Subject: Ministerial Call on CGL Today

Here is the agenda and suggested TPs for the Minister.

Agenda:

1. Introduction - Min Blair

2. Roundtable

- a. Overall Situational Update - Min Mendocino
- b. Overview of discussions with CGL/ TC Energy - Min Wilkinson
- c. Overview of discussions with Indigenous Leadership - Min Miller / Min Hajdu
- d. BC Provincial Views - Min Leblanc
- e. Legal Update - Min Lametti
- f. Transport Update - Min Alghabra

3. Next Steps

Situational Update for Minister Mendocino to provide:

- Let me start our discussion by providing the essence of the facts on the ground at the present time.
- The CGL pipeline project involves crossing the Morice River on the territory of hereditary Wet'suwet'en Chief Woos.
- Protestors allied with Chief Woos, [REDACTED] and other sympathizers, have massed in the area and voiced an intent to prevent the construction of the pipeline. The overall number of protestors is uncertain.
- The protestors are preventing work from beginning on a tunnel for the pipeline under the river, which the CGL project schedule requires be done during the winter months.
- CGL has a BC Supreme Court injunction to permit work to proceed and has become very concerned with the obstruction, but the RCMP, who are the contract police in BC, have not yet moved to enforce it.
- The RCMP would strongly prefer to have negotiated solution as they expect that any enforcement action will be violent.
- To date, both CGL and the province have not been successful in engaging Chief Woos in dialogue.

s.16(1)(c)

- There are currently 527 people in CGL work camps at the end of the Morice River Forest Road, supplied by the road with food, water and sewage services.
- Last weekend, following receipt of a letter to Chief Woos from CGL that signaled a firm intent to proceed with the project, the protestors blockaded the Morice River Forest Road.
- The blockades cover some 24 kilometers of the road, from kilometer 39 to 63, and access has been cut off from kilometer 29.
- The blockades involve large trees felled across the road, as well as likely other trees notched to fall in the event of enforcement action.
- In addition, the protestors have stolen a CGL excavator [REDACTED] indicates that they have dug up the road and damaged a bridge at kilometer 44.
- The safety and wellbeing of the CGL workers threatened, as we understand that there is a very limited amount of time before there are crucial shortages of supplies at the work camps.
- Speaking to my counterpart, Solicitor General Mike Farnworth two days ago, it was clear that the province has lost patience with the situation.
- A statement was released that noted that the CGL workers and good faith commitments of the Office of the Wet'suwet'en have been put at risk, and calling for de-escalation and a peaceful resolution.
- While Minister Farnworth agreed that a negotiated solution is by far the best approach, he was pessimistic about bringing the protestors to the table.
- A key prior condition of any dialogue must be that the Morice River Forest Road is allowed to be reopened.
- In the meantime, BC is supporting RCMP preparation to enforce the injunction, although operational decisions rest with the RCMP.
- It is not clear how long it will take the RCMP to bring in enough resources to ensure success in any enforcement action – [REDACTED]
- This is clearly a matter of great urgency, with significant risks of echo protests occurring elsewhere in the country if enforcement is undertaken.

Update on rescue and enforcement operation near Houston, BC

Police enforcement of the injunction order granted to Coastal GasLink began earlier this morning, on Thursday, November 18, 2021 in an effort to rescue hundreds of workers who have been blocked in their camp by contemnors.

On arrival at the 44 kilometre mark of the Morice Forest Service Road, officers discovered considerable damage had been done to the Lamprey Creek Bridge with both ends and the footings dug out. An overturned vehicle covered in debris and concrete had been placed at the east side of the bridge, and a bulldozer was partially buried in a dug out trench at the west side of the bridge. A decommissioned excavator was also blocking the road beyond the west side of the bridge.

After an assessment of the bridge, it was deemed structurally safe for passage and the police team proceeded through.

Police encountered two elderly individuals who advised they were having medical concerns related to heart issues. They were assessed by on-site Emergency Health Services (EHS), who transported them out of the area as a precaution.

One vehicle was lit on fire and one decommissioned excavator was placed at the 62 kilometre mark of the Morice Forest Service Road. Those have been cleared off the roadway, which was opened to CGL who were able to provide relief supply to their workers.

A total of 14 individuals were arrested today for breaching the injunction. They were transported to the Houston RCMP Detachment for processing and will be held in custody to appear before the BC Supreme Court tomorrow on Friday, November 19, 2021.

