2020, has produced a major divide and mistrust in the election process both at a federal and State level. From 100,000+ Alaskan's data being stolen at the State Level to vote dumps in the middle of the night in the Swing States at the Federal Level. We have questioned the unwillingness by our Courts to hear any evidence, only to be ignored and turned away. People see this and have to wonder what to expect next.

Our Democratic processes have failed, the Presidential Election of 2020, has been stolen.

We have also seen cities across America get burned down, looted, and torn apart by radical groups over this last year while the mainstream media and most politicians sat back and did nothing.

We should always seek to work things out peacefully and to come to agreements, even if it's agreeing to disagree. Cheating should never be the solution to gain a different result. I'm uncertain how this all ends, but regardless, I am hopeful for better days ahead.

If I had one piece of advice, it would be to turn off your TV/phone. More importantly, realize that the mainstream media is ONLY interested in more Clicks, not your well-being.

My office is always open for anyone, regardless of your political affiliation. You call always call my office.
