uh, well, I'm not a guide so I didn't have - I didn't have anybody out with me, what do you mean?

LT FRENZEL: Well, you had a couple guys it looked, like, um, [redacted] and [redacted] up here.

HICKS: Oh, yeah - yeah - yeah. For sure.

HICKS: Yeah, we hunted moose.

LT FRENZEL: All right. What's your relationship with those guys?

HICKS: We're buddies. They're clients but they're buddies. You know, we're friends now. I mean, my kid's go down next year and hunt at his place and, uh.

111

LT FRENZEL: Well, you said they were clients and now they're friends.

HICKS: Well, they've been clients in the past. Sure, yeah. They're gonna come back and hunt with, uh, they're gonna come back and hunt with (Craig), uh, (Craig Hill) too.

LT FRENZEL: Okay. Um, what are they huntin' when they come back with (Craig Hill)?

HICKS: I'm not sure. You'll have to ask (Craig). I think - I don't know if they're gonna - I think brown bear is what they wanna hunt.

HICKS: What do you mean?

LT FRENZEL: You said they were clients.

HICKS: Uh, depends on what they're doin'. S- they did some trade with my airplane.

LT FRENZEL: Okay.

HICKS: So, um, but that's still all under contract with - well, that'll - that'll shift to (Craig) now as far as contract work goes.

LT FRENZEL: Okay.

HICKS: You know what I mean? They're still gonna do their stiff in southeast that they were contracted to do.

112

446	LT FRENZEL	So, um, when they came up this year was the scheduled moose hunt, was this
447		planned, part of that...
448
449	HICKS	Mm-mm.
450
464	HICKS	"Otherwise I'm not doin' anything. I'm gonna go sheep huntin' for myself."
474	HICKS	"Then you're more than welcome to come up." Said, "We're gonna split
475		cost." You know, "You're gonna pay - you're gonna pay your own ways out.
476		I'm not flyin' ya," you know...
373	LT FRENZEL	So how much of that contract did you fill with them as they were contract...
374
375	HICKS	Zero this year.
