Hi Ashley,

No problem – see attached. To confirm, the change for the AM is still taking place, correct?

Thanks!

Thanks!

Hi Everyone,

Please see attached for an (almost final) agenda! Just waiting on final confirmation for Drs. Martin and McCray participation in the working lunch and identification of participants for the wrap-up.

Scott, would any of the senior leadership copied on the calendar invites be interested in facilitating this wrap-up? We have sent invites for Dr. Martin's 1x1 and the Malaria meeting (copying SL as requested for awareness), but I believe the other invites will come from Dr. Redfield's calendar?

Hoping to send out a final agenda to everyone by COB today (or latest early tomorrow) before I head out of town around 12pm tomorrow. Let me know if I'm missing anything!

Thanks and take care,
Sukeshi

Hey all,

I just spoke with Dr. Redfield and there's one change/update that he'd like us to reflect. For lunch, he would like to include Hank T., Dr. Martin, Jono, and Phil Lobue. I think this means we should plan for lunch here in the DCR. I know that Teresa and others were working through what that might look like. Let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Thanks,

Ashley/Scott – have you all been able to get confirmation of this agenda with Dr. Redfield? We especially need sign-off on the format of the CDC Director’s Forum so that we can start internal promotion.

Question about photography (for Joel/Sukeshi) – besides the Director’s Forum, do you want the photographer to be present for any other part of the day?

FYI as well – for internal promotion, we will be promoting via CDC Connects, CDA announcement, Director’s email, and small posters in the elevators and e-posters on marquees on as many campuses as we can (with limited time we can’t print a large poster).

Thanks,

Thanks Sukeshi for sending this out.

In addition to the questions below, we'd like you to add/revise these questions as well:

I plan to meet with KLD to discuss this this afternoon at 3 so I may have some revisions to this after that meeting. Do you mind holding on sending to Mark until after I meet with KLD?

Thanks!

Subject: RE: Mark Dybul Planning Call

Hi All,

As a follow-up to our meeting yesterday, I have attached an updated agenda for Dr. Dybul's visit to CDC on 10/15. It seems if Dr. Dybul participates in both the CDC Senior Leadership Meeting and the HIV Brief & Lab Tour there will not be much time for additional meetings/discussions. However, we do have some options if he participates in one or the other. We've added a couple of comments to identify where there are opportunities for adjustments depending on Dr. Redfield's priorities for the visit, but let us know if you have any questions.

I've also listed some draft questions below for Dr. Dybul when we reach out to him today to touch-base and set up a call for the middle of next week (likely Weds). Mansy and Brad, let me know if we've captured all of the comms/logistics questions that we will need answers to in the short term.

Hi Scott:

A senior delegation from Management Sciences for Health (MSH) will be visiting CDC HQ in Atlanta on July 6th, 2018. The delegation will be led by the MSH President and C.E.O., and they have a specific interest in Global Health Security. The following individuals will be coming from MSH:

- * Marian Wentworth, President and CEO, MSH
- * Katrena Henderson, Senior Director, Corporate Partnerships and Foundation Relations
- * Ashley Arabasadi, Health Security Policy Advisor and GHSAC Chair
- * Anton Luchytsky, Senior Technical Advisor

You can find additional details about MSH at the following URL: <http://www.msh.org/> Marian's biographical sketch can be found here: <http://www.msh.org/users/marian-wentworth>

MSH specifically requested a courtesy meeting with Dr. Redfield during their time in Atlanta if his schedule permits. Note that in addition to meeting with Dr. Redfield, the delegation will be meeting with CGH Director Martin, CDCF President Monroe, and POCs within CGH/DGHP. They have also requested a meeting with OPHPR Director Redd (unconfirmed).

Can you please let us know if Dr. Redfield would be interested/available to meet with this MSH delegation on July 6th?

Thank you!
Thomas

Seth and Scott,

Thank you for the call last week. Tracie, it is nice to meet you virtually.

Currently, internally at Pfizer, we are reviewing Friday, October 19, with Tuesday, November 20, as a back-up date.

If October 19, Mikael has a speaking engagement in the morning. That given, I anticipate the jet will land in Atlanta at 12:30 p.m. and then travel to your site.

If the meeting ends up having to take place on November 20, the anticipated arrival time into Atlanta would be approx. 10:30 a.m. (timing is flexible).

Kindly confirm that October 19 and November 20 can work on your end and that the timing listed above will be fine for each day.

Regards,

Ann

Tracie,

Please confirm that the meeting will be held on November 20 from 11 a.m. – 2 p.m. ET (including a lunch break or working lunch). Once the time is confirmed, will you kindly send an Outlook calendar invite (including location details – address, building, room #) to the following Pfizer colleagues:

Mikael Dolsten, President, Worldwide Research and Development – mikael.dolsten@pfizer.com
Kathrin Jansen, Senior Vice President and Head, Vaccine R&D – kathrin.jansen@pfizer.com

I will be working on the logistics for this trip. We can correspond separately regarding any particular clearances/specific instructions that may be needed for the driver and/or passengers to gain access to the campus as well as for the visitors to enter the building. If lunch is to be served, I would like to discuss dietary restrictions with you.

Rosalie Go will be the point person on Pfizer's side in terms of content preparation, discussion planning, etc.

Mikael is very much looking forward to the visit in November.

A 2 p.m. hard stop will work well.

I reviewed preferred flight times with Mikael yesterday. We will plan on having the jet depart New Jersey at 8:30 a.m. for an arrival into Atlanta at approx. 10:20 a.m. How long does it take to get from Signature Flight Support, 3150 Corsair Drive, Atlanta, GA to your office at that time of the day? Is the address 1600 Clifton Rd, Atlanta, GA 30329? If yes, it seems as though it is approx. 20 minutes without traffic.

Seth and Scott,

Thank you for the call last week. Tracie, it is nice to meet you virtually.

Currently, internally at Pfizer, we are reviewing Friday, October 19, with Tuesday, November 20, as a back-up date.

If October 19, Mikael has a speaking engagement in the morning. That given, I anticipate the jet will land in Atlanta at 12:30 p.m. and then travel to your site.

If the meeting ends up having to take place on November 20, the anticipated arrival time into Atlanta would be approx. 10:30 a.m. (timing is flexible).

Kindly confirm that October 19 and November 20 can work on your end and that the timing listed above will be fine for each day.

Regards,

Ann

We will be meeting in Building 21, 12th Floor, in Conference Room 12302. Also, I will send a menu from one of our nearby restaurants for the team to choose what they would like for lunch.

For right now and for access to our campus, I just need to verify that all the visitors are US Citizens.

If this time doesn't work, could you offer some times on Thursday, Dec. 20th or Friday, Dec. 21st?

Dr. Redfield will just be returning to the office from international. Also, several key CDC participants will actually be in an all-day meeting with USAID staff at CDC on December 14th. Therefore, they will not be available to participate and it probably makes more sense to have the VTC with Dr. Redfield sometime after the all-day USAID/CDC all-day meeting.

Thank you for your consideration.

Teresa,

I'm happy to work with you to figure out schedules but I know we are flexible and defer to Dr. Redfield's.

One question from Dr. Mermin was whether we could do a briefing at 8:30AM (i.e., first thing in the morning for Dr. Redfield). Just a thought. That way our folks could start their day at Roybal.

Thanks,

Alyson

Ashley,

We learned today that this Thursday's TB briefing will now be via telephone.

I spoke to our leadership today and our preference is to have it be in-person.

There isn't an urgency to this meeting; is possible to schedule it for January?

Thanks,

Alyson

I'm sure by now you've heard that we have to reschedule. I truly do apologize. We fought to keep this on, but in the end we were OBE.

We will ensure he receives these materials and defer to you on a path forward to schedule something in person (either a brief or a tour).

Apologies again.

We just learned a few hours ago that Tuesday or Wednesday Dr. Redfield will have to go to DC to meet with OMB. In anticipation of this schedule change, do you think we could go ahead and just look to reschedule the HIV briefing/tour for January?

Ashley,

In preparation for Dr. Redfield's upcoming TB and HIV laboratory briefings, attached you will find the relevant background materials (summarized below) for each meeting. As you are aware, meetings such as these take quite a bit of preparation, especially in the instances where a tour is involved. Given that both discussions have had to be rescheduled a few times, do you have any insight on whether they are expected to remain on the calendar? If there is a chance of them being moved again, it may be better to cancel the tour and briefing entirely for the time being and inquire if the written materials are sufficient in providing Dr. Redfield the information needed.

Let us know your thoughts and whether you have any questions on the materials.

Thanks,

Sara

I just wanted to be sure that in rescheduling, we were doing it on a day that has a higher probability of Dr. Redfield being around.

Teresa—If you can confirm with Rhanika Perry about Dr. Mermin’s schedule, that would be ideal. I know Rhanika was looking into rescheduling the conflicting meeting on the 14th to ensure he could make this briefing.

Ashley – Just a few questions about the TB lab briefing:

- Did you all coordinate with the division on the day/time change? I just want to confirm because I just checked with Dr. Mermin's scheduler and she hadn't been contacted and he has a conflict we are going to move.
- Do we feel good about January 14 being stuck to—and I ask that knowing that there is a lot you don't control, but I also know there are some days that you just know will work better than others?
As good as we ever do. I don't see any specific reason that it would change at this point, but it is budget season, so if AMA calls him to DC for anything, he will obviously have to go, which is maybe the only potential change I can foresee.
- I hadn't been aware there was a lab tour component to this briefing. Is that the case? Or, is this something new?
I may be conflating the HIV tour with a TB lab tour. On second look, I think you're right that we are substituting this briefing for a tour, so no need for both.

Alyson

Ok to clear from calendar altogether. I think program had pushed to schedule this in concert with the TB lab tour. If there is no need to link the two, and we're having trouble scheduling, then as long as you are comfortable dropping then we are comfortable with that decision.

Ashley,

I spoke with Bill, and we'll keep the attendance as we've noted below. While we are engaging across our respective similar programs (EIS/FETP, data systems, etc.) he felt that for the broader CDC-development they wouldn't need to be included and we can keep to our current path of our ongoing systems/program specific synergies.

Best,
Nancy

Ashley,

I spoke with Bill, and we'll keep the attendance as we've noted below. While we are engaging across our respective similar programs (EIS/FETP, data systems, etc.) he felt that for the broader CDC-development they wouldn't need to be included and we can keep to our current path of our ongoing systems/program specific synergies.

Best,

Nancy

Subject: Recurring 30 minute calls between Dr. Robert Redfield (CDC) and Dr. Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus (WHO) RE:

Good morning Lindsey,

I hope you are doing well.

Dr. Redfield would like to schedule recurring 30 minute calls with Dr. Tedros every two or three weeks, whichever works best for Dr. Tedros.

Could we schedule the first call on October 24th 9:30-10:00 a.m. ET?

I think once we are able to schedule the first call, we can work on the frequency for the recurring schedule.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Kind Regards,

Teresa

My initial reaction is we go with Papi's on the 12/14 date – we lock in the date w/ SL now and go with the place that is easiest and cheapest ☺

We ask them to block off the back of the restaurant. And tell SL they can bring +1 Others?

Please see attached for consideration.

BLUF: Three nearby places for consideration, all avail for dinner on Friday 12/14, and the majority of SLs also avail then.

For Decision: which place is preferred, and is dinner on 12/14 is ok?

After polling SLs, a dinner would be better attended, however, if only interested in lunch, then Petite Violette is only avail on Nov 30th and has a 30 person minimum. Papi's is avail on both Nov 30 or Dec 14th with no minimum.

We're unsuccessful at getting options from the Emory Conf Center Hotel, but if interested in that venue, we'll try them again. Also happy to look at other venues if necessary.

Morning –

I spoke to both Kyle and KLD. This year, I recommend we find a restaurant that would block off an area for us. We would charge per person and have a buffet. I think we did this once before? I was thinking Papi's across the street, but obviously there are many options. We could look at lunch w/out spouses or after hours w/ spouses.

Thanks

Please add Friday, 14 December @ 6-9pm to calendars for the Holiday Senior Leader's Social. Mark will be the Lead for this event, and for coordination with Papi's Cuban & Caribbean Grill across the street (our venue). Tracie will work on an invite for us, using her talents from previous events, and Teresa, once it's ready and I can approve it, I'd like you to get it sent out this week from R3's calendar, and to all the SLs that you polled.