“Today’s enforcement was dictated by the actions taken by protesters that blocked the Morice River Forest Service Road that jeopardized the safety and wellness of hundreds of people whose provisions were at critical levels,” says Assistant Commissioner Eric Stubbs, Officer in Charge of Criminal Operations – Core Policing. “We have made significant efforts to facilitate meaningful dialogue between all stakeholders, and specifically with the group opposing this pipeline project, to no avail. It was no longer possible to delay our efforts to rescue the workers. As such, our enforcement operation had to proceed immediately.”

There are a number of allegations circulating online that the RCMP are preventing food and medical supplies to be brought in to the Healing Centre or to individuals at the various protest camps established in the corridor, and that we are not permitting Hereditary Chiefs and Elders to cross the Access Control Point (ACP) at the 27.5 kilometre mark of the Morice Forest Service Road. These claims are completely false. Medical supplies and food items can be dropped off at the Access Control Point and individuals may arrange for them to be picked up by others already on the other side of the ACP. Anyone wishing to travel through the ACP will be assessed based on their requirement, and at the discretion of the officers stationed at the ACP in consultation with the commanders in charge of the operation as well as the Division Liaison Team.

Police officers are also being accused of using excessive force in the process of arresting individuals, and that “attack” police dogs were used. These claims are also false. We can confirm that the Emergency Response Team and Police Service Dog are deployed to assist with the operation but are only in an observation capacity. As with other enforcement operations, all our actions are documented, including the use of body worn cameras, for court or complaint purposes.

Moving forward, police resources will be in the area to ensure that the roads remain accessible and unobstructed.

Further updates will be issued as and when they become available.

Subject: FW: Arrest of Journalists

Good evening [REDACTED]

Below is a summary of our dealings with journalists over the two day operation. The first portion gives you the background on our guidance for managing the media.

It's more then I asked for but maybe the context is needed.

The key is that dual obligation of journalists communicating with us as to their role and ours to accommodate their need to observe and report.

Let me know if you have further questions.

Brenda

Background:

The standard used by CIRG for assessment for arrest involving journalists is the 2019 Brake decision. This standard was recently brought forward by Justice Thompson during the Fairy Creek protests.

Journalists and persons from media outlets as defined by Brake 2019 NLCA 17;

- i. The person is engaged in apparent good faith in a news-gathering activity of a journalistic nature;*
- ii. He or she is not actively assisting, participating with or advocating for the protesters about whom the reports are being made;*
- iii. He or she does no act that could reasonably be considered as aiding or abetting the protestors in their protest actions or in breaching any order that has been already made;*
- iv. He or she is not otherwise obstructing or interfering with those seeking to enforce the law or any order that has already been made or is not otherwise interfering with the administration of justice;*
- v. The matters being reported on are matters that can broadly be said to be matters of public interest. Particular consideration should be given to protests involving aboriginal issues.*

During this week's operation, there has been limited media attendance. However, any media that indicated they planned to attend have been advised to go to the Access Control Point (ACP), let them know you are a journalist and have proper identification and if a freelancer – an assignment letter with you. Then media will be directed to a safe location to observe enforcement with the assistance of the Division Liaison Team (DLT) or any other CIRG members available. Media are also told the importance of adhering to police direction and to not interfere with operations.

All arrests are for breach of injunction (civil contempt of court).

Overview of any circumstances involving journalists:

Thursday:

- The enforcement operations intent was to open the Morice FSR to allow the delivery of critical life support, and rescue of over 700 CGL workers trapped in two work camps behind the blockades established by protesters since November 14. RCMP enforcement of the CGL injunction commenced at the blockade at 39 Km of the Morice FSR. The blockade there consisted of several trees and a bridge that had a trench dug across the road on its east side. No arrests were made.
- The next blockade encountered was at a bridge located at Lamprey Creek at the 43 Km mark of the Morice FSR. Trenches had been dug on both sides of the bridge with a car placed on the west side and a stolen D 7 Bulldozer partially buried into a trench dug into the east side. Several people were encountered at the bridge. 9 Contemnors were arrested at that location. This included a female journalist who was amongst the protest group. When police approached her for arrest, she clearly identified herself as media, but did not have any credentials available to her to prove her claim. She was transported to Houston Detachment and given access to her lawyer. In conversation with her and her lawyer, it was established that she was engaged in journalism and therefore released without further process.

