Article 31(1) of the Convention provides:

The contracting States shall not impose penalties, on account of their illegal entry or presence, on refugees, who, coming directly from a territory where their life or freedom was threatened. . . enter or are present in their territory without authorization, provided they present themselves without delay to the authorities and show good cause for their illegal entry or presence. Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees art. XXXI(1), at this point the CBP Agent tried to reinstate prior order and the time it read that the penalty was for 20 years so he did not sign any more documents. Need for interpreter or special consideration

If you do not speak English well or if you prefer to be interviewed in your own language, INS will provide an interpreter for the interview. The interpreter has been told to keep the information you discuss confidential. If the interpreter is not translating correctly or you do not feel comfortable with the interpreter, you may request another interpreter.

You may request a female officer and female interpreter, or a male officer and male interpreter, if this would make it easier for you to tell the asylum officer about information that is very personal or difficult to discuss. The INS will provide them if they are available. You will also have the opportunity to speak with the asylum officer separately from your family if you so desire.

Consequences of failure to establish reasonable fear and review of determination

If the asylum officer determines that you do not have a reasonable fear of persecution or torture, you may ask to have an immigration judge review that decision. If you do not request such review, you may be removed. If you request review, the immigration judge's review will be in person or by telephone or video connection. Normally, the review will happen within a few days. You may consult with your representative before the review by the immigration judge, provided it does not cause unreasonable delay. You will be given a copy of the asylum officer's record of determination prior to the review by the immigration judge. If any of the information is incorrect, you should notify the immigration judge. The immigration judge may decide that you do have a reasonable fear and that you are eligible hearing to apply for withholding or removal. If the immigration judge agrees with the determination that you do not have a reasonable fear of persecution or torture, you may be removed from the United States.

NOTICE OF FINAL SETTLEMENT INVOLVING DETAINED NON-CITIZENS
WHO ARE AWAITING A "REASONABLE FEAR DETERMINATION"

ALFARO GARCIA, ET AL. V. JOHNSON, ET AL., Case No. 4:14-cv-01775-YGR
IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

TO: All individuals who meet all of the following characteristics (collectively "the Class"):

- Are or will be subject to a reinstated order of removal under 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)(5) or an administrative removal order under 8 U.S.C. § 1228(b);
- Have expressed, or in the future express, a fear of returning to their country of removal;
- Are detained in the custody of the Department of Homeland Security ("DHS"); and
- Have not received, or do not receive, an initial reasonable fear determination by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services ("USCIS") under 8 C.F.R. § 208.31 within ten (10) days of referral to USCIS and still have not received a reasonable fear determination.

You are hereby notified that on October 27, 2015, the Honorable Yvonne Gonzalez Rogers of the United States District Court for the Northern District of California approved a settlement of the claims that were brought on your behalf in this lawsuit.

Background

This class action lawsuit alleges that the U.S. Government is failing to process, in a timely manner, claims to protection from removal from the United States based on a fear of persecution or torture, in violation of a binding federal regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 208.31(b), which requires a "reasonable fear determination" be made within ten days in the absence of exceptional circumstances. The parties have now reached a settlement that the Court has approved.

Description of Settlement Agreement

The following description is only a summary of the key points in the Settlement Agreement. Information on obtaining a copy of the full Agreement is provided after this summary.

1. ICE must make prompt referrals for reasonable fear determinations: U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement ("ICE") will refer an individual who qualifies for a reasonable fear determination to USCIS "immediately, as practicable." Within a year after the date of the Settlement Agreement, ICE will achieve a national average of no more than five (5) days for referrals and, at that time, the parties will meet and confer to establish a new, shorter benchmark for referrals. ICE will update any future published training guides or manuals addressing procedures for reinstatement of removal and/or administrative removal to include its obligations under the Settlement Agreement.

2. The USCIS Asylum Division must conduct reasonable fear determinations promptly and within a national average of ten days: By November 27, 2015, USCIS is obligated to achieve a national average of no more than ten (10) court days from the date of referral to complete reasonable fear determinations. In addition, USCIS will take no longer than twenty (20) court days from the date of referral to complete any individual reasonable fear

Purpose of this notice

The purpose of this notice is to explain what will happen while your case is being decided, what rights you have, and what may happen to you as a result of statements you make. It is important that you understand your rights and what will happen. PLEASE READ THIS NOTICE CAREFULLY.

