I understand, like a lot of my county asking questions as to Trump election process as others are quitting their jobs under the President, who showed in his response to Charlottesville, that he does not respect the normal under-
 Franchise of our country.
 It has become clear that Trump is in-treated not in saving voting rights but in giving his own biased eye, which has repeatedly shown that there was no measurable voter fraud in the last election except for counties that have been done by Russia (with or without the collusion of Trump campaign).

These signs are really...
 further signs of such corruption

The Trump Administration's election commission is designed to legitimize unconstitutionally drawn and widespread voter fraud while ignoring the real threat to American democracy posed by the creation of "safe" legislative districts through gerrymandering and voter suppression. Subject: Substantiation of Voter Fraud/Request for Retraction

Abby; The following is some substantiation of POTUS Trump's Voter Fraud Claims, with verification, I request you amend or retract your article published in the POST. That I read on an MSN NEWS link.

While following evidence of computer and financial fraud, FBI, CPD and other governmental Departments encountered and have yet to prosecute, evidence of up to 40,100 fraudulent votes/voters through just one address on the North-side of Chicago, Illinois.

This one residence is on West Roscoe, and appears to be in Illinois's 4th U.S. Congressional, Rep. L. Gutierrez, a Democrat.

The evidence is all in the records of The Circuit Court of Cook County, Chicago, Illinois. A matter of Public Record, that you as a reporter, have access to. Feel free to verify through CPD Superintendent E. Johnson and Chicago FBI Field Office SAIC Anderson. But, you may get the "Subject of an ongoing investigation, No Comment."

Broadly speaking, there are two Natural Born U.S. Citizens at this address, one 53 years of age and the other 47, with a total of 401 divorce/dissolutions of foreign marriages on record in Cook County. More or slightly less than a hundred Court Certified Copies of these unlawful divorces were distributed amongst foreign nationals; giving them entrance and egress to the U.S., of the 40,100 fraudulent immigrants gaining access as potential Naturalized Citizens, approximately 4000 used this address as there initial legal/voting address, though clearly criminal and fraudulent voters.

You stated in your article that there was no substantiation to POTUS Trump's claim there were as much as eight million fraudulent votes in the 2016 election may be an inaccurate statement, or even slanted journalism. If you estimate one such ongoing criminal enterprise in every U.S. Representative District, or every Electoral College District, doing the math, any reasonable person might think President Trump was being conservative.

Accounting for the 40-45 years these two U.S. citizens have been conducting this ongoing criminal enterprise, (hopefully not always from the same address), and dividing the potential total by 4 or 4.5, it seems Trump was "dead on" accurate.

Should we ridicule POTUS Trump for sounding the alarm? With regards to a fire...isn't it every citizen's duty to raise an alarm? What if Paul Revere failed to sound an alarm, for fear of being ridiculed? What if the "Minutemen" refused to respond to Revere's alarm?

If you use my estimate of $15,000 per illegal alien smuggled into the United States, even spread over 45 years, this is a very profitable ongoing criminal enterprise.

With the time constraints to even file for a divorce in Cook County, Illinois; is it remotely possible this criminal enterprise continues without the participation of some of Cook County's divorce attorneys and divorce judges?

Abby? Do you and The Washington Post really wish to be equated with CNN "Fake News" by The President of The United States, Donald J. Trump?

Subject: Thoughts for your 19 July Meeting of the Presidential Election Integrity Commission

Dear Wood County W.Va. Clerk Mark Rhodes: For your consideration below is the email I sent the Election Integrity Commission. The 19 July meeting is opportunity for Democrat members, for all secretaries of state and other like-minded to RESET the Commission agenda with one that is authentically bipartisan, comprehensive and transparent. FYI Fellow Commission member NH Sec of State Bill Gardner (D) told POLITICO 5/22:

-- I care a lot about this. I've spent my whole life dealing with it, and it's too bad that over half of the people in the country feel that there is vote fraud. Let's find out why.

Success here could move the political needle elsewhere from hit-and-mostly-miss partisan efforts supported by half the country or less to bipartisan actions supported by a significant majority (e.g., Sen. Collins' bipartisan healthcare bill). Thank you for your consideration. And good luck.

[REDACTED], Cave Creek AZ

Dear Election Integrity Commission Staff – Your first formal meeting on 19 July is a golden opportunity to RESET the Commission agenda correcting your rollout's deficiencies with genuine bipartisanship collaboration and a comprehensive approach. What follows includes various internet sources.

THE ROLLOUT'S AREAS TO IMPROVE

Initial Letter Was Vague, Incomplete, Confusing, Sloppy... What information will be made public? Will the resulting national voter file be subject to federal FOIA requests? Will those requests be granted? How will you coordinate different data submissions and no data submissions to establish a 50-state data base? How will you account for false positives? How can you do a conclusive study if the data is fragmented? The stated purpose (i.e., ...practices that enhance and undermine the integrity of the voting processes in Federal elections) is incomplete, for example, not specifically including hacking, security, privacy, and eligible voter access issues. The letter requested data rarely considered to be public election records (e.g., felony convictions and the last four digits of the voter's Social Security number). In some cases the letter was not sent to the agency that oversees elections in the state.

Security of Data. States could submit info through unsecure email? Then later a Commission rep said email only for non-sensitive responses, without defining what is non-sensitive? I consider ANY information about me – date of birth, party affiliation, home address – as sensitive. The commission hasn't offered a careful and thoughtful plan for storing what will essentially be a national database of voters. What assurance this data gold mine is safe from commercial exploitation and harassment as well as from foreign governments, terrorist, domestic extremists, hate-mongers and other hackers whose successful recent hacks include the Defense Department, federal civil service employees?

Unilateral federal imposition on the 50 states. Not surprising that the rollout met with such state opposition when the Commission did not FIRST solicit state input.

Why a national data base? When (a) our current federalized 50-state voting system makes it difficult for hackers to have any sizable effect on the vote? And (b) two cross-check systems exist, each involving 19 or more states, systems which could be expanded, coordinated, improved.

What is the purpose? In principle, nothing wrong with the publicly stated purpose in the 30 June Notice. In practice, the Commission's purpose is vague, incomplete, and, per criticism, hidden. A presidential tweet calls it the "voter fraud panel." The reputation of co-chair Kobach and at least two other members of similar persuasion raise suspicions that the true purpose includes (a) developing a single, searchable database consisting of every US voter and their voting history over the past 10 years that could then be cross-referenced with other sources, such as immigration records, not only to identify people who improperly registered (e.g., deceased, multiply registered), but also to enable voter suppression of the poor, minority voters, and anti-Administration voters via tighter voter photo ID laws, new barriers to registering, and voter roll purges, and (b) using shoddy data to assert the GOP won the popular vote. Suspicions multiplied by the fact that the data will be handled by employees in the executive office of the president, who serve as the commission's staff.

How will hodgepodge of data serve whatever the purpose is? Without complete sensitive data—which many states will likely be unwilling or legally unable to turn over in any uniform manner—any analysis will be virtually meaningless, junk science. The Department of Homeland Security has warned its database of noncitizens is not a reliable way to verify voter rolls.

Bipartisan commission? How so if the two ranking commission members are Republicans, there are more Republican than Democrat members, and given Mr. Kobach's reputation (e.g., fined $1000 by a federal judge for misleading the court re withholding documents seeking to amend/weaken the National Voter Registration Act - NVRA). Studies have shown an abundance of false positives in the methods Kobach has sought to use to purge the voter rolls on a state level.

Prepared to do the data analysis work? The Electronic Registration Information Center (ERIC) — a nonprofit cooperative of 21 states and Washington, D.C., that shares and analyzes voter data in much the same way Kobach has proposed to do nationally — took almost three years just to set up its technical infrastructure, design privacy protection and member bylaws, and formalize a system for data input. If the Commission is not so prepared, the results of low-quality matches using the voter files that do arrive will significantly overstate the amount of double voting and voting by noncitizens.

Privacy. I trust the state of Arizona, where I have voted since 1983, to respect the voting registration data I have submitted and that is made public to political parties. Bad enough but tolerable. I do not want any personal information in a questionably secured national data base located in the partisan White House overseen by the partisan Mr. Kobach to be made public for the exploitation of commercial interests, political extremists...

Lawsuits. Two to date? The Electronic Privacy Information Center, a watchdog group, has filed a lawsuit to block the commission's data request until its privacy impact can be weighed. The ACLU has filed another seeking the Commission comply with the Federal Advisory Committee Act (i.e., commission meetings open to the public, written records available for public inspection, and adopt appropriate measures to ensure there is no inappropriate influence by the president.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The Positive. Commission leaders VP Mike Pence and Kansas Sec. State Kris Kobach stated they wanted the committee's work to be unbiased. The idea of compiling and analyzing vote data makes sense. Because the U.S. uses the honor system (backed up by felony sanctions) to police its citizenship requirement to vote, it's reasonable to ask how well that honor system is working – the best evidence suggesting that a tiny fraction of votes are cast by noncitizens or other ineligible. Still, a genuine COMPREHENSIVE, BIPARTISAN, transparent, state-participatory review would be extremely useful to address concerns of the state secretaries of state, the anti-Administration and the Administration concerns. There's a large political middle in the election administration community that recognizes the value of database matching for the purpose of maintaining the integrity of the voter registration system.

Called for are: (a) the current state of affairs (e.g., to better understand how many noncitizens and other ineligible are currently on the voter rolls, how many have illegally voted, effectiveness of current methods that accurately match individuals across datasets; and safeguards that respect individual privacy, security against hacking or other misuse), (b) ways to better update state rolls, eliminating ineligible AND facilitating access by eligibles, and (c) other actions to eliminate reason for the above lawsuits.

Specific Suggestions: Expand the agenda to specifically include:

Naming a Democrat as co-chair of equal rank with Mr. Kobach. Maintain an even number of Republicans and Democrats as members.

Security (e.g., hacking)

Privacy

Respect the autonomy, expertise, laws of the states.

Eligibles access to the ballot.

coordinating ERIC and Interstate Voter Registration Crosscheck

* If there's no national data base, there's no national database hacking, no 50-state and DC continual updating. Seriously consider using ERIC.

The merits and demerits of ERIC (has security, has participating states using identical info forms) vs. Interstate Voter Registration Crosscheck (criticized for the high number of false positives, accused of resulting in unjustified voter roll purges of Democrat voters, used only by Republican secretaries of state).

Merits and demerits of a universal registration form.

Require an annual public report listing the status of state voter registries, improvements made, improvements still to go, etc.

Make a complete list of Commission targets of (a) ineligibles -- deceased, felons in some states, undocumented foreigners, registered on more than one voting list, (b) name changes, address updates, (c) false positives and positives who voted but shouldn't have, and (d) eligibles including poor, minorities, Native-Americans, etc. ease of access to the ballot, and (e) voting machine reliability, hacking, paper trail, intentional or inadvertent precinct voting reporting errors, recount procedures, corrections made.

Establish that no individual personal information is to be made public.

Among expert/resource input include the 2013 Presidential Commission on Election Administration and past relevant voting acts.

Voter ID**

**One GOP-Dem tradeoff approach: (a) Require photo ID for all and phase it in, while at the same time (b) Require states to make photo ID available to all eligibles via motor vehicle registration and mobile voter registration vans to Indian Reservations, invalids, poor sections of town, rural areas, computer-less people, and all other eligibles without convenient physical access and/or without the fiscal means to register, and require states to report annually on requests made and registrations completed.

Move any national registry data storage from the White House and White House staff to the GAO. Or better, have no such data storage. Use ERIC.

As an initial step to regroup, first consult the states, for example, via rounds of a draft questionnaire (e.g., states commenting on other states' input) for state input prior to being finalized and sent to states. For example:

-- In 2016, how are deceased voters removed from the lists, how soon after death, how many were removed, how many were on the Nov. 2016 lists, how many voted?.

Coordinate with the Justice Department which asked states in a June 28 letter for all information including "statutes, regulations, written guidance, internal policies, or database user manuals" that determine when a state removes from its rolls voters believed to be dead or have changed address. Seems to be some confusing overlap with the Commission. Tellingly, that letter also signaled no concern as to whether states were doing enough to make it easy to register, as the bulk of the NVRA dictates.

Establish better state-access to the DHS immigration database called SAVE, a system unfortunately not designed to search for people by name, only by alien registration number, and now useless for spotting noncitizens inadvertently showing up on voter rolls.

Liability for the secretaries of state (etc.). It's not entirely clear whether they will be legally liable for misuse of people's private information if they hand over to the Commission.

Comply with the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

Thank you for your consideration.

The entire country knows that there was no widespread voter fraud in Indiana. The request of this information is instead a ruse to suppress votes in our next elections.

Dear Ms. Connie Lawson,

Please do NOT fulfill that request. It is a waste of taxpayer money, a violation of our privacy, and completely unnecessary as Indiana has worked hard to secure its voter roll.

Please do the right thing and respectfully decline the request.

I will be sending the same request to Governor Holcomb.

Thank you,

Dear Mr. Holcombe,

Thank you for your reply. That helps clarify two issues. I'd still be curious how individual databases are being secured at the state or the county level to guard against tampering. Could you speak to that issue?

If I might, I've also read there is currently an effort to investigate alleged voter fraud at by a national commission. I'm concerned that the commission is asking for information -- including addresses, birthdates, and the last four digits of Social Security numbers -- which could both be an expense for the state, and more centrally, open a huge box of headaches in terms of potential ID theft if (as currently reported) those voter data are to be made public as part of the report. I'd respectfully ask that the Secretary of State reject any such requests absent a clear set of protections for such data and a clear sense of how precisely such data are to be used (especially since as far as I know, Indiana -- and indeed most states -- have investigated and found little evidence of voter fraud).

Again, I appreciate your outreach on the earlier issues and hope you might be able to shed light on the above requests.

Sincerely,

Thank you for contacting Secretary of State Connie Lawson.

The State of Indiana uses a bipartisan certificate process through Ball State University called VSTOP. Through this process, every voting machine sold and used in the State of Indiana is verified for quality among other characteristics.

More information about VSTOP can be found here.

Additionally, our office has pushed legislation allowing for each county to establish themselves as a Vote Center county. This establishes that no matter where you were to vote in the county, you are able to. As oppose to the normal precinct voting. The decision to move to this type of Vote Center county is left up to the County Election Board and must be unanimous. Indiana also allows for online voter registration at Indianavoters.com.

To your second point, this type of request would need to go through the Indiana General Assembly. I would recommend contacting your State Representative and Senator to author legislation that would allow a third party for redistricting. This holds true as well for the open primaries. These can be found on our website, WAYEO.

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to reach out.

Best,

Dear Secretary of State Lawson:

I write to you today to urge you, the state legislature, and Governor Holcomb, to work in the coming year to make sure that we have secure systems of democratic process for the 2018 and 2020 elections. While I worry that the constant partisan gridlock and general dysfunction of the government in Washington can only serve to erode faith in the institutions of democracy, it's also clear that even the underlying processes of democratic elections are under assault by foreign powers.

A word of background: I spend a lot of my professional life in mid 20th century Europe where political parties set out to wreck – often under legal guise – both the belief in and very processes of democracy. We are not in 1922 Italy or 1933 Germany, but faith in our government institutions and even democracy seem increasingly under attack.

Here state governments can play a strong role at reversing the tide. I would urge you as leaders in our state to make sure that we have secure voting procedures (I appreciate that all the machines I've used in Indiana at five different polling places used optical scanners, thus creating a clear paper trail of ballots. I hope the data that they contain are also secured from potential election day interference). But have state officials conferred with FBI or NSA officials (or cyber security experts) to make sure that the software for reading the scanners are safe? Are local election officials following best practices to keep voting records and voter rolls safe from potential outside access or influence? It seems spending a little time and perhaps money to ensure the safety of our voting systems – and educate officials on how best to keep our voting records secure – would be a small price to pay.

This might also include greater security – and perhaps punishments – for firms, PACs, or other public entities who leave, as one recent group reportedly did, voter information un- or poorly secured. Surely voters have a basic right to know that their data is being minimally protected.

I would like to also urge a greater push toward inclusiveness in the election system. How do we give people (and here I work with many 18-22 year olds) a feeling that they have a greater stake in the system? Greater access – smart, secure, and easier voting registration – would be a good first step. Let me also urge the state government to explore two other ideas. First, would it not be better to have a non-partisan entity draw voting districts purely to avoid even the appearance of gerrymandering? Second, and this would be the even bigger leap, could we not explore a system like California with open primaries, where the final two candidates (even if both Republican or Democrat) must tact toward the middle to consider even minority positions within their districts rather than playing to a narrowly defined base? Would this not perhaps yield more pragmatic representation that must, by the nature of the electorate, seek solutions to the range of challenges facing our nation?

The upshot is that I would beg you to work to securing the basic sinews of democracy in an era when these seem to under assault.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]

To the Secretary of State:

I understand that the recently established "Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity" has sent requests to all secretaries of state for extremely personal and confidential information about all voters, including name, date of birth, address, and social security number, information that can be used to commit identity theft. As a constituent, I am not comfortable with your giving out information that I entrusted to you for voter registration purposes only, not for partisan fishing expeditions by nosy outsiders. The individuals who are requesting the information have perpetrated a pattern of dishonesty, incompetence, and abuse of government power to intimidate eligible voters away from voting. Moreover, there is no assurance that the information will be kept secure, and no information about who will have access to the information. I suspect they intend to use the information to selectively and arbitrarily disenfranchise citizens to obtain their desired election results.

I request that your office NOT give my information, other than what is publicly available, to the commission.

Thank you for your attention to this serious matter.

Very truly yours,

It is my understanding that all states are being asked to give the voter roles to the Kobach commission which includes our names, addresses, party affiliation, and out votes for, the last ten years. To do this would be an affront to the guaranteed privacy every citizen should have when voting. There is no mass voter fraud in this country, however, if you give this information which then can be made public you will be possibly disenfranchising Indiana voters. Also, you may be putting voters safety at risk also. I ask that you refuse this request. If my private information is given to this commission, I and am am sure millions of other Indiana voters, will have to see what legal action I will have to take to preserve my right to vote and public safety.

I just read that the Trump administration's Election Commission has requested public voter roll data on all voters in every state.

Can you please describe the data on each voter that is publicly available in Indiana? I am very uncomfortable with the things mentioned - full names, DOB, last four SSN, addresses, and so on being made available publicly and wish to understand how IN protects voter data and what exactly is available to the public.

I am even less comfortable having this information shared with this administration. They have shown themselves to be highly untrustworthy.

Thank you,

Hello,

As an Indiana resident and aspiring civil servant, I am gravely concerned about my voter data being shared with Kris Kobach's "Election Integrity" Commission — I am sure many feel the same way.

Personally, I feel like this is an affront to not only my voting rights, but to the voting rights of everyone in this state. To be rather blunt, I am worried about voter suppression, especially since Kobach has an unsavory record of disenfranchising eligible voters.

Please, on behalf of the residents of Indiana, do not allow our information to be shared. I believe the only information they should receive, if any, is information publicly available to the average person, such as myself.

Thank you for your time, and I hope you will consider my request.

Best,

Dear Ms. Lawson,

Donald Trump has had his chance to demonstrate what he stands for, and what he has shown us repeatedly is that he stands for nothing but his own self-interest. His horrifying statements and inaction after the white supremacist "rally" in Charlottesville over the weekend were the last straw. It is time for all of us to stop hoping that he's not as bad as he seems, and to demonstrate that we stand for equality and fairness. One excellent way to do this would be to withdraw from any position that may give him cover. Please disassociate yourself from the Trump administration's race baiting and resign from the Presidential Commission on Election Integrity immediately.

Thank you for your attention.

Enough is Enough!! I was so angered when I opened the paper today to learn that Hamilton County had more voting days than Marion County. Please do not respond with the population growth in Hamilton County. We all know that. The fact is there is more poor working class in Marion county and it is harder for them to get off work to vote. STOP this. I am sick and tired of the GOP trickery. I vote for the person not the party. I know politics is dirty and you are restricting our rights to vote. I live in Delaware county and I am so frustrated with Indiana being the new Mississippi in the North. I travel the country and we are looked at as a joke. People all over the country think our political thinking is so backward. Your GOP thinking is backward we look like the Jim Crow days. Provide the money needed so Marion County can have the same amount of days for voting as the wealthy in Hamilton County. DO YOUR JOB!!!

Dear Ms. Lawson:

I do not know the status of Indiana's compliance with the request of the newly-created Election Integrity Commission, but I am concerned about the request for the last four digits of voters' Social Security numbers.

As you may know, prior to 1972, the Social Security Administration assigned the first three digits of the number based upon the mailing address of the applicant. See attached PDF of Social Security History web page, found at <https://www.ssa.gov/history/ssn/geocard.html>. Many, if not most people applied via their parents when they were children, and many, if not most people, continue to reside in their State of birth. As a result, the first three digits would be easy for people to learn for people like me, who were born before 1972. The only guesswork required of someone wanting to commit identify theft would then be to try different combinations for the two middle digits – a relatively simple operation.

Because of this, I respectfully deny you permission to release the last four digits of my Social Security number to the Commission. I further suggest that the Commission's request for such information be withdrawn.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

I am deeply concerned about the personal information being requested by the administration's voter fraud commission. The person put in charge of this commission has a reputation of making it harder for some to vote and for using information like this for partisan purposes and voter suppression. Furthermore, it is my understanding, there is no evidence to support allegations of widespread voter fraud in the past election or any other election in recent history so there seems to be no reason to collect this information in the first place. Finally, until the administration takes an interest in investigating something we actually know happened, Russia's attempt to influence our election, I will remain skeptical that they are actually concerned about the purity of our election process.

I am an Independent who has become increasingly concerned about the hyper partisanship I have seen in recent years as well as the disruption of formally trusted institutions like government and media. My main concern is that this information could be used for either Gerrymandering or misinformation campaigns. I believe both of these things are a threat to our democracy. I believe gerrymandering has put extremists of both parties in office instead of moderates who historically seem more inclined to compromise and work together for the common good. Misinformation campaigns have led us to a place in which we no longer have a foundation of basic truth. Thomas Jefferson said something like the biggest threat to democracy is an uninformed electorate. That feels very true to me today. My sincere hope is that we can stop demonizing each other and come together as a nation and heal these divisions by putting county before party and the common good before "getting a win"

As an elected official, I feel strongly that you have a responsibility to protect the citizens of the state of Indiana and their privacy and I ask you to please protect my personal information.

Respectfully,

Dear Secretary:

I am curious as to your current position concerning the sending to Washington D.C. personal and confidential voting information as it pertains to the citizens of Massachusetts. I believe this event to be illegal as such information such as S.S. numbers are to be held in strictest confidence. I find it difficult to believe the nation as a whole would believe the outrageous concept of huge voter fraud. However, this voter is requesting his information remain where it belongs, in the town of West Brookfield and in Boston and nowhere else. I must commend you for your original stance on this bit of what I consider to be ridiculous.

Best Regards

Dear Secretary Lawson,

It is difficult to express how extremely concerned I am about the "election integrity commission" and its requests to date. This concern is amplified by the fact that you are serving on this very commission. How can you represent and protect the best interests of the voters of Indiana, while serving on a commission that seeks to gather private personal information on the registered voters of Indiana and appears designed to interfere with our rights?

In a formal statement you said that you would not provide some of the requested information because it did not follow Indiana's laws. What will happen now? Will you give the additional information because of your dual roles? Is eliminating myself from the voter roles the only way to protect my privacy?

I consider voting a central part of being an American citizen. As such, I vote in every election, as is my right as a U.S. citizen. This commission threatens these rights. Such concerns have been highlighted by many respected groups, including The League of Women Voters, and respected news organizations, such as The Washington Post.

Your panel was developed to investigate an issue that doesn't exist and, if any investigation were to take place, should be conducted directly and solely by individual states. This panel is a clear threat to our freedoms, our privacy and our democracy. Your job is to protect our right to vote and our right to privacy, both in the voting booth and of our personal information. How will you do so with what appear to be conflicting roles? I will await your reply.

Respectfully,

[REDACTED]

Hello,

I see that Kobach is sending out a second wave of requests for information on voters. I appreciate that Secretary Lawson did not turn over any information (aside from what was publicly available), but I want to know if she will comply with the new request?

I am writing you this note to request that you do not hand over my voter's registration information to this fraudulent excuse of an investigation. This is nothing but a partisan exercise to appease the vanity of the President. While some of it is a matter of public record, why should you voluntarily turn it over. Let the President figure it out himself. There is no reason that the tax payers of Indiana should pay to have the data collated and provided. I absolutely in no way give my permission for you to give out my party affiliation, how I have voted in past elections, or any other personal information. You also do not have my permission to give any portion of my social security number to the commission.

Secretary Lawson,

I am writing to you today to express my very serious dismay at the requests for voter registration data submitted to you and to other states' election officials by the recently constituted federal Voting Commission and in particular, the recent district court ruling that the request can go forward. I understand that your initial response underscored that the data being requested could not be provided in its entirety, that is you suggested that Indiana could provide only that information that is already publicly available. According to your statement on Twitter and as reported in the Indianapolis Star, "state law only allows (you) to share voter names, congressional districts and addresses."

First, I want to thank you for publicly supporting the privacy of Hoosier voters and the confidentiality of our voting records. However, I continue to be concerned that even the limited public data that is available, i.e. name, address, and voting district, could enable others to obtain my voting record. Therefore, I respectfully request that you mask all my personal data when you submit Indiana's voter rolls to the federal Voting Commission.

Respectfully,

Thanks for your prompt response. I checked online to see if I am Registered to vote in Marion County. The website confirms my registration. Then I checked the state site (<http://m.indianavoters.com/>) that showed I had been purged several days ago. Strangely, your state website now indicates that I am indeed registered to vote. I would greatly appreciate an explanation about how this could have happened.

I look forward to your response.

In the State of Indiana, county voter registration offices maintain the registration rolls in Indiana. If you believe that your voter registration has been cancelled then you should contact the bi-partisan Marion County voter registration board at 317-327-5040 to determine the status of your registration, including whether it has been cancelled and the reason for cancellation and how that may be resolved if it is an error.

Thank you for your active participation in keeping Indiana's voter rolls up to date.

Dear Ms. Lawson,

I was alerted through a church member that longtime voters with stable residences and polling places are being purged from the voting roles. I checked through your website and discovered my registration has been purged. My wife and I have lived at the same address for fifteen years and voted in every election at the [REDACTED]. My wife has not been purged. Should she be purged shortly before the next election, you can be sure we will be taking this communication with us to our polling place. I would like an explanation about why and how I was purged. If you have no explanation, I can only assume that Indiana was one of the states that was hacked. That would lead me to conclude that a paper ballot is the only way to insure confidence that our democratic system operates the way it was intended to by the framers of our constitution. I look forward to hearing from you soon about my questions and about how I need to go about registering again.

Dear Mr. Holcombe:

Thanks for your email and apologies for this belated response.

While I appreciate Secretary of State Lawson's cautious approach, the bottom line is that Indiana should not cooperate with the Presidential Advisory Commission on Electoral Integrity in any way, shape, or form. There is no evidence of widespread electoral fraud, despite President Trump's preposterous claim that he would have won the popular ballot in 2016, which he lost by 2.8 million votes, but for such alleged fraud. Correct me if I'm wrong but I don't think your office has uncovered evidence of more than sporadic fraud in this state in 2016 or in other recent state-wide elections. And cases of fraud that do occur can and should be handled on the state level; there's zero need for a federal commission.

So, the real fraud here is President Trump's allegation, for which, characteristically, he has provided not a scintilla of evidence, and thus the creation of the commission itself is bogus, as The New York Times editorialized this past Sunday: <https://www.nytimes.com/2017/07/22/opinion/sunday/the-bogus-voter-fraud-commission.html>. If she hasn't already, Secretary Lawson would do well to read this editorial.

Not coincidentally, the Commission's co-chair, Kris Kobach, is one of the leaders of the voter suppression movement and this, many of us strongly suspect, is the real rationale behind the establishment of this justifiably heavily criticized body.

Sincerely,
[REDACTED]

P.S. A note on a matter unrelated to the Commission but rather to the protocol of your response: We've never met and I was writing a letter to Secretary Lawson as a concerned citizen. It thus seemed to me inappropriately familiar of you to address me as "Dear [REDACTED]" and I suggest that your salutations in similar letters in the future be more business-like.

Dear Secretary Lawson:

I'm writing to express my very deep disappointment that you have decided to cooperate in part with the president's Advisory Commission on Electoral Integrity.

With hundreds of thousands of Hoosiers voting in every congressional and presidential election, there are of course individual instances of illegal voting. Your office, and that of the state attorney general, have the right and duty to prosecute individuals who have voted illegally. But to claim that there is widespread "voter fraud," that "the system is rigged," is itself the real fraud. Study after study shows that such instances are extremely rare.

Our serial liar of a president made this charge, and established the commission, after he made the utterly spurious claim that he would have won the popular vote last November but for "voter fraud" -- one of his biggest whoppers. Characteristically, he has provided absolutely zero hard evidence to back up this claim. Thus, the establishment of the Advisory Commission was based on a lie, and its existence is a diversion from many far more serious issues -- including some around elections and voting -- and a huge waste of taxpayer money.

Of course, the creation of the Advisory Commission also poses a danger by centralizing within the federal government lists of state voter rolls. It might also be used to provide pseudo-evidence of alleged widespread voter fraud, and provide the "basis" for "alternative facts" that justify voter suppression.

For these and other reasons, a significant number of your counterparts, including some from such "deep red" states as Mississippi, have justifiably refused to cooperate in any way with the Advisory Commission. I urge you to take the same stance toward this totally unnecessary, partisan, and potentially pernicious body.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]
Bloomington

P.S. On the dangers of the Advisory Commission, particularly in terms of suppressing the ballots of legitimate voters, see: <https://www.nytimes.com/2017/07/03/opinion/trumps-voter-suppression-efforts.html?ref=opinion> Speaking of which, the website of your office states that you have "led the effort to clean Indiana's voter rolls." While it's unclear what means, I hope that you are and will be as assiduous in helping ensure that every Hoosier who is qualified to vote -- Republican, Democratic, independent, and undecided' of every race, ethnic group, and class -- will be able to do so.

Like many voters across the country, I am very concerned and upset about this voter fraud commission in Washington D.C. I personally don't believe there has been this huge amount of voter fraud that the White House is trying to make us believe. I do believe that some on this commission may be more interested in voter suppression. I think the individual states have done a pretty good job of handling their elections and should continue to do so. I think the Constitution thinks so too. I think we as voters should have the right not to have our voter information, any part of it, turned over to a commission that frankly we really don't know what will be done with it. I hope the Secretary of State agrees and will protect our rights.

Thank you

The short answer is "yes" that "someone" can obtain the information.

You are correct, only subscribers listed on the IEC-2 form may obtain it from the state. As you may know, subscribers primary use it to target their campaign and get out the vote efforts.

However, this type of voting history may be obtained from the county where the person resides as well. The county is not limited to subscribers. They can provide it to anyone provided they complete and file a VRG-24 if the information is provided electronically.

As you may know, there is a state law with criminal penalties that prohibits any person from using any voter registration information for commercial solicitation (like an insurance salesman, for example).

Thought you guys over there may want to address this issue. I received a voicemail as Officer of the Day here in Securities. The lady did not leave her name or number but with new technology, the phone system captured her phone number and I was able to locate her name and address.

This deals with release of voter information. I included the voicemail email and actual voicemail.

I do not want my voter registration information given to the new committee. I believe this is Trump's way of trying to intimidate voters and to decrease voters from coming to the poles.

Dear Mrs. Lawson:

I spoke with your colleague Brian yesterday regarding the recent request by the Administration to secure voter information from all of the States. Although I identified myself, he chose to only be identified as Brian which I am sure has to do with protecting his privacy. I am using this email address to contact you, ( constituent@SOS.IN.gov ) because my attempts to obtain your personal/official email were not successful, most probably due to the same privacy issues "Brian" values. Looking at other email addresses, I am copying this email to the address of c.lawson@IN.GOV in hopes it makes its way to you personally. Also, I am writing as a Citizen from my Government email as this pertains to the business of our Government.

I am asking if you are aware of the laws and ethics regarding Privacy and Confidentiality as they relate to Personally Identifiable Information or referred to as P I I and the consequences of violating these laws.

Some of the laws I am referring to are as follows:

Sec.308(d) Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C 242m(d));
CIPSEA (Confidential and Statistical Efficiency Act),
Title 5 of Pub. Law 105-347 & Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a);
as well as (6 U.S.C. sec 151) Cyber Security.

As a Federal Employee, we are sworn to uphold and abide by these laws and violating can result in a fine of up to $250,000. and up to 5 years imprisonment.

Are you in anyway bound by these laws, especially due to the fact this deals with States and Federal branches of Government? If not, why?

Brian mentioned and I totally understand that you would only be releasing public information which would include a Names, Addresses and Congressional Districts. Although the original request asks for much more information. Any one of these (names, addresses, congressional districts), can be used to gain more info on an individual and in violation of several Laws mentioned.

If the information that your office claims can be provided because it is PUBLIC INFORMATION; why doesn't the said committee look it up themselves?
For this information to be gathered up in one fell swoop and provided for what is appearing to be more and more a sinister attempt to manipulate elections is appalling .

You know as well as anyone that although fraud exist in the process, it by no means is a serious problem. Good people like yourself have worked to make it so, and thank you! In close races there is a remedy for the suspicion of fraud...that is a recount.

I had the pleasure of temporarily working with [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] during the past election. In the month or so prior, we processed thousands of people through the City-County Building for early voting, and on election day we were at various polling places to assist where needed. Every step of the process had checks and balances with a remedy for any issue that would come up. There had to be a balance before we would leave every night.

I hope you can be trusted to do the right thing and not provide any information what so ever that would or could possibly violate the laws and ethics that the Citizens of Indiana, and indeed all Americans expect and deserve. These past few months have been exhausting. Hopefully our long nightmare will end soon. Please keep the fox away from the chickens!!!

Cordially,

[REDACTED]
Indianapolis

Thank you for responding to my enquiry about electoral records information. I do have a more specific question about this information. Can someone obtain information about which ballot I requested (Democratic or Republican) in a primary election? Thanks in advance for your help with this.

With the recent request for information on registered voters from the President's commission on voter fraud, I would like to know what information about voters can be obtained from the Secretary of State's office or my county election board. Specifically, can someone obtain information about whether I requested a Republican or Democrat ballot in a primary election.

I look forward to hearing from you.

The pressure is on!

Fifty State Departments across the country are gearing up for an election cycle with cyber threats, political pressure, peer review and budget constraints.

I certainly hope you will not join in the effort to cancel the bipartisan U.S.ELECTION ASSISTANCE COMMISSION (EAC) that will guide them through this with minimal trauma.

Just a reminder:

The fore thought of presidents Carter and Ford led to the Help America Vote Act (HAVA) in 2002 which set up the Election Assistance Commission.

This act advises the states on many ways of protecting the integrity of the vote. Physical security before and after voting, testing and certification of technology, both software, hardware, and scanners, etc.

The Commission evaluates the cost needs and helps the states secure vote related funding.

The commission provides information on recounts, mail in ballots, staffing, access to polls, audit of votes and many other factors that can become problematic.

I trust the EAC will work along with the current commission in addressing the past election difficulties and the undefined ones that have, or may, rise on our horizon.

And don't you dare. This is MY information. I don't want the idiots in the WH to add it to another database and on top of that make it available to anyone who requests it. There is an issue with Russia already hacking our election (no matter what Donny says) so let us not give them any further data. This is a bogus commission set up to stroke The Donald's ego and nothing more.

Don't you DARE give my voter information or any other private data to those idiots in the white house. We have no idea how it's going to be used or who will have access to it and given the rather leaky and chaotic state of the WH, and government in general these days, I wouldn't give them the time of day let alone my personal data.

The state has the only legal right to voter details - the other data is personal and not something for 'the Donald's' personal vendetta. This is a commission that is meant to bolster the president's unsubstantiated claim that millions of people voted illegally in the 2016 election plus Kobach has been looking for boogeymen under the bed for years. Since he can't come up with anything substantial other than dust bunnies he is going to create a problem that doesn't exist and try to disenfranchise as many citizens as he can along the way.

To paraphrase a certain Republican 'Just say NO'.

Question, if I request a voter list, you would give it to me because it is public information? That hardly seems like good business practice.

If it is decided to give any information to the committee our Secretary of State is on, remove me from voter registration before it is sent so they do not have any information on me. If they have a name and address, it doesn't take much to come up with more.

I would like to be told if the public information on me is sent to them.

Please tell me how this is not voter intimidation or suppression.

Thank you,

Hi, my name is [REDACTED] and I am calling from Indianapolis because I don't want Indiana to share my voter data with Trump's sham voter commission. The commission's request is a reckless invasion of privacy that is already scaring people into unregistering as voters.

Secretary of State Lawson should not share any voter data that is not required by state law. If he is required to release certain voter information, he should not send it until he confirms that the commission will secure the data and until all litigation around the commission has been resolved.

Can I count on her to protect Indiana voters by condemning and resisting Trump's attempts to suppress the vote?

Thank you! While I don't like your answer, I truly appreciate getting an answer. I am still waiting for answers from Representative and Senate members from this state. When Pence was Governor I might get a standard form email (this might be one, but it thoughtfully addressed the subject of my email).

I do understand that this might not be legal for the state. I still encourage that a special request be made. There are some many 'facts' being given, that you have to pick one to believe. I really would like to know if I picked the right one. And considering that the Fed Govt would not be receiving info they don't already have, I think it is a reasonable request as long as it is transferred securely.

Thank you again for a real answer, for once,

Dear Secretary of State,

Please do something to turn over the voter data. I am so tired of the 'news' attacking our president on voter fraud - and then we heasks for an investigation, states refuse to comply. I want the politicians (aka swamp) to focus on what should be done - not what helps them and not what 'may' get our president impeached. If the rules will not currently permit this review, I am sure that you could make a special request for approval to the governor or the legislators. This is of utmost importance to our governments focus - and the safety of our country. We need voter IDs and we need them last week. As you are on the board, you are the example the people will focus on. If you don't make the extra effort, then that gives states like New York and California one more 'excuse'. Please don't let our state be an excuse for those that are trying to destroy our country.

Thank you,

[REDACTED]

Miss Lawson,

I understand that as IN Secretary of State, while charged protecting voter information and the integrity of our elections, you have agreed to provide "limited, as state law permits" voter information to the Trump administration.

Just because the law permits something is not a reason to do it. The Trump administration's request for voter data is nothing other than a continuation of Trump in campaign mode and does nothing to protect the integrity of US elections. Quite the contrary. As you constituent I am asking you to withhold ALL voter info from any and all parties other than IN officials, all the way down to county officials, on a need-to-know basis, as have the two adjoining states of IL and KY.

I hope I am writing the correct portal. I am trying to reach Connie Lawson SOS. I am very very disappointed that she would take part of this unnecessary commission on voter fraud. This is part of Mr. Trump's propaganda. There really isn't any real voter fraud! Out of one million voter registrations checked they only found 12 cases. As far as deaths on the registrations, it takes time to get all of the deceased off of the voter registration tables. This is the most serious situation that all of our voter information would be on one computer. That makes it so much easier for another country to hack. WHY would you take part in this drummed up commission. I know M. Pence brought you into this. This is part of the extreme right GOP agenda to suppress the vote. DO NOT release any private information!!! Thank you

Dear Ms. Lawson,

I rarely ever send anything like this email, but I felt it was important to thank you for your stand to keep my voter registration information private and in-state. I do not want this information sent to Washington, D.C.

I feel that your office has done a good job of protecting our state elections from voter fraud and I do not feel you need to give the Commission in Washington, D.C. any information in their "waste of time and money" investigation.

I have recently become an independent voter and watch closely the people in both parties and the type of integrity they exhibit. I am thoroughly impressed with your integrity and courage in standing up to bullying tactics against you and your fellow Secretaries of State.

While I know that I am only one person, I hope that other Indiana citizens will voice to you their "thanks and appreciation" in standing up for us and our rights.

I sincerely hope that this email gets to you and your desk so that you may know that there are people in this state who stand with you.

Best Regards,

Dear Ms. Lawson,

I viewed with alarm that the Trump "Voter Fraud Commission" rather than investigating Trump's 'Russian connection' for fraud, is requesting all SOSs provide his 'Fraud Czar' with, among other things, all registered voters' full names, addresses, dates of birth, and the last four digits of voters' Social Security Numbers.

DO NOT COMPLY!

Has ANYONE in charge of this 'clown car' ever considered the fact that to access bank account information, a great majority of banks will ask you for your correct full name, address, date of birth, and the last four digits of your Social Security Number?!?! If provided, this information would open up massive fraud on an unprecedented scale!

I urge you, PLEASE DO NOT RELEASE THIS INFORMATION - TO ANYONE!

Thank-you for your service in Hoosiers' behalf.

Sincerely,

I do NOT want any of my voter registration information released to the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. As there is no clear voter fraud in the state of Indiana and as I know that I have voted legally when I exercised my right to do so, I am unclear as to what the true purpose of the Commission is. As President Trump has demonstrated a lack of transparency and true intent, I am fearful that my information and possibly my assumed voting record (based on my party affiliation) could be used for nefarious purposes. Please DONOT release any of my voter registration information to the Commission. Does the Election Division intent to release any or all voter registration information to the Commission?

Dear [REDACTED],

Thank you for contacting Indiana Secretary of State Connie Lawson.

Indiana law does not permit the Secretary of State to provide the personal information requested by Secretary Kobach. Under Indiana public records laws, certain voter info is available to the public and the media and any other person who requests the information for non-commercial purposes. The only information available is voter name, address and congressional district assignment.

Our office is treating this as a public records request and therefore it is currently being reviewed by our Chief Legal Counsel and Co-Counsel in the Indiana Election Division.

To date, our office has not released any information.

Dear Ms. Lawson,

Are you responsible for turning over data to Trump about voters? What information do you intend to provide?

As a citizen of Indiana, I don't think you should submit any information to the Trump administration about voters. Is Indiana not capable of handling its own elections? And if the information you provide is "publicly available" then let the Trump administration "publicly" gather it.

We do not need to be participating in Trump's witch hunt because he and his inferiority complex needs to find some way to prove to himself that he didn't lose the popular vote to Hillary Clinton. I'm outraged that Indiana is cooperating with this request. For God's sake, have some guts and tell them NO, we will not waste our time nor share our voter information on this futile attempt to soothe Trump's ego.

Respectfully,

[REDACTED]

I am a voter in Tippecanoe County. I am opposed to giving information such as Social Security Number, birth date, political affiliation, and voting record to the committee that is investigating voter fraud. I feel that it is private information. Determining voter fraud in Indiana is a State right. The state or local officials should determine if there is voter fraud not a committee that appointed.

As a life-long resident of Indiana, a retiree, a veteran and, for that matter, a registered Republican, I demand that you totally refuse to provide ANY voter information re. the Kobach request.

This is clearly part of a major attempt at voter manipulation and voter suppression by the worst elements of the American political scene. In addition it will make it easier for foreign interference - one stop shopping.

I consider this to be part and parcel of the greatest challenge our country has faced - the Trump/Russia axis. It is a greater threat than previous wars and terrorist attacks; those brought our country together whereas there is now an effort to split us into as many manipulable groups as possible. The Kobach information will be extremely useful to do exactly that.

Many are not paying attention to what is really going on and are easily swayed by mass media and social media. However, you are in the position of being able to judge what is actually happening. Your responsibility is great.

You must resist this. History, and for that matter, your grandchildren and great grandchildren will judge you by your reaction to this and other Trump efforts to straight-jacket our democracy. As a Republican, you must also begin the important step of divorcing the party from the money-grubbing, criminal, traitorous family that is using the Presidency for private gain and ego gratification at the expense of all else. To not do so will result in the demise of the party as the electorate coalesces and rises up against Trumpism and its excrescences.

Dear Senator Lawson:

Thank you for standing up for Hoosiers in refusing to provide private information about Indiana's voters to Kobach's committee that purports to investigate voter fraud, which is almost non-existent in the U.S. Most double-registration in different states is the result of citizens moving from one state to another. They may register in their new state, but unless there is an easy mechanism, may not de-register in their former state. During the last election, we returned a postcard on voter registration to note that our son no longer lived with us or in Indiana. (He's not been an Indiana resident for over 5 years.)

It appears that this new national commission is intent on intimidating voters and suppressing votes. Indiana with its photo ID and other safeguards is safe. Certainly, providing the type of private info requested (SS numbers, how many elections voted in, etc.) is against the standard of secret ballots.

Thank you for your action.

Regards,

[REDACTED]

With the recent request for information on registered voters from the President's commission on voter fraud, I would like to know what information about voters can be obtained from the Secretary of State's office or my county election board. Specifically, can someone obtain information about whether I requested a Republican or Democrat ballot in a primary election.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Connie,

Congratulations for being named president of the NASS. An honor for your commitment and hard work.

I also am writing to thank you for keeping personal and voter information private to protect me and other fellow Hoosiers. There is no reason the Trump administration needs to know my party registration, birthday or SSN. I appreciate your efforts to refuse to share this information.

Best wishes to you and Jack!

Brian, does this mean that full disclosure is being considered? I hope not due to Mr. Trump's erratic behavior and the suspicion that he is in collusion with Russia.

Thank you for contacting Indiana Secretary of State Connie Lawson.

Indiana law does not permit the Secretary of State to provide the personal information requested by Secretary Kobach. Under Indiana public records laws, certain voter info is available to the public and the media and any other person who requests the information for non-commercial purposes. The only information available is voter name, address and congressional district assignment.

Our office is treating this as a public records request and therefore it is currently being reviewed by our Chief Legal Counsel and Co-Counsel in the Indiana Election Division.

To date, our office has not released any information.

I understand from a conversation with the Governor's office that in Indiana, very limited information about voters can be shared with anyone. I am relieved, as I am fearful of the Trump administration's requests for extensive information and their intentions regarding information they may receive. I am also concerned that the administration will use such information to prohibit some citizens from voting. [REDACTED]

Dear Madame Secretary:

I am writing to add my voice to those of other Hoosiers in urging you NOT to share any additional voter information with the federal commission looking in to alleged voter fraud. The only information that should be shared is what is currently allowed by law. Please do the right thing for the people of Indiana. The demand from the commission is in and of itself an act of fraudulent behavior since it has been demonstrated that massive voter fraud is a myth.

Again, please do not agree to let our very private, personal information to leave the state of Indiana.

I saw on Facebook that you have turned over information to the Trump administration voter fraud division. I was under the impression that you had said you weren't going to turn this information. I can tell you that I feel very uncomfortable to know that my name, address, party affiliation and, most especially, my social security number is being turned over to a Federal Government database that may or not be secure. I had understood that Indiana had a state law that prohibited turning this data over. Please reassure me that our information has not been sent to DC.

Dear SOS,

Please do not share my voter registration information. I want my confidential information to remain confidential ! Indiana passed voter ID law to insure that there would be no voter fraud , so there is no need to release personal voting information. The only reason that I can see to release this information is if there is a problem. Do we have a problem in Indiana with voter fraud? Any fraud should be handled by the state of Indiana and not an outside source. Please respond to my concerns .

I do not want the secretary of state of Indiana to send any of my information that the administration has requested. I think it's setting me and the other citizens of this state & across this country up for potentially being hacked, for the information to be used to suppress voter's and at the very least just scaring people. I've heard that people are unregistering to vote because they're fearful of the information getting out. This is completely unacceptable! The federal government cannot have it both ways. They're trying to push more and more responsibilities to the states because they say there should be less big government in the states but in this case they think they should have should all the power. This is wrong!

I hope you will put your constituents over party and not send anything. If it's public info let them get it themselves. Don't make it so easy by putting it all together in one spot for someone to hack! Or used to suppress voters! Or just simply used to intimidate and scare people!

Thank you

Ms. SOS,

It appears to me that you illegally sent my voter information to Trump's committee without substantiating the use and without substantiating the security of the list. Now a single hacker can get the entire state's and possibly the country's voter info with a single mouse click. How can you make me so vulnerable to someone who is known to be under investigation for collusion with the Russians. Are you a traitor or just an unwitting party hack trying to pull a fast one on us the way Florida succeeded in doing in the 2000 election under Jeb Bush. The SOS there did that and was proven guilty of illegal action in court after the election. They eliminated hundreds of thousands of voters from the rolls.

Dear Secretary of State,

Please do something to turn over the voter data. I am so tired of the 'news' attacking our president on voter fraud - and then we heasks for an investigation, states refuse to comply. I want the politicians (aka swamp) to focus on what should be done - not what helps them and not what 'may' get our president impeached. If the rules will not currently permit this review, I am sure that you could make a special request for approval to the governor or the legislators. This is of utmost importance to our governments focus - and the safety of our country. We need voter IDs and we need them last week. As you are on the board, you are the example the people will focus on. If you don't make the extra effort, then that gives states like New York and California one more 'excuse'. Please don't let our state be an excuse for those that are trying to destroy our country.

Thank you,

Mrs. Lawson,

Thank you for not sharing all of the information requested by PACEI. It is important that a sitting president who could run for re election not have detailed voter information. In the last election Trump attempted vote suppression. And we all know from his twitter account and campaign speeches how he feels about his opponents. To give a man information who has so much opportunity and motivation to misuse it is unethical. Please do not give this Commission any more voter information.

