SFOF Takes Center Stage at National Heritage Foundation Event in Nashville, TN

The State Financial Officers Foundation \(SFOF\) had five of its state officials representing the organization at the 2022 Heritage Foundation Resource Bank National Meeting. This year's theme was ""We the People - On Offense.""

Nebraska Treasurer John Murante, 2022 SFOF National Chair, was joined on the main stage by Vivek

Ramaswamy, CEO, Strive, Andy Puzder, 2nd Vote and Senior Fellow at The Heritage Foundation, and Will Hild, Executive Director, Consumers Research. The panel was moderated by Andy Olivastro, Vice President of Outreach, The Heritage Foundation.

Derek Kreifels, CEO, SFOF, moderated a different panel on the Resource Bank main stage focused on how state treasurers protect the public's trust. This panel consisted of three more SFOF state officials that have been leading issues of economic freedom in their states.

They included: Missouri Treasurer Scott Fitzpatrick, 2022 SFOF National Vice-Chair, Utah Treasurer Marlo Oaks, and West Virginia Treasurer Riley Moore.

Utah Auditor John Dougall took the stage in a Resource Bank "Chalk Talk" -- a breakout panel discussion to discuss Confronting the Fiscal Crisis: Reversing the Growth of Spending and Inflation. That discussion included moderator Matthew Dickerson, Director, Grover M. Hermann Center for the Federal Budget, The Heritage Foundation, and panelists Vance Ginn, Ph.D., Chief Economist, Texas Public Policy Foundation, Steve Moore, Distinguished Fellow in Economics, Institute for Economic Freedom, The Heritage Foundation, and Utah Auditor John Dougall.

SFOF Receives Heritage Foundation’s Innovation Prize for Public Effort to Educate Public on Environmental, Social, & Governance (ESG)

On Wednesday, June 1, the State Financial Officers Foundation \(SFOF\) received the Heritage Foundation’s first ever Innovation Prize for combating the progressive push to impose Environmental, Social, Governance (ESG) standards on Americans. Composed of state treasurers, auditors, and other financial officers, SFOF was honored for their work educating the public about the pressing dangers of ESG through their “Our Money Our Values” campaign. The award was presented to Kreifels by Heritage Foundation President, Dr. Kevin Roberts, and Bridgett Wagner, Executive Director of the Edwin J. Feulner Institute.

The Heritage Innovation Prize is a new initiative to financially support innovative solutions to the most pressing issues facing America.

“SFOF state treasurers, auditors, and other financial officers have been working tirelessly to educate the public and key stakeholders on the dangers of ESG investing,” said Derek Kreifels, Chief Executive Officer of the State Financials Officers Foundation. “All while corporations are trying to circumvent the democratic process and drive their own political agenda. It is such an honor to be recognized with a Heritage Foundation Innovation Prize as we work to educate the public with SFOF’s “Our Money Our Values” campaign. What is the State Financial Officers Foundation (SFOF)?

We are the only organization solely focused on educating and building relationships with free-market, fiscally conservative statewide elected financial officials across the country.

Our mission is to promote fiscally responsible public policy, partner with key stakeholders, and educate the public about the role of finance in a free market economy. SFOF leaders and corporate partners have worked together to develop sound financial policy in many of the fifty states.

Your continued support is critical to making this happen.
