Village of Niles Public Records

Record request #23-105 has been submitted and assigned to you. It currently has a due date of February 16, 2023.

To Whom It May Concern:

Pursuant to the Illinois Freedom of Information Act., I hereby request the following records:

On February 2nd 2023 the Niles Senior Center held a "murder mystery" luncheon event. Racist symbols were a part of this organized event. Images from this event were posted to Facebook social media, during Black History Month. (see attachments)

These images included a participant wearing a hat with the confederate flag symbol prominently displayed. Another dressed as a caricature of an Indigenous person.

Currently there is a lawsuit filed against the Village of Niles Senior Center for workplace discrimination and racism. A Black woman who served as Program Coordinator for many years, bringing excellent programming, and beloved by the community, was terminated from her position.

We would like to understand why this seems to be a consistent pattern even after years of awareness of racism in our community.

To those ends we would like to start with all emails to/from the Niles Senior Center Director Kelly Mickle and emails to/from the Niles Human Resources department between August 1, 2020 and the date this request is processed (inclusive of those dates) that include any of the following keywords:

- "racist"
- "racism"
- "harassment"
- "retaliation"
- "discrimination"

The requested documents will be made available to the general public, and this request is not being made for commercial purposes.

In the event that there are fees, I would be grateful if you would inform me of the total charges in advance of fulfilling my request. I would prefer the request filled electronically, by e-mail attachment if available or CD-ROM if not.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated cooperation in this matter. I look forward to receiving your response to this request within 5 business days, as the statute requires.

Sincerely,

Niles Coalition

TOP STORY

Don't Say Period

The Story

Florida lawmakers don't want some girls talking about their periods.

What?

Last week, a Florida House subcommittee passed a proposed bill that would ban conversations about periods and sexual health in elementary schools. The legislation also bans students from talking about STDs or sexuality. It's the state's latest effort to crack down on school curriculum (see: bans on books and critical race theory, and the 'Don't Say Gay Bill'). The bill still needs to go to the floor for a full vote, but it could pass in the Republican supermajority Legislature.

What are people saying?

State Rep. Stan McClain (R-FL), who's sponsoring the bill, reportedly said the bill would bring consistency to sex education across Florida's school districts. But state Rep. Ashley Gantt (D) called the bill "egregious," and raised concerns that younger girls — who may go through puberty earlier in life — wouldn't be able to ask questions about their changing bodies in school. For his part, McClain said he'd be "amenable" to changes. Oh and, Florida's not the only state that's got people raising eyebrows.

Go on.

While a federal judge in Texas debates the FDA's approval of abortion pills, Wyoming showed it waits for no one. On Friday, Gov. Mark Gordon (R) signed a law making Wyoming the first state to explicitly ban abortion pills. Starting in July, it'll be illegal to "prescribe, dispense, distribute, sell or use" any medication abortion drug, like mifepristone. Anyone who breaks the law may face up to six months in prison and a $9,000 fine. Now, abortion in Wyoming is nearly impossible, except in cases of incest, rape, or if the mother's life is at risk.

The conversation around women and girls is no longer just centered on abortion access. Now, the Florida legislature is showing they can take things a step further by trying to limit the conversation around women's bodies and sexual health in general.

THE INDICTMENT

Former President Trump said he believes he'll be arrested tomorrow.

The claims come as the Manhattan district attorney's office is investigating a hush money payment allegedly made to adult film star Stormy Daniels. In 2018, Trump's former lawyer, Michael Cohen, admitted to paying Stormy Daniels $130,000 to keep the alleged affair between her and Trump quiet. Trump paid him back but has denied having an affair. The case picked up steam when the Manhattan DA convened a grand jury to dig deeper.

Now, Trump's calling for protests and to "take our nation back." (It's worth noting Trump has yet to be charged.) In the meantime, law enforcement is planning to beef up security just in case. House Speaker Kevin McCarthy (R-CA) has said he would direct House committees to investigate the DA's probe. McCarthy also said he doesn't think Americans should protest this, saying "we want calmness out there." Meanwhile, Trump's current attorney said they'd "follow the normal procedures" pending charges.

If indicted, it would be the first time in history a former president faces criminal charges. What comes after is TBD.

Friday, February 3rd, despite the frigid temperature outside, we had a packed house for our semi-annual Volunteer Orientation! 35 people braved the weather to hear about how they can help facilitate the many programs we have on a weekly basis.

