Dear Rebecca:

I have decided NOT to narrow my request. However, I hereby ask that rather than waiting until all of the documents/records have been processed for release to send them to me, that they be released in stages. That is, as the documents/records are reviewed and determined to be releasable that they be promptly sent to me rather than sending them all at once.

Thank you

Subject: FBI FOIA request# 1337577 (Roger Moore/Operation Punchout)

Good afternoon Mr. Trentadue,

I'm contacting you about the FOIA request you made for records concerning Roger Moore/Operation Punchout. As you probably recall, the FBI located approximately 30,000 pages that are potentially responsive to your request. I just wanted to let you know about the potential waiting time for a request of this size. Once requests go over a certain size, usually in the 50-100 page range, they become increasingly complex, greatly slowing down the time required for processing. Generally the larger the file, the longer it takes to process. Given our current workload and staffing levels, it may be a very long time before you would begin to receive material from this request.

We contact folks with requests of this size to see if there might be a way to possibly narrow the scope of the request. Is this something you might be willing to consider? I can help you decide how to reduce the scope. We can narrow the request by date, or if you are looking for something specific, we can approach it that way.

Please let me know how you would like to proceed. I can be reached at 540-868-1695, Monday – Friday from 7:00 am until 3:30 pm, Eastern time, or you can reply to this email if you prefer.

Thanks much,

Becki
