

STARS AND STRIPES

Volume 59, No. 85

TUESDAY, JULY 11, 2000

50¢

Israel's Barak survives no-confidence vote

Page 2

In the military

The Army's "Buddy Enlistment Program" has proven an experience in togetherness for two "brothers" stationed in Kosovo. Page 3.

An American soldier accidentally shoots and kills a 6-year-old ethnic Albanian boy in Kosovo, Army officials say. Page 2

In the Balkans

Montenegro's pro-Western president, Milo Djukanovic, angry at constitutional changes passed last week by President Slobodan Milosevic's government, says that Yugoslavia no longer exists. Page 5

In the States

A Florida jury could be on the verge of punishing Big Tobacco like no one has ever punished anyone before. Page 9

Money Matters

Dot-movie. Dot-protest. Even dot-sex? The organization that coordinates the Internet's address books meets to add new domain names.

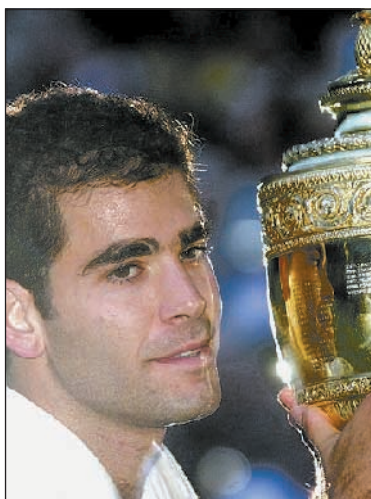

Page 20

Sunset fill-up

Pfc. Ray Martinez, with Alpha Company 1st Battalion 37th Regiment, finishes refueling an Army M1A1 tank at the checkpoint in outpost Sapper, Kosovo.

DALE BROWN/Stars and Stripes

Men's singles champ Pete Sampras and women's doubles winners Venus and Serena Williams make Wimbledon history.

Pages 32, 30

Injuries send more All-Stars to locker room

Page 31

Composite