We hosted an interactive, member-actor participant Wild West Murder Mystery Luncheon as well as a great trip to Milwaukee for a day at the Potawatomi Casino. Although we had heard there were no huge winners, everyone seemed to have had a great time.

Hello,

On Thursday February 2nd the Niles Senior Center held a "murder mystery" luncheon event. Racist symbols were a part of this organized event. As if that weren't enough, images from this event were posted to social media, during Black History Month (photos attached).

You can see that a participant was wearing a hat with the confederate flag symbol and another dressed as a caricature of an Indigenous person.

While the Facebook post seems to have been deleted*, this appears to be a pattern of racism perpetuated by the Senior Center staff under Director Kelly Mickle. (Attached: <Baraona_v_VON.pdf>) We are very concerned and would like to know what actions the Village of Niles will take to ensure this pattern of racism and discrimination under Mickle will end indefinitely.

Thank you,

The Threepenny Opera

Theo Ubique Cabaret

March 23 - April 30, 2023

The Threepenny Opera is a biting satire of the post-war rise of capitalism, wrapped up in Kurt Weill's jazzy score, and the tale of Macheath, a debonair crime lord on the verge of turning his illegal empire into a legitimate business. Songs from Threepenny have become classic standards, including "Pirate Jenny" and, most notably, "Mack the Knife," which has been covered by everyone from Frank Sinatra to Michael Buble.

The Threepenny Opera

Theo Ubique Cabaret

March 23 - April 30, 2023

The Threepenny Opera is a biting satire of the post-war rise of capitalism, wrapped up in Kurt Weill's jazzy score, and the tale of Macheath, a debonair crime lord on the verge of turning his illegal empire into a legitimate business. Songs from Threepenny have become classic standards, including "Pirate Jenny" and, most notably, "Mack the Knife," which has been covered by everyone from Frank Sinatra to Michael Buble.

Passing Strange

Theo Ubique Cabaret

June 9 - July 30, 2023

Passing Strange is a daring musical that takes you on a journey across boundaries of place, identity, and theatrical convention. Stew brings us the story of a young bohemian who charts a course for "the real" through sex, drugs, and rock 'n' roll. Loaded with soulful lyrics and overflowing with passion, the show takes us from Black middle-class America to Amsterdam, Berlin, and beyond on a journey toward personal and artistic authenticity.

Dear Christiann,

Your confidence in purchasing a murder mystery event from Mysteries on the Net is greatly appreciated.

YET . . . a problem has arisen.

Some of my customers are posting the solutions to the mysteries on their websites. Needless to say, this is a SERIOUS PROBLEM because others can see "whodunnit" before arriving at the event.

PLEASE, PLEASE, PLEASE!!! Don't reveal the ending to the world. Some things deserve to remain secrets.

Thanks for your help.

Sincerely,
Jack Pachuta
The Chief Inspector

Hello,

On Thursday February 2nd the Niles Senior Center held a “murder mystery” luncheon event. Racist symbols were a part of this organized event. As if that weren’t enough, images from this event were posted to social media, during Black History Month (photos attached).

You can see that a participant was wearing a hat with the confederate flag symbol and another dressed as a caricature of an Indigenous person.

While the Facebook post seems to have been deleted*, this appears to be a pattern of racism perpetuated by the Senior Center staff under Director Kelly Mickle. (Attached: <Baraona_v_VON.pdf>) We are very concerned and would like to know what actions the Village of Niles will take to ensure this pattern of racism and discrimination under Mickle will end indefinitely.

Thank you,
:David

Friday, February 3rd, despite the frigid temperature outside, we had a packed house for our semi-annual Volunteer Orientation! 35 people braved the weather to hear about how they can help facilitate the many programs we have on a weekly basis.

We hosted an interactive, member-actor participant Wild West Murder Mystery Luncheon as well as a great trip to Milwaukee for a day at the Potawatomi Casino. Although we had heard there were no huge winners, everyone seemed to have had a great time.

February 21, 2023

A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.

Sam Colt, Inventor of the Revolver

Samuel Colt was an American inventor and industrialist who was born on July 19, 1814, in Hartford, Connecticut. He was the son of a successful textile manufacturer and grew up in a family of merchants and manufacturers.

As a young man, Colt had a passion for mechanics and engineering, and he was fascinated by the workings of guns. He showed a keen interest in the design and construction of firearms, and he was determined to create a weapon that would revolutionize the industry.