Sincerely,

Dear Secretary Lawson, It's my understanding that, up until now @least, your office has declined to turn over Indiana's voter information to the federal government's "Commission"? I surely hope you continue to decline to "share" such information to federal officials in the name of possible "voter fraud". Please, please don't succumb to that intrusive, and possibly unconstitutional, mandate. And the idea that our former governor, Mike Pence, is chairing this "Commission" is truly disturbing. We will truly be lost as a democratic republic if our voting rights are compromised. Please respond with your thoughts and plans on this matter.

Dear Secretary Lawson,

Please do not hand over our state's voter roll information as requested by the President's new commission. Doing so would eliminate the one thing that does the most to protect our national election system, and that is DECENTRALIZATION. It is much harder for the Russians and other bad actors to hack 50 different systems. Don't help make it easier for them by putting all the nation's eggs in one basket. Be strong, country before party, always.

Secretary of State Lawson, my name is [REDACTED]. I have a few questions. My questions are in regard to President Trump's Voter Fraud Commission. I understand that Vice President Pence is the Chairman of the Commission, Secretary of State (Kansas) Kobach is vice chairman. I hope my information so far is correct?

I would appreciate a response to the following questions:

1. Are you a member of the Voter Fraud Commission? If so are you a member personally or as Indiana Secretary of State? Who appointed you to serve as a member? What is the tenure (duration) of your appointment? How many meetings of the commission have taken place at this writing? The voter information requested by the Voter Fraud Commission of all Secretaries of States in the United States of America is the result of how many Commission meetings? Is Mr. Han A von Spakousky a member of the commission, if so in what capacity.
2. I would appreciate a list of all Voter Fraud Commission Members, including their professional title if applicable.
3. What is the purpose or goals of the Voter Fraud Commission? Is one of the goals to prepare a master list of all U.S.A. voters to share with whom? What security safe guards are in place? As a supporter of "State" rights I question why the federal government would want or need the information the Voter Fraud Commission has requested. One issue of concern is one hacker could get all the voter information of the U.S.A. in one hack rather than 50 plus hacks.
4. Why as a member of the Voter Fraud Commission did you support or vote to request the information; from all 50 plus states and or territories?
5. Senator McConnell has stated there will be no federal funds available for this commission; how is the commission going to secure the information already furnished and information received in the future? Also, how does a commission operate without any funding; reference Senator McConnell.

I am looking forward to your response. Thanking you in advance.

Secretary Lawson, I do not want anyone voting who fails to have the right to do so...I do not want anyone failing to be able to vote who has the right to do so...

Personally I believe the establishment of the Voter Fraud Commission is a statement that you are failing to do your job. In my opinion you are doing your job. Therefore, the other 49 states except Kansas (48) states are failing to fulfill their responsibilities, in regards to voter fraud.

Secretary Lawson, as a student of our government, I ask you to be cautious in regards to our voting procedures; as they have served us well until now.

Secretary Lawson, please do not permit President Trump and Secretary Kobach to bully the commission into recommending or supporting any false statements or results. Our voting process and procedures must be the above any one (two) man or party.

One of your commission members I believe he is from Cincinnati was interviewed on TV; stating that one vote matters, I totally agree. He made reference to the Ford/Carter election that if Ford had received one more vote per precinct in Ohio; Ford would have been President. Insinuating how much better off the country would have been with Ford rather than Carter.

I recall my first experience as a voter; how proud I was to walk into the voting booth and cast my ballot, I remain that 21 year old young man every time I vote. The USA voter is proud, do not permit a bully(s), to destroy my fellow Americans voting rights.

I am 78 years old; I recall very proudly voting for President Kennedy.

Thank you for your time.

Respectfully;

Dear Secretary of State Lawson:

On behalf of The Leadership Conference on Civil and Human Rights (“The Leadership Conference”), a diverse coalition of more than 200 national organizations committed to promoting and protecting the civil and human rights of all persons in the United States, and the undersigned allied groups, we write to condemn and oppose the data request by President Trump’s advisory commission (the “commission”). We applaud the principled actions that many Secretaries of State and election administrators have taken to reject the commission’s request for sensitive information about voters, and we urge those that have not yet responded to carefully consider any future responses to the commission.

We strongly believe that the commission’s request is an unprecedented overreach and a brazen assault on the founding principles of our democracy. We have three overarching concerns. First, we are concerned that this commission is laying the groundwork for potential voter suppression by the wrongful removal of eligible voters, including Black, Hispanic, Native American, older, and student voters, from the rolls through the problematic process known as Crosscheck. Second, the creation of a national database of voters’ detailed information raises serious privacy concerns. And finally, at a time when the focus should be addressing the possibility of past and continued Russian interference, including cyberattacks in the 2016 elections, the creation of a national database raises significant national security concerns.

Dear Ms. Lawson;

This is to thank you so much for refusing to give our personal information, especially our Social Security numbers, to the White House committee that requested them. I am trusting that you will always keep our personal information private. I understand that there is information that is publicly accessible, and that you may have to give them that, although, to be frank, I'd rather you did not do that as well.

Thank you again for your efforts on my behalf.

Dear Secretary of State,

As a Hoosier Voter I am most concerned about my privacy and rights. I am extremely concerned to learn the recent requests from the Voter Fraud Panel led by our former Governor, Mike Pence and I am now troubled to see your name listed as part of this panel. While I applaud you for what I understand agreeing to disclose what is considered "public" information ... I am troubled to see that you would agree to be a part of this panel that is clearly partisan politics.

I would suggest that if the voter fraud panel truly wanted to make a difference, acknowledge and focus on the Russian meddling into our elections and the threat to our democracy. Let the focus be on how to protect the voting and privacy rights of all people.

A sincerely concerned voter,

I would have concerns about the website to which you were instructed to send the info. It is not secure and would be an easy target for hackers. Dear Secretary Lawson,

I read that your refusal to hand over information to President Trump's commission on election integrity was justified on the basis of state laws protecting voter information.

I wonder if you might also cite Article IV section 1 of the US Constitution:

"Full Faith and Credit shall be given in each State to the public Acts, Records, and judicial Proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general Laws prescribe the Manner in which such Acts, Records and Proceedings shall be proved, and the Effect thereof."

If Trump questions election integrity, he needs to go through congress. It is the purview of congress to "prove" acts concerning voting and records concerning elections.

Tell the Trump commission to stay in it's constitutional lane.

Thank you for your service to our beautiful state.

Sincerely,

My husband and I definitely do NOT want our voting information submitted to the President's fraud commission. Indiana does not have a problem and I will sue if my information is disclosed. I understand that the website he has set up is not a secure site and can be hacked easily.

We would never give permission to disclose our names, addresses, voting history, military service, and social security #'s. What the heck do they want with this information?

As a registered Indiana voter, I greatly appreciate your public statement indicating that you will fully adhere to Indiana law with regards to supplying the personal information requested by Secretary Kobach for the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. Protecting our personal information as Indiana law requires is of great importance to both my family and I, as well as many of my colleagues. I urge you to stand strong in resisting any demands to the contrary, and will support you in these efforts. Thank you very much for all that you are doing.

Best Regards,

Don't you DARE give my voter information or any other private data to those idiots in the white house. We have no idea how it's going to be used or who will have access to it and given the rather leaky and chaotic state of the WH, and government in general these days, I wouldn't give them the time of day let alone my personal data.

The state has the only legal right to voter details - the other data is personal and not something for 'the Donald's' personal vendetta. This is a commission that is meant to bolster the president's unsubstantiated claim that millions of people voted illegally in the 2016 election plus Kobach has been looking for boogeymen under the bed for years. Since he can't come up with anything substantial other than dust bunnies he is going to create a problem that doesn't exist and try to disenfranchise as many citizens as he can along the way.

To paraphrase a certain Republican 'Just say NO'.

Mr. Secretary,

I will not authorize the release of any of my personal information, up to and including my voting history, to President Trump's inappropriate and overreaching request. Should you provide such information you violate my right to privacy as well as expose me to cyber crime. If I see my information has been submitted, then I will seek legal remedy against your office, and if you are found to have acted outside the scope of your authority, you personally.

Dear Secretary Lawson,

I applaud your decision not to provide private voter information to Kris Kobach's election fraud commission. However, I also encourage you to go further and not provide any voter information to the commission.

Experts agree that voter fraud is extremely rare in the United States. Unfortunately, many politicians have used unsubstantiated claims of voter fraud as a pretext for voter suppression, disenfranchising minorities, the poor, and others. I'm sure you're aware of Donald Trump's bizarre insistence that millions of people voted illegally in the 2016 election, and his appointee Kobach has a history of voter suppression in Kansas. To comply with Kobach's request for information, even partially, will normalize these false claims and give voter suppression a foothold.

Furthermore, complying with the request could put our security at risk. A story by Eric Geller and Cory Bennett for Politico warns that cyber criminals and foreign spies could easily mine the collection of voter data that Kobach is trying to create. Such hackers could use the information for identity theft or worse.

Please protect Hoosiers' voting rights and security by refusing to comply with the commission's request.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]

I would like to address the recent request from the white house for all voter records.

I would like to object to you turning these records over to them.

I understand that these are public records however my social security number is not, even the last four digits is commonly used as an identifier by banks. Although in all fairness, I am not sure whether you have that information. my date of birth is not something that I publicize either, as it is a key identity theft item.

Washington is not capable of investigating voter fraud in Indiana as they are not familiar with the laws. It is also a matter for the state. My prior voting history is also not relevant and that data going back to 2006 goes far beyond any statute of limitations.

My concern is that this is a façade and that all this nationwide data will be analyzed for patterns on how the exercise of the right to vote can be manipulated in subtle ways. This is precisely one of the things that you should prevent. A person's voting history is not relevant to their investigation. If it could be shown that somebody cast a fraudulent vote then their history could be relevant after that charge is proven.

I recall several years ago a newspaper on the east coast obtained gun ownership records which where also public records and they published a map which caused those owners problems. This is a situation where public records that where provided for one reason were re-tasked and used for another purpose. All of us voters gave this information to prove that we are eligible to vote and to exercise our vote. While it is fair use to provide some of this information to the public to allow them send us information about their candidate, it was never intended to be turned over to the federal government in bulk to investigate crimes that you yourself believe are frivolous. If you feel there is a problem I encourage you to investigate and address it. It is not the federal government right to tell the state of Indiana that voter fraud is running rampant in the state and that you are too incompetent to investigate it so send us all your data.

Many other states both republican and democrat have officially refused this request, I ask that you carefully consider their rationale and do the same.

I would like you to notify me of your intentions and also notify that if you are going to send data in response to this letter to identify the data items that you intend to send.

Thank you for your time and consideration

Dear Secretary Lawson,

I'm writing to encourage you to not release any information to the Presidential Advisory Commission of Election Integrity. With all the hacking done on the Internet, I do not feel our personal information will be safe. It is also my belief that this is a complete waste of taxpayer dollars. Every state is already keeping track of voter fraud so this commission is unnecessary. Thank you for listening to my concerns.

I would like to place on record my strong opposition to having my personal details shared with the Trump administration's Election Commission. I realize that much of this information is publicly available but I believe that part of the strength of our election system lies in its State by State nature. I'm horrified to contemplate that all this information will be merged into a single database and that this will facilitate easy access by rogue players. I'm also deeply skeptical of the entire exercise and believe it to be, at best a waste of taxpayer money and at worse, an attempt at voter suppression.

Dear Secretary Lawson,

I would first like to thank you for refusing to provide personal private voter information to the Federal Voter Fraud Commission. I do not wish for anyone, especially the current administration, to have access to my social security number, date of birth, party affiliation, or voting history. I believe that this commission was put in place as an attempt at voter suppression, and to try to soothe the ego of a President who cannot accept that he lost the popular vote.

For those reasons, I would like to ask you to go a step further, and join the nineteen other states that are refusing to provide any information with this commission. I think it is a farce, a waste of time, and an embarrassment to the country. The focus of the administration should be on preventing Russia from interfering in future elections, and this attempt at voter suppression only plays into their hands.

Again, I ask as an Indiana voter and lifelong resident, that you REFUSE to cooperate with this "voter fraud" commission in any way. Be brave and lead the way for other states! If Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Mississippi, and many others can stand up and say NO, so can the Hoosier State! Lets be on the right side of history.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]

PS

By the way – if all those states keep giving you guys a hard time about so-called privacy rights surrounding some very basic info / metadata, you might want to remind them of how HRC, BHO & Comey did something infinitely more intrusive in their attempt to rig the 2016 election with the illegal 24-hour surveillance of Trump Tower & me which they organized. That might help put things in perspective and inspire them to change their tune... I'm sure they won't want you guys looking too closely at those Section (a) and (b) questions of your mandate instead!

I am sending you this e-mail to let you know that I do not think the state should provide the President's "Voter Fraud" committee with the information that is being requested. I feel the information that is being requested is a violation of my privacy and that of every voter in the state. If any information is to be provided it should only be the names of the people who voted in the last presidential election.

I do not see the need to provide this commission with any other information such as my address, veteran status or any part of my social security number. The only time I have to declare a party affiliation is during a primary election and that has no bearing on how I might vote in a presidential election.

This request strikes me as something out of George Orwell's "1984". It is like "big brother" is watching me.

I have sent this same request to both my state senator, Mr. Frank Mrvan and state representative, Mara Candelaria-Reardon

Respectfully

[REDACTED]

Dear Secretary,

Thank you very much for not responding fully to our President's request for personal Hoosier voter data. I trust you understand this request has little, if any at all, merit. It is simply the response of a narcissist personality attempting to recover the popular vote ...in an election he won! To most people, simply winning would be enough. Hoosier time and money should not be spent responding to our President's obvious mental health issues.

Thank you for moving very slowly on this issue.

Dear Ms. Lawson:

I am writing to oppose the request for voter information by the Trump administration. This is a scary violation of privacy and a treat to have such information in a centralized national data base. There is not evidence to support the need for such information. People in this country know that the voters weren't the issue in the last election. I am a registered Republican and very concerned about what is going on.

I am writing to voice my strong opposition to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity, massive request for the voters' personal data,.

Did you SOS, Connie Larson, say "NO" to trump voter fraud commission??? Pls reply...

*I, [REDACTED], do not want you to hand over any information; nor comply in part. The idea of collecting all national voter data for an audit is false. It is another factor in the systematic national effort of voter suppression and intimidation.*

Also a question: Why is Congress trying to slash funding for a small bipartisan agency, and yank the entire $4 million budget of the Election Assistance Commission. EAC was created to make sweeping reforms to the nation's voting process, and improve the way elections run. Congress gets rid of the agency right after they release a major study of voting in the 2016 election.

Their job included certifying the hardware and software used to conduct elections. Thus, I do not want my personal data sent to the White House and “you and everyone else knows” the elections were hacked. Do not want to give any information for intimidation, nor hacking for a foreign enemy.

Mr. Holcombe,

Your last email stated that this was being reviewed by your Chief Counsel and co-counsel, thus leaving a question as to whether the state is required to comply.

Based on your recent email I assume that legal council has reviewed and that Indiana is not required to comply.

Dear Secretary of State Connie Lawson,

You run a great department. I have been very impressed when I needed some items authenticated...

I am now even more impressed by your decision to provide only what is allowed by Indiana Law with respect to voter data requested by the federal government. I'm sure there was pressure either external or otherwise felt by you but you are doing what is not only right but what the law allows. That's what being a public officials is all about. Following and enforcing the law. Too many officials feel otherwise.

I'm so proud of you that I'll split my ticket for the first time in order to vote for You!

Keep up the great work Connie!
Respectfully,

so to this bogus request by you and kobach to form a data base of all voters in the u.s. what info did you hand over to your commission on indiana voters? indiana has one of the most strictest voter laws of any state in the union and you can count on one hand how many cases of voter fraud in indiana were prosecuted in the last 2 cycles. is this info going into a secure data base? putin is going to love this. extremely skeptical about this. kobach lost 4 voter suppression cases thanks to the aclu. cant wait for 2018 and 2020.

Dear Madam Secretary,

While I appreciate very much your decision to provide only some information regarding my voter registration; I am not happy at all with any of it being shared.

I do not believe in any way that voter fraud was committed in the widespread fashion as has been so long suggested by this "commission" and Mr. Trump. Also bothering me is the very fact that this request does not come from a government department.

My name and address will now be in the hands of a party I have not registered as my primary party.

Thank you for allowing these remarks.

Dear Secretary Lawson:

I'm writing to express my very deep disappointment that you have decided to cooperate in part with the president's Advisory Commission on Electoral Integrity.

With hundreds of thousands of Hoosiers voting in every congressional and presidential election, there are of course individual instances of illegal voting. Your office, and that of the state attorney general, have the right and duty to prosecute individuals who have voted illegally. But to claim that there is widespread "voting fraud," that "the system is rigged," is itself the real fraud. Study after study shows that such instances are extremely rare.

Our serial liar of a president made this charge, and established the commission, after he made the utterly spurious claim that he would have won the popular vote last November but for "voter fraud" -- one of his biggest whoppers. Characteristically, he has provided absolutely zero hard evidence to back up this claim. Thus, the establishment of the Advisory Commission was based on a lie, and its existence is a diversion from many far more serious issues -- including some around elections and voting -- and a huge waste of taxpayer money.

Of course, the creation of the Advisory Commission also poses a danger by centralizing within the federal government lists of state voter rolls. It might also be used to provide pseudo-evidence of alleged widespread voter fraud, and provide the "basis" for "alternative facts" that justify voter suppression.

For these and other reasons, a significant number of your counterparts, including some from such "deep red" states as Mississippi, have justifiably refused to cooperate in any way with the Advisory Commission. I urge you to take the same stance toward this totally unnecessary, partisan, and potentially pernicious body.

Sincerely,
[REDACTED]

Bloomington

P.S. On the dangers of the Advisory Commission, particularly in terms of suppressing the ballots of legitimate voters, see: <https://www.nytimes.com/2017/07/03/opinion/trumps-voter-suppression-efforts.html?ref=opinion> Speaking of which, the website of your office states that you have "led the effort to clean Indiana's voter rolls." While it's unclear what means, I hope that you are and will be as assiduous in helping ensure that every Hoosier who is qualified to vote -- Republican, Democratic, independent, and undecided' of every race, ethnic group, and class -- will be able to do so.

Dear Ms. Lawson,

Are you responsible for turning over data to Trump about voters? What information do you intend to provide?

As a citizen of Indiana, I don't think you should submit any information to the Trump administration about voters. Is Indiana not capable of handling its own elections? And if the information you provide is "publicly available" then let the Trump administration "publicly" gather it.

We do not need to be participating in Trump's witch hunt because he and his inferiority complex needs to find some way to prove to himself that he didn't lose the popular vote to Hillary Clinton. I'm outraged that Indiana is cooperating with this request. For God's sake, have some guts and tell them NO, we will not waste our time nor share our voter information on this futile attempt to soothe Trump's ego.

Respectfully,

I feel the need to express my deep concerns over the White House commission to receive my personal information regarding voting rights, and especially my social security no. Since there has been no proof in the state of Indiana of voting fraud, I feel this is an invasion of my privacy.

I would hope you would take my concerns seriously in this matter. My grandfather was a judge for over 40 years, I know he would be legally and morally appalled by this request from this white house commission.

Thank you,

Dear Secretary of State Lawson,

Happy 4th of July - I am praying for you.

Thank you for serving in public office - you and your family have sacrificed to make this possible. I pray for you and your family, that you would be strengthened and protected as you serve.

I pray also that you would remember that our nation was founded on basic, profound principles of liberty and freedom. May your decisions, personally and politically, reflect the fundamental American values incorporated in the Declaration of Independence, signed on July 4, 1776: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness." May God bless you.

I have been a voter since I turned 18. I vote independently and have never voted a straight ticket. Honesty I, that's personal info and everything about my voter info should stay in Marion country. It should not be released to that sham commission in The White house.

I do however have a solution on how to safely remove the deceased from voter roles in a safe bipartisan way if you care to hear my simple solution.

Not because I believe we have a dead people voting problem but just to keep rolls uncluttered

Dear Sec. Lawson,

I am very concerned about Trump's request for voter information. That is our private information that should not be given out to anyone else. I do not authorize the release of my private information and hope you will protect it. Please join with many other states to protect the integrity of Indiana voter databases and deny the over-reaching request of the Trump administration for our private, personal voting information. Thank you.

It has recently come to my attention that we (the State of Indiana) may be complying with the request from Washington DC concerning voter information. I would like to ask if it is confirmed that we are complying? If we are still mulling over the decision, then I request that we refrain from sending any voter data to Washington until the Russian probe has been thoroughly investigated to conclusion. Please respond by email with any assurances that you can provide. Thank you.

Dear Ms. Lawson:

I am outraged at the request of the federal government (or someone else?) to have state's release the personal information of voters.

I am sure that you are aware, even if you refuse to believe it, that voter fraud is a vanishing small problem that never affects the outcome of any election in this country. The only recent voter frauds I'm even familiar with in this state were perpetrated by a former Secretary of State, and a local politician here who ran for state Senate in a district in which he was not registered to vote. That Russians interfered with our last election (a fact acknowledged by members of both the House of Representatives and the Senate) is a way, way more serious issue than any voter fraud. And don't even get me started on that registration brouhaha--Mickey Mouse can register to vote in Indiana, but unless he can come up with identification, that mouse is not voting.

If you're truly concerned with protecting the rights of our voters, come out in favor of changing the laws that allow for the extreme gerrymandering that goes on in this state. The citizens of Monroe County are now being represented by five different representatives--that is just plain nuts.

Protect the Constitution, protect our privacy, and protect our elections. Refuse to release voter information to anyone! Do your patriotic duty. Protect the secret ballot (and our private information).

Dear Secretary Lawson,

I am aware of the request for voter information by the Advisory Commission on Election Integrity.

I am pleased that, under Indiana law, only limited information can be provided, and I would support your efforts to protect our privacy.

As you know, voter fraud is rare, and there is no excuse for the belligerent, bullying action and language coming from the White House.

I commend Hoosier Republican officials for challenging the behaviors of national officials from their own party.

Dear Secretary of State Lawson,

As a registered voter and citizen of the great state of Indiana I implore you not to comply with the commission headed by former governor Mike Pence's request for voter information from our state. The request of said information is not in the best interest of Indiana voters and is likely to lead to widespread voter suppression. Voting is an unalienable right. Hello,

I am writing to express my opinion on the Trump Administration's demand for voter information. I am adamantly opposed to the State of Indiana providing this information to Trump Administration.

I have seen articles or reports that report Indiana will not and others stating we will. DO NOT provide such data. I believe it will be used for voter intimidation or suppression by this administration.

Mr Holcombe,
Thank you for your response and the additional information that this is being reviewed by legal council.

Although I have always registered as a Republican, I still believe that anything beyond what the current law states is a violation of my privacy. My bigger concern is what will be done with this information now or in the future. Therefore, I am continuing my directions of NOT allowing anything beyond my name, address, and congressional district to be sent to anyone.

Please confirm that your office will comply even if your legal council determines otherwise.

Thank you for giving a negative response to the request from Washington D.C. for complete information on all voters in Indiana. Although it is public information, I question why the Washington Office wants all of the States to make such information easily accessible in one large document.

There is a strong movement across the United States to make it more difficult for voters to take advantage of the right and privilege to vote. Voter suppression and gerrymandering is on the rise. The true agenda behind the request is not being shared.

I wanted to say "THANK YOU" for protecting us, and not offering easy access to the immense amount of personal information of the voters of Indiana

Thank you for contacting Indiana Secretary of State Connie Lawson.

Indiana law does not permit the Secretary of State to provide the personal information requested by Secretary Kobach. Under Indiana public records laws, certain voter info is available to the public and the media and any other person who requests the information for non-commercial purposes. The only information available is voter name, address and congressional district assignment.

Our office is treating this as a public records request and therefore it is currently being reviewed by our Chief Legal Counsel and Co-Counsel in the Indiana Election Division.

To date, our office has not released any information.

Best,

Mr. Secretary,

I will not authorize the release of any of my personal information, up to and including my voting history, to President Trump's inappropriate and overreaching request. Should you provide such information you violate my right to privacy as well as expose me to cyber crime. If I see my information has been submitted, then I will seek legal remedy against your office, and if you are found to have acted outside the scope of your authority, you personally.

Hi ,Secretary of State Connie Lawson:

I am writing you in as a concerned constituent about the request from the Federal Govt. as lead by Mr. Kobach, Commissioner. I am speaking for my family, friends and I've spoken with other neighbors in my community who are also concerned about his request for information regarding voter information. If there is a record that is public we feel he can get this information, however, nothing more!!!

We think this a reasonable request for our concern...

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]

Madam Secretary,

I have just heard on CNN (Fake News), that you have uploaded some of the voter information of the citizens of Indiana to a site that was listed as Non-Secure site. If this is accurate, you have made our information available for hackers everywhere.

I don't recall signing anything stating you may send my information without my consent. My concern is that many legal voters will be unable to vote in the next election. I am a registered Republican...lucky me. Those registered as Democrats may not be so fortunate.

Please respond at your convenience. I am very concerned, regarding my information and that of my fellow Hoosiers.

Respectfully,

Holcombe, Brian

Dear Ms. Lawson,

I would like to request that my voter information not be given to the Federal Government. If you cannot comply with my request, please advise me how I can delete my voter registration.

In fall, 2016, the Trump election committee hacked into my Facebook and Twitter accounts to deliver very distasteful negative ads during the 2016 election campaign. These ads were offensive, sexist and completely offensive to me. I was able to repair this assault on my privacy only with a great deal of effort and cost. I do not wish to have this occur again due to the State sharing my information with the government, which is, in effect, the Campaign to Re-Elect Donald Trump.

If I must delete my voter registration and reapply prior to the 2018 Midterm elections, I will gladly do so to avoid this horrific invasion of privacy.

Sincerely,

Secretary of State Connie Lawson,

I do not want my personal information released to the White House for their voter fraud investigation. My party affiliation is my business, not the White House business.

Also, they have not provided a secure way to receive this information from the states. The POTUS is out of line on this request, and I feel that it is my duty as an American Citizen to convey this.

Sincerely,

Connie Lawson
Secretary of State

Hello, While I want to say that I understand the tough job you have of trying to do your job and serve the people at the same time, I would like you to understand my view.

As a constituent, and a registered voter, I do not give you permission to release any of my information to the Trump administration. The Trump administration is toxic and cannot handle this type of information in a safe and secure manner. As I see it, I gave up this information with the understanding that it would be kept secure within the confines of the State of Indiana and its Voter Administration. I believe much like health information, ie HIPA Laws, this information cannot be released without my express consent.

You DO NOT have my consent.

I will be the first to join a class action lawsuit to sue the State of Indiana for the release of such information to the Trump administration, when it is suspect, and currently under investigation for colluding with the Russians, and that Donald Trumps personal behavior deems to be in need of psychiatric evaluation. You do not have any idea what this administration will do with this information, or that they will keep it secure. So yes, I will SUE, if you release my information.

Thank you for your time,

Good morning and in recognition of the 4th of July God Bless America!

My name is [REDACTED] I reside in Dubois Co. Cass Township. Writing to express my opposition to the release of voter registration information and last four digits of our social security number to the Executive branch of the federal gov. I am not an attorney, of course, but this seems to cross the line of separation of powers, separation of state rights. I feel confident in our state's voter registration laws (methods and voter ID system) that our elections are done in a legal, correct and proper way. Very concern of how this data may be interpreted and used in the near future and distant.

Thanks for letting me express my opinion.

This email is a follow-up to my call from Monday, July 3, 2017 @ 7:05am. My name is [REDACTED] a constituent from Hobart, Indiana.

I am writing to voice my strong opposition to Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity, massive request for the voters' personal data,.

Did you SOS, Connie Larson, say "NO" to trump voter fraud commission??? Pls reply...

*I, [REDACTED] do not want you to hand over any information; nor comply in part.. The idea of collecting all national voter data for an audit is false. It is another factor in the systematic national effort of voter suppression and intimidation.*

Also a question: Why is Congress trying to slash funding for a small bipartisan agency, and yank the entire $4 million budget of the Election Assistance Commission. EAC was created to make sweeping reforms to the nation's voting process, and improve the way elections run. Congress gets rid of the agency right after they release a major study of voting in the 2016 election.

Their job included certifying the hardware and software used to conduct elections. Thus, I do not want my personal data sent to the White House and "you and everyone else knows" the elections were hacked. Do not want to give any information for intimidation, nor hacking for a foreign enemy.

Did you say "no"! Please reply!!

While I understand that certain voter information can not be released, I just wanted to say that I support that law/regulation. In other words, I do not want my voting information released to anyone and especially to the Trump Election Voter Panel. That definitely erodes my privacy/freedom and it's none of their business.

One other thing. Your web site certainly does not make it easy to contact you, or your department. I had a hard time finding an email address.

Mrs. Lawson,

I want to voice my displeasure with you even considering the release of this states voter information to the Presidents commission. It has no power nor right to even think about requesting this information. Especially the information they are requesting. My birthday, last four of my SSN and my previous voting record are MY personal information and in order for that to be release you better ask me first. This is akin to a legalized data breach. If they want this information this commission needs to contact the people themselves. Not go through your office to try and get personal information release. My SSN and other personal information is not for release at YOUR WHIM.

If you continue to think about release any of this information, you had better be ready for a prolonged legal battle. There is no reason for the federal government to need this information. In this country the way we vote and whether we choose to vote at all is a personal and PRIVATE choice. It is not for the federal government and an illegitimate president to attempt to circumvent our voting right of a free, secret ballot. Remember you are a voter as well and YOU will be coming up for re-election in a couple of years.

You are in office to protect the rights and the welfare of ALL residence of the State of Indiana, NOT to do the bidding of the President. It is time that this State takes a stand for the Rights of all of its residences. You and the Governor will be held accountable at the polls if you fail to maintain our given right of a free, secret vote.

MY VOTING INFORMATION, INCLUDING THE LAST FOUR OF MY SSN, MY DATE OF BIRTH, MY PARTY AFFILIATION, MY PAST VOTING RECORD ARE MY PERSONAL INFORMATION AND AT NO TIME HAVE I EVER AUTHORIZED THE STATE OR ANY AGENCY OF THE STATE TO RELEASE THIS INFORMATION. THE ONLY INFORMATION THAT YOU HAVE BEEN AUTHORIZED TO EVER RELEASE BY ME IS WHETHER OR NOT I AM A REGISTERED VOTER. FAILURE TO MAINTAIN MY RIGHT TO PRIVACY CAN AND WILL HAVE LEGAL CONSEQUENCES. LAWS ARE IN PLACE FOR A REASON AND IN ALL CASES IT REQUIRES YOU TO GET THE INDIVIDUALS PERMISSION TO RELEASE THEIR PERSONAL INFORMATION. JUST BECAUSE YOU ARE THE STATE DOES NOT GIVE YOU THE LEGAL RIGHT TO RELEASE ANY OF MY INFORMATION AT YOU WILL OR FOR, ESPECIALLY TO SOMEONE WHO HAS NO LEGALLY BINDING RIGHT TO HAVE THIS INFORMATION. YOU ARE UNDER NO LEGAL OBLIGATION BECAUSE THIS COMMISSION FORMED BY THE PRESIDENT HAS NO LEGALLY BONDING POWER, TO JUST FREELY GIVE INFORMATION OUT. UNTIL YOU HAVE RECEIVED A SUBPENIA BY THE COURTS IT IS NOTHING YOU SHOULD EVER BE CONSIDERING IN ANYWAY. YOUR STATEMENT THAT OUR LAW RESTRICTS THE INFORMATION YOU ARE ALLOWED TO GIVE OUT IS A COP OUT, YOU SHOULD NEVER EVEN ENTERTAIN THIS REQUEST AND IT HAS NO LEGAL FOUNDATION NOR IS THERE A JUSTIFIED REASON TO HAVE MY INFORMATION. YOU AS THE STATE YOU CAN AND DO

REVIEW THE VOTER ROLES HERE IN THIS STATE, AND CERTIFY THEM, IT IS NOT FOR THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO DO.

YOU ARE HERBY NOTIFIED YOU ARE NOT ALLOWED, NOR AUTHORIZED BY ME TO RELEASE ANY PART OF MY VOTER INFORMATION TO ANYONE WITHOUT FIRST OBTAINING MY PERSONAL RELEASE.

I know from my experience that you will do whatever you want with little or no thought as to the expressed wishes of your constituents but remember we are the ones with the voice and the ones that WILL hold you accountable at the polls.

Thank you for allowing me to voice my whole hearted and absolute objection to you entertaining this request from this commission that holds no legal nor binding powers.

A concerned citizen and voter.

Please do not let the Trump fraud group access the private information for their "investigation". This would lead to someone hacking this information for sure! I am sick and tired of any personal information being hacked! Stand your ground and do not release this information, its a mutepoint now that wont lead to any changes and only needs to be addressed for future elections.

I wanted to say "Thank You" to Secretary Lawson for refusing to turn over voter data to Secretary Kobach's commission. Thank you for protecting the data of Hoosier voters. The voter fraud commission appears to have been prompted by groundless accusations. There is no evidence to support President Trump's claim that there were millions of fraudulent votes cast in the last election.

In the past, and in spite of a lack of evidence, Secretary Kobach has actively sought to restrict voting rights in Kansas. V.P. Pence, while Indiana's governor, helped to enact restrictive voter ID laws in our state. It is logical to conclude that they wish to pursue similar restrictions nationwide. I am concerned by this because the voting laws promoted by this commission's co-chairs disproportionately affect poor and minority voters.

Thank you for making this statement on behalf of Hoosiers, and please keep up the good work as a voice of reason within this commission.

Dear Secretary of State Lawson:

I am writing to express my appreciation at your decision to not provide personal information to the "Election Integrity" Commission. Thank you for upholding the laws of our state and the privacy of our citizens.

Given the nature of the commission's request, I would express some curiosity and concern about the commission's motives. The "Election Integrity" Commission must make absolutely no effort which could even remotely endanger the right of citizens or groups of citizens to vote. In your capacity as a member, I do hope you will hold the commission to the highest standards of integrity and demand a serious commitment to the voting rights of all American citizens.

Thank you for your service to our state.

Respectfully,

Please, Mrs. Lawson, do not share my voting and personal information with the federal voting commission inquiry. It is my private business and I trust my election process not to share my voting history and social security number. There is nothing to keep the data from being resold to a third party such as the polling group Ted Cruz used to target specific messages to particular voters. Please protect our information. Thanks for giving thought to this issue. It is a fine thing to speak up and out! To others I am writing:

Refuse to provide the Election Integrity Commission any voter registration data. Voter fraud has been debunked and is unsubstantiated in the 2016 Election. I suspect the the EIC's goal is to distract the states from the real issue of voter suppression. Thank you.

Dear Secretary Lawson,
Below is the message I sent to Governor Holcomb:
Dear Governor,

I am not in the habit of telling officials what to do, but I do express my opinion. This is an exception: Do not comply with the fake federal election voter fraud commission demand for my data. They are operating with a predetermined conclusion and seeking data to cherry pick as supporting evidence.
I apologize for not previously writing to say I am pleased with your administration (so far).

You also will not cooperate with the Voting Suppression effort of this paranoid childish Chief Executive.

Regards,

Dear Hon. Ms. Connie Lawson,

Dear Sec. Lawson,

Given how things have been going the past few months, I am very concerned that Donald Trump will not be able to win re-election on his own, and that Congress could flip to all Democrat Party control.

This is why I am so thankful for your place on President Trump's "Voter Fraud" commission. Alleging voter fraud seems to be the best short-term route for electoral success for us, and I know most people don't like to admit it, but the more we can keep Democrat voters out of the voting booth, the better.

However, I am worried that the commission won't complete its work fast enough and too many Democrats will remain on the rolls for the 2018 election, and that they could take over Congress as a result. Please expedite the commission's work so that that doesn't happen.

Thank you for your leadership on this important issue.

Connie Lawson,

I want to strongly object to your sharing of my personal data with the so-called "Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity".

I did not give permission to have my social security number or any other personal data shared.

If this information is publicly available, those degenerates can go gather it themselves. And yes, I include you as one of those degenerates. How dare you.

I consider your failure to protect me a dereliction of your duty to the citizens of Indiana. It won't be forgotten.

Shame on you, Connie Lawson. You need to search your soul.

Dear Secretary,

I am very pleased to learn that Indiana has laws that will not allow the Secretary to provide the private information of Indiana's voters (recently requested) to the Trump administration. I am reassured in my presumption that the Secretary will respect and follow those laws. Perhaps the Secretary can educate Trump on those privacy laws so that he will stop tweeting ignorant comments that carry a conspiratorial undertone questioning why several states will not provide their voter's information. That undertone is not helpful to our nation especially during our current challenging political climate - particularly when it comes from the President.

Thank you for all you do for Indiana.

I am writing to strongly encourage the state of Indiana to not comply with the federal government's request for voter information. If any voter fraud occurred in Indiana, I firmly believe it is Indiana's responsibility to investigate and prosecute. I also believe that the personal information given on the voter registrations is to be maintained as classified and available only to the appropriate state officials in their official capacities. Any other dissemination would be a violation of the public trust of our duly elected officials and I would think would subject to prosecution.

Thank you.

I don't want you sending ANY of my personal information to Trump's so-called Election Commission. If Trump wants my publically available information, let him find it by himself. I believe the "commission" will be using this information for voter suppression and harassment, targeting in particular Hispanic and Middle Eastern names. Please don't be a party to enable this racism and invasion of privacy?

How is Trump planning on securing this database? We already know he doesn't particularly care about cyber security, so who is guaranteeing the security of this database? Is he guaranteeing the Russians or Chinese won't be able to hack the database and use the information of the entire country for their own purposes?

The possibility of misusing this data is enormous, and using taxpayer money to monitor and track voter's personal information is simply enabling Trump's paranoia.

States are responsible for their own election voter roles. The federal government has no business interfering in states' role in elections.

Please keep the privacy of Hoosier information private.

Good Day:

I know this will not be read until Monday at the earliest, but I did originally send this to the wrong state office.

I have been reading the information on the Presidents commission on voter fraud wanting voter data. I do not feel this is a just request and they are requesting information that I will not trust my federal government with when they have released no information on who will see the data or any other security measures.

At this point I respectfully request that the Secretary of State's office for the state of Indiana not release any information on me or my voting record to anyone associated with the federal government or the President's commission on voter fraud.

I look forward to hearing from you in the near future.

Respectfully,

Connie Lawson -

As Secretary of State of Indiana, I urge you NOT to release voter registration information to the President's Commission investigating voter fraud.

I am deeply concerned that information I give at my voting location will be released to someone outside that voting system. I feel this is a violation of my privacy, and more deeply concerning when it comes to my voting patterns and Social Security number.

Voting choices are personal and private matters that NO ONE should have access to. Releasing my SSN becomes a personal security issue. Protecting my SSN is a key part of protecting my identity from theft. I do not give it out freely and when I do I expect it to be safe and secure.

I urge you NOT to give in to their request. I urge you to stand up for fellow Hoosiers and not release our personal and private voting information.

Thank you.

Dear Secretary Lawson,

I am writing to request that Indiana refuse the request of the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity for information about voter data rolls. If it is similar to letters sent to other states, the Advisory Commission requests voters' first, middle and last names, addresses, last 4 digits of their SSNs, political party affiliation and voting history since 2006. The reason for the request is purportedly to "fully analyze vulnerabilities and issues relating to voter registration and voting."

This request is a transparent attempt to aggregate voter records on a massive, centralized scale that could only be used to suppress voting by certain groups, such as members of a particular party, or citizens whose last names would reveal their national origin. The fact that the Advisory Commission does not even state the supposed "issues" or "vulnerabilities" clearly indicates that there are no such issues and that there are ulterior motives.

Indiana has an excellent history of voting. To comply the request would give credence to what is at best an effort to legitimize President Trump's claims about alleged voter fraud in the 2016 elections and, at worst, an anti-democratic effort to suppress voters in future elections.

I ask that you join Governors and Secretary of States in 24 other states including California, Kentucky, New York and Virginia by declaring that the State of Indiana will not turn over the requested information to the Commission. Thank you for taking the time to read this message.

Best regards,

[REDACTED]

Dear Secretary Lawson;

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

As a concerned voter of the State of Indiana, I am extremely worried about the integrity of our voter system. I am urging you to NOT comply with the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity request to supply them with their requested voter information.

Here are the following reasons:

- a. An illegitimate president, elected by means of interference of and collusion with a foreign government.
- b. Purging of legitimate voters through a programs designed to disenfranchise voters.
- c. Gerrymandered redistricting done by republican partisans with the sole goal of disenfranchising people.
- d. Rulings by the Supreme Court allowing the corporations and those that become rich from them undermining the will of the vast general public.
- e. Our elections watchdog, the Federal Elections Commission, rendered useless by the likes of the presidential commission.
- f. An outdated Electoral College system that overrides and makes a mockery of majority rule.
- g. Antiquated voting systems vulnerable to state-sponsored tampering and conveniently producing no audit-able paper trails.
- h. An advisory committee on election integrity led by a notorious champion of voter suppression.
- i. Homeland Security doing nothing to determine whether any voting machines were breached in the 2016 election.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]

I want to personally thank you for keeping my voter registration and history confidential by NOT sharing this information with the Federal government as recently requested. My presumption was that Indiana, so closely tied to VP Mike Pence would have immediately rolled over on this one.

I believe that this is my business alone and should be kept between myself and the State of Indiana. I am truly concerned that the current GOP leadership in Washington is only trying to study and find ways to marginalize and reduce voter turnout from independents and democrats in future referendums.

I on the other hand, believe more and more that we need to assure all legal citizens have the right to vote, a duty to vote, and it should be made as easy and accessible as possible. Let the chips fall where they may.

So once again, I appreciate your courage and commitment to protecting the voters of Indiana.

Thank you,

[REDACTED], Fountaintown, Indiana

Dear Connie,

Just a note to let you know I heard a bit of your statement regarding the "fraud" commission on NPR the other day while I was in my car. Of course, you have made the national news and I am so proud that you are standing up to that ridiculous panel that wants all of the registration records. I can only hope that the SOS here in North Carolina has the courage to do the same.

I have been very frustrated listening to POTUS say such disparaging things about all of the election officials around the country. They are some of the most hard working, honest, conscientious, patriotic people I know - on both sides of the aisle - and I hate that he has decided that there is rampant fraud in this country. That is so far from the truth.

Anyway, good for you for standing up and giving them only the minimal info you are allowed and protecting the rights of Hoosiers...hopefully it will be 50 state strong that holds out and this nonsense can finally end.

Take care my friend from a long time ago and congratulations on all of your many accomplishments.

To whom it may concern:

I am alarmed and outraged that our state is going to participate in any way with this clear attempt to create a system of voter intimidation. I do not want any of my personal information, voting record or any of the other invasive requests provided to this administration who are being accused of colluding with a foreign government to affect the results of our election. The only reason there is "no evidence" this actually affected the election is because nobody looked!

Please do as many other states have done and absolutely refuse to participate in this unwarranted and undemocratic invasion of our privacy with a clear goal of manipulating elections in the future.

Sincerely,

Ms. Lawson,

Thank you for taking a stand on the side of common sense for Indiana by stating that we as Hoosiers would not be supplying the President's Election Commission with all the information he requested. As a lifelong conservative who understands that our President represents the conservative side of the coin, even I feel this Commission goes too far. I understand that your office provided the Commission with limited information, but I can understand the value for the sake of seeming cooperative.

Thank you for your service to the Hoosier State!

Dear Secretary of State Connie Lawson,

Ms. Lawson,

I thank you for denying my personal information to this new mandate by the President of the United States. I have put my trust in my state when registering to protect and keep this personal information safe. I hope this is continued because no where in our state laws says this is OK to do without my permission. I would even prefer to have no information except for my first name initial and full last name given. My personal residence, in my opinion, is also personal information I wish to be given out only to people of my choice. I choose not to have even that released for this new mandate.

Sincerely, a long time resident of Indiana and a Navy veteran of the United States.

Thank you for standing up for the voters in Indiana.

"Indiana law doesn't permit the Secretary of State to provide the personal information requested by Secretary Kobach," Lawson said. "Under Indiana public records laws, certain voter info is available to the public, the media and any other person who requested the information for non-commercial purposes. The information publicly available is name, address and congressional district assignment."

Our state needs to be making it easier to vote not harder. Automatically registering people to vote when issuing a drivers licence or ID as is done in Oregon would be a simple way to not only register voters but to also verify them.

TRUMP is a total DISGRACE. I would be ashamed to say he was a friend. Can't believe he is now our dictator. I am a woman and I have a mind and rights! Great coal jobs? How about "great horse and buggy"? Which goes hand in hand with TRUMP's view of women! Really, would you or your daughter want a "man" like that? He lies non stop and is so SELF-CENTERED. Don't trust him at all and respect no one. I can think of less than him.

I am writing this email in regard to Trump's request for voter information. I realize that you have commented that he will get what is regarded as information that Indiana can legally give to any citizen and that is all. I hope that is true. As a taxpayer and voter, I count on you to uphold my privacy rights. I do believe that if any information above and beyond this is given, there will be legal repercussions. Hello -

I am writing to express my strong opposition to releasing my personal and private information to the federal government for the purposes of the "Commission on Election Integrity". Vacuuming up data such as social security numbers is a violation of my right to privacy, and that of others. Beyond what one can find in a phone book, I ask that the State of Indiana refuse the Commission's request. Study after study has shown that there is NO widespread voter fraud of the sort alleged by Mr. Trump and Mr. Kobach, and that these sorts of fishing expeditions only serve to suppress voting by minorities and lower-income people. We as Americans should be working to expand access to the vote by all people, not to suppress it - I am particularly angry that taxpayer money would be spent on such a suppression effort.

Please deny the Commission's request for this information, as numerous other states are also doing, recognizing this for the sham and boondoggie that it is.

Sincerely -

Are you going to release our sensitive voter information to the federal government. This is a complete farce and would be a total waste of time and money.

Dear Secretary of State Lawton,

I am writing to you in regards to the news that states are being asked to provide the voting and other personal information to the current administration in Washington, DC. I am writing in opposition to this request because it is unconscionable to expect that this private exercise of my rights should be shared with anyone. I am hopeful that you will not bend to this request and stand up for the citizens of the State of Indiana that you are pledged to serve. We deserve to know that our private information is just that - private. There is no reason for this requested information that I can see and it cannot and should not be acceded to EVER. I know that i am not alone in my concern over this tactic and we are all watching to see what you will do to serve your state.

Thank you,

Dear SOS Connie Lawson,

I am appalled that C Kovach is requesting the extensive information listing on all voters.

I'm glad that Indiana law prevents releasing this information!!

I do not want any of my personal voter history or anything about me or my family to be part of this apparent voter intimidation tactic.

The Trump Administration is out of control!! The president is an embarrassment to the world. Kovach is also an embarrassment with this unacceptable request.

Please encourage your peers to say NO too!

Thank you.

I am a registered voter in Indiana and I have voted in every election since I was 18.
I do not want my information released to Secretary Kobach.
I do not care who is in charge or what party they are with. That information is for the State only.
The Federal Government does not need that info.
Secretary Lawson released a statement that said,
"Indiana law doesn't permit the Secretary of State to provide the personal information requested by Secretary Kobach. Under Indiana public records laws, certain voter info is available to the public, the media and any other person who requested the information for non-commercial purposes. The information publicly available is name, address and congressional district assignment," Indiana Secretary of State Connie Lawson said in a statement.
If this is the case, then that is the only information that I am willing to give the Federal Government.
Thanks,

You MUST not share my voter information with the Trump Voter Fraud Commission. Privacy principles dictate that information provided for a particular function must not be shared for other purposes without the permission of the person providing that information. I register to vote in Indiana, and I provide information for that purpose - that is the ONLY use for the information that I provide, and I do not give you permission to share it for any other purpose.

It is clear that voter fraud is minuscule within the vast number of votes cast in this country, so there must be another reason for this request.

I don't care who the co-chair of this group is, your job is for Indiana citizens. If my information is shared beyond that use, I will seek the advice of a lawyer.

Thank you.

Stand strong against supplying voter information to Trump's investigators.

I say, "Over my dead body!"

I am a registered voter in Indiana. I live in zip code 46845, Fort Wayne. Again, I urge you to not supply 1 scintilla of MY info beyond what is currently available to the public.

This is a blatant over-reach of federal power to prevent minorities from voting. This is so morally, and ethically wrong.

We voters will not stand for this.

I am adamantly opposed to sending the voter fraud/aka voter suppression fed gang a nice neat spreadsheet with my name, address, last four of social security and other info. Given our fed govt's lack of interest in admitting and deterring hacking that has already occurred and will occur again, it would put my private info at risk. I believe the fed govt. Republican task force is much more interested in voter suppression than so-called voter fraud. Please don't let the Trump administration destroy our Democracy.

Secretary Lawson,

As a Hoosier constituent I would like to thank you for acknowledging both the need to protect privacy of registered voters' information and the integrity of the Indiana's voter rolls. You will undoubtedly receive political pressure to turn over requested information to the President's "election integrity commission" but you served Hoosiers well today.

Voter integrity must be protected and the commission is clearly a solution in search of a non-existent problem, to what end?

I am very glad that Indiana law prevents dissemination of voter information beyond name, address, and district. While I support every legitimate effort to keep our election processes free from fraud, I also support this nation's longstanding tradition of the secret ballot -- a tradition recognized and confirmed by Indiana law.

