DECLARATION OF JOHN P. McCORMICK IN REPLY TO THE OPPOSITION OF GUY
RICCIARDULLI TO GOODYEAR'S
APPLICATION FOR ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

Date:
Time:
Ctrm: F
Judge: Hon. Nita Stormes

19 I, John P. McCormick, say:

20 1. If called as a witness in the above-
21 captioned matter, I am competent to and would in fact 22 testify to the following facts of which I have 23 personal knowledge except as otherwise indicated.

24 2. I am now and have been since the first 25 appearance of The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company
26 ("Goodyear") in the within action one of the attorneys 27 for Goodyear. As such, in April of 2003 I was the 28

1 recipient of five deposition notices and demands for 2 production of documents from Mr. Ricciardulli's office
3 dated April 19, 2003.

4 3. One of these deposition notices requested a 5 Goodyear representative who was "the person most 6 knowledgeable regarding the resolution of the claims 7 made by plaintiffs to defendants regarding the alleged 8 tire failures which occurred on or about August 2000 9 in Nebraska." Please see Exhibit A hereto, page 2, 10 lines 2-4.

11 4. This deposition notice also requested the 12 production of correspondence with third persons 13 relating to the August 2000 tire failures and 14 documents generated by or referred to by any Goodyear 15 employee relating to the investigation or inspection 16 of the tires involved in the August 2000 claim.
17 Please see Exhibit A, page 2, lines 10-16.

18 5. Prior to the service of this deposition 19 notice, I had received from the plaintiffs an unsigned 20 letter to Harold Phillips from Goodyear which bore 21 initials of "KRC" and a facsimile transmittal 22 indication that it came from "KR Cox". My 23 investigation and the investigation of Goodyear
24 personnel, located a gentleman by the name of Kim Cox
25 who had handled the Phillips property damage claim 26 arising out of their August 2000 incident in Nebraska, 27 which was different from the incident giving rise to 28

1 this litigation.

2 6. At the time of Mr. Cox's deposition which I 3 believe was on June 20, 2003 (by agreement the noticed 4 date was changed), certain documents which had been 5 either previously produced or which were produced at 6 the time of the deposition and which related to the 7 aforementioned property damage claim were considered 8 proprietary and confidential and were accordingly so 9 stamped pursuant to a Protective Order which has been 10 referred to in my earlier declaration and which had 11 been issued by the Honorable Nita Stormes pursuant to 12 stipulation.

13 7. Attached as Exhibit B is a true and correct 14 electronic reproduction of a letter to Mr.
15 Ricciardulli dated May 7, 2003 in which I state at 16 page 2, paragraph 1: "We are waiting on your and Mr.
17 Regan's signatures on the Protective Order. If we 18 receive those signatures soon, you should have the 19 documents prior to the depositions." Also attached as 20 Exhibit C hereto is a true and correct electronic 21 reproduction of a letter I sent to Mr. Ricciardulli 22 wherein I state at page 1, paragraph 4 and page 2, 23 paragraph 1 that upon my receipt of the Protective 24 Order I will forward requested documentation to him 25 and, as to documents to be produced at the referenced 26 deposition, they will be produced subject to 27 appropriate objection and the Protective Order.

1 8. These confidential and proprietary 2 documents were, accordingly, designated as such and 3 were presented to Mr. Ricciardulli under the 4 protection of the Protective Order above referred to.

5 9. Mr. Cox was offered for deposition to 6 testify only about the handling of the Phillips' prior 7 property damage claim arising out of their Nebraska
8 accident. Mr. Cox was not offered as a witness 9 regarding any topics other than the handling of the 10 Phillips prior property damage claim arising out of 11 their Nebraska accident.

12 10. I have read the declaration of Guy 13 Ricciardulli dated August 16, 2007 and have the 14 following specific comments:

15 A. His statement in paragraph 4 that his 16 deposition notice was "with respect to the processing 17 of property damage claims" is in error. The deposition 18 notice spoke directly and specifically to the handling 19 of the prior property damage claim submitted by the 20 Phillips regarding an incident in Nebraska. (See 21 Exhibit A attached hereto.)

22 B. As to the contents of paragraph 5 of Mr.
23 Ricciardulli's declaration claiming Mr. Cox testified 24 concerning Goodyear's awareness of a certain claimed 25 proposition the substance of Mr. Cox's testimony is 26 subject to the protective Order in this case and will 27 not be discussed herein. However,⁴ I note that Mr. Cox

1 was produced to testify regarding the handling of the 2 prior Nebraska claim and he was not designated to 3 testify regarding the suitability of any tire in any 4 particular application nor do I know him to be 5 qualified to do so.

6 C. In response to the contents of paragraph 6 7 of Mr. Ricciardulli's declaration regarding my state 8 of mind and the reason for the adjournment of the 9 deposition, I refer to paragraph 5 of my declaration 10 of June 22, 2007 which was filed with the moving 11 papers wherein I state:

12 5. Prior to the commencement of the Cox
13 deposition, Mr. Ricciardulli had inquired
14 into Goodyear's willingness to defer 15 depositions and enter into an agreement to 16 mediate this litigation. I was unable to 17 obtain the necessary authority from my 18 client prior to the start of Mr. Cox's 19 deposition. However, shortly after the 20 commencement of the deposition, I received 21 authority from Goodyear to agree to mediate the case, which I immediately communicated to Mr. Ricciardulli. At that juncture, Mr.
Ricciardulli and I agreed to adjourn the incomplete deposition of Mr. Cox, at which point I reiterated that contents of the deposition were subject to the provisions of the Court's Protective Order. Again,
Mr. Ricciardulli agreed to this designation and did not challenge it.