In 1832, at the age of 18, Colt set out on a journey to Europe and the Middle East. During this time, he was exposed to a variety of weapons and firearms, which further fueled his interest and passion for the industry. In 1835, he patented his first invention, a revolver that was capable of firing multiple rounds without reloading.

In 1836, Colt established the Patent Arms Manufacturing Company in Paterson, New Jersey, to manufacture his revolvers. He quickly became known for his innovative design and the high quality of his weapons. His revolvers were popular with soldiers, law enforcement officers, and civilians, and they were soon adopted by the U.S. military for use in the Mexican-American War.

Bright Ideas All on this Page

In the years that followed, Colt continued to innovate and improve his weapons. He introduced a new design, the Walker Colt, which was larger and more powerful than his previous revolvers. He also developed a manufacturing process that allowed him to mass-produce his weapons, making them more affordable and accessible to a wider range of customers.

In 1855, Colt established the Colt's Patent Fire-Arms Manufacturing Company in Hartford, Connecticut. This new company quickly became one of the largest weapons manufacturers in the world, and Colt became one of the wealthiest and most influential men in America. During the American Civil War, Colt's revolvers were widely used by both the Union and Confederate armies, and they became an important part of the war effort.

In addition to his success in the firearms industry, Colt was a prominent businessman and philanthropist. He was known for his generosity and his commitment to the betterment of society, and he was widely respected for his contributions to the American economy and to the advancement of technology.

Colt died on January 10, 1862, at the age of 47. He left behind a legacy as one of the most influential inventors in American history, and his revolver remains an important symbol of American ingenuity and industrial prowess.

In conclusion, Samuel Colt was a visionary inventor and industrialist who revolutionized the firearms industry with his innovative designs and manufacturing techniques. He was a brilliant businessman and a generous philanthropist, and he left behind a legacy of innovation and excellence that continues to inspire and influence people around the world.

Subject: State & Local Roundup: Governors Unveil Plans for Budget Surpluses
Date: Friday, February 17, 2023 12:19:42 PM

Problems viewing? View as a web page

It's Friday, Feb. 17, and we'd like to welcome you back to the weekly State and Local Roundup.

These are heady days to be a governor or a budget director in most states.

This week, Illinois Gov. JB Pritzker unveiled a budget that would expand pre-K and boost wages for child care workers. Wisconsin Gov. Tony Evers pitched a spending plan to skeptical lawmakers that would use the state's projected $7 billion surplus over the next two years on "a little bit of everything," as Wisconsin Public Radio put it, including tax cuts, family leave and funding for a new Milwaukee baseball stadium. New Hampshire Gov. Chris Sununu is eyeing higher Medicaid reimbursement rates, increased pay for state workers and more school funding now that he has grown less worried about the threat of an imminent recession.

But with more money comes more ideas on how to spend it. State officials are weighing a variety of ways to use the anticipated revenue increases next year.

One of the most popular options, of course, is tax breaks. At least 27 states are considering tax cuts in the current legislative session, according to the Institute on Taxation and Economic Policy. That continues the widespread interest in tax breaks since the recession. By ITEP's count, 29 states passed major tax cuts in 2021 and 35 states did so in 2022, which is especially noteworthy because states were also filling up their rainy day funds and shoring up their finances at the time.

In Texas, Gov. Greg Abbott urged lawmakers this week to pass the "largest property tax cut in the history of Texas." Ohio Gov. Mike DeWine proposed several measures to help new parents financially, including a $2,500 income tax deduction and the elimination of sales tax on items such as diapers, cribs, car seats and strollers.

Other governors are taking aim at income taxes, which are some of the largest sources of revenue for the 43 states that have them. Iowa Gov. Kim Reynolds, a Republican, touted her efforts to lower income tax rates during an event at the conservative Cato Institute in Washington, D.C. “And I can tell you without hesitation, we’re not done,” she said. “My goal is to get to zero individual income tax rate by the end of this second term.”

Mississippi Gov. Tate Reeves, a Republican who faces a potentially challenging re-election campaign this year, has also called for abolishing his state’s income tax. Arkansas Gov. Sarah Huckabee Sanders, a former spokesperson for President Donald Trump, also campaigned on the idea.

But it’s not just Republicans trying to scale back income taxes. Connecticut Gov. Ned Lamont, a Democrat, is also pushing for income tax cuts, which would be the first reduction in those taxes in three decades. “Connecticut’s fiscal health is stronger than it’s been in decades. Considering the state’s strong financial position, it is time to provide tax relief for Connecticut’s residents,” he said.

