Hi Redacted

The RADPOL team have come back with the following:

10(5)(a)

10(5)(a) – do SEPA require a PIT for this redaction?

Hi Redacted

PSB.

I can respond once you have finished consulting, unless you prefer to do so?

Hi Redacted

Just to be clear on this one, we are happy for such release, agree with the redactions, equally for you to return to SEPA on this occasion as the focal point. Hopefully, the comms with SEPA may ensure we are first point of contact for our documentation in the future.

Thanks again.

Hi Redacted

Primarily fyi wrt your interactions with SEPA/HMNB(C). Maybe something you could raise with them regarding comms/interactions on such issues in terms of DSA-HQ-Sec being in the info-loop on such matters. Redacted – Fyi also.

Take care,

Redacted

Morning Redacted

Regretfully not aware, if not contacted directly we would pick similar up by the Dept FOI/EIR database (Ecase). However, these SEPA ones would not routinely hit Ecase, hence I think this is a failure of stakeholder management.

The redactions look correct, nothing else comes to mind for redaction, I note the comment on Ballast and Trim Water, whilst I can't gauge on how contentious this is, I don't see it being something that can/should be redacted.

If your happy for such release I will go-back to NC to that effect?

My apologies for not forwarding sooner....

Are you aware of the above through the Secretariat network?

Happy to discuss.

Dear All,

Please see below and Attached from SEPA.

The red boxed items are redactable as personal information. Grateful for a view on any proposed redactions, with rationale, or whether content for release.

Response has been asked by 22/11/23, grateful for views by then.

Since this is from DNSR, who should take lead/ownership – NC or DNSR?

NC HQ,

Depending upon the response to the foregoing, do you wish to reply, or are you content for a response from the base if a NC lead?

Regards,

Redacted