You have been ordered removed because the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) has determined that you do not have the right to stay in the United States. You have indicated an intention to apply for withholding of removal, or have expressed a fear of persecution, torture, or return to your country. You will be interviewed by a specially trained asylum officer to determine if you have a "reasonable fear of persecution or torture." You may be detained both before and after the interview if the INS determines that it is appropriate to detain you.

Right to consult with other persons

Normally, you will receive an orientation by an asylum officer shortly after you are ordered removed. The asylum officer will explain the reasonable fear process to you, and will tell you when your interview is scheduled. Normally the interview is 48 hours after your orientation. You may use this time to find a lawyer or accredited representative who will represent you. If you need additional time, you should inform an INS officer. You may request that the interview take place sooner if you are prepared to discuss your fears or claim immediately.

You may consult with a lawyer or representative of your choosing, provided that such consultation is at no expense to the government and does not delay the process. Your representative can be present with you at your interview, or can participate by telephone. A list of representatives who may be able to speak to you free of charge is attached to this notice. You may use the telephone while you are in detention to call a representative, friend or family member in the United States, collect or at your own expense. If you wish to call someone, you may ask an INS officer for assistance. You also may contact the United States Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, at (202) 296-5191 from 9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. (eastern standard time), Monday through Friday.

Description of reasonable fear interview

The purpose of the reasonable fear interview is to determine whether you might be eligible to apply for withholding of removal or other protection before an immigration judge. This interview is not a formal withholding of removal hearing. It is only to help us determine whether you could be eligible for withholding of removal and should therefore be allowed to present your case before an immigration judge.

At your interview, you will have the opportunity to explain to the asylum officer why you think you should not be returned to your home country. If you want to apply for withholding of removal or think you will be harmed, persecuted or tortured if you return to your home country, you must show an asylum officer that you have a reasonable fear of being harmed or persecuted because of your race, religion, nationality, membership in a particular social group or political opinion, or that there is a reasonable possibility that you will be tortured. The officer will take written notes.

If the officer determines that you have a reasonable fear of persecution or torture in the country to which you have been ordered removed, you will be able to ask an immigration judge for withholding of removal or deferral of removal to that country, by completing a Form I-589 Application for Asylum and for Withholding of Removal and filing this with the Immigration Court.

It is very important that you tell the officer all the reasons why you have concerns about being removed to the country to which you have been ordered removed. United States law provides strict rules to prevent disclosure of what you tell an asylum officer about the reasons you fear harm. The information you provide about the reasons for your fear will not be disclosed to your government, except in exceptional circumstances.

It is also very important that you tell the truth during your interview. Although the purpose of this interview is not to gather evidence against you, failure to tell the truth could be used against you in this or in any future immigration proceeding.

Need for interpreter or special consideration

If you do not speak English well or if you prefer to be interviewed in your own language, INS will provide an interpreter for the interview. The interpreter has been told to keep the information you discuss confidential. If the interpreter is not translating correctly or you do not feel comfortable with the interpreter, you may request another interpreter.

You may request a female officer and female interpreter, or a male officer and male interpreter, if this would make it easier for you to tell the asylum officer about information that is very personal or difficult to discuss. The INS will provide them if they are available. You will also have the opportunity to speak with the asylum officer separately from your family if you so desire.

Consequences of failure to establish reasonable fear and review of determination

If the asylum officer determines that you do not have a reasonable fear of persecution or torture, you may ask to have an immigration judge review that decision. If you do not request such review, you may be removed. If you request review, the immigration judge's review will be in person or by telephone or video connection. Normally, the review will happen within a few days. You may consult with your representative before the review by the immigration judge, provided it does not cause unreasonable delay. You will be given a copy of the asylum officer's record of determination prior to the review by the immigration judge. If any of the information is incorrect, you should notify the immigration judge. The immigration judge may decide that you do have a reasonable fear and that you are eligible hearing to apply for withholding or removal. If the immigration judge agrees with the determination that you do not have a reasonable fear of persecution or torture, you may be removed from the United States.

Information about Reasonable Fear Interview

Purpose of this notice

The purpose of this notice is to explain what will happen while your case is being decided, what rights you have, and what may happen to you as a result of statements you make. It is important that you understand your rights and what will happen. PLEASE READ THIS NOTICE CAREFULLY.

You have been ordered removed because the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) has determined that you do not have the right to stay in the United States. You have indicated an intention to apply for withholding of removal, or have expressed a fear of persecution, torture, or return to your country. You will be interviewed by a specially trained asylum officer to determine if you have a "reasonable fear of persecution or torture." You may be detained both before and after the interview if the INS determines that it is appropriate to detain you.