Moving away from income taxes, though, raises the risk of destabilizing state finances, the National Conference of State Legislatures warned in a recent analysis.

“States wishing to transition from income toward consumption taxation will eventually need to reckon with long-standing issues facing the sustainability of state sales taxes, which have not kept pace with changes in the economy and have gradually eroded over time,” NCSL fiscal expert Jackson Brainerd wrote recently.

On the spending side, many governors want to dedicate some of their revenue surpluses toward education. The governors of Georgia, Kentucky, Indiana and Minnesota are among the executives proposing a bump in school funding, notes Education Week.

Another area that could get some attention is water infrastructure and conservation, writes Circle of Blue. Dropping aquifers, the drying up of the Colorado River and the proliferation of PFAS pollution have alarmed legislators and governors. They could use their flush treasuries to hire staff to enforce pollution laws or, in the case of Nebraska, build a canal to connect Nebraska to the South Platte River in Colorado.

Have a great weekend! Oh, and if by chance this newsletter was forwarded to you, you can subscribe here.

News to Use

Trends, Common Challenges, Cool Ideas, FYIs, and Notable Events

- North Carolina Medicaid expansion. Concerns about the financial viability of rural hospitals have spurred Republicans in North Carolina who long opposed the expansion of Medicaid under Obamacare to give the idea serious consideration. The GOP-controlled House overwhelmingly passed legislation to expand eligibility for the public health insurance program to hundreds of thousands of residents who don't currently qualify. The measure still faces opposition in the state Senate, though, where leaders want to tie Medicaid expansion with measures to allow for more competition among health providers. North Carolina is one of 11 states that has not expanded Medicaid since 2010.
 - Rail derailment. Pennsylvania Gov. Josh Shapiro blasted Norfolk Southern for the railroad's handling of the derailment of a train carrying toxic chemicals two weeks ago in the nearby Ohio city of East Palestine. The governor specifically criticized Norfolk Southern for bypassing state and local officials and emergency responders when it vented vinyl oxide from five rail cars. "Norfolk Southern failed to explore all potential courses of action, including some that may have kept the rail line closed longer but could have resulted in a safer overall approach for first responders, residents and the environment," Shapiro wrote.
 - Confederate monuments. An American Bar Association resolution requesting state and local governments to remove Confederate symbols and memorabilia from courthouses is being met with resistance in Alabama. The Alabama Bar Association says it will not take a position, pointing to its duty as a licensing and regulating body. Meanwhile, Sons of Confederate Veterans representatives say removing such work runs afoul of a 2017 law, the Alabama Memorial Preservation Act, which bans removing works of architectural significance that are 40 years or older and imposes a $25,000 fine.
 - Debate accessibility in Denver. City Councilman Chris Hinds debated for his District 10 seat sitting on the apron of the stage because the venue did not have a ramp for his electric wheelchair despite the decades-old Americans with Disabilities Act. Hinds opted to crawl on stage to participate, later telling The Denver Post, "It was a choice between my campaign's viability or my dignity."
 - Oakland emergency. Interim City Administrator G. Harold Duffey on Tuesday declared a state of emergency to deal with a ransomware attack that started Feb. 8. While the city's 911 services continue to work, officials took down systems that process payments, collect fees, issue permits and other non-emergency operations. The city also extended an impending deadline for Business Tax Licenses, which are now due April 15.
 - J.F.K. woes. An electrical fire Thursday kicked off a power outage at Terminal 1 of New York's John F. Kennedy International Airport, causing flights to be delayed, diverted and canceled. Who Are the top 10 gunslingers of all time?

Ranking the top ten best real-life gunslingers of all time is difficult since the criteria and the context can vary widely. However, here is a list of ten notable figures who are often mentioned in discussions of the greatest gunslingers:

1) Wild Bill Hickok: A legendary figure in the Old West known for his quick draw and sharpshooting skills.

2) Annie Oakley: A sharpshooter and performer who gained fame in the late 1800s for her incredible feats of marksmanship.

3) Wyatt Earp: A lawman and gunslinger who was involved in several notable shootouts, including the Gunfight at the O.K. Corral.

4) John Wesley Hardin: A notorious outlaw and gunman who was involved in numerous shootouts and murders during the late 1800s.

