The Details

1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

A. North Dakota

i. Intel Update

- a. Law enforcement reported protestors buying chains, pvc pipe, and quikcrete at Lowes this morning.
  1. Analyst comment: Most likely course of action is to use these items to build Super Boxes to lockdown on the pipe, on the ROW, or to lockdown outside the access points to the Meyer Property in order to prevent work.
- b. Law enforcement has individuals who are trained to counter this protestor method.
  1. They specialize in cutting protestors out of lockdown methods safely and efficiently.
- c. Exploitation of documents found at Camp 1 on 10/27/2016
  1. The overall findings demonstrate that these protesters are evolving and showing signs of organization.
  2. These documents highlight support networks from within and outside the state of North Dakota.
  3. The documents validate a concentration of leadership and the fact that the protesters are conducting training prior to arriving to North Dakota.
  4. The document mentions tactical formations, role playing, techniques and procedures as well as logistical requirements before coming to ND.
  5. Of most concern were the "Earth First" magazines found on the camp. These magazines promote and provide TTP's for violent activities.

- a. Continued progress in link analysis between anti-DAPL groups in greater Chicago area and Springfield AO. A multifaceted event occurred in Chicago today from (4) four universities’ locations which led to a convergence on the Army Corps of Engineers’ Office in downtown Chicago. As a result of this protest, intel has found no less than three new anti-DAPL groups and/or organizations loosely or directly working with Standing Rock anti-DAPL efforts mostly impacting North Dakota.
- b. Analysis of negative PR in greater Chicago area was validated by protests and demonstrated a strong and radicalized anti-DAPL sentiment in the greater Chicago area that may impact local opinions and project efforts. Manifestation of the anti-DAPL sentiment will be continue to be monitored closely

i. Intel Update

- a. On Point Security guards from the Redfield Pump Station reported that at approximately 10:30 this morning a Green Chevrolet Suburban, SD plates, 57C080, approached the Redfield Pump Station from the west at a slow rate of speed. As the vehicle passed by the Pump Station it turned into the east entrance. The guards moved their vehicle from the west side and encountered the Green Suburban as it was stopped inside the west entrance. When informed that they were on private property the guards asked what they wanted. The two men stated they were “just looking around”, they then left and headed back to the west towards Highway US 181. The two men were of medium height and weight, middle age, with dark complexions. One had grey hair and the other was mostly bald with a goatee. It is believed they were of American Indian descent, as they were not black, Indian or appear to be Hispanic. Because of the unusual speed at which the car traveled the road, the fact that it has not been seen before and the attempt to enter the Redfield Pump Station, it is believed that this was a reconnaissance of the position and it’s security capacities. The assumption should be made that Anti-DAPL personnel know where the pump station is and the fact that it is not strongly protected (ie with barriers). The fence line around the Pump Station appears to be complete at this time. It is suggested that a copy of the Threat Assessment that was made by Silverton personnel be made available to South Dakota security forces so that considerations of the recommendations can be reviewed.
- b. At approximately 11:00 hours today, an On Point Roving guard approached an individual at valve site SD 70, in a white Toyota RAV4, IL plate Z63 1078. The individual identified himself as [REDACTED], a free-lance reporter who was following the pipeline. This is the same individual identified in the SITREP a few days ago in Iowa and Illinois that he was moving along the entire pipeline. He attempted to interview the guard, but was informed that “I am not authorized to discuss these matters with you”, the guard then provided contact information to the SD On Point PM. The man then moved off in a northeasterly direction, presumably in the direction of Valve SD65. The man tried to call the SD On Point PM, but as he was on the phone with the guard, the message went to voicemail. When he retrieved the voicemail, the SD PM contacted Tiger Swan Intel assets for an assessment of [REDACTED]. The Spread 6 Team Leader was informed that the individual would soon be in his sector. Movement of Spread 6 Team was conducted so as to intercept and/or observe [REDACTED] movement through the South Dakota sector.

- c. The Spread 6 team leader approached [REDACTED] at SD 50 and asked for identification. He produced a motor vehicle driver’s license and it was recorded on camera, the car and the license plate were also photographed. During this interaction the Spread 6 team Leader observed a map that the individual was marking with pipeline information as to valve locations. He had apparently missed the Launch and Receiver site that is close by to SD 50. The SD PM called [REDACTED] and informed him that he should contact [REDACTED], The ETP media relations manager. He was thankful for the information and stated that he was interested in interviewing security personnel when he arrived at the camp in North Dakota. It is my belief that [REDACTED] is hiding his true intentions and that he has a plethora of information to provide to the protesters. It is estimated that he will arrive in North Dakota on the evening of the 4th or morning of the 5th.
- d. The Daily Plainsman newspaper had two articles today on the pipeline. It is entitled, “If Dakota Access pipeline were to move, Where would it go?” The article starts off stating that President Obama has raised the possibility of a reroute of the four-state Dakota Access pipeline. It appears to be a fairly balance viewpoint on the subject, but by its sheer mention of the possibility it could very well be viewed as a “victory” and open the door to more talk about a re-route. The second article was entitled, “Clergy join in Dakota Access pipeline protesters for ceremony”. The article gives the impression that “clergy” are joining the cause and therefore it legitimizes it, but the only clergy discussed or quoted are from tribal connections. This article is an opportunity for protesters to leverage as legitimacy for their actions.

ii. Past 24 Hours

- a. On Point Security Team conducted security operations in sector to include: roving patrols of all three Spreads, security for electrician crews in 4 locations, 24/7 security at the Redfield Pump Station and security at the DAPL office in Sioux Falls. Operations were conducted to intercept [REDACTED], a reported free-lance reporter in the South Dakota sector.

iii. Next 24 Hours

- a. On Point Security elements will conduct security operations in sector. SD PM and On Point PM will conduct circulation for standards enforcement.
