FACTS

9.

Dr. Loa was originally hired by Salem Health as a Hospitalist on or about February 11, 2016. Dr. Loa started working for Salem Health on or about July 11, 2016. He rose quickly and was promoted to Assistant Medical Director later that year.

10.

Dr. Loa was highly regarded by his colleagues and patients alike. He received numerous accolades, including being nominated for the Star award for exemplary service above and beyond his standard job duties. He regularly received highly positive reviews and was recognized for his ability to foster positive relations with his colleagues.

11.

In Dr. Loa's performance review dated June 13, 2019, Salem Health's then-Medical Director noted that Dr. Loa had "excelled as a respected provider and leader within the group and the hospital." The reviewer further noted that peer reviews "consistently note that he is approachable, helpful and wise." In his overall comments, the reviewer stated that Dr. Loa "is greatly appreciated for his positive engagement and contributions to the team." The reviewer reported that Dr. Loa had no areas that needed improvement.

History of positive reviews prior to firing

12.

In Dr. Loa's performance review dated June 11, 2020, Salem Health's then-Medical Director again praised Dr. Loa's performance, noting that Dr. Loa had "done an excellent job creating relationships at West Valley [Hospital]" and that Dr. Loa "approaches process issues constructively." The reviewer further noted in his overall comments that Dr. Loa "is a valuable leader for the organization who will continue to positively influence the organization with continued leadership mentoring." The reviewer again reported that Dr. Loa had no areas that needed improvement.

13.

Dr. Loa's ability to skillfully manage his medical team and to engender the trust and esteem of his colleagues and patients was most keenly felt by Salem Health's nursing staff. As one of the nurses who worked on his team put it, Dr. Loa insisted on maintaining “an environment that promotes safe, evidence-based practice and high standards of care and interprofessional collaboration,” and he was able to do so in a “manner that fosters continued collaboration.”

14.

Dr. Loa’s upward career trajectory at Salem Health continued through 2018, when he was invited to serve as interim Medical Director, a role he filled for approximately four months.

15.

However, in the summer of 2019, all of that changed. That summer, Dr. Loa began to learn from his nursing staff about practices by some of Salem Health’s physicians that Dr. Loa found extremely troubling.

Pre-pandemic, notably 16.

Dr. Loa learned that one or more of Salem Health’s physicians were engaged in a practice known amongst the nursing staff as “fly-by rounding,” where the physicians would barely look in on a patient during their round, but then chart and bill for a complete checkup and procedures that were never conducted.

17.

Dr. Loa also learned that one or more physicians were not responding to nurses’ pages when their patients needed a physician’s attention and that certain physicians were required to be on duty for extended hours, sometimes with shifts as long as 24-48 hours.

18.

These practices were extremely troubling to Dr. Loa. First and foremost, they compromised patient care and patient outcomes. In addition, Dr. Loa was also disturbed by the fraudulent billing that was occurring in connection with the “fly by rounding.”

19.

Dr. Loa reported the issue to Salem Health’s then-Medical Director. However, the Medical Director did nothing to address the issue or even respond to Dr. Loa’s report.

When did he report? Who was the medical director at the time?

20.

Given this lack of response, Dr. Loa elevated his reports to Salem Health’s Corporate Integrity Department. While Dr. Loa learned that Corporate Integrity investigated his reports, he was unaware of any action it took to correct the situation.

When?

While Salem Health took no apparent action to correct this practice, it almost immediately started retaliating against Dr. Loa. He was excluded from major decisions that he would ordinarily have been involved in as the Associate Medical Director. He was also removed from answering Patient Safety Alerts where he reviewed the circumstances surrounding negative patient outcomes and, if necessary, designating those cases for further peer review.

Key: Claims retaliation

22.

Dr. Loa also found himself excluded from regular management meetings that he had previously been involved in. His colleagues became noticeably cool and distant from him, leaving when he entered a room and excluding him from social events that he had previously participated in.

23.

This retaliation continued to escalate. Dr. Loa overheard physicians bragging about their weight-loss regimens that included extreme fasting where the physician would not eat for 24-48 hours, while still seeing patients.

24.

On or about September 17, 2020, Dr. Loa was in a meeting discussing patient safety. During that meeting, he mentioned his concerns that the extreme fasting weight-loss technique could have a negative impact on patient care.

25.

Some of Dr. Loa's colleagues reportedly took offense at this comment, claiming that it was a slight against their practices during Ramadan. Dr. Loa believed that their complaints were a pretext.

Hmm. Ramadan was in April/May?
Or was the Ramadan element about the claim that Dr's need to eat?

26.

Shortly thereafter, Dr. Loa was brought into a meeting with the Medical Director and Program Manager in which they accused Dr. Loa of being racist. This was very troubling to Dr. Loa because it simply wasn't true. Dr. Loa was only raising the issue out of concern for patient care based on the physicians' self-reported weight-loss regime, not a religious practice related to Ramadan or any other religious practice. Messier than Lund report put out 27.

The accusation was also troubling because he believed that the Medical Director and Program Manager knew him well enough to know that he was not anti-Muslim. Their insistence that he write a letter of apology appeared to Dr. Loa to be an effort to humiliate him and further marginalize him from his colleagues.

28.

Nonetheless, if anyone had been genuinely offended by Dr. Loa's concern, he wanted to be clear about his intent and his true feelings. Accordingly, on September 18, 2020, he sent an apology to the entire hospitalist staff in which he stated:

Colleagues, I want to apologize for and clarify the comment I made yesterday during lunch and learn during our discussion about patient safety in relation to the number of consecutive shifts one undertakes. My intention when I made the comment about providers allegedly practicing prolonged intermittent fasting ("fasting for 24 hours") was to show that there were other factors that may affect patient safety other than the number of consecutive shifts a provider works. My comment was in no way shape or form intended to criticize any religion or providers who fast for religious practices. In hindsight, I should have used a different example to illustrate my point.

I sincerely apologize if my comment offended anyone. Those who know[] me well know that I respect people of all races, religion, and sexual orientation.

Please reach out if you have any questions.

29.

Subsequently, in January 2021, Dr. Loa was asked to step down from his role as Assistant Medical Director. The reason given for the demotion was that Dr. Loa had lost the confidence of his colleagues due to the concern he had raised about the impact of extreme fasting on patient safety.

30.

Dr. Loa reluctantly acceded to Salem Health's pressure and accepted the demotion back to his role as a physician hospitalist. However, he understood this was further retaliation for his raising patient care concerns.

31.

On or about April 25, 2021, having seen no progress on his reports of the "fly-by rounding," he reported his patient-care concerns to the federal Office of Inspector General. He also reported the retaliation he was suffering in a civil rights complaint to the Bureau of Labor and Industries.

32.

In a letter dated February 22, 2022, Salem Health terminated Dr. Loa's employment without explanation or reason, more than a year before his employment contract was to expire.

33.

As a result of Salem Health's retaliation against Dr. Loa described above, he has suffered economic damages in the form of lost earnings and benefits in an amount to be specifically proven at trial, but currently estimated to be $501,227. In addition, Dr. Loa has suffered non-economic damages in the amount of $1.5 million.

34.

Dr. Loa has mitigated his damages.
