

ALMANAC
Saturday, June 9, 1956
Daylight Today 19 Hrs. 8 Min.
Sunrise 2:35 a.m. Sunset 9:33 p.m.
Yesterday's Temperature
Maximum 51 Minimum 42

Territorial Museum
P. O. Box 2051
JUNEAU, ALASKA

Anchorage Daily Times

READ BY ALASKANS EVERYWHERE

FORECAST

Cloudy tonight, fair and warmer Sunday. Low tonight, 48; high Sunday, 65.

FORTY-FIRST YEAR

PHONE 56201

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA, SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1956

16 PAGES

PRICE 10 CENTS

O. K. SECOND TERM FOR IKE

Light Plane Missing With Five Aboard

Craft Disappeared Descending To Merrill Field

Five persons, including two women, are aboard a light plane feared downed in the Chitina Mountains in the immediate Anchorage area.

Last contact with the plane was made yesterday by radio when the pilot indicated he was descending at 5,000 feet over the Jewel Lake navigational marker about seven miles south of International Airport.

The Air Force listed those aboard the private craft as: Capt. Elbert C. Reed, Headquarters, Alaskan Air Command; the pilot.

Mrs. J. C. Reed, Birmingham, Ala., the pilot's mother, George Hogue and W. K. Tanner, both of Birmingham. Mrs. Wallace Hess, Dallas, Texas. She is the wife of M/Sgt. Wallace Hess, 64th Fighter Interceptor Squadron.

Low ceilings have prevented an air search of the mountain area. But Air Force and Civil Air Patrol crews covered the area from Kenai to Eklutna, Cook Inlet and Turnagain Arm without results.

Sergeant Hess has been searching in his own plane since yesterday afternoon. The blue Howard monomane was last contacted at about 11:30 a.m.

Head, 28, had recently purchased the used aircraft and was ferrying it from Washington, D.C. He left Northwest yesterday heading for Merrill Field. He is an Air Force test pilot.

Head, his wife Joyce and their child live at the Officers Trailer Park near Elmendorf AFB. They have been in Anchorage since late October when they left Wright-Patterson field at Dayton, Ohio.

Hess lives at Totem Trailer Park.

The aerial search was started late yesterday afternoon by the 71st Air Rescue Squadron and continued into the night. It was resumed at 2 a.m. today when an SC-54 took to the air.

The 71st now has an Albatross in the air and the CAP is using two light planes in the hunt. The Matanuska Valley Altimeter's Association is also aiding the search.

PAGE INDEX

Theaters 3
Woman's Page 3
Church News 3
Editorials 6
Business 7
Sports 11
Comics 12
Classifieds 13, 14, 15
Radio, TV Logs 16

THE WORLD'S TOP TRADER . . .

Hustler's Race Says

WE'LL SEE YOU AT THE Chugiak Spring Carnival
where you will see on display

The Latest 1956 Cars

FREE Nothing to Buy Get details at our booth.

6 automatic electric skis
in gleaming copper. . . $39.95 value

NORTHWEST AUTO SALES

INCORPORATED

"Northwest-Sells For Less"

Member Alaska Independent Auto Dealers Assn.
1024 CHRY - GUS - PONTIAC - BUICK
Phone 33051 Open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.
All Day Sunday 418 East 5th

BULLETINSLOSERS HAND

Mountain Heaton, an Alaska Railroad section hand, suffered the loss of part of his hand yesterday while working at the site of the railroad wreck near Talkeetna. He was flown to an Anchorage hospital for treatment.

IT DIED AT WEDDING

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Seventeen wedding guests were killed last night when a dance floor collapsed in a two-story building. Thirty persons, including the bride, were injured. The groom was unharmed.

ZHUKOV AILING

MOSCOW (AP) — Reports circulating in Moscow today said Marshal Georgi Zhukov, the Soviet defense minister, is ill. Government spokesmen declined to comment. Informants who claim to know said Zhukov is not seriously ill.

CONTINUE WAGE TALKS

NEW YORK (AP) — Representatives of the steel industry's big three and the United Steelworkers Union held a weekend meeting today in their current contract negotiations in New York City.

WATER SHUT OFF

City water will be shut off Monday, June 11, from G Street to C Street and from First to Third Avenues between 8 a.m. and 1 p.m., city engineers announced today.

Fairbanks Tot Lost In Chena

FAIRBANKS (AP) — Search parties continued to drag the muddy Chena River for the body of a two and one-half-year-old boy believed to have drowned yesterday afternoon.

The child was Stephen Quick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Quick of Birch Park Apartments, Fairbanks. City police reported that the boy was playing with a little friend on the banks of the river, when the Quick child slipped into the water.

The lost child's father is believed to be a soldier or airman at Eielson Air Force Base.