22 D. Mr. Ricciardulli's statement in paragraph 8 23 of his declaration that he never considered the 24 subject testimony of Mr. Cox within the Protective 25 Order is contradicted by:

26 (1) The fact that the deposition which he 27 noticed and the documents which he requested be

1 produced were delayed pending issuance of the 2 Protective Order;

3 (2) Mr. Cox was designated to testify 4 regarding "the resolution of the claims made by 5 plaintiffs to defendants regarding the alleged tire 6 failures which occurred on or about August 2000 in 7 Nebraska." (See Exhibit A hereto.)

8 (3) The affidavit of Tim Casey, paragraph 9 6, subparagraph (i) located at page 5 and beginning at 10 line 7 states, "Mr. Ricciardulli declined to provide 11 me with any documentation from the Phillips case 12 citing the protective order existing in that case and 13 the Phillips-Goodyear settlement agreement." (See 14 Exhibit D to the moving papers.)

15 (4) My letter of May 27, 2003 directed to 16 Mr. Ricciardulli a copy of which is attached as 17 Exhibit C made it clear that all documents to be 18 produced at or incidental to the noticed deposition 19 would be subject to the protective order.

20 E. In Paragraph 9 of his declaration Mr.
21 Ricciardulli expresses doubt that he agreed to treat 22 the Cox deposition as confidential. However, it is 23 uncontradicted that Mr. Ricciardulli agreed to keep the 24 testimony of the Cox deposition confidential under the 25 protective order by co-signing a letter to the court 26 reporter instructing her to return or destroy all 27 notes or transcripts from the deposition.

1 11. At the time of the adjournment of the Cox 2 deposition, the agreement to seal the testimony and 3 the documents referenced in that testimony and 4 produced pursuant to it was, to my understanding, 5 clearly pursuant to the provisions of the protective 6 order issued by Judge Stormes. This procedure I 7 believe to be authorized by FRCP 30 (f)(2).

8 I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws
9 of the State of California that the foregoing is true 10 and correct.

Re: Phillips v. Goodyear, et al.
United States District Court Case No.: 02 CV 1642B (CGA)

Dear Guy:

Enclosed are Goodyear's objections to your five amended notices of taking depositions and demand for production of documents at deposition. Although the notices are still technically defective in that they do not name the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company as the deponent, as indicated in earlier correspondence, we are attempting to identify the appropriate Goodyear representatives and provide you with available dates for the depositions.

The amended notices also do not comply with the Rule 30(b)(5) requirement of 30 days notice when seeking production of documents at deposition. Goodyear will need at least the statutory time to gather the responsive documents. I would therefore ask that you agree to continue these depositions to dates which are mutually agreeable and which provide Goodyear the requisite time for document production. If you won't agree to continue them, please advise as soon as possible and explain why so Goodyear can move for a protective order.

One of your notices seeks written communications sent or received by Goodyear from Monaco Coach Corporation or Monaco coach users regarding the use, performance, or maintenance of any Goodyear 275170R22.5 LR H, G159 tires. These documents were sought in your earlier request for production to Goodyear, so there will be no additional documents produced at the deposition.

Your letter of April 30 complains Goodyear's discovery responses shed no light on its position. This complaint is premature, as documents are yet to be produced. We are waiting on your and Mr. Regan's signatures on the protective order. If we receive those signatures soon, you should have the documents prior to the depositions.

Having a protective order in place will also expedite the production at deposition of any additional documents which Goodyear considers trade secret, proprietary, or otherwise confidential. As requested in the transmittal letter which accompanied the proposed protective order, I would ask that if you have any objections to signing and returning it, you let me know so that I can seek the court's assistance prior to the depositions.

Sincerely,

McCORMICK & MITCHELL

Date of Incident: 02/07/02

Dear Guy:

We have identified those deponents required by four of your five deposition notices. As previously mentioned, we will stand on our objection regarding your request to depose the person most knowledgeable regarding the post-accident condition of plaintiffs' tire. We believe that is a proper subject of expert witness discovery.

As to the balance of the requested areas to be covered, we have identified three persons who appear to be the most knowledgeable. At least one of these persons is not available on the following dates:

June 5 and 6, June 10, June 17, June 20, the week of June 23, and July 4 through July 11. May I request you schedule these depositions to avoid these dates.

In connection with your document request, as soon as we have received the judge's signature on the protective order, I will contact your office to confirm that the documents to be produced in response to your request for production are available. Those documents have been identified and are here in our office properly stamped with the restrictive endorsement.

In connection with the documents to be produced at deposition, to the extent they are not included in the previously requested documents, they will be, subject to appropriate objection and the protective order, produced at deposition.

However, in one of your deposition notices, you request the person most knowledgeable regarding the "manufacturing and warranty" of the referenced tire. In that same notice you seek all documents "generated ... as a result of the manufacturing process of the subject tire, including but not limited to any and all quality control documentation." Both the area to be covered by deposition testimony and the documents requested are too vague to allow appropriate response. If you can limit this request in some appropriate manner, we will do our best to comply.

I trust this letter will avoid the necessity of the meeting scheduled for this afternoon. If not, please give me a call. Thank you.

Sincerely,

McCORMICK & MITCHELL