Right to consult with other persons

Normally, you will receive an orientation by an asylum officer shortly after you are ordered removed. The asylum officer will explain the reasonable fear process to you, and will tell you when your interview is scheduled. Normally the interview is 48 hours after your orientation. You may use this time to find a lawyer or accredited representative who will represent you. If you need additional time, you should inform an INS officer. You may request that the interview take place sooner if you are prepared to discuss your fears or claim immediately.

You may consult with a lawyer or representative of your choosing, provided that such consultation is at no expense to the government and does not delay the process. Your representative can be present with you at your interview, or can participate by telephone. A list of representatives who may be able to speak to you free of charge is attached to this notice. You may use the telephone while you are in detention to call a representative, friend or family member in the United States, collect or at your own expense. If you wish to call someone, you may ask an INS officer for assistance. You also may contact the United States Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, at (202) 296-5191 from 9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. (eastern standard time), Monday through Friday.

Description of reasonable fear interview

The purpose of the reasonable fear interview is to determine whether you might be eligible to apply for withholding of removal or other protection before an immigration judge. This interview is not a formal withholding of removal hearing. It is only to help us determine whether you could be eligible for withholding of removal and should therefore be allowed to present your case before an immigration judge.

At your interview, you will have the opportunity to explain to the asylum officer why you think you should not be returned to your home country. If you want to apply for withholding of removal or think you will be harmed, persecuted or tortured if you return to your home country, you must show an asylum officer that you have a reasonable fear of being harmed or persecuted because of your race, religion, nationality, membership in a particular social group or political opinion, or that there is a reasonable possibility that you will be tortured. The officer will take written notes.

If the officer determines that you have a reasonable fear of persecution or torture in the country to which you have been ordered removed, you will be able to ask an immigration judge for withholding of removal or deferral of removal to that country, by completing a Form I-589 Application for Asylum and for Withholding of Removal and filing this with the Immigration Court.

It is very important that you tell the officer all the reasons why you have concerns about being removed to the country to which you have been ordered removed. United States law provides strict rules to prevent disclosure of what you tell an asylum officer about the reasons you fear harm. The information you provide about the reasons for your fear will not be disclosed to your government, except in exceptional circumstances.

It is also very important that you tell the truth during your interview. Although the purpose of this interview is not to gather evidence against you, failure to tell the truth could be used against you in this or in any future immigration proceeding.

Need for interpreter or special consideration

If you do not speak English well or if you prefer to be interviewed in your own language, INS will provide an interpreter for the interview. The interpreter has been told to keep the information you discuss confidential. If the interpreter is not translating correctly or you do not feel comfortable with the interpreter, you may request another interpreter.

You may request a female officer and female interpreter, or a male officer and male interpreter, if this would make it easier for you to tell the asylum officer about information that is very personal or difficult to discuss. The INS will provide them if they are available. You will also have the opportunity to speak with the asylum officer separately from your family if you so desire.

Consequences of failure to establish reasonable fear and review of determination

If the asylum officer determines that you do not have a reasonable fear of persecution or torture, you may ask to have an immigration judge review that decision. If you do not request such review, you may be removed. If you request review, the immigration judge's review will be in person or by telephone or video connection. Normally, the review will happen within a few days. You may consult with your representative before the review by the immigration judge, provided it does not cause unreasonable delay. You will be given a copy of the asylum officer's record of determination prior to the review by the immigration judge. If any of the information is incorrect, you should notify the immigration judge. The immigration judge may decide that you do have a reasonable fear and that you are eligible hearing to apply for withholding or removal. If the immigration judge agrees with the determination that you do not have a reasonable fear of persecution or torture, you may be removed from the United States.

Información sobre la entrevista relativa al temor razonable

Propósito de este aviso

El propósito de este aviso es explicar qué pasará mientras se resuelve su caso y qué puede ocurrirle como resultado de las declaraciones que haga. Es importante que entienda cuáles son sus derechos y qué pasará.

LEA ESTE AVISO DETENIDAMENTE

Se ha dado la orden de su deportación porque el Servicio de Inmigración y Naturalización de los EE.UU. (INS) considera que usted no tiene derecho a permanecer en los Estados Unidos. Usted ha indicado que tiene la intención de pedir que no sea deportado, o ha expresado su temor a la persecución, la tortura o el regreso a su país. Usted será entrevistado por un funcionario especialmente capacitado en cuestiones de asilo para determinar si su "temor de persecución o de tortura es razonable". Usted puede ser detenido antes y después de la entrevista si el INS decide que conviene detenerlo.