Here are some general details for the invite & everyone's awareness.

- Mark is primary POC & Protocol/Logistics Lead and BB & TW are secondary
- SLs can bring a +1
- Dinner will be a buffet, payment options, and RSVP details will be provided by Mark once he confirms the event with the restaurant

Thanks!

I hope you're both doing well.

As a follow-up from yesterday's call, it was discussed that IAPAC should visit Atlanta in September to have an in-person meeting with Dr. Redfield, Eugene, and Amanda and give a formal briefing about the Fast-Track Cities Initiative. I wanted to reach out and put this on your radar so that we may start coordinating.

Could you provide some dates that would be suitable for IAPAC to visit?

Subject: Meeting in September

Hello Teresa and Tracie,

I hope you're both doing well.

As a follow-up from yesterday's call, it was discussed that IAPAC should visit Atlanta in September to have an in-person meeting with Dr. Redfield, Eugene, and Amanda and give a formal briefing about the Fast-Track Cities Initiative. I wanted to reach out and put this on your radar so that we may start coordinating.

Could you provide some dates that would be suitable for IAPAC to visit?

I look forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,

Adrian

Hello Teresa and Tracie,

I hope you're both doing well.

As a follow-up from yesterday's call, it was discussed that IAPAC should visit Atlanta in September to have an in-person meeting with Dr. Redfield, Eugene, and Amanda and give a formal briefing about the Fast-Track Cities Initiative. I wanted to reach out and put this on your radar so that we may start coordinating.

Could you provide some dates that would be suitable for IAPAC to visit?

I look forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,

Adrian

Subject: RE: AMA Flu Vaccine Briefing Date Change

Hi Teresa,

I'll talk to NCHS and OPHSS. Dr. Redfield would prefer to meet with Charlie anyways. FYI I reached out to Frank Dilley (for another reason) and Chesley should also be available that date.

In the larger scheme of things Dr. Redfield would like to get to know the program and have more detailed scientific conversations, similar to Fort Collins. He expressed desire in spending a day or two at NCHS, which we can split up as it makes sense with his travel. I think getting Charlie and Chesley on this first one will be great and then less critical for the next visit. I'll talk to Christy about the agenda for October.

Next weeks, we will want to schedule a 30min briefing with Chesley to get Dr. Redfield up to speed on NCHS. Call would be fine, but in person would be best.

Thanks,

Hugh

I've added the NCHS Visit back on the calendar for October 22nd from 1-3 p.m.

I'm assuming Hugh reached out to NCHS to cancel, if that's the case will Hugh contact them to reconfirm October 22nd?

Hi Scott,

If Dr. Redfield's schedule permits next week, could we try to find 30 minutes to an hour for Eric Deussing to provide an update to Dr. Redfield on the progress of the CDC/DOD workgroup? If next week is too packed, then we could look for a time in the new year.

Thank you so much,

Hi Tracie and Teresa!

I hope you are doing well! It is our understanding from Steve Monroe that Dr. Redfield would like a briefing on the HIV lab. Might you share some times that would work for Dr. Redfield in October for a briefing and a lab tour? 1.5 hours would be ideal given the content.

Thanks so much!

Please let me know if you would like to continue with the HIV briefing for 30 minutes from 2-2:30 p.m. by phone, and reschedule the tour at a later date in December or keep them both together.

Dr. Redfield is available December 18th from 3:00-4:30 p.m. to reschedule.

If this date does not work, I can offer dates in January 2019 to reschedule.

My apologies for any inconvenience.

Hi Tracie and Teresa!

I hope you are doing well! It is our understanding from Steve Monroe that Dr. Redfield would like a briefing on the HIV lab. Might you share some times that would work for Dr. Redfield in October for a briefing and a lab tour? 1.5 hours would be ideal given the content.

Thanks so much!

Hopefully that's ok - will send calendar invite shortly to meet in Dr. Redfields office – what's the exactly location please?

FYI – his flight leaves ATL at 5pm – so would like to get him on the road by 3pm – will that give him time enough to get to airport?

Thanks for checking in. And yes! Dr. Redfield received the information, digested it, and asked for thoughts on next steps. He'd prefer a list of priorities, in consideration of what's causing this problem, and how CDC is thinking about a defined strategy to make progress. He actually requested that we find time on his calendar to meet with the group that developed these materials to discuss well-defined next steps. Thoughts?

Ashley,

I spoke with Bill, and we'll keep the attendance as we've noted below. While we are engaging across our respective similar programs (EIS/FETP, data systems, etc.) he felt that for the broader CDC-development they wouldn't need to be included and we can keep to our current path of our ongoing systems/program specific synergies.

Best,
Nancy

Ashley,

Good afternoon. Yes, Dr. Redfield said he would like an hour for us to present and discuss with him on our vision/longer term plan for building CDCs globally. For this meeting, I would include the three of us (me, Kip, Fatima) as you have noted, and in addition:

Kashef Ijaz – DGHP Principal Deputy

Shelly Bratton – WIDB/DGHP's Team Lead for this program (Fatima is on Shelly's team in Kip's branch)

Rebecca Martin

Hamid Jafari

As to other CIO invitees, I'm discussing with Rebecca as there isn't currently any other CIO that specifically engages on this work, however it could be beneficial to the dialogue to engage CSELS, as we have had a series of other discussions with them over the past year on the synergies and collaborations between my division's various programs and the respective similar programs that work domestically in CSELS. So, if it is ok with you, I'll talk with Bill MacKenzie and get back to you soonest.

Hi, everyone,

I am reaching out in response to request from Dr. Redfield to schedule a one hour briefing on National Public Health Institutes (NPHI). I understand you were in the meeting in which this request was made, and trust that you're aware of the direction of his interest. Apart from the three of you, can you share who you might want to include from CGH (assume Dr. Martin and Dr. Jafarai – others?) in this meeting? Happy to reach out to other CIOs as well.

Teresa,

Once we get a list of names, would you mind helping us find a time in the coming week/s when Dr. Redfield might be free to meet on this topic?

Thanks!

Ashley

Good morning Lindsey,

I hope you are doing well.

Dr. Redfield would like to schedule recurring 30 minute calls with Dr. Tedros every two or three weeks, whichever works best for Dr. Tedros.

Could we schedule the first call on October 24th 9:30-10:00 a.m. ET?

I think once we are able to schedule the first call, we can work on the frequency for the recurring schedule.

I look forward to hearing from you.

This is the 9:30-10:30 meeting on his calendar?

Marissa and I will both be in tomorrow and we will plan to be on hand at 9:30 to assist him. We also have to ITSO staffers in our office who can assist if we can't get him in.

Do you know if this is something he can do from his laptop or will he need to log into the PC in his office. I'm not certain that he has ever done that as he seems to favor his laptop.

Atlanta, GA 30333

Dear Dr. Redfield,

I would like to invite you to be a keynote speaker during the Military Health System (MHS) session at the 127th Annual Association of Military Surgeons of the United States (AMSUS) conference that will be held at the Gaylord Conference Center, National Harbor, Maryland, November 26-30 2018. This year's conference theme is "The Future of Healthcare is Now".

It would be an honor to have you provide the keynote address during the MHS session on November 29, 2018 that would include a follow on panel discussion with Department of Defense (DoD) Senior leaders, Senior Military Healthcare officials and International military leaders to take place between 10:00 and 11:30 a.m., on the following topic: Global Health Security as a Tool for National Security in the Post-Iraq and Afghanistan Era. Your vast experience and knowledge on the topic would be most beneficial to our diverse leadership group as we transform military healthcare and move our efforts beyond the 21st century.

I hope you are able to be part of this event. Should you agree, you will be apportioned 30 minutes to deliver your keynote address and then the panel discussion will take place with a fifteen minute question and answer session from the audience. The target audience is Federal and DoD healthcare professionals, to include active duty personnel, retired/retiring and professionals returning to the civilian health care sector. This year, I can think of no better senior health official to address our healthcare executives.

I hope you will consider this great opportunity. My point of contact for coordination is Lieutenant Commander Tilford Clark who can be reached at tilford.l.clark.mil@mail.mil or by phone at (571)256-0655.

BIO ANTITRUST STATEMENT

All BIO meeting activities shall be conducted to abide strictly by all applicable antitrust laws. The antitrust principles discussed below apply to every meeting or conference call, no matter how informal, in which BIO members and staff gather under BIO auspices.

Antitrust violations do not require proof of a formal agreement. A violation may be alleged based upon the mere appearance of unlawful activity. For example, discussion of a sensitive topic, such as price, followed by parallel action by those involved or present at the discussion, may be sufficient to show a price-fixing conspiracy. It is therefore important for speakers and attendees at BIO meetings to avoid discussing confidential business plans or information that is competitively sensitive, including:

- Company-specific current or future prices, including discounts, rebates, and pricing plans or policies;
- Sales or research in particular markets or sales to particular customers, including whether or how to sell in specific markets, whether to bid for specific business or participate in specific programs, conditions (such as resale restrictions) applicable to particular private or governmental customers, and whether to conduct research in particular areas;
- Advertising and promotion plans, including expected levels of advertising, which products to advertise, content of advertising, and future plans for the number of sales representatives and levels of expenditure on sales activities; and
- How companies might or should respond in the marketplace (such as by changing pricing, sales, distribution, or advertising policies) in light of existing or pending laws or regulations or current business or policy climates, including the suggestion of boycotts, or refusals to deal with, particular markets or customers.

This list of generally prohibited topics is not exhaustive. By the same token, it is generally fine to discuss the nature of government regulations or policies on pricing, advertising and other aspects of pharmaceutical or biotechnology company business and advocacy efforts to address these government regulations or policies, as long as the discussions are limited to matters of public policy and advocacy.

Criminal prosecution by federal or state authorities is a very real possibility for violations of the antitrust laws. Imprisonment, fines or treble damages may ensue. BIO, its members and guests must conduct themselves in a manner that avoids even the perception or slightest suspicion that antitrust laws are being violated. Whenever uncertainty exists as to the legality or propriety of conduct, including during any meeting or discussion, promptly obtain legal advice by contacting Peter McHugh, BIO's General Counsel, at (202) 312-9285.

The antitrust laws do not prohibit meetings among members of a trade association in order to petition government or respond to government initiatives, to educate and inform the public, or to suggest quality and safety standards, thereby promoting economic welfare and the vitality of our several industries. It is in this spirit that BIO conducts its meetings and conferences.

Subject: AMA Staff Brief re: UAC Update

Leading the Discussion: Lynn Johnson, HHS

Purpose of the Call: To update AMA on UAC

Decision from call / Discussion: CDC is providing technical assistance in three areas all geared toward minimizing the risk that any contagious disease would spread more widely and ultimately to the domestic U.S. population. Specifically:

- Assessment of influenza risk –
 - CDC is actively looking at our current U.S. and global influenza data to assess the risk of influenza in the border region. Current activities include a series of assessments of influenza activity and laboratory characterization, as reported in CDC's FluView.
 - CDC is working with the relevant state departments of health to evaluate the risk among the relevant populations.
 - CDC will continue to provide support to the state health departments in their evaluation of cause of deaths.

(b)(5)

Special Assistant: TBD

Hi Brad and Mark,

We have a few questions for the organizer of this event regarding Dr. Redfield's remarks. Would you like to reach out or would you prefer we reach out directly? Our questions are as follows:

- ? Currently we have the time of the presentation at 20-25 minutes including QA with a recommended topic of Dr. Redfield's vision for CDC. Just confirming this is still correct.
- ? Would slides be appropriate for this talk?
- ? Are you able to provide us with sample QA or will questions come from the audience?
- ? Is there a location scheduled at this time?

Thanks in advance!

What do you guys think about seeing if Anne, Sherri, Kyle, or KLD are interested? Maybe work thru their SAs or EAs to check? If any are, then great, we can hand off, but if not, I'd think we skip asking any other SLs, especially if we're rescheduling R3 for a later date.

Please note the email below.

Buckhead Business Association is asking if we can provide a speaker from our leadership that would be interested in speaking on October 11th since Dr. Redfield will be traveling.

They would also like to reschedule Dr. Redfield for a future date in 2019 since they are booked for the rest of the year.

Please advise if we should provide a delegate. If so, who?

