More money, more gains

2019 baseline performance

0.0

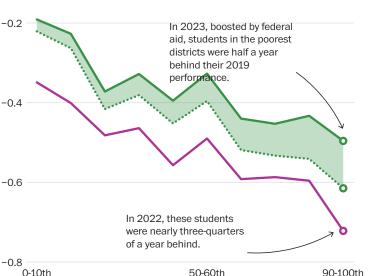

percentile

low-income

Source: Education Recovery Scorecard

School districts with the most low-income students got the most federal covid relief money, and saw bigger increases in math test scores.

Note: Low-income percentiles are based the number of the students who received free or reduced-price lunch in each district.

percentile

low income

percentile

low-income

CLARA ENCE MORSE / THE WASHINGTON POST