Despite a jarringly inauspicious start, I sincerely hope that this commission on voter fraud will somehow ultimately prove to be a wise use of taxpayers' dollars.

You probably get thousands of negative emails all the time, so I just wanted to thank you for pushing back against President Trump's voter fraud commission. It's an obvious and blatant attempt at voter suppression, and you are definitely doing the right thing. And it is so very, very rare to see a Republican doing the right thing these days. If more of your party was like you, perhaps people my age (29) would have more faith in our national institutions and feel like we actually have a choice between two valid candidates. You have certainly brightened my outlook on humanity a bit today.

Hello Madam Secretary Lawson,

I am writing to urge you not to release Indiana's voter registration information to President Trump's Voter Fraud Commission. While I am for ensuring our elections are fair and carried out with integrity, this effort has an air of suppression about it. The commission includes a number of members who have a history of working to make voter registration and voting harder.

I do not want the national government to interfere in how our state carries out elections, nor do I want my information or of the information of any Hoosier in the hands of those who would stand in the way of our sacred civic right to vote.

I appreciate your time and your service to the state of Indiana.

Does the state of Indiana intend on complying with the request by the Trump administration's voter fraud commission for voter roll information? I strongly object to this federal intrusion of the State of Indiana's tenth amendment rights to self-administer and monitor our elections, and would ask that my name and voting information be withheld should the state decide to comply with the aforementioned request.

I learned today that the White House, via the Commission on Election Integrity, has requested that the Secretary of State provide voter data on addresses, party I.D., voter history, and Social Security information. Is this report correct? If so, does the Secretary plan to comply?

If the Secretary plans to comply, do NOT include any of my information. I believe there is a privacy issue along with other concerns. I am especially concerned about how the White House plans to use the data.

Please confirm that the Secretary will comply with my request.

Office of Indiana Secretary of State,

Thank you for denying the voter information requested by Whitehouse. We have booths at our polling places for a reason. This information has no business outside the state for purposes of vote tallying only. Thank you from a resident. I am grateful it didn't take a letter writing campaign or significant news time. I understand that the Preldents committee on voter fraud has requested that the state release voter rolls to that commission. First, I believe this is a non-existent problem that hardly bears investigation, much less expenditure of both state and federal funds. Second, without a clear reason for the release of such records I feel they should NOT be released. Show just cause and show strategy for the need then yes. Absent that, please respectfully decline this request in the interest of the people of Indiana.

There is zero evidence of voter fraud in the State of Indiana regardless of what our Child in Charge President Trump may trump up. Secretary Lawson,

I would like to thank you for your decision to not send Indiana voter data to the advisory commission. I can only hope that all 50 states refuse this request. Mr. Trump and his administration have absolutely no right to request private information about American citizens and their voting choices. Free elections are key to our democracy, and I would not trust Mr. Trump and what he would do if he had access to that data.

To who it may concern,

I am writing to urge Secretary of State Connie Lawson to emphatically DENY any bit of voter data to the corrupt and inept white house administration.

It is not enough for you to proclaim that Indiana law prevents you from giving over the data as requested. It is your job to look at the actions the White House and the Department of Justice have taken as antithetical to a free and fair democracy.

It is bad enough that there is no federal protection for personal data, please do not aid people like Kris Kobach and Jeff Sessions on their quest to ensure the disenfranchisement of voters.

Secretary Lawson --

I am writing this to thank you for protecting my voting privacy and the privacy of my fellow Hoosiers by denying the recent request for voter information.

It is important to our democracy that voters not fear reprisal based on their votes. Thank you for preserving democracy in Indiana!

Thanks for your time,

I would like to ask if any of our personal information will be shared with Donald Trump or Kobach? I would hope you would not allow this and I personally ask you NOT to cooperate. Voting should always be private. Results or generic information should be enough for their "commission".

Please do not submit my voter data to the federal commission investigating voter fraud.

I consider this:

1. A waste of taxpayer money.
2. An invasion of my privacy.
3. A dangerous practice to have all of this information in one place. Having the information reside at the state level instead of the federal level makes it much more difficult to breach.
4. A severe Federal overreach.
5. Being done for political rather than rational reasons.

Thank You,

Secretary Lawson,

We may come from different sides of the aisle in politics, but I wanted to say "thank you" for standing up the Federal Government's intrusive request to review Indiana Voter Rolls. I know that, politically, it must be hard for you to do so, as you even serve on Donald Trump's voter fraud commission that requested the rolls.

Thank you for your courage and thank you for protecting Hoosiers' privacy and upholding Indiana law.

Sincerely,

I'm incensed that "a commission" that is supposed to investigate supposed voter fraud is requesting extensive private information on voter registration. The information is not ALL public knowledge. I oppose the release of that information. This is far beyond what should be released because the president made an unsupported statement. Do not release that information.

To whom it may concern,

I am a resident of Bloomington, IN and have been a lifelong Hoosier. I wanted to take a moment to thank Secretary Lawson for refusing to turn over private election data, denying the request of Kris Kobach. I found her response to the request quoted in this article <http://thehill.com/homenews/state-watch/340289-19-states-refusing-to-provide-voter-data-to-trump-panel> and I appreciate that the secretary is adhering to current Indiana law re: voter identification info.

Though as a white female who is far less prone to voter discrimination, I am offended by Mr. Kobach's request, as I find it unnecessarily intrusive and I believe that his only motivation is to undermine other people's right to vote.

So, once again, I send my thanks to Secretary Lawson and I hope other secretaries of state will follow suit.

Best,

I strongly encourage you to be very cautious and selective in releasing information to the Presidential Advisory commission on Election Integrity. No foundation has been laid, nor rationale been offered, to justify the request. Frankly, I have to be suspicious that this is merely an attempt to support President Trump's unsubstantiated claim of massive voter fraud. If it were me, I would release no information until I was told why the information was needed, how it would be used, and how it would be protected. Even then, I would release only information that is a matter of public record. Vice-President Pence should be ashamed of himself for participating in this clear example of government over-reach.

I read in this story (<http://thehill.com/homenews/administration/340283-ind-official-wont-turn-over-voter-data-despite-being-on-trumps-voter>) that Connie Lawson declined to turn over certain voter data to Kris Kobach's election fraud committee.

I just wanted to reach out and let the Secretary of State's office know that I am very pleased with the decision not to share Indiana residents' non-public data with the commission on voter fraud. Many people I know feel that this request is inappropriate and is intended to disenfranchise certain voters instead of helping to reduce fraud as stated. Thank you for taking a stand to ensure that our personal information remains confidential in the face of federal overreach.

I am really concerned about the Trump Election Integrity Committee wanting a list of all state voters. In addition to names, and birthdays, they want other information that they don't need including how we voted. I don't believe they should have this information.

I hope you will think this through carefully before giving this committee all of this info. Please join Kentucky, California and Virginia in refusing to hand over this info.

It is my understanding that you have received a request to provide information about Indiana voters to a special commission that was created by executive order from President Trump. Please DO NOT perpetuate this fraudulent activity by providing the commission with this information. There was no widespread voter fraud, and the commissions activities will only further embarrass the President for his inexplicable pursuit of this activity.

In an age where hacker so easily gain access to information, are you willing to give this commission the ammunition to be hacked again?

Please do not hand over Indiana's voters' sensitive personal information to President Trump's voting commission. I have serious doubts about the commission's credibility and trustworthiness. I fear that the commission risks becoming a partisan tool to shut out millions of eligible American voters. The commission seems to be distracting attention from the most serious challenge to the integrity of our election system: The threat of cyber-attacks by outside forces, including foreign governments, who seek to disrupt and undermine our elections.

To the Secretary of State's office:

I have read reports over the last couple of days that the federal government is requesting rather extensive information on registered voters in every state, in the pursuit of what has been shown to be non-existent voter fraud.

I am not comfortable with the federal government having all of these records when they have given no indication of how they will use this information.

I urge you to not comply with this request until and unless they provide a legitimate and legal reason why they need this information.

Thank you for your time,

Please do NOT fulfill the request to turn over confidential voter information to the election fraud commission. There is no way to assure the information will not be used against people or states. The claim that voter fraud is rampant is patently false, as has been documented over the course of many elections. This is truly a witch hunt, nothing more.

Do not comply with the request.

Ms. Lawson,

With the many breaches of computer systems that have happened of late I am very concerned about the state of Indiana providing my voter information due to the risk it might place me in for identity theft.

I write to find out if the State of Indiana plans to comply with the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity's request for voter information. This request seems to be a dangerous over-reach of presidential power and a needless security risk. I would encourage the Secretary of State's office to reject this needless request.

Sincerely,

Hon Secretary,

I would kindly urge you to resist any formal request for voter information by the recently assembled voter panel of the Trump administration.

I consider my information that they are requesting FAR to intrusive, and coupled with their announced plan to make this information public, instills trepidation that there is enough data in their request for possible victimization by identity theft.

As it stands, with the information they requested and a simple understanding of the breakdown of social security number assignment designations, anyone could access my credit or medical records.

I am also not party affiliated at this time, but the opportunity for someone to infer my social beliefs from voting history could become problematic during these unstable times.

The right to vote and personal privacy in the exercise of that right are basic within the state and federal constitution.

This would be just as problematic as publishing a list of gun owners on a public database. Our personal rights to privacy is, in my belief, one of the inexorable tenets of being an American.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]
Constituent.

I write as a resident of Indiana and longtime voter. I see that the Trump Administration has put forth a demand for Voter rolls, including Personally Identifiable Information, combined with voting history.

I hope that, despite this being a Republican-controlled state, you can see that providing such information is an attack on the right of secret balloting. There is no reason in the world that justifies the request from the Federal government for such information. Please join with other states in refusing to provide such information to the Federal government.

Dear Secretary Hauer,

I am writing to express my concern over Kris Kobach's request for the following information on Indiana voters: names, addresses, birthdates, political party, last four digits of the voter's Social Security Number and election participation. My understanding is that sharing much of this information is unlawful, and I would appreciate assurance that the state of Indiana will not comply with this requested breach of Hoosiers' privacy.

Hi,

I'm an Indiana constituent and voter who would like to leave a comment for Secretary Lawson and the office. Yesterday the federal government publicly stated that they are requesting private voter roll information from all 50 states as a part of an elections monitoring board. That information would contain data on every registered voter in Indiana.

This is a huge federal overreach that is a gigantic breach of privacy for Hoosiers. In addition, it's clear that the government is attempting to collect data in order to create national voter suppression regulations.

I demand that Secretary Lawson make a public statement on her intentions regarding this request. If she complies at all, she is turning her back on the privacy of all Hoosiers and aiding in the attempt to make it harder to vote instead of easier. Her decision is crucial in this moment, as we will all see her for what she is based on how she responds. If Secretary Lawson betrays Hoosiers by following through, I will make sure everyone I know is aware and will do everything in my power to defeat her in the next election and replace her with someone who will do the right thing for Indiana voters.

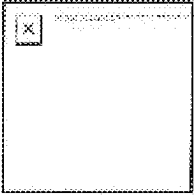

Thank you,

Secretary Lawson,

As a citizen of Indiana, I implore you to follow the example of other state leaders who have rejected the federal election committee's request for the personal information of your constituents. This is information that, once given, cannot be rescinded and can be used for an untold variety of unacceptable reasons.

There has at no point been proven a need for this information, and it is not information that should be shared flippantly. I hope you will do the right thing.

Best wishes,

Thank you for contacting Indiana Secretary of State Connie Lawson.

Indiana law does not permit the Secretary of State to provide the personal information requested by Secretary Kobach. Under Indiana public records laws, certain voter info is available to the public and the media and any other person who requests the information for non-commercial purposes. The only information available is voter name, address and congressional district assignment.

I hope this addresses your concerns.

Mrs. Lawson,

I am a registered voter in our state of Indiana. I understand from what I have seen in news reports that the federal request includes information like my birthdate, part of my social security number, and any criminal history records (of which I have none, thankfully). I STRONGLY OBJECT to this information being shared with anyone, including a federal commission. This would expose me to risks of identity theft with all that can happen after that.

Please, please, please - do NOT share my information with this commission. Safeguard it in the way you have done up until this time.

Sincerely,

Dear Secretary Lawson,

I am writing to urge you to refuse to turn over Indiana voter data to the Election Integrity Commission, as requested in a letter by the head of that commission. I do not think this Commission has Hoosiers' best interests at heart and they have not signaled that they intend to protect this information with the security it needs.

Voter suppression is a real issue, and Commissioner Kobach has given no indication that he has anything but destructive purposes for gathering this information. I am sure you agree that we need more voters, not fewer, and Kobach intensely disagrees with us.

Please do not turn over my data and that of other Hoosier voters to this commission; there are several other secretaries of state who are refusing, and there is strength and safety in numbers.

Thank you,

Secretary Lawson...

I am asking you to reject a call from the Trump Administration to turn over all Indiana voter information for review.

This most likely violates the federal Privacy Act of 1974 and there are no controls nor guarantees that this information would be used for political purposes.

It very much violates the historic policy of the privacy of one's vote. This request is very undemocratic and should be rejected out of hand.

Please reject this request.

Yours,

[REDACTED]

Secretary Lawson,

The Kansas City Star reported yesterday that Kris Kobach, who has recently been appointed to President Trump's commission to investigate voter fraud, has sent a letter to the Secretaries of State in each US state, requesting "publicly available voter roll data, including the full names of all registered voters along with their addresses, dates of birth, the last four digits of their Social Security numbers, voting history and other personal information."

I urge you to reject this request. The ACLU has described Kobach as "the king of voter suppression," and he has been fined by the court for "deceptive conduct and lack of candor." It is difficult to see this request as anything other than an attempt to help foster voter suppression across the country. Additionally, as has been noted many times, there is very little evidence to suggest that widespread voter fraud even occurs.

Currently, three states have publicly rejected Kobach's request, and I hope Indiana will join that group.

Thank you,

Please reject requests from the presidents commission on voter integrity to turn over all the records. It's Orwellian at worst and an insult to the people of Indiana at least. We have voter integrity. One person one vote

Thank you for contacting Indiana Secretary of State Connie Lawson.

Indiana law does not permit the Secretary of State to provide the personal information requested by Secretary Kobach. Under Indiana public records laws, certain voter info is available to the public and the media and any other person who requests the information for non-commercial purposes. The only information available is voter name, address and district assignment.

I hope this addresses your concerns.

Hi Ms. Lawson,

My name is [REDACTED]. I am a registered voter in the state of Indiana. I am sending this email to voice my concern about the request that the presidential voter commission has sent to all secretaries of states in the country. The requests asks for the following information: name, address, date of birth, party affiliation, last four Social Security number digits and voting history back to 2006. As a member of a party that stands for limited government, I'm sure that you realize that this is a attack on privacy rights. I'm sure if the government asks for a list of registered gun owners in the state that you would feel compelled not to oblige this request. I hope that you feel the same with this request of state voter information.

I want to personally state that I do not want my voter information sent to this commission. I do not want my personal voter information shared with anyone. I feel that this requests violates my privacy as a citizen in this state. Who I vote for is a personal decision and one that is protected by the constitution. I hope that you agree with me and other voters who share my concern and deny this request.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]

Hello,

I am a Lafayette resident, and I am concerned about the presidential commission that is seeking detailed voter data from all states. It would be an invasion of my privacy for the commission to see my full name, address, date of birth, party affiliation, last four Social Security number digits and voting history back to 2006. I am wondering if Mrs. Lawson will be handing over Indiana's voter records. Other states are trying to protect their voting records and not turning them over until it is more transparent how they will be used. States have rights over the federal government, and this is action would violate the relationship and enumerated powers of our federal system. As a constituent and believer in a safe and secure election process, I encourage Mrs. Lawson to not turn over Indiana's voter records without first being transparent about her intentions and publicly getting the opinions of Hoosiers of all backgrounds. Please let me know what Mrs. Lawson's intentions are.

Thank you.

Dear Secretary Lawson,

Please deny the request from the federal government's panel for voter data. Not only is the premise of the panel's project highly questionable and likely to enable voter suppression, but also, names, addresses, phone numbers, and, of course, social security numbers must be carefully guarded. Please protect the privacy and security of Indiana residents and deny this request!

Thank you!

It would be nice to see some kind of statement from your office on this far over reaching request for voter info from what three other states have called a "sham commission". There is no reason they need all of the info they are requesting, and to provide it would destroy the integrity of the secret ballot that we have enjoyed since the founding of this country and state. Please send Washington a message that Indiana respects the private ballot and the privacy of its citizens.

Hello,

I'm sending this email with concerns regarding the President's request for voter information for his voter commission.

I urge the secretary of state to refuse to hand over any information that is not already publicly accessible. A member of the President's voting commission has a history of abusing voter information and using it to suppress voters. Several states have already refused to hand over that information, including our neighbor to the south, Kentucky.

Thank you,

Dear SOS Lawson -

I hope you will join Virginia, Kentucky and California by refusing to provide Indiana voter data information to Kris Kobach per his request.

There is no tangible evidence of widespread voter fraud as Mr. Trump alleges, and if there were, it is an issue that should be handled on a state-by-state basis. If Indiana was a state that encountered this issue, I'm sure you would be the first to alert it's residents of the extent as well as implementing appropriate solutions that would not require federal intervention.

Mr. Kobach's request smacks of partisanship, and I trust you will protect Indiana voter data by not providing it.

Sincerely,

Dear Secretary of State Lawson,

Happy 4th of July - I am praying for you.

Thank you for serving in public office - you and your family have sacrificed to make this possible. I pray for you and your family, that you would be strengthened and protected as you serve.

I pray also that you would remember that our nation was founded on basic, profound principles of liberty and freedom. May your decisions, personally and politically, reflect the fundamental American values incorporated in the Declaration of Independence, signed on July 4, 1776: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness." May God bless you.

Hello. My name is [REDACTED]. I live in Fishers In. My telephone number is [REDACTED]. I wish to register my opposition to Indiana releasing my voter records to the federal government. I do not give my permission for Indiana to release my information. Voter information is held of the state level for a specific reason to protect people from government overreach. I do not care which political party is in office at the time. I would object to this no matter what political party was making the request. The scope of the request to include voting history for the last 10 years is far and above normal information.

I know that Ms. Lawson, Secretary of State of Indiana, recently purged the voter rolls of 481,000 Hoosiers who were inactive or had moved. It seems that Indiana is doing a good job of keeping its records in good order.

I also know that Mike Pence is running the voter fraud commission and as former governor of Indiana has worked with Ms. Lawson for many years, I feel that she will receive pressure and turning this information over. I asked that she look at protecting the voters of Indiana instead of the working relationship she has with Mike Pence.

I did attempt to call the secretary of states office this morning. The menu does not allow you to directly contact or leave a message at the Secretary of State's office. I find this odd. I did leave a message at the elections office but they are not going to make the decision in this case. I would suggest that the menu allow you to leave a message or to contact Secretary of State on matters such as this.

Thank you.

I have been reading articles in the newspaper about the President appointing someone to look into illegal voter fraud based on an unfounded claim by conspiracy theorists that 3,000,000 illegal voters were trucked in from Mexico to go vote. I believe that their request of the states to provide all voter information including party affiliation and other private matters are a violation of the 4th Amendment of the constitution. I believe that this should be handled as a baseless witch hunt and these records and our privacy be protected at all costs. Until they can prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that 3,000,000 people voted illegally, these records should not be handed over. So, please do not comply with this request.

Thank you very much for your time.

Secretary of State Lawson,

Please do not include my voter registration data in any records that you may submit to President Trump and Kris Kobach's voter fraud investigations.

This is a thinly veiled attempt to seize voter rolls in every state in the Union. With the ongoing investigation into Russian attempts to enter voter records in the United States, this move by Trump and Kobach looks really suspicious.

Let the states preserve and maintain their voter records. There is no need for federally appointed goons to comb over them, that is strictly the job for state officials.

So please do not release my voter information to anyone outside Indiana.

Thank you.

Secretary of State,

I respectfully and vehemently request that you do not send Indiana voter roll information to the White House.

Until the investigation is complete I believe there is a possibility this could end up in the hands of Russia which has attempted to hack the voter information in over 20 states. At the very least, I believe the current administration could use the data in voter suppression, gerrymandering and other forms of attack on our democracy.

If you still insist on sending the data, I respectfully request that all of MY data is removed.

Dear Mr. Rhodes,

August 23, 2017

The Trump Administration's election commission is designed to legitimize unconstitutionally drawn and widespread voter fraud while ignoring the real threat to American democracy posed by the creation of "safe" legislative districts through gerrymandering and voter suppression. Some members of the commission have been working for years to limit the right to vote, especially for the poor and racial minorities. Please stand up for voting rights by stepping down from the commission.

Secretary Gardner,

As a NH native, life-long resident and voter who had always respected your professionalism, it is with regret that I write this email.

It is my understanding that, on the Secretary of State website, there was a lack of voter registration information for nearly two months. This is unconscionable. It is a basic responsibility of the Secretary of State to provide voter registration information to our citizens in a timely fashion, particularly during scheduled elections.

If you, as NH Secretary of State, cannot maintain basic operating procedures of your office's website, you need to either resign from the fraudulent election commission and focus on being NH's Secretary of State, or resign as Secretary of State, and allow someone else less distracted to do your job.

Kobach voter integrity commission, stalled by lawsuits, will meet in January

President Donald Trump's controversial commission on election integrity should meet again in January after being delayed for months because of eight lawsuits demanding its staff's time, the group's de facto leader, Kansas Secretary of State Kris Kobach, said this week.

Trump set up his Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity earlier this year after claiming he lost the popular vote to his opponent, Hillary Clinton, because of 3 million to 5 million illegal votes. The group has drawn criticism from organizations that believe it to be a tool for voter suppression.

Eight lawsuits sit in federal court opposing the commission from plaintiffs including one of the commission's own members and groups like the American Civil Liberties Union and the Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law.

"I'm not aware of any presidential commission that has encountered so much litigation from special interest groups," Kobach said.

Kobach said his commission hasn't met since September, largely because of that litigation.

"Much of the past few months has been spent by commission staff answering discovery requests for information and drafting affidavits and things that like — going through the legwork of litigation, and that takes time," Kobach said. "We have a very small staff in Washington, D.C., and that staff has been bogged down in litigation."

Several lawsuits claim the commission's efforts to collect personal voter data violate voters' right to privacy. Others take issue with the group's transparency protocols. One of the commission's members, Maine Secretary of State Matthew Dunlap, a Democrat, claims in a lawsuit that he's been shut out of the commission's work and denied documents.

Dunlap's complaint says he brought the suit "as an action of last resort to enable him to fulfill the oath he took and the obligations to which he committed when he joined the Commission."

Dunlap criticized Kobach earlier this year for claiming massive voter fraud could have swayed an election in New Hampshire.

The Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law claims in its lawsuit the commission has violated transparency laws. The organization also filed open records requests in October looking for communication between the commission and federal agencies it believes the commission is interested in collaborating with.

Bob Beatty, a Washburn political science professor, said he had not seen such pushback against a presidential commission before.

"The reactions to Kobach have been swift and furious, not just by interest groups, but by states," Beatty said.

Several states refused to comply when Kobach's commission asked for data from their voter registration logs. Beatty said one issue for the commission is the "appearance of the tail wagging the dog." He said the commission had appeared to some as though it was set up to prove Trump's claims of voter fraud, rather than evaluate American elections.

Dear William,

Thank you for contacting my office regarding the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. I appreciate hearing from you about this important issue and I share your concerns.

In May 2017, President Trump signed an Executive Order establishing the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity to study alleged voter fraud in the 2016 Presidential election. The President created the Commission after asserting that thousands of people were bussed into New Hampshire to vote illegally on Election Day, despite no evidence to support these very serious allegations. In June, the Commission requested that state election officials provide them with sensitive voter information. I remain deeply concerned about how the Commission will maintain the security and privacy of the data, and how the data will be used.

In July, I sent a letter with my Senate colleagues to Vice President Pence and Vice Chairman of the Commission, Kris Kobach, to demand that the Commission rescind its request for voter information. Additionally, I am a cosponsor of the Anti-Voter Suppression Act, which would nullify the President's Executive Order establishing the Commission. This bill is currently pending before the Senate Rules and Administration Committee.

As you know, the Commission met in New Hampshire this September. Some of the recommendations from the meeting include finger printing voters, performing random audits of states and precincts before election results are certified and prohibiting same day voter registration. I submitted testimony to the Commission condemning its clear intention to make it more difficult for Granite Staters to vote. For these reasons and more, I remain strongly opposed to the Commission, which is designed to lay the groundwork for broad-scale voter suppression laws.

Please be assured that I will continue to monitor the actions of the Commission and work to protect the voting rights of Granite Staters. Thank you again for sharing your thoughts with me, and please do not hesitate to contact my office with any future concerns.

Sincerely,

The Honorable Vice-President, Mike Pence, Chair,
Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
Eisenhower Executive Office Building, Room 268
Washington, D.C. 20504

RE: Election Issues on Indian Reservations

Honorable Chairman and Commissioners:

Election integrity and honesty is of utmost important in our country.

But voting on Indian reservations and trust land needs more control as opposed to expansion. Many reservations are on trust land and being in federal territory do not have the safeguards or enforcement of the US or State Constitutions. There is no oversight or enforcement authority of a Secretary of State. The general public and most politicians don't seem to grasp that the US Constitution does not apply to federal territories or Indian reservations. Only the Major Crimes Act applies and that doesn't include elections.

I have researched federal Indian policy since 1989 when I was one of thousands sued for our land in the Cayuga Indian land claim. In 1989 during a lawsuit filed in 1980 the DOJ suggested that deed transfers could be made at the court house and we would all be paying rent to the tribe. They lost the land claim in 2005 and then applied for trust status. Related lawsuits against the DOI for approving trust status continue to this day. I attended conferences and seminars every year since and listened to tribal members voice their complaints.

The Muckleshoot tribe in Wisconsin vote by show of hands for their tribal elections with fear of being banned from the tribe if they vote against the status quo.

Members of the New York Oneida tribe complained of ballot boxes being unsecured and managed to elect a new chief, but in a deal cut by then Congressman Sherwood Boehlert with President Bill Clinton he had Ada Deer, head of the BIA, appoint Ray Halbritter as the recognized federal representative in exchange for Boehlert making the tie breaking vote to pass NAFTA. As such, Ray Halbritter now runs their businesses and casino. With unaccountable casino funds he sways local and state elections often by contributing more than the jobs pay. Sheriff David Townsend was one of those who lost election largely because he exposed Halbritter for allowing felons to work at the casino and drug running.

In close elections, late arriving tribal ballot boxes swing the vote. Examples include Washington State elections of Governors Gary Locke, Christine Gregoire, and Jay Inslee, and earlier with Senator Maria Cantwell, to mention but a few in only one state. This is also the case with Montana's Governor Bullock, Attorney General Fox and Senator Jon Tester.

Tribal members all say they are told who to vote for under the threats of losing tribal benefits such as repair to their house or continuing education or retribution against family members. With tribes running the general elections covering local, state and federal representatives and no oversight to balance tribal self determination, there is unaccountability to secure such elections not to be corrupted.

Your Commission received a full report specific to Big Horn County, Montana on the Crow Reservation from Chris Kortlander which exemplifies voter fraud and what one can expect from all 567 tribal governments who may write checks from their respective General Treasuries (substantially federal tax dollars) to political parties, incumbents or challengers for all elections at every level of government. No other American governments may do so.

Partial solution possibly by E.O. : All polling precincts for federal, state or local elections on Indian reservations must have oversight, authority and enforcement capabilities by the Secretaries of State. Federal and non-tribal poll-watchers must not be denied access on Election Day.

Another Partial Solution possibly by E.O.: Affirm that no governments in the United States, including tribal governments may financially participate in America's elections; task the Department of Justice with compliance and enforcement mechanisms.

The Federal Election Commission (FEC) is a small, un-elected (six members) body that issues "Advisory" Opinions that somehow translate into the force of law. This practice of morphing "advisory" opinions into mandated law or regulations needs examination. The Federal Election Commission, specific to Advisory Opinion (A.O.) 2000-05 issued May 15, 2000, advised the Oneida Nation of New York, that "Although the Nation is a person under the Act, it is not an individual and is therefore not subject to the $25,000 limit on its annual total of contributions.

The Nation may make contributions that are otherwise lawful under the Act and applies to all 567 tribes.

Of course an Emancipation Proclamation granting all tribal members full constitutional rights as American citizens even within federal territories would balance the playing field but tribal lobbyists with $32 billion in tribal casino profits would fight that tooth and nail.

Maybe, with your guidance, at least elections can be a start in making all citizens equal under the law.

Very Best regards,

Dear Bill,

Recently, I was given this article written by Jim Curran. Since it validates your account on the Presidential Commission on Election Integrity, I thought you should know it. Jim is a terrific writer and sets forth very compelling argument. Although I personally agree with his every word, I can't say that this piece is a masterpiece. (must go to a newspaper)

Jim and Polly lived in Hanover for many years. They have recently moved to Summerhill where they are in assisted living. Jim was a foreign service officer and was posted all over the world but was able to retire at age 60.65. If you are so inclined, Jim would be thrilled to receive a note from you. His mind is very sharp but he is confined to a wheelchair. I believe both of them have met you a few times over the years. As you can see, Jim <sup>desperately</sup> overcame several years ago in the N.H. House.

By the way, Summerhill is located at 183 Old Dublin Road in Peterborough - 03458.

You are a N.H. living legend - the citizens of N.H. admire you and appreciate your dedicated service to N.H. since 1976 - Quoting Jim, "it is a tribute to your character and integrity"

Gardner proved he belongs on voter panel

By JAMES C. CURRAN

I would like to express to Secretary of State Bill Gardner my deep appreciation of the vital role he is playing on the Presidential Commission on Election Integrity and for the valuable public service he is performing in speaking the truth openly.

When it was announced that he had accepted a place on the commission, there were some Democrats, including all four members of our Congressional delegation, who thought that Gardner was making a mistake in joining it and asked him not to do it. Their argument was that the commission was created by President Trump for one purpose: to find reasons to justify more laws to suppress voting by undesirable kinds of voters, i.e., people who tend to vote Democrat. They were wrong.

No surprise there. The appointment of Vice President Pence as Chair of the commission was simply a pro forma appointment; the real force behind it is the Vice Chair, Kansas Secretary of State Kris Kobach, a man who has a reputation for zealous pursuit of voter frauds wherever they may be. The harder they are to find, the more diligent he gets.

An inspector Javert looking for those fraudster millions who gave Hillary Clinton her popular vote majority. Hence, the argument went, Bill Gardner, a man of unarguable honesty and integrity, would be giving an aura of legitimacy to what would otherwise be highly suspect as another deformed brainchild of our untinged president. Secretary Gardner followed a wiser path and his presence on the commission will hopefully prevent the commission's report from becoming a totally top-sided, mendacious justification for more voter suppression.

His face-to-face refutation of Kobach's false allegation that New Hampshire's last Senate election "was likely changed through voter fraud" is a proof of the rightness of Gardner's choice. Had he not been sitting on the commission last Tuesday at its meeting at St. Anselm's, who could have done that with the same authority? Or media coverage, Bill Gardner, a Democrat, has been re-elected to his position continuously since 1976. He is the longest serving state Secretary of State in the nation. (I wonder whether he is the longest serving in the nation's history.) He is elected every two years by a joint sitting of the NH Senate and

House of Representatives and, if I am not mistaken, unanimous voice vote legislation historically enacted by Republican legislatures, this is an unparalleled tribute to the man's character and integrity.

As a NH House member (R&D) in the 1999-2000 session, I saw this happen. I have never forgotten it is not Kansas, Toto.

Dear Secretary-for-the-Ages,

Since we first met at least 45 years ago, I have been a quiet but loyal admirer and supporter of your work, first as a legislator and then as our esteemed Secretary of State. This last December at the meeting of the Electoral College I referred to you as Secretary-for-the-Ages – and I meant it!

I am writing now to ask you, Mr. Secretary-for-the-Ages, to please NOT succumb to the Trump administration's request to send New Hampshire's public voter information to the recently formed Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. Do not embarrass New Hampshire or your office or yourself by capitulating to this latest and blatant threat to suppress voting by intimidation. When people register to vote they take a leap of faith – faith that the information they disclose will not be widely disseminated but kept close to home. I know that name, domicile, mailing address and party affiliation are all public info and I believe that if the Commission wants that information it should gather it on its own and with its own dime. Under no circumstances should any other information such as social security numbers or birth dates, be shared or revealed. With the stunning possibility that Russia is meddling in our elections, we must vigilantly guard our privacy.

Please, Billy, let New Hampshire stand tall and vote against this intrusion.

With best regards,

RE: Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Secretary Gardner:

We oppose the commission that President Trump created to look at so-called voter fraud. There is no evidence of fraud, but the President has nurtured a perception of fraud that is now being used as an excuse for the commission. Please do not be part of this sham.

There is widespread concern that the commission will lead to voter suppression. Please see enclosures:

We urge you to protect New Hampshire voters and resign from the commission.

Trump Panel On Elections Under Fire

Members Say They Cannot Get Information on Process

By CHRISTINA A. CASSIDY
Associated Press

President Donald Trump's advisory commission on election integrity has integrity questions of its own — with some of its own members raising concerns about its openness.

This past week, two members fired off letters to commission staff complaining about a lack of information about the panel's agenda and demanding answers about its activities. That comes as Democratic U.S. senators are requesting a government investigation of the commission for ignoring formal requests from Congress.

The criticism from the commissioners was remarkable because it came from insiders — the very people who are supposed to be privy to its internal discussions and plans.

In a letter sent Oct. 17, Maine Secretary of State Matthew Dunlap said it was clear he was not being made aware of information pertaining to the commission. He requested copies of all correspondence between commission members, since Trump signed the executive order creating it in May.

"I am in a position where I feel compelled to inquire after the work of the commission upon which I am sworn to serve, and am yet completely uninformed as to its activities," Dunlap wrote in his letter to Andrew Kossack, the commission's executive director.

He said he had received no information about the commission's research or activities since its last meeting, on Sept. 12. He also said he continued to receive media inquiries about commission developments "that I as a commissioner am blind to."

A commissioner from Alabama, Jefferson County Probate Judge Alan L. King, said he sent a similar letter late last week. He said the only information he has received since the commission's meeting more than a month ago was an email informing him of the death of a fellow commissioner, former Arkansas state lawmaker David Dunn.

"Here I am on this high-level government committee, and I don't know when the next meetings are or how many meetings there will be," he said in a telephone interview. "I am in the dark on what will happen from this point on, to tell you the truth."

King and Dunlap are two of four Democrats on the 11-member commission.

Requests for comment sent to Kossack, the commission's executive director, and the commission's vice chairman, Kansas Secretary of State Kris Kobach, were not returned.

J. Christian Adams, a commission member who was a Justice Department attorney under former President George W. Bush, said in an email that all commissioners were receiving the same information.

"Once upon a time election integrity was bipartisan," Adams said in the email. "Apparently not all agree. That's a shame."

The commission has stirred controversy from the moment it was established last spring. Critics say Trump is using it to find support for his unsubstantiated claims of widespread voter fraud that cost him the popular vote during the 2016 election. Democrat Hillary Clinton received 2.8 million more votes nationwide than Trump.

While there have been isolated cases of voter fraud in the U.S., there is no evidence of it being a widespread problem, as Trump suggests.

Critics argue the commission is stacked with people who favor voting restrictions, rather than those who want to expand access, and that the commission has a predetermined agenda that will result in recommendations making it more difficult for people to register to vote, stay registered and cast ballots.

Its first significant action was to request a wide range of information about all registered voters in every state, including partial Social Security numbers, dates of birth, addresses and voting history. The commission scaled back its response after stinging criticism. A tally by Associated Press reporters nationwide shows that 15 states denied the request, raising questions about how useful the information will be. In August, the AP filed a records request with the commission under the federal Freedom of Information Act.

The law specifies that agencies — including presidential commissions — have 20 business days to respond or 10 calendar days if the request was filed on an expedited basis, as the AP's was.

SPEAKING OF INTEGRITY

The Real Election Threat

NEW HAMPSHIRE SECRETARY OF STATE BILL GARDNER recently reaffirmed his touching faith in the work of President Trump's voter fraud commission despite the fact that it is adrift and may be in danger of sinking. It is a mystery to us why Gardner would want to go down with that particular ship, especially given that he is a crew member and not its captain, but that appears to be the case.

The Concord Monitor reported that the commission, formally known as the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity, has not gotten together since its second meeting, which was held Sept. 12 at Saint Anselm College, and, according to Maine Secretary of State Matthew Dunlap, appears to have no immediate plans to do so.

Despite the uncertainty, Gardner intends to turn over New Hampshire election checklists, including voters' names, party affiliations and street addresses to the panel, which many suspect was created primarily to vindicate Trump's spurious claim that he lost the popular vote in the 2016 presidential election because up to 5 million people voted illegally. This is a claim for which no evidence has been presented. And given that the commission's vice chairman is Kris Kobach, the Kansas Secretary of State who is one of the nation's leading architects of voter suppression, there's every reason to fear that the voter data the commission receives will be used for that purpose.

Gardner claims he is collaborating in this effort because of declining levels of trust in government among young people. His theory is that this trend could be counteracted by restoring confidence in the integrity of elections, the purported mission of the voter fraud panel. We tend to think that young people's confidence in government would be boosted if old white men such as Gardner were not constantly beaver away to make it harder for them to vote, as with new restrictions enacted recently in New Hampshire with Gardner's support.

Meanwhile, it would be refreshing to hear from Gardner what part New Hampshire is playing in a nationwide effort to counter an actual threat to election integrity — that posed by Russian hackers. The New York Times reported earlier this month that states across the country are moving to upgrade and secure their electoral databases and voting machines ahead of the 2018 midterm and 2020 presidential elections, in some cases even adding cybersecurity experts to their teams of election administrators. This effort follows a presidential election last year in which Russian attempts to compromise the vote so alarmed federal intelligence and security officials that the Department of Homeland Security designated election systems part of the nation's critical infrastructure, on a par with such things as the banking system and the electric grid that require special protection.

Even though federal officials express confidence that last November's results were not compromised, the wave of data breaches rippling through society underscores the need for this enhanced protection. In fact, according to the Times, a report earlier this month determined that voting systems in wide use could be easily hacked and that they contain components manufactured in places such as China that love neither democracy nor the United States. In September, a panel of election experts issued new guidelines for manufacturers of voting equipment. The Times reported that these include requirements that voting devices must produce a paper record that can be verified and that errors in software or hardware cannot produce undetectable changes in results.

As usual, the only thing holding back this effort is a lack of money, although legislation now pending in Congress would provide a modest amount. Gardner and his colleagues on the election commission could provide better service by highlighting the actual threats to election integrity posed by hackers instead of ones manufactured for political purposes.

Dear Vice President Pence:

My name is [REDACTED] and I am writing this letter as citizen concerned about voter fraud. As you are chairperson of the newly created Election Integrity Commission I am submitting proof of voter fraud that was committed in the 13th congressional election of June 28, 2016 in the city of New York. Based upon the evidence provide that clearly demonstrates that the outcomes of the election was manipulated and the voter were robbed of a true democratic process.

- Enclosed please find names of 1900 voters whose last names were changed and identity stolen.
- Enclosed please find 1302 names of voters who only voted on the primary of June 28, 2017 and not the general election. Some of the supposed voters names have been forged as supplied in copies of pages of some of the poll workers book.
- The district leaders are the ones who assign the poll workers on primary day and three of the four district leaders belong to the same political club as the incumbent and two are elected officials running for reelection. This in itself creates much doubt why so any elected official assign poll workers to work on election night that should be a job that the board of elections does on its own.
- I have also included a copy of ex - Manhattan commissioner of the New York City board of elections where he states that he believes that there exists voter fraud.

I have carbon copied the 1900 voters whose name were illegally changed and whose identity was stolen in the last primary as well as other governmental investigative agencies in the federal and local levels.

My name is [REDACTED] and I am writing this letter as citizen concerned about voter fraud that has been occurring in New York City in particular the area of Northern Manhattan. As US attorney general your office has the power to investigate and prosecute violations to the civil rights act and the voting rights act. In the 10 council districts there were 1900 voters whose identity were stolen and used to cast illegal votes. Along with the 1900 voters whose identity was stolen there are hundreds of voters whose signatures were forged during the Congressional elections of June 28, 2016. (See enclosed documents). The rights of these individuals were violated along with those other voters who casted there votes and were robbed of a true democratic process. Along with an investigate I would like to request that Federal Monitors be assigned to the upcoming Primary of September 12, 2017 in the 10 council districts the area in question.

Controversial city Board of Elections commissioner Alan Schulkin, who was caught on tape making wild claims about voter fraud, is still on the job even though his term has expired.

Schulkin's term expired Dec. 31, along with those of the other nine BOE commissioners — but he will keep the post until the City Council confirms a replacement.

The Manhattan Democratic Party nominated Jeanine Johnson, a staffer to party chairman Keith Wright, to take Schulkin's spot after a conservative group released video of him railing about voter fraud.

In the video secretly filmed by Project Veritas, he claims the city's municipal ID program is enabling "all kinds of fraud" and that organizations in black, Latino, and Chinese neighborhoods "bus people around" to vote at multiple poll sites. There is no evidence of either claim, and Mayor de Blasio and others called for him to resign over the rant.

United States Senate

Statement by Senator Jeanne Shaheen
Before the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity
Manchester, NH
September 12, 2017

Vice Chair Kobach and members of the commission: With the Senate in session, I am unable to attend today's hearing, but I appreciate this opportunity to submit testimony for the record.

On February 9, President Trump asserted that he would have been victorious in the Granite State if not for thousands of people who were bussed into New Hampshire to vote illegally on Election Day. Two weeks earlier, the president said that he lost the popular vote because three to five million people voted illegally. He offered no evidence to support either of these very serious allegations; nor has anyone else. Nonetheless, the president used these claims to justify creating this commission, whose obvious purpose is to lay the groundwork for broad-scale voter suppression laws. Some legislators in Concord have used the same unsubstantiated claims to justify passing new laws making it more difficult to vote in New Hampshire.

Last Thursday, on the far-right website Breitbart, the vice chair of this commission used deceptive and irrelevant data to rehash the same false claims that have been debunked time and again by independent analyses and by members of both major parties here in the Granite State. Using slippery words like "it has been reported" and "anecdotally," the vice chair insinuates that thousands of same-day registrants used out-of-state driver's licenses to prove identity and vote illegally. I say "insinuates" because he offers no actual evidence – not a single confirmed case of fraudulent voting. He made no effort to contact voters who had cast ballots but held out-of-state driver's licenses.

The fact is that New Hampshire law clearly states that citizens who live in New Hampshire can vote without a New Hampshire ID. This includes long-time New Hampshire residents who don't drive and don't have a driver's license; it includes thousands of students from other states who live in New Hampshire while attending school; and it includes military personnel from other states who live in New Hampshire while on active duty.

Granite Staters are not gullible or naive, and we do not appreciate those who impugn the integrity of our state's voting systems based on unsubstantiated accusations. Indeed, the vice chair's accusations in Breitbart call into question the legitimacy of our elections in New Hampshire for every federal, state, and local office. This is reckless and irresponsible.

The truth is that, here in New Hampshire and across the nation, voter fraud is extremely rare. I am deeply concerned that falsehoods about illegal voting are being spread as a pretext for restricting access to the ballot box. This risks disenfranchising eligible voters and undermining faith in our democracy.

WASHINGTON, DC 20510

There is zero evidence of significant voter fraud in the Granite State during the 2016 election. Senior Deputy Secretary of State David M. Scanlan, head of the Election Division, said: "There are some isolated instances of individual voters voting improperly. . . . But we haven't had any complaints about widespread voter fraud taking place." Meanwhile, the nonpartisan Brennan Center for Justice has determined that voter fraud happens nationwide as little as 0.00004 percent of the time. A separate, multiyear study by Justice Department senior official Justin Levitt found only 31 credible allegations of voter fraud out of one billion votes cast between 2000 and 2014.

Granite Staters take pride in our state's brand of open and direct democracy, which encourages maximum participation, including by college students and active-duty members of the military who live in our state. It is not the New Hampshire way to make voting unnecessarily difficult or to target specific groups of voters with deliberately onerous ID laws.

I am very concerned that reckless accusations of widespread voter fraud and illegitimate elections in New Hampshire could jeopardize our state's first-in-the-nation presidential primary. Every four years, activists from other states attempt to take away our first-in-the-nation primary, and they will now quote the vice chair of this commission. This is deeply unfortunate and a disservice to the people of New Hampshire.

We must learn from ill-conceived voter ID laws in other states. Striking down the laws passed by the Republican majority in North Carolina's legislature, a unanimous federal court ruled that they "target African Americans with almost surgical precision" and "impose cures for problems that did not exist." Invalidating similar laws in Wisconsin, U.S. District Judge James Peterson wrote: "The Wisconsin experience demonstrates that a preoccupation with mostly phantom election fraud leads to real incidents of disenfranchisement, which undermine rather than enhance confidence in elections, particularly in minority communities."

When candidate Donald Trump claimed that the election would be "rigged," and when President Trump claimed that the electoral process has been massively corrupted by millions of illegal votes, these false assertions have real consequences. They undermine confidence in our elections and democracy, and create a dishonest rationale for voter-suppression laws targeting the poor, the young and minorities.

At the end of the Constitutional Convention in 1787, a citizen asked Benjamin Franklin: "Well, doctor, what have we got – a republic or a monarchy." He famously answered: "A republic, if you can keep it." Fortunately, the great majority of Americans reject falsehoods that discredit our democracy and disenfranchise voters. We still have a robustly democratic republic. And we intend to keep it.

Dear Mr. Gardner,
I am pleased to hear that you have been chosen to participate at the federal level in a commission addressing voter fraud. However, I am very uneasy about knowing that my information is going to be released. I think that while voting records in the aggregate provide valuable information--XX% of registered Dems/Rep in ABC town voted, etc.....--I do not think that anyone should be able to identify who voted at the individual level once the election has been closed. The record of who voted should be voided after an election once aggregate data has been collected.

I have never missed voting in an election, and I am proud of that. But how often I choose to vote is my business. Also, as a registered Democrat, it would be easy for someone to assume that I voted for Democrats exclusively, which has not always been the case. That is, a voting record can be interpreted as the ballot cast, which is still supposed to be secret. I also prefer that the rolls be on paper at the polling sites, and not an electronic data base. Old fashioned, but more secure.

Please do not release my social security number or my birth date. Name and address is fine as they are part of the public record. If someone wants to know my birthday, let them work to find it.

Thank you, Bill.

Honorable William M. Gardner,

Regarding your plans to comply with the Trump administration's request for voter information, part of the newly created "Presidential Commission on Election Integrity,"

I ask why?

I ask - please do not participate in this false flag misdirection of "election integrity." The foreign government of Russia interfered with the American election. There were no "millions of illegal votes" and this commission is nothing more than a side show to the real threat to American democracy: foreign interference, which President Trump does not seem interested in investigating.

Do not drag New Hampshire voters and their private information into this fraud of a commission.

Governor Sununu and Secretary of State Gardner,
Please do not comply with the request to turn over voter records to the President's panel on elections. This sends a very confused message to those of us in NH, suggesting (wrongly) that perhaps our election process is broken in this state. It also helps create a national data base on voter records that I find rather odd and frightening for a people who don't like the idea of a national ID card - what happened to "Live Free or Die"?

At the same time I urge you to join our senators and representatives and SUPPORT funding the Elections Assistance Commission. It is absolutely irresponsible (not to say irrational and crazy) to defund the one agency that helps protect state elections from hacking at the very time that we know the Russians are hacking and otherwise working to undermine confidence in our democratic systems.

Please use common sense! Do NOT go chasing fantasies of voter fraud, while gutting a system that actually does reduce real dangers to our system.

Hi,

I'm a proud NH voter from Lebanon, NH. I'm asking that you NOT turn over the voter data being requested by the federal government election commission -- I think the request is inappropriate, and I don't want NH turning over my personal data. Please protect the privacy of NH voters and do not relinquish this info!

Secretary Gardner,

You absolutely must not authorize the distribution of NH voters' personal information to the ridiculous scam of a Fraud Commission. For one thing, as a member of that body, you were involved in the requesting memoranda and therefore, have no business making the decision for NH. That is just totally inappropriate.

I also have to say I am quite dismayed to learn that you are participating in any way with the waste of taxpayer funds to support this unnecessary endeavor to investigate voter fraud. Intelligent and well informed citizens know full well that there is no evidence of a need to investigate this matter, so I do not understand why you have allowed yourself to become involved. It only serves to legitimize our president's fantasy that he lost the popular vote due to fraudulent voting rather than the rightful casting of votes. Apparently I have to remind you that our President is currently being investigated himself for some serious interferences with our election process and possible obstruction of justice regarding that investigation. He has no business demanding this voter information from the states and you have no business complying with his demand. These are the actions of a fascist state and must be resisted to the utmost.

You have a moral obligation to the people of NH, and all citizens of this country, to reject the request for our information for this false purpose. Complying with the request will place us at risk for hacking, which we know full well is a possibility. Do we not have enough going on regarding election interferences? There is no justification for this foolishness and I urge you to immediately put an end to subjecting NH voters to this carelessness.

