

Muhlenberg College/Morning Call
Pennsylvania Registered Democrat Survey
April 2019

Key Findings:

1. With the 2020 Democratic Presidential Primary in Pennsylvania just over one year away, former Vice President Joe Biden holds an early lead in the state over a crowded field of fellow Democrats seeking their party's nomination.
2. Just over a quarter (28%) of registered Democrats identified Biden as their choice if the election were held today, with Vermont Senator Bernie Sanders garnering support from 16% of those polled and fellow Democratic Senators Elizabeth Warren (MA) and Kamala Harris (CA) receiving 8% each.
3. Health care was identified as the most important issue registered Democrats in the state are considering for the 2020 race with 1 in 3 voters polled identifying this issue. Beating President Trump in the next election was the second most common issue identified by voters with 10% of respondents indicating this issue.
4. When asked to choose between a candidate that they agree with more but who would struggle to beat President Trump and one that they agree with less but would be more likely to beat the President in the 2020 race, 55% chose the candidate that they agreed with less on issues but was more likely to win.
5. A majority (56%) of Democrats in the Keystone State prefer that their representatives in Congress compromise with Republicans compared with only 34% who would prefer Democrats in Congress stick to their beliefs at the cost of little getting done.
6. A strong majority of registered Democrats in Pennsylvania support varied forms of "Medicare for All" plans that are being discussed in the race.
7. Registered Democrats in Pennsylvania expressed similar degrees of favorability to socialism and capitalism as economic systems, with half indicating that they would consider voting for a candidate who described his or her self as a "socialist."

Methodological Statement:

The following report contains the results of a telephone survey of 405 registered Democrat voters in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania between April 3 and 10, 2018. Respondents were interviewed in English on both landlines (158) and cell phones (247). With a randomly selected sample of respondents the margin of error for the surveys is +/- 5.5% at a 95% level of confidence. Margins of error for questions with smaller sample size will be larger. In addition to sampling error, one should consider that question wording and other fielding issues can introduce error or bias into survey results. The data has been weighted to gender and region to reflect voter population parameters. The calculation of sampling error takes into account design effects due to the weighting identified above. In order to reach a representative sample of likely voters both land lines and cell phones were called up to 3 times. The response rate for this survey as calculated using the American Association of Public Opinion Research (AAPOR) RRII formula is approximately 7%. The sampling frame for the study is from the registered voters files of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with only voters that are registered as Democrats included in the frame. Due to rounding the totals provided in the frequency report may not total 100%. The survey instrument (presented in its entirety below) was designed by Dr. Christopher P. Borick of the MCIPO in conjunction with the staff of the Morning Call. The survey was funded exclusively by the Morning Call and the MCIPO.