Derecho a consultar con otras personas

Generalmente, un funcionario de asuntos de asilo lo orientará poco después de su orden de deportación. Ese funcionario le explicará a usted el procedimiento de temor razonable y le dirá cuándo será entrevistado. La entrevista suele tener lugar después de que han transcurrido 48 horas a partir de la orientación. Usted puede dedicar ese tiempo para encontrar un abogado o un representante acreditado para que lo represente. Si necesita más tiempo, debe hacérselo saber a un funcionario del INS. Usted puede solicitar que la entrevista se haga antes si está preparado a hablar sobre sus temores o petición inmediatamente.

Usted puede consultar con un abogado o un representante de su elección, siempre y cuando esa consulta no corra por cuenta del gobierno y no atrase el procedimiento. Su representante puede estar con usted durante la entrevista, o puede participar por teléfono. Se adjunta a este aviso una lista de representantes que pueden hablar con usted sin cargo alguno. Durante su detención, usted puede telefonar a un representante, amigo o familiar en los Estados Unidos, con llamada a cobro revertido o pagada por usted. Si desea llamar a alguien, puede pedir ayuda a un funcionario del INS. Asimismo, usted puede comunicarse con la Oficina de los Estados Unidos del Alto Comisionado de las Naciones Unidas para los Refugiados al teléfono (202) 296-5191 de 9:00 a.m. a 5:00 p.m. (hora oficial del Este), de lunes a viernes.

Descripción de la entrevista relativa al temor razonable

El propósito de esta entrevista consiste en determinar si usted reúne o no los requisitos para pedir que no lo deporten o para otro tipo de protección ante un juez de inmigración. Esta entrevista no es una audiencia oficial para que no lo deporten. Simplemente nos ayuda a determinar si usted no tiene que ser deportado y, por consiguiente, permitirle que presente su caso ante un juez de inmigración.

Durante la entrevista, tendrá la oportunidad de explicar al funcionario de asuntos de asilo por qué usted considera que no debe ser deportado a su país de origen. Si usted desea pedir que no lo deporten o cree que le pueden hacer daño, perseguir o torturar si regresa a su país de origen, usted debe demostrar al funcionario de asuntos de asilo que es razonable su temor a que le hagan daño o lo persigan por su raza, religión, nacionalidad, afiliación a un grupo social en particular o por sus opiniones políticas, o que existe la posibilidad razonable de que sea torturado. El funcionario tomará notas por escrito.

Si el funcionario determina que es razonable su miedo a la persecución o la tortura en el país donde va a ser deportado, usted podrá pedir al juez de inmigración que no lo deporten o que pospongan su deportación a ese país, mediante el Formulario I-589 (Solicitud de Asilo y No Deportación) que deberá llenar y presentar ante el Tribunal de Inmigración.

Es muy importante que usted le diga al funcionario de asuntos de asilo por qué le preocupa la orden de deportación al país en cuestión. La ley estadounidense prohíbe estrictamente que se divulguen las razones que usted le haya dado al funcionario y por las cuales siente temor a que le hagan daño. La información que proporcione sobre las razones de su temor no se divulgarán a su gobierno, salvo en circunstancias excepcionales.

También es muy importante que diga la verdad durante su entrevista. Si bien el propósito de la entrevista no es el de obtener pruebas en su contra, el hecho de que no diga la verdad podría ser usado en su contra en este procedimiento de inmigración o en cualquier otro en el futuro.

Necesidad de intérprete o consideración especial

Si no habla bien inglés o si prefiere que lo entrevisten en su propio idioma, el INS pondrá a su disposición un intérprete durante la entrevista. El intérprete tiene instrucciones de tratar con carácter confidencial la información que usted proporcione. Si el intérprete no está interpretando correctamente o si usted no se siente a gusto con él, usted puede pedir otro intérprete.

Usted puede solicitar que el funcionario o el intérprete, o ambos, sean de sexo masculino o femenino, si con ello le sería más fácil dar al funcionario de asuntos de asilo información que es muy personal o difícil de abordar. El INS cumplirá con su pedido siempre y cuando haya personal disponible. Asimismo, usted tendrá la oportunidad de hablar con el funcionario de asuntos de asilo en privado, sin que su familia esté presente, si así lo desea.