Thanks,

Hi Teresa,
Diana mentioned to me that Dr. Redfield has to reschedule. That is no problem at all, but we would definitely like to reschedule him! It may be for a date next year, since our event calendar for the rest of the year is booked. Diane will be in touch regarding some future dates. In the meantime, I was wondering if there is someone else from your leadership team that would be interested in speaking to our members on October 11? We would love to get an update on the CDC, and maybe some health precautions to take in the workplace.

Thank you,
Smita

Hi Raimi,

Thank you for facilitating this call. Dr. Redfield is interested in you joining if possible. The purpose of the call is to discuss the two topics that Peter Salama raised and we discussed on yesterday's call. [REDACTED] (b)(5) [REDACTED] (b)(5) it would also be useful to add Pierre as the current CDC representative to the MoH.

Teresa, could you please share a bridge line, and if agreeable to the Minister the following participants? Ewetola, Raimi (CDC/CGH/DGHT) <hcx6@cdc.gov>; Rollin, Pierre (CDC/OID/NCEZID) <pyr3@cdc.gov>

Raimi, if the MoH would prefer it to be a one-on-one we can proceed with a direct call, but Dr. Redfield thought it would be helpful for you and Pierre to be engaged for continuity and follow up.

Many thanks,

Hugh

United States Senate

November 26, 2018

Robert R. Redfield, MD
Director
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
1600 Clifton Road
Atlanta, GA 30329

Dear Director Redfield,

I write today regarding the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's health care provider outreach and education on proper vaccine administration and, specifically, reducing vaccination errors.

Safe and effective vaccines are one of the greatest public health achievements in history and I strongly support ongoing innovation and development of new lifesaving vaccines. Additionally, vaccines have directly resulted in significant declines in a number of deadly diseases and nearly eradicated many of them entirely. We must continue to bolster Americans' improved access to and increased utilization of vaccines and I applaud the CDC's efforts and successes in this area.

Earlier this year it came to my attention that an increased number of claims are being filed and compensated with the Vaccine Injury Compensation Program for Shoulder Injury Related to Vaccine Administration, or SIRVA. While I understand that the Vaccine Injury Compensation Program is not under the purview of the CDC, SIRVA is particularly relevant to your agency's mission because it is understood to be caused by provider administration error – and it is preventable. I appreciate that the CDC and the Health Resources Services Administration are conducting a scientific review of the SIRVA claims compensated under the Vaccine Injury Compensation Program. I look forward to the completion of that review, as well as supporting the agencies' efforts to better identify cases of SIRVA and tailor provider outreach and education accordingly.

At my request, the Subcommittee included the language below in the Fiscal Year 2019 Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations Bill, which was signed into law by the President on September 28, 2018 as part of the Continuing Appropriations Act of 2019 [Public Law No: 115-245].

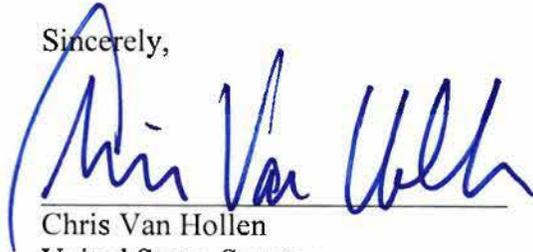

Vaccine Administration.—The Committee applauds the ongoing innovation of these important products for children, adolescents, and adults. As more life-saving vaccines are developed, and patient access continues to expand, the Committee aims to ensure that vaccines are properly administered. As such, the Committee encourages CDC to evaluate its outreach and provider education programs and identify additional efforts CDC could undertake to ensure proper vaccine administration.

STATE OFFICES

Through CDC's implementation of this report language, I strongly urge your agency to work with partners on evidence-based interventions, including provider education, to prevent vaccination errors such as SIRVA.

Thank you in advance for your attention to this matter. I look forward to learning more about CDC's implementation of the FY2019 report language and continuing to stay in touch on this important issue.

Sincerely,

Hi -

We heard back from Sen Van Hollen's office. Unfortunately, Senator isn't available when R3 is.

By chance, does R3 have any time Thurs during these windows? Van Hollen is available between:

9-10am; 2:30 -3:30;or 4:45-6

I am out of the office, would look at R3's calendar if I were at my desk. Sorry! And thank you!

Now that R3 has his SCI there were things that Azar wanted Schmoyer to read him in on. If we haven't done that in DC during August we can do it while he is here.

Hi,

We're looking to hold 30-60 minutes for a briefing/mock interview in advance of CBS News. Is Dr. Redfield available late afternoon on Tuesday, Oct. 16th, after he records the taped remarks for AI/AN Heritage Month and the substance use disorder provider education? If that day doesn't work, please let me know if there are other options that week.

Thanks,
Kate

2. Event Information:

Event Host: The Geography and Geospatial Science Working Group (GeoSWG)

Purpose of Event: Over the past decade a relatively modest GIS-Day meeting has developed into a prominent experience bringing public health practitioners together, sharing innovative and inspiring applications of geospatial and spatio-temporal methods to public health programs and research. For this inaugural event the planning committee has identified "Activity Space" for the conference theme. Among other things, an individual's activity space clearly has an important impact on one's exposures to environmental hazards/contaminants, infectious diseases, and access to health care services. Focusing on "Activity Space" we hope to bring greater awareness to the importance of incorporating such spatial and temporal information into our research and prevention programs; promoting the importance of taking into account all aspects of our day-to-day movement patterns and how movement through and interactions with this space are critical to promoting health.

GeoSWG is a CDC science-based organization of geographers, geospatial scientists, epidemiologists, statisticians, social and behavioral scientists, and others who work with spatially-referenced data, or have an interest in learning more about the relationship between geography and health.

Agenda (if applicable): TBD

Number of Attendees and Composition: 150 CDC employees and other subject matter experts.

Key Participants (if applicable): Dr. Georges Benjamin, the Executive Director of APHA, is the keynote speaker from 9:30 – 10:30 AM. Dr. Patrick Breysse, Dir., NCEH/ATSDR, has also been asked to provide welcoming remarks.

Bios: TBD

Source Invitation: Yes on the 6/25/18 DL; only 5 – 10 min. for remarks.

3. Dr. Redfield's Speech Information or Talking Points (TPs):

Dr. Redfield's Remarks/Presentation/TPs: TBD

Proposed Role and Topic: Present opening remarks on the role of place in health, and how incorporating spatial analysis and spatio-temporal methods can improve our understanding of the effects of place on health, how these methods can inform prevention programs, and why GIScience is important to public health and the CDC.

Length of Presentation: 5 – 10 min.

Event Details

What is the purpose of this event?: Over the past decade a relatively modest GIS-Day meeting has developed into a prominent experience bringing public health practitioners together, sharing innovative and inspiring applications of geospatial and spatio-temporal methods to public health programs and research. For this inaugural event the planning committee has identified “Activity Space” for the conference theme. Among other things, an individual’s activity space clearly has an important impact on one’s exposures to environmental hazards/contaminants, infectious diseases, and access to health care services. Focusing on “Activity Space” we hope to bring greater awareness to the importance of incorporating such spatial and temporal information into our research and prevention programs; promoting the importance of taking into account all aspects of our day-to-day movement patterns and how movement through and interactions with this space are critical to promoting health.

Proposed role of Director?: speaker

If the Director is unable to attend, would you still be interested in a CDC speaker?: YES

Hi.

My understanding is that Robert Hall asked Dr. Redfield during their meeting to consider a viewing at CDC in the visitors center for local Rotarians and others to watch the event. We are assessing options related to this and will revert as soon as we know more.

I sent this information to the people from the Museum. One quick question, if the museum staff would like to set up the table earlier, how early can they set it up?

It is my understanding that there is event taking place in the facility before our event.

Hi Rossmary and LaToya –

Since you both have asked essentially the same question, I wanted to share the following with both of you. Below is some general information and the high level run of show for the Rotary/CDC WPD event.

This should give both the history project and UNICEF folks a sense of what we are thinking. For the history project, I'd suggest that they have their table set up by 4:00 pm as people will come early. If they can have someone there from then, or at least 5 pm, through 6:30 it would be ideal. For UNICEF/VR, same thing. We'd want them on campus early to set up, get through security etc. So if they could be here by 3:30 at the latest that would give them 60 minutes before people may show up (very early.....). If they end up with a ton of extra time we can have a CDCer accompany them to the museum for a few minutes. Better early than late though.

Let me know if you have any additional questions.
Suzanne

I sent this information to the people from the Museum. One quick question, if the museum staff would like to set up the table earlier, how early can they set it up?

It is my understanding that there is event taking place in the facility before our event.

Hi Rossmary and LaToya –

Since you both have asked essentially the same question, I wanted to share the following with both of you. Below is some general information and the high level run of show for the Rotary/CDC WPD event.

This should give both the history project and UNICEF folks a sense of what we are thinking. For the history project, I'd suggest that they have their table set up by 4:00 pm as people will come early. If they can have someone there from then, or at least 5 pm, through 6:30 it would be ideal. For UNICEF/VR, same thing. We'd want them on campus early to set up, get through security etc. So if they could be here by 3:30 at the latest that would give them 60 minutes before people may show up (very early.....). If they end up with a ton of extra time we can have a CDCer accompany them to the museum for a few minutes. Better early than late though.

Let me know if you have any additional questions.
Suzanne

Thanks Gena! R3 may only be available for the 5pm session due to a pending dinner invite with the Israeli CDC Leadership and the Ambo (as part of their visit). We'll know more in the coming weeks, so can we revisit in a couple weeks?

Can you secure the email exchange between Kyle and Robert Hall? That would help with the planning on my end. I am speaking with Robert Hall on Wednesday. I will circle back later in the week after my planning call with Robert Hall.

Thanks,

Hi.

My understanding is that Robert Hall asked Dr. Redfield during their meeting to consider a viewing at CDC in the visitors center for local Rotarians and others to watch the event. We are assessing options related to this and will revert as soon as we know more.

Best,
John

Hey Melissa, is CGH working with Rotary to plan something at CDC, like what was done a few years ago? I saw Rebecca's name mentioned about an event/evening reception at the museum and possible Aud-A video program that eve? Any insights will be appreciated.

Thanks!

Hello Mark –

There will not be reserved seating in room 254/55 for the 5 – 5:30 pm VIP reception. It will be an informal space for Dr. Redfield and other CDC leaders to speak with Rotary VIPs. Robert Hall from Rotary will see him walk into the room and introduce folks to Dr. Redfield. Drs. Redd, Messonnier, Martin and Vertefeuille will also be in attendance.

For Dr. Redfield's 5:45 pm remarks, there will be a podium with a microphone located by the entrance to Auditorium B where he will speak from. There will be 3 speakers giving remarks. He will go first, followed by Robert Hall (Rotary) and Rebecca Martin. We slated him first since we know he needs to leave by 6 pm. I've copied the latest run of show below. The gap in time between 5:30 and 5:45 will likely be taken up by him finishing conversations and moving from 254/55 to the front of Aud B.

As a side note. The ACIP session will be ending around 5:15 (latest 5:30) that day so Dr. Redfield may see some overlap of people leaving Auditorium B if he is there closer to 5:30. We are coordinating with NCIRD though to make the transition as easy as possible so their folks can get out without disturbing ours.

Please let me know if you have any additional questions.

Suzanne

Hi there,

I think I sent you an email last week about Dr. Redfield joining our All Hands on 10/25 from 3 or 3:10 until 3:30 to speak about his vision for CGH. If I did not, I sincerely apologize and wonder if could we get it on his DL? I know 10/25 is the Israel CDC visit and his schedule is probably pretty booked.

If I did run it on the DL, then I am not as forgetful as I think and wonder what the timing for the DL responses are?

Thank you so much!

R3 will have to be in the HHS SCIF today sometime between 1-3pm, for about 30-45 min. Seth is confirming the exact time with OSSAM and will advise. Tracie has held the time.

On Monday, R3 will need to be in DC for a biodefense meeting with the NSC at the WH. We are waiting to see if he'll be in DC on his own dime, or here in ATL over the weekend, so then we can decide if he'll need an outbound flight on Monday morning or not. Later that afternoon around 4:15-5pm, Kyle said there will be another meeting at HHS that he'll need to attend as well. Note the NSC WH meeting location below...

Monday, November 19, 2018 from 1:00pm-2:30pm in EEOB 374 (Large).

We will need to book him on the 7pm return from DCA Monday eve.

More to follow.

