CASE NO.

23SC188947

STATE'S MOTION TO REVOKE BOND CONCERNING DEFENDANT HARRISON WILLIAM PRESCOTT FLOYD

COMES NOW, the State of Georgia, by and through Fulton County District Attorney Fani T. Willis, and requests that this Court enter an order revoking the bond previously granted to Defendant Harrison William Prescott Floyd and in support says as follows:

1. On August 14, 2023, a Fulton County grand jury returned an indictment charging the Defendant with Violation of the Georgia RICO (Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations) Act in violation of O.C.G.A. § 16-14-4(c), Conspiracy to Commit Solicitation of False Statements and Writings in violation of O.C.G.A. §§ 16-4-8, 16-4-7, & 16-10-20, and Influencing Witnesses in violation of O.C.G.A. § 16-10-93(b)(1)(A). On August 24, 2023, the Defendant surrendered to the Fulton County Jail, prior to bond being set, and was booked in pursuant to a grand jury warrant.

2. On August 29, 2023, the Court entered a consent bond order, See Exhibit A, “Consent Bond Order,” setting bail and ordering the Defendant to comply with certain conditions of release, including, without limitation, the following:
 - a. The Defendant shall perform no act to intimidate any person known to him to be a codefendant or witness in this case or to otherwise obstruct the administration of justice.
 - b. The Defendant shall not communicate in any way, directly or indirectly, about the facts of this case with any person known to him or her to be a codefendant in this case except through his or her counsel.
 - c. The Defendant shall not communicate in any way, directly or indirectly, about the facts of this case with any person known to him or her to be a witness in this case except through his or her counsel.
3. Since his release from custody, the Defendant has engaged in numerous intentional and flagrant violations of the conditions of release ordered by the Court.
4. Since November 1, 2023, the Defendant has publicly tweeted multiple times from the Twitter account @hw_floyd in an effort to intimidate codefendants and witnesses, to communicate directly and indirectly with codefendants and witnesses, and to otherwise obstruct the administration of justice. The Defendant’s Twitter account has approximately 25,000 followers who can view his public tweets.

5. On November 1, 2023, the Defendant tweeted the following to witnesses Brad Raffensperger and Gabriel Sterling and tagged their Twitter accounts, which constituted an act to intimidate known witnesses and direct communication with known witnesses about the facts of the case, in violation of conditions of release:

6. On November 6, 2023, the Defendant participated in a video-recorded and widely disseminated interview on the Conservative Daily podcast. During the interview, the Defendant discussed the facts of this case and communicated indirectly to codefendant and witness Jenna Ellis by discussing her guilty plea, in violation of conditions of release. The Defendant stated the following:

President Trump was underserved by people like her. People who would go into the Oval Office and tell him one thing and then behind his back they would do another ... I'm not a lawyer. I'm not a Harvard J.D. But guess who is? Jenna Ellis, right. She literally, if she truly believed everything that she was saying, she could have defended her own self. She didn't need a quarter of a million dollars of people's hard-earned money to be raised offline. You know? And it doesn't take a quarter of a million dollars to accept a plea deal either. Or to deny one. Ok? So she just showed who she really is.

7. In addition to participating in the above referenced interview, on November 6, 2023, the Defendant tweeted the following link to the interview to amplify its viewership:

8. On November 7, 2023, the Defendant tweeted the following to witnesses Brad Raffensperger and Gabriel Sterling and tagged their Twitter accounts, which constituted an act to intimidate known witnesses and direct communication with known witnesses about the facts of the case, in violation of conditions of release:

9. On November 7, 2023, the Defendant tweeted the following to witnesses Brad Raffensperger and Gabriel Sterling and tagged their Twitter accounts, which constituted an act to intimidate known witnesses and direct communication with known witnesses about the facts of the case, in violation of conditions of release:

10. On November 8, 2023, the Defendant tweeted the following to witness Brad Raffensperger and tagged his Twitter account, which constituted an act to intimidate a known witness and direct communication with a known witness about the facts of the case, in violation of conditions of release:

11. On November 13, 2023, the Defendant tweeted the following to codefendant and witness Jenna Ellis and to witness Dan Scavino and tagged their Twitter accounts, which constituted an act to intimidate a known codefendant and witnesses and direct communication with a known codefendant and witnesses about the facts of the case, in violation of conditions of release:

Wow @JennaEllisEsq . You're a whole mess girl !

So, you didnt stop at stealing peoples hard earned money for your "Defense."You're also lying on @DanScavino !?!

I guess they don't teach ethics at Harvard Law anymore. 🧑

12. On November 13, 2023, the Defendant tweeted the following about codefendants and witnesses Jenna Ellis and Sidney Powell, which constituted an act to intimidate known codefendants and witnesses and indirect communication with known codefendants and witnesses about the facts of the case, in violation of conditions of release:

13. On November 14, 2023, the Defendant tweeted the following about witness Ruby Freeman, which constituted an act to intimidate a known witness and indirect communication with a known witness about the facts of the case, in violation of conditions of release:

14. Approximately one hour later, the Defendant posted a comment that stated, “So this begs the question ... If Ruby Freeman didn't trust White people to help her What did she say to the black people that offered to help her? I'll wait for you to get your 🎁 .” This constituted an act to intimidate a known witness and indirect communication with a known witness about the facts of the case, in violation of conditions of release.

15. On November 14, 2023, the Defendant tweeted the following about witness Ruby Freeman, which constituted an act to intimidate a known witness and indirect communication with a known witness about the facts of the case, in violation of conditions of release:

Yesterday the Fulton County DA's office leaked proffer videos and now they are trying to blame my team in order to get a protective order.

Look @FaniforDA if I was going to leak something , it wouldn't be Sidney Powell or Jenna Ellis.

It would be this

21. On November 14, 2023, the Defendant tweeted the following about witness Ruby Freeman, which constituted an act to intimidate a known witness and indirect communication with a known witness about the facts of the case, in violation of conditions of release:

22. As detailed in paragraphs 13-21 above, witness Ruby Freeman has been a frequent target of the Defendant’s intimidating communications. In Count 31 of the indictment, the Defendant is charged with Influencing Witnesses in violation of O.C.G.A. § 16-10-93(b)(1)(A) involving witness Ruby Freeman herself. Because of and in response to the Defendant's intimidating communications, witness Ruby Freeman has been the subject of renewed threats of violence from third parties.

23. As set forth above, since his release from custody, the Defendant has engaged in a pattern of intimidation toward known codefendants and witnesses, direct and indirect communication about the facts of this case to known codefendants and witnesses, and obstruction of the administration of justice in direct violation of this Court's order.
24. Moreover, the Defendant's actions demonstrate that he poses a significant threat of intimidating witnesses and otherwise obstructing the administration of justice in the future, making him ineligible for bond. Ayala v. State, 262 Ga. 704, 705 (1993).
25. Accordingly, the State requests that this Court enter an order revoking the bond previously granted to Defendant Harrison William Prescott Floyd.