- Of note: Reporter from [REDACTED] attended, identified herself at the Access Control Point (ACP) and was escorted to the enforcement area Division Liaison Team (DLT). She documented and observed and left late afternoon. She later sent an email to our BC RCMP MRO commenting on how great everything went and how happy she was with the RCMP and media access.

Friday

- RCMP enforcement of the CGL injunction continued along the Marten FSR, the egress route to the pipeline right of way and proposed drill site across the Morice River. This area has been blockaded since late September and consisted of a series blocks on the Maren FSR for approximately 2 Km and on the drill site. A number of “tiny house” structures (essentially homemade trailers), were located on or near the pipeline right of way at the end of the Marten FSR. Throughout the morning RCMP members cleared the Marten FSR to a group of “tiny houses”. Inside two of these structures it was determined an unknown number of protesters were barricaded. This was confirmed through radio conversations between protesters at other camps in the area.
- The Bronze Commander read the injunction at each structure, after which the structures were secured by RCMP members. The protesters inside clearly heard the injunction order being read, known as a result of the response from within the structure, and over the forestry radio. The response indicated that the persons inside the structure did not “recognise colonial law” and that CGL “is violating Wetsu’wet’en law”.
- RCMP members then spent the next 60 + minutes attempting to have the doors opened voluntarily and exit prior to a forced entry. At no time during these attempts did any person identify themselves as media or a journalist.
- Of the 11 arrests associated with the incidents involving the two structures –those arrested included two individuals who later identified themselves as independent journalists [REDACTED] refused to provide details on why she did not identify herself prior to arrest, nor did she request to leave the structures prior to the RCMP making entry.
- Chief Superintendent, Gold Commander for the Community – Industry Response Group, reviewed the circumstances of the arrests as well as the process after arrest of all media or journalists during enforcement operations. The RCMP has obligations to ensure that media and journalists are given the widest access possible, given the restraints of danger and threats during any police operation. However; media and journalists have an obligation to identify themselves and follow directions of police to limit the risks to all involved while inside the identified work space of police.

- The details and circumstances provided indicate that the individual arrested on November 18 was acting as a journalist, while the two individuals arrested on November 19 were not acting as journalists as defined by the 2019 Brake decision. Legal Council for CGL has been briefed on the arrests and will be proceeding with the [REDACTED] as Contemnors on their docket for court on Monday before Justice Church. CIRG is preparing the package for court on Monday which will articulate the reasons for arrest and the background activities of these individuals which bring into question their impartiality and show they have been advocating and assisting the protesters.
 - Additional enforcement took place later on Morice FSR – 4 arrests were made, bringing the total arrests for Friday to 15. One individual at the location identified as [REDACTED] Journalist with [REDACTED] was not arrested, was spoken to by the Bronze Commander and was eventually driven out of the area by a C-IRG member without issue.

Other facts gathered related to the arrest of the [REDACTED] journalist:

- On Thursday Nov 18th [REDACTED] did send an email to BC RCMP Communication to advise that they have been in contact with their reporter who is on scene at Coyote Camp. RCMP Director Roberts ensured the MRO Cpl. Madonna Saunderson responded to [REDACTED] and the response provided was: “Your information has been passed along. If you are in contact with  please ensure that she identifies herself to police at the first opportunity and then adheres to police requests or directions moving forward.”

Strategic Communications:

There has been high interest and discussion on social media about the arrest of journalists. BC RCMP Communications has received a couple of media request seeking confirmation of the arrests. General media lines being used to address the matter:

- For privacy reasons we are not confirming the identity of anyone arrested during enforcement over the past few days. The enforcement updates that have been issued are available on our website:
- Thursday: <https://bc-cb.rcmp-grc.gc.ca/ViewPage.action?siteNodeId=2130&languageId=1&contentId=72141>

<https://bc-cb.rcmp-grc.gc.ca/ViewPage.action?siteNodeId=2130&languageId=1&contentId=72172>

- Friday: <https://bc-cb.rcmp-grc.gc.ca/ViewPage.action?siteNodeId=2130&languageId=1&contentId=72197>
- The individuals arrested yesterday were taken to Houston Detachment to be processed and provided access to legal counsel. As per the direction within the BC Supreme Court Injunction they are being held in custody and are scheduled to appear before Madame Justice Church in Prince George on Monday.
- Given the matter is before the courts we are not in a position to provide any other information at this time.

