Call Report Files of Betty Anderlik

She was cheerful, but a bit odd.
Her biggest concerns about Obama are that he has not made his birth certificate public and that he is a Muslim.
We talked a bit about Heritage's challenges and I thanked her for her generous support.
When the waiter asked if we wanted coffee or dessert we both said no and she said, "Bring the check to him," pointing to me.
I walked her back to her building and we said good night.