Respectfully,

[REDACTED]

Dear Secretary of State

Please know that 44 states have now refused to sent the requested voter information to the federal committee on voter fraud.

Please restate your position and please do not send any voter information to the federal committee requesting it. This information belongs to New Hampshire which has almost zero voter fraud.

It will be used for voter suppression.

New Hampshire should not be allowing this.

Dear Election officials,

The NH statewide centralized voter registration database may be viewed during business hours at the state archives building -- pursuant to RSA 654:31, III.

It can be provided to political parties and political committees (RSA 654:31, IV)

However, it is my understanding that this information can NOT, NOT, NOT be provided to a national election Commission, or to whomever Secretary of State Bill Gardner might choose.

On the anniversary of our national Independence Day, please preserve the sanctity and privacy of the ballot! Do not share voter information!

We do not want any of our voter information turned over to the Presidential Advisory Committee on Elections. Considering that you have stated on many occasions that there is no voter fraud in New Hampshire, we cannot see why such a commission is necessary. We certainly do not want our information, public or nonpublic, freely given to such an unnecessary board.

I can think of many more constructive ways that our state can use the money: kindergarten funding that does not rely on Keno, the opioid crisis, our roads and bridges just to name a few.

In this day and age of computer hacking, please think very carefully before giving out private information.

Sec. Gardner,

Please do not turn over NH voter rolls to Trump's commission. I am a poll worker and take the security and confidentiality of our voter lists very seriously. The commission's site is not secure. Your office has worked hard to enforce the previous voter laws in New Hampshire and has done an excellent job preventing voter fraud in NH. This should be left to the states.

The commission should be looking at ways to make voting lists, machines and procedures more secure from hackers. I am very glad we have a paper trail in NH. When I have participated in recounts, I have confidence in the impartial procedures, transparency and accuracy of our results. Now your office needs to insure our lists and machines are safe from hackers or tampering by partisan groups.

To Secretary of State William M. Gardner:

I am totally opposed to the NH Secretary of State voluntarily providing personal voter information to the Kobach committee. While I understand your argument about public information being available under RSA 654:31-a, the State of NH is not obligated to hand over this information willingly and eagerly.

It would be in the best interests of the citizens of NH, if you would stand tall for freedom and against government intrusion in public lives, remembering and following our state motto.

Or, at the very least, please allow NH voters to opt out of having their personal information transferred to this contrived government committee.

If the government needs the voter data so badly, it should pay the state of NH for accessing that information, as would any political entity. In addition, with all the identity theft and computer hacking occurring in the world, I fully expect that both the Korbach committee and the State will be held liable for any loss or misuse of any information given them.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I am writing to express that I am absolutely against sending the voter role information to the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. We know that various studies have indicated that voter fraud is nearly nonexistent. While a bipartisan look at election integrity may not be too bad, a Trump/Republican-led committee cannot possibly be considered credible.

We also know from the recent North Carolina case that some politicians are not above changing voter laws to help their own party. Which makes Kobach's request for political party registration much more concerning.

I truly hope that you and Governor Sununu refuse to turn over this information for the sake of our voting rights and privacy.

It is important in a democracy that all votes be cast by valid registered citizens but This Commission is clearly an attempt to suppress the vote of the poor and minorities who already have more difficulty in registering and getting to the polls. Our resources should be used to support these citizens in having a voice in our democracy not suppressing it.

You are meeting this week with the other members of the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. This meeting is an opportunity for you to stand up for the American election system that you represent.

Vice-Chair Kobach, a paid Breitbart contributor, claims that illegal voting affected the 2016 vote tally. He is questioning your ability to do your job as Secretary of State.

Knowledgeable, respected public officials like you must defend the voting process now. If you do not, the public may not trust the outcome of the next election. Please consider the consequences of remaining on this commission. I respectfully ask you to quit the and state clearly and publicly why you are doing so.

Dear Mr Gardner,

For what they are worth, here are my ideas on how to solve the apparent election fraud problem in New Hampshire. First, go back to the original system in this great land of ours and only allow white male property owners to vote. In addition to that, restrict voting to people who were actually born in New Hampshire AND who will swear under oath that they will never leave the state for purposes other than a brief vacation. Finally, make transgressions punishable by death. That should clean things up in short order, don't you think? And it would set an example for the rest of the country. Good luck.

Dear Secretary Gardner,
I do not understand why this Commission has been formed. It seems to me that it is just to assuage trump's ego, or is a distraction he has generated to keep attention off the real problem of voter suppression, and is a total waste of our resources. I am delighted that almost every state has declined to participate in this futile exercise. I have worked at the polls in my precinct every PA election since 2008, and have voted here every election since 1971. There is no way anyone could cheat here. I encourage you to resign from this commission and support voting rights for all. Thank you.

Mr. Gardner,

This fishing expedition on the part of the Trump Administration is ridiculous. You and I know that the incidence of voter fraud in NH is virtually nil -- so why in the world would you consider presenting the voting records of the citizens of NH to a corrupt administration without hesitation? Anyone who has ever read history knows that establishing a national database of people according to religion, ethnicity or voting records is the first step toward authoritarianism. I do not trust how my private information will be handled by this administration, regardless of whether or not private parties already have access to this information. Please join with other states and simply say "no" to this ridiculous request. While I know that you are not sharing Social Security numbers, the fact that they were requested shows the total disregard that the voting commission has for the privacy and personal security of our nation's citizens. Yes, I am a Democrat, but I would oppose this move if it were made by a Democratic administration. Our rights should come first -- not those of a president who is constantly creating false facts to fit his narrative.

Please take responsible action and stand up for the integrity of New Hampshire voters and the privacy of our information.

Sincerely,

Your decision to turn over voter records to the president's election commission feeds a false perception of widespread fraud in the New Hampshire election system -- which you have defended as sound. I have long respected your integrity and ability, and I am at a loss to understand how participating in this charade is in the public interest. Dear Mr. Gardner,

Please do not provide to President Trump's Voter Fraud Commission the information about New Hampshire voters. The federal government is not entitled to this information and has not made provision to make sure that the information is safe once they have it. Many states have refused and New Hampshire must refuse as well. There is very little, if any, evidence of voter fraud in this state. There many other more important things that the state and federal government need to focus upon besides this, for example, making sure that everyone has access to health care. The citizens of this state need to have more access to voting, not less. Thank you for your consideration of these points.

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,

I disapprove of the release of our state's voter information to the Trump administration's voter fraud commission.

I believe the principles of the Republican Party are small federal government, strong state government, and minimal intrusion into the private lives of citizens. If it were a Democratic administration calling for this massive release of citizens' voting information, Republicans would strongly object and not comply. I do not believe New Hampshire should comply with this Orwellian request.

Why has the Trump administration created a commission to investigate voter fraud when there is little to no evidence of voter fraud? All our intelligence agencies confirm that there is evidence of Russia meddling in our election, and yet no commission has been created by the Trump administration to investigate and protect our democratic process from future foreign interference. Does the current administration value winning, and staying in power, more than protecting the democratic process?

The biggest voting problem our country faces is the lack of participation by its citizens in the voting process. Rather than looking for ways to suppress voting, the federal and state governments should be investigating ways of improving voter participation. New Hampshire could lead the way by establishing Election Day as a state holiday.

Dear Mr. Gardner,

The Concord Monitor is reporting that you plan to share the NH voter registration information with the federal government, with that information becoming publicly available.

I am writing to ask you not to do this. Not only does it appear to violate RSA 654:31, it will lead to many people removing themselves from voter registration lists in order to avoid this invasion of their privacy. It also subjects us to unnecessary risk of identity theft.

As I understand it, RSA 654:31 specifically limits who may have the information, and says that it may not be copied and made public. Complying with the Kobach commission would do just that.

Please do not turn over our voter registration data!

It would be an insult to every NH voter for you to allow our voter information to be collected and stored in a centralized federal database managed by the Trump administration and the Election Commission. When we registered to vote, we did not agree to have our personal information shared outside the state for completely unspecified purposes. Dear Secretary Gardner,

Secretary Gardner, I appreciate your steady hand of management over the years as Secretary of State. I am appalled by your intention to join a sham effort by the current US president to become a member of an election investigative committee. This offer, which since you are honest and trustworthy, may seem worthy, but I believe it to be a blatant effort to bring New Hampshire voters as First in the Nation voters into the spotlight for political gain by those who for years --the American Legislative Exchange Council (ALEC) --have tried to suppress voting and voter's rights by spawning restrictive laws around the country -- a well organized many year effort--to make it more, not less difficult to vote: ie, Voter Registration.

I oppose your providing my name, address, party affiliation, voting record, partial social security number, and birth date, to this flimflam effort. The federal government's ability to keep private and secure these records is not feasible. It would be prohibitively expensive to manage the gigantic file, and from my observation, there is not, nor ever will be, sufficient technical expertise to organize and keep this information secure. And for what purpose? To expose non-existent election fraud?

Please stay true to your core values. Please do not be dragged into the muck. You have a fine reputation. You do not need to prove or uphold that to anyone in New Hampshire or in Washington, DC.

More disturbing is the request for party affiliation, which should have no relevance for a commission studying election

I do not want any of my private voter information released for federal review under the most recent asinine attempt by Mr. Trump to further denigrate those who disagree with his failure to lead and are appalled by his reckless abuse of executive power. Under the Constitutional rights to privacy, specifically, the right of individuals to have personal information protected from public scrutiny rises above the electoral witch hunt being sought by this abominable administration.

How is this unconstitutional demand not a violation of the fourth and fourteenth amendments? I do not give the state of NH permission to share my private, personal voting information with anyone. Dear Secretary Gardner,

Please reconsider the submission of my voter information to a national data base as requested by the White House. I do not believe the information will be secure. I also fear the information may someday be twisted to be used for other purposes. I do not care if the information you plan to give is considered public. I do not accept that you should give my information to this commission.

Moreover, I do not believe the President when he says that millions of people from Massachusetts came over by bus to vote in NH. I think they got no further than our state liquor stores, which are always our first line of defense against outsider voter fraud.

But seriously, this Commission is not one iota about voter fraud. It is about a President who cannot accept losing the popular vote, and it is about laying the ground work for implementing voter suppression in future elections.

Please do not do this.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

When I was a child, I asked my dad who he voted for in an election. He kindly told me to never ask that since he took his vote seriously, and it's a private decision. Since he told me that, I've never again asked anyone who they voted for. With the Trump administration asking for voters' information, I consider that a breach of everything my dad believed in.

I'm disturbed by the administration's request. I consider it to be a violation of privacy and possibly an attempt at voter intimidation. It's is NOT an appropriate request of information.

Sincerely,

I am writing as a New Hampshire resident and voter who is very concerned about the turning over of very private and sensitive voter information. I have seen no real evidence of voter fraud in New Hampshire, despite the President's claim, and am concerned that there is no clear information about how this data is going to be used.

I also have not heard a well thought out plan about how this information is going to be protected against hacking, which seems like a real danger.

Please be brace and stand up for the residents of NH and deny this request.

I respectfully ask that you reconsider your position on this matter, and decline to offer it. As a long time voter in NH, the idea of giving out my secret voting record outrages me. As an elected official for 23 years, we have no right to allow this personal information about our citizens and their primary ballot choices to be manipulate our used in unforeseen ways. Please do all you can to say no to Gov Sununu or release as little information as possible. Dear Mr. Gardner,

I am writing to express my concern and disagreement with providing NH voter list to the Voter Integrity Commission in Washington DC. It is my understanding that NH and Virginia have the strictest laws on the books about the use of voter registration list. The law states that the data can only be released to political candidates or organizations like PACs that participate in voter registration or turnout drives.

The voter information requested should not be turned over to the Voter Integrity Commission, they do not meet the stated purpose to the law. Furthermore I am strongly opposed to providing any information such as DOB and Social Security numbers. No information should be provided to a commission that has not yet shown that voter fraud is an issue. New Hampshire should join the 20 or so states that are refusing to turnover the voter list and information.

I would also add that I did NOT see any bus loads of people at my polling place. I'm sure the people holding their party candidate signs would have been outrage to see the "buses" and would have reported it to the authorities.

Governor Sununu: Please do not cave to the request. Release only names and addresses of those who voted and NO other information to the commission.

Obviously this a political ploy to confuse the electorate, and it will certainly override some of the more pressing issues facing our country. Dear Mr. Gardener, Mr. Ambrose, and Mr. Scanlan,

I have many concerns about the recent request of Kris Kobach, vice chair of the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity, to release large amounts of personal information of New Hampshire's voters. As a citizen and a registered voter, I do not consent to my personal information being released to a man who has a record of illegally suppressing voters to be entered into a national database. This is a huge overstep of the federal government and they have not been clear as to what they plan to do with this information. Citizens should have the right to withhold their consent for this important and quite personal information to be released. I urge you to reject this request and protect the privacy of the voters of New Hampshire.

Dear Sec Gardner

I am strongly OPPOSED to voter registration information being shared with federal attempts to create a database. This puts much more risk on our electoral security.

Most Americans DO NOT believe there was fraud and busloads of people and dead people voting. This is the tRump rhetoric that some Americans (but not MOST) believe.

The greater concern is gerrymandering and voter suppression.

Your recent statements

Gardner.... his broader goal: figuring out how to restore public trust in the election process at a time when some Americans believe there is voter fraud.

"If people don't have trust and confidence in the process, they're not going to go out of their way to be part of it," he said. "Six months from now, if we don't provide this, those people who believe that there is a lot of voter fraud are just going to be emboldened by that, because they're just going to say, 'What did they have to hide?'"

A national database is not the answer. Asking each state to share their voting process and the protections is a better answer than - you are all now in a huge database in one location that can be hacked and you can be purged from voter rolls. I have worked at the polls for several years and have learned alot about the security. A few PSAs of how elections are run would do wonders ! With the new legislation for civics to be taught - what a great project for some schools to do!

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,

It worries me particularly because our current administration clearly values the art of bullying. Please do not give our voter information to the White House. Dear Secretary Gardner,

I am writing to express my strenuous objection to providing NH's voter roles to the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity.

Study after study shows that voter fraud is practically nonexistent. There is no valid reason for them to ask for this data and, therefore, surely no valid reason to turn it over. There is much more concern about purging voter roles and that has resulted in many people losing their voting rights.

Kris Kobach's involvement undermines the legitimacy of the commission's stated goals; he has been a foe of voting rights for many years.

Protect NH's citizens' privacy and refuse to turn over the state's voter roles.

Dear Mr. Gardner:

The New York Times states on it's list of states refusing to provide voter information the following for New Hampshire:

New Hampshire Secretary of State Bill Gardner, a member of the Trump commission, said his office will provide public information: names, addresses, party affiliations and voting history dating to 2006. Voting history includes whether someone voted in a general election and which party's primary they voted in.

My husband and myself are TOTALLY against this. You do NOT have my permission to divulge ANY of my personal information to Donald Trump or the federal government. I FORBID IT.

What is wrong with you??? Are you crazy? This is how Nazi Germany started — piece by piece, bit by bit, little things that people didn't notice or get riled up about. Well I'm riled up about it!!!

I strongly recommend you say "NO!!" to Donald Trump. You don't work for HIM - you work for US, here in New Hampshire. I will be spreading this message around throughout Facebook, email and social media to make sure that NH residents know what their Secretary of State is doing. Dear Mr. Gardner,

I object to this project; it is a witch-hunt for the President. It is obvious that this was initiated to satisfy his belief there is significant voter fraud in our country and that it caused him to lose the popular vote in November 2016.

I do not want NH to accede to this request and I URGE you to see that NH does not provide this information.

In your role as the NH Secty of State, you are the custodian of the state's voter data and information. My personal information is included in this data set and I specifically request that none of my voter information be provided for this project.

Yes, there is work to be done to assure the level of precision in the voting process of the USA is the very highest. This work should be carried out by a non-partisan organization which will exercise the highest level of security and care in transporting, using, storing and the data.

This will be the ONLY way to ensure no voter fraud, especially in 2018 and 2020. It's the technology behind Bitcoin. I don't know much about it from a technical perspective, but I do marketing to support tech security, and decided to search to see if it has use in voting -- and found this article below from Forbes. Dear Bill Gardner,

I heard your comments at the opening of President Trump's voting integrity commission on NHPR (<http://nhpr.org/post/first-election-commission-meeting-gardner-focuses-public-trust-voter-id-laws>).

Secretary of State Bill Gardner used his opening remarks at the inaugural meeting of the Trump administration's voting integrity commission to call for closer examination of the value of photo ID laws and other measures that, he says, improve public confidence in elections.

"We also need to compare states that have voter ID laws with those without," Gardner said. "I might add that the two highest states in turnout during the presidential primaries last year were both photo ID states."

While Gardner is correct that those top two states — New Hampshire and Wisconsin — both have photo identification laws on the books, the rest of the states that garnered the highest turnout in the 2016 presidential primary include a mix of those with and without such laws.

What struck me in the report was your attempt to correlate states with voter id laws with voter turnout. As I'm sure you know, correlation is not causation. Your remarks seem to be a deliberate attempt to mislead, which my father, a Baptist minister, taught me is a lie ... what is sometimes called a 'white lie'. I'm disappointed in your apparent lack of honesty and integrity.

In sadness,

I am a NH state resident. I strongly oppose having *any* voter information being shared with this so-called "voting commission." It is so clearly designed to intimidate non-white and elderly voters. The evidence has demonstrated that "voter" fraud is virtually non-existent. This demand for voting roles is the kind of thing that North Korea would do, and no real American would support it. As the repudiations by several Republicans show, this is not a partisan issue. This is democracy issue.

> Dear Secretary Gardner:

> I write to respectfully urge you to not comply with the Kobach commission on alleged voting issues request for a large amount of voter information. As a member of the House committee on election law for the past five years, I have become aware, as I know you are, of the deep, bipartisan desire in our state to protect an individual's right to privacy. The privacy issue is often raised by members of the committee from both parties and by members of the public who testify before us. Supervisors of the checklist are also fiercely protective of data in their care, especially dates of birth and social security numbers, if they have them.

> Whatever legal limitations there may or may not be that limit your release of this data to a federal commission, I urge you to do the right thing and protect our citizens from the needless intrusions represented by this commission. I hope that NH will join the vast majority of states who are declining to be co-opted by the Kobach commission.

> Thank you.

Mr. Governor and Mr. Secretary of State:

As I wrote a few days ago, I strongly object to your handing over New Hampshire voters' voting records to a federal commission. Anyone who claims a healthy skepticism about the role of the federal government in individuals' lives should resist this kind of demand, not willingly acquiesce to a process that has no demonstrable purpose. As you and I and every rational citizen knows, the incidence of voter fraud in American elections is miniscule, unless you count Russia's hacking, which this commission does nothing to address.

Nothing in our statutes authorizes you to provide voter information to the Commission, or to whomever you choose, in your absolute discretion. RSA 654:31, IV allows the Secretary of State to provide voter information to political parties and to political committees. Others, pursuant to RSA 654:31, III, may view the statewide centralized voter registration database only during normal business hours at the state archives building, but may not print, duplicate, or transmit the data.

The letter requesting New Hampshire's voter information makes clear that all records provided to the Commission will be made public. There are no provisions for who sees it or how it is to be used. Once the Commission makes our voter information public, it will be subject to commercial exploitation. No voter has given you permission to share voting information with commercial concerns. This whole process is completely out of order, and if it goes forward, a large number of New Hampshire's electorate will make sure you are held accountable when elections are held again.

Sincerely,

I am writing to urge you to not comply with the request by the White House Election Commission to send all of the New Hampshire voting registration information to them. I know they are asking for name, address, voting record, party affiliation, and last four digits of social security number. The possibilities of misuse of this data for political purposes is too great to entrust to what is a political commission.

As a resident and registered voter of the State of New Hampshire I also do not give you my permission to give out my data. The information they are requesting will not help analysis or prevention of voter fraud since that is a state role. As I have heard you along with the other secretaries of state, state we have clean elections. Any fraud is of so small an amount as to be insignificant.

I am a New Hampshire native that is deeply disturbed by my State's decision to submit to the Trump administrations request for my personal voting information. I always took pride in being a resident of this state until now. We have always respected an individual's privacy and rights, and I feel strongly that both of those are being violated because of the current administrations disinclination towards accepting reality. I realize that my voting choices are a public record, but in my opinion the political choices that I make are very private and should be kept confidential. I was actually shocked to receive a report from the last election about my voting choices over the past few years, and that my information had been "sold" to a political campaign.

Shame on you.

I am seriously considering not voting anymore, or if I do it will be after researching which candidate will be the strongest advocate that will be most likely to do the right thing when it comes to situations like this.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I am writing to express my sincere concern about the President's Voter Fraud Commission and your announcement that you will comply with this commission's request. I question the Commission's and the President's motives behind these requests. I believe it has nothing to do with voter fraud and everything to do with the Republican Party's continued efforts to manipulate and limit certain citizens' Constitutional right to vote. Your willingness to make it easy for these people's ability to obtain this "public" information is extremely disturbing and alarming for this very reason. It may be public, but there are many Americans who believe this is an intrusion into our privacy that oversteps the Federal governments's overreach.

I am asking you to reconsider and resist this particular Committee's outlandish requests.

Thank you.

As a citizen and a registered voter of the state of NH, I am appalled that anyone would send all this information to a committee set up by Mr. Trump and his cronies. Even more important is the fact that most of this information is public domain and they can acquire it in the usual fashions. For the Secretary of State to just blatantly do this when at least 49 other states have said NO is a very serious blunder. It is not just the "blue" states saying NO; many "red" states are also taking this action.

If the secretary of state feels he Must do this, why doesn't he ask the citizens of NH to vote - via email- and see how the majority feels. Unless he feels as does Mr. Trump that 'bus loads of people were brought into NH by bus'. Perhaps it is time that the politicians started listening to the citizens of their respective states.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I have high regard for you and the job you have done these many years for NH, but I am dismayed to learn that you have decided to comply with President Trump's request to share voter information data with his "voter fraud commission". I think you must know this is a big smokescreen to deflect attention away from the investigations of possible ties of the Trump organization to Russian hackers of our 2016 election. All credible individuals have made it clear that Russia continues its attempts to infiltrate and influence our election proceedings for the future. There is no evidence of mass voter fraud amongst American citizens and yet Trump continues to feed this pretend monster.

I find it very ironic that a president who ran on the Republican ticket, normally a group that is very protective of personal privacy rights AND wants states to have more control, is demanding this personal data. Everyone I've talked with so far about this feels as I do, that this is an unnecessary intrusion into our privacy and freedom. I'm very concerned that your compliance in submitting this data will contribute to people feeling less comfortable, not more comfortable, voting in the future, and I believe that goes directly against what you stated you try to accomplish as Secretary of State.

Please reverse your decision and protect the privacy rights and freedom to vote of NH citizens by refusing to submit this personal voter data to this trumped up commission.

Sincerely,

Please do not submit NH's voter information to the voter fraud commission. I do understand Secretary of State Gardner's argument that SS numbers and birthdays are not legally available to the commission. But I am not at all convinced that my voting record should be public, nor do I want my name and address included in a national database which will then be ripe for hacking. At the very least, the NH Attorney General's should be sought, since the state "may not print, duplicate, or transmit the data," according to Executive Councilor Volinsky.

I am happy to have Mr. Gardner serve on the commission in order to properly represent NH, in the face of misrepresentations, by our governor and the President, of voter fraud here. But I am disturbed by the well-established bias shown by the commission's head, Mr. Kobach, and do not want my information, or that of other New Hampshire residents, made available to a context where it's liable to be misused, misappropriated, or hacked.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I witnessed possible evidence of voter fraud back in 2012. I was working late one night during the last week of October with a vendor installing an ATM in the baggage claim area at Manchester Airport. Around 11:30 a group of college students came to get their bags. One of them came over to talk while waiting. He said they were from Maryland and they were coming to NH to work for the Shaheen Campaign. He told me that they were staying in Portsmouth and they were told they could vote in the election in November. There were about 20 of them on that flight. Not sure how many other flights there were or if the Republicans did the same thing.

With all of the controversy around voter fraud in New Hampshire recently I wanted to make sure you were aware of this.

Best regards,

To William Gardner,

The Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity is a complete waste of time, effort, and tax payer money. I am appalled that we are spending money on this while advocating cuts to Medicaid and other health coverage, fuel assistance, public education, and basically all programs designed to help less fortunate Americans; and simultaneously cutting taxes for the rich.

The goals of this commission are twofold:

1. Find some shred of evidence that you can twist to give credence to Donald Trump's unsubstantiated claim that millions of fraudulent voters prevented him from winning the popular vote.
2. Justify and increase voter suppression of any demographic you think won't vote Republican.

You are requesting personal information, including SS numbers and email addresses, on every single voter in the country. What will happen to that information? Why should I trust an administration that happily divulges classified information to Russians in the Oval Office with Russian media present having banned US media (what happened to "America first")? I guess that's why 40 states are not willing to fully comply with your request (sadly, NH is not one of them).

And why are YOU, Mr. Gardner, a part of this? I can only hope that you, like Mr. Trump's cabinet leaders, are trying to dissolve this commission from within. If not that, perhaps you are there to prevent the group from presenting a bunch of ALTERNATIVE FACTS to reach the afore mentioned goals. If, in fact, you are participating for any other reason, then you should be ashamed of yourself.

Sincerely,

As an independent voter in the state of NH, I am horrified that you would even consider casting a light on our voting preferences, public information or not.

This is a very slippery slope that smacks of a Russian influence more than anything I can think of in recent history.

To be clear, I would like President Trump to succeed in America. But I think this committee is simply a knee jerk reaction to try and prove to his critics that he did indeed earn his country's votes to the highest office. He shouldn't have to do this, instead focus on working hard to bring some unity in Congress, the Senate, and across the country. He was elected because he is not a politician and that should be an asset.

If you go through with this ridiculous voter fraud commission, it will have the exact opposite effect. Think hard about what that will really do to this country.

Thank you,

Mr. Gardner,

In response to your actions on giving the Federal Govt our voting information in NH, I have a big problem. Why is it that my voter info is public info? I was taught that this is a personal decision, as long as I am a legal resident. You are really violating my personal information, when I see the Raymond voter log sitting on a desk in the town office, where anyone, and I mean, anyone from anywhere can walk in, find my address, party affiliation, and can use that against me. I really don't like this.

Then I heard you, and read in the paper, you are selling my info. That really beats all. You sell it, and I get 20 crap phone calls a day. Where does this money go. I did not give you my permission to sell my info, and if you do, I should get paid, or NH should pay my phone bill. My phone number is like an apt that is leased, unless I give you the key, it is off limits. I rent that ph number.

Also, I have often wondered, when I get these political calls, if they find out if I am voting or not, are they sending someone in with a fake liscense to vote in my place.

I do believe there is major voting fraud, especially in states that vote in mail, and internet. No possible way to prove who is voting, you only have to have a persons personal info, which because of the Feds laws, is very easy to get.

Also a fed election should have the same rules nationwide. Pretty sad, that voting has come down to money and corruption. When the fed and nh decided it could break all laws, this country went backwards. I do hope they put some real effort into cleaning up election laws, and make people who are electing people to look out for THEIR interests, feel like they are making up their own minds.

My vote and how I vote, is not yours, or any other politicians business. I vote on what they say, not what they are told to say, and I have witnessed this at rallies. Donald Trump hit it on the head, he would probably had the popular vote, if it weren't for illegals getting drivers liscenses, giving them ids to vote.

This is my voice of opinion, thanks for listening

It has been my experiance that people want to keep their party affiliation private. The fear mongering and lying to NH citizens by pushing a false narrative that this information is anything but public is shameful and an attack on our country . I was appalled to learn that your office is releasing voter information to the Trump administration. The GOP has been on a campaign to discredit and undermine our elections through citizens united and voting restrictions. Releasing voter information is another tactic to take control of the political process.

If the state of New Hampshire and other states wants to have the full confidence of its citizens, do not release this information. When Americans no longer trust the results of elections, we will cease to be a nation. I implore you to reconsider.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I am contacting you to share my concern re providing the Trump administration with NH voter information. I do not have confidence in the Presidential Commission on Election Integrity. You have already stated that there is no evidence of large scale voter fraud in our state. I am a registered NH voter and I believe in the integrity of our system.

I understand that some voter data/information is public and the Presidential Commission can access that. However I am concerned about the release of data that is private such as identifying information, voting history, etc. All of that should be private and protected as I heard Gov. Sununu guarantee during a recent interview on this topic.

I am also concerned about potential voter suppression and do not trust this current administration or their motives. They may have cooperated with Russia who is known to have interfered with our last national election and voter data. How can we trust them with voter data as more evidence surfaces re possible conspiracy with the Russians?

Please protect our privacy and the integrity of our voter information and protect the security of our system in NH.

Thank you,

Dear Sirs:

First, let me say I am very proud that Mr. Gardner was chosen to take part in this commission. As a lifelong resident of NH who has been a registered voter since age 18, I have proud of the tradition this state carries during the election process. Mr. Gardner has been a champion of our first in the nation status for his entire career, and I don't think anyone would question his integrity.

It is for this reason that I feel compelled to express my dismay at the request of Vice Chairman Kris Kobach in relation to our state voting records. I have read a copy of the letter which he sent to the Secretaries of State, and I feel as though the commission should address seven questions stated in his mission for the process before the rash decision to collect this information is made. I feel as though the request for this information devalues the integrity of the State of NH by feeding into the myth of voter fraud. Please reconsider providing this information, at least without charging the fee that is attached for publicly available voter checklists.

Respectfully,

NH RESIDENTS this is the info Pence wants uploaded to the Fraud commission? Your dob, ss#, address, voting history, military history, crimes, and more. This is an incredible invasion and 24states have already refused. We must stop this.

We are supposedly the live free or die state, the state where we can opt out of RealID and refuse to include our photo and SS number in DMV records. This measure is ridiculous and is intended solely to bolster an initiative to suppress and/or intimidate voters. Further, it opens us up to potential abuse of our personally identifiable information - ID theft. If you know a person's birthday and the state in which they were born, plus the last four digits of their SS number and current address, you pretty much can deduce the rest of their SS number. This puts us at risk.

PLEASE contact the NH SOS and Gov. Sununu and tell them to join the dozens of other states saying no way to this ridiculous measure.

Dear Mr. Gardner,

The claim that bus loads of bus loads of illegal voters voted in this most recent (or any) NH election is both baseless and insulting to the people of this state that oversee that treasured institution of democracy.

The request by POTUS (let's call a spade a spade here) for voter data is not only unnecessary and self-serving, it is potentially harmful to the foundation of this democracy. That data, in the wrong hands, might help enable an entity to manipulate the course of our nation.

I urge you to join the growing number of states who see this request for what it is: a baseless need for self vindication at best and possibly a maneuver to undermine the foundation of this great nation at worst.

I am proud to be a citizen of New Hampshire. We may be small in size and population but we lead this nation in the principle of "government for the people, not people for the government" that our founding fathers held so dear. Please do not dishonor that guiding principle.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

Please reconsider your decision to share NH citizens' voter roll data with Donald Trump's "Commission on Election Integrity". I understand the difficult position you are in as a member of the commission and I maintain hope that you have agreed to serve on it with the goal of providing it with some balance and a voice of reason. With Secretaries of State and Governors of both parties from dozens of states questioning this request if not denying it outright, it is past time for you to speak up for the people of New Hampshire. You have heard the voices of New Hampshire citizens in the last few days, and we're upset enough about this that we're not giving up--we're still holding out hope that you will, in retrospect, take our concerns seriously enough to shift course on this matter.

Here's why many of us are so concerned: this Commission was clearly established in an attempt to create the appearance of validation for Trump's false claims blaming massive, imaginary voter fraud for his popular vote loss, and vigilant Americans know it. At best, the Commission's goal is to substantiate the lies Trump is telling himself and the nation in order to protect his fragile ego. At worst, as many of us fear, it is something far more sinister--the beginning of an attempt at widespread voter suppression that could rapidly become detrimental to the actual integrity of our democracy.

Election integrity is of course of great value and concern to the people of New Hampshire, but it is not served by playing into the rhetoric of an administration that appears to be working to undermine our democracy and advance authoritarian aspirations. From Trump's public attacks on the media and the courts to this current attempt, among others, to destabilize the electoral process and Americans' trust in it, it is increasingly clear that this is his intent. Equally alarming, especially given the President's professed concerns with "election integrity", is his lack of interest in looking into how and to what extent Russia compromised the 2016 election or doing anything to prevent Russian interference in our future elections.

Again, I understand that refusing to comply with the Commission's request is a lot to ask given your place on the Commission. I realize that you are trying to take a reasoned, open-minded approach to the task you've been assigned. I understand and appreciate your instinct to suspend judgment and your lack of desire to make unnecessary waves. Under normal circumstances, I could accept that approach. But this is not a normal time in our country's history. The Trump administration is actively eroding our nation's institutions and the rule of law, and this is the time for the people who are in a position to do so to stand up and stop them. Please take some time to rethink your decision and put yourself on the right side of history in this critical time.

Thanks for your time and best wishes for a safe, happy Fourth of July.

Dear Mr. Gardner,

I write on the Friday night of my vacation, from Williamsburg, Virginia to tell you that I think it is outrageous that NH is going to comply with the election commission's request for NH voter data. What would our Founding Fathers have to say about this?

First of all, you have said publicly that there is no valid concern regarding voter fraud in NH. You joined the commission perhaps to make it more bipartisan, perhaps to bring some integrity to a commission created by a president who lied repeatedly about voter fraud in NH (as well as so many other things). I can understand the attempts to bring some integrity to the process. However, to actually agree to turn over NH's data is absurd.

Do you really think the concentration of data in the hands of a few makes sense? Do you really think this administration is "really" interested in fixing what is essentially a non-existent problem?

I urge you to think again. Let's not roll over and give more information to those who have an inability to be truthful about anything they do.

I expect better from NH than this. Let's spend time solving the many actual problems we face, and protect the privacy of Granite Staters.

Sincerely,

Secretary Gardner, I am disappointed in your decision to provide the requested voter information to the voting fraud commission

Yes, the information is public, but several questions need to be asked.

Why is this nationwide information being requested now?

What will be done with this data?

Who will secure this data?

Who will have access to this data?

Will the data be loaded into some sort of national database?

It seems to me that in this age of data breaches and identity theft, many questions need to be answered before we so casually disseminate such personal information.

I am also skeptical of this entire effort given the people running the commission. I fear that we are going to see even more stringent, unnecessary restrictions on a citizen's right to vote except now, perhaps, at a national level.

I cannot also help thinking that this entire effort is a waste of time and taxpayer funds to try to prove the President's easily-debunked lies about massive voter fraud.

Dear Sec. of State Gardner:

I'm outraged that you would consider turning over personal data to this committee, which could ultimately lead to voter suppression and will definitely give access to my personal information. You stated that there were no concerns with the NH vote. Why now?

It doesn't matter that organizations can buy some of this data. It matters that you're enabling this administration to continue its obsession with the Popular Vote results. Your stand is very concerning.

Dear Secretary Gardner

There is no reason for the establishment of the Election Integrity Commission other than to lay false grounds for additional voter suppression. There has been no evidence presented of widespread voter fraud in New Hampshire or any other state. I do not consent to have any of my personal data, party affiliation or voting history placed in any national data base.

Dear Mr. Gardner,

My name is Jack Wilson and I am a New Hampshire resident and registered voter. I am writing to tell you in no uncertain terms that you should not agree to release voter registration information to Donald Trump's Voter Fraud Commission. His initiative is a partisan sham costing millions of tax payer dollars to address a problem that does not exist. Trump has initiated this snipe hunt because his ego was bruised by losing the popular vote in last years Presidential election. He consistently lies and spreads misinformation regarding this topic and many others.

You owe it to the voters and all residents of the State of New Hampshire to refuse to comply with the request for information from the commission. The integrity of our democratic process is at risk if you turn over the requested data and you will not be forgiven if you comply with this pernicious, partisan initiative.

Dear Sir,

I am writing to you to express my alarm over the Voter Fraud Commission request sent to all 50 states to turn over personal information on registered voters. I ask that you deny this request to pry into the personal matters of New Hampshire voters. Not only is this an attack on privacy, it is setting the foundation for voter suppression.

Based on the Voter Fraud Reports/Investigations located on the New Hampshire Secretary of State website, New Hampshire doesn't have a voter fraud problem. This fact should be relayed to the commission along with the denial of the requested information. Your department is doing its job. Previous investigations into voter fraud during the 2016 presidential election found no evidence to support President Trump's assertion that millions voted illegally. Even the President's lawyers confirmed there was no voter fraud. This sham commission is a solution in search of a problem that doesn't exist.

Please let this commission know that the personal information of New Hampshire voters will not be released to the commission. Not now, not ever.

William M. Gardner, Secretary of State
New Hampshire

Secretary Gardner:

As a 30 year resident of New Hampshire, I am writing to convey my strong opposition to New Hampshire's willingness to send personal information to President Trump's commission on voter fraud.

Given that 44 states have stated that they will send just some or none of the requested information, why is New Hampshire's position different? Have you received an official letter with an explicit rationale for how this data will be used and how the privacy of this information will be protected that perhaps the other states haven't? Perhaps because you are a member of the Commission, you have information that would explain your decision. If so, will you share it please?

Given that states will share all, some, or none of the data, do you have confidence that there can be a meaningful analysis with disparate data sets to inform the question of voter fraud in the nation? If not, why do it?

Do you even have evidence that there has been voter fraud across the country? Please share that - it may make those of us who are challenging your position more comfortable.

And finally, are you concerned about publicly stating your position on issues with potential privacy concerns before the Attorney General renders an opinion?

I look forward to learning more about your thought process and rationale for this significant decision.

Thank you,

How many voter fraud cases or incidents have occurred in NH in the past 10 years?

Also, what is the legislation that allows our state government to reveal the personal information of it's voters?

President Trump has asked non complying states "What do they have to hide"?
Why can't we see his tax returns? What is he trying to hide?

Dear Secretary Gardner:

I was extremely disappointed to learn that you are going to provide public voter information to the president's election commission. Especially at a time when Russia has interfered with and will continue to interfere with our elections. I value my SACRED RIGHT TO VOTE. My concerns are the following:

1. This commission has been put together as the result of a baseless claim of 3-4 million illegal votes during the 2016 presidential election as made by President Trump. No proof has been provided and I don't believe it ever will be provided.
2. It is a waste of taxpayer money and the government's time as many such studies have been conducted with no proof of overwhelming voter fraud (the Bush administration conducted one and found none)
3. I am worried about gerrymandering and voter suppression. Can you say with complete confidence that people who shouldn't be dropped off the rolls will not be?
4. A centralized database will just make it easier for Russia or other states to hack (remember the CIA has just been hacked). Right now everything is decentralized making it harder for adversaries to hack and change vote tallies thereby affecting the outcome of an election.

By all means, clean up the voter lists but do it within the state. Please do not send any information to a centralized database. I am a very concerned voter and want my right to vote protected. Thank you for taking time to read this. Please take time to protect our elections before 2018.

Dear Secretary Gardner:

I have been following the current administration's repeated requests for state voter information and urge your non-participation with this farcical and bogus Commission. It purely designed to bolster the ego of the President who is sure he lost the popular vote due to fraud. And shame on our governor who tried to curry his favor by initially suggesting voter fraud in NH which apparently started this whole debacle.

I am speechless! Truly!

NH's non-participation will protect the privacy of NH citizens like myself. This administration is so chaotic that I find any guarantees of privacy or protection of information to be suspect. Indeed you are aware this administration "accidentally" published data of citizens who had written them expressing concerns that their private information was not secure. The irony was not lost on me. Also we should not underestimate the mischief this administration can perpetrate with this information.

I hope you will act in the best interests of NH citizens who take seriously our responsibilities as voters in the nation's first primary, and refuse to participate in this dubious enterprise. You will have my support.

I am horrified and grieving to learn that my sensitive ID info can be handed over without my permission to the unvetted Fraudulent Voter Commission (some of whom are being investigated themselves).

There are plenty of privacy laws to protect ID information for financial and medical records ID (which is the same info - name, address, birthdate, last 4 Social Security digits. And voter and party history since 2008??? Does that not smack of malicious and partisan???? Not to mention the many investigations about hacking.

This was taken from the NH Attorney General's website:

"Banks and other financial institutions now have to give you the opportunity to decide what information about you that the institutions will be allowed to share or sell to other companies that are not a part of the same "parent organization." The Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act of 1999 applies to all sorts of financial institutions, including banks, savings and loans, credit unions, insurance companies, and brokerage firms. It can also apply to retailers and automobile dealers that collect information about customers to whom they extend credit."

And where is our Attorney General in all this???

I read my voter registration form and saw nothing about my protections for the release of information. There's plenty of RSA info about penalties and fines for ME if I provide false info, but nothing about the protection of my truthful and sensitive information I'm trustfully signing over to my government!

At the very least a public notice should go out to voters before this unprecedented release including how they might protect themselves. I'm thinking about having myself removed from the Checklist. What if many other NH voters decide to do the same?

I do not want my personal voter information handed over to the Trump Administration. There is a potential of misuse of that info and an invasion of privacy. As Secretary of State, you have fiduciary duty to protect citizens of New Hampshire. I'm concerned that the action of releasing that info for a bogus claim of voter fraud just substantiates the claim and will have the potential of chilling voting in the future.

I realize that much of the info is public. However, I strongly request that you leave out social security numbers and other personal info. That info could potentially be used against New Hampshire voters who do not support this administration.

Dear Secretary of State Gardner, (New Hampshire)

Copy to Secretary of State Galvin (Massachusetts)

My husband and I moved to NH from Massachusetts twenty years ago, and never looked back. I love it here.

However, I do wish that you had taken a page from Massachusetts' Secretary of State, William Galvin, when he refused to respond, in any way whatsoever, to Trump's request for voter information:

"To legitimize this by writing a letter and arguing with them, I didn't see a point. This is not, in my view a neutral fact-finding commission.

I'm not going to participate in any effort to make this appear more legitimate."

-Boston Globe today, 7/20/17

Secretary Gardner-

I am a voter in New Hampshire, and I have chosen to actively resist New Hampshire's unnecessary and restrictive Voter ID laws. I have refused to comply with the law, and I am dismayed and disappointed by your reported support for these laws.

During the phase-in of these laws, I saw people turned away from voting, told to return to their car or their home to retrieve their ID, even before the ID requirement went into effect. I witnessed ballot clerks give out false information.

After the law went into effect, I was threatened with legal action when the Attorney General's office called to follow-up on my voting, wrongly stating that I was required to answer the follow-up postcard.

This has left me with no confidence that in addition to there being no evidence for the need for voter ID laws, there is plenty evidence that these laws are designed to create, and result in, voter disenfranchisement.

I am writing to express my STRENUOUS objection to providing NH voter information to the so-called Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity.

Study after study shows that voter fraud is practically nonexistent. There is no valid reason for them to ask for this data and, therefore, surely no valid reason to turn it over.

Kris Kobach's involvement undermines the legitimacy of the commission's stated goals; he has been a foe of voting rights for many years.

Protect NH's citizens' privacy and refuse to turn over the state's voter roles.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]

Dear Mr. Gardner,

In reading your comments concerning the turning over of public voting information to the federal commission requesting this information, I am really taken back by your reasoning for capitulating to the request without even checking with the people of the State of New Hampshire first. You claim that one of you biggest reasons for doing this is to avoid having the vocal few that believe voter fraud took place by having them be able to say "what are you hiding"? Wow, what a mouthpiece for the President of the United States who says the same thing. How about not worrying about the vocal few that claim this, who, by the way, have absolutely zero evidence for their claim, and have enough of a backbone to believe in the system that is already in place, as do the other hundreds of thousands of voters in this state that realize, without the need of some contrived federal committee, no fraud took place. Furthermore, you seem to put a lot of confidence in what this committee is going to use from this personal information when the committee itself hasn't even stated what they are going to do with this information. It is very striking to me that you and Governor Sununu jumped right in with both feet and were instantly willing to turn over this information before you even heard from the AG as to whether it is even legal to do so. Why would you do that? You represent the people of this state and I can't believe you are going to find many of those constituents who are readily willing to turn over very personal and private information to a federal commission that refuses to commit to telling the public why they need the information and what they are going to do with it. I, personally, want as little information as possible in the hands of this current administration as possible, and I have full faith that the voting system in place is already secure and accurate. It is obvious in reading and hearing the media that there is a tremendous public outcry over your decision, and I would strongly urge you to reconsider, or should I say actually consider to begin with, what this decision to turn over voter information to this commission means to the voters in this state. You are politicizing a very sensitive issue to your constituency.

Sincerely,

Mr. Gardner,

I am a registered voter in Dover, NH and I want to impress upon you my sincerest objection with your compliance with the request by the Trump administration to provide voter roles for the State of NH, which may include my birth date and SSN. Under no circumstance do I want this information shared with this Voter Fraud Commission.

I have been unable to reach my local town clerk to determine what information is on file, so I will assume it includes all the information that has been requested. This information will certainly not be secure in the hands of an administration which rejects the notion there was interference on our election process from our known adversaries, the Russians, and has spent no time investigating and fortifying our election process yet feels compelled to round up information on all voters in order to impugn the election results on the popular vote. A matter of vanity not fact in fraud.

I implore you to reconsider your decision and stand by our motto, "Live Free or Die". If you will not reconsider then I expect you will at minimum charge them the full cost of obtaining this information. There are no free rides in NH. As PROPERTY TAX PAYERS, I would expect the Federal government to pay full freight, IN ADVANCE, on this request. President Trump's penchant for non-payment for services rendered in his former life as a developer most certainly will translate to non-payment for a bill to provide voter databases.

In a state which is hoping KENO will support and fund Kindergarten, it is objectionable we do the Federal government's bidding, on a ludicrous claim, FREE OF CHARGE, with the expectation this information will certainly be used in some nefarious way. I do not trust this information in the hands of our 45th president, or his minions.

Dear Secretary of State William M. Gardner:

Thank you for serving on the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity.

Friends and I have worked for years on elections in Colorado and Wisconsin as volunteers. The work that you and other Commission members are undertaking is very important.

I have read materials and followed the careers of Hans von Spakovsky, John Fund, J. Christian Adams, Kris Kobach, Wayne Williams, Catherine Engelbrecht and others. Friends and I have testified on voter-related legislation.

A friend and retired engineer documented his experiences on fraud in Boulder, Colorado in 2012, while involved in "Vote by Mail" (VBM) testing and processing of ballots.

I shall follow the Commission proceedings, and wish you and your colleagues successful endeavors.

Very sincerely,

Dear Mr. Gardner:

As I read the news, Governor Sununu wants you to hand over private information on New Hampshire voters, but your position is that the state will provide the federal government only with information which is publicly available. Thank you for standing up to the government on this.

Donald Trump wants the last four digits of all our Social Security numbers, AND wants them sent by an insecure email channel. (Wasn't he previously complaining vociferously about Clinton's use of insecure email?) That information reduces the search space for an individual's SSN by a factor of 10,000. [REDACTED] used exactly that datum as a default user password for a while.

Mr. Sununu is claiming that refusal to hand over private, personal information is "playing politics." I expect that he's going to put pressure on you to hand over confidential information on a large fraction of the state's population. Please stand up to him. You've got the people of New Hampshire behind you.

Dear SOS Gardner, and Asst. SOS Scanlan, (I realize Mr. Scanlon is not on the Pres. Commission, but since this email involves questioning that, as well as your use here in NH of the Kobach crosscheck software, I include both of you in this discussion)

First, I never thought it was a good idea to associate yourselves in any way with anything that crackpot Kris Kobach is involved in. That should just be Crackpot Rule #1. But alas, you seemed to not have gotten that memo, so now you've saddled NH with the WORST software program ever devised to (supposedly) root out the "evildoers", when in fact, just looks like an easy way to bracket and delete whole swaths of legitimate voters, making it a nightmare to register and vote. Here is a link to a Rollingstone Article, some months back. I can provide a number of other articles that cast similar doubt on Kobach, and his lousy software. Evidently, this research wasn't available to you via the electric googler, when you made your decision. ( yes, I am using my sarcasm font ). The link:

<http://www.rollingstone.com/politics/features/the-gops-stealth-war-against-voters-w435890>

Certainly men of honor, such as yourselves, having an historic understanding of voting in our country and NH, should remember there is only three ways to alter the results of an election- 1. fiddle with voting machines and don't have a paper backup 2. legally disenfranchise voters with laws, (poll tax, literacy test, etc) 3. Make it too difficult for voters to register and therefore suppress the vote through intimidation and various other means. and finally, 4. Arrange a massive voter fraud plan, with a conspiracy of thousands, busing them in from other districts, states, countries. Nothing can go wrong there. (again, sarcasm font in use here)

By the way, I just learned that Ken Blackwell, former SOS of Ohio, and famed for his jiggery-pokery in the 2004 (and other) elections in that state. Ken B, as Ohio chair of the Bush reelection campaign was in fine fettle indeed when he pursued some of his electoral "reforms" , from John W. Ennis' blog in the HuffPost, ....." while he was Secretary of State: (Ken Blackwell)

- Purged a quarter of Cleveland voters, one of the biggest Democratic counties in the country.
- Under-equipped African-American neighborhood voting precincts.
- Re-arranged voting locations and not making the information publicly available.
- Went to court to prevent people who voted in their old location from being counted provisionally.
- Pushed voter ID laws through Ohio, which overwhelmingly affect poor minorities access to vote.
- Allowed coordinated racial profiling voter misinformation to flourish: Fliers in black neighborhoods providing the wrong election day, phone calls threatening arrest if people voted.
- Threatened U.N. election monitors with arrest if they tried to observe the polls."