Las consecuencias si no se establece que hay temor razonable y examen de la decisión

Si el funcionario de asuntos de asilo decide que su temor de persecución o tortura no es razonable, usted puede pedir que un juez de inmigración examine esa decisión. Si no pide ese examen, usted será deportado. Si pide que se examine el caso, el juez de inmigración lo hará personalmente o por teléfono o videoconexión. Generalmente, el examen tiene lugar en unos pocos días. Usted puede consultar con su representante antes de ese examen, siempre y cuando no produzca ningún atraso indebido. Usted recibirá una copia del registro de la decisión del funcionario de asuntos de asilo antes del examen que haga el juez de inmigración. Si parte de la información es incorrecta, usted debe notificar al juez de inmigración, quién puede decidir que en efecto su temor es razonable y que reúne los requisitos para una audiencia en la que solicitará que no lo deporten. Si el juez de inmigración está de acuerdo con la decisión de que su temor de persecución o tortura no es razonable, se le podrá deportar de los Estados Unidos.

Certificación del intérprete

El suscrito _____ (nombre del intérprete) certifica que domina el _____ y el inglés, que ha interpretado fielmente toda la información anterior del inglés al _____ y que el entrevistado parece haber entendido la interpretación.

Simply mailing the Form EOIR-26 within the time limit may not insure that the Form EOIR-26 is timely received by the Board.
3. You can get a Form EOIR-26 from any Immigration Court.
4. You must pay $110.00 fee when filing the Form EOIR-26 (except there is no fee for an appeal of an Immigration Judge=s bond decision). If you cannot afford this fee, you may apply for a fee waiver. In order to ask for a fee waiver, you must file along with your appeal, an Appeal Fee Waiver Request Form (EOIR-26A). Sólo enviar el formulario EOIR-26 dentro del plazo límite no asegurará que el Formulario EOIR-26 sea recibido a tiempo por la Junta.
3. Se puede obtener un Formulario EOIR-26 en cualquier Tribunal de Inmigración.
4. Deberá pagar una tarifa de $110.00 cuando entregue el Formulario EOIR-26 (excepto en caso de que la apelación de la decisión de un Juez de Inmigración sea sobre la fianza, donde no se cobra tarifa). Si usted no tiene dinero para la tarifa, puede solicitar una exención. Para solicitar una exención de pago de la tarifa, debe entregar, junto con su apelación, una Solicitud de Exención de la Tarifa de Apelación (Formulario EOIR-26). READ THIS BEFORE YOU TAKE LEGAL ADVICE

If you have a case in immigration court, only take legal advice from:

- ◆ a licensed attorney

An "attorney" is a person who has a valid license from a state to practice law.

- ◆ an accredited representative

An "accredited representative" is an individual who works with a recognized organization and has been given permission by the United States Government to help people in immigration court. A "recognized organization" is a nonprofit, religious, charitable, social service, or similar organization that has been given permission by the United States Government to help people in immigration court.

If someone claims to be an attorney and you want to know if that person is allowed to represent you in immigration court:

- ◆ Ask in what state(s) he or she is licensed to practice law.
- ◆ Call the office that licenses attorneys in that state (this is usually the "state bar association" or the supreme court of that state) and ask that office if the attorney has a bar number and is in "good standing."
- ◆ Go to the EOIR Web site at www.justice.gov/eoir. Click on "Find Legal Representation," then click on "List of Attorneys and Representatives who are currently Ineligible to Practice Immigration Law" to find out who is not permitted to represent you in immigration court.

If someone claims to be an accredited representative and you want to know if that person is allowed to represent you in immigration court, go to the EOIR Web site at www.justice.gov/eoir. Click on "Find Legal Representation," click "Recognition and Accreditation Program," and then select "Accredited Representatives List," or call (703) 305-9029 for information.

If you think you have been a victim of immigration fraud, contact the EOIR Fraud and Abuse Prevention Program at: EOIR.Fraud.Program@usdoj.gov or (703) 305-0470.

NOTICE OF FINAL SETTLEMENT INVOLVING DETAINED NON-CITIZENS
WHO ARE AWAITING A "REASONABLE FEAR DETERMINATION"

ALFARO GARCIA, ET AL. V. JOHNSON, ET AL., Case No. 4:14-cv-01775-YGR
IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

TO: All individuals who meet all of the following characteristics (collectively "the Class"):

- Are or will be subject to a reinstated order of removal under 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)(5) or an administrative removal order under 8 U.S.C. § 1228(b);
- Have expressed, or in the future express, a fear of returning to their country of removal;
- Are detained in the custody of the Department of Homeland Security ("DHS"); and
- Have not received, or do not receive, an initial reasonable fear determination by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services ("USCIS") under 8 C.F.R. § 208.31 within ten (10) days of referral to USCIS and still have not received a reasonable fear determination.