New test differentiates between Lyme disease, similar illness

Lyme disease is the most commonly reported vector-borne illness in the United States, but it can be confused with similar conditions, including Southern Tick-Associated Rash Illness (STARI). A team of researchers led by Colorado State University has identified a way to distinguish Lyme disease from similar conditions, according to a new study published Aug. 16 in Science Translational Medicine.

Senior author John Belisle, a professor in CSU's Department of Microbiology, Immunology and Pathology, said the findings are significant.

"We were able to tell the difference between early Lyme disease and Southern Tick-Associated Rash Illness by using biomarkers that show us how the body reacts to these illnesses," Belisle said. "This could be important in helping to more accurately detect early Lyme disease, which is crucial because the longer people wait for Lyme disease treatment, the higher the potential risk for having more severe symptoms."

Fast facts: Lyme disease

In 2015, 95 percent of confirmed Lyme disease cases were reported from 14 states:

Connecticut, Delaware, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia and Wisconsin.

SOURCE: Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

The research team, which also included scientists from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, hopes the findings will lay the groundwork for other studies that could lead to better early testing for Lyme disease.

Lyme disease versus STARI

A female lone star tick, found through the eastern and south-central states. Photo: Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

Current laboratory tests aren't sensitive enough to detect Lyme disease infection with high accuracy in the first few weeks of illness. Adding to the complexity, researchers have yet to identify what pathogen causes STARI, which presents a rash and other symptoms nearly indistinguishable from that of Lyme disease: fatigue, fever, headache, and muscle pains. STARI cannot be diagnosed with the current test for Lyme disease.

The geographic boundaries of both diseases are expanding and will overlap even more in the years to come, making the need for a more accurate early test for Lyme disease all the more urgent.

The researchers used mass spectrometry to identify biomarkers of metabolic differences in the two diseases. In doing this, they were able to differentiate early Lyme disease from STARI with an accuracy of up to 98 percent.

Proper diagnosis of Lyme disease important

The blacklegged or deer tick, no bigger than the size of a period at the end of this sentence, transmits Lyme disease. Photo: Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

An estimated 300,000 cases of Lyme disease occur annually in the U.S., with most of the cases occurring in the northeast and upper Midwest. In 2015, 95 percent of confirmed Lyme disease cases were reported from 14 states (see sidebar). Lyme disease is transmitted when blacklegged ticks infected with the bacterium Borrelia burgdorferi bite people. Lone star ticks, which cause STARI, do not transmit B. burgdorferi.

People with untreated Lyme disease may experience a fever, rash, facial paralysis, and arthritis. More severe long-term symptoms include severe headaches, heart palpitations or an irregular heartbeat, nerve pain, problems with short-term memory and inflammation of the brain and spinal cord.

“It is extremely important to be able to tell a patient they have Lyme disease as early as possible so they can be treated as quickly as possible,” said Claudia Molins, first author of the study and a microbiologist in the CDC’s Division of Vector-Borne Diseases. “Most Lyme disease infections are successfully treated with a two- to three-week course of oral antibiotics.”

Molins has a doctorate in microbiology from CSU.

The research team included scientists from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Researchers have also found that Lyme disease-related health care costs are huge. In a 2015 report published in PLOS ONE, a team from the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health found that Lyme disease costs the U.S. health-care system between $712 million and $1.3 billion a year in return doctor visits and testing.

CSU tuberculosis, leprosy research offers insight

Belisle saw that the approaches his team has taken with tuberculosis and leprosy — developing biomarkers or biosignatures for diagnosing a disease or the prognosis for a disease — could be applied to developing a diagnostic test for STARI and improving Lyme disease diagnostic tests.

“We have found that all of these infections and diseases are associated with an inflammatory response, but the alteration of the immune response and the metabolic profiles aren’t all the same,” Belisle said.

Metabolic pathways are a linked series of chemical reactions occurring within a cell. “To some extent, your metabolism is going to change based on what your ailments are,” Molins explained. The studies performed were based on this idea that unique metabolic differences are associated with an illness or disease. The research team looked at metabolites, very small molecules produced by the body that include things like sugars, peptides, amino acids, and lipids.

Fine-tuning the test for broader use

Next steps for the team include developing a test that could be used in a diagnostic lab, outside of a research setting.

“The focus of our efforts is to develop a test that has a much greater sensitivity, and maintains that same level of specificity,” Belisle said. “We don’t want people to receive unnecessary treatment if they don’t have Lyme disease, but we want to identify those who have the disease as quickly as possible.”

In the longer-term, Belisle said researchers also hope to monitor how patients respond to treatment.

Study coauthors also include researchers from New York Medical College and the Burnett School of Biomedical Sciences at the University of Central Florida.

Hi Steve,

Hope all is well. We have been watching with a lot of concern as things worsen in DRC as I am sure you have! To that end, I wanted to gauge whether Dr Redfield would be interested in speaking at an event that we (our Center) would sponsor on the Hill sometime in the days ahead. The primary audience would be Congressional staff, but we would invite the biosecurity community more broadly. He could update the audience on what is happening in DRC, how things might evolve, and how CDC might participate.

As relevant background, we are of the firm mind that the USG should let CDC be part of the on the ground response and have been making that case in various ways in the last 10 days.

We would plan the event around his schedule.

Tom Frieden did a couple of our Center events when he was Director, around Ebola and then Zika. We got big audiences for both. The objective would be to engage Congressional audience in this response in a time where there is fierce competition for their energy and attention, so that they could get their bosses interested in leaning in more to support the response.

Would you be willing to talk about this idea with him to see if you and he think it would be useful?

Best

Event Host: OPHPR

Purpose of Event: Reception to follow ceremony. CDC's emergency management program (EMP), initially received accreditation on 10/7/13 by the International Association of Emergency Managers (IAEM) recently endorsed EMAP as the standard for emergency management programs. EMAP, as an independent non-profit organization, fosters excellence and accountability in EMPs by establishing credible standards applied in a peer review accreditation process. The Emergency Management Standard is the only international emergency management standard accredited through the American National Standards Institute.

To achieve and maintain accreditation, CDC demonstrated through documentation and peer assessment verification that its EMP meets the Emergency Management Standard. CDC EMP uses the accreditation to prove the capabilities and capacity of CDC's preparedness and response systems. Accreditation is valid for 5 years and reassessed to maintain accredited status.

When CDC first began its EMAP journey, there were only 46 EMPs that had achieved EMAP accreditation. Today, there are over 100 domestic and 3 international programs EMAP accredited. Maintaining an accredited status demonstrates a continued commitment to CDC's domestic and international partners. Accreditation highlights CDC's preparedness and response capability and capacity.

Hi Ashley,

On behalf of the Division of Emergency Operations in the Center for Preparedness and Response, we are forwarding a request for Dr. Redfield's attendance (and brief remarks) at the Emergency Management Accreditation Program ceremony at which DEO will be awarded its reaccreditation.

The event will be held at the GCC at 1:30 on December 18th. More information about the event is below.

Would you please let us know how we can ensure that this request is considered and hopefully placed on Dr. Redfield's calendar? If there is someone else I should be contacting, please let me know ASAP.

Thanks in advance for your help; we are happy to provide additional information as needed.

Subject: Request for Dr. Redfield attendance at CDC EMAP Reaccreditation Ceremony - Dec 18

Event Title: EMAP Reaccreditation Ceremony

Host by: Centers for Preparedness and Response

Location: Roybal Campus, Global Communication Center building 19, Auditorium A

Event Date: December 18, 2018

Start time: 1pm

End time: 2:30pm

Request CDC Director, Dr. Redfield give the agency acceptance remarks during CDC EMAP Reaccreditation Ceremony.

Background:

CDC's emergency management program (EMP), initially received accreditation on October 7, 2013 by the Emergency Management Accreditation Program (EMAP). The International Association of Emergency Managers (IAEM) recently endorsed EMAP as the standard for emergency management programs. EMAP, as an independent non-profit organization, fosters excellence and accountability in EMPs by establishing credible standards applied in a peer review accreditation process. The Emergency Management Standard is the only international emergency management standard accredited through the American National Standards Institute.

To achieve and maintain accreditation, CDC demonstrated through documentation and peer assessment verification that its EMP meets the Emergency Management Standard. CDC EMP uses the accreditation to prove the capabilities and capacity of CDC's preparedness and response systems. Accreditation is valid for five years and reassessed to maintain accredited status.

When CDC first began its EMAP journey, there were only 46 EMPs that had achieved EMAP accreditation. Today, there are over 100 domestic and three international programs EMAP accredited. Maintaining an accredited status demonstrates a continued commitment to our domestic and international partners. Accreditation highlights CDC's preparedness and response capability and capacity.

Media will be invited.

Reception to follow ceremony.

Hi Scott,

My understanding from CDC was attendance at the VTC would be limited to small CDC team. We can made accommodations for anyone at CDC to attend the tobacco discussion as needed. Yes, we are confirming all the participants from our side, and intend to use the same agenda and same format as before.

Time	What
12:00 pm - 12:30 pm	Dr. Redfield Arrives at White Oak Lunch with Dr. Janet Woodcock, Center for Drug Evaluation and Research
12:30 – 1:00 pm	Modified Risk Tobacco Products Mitch Zeller, Center for Tobacco Products
1:00 – 1:30 pm	Vaccines Dr. Peter Marks, Center for Biologics Evaluation and Research
1:30 – 2:00 pm	Executive Committee – Meet & Greet
2:00 – 3:00 pm	All Hands
3:00 – 3:30 pm	Foodborne illness/Outbreak Response Dr. Steve Ostroff

What time will Dr. Redfield arrive on campus and will he want to have lunch?

Thanks,
Heather

Subject: FDA visit on 23 October

Hi Heather. I hope you've been well since we last spoke. Since we'd like to proceed with Dr. Redfield's visit to FDA on the 23rd, and delay the leader to leader VTC for some future time after the visit, can you please reconfirm if the agenda for the visit will be the same as before (tours, All Staff Meeting, and meeting with your leadership), or if you're considering something else?

Unfortunately Dr. Redfield will probably only travel with one or two others during the visit and we won't have our larger leadership team available.

Thanks for your time!

Scott

U.S. FOOD & DRUG ADMINISTRATION

FDA Senior Leadership

FDA.gov

Organizational Overview

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), is the nation’s oldest consumer protection agency and well-known by the American public. Its structure and authorities have been emulated by most advanced nations, who consider FDA to be the “gold standard” for science-based regulation. FDA’s impact on citizens is far-reaching, given that it regulates their medicines and vaccines, their food as well as that of their pets, their medical devices, even their cell phones and televisions—amounting to products that account for about twenty percent of all dollars spent by consumers each year.

Not only is FDA important to the nation as a first-line protection against harm, it is also an important contributor to the advancement of public health and the well-being of patients with serious diseases. Its role in stimulating innovation contributes to the nation’s economy and efforts to control health care costs. The Agency has evolved in recent years and has engaged consumers and patients alongside the regulated industry and other stakeholders in constant dialogue regarding methods to best protect public health while also stimulating innovation.

FDA leads the world in both the number of new drugs approved and in the timeliness of reviews. In 2015, two-thirds of significant new pharmaceutical advances that were approved anywhere in the world were approved first by FDA—a record of success that, if maintained, will ensure continued U.S. leadership in biomedical innovation. Additionally, FDA worked closely with the food industry, consumer groups, and other stakeholders to revamp how the safety of food is regulated in the United States, resulting in the most sweeping changes in the Agency’s history. The new food safety system is expected to dramatically reduce foodborne deaths, hospitalizations, and illnesses; lower the associated health care costs; and relieve the industry of billions of dollars in annual losses from contaminated food, as well as improve public confidence in the food supply.

Extraordinary advances in technology are leading

FDA’s Mission

FDA is responsible for protecting the public health by ensuring the safety, efficacy and security of human and veterinary drugs, biological products, and medical devices, and by ensuring the safety of our nation’s food supply, cosmetics, and products that emit radiation. FDA also has responsibility for regulating the manufacturing, marketing and distribution of tobacco products to protect the public health and to reduce tobacco use by minors.

FDA is responsible for advancing the public health by helping to speed innovations that make medical products more effective, safer, and more affordable and by helping the public get the accurate, science-based information they need to use medical products and foods to maintain and improve their health.