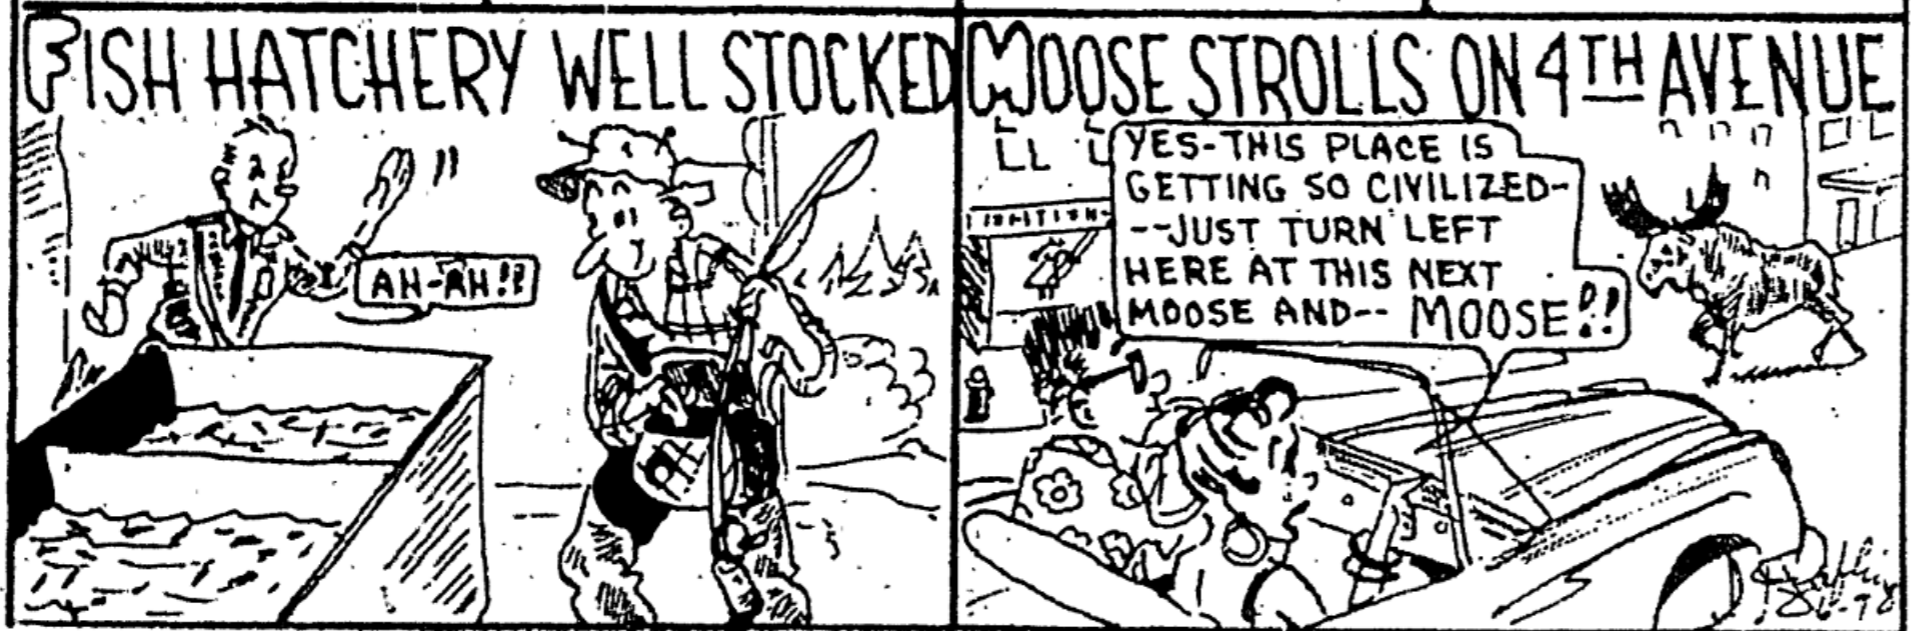

PARKING BANS

An automobile parking ban will be in effect tomorrow after 5 p.m. on Third Avenue between C and E Street, according to the City Engineer's office. Parking is also banned after 5 p.m. on D Street between Second and Third Avenues. This is for the purpose of repairing water lines and the roughing will be torn up temporarily.

REVIEW OF THE WEEK

By Haflling

TOURIST FACILITIES FLUNK VISITORS TEST

Today's Baseball

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Cleveland 000 205 400-15 11 2
New York 222 011 000-8 15 4

Chicago 110 000 000-3 12 8
Boston 000 000 000-0 7 0

Philadelphia 000 000 010-4 2 6
Cincinnati 000 000 011-0 5 1

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

St. Louis 000 000 000-0 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 000-0 7 0

6 DIE IN MINNEAPOLIS AS NAVY JET CRASHES

Harriman Hat Officially In

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Averell Harriman announced himself today as an active candidate for the Democratic nomination for President.

He told 200 delegates to the National Union convention, "I want to say to you that this hat is in the ring."

With that he tossed an old gray fedora into the air.

At the same convention yesterday, David Dubinsky, the influential head of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, had urged Harriman to abandon any thoughts of seeking the nomination and work for the good of the party.

Dubinsky, who also is co-chairman of New York state's Liberal Party, which has considerable vote-power in the state, endorsed Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic nomination.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Harriman's declaration followed closely on the heels of Stevenson's victories in state primaries, projecting him into a leading possibility for the nomination, and the illness of President Eisenhower, which might alter Eisenhower's avowed intention of seeking re-nomination at the Republican convention.