You are hereby notified that on October 27, 2015, the Honorable Yvonne Gonzalez Rogers of the United States District Court for the Northern District of California approved a settlement of the claims that were brought on your behalf in this lawsuit.

Background

This class action lawsuit alleges that the U.S. Government is failing to process, in a timely manner, claims to protection from removal from the United States based on a fear of persecution or torture, in violation of a binding federal regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 208.31(b), which requires a "reasonable fear determination" be made within ten days in the absence of exceptional circumstances. The parties have now reached a settlement that the Court has approved.

Description of Settlement Agreement

The following description is only a summary of the key points in the Settlement Agreement. Information on obtaining a copy of the full Agreement is provided after this summary.

1. ICE must make prompt referrals for reasonable fear determinations: U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement ("ICE") will refer an individual who qualifies for a reasonable fear determination to USCIS "immediately, as practicable." Within a year after the date of the Settlement Agreement, ICE will achieve a national average of no more than five (5) days for referrals and, at that time, the parties will meet and confer to establish a new, shorter benchmark for referrals. ICE will update any future published training guides or manuals addressing procedures for reinstatement of removal and/or administrative removal to include its obligations under the Settlement Agreement.

2. The USCIS Asylum Division must conduct reasonable fear determinations promptly and within a national average of ten days: By November 27, 2015, USCIS is obligated to achieve a national average of no more than ten (10) court days from the date of referral to complete reasonable fear determinations. In addition, USCIS will take no longer than twenty (20) court days from the date of referral to complete any individual reasonable fear determination and, if USCIS fails to complete any reasonable fear determination within twenty (20) court days from the date of referral, it will notify Class Counsel.

3. The time periods can be extended in certain circumstances: The period for calculating the relevant time period for completion of the reasonable fear determination begins on the date of a “proper” referral from ICE to USCIS and ends on the date that USCIS makes the reasonable fear determination and serves it upon the Class Member. The determination period shall be “tolled” (which means it will be extended but the extension will not count toward calculation of the average time period in paragraph 2 above) when an individual (or his or her representative) requests additional time to prepare for the interview. The tolling period will be limited to the time requested by the individual (or his or her representative) and agreed to by USCIS or a default period of no longer than ten (10) court days. The determination period can also be tolled if an individual refuses to participate in the reasonable fear interview or accept service of the determination. The determination period can also be tolled for “exceptional circumstances,” which do not include “unusual but reasonably foreseeable circumstances.”

4. The government must regularly report information about whether it is meeting the requirements of the agreement: To facilitate monitoring of the Government’s compliance with the prescribed timing requirements, the Government must make best efforts to produce regular reports with data on referrals, and will produce reports on reasonable fear determinations to Class Counsel and permit Class Counsel to access a sample of class members’ files. If the Government achieves certain benchmarks after one (1) year, reporting will thereafter be required only on a quarterly basis. If, at the end of three (3) years, the Government has achieved all benchmarks, the government can seek an early termination of the five (5)-year Agreement.

5. The Court can enforce the agreement if there are any violations: The Court will retain jurisdiction to enforce the terms of the Settlement Agreement.

6. Attorneys’ fees and costs: The Government will pay Class Counsel reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs in the amount of $327,047.66.

7. Release of claims: Class Members will release the Government from all claims that were asserted on behalf of the Class arising from or related to the facts and circumstances alleged in the lawsuit.

Notice to Alien of Interview for Review of Custody Status

U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) periodically reviews the custody status of detained aliens who have final orders of removal, deportation, or exclusion. You are required to cooperate with ICE in effecting your removal from the United States.

In determining whether you may be recommended for release, ICE will consider whether there is a significant likelihood of your removal in the reasonably foreseeable future, and whether you pose a danger to the community or pose a risk of flight.

You will be interviewed for this purpose and you are scheduled to appear for this interview on: 10/18/2022 at: TBD, at LaSalle ICE Processing Center to discuss whether or not you will be recommended for release. If you wish for additional time to prepare for the interview, you may request that the interview date be postponed. If the hearing is rescheduled at your request, you waive the right to have the interview prior to the date that jurisdiction over your custody status shifts to the Enforcement and Removal Operations Removal Division under 8 C.F.R. § 241.4(c)(2).

In determining whether you may be released, ICE may consider, but is not limited to considering the following:

1. Whether your removal is significantly likely in the reasonably foreseeable future;
2. Criminal convictions and criminal conduct;
3. Other criminal history and immigration history;
4. Sentence(s) imposed and time actually served;
5. History of escapes, failures to appear for judicial or other proceedings, and other defaults;
6. Probation history;
7. Disciplinary problems while incarcerated;
8. Evidence of rehabilitative effort or recidivism;
9. Equities in the United States;
10. Cooperation in obtaining your travel document; and
11. Any available mental health reports.