FDA also plays a significant role in the Nation’s counterterrorism capability. FDA fulfills this responsibility by ensuring the security of the food supply and by fostering development of medical products to respond to deliberate and naturally emerging public health threats.

to an enormous change in the device industry, ranging from software embedded into devices, complex analytics-driven decision support, and technologies like 3-D printing and tissue engineering that are producing a new era of devices tailored to the needs of individuals. FDA is leading the development of a quality systems approach to device regulation, modernizing the clinical trials system and developing an entirely new approach to upgrade the device safety surveillance system.

Dr. Messonnier would also like to join. If it's possible to send a call-in number, that would be great. But if he would like for folks to come to his office, they can do that as well.

If you can let me know what time you plan to schedule the call or meeting, that would be great.

Thanks so much!

Caryl Brzymialkiewicz

Assistant Inspector General and Chief Data Officer
Office of Inspector General
Department of Health and Human Services

Dr. Brzymialkiewicz joined the Office of Inspector General (OIG) within the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) in April 2015 as its first Chief Data Officer (CDO). The collective efforts of the Office of the CDO serve to empower the OIG to use data proactively and become the model for using data to fight fraud, waste, and abuse and improve program efficiency, effectiveness, and economy.

The OIG oversees a >$1 trillion portfolio of health and human services programs. The CDO's office serves as mission catalysts to provide quality data at the fingertips of all OIG employees to support their oversight work of this large and complex portfolio. They focus on enabling OIG staff to leverage technology, data, and data analytics to the maximum extent possible. One of Caryl's teams provides HHS OIG with the framework, tools, and process that enable clear and confident organizational decision making. Another drives organization-wide data maturity to enable trusted analysis. And the third provides a full range of analytics, from simple to sophisticated, while anticipating large issues before they emerge to help OIG protect people and HHS programs. As an example, the office has empowered OIG to get answers on-demand through several self-service tools so that our analysts, auditors, attorneys, evaluators and investigators can now quickly explore additional avenues to combat fraud, waste and abuse.

Prior to joining the HHS OIG, Caryl was the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Risk and Decision Analysis at the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). She also previously served as the Operations Research Division Chief at the Joint Improvised Explosive Device Defeat Organization, and led a team of analysts at the Center for Naval Analyses.

Caryl earned a B.E. in Biomedical Engineering from Vanderbilt University and a M.S. and Ph.D. in Biomedical Engineering from Duke University.

Caryl Brzymialkiewicz

Assistant Inspector General and Chief Data Officer
Office of Inspector General
Department of Health and Human Services

Dr. Brzymialkiewicz joined the Office of Inspector General (OIG) within the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) in April 2015 as its first Chief Data Officer (CDO). The collective efforts of the Office of the CDO serve to empower the OIG to use data proactively and become the model for using data to fight fraud, waste, and abuse and improve program efficiency, effectiveness, and economy.

The OIG oversees a >$1 trillion portfolio of health and human services programs. The CDO's office serves as mission catalysts to provide quality data at the fingertips of all OIG employees to support their oversight work of this large and complex portfolio. They focus on enabling OIG staff to leverage technology, data, and data analytics to the maximum extent possible. One of Caryl's teams provides HHS OIG with the framework, tools, and process that enable clear and confident organizational decision making. Another drives organization-wide data maturity to enable trusted analysis. And the third provides a full range of analytics, from simple to sophisticated, while anticipating large issues before they emerge to help OIG protect people and HHS programs. As an example, the office has empowered OIG to get answers on-demand through several self-service tools so that our analysts, auditors, attorneys, evaluators and investigators can now quickly explore additional avenues to combat fraud, waste and abuse.

Prior to joining the HHS OIG, Caryl was the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Risk and Decision Analysis at the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). She also previously served as the Operations Research Division Chief at the Joint Improvised Explosive Device Defeat Organization, and led a team of analysts at the Center for Naval Analyses.

Caryl earned a B.E. in Biomedical Engineering from Vanderbilt University and a M.S. and Ph.D. in Biomedical Engineering from Duke University.

FYI we are working with ASL attempting to add a members briefing for the HIV Caucus (and possibly the black caucus) to Dr. Redfield's calendar on March 5th. This would respond to Rep. Lee's request for follow up after her discussion with Dr. Redfield. Dr. Girois and possibly other principals would join. Not sure if it will work (it is a fly in day so not sure it is possible to get members) but following is the schedule ASL has proposed. They haven't yet nailed down rooms for the staff level briefings.

10/10:30-11/11:30— offering the HIV Caucus a member level briefing (and seeing if they are open to inviting the Congressional Black Caucus as well)—

11:30-12:30—authorizers, appropriators, leadership staff

Scott,

OA and CDCW are working with Rep. Lee's office to follow up on her interest in sponsoring a member-level briefing on the HIV Initiative with other HHS principals. They're inquiring about March 13 from 4-5 PM. R3 just told Lee's staffer (Diala) today at the briefing that he wanted to be flexible with his schedule to make that happen. Is this a time that he can make work or no?

Also note, we'd have to confirm with HHS the other principals' availability, and that's a long shot – but we thought we'd try.

Peggie

Hi Scott –

Anstice and I just touched base. If you send us one hold in the calendar for hill meetings, CDCW and OA can coordinate on scheduling so as not to double book and will report back to this group for updating his calendar, if that works for you.

Target List includes:

R3 1:1s:

- Senate LHHS Appropriators (priority)
- Pallone/DeGette

R3 & Giroir:

- Murray, Alexander

Best,
Peggie

Circling back on this. He's scheduled to land in DC at 1010am on the 12th, and is available for scheduling until noon, or after the HHS Ebola Hearing prep ends at 3pm. He's also now available on the morning of the 13th since he'll already be in DC. Can you advise if you need specific time holds for the 12th and 13th for ASL or if you want 1:1 time to target members?

We also plan to block some solo time for him to prep for the hearing, but would like to know demands before we do.

Thanks!

Scott

Thanks Scott. We will try to make it work.

If it doesn't work, can we check times for the 12th and 13th? I recognize that we are prioritizing hearing related LHHS meetings, but two of the meetings ASL has asked us to do are with Murray and Alexander which could potentially serve both purposes. Here is the availability ASL gave me for Dr. Giroir who they would like to join for the Murray and Alexander meetings. They would like Dr. Redfield to do the Pallone/DeGette meeting on his own.

Per ASL:

Regarding the 13th...Dr. Giroir can do meetings w/ Alexander and Murray before 11am, 12:15-12:45, or from 2:15-2:45. I'm assuming the only time those windows that works for Dr. Redfield would be 2:15-2:45?

Let me know what is possible. Thanks!!!

We have spoken with Scott (on the phone now during his commute). He asked that we check in with Kyle to confirm that Dr. Redfield could go as late as 1:30 on the hill given his 2:52pm flight to Detroit. We are still working on trying to arrange the member level briefing. Haven't yet been able to confirm member availability but are close and need to know how late we can offer to go. I know Giroir also has a hard stop at 1:30pm, so don't anticipate that we will offer this briefing later than that anyway.

As I mentioned, ASL also asked us to do a meeting with Chairman Pallone and Chair DeGette, but it sounds like that will not be workable. Unless we can squeeze in between 11 and 12:30 but that would be jam packed.

Thanks!

One update re next Tuesday... R3 will be departing earlier for DRC at the US Ambo's request. He's got a 2:52pm flight from DCA on Tuesday afternoon, so he'll have to leave for the airport just after the final hill briefing concludes.

And another update on the HIV briefings for next week...ASL is confirming the staff level briefings for:

9am – 10am: authorizers, appropriators, leadership staff

10am – 11am: all other Hill staff including down dais committee members and caucus staff

Both briefings will be in Senate Dirksen building 192.

We are working on scheduling the member level briefing with the HIV Caucus and possibly the Congressional Black Caucus. Haven't gotten confirmation on that yet.

ASL just also asked if Dr. Redfield could brief E&C Chairman Pallone (D-NJ) and E&C O&I Chair DeGette (D-CO) on the afternoon of the 5th and Sen. Murray and possibly Sen. Alexander on the 13th. I told them he will be here prepping for the Ebola hearing and thought perhaps he could do meetings to discuss both Ebola and HIV.

Thanks!

FYI we are working with ASL attempting to add a members briefing for the HIV Caucus (and possibly the black caucus) to Dr. Redfield's calendar on March 5th. This would respond to Rep. Lee's request for follow up after her discussion with Dr. Redfield. Dr. Girois and possibly other principals would join. Not sure if it will work (it is a fly in day so not sure it is possible to get members) but following is the schedule ASL has proposed. They haven't yet nailed down rooms for the staff level briefings.

10/10:30-11/11:30— offering the HIV Caucus a member level briefing (and seeing if they are open to inviting the Congressional Black Caucus as well)—

11:30-12:30—authorizers, appropriators, leadership staff

12:30-1:30—all other Hill staff including down dais committee members and caucus staff

Thanks Sascha. I'm adding Phoebe, OADC, and my team, for awareness. R3 has noted that he's happy to participate in all PHGRs if that's what is desired, if he's in Atlanta, and if he's available . Teresa can pencil it in on his calendar and we should reassess his availability a few weeks before.

Much appreciated!

Dear Bob,

I am pleased to announce that IHV2019, Progress in HIV/AIDS: Challenges in 2020, will take place October 3-4, 2019 in Baltimore, Maryland at the Four Seasons Hotel in Harbor East. The major themes of this year's meeting are "Zero Transmission" and "Opioid Intersection."

Please accept my invitation to deliver a 30-minute Special Lecture on CDC Response followed by a 5-minute discussion period during Session A, "Responses to the HIV/AIDS Epidemic" scheduled for Thursday, October 3, 2019.

We hope you will also join us for our other dynamic and contemporary sessions where leading scientists will share cutting-edge research, followed by provocative discussion after each presentation. In addition, evening events will include a Welcome Reception and Poster Session on Thursday night as well as an Awards Reception and Dinner on Friday. Announcement of this year's IHV Lifetime Achievement Awardees for Scientific Contributions and Public Service is forthcoming, and we anticipate having a complete and finalized program agenda by late April.

Please reply by email to confirm your participation. Once confirmed, our event organizing team will contact you with further details.

Sherri,

We have a huge opportunity in early February 2019 that will be game-changing for Atlanta and our health and bioscience community. Paul Farmer of the Partners in Health organization will be visiting Atlanta on February 6-7, 2019. He will have Roald Dahl's daughter, Ophelia, and Gary Gottlieb, CEO of Partners in Health with him.

He'll be kicking off his visit with a philanthropic meeting at the Piedmont Driving Club the night of the 6th. I am reaching out to you because he'd like to host a presentation followed by a private lunch for the most iconic global health leaders in town at the CDC on the morning and early afternoon of the 7th. He is staying in town specifically for us – there would be no money ask at the CDC event; he just wants to share his science. My thought is that the presentation would be for around 50 people, and the lunch could be a high-end meeting with 12 -15 people at the most.

Please let me know if the CDC has available space – I think this is a huge opportunity that we should take advantage of. Happy to jump on a call and discuss further!

Thanks,
David

Greetings!

In the aftermath of the White House unveiling its budget request, I understand Director Redfield would be interested in a media interview focused on confronting HIV/AIDS.

I'd like to conduct this interview on behalf of the Washington Blade. Major topics of discussion would be the administration's goal to end new HIV infections by 2030, his earlier work at the height of the epidemic in the 1980s and health disparities facing the LGBT population.

Would Director Redfield be available for an interview by the end of the month?

Thanks. I'm at (b)(6)

Thanks,

Hi Tracie,

Here is additional information for tomorrow's media holds, which will take place at HHS. Dr. Redfield and Loretta will meet Bill Hall in the main ASPA office (647D) at 8:45 am. They will use a smaller conference room right next door (641D) for the prebrief at 9 am, and phone interviews (same room where they did the Washington Times in-person interview.) Bill will be sending us a conference line for the prep, and he or Loretta will handle dialing up the reporters for each interview.

As of now, this is the itinerary:

- Internal (HHS/CDC) pre-brief, 9 am
- New York Times, 9:15 am
- STAT, 9:40 am
- NPR, 10 am

Hope that helps, but any questions, let me know!

Subject: Request for Media Holds for March 18 Vital Signs and NHPC

Hi all,

Since Dr. Redfield is participating in the HIV Vital Signs telebriefing later this month, we'd like to request some time on his calendar for embargoed interviews with select media. Looks like he has flexibility on Friday, March 15; would you please hold 30-60 minutes for interviews? We'd also like to schedule a 30-minute briefing with him either immediately before the interview hold, or earlier in the day.

