REPORTING

NORTH AMERICA

CANADA: Individual Allegedly Planning Imminent Attack Killed by Police (U)

(U) On the evening of 10 Aug 2016, Aaron Driver, a 23-year-old suspected ISIL sympathizer, was killed during an operation conducted by RCMP and other security and law enforcement agencies in Strathroy, Ontario. The operation was conducted after credible information surfaced of an imminent terrorist attack, possibly a mass casualty suicide attack, on a Canadian city. During the operation, Driver reportedly detonated an explosive device, injuring himself and one other person; he was shot and killed in order to prevent him from detonating a second device. CJOC J2 Comment: Driver has been known to police since 2014 as an ISIL supporter. He applauded the 22 Oct 2014 lone wolf shooting attack on Parliament Hill in Ottawa, in which a Canadian soldier was killed, and he has called on ISIL sympathizers to kill police and military members. He was arrested in June 2015 but released on a peace bond.