You are required to complete the information on the following page. You will be notified of the decision in your case when the custody review has been concluded.

Decision to Continue Detention

This letter is to inform you that your custody status has been reviewed, and it has been determined that you will not be released from the custody of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) at this time. This decision has been made based on a review of your file, consideration of the information you submitted to ICE's reviewing officials on August 4, 2022, and upon review of the factors for consideration set forth at 8 C.F.R. § 241.4(e), (f), and (g).

As explained below, after such review, ICE has determined to maintain your custody because:

You have not demonstrated that, if released, you will not:

Pose a significant risk of flight pending your removal from the United States.

Pose a significant risk to public safety.

ICE has made such determination based upon: case history, for continued detention pursuant to 8 CFR 241.4(e),(f), (g). (flight risk).

Based on the above, you are to remain in ICE custody pending your removal from the United States as ICE is unable to conclude that the factors set forth at 8 C.F.R. § 241.4(e) have been satisfied. You are advised that you must demonstrate that you are making reasonable efforts to comply with the order of removal and that you are cooperating with ICE's efforts to remove you by taking whatever actions ICE requests to affect your removal. You are also advised that any willful failure or refusal on your part to make timely application in good faith for travel or other documents necessary for your departure, or any conspiracy or actions to prevent your removal or obstruct the issuance of a travel document, may subject you to criminal prosecution under 8 U.S.C. § 1253(a).

If you have not been released or removed from the United States at the expiration of the three-month period after this 90-day review, jurisdiction of the custody decision in your case will be transferred to the ICE Headquarters (ERO Removal Division), Potomac Center North, 500 12th Street SW, Washington, DC 20536. The ERO Removal Division will thereafter conduct a custody review and will make a determination regarding whether you will continue to be detained pending removal or may be released.

Decision to Continue Detention

will be deemed to have waived its completion prior to jurisdiction over your case transferring to the ERO Removal Division.

You will be notified of the decision in your case when the custody review has been concluded by the ERO Removal Division.

CENTRAL LOUISIANA ICE PROC CTR

We are writing to inform you of an unintentional information disclosure that occurred on November 28, 2022. On that date, a document was mistakenly posted on Immigration and Customs Enforcement's (ICE) public-facing website, ICE.gov, that included limited information on some individuals in ICE custody. Specifically, the document contained names, A-numbers, dates of birth, countries of citizenship, detention facility names, and other immigration information, including credible or reasonable fear decisions associated with each case. Unfortunately, ICE's review has determined that your information was included in the document.

After learning of this incident on the same day it occurred, ICE immediately removed the document from its website and began working to secure the information and notify everyone who was impacted. In addition to letting you know what happened, ICE is taking proactive steps to protect your privacy, including online monitoring for potential re-posting of the document and identifying parties who may have accessed it while it was briefly online. Once this review is complete, ICE will request confirmation from anyone who downloaded the document that they have destroyed it and will not further share it.

Additionally, because the disclosure violated confidentiality obligations under 8 C.F.R. § 208.6 by revealing that you sought protection in the United States, if you are currently subject to a final order of removal, ICE will delay your removal for 30 days. This delay is intended to allow you to determine what actions you wish to take, including consulting with an attorney.

While ICE recognizes that some individuals going through the immigration process already have legal representation, ICE is including a list of free or low-cost legal representatives along with this letter to help those who do not. If you already have an attorney on file with ICE, we will send them a copy of this letter.

ICE deeply regrets that this error occurred and will continue to work to protect the privacy of everyone who was impacted, as well as to prevent similar incidents from happening in the future.

If you have further questions or concerns about this incident, please contact your assigned ICE Enforcement Removal Operations case officer for assistance.

Notice for Detained Noncitizens Impacted by the Accidental Information Disclosure on November 28, 2022: Form to opt Out of Delayed Removal

Overview: U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) has decided to delay removal from the United States for 30 days for noncitizens with a final order of removal who were impacted by the inadvertent information disclosure on November 28, 2022. This delay is intended to allow such noncitizens time to consult with a legal representative and/or take additional actions related to their case in light of the information disclosure.