Lions Elect Iverson, Dale

Mamie Holding Up 'Wonderfully'
Under Strain

WASHINGTON (AP) — How is Mamie Eisenhower standing up under the strain of her husband's illness?

"Wonderfully, as she's always done," White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, told reporters today.

Hagerty said Mrs. Eisenhower "got very little sleep" the night the President was stricken. Nor did she get to sleep until between 5:30 and 5:45 a.m. today, after the President left the operating room at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

The first lady and the Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, are staying at the hospital.

OPERATION COMPLETE SUCCESS, DOCTORS SAY; WILL RESUME WORK SOON

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's doctors agreed today his operation was a complete success. They said he can resume limited work early next week and should safely be able to run for re-election.

Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, commandant of Walter Reed Army Hospital and the surgeon who conducted the pre-dawn emergency operation on Eisenhower for ileitis, gave reporters this report in mid-afternoon.

Tyonek Wreck Yields Victim

Radar Observer Died
In November Jet Crash

The body of an Air Force officer missing since a mid-air collision last Nov. 11 has been recovered from the wreckage of a jet fighter near Tyonek.

Spokesmen at Elmendorf AFB said the remains have been identified as 1st Lt. William C. Harnack Jr., a radar observer. The wreckage was sighted Thursday afternoon. Yesterday flight experts from Elmendorf identified it as that of the missing F-86 Scorpion.

Harnack's body was removed to the 260th AFB Hospital. Funeral services will probably be held in Milwaukee, where the officer was assigned, and his wife and family are now living.

Harnack was the only casualty among four flying officers in two Scorpions which collided over Tyonek. The other three men parachuted to safety and were rescued the next day.

The two planes were on a training mission when they rammed in mid-air.

Severe winter storms prevented a complete search of the crash area at the time of the accident. Late last month a civilian pilot spotted wreckage near Tyonek. It proved not to be linked to the Scorpion crash, but it did reopen the search for Harnack.

Thursday a plane from the 71st Air Rescue Squadron observed the new debris which was identified yesterday as the missing Scorpion. Harnack, 23, was a native of Wauwatosa, Wis.

The search ended.

SEBRING, ARIZ., June 8 (AP) — Mrs. Mildred Sassaman, who has five grandchildren, graduated with one of her sons from high school this year. The 52-year-old straight-A student said she finds a lot more time to study now than she did when she began high school 33 years ago.

(Continued on Page 9)

NEW LIONS' LEADERS

Clair Iverson, left, and Harold Dale received honors today when elected to high posts in the 40th District of Lions Clubs. Iverson was named to the top territorial post of district governor, succeeding Bob Campbell of Whitehorse. Dale is the newly elected deputy district governor of the western region. He follows Iverson in this position. The two will be honored tonight at the annual Governors' Banquet held in conjunction with the yearly convention.

The babies, a boy and two girls, are the children of Mr. and Mrs. John Peyton of New Milford, N.J. They have three other children.

Heavy rain has caused some slippery patches and pot holes but the Alaska Highway is open and in fair driving condition from Mile 0 at Dawson Creek to Mile 400, Lower Liard River.

This was the word Canadian officials passed on to the Alaska Road Commission today.

The report on driving conditions along the Canadian end of the international route also noted that drivers may be halted for up to an hour at the Racing River Bridge, Mile 418.7, where work is in progress.

Heavy dust is still general at some points north of Whitehorse, trucks are hauling rock between Miles 316 and 325 and between Miles 1002 and 1103 and the deck of the White River Bridge at Mile 1102 is in poor condition, the report noted.

Heavy rain has caused some slippery patches and pot holes but the Alaska Highway is open and in fair driving condition from Mile 0 at Dawson Creek to Mile 400, Lower Liard River.

This was the word Canadian officials passed on to the Alaska Road Commission today.

The report on driving conditions along the Canadian end of the international route also noted that drivers may be halted for up to an hour at the Racing River Bridge, Mile 418.7, where work is in progress.

Heavy dust is still general at some points north of Whitehorse, trucks are hauling rock between Miles 316 and 325 and between Miles 1002 and 1103 and the deck of the White River Bridge at Mile 1102 is in poor condition, the report noted.

Heavy rain has caused some slippery patches and pot holes but the Alaska Highway is open and in fair driving condition from Mile 0 at Dawson Creek to Mile 400, Lower Liard River.

This was the word Canadian officials passed on to the Alaska Road Commission today.

The report on driving conditions along the Canadian end of the international route also noted that drivers may be halted for up to an hour at the Racing River Bridge, Mile 418.7, where work is in progress.

Heavy dust is still general at some points north of Whitehorse, trucks are hauling rock between Miles 316 and 325 and between Miles 1002 and 1103 and the deck of the White River Bridge at Mile 1102 is in poor condition, the report noted.

Heavy rain has caused some slippery patches and pot holes but the Alaska Highway is open and in fair driving condition from Mile 0 at Dawson Creek to Mile 400, Lower Liard River.

This was the word Canadian officials passed on to the Alaska Road Commission today.