And as you determine the agenda for the Secretary's visit to CDC on Monday, the 18th, please keep us posted on opportunities to coordinate HIV-related media for them. Also wanted to reflag Dr. Redfield's agreement at a recent communications meeting to build in time for one or two interviews with reporters at NHPC.

Happy to discuss further, but please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Kate

Hi Scott,

Need to know if Dr. Redfield has 30 minutes to meet with the Secretary for Health from Puerto Rico anytime in the afternoon of the 31st or anytime in the morning of February 1. Bob Ruiz and I will be available to accompany the Secretary.

The Secretary will be providing remarks at the Health Equity Forum in the morning of the 31. He is interested in greeting Dr. Redfield and sharing his priorities for Puerto Rico. Previously, the Secretary invited Dr. Redfield to Puerto Rico and these arrangements are pending, but it would be helpful if both met and spoke of each other's priorities.

This meeting would be helpful since Drs. Schuchat, Montero, Redd are not available, and we want to make sure Dr. Rodriguez connects with CDC leadership.

We are making travel plans and arranging Dr. Rodriguez' schedule which includes a tour of the EOC and Museum.

Importance: High

Hi Scott and Seth,

Please see the below proposed dates for a CDC visit by A/DASD Mark Swayne (bio attached); please let me know what date works for Dr. Redfield. This visit was 'greenlighted' by Dr. Redfield and Kyle when we met earlier this week. The intent is to discuss DoD's perspective on the DRC EVD outbreak as well as a collaborative approach to future/ongoing public health responses in insecure areas. I will help with logistics and building the agenda, but wanted to first identify a date that works for Dr. Redfield.

Other planning considerations:

1. Dr. Redfield mentioned wanting RADM Wolfe to attend, since he has met with A/DASD Swayne previously and initiated this meeting (Flo cc'd for SA/coord).
2. Mr. Swayne will be at CDC throughout the day; other potential meetings include:
 - a. Ebola focused meeting with Inger Damon, Ray Arthur, etc
 - b. Mr. Swayne offered to host an informational session about OSD-Policy/SOLIC with relevant CDC leadership and staff (e.g. the DoD WG)
 - c. Lab and EOC tours

Kyle,

I'd like to introduce you to Dr. Bechara Choucair, SVP and Chief Community Health Officer for Kaiser Permanente. Bechara has a rich experience in public health and medicine including being the former commissioner of the Chicago Department of Public Health and senior vice president, Safety Net Transformation and Community Health with Trinity Health.

Bechara will be in Atlanta in mid-September and I think Dr. Redfield would enjoy meeting and learning from him.

If it is the 3 or 4th, I need to know ASAP to make sure folks from the group can readjust their calendars. Hosting at CDCW is not a problem at all and we will make all the necessary accommodations and clearances for visitors.

On the SO meeting, I have not reached out at all as we were waiting for approval so am happy to do so if needed.

CDC and Special Olympics Partnership

Partnership for Inclusive Health

Special Olympics and CDC have been collaborating for 16 years to prevent injuries, illnesses, and premature deaths for people with intellectual disabilities (ID) by improving access to quality health care, education, and health promotion programs. This partnership is particularly powerful because Special Olympics has unparalleled access to this historically marginalized population: within the US, we have over 675,000 athletes with ID, approximately 135,000 coaches, and nearly 687,000 volunteers who influence athlete health.

Combining the brand positivity of Special Olympics and the credibility of CDC creates a powerful opportunity to ensure people with ID stay well, active, and part of the community. Together, we are making inclusive health a reality.

Sports training is the single largest health intervention offered by Special Olympics, and this Cooperative Agreement benefits from this unique position. Since 1968, we have been getting people with ID moving and lowering their risk of deadly—and costly—conditions like cardiovascular disease, stroke and cancer.

The Rationale for Inclusive Health

People with ID experience substantial health disparities compared to the general population. A study from the United Kingdom (Bristol University, 2013) found people with ID die, on average, 16 years younger than their non-disabled peers due to undiagnosed and untreated conditions.

People with ID are more likely to experience delayed access to health care, misdiagnosis, and polypharmacy. They are also less likely to have access to prevention programming, which leads to costly and largely preventable secondary conditions (e.g., hypertension, obesity, and chronic pain). Data from US Special Olympics Healthy Athletes® events indicate:

- 25% of athletes have obvious untreated tooth decay
- 53% have gait abnormalities
- 4% have never had an eye exam and 16% have some kind of eye disease
- 42% have blocked or partially blocked ear canals
- 77% have balance problems identified
- 74% of adult athletes and 40% of youth athletes are overweight or obese (46% and 33% are obese, respectively)

Health disparities for people with ID have complex drivers:

- Lack of provider training. Medical, dental, public health, and wellness curricula often exclude people with ID, leaving these professionals unprepared to work with someone with ID. People with ID have lower rates of prevention (i.e., cancer screening), which increases the rates of undiagnosed and untreated conditions.

- Diagnostic overshadowing. Providers may attribute health symptoms of a person with ID to the disability, rather than the underlying physical health condition. People with ID are sometimes unable to adequately communicate about health needs or issues.
- Lack of knowledge, skills, and resources. Health educators and wellness organizations are not equipped to make reasonable accommodations to improve health literacy for people with ID, impacting the ability of those with ID to engage in ongoing wellness opportunities.
- Prohibitively complex health systems. People with ID are sometimes unable to navigate the complex health care system and often have poor access to quality primary care, which leads to higher rates of emergency room and inpatient admissions.

Meeting the needs of people with ID would lower health care costs in the US. NCBDDD's data, collected from state Medicaid data, show that while people with ID comprise 4.9% of clients, they account for 15.7% of expenditures. Addressing the health needs of people with ID is crucial to reduce disparities and costs. When people with ID have access to health services, they have more opportunities for education, employment, sports, and other pathways to full participation in society. To provide access to quality health programs and services for the majority of people with ID, mainstream public health activities must become inclusive.

Brief History of the Partnership

In 2002, the first Cooperative Agreement between Special Olympics and CDC expanded Healthy Athletes® (free health screenings for people with ID) from 100 to 278 events annually, and added two disciplines (Fit Feet and MedFest). Subsequent Cooperative Agreements expanded the scale of activities and increased the scope to include year-round, community based programming. Until 2012, CDC funding supported all Healthy Athletes programming in the US and internationally, leading to the digitization of health data on people with ID from over 120 countries—in many countries these were the only health data captured on this population.

The current Cooperative Agreement began in 2016 and takes inclusive health to the national stage, targeting wellness, fitness, professional associations; medical schools; funders; and others to become more inclusive and to use their influence to champion this idea among their peer organizations.

Improving Health of People with ID: Our Approach

Using a social ecological framework, Special Olympics assures individuals with ID have the tools and information to make healthy choices and prevent illness, and that their communities and health systems have the training and resources to be inclusive for all people.

Individual Level

Healthy Athletes® provides free health screenings to Special Olympics athletes in a fun, welcoming environment and trains health care professionals and students in best practices for caring for people with ID with hands-on experience.

Health care providers trained by Special Olympics learn skills they take back to their practices and provide higher quality health care to people with ID—not just Special Olympics athletes—in their communities. Within the US, 92% of health care providers trained by Special Olympics reported feeling better able to communicate with, and provide better care to, patients with ID.

Special Olympics Healthy Athletes® has created, tested, and disseminated adapted screening protocols and wellness programming for people with ID to help prevent and detect risk factors for some of the leading causes of death in the US. Since 1997, we:

- Conducted over 937,000 screenings to identify unmet health needs before they become emergencies
- Involved 19,000 people with ID in community-based disease prevention programming
- Trained nearly 11,000 family members and caregivers to serve as inclusive health advocates
- Reduced the blood pressure of athletes through a fitness program: 53% (327) of participants made improvements in blood pressure over baseline measures
- Provide health education and information people with ID are able to comprehend and follow through on healthy behaviors

Community Supports

Building upon Healthy Athletes, in 2012, Special Olympics began Healthy Communities to ensure our athletes have access to quality health in their communities year-round, throughout their lifespans, and across multiple health determinants. Healthy Communities grants enable Special Olympics programs to develop programs and partnerships that are locally contextual.

In Connecticut, we trained Federally Qualified Health Centers on inclusive health. In Nebraska, we partnered with public schools, Cooperative Extension, and YMCA to provide healthy cooking classes and fitness programming for students. In New York, we established a five-year program at University of Rochester's Eastman Institute for Oral Health to train pediatric and general dentists, hygienists, and other staff in the unmet need for oral health among people with ID. In Arkansas, we partnered with the Department of Education on healthy classroom programs, which has been accepted as the official training curriculum for the state.

In communities throughout the country, we have:

- Trained nearly 98,000 current and future health care providers
- Provided sources for follow-up health care for 4,257 referrals
- Trained 153 health organizations how to be inclusive
- Trained 567 athlete leaders as self-advocates to share the message of inclusive health
- Improved health education by including it as part of local, regional, and national Special Olympics sports practices, competitions, and other activities
- Ensured health education is inclusive of people with ID through collaboration with community partners
- Provided inclusive fitness programming to increase sports and physical education opportunities that are unified—joining people with and without ID on the same teams

Enabling Systems

Special Olympics has the most extensive nationwide data set on health for people with ID. Through this partnership, we contribute to CDC's position as a trusted source of information by distributing results via scientific publications, websites, printed materials, earned media, and social media.

Special Olympics engages organizations and community leaders to become champions of inclusive health and we created an online learning community to create, capture, and exchange knowledge and cultivate the next generation of champions. To further enable health systems, we:

- Address a critical data gap by providing timely, quality data on priority health and healthcare issues at the national, state, and local levels
- Developed 158 community and national partnerships, including partnerships with health care providers, managed care organizations, university clinics and other organizations providing health care
- Launched the Center for Inclusive Health (www.inclusivehealthcenter.org), which provides inclusive health resources and opportunities for knowledge sharing

In June 2018, Surgeon General Jerome Adams spoke at the Inclusive Health Summit preceding Special Olympics USA Games, noting that people with ID should not be lost among public health priorities. He will join us again in November 2018 at the American Public Health Association (APHA) conference for a panel on intentional inclusion with three Special Olympics athletes and APHA Past President Tom Quade.

The Power of Partnership

Special Olympics looks forward to a continued and expanded partnership with CDC to ensure people with ID stay well, active, and part of the community. We see strongest potential in:

- Expanding Healthy Athletes®, community-based programming, and fitness initiative
- Cascading national inclusive health partnerships into communities
- Expanding health messenger training and activation
- Enhancing monitoring and evaluation
- Expanding www.inclusivehealthcenter.org with online training and resources
- Raising awareness of the impact of the partnership between CDC and Special Olympics
- Reforming US medical curricula and allied health professional training programs

For 50 years, Special Olympics has transformed lives through the joy of sport. Physical activity is the core of Special Olympics, and our approach to wellness centers around improved sport performance. Our 50 years of experience underpins our unrivaled credibility and nationwide access to people with ID and those who support them, including coaches, families, and health care providers. For five decades, Special Olympics has been promoting the health of people with ID by speaking directly to their desire to excel in sports, be healthy, and be part of a community.

Special Olympics Missouri's Training for Life Campus

For 50 years, Special Olympics has been building a movement to break down barriers—both on and off the field—all through the power of sport. Special Olympics transforms lives through the joy of sport, every day, everywhere. We are the world's largest sports organization with over 5 million athletes in more than 170 countries -- 15,000 of them in Missouri. We are also a global social movement. With initiatives to activate youth, engage people with ID, build communities, and improve the health of our athletes.

Special Olympics Missouri has a three-year Healthy Communities grant, and uses the funds for a Health Director to improve fitness programming in the community and schools and build partnerships for quality health care for people with ID. Special Olympics Missouri receives a CDC sub-grant to offer three Healthy Athletes events annually.

Special Olympics Missouri, like all Special Olympics local programs, is an independent 501(c)(3) organization that is required to comply with General Rules set by Special Olympics International (SOI). Special Olympics Missouri receives sub-awards through SOI's Cooperative Agreement to support health activities; however, the Training for Life Campus was conceived, funded, and developed by Special Olympics Missouri and was not funded with federal dollars.