Does this sound like a person whose plans for the commission to be concerned about the franchise writ large, or rather, someone who is looking to affect the outcome of the vote by disenfranchising as many of his political opponents (i.e. Dems) as possible, and 'legally'?

Sirs, if you lay down with dogs, you end up with fleas. Do not besmirch your good name. Disassociate yourself from this charade.

Yours sincerely,

Now what..... If you would have listened. Shame!!!

I predict new election laws to make it even harder for those darn, lying-cheating voters to vote (although some say waiting 8 hours in line to vote is crazy hard). We have to use every possible tool (weapon) available to determine a legitimate voter from a fraud.

New Election Voter Screening System Tool (aka-Stomp Out Fraud!) Effective 1 hour from now: Every voter will sing the pledge allegiance with hand-to-heart, Capella, while filmed; the voter will read aloud and sign an election day pledge; the voter will submit to an iris and finger scan and a lineage DNA test; Voter Screening System Tool (aka-Stomp Out Fraud!) determines voter identity as legitimate or fraudulent: The legitimate voter may vote and that vote will count; The fraudulent voter will not vote and will be directed to the on site election fraud confinement area; Once in confinement a hearing determines fate.

*Disclaimer- These rules are an executive privilege, not up for a vote and are not whatsoever associated with Democracy, let me be clear. The changes are to ensure legitimate and accurate election outcomes only and are not intended to negate a vote for a legitimate candidate who fraudulently (lying, cheating, and stealing, and just about everything to win) manipulates a vote and win. We must remain laser focused on voter fraud and nothing else!! - fingers crossed.

Naive and gullible, and tricked- NH is complicit in feeding the pathological needs of a person who creates corruption to feel good, lies to feel truthful- attacks enemy and foe who say no- demeans others to feel meaningful- speaks of self whenever he speaks- holds a grudge forever- sense of power based on others' submission- he believes what he says and for no other reason.

Just a little bite of some soft and sweet sarcasm over a hard and bitter thing to chew.

Dear Mr. Gardner: Today we read that you will likely turn over NH voter information to the voter committee. We're sending this message to let you know that we are completely opposed to that move. We absolutely do not want our information, including dates of birth and part of our social security numbers, to be put on the committee's master list, ready to be hacked. No doubt that that will happen if such a list is compiled, and no assurances otherwise will be convincing. If part of the information is publicly available, the committee can access it however anybody else would. New Hampshire doesn't need to hand it over. Our motto is Live Free or Die. This is an invasion of privacy, and New Hampshire should be standing up against it as other states have had the courage to do. Of just as much importance, there is no indication that there has been any significant fraud either in New Hampshire or elsewhere. This committee is a diversion and a waste of taxpayer money. We understand that you may be serving on this committee. If so, we're hoping that you will be a voice of reason. Please respond personally as this issue is of great importance to us. Thank you. Dear Secretary of State Gardner,

I am writing as a proud citizen of New Hampshire, the Live Free or Die state to ask that you do not send my voting information in response to the letter from Mr. Kobach, of the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. This request violates the privacy of New Hampshire residents and is an intrusion by the federal government into our state's electoral data. Over 25 states have not handed over this data. I was disappointed to learn that you are considering complying to Mr. Kobach's request.

We have not had any problems in NH with our election process. I expect you to stand by this fact and get Washington DC out of our local politics and election process. If the government in Washington is so concerned about the state of elections then you should inquire why the House Appropriations Committee voted to defund the Election Assistance Commission, an agency that makes sure our states voting machines and election process is working properly. It was done very quietly behind the scenes. And now Washington DC wants all our voting information. Something does not seem right about all this, don't you agree?

I would like to know EXACTLY what information you share about me as a voter/allow people to buy.

In an transaction where my information might be shared, from medical to purchasing an item online, I have had to agree to some kind of disclaimer allowing it. My voter information I consider as private as my medical information.

I don't recall authorizing/opting to allow the state to share ANY information or allow entities to "buy" my information.

I don't care if you share my name/address and that I'm a registered voter, but that is it.

These two items alone will allow the White House Commission to do the job they were hired to do. There is no reason for the other information to be requested or supplied. And that should be the bar. What information is needed for them to accomplish their task.

No one should be allowed to get any other information from our State.

If nothing else, it is good that the White House request has exposed what state reps have approved to share about our voter information...and can even charge a fee for it.

Again, wow. Please provide me with the statute(s) that detail what information you can give out about me.

Secretary Gardner:

I am writing both in my personal capacity as a NH citizen and voter as well as my official capacity as Representative for the people of [REDACTED], District [REDACTED]. I implore you to reconsider your decision to comply, in part or in whole, with the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity.

I believe there are sufficient legal questions about the scope of permissible entities to which this information may be transferred that there may be legal jeopardy in transferring it to the Commission. While I will leave it to attorneys to make a cogent argument in this regard, my not being one, I found the following article compelling in this regard: <http://law.justia.com/codes/new-hampshire/2015/title-lxiii/chapter-654/section-654-31>. Section III appears to address the matter of transfer of the voter registration database from your office.

Beyond the question of what is legally permissible, however, I (and those I represent) have other serious concerns.

First, despite having read numerous articles about the official request it is unclear to me what the rationale or purpose is for this information. As the Commission has yet to hold its first meeting it seems doubtful that its members have, at this point, created an official agenda, mapped out the scope of its work, and determined the particulars of its final work product. That is not clear to me in any case.

Second, there do not appear to be verifiable and/or adequate provisions for securing the data by the Commission once it is received. Cyber security experts are raising alarms that the transfer of this data via email, which appears to be the intent, places it in grave danger. These same experts raise credible concerns about having all of our data in one central database, making it much easier to hack for identity theft or other nefarious purposes.

Mr. Secretary, you have been a champion for our voting rights and for our electoral integrity for many, many years. I have been thankful for your vigilance on numerous occasions. However, in this instance I am asking that you step back and consider this action very, very carefully. In my humble opinion, every state that complies with this request will be putting their citizens information at considerable and unnecessary risk. I do not believe that is something you would want as one of the capstones to an otherwise unblemished career.

Thank you for your consideration.

To whom it may concern,

As a NH voter, I am very concerned with the voter fraud committee's request of highly personal voter information, as well as that of the DOJ. The GOP left millions of voter's information unsecured and open to the public.

I am requesting that you do NOT send our highly private information to the committee or to the DOJ and stand with other states who have refused to turn over the information.

Sincerely

Dear Mr. Gardener,

Please do not comply with Trump and Kobach's request for NH voters' information. My husband and I strongly disagree with the request to load our PERSONAL data onto an unsecured website or to provide it at all without our express permission. Republicans must be held accountable to ensure that our rights as private citizens in our democracy be upheld.

Sir,

I hope that the state of New Hampshire will refuse to comply with the Trump/Pence request for my personal voter information. To supply my voter history and personal information to be used in their partisan fake voter fraud executive order is unAmerican. If you provide my information you need to send me a copy of all information provided so that I may take appropriate legal action against the State of New Hampshire and the President, Vice President and all related Federal and local individuals.

Turning over State Voting Records to the Federal Government.

Date:

Friday, July 07, 2017 1:09:19 PM

Dear Sir;

I'm writing to voice my outrage at your willingness to turn over our State voting records to the Federal Government. I have heard two arguments from you, which to me and others, makes little sense. The first is that you state that you have cooperated with the Federal government and also have supported SB3 because of a perception of voter fraud that is out there. First, people have perceptions about many things. At one time, people had a perception that witches were casting spells in small New England towns. It did not justify burning people being burned at the stake. A perception is not a justification for supporting a bill, solid evidence is.

Second, you then state that you want to collect data to see if there is actual evidence of voter fraud and further state that cooperating with the President's wishes is done because he was elected President. First, before you investigate a crime there must be prima facie evidence that a crime was committed. A dead body with a bullet hole is the beginning of an investigation. You don't go out trying to find a dead body with a bullet hole because someone says that such a thing exists even though they have no evidence for it. There is no evidence that any fraud has been committed thus collecting data in order to prove or disprove a 'belief' has everything backwards. Second, imagine if you lived in Nazi Germany and Hitler was asking you to turn in information about Jews. Do you think such action would be morally justified because Hitler was 'elected' Chancellor. Such logic does not hold up when we are pitting our principles as a nation, namely our right to privacy in who and how we vote, against the requests of a leader who launches accusations with no basis in fact.

You have betrayed us citizens in this State by deciding to turn over these records and for all the stellar things that have been said about you over the years, it will be this dark legacy that will stick in the minds of people when you are spoken about in history. I'm requesting that you stop shaming yourself and betraying this State by withdrawing from Trump's commission and by refusing to turn over our State records to what seems to be nothing but a partisan political campaign to justify suppressing the votes of many citizens across this country.

Respectfully,

Concord, NH 03301

Trump is spouting off about the bipartisan nature of this commission. You are one of the appointees that allows Trump to spew this nonsense. Do NOT lend legitimacy to this commission that will only do damage to our democracy. I urge you to resign for this appointment.

Instead, why wouldn't you want to encourage legislation for our state to have outstanding voter participation like many other countries around the world. For N.H. to excel by a percentage point or two does not seem especially impressive to me.

I wish you would re-consider your support for this bill.

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,

I am very disappointed at your willingness to provide voter information to the Federal voter fraud commission (if the request is reinstated). As I understand it, New Hampshire law does not allow for such information to be provided to the Federal government under these circumstances. And it is quite irresponsible to provide such information without knowing the extent to and the limits to which such information would be both used and protected. And it makes no sense to provide such information and to support the work of a commission that has been created to solve a problem that you and other Secretaries of State across the county have said is very minor in nature, if it exists at all. There is no proof that anyone has pointed to that support's the White House's allegations of massive voter fraud. There are only those allegations and accusations. The White House claims that millions of people are registered in more than one state. I certainly agree that is likely - I did not unregister from my former home state when we moved to New Hampshire simply because doing so never crossed my mind. I am sure my experience is typical. Does that mean that I voted in two states? Not at all, and nor would I even think of doing so. And, since neither you nor any other Secretary of State has uncovered 'massive' voter fraud, it points to the fact that virtually all the rest of the people registered in more than one state only vote in one election as well.

I read that one of the reasons that you are willing to supply the requested information to the commission is to help help resolve the issue of voter fraud for all the people who are concerned about it. Well, I don't know who you are talking to, but there is no one, Republican, Democrat or Independent, who I know who has expressed any concerns about voter fraud in New Hampshire - and, yes, we do talk a lot about political issues. It is the President who is making those accusations, not the great majority of people who live and vote in this state.

I am very proud of the integrity and involvement of the New Hampshire voters. And I have felt for many years that you have honored and supported the New Hampshire voters. Don't take away from that by supporting this effort to solve a problem that so few people outside of the White House thinks exists, and about which nothing more than baseless accusations have been made.

If proof of massive voter fraud exists, then we definitely need to solve the problem. However, until such proof is offered, let's stop wasting our time and resources on this issue, and let's get on with more serious business.

Sincerely,

Secretary Gardner,

I am writing to express my strong objection to providing NH's voter roles to the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity.

Study after study shows that voter fraud is practically nonexistent. There is no valid reason for them to ask for this data and, therefore, surely no valid reason to turn it over. I don't trust that any data collected will be used for the purpose of identifying voter fraud. Additionally, experts in the tech field are cautioning that this opens up opportunities for hackers to gain access enormous amounts of personal data that would be exploited.

Kris Kobach's involvement undermines the legitimacy of the commission's stated goals; he has been a foe of voting rights for many years.

Protect NH's citizens' privacy and refuse to turn over the state's voter roles.

Thank you for your attention.

If i find out it has been turned over i do plan on suing the state of NH and your office. This is my private information and i have been voting since i turned 18 in 1988. It was bad enough when a segment of our legislators pushed thru the "voter ID law" without going through proper channels! I do not want ANY of my information going to his nonsensical investigation to explain why fraud was involved. Obviously it was involved he is in the damn Whitehouse! I am sending a copy of this email to myself as proof i sent this email to your office & the "elections" department in particular... if the state does send records next week i will be contacting an attorney that i already spoke with about proceeding with a class action suit.

I will be in Concord tomorrow morning, Friday until about 1130 if you/ your staff would like to discuss this. Obviously i am extremely upset about the idea of the Trump corporation having my personal information as we all know this would not be a "government" investigation its another way for Trump to target his percieved "Enemies"!!!!

Dear Secretary Gardner

I agree we need an election system we can be confident in. This is not the way to do it.

Having always been proud of New Hampshire's position as a strong voting state, I am very disappointed in this agreement to turn over voter role information.

Neither Governor Sununu nor the President have shown any facts that show there has been voter fraud.

Please safeguard us while doing the job of making sure the elections are truly valid.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

It has become an embarrassment to NH to be associated with a commission that at its creation was based on a questionable premise, including claims that there is rampant fraudulent voting in our state, but is now a likely part of an agenda to disenfranchise people of color by a President who has equated Nazis and KKK with those who protest and resist them.

If Business Leaders can take a stand, so can NH and you.

I am writing to express my dismay that Secretary Gardner is willing to submit NH voter data to a commission that has not met and that has no justification for being other than unverified claims of voter fraud.

For perhaps the last ten years these claims have suddenly arisen, often in states attempting to disenfranchise minority populations. Gardner has stated there is a perception of fraud, but by taking part in this commission, and submitting NH voter data, he is contributing to this perception rather than treating it with the skepticism it deserves.

I am disappointed in a man for whom I previously had respect, and disappointed that my state is one of the few states even considering complying. He is making us susceptible to hackers while other states are protecting their voters.

NH Secretary of State,

As a NH voter and constituent I have extreme concerns about your office and the Governor's willingness to comply with the release of our personal information to a commission founded upon absolutely no evidence. I do not want my voting data released to the Trump administration for their purposes, this is paramount to voter intimidation. Personally if my voter information is released along with characterizing information about myself, my address, party affiliation (all of which I try very hard to conceal as a public school teacher) I have concerns about the safety and security of my information.

With the Commission stating that this information would be made PUBLIC it is an invasion of my privacy. Under the Constitution states hold the responsibility to perform and manage elections, this is government overreach and undermines NH's election process and integrity.

I wish for NH to join the other 24 states who have already refused to comply with this request. Please do not put NH citizens in a compromising situation especially in light of recent issues of cyber security.

Thank you,

I am writing to let you know of my disappointment and disagreement with your reported decision to release NH Voter information to the Election Commission. I have always found you to be a strong and avid supporter of New Hampshire and the rights of its citizens; this stance is not reflected in the decision to release voter records.

In the absence of a legal decision requiring you to do so I find your decision to release the records offensive and questionable. I am specifically concerned about:

- The legality and necessity of releasing the records, and
- The ability to maintain security of the data over the long-term.

I am asking that you reconsider this decision and join the vast majority of your peers who are refusing to release the records under current law.

To Whom it May Concern,

I am deeply concerned and troubled by the decision to release NH voter information to the Donald Trump Election Committee. As a resident and voter of New Hampshire I am concerned with the consequences of what this action will cause under an administration that has already proved that legality and morality is not in their list of priorities in practice. Please stand up for what is right, moral, just and what your constituents are asking of you. As a young professional, it has questioned whether I want to move out of my beloved state and into a state where my government will protect my rights and privacy.

I object to the release by the Secretary of State of my NH voter information to the White House in compliance with President Trump's recent order to all of the states . Below is my objection to such a release of information as stated in my e-mail to Governor Sununu today.

"Please be advised that I strenuously object to and deny permission for your office or its designees to release to the WhiteHouse or designee of the Whitehouse any and all information pertaining to me as a voter, including my name, address, and most especially my social security number. I, as a registered voter, resident of New Hampshire and US citizen am entitled to give "informed consent" for such a release of voter information. I/we have no information or understanding of the President's intentions regarding the requested voter information. Trump's order for this information from every state smacks of a roundup of sorts . We know of this President's paranoia about the popular vote in the presidential election and his unsubstantiated claim that the vote was "rigged", eg "voters for Hillary were transported by the busloads" to NH. We know that Governor Sununu perpetuated this falsehood and should not further compromise his integrity by willy-nilly complying with Trumps order to deliver NH voter information to the WhiteHouse. Such compliance would make him complicit in whatever may develop in the way of Trump's twisted schemes to compromise NH voters.

Again, I do not give my permission for the release of my voter information to the WhiteHouse"

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I am writing to express my concern regarding the potential release of NH voter registration information to the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity in Washington, DC. While I am aware that voter information in NH is available to certain parties it is unclear to me why you would release information to The Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity which does not meet the state law as it is not a political party, a political committee (as defined in RSA 664:2, IV, or to a political committee, as defined in RSA 664:2, III) ,or a candidate for political office in NH.

Secondly, if you choose to release this information despite laws and regulations stating it shouldn't be released, I would assume that the Commission will pay for information as required in state legislation.

Lastly, I am very concerned that releasing this information to an entity in Washington, DC where there would be no way to control how this information is stored, utilized, or maintained in an age where information hacking is common would allow it to be obtained by many other entities. I understand that the request for the last four digits of one's social security number cannot be honored as your office does not have that information. However, providing the information that you do have will encourage further information requests. I hope that you will follow NH law and deny this request.

Mr Secretary of State Gardner:

I have been following the news and am sincerely unhappy with New Hampshire providing ANY of the information requested to the White House regarding New Hampshire voters, voter registration information, and voter history - to include ANY personal information which will be compiled in a central repository with unknown security precautions for either its access or use. Given the current executive administration's lack of knowledge over government procedures, policies, and protections, I am extremely doubtful there will be competent security, oversight, training, or access restrictions to the data. In addition, I do not believe the data will be used for valid purposes in a professional and non-partisan manner, nor do I believe that I would trust any conclusions reached from "analyzing" the data in the current political environment.

With all the past and current security breaches of data compiled in central repositories (I have been the victim of at least five major breaches in the past few years - both corporate and government), it strikes me as extremely unwise to put "all our voting eggs in one basket". Compartmentalization within/by our states seems a wise precaution to prevent this critical information being available within one database, particularly in/by an office with uncertain qualifications, motives, oversight, and training.

I hope my concerns will be considered when responding to the request by the Federal Government for unfettered access to my data, as well as the data of my fellow New Hampshire voters.

Thank you for your consideration.

Greetings,

I urge Secretary of State Gardner to REFUSE TO COMPLY with the unwarranted information “fishing expedition” request by the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. The purpose of this disgraceful commission and voter data request is to justify increased nationwide voter suppression by encouraging wholly unjustified doubts about the integrity of our voting process. The end goal of voter suppression violates the U.S. Constitution’s First and 14th Amendments, and, in these troubling times, erodes a pillar of our nation’s civic institutions.

As Secretary Gardner knows, there has never been any significant voter fraud in New Hampshire, and no federal or state election outcome has been shown to have been affected by fraudulent voting. Our states maintain full and appropriate controls over elections. Claims to the contrary by the fact-challenged Donald Trump and the fraudster head of the Commission on Election Integrity, Kris Kobach, are completely unsupported by actual evidence, and can only rely on a handful of anecdotes. The commission obviously intends to use the nationwide data not to objectively evaluate the facts, but to promote voter suppression. That’s just plain wrong. New Hampshire should join the states of California, Massachusetts, Virginia and Kentucky (so far) in refusing to comply with the commission’s outrageous voter data request.

I am an independent (former GOP) Granite State resident and voter.

Good morning Secretary Gardner,

My name is [REDACTED] and I am one of your constituents in Deerfield, NH. I am writing to you to today urging you to reconsider and reverse your decision to comply with the Federal Voter Fraud Commission's initiative to compile a public master database of voter information.

In today's digital and interconnected world, the safety and sanctity of our personal information becomes more and more important, and physical distance is no barrier to the threats that may come after us. By creating a public master database of voter information, the Voter Fraud Commission is drawing a bullseye on the backs of all Americans whose information is given to it. The combination of name/date of birth/address/SSN information is considered Personally Identifiable Information, and if this information is leaked or left unguarded by a private company, that company is legally liable for damages resulting to the person from it. The government would be aiding/abetting in international fraud on an unimaginable scale by publishing this list and damaging the welfare of its citizens by doing so. While I am aware that NH's decision to comply includes the caveat that it will only contain public-record information which is already available for sale to interested political groups, this request erodes any protections for our personal information as citizens and leaves us open to digital assault.

Publishing this information could ruin the lives of Americans in so many ways:

- The information from this database could be used to more easily perpetrate identity theft and fraud against Americans by domestic and foreign criminals
- The frequency of pre-meditated violent crimes could increase as perpetrators gain easier access to victim information and the ability to profile/identify targets
- Survivors of domestic violence of domestic disputes could be impacted as they could be tracked anywhere in the country if they register to vote

This request is short-sighted with minimal proof of efficacy, acts against America's prior attempts to protect our citizens through the PATRIOT Act, and instead of Making America Great Again, will weaken us against enemies both within and without. I urge you to act however you can to prevent New Hampshire's participation in the request.

Thank you,

Dear Secretary Gardner:

As a Francestown citizen and voter who's been on the rolls in our town since 1976, I value the privacy of my voting record and choices. I have been known to the Supervisors of the Checklist and their processes of validating my ability to vote are wholly adequate.

While I can see some of the arguments for voter i.d. registration, I'm sure you know that many states have a documented history of denying voting to people of color through 'literacy' hurdles, applied with the intent of disqualifying them. That is not 'fake news.'

My votes and my history belong to me, not to any state or federal officials or agencies.

I do not authorize or recognize the authority of any use of the record of my voting. I protest any attempts to 'validate' or qualify my voting.

I ask that you respect my right to privacy in this precious exercise, my most important role in our common American democratic process. I ask you to please be careful with your responsibility...to me.

As a citizen of this state and this country I am sickened by this request. I believe strongly that is because the president is upset because he did not win the popular vote. My husband was caught up twice in a VA data loss many years ago. Our Anthem info was hacked and both of us were part of the Office Of Personnel hack. I worked for the federal government for over 25 years and was responsible for computer security. A little info here and a little info there can create enough information to create a complete profile of a sensitive project or a person. Mr. Koback is known for trying to take away certain people's right to vote. If they want to be transparent I suggest that the president disclose his tax returns for the last 7- 10 years. If he wants to be trusted then he needs to lead the way. I don't believe there is voter fraud. What I have heard is that the fraud is usually with election officials. The president won. Leave it alone and leave us alone. Spend tax payer money securing the data on state and federal systems and enact laws that requires any entity that has personal information be required to have strong encryption and keep their systems up to date.

Dear Governor Sununu,

I am writing from a small public library in Newfoundland where I am vacationing. I am taking time out to write you because I feel very strongly that the current plan to turn over our voter information to Pres. Trump's "Voter Fraud Commission" is misguided and should not occur.

Our state has virtually no voter fraud despite Trump's accusations. The integrity of the electoral process in our state has been confirmed numerous times by nonpartisan organizations, as well as our own NH Secretary of State. As an election official in my town, I am aware that there are rare mistakes of voters having duplicate registrations. These are usually due to mistakes that are corrected not to any intent to commit fraud.

It is a mistake to cooperate with this political distraction, which also appears to be a duplicitous attempt to undermine electoral participation in our state and across the country. Don't forget that this request comes from an administration actively under investigation for colluding with a foreign government to affect the 2016 election!

I also have concerns about my own private information being shared with this commission. What will happen to the data? Having the entire country's information in one centralized database will certainly make it easier for it be be abused by hackers. I see no value whatsoever to this plan.

Giving up our voter information is NOT the New Hampshire way. Please urge the Secretary of State to REFUSE to share our electorate's personal information with Trump and Kobach's harmful commission, as have most other states.

Sincerely,

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I am appalled at your complicity in agreeing to turn over NH voter information to the trumped up election commission, on which you currently serve.

This is nothing short of voter intimidation and political grandstanding by Donald Trump. His claims of fraud are what is fraudulent.

How dare you betray the integrity of our sacred system on the whim of this despicable president?

I demand that you do not turn over our records and furthermore that you demonstrate some integrity and resign from this loathsome commission.

Dear Mr. Gardner,

I am extremely concerned with your recent words and actions concerning the protection of voters' rights in NH. First, you have agreed to participate in Trump's trumped up Voter's Integrity Commission, which is looking more and more like just the opposite, a move to make more voters ineligible to cast their ballots lawfully. In addition, a veto of SB 3 is important for NH voters' rights, but you seem to be aligning yourself with Gov. Sununu, who is acting like a rubber stamp for right wing causes which fail to serve the needs of our state. And is it true that you will acquiesce to your committee's outrageous demand to hand over NH voter information for their questionable use? If so, this is just one more action that goes against much that many of your constituents believe in. Are you really a Democrat or have you fallen under the nefarious spell of our totally incompetent president? I am shocked and saddened by your current behavior,

Sincerely,

Mr. Secretary,

Unless the federal voter fraud commission has received approval by OMB through the Paperwork Reduction Act process to collect information from states, the collection is illegal. There has been no such approval requested or granted. If you would like to research this for yourself, you can find all current information collection requirements here: <https://www.reginfo.gov/public/do/PRAMain>

A quick guide to the PRA process is available here: <https://www.opm.gov/about-us/open-government/digital-government-strategy/fitara/paperwork-reduction-act-guide.pdf>

And, as a gentle reminder, there is no such thing as a Federal election. There are only state and municipal elections. Thus, the Federal government has no authority over or Constitutional authority to interfere with state or local elections. The only Constitutional reference to elections is in relation to how Senators are elected and the Electoral College. On the latter, the Constitution does not limit the manner in which electors are chosen - as evidenced by Maine's proportional awarding system vs winner take all.

Secretary of State William M. Gardner,

I am wiring regarding the request for New Hampshire voter information from the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. I strongly urge you not to provide that is private information that voters have provided to the state and should not be given to the federal government. I have several reasons for this. First, it is none of their business. Second, it provides a prime hacking target for large-scale election information. Third, there has not been sufficient justification given for the need to provide the information because no significant cases of voter fraud have been identified.

Please say no to this request.

Thank you.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

My Town is a "College Town". Henniker has New England College. When I was voting in November, I asked the Poll Workers if there was any way to find out if all of the students who were registering to vote that day, had already voted in their home states or towns, either in person or by absentee ballots? Many of them felt that the students were voting twice.

I wish our Legislature would pass a law that students and other transient people would be required to Register at least a month before voting so they would be on the Voter List, and, in order to vote, they would have to produce identification like the rest of us, do. As it is now, they only have to give declaration that they are Residents in order to register to vote in our Towns in NH. They might just be in our town for half a Semester, or less. Couldn't Students be encouraged to vote by Absentee in their own States? Couldn't they be required to Register to Vote in their own home towns?

It looks like the 1,000+ illegal votes that you have uncovered, so far, would negate the election of some of those who were elected. Please investigate the student votes from all of the big college towns. I feel that it isn't fair for temporary people to influence the outcome of important elections in New Hampshire. Once you have proven the number of voters who voted illegally, please adjust the outcome of the Elections.

I thank you, ahead of time, for looking into illegal voting in New Hampshire.

Respectfully,

What kind of "fraud" will the voting fraud commission find? You should protest their creation of a massive national database - which I understand may be against federal law - before the commission even checks to see whether they can get enough data to do even the first match (age and name) -- and whether that would land them with so many false positives they'd be pursuing this inquiry for 100 years. Read on..

1) WhitePages lists 124 Susan Smiths in NH and 1091 in CA. Susan was the most common female baby name in 1946. Does that mean that every voting Susan Smith in NH voted maybe 15 times there and 100 in CA? Now try Jose Hernandez..

1a) What algorithm are you going to use, where you have last-4 SSNs? Experian once equated me with another Susan, different last name, address history, work history but 1 digit off between our SSNs. Algorithm said maybe the data puncher made a digit mistake, and women change their last names. Don't you dare stretch the algorithm!

2) Jerrod Ploot votes in Smalltown, moves to Smallburg, where he registers to vote, votes, and moves a year later to TINYTOWN, re-registers and votes the next year. It doesn't even occur to him his small towns haven't updated the voter list, he's only voted once each time. His state hasn't got a foolproof system in place to get towns to fix the lists every election. I haven't heard that NH has solved the problem, with all our tiny towns. Are you going to use Ploot's name on the three voter rolls to claim he voted three times in the same election?

Stop the commission from wasting public money! If they have to pursue a claim with no existing evidence just because a person in power wants to believe in it, make sure the commission only uses actual votes. Then they will waste a lot more of our money following up every single Susan Smith or Jose Hernandez of the same age find out if they're the same person. NH should know how much time this takes, since even following up the NH voters who register same-day and then move/die soon after voting takes you so long we had to increase the budget at the AG's and SoS.

The commission should find out first what the states can offer, and then figure out if they can use the data meaningfully, without implicit bias, before demanding compliance. This smells of 1984. And of quagmire and waste.

I'm in favor of full cooperation with this national effort.

Ever since the stories of JFK vote buying in West Virginia up through the massive voter registration frauds of the 2008 & 2012 elections, there are Republicans who worry that their franchise is being stolen from them. That the most corrupting of influences have infected the vote itself.

It is time to investigate that concern fully and openly.

Where there is fraud, let's prosecute it and stop it.

Where there is no fraud, let's let the sunshine brightly to eradicate the fears.

Dear Secretary of State,

Hello,

I believe it is violation of my right to privacy for you to release my voter information and other information to the federal government.

There is no large amount of voter fraud in the US. This is all about the ego of this president because he lost the popular vote. It is also about voter suppression.

This is also a huge security risk as we have seen that the Russians can get any information they want.

Mr. Gardner,

As a New Hampshire resident and voter, I strongly and strenuously object to the decision to turn over New Hampshire's voter registration information to the so-called Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. I am sure this protest will fall on deaf-ears, as you are a member of said Commission, and Gov. Sununu has publicly supported President Trump's completely unfounded claims of widespread voter fraud. Nevertheless, I want my objections made clear.

Kris Kobach's reputation for voter suppression is well known, and will become even more known in the days and months to come. Alignment with the hugely unpopular Trump administration's policies, especially those supporting spurious claims of non-existent problems, will carry a cost, especially if this information is misused. Quite simply: I don't trust the Trump administration, Mr. Kobach, your Commission, or the Republican Party, and I will continue to closely monitor, and publicly protest, this activity, and do my utmost to see that a price is paid for this decision come election time.

More than half of the states in the country have already refused to participate in this sham. That New Hampshire intends to do so speaks volumes about the integrity of our state government, or lack thereof.

Most sincerely,

[REDACTED]

What the h#ll are you thinking!? I was shocked to learn that Governor Sununu and Sec. of State Gardner decided to share our voting data with the president's Election Commission. This whole situation is very sketchy. To make unsecure electronic copies of our voting records and share them with a commission of highly dubious character is very wrong. I thought Mr. Gardner was only on the commission to ensure the integrity of the process. He seems to have failed in that regard, as far as I can see. First we have to put up with a completely unnecessary voter ID law in our own state, now this. I have always had respect for Mr. Gardner, but am beginning to have my doubts. It seems Live Free or Die is increasingly becoming a meaningless slogan...

Study after study shows that voter fraud is practically nonexistent. There is no valid reason for them to ask for this data and, therefore, surely no valid reason to turn it over.

Kris Kobach's involvement undermines the legitimacy of the commission's stated goals; he has been a foe of voting rights for many years.

Protect NH's citizens' privacy and refuse to turn over the state's voter roles.

Shortly after the election when the concern about voter fraud was talked about I remember a representative of NH saying on national television that there was no issue with voter fraud in NH (It might even have been Gov. Sununu on a Sunday show). Why now would they be willing to go along with this request to fix a problem that doesn't exist?

You have utterly failed the citizens of this State. We expect backbone and integrity. We expect State's rights, individual rights, and, frankly, a host of other things allegedly professed by your party. It is irrelevant whether this information is public or not, that you would willingly aggregate it and hand it over to allegedly address a non-existent problem is a betrayal of what should be your first and only allegiance: the people o NH.

Hello,

I am writing to find out if the recently publicized report concerning the number of same day registration voters in the November 2016 election who had out of state licenses and the follow up as to whether or not they converted to a New Hampshire license is available to the public. I read that this report was requested from the Secretary of State's office by Representative Jasper and wanted to see the actual report and data that is publicly available.

In addition, I would like to know if your office had done any analysis looking at the number of voters in various age bands with out of state licenses to see if they tended to be concentrated in any specific age group.

If you have done that analysis that information would be critical in understanding the importance of the information and should have been made public along with the information released by Representative Jasper. If you didn't do that analysis then the report is incomplete and shouldn't have been released until such analysis had been done as it allows for people to create a false narrative concerning potential election fraud that may not have occurred.

I am planning on being in Concord on Monday and would like to stop in at your office to find out how I can obtain a copy of this report.

Thank you for your help.

Dear Mr. MacDonald, Attorney General; and Mr. Gardner, Secretary of State

I am writing to state my opposition to the release of voter information to the commission mentioned in the subject line of this email. They are asking for information that is personal and is a pretext to justify voter suppression. My social security number, past residence locations, and much of the requested data, can be used inappropriately and if the giant database that is created from the various states databases is hacked, would leave all voters open to identity theft. (Given that identity theft can occur with enough personal information and giving the last 4 digits of my SS# is even more info). In addition, since the president does not acknowledge the Russians interfered in our elections, this database could be used by "hackers" to selectively alter voter registration information and thereby prevent or make difficult the voting of individuals who are eligible to vote. Even worse, this leaky white house, could leak this info to the Russians. You may think I'm being paranoid about this but this president has shown total disregard for our national security and the welfare of our people. This whole commission is an attempt to shore up Mr. Trump's alternate facts of 5 Million people voting illegally in 2016, because he is tortured by the idea that he didn't win the popular vote.

Thank you

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I am writing as a concerned citizen of New Hampshire.

I do not want you or anyone else in NH State government to send any voter information to the President's sham investigation panel on voting integrity.

This is a fraudulent panel in search of something that barely exists in NH or any of the States.

This panel is all about trying to satisfy the huge ego of a narcissistic, self absorbed so-called president Trump who can't bear the thought that he lost the popular vote. It is also an attempt to drum up more support for illegal, unnecessary and intolerable voter ID laws which undermine our Democracy and limit participation in the voting process.

As a member of this panel I urge you to call it out for the fraudulent undertaking that it is and then resign from the sham of a panel.

The Republican party and Mr. Trump and Mr. Kobach are trying to undermine confidence in our voting system. This is an outrageous assault on democracy and I urge you to stand against it.

I'm happy to provide my information to the State of NH, or to the legally formed Federal Election Commission. But, I refuse to have it shared with what I consider to be an illegally formed "voter fraud commission" that aims to prove, as it's primary mission, that President Trump didn't lose the popular vote in the 2016 presidential election.

There is scant evidence that wide-spread election fraud exists in our democracy as stated by a majority of US secretaries of state. This election fraud "witch hunt" is a waste of taxpayer dollars, and opens voter privacy to being hacked by malevolent entities. Voting is the purview of states, and is none of President Trump's business.

Dear Secretary of State Bill Gardner

I don't think it is a good idea for Democrats to want to lend legitimacy to the so-called Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity.

The whole idea seems a waste of our (taxpayers') money and is a distraction from the real threats to the integrity of our elections today: aging voting systems and documented Russian interference in our elections.

I would encourage you to please resign from it.

Sincerely

Dear Mr Dunlap and Mr Gardner,

I agree with California's Secretary of State Alex Padilla that the so-called Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity "is a waste of taxpayer money and a distraction from the real threats to the integrity of our elections today: aging voting systems and documented Russian interference in our elections". As two Democratic appointees to this commission, I hope you both will resign from it lest you continue to lend it undeserved legitimacy during a time when we should be focused on investigating the real threats against our democracy.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I am writing to advise against complying with the request for voter information by the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity.

Having read of the information requested, I do not believe the citizens of NH are served in any beneficial way by this request, as voter fraud is not rampant in NH, and the likelihood of voter disenfranchisement is significant.

If you are to comply with the request, I believe that the federal government should not receive any additional information not publicly available to other interested parties. Thank you for reviewing my opinion on the matter.

Dear Secretary Gardner

I hope that you will resist the request for records from the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. As I am sure you are aware, there is no evidence of widespread voter fraud, and this request is at best political grandstanding and at worst a questionable gathering of citizens' information.

We have the privilege to live in a state that has a long history of resisting government overreach and protecting citizens' privacy, and we rely on our state officials to maintain this state character.

I hope that I can count on you to look after the interests of New Hampshire voters.

Dear Mr. Gardener, Mr. Ambrose, and Mr. Scanlan,

I have many concerns about the recent request of Kris Kobach, vice chair of the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity, to release large amounts of personal information of New Hampshire's voters. As a citizen and a registered voter, I do not consent to my personal information being released to a man who has a record of illegally suppressing voters to be entered into a national database. This is a huge overstep of the federal government and they have not been clear as to what they plan to do with this information. Citizens should have the right to withhold their consent for this important and quite personal information to be released. I urge you to reject this request and protect the privacy of the voters of New Hampshire.

To Secretary of State William M. Gardner,

As a resident of NH and a regular voter I strongly disagree with releasing my private information to the Presidential Advisory Commission on Voter Integrity. Mr Hosemann's statement below reflects my view of the issue.

"My reply would be: They can go jump in the Gulf of Mexico, and Mississippi is a great state to launch from," Mr. Hosemann said in a statement. "Mississippi residents should celebrate Independence Day and our state's right to protect the privacy of our citizens by conducting our own electoral processes."

Please do not provide any info that isn't already publicly available to the Presidential Advisory Committee on Election Integrity. This is just an attempt to undermine American citizens' faith in our voting system and to increase voter suppression. Many studies have already shown that voting fraud does not occur very often and is not an issue that affects our elections. The Vice-Chair of this new Presidential committee has played this game before, using double registrations, dead people still registered, and people with two addresses to "prove" a large percentage of voting fraud. Upon more careful analysis, double registrations are almost always due to different people who happen to have the same name and birthdate (I've been in that situation a few times myself.), dead people's names on the voting rolls are just the result of the lag between the time they died and time it takes to be removed from the rolls, and people registered at two different addresses are just people who have moved (Again, I've been there on this one also, and only voted once in the state in which I currently reside). Voting rolls do get updated to take care of all these things, but it just takes time to do it. There is no evidence showing that these types of issues lead to widespread voter fraud.

Thank you for protecting my private information and my right to vote

To Whom It May Concern,

As a lifelong Democrat, I am calling on Secretary Gardner to RESIGN from the President's commission, as it is solely focused on the bogus and deliberately distracting question of voter fraud, and not the actual electoral problems America faces.

Sec. Gardner's being on the commission enables Trump to call it "bipartisan" when in fact it is specifically aimed at disenfranchising more Democratic voters!

I ask the Secretary to take a courageous stance, withdraw from this smoke screen, and fight the actual battles we need for electoral integrity.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I am writing about the request from the President's commission on election integrity, sent to all fifty states, for sensitive personal information on all voters. I was appalled to see that the commission requested voters' voting history, party registration, and even their birth dates and the last four digits of their social security numbers.

I urge you not to release this data. The request improper and worrisome and seems like interference from the federal government with our state elections. Furthermore, the data requested is sensitive enough that I would never give it out for fear of identity theft. Please maintain the privacy of NH voters' data and refuse to comply with this request.

It has come to my attention that you have been appointed to the Presidential Commission on Elections Integrity. I have also learned that some States are less than enthusiastic about providing voter lists.

You may be able to find some of what you need on my websites, starting at my favorite, FLVOTERS.COM where you can also download voter data as supplied by the States.

In the case of Utah, the voter list in the past contained each voter's date of birth, until Gov. Herbert signed legislation, effective 13 May 2014, banning that use, after some guy in New Hampshire acquired the Utah voter list and posted it on a website (on the heels of a nasty data breach at the Utah dept. of Health, in which bureaucrats scramble to reassure voters that personal data would be protected.). The website was UTVOTERS.COM and it explains where you can still download the Utah voter list as of 19 June 2013. Therefore, if you acquire the current one without birth dates, you can obtain the birth dates from the older version, by cross-referencing the voter ID numbers.

One useful tool in determining if imposters voted as deceased voters is the Death Master File:
<https://classic.ntis.gov/products/ssa-dmf/>

Be sure to request the most complete version, as some versions have more information, available only to government agencies.

This file was open to the public without restriction until I provided it as a website to the public. One issue is the thousands of living persons added each year when funeral directors type in a Social Security number incorrectly. The person was listed as deceased, SS number made public, and their accounts got frozen, as described on my website, CANCELTHESEFUNERALS.COM.

You can download the Ohio voter list from

<https://www6.sos.state.oh.us/ords/f?p=111:1>

However, you can cross-reference voters with this database, and if you can independently confirm death before election day, you have something.

Respectfully yours,

I am very disappointed to read NH will comply with the commission to investigate voter fraud. To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing with regard to news reports that the Election Integrity Commission has or is planning to request complete voter roll data from the State of New Hampshire. Leaving aside my opinion about the merits of this enterprise, I am concerned about the sharing of my personal information, to include (if the reports are correct) my name, address, date of birth, voting history, partial Social Security number, and voting record. I am also concerned that it is reported that the Commission is planning to make this information publicly available. We have a secret ballot for a reason, and, in fact, pains are taken to preserve the confidential nature of my votes. It would seem to me to fly in the face of that custom and policy to make my voting record public. I also object, by the way, to my name and address and especially part of my Social Security number being made public in this connection.

My questions to you are, first, whether New Hampshire intends to comply with this request. And, if the state does supply information from its voter roll data, what steps will be taken to protect my privacy and the privacy of other New Hampshire citizens? Will I, for example, be notified that my information is being shared, and the purposes for which it is being shared? Will I have an opportunity to sign or refuse to sign a release of information?

I would appreciate any information and guidance you can give me on this matter.

Sincerely,

His preposterous claim of "millions" voting fraudulently in our 2016 election makes me question his motives for pushing this data mining expedition. I'm further concerned such a database would be of high interest to hostile foreign actors. You should impede that avenue of attack.

If what Mr. Trump wants is "available publicly" then let him find it independently, laboriously, separately -- without your help. Our united-but-independent state has need of your efforts elsewhere!

Dear Mr. Gardner,

I'm writing as a citizen of NH and a registered voter to vigorously object to the decision by you and your office to comply with this commission's request for voter information.

This commission is founded on a fantasy at best, and a lie at worst. As SOS for NH you know the voter fraud claim of Mr. Trump regarding NH and the 2016 election was ridiculous and yet you've agreed to further the work of this group.

The fact that voter registration information is public doesn't compel NH to deliver it to the commission. That request should be weighed against the very real possibility of misuse of the information by certain members of the commission and the Trump administration (why, for example, is this information being sent to the White House?). Mr. Kobach as Kansas Secretary of State used his discredited Crosscheck program to suppress voter registration in his state. He was rebuffed in part by a federal court and later received a personal fine of $1000 for presenting misleading information in a related lawsuit.

It's very disturbing to me and should be to you that this commission seeks, in effect, to build a national database of voters. This flies in the face of voter privacy and states rights. As an aside, why are people's recorded votes, tied to their names and other identifying information, public information in NH? That should be changed.

Our local paper, the Valley News, reprinted a story by Christopher Ingraham in the Washington Post outlining just how the information might be used to intimidate or suppress voter registration. If you haven't read it I encourage you to do so. One disturbing piece of information among many in that story is that this request for information was made without "...any public statements about what it intends to do with the voter role data it receives..."

Students of voting and elections know that historically voter fraud certainly existed in the US. In the 19th and early to mid 20th centuries votes were bought, or coerced by bosses or unions; political parties also "cooked" the voter books; and of course Jim Crow in the north and south disenfranchised Blacks and other minorities for many, many decades. Major improvements have been made and as you know the type of voter fraud this commission purports to prevent is virtually nonexistent today. If anything we should have a commission to study how to encourage citizens to vote and lower instead of raising barriers to voting.

Again, I strongly oppose your cooperation with this request and urge you to change your decision. If the commission wants the public information let them collect it themselves.

Sincerely,

Hi,

I called several times this morning and received a busy signal. I hope it is due to other concerned NH citizens picking up the phone to voice our complaint about the idea of NH, the live free or die state, complying with the absurd request from the Kobach Commission to hand over private voter registration data for manipulation prior to our next election.

Our own RSA's prohibit such a turn over and our compliance signals something very wrong at the state level that we would find it OK to fulfill a request that makes election tampering easier by creating a one stop shopping approach to the next Russian hack or any partisan efforts to sway those who are 'eliminated' from the voter rolls.

As a New Hampshire resident, I demand that my private information not be released to this sham of a 'fraud' commission.

We do a good job of running free and fair elections in the state and I see no reason to play along with bogus oversight.

We expect basic protections for our democracy - from 'all enemies foreign and domestic'. As with other vague trump-era policies and proposals, there is not well-defined reason for this request. For this reason, and for the obligation the state has to protect its citizens privacy - especially when their right to free and fair elections might be abridged - we rely on you to listen to the citizens and not a government whose intentions are ill-defined at best and ill-intentioned, at worst.

I will follow up with a call when able. But please add my name to the count of residents who are strongly opposed to the release of voting data to this self-serving, side-show of an administration.

Thanks,

Hello

I am emailing to find out if Secretary of State Gardner is planning on sharing my personal information and voting history with the President's Election Commission. I am very much opposed to any of my information entrusted to the State of New Hampshire being shared with any public or private entity with out my specific consent.

I am also very concerned about the motives of commission making this request. They are investigating the President's debunked claim that millions of illegal votes were cast in the 2016 election. The leaders of this commission have a proven record of voter suppression.

There is credible evidence of interference in our election by foreign agents. In the several states where this has been uncovered there should be an independent audit of the votes to ensure they were not tampered with. Several state and federal officials have stated that no votes were tampered with. Unless an audit is done they have not way of knowing if this is true or not.

If the Secretary of State does plan on sharing my personal information I ask that he please give advanced notice so that his decision can be challenged in court before it is too late.

Dear Mr. Gardner, Mr. Ambrose, and Mr. Scanlan.

I am writing you and your entire office to ask you to take a strong stand against the recent request by the Federal government for personal data about NH voters.

Personal privacy is a freedom issue and one on which I expect there to be strong bipartisan support. Even at a non-political level, this exposes us to identity theft unnecessarily.

This is a states rights issue. It is a key protection against tyranny (which we are at special risk of with the Trump administration, not for ordinary Republican/Democrat partisan splits, but because he has no respect for the Constitution and is eroding our basic protections across the board). Information centralization moves ever closer to the ability to do press-of-a-button voter intimidation, suppression and other scary analytics. Any such move should be resisted. It may seem inefficient to do things as we do now, but inefficiency is protection in a world where there's risk that our democracy might one day soon just fall away.

And anyway there is no evidence of widespread voter fraud of the kind alleged. It wouldn't even be cost-effective. If you want something not to trust, look to voting machines. The ongoing effort is intended only to support Trump's fantasy that millions of people voted illegally in a way that robbed him of a real mandate. That is ridiculous and his war on the media and now the voting process is shameful. We must not be seen as a state that applauds such antics.

Thanks for your time.

Dear Secretary Gardner:

I am a registered voter in Manchester, Ward 8. I write to express my extreme disappointment in your participation in the president's voter suppression committee, and your willingness to freely turn over New Hampshire voter data to this panel.

Regarding the voter data, I have seen your televised interview, and read your comments in print media, and I found your response to the data request quite confusing and concerning. You have indicated you will fully comply with the data request, which includes such information as social security numbers and voter history. I was not aware that the state was storing my social security number in their voter files, and I am alarmed to hear that from you.

I intend to remove my name from the voter rolls as a result of your reckless decision and statements. I will try to do same day registration each election day going forward, and if the lines are too long I will just not vote (I have never missed an election since I turned 18). So bravo on your victory in the battle to suppress this one vote.

I also intend to encourage others to do the same. The lines on election day should be great if this grass roots effort gains traction.

Regarding your participation in this horrendous process, I believe it is a serious threat to our democracy, and I strongly encourage you to abandon your support for this effort to suppress American voters.

As a former state representative, I have supported you as Secretary of State, but can no longer do so. I hope you will think on this, realize your error, and correct your actions.

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,

There is much discussion, and many proposals to resolve the issue of so-called voter fraud. Is there a voter fraud problem in New Hampshire? I don't think so? Is there a perception of voter fraud in New Hampshire? Only by a few, very vocal people. Most of my fellow state residents are proud of our rate of participation in our elections, as well as of the cleanliness of our election processes. I deeply resent the suggestion that there is rampant voter fraud in New Hampshire, and I completely mistrust the true objectives of any persons seeking to 'tighten up' our voter processes to reduce such rampant 'voter fraud.' I urge you to steadfastly oppose any such efforts unless these accusations can be specifically proven. Our voter registration systems and voter systems work quite well, and respect the process, as well as the integrity of the citizens of New Hampshire. To change those processes on the basis of baseless accusations of unspecified voter fraud is an insult to every voter in New Hampshire, and you and we should not stand for it. Please keep this in mind as you work with the White House in their efforts to uncover and prevent the so-called massive voter fraud problem that has been disproven by your equals all over the country.