5) Tom Horn: A scout, tracker, and gunman who became known for his exploits in the late 1800s and early 1900s.

Visit Our Site Here To Browse Our NEWEST ITEMS That Just Arrived

6) Billy the Kid: A notorious outlaw and gunman who was involved in several violent incidents during the late 1800s.

7) Doc Holliday: A dentist-turned-gunslinger who was involved in several high-profile shootouts, including the Gunfight at the O.K. Corral.

8) Jim Miller: A hired gun who became known as "Deacon Jim" for his habit of posing as a religious man before carrying out assassinations.

9) Clay Allison: A Confederate veteran who became known for his violent tendencies and deadly accuracy with a gun.

10) John "Liver-Eating" Johnson: A mountain man and frontiersman who was known for his skill with a rifle and his penchant for revenge.

Obviously these individuals have become iconic figures in popular culture. Most of these figures have been fictionalized with non-fiction accounts. The reality of the Old West was often far from the romanticized version we see in movies and books. But it is fun trying to rank these for us fans of the Old West. Calamity Jane almost made the list :-)

Village of Niles Public Records

You have been added as support staff to request #23-105.

To Whom It May Concern:

Pursuant to the Illinois Freedom of Information Act., I hereby request the following records:

On February 2nd 2023 the Niles Senior Center held a "murder mystery" luncheon event. Racist symbols were a part of this organized event. Images from this event were posted to Facebook social media, during Black History Month. (see attachments)

These images included a participant wearing a hat with the confederate flag symbol prominently displayed. Another dressed as a caricature of an Indigenous person.

Currently there is a lawsuit filed against the Village of Niles Senior Center for workplace discrimination and racism. A Black woman who served as Program Coordinator for many years, bringing excellent programming, and beloved by the community, was terminated from her position.

We would like to understand why this seems to be a consistent pattern even after years of awareness of racism in our community.

To those ends we would like to start with all emails to/from the Niles Senior Center Director Kelly Mickle and emails to/from the Niles Human Resources department between August 1, 2020 and the date this request is processed (inclusive of those dates) that include any of the following keywords:

- "racist"
- "racism"
- "harassment"
- "retaliation"
- "discrimination"

The requested documents will be made available to the general public, and this request is not being made for commercial purposes.

In the event that there are fees, I would be grateful if you would inform me of the total charges in advance of fulfilling my request. I would prefer the request filled electronically, by e-mail attachment if available or CD-ROM if not.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated cooperation in this matter. I look forward to receiving your response to this request within 5 business days, as the statute requires.

Sincerely,

Niles Coalition

Village of Niles Public Records

You have been added as support staff to request #23-105.

To Whom It May Concern:

Pursuant to the Illinois Freedom of Information Act., I hereby request the following records:

On February 2nd 2023 the Niles Senior Center held a "murder mystery" luncheon event. Racist symbols were a part of this organized event. Images from this event were posted to Facebook social media, during Black History Month. (see attachments)

These images included a participant wearing a hat with the confederate flag symbol prominently displayed. Another dressed as a caricature of an Indigenous person.

Currently there is a lawsuit filed against the Village of Niles Senior Center for workplace discrimination and racism. A Black woman who served as Program Coordinator for many years, bringing excellent programming, and beloved by the community, was terminated from her position.

We would like to understand why this seems to be a consistent pattern even after years of awareness of racism in our community.

To those ends we would like to start with all emails to/from the Niles Senior Center Director Kelly Mickle and emails to/from the Niles Human Resources department between August 1, 2020 and the date this request is processed (inclusive of those dates) that include any of the following keywords:

- "racist"
- "racism"
- "harassment"
- "retaliation"
- "discrimination"

The requested documents will be made available to the general public, and this request is not being made for commercial purposes.

In the event that there are fees, I would be grateful if you would inform me of the total charges in advance of fulfilling my request. I would prefer the request filled electronically, by e-mail attachment if available or CD-ROM if not.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated cooperation in this matter. I look forward to receiving your response to this request within 5 business days, as the statute requires.

Sincerely,

Niles Coalition

Murder at the Music Awards

Each year, pop stars all over the world wait eagerly for their nominations and subsequent invitations to the annual Smashed Hits Poll Winners Party.

As each nervous nominee arrives they are greeted by the evening's presenters, which tonight includes the famous Doug Beldof, the key organiser of the Elastoplast concert for famine relief in Ethiopia.