Those who are currently detained in ICE custody will not be removed from the country during this time period. Because you have been identified as an individual whose information was inadvertently disclosed, absent action on your part, your removal will not take place for at least 30 days. However, should you NOT wish to have your removal delayed, you may ask that ICE proceed with arranging your removal by signing the form below. You may take time to review your options and may sign this letter waiving a delay in removal at any time in the next 30 days.

Instructions: The letter explaining the inadvertent disclosure must be given to the noncitizen at the same time as this form. The information on this page must be read to the noncitizen in a language that he/she understands.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE

DISTRICT FILE NO.

A. R. No. [REDACTED]

DATE February 24 1988

ORDER OF RELEASE ON RECOGNIZANCE

In the case of ROCHA-Quadra, Ernesto who has been arrested in deportation proceedings.

It appearing that said alien may be conditionally released as provided in Section 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, it is hereby ordered that such alien be released on his own recognizance and permitted to be and remain at large during compliance with the following conditions:

1. That said alien shall produce himself when required to do so for the purpose of defending himself against the charge or charges under which he was taken into custody and any other charge which subsequently may be lodged against him;
2. That said alien shall produce himself for furnishing additional information or for deportation when requested to do so after a final order of deportation has been entered;
- 3a. That said alien shall not change (his) (~~her~~) place of residence from California
(Immigration district, State or city) without first securing written permission of the Officer in Charge of the Immigration and Naturalization Service at the address shown in (4) at least 48 hours prior to such contemplated change.
- 3b. That said alien shall notify the Officer in Charge of the Immigration and Naturalization Service at the address shown in (4) hereof of any change in residence or employment within 48 hours after change is made.
4. That said alien shall report in (~~writing~~) (person) on the First day of each month at 9:00 (a. m.) (~~p. m.~~) to the Officer in Charge of the Immigration
(Week) (Month) and Naturalization Service at 630 Sansome St., San Francisco, CA

The written report shall contain (a) the name, (b) alien registration number, (c) date, (d) current address, (e) place of employment, (f)

5. That said alien shall conduct himself in a peaceable, law-abiding manner.

Once the alien has an administratively final order of removal (i.e., an unappealed order of removal by an immigration judge or an order of removal by the Board of Immigration Appeals), the removal period begins. See INA 241(a)(1)(B)(i). 2. Once the removal period begins, the alien is subject to mandatory detention pursuant to INA 241(a)(2). If the alien delays his removal (e.g., by failing to make timely application for travel documents), the removal period is extended beyond 90 days. See INA 241(a)(1)(C). The INS must continue to detain the alien during this extended removal period pursuant to INA 241(a)(2) (which mandates detention even though INA 241(a)(1)(C) permits release for other aliens during the extended removal period).

If the alien seeks judicial review (whether or not barred from doing so by INA 242(a)(2)(C)), the removal period continues to run for a period of 90 days from the date of the final administrative order. However, if the court has issued a stay of the alien's removal (or if the alien has filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, in which case the INS accepts a stay automatically), the court's final order on the petition, if adverse to the alien, will trigger a new 90-day removal period. See INA 241(a)(1)(A), 241(a)(1)(B)(ii). During the second removal period, the alien is once again subject to mandatory detention under 241(a)(2).

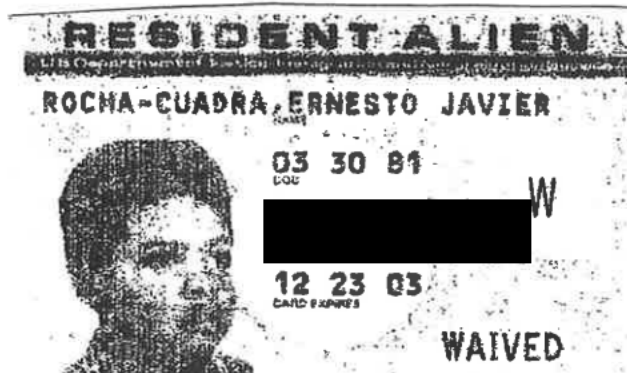

If the INS has not removed the alien during the initial removal period, it may continue to detain him, as a criminal or a terrorist, pursuant to INA 241(a)(6), or it may release him under an order of supervision pending removal pursuant to INA 241(a)(3). 3. INA Sections 241(a)(6) and 241(a)(3) also apply to an alien who has not been removed by the expiration of any second removal period.

Should you have any questions, please contact Deputy General Counsel David Dixon or Associate General Counsel Arthur Strathern at (202) 514-2895.

I told you it was only me doing all the paperwork for a few days so it took me a little longer to get around to everything. I also forgot to make a copy and bring it back to you. The original is with your officer and I do not have a copy.