Sincerely,

I am writing to formally complain about the secretary of state and the governor willingness to cooperate with the republican party and the trump election investigation committee in releasing my personal information because of some alleged perception about voting fraud in NH. This is so far from the truth and colluding with unsubstantiated claims. And I think that if we agree and cooperate with this perception that it is only the first step to a very slippery slope in truly undermining our elections integrity.

The only voting fraud and manipulation that has happened in NH historically have been done by the republicans. This includes the two men in the Laconia I read who initially made this claim of seeing busloads of MA people at their polls, both men have pretty difficult histories with arrests and disruptions in their professional and personal lives. It would not surprise me if Roger Stone or some other republican dirty trickster helped to make these men heard in the media to start this rumor mill. It is not unlike what happened the now infamous Hubert Humphrey sabotage that he did, with making a campaign contribution from the young socialist party to his campaign and then leaking it to the press. Or the Will Horton rumors in the Dukakis campaign, as well as many dirty tricks that the republicans are well know for here in New England. That is my perception about voting fraud issues here, not the democratic but republicans floating rumors that interfere, not unlike the Russian interferences.

I know that NH did its own investigation of the election day registered voters and was unable to find about 400+ voters to respond to request for residential verification. But what is with the leap to the assumption that it was illegal democratic voters, there are truly many legitimate reasons that they could not respond to the mailing, such as moving without a forwarding address. But I remember voting on that day and thinking that there were many people that I do not generally see in my ward. They all appeared pretty anger, working class, Trump voters and I think they were bused in by the REPUBLICANS.

Thanks for your hard work, dedication and commitment to make this process transparent and honorable. Please do not fall to the lack of integrity of this commission, especially its leadership who are making false claims.

Secretary, please reconsider. If we need to prove there is no voter fraud why can we not audit our roles? Let them be viewed? WHY would they be made public?? As a research ethicist we would NEVER allow this information on a patient to be made public by researchers it could be damaging personally and professionally.

45 states have refused for very good reason.

Without a investigation complete into the 2016 election putting our information to the public and foreign enemies is irresponsible.

Our already fragile democracy & confidence in integrity will be undermined by compromising our information security experts warned.

My identity could be stolen, I could be harassed, intimidated, suppressed or worse.

They have no reason to ask for this information, no proof of any voter fraud!! The administration wants to make information that is not already public, PUBLIC otherwise why would that need to request it ???!! Hence why 24 states have DECLINED!!!

If I for any reason I'm targeted, taken off of the voter role, or harassed in anyway I will hold you and gov. Sununu personally responsible!!! I have contacted the ACLU and privacy professionals as This is unconstitutional and violates my privacy and I will not tolerate it!!

Subject: Please deny Pence-Kobach Commission request
Date: Thursday, July 06, 2017 1:33:15 AM

Dear Secretary Gardner:

I am writing to express my concern over the recent request for voter registration records from the Pence-Kobach Commission. According to current NH law, my understanding is that only name, domicile address, mailing address, town or city, and party affiliation, if any, of registered voters, is public information subject to right-to-know legislation. Voter history is made available upon request to political parties, political committees, and to candidates for office, generally for a fee. However, as a registrar of voters, I am aware that the voter database contains a great deal of additional information. The sharing of any of this additional information exposes voters to identity theft. We know that hackers penetrated the election systems of as many as 39 states in 2016. As Michael Chertoff, Secretary of Homeland Security under President George W. Bush, has observed, "while individual databases are vulnerable, there is some protection in the fact that U.S. voting systems are distributed among thousands of jurisdictions. As data-security experts will tell you, widespread distribution of individual data elements in multiple separate repositories is one way to reduce the vulnerability of the overall database." He continues, "That's why the commission's call to assemble all this voter data in federal hands raises the question: What is the plan to protect it? We know that a database of personal information from all voting Americans would be attractive not only to adversaries seeking to affect voting but to criminals who could use the identifying information as a wedge into identity theft. We also know that foreign intelligence agencies seek large databases on Americans for intelligence and counterintelligence purposes." By centralizing all of this voter data into one huge database we increase the risk of its being compromised by those who would seek to undermine the very bedrock of our democracy – the right to vote.

This is why it is so important to deny the Commission's request for NH voter information. Individual voters constantly ask for assurance that their information will not be shared, and we explain to them that some information is public, but based on current law, we have been able to assure them that no information that would open them to identity theft will be shared. Nonetheless, we can see that under the guise of "comparing voter information" as allowed for in RSA 654:45, VIII and IX, additional information could be shared. This is of grave concern, particularly if all of the information is gathered in a vast database as the one being proposed by the commission.

The possibility of erroneously identifying individuals as duplicates with voters in other states, is extremely high. Even within our small state, internal comparisons within the database identify hundreds of possible duplicates, when only a few real duplicates exist, nearly all of which are due to clerical errors. For anyone with a common name, or who is named after a father, mother, grandfather, or grandmother, the likelihood of being unjustly removed as a "duplicate" is very real.

The strength of our great democracy is that it is a government by the people and for the people. Efforts such as this suggest a desire to subvert the founding principles of the United States of America.

I urge you to deny the Pence-Kobach Commission access to the voting records of the State of New Hampshire, and to thereby respect the privacy and the voting rights of all of our citizens.

Sincerely,

Portsmouth, NH 03801

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,

Please do not release the personally identifying information on voters that Kobach's Committee on Election Integrity has requested.

The Committee does not appear to have a plan to utilize the information nor even to keep the information secure.

We do know that their mission is to prove there was rampant voter fraud, although the claim is preposterous according to your own research. We also know that this federal administration has shown levels of incompetence not seen in our life-times. Additionally, we know that this administration is careless with truth, preferring narratives that support their positions to facts.

Please protect information that citizens have entrusted to our state from an administration that has an agenda without a plan.

Data from nearly 200 million voters was recently exposed online. Dear Secretary Gardner:

I request that the State of NH not send their voter data to the Federal elections committee or, minimally, ensure the data does not go on the internet. At first my belief was that NH should charge the commission for the data just as it does with PACs, which ensures consistency and reduces the precedent of some getting the data for free and others not getting it for free. Now that I read the data may be put on the internet for anyone to access, I think NH is unnecessarily putting NH residents at risk by sharing this data. Also, wouldn't that be less revenue for the State and towns if this data is put on the internet for anyone to view? With so many states not fully complying, I worry that NH's compliance, whether partial or not, puts my personal data at more risk than necessary.

Minimally, I hope you follow Pennsylvania's lead where they are willing to sell the data but refuse its posting on the internet.

Dear Secretary of State Gardner:

I understand the Presidential Commission has requested election data from NH citizens. Please reconsider making that data available until its safety can be ensured. Losing control of personal information has real and harrowing personal consequences. My husband and I were victimized in the OPM breach two years ago. While the federal government has provided us with free legal counsel and recourse for the countless mortgages and credit cards opened in our names, nothing will compensate for the day my father died and I attempted to make funeral arrangements only to find my credit compromised yet again. Amid grief and loss, I also had to deal with the repeated humiliation of identity theft. It made one of the worst days of my life even more painful.

As you know, voter fraud is a minuscule problem. Sharing reams of personal information under unclear mandate is a recipe for further data breach. Please do not threaten New Hampshire citizens with this eventuality. It is too emotionally and financially costly.

Perhaps you might consider rethinking your use of what seems to be an extremely flawed software program, disassociating yourself with Kobach and that snipe hunt they've gotten the President. to sign on to,, and refusing Kobach's requests for the NH voter rolls, in his capacity of chair of that "committee".

Here are three interesting articles that you might find helpful. I can provide many others.

<http://www.gregpalast.com/trump-picks-al-capone-vote-rigging-investigate-federal-voter-fraud/>

These three are, what could be termed "tip of the iceberg".

In my opinion, to besmirch your fine reputations by association with Kobach is ill advised.

The so-called Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity "is a waste of taxpayer money and a distraction from the real threats to the integrity of our elections today: aging voting systems and documented Russian interference in our elections," say California's Secretary of State Alex Padilla. Mr. Secretary:

Please do not give our voter list to President Trump.

In spite of me voting for him, he is obviously obsessed with Russia, and giving the commission the list will just centralize everything in one location for Putin to take at his pleasurer. We are now down to "humoring" the president, who is obviously not well and giving the election commission (which you are member,) this file is just furthering this effort. He continuously demonstrates that he has the emotional stability of a seven-year old who did not win a prize at a birthday party. The most recent episodes of him fighting on the ground with another man (supposedly CNN) – albeit several years ago - and constant insults to anyone who disagrees with him, says it all. Do the names, Carly Fiorina (her "face"), "Crooked Hillary", "Low IQ Mica", "Little Marco", and "Lying Ted", mean anything? And the list goes on and on.

29 states have already said "no" to his request. That represents better than 70% of all voters in the country.

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,

I think your decision to turn over New Hampshire's voting records to Donald Trump's election commission is bad for the citizens of New Hampshire and I am opposed to it.

The potential for identity theft will rise dramatically with the creation of a national data base like the one the election commission proposes. As citizens of the United States, we in New Hampshire have a right to privacy and I have no faith in the Trump administration's ability to protect it.

I also have to say that this feels like an act of intimidation by the Trump administration. Can you guarantee that the information you are providing won't be used against registered Democrats like me in the next election? I don't think you can. I have just moved to New Hampshire and I'm already worried about registering to vote here.

Secretary of State Gardner,

As residents and long time New Hampshire voters, we are requesting in the strongest possible terms that you DO NOT send our personal information requested by the Trump administration to investigate "voter fraud."

This request is not only incredibly ridiculous, but, as you may know, this information will be manipulated to aid Trump and Chris Kobach in attempting to suppress voting in New Hampshire.

I was saddened and surprised to read that you are actually buying in to this narcissistic, insecure and inept person who is singlehandedly ruining our country.

Please join the other 27 states who have adamantly refused to comply with this most inappropriate and ridiculous request.

Thank you for your service to our state and your consideration to our request.

Respectfully,

Mr. Gardner,

Please do not submit our records to the Election Integrity Commission. Some of what they are asking for is not public information and I do not want them to have it. They want to suppress voters rights and that is illegal.

Dear Secretary Gardner,
I do not understand or support your position on turning over NH voter data, for various reasons. Do not be a rubber stamp on this, you are better than this.
There is no crisis, you know that. Do not sully your good record with this craven effort to attack the very essence of our democracy, our vote.
Turning this info over assaults and insults the state slogan of Live Free or Die.
I have been a registered voter in NH since fall 2003 in Troy, NH.
Both Republican and Democratic Governors are refusing to do this. Why is NH so accommodating, bordering on obsequious ?? Even Kobach is not turning over all Kansas info and his conduct generally has not been viewed favorably in various courtrooms.
Please consider this in terms of RSA 654:31, Sections II, III, IV and RSA 654:45.
Be a leader here not a rubber stamper.

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,
I am a resident of Peterborough in the State of New Hampshire. I have written to the governor to share my concerns about your recent decision to release some voter information to the committee headed by Kris Kobach.

We live in a state that believes that it is the right of a citizen to vote. We also strongly feel that voter information should be safeguarded. I do not want my personal data made available as public information. I strongly feel that voters should not be removed from the voter rolls if they fail to exercise their right to vote as has happened in Ohio and other states.

Please reconsider your decision and take a stand to protect every American citizen's right to vote.

Dear Secretary Gardner,
I am totally distressed to hear that you might send the NH voter information into the national data base currently being solicited. I really do not think that this will ultimately be helpful, and even though it is public information, I think that it makes party affiliation and voting records much more public by doing this. Living in the small town of Gilmanon, I know how seriously all the town officials connected with elections take their duties. It seems to me that the chances that this data will yield any significant information regarding fraud are so slim, that it does not warrant contributing to what ultimately could become some sort of list to target all those who affiliate in a certain way.
Please reconsider your decision and keep our information in New Hampshire.

Sincerely,

What kind of "fraud" will the voting fraud commission find? You should protest their creation of a massive national database - which I understand may be against federal law - before the commission even checks to see whether they can get enough data to do even the first match (age and name) -- and whether that would land them with so many false positives they'd be pursuing this inquiry for 100 years. Read on..

1) WhitePages lists 124 Susan Smiths in NH and 1091 in CA. Susan was the most common female baby name in 1946. Does that mean that every voting Susan Smith in NH voted maybe 15 times there and 100 in CA? Now try Jose Hernandez..

1a) What algorithm are you going to use, where you have last-4 SSNs? Experian once equated me with another Susan, different last name, address history, work history but 1 digit off between our SSNs. Algorithm said maybe the data puncher made a digit mistake, and women change their last names. Don't you dare stretch the algorithm!

2) Jerrod Ploot votes in Smalltown, moves to Smallburg, where he registers to vote, votes, and moves a year later to Tinytown, re-registers and votes the next year. It doesn't even occur to him his small towns haven't updated the voter list, he's only voted once each time. His state hasn't got a foolproof system in place to get towns to fix the lists every election. I haven't heard that NH has solved the problem, with all our tiny towns. Are you going to use Ploot's name on the three voter rolls to claim he voted three times in the same election?

Stop the commission from wasting public money! If they have to pursue a claim with no existing evidence just because a person in power wants to believe in it, make sure the commission only uses actual votes. Then they will waste a lot more of our money following up every single Susan Smith or Jose Hernandez of the same age find out if they're the same person. NH should know how much time this takes, since even following up the NH voters who register same-day and then move/die soon after voting takes you so long we had to increase the budget at the AG's and SoS.

The commission should find out first what the states can offer, and then figure out if they can use the data meaningfully, without implicit bias, before demanding compliance. This smells of 1984. And of quagmire and waste.

Dear Mr. Gardner,

I'm writing to ask you to oppose sending sensitive voter information to the Trump Administration's Election Integrity Commission. This data should reside within the state -- a centralized voter roll run by the federal government and an Administration who continues to feed out false information regarding fraud at the polls is a recipe for disaster and nationwide intimidation. As Americans and Granite Staters, our right to vote is a sacred and trusted responsibility. As an elected official, I ask that you consider the harm this will do not just to New Hampshire, but to the country. I ask that you tell the White House and Secretary Kobach no.

Although I understand that New Hampshire has been a target of Trump supporter claims of voter fraud, I am deeply concerned about the reporting of data about NH voters to the new commission established by the president to investigate illegal voting. My concerns are these:

1. There is NO evidence of widespread voter fraud so this commission and its investigation are unfounded and a waste of tax payer money.
2. Per the letter sent to Secretaries of state across the country, the data reported to the federal commission will be publicly available. Although it is currently available within NH, the new database established by the commission will be the first national database of registered voters, their personal information, and party affiliation. The feds do not need these data for any practical purposes as they do not run elections.
3. The president and his administration will not protect the data reported to the commission. The president has failed to accept that there was widespread tampering with election-related data and has taken no stand or measures to protect data for future elections. There is no reason to believe the data reported to the commission will be protected from hacking. We are far safer keeping these data at the state level and not creating one large federal database that houses every citizens' information.

I understand that you, Secretary of State Gardner, are on the commission. Even the vice chair is not reporting all of the data requested for Kansas so I do not see why NH my comply. PLEASE work with the Governor and oppose the reporting of these data.

Thank you.

As a citizen and a registered voter, I do not consent to my personal information being released to a man who has a record of illegally suppressing voters to be entered into a national database. Secretary William Gardner,

I am a long-time NH resident. I grew up here believing I lived in a progressive state that would always fight to "Live Free or Die." I am honestly shocked and - more so - appalled to learn that neither you nor Governor Sununu have publically denied trump's thinly-veiled attempt to collect National voter data (in order to use it for future Nationwide voter suppression) through a "Voter Fraud Commission."

Not only that, but you have JOINED this farce. As a Democrat, I could not be more angry and utterly disappointed with your choices. I'm willing to take you at your word that you joined because you have an honest apprehension that voter fraud exists. I am sure you have seen examples throughout your career, but we ALL know 3 million illegal voters (coincidentally the same number of votes Hillary won the popular vote with) don't exist and we BOTH know there were no "busses from MA carrying illegal voters to NH."

You are not a stupid man. Despite your reasoning, being a part of this disgusting Commission beside the likes of Kris Kobach, who has spent years trying to suppress minority voters through things like "Cross-Check" (which is an entirely separate issue I have with your leadership), is the WRONG thing to be doing. Especially as a Democrat.

I want you and Governor Sununu to both PUBLICALLY deny the release of MY private data as well as every other New Hampshire resident's data. The GOP have already been grossly negligent with voter data left unsecured on a website for anyone in ANY COUNTRY to take. HOW can you look your constituents in the eye and tell them, "too bad, you have no right to decide what happens to your private data or how safe it is?"

Well, Sec Gardner, I certainly do not agree. And if you do release my private data without my permission I will seek legal action. I will also be calling, donating, canvassing, volunteering, and voting for your Democrat Opponents until you are removed from your position.

I would love a chance to speak with you and listen to your justification for putting my data and MANY people's Constitutional right to vote at risk. I sincerely would like to have a cordial discussion about this because I have many ideas of how this Commission can seek to secure our votes/elections without essentially stealing private data from citizens. Because you and Governor Sununu will be the ones to answer for this come election day, and I am only one of MANY who are upset, disappointed, and ready to take action against this.

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,

I understand that you are a member of the "Electoral Integrity Commission" and that it is therefore awkward for you to do as Vice-Chair Kobach did and not submit the individual voter data that are requested by the commission for the State of New Hampshire.

Nevertheless, as a political scientist who is an expert on elections and voting and more importantly, as a New Hampshire voter, I ask you to reconsider your decision, announced in today's Concord Monitor very carefully before you submit the requested data.

I urge you to read the analysis and discussion by Professor Charles Stewart of MIT, who is one of the country's leading experts on elections and election management: <https://electionupdates.caltech.edu/2017/06/29/first-thoughts-about-the-pence-commission-voting-list-request/> .

It is clear that careful and nonbiased research has shown that the amount of election fraud in the sense of people voting who should not vote is negligible. (In contrast, a lot of research shows that we have an increasing problem across the country of people who are denied their vote. But I understand your commission is only studying the former and not the latter.)

It is also clear that "handing over the public data" is not as simple a matter as the Commission's communications about it suggest, especially handing over data that are in shape to be analyzed, that are equivalent to the other data being submitted, etc.

It is also clear that this will be a very expensive enterprise, hardly worth it given that we already know that there is little voter fraud of the sort your commission is charged with studying.

Like other political scientists who study elections, I strongly believe that high quality research on voting and elections is very important. But this is not the right approach.

I am shocked that in the "Live Free or Die" state our Secretary of State is showing a willingness to hand over individual-level voter data that then could be used who knows how, and released to who knows whom. This is a matter of protecting our democracy.

The most recent reports say the following states are saying no: AZ CA CT IN KY MA, MN, MS, MT, NC, NM, ND, NV, NY, OH, OK, OR PA RI SD TN TX UT VA VT WA WI. Many of these are solid red states that voted for the President and would do so again. Please join them. If you asked the citizens of New Hampshire, if they were aware of what you are about to do, would they agree? What would they say?

Thank you for your consideration.

Bill Gardner,
It is imperative that you not share New Hampshire voter information with the federal government. The current administration has proven themselves to be sexist, racist, xenophobic and entirely corrupt over and over again. Your participation in their quest to undermine American democracy is proof of your own shameless desire for power and your distaste for the citizens of this state.

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,

I am troubled by news articles I have read regarding the collection of voter-roll data by the Trump administration committee on voter fraud. I hope that you will decline, as have other States' Secretaries of State, to provide voter information (birthdate, address, voting history and last four digits of my social security number) to the Administration without further explanation as to the specific intentions of the committee.

While I recognize that this information is publicly available, facilitating what will undoubtedly be attempts to intimidate, purge, and suppress voting throughout the country sends a chilling message to New Hampshire voters. Regarding the work of the committee itself, individual and rare instances of voter fraud do not threaten our election systems. As Secretary of State, you have indicated time and again that the voting system in our State is not threatened by voter fraud or abuse. Meanwhile, the Executive Branch and Pres. Trump continue to downplay and even outright deny the real and continued threat on our elections posed by hackers representing hostile actors from Russia and elsewhere. We need to spend our time and resources hardening our election infrastructure to ensure continued integrity, as has been urged by various representatives of our intelligence community.

I urge you to safeguard New Hampshire voters' information and decline to provide voter rolls in bulk. To the extent that sensitive voter information is shared, please do so only over secure internet channels in order to prevent hackers or others political entities from gaining easy access to this valuable and sensitive information.

I will be following this issue closely in the coming months, and thank you for your excellent and long-standing service to the voters of New Hampshire.

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,
Please decline the request to provide the New Hampshire voter information to the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. I don't want my information made public. I believe most voters in New Hampshire would agree that this not in keeping with the New Hampshire tradition of independence, privacy and freedom. As far as I understand, this is not a legal request as far as New Hampshire is concerned.

Protection of our personal information against abuses by others who wish us harm or wish to use it to advance their own platforms is paramount

Secretary Gardner,

I was very disappointed to hear that you plan to turn over New Hampshire voter records to the Trump administration's ironically named "Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity". It is perfectly clear that the goal of this commission is to suppress votes, judging by the request for party affiliation and history of people working on the commission. Your and the governor's submission to this request implicates both of you in an attempt to subvert democracy and the autonomy of this great state. I can only hope that you will see the implications of this request for what they are and reconsider. I realize that your defense will be that these records are public and can be obtained for a fee, but why assist such a sinister cause?

Dear Secretary of State Gardner:

No, sir, Absolutely not! As a registered voter in the state of New Hampshire, I do NOT give you permission to release my voter records to anyone for any purpose, much less the likelihood of Russian access or the purpose of possible voter suppression. You must retract this agreement immediately!

This is personal data over which each individual voter must have control. In a time when our president is under investigation for possible obstruction of justice. You may have (and I don't know this) a legal right to release our voter records, but you do not have a moral right to do so. In fact, your responsibility is to the people of New Hampshire, not to the whims of an unpredictable president of the United States. This is a clear violation of voter rights to freedom of speech.

You have made a very bad decision, and the people of NH will take this to court, if necessary, to stop you from fulfilling it.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

As a resident of NH and a political scientist, I am writing to express my strong opposition to providing New Hampshire voter rolls to the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity.

Several non-partisan studies have shown that voter fraud is not a widespread practice in NH or even nationwide. There is no valid reason for the Commission to request this information and, therefore, no valid reason to give the Commission NH's voter rolls.

Please protect NH citizens' privacy and refuse to turn over the state's voter roles. In addition, please resign from the Commission in protest.

Thank you for your attention to this important matter.

Secretary Gardner,

I do not believe New Hampshire should participate in Trump's voter commission led by Mr. Kobach, who has a record of leading voter suppression in the United States. I don't trust Trump or his choice to lead this commission. I know you have been appointed to this commission and may be encouraged to follow the lead of the Republicans in Congress who do not have the courage to speak up for Americans. However, as the investigation into Russia meddling with our election and Trump associates collusion, and possibly Trump colluding with the Russians, I urge you to follow what is best for citizens in New Hampshire. As a youngster my parents taught me to think for myself, I hope you will do the same.

I have worked in multiple election campaigns, including the most recent election, and the most coveted item is the voters' freedom of choice using a private ballot. Trust me, voters want privacy and do not want Trump's commission of trouble makers having access to their personal information.

It is my opinion that Trump will not be in office long term, and anyone who drinks The Trump Koolaid will be committing political suicide for not thinking of Americans and using their better judgment in the process. It is outrageous that Russia meddled with our election, Mitch McConnell kept it from Americans, and now Trump wants to muck up the voter registration system. I am absolutely appalled!

Dear Secretary Gardner,

We are very concerned about New Hampshire allowing voter information to be passed to the federal voter investigation commission. Our concerns center around issues of security, privacy and potential voter suppression.

We hear your explanation that the findings will put to rest any future action. We respectfully and strongly disagree. In our current political climate, factual information seems to be open to debate and denial.

You have a long and respected role our New Hampshire government, based on bi-partisan appreciation of your balanced approach. There is no evidence that voter fraud was a factor in our 2016 election. We urge you to reconsider your decision and not share this voter information. The integrity and judgment of each state should be respected.

I am a lifelong NH resident, and am asking you NOT to cooperate with the REDICULOUS request from the White House for voter registration (or any other voter related) information.

The fact that the WH is alleging that "...voters were bussed from MA...." is enough to show that they are not willing to accept the truth (see-Alternate Facts), no matter what information is provided. Additionally-non NH residents seem to have absolutely NO IDEA what actual NH residents would do if "busloads" from MA appeared to be voting in our state-is a compounding issue contributing to the lunacy propagated at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. Let's not add to the madness-shall we?

Honorable William M. Gardner,
New Hampshire Secretary of State:

As a registered Republican in Strafford, Strafford County, New Hampshire - I write to ask you not provide the federal government with New Hampshire voter information.

If publicly available, the federal government can find it. I trust our state, its institutions, you, and the New Hampshire voting process - especially given there is no explicit voter fraud in our state - we have to provide identification to vote!

This is a vast overreach of the federal government.

Voting is sacrosanct to the states.

This is not a federal government matter.

The federal government should be concerned with Russian meddling in our voting processes - not collecting data on honest New Hampshire residents.

We know this is not the case. You are doing a disservice to all the good people who work 14-16 hour shifts on election days, and those who vote by even being a party to this joke of a waste of taxpayer dollars.

You have lost all credibility of you move forward with this. I must say, all the press has made you a laughing stock, and to end your career looking like a jackass would be unfortunate.

Dear Secretary Gardner and Staff: I've long admired and appreciated the excellent job the AG's office conducts in safeguarding the integrity and sanctity of our state's voting process. I truly believe that New Hampshire stands as an example to the other 49 states about how "to do things right!"

So, it is with great disappointment and dissatisfaction to learn that you'd even think of turning over our state's election records to the Trump administration, especially during these very turbulent times:

On the one hand, multiple security agencies have CONFIRMED that Russia meddled in the 2016 election; I have to believe these operatives are still present – why add fuel to the fire, and give them even more data to consume and possibly manipulate?

Secondly, there is the issue of Trump himself, and his Cabinet and staffers who must KNOW the man is unhinged. Despite their discomfort and grimaces, they choose to ignore his moronic tweets and threats in the interest of job preservation. These idiots simply cannot be trusted with such private and privileged information.

Please be assured this is not politically motivated; as you'll see I am a registered Republican. But, I cannot remain silent while your proven and highly dignified office yields to the wishes of a lunatic. Please don't do it; reconsider your decision to provide our records.

Thank you for your consideration.

As an Exeter resident, I am disgusted and appalled out Secretary of State lacks the backbone to stand up to the federal request for voter information. This is not morally defensible, nor it is driven by conservative idealism. It is wrong by any standard.

Forget that for the first time in this nation's history we have an Administration under investigation for colluding with a foreign adversary- an adversary 17 intelligence agencies, along with multiple foreign intelligence agencies- say hacked at least 22 states election agencies looking to get voter information, and more.

You can even forget that New Hampshire voted for Hillary Clinton and all the nominees hat stood standing against her opponent- with the single exception of the now-NH Governor. Do you really think anyone in office aligning themselves with this Administration- given approval ratings- will ever work in politics again? They won't.

This isn't the Bible Belt. NH residents understand and appreciate their civil liberties. We proudly defend or state motto far, wide, and forever.

You are on the wrong side of history if you sell out NH voter information. And you will never live it down, should you actually comply.

Donald Trump specifically singled out New Hampshire after the election, claiming "busses" of non-residents were hauling across the border to vote illegally. If you actually believe that conspiracy, what does it say about how you feel about our election officials, law enforcement, and local elected leaders? Are they really so grossly incompetent, and are you not to be included in this shameful estimation?

I, like so many, have voted both sides of the political aisle. This is not Republican vs. Democrat to me. This issue is bipartisan, in an age where there are few issues we can agree on. That is why so many states have chosen the path to not comply with this federal request. You have shamed the great state of New Hampshire by not standing with these other states- from Mississippi to California. And you have sold us out.

We will not forget.

Dear Mr. Gardner,

You have always stood up for the fairness and accuracy of New Hampshire's elections. Therefore, I am very surprised and dismayed by the recent decision of your office and the governor to send voter records going back six years to the federal government.

I view this as an invasion of my right to privacy as a voter. We do not need a federal database of all the voters in the country provided free to whoever might want to manipulate it. In addition to violating my privacy, the creation of a national database opens up the opportunities for potential identity theft, especially when the last four digits of our Social Security numbers will be provided. It also puts another unfunded burden on town governments in terms of employee time.

I am going on the record to say that I do not give my permission for my voter records to be handed over to the federal government and its election commission.

Our form of elections works. Further, a decentralized system is one of the best safeguards against cyber intrusions. Please uphold the right to a secret ballot and individual privacy by not contributing to a national database of voters. I ask that the great state of New Hampshire join the many other states refusing to participating this noxious attempt to collect data on eligible voters.

Very truly yours,

Dear Secretary of State,

I am writing to express my opposition to providing NH Voter Information to the President's Election Panel. First, the voter information being requested contains personal information that should not be provided to the Federal Government as this is a State matter. Second, we do not know how this information will be secured to prevent hacking of this valuable information. Third, we do not know how this information is going to be used, it could be used for voter intimidation efforts. Fourth, given the ongoing investigations in the President and his election campaign staff and the Russian Government, it seems very dangerous to provide this valuable information to the Election Panel. In addition, having all this information in a centralized depository for hackers to target seems completely foolish to allow.

As our long-time head of New Hampshire's voter system, I have always admired your fairness and non-partisanship when it came to keeping our elections fair and honest. Thus, I was shocked that you are now serving on the illegal "commission" trumped up by Republicans to try to prove something that is not provable, that NH has been the site of massive voter fraud. You and everyone knows this is not true and I'm disappointed that you, a man of great integrity, would bow to this scheme the president has thought up. Giving the federal government access to this level of private information—against the will of most voters—is a travesty that you are responsible for which will anger many, many voters and besmirch your reputation. Please resign from your position on this, encourage Governor Sununu to drop his support for this initiative and do the right thing for New Hampshire residents and voters. Thank you.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

Please do not comply with the request to give “publicly-available voter roll data including, if publicly available under the laws of your state, the full first and last names of all registrants, middle names or initials if available, addresses, dates of birth, political party (if recorded in your state), last four digits of social security number if available, [and] voter history from 2006 onward.” This is private information, especially on SS#, and how one voted in elections.

I tried emailing Gov. Sununu - to no avail. You are Secretary of State - you are the one who will grant this information. Please do not give this information out to the Federal Government. I think our state motto is 'Live Free or Die'. I wonder what that actually means.

Dear Sec. of State Gardner,

I am alarmed by Trump's commission to investigate his claims of voter fraud in the 2016 election and his request that states turn over personal information about everyone who has voted since 2006, names, addresses, birth dates, political party, criminal history, and the last four digits of their Social Security numbers. This is outrageous. I do not want my information shared with this commission!

I believe Americans prefer the right to privacy, and the individual states have the responsibility and obligation to uphold that privacy.

I read that this request sent this week by Commission Vice Chairman and Kansas Secretary of State Kris Kobach, who's own state will not comply sends a bizarre message to all citizens. If this information is public - let them look it up. I fail to see how this commission provides a picture of legitimacy to bolster public trust. The following words are yours - " a voter system that the public has confidence in, is a voting system that garners high turnout."

A voting system that puts the voter first, such as automatic registration, mail in registration and voting and same day registration garner high turnout. This state has just made it more difficult to register! All in the false name of voter fraud.

Hopefully this issue causes silent people to speak out. I intend to.

Thank you

Hi,

I am very alarmed about my personal information being sent to this committee. I consider doing so a violation of my privacy, although I am not sure if it would actually be illegal, as well as a waste of both state and federal time and money.

I saw that some states are refusing to send their citizens' information to the committee. So far I've only seen democrats responding in this manner, but I would hope that concern about the inappropriateness of this request would not be limited to any particular party.

I would like to know if NH is going to send my information. There is no need to respond to me personally, and I really don't expect you to do so. I will be monitoring the news for information about what all states where I've lived are going to do about this, and what action I can take if it is done.

Honorable Secretary Gardner,

I'm writing to request that you not comply with Kris Kobach's request to submit voter information from the state of New Hampshire. Kobach has a long history of suppressing votes in Kansas, and it appears he wishes to use state by state information to do the same on a national level. However you may feel about the possibility of voter fraud, I hope you will agree with me that there is no justification for the level of data Kobach is requesting. I'm sure you've seen his demands. And I hope that you've also seen that several Secretaries of States have already decided not to comply, on the basis that this request does little to actually safeguard future elections, but is rather an intimidation tactic that can only be used for ill. Not to mention, much of this is sensitive information, none of which I would particularly like this administration to have, given their inability to keep even classified information a secret. I am deeply disturbed at the prospect of this administration further disenfranchising voters in this state and others, and I dearly hope that your department will give serious consideration to this request before complying. I do not feel it is in the interest of the state of New Hampshire, or the nation as a whole.

It has become clear that President Trump is using this commission as a boost to his ego so that he can claim that he actually won the popular vote in the election. As many as 40 states are refusing to supply voter information to the Commission because of privacy concerns. And now, the head of the Commission, Kris Kobach, is being investigated for using the information in his own campaign. Kobach was responsible for purging thousands of legitimate voters from the rolls in Kansas.

This Commission is intended to reduce voter participation, and the state of New Hampshire should have no part in it!

Mr. Secretary,

It's shocking to me that as a representative of New Hampshire, the "Live Free or Die" state, a bulwark of independence and opposition to government overreach, you would agree to turn our state's residents' voting records over to a federal commission. I understand that you're a member of the commission, and as such have a bias toward believing the work of it must be good, but I'd hoped you'd be a voice for rationality and the free exercise of our Constitutional rights not only to vote, but to have our voting records at least remain within our precincts. We don't know who in the federal government will have access to these records or for how long; how they will be used; how you will ensure they won't be used for political purposes. In fact, there is no reason to believe they won't.

For these reasons, not to mention the overriding reason that the whole question of voter fraud is a political smoke screen, I urge you in the strongest possible terms to reverse your decision to hand New Hampshire's voter records over to the federal government.

Sincerely,

Dear Secretary-for-the-Ages,

Since we first met at least 45 years ago, I have been a quiet but loyal admirer and supporter of your work, first as a legislator and then as our esteemed Secretary of State. This last December at the meeting of the Electoral College I referred to you as Secretary-for-the-Ages – and I meant it!

I am writing now to ask you, Mr. Secretary-for-the-Ages, to please NOT succumb to the Trump administration's request to send New Hampshire's public voter information to the recently formed Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. Do not embarrass New Hampshire or your office or yourself by capitulating to this latest and blatant threat to suppress voting by intimidation. When people register to vote they take a leap of faith – faith that the information they disclose will not be widely disseminated but kept close to home. I know that name, domicile, mailing address and party affiliation are all public info and I believe that if the Commission wants that information it should gather it on its own and with its own dime. Under no circumstances should any other information such as social security numbers or birth dates, be shared or revealed. With the stunning possibility that Russia is meddling in our elections, we must vigilantly guard our privacy.

Please, Billy, let New Hampshire stand tall and vote against this intrusion.

With best regards,

Dear Mr. Gardner,

I applaud your efforts to clean up NH voting. As a lifelong NH resident, USAF Veteran, and someone who loves our voting privileges, I ask this simple question.

Why can't the voting laws be updated to be very simple.

1. You need a NH drivers license, or identification card to vote, to prove you are a resident of this state.
2. College students who are NOT NH residents must vote by absentee ballot in the state they call home.

That should take care of it. Why is this so hard?

Thank you for your efforts Bill!

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I write to ask you NOT to provide the Advisory Commission on Election Integrity information from our voter lists.

Yes, I know that you sit on the Commission.

But I also know that at the insistence of our legislature your office has conducted investigations into potential voter fraud in our state. I know the results of those investigations having read them online.

NO VOTER FRAUD FOUND.

I implore you as my and this state's representative do NOT participate in this sideshow, this diversion from what ought to be taking place – making it easier to citizens to vote.

Many steps could be taken. They are well known.

Weekend voting, remove identification blocks to registration, identification on election day (the investigations conducted by your office specifically addressed that and found less than a dozen or so cases where the registered letter sent to confirm voter addresses were returned 'Addressee Unknown' requiring a further investigative step - an state employee to go to the address which resulted in either finding out that the person indeed resided at the address or that the person had in the interim moved away. Instances of persons not found to be at the address given to the election official? Count them with the fingers on one hand.

Those silly, unfounded, requests for those investigations cost us money. Yet the Republicans have continued their hue and cry of voter fraud.

For what purpose? To find fraud? NO! They know there is none. It has been shown in several election investigations in NH that there is NO VOTER FRAUD in NH.

Why this partisan Republican pose of heartfelt concern for the integrity of our national election.

To what purpose?

It is to lay the ground work to suppress voting.

Let me repeat – IT IS TO LAY THE GROUND WORK TO SUPPRESS VOTING.

Do not cooperate with such a shame. Do not provide any NH voter information!

The information that is sought is a matter of public record in any case!

The Commission is seeking to dupe State Secretaries of State into providing the information as an act that will be touted as supporting and agreeing with the idiotic contention that there is voter fraud in NH and in the USA.

There should be a commission on how to modernize our election process. To provide options so that hard working people, the young, disabled, busy voters can vote!

Let NH be the beacon to improving our election process.

If we are to retain the privilege of holding an important presidential primary then we must be worthy of it. We must show that we can get out the vote. That NH voters take this opportunity seriously.

Let us be a leader in voter reform, not an aider and abettor of voter suppression.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I strongly object to the recent release of publicly available voter information to the Trump administration's commission on elections.

While the information is public, the commission request sets a scary and untrustworthy precedent.

It is not normal or acceptable for a single commission to call for the national, centralized collection of detailed information about United States citizens. Census information is at least anonymous. This voter information is not.

The reason for this call for centralized data collection is also suspect. President Trump tweeted that widespread voter fraud occurred in the 2016 election. He said this on a whim, without proof of any kind, yet he formed a whole special commission, led by voter-suppression mastermind Kris Kobach, to consider it.

But this is baloney. Reputable research shows that it barely happens anywhere in our country. It has no power to do anything. Trump's tweet was a lie and an insult to honest and hardworking election workers nationwide.

Here is the real problem. This commission is a Voter Suppression Panel to create Presidentially-directed voter fraud to extend the power of the current regime. The unprecedented, centralized, federal collection of our detailed voting data is a means to steal our legal right to vote if we would vote against Trump or his colleagues and associates.

Secretary Gardner and Governor Sununu, you willingly shared our public information with this Voter Suppression Panel. How can we trust you to do right by us if you support a group that would steal our legal right to vote?

Furthermore, we cannot trust you if you trust voter suppression leader Kris Kobach.

Kobach has done terrible, unconscionable harm to our election systems. His deceitful Interstate Crosscheck initiative used the centralized collection of voter information to steal the legal right to vote from thousands of Americans. His work kills American fairness.

If you put your professional faith in him, we can have no faith in you.

Please do not support any further centralized collection of our detailed voter data. Please do not submit to any request from this Voter Suppression Panel. Please do better to protect and defend voting rights for us and for all Americans of all races, incomes, ages or party affiliations.

Don't let us down. Don't steal from us. Please don't sell us out.

Sincerely,

Secretary Gardner,

I am writing to express my STRENUOUS objection to providing NH's voter roles to the "Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity."

Study after study shows that voter fraud is practically nonexistent. There is no valid reason for them to ask for this data and, therefore, surely no valid reason to turn it over.

Kris Kobach's involvement undermines the legitimacy of the commission's stated goals; he has been a foe of voting rights for many years.

Protect NH's citizens' privacy and refuse to turn over the state's voter roles.

Thank you for your attention.

My wife and I expect our party affiliation, and voting history, to remain firmly in the hands of New Hampshire officials and no one else.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I have read that your office will provide individual voter information requested by the Voting Election "Integrity" Commission. Your duty to all the voters of New Hampshire an should prohibit sharing this information.

Even though some of this information is public record, it should not be compiled in one place and handed over a commission which is obviously not about voter integrity, but is about use by one political party to obtain detailed voter information for future elections and could also be used to suppress voting of some groups.

I don't know anyone, Republican or Democrat, who agrees that their information should be shared.

Thank you.

Governor Sununu and New Hampshire Secretary of State Gardner:
The idea that our state would hand over individuals' voter information to the White House is ludicrous. President Trump is a completely corrupt and discredited leader. He has made numerous attempts to limit free participation in our democratic society, including limitations on the Free Press, false accusations of voter impropriety, and other things, many of which he had to retract because they are not based in fact. The idea that our state would willingly hand over voter information is beyond terrifying. President Trump and the Republican administration have all but said that they want to keep people from going to the polls. That combined with the fact that there is evidence that a foreign government, Russia, which happens to be an authoritarian state deeply opposed to democratic civic participation, intervened in our recent elections should give you great pause. I urge you with the upmost of conviction not to cooperate with Trump's attempt to manipulate the polls, in particular to refuse to hand over the personal and private voter information of our state's electorate. To comply with this outrageous request from the White House is not only wrong, but it goes against the deeply held beliefs of Granite staters, that is, freedom and active democratic and civic participation.

I am glad you stated you would not send non-public portions of the requested data but I fear that the centralization of any of the voting data which includes which primary people voted in hands a lot of power to a proven vindictive and data savvy group. We should not make it easy for them to identify the opponents of their policies and collate that electronically with other data. The potential for abuse is huge and the effect will be voter suppression equal to any despotic country in the world..

Dear Secretary Gardner,

The request from The Election Integrity Commission for voter information, including an individual's party affiliation and voting records, is an infringement on voter privacy rights and is totally uncalled for. It is just an attempt by the current White House administration to intimidate voters and suppress their participation in voting.

The State of New Hampshire must refuse to provide voter files beyond what is allowed to be made public by state law. Any information regarding party affiliation or voting history must be deleted.

Both you and Governor Sununu have publicly stated that there is no evidence of voter fraud in NH. This is New Hampshire--the "Live Free or Die" state! Why are you and Governor Sununu allowing our state to be dictated to and bullied by this White House administration? Do your job and stand up for the voters of New Hampshire. Do not comply with this outlandish request.

Keeping in the spirit of the Fourth of July holiday, I would expect New Hampshire to protect its citizens from this over-reach for protected personal information. You are going to CAUSE fraud.

You are increasing the Strength of Gov Chris Sununu, a loser, that has never done a thing but poke his head out for a photo op! He's is a Trump Stooge. And at your next election bid...you can guarantee we will tie you as a Trump supporter.

NH is not Texas. We are not West Virginia. We are not Ohio or Florida...and for crying out loud other Red states have stood up against this infringement on our voting rights!

You may try to say that SS#'s won't be released...ok and when they do, because I don't trust Trump one fucking bit, You will be charged with multiple counts of Fraud.

So be ready, Democrat that likes to sit in the pocket of Trump. He destroys anything close to him. I already consider you to be an absolute fool for doing this, as I've stated.

You must have missed the last year and a half or so...under a rock perhaps? Or is that your thick skull. I don't know what else to say but insult you intellect, because this is pure foolishness. Let Sununu look like the dumb idiot destroying our rights. He already does.

Hello Mr. Dunlap and Mr. Gardner:

The Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity “is a waste of taxpayer money and a distraction from the real threats to the integrity of our elections today: aging voting systems and documented Russian interference in our elections,” say California’s Secretary of State Alex Padilla. However, the Trump administration is touting the bipartisan nature of this commission in order to lend it legitimacy. At worst it has the potential to violate the privacy of millions of Americans and serve as a vehicle for massive voter suppression campaign. As a democrat you should not participate in the fraud of the American people. Please resign immediately.

As a very concerned citizen living under the current Trump administration, I am appalled every day at things beyond my control.

While I am not a New Hampshire resident, your participation with Trump's voter fraud group is a concern to Americans all over the country.

The whole thing is a sham aimed at keeping certain people from voting.

The US Supreme Court dealt another voter rights slap in the face to Latinos by allowing Texas' discriminatory gerrymandering to remain in place for the 2018 election cycle.

I write in hopes you will reconsider sending the complete NH voter registration files to this Advisory Committee you serve on.

We know that hackers attempted to access voter registration rolls, and in some cases, voting machine files in more than 21 states last summer and fall. Those hacking attempts represent a REAL threat to our election integrity.

Have you and your fellow committee members considered how having one giant file of ALL voter registrations makes the hacker task all the simpler? The potential for security breach is massive.

There has been ZERO credible evidence advanced demonstrating wide spread voter fraud, in contrast to real evidence of attacks on our voting systems.

Please, I urge you and your fellow committee members to focus your attention to keeping our elections safe from outside attacks, and less time on thinly veiled efforts to suppress the vote.

Take a stand for New Hampshire values.

Dear Elections Division

As I understand it from a recent Washington Post article, the Election Integrity Commission has requested voter history information from all states. The information is then going to be made available to the public.

I share the civil liberties and privacy concerns voiced in the article.

- "Why does a random member of the public . . . need to know when you last voted and what your political party is?"
- Access to this data in the wrong hands could always leave the opportunity for mischief.
- States are "stewards of [this] public information/ Once it leaves their hands in this way, there's no telling whose going to get it, and how, and what they're using it for."

As I understand it, secretaries of state in other state plan to challenge this request. I ask the elections division of our state follow the same course.

Kind regards

The Election Integrity Commission is a dangerous sham created by a man who can't accept the fact that he lost the popular vote by millions of votes. The lies being spread by Mr. Kobach, Lott, and other fringe extremists whose assertions have already been debunked amplify Vladimir Putin's talking points that our elections are rigged. The real story is Russia's interference and the disenfranchisement of legal voters through voter suppression, gerrymandering, CrossCheck, etc. We should want more Americans to vote, not fewer. This commission is a shameless pretext to justify GOP voter suppression. Your presence and lukewarm defense of the integrity of the vote in your own state give this commission and these damaging conspiracy theories and lies legitimacy they don't deserve! If Democrats are going to serve on this commission, the least you can do is defend and protect the truth and push back against these lies aggressively.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I would like to know the status of the request for voter information by the President's Commission on Voter Integrity. I find this unsettling as I truly believe that insuring election integrity is an issue for state government not the federal government. I think this is part of the spirit of the Electoral College. If we elected a President by popular vote perhaps I would feel differently.

I would also like to assure you there were no "buses from Massachusetts" filled with illegal voters voting in Hampton November 2016. I also have talked to friends who voted in other New Hampshire towns and they too did not experience busloads of Massachusetts voters as reported by pundits on cable news.

I personally believe that there were NOT 3 million illegal votes in the November 2016 election. I do believe that our election integrity was attacked by Russia. I would like to know if New Hampshire was one of the states infiltrated. I think the people have a right to know. I also would like to know what the state has implemented to safeguard our elections. Where can I find this information?

Dear Mr. Gardner,

The commission you are serving on is a waste of taxpayer dollars and is simply set up to suppress not improve voting access. Much of the information requested by the commission is non-public in many states and why should we give non-public information to a commission that offers no information on how it will be secured, used, kept from use in personal fraud, voter suppression etc and maintained by the POTUS administration that blurts top secret information to Russians. The commission will simply be a political tool on the taxpayers tab to use information to suppress voting for Trump/Republican political gain at taxpayer expense and not look into real world issues in voting such as Russian attempts at hacking.

I've contacted my Minnesota political and appointed representatives and asked them to withhold information except for already available public information. There is no trust in this administration's ability to function except in their own warped interest as on going disasters are documented daily.

New Hampshire takes its elections seriously. We are proud of our role as "first in the nation," and claims from Mr. Trump that ballots were improperly cast ARE UNTRUE. Finally, you put NH's first primary at risk from the national outrage that you have engendered.

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I am writing because I understand there is an executive order requiring states to turn over voter records to the Presidential elections commission. This concerns me a great deal, as it seems like a tremendous overreach of federal power, and there would be a great deal of room to misuse the information contained in these records. The order doesn't make it clear what this information would be used for, who would have access to it, or how it would be stored. Because of this, urge you strongly not to comply with this demand until and unless the legality of it can be determined and all the potential concerns can be sorted through.

Hello,

I believe it is violation of my right to privacy for you to release my voter information and other information to the federal government.

There is no large amount of voter fraud in the US. This is all about the ego of this president because he lost the popular vote. It is also about voter suppression.

This is also a huge security risk as we have seen that the Russians can get any information they want.

Regards,

Mr. Gardner,

I was deeply disturbed to see New Hampshire was not among the 22 states not complying with Trump's election fraud commission's request for voter data, which includes birth date and last 4-digits of social security number. The Constitution clearly states that the states are responsible for running elections, not the federal government. They have no right to create a database from this data, which we all know is the real reason for this request and it is why many red states are also refusing to comply.

The Secretary of State of KY was on MSNBC this evening and she said the request was to upload this data to a website that wasn't even secure. I'm in IT and I can tell you this, all it takes is having someone's name and date of birth to get all the info you would need to steal an identity. I used to work for a company that did security and they had someone come in and do a demo of this one day. Any data being uploaded should be to a secure site and the data itself should be encrypted with 2048-bit encryption.

And given the fact that the president may be involved with Russian hackers, it certainly raises strong concerns about putting this data into his hands or anyone associated with him. I am strongly opposed to this data being sent to the federal government. Again, I feel this is a Constitutional violation. If I am a victim of identity theft that is related to the transfer of this data, I will file a lawsuit against the state and your office.