Tensions are high already, but then disaster strikes – Doug is found dead – in the toilets!

No job to weird!

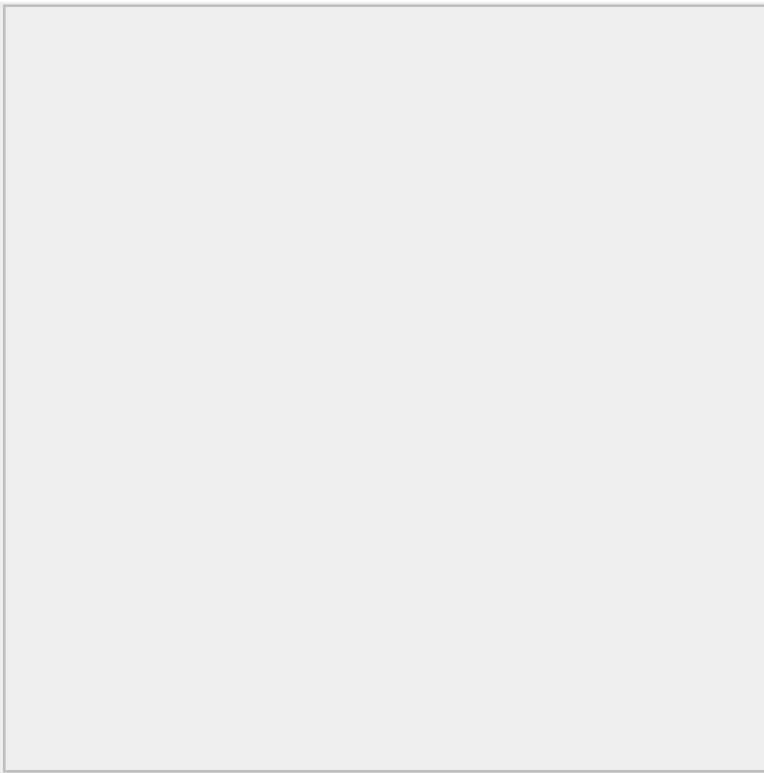

Our team at has extensive experience in creating custom games for the strangest of experiences. Whether you require a self-run murder mystery kit or full event management, we have the expertise and resources to make the big day a success.

We've created "proposal scenarios", with optional endings (yes or no)

Yup...we would NOT want to have been there if she'd said no... and supplying an ACME hole in the ground to swallow someone up wasn't in the budget... but we did provide a script solution for no!

We've created vintage wedding themes, Jonathan Creek theme, and killed of the bridal party (though that's not usually the recommended route!)

Our team will work closely with you to bring your vision to life, whether it's a traditional murder mystery dinner party or a more unconventional and interactive experience.

We've heard some interesting requests in the past, but we're always up for a challenge, we're here to help bring ideas to life and making the day as unique and memorable as possible.

Remember the Lockdown "Pub quiz"? It's back!

Hi Chrisann

If you joined us back in 2020 for all of our Lockdown "Pub Quiz" nights on Facebook - you'll be pleased to know we're reprising them starting TONIGHT!

Since January - Magnus (Jo's Husband) has joined the Cosykiller team at RHG HQ - and one of his first decisions as Cosykiller Manager? Bring back the Quiz!

(Secretly - I think he just likes shouting at the laptop and the excuse to drink a bottle of wine!)

Because Magnus is Cosykiller manager, the Quizzes have moved to our Cosykiller Facebook page, so if you're looking for it - you need to be on the right page!!

Details below! (And yes, Jo will be there too, telling him you can all hear him just fine, there's no need to shout, and drinking a bottle of doom bar... we've yet to find a sponsor for that particular vice...)

Also just an update on the Time Trap sponsorship - You'll be pleased to know the Kickstarter successfully funded yesterday (Whoop whoop!) so we transferred the money to the crowdfunder - which released the £5000 grant funding into the mix! Yeay!

But, we can ONLY keep that grant, if we raise the rest of the £10k sum by tomorrow -

so if you haven't already pledged - it's not too late and you can find the crowdfunder HERE. (If you live in driving distance, Jo is also offering to do a batch of ironing on this one... as well as the other super pledge options for those further away, including tickets to our "Easter Escape" so why not CHECK IT OUT

The quiz is free - and we look forward to seeing you all later!

JOINING DETAILS BELOW... make sure you can find the Facebook page OK!