Additional lines are being developed to align with the court appearance on Monday and any comments made by the Judge.

Sir,

Please find below the final news release that will issued shortly once we complete notifications to CGL, BC Police Services and NHQ Comms. Previous version had a few typos we corrected.

Of note – the CAJ (Canadian Association of Journalists) Ex. Director has requested a phone call – likely to deal with arrest of the journalists. I will be doing that shortly and will brief you and Gold after the call.

Thanks!

Update#2: Enforcement operation continues near Houston, BC

Police enforcement of the injunction order granted to Coastal GasLink continued on Friday November 19, 2021 in an effort to clear obstructions and blockades along a couple of forest service roads.

The morning began with challenging road conditions due to snow, however the Morice Forest Service Road remained open to industry traffic, who continued move supplies and supports to their people in the works camps.

Upon arrival at the 2 kilometre mark of the Marten Forest Service Road, officers discovered additional obstructions, blockades, two building-like structures as well as a wood pile that was on fire directly around a drilling site. After police determined there were individuals within the buildings, officers read the BC Supreme Court injunction and encouraged those inside numerous times to leave or face arrest. The individuals failed to comply and officers broke through the door, entered the structures and arrests were made without incident. Police can confirm that among those inside the structures were two individuals who later identified themselves as independent journalists. A total of 11 individuals were arrested at this location.

As police were in the process of leaving the Marten Forest Service Road they were advised that a group of individuals were throwing rocks at industry vehicles. Police attended the 44 kilometre mark along the Morice Forest Service Road and 4 individuals were arrested without incident. One individual who identified themselves as a journalist was not arrested and was escorted out of the area after enforcement ended.

Once again all enforcement actions were documented, including the use of video and body worn cameras for court or complaint purposes.

The area has been cleared of all obstacles at this time and industry has access to assess any damage or impacts. The Access Control Point (ACP) at the 27.5 kilometre mark of the Morice Forest Service Road will remain in place along with an enhanced police presence and roving patrols of the area.

In total 15 individuals were arrested for today for breaching the injunction. They were transported to the Houston RCMP Detachment for processing and will be held in custody to appear before the BC Supreme Court.

Individuals arrested on Thursday November 18, 2021 appeared in a Smithers Court today. Of the 14 arrested, one was released with no charges and with respect to the remaining 13 - 8 were released on conditions and 5 have been transported to Prince George for their next court appearance on Monday.

The next update will be issued if there are any further or required enforcement actions or arrests.

November 23, 2021

Approximately 4-6 protesters continue to occupy an area on the side of the highway in New Hazelton near the site of the railway blockade on Thursday Nov 18. This protest is stated to be a Gitxsan First Nation led solidarity protest with the Wet'suwet'en. CIRG QRT, along with CN Police and the PoJ are continuing to monitor the group and ensure the tracks remain clear for traffic. Presence will be maintained in the area until further notice. The DLT and Detachment Commander are maintaining communications with the protesters and local leaders to ensure safety and communications continue. Gold Commander and Detachment Commander had a call with [REDACTED] to seek a way forward.

[redacted] not pleased that the government apparently did not follow through on commitments made to dialogue with the Gitksan after the previous protests in 2020. He would like to see government reach out and begin the dialogue that was promised in 2020.

s.19(1)

CIRG QRT continues with proactive patrols along the Morice FSR and the associated areas where CGL is conducting operations. There have been no calls for service or incidents in the area since enforcement ended on November 19, 2021.

Court proceedings continue with the 15 Contemnors at BC Supreme Court in Prince George.

Released Contemnors today include: [redacted]

[redacted] Release conditions are usual with the addition for Wet'suwet'en persons are" No go exclusion zone except for hunting fishing foraging or to conduct ceremonial practices of the Wet'suwet'en culture. For Non-Wet'suwet'en and non-indigenous persons the release conditions are: No go exclusion zone. The exclusion zone is defined as any area within 10 metres of any CGL work site.

No update on "journalist" [redacted] who is currently in custody for assaulting a Sheriff yesterday. [redacted] is still before Justice Church and has not been released as of yet.

Court is stood down for the afternoon recess. Further updates forthcoming when court resumes.