The Training for Life Campus will enrich the lives of Missouri athletes with intellectual disabilities. It is the first facility of its kind in the world: a community hub and inspirational center for people with ID to develop the physical and social skills they need to be as productive and independent as possible. Athletes will learn lessons from sports and life, and how to adopt a lifestyle centered on health and wellness. The campus will accommodate training, practice, and competitive events for some of Special Olympics Missouri's most popular sports programs, including a track, wellness trail, basketball court, soccer field, and multi-sport training areas. It will offer year-round training opportunities for athletes, coaches, and volunteers from throughout Missouri.

In addition to the multi-sport activities, the campus will also provide athletes free Healthy Athletes screenings in the new clinical health and wellness program. The four rooms will offer Healthy Hearing, Special Smiles, Opening Eyes, and Fit Feet. Each room is designed and equipped to give the athletes an authentic doctor's office visit, but in a welcoming and fun environment.

As Team Missouri trained for the 2018 USA Games in Seattle, athletes focused on health to improve their sports performance. In early 2018, championed by athlete leader Jessica Grammer, Special Olympics Missouri launched the "MO Fit MO Magic" challenge, a point-based system to gamify healthy eating, exercising, and sharing progress with friends. Points could be used to purchase a FitBit, water bottles, exercise equipment, and more. In the first four months of the program, brothers and softball players John and Paul Burnett, both 33, made major improvements in their health. Ten years ago, they were both diagnosed with diabetes. With "MO Fit MO Magic" they started working out hard five to six days a week, rain or shine. They lost weight and got stronger and healthier. They had a complete physical in March 2018, and lost nearly 40 pounds between them. Their A1C levels came down and their livers started to function normally for the first time in almost a decade.

Good Afternoon Scott,

While PHGR is on your mind, I wanted to let you know that Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha, the pediatrician who was named among the top 100 influential people in 2016 by Time Magazine for her work with the Flint water crisis, is coming to PHGR on Tuesday, Feb 12.

I writing to ask if Dr. Redfield, or perhaps Dr. Schuchat, are available and interested in meeting with her.

I haven't heard who will be giving opening remarks for the session, so there may be an opportunity for one of them to meet her then.

For your awareness, Dr. Hanna-Attisha will also be returning as the keynote speaker for the EIS conference in April.

Thank you for your consideration.

Thanks Sascha. I'm adding Phoebe, OADC, and my team, for awareness. R3 has noted that he's happy to participate in all PHGRs if that's what is desired, if he's in Atlanta, and if he's available .

Teresa can pencil it in on his calendar and we should reassess his availability a few weeks before.
Much appreciated!

Good morning Tia,

We have just been informed that Secretary Azar will be in Atlanta at the CDC all day on March 18th. As a result, Dr. Redfield will not be available to meet on that day.

Would you like our schedulers to look for the next days that he will be in Washington, DC to meet in person or possibly schedule a video teleconference on a day when NACCHO and Dr. Redfield are both available?

I talked to Diana Dunne with the Milken Institute. They don't have a robust list because they are gathering RSVPs. She did let me know that Energy and Commerce Committee Chairman (soon to be ranking member) Walden and Energy and Commerce Oversight Committee ranking member (soon to be Chair) Diana DeGette are confirmed. Michael Milken will be there and several HHS OPDIV heads (including Francis Collins and Scott Gottlieb) have confirmed. I would anticipate other senior members to attend. She promised to be in touch with a more complete list. I would recommend Dr. Redfield attend if possible.
Thanks!

Jeremy is also going to run it past OGC to make sure there are no objections.

Let's keep holding the 17th ... I'm not yet sure what time they landed on for the Moutin lecture, although I think they did decide on that specific date. Probably, just to take me out of this, you may want to connect with Scott Scales, as they will be the main POC ... thanks!

Good Morning, Kate -

I am holding December 17th for you, but it was brought to my attention yesterday evening that Dr. Redfield is attending the meeting I relocated to hold Aud A (it wasn't on the reservation when I initially moved it). The OLSS All Hands is scheduled from 2-3. I relocated them to 1204A& B. Do you think your event will possibly be scheduled around this time if this date is selected? I'm asking because they want me to move them back into Aud A. They contacted Jeremy McCallister on the OD advance team to checkin with me. Please advise.

Hi, Tracy –

This is just a very quiet inquiry – please don't share – but could you let me know if one of the auditorium's would be open at any part of the days from December 17-19? You can see below that Drs. Schuchat and Redfield are trying to get the Moutin lecture scheduled for that time.

Just let me know dates/timeframes of what's possible.

Take care ... and MANY THANKS!

Sounds good – the only thing to keep in mind is the flights aren't yet confirmed but plan is to return on the 13th from SE Asia trip. So if there's any delay, he would miss the 14th. But I can let you know once we have the confirmed flights as to when the scheduled arrival is.

Dr Redfield and I have been discussing trying to hold the next Mountin Lecture in 2018 (it will be the 37th, our last one was 2016 as we missed 2017 during the agency transition, which also happened in 2008 when there wasn't a Mountin lecture). Although there is not a lot of time left in this calendar year, he's interested in inviting Debbi Birx – that would be very much in keeping w prior Mountin lecturers who were major public health leaders and often had a link with the CDC Director. Dr Redfield is wondering about dates in December (14, 17-19?) but I thought better to leave to chief of staff's office/scheduling. I know the auditoriums get busy w holiday parties in Dec and there is never a perfect date, but wanted to hand this off to OADC and OCS to consider. He is ready to give Debbi a call and invite her if we want to propose some good dates for the agency and his schedule...

I hope you are doing well.

Dr. Redfield is not meeting with Gov. Leavitt on October 30th, but on October 31st. We are still working through confirming a time and the schedule.

If you are interested in meeting on the day Gov. Leavitt is meeting with Dr. Redfield, I could offer October 31st from 3-3:30 p.m.

If not, Dr. Redfield is also available November 1st between 2-3 p.m. for 30 minutes.

Please let me know which date and time works best.

Hi Teresa,

Thanks so much for this opportunity to meet with Dr. Redfield. Unfortunately, we have a rather significant partner meeting already scheduled on that date that involves a lot of people who've made travel plans. Would it be possible to meet with him the week of July 23? Let me know if not and I will get back to you.

Hi all,

I have a few updates on the Secretary's visit, now scheduled for the morning of Tuesday, March 19th.

1. Please see the attached draft agenda, based on our conversations with some of you and HHS. His limited time Tuesday would only allow him to be at Roybal for about 2.5 hours.
2. We just received word from HHS that they would like Dr. Redfield to introduce the Secretary Tuesday morning for the Secretary's remarks at the HIV conference around 9:00am (exact time of AMA's speech TBD). Dr. Redfield would then ride over to Roybal with the Secretary. This would likely mean that Dr. Redfield would miss the entire Rep. Lucy McBath (D-GA) visit Tuesday morning.

Please let me know your thoughts on the agenda, and questions about the McBath visit.

Thanks,

Jo,

We don't normally consider anything greater than 6 months out because the Director's schedule is so fluid and we don't really know what he'll be called to do in March of next year. If we go ahead and consider it, we'll only be able to tentatively accept, if he approves, and then we'd have to look at it again next year when we draw closer to the event. Let me know how you'd like to proceed and we'll go from there.

Letter from the Conference Co-Chairs

March 2019

Dear Conference Participants,

Welcome to the 2019 National HIV Prevention Conference! Thousands of us have come together in Atlanta with unique backgrounds and different experiences. However, we all have one thing in common: our commitment to refining, improving, and strengthening the nation's response to HIV so that we can end the HIV epidemic.

This year's conference theme, Getting to No New HIV Infections, highlights dynamic approaches to HIV prevention, testing, and treatment, and the critical roles that each of us has in achieving this vision. The new federal initiative announced in February will leverage critical scientific advances in HIV prevention, diagnosis, treatment, and care by coordinating the highly successful programs, resources, and infrastructure of HHS. While we have made great progress in recent years, much work remains. We have a once-in-a-generation opportunity to end the epidemic, thanks to advances in science that continue to provide us with the most powerful HIV prevention and treatment tools in history, and to research that helps us identify where infections are rapidly spreading. By providing all at-risk communities with effective prevention and treatment tools, we can end the HIV epidemic in America, and now is the time to do it!

This conference is an opportunity to share our knowledge, strengthen partnerships, and discuss strategies that will help us end the epidemic. Strategies to help us get there include:

- Diagnosing all individuals with HIV as early as possible after infection;
- Treating the infection rapidly and effectively to achieve sustained viral suppression;
- Protecting HIV-negative persons using proven prevention approaches; and
- Responding rapidly to detect and stop growing HIV clusters.

Together, we are making strides on the path to End the HIV Epidemic. HIV treatment has transformed the landscape of HIV prevention, and we continue our commitment to advance the quality of life and human dignity of people with HIV, and eliminate stigma and discrimination. We hope you find this conference beneficial and return home with new knowledge, strategies, and partnerships and a renewed commitment to saving lives. Thank you for joining us in Atlanta for the 2019 National HIV Prevention Conference.

March 18, 2019

Greetings:

I am pleased to welcome attendees to the 2019 National HIV Prevention Conference. Thank you to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and its federal partners for convening this important and essential public health discussion.

With high rates of new HIV infections in Atlanta and the state of Georgia, it is critical that we work together to address this challenging health crisis. For the first time, the City of Atlanta allotted $100,000 in its 2019 budget to combat the HIV epidemic. Prevention of HIV/AIDS is a priority of our Administration, and we are working hard to amplify our message and engage our community regarding the importance of testing and treatment.

The important work of the CDC, in conjunction with public health professionals, clinicians, community representatives and others, will enable us to strengthen our national response to HIV and assist citizens in taking the necessary steps to protect themselves.

As a leading center of medical research, Atlanta is honored to host the National HIV Prevention Conference and to join with you in the common pursuit of reducing and eliminating HIV.

Best wishes for a meaningful conference.

Sincerely,

Conference Overview

The National HIV Prevention Conference (NHPC) brings together state, local, and tribal health departments, community based organizations, federal agencies, researchers, clinicians, people with HIV, and others sharing the latest advancements, strategies, and accomplishments in HIV prevention.

NHPC allows in-person collaboration between researchers and program personnel working in HIV prevention. The conference will bring together more than 3,000 attendees committed to help refine, improve, and strengthen our nation's response to HIV.

This four-day conference will include plenary sessions along with oral and poster presentations that highlight new HIV science and program activities. New for the 2019 conference is a pilot Storytelling Session format that highlights brief personal stories that reveal life lessons and breakthrough moments in HIV prevention work.

Conference Theme and Values

The theme for NHPC 2019 is Getting to No New HIV Infections, which will highlight dynamic approaches to HIV prevention, detection and management, and the critical roles that different communities have in achieving this vision.

NHPC welcomes all participants to this event and seeks to build an inclusive environment to advance HIV prevention efforts. We value the open exchange of ideas and freedom of thought and expression, and request all interactions be respectful and constructive. NHPC aims to recognize every person and group; foster dignity, understanding and mutual respect; and embrace diversity.

We value the contribution of all people in the HIV community, especially those with HIV, and encourage their involvement in all aspects of the conference. We firmly believe that these contributions help the conference improve HIV prevention efforts, reduce HIV-related stigma and health disparities, and advance efforts on the path to getting to no new HIV infections.

This program book was finalized in February 2019, but sometimes plans change. To get the most up-to-date information, please refer to the conference app. Learn more about the app on page 10.

This toolkit is STEPS to Care, a multi-media package designed to support service providers and agency personnel in the uptake and implementation of three evidence-informed linkage, retention, and re-engagement strategies: 1. Patient Navigation, 2. Care Team Coordination, and 3. HIV Self-Management. This session will guide attendees through the online toolkit, and provide time for questions about implementations and lessons learned from pilot implementations.

SPECIAL SESSIONS

Session SS06 - Sexual and Gender Minority Youth Health

Location: Embassy D-F (Hyatt Regency Atlanta)

Description: Sexual and Gender Minority Youth (SGMY) experience higher risk for suicide, depression, substance use disorder, and poorer academic performance than their heterosexual and gender majority counterparts. While many SGMY thrive during adolescence, stigma, discrimination, and other factors can put these youth at increased risk for negative health and life outcomes, resulting in significant health disparities between SGMY and non-SGMY. National HIV Prevention Conference attendees are always grateful for the opportunity to hear about the amount and variety of work CDC's Division of Adolescent and School Health (DASH) is engaged in to promote the health of SGMY. This year, DASH has even more current work and recent findings to offer. This special session will provide the opportunity for attendees to learn about the latest findings and current work of DASH in this area. It will include a series of 6, 10-minute presentations from DASH staff followed by 30 minutes of question and answer-based discussion with session participants on the needs of sexual and gender minority youth.

