Globalization, Frack Action

Nature of the NoDAPL Threat

- The NoDAPL enterprise spanned far beyond the Cannonball River in North Dakota
- The Standing Rock Message was propagated across social media reaching a global audience
- Standing Rock “inspired” activists across the nation and the globe engaged in actions against all DAPL stakeholders no matter how attenuated the relationship (ODIN Mutual Fund, Norwegian Government Pension Fund, Wells Fargo, Société Générale, Bank of America . . .)
- Foreign Activists traveled to Standing Rock (Sami, Indigenous People of Norway, Palestinian Activists) to participate in the protest or organized protest in solidarity with Standing Rock
- Standing Rock Protestors achieved the high standard of having UN Human Rights Officials visit the protests in an effort to validate Human Rights abuse claims in addition to having ACLU Observers on site

Today's reality! #NoDAPL

- Construction is complex and challenging.
- Delays, changes, disputes, accidents cost more than ever.
- Owners don't have the expertise or the staff to stay on top
- Success demands collaboration... and leadership!

We're absolutely focused on keeping to time and keeping within costs because delays cost money.	We are carrying out a review of all the costs, not as a one-off, but as a continuing discipline. Delays cost money.

Fossil Fuel Protest Success

Tracking Fossil Fuel Project Cancellations Across the U.S.

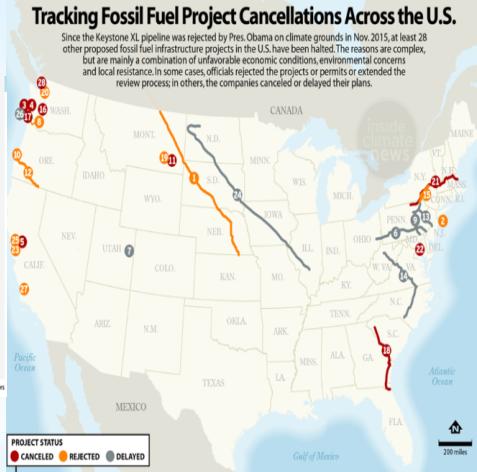

Since the Keystone XL pipeline was rejected by Pres. Obama on climate grounds in Nov. 2015, at least 28 other proposed fossil fuel infrastructure projects in the U.S. have been halted. The reasons are complex, but are mainly a combination of unfavorable economic conditions, environmental concerns, and local resistance. In some cases, officials rejected the projects or permits or extended the review process; in others, the companies canceled or delayed their plans.

ACP Summary

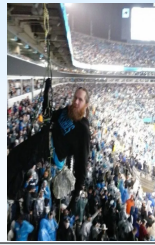

- ACP will meet the growing demand for NG in the Southern United States from the Marcellus and Utica Shale Plays
- Stakeholders: Dominion, Duke, Southern
- ACP's path will be heavily contested in Virginia and North Carolina
- The current Administration's support for Oil and Gas Infrastructure increases the likelihood of protest and sabotage activity because opposition groups do not feel they can achieve their goals through legal means
- Groups have learned from the NoKXL and NoDAPL movements and refined their techniques becoming more effective
- Opposition Groups will use the full range of Social Justice Issues against ACP (Native Rights, Environmental Issues, Corporate Greed, Corporate Racism. . .)
- Proposed ACP in-service date: November 2018

Opposition Overview

- No Stranger to Protest Opposition
 - Cove Point
 - Lockdowns
 - Hanging Banner in Bank of America Stadium
 - Blockades
 - Persistent Compliance Monitoring (We Are Cove Point / Earth Works Action using FLIR GF 320 Camera)

Break the Binary!
Each situation is different/always changing
Effective vs non-effective at the time
Consider context and possible outcomes

Movements contain both "violent" and "nonviolent" episodes

DIVERSITY OF TACTICS
Networking/communication can help maintain message, context, momentum

Each person and Affinity Group must decide for themselves

The Atlantic Coast Pipeline: Building a bubble that's burning

Building and then trying to use a pipeline to distribute gas is like building a bubble that's burning. The pipeline is a bubble that's burning. The pipeline is a bubble that's burning. The pipeline is a bubble that's burning.

We Must Stop the ACP - Or It Will Speed our Climate Crisis

A low-risk pipeline that increases our reliance on fossil natural gas would be disastrous for North Carolina and the global community.

North Carolinians Must Stop the Atlantic Coast Pipeline

North Carolinians must stop the Atlantic Coast Pipeline. North Carolinians must stop the Atlantic Coast Pipeline. North Carolinians must stop the Atlantic Coast Pipeline.

Tactics Should...

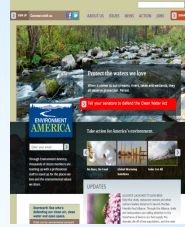

- Be focused on the decision makers
- Put power behind your specific demand
- Be outside the experience of your target
- Be within the experience of your members
- Meet your goals
- Have context

Detailed View of Opposition

Cherri Foytlin, Director of Bold Louisiana, was a speaker at an anti-Dominion rally in 2014 (though against their Cove Point site in this case). Dominion is known to face the same variety of protest/anarchist threats that the entire Oil and Gas industry share today.

Detailed View of Opposition

The Friends of Nelson organization commissioned this Nelson county report to counter the FERC filing presented by Dominion.

“Our review has discovered that, due to the reliance on this regional-based and publicly available information, many of the statements made in Dominion’s FERC filings represent gross generalities. Dominion has not adequately identified those soils and landforms that are prone to debris flows/landslides, nor have they adequately addressed how they plan to mitigate those site-specific hazards that can put people, property and water quality at extreme risk.”

Detailed View of Opposition

The 'No ACP' group joined the BREDL in FEB 2016. They have 1,856 followers on Facebook and are linked to disparate movements and generic resistance/anarchists such as Shaun King, disgraced BLM mouthpiece and recently of TYT.

Detailed View of Opposition

The 'No ACP' group posted this on their Facebook page, which suggests a true understanding of the liabilities possible to inflict upon Oil and Gas initiatives.

'Lone Wolf' Opposition

The Prezi program presentation pictured is the first of its kind we have seen.

Anonymously available to internet users, it serves to promote the Direct Action training model and educate. This is additional proof of concept that the Lone Wolf model which self-radicalizes 'Slacktivists' to become useful idiots in the cause.

The screenshot shows a Prezi presentation interface. The main content area displays a corkboard-style presentation titled "Intro To Direct Action". The central focus is a circular diagram with the text "What is Direct Action? How have we changed?". Surrounding this central node are various images, including protest photos and documents, connected by red lines. Below the main content area, there are navigation controls (back, forward, search) and social sharing options (Make a copy, Share, Embed, Like). The presentation is titled "NoACP Tactics & Intro to Direct Action" and is attributed to "Climate Action" on 9 March 2017. There are also options to view more presentations by Climate Action and Foundations of Informed Resistance.