Issue:

- CGL Security reported that a group of protestors have gained control of the Marten FSR located at 63.5 KM of the Morice River Road

Background:

- 2021-12-19 at 02:10 hrs CGL Security called to report that multiple protestors had arrived at 63.5 km and approached the CGL security team and were verbally aggressive and firing bear bangers and flares at the security vehicles
- Protesters also had sticks and clubs and were causing damage to security vehicles. No CGL security personnel were injured and all were able to leave the area
- A flat deck with building materials for a structures/blockade arrived on site and a surveillance/cell tower has been disabled by the protestors, [REDACTED]

Current Status:

- Protestors have taken over the Marten FSR and it is believed they will start forming a blockade
- CGL Security team has backed out and all security is safe
- [REDACTED]
- RCMP DLT and Watch Command Team will make an attempt to attend the area and at least try to determine a spokesperson and narrative from the group s.16(1)(a)(i)

Considerations:

- This occurrence may enhance participation at a planned protest today in Gitsxan Territory /New Hazelton
- CGL has shut down work in the area for the holidays, minimizing any direct contact with industry and the possibility of theft/usage of their equipment to cause damage to roads etc...

[REDACTED]

-The forthcoming holiday season may limit any capacity to quickly engage governments at multiple levels in discussions around the ongoing issues

- No RCMP members were involved in today's actions. Houston detachment will be monitored to ensure support should calls for service increase.:
- CGL workers are all safe

SIT REP #2 : BC Supreme Court Injunction Enforcement, near Houston, BC - 2021-0356

Update to SIT REP sent 2021-10-14

CURRENT STATUS:

- As a result, the Marten Blockade was vacated by contemptors on the morning of Jan 03, 2021. The two tiny houses and bus parked on the Marten FSR were moved from the Marten FSR to the 44 Km camp. The Marten FSR is now under the control of CGL security, and secured with a cable across the road pending the construction of a gate in the next few days. CGL is now back on their original work schedule from prior to the Marten Blockade being established on Dec 19, 2021.
- CGL has drilling equipment enroute from Edmonton to the Marten FSR. Over the next number of weeks CGL will continue with site preparation for the drilling expected in February. CGL will be increasing security, constructing fences and cameras in an attempt to prevent further incursions into the drill site.

s.16(2)

- This turn of events was unexpected and is being evaluated, As the area remains open for construction, the pending enforcement on January 09/10 will not be necessary. CIRG QRT will maintain a presence in the area adequate to respond to calls for service as needed over the next three weeks and re-evaluate continually.

[REDACTED] . DLT will engage as soon as practicable.

STRATEGIC CONSIDERATIONS:

- The BC RCMP continues to be challenged by unlawful protest at Fairy Creek, Trans Mountain Expansion (YMX) pipeline and Coastal Gas Link (CGL) Pipeline, whose intentions are to disrupt lawfully permitted projects with supporting injunctions from the BC Supreme Court. The BC Supreme Court injunctions have an enforcement clause contained within them directing police to enforce the conditions of the injunctions to allow work to continue.

STRATEGIC COMMUNICATIONS:

- Original protest activity in contravention of the injunction, and subsequent RCMP enforcement, attracted media interest across the world. There is no reason to believe, especially as more militant elements of the protest fraternity flock to the area, that media interest, which seems now to be at the local level only, will increase unless there are further blockades with subsequent injunction enforcement required .

Good Afternoon Rob,

There has been very little activity in that area in the past week or so given CGL has been basically shut down over the holidays but they plan to commence getting back up and working on January 8th.

There are protestors in the area but have not blocked any roads. The last real incident was on December 19th and I believe PS has the details on that matter.

I will reach out to the Division and have them prepare an updated summary for the holiday period and get that to you on Tuesday.

January 06, 2021

Patrols continue on the Morice FSR and surrounding area. No calls for service recieved.

Several non-mainstream media outlets have been contacting E Div Strat Comms looking for information on police intentions in the area. It appears this is coming from journalists that have attended the area to cover any enforcement and have no story to cover. The media lines are consistent with "Police in the area to maintain proactive presence of patrols..."

Protestors continue to issue social media statements and rhetoric, in print and video, claiming they will continue to fight against any crossing at the Morice River.

No change at New Hazelton.

Subject: IRG Action Items

Colleagues,

Attached is the list of action items stemming from the IRG. You will note that we have assigned leads and support departments.

Please come to DMOC prepared to discuss. We will sort out mechanics later.

Thank you in advance for your continued collaboration. This is an all-hands on deck effort.

Looking forward to the discussion at 3pm.

Jody
