National's 100 Day Action Plan

National has a plan to get New Zealand back on track. In our first 100 days we will start rebuilding the economy to reduce the cost of living, restore law and order to make our communities safer, improve our healthcare and schools, and deliver better housing and infrastructure.

National's first actions to rebuild the economy and reduce the cost of living

- Introduce legislation to remove the Auckland Regional Fuel Tax which adds 11.5 cents per litre of petrol, or $7.70 for a full tank.
- Cancel Labour's planned fuel tax hikes which would add another 12 cents per litre of petrol, or an extra $8 for a full tank.
- Repeal Labour's Ute Tax by 31 Dec 2023.
- Stop all work on Labour's Jobs Tax (Income Insurance Scheme).
- Introduce legislation to remove the Reserve Bank's dual mandate to get the Bank focused on putting the lid back on inflation.
- Instruct public sector Chief Executives to begin reducing consultant and contractor expenditure, and to report on current spending within 100 days.
- Start reducing public sector expenditure by 6.5% on average by requiring Chief Executives to identify back-office spending not critical to frontline services.
- Establish a permanent Rural Regulation Review Panel to assess all regulations affecting the primary sector and propose solutions to cut red tape.
- Introduce legislation to restore 90-day trial periods for all businesses.
- Repeal Labour's "Fair Pay" legislation.

National's first actions to restore law and order

- Introduce legislation to ban gang patches, stop gang members gathering in public, and stop known gang offenders from communicating with one another.
- Give police greater powers to search gang members for firearms and make gang membership an aggravating factor at sentencing.
- Stop taxpayer funding for section 27 cultural reports.
- Introduce legislation to extend the eligibility for remand prisoners to access rehabilitation programmes.
- Introduce legislation to crack down on serious youth offending.
- Introduce legislation to enable more virtual participation in court proceedings.

National's first actions to improve health and education

- Set five major targets for the health system, including for wait times and cancer treatment.
- Improve hospital emergency department health workforce security.
- Introduce legislation to disestablish the Māori Health Authority.
- Introduce legislation to extend free breast cancer screening for those aged up to 74 years.
- Sign an MOU with Waikato University to progress a third medical school.
- Require primary and intermediate schools to teach one hour a day each of reading, writing and maths starting in 2024.
- Appoint an Expert Group to redesign the English and maths curricula for primary school students.
- Ban the use of cellphones in schools.
- Begin disestablishing the Te Pūkenga polytech mega-merger and restoring local decision-making.

National's first actions to deliver better housing and infrastructure

- Meet with Councils and communities to establish regional requirements for recovery from Cyclone Gabrielle and other recent major flooding events.
- Make any additional Orders in Council needed to remove red tape to speed up cyclone and flood recovery efforts.
- Begin work on establishing a National Infrastructure Agency.
- Issue a draft new Government Policy Statement on Transport reflecting National's new Roads of National Significance and public transport projects.
- Stop Labour's blanket speed limit reductions and start work on replacing the Land Transport Rule: Setting of Speed Limits 2022.
- Withdraw central government from Labour's failed Let's Get Wellington Moving programme.
- Cancel Labour's Auckland Light Rail project.
- Begin work on National's Going for Housing Growth policy, to expand housing supply, build infrastructure and give councils flexibility over MDRS standards.
- Repeal Labour's Three Waters legislation.
- Repeal Labour's RMA 2.0 legislation and introduce a fast-track consenting regime.
- Begin the Kāinga Ora clean-up by commissioning an independent review into the organisation's financial situation, procurement, and asset management.
- Establish a priority one category on the social housing waitlist to move families out of emergency housing and into permanent homes faster.
- Begin efforts to double renewable energy production, including work to issue a National Policy Statement for Renewable Electricity Generation.
- Stop work on Labour's Lake Onslow pumped hydro scheme.
- Introduce legislation mandating approval of building materials and product systems meeting international standards equivalent to New Zealand's.
- Amend the Overseas Investment Act 2005 to make it easier for Build-to-Rent housing to be developed in New Zealand.