Secretary Gardner,

I'm writing to ask that New Hampshire not comply with the request to provide voter information to the Federal Election Commission. Many states, both red and blue, around the country have replied with an emphatic no and it gives me enough pause to ask that New Hampshire joins them. I ask that you continue to fight for free and accessible elections that provide all residents of our state the ability to vote with confidence and comfort.

Thank you,

Hello:

I am a constituent from Etna, NH 03750.

I am writing to express my concern about the federal election integrity commission. Vice Chair Kobach's history of voter suppression makes recent letters requesting citizen data deeply concerning. Don't let him steal our votes. Please join with other states and refuse to comply with this invasive request.

Respectfully,

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,

I am writing to ask you not to turn over my personal information to Mr. Kobach and Vice President Pence's illegitimate voter fraud commission .

It has been widely reported that the information that has been requested will be located on a website that is not secured. This in itself is outrageous. I would think that if anything were to happen to someone's personal information, even it is only the last four digits of their social security number, it would open up the state to a host of lawsuits. In light of the fact that many of New Hampshire's citizens do not want you to release their information to the above mentioned parties, I wonder why you acquiesced so quickly without having a chance to hear from the citizens of New Hampshire. Many states are refusing to comply and are protecting the people of their state. Why aren't you?

Additionally, the so called voter fraud commission is itself a fraud. There is NO evidence, as you well know, that there is massive voter fraud in New Hampshire. By complying with this request, you are further enabling a delusional and uninformed executive branch whose only aim is to draw attention to itself and its fictional obsessions.

I am asking you not to supply any information I provided to the state regarding my voting qualifications, to the federal government. If you do so, it will be against my stated request in this email not to do so.

Dear Mr. Gardner,
I am writing to voice my objection to sharing any voter information with the Federal Voter Fraud Commission. I understand that you have agreed to do so, sharing only information that is considered public. I am very concerned of a database that will have information that, although public, may not be secure and has enough information to allow someone to capture more. As I understand this it includes name, birthdates and addresses. In a medical practice these would violate HIPAA laws.

Thank you for your consideration.

I am writing to strongly protest the planned release in digital form of our voter registration data to the Federal Commission.

First, I am petrified by any further vulnerabilities to hacking and invasion of my privacy by any outside groups that is made easier by aggregating this data that I do not believe will be safeguarded. I have a daughter whose ID was stolen as a result of the Federal Office of Personnel Management data breach. Like most people in the state, I was unaware of the number of uses of this data and I would vote immediately to put restrictions on its use.

Second, this Republican administration touts States' Rights in every issue from health care to environmental protection. It is highly appropriate to trust our Secretaries of States to certify that our elections are fair and honest.

Third, I fully believe the suspicion of voter fraud is a creation of President Trump, Kansas Secretary of State Kobach and others from states that have been working to suppress voter participation such as North Carolina (where I lived from 2008 to 2015). It was Trump who claimed there were "busloads" of Massachusetts residents entering New Hampshire to vote in November. Really?! Why was there not an immediate outcry from this office to such outlandish claims. I have no reason to believe real fact finding will have any impact on their pronouncements any more than Trump's. This administration has shown no interest in facts or scientific evidence.

Fourth, I have no way of knowing what will be done with this information once the Commission has completed its work or who will have had access to it along the way.

I believe this is another attempt at voter intimidation and suppression. I do not want our state data provided. I have had faith in Secretary Gardner as a person with decades of experience and integrity but this year has tested that faith.

Dear Secretary Gardner:

I am astounded and dismayed that the lists of voters in every state are expected to be provided to the Commission you have been asked to serve on. I hope you will not resign but will not cooperate either in this violation of NH statutes and our privacy.

I consider this just the opposite of what the Republican Party claims it supports-this is a huge federal takeover of state responsibility that makes our elections much more accessible to hacking and other violations of security.

I hope you will represent NH's traditional role in local control of our elections which I respect and prize having moved here from KY-a state with a history of vote buying and other violations.

I am very concerned with the request from the Federal government for information on voting records in past elections. I don't trust anyone in the Trump Administration. I know that the reported mistrust in our election process was invented by the current presidential administration to serve their own purposes. ( If you tell your supporters over and over that the election was rigged they are liable to believe you. )

So, for gosh sakes, don't give them our voter data. I completely mistrust what they intend to conclude from it., and I expect they will use it as a free goldmine in the next election.

They will find voters registered in two states and excitedly cry fowl. Lots of people are, but there is no evidence that they actually vote in two places.

BUT, here is an idea to improve our election process:

When I vote in my small town in the primary election, I have to choose a colored ballot and walk across the town hall with it in my hand. When there is only one legitimate candidate in my party, everybody in town knows who I am voting for. (Unless they imagine I am voting for Vermin supreme). How can that be a secret ballot? How about doing away with colored ballots, or, even better, do away with separate ballots for each party? I know you'd have to deal with people voting on both party ballots, but there must be a way other states have dealt with this. I am sure I didn't see this problem where I lived before.

Just to clarify my own situation, I personally don't mind the whole town knowing. They know it already. But others I know are intimidated.

I am hoping this email reaches Bill Gardner. I want to thank him for being willing to serve on the Commission on Election Integrity. I appreciate the fact that he is a Democrat swimming against the tide and taking criticism for his choice. So, I hope this email will serve in some small way to bolster his confidence in his decision.

I have worked on cleaning up voter rolls in the past and it is a tremendously large job that takes continuous effort and many volunteers. Why this issue has become so partisan is really amazing and sad for me. It is my feeling that any illegitimate vote dilutes my vote and is thus very unfair to all American voters. This shouldn't be a Republican or Democrat issue. This is an American issue.

So, thank you for serving! And hang in there - many of the most noble deeds are fraught with criticism until people finally understand and it becomes their own idea.

Dear Secretary Gardner: I am writing regarding the effort by the Administration in Washington to access information regarding voters in NH (and all States).

This request for information, which includes the last four digits of our Social Security numbers, birthdates, our voting frequencies, etc reminds me all too uncomfortably of the efforts of totalitarians who want to cement control over their populace, and will not serve to debunk the false allegations of voter fraud that have been perpetrated by many in this current Administration.

There are far more important issues in this country, and in NH, that need to be addressed. To produce this information would be time consuming and costly for NH, and serves no purpose other than to appear as though there was indeed voter fraud - an accusation that has been refuted time and time again.

I urge you to refuse to produce these records and instead, stand up for the people of NH in protecting our voter information from potential misuse by this Administration.

Yours truly,

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,

As a resident of New Hampshire, I have voted here since I was of age to vote, proudly casting my first ballot in 2008 when I was a student at the University of New Hampshire. I now live and work in Portsmouth.

I am alarmed by the nature of this registry and find it concerning that an administration that often panders to smaller government and states' rights, can ideologically justify such an overreaching move.

From what I have read, I feel Kobach's commission is embarking on this crusade with shady intentions and I personally do not trust them. I certainly do not want them to have any data on me. As a resident of the Live Free or Die state, I'm sure you can understand my misgivings. I wish the commission would instead focus its energy on the very real systemic problem of voter suppression, which often disenfranchises the most vulnerable Americans. Instead, they seem to ignore all the available data in pursuit of some foolhardy fantasy.

So Secretary Gardner, on this Independence Day holiday, I formally ask you to deny this request and protect the dignity and privacy of New Hampshire citizens. Today, more than ever, it is important to maintain and build constituents' trust—acquiescing to this commission is no way to do that.

Thank you,

I object to the release by the Secretary of State of my NH voter information to the White House in compliance with President Trump's recent order to all of the states . Below is my objection to such a release of information as stated in my e-mail to Governor Sununu today.

"Please be advised that I strenuously object to and deny permission for your office or its designees to release to the WhiteHouse or designee of the Whitehouse any and all information pertaining to me as a voter, including my name, address, and most especially my social security number. I, as a registered voter, resident of New Hampshire and US citizen am entitled to give "informed consent" for such a release of voter information. I/we have no information or understanding of the President's intentions regarding the requested voter information. Trump's order for this information from every state smacks of a roundup of sorts . We know of this President's paranoia about the popular vote in the presidential election and his unsubstantiated claim that the vote was "rigged", eg "voters for Hillary were transported by the busloads" to NH. We know that Governor Sununu perpetuated this falsehood and should not further compromise his integrity by willy-nilly complying with Trumps order to deliver NH voter information to the WhiteHouse. Such compliance would make him complicit in whatever may develop in the way of Trump's twisted schemes to compromise NH voters.

Again, I do not give my permission for the release of my voter information to the WhiteHouse"

Nothing in our statutes authorizes you to provide voter information to the Commission, or to whomever you choose, in your absolute discretion. RSA 654:31, IV allows the Secretary of State to provide voter information to political parties and to political committees. Dear Secretary of State Gardner,

I am troubled by news articles I have read regarding the collection of voter-roll data by the Trump administration committee on voter fraud. I hope that you will decline, as have other States' Secretaries of State, to provide voter information (birthdate, address, voting history and last four digits of my social security number) to the Administration without further explanation as to the specific intentions of the committee.

While I recognize that this information is publicly available, facilitating what will undoubtedly be attempts to intimidate, purge, and suppress voting throughout the country sends a chilling message to New Hampshire voters. Regarding the work of the committee itself, individual and rare instances of voter fraud do not threaten our election systems. As Secretary of State, you have indicated time and again that the voting system in our State is not threatened by voter fraud or abuse. Meanwhile, the Executive Branch and Pres. Trump continue to downplay and even outright deny the real and continued threat on our elections posed by hackers representing hostile actors from Russia and elsewhere. We need to spend our time and resources hardening our election infrastructure to ensure continued integrity, as has been urged by various representatives of our intelligence community.

I urge you to safeguard New Hampshire voters' information and decline to provide voter rolls in bulk. To the extent that sensitive voter information is shared, please do so only over secure internet channels in order to prevent hackers or others political entities from gaining easy access to this valuable and sensitive information.

I will be following this issue closely in the coming months, and thank you for your excellent and long-standing service to the voters of New Hampshire.

Dear Mr. Gardner:

I am urging you to not comply with the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity's request for voter information from the State of New Hampshire for three primary reasons:

1. The Commission has not defined how the data will be used. The methods to be used for analysis of the data has not been released (if, indeed, they have been formulated). Consequently, the public has not been advised on the objectives of such analysis and what criteria will be applied to analytical results.
2. Based on reports on what data various other states will release, the total data set appears inadequate to determine invalid votes. Without unique identifiers (such as SSNs, which many states are prevented by law from providing, it's impossible to determine if the Bill Gardner that voted in NH is the same Bill Gardner that voted in Massachusetts.
3. There is little basis for the existence of this commission, and without specific objectives defined, there is a great potential for this data being misinterpreted and inappropriate rules proposed.

I suspect there are numerous other reasons, but these are my top three. Please, sir, do not comply with the request.

I am not in favor of my and all voter registration and voter history in the State of New Hampshire to be released to the Federal Government. If this information is public already as has been reported, then let the commission find it . In this age of identity thief and internet scams, such a database could be a gold mine to go on to find Social Security numbers and other vital information.

As far as voter fraud in New Hampshire, if in a state of one million do you not think millions coming over the boarder would be noticed? And the malls and liquor store would certainly know it. Living in Exeter I would certainly notice if thousands/millions of people were voting in town.

As a resident, tax payer, and voter I ask you to keep my information safe and private.

Robert P. Ambrose, Senior Deputy Secretary of State
David M. Scanlan, Deputy Secretary of State

As a resident and registered voter in Bow, New Hampshire, I am writing to you to formally request that you do not give President Trump and his fake commission any information related to New Hampshire voting registration records. The president insulted our election institutions and our election officials earlier this year with his made up stories about "bus loads" of people from Massachusetts crossing the border to vote last November.

President Trump has proven time and again that that he cannot be trusted with even a thimble full of confidential information, and he seems to have no respect for the laws of our land nor the United States Constitution. I am fearful that this "commission" will use this information to suppress the rights of voters in the future, "and" misuse this confidential information for private political gain, to target individual voters and voting groups for future campaigns.

Sincerely,

Dear Sir,

On the eve of celebrating Independence Day I am distraught that the State of New Hampshire whose motto is live free or die, is intending to turn over information that I provided to the state government regarding my voting record and who knows what other information. This is a blatant disregard for the responsible citizens of this state and their sense of independence from the big brother federal government. I thought the Republican Party represented the notion that big federal government and intrusion into states affairs was not okay. The Republican party will fail to remain in power because of this decision.

Dear Sir,

Sending the NH voter data to a fraudulent committee is unwise and unsafe. There are sensible laws on the books, from what I understand, which prohibits you from doing this very senseless thing.

Please record my strongest disapproval and anger at the concept of sending our sensitive information to a witch hunting partisan Washington DC, which has repeatedly proven they are unable to keep our electronic files safe from foreign and domestic cyber attacks.

Can we please get to the bottom of Russian hacking of our electronic media, before sending megabytes of personal and private information (a treasure trove, for any hacker!) to Washington to be leaked from there?

I am a long-time resident of Rye and a NH voter. I am requesting that you do NOT release NH voter information to the fraudulent commission established by Trump and headed by Gov Kobach.

This commission was formed base on "alternative facts" and it is political in nature. It's goal is supposedly to reveal massive voter fraud as Trump claims, yet its true purpose is to suppress the vote. If you release this information about NH voters, including our PII, you risk not only suppressing votes from deserving Granite State citizens, you also give over our personal information to an administration that has proven it can't safeguard the data.

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,

As long-time voters, we ask you not to give over the state's voting records to the WH.

While we understand that you are part of the administration's "Advisory Commission on Election Integrity," President Trump's own integrity—and that of much of his administration—is very much in question.

As citizens of the "Live Free or Die" state, we do NOT want this administration to have our names and address. NOR do we trust this administration—in any way—to support free and open elections.

Whether given or sold, our voter rolls belong to our state and to no one else!

Secretary Gardner,

I am writing to express my STRENUOUS objection to providing NH's voter roles to the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity.

Study after study shows that voter fraud is practically nonexistent. There is no valid reason for them to ask for this data and, therefore, surely no valid reason to turn it over.

Kris Kobach's involvement undermines the legitimacy of the commission's stated goals; he has been a foe of voting rights for many years.

Protect NH's citizens' privacy and refuse to turn over the state's voter roles.

Thank you for your attention.

Bill Gardner,

The intentions of this commission and this administration have been clear from the beginning. If you comply with this request, you are complicit in the result. There is literally no possible chance this commission will not find some way to twist reality in order to support Trump's incoherent rants and give fuel to his supporters. If the white house cannot provide the remotest evidence of wide scale voter fraud based on publicly available information, do not with added fuel to support their "alternate facts" and down right delusional reality of the entire republican party. You will be on the wrong side of history is you do not take a stand against this corrupt regime's attempts to tip the scale and destroy our democracy. You are on the front lines, I doubt in your entire career if you have ever had a decision that will be weighed any greater than this one. Do what is right for New Hampshire and America by standing against the tyranny of this administration. It is up to state officials to do what is right when the ruling party in the federal government has shown a complete disregard for the rule of law.

NH has held elections that are in the nation's eye without any problems. And now you not only choose to serve on a commission that looks into a non-existent problem but you are saying you will allow substantial information about NH voters to be collected in a federal data base. There is something very wrong here! As a long time NH resident and voter I ask that you look to your many fellow secretaries of state in this country who have chosen to not comply with this request. Dear Secretary Gardner,

I was appalled to learn of your willingness to hand over state voter information to the Trump administration. You are charged with protecting the privacy of New Hampshire citizens. This is a gross violation of that trust.

You have an administration that is under the cloud of Russian collusion asking for information that could be used to alter the outcome of future elections. And yet you have no qualms about throwing our private information into the hands of those who have shown themselves to be utterly untrustworthy?

You have overseen elections in New Hampshire for decades. You yourself have declared over and over there is no evidence of any significant voter fraud. So my mind boggles that you are perfectly willing to participate in this obviously partisan, immoral, unethical and likely illegal exercise.

I am writing to ask you to reconsider your decision. Over 25 other US states have taken the correct action and refused to take part in this political charade. I pray you realize the error of your decision and reverse course before you violate the trust of your citizens.

To Secretary of State William Gardner:

As a New Hampshire voter and long time resident, I urge you to resist President Trump's request to share New Hampshire voter information with the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. There is no evidence of wide spread voter fraud in New Hampshire where officials in towns and cities have done an exemplary job of assuring integrity of voting. I am deeply concerned that there will be insufficient security measures to protect voters' personal information. This is a thinly veiled attempt to purge legitimate voters from the rolls and erect more barriers to voting.

Please say no.

Governor Sununu,

I write to strongly oppose the stated plan to turn over our voter information to Pres. Trump's "Voter Fraud Commission." In fact, our state has virtually NO voter fraud despite Trump's accusations. The integrity of the electoral process in our state has been confirmed numerous times by nonpartisan organizations, as well as our own NH Secretary of State. It is thus a mistake to cooperate with this political distraction, which also appears to be a duplicitous attempt to undermine electoral participation in our state. And this request, notably, comes from an administration actively under investigation for colluding with a foreign government to affect the 2016 election!

I also have concerns about my own private information being shared with this commission. What will happen to the data? Why do they want it? Etc. We should be asking these questions, too.

Giving up our voter information is NOT the New Hampshire way. Please urge the Secretary of State to REFUSE to share our electorate's personal information with Trump and Kobach's harmful commission, as have most other states.

So far, several states (CA, KY, VA, MA, NC, MN, UT, OK, NY, TN, NM, among others) have spoken out against it and stated they will not hand out such data, which contains highly sensitive, and personal information.

I hope that our SOS feels the same way, and I would feel a lot better if he would make a statement against it. Us voters in New Hampshire deserve to be able to vote independently and anonymously.

I believe our state should be fearful that the same people who defunded the only organization that protects states from election hacking are the same people who are asking for our social security numbers and voting history over the past 11 years.

Date: Wednesday, July 05, 2017 4:40:49 PM

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I am a registered New Hampshire voter and I am against sharing any voting information with the Trump/Kobach voter fraud commission.

I fully believe that this information is being requested to be misused by this fraudulent commission. I am concerned that my voting information could be released purposefully or inadvertently to foreign agents. This last comment I never thought I would say.

I am very concerned that the information could be purposely misused to identify certain types of voters, for instance, young democratic man who could be punished by having their selective service numbers earmarked by this administration.

I fully believe that a main purpose of this commission and this request is to directly or indirectly bully people into taking their names off of the voter checklist, which leads to voter suppression. More than one person has indicated to me that they plan to remove their name from the voter checklist because of this request by the Kobach commission.

I believe that turning over voting records will cause people to choose not to vote in the primary, if they vote at all in the midterms and in the 2020 election. I am happy to report that my own son is registered as Undeclared, which makes me feel that he has some type of protection from this administration. I am also relieved to know that he did not vote in New Hampshire's primary and therefore did not need to choose one of the ballots that would have indicated his political leaning. Given the present climate in our country, and this request from the Trump administration, I would be hard-pressed to suggest to my son that he vote in any upcoming primary election in which he would need to choose a ballot, which would then demonstrate his political leaning. I myself have over the years voted on both tickets and hope that in some way that will help protect me from the true purpose of this request from the Trump administration. This is one of the many ways in which I feel personally terrorized by this administration and our present government.

The governor is not listening to the people of New Hampshire on this issue. The voter suppression SB3 GOP New Hampshire legislature is not the governor's constituents-the voters are.

Since the governor of New Hampshire will not protect voting rights in New Hampshire, we need you, the Secretary of State, to act for the will of the people-or New Hampshire has very little left to bother to protect. Once our right to vote is stripped from us, there is nothing else left.

This is what voter suppression looks like to me.

The White House commission which has been established to investigate voter fraud in the U.S. is nothing but a political ploy to repress voting and should not be permitted to gather personal information from states, in my opinion.

Therefore, we respectfully request that New Hampshire not cooperate with the commission and we do not authorize the release of our personal data. We have always believed that our voting history is highly confidential and in no way should be considered accessible by government or private entities other than that data required by local authorities to confirm residency and other legitimate voter qualifications. Dear Mr. Gardner,

I want to convey my strong disagreement with your decision to turn over NH citizens' voting records to this national commission. I don't believe any election fraud of consequence occurred in the 2016 Presidential election in first place, and feel this whole thing is primarily motivated by President Trump's inability/unwillingness to accept that he lost the popular vote. Furthermore, I feel that if this commission came to that conclusion, he would summarily dismiss the findings, along with his followers. President Trump has again and again demonstrated that if there is a finding that he does not like -and particularly, one that does not show him in the best possible light - he will refuse to believe it. I feel the commission is a waste of taxpayer's money and am very disappointed that you have chosen to participate in it.

Dear Mr. Gardner,

The fact is it exists (and wastes tax payer money) only to attempt to support another of Donald Trumps lies. Dear Secretary Gardner,

I am saddened that you are marching in lock step with the Trump Administration in turning over New Hampshire voter information to a commission with a purpose and mission yet to be determined. Other states are standing up for the privacy of their citizens. And yet, New Hampshire where we say we "live free," is eager to bow to the Federal powers without even asking for time to consider the consequences.

I am not surprised that our governor only asks "how high?" in response to President Trump's request, but I thought you were a person we could trust. Please, please think about the long-term implication of Federal information gathering and control over our voting places before you bow to a dangerous request from Washington.

This is in response to the story in the Washington Post re: the Commission on Election Integrity: that they are demanding every state turn over their entire voter rolls - including names, other personal information, addresses, voting history - to them. They intend to make this information public.

Throughout my entire voting life (I'm 62), I have always been led to believe that such information is private, would never be made public, by anyone, for any reason.

It is my belief that this information will prove dangerous for the citizens of New Hampshire; there is no reason for the current administration to have this information, and that turning this over to an administration would harm all of us. The GOP has already proved that it is incapable of keeping this information private, given the huge amount of voter data already uploaded, unsecured, onto the internet. I believe that this information will not be used for any useful purpose other than voter intimidation, harrassment and suppression, especially given the background of the man running this fraudulent commission. I should also point out that state officials from Virginia, California and Kentucky have already refused this request for voter roll data from the commission on election integrity. I strongly request that New Hampshire do the same, to protect all of its citizens from harm.

Thank you for your attention.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I am writing to express my opposition to New Hampshire's participation in sending voter information to Washington. I am concerned about the security and potential dissemination of that information once it is in the hands of the Commission and the Trump administration. The administration's claims of voter fraud seem far-fetched at best, and its desire to consolidate and control this information seems likely to lead to abuse and voter suppression.

Please reconsider your position on this matter, and on your own participation on the Commission.

Thank you.

Dear Mr. Gardner,
I have read about the early meeting of the President's Commission on Election Integrity and am very disturbed that you chose to serve on that body. I believe it to be a sham and a fraud on the citizens of our country. Honorable people have been included to give the commission some respectability. However, it's clear that many members, including Mr. Klobar have intractable and fraudulent plans for the outcome of this commission.

The goal of the commission is to discourage voting and the evidence is in. Voters are taking their names off voting roles, fearful of how their personal information will be used. This is a tragedy, given the history of this country's many roadblocks toward enfranchisement.

Mr. Trump refuses to release important personal information and has an army of lawyers to help him. We do not have that luxury. We rely on people in your position to look out for us. I have worked as a ward select person on past elections. I had confidence in the NH process. Now, I'm not so sure. Instead of improving our election infrastructure, the commission's agenda is bent on destroying it, planting seeds of doubt where there is no need to do so. As you know, democracy is a fragile enterprise.

You may believe that you can be a force for wisdom and fairness. Looking at this administration's track record to date, yours will be a voice in the wilderness. Worse yet, you may find yourself severely compromised.

Respectfully,

This is not about election data. It's about kowtowing to an idiot known to enjoy vendettas. How do you know every voting Democrat on your list will not be subject to harassment (or whatever else the current morons in charge cook up to garner more power)? What you are complying with is dangerous: lists facilitate handy purges. That means my voter info, my social security number, my address, and anything else that might allow me to be identified is MY BUSINESS AND MY BUSINESS ALONE, subject to the laws of the State of NH. Stand up for NH's longstanding electoral independence.

PLEASE protect NH from interference by idiots and morons at the federal level. Other states have refused to comply. Why hasn't NH?

This is a waste of tax payers money in a time when we should be fiscally conservative. There is no indication of voter fraud, and little to no reason to waste money for this investigation.

Personally I am disturbed at your quick willingness to hand over my personal information.

Or in the case of New Hampshire, bus loads from Massachusetts coming up to vote in our state.

Everyone knows it is merely to compile information to make it increasing difficult for those who do not support Republicans to vote. For fear their gerrymandering has unfairly altered outcomes of elections has not done enough damage. Republicans will remove even more people unjustly from voting lists, further diminish early voting and shut down more polling places causing increased difficulty and long waiting lines. We may not have to be concerned in our state about such things but it already has been happening in other states. What kind of "democracy" attempts to have fewer citizens vote? Especially when that country has the lowest percentage of voters of any other developed nation in the first place. (Also the only one that does not assure healthcare as a right for all its people.) A corrupt government undermining our government and our country, that's what kind.

The whole thing is beyond the pale and dangerous to our democracy (or should I say, oligarchic corporatocracy) which is being severely undermined by Republicans in Washington who continue to put party before country.

As a matter of principle, Mr. Secretary, do not cooperate with this bogus attempt to weaken voting rights. I must say I was beyond disappointed that New Hampshire did not refuse to go along with this horrible administration as several other states have.

Dear NH Elections Division,

In light of the recent news that 6000+ people registered to vote in NH on the day of the 2016 election using out of state licenses, but only 7% of them bothered to get a New Hampshire driver license as late as 10 months after the election, will your office be investigating to see how many of these people are really in New Hampshire?

I think to restore faith in the election system, the voters of NH and in the country need to know that people aren't taking advantage of the same day registration law to influence election results.

If you are short on resources to follow-up on whether or not these same-day voters actually live in NH, I am willing to volunteer my time to assist your efforts. In particular, it would be easy for me to check on anyone that claimed to be a Nashua resident as that is my home town.

Dear Mr. Gardner,

I applaud your efforts to clean up NH voting. As a lifelong NH resident, USAF Veteran, and someone who loves our voting privileges, I ask this simple question.

Why can't the voting laws be updated to be very simple.

1. You need a NH drivers license, or identification card to vote, to prove you are a resident of this state.
2. College students who are NOT NH residents must vote by absentee ballot in the state they call home.

That should take care of it. Why is this so hard?

Thank you for your efforts Bill!

Hi,

Looking for a statement from Secretary of State Gardner clarifying what he meant in his comments to the New York Times published today, in which he apparently said that, in the Times' paraphrase

"he did not necessarily favor imposing new qualifications for registering and voting, but he added that when burdens like poll taxes and literacy tests were imposed on citizens and registering often required a trip to the local courthouse, voter turnout was far higher than it is now."

Can Mr. Gardner clarify what era or eras he was referring to when he said that poll taxes and literacy tests resulted in higher turnout?

Burdens like poll taxes and literacy tests were imposed to deprive black Americans of their right to vote. Can Mr. Gardner clarify what he meant by saying that turnout was higher in the era where these measures were imposed? Did he mean that turnout of white voters was higher?

Wondering if you believed that was true? Why might so few of the people who voted with out of state licenses on election day have not gotten New Hampshire licenses by now?

RE: OBJECTION TO SENDING VOTER DATA TO TRUMP!

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,
This purpose of this letter is to express my strongest possible objection to the request by the U.S. head of state to send NH voter data to his voter fraud commission. I realize you're a part of this commission. Here are my reasons:

1. Trump cannot be trusted. He's under investigation by the FBI for criminal activities, obstruction of justice, as well as possible corruption and treason. He lies continuously and recklessly tweets. He demonstrates unhinged, buffoonish behaviors. He weakens our democracy by constantly whining about fake news. He has an unholy alliance with Russia and complains about U.S. intelligence while complimenting Russian leadership. He has not disengaged from his businesses, and we cannot know if he makes decisions in the best interest of the United States or in the best interest of his own wallet.

2. A centralized online collection of voter data makes it convenient and easy for hackers to access our information. We already know our voter information has been extensively cyber attacked by Russia. Trump has not acknowledged the problem or done anything about it, so we're still at risk. The current decentralization of our voter information is a deterrent to further hacking. Why make it even easier for nefarious people to do us more harm?

3. The 3M voter fraud allegation is highly suspicious and has not been corroborated by individual states. Not to knock your participation, but the voter fraud commission is a time and money-wasting exercise contrived to assuage a lying president who wants to save his orange face. Who knows what Trump will really do with the voter info? Who can stop him for using it for his own corrupt purposes? Our spineless legislators have not said no to him yet and cannot be counted on to say no going forward.

PLEASE DO NOT SEND NH VOTER INFORMATION TO DONALD TRUMP OR HIS MINIONS. There's nothing in it for the citizens of New Hampshire!

Dear Mr. William M. Gardner

I am writing to voice my opposition to the idea that my voting and personal information is going to be sent to the Trump Administration. I am totally against anyone involved in the Trump Administration having any of my voting records and any of my personal information.

I was not very happy last year when former U. S. Senator Kelly Ayotte, sent me a letter asking for my support in her bid for re-election. And I did not like it one bit when those people at the National Rifleman's Association sent me membership forms. There has to be some type of gun control in this country

I served eight years in the United States Navy, with one year in Vietnam and I deserve my privacy from these people. I especially do not want any of those conservative organizations and political parties having access to my personal information.

I will never vote for any Republican candidate who happens to run even if I do not think the Democrat is qualified for the office. NEVER!

Secretary Gardner

I am a new voter in New Hampshire but I have voted my entire life. I'll explain ... I moved from Sydney, Australia to Bow in 2014 and became a US citizen last year to fulfill my civic duty and vote in the 2016 Presidential Election. I have always been politically minded and was thrilled to cast my first US vote last year.

Last year I volunteered for candidates, hosted 7 campaign workers at our house for 2 months, participated in many rallies ... thoroughly enjoying the "first in the nation" primary that swept the state. It was a new and exciting event. Since then my elation has ~~plunged~~ plummeted because the integrity of the election has been tainted by the façade of the Pence-Kobach Commission in Washington.

This Commission is so deeply flawed. Look at its inception. Initiated because one man, the President, who believes he did Not win the popular vote and therefore holds the entire country (and taxpayers) to ransom by submitting us to a commission to check the validity of "3 million voters". It is absolutely absurd that any legitimacy is given to this tax and time wasting initiative.

Imagine my surprise when I asked long standing New Hampshire residents "who is Secretary of State William Gardner and why is he entertaining this charade?" I heard many replies but they all culminated in a belief that you are being used by Kobach to bring integrity to this Commission.

How could you allow your forty-two year legacy of integrity in New Hampshire politics be marred by this deception? Please resign this commission, please side with the people who voted for you in the State of New Hampshire.

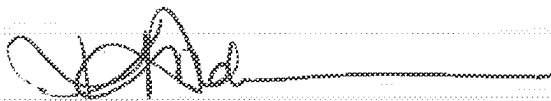

As a new voter and a new citizen to United States I knew that no matter what country you reside in, good public figures who work their entire lives to do good for the state and country they believe in hold passionately to their integrity and professionalism.

Do not allow this Commission to erode your life's work in public service. There is already talk about New Hampshire losing the "first in the Nation" status. This farce commission stands ready to consume your legacy.

New Hampshire voters will not soon forget this erring.

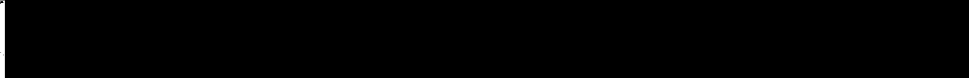

Thank you.

Secretary of State William Gardner

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I want to thank you for standing up to Kris Kobach at last Tuesday's meeting of the voter fraud commission and saying in no uncertain terms that he was wrong to assert that there were thousands of fraudulent votes cast in NH last November. However, Kobach refuses to retract his accusations and apologize for spreading them through the Breitbart "alt-right" website. Even if he were to retract it, the damage to our state's reputation may be done. People are already calling for NH to be stripped of its First in the Nation status based on Kobach's lies and on your participation on the commission.

In the articles and columns published since last Tuesday, it has surfaced that one of your fellow commissioners, Hans von Spakovsky, wrote an email in which he said that the presence of Democrats and moderate Republicans on the commission would doom it to failure. Failure at what? Failure to establish that rampant voter fraud is real, that millions of illegal votes were cast in the last election. He wrote, "there isn't a single Democratic official that will do anything other than obstruct any investigation of voter fraud." In other words, if this commission does not demonstrate widespread voter fraud, including in NH, it is an 'abject failure.'

I think many of us in NH believe you are sincere in hoping the commission will approach its mission with an open mind and no preconceived notions. Respectfully, I must say that you are being naive in this regard. Vin Spakovsky's comments and the Breitbart article that Kobach will not retract, among other evidence, make clear that if there is an open mind on this commission, it sure doesn't belong to either of them. Your Democratic colleagues on the commission admitted that on Tuesday the commission had "witnessed a one-sided parade of testimony by conservative analysts that overstated the evidence of voting fraud." I listened to those presentations and know this to be accurate.

Another of your fellow commissioners, J. Christian Adams, has claimed that "some people don't want to get to the truth about vulnerabilities in our elections." The fact of the matter is a great many people want to get to the truth about the real threat to election integrity, which is Russian hacking and interference in our democratic process. That is the real threat, not undocumented voters, or dead voters, or double voters.

You have said that you know that the November election in NH was not tainted by voter fraud, but you added that Kobach was entitled to his own opinion. Insisting that there was voter fraud in NH cannot be considered an opinion in the face of the facts to the contrary. As you know, the facts refute the utter misconceptions and misstatements in his article. When a rational person is confronted with overwhelming evidence that his opinion does not stand up to factual scrutiny, it is no longer an opinion, it is simply inaccurate. If repeated, it is an outright lie.

I hope that you will reconsider your participation in this sham voter fraud commission. The voters of NH would be better served if you stepped down and joined with us in ensuring that we focus attention on modernizing and securing our elections with up-to-date technologies. We would welcome your help and support in this endeavor. Please work with us, Mr. Secretary, not against us.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

A lot of assertions about the validity and the lack of validity of the past November's elections have been raised. You have asserted that the elections were not manipulated. I would like to relate to you my own observations on Election Day in Manchester's Ward 1.

I was at the polls twice during the day, once in the morning to vote and again in the afternoon to drive elderly people to the polls. While at the polls, I observed a lot of people registering to vote, more in the afternoon than in the morning. The afternoons people were coming in busses. The busses were smaller van size and larger passenger busses. I thought this strange that in an affluent neighborhood like ward 1 that folks would need bus transportation, I also thought it strange that many if not most of those coming by bus were younger people, and minorities.

I noticed that several of the busses (the smaller ones) that arrived while I was waiting for my passengers, were signed with "SNHU votes". I would gather from this that many arriving in these busses were from Southern New Hampshire University.

Going inside to check on the people that I brought to the polls I noticed that there were long lines at the new voter registration table, and most of these folks were young minorities, not typical of Manchester's Ward 1.

All of this calls into question how you could come to the conclusion that there was no manipulation of voting on Election Day 2016. Were Southern New Hampshire University (which straddles the Manchester and Hooksett town lines) students who registered to vote in Manchester checked to see if they also did the same in Hooksett? Did they vote by absentee ballot in their home state? Were University and College students in other areas similarly verified? How many verifications were done, 10,000? 20,000? 30,000? It would seem that in a State such as New Hampshire, with large out of state student populations, any less than 20 or 30,000 verifications would leave huge doubts in the minds of New Hampshire voters as to how valid the election results actually were.

Returning to the statement of the first paragraph, you have asserted that New Hampshire elections were not manipulated. This is certainly a very strong assertion. What was the process used to come to this conclusion, and what is the verification process, including the number checked that will give voters confidence that their vote is not being cancelled out by manipulation.

While a great deal of attention is being given to "Russian Interference", I find that precious little attention is being given to the threat of voter fraud from within, going on at the State and local level.

Sincerely

Mr. Gardner,

On behalf of the Democracy Initiative, a coalition of organizations representing over 30 million members nationwide, we have sent the enclosed letter to Kansas Secretary of State Kris Kobach, vice chair of the Election Integrity Commission, regarding the recent request to all Secretaries of State for voter information.

The American people deserve an electoral process that is reflective of the democratic ideals we value as a nation. Our elections should be a world-class model for "modern, efficient, and responsive" electoral systems. Instead of exposing American voters to potential privacy threats and misusing taxpayers' money to look for nonexistent voter fraud, we urge the Commission and election officials at all levels to take action to modernize and improve our system for future generations.

Sincerely,

Hon. William Gardner SOS NH,

During discussions with some friends I came up with the following idea for verification of voters who use an affidavit. Either get rid of same day registration or seal the ballot of anyone who uses an out of state ID or no ID in an envelope and put that envelope in another envelope along with the form they fill out and set a time limit for verification of resident status of 1 or 2 weeks. At the end of that time the ones who are verified get their ballots put in a box and the ballot clerk counts them. The ones that failed are prosecuted and those ballots are also put in a box and counted to determine if they would have affected the outcome. By sealing the ballot and separating them from the affidavit only after verification is complete it maintains the secrecy of the ballot and does not allow the election results to be tainted and the almost certain threat of prosecution of fraud would likely prevent the fraud in the first place.

Dear Bill;

You've been our valiant, straight shooting Secretary of State for years and years.....I haven't always liked the outcomes of decisions made by your office – but I never thought they were influenced by your politics. You're the umpire between the parties here in New Hampshire – your fairness in calling balls and strikes is why, after decades in office, Legislatures – both Republican and Democrat – have re-elected you.

Now, after taking on the role of hosting the Electoral Integrity Commission you find yourself being attacked because you are acting as a bloodhound in search of verifiable, truthful facts that will get us to a point where we know more about the vulnerabilities in our voting system.

I wanted you to know that we, along with many others both support the work you are doing and stand solidly in your corner as you keep the focus on abuses and potential abuses of the electoral process. Your'e doing a great job, Bill , keep it up!

Dear Secretary Gardner,

My Town is a "College Town". Henniker has New England College. When I was voting in November, I asked the Poll Workers if there was any way to find out if all of the students who were registering to vote that day, had already voted in their home states or towns, either in person or by absentee ballots? Many of them felt that the students were voting twice.

I wish our Legislature would pass a law that students and other transient people would be required to Register at least a month before voting so they would be on the Voter List, and, in order to vote, they would have to produce identification like the rest of us, do. As it is now, they only have to give declaration that they are Residents in order to register to vote in our Towns in NH. They might just be in our town for half a Semester, or less. Couldn't Students be encouraged to vote by Absentee in their own States? Couldn't they be required to Register to Vote in their own home towns?

It looks like the 1,000+ illegal votes that you have uncovered, so far, would negate the election of some of those who were elected. Please investigate the student votes from all of the big college towns. I feel that it isn't fair for temporary people to influence the outcome of important elections in New Hampshire. Once you have proven the number of voters who voted illegally, please adjust the outcome of the Elections.

I thank you, ahead of time, for looking into illegal voting in New Hampshire.

Respectfully,

Voter fraud in NH

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I witnessed possible evidence of voter fraud back in 2012. I was working late one night during the last week of October with a vendor installing an ATM in the baggage claim area at Manchester Airport. Around 11:30 a group of college students came to get their bags. One of them came over to talk while waiting. He said they were from Maryland and they were coming to NH to work for the Shaheen Campaign. He told me that they were staying in Portsmouth and they were told they could vote in the election in November. There were about 20 of them on that flight. Not sure how many other flights there were or if the Republicans did the same thing.

With all of the controversy around voter fraud in New Hampshire recently I wanted to make sure you were aware of this.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I am writing as a U.S. citizen, concerned about the state of elections in our country. I am also contacting my own secretary of state about this issue.

You are meeting this week with the other members of the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. This meeting is an opportunity for you to stand up for the American election system that you represent.

Vice-Chair Kobach, a paid Breitbart contributor, claims that illegal voting affected the 2016 vote tally. He is questioning your ability to do your job as Secretary of State.

Knowledgeable, respected public officials like you must defend the voting process now. If you do not, the public may not trust the outcome of the next election. Please consider the consequences of remaining on this commission. I respectfully ask you to quit the and state clearly and publicly why you are doing so.

Secretary Gardner,

As a NH voter I am appalled at the lies and blatant partisan attack on our state by this sham commission. Their intent is clearly voter suppression and frankly the people of NH deserve better and will not stand for it. The longer you remain associated with this fraud, the more damage will be done to your reputation and that of NH. I am taking this attack personally and I believe I am not alone. Why is it that this commission has zero interest in pursuing Russia's attacks on our election but is wasting time, energy and our tax dollars going after "voter fraud" where none exists? I would appreciate an answer.

I ask that you resign immediately and help to restore the credibility we warrant.

Comments submitted to the Pence-Kobach "election integrity" commission in advance of the September 12 meeting in New Hampshire.

Kansas Secretary of State Kris Kobach has made a career out of blocking eligible voters from the democratic process. Judging by Kobach's recent Breitbart column (7 Sept 2017), he has already reached a major conclusion regarding voter fraud. Specifically, Kobach has brought this sham commission to New Hampshire in an attempt to legitimize his false allegations that the results of the 2016 election in this state "appear" to be invalid. Kobach's article claims to offer "proof" that out-of-state people voted here by the thousands. However, he lays out a specious argument that is uninformed, ignorant, and reckless. Contrary to his claim, Kobach's article is proof that these commissioners have not started their investigation with open minds in search of the truth.

Kobach's charges regarding the 2016 election in New Hampshire are lies, plain and simple. His fellow commissioner, New Hampshire Secretary of State William Gardner, is obliged to confront these bogus charges and demonstrate to Kobach, the commission, and the nation, the many ways in which Kobach's data does not show what he claims. Kobach's argument is completely divorced of any knowledge of the facts of New Hampshire state election law. First, out-of-state driver's licenses are permissible under state law. Second, voters here are not required to register their cars here; if they were that would amount to a poll tax. Kobach is therefore arguing voter fraud based on two criteria that have nothing to do with New Hampshire requirements for eligible voters!

Secretary Gardner must publicly address Kobach's lies at the September 12 meeting of the commission at the New Hampshire Institute of Politics. Then, Secretary Gardner must resign the commission to uphold the integrity of our elections. What kind of public official agrees to serve alongside a person whose published claims amount to charges that New Hampshire elections are incompetently run? Kobach is gunning for same-day registration where it is legal and he is almost certainly coming next for New Hampshire's "First in the Nation" status. It is an egregious lapse of judgment on Secretary Gardner's part to be associated with Kobach's fabulist version of 2016 election history. It's time for a democracy that works for all voters.

I am writing to demand that Bill Gardner resign from the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. It is clear this administration's goal is to disenfranchise voters and promote falsehoods about voter fraud. By remaining on this commission, Secretary Gardner is complicit in these actions.

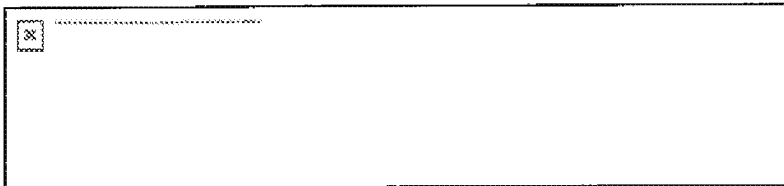

The commission's entire premise is based on a myth perpetuated by Donald Trump himself—voter fraud. The creation of this commission does nothing more than falsely justify voter suppression which statistically impacts people of color the most. By lending bipartisan legitimacy to this sham commission, Democrats are empowering a president that seems unable to do and say what is right and true: that there should be greater access to voting for all eligible voters, not less.

I would further demand that Secretary Gardner urge fellow Democrat Matthew Dunlap of Maine to resign from the commission.

It is well past the time for each of these officials to distance themselves from this troubling administration and its clear attempt to suppress the vote.

Secretary of State Gardner:

Both my husband and I are troubled by the formation of the Election Integrity Commission resulting from President Trump's false assertion that there is widespread voter fraud in our country. Studies have already shown that no such fraud exists. This commission is a waste of both time and tax payer funds.

We find the information request from this commission to be an invasive violation of our personal and private information. To suggest that this data would be compiled onto a single data base with major cybersecurity issues yet to be addressed puts us at greater risk for further hacking. Maintaining separate state data bases as is the current practice seems more prudent.

Given the reputation of Kris Kobach and past actions of Jeff Sessions, cannot help but think that this is an attempt for voter suppression. Expand not restrict voting rights. DO NOT COMPLY!

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I know that you have heard from numerous New Hampshire citizens about both the voter fraud commission and the prospect of submitting voter information to that committee but I still felt a need to write to you.

First, on the idea of the commission itself, I truly believe that it is a tremendous waste of time and money to establish a commission simply because we have a president whose ego cannot accept that he did not win the popular vote. How else can you explain that the number he regularly throws out as "illegal" votes so often matches the amount by which he lost. If voter fraud was rampant, does it make any sense that these votes would only go to Democrats?

Secondly while I am not versed in the specifics of the law, I am very uncomfortable with all of my voter information being sent to Washington. If New Hampshire insists on complying with this request (and I truly wish that we would not) I hope the barest minimum is sent. While part of the justification for sending this information is to show those who lack confidence in the system that it does work, I have no confidence that this administration will not abuse this information. I also question how this information can be compiled in a manner that would be considered valid by researchers when each state has its own system and may submit different information.

Additionally, while I understand your point of proving that there is very little fraud, in fact the likes of our president and others on the commission like Kris Kobach are not going to be convinced regardless of the results. They will either spin them to their liking or just deny them entirely

And lastly I think your inclusion on the commission is to lend it credibility based on your reputation. However, I think it is more likely that your reputation will be damaged than that you will be able to sway these people who seem determined to disenfranchise as many people as possible.

Thank you for your wonderful, dedicated service to New Hampshire

Dear Secretary Gardner,

This letter is to express my thoughts on your decision to give NH voting records to the Voter Fraud Commission.

I am disappointed that you have chosen to give them our records. I do not trust what they will do with the information. And, if what Governor Sununu said this morning on NHPR is true, that the federal government already has this information in a database, then it is superfluous and unnecessary.

I share your hope that it would be healthy for the country if we could dispel the false notion that there is massive voter fraud going on but I don't believe that a factual analysis of the data will accomplish that. The subset of the population that clamors about voter fraud is not convinced by data but instead by adherence to their political philosophy. An example is the President's insistence that his inaugural crowds were bigger than Obama's regardless of NPS photos showing the opposite. Thinking this commission will change deep-seated psychological fears is naive. You are certainly not naive but the idea is.

Moreover, this whole commission is a huge waste of taxpayer money and human resources. It is a response of a megalomaniacal thin-skinned president who can not accept the fact that he was not the choice of the majority of Americans. I believe this commission is set up to invent "alternative facts" to support the predetermined conclusion of a fragile ego. The appointed leadership of the committee is an indication of what conclusions are supposed to be supported.

Having said that, obviously showing my political leanings, I am pleased that you personally will be on the commission. Based on my wife's judgments of your character which she observed during her 10 years in the NH Legislature and what I've seen of the way you discharge your duties in NH, I have confidence in your integrity, intellect and judgment as a member of the commission. However, I believe your challenge will be enormous both from the standpoint of trying to bring honesty to the analysis and the inevitable frustration you will face listening to a lot of poppycock and obvious lies. Best wishes on success and remaining sane throughout the process.

Re: Granite State Voting Records

Dear Gentleman:

We are angered and deeply opposed to your willingness to turn over voter data to the presidential commission on Election Integrity. The contention that there was wide scale voter fraud in the 2016 election has been convincingly debunked. This attempt to obtain personal voter information is a thinly veiled attempt to begin voter suppression in a key state.

As you are well aware, to obtain a copy of the database in New Hampshire, a person either has to be a candidate for office or a representative of a political party or a political committee. There are strict limits in this process and there is a fee. The presidential commission does not qualify to obtain confidential documents and a majority of the states have denied the commission access.

This wholesale turnover of voter information could easily be used for nefarious and possibly commercial purposes. Your actions would violate New Hampshire law. We, as New Hampshire voters, who have entrusted state authorities with our personal information expect that information to be safeguarded.

Gentlemen:

We are confounded and incredulous that you would consider providing our New Hampshire voter checklist to the presidential election-integrity commission.

In light of the emerging facts of U.S. 2016 election tampering by the Russian government and the revelations about seriously outdated software (like Windows XP for which Microsoft stopped providing security updates in 2014) that makes our computing voting systems especially susceptible to hacks, this Administration's assumption of wide scale voter fraud belies the integrity of our New Hampshire election officials and processes in which we are highly confident -- and renders the motives behind this action highly suspect.

Leaders in other states have recognized the questionable intentions of the election-integrity commission and its misdirected focus and are acting to protect voter privacy and their state's political autonomy -- we expect the same from you.

Further, this action would violate NH law. To paraphrase a New Hampshire State Representative: a database created about New Hampshire people, by New Hampshire people, for New Hampshire people should not be co-opted by the federal government.

We are New Hampshire voters who have entrusted your respective offices to ensure that voter checklists are used only for that purpose and within the state of New Hampshire, and we assume you will safeguard our personal information.

