Dear FOIA Officer:

I spoke with Marshall Fields after receiving the e-mail below, who said I would be able to receive an estimate of when I would be given the unclassified information responding to my request within about a week. I'm following up on that conversation; kindly advise when I can expect a determination on my request. I also welcome any suggestions on how my request may be tailored so that I can obtain the information faster.

Sincerely,
Dina

Dear FOIA Officer:

Thank you for your response.

I note that 5 U.S.C. 552(a)(6)(B)(i) allows for a ten-day extension when "unusual circumstances" exist, but also requires that the requestor be given the "date on which a determination is expected to be dispatched."

Almost nine months have elapsed since my FOIA request, but I have not received a date on which I can expect a determination on my request.

Additionally, the ten-day extension may not be extended further absent “exceptional circumstances” which do “not include a delay that results from a predictable agency workload of requests under this section, unless the agency demonstrates reasonable progress in reducing its backlog of pending requests.” 5 U.S.C. 552(a)(6)(C)(ii).

Please advise when I can expect a determination on my request. I also welcome any suggestions on how my request may be tailored so that I can obtain the information faster.

Sincerely,
Dina

Subject: FOIA Request No.: 2017-01-105

Dear Ms. Moss,

I am writing regarding my FOIA request dated January 3, 2017, which has been assigned FOIA No. 2017-01-105.

The attached response dated February 8, 2017 that I received from the Treasury Department stated that the Department would invoke a 10-day extension, on top of the statutory 20-day response time, to respond to my request. I have not, however, received any response.

Kindly let me know the status of my FOIA request, as well as the timeline in which I can expect to receive a response. Please take note that per my attached e-mail dated April 4, 2017, I modified my request to include the Designation Package supporting the U.S. Department of Treasury's designation of (i) James Alexander McLintock, and (ii) Al-Rahmah Welfare Organization.

Sincerely,
Dina Gielchinsky
