Roger,

Nice job handling the press earlier today (see below). As mentioned, I was also contacted by Todd Feathers of the Boston Globe. I stated candidly that no "confirmed" cases have been reported: [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]. I also challenged the reporter on the validity of a story, which was reported by a mother who remained anonymous.

On another point, Meg Blanchette called me last Friday, I believe, to state that she had spoken telephonically with [REDACTED]. The conversation went fine and Meg has no issue speaking directly with concerned parents. For that, I am most grateful.

Naturally, I'll be in touch if further developments unfold. In the meantime, we can rest assured that proper protocols are carefully being followed. Thank you for maintaining open lines of communication. Sincerely yours,

Peter M.