Dear Secretary Gardner:

As a New Hampshire citizen and voter, I am deeply concerned about the plan to release voter records to the newly formed Election Integrity Commission. I respectfully ask you not to supply this information on New Hampshire voters.

The Commission and its project legitimize unsubstantiated claims of "widespread" voter fraud. While such claims have been circulating for a few years, they have become more strident since the 2016 election. The Commission's work would give credence to false claims in the short term and suppress voting rights in the longer term. Furthermore, the security of the data obviously would be at risk, posing a threat to individual privacy.

Please reconsider your decision to release New Hampshire's records.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Gardner,

I was disheartened and angered to hear that you supported the recent request made by the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity for New Hampshire citizen's confidential, detailed voter registration data.

Although some of the information requested is publicly available, I have significant concerns that this commission is requesting voters' drivers' license numbers, naturalization information, and place of birth or Social Security digits. This confidential information is, and should be, protected by state law. Providing the confidential information would not only risk it falling into wrong hands (including the public domain), but could possibly be used to keep New Hampshire citizens away from the ballot box. Mr. Kobach has a history of pushing burdensome voter requirements which disproportionately target and suppress minority voters. The myth of wide-spread voter fraud has been studied by multiple bodies, and has never been found to be supported by the evidence. Mr. Kobach's role as vice chair is proof that the ultimate goal of the commission is to enact policies that will result in the disenfranchisement of American citizens, not to collect any meaningful, fact based information.

The lack of evidence supporting widespread voter fraud, and Mr. Kobach's insidious agenda seem to have given other state officials pause; so far, forty-four states declined to provide some or all of the data requested by the commission. New Hampshire residents do not want federal intervention in our state's right and responsibility to conduct elections. Please, let facts and the protection of your constituents' rights guide your conscience. Please do your duty to protect the privacy of New Hampshire citizens, and the ability of our state to conduct responsible, safe, accessible elections. Please do not comply with the request for confidential voter information.

Dear Mr. Gardiner:

I was surprised to learn that you agreed to serve on the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity headed by Kris Kobach to investigate voter fraud in the 2016 election. I then was very disappointed to read that you are actually supporting the request for data that the commission is demanding of all states. If the data requested is public information in New Hampshire that is actually sold to the political parties as reported, then have the commission purchase it like any other political committee or organization does. Why would you authorize providing the data free without charge when our state can receive money for this information?

I am further surprised for someone who is so highly regarded by both Democrats and Republican here in New Hampshire for your personal integrity in administrating the responsibilities of your office that you would want to associate with any proceedings headed by Kobach. He has built an entire career creating phony scenarios of voter fraud to use as justification to suppress voting in not only Kansas but throughout the United States. This entire commission charade is based on the lies articulated by President Trump regarding the popular vote in the 2016 election, lies that have been dismissed by the secretaries of every state in our country plus election watchers from academia and the press.

I hope that New Hampshire's laws require a public accounting of the expenses incurred to provide this data and your involvement in the commission. I think our fellow voters and citizens of New Hampshire deserve such an accounting of how our tax dollars are being used and to what ends.

As a citizen of the United States of America, I do look forward to reading the final recommendations of this bogus exercise in data manipulation. I truly expect that the commission members will be able to fully document that the entire premise of this commission was based on the "lies, ignorance and intolerance" that has characterized President Trump's administration to date and Kobach's entire career.

To The Honorable William M. Gardner:

While I am not a resident of your state, I felt it necessary to send this letter to you to thank you for protecting the personal, non-public information of your state's citizens in relation to their election rights. I am just an average high school English teacher. I am no one special, but I do believe an individual's right to vote is the most important right granted to a U.S. citizen, as it is protective of all other rights. We have come a long way since 1789 when The Constitution granted the states the power to set voting requirements. As a nation, we have made tremendous strides to extend voting rights to different groups of citizens as seen in the establishment of the 15th, 19th, 24th, and 26th Amendments.

And while many people today may take their right to vote for granted, the right for all of us to vote empowers us to take action and become active members of society. The right to vote is the power to change, to leave a mark in history, and voice our opinions. And the main importance of democracy is the participation of the people in this great country of ours to name their political representatives. As voters, we have the right to demand from our elected officials to answer not only for their behaviors, but also become the voices for all of us, protecting us from the very things that could harm us or cause detriment. We expect our elected officials to articulate the rights and duties of all citizens and protect us from threats. In a perfect world, the government is supposed to protect its citizens from unjust interference; in protecting this freedom for citizens, the intrusion must be subject to clearly defined limits. Such limits are not only defined in the United States Constitution, but also individual state constitutions.

As I have taken enough of your time, and I hope you have been able to read this letter, I again want to say thank you for protecting the personal, non-public, information of your state's citizens. While I understand that some information for all of us who vote is considered public to a certain extent, protecting the information that is not considered public is very important to many of us throughout the country. As Benjamin Franklin declared, "Only a virtuous people are capable of freedom."

Thank you for your time and attention and I wish you all the best.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Gardner,

Whatever are you thinking that having all voter information in one place assures us that there is no voter fraud. We know there never is any voter fraud of any significance. You have been played by Donald Trump.

The safest way to insure no voter fraud is to have the information stored in 50 separate state controlled archives not one large data file easily hacked (just look at the 2016 election). Add to this the fact that the place that has been designated for safe keeping is that of an elected official not an impartial storage facility.

This is a recipe for future voter suppression and I am amazed and disappointed that you are a party to it.

The best thing for us of New Hampshire and the rest of the country is for you to reverse you position and not give ANY information-public access or not to the Committee. Let the data repose in every town, city, etc in the state as it always has.

Dear Secretary Gardner:

I am writing to ask you to please reconsider the decision to hand over all information on New Hampshire registered voters that has been requested by the newly organized Election Integrity Commission. Neither the creation nor the authority of this Commission have been voted on by Congress. We need to worry about how this information will be used and shared.

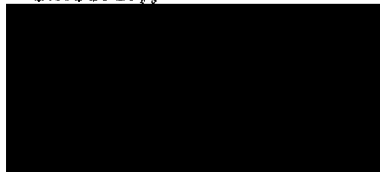

Refusing to send our Social Security numbers is NOT enough. Please refuse to send ANYTHING to this Commission. You know as well as I do that voter fraud has NOT been a problem in NH. However, not maintaining the privacy of the voting booth is something that should concern all of us in our constitutional democracy. I understand that you have the authority to deny this request and safeguard the privacy of New Hampshire voters.

This request from the Election Integrity Commission is wrong and totally inappropriate. Although much of the information requested may already be part of the public domain, sending it all to a national data base would be a hacker's delight as well as an infringement on our rights within a democracy. Such a request is a harbinger of an authoritarian society.

Although you are not responsible for the State budget, complying with this request will cost money. New Hampshire tax-payers' money should not be spent paying for the compilation of this information. The State has many more legitimate ways to spend its money, ways that will help its citizens.

Arizona has reversed its decision; New Hampshire can, and SHOULD, do the same.

NEW HAMPSHIRE
DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Please I beg you, do not give my voter information to anyone, Democrats or Republicans or Independents. My vote belongs to me and not you. Voting is a privilege and is private. It is nobody's business who or how I vote, behind that curtain at the polls. It is a closed ballot. You need to check Roberts Rules of Order . Article VIII Voting by Ballot. The main object of this form of voting is secrecy, and it is resorted to when the question is of such a nature that some members might hesitate to vote publicly their true sentiments. Its special use is in the reception of members, elections, and trials of members and officers, as well as in the preliminary steps in both cases, and the by-laws should require the vote to be by ballot in such cases. Where the by-laws do not require the vote to be by ballot, it can be so ordered by a majority vote, or by general consent. Such motions are undebatable. Voting by ballot is rarely, if ever, used in legislative bodies, but in ordinary societies, especially secret ones, it is habitually used in connection with elections and trials, and sometimes for the selection of the next place for the meeting of a convention. As the usual object of the ballot is secrecy, where the by-laws require the vote to be taken by ballot any motion is out of order which members cannot oppose without exposing their views on the question to be decided by ballot. Thus, it is out of order to move that one person cast the ballot of the assembly for a certain person when the by-laws require the vote to be by ballot. So, when the ballot is not unanimous it is out of order to move to make the vote unanimous, unless the motion is voted on by ballot so as to allow members to vote against it in secrecy.

I vote for the person I feel is the most qualified for the position, not just because they are a Democrat or Republican.

Should anyone ask me how I voted in any election my response is: no comment, my vote is mine and mine alone. Most people respect this, and would not ask such a personal question.

Sincerely Yours

Dear Secretary Gardner:

I am writing to express my concern about providing the information requested by President Trump's Election Integrity Commission. If we are going to spend tax dollars at both the state and federal levels to support this commission, I think three conditions need to be met:

1. The commission needs to be independent of the White House
2. The commission needs to be bipartisan
3. The commission needs to be unbiased

The commission President Trump set up meets none of the above three criteria. The commission is clearly not independent of the White House – it is headed by Mike Pence and the Kansas Secretary of State both of whom are loyal Trump supporters. So far, I have been able to find only yourself and Maine's Secretary of State as Democrats on the commission. With Pence and Kobach leading the commission, it is not even close to being unbiased. One of the co-leaders needs to be a well known Democrat. Trump set up this commission because he believes there was massive voter fraud last November, for which he offered no proof. I believe this commission was set up for no reason other than President Trump's ego can't stand the thought that Clinton won the popular vote, therefore there had to be massive fraud. So, if the results of the commission are to be accepted across party lines, and by a solid majority of the American people, I'm convinced the above three conditions need to be met.

Please raise these concerns as a member of this commission, and withhold New Hampshire's data until the above three conditions are unequivocally met.

Dear Mr. Gardner:

I am very opposed to your plan to deliver NH voting facts to the Trump administration. Whether you collect and send all that they want or just some does not matter. They will be used to eventually frighten people, either in NH or elsewhere, and discourage them from voting. People will turn out to be registered in more than one state (Jared Kushner). A delay in letting these people vote on election day will turn people away.

I heard you testify on SB3 twice this spring -- once before the Senate Committee which was moved to the Hall of Representatives, and later before the House committee. Each time you said there was only one prosecutable case of voter fraud. You said you had chased down a rumor of Massachusetts voters coming to NH and discovered they had come to hold signs. And yet you supported the bill. Your concern about people's doubts is therefore based on what you've read. But these doubts began with, and continue with, President Trump. He has no evidence for his allegations.

Your job in NH must be bipartisan. We rely on you to stand up for what you know is true. You're heading in the wrong direction, after all these years. I hope you will reconsider your decision.

Dear Mr. Gardner:

It is with great dismay that we have read that not only are you participating in the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity, but that you intend to comply with its request for information about us and other NH voters. We believe this is unwise.

It is manifest that this so-called "Commission" is a fraud being perpetrated on the American public (i) to rationalize our vain President's failure to capture a majority of the vote last fall and (ii) to lay the groundwork for more destructive voter suppression legislation. Two key actors in the "Commission"— Kris Kobach and Hans von Spakovsky— are known as zealous advocates of voter suppression.

We have these questions: why would you rent your reputation to this rogues gallery, allowing your good offices to be exploited to give the veneer of legitimacy to what is essentially a corrupt undertaking? Why would you apparently use our NH taxpayer dollars in pursuit of this cynical enterprise that could make you (and our state by extension) an accessory to the the diminution of citizen confidence in elections and/or the promulgation of undemocratic voter suppression policies?

As we write this, we note that your colleagues in numerous states including Alabama and Mississippi are refusing to do the bidding of this "Commission."

By the time the "work" of this "Commission" is done, it is your integrity that will be questioned more than that of NH or other states' elections.

We urge you to resign from this "Commission" and to reject its demands for data.

Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Secretary of State Gardner:

I am writing to express my concern over the recent request for voter registration records from the Pence-Kobach Commission for NH voter records. According to current NH law, only name, domicile address, mailing address, town or city, and party affiliation, if any, of registered voters, is public information subject to right-to-know legislation. Voter history is made available upon request to political parties, political committees, and to candidates for office, generally for a fee. However, as a registrar of voters, I am aware that the voter database contains a great deal of additional information. The sharing of any of this additional information exposes voters to identity theft. We know that hackers penetrated the election systems of as many as 39 states in 2016. Centralizing voter data from across the nation into one huge database we increase the risk of these records being compromised by those who would seek to undermine the very bedrock of our democracy – the right to vote.

This is why it is so important to deny the Commission's request for NH voter information. Individual voters constantly ask for assurance that their information will not be shared, and we as registrars of voters explain to them that some information is public, but based on current law, we have been able to assure them that no information that would open them to identity theft will be shared. Nonetheless, we can see that under the guise of "comparing voter information" as allowed for in RSA 654:45, VIII and IX, additional information could be shared. This is of grave concern, particularly if all of the information is gathered into the vast database proposed by the commission.

The possibility of erroneously identifying individuals as duplicates with voters in other states, is extremely high. Even within our small state, internal comparisons within the database identify hundreds of possible duplicates, when only a few real duplicates exist, nearly all of which are due to clerical errors. For anyone with a common name, or who is named after a father, mother, grandfather, or grandmother, the likelihood of being unjustly removed as a "duplicate" is very real.

The strength of our great democracy is that it is a government by the people and for the people. Efforts such as this suggest a desire to subvert the founding principles of the United States of America.

I urge you to deny the Pence-Kobach Commission access to the voting records of the State of New Hampshire, and to thereby respect the privacy and the voting rights of all of our citizens.

I just wanted to take a moment and thank you for making the decision for me, without my permission to do so, to send my information to President Trump's voting commission panel.

I truly appreciate having someone to think for me since my parents have passed away and I am only sixty-seven years old and not able to make these decisions for myself.

I find it reprehensible that you appear to think that this is perfectly okay, and I also find it ludicrous that you have been selling voter information lists for years and had I know this was occurring, I probably would have thought twice about whether I wanted to vote or not. I do not care if this is public information.

Is this perhaps the way those moronic Democratic and Republican Committees got my information and contacted me?

I find it even more reprehensible that the governor also thinks it's perfectly fine to do this.

Again, thanks so much for your thoughtfulness.

Dear Gentlemen:

I write to go on record with my objection to the provision of Granite State voting records to the President's Election Integrity Commission ("Commission") that was created by Executive Order 13799 on May 11, 2017. The stakes are too high for state office holders of good conscience to remain silent in the face of this action. As you know, claims of rampant voter fraud are baseless and defame the good people of New Hampshire. The Commission's purpose is to undermine confidence in state and federal elections in order to justify harsher and more restrictive voting laws.

New Hampshire voters have provided personal information to state authorities in the good faith belief that our state's leaders would safeguard that information consistent with New Hampshire statutes. I understand that you intend to turn over voter information to the Commission in response to a letter requesting this information. To be clear, you are not required to provide the information requested. The Commission has not issued an order or a duly authorized subpoena. Your actions most likely violate New Hampshire law.

Nothing in our statutes authorizes you to provide voter information to the Commission, or to whomever you choose, in your absolute discretion. RSA 654:31, IV allows the Secretary of State to provide voter information to political parties and to political committees. Others, pursuant to RSA 654:31, III, may view the statewide centralized voter registration database only during normal business hours at the state archives building, but may not print, duplicate, or transmit the data. While RSA 654:31-a makes some voter information public, it is subject to significant restrictions as, for example, law enforcement personnel may access information for investigative purposes.

The letter requesting New Hampshire's voter information makes clear that all records provided to the Commission will be made public. Once the Commission makes our voter information public, it will be subject to commercial exploitation. No voter has given you permission to share voting information with commercial concerns.

Finally, if you persist in compiling and conveying voter information to the Commission, I request a full and complete copy of any information about me that is provided. This request is made pursuant to RSA 91-A.

Thank you.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I urge you not to provide voter data to the Federal Government. I fear that this information, including my voting preferences, would be abused by the Trump administration.

Election officials in New Hampshire and other states have stated that there is simply no evidence of widespread voter fraud. The purpose of the Commission can only be an attempt to justify Trump's spurious claims of massive voter fraud in the 2016 election in New Hampshire and other states or, worse, to compile a list of Trump's political enemies.

I am totally outraged upon learning of your decision to turn over personal voting information to anyone who is willing to buy it, especially the White House. I know this is under the guise of discovering "voter fraud". But it is really just another way to suppress the vote by sending personal information to a vengeful, vindictive White House. Any other rationale that your office would give is a bold-faced LIE.

Seriously, do you not believe that the citizens of state of New Hampshire are the most careful, straightforward, knowledgeable people in the country? If so, I am offended that you sell us short.

I am asking you to reconsider your decision to turn over personal voter information to the White House or any other entity.

I am requesting that you NOT give any of my personal info - none - to the latest request from Trump for all voters information. It is not mandatory so, therefore - not my info! Their reasoning is very suspect like being used to dis-infranchise voters and also to frighten and threaten voters. Do some research.

The guy Trump chose for this "deal" (can't recall his name right now) has been known for trying to change how people vote for many years now!

Many states have chosen to deny this request and I'm very sad to think that New Hampshire "electives" have chosen to not care about it's people.

Dear Mr. Gardner,

I am a 72 year old resident of Portsmouth, NH. And I am NOT someone who normally writes letters of this kind. I am deeply distressed by the announcement that NH will hand over the information requested by Chris Kobach. The current administration in Washington has just defunded the office that supports voting integrity in the states, so I can only assume that this request has nothing to do with protecting our voting system and everything to do with finding ways to suppress the vote of our citizens. I find this repugnant.

Please re-consider your decision to comply with this request. I urge you to stand on the side of the citizens of New Hampshire who are committed to preserving free and fair elections that encourage every citizen to participate.

Subject: let's not give data to scammers

To my representatives in Concord - whose work for the good of our State I respect immensely!

I have already written (via our Town Administrator) to our Town Council in Durham, describing my concern about the virtually-inevitable misuse of the voting data requested by the President. I really hope that New Hampshire will respond with polite but firm refusal.

The telephone scam I described in that letter is very old. My first encounter with it was when my mother-in-law (who's been gone many years now) phoned us asking "what kind of trouble is my grandson in?" She'd had one of those phone calls, and the scammer had gone so far as to make graphic threats about breaking kneecaps. Fortunately she had the wit to call us first, and I assured her that the grandchild in question was upstairs, doing his homework. He is now an historian with a doctorate - which gives you an idea of the age of this scam.

The old scam is still in frequent use. Now from time to time I am the Grandma who gets these calls, and they do still begin, "Hello, Grandma!" The dialogue is standard, and the scammer's expectation is still that the person called will respond with a name. The scammer then "becomes" that named person - always, of course, in need of a sum of money. (I have discovered that if no given name is forthcoming from the target, the scammer as a last resort becomes "Michael.")

There are likely other scams out there. All of them depend on some bank of information - almost exactly such as is presently requested. If we in New Hampshire were to acquiesce in this solicitation, the information requested would, without a doubt, also find its way into the telephone-dialing hands of scammers. And these scams are effective in defrauding the elderly - otherwise they wouldn't have had such a long life.

Scamming is a criminal enterprise. Let's just not make it easy!

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you so much for taking the time to share your feelings about the release of local voting records to the federal government. With the work of the President's Election Integrity Commission (the "Commission") unfolding over these last few weeks, your opinions on the invasive nature of this information gathering have been echoed by many.

The Town of Hanover voting records are part of a larger, state-wide voter database, and I have attached a diagram provided by the New Hampshire Secretary of State's Office indicating what elements of this database are considered public vs. private information. The Commission's request was directed to our Secretary of State, Bill Gardner, who has gone on record saying he plans to comply with the request. His office has further clarified that only information considered to be public under state law will be released.

I have scanned your letter and sent it to the Office of the New Hampshire Secretary of State as their office will be the entity formally responding to the Commission's request.

Again, thank you for sharing your views, and I would encourage you to work with our local legislators if you would like to pursue legislation changes to make certain voter information not available to the general public.

Dear Julia -

We read that the federal government is requesting information about the voting records of citizens of the United States. We believe that our votes are a private matter and not public property in any form, and request that the Town of Hanover not forward any information about our votes - to anyone or any entity. We believe such a request is an invasion of personal liberties and fundamentally in violation of the law of the land, and that for the town to participate in such an action would be counter to those long-standing protections of civil liberties.

Dear Mr. Gardner,

I am writing this to say I was appalled to learn that my personal info is being released to the federal government with your approval. I fully understand that my name and address are part of a public record, however I protest that you also release my date of birth, part of my social security number and my party affiliation. Those are private and should be held in trust.

To further learn that they are 'sold' to anyone willing to pay your price is an even greater concern. Is there a clause on our voting sheet that includes our permission to release this information? Do you seek anyone's written permission first and if so, would you be willing to share that resource with the names of the people you sell? After all, it is their info.

I had always believed that how I vote, party wise is my business and no one else's, likewise my DOB and Social are mine to give out, not yours. This is more of a concern in these times where we are cautioned to protect identity from theft. You certainly know who is asking, but why and to whom do they in turn sell it to?

If this info is released to our country's current administration, or continues to be sold with all the above, you can consider my having voted for the last time. You are taking away my right and privilege to vote because I cannot trust my own state government.

I am sending copies to our Governor and two State Senators as well.

Dear Secretary Gardner.

I am writing to express my concern regarding your membership on the Trump Election Commission. It is my belief you were chosen to be on the Commission because you are vulnerable to political pressure. You have kept intact New Hampshire's "first in the nation primary." This primary is a significant source of income and prestige for the State. I believe you were chosen for this Commission because the Republican Party can threaten you with the loss of that special primary.

I do hope you share my beliefs that this Commission:
is born from lack of respect for objective facts;
serves no good purpose, but works to diminish all that HAVA stands for; and is destructive nonsense which should be disposed of with contemptuous laughter.

RE: Commission on Election Integrity

Dear Secretary Gardner:

I am opposed to your continued participation on the commission that President Trump created to look at so-called voter fraud. There is no evidence of fraud, but the President has nurtured a perception of fraud that is now being used as an excuse for the commission. There is widespread concern that the commission will lead to voter suppression. Please do not be part of this sham.

I have enclosed an editorial by E.J. Dionne that appeared in the Valley News on July 22, 2017. The title is Commission's Real Goal: Voter Suppression. The editorial discusses the collection of voting data and lists why Americans should be concerned:

1. We should worry about the security of the voting data.
2. We should worry because the President's commission is the furthest thing imaginable from a dispassionate investigation into voting procedures.
3. We should worry because Kris Kobach, Kansas's secretary of state, is vice chairman of the commission.<sup>1</sup>
4. We should worry because a MIT study found that 12 percent of the electorate in 2016 encountered a problem voting and that more states enacted new voting restrictions in 2017 than in 2015 and 2016 combined.
5. We should worry because the Supreme Court gutted the Voting Rights Act in 2013, and this Congress has shown no signs of wanting to fix it.
6. We should worry about the Trump administration closing civil rights offices and the Justice Department switching sides in voting rights cases. Mr. Dionne references Rep. Elijah Cummings, D-MD, who said: "I am old enough to remember when African Americans were denied access to the ballot box, and I fear we are watching history repeat itself."
7. We should worry that Elijah Cummings' intuition is right.

I urge you to protect New Hampshire voters and resign from the commission.

Sincerely,

Charlestown, NH 03603

<sup>1</sup> It was Mr. Kobach who penned the letter asking each state for its voting data. The Kansas City Star (June 30, 2017) states that "all voters should be deeply troubled by Kobach's unprecedented inquiry, made under the cloak of governmental authority." The paper also states: "We have no idea how the commission plans to use the information. It isn't too far-fetched to worry Kobach wants the data to enable a national campaign of voter suppression and disenfranchisement." <http://www.kansascity.com/opinion/editorials/article159169129.html>

Thank you for your excellent thoughts and comments. I would like to make a comment related to your comments on the voting machine from 1890 that your state still uses and the 12 year old machine that is now obsolete.

The same point you make regarding voting machines should be examined regarding education because the planned obsolescence with which technology is marketed makes having the "latest" technology in our schools unsustainable. The need to update technologies is making education unsustainable because funds for almost constant upgrades have not been budgeted and/or those budgets are not adhered to.

Re: Sharing New Hampshire voter database

Dear Secretary of State Gardener,

Remember Florida? DO NOT LET THAT HAPPEN TO NEW HAMPSHIRE CITIZENS. Don't tell the federal government how I vote.

It's OK to sell it to entities within the state such as the state or local political organizations to use to get out the vote. That strengthens democracy.

Any effort to identify and prevent unqualified people from voting should be at the municipal level. Local non-partisan agencies can check voter rolls and do any necessary on-the-ground research into whether a person is truly a citizen and a resident in good standing. Purging of the voter rolls does NOT belong at the federal or even the state level. It is not OK for the Federal Government, especially this administration, to have the information. It is not OK for any partisan group to have the power to deprive eligible voters of their right to vote. Voter representation already suffers due to gerrymandering.

The infamous attack on the democratic process in Florida in 2000 damaged voter participation for many years. Thousands of minority voters were turned away at the polls because the state had conducted an electronic witch hunt and whenever they were able to find the name of a person anywhere in the United States who had committed a felony and whose name slightly resembled that of a person in Florida in certain districts, their name was removed from the rolls. Even more scandalously, four years later, when those same people again attempted to exercise their right to vote, they were told they were still ineligible. Many just gave up after that.

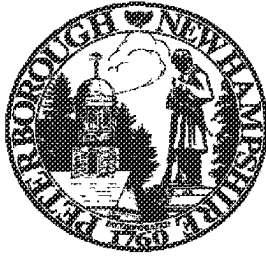

There is no reason for the Federal Government to know anyone's political affiliation or voting record unless they want to target, as they did in Florida, people who would vote for the party not currently in control of the government.

The fact that the U.S. House of Representatives has decided to eliminate the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, created by the Help America Vote Act of 2002, is a neon-red flag that the Republican-controlled Federal Government is not about guaranteeing that only eligible people vote but to suppress the vote.

I understand a desire to defend the legitimacy of our states voting record, but hope you will reconsider your participation in this effort so your fine reputation is not tarnished by this one shameful act.

Dear President Trump:

Voter Fraud – How to STOP It

I am writing to you with an idea to STOP voter fraud once and for all in the United States. It is a very simple idea. Voter ID Registration (Credit) Card. This is how it works:

The Federal Government would issue a Voter ID (Credit) Card to ALL United States citizens of legal age to vote. The card would look just like a credit card as in it would have your name, a series of numbers (16 to 20) and an expiration date but the difference is that it would be linked to a person's social security number.

By linking the Voter Credit Card to the Social Security Administration, most voter fraud would be eliminated. Deceased or federal convicts would be flagged in the system and any prior cards issued to them will be voided. An illegal alien does not have a social security number. Just about everything people do today is linked to their social security number i.e. taxes, enrollment in schools, employment and so on.

To make it easier for the government and for its citizens the Federal Government could set up a website for people to register. For people who do not have internet access, a 1-800 number could be used. Once on line, a series of questions would be asked as verification i.e. your name, address, SSN, Date of Birth and a security question. After this is completed, a Personal Identification Number (PIN) number you would be selected. When a person receives their card they will have to activate the card through a 1-800 number by using the selected PIN and the card number issued, just like you do with a credit/debit card..

This card will only be active for 4 years at a time and can only be used once per Election Day. It can be used in ANY precinct for the election in which that person is registered. How this could be done is by swiping the cards at a Kiosk that is linked to the voting booth. The card would be swiped and a PIN entered the voting booth would link that card to their district. This would eliminate multiple votes and early voting.

The only paper/early voting would consist of people in the military or any people that are legal resident assigned "outside" the USA and her territories. Once their vote has been received and entered, an e-mail would be sent to that person with a link and confirmation number to verify their vote was cast correctly or a mailed copy of their vote.

If your card was used and you did NOT use it to vote, all you have to do is SHOW proof of whom you are (i.e. Driver's License, State ID, Passport and so on) as verification and cast a new vote. The prior vote would then be VOIDED.

As an added safety measure a card holder can ask for either a print out of their votes at that time or they could go online to view their vote. They will be given a link to follow as well as a confirmation number, just like you receive when you place an order on-line.

Example:

You live in Mississippi and you happen to be in Colorado for work. All you have to do is go to ANY voting office, swipe your card and vote. The card is tied to your Social Security Number so it can only be used 1 time. No more of these people living in Massachusetts and going over to New Hampshire and voting twice or snowbird voting early and then voting again in Florida. Once your SSN/Credit Card is used, it CAN'T be used again during that election. Also if you live in an area where voter intimidation might exist, you can go to ANY voter Precinct and vote.

Thank you for using your valuable time in reading this letter.

Sincerely,

Ridgeland, MS 39157

On a personal note for President Trump, I would just love the opportunity to meet MY PRESIDENT. I have been on the Trump Train since day one. Dear Speaker Jasper:

The Department of State and the Department of Safety provide the following response to your questions regarding the data available from the system for matching the records of the Department of Safety on vehicle registrations and driver's licenses with the records of registered voters managed by the Department of State, as authorized by RSA 654:45, IV (b). The federal Help America Vote Act required New Hampshire to develop this data matching system for the purpose of verifying the accuracy of the information contained in the voter database. The Department of Safety's response is limited to the production of driver's license and motor vehicle registration statistics. We offer the following responses to your questions:

Is this system of verification effective?

The system is effective when an individual provides a New Hampshire driver's license number when registering to vote. When the same address has been provided for both driver licensing and voter registration purposes, the match contributes to verifying the accuracy of the voter checklists. The matched information is made available to local election officials by the Secretary of State through the statewide centralized voter registration system. New Hampshire law places responsibility for verifying an applicant's domicile for voting purposes with municipal officials. The matching system does not document how useful the local officials find the data. Where discrepancies exist, the discrepancies vary from minor differences in the address to circumstances where the individual has provided different addresses. Local officials determine which cases warrant additional inquiry.

What percentage of newly-registered voters have a record with discrepancies between their voting and motor vehicle/driver's license records?

In accordance with the Help America Vote Act the matching system compares only those newly registered voters who provide a New Hampshire driver's license number when registering with driver's licensing records. Local officials flagged the records of 59 voters who registered on or after the November 8, 2016 general election as having a material discrepancy between the address provided for voter registration and the address on record for that individual's driver's license. As of September 1, 2017, 48 of those cases have been resolved, the individual's voter and driver's license addresses now match.

Does the matching process generate cases that require additional follow-up?

Under New Hampshire law, when a discrepancy exists the assessment of whether the information warrants further inquiry is made by the Supervisors of the Checklist and their counterparts in New Hampshire's cities. The statewide system does not record data on how many of the discrepancies local officials determine are minor, for example the address is the same in both records, but in one record omits a non-essential detail, versus those that raise uncertainty regarding whether the individual is currently domiciled where they reported when registering to vote.

Do people who register a vehicle in New Hampshire or obtain a New Hampshire driver's license register to vote?

The match process currently only allows matching the driver's license number of newly registered voters and those who update their address to all New Hampshire licensed drivers. The system does not include the date the individual obtained the driver's license or registered to vote in the match. Under New Hampshire law some individuals are legally permitted to obtain a driver's license who are not legally permitted to register to vote. Non-citizens who provide evidence that they are legally present in the United States may obtain a driver's license for the duration of their lawful presence. These individuals may not register to vote. There are also voters who are non-drivers. Therefore, it is expected that not all individuals who are licensed to drive will also be registered to vote. At the time the analysis was done to provide this response, there were 1,224,943 individuals licensed to drive in New Hampshire and 972,536 individuals who were registered to vote.

Do those who register to vote in New Hampshire also obtain a driver's license or register a vehicle in New Hampshire?

Analyzing data on individuals who registered to vote on November 8, 2016, approximately 92% had a New Hampshire driver's license on August 30, 2017. As the match system does not retain driver's license data, the election day voter data had to be compared to the current driver's license data.

6,540 individuals on November 8, 2016 registered to vote using an out-of-state driver's license. On August 30, 2017, 1,014 of those individuals, 15.5%, had been issued a New Hampshire driver's licenses. As of August 31, 2017, 213 of the remaining 5,526 individuals, 3.3%, had registered a motor vehicle in New Hampshire.

5,313 of the individuals who registered to vote on November 8, 2016 using an out-of-state driver's license, 81.2%, neither held a New Hampshire driver's license nor had registered a motor vehicle in New Hampshire as of August 31, 2017. It is likely that some unknown number of these individuals moved out of New Hampshire, it is possible that a few may have never driven in New Hampshire or have ceased driving, however, it is expected that an unknown number of the remainder continue to live and drive in New Hampshire. If they have established their residence in New Hampshire, they may have failed to obtain a New Hampshire driver's license. However, under the Supreme Court's 2015 Guare decision, a person may be domiciled in New Hampshire for voting purposes and be a resident of another state for motor vehicle/driver's licensing purposes.

The legislature has defined "residence" differently from "domicile." "Residence" is "a person's place of abode or domicile," and the phrase "place of abode or domicile" is defined as "that [place] designated by a person as his principal place of physical presence for the indefinite future to the exclusion of all others." RSA 21:6-a. Pursuant to RSA 21:6, a "resident" is "a person who is domiciled or has a place of abode or both in this state ..., and who has, through all of his actions, demonstrated a current intent to designate that place of abode as his principal place of physical presence for the indefinite future to the exclusion of all others." Our motor vehicle laws use this definition of "resident." See RSA 259:88 (2014). Upon becoming a "resident" of New Hampshire, one has 60 days in which to register one's vehicle here and to obtain a New Hampshire driver's license. See RSA 261:45 (2014); RSA 263:35 (2014). These requirements do not apply to citizens who are not "residents" of New Hampshire although they have their "domicile" here. The basic difference between a "resident" and a person who merely has a New Hampshire "domicile," is that a "resident" has manifested an intent to remain in New Hampshire for the indefinite future, while a person who merely has a New Hampshire "domicile" has not manifested that same intent.

Annemarie Guare & a v. State of New Hampshire, 167 N.H. 658, 662 (N.H. 2015).

If additional education or enforcement regarding these rights and obligations were authorized, are there particular regions of the state or demographic groups where such efforts would be most beneficial?

Limited demographic information is currently available from the match system. We will provide additional information if it can be derived from the system.

Local election officials make a substantial effort to keep checklists current. The law provides that a letter be sent to the voter in a case where credible information is received that indicates a registered voter no longer resides at the address provided when the individual last registered or updated his or her address. These are referred to as "30 day letters" because the voter has a minimum of 30 days to respond confirming that he or she continues to be domiciled at the address in their voter record. If the individual does not confirm their address, the individual is removed from the checklist. In 2016 11,942, thirty-day letters were prepared using the statewide voter registration database. As of December 31, 2016, 11,320 of those voters had been removed from town/city checklists. The remaining 622 either were verified as still domiciled in the town or city or remained under review into 2017.

Secretary of State:

Interstate Crosscheck Program

The 2016 Legislature enabled the Secretary of State to enter into the Interstate Voter Registration Crosscheck Program to check for matches of voter records in other states. Work is progressing on data matches received from 27 other states.

We are further analyzing 196 names that appear to have been marked on a New Hampshire checklist and one other state as having voted in the November 2016 General Election. We have begun verifying that information with other states, but this process is quite involved. We will be working with the Attorney General to determine next steps and to transfer those cases which are appropriate to the Attorney General for investigation.

Challenged Voter Affidavits, Qualified Voter Affidavits, and Domicile Affidavits - Follow-up

The following is an update regarding follow-up letters sent to voters who signed Challenged Voter Affidavits in order to vote and Qualified Voter Affidavits and Domicile Affidavits in order to register to vote in elections occurring between May 9, 2016 and December 31, 2016. (RSA 654:12 and RSA 659:13.)

On January 9, 2017 and subsequently on April 20, 2017 (for those who had moved to new addresses identified by the U.S. Postal Service (the "U.S.P.S.")), the Secretary of State sent 1,423 letters to voters who signed challenged voter affidavits ("CVAs") between May 9, 2016 and December 31, 2016 in order to vote (in the 2016 State Primary and General Election).

Pursuant to RSA 659:13 (revised in 2016), the Secretary of State was required to "revise the list based on input solicited from the supervisors of the checklist" and "...forward the revised list of names to the Attorney General." Accordingly, the Secretary of State has reported to the Attorney General that there were a total of 129 voters (71 with no response and 58 envelopes returned as not delivered by the U.S. P.S.) who:

- a) had signed a CVA between May 9, 2016 and December 31, 2016,
- b) had not returned a signed post card, and
- c) could not be verified by election officials.

Please find attached a copy of our May 24, 2017 letter to the Attorney General with the outcome of the new protocol to follow up on Challenged Voter Affidavits.

On January 9, 2016, the Secretary of State sent letters to 764 persons who had signed qualified voter affidavits for identity purposes in order to register to vote between May 9, 2016 and December 31, 2016. Among these, 377 were delivered to the address but the voter did not return a postcard, and 63 letters were returned by the U.S.P.S. as not delivered to the address provided on the voter registration form. The U.S.P.S. may have placed a forwarding address on the returned envelope.

In compliance with RSA 654:12,

- (a) no follow-up letter was sent to any forwarding address that may have been provided by the U.S.P.S., and
- (b) no further input was solicited from local election officials.

On January 10, 2017, the Secretary of State sent letters to 6,033 persons who had signed domicile affidavits in order to register to vote between May 9, 2016 and December 31, 2016. Among these, 458 letters were returned by the U.S.P.S. as not delivered to the address provided on the voter registration form. The U.S. P.S. may have placed a forwarding address on the returned envelope. In compliance with RSA 654:12,

- a) no follow-up letter was sent to any forwarding address that may have been provided by the U.S.P.S., and
- b) no further input was solicited from local election officials.

Please contact us if you have any questions regarding this response.

Re: Challenged Voter Affidavits

Dear Brian:

This report reflects the current status of the follow-up letters and returned post cards with respect to those individuals who signed challenged voter affidavits ("CVAs") in order to vote in the elections occurring between May 9, 2016 and December 31, 2016.

Pursuant to RSA 659:13, we have sent follow-up letters to 1,423 individuals who were recorded as signing challenged voter affidavits in order to vote in the elections occurring between May 9, 2016 and December 31, 2016. The deadline for individuals to return post cards in response to the initial follow-up letter was February 8, 2017.

Among these follow-up letters, 107 letters were initially returned (not delivered) by the U.S. Postal Service. The U.S.P.S. stamped "TEMPORARILY AWAY" or provided forwarding or corrected addresses on many of these returned envelopes. On April 17, 2017, we re-sent 53 follow-up letters to those individuals whom the U.S.P.S. indicated were "TEMPORARILY AWAY" or provided forwarding or corrected addresses, instructing recipients to return a post card no later than May 20, 2017. As a result, we are left with a net amount of 58 returned (not delivered) by the U.S.P.S. letters following the second mailing. We have enclosed those 58 envelopes.

Pursuant to RSA 659:13, the Secretary of State "shall revise the list based on input solicited from the supervisors of the checklist." Accordingly, the Secretary of State's office contacted local supervisors of the checklist to follow up on those voters who had not returned post cards.

As a result, we present the following breakdown that is reflected in the attached spreadsheet:

Envelope returned (not delivered) by USPS	58
No response	71
Post card returned by individuals	978
Sent in error	5
Verified by election officials	311
Total CVA follow-up letters sent	1,423

In response to the above mailings, individuals signed and returned 978 post cards, leaving a total of 129 voters (71 with no response and 58 envelopes returned (not delivered) by the USPS) who:

- (a) had signed a CVA between May 9, 2016 and December 31, 2016,
- (b) had not returned a signed post card, and
- (c) could not be verified by election officials.

With the emailed version of this letter, we are attaching a spreadsheet with information on voters who signed challenged voter affidavits in the elections occurring between May 9, 2016 and December 31, 2016. The two yellow highlighted columns include the 129 voters that could not be verified. As and when further pertinent mail is received by our office, we will send it to you for your tracking purposes.

Dear Secretary of State Gardner,

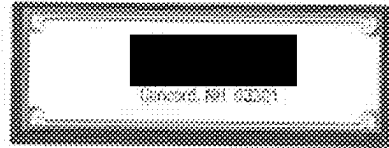

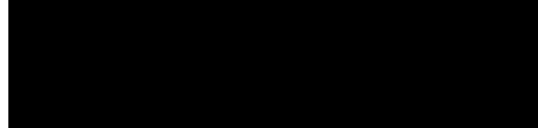

In my opinion, you are doing a disservice to the people of New Hampshire and to yourself by participating in the Election Integrity Commission.

I urge you to resign as you are destroying your reputation as an honest and thoughtful representative of our fine state. Many of the commissioners of the Pence-Koback commission have made a career out of blocking eligible voters from registering in the democratic process. This commission is more interested in purging than participation.

It's time for you to leave the commission than be soiled by this sham.

Dear Secretary Gardner,

The Trump Administration's election commission is designed to legitimize unsubstantiated claims of widespread voter fraud while ignoring the real threat to American democracy posed by the creation of "Safe" legislative districts through gerrymandering and voter suppression. Some members of the Commission have been working for years to limit the right to vote, especially for the poor and racial minorities. Dear Ms. Gardner,

The Trump Administration's election commission is designed to legitimize unsubstantiated claims of widespread voter fraud while ignoring the real threat to American democracy posed by creation of "safe" legislative districts through gerrymandering & voter suppression. Some members of the commission have been working for years to limit the right to vote, especially for the poor and racial minorities. Please stand up for voting rights by stepping down from the commission.

DEAR MR. GARDNER,

THE VOTER INTEGRITY COMMISSION IS BASED ON AN ABSURDITY (THAT 3 MILLION VOTES WERE CAST ILLEGALLY).

THE COMMISSION ASKS FOR ALL VOTERS' PERSONAL INFORMATION AT THE SAME TIME THE PRESIDENT IGNORES RUSSIAN HACKING EFFORTS.

YOUR CHAIR HAS A HISTORY OF DISFRANCHISEMENT ATTEMPTS.

AND WE HAVE A PRESIDENT WITH A PROFOUND DISREGARD FOR THE TRUTH, AN INSATIABLE NEED FOR ACCLAIM, AND A PROCLIVITY FOR A VINDICTIVE AND DISPROPORTIONATE RESPONSE.

WHAT COULD POSSIBLY GO WRONG?

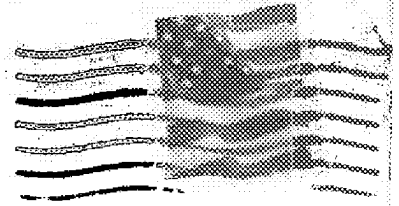

THIS RISKS PAVING THE WAY FOR VOTER FRAUD FROM THE TOP.

SINCERELY,

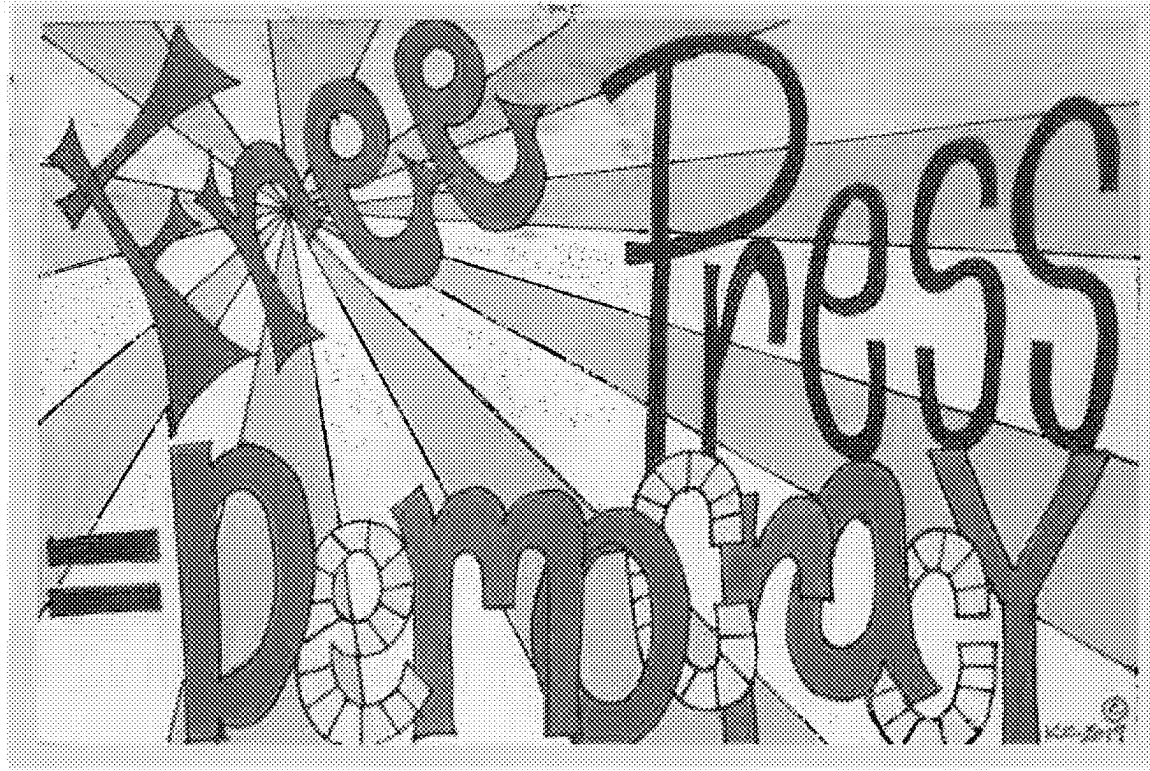

Dear Secretary Gardner,

As you surely know, the State of New Hampshire allows the public to see the voting rolls of the state but not to "print, duplicate, or transmit the data." Given this prohibition, I strongly urge you ~~not~~ to reject any federal request for such data from the so-called Commission on Election Integrity. "Voter fraud" is a fantasy concocted by those who seek to suppress voting by minorities. Please protect the privacy of our state's voters. Yours truly,

Dear Secretary Gardner

Please consider leaving the Pres.

Advisory Commission on Voter Integrity.

The underlying agenda and intentions of this body are so suspect that it is hard to imagine that anyone's confidence in our voting system will be improved by its actions. The latest action taken, requesting the personal and public records of America's voters only underscores the compromised nature of your doings. As a N.H. citizen I am embarrassed that you play a role in this kind of manipulation. [REDACTED] Enforced

Dear Secretary Gardner,

I urge you to NOT provide the

the party affiliation and voting history of the residents of NH.
To do so would compromise the voters' privacy rights and serve only to intimidate voters, which is likely

TRUMP THE DESTROYER BY MATT TAIBBI

A president who is both a tyrant and disinterested in governance would have blown the Founding Fathers' minds.

Nearly two years into our relationship with Donald Trump, politician, his core schtick is no longer really a secret. The new president swings wildly between buffoon and strongman acts, creating confusion and disorder. While his enemies scramble to make sense of the outrages of a week before or yesterday or 10 minutes ago, and spend valuable energy wondering whether the man is crazy or stupid or cunning (or perhaps all three things at once), Trump continually presses forward.

But while we keep looking for his hidden agenda, it's our growing addiction to the spectacle of his car-wreck presidency that is the real threat. He is already making idiots and accomplices of us all, bringing out the worst in each of us, making us dumber just by watching. Even if Trump never learns to govern, after four years of this we will forget what civilization ever looked like - and it will be programming, not policy, that will have changed the world. ☪

Secretary Gardner,
I have serious concerns about you sitting on the partisan "Electoral Integrity Committee." It is really just a front to suppress voting rights. You should demand that the commission include Democrats and moderate Republicans.

Dear Mr. Gardner,

Hope this finds you well. I'm writing to you over your recent comments: "New Hampshire people aren't accustomed to walking away or stepping down from their civic duty, and I will not either." Well, I'm now doing mine, never mind that bit about living in another hemisphere.

I also apologize for my penmanship. I type at 100 words per minute, but pens continue to elude me. Sigh.

The claim that the Commission on Election Integrity ~~is~~ there to bolster confidence in your democracy, rather than erode it, was never credible. It's even less so now that Kobach - in a meeting he chaired - publicly doubled down on his accusation that your state's Senate sent its presidential electors, and the entire Obamacare defeat did not reflect the will of the people but were instead decided by crime and treachery.

This is wrong on the facts, of course, but what does that have to do with it? The cry that ~~the~~ <sup>N.H.'s</sup> elections were stolen was taken up by American citizens. It will not stop for years

We can't afford to be overdramatic, so to be fair to Mr. Trump, he doesn't assault the foundations of democracy so much so as give them an occasional whack before wandering off to golf. That being said, it took Poland less than two years to attempting to dismiss the Supreme Court and end the separation of powers. America's democratic heritage commands respect and does you credit. It does not make you invulnerable.

The Commission was founded on lies, operates on lies, and lies are its raison d'être. It's there to soothe Trump's fragile ego, and to do so it traffics in some of the most pernicious lies possible in a democracy: that there were millions of fraudulent votes, that entire ~~states~~ states were stolen, that the citizens of the United States do not have ~~of~~ the recourse of a functioning democracy. Do your civic duty, deny it credibility:

Resign. Thank you, and have a good autumn.
(Any good we get out of the Commission pales <sup>compared to</sup> its doing)
Yours painstakingly extracted

Hello, my name is [REDACTED] and I'm a concerned citizen from Baltimore, 21218.

I'm writing to demand that you resign from the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. It is clear this administration's goal is to disenfranchise voters and promote falsehoods about voter fraud, and by remaining on this commission, you are complicit in these actions.

Thank you for your time and attention.