Session SS08 - Treatment as Prevention: From Science to Prevention Messages

Location: Regency VI (Hyatt Regency Atlanta)

Description: Rigorous research has found zero sexual transmissions of HIV by persons who achieve and maintain an undetectable or suppressed viral load. This finding has profound implications for HIV prevention, particularly for the improvement of patients' access to and engagement in on-going care as well as the restoration of the dignity of people with HIV and efforts to address internalized and externalized HIV stigma. Presenters will; 1) review the science related to the prevention benefits of antiretroviral treatment, 2) how the science has been translated into federal prevention messages, 3) some of the prevention channels, message testing, and messages developed by CDC, 4) how HRSA's Ryan White HIV/AIDS Program has implemented TasP messaging, and 5) the translation of the science into the U=U campaign by the community.

SPECIAL SESSIONS

Session SS01 - Implementation Science Research in HIV: Closing the Gap Between Evidence, Policy, and Practice

Location: Embassy D-F (Hyatt Regency Atlanta)

Description: Recent scientific advances have identified new powerful prevention interventions to prevent new HIV infections. To maximize their full prevention potential, these interventions must be effectively integrated into practice to reach those at greatest risk of HIV or living with HIV. However, gaps exist between evidence and practice due to lack of use or uptake by clinics, agencies, or providers, inadequate reach or penetration into the target population, or inability to fully integrate or sustain the intervention. Implementation science is the study of strategies to close this gap, that is, to promote or improve the systematic uptake of evidence-based interventions into practice to improve health outcomes. This session will provide an overview of basic concepts and methods of implementation science in HIV, illustrate how implementation science can be used to identify strategies to support delivery of PrEP in STI clinics, and review the currently funded implementation science research portfolio in HIV. This session will also explore lessons learned from scaling up an eHealth intervention for young MSM and present novel study designs used to assess important implementation questions for eHealth interventions.

Session SS11 - The Role of the Pharmacy in HIV Care and Prevention

Location: A706-A707 (Atlanta Marriott Marquis)

Description: People with HIV can receive care from multiple healthcare providers but patients often get all of their medications from one pharmacy, making the pharmacist a key point of contact. Pharmacist-led interventions have led to improvement in a variety of therapeutic and adverse events outcomes in several disease states. Community pharmacies, already located within communities, represent environments uniquely poised to initiate and continuously address care and treatment problems. Ninety percent of urban beneficiaries live within 4 miles of a pharmacy and 70% of rural beneficiaries live within 15 miles of a pharmacy making the pharmacy a highly accessible point of care. Community pharmacists are also in key positions to collaborate with primary medical providers to improved access and efficiency of health care in the community. During this session, federal leaders will provide brief remarks on the process, policies, and scientific advances that guide HHS' updating the national strategies. Community leaders, health department staff, researchers, individuals living with and at risk for infection, and other community stakeholders are encouraged to attend a listening session to share their thoughts and experiences to help inform the next iterations of the strategies.

Subject: Request for Media Holds for March 18 Vital Signs and NHPC

Hi all,

Since Dr. Redfield is participating in the HIV Vital Signs telebriefing later this month, we'd like to request some time on his calendar for embargoed interviews with select media. Looks like he has flexibility on Friday, March 15; would you please hold 30-60 minutes for interviews? We'd also like to schedule a 30-minute briefing with him either immediately before the interview hold, or earlier in the day.

And as you determine the agenda for the Secretary's visit to CDC on Monday, the 18th, please keep us posted on opportunities to coordinate HIV-related media for them. Also wanted to reflag Dr. Redfield's agreement at a recent communications meeting to build in time for one or two interviews with reporters at NHPC.

Happy to discuss further, but please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,

Kate

Tracie – can you set up a time/number for David and Dr. Redfield to discuss NHPC today? R3 said that he had some late changes that he wanted to make to his presentation.

On prep call with R3 now for media interviews. He mentioned that he wants some changes (mostly organizational) to NHPC slide-deck. He indicated that he had some time over lunch to discuss, so David, can you follow up with him (and copy me for awareness only) to set up time to work with him on this?

Also, FYI: he mentioned multiple times how much he loves the Secretary's prepared speech at NHPC (reattaching here), so there may be some content to pull from this and incorporate into his upcoming speeches/remarks.

Importance: High

Hi Scott,

The Honor Awards are around the corner and it's time for the Director to select the winners of the Director's Awards for Innovation, Efficiency, and Public Health Impact. In the past, Dr. Schuchat and the COS have huddled with the Director to assist in the final selection from the top 3 nominees in each category already identified by the Award Policy Board.

Dr. Redfield has a small window of time on Monday from 1:30-2pm to discuss and make the selection. Can you reserve that time on the calendar for Kyle and I to discuss with him? Dr. Schuchat has a conflict and is unable to attend so she has already provided her feedback by ranking of the 3 nominees in each category, which is included in the word document for Dr. Redfield's review. If Dr. Redfield is interested in reading additional information on the nominees, the pdfs for all 9 nominees are included in this email.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you so much,
Amanda

Hi Tracie,

Me again. Last request for a while, I promise.

We're hoping to get 30 minutes with Dr. Redfield the week of March 25 to discuss his remarks for the Rx Summit. In person is best, but if we can't make it work, phone is fine. Does he have any availability? Know he's traveling to Oklahoma that week.

We'd like to invite the following folks:

- Katherine Lyon Daniel
- Molly
- David Noel
- Leslie Dorigo

A bridge line would be helpful, if possible.

Thanks so much in advance.

Kyle,

Feel free to connect me directly with Dr. Redfield's scheduling team. He indicated to ADM G last night that he'd like to call in for the briefing w/ CMS on the Initiative.

Is he available this Friday from 3:30 – 4:00?

Thanks,

Steven

Subject: Director's availability - new CDCF board member orientations

Hi Scott...
Hope you had a great Turkey Day!

I'm just touching base as we have 2 new Foundation board members whose orientations we are working to schedule in the new year.

I will provide you detailed background on these members in advance – right now we are working on news releases so their names are not public just yet.

Dates we are considering for proposal to them are the following: (it may be both members visiting on one date OR we may have 2 separate meetings; having 3 date possibilities would help if feasible)

- Tues., Jan 22
- Tues., Jan 29
- Thurs., Feb 7
- Tues., Feb 12
- Tues., Feb 26

Generally, we have the members in orientation and lunch here at CDCF until 12:30 or 1pm. It seems to work best when we can kick off the CDC portion of the orientation with the Director in the 12:30 – 1:30 range. We are also happy to provide lunch at CDC and have a working lunch and meeting with the Director.

Please give me a shout if you prefer to discuss by phone. Happy to oblige.

Many thanks, Scott!

Hi Teresa...

Thanks for reaching out on this.

We are looking to have both members meet (together) with Dr. Redfield for not more than one hour total.

Judy Monroe will escort them and attend the meeting as well. Is that acceptable on your side?

Also, I will be leaving the Foundation at the end of this week, so Laura Angel, our VP for Advancement will be your point person on this going forward.

It's been such a pleasure working with you and this wonderful team.
Thank you for everything you do for the CDC Foundation!

I'm just writing to confirm that Dr. Redfield is still available on Feb 12.

Is it possible to set a time for 1:30 pm?

We will bring these folks to your office, provide a full agenda for the day and bios in advance.

Also since there are 2 new members, would Dr. Redfield be available for 45 min or 1 hour?
Please advise as you can.

Thanks so much!

Hi Scott...
Hope you had a great Turkey Day!

I'm just touching base as we have 2 new Foundation board members whose orientations we are working to schedule in the new year.
I will provide you detailed background on these members in advance – right now we are working on news releases so their names are not public just yet.

Dates we are considering for proposal to them are the following: (it may be both members visiting on one date OR we may have 2 separate meetings; having 3 date possibilities would help if feasible)

- Tues., Jan 22
- Tues., Jan 29
- Thurs., Feb 7
- Tues., Feb 12
- Tues., Feb 26

Generally, we have the members in orientation and lunch here at CDCF until 12:30 or 1pm. It seems to work best when we can kick off the CDC portion of the orientation with the Director in the 12:30 – 1:30 range. We are also happy to provide lunch at CDC and have a working lunch and meeting with the Director.

Please give me a shout if you prefer to discuss by phone. Happy to oblige.

Many thanks, Scott!

Dr. Monroe will be escorting Shirley Franklin and Kristen Silverberg (bios are forthcoming). Do I need to reserve a room for the meeting or should I just advise them to meet on the 12th floor?

The subject of the call is a meet and greet and to discuss AMR and toxoplasmosis with Director Redfield. Also to discuss running an agency from outside of the National Capitol Region due to relocation of two of our agencies-NIFA and ERS.

Thanks,
Michele

Yes, that works for the schedule, but may want to say 1145-1215 for interview so you can have some prep time between the photos and the interview?

+ Molly. And a correction: I said around the time of the AARP "interview" but I've confirmed that Thursday is just them taking pictures.

Depending on his recovery time needed from travel/time change ...I might suggest 11:00 to 11:15 for the AARP portrait, and then 11:30 to 12 (at most) for the WaPo phone interview?

He will still have some time for lunch after that before he has to go to the studio for taping. Will that work?

Below is an email I've sent to my staff, so they may already have connected with you, but wanted to bring you into the loop as well.

It would be good to do this on Jan 28th around the same time as the AARP interview – he will be prepped and the HIV incidence data will still be fresh then.
It should be by phone and no longer than 30 minutes (20 is fine if that works best for his schedule).
Let me know if any concerns – we need to go up to ASPA also. Thanks! KLD

I've gotten the okay for Dr Redfield to talk with Lena by phone on the topic of HIV next week, as long as it works for his travel. If we could align this with the incidence data coming out that would be ideal, so she will have something fresher. The data comes out Wednesday, though, and he wouldn't be available to interview until Thursday AM/midday. So it wouldn't be the first bite at the data, but rather first bite at his take on the data and his putting it in context of the new HIV initiative.

For now that will have to do.

Hi all,

The Washington Post phone interview is confirmed for 11:45 am to 12:15 pm on Thursday. And we will definitely want to use the time beforehand (11:15 to 11:45 am) for a media briefing/prep.

Thanks,

Good morning Kate,

We can only offer an hour for the prep and the interview on Friday, Feb. 8th from 2-3 p.m. (does not include walk time).

We will have to cancel the Bi-Weekly Communications meeting in order to accommodate the interview.

Please advise.

Hi Scott and Teresa,

We got the okay from HHS (plus support from Katherine and Kyle) to proceed with an on-camera interview request with AP-TV this week. It would need to be done by COB on Friday, so hoping to find time on Dr. Redfield's calendar to schedule.

Can you provide some options and I'll work with the reporter to finalize? We would need at least 30-45 minutes for interview/makeup/walking to and from the studios. We would also need 30 minutes for a pre-brief at some point prior to the interview.

See additional details below – I'll update when confirmed.

Thanks,
Kate

Hi Teresa,

Here's the latest update.

We'll continue to keep the comms meeting scheduled from 2 to 2:45. We'll now use 2:45 to 3 pm for a pre-brief (with a smaller group in the room) to discuss the media interview. And from 3 to 3:15 pm (when you currently have a hold for walking from Building 19 to 21), he'll do a phone interview with Lancet. All of this can be done from DCR, and he'll still have a few minutes to spare before his 3:30 meeting.

Sound okay? If so, I'll send an updated media form with the reporter's info.

Thanks for your patience!

Kate

Kate, OADC has three events on Friday right now... this media hold, the comms meeting, and the connects interview. Maybe you can modify some to accommodate what's the most important. Take a look at the calendar and then let us know what you think. Thx -S

Good morning Kate,

We can only offer an hour for the prep and the interview on Friday, Feb. 8th from 2-3 p.m. (does not include walk time).

We will have to cancel the Bi-Weekly Communications meeting in order to accommodate the interview.

Please advise.

Hi Scott and Teresa,

We got the okay from HHS (plus support from Katherine and Kyle) to proceed with an on-camera interview request with AP-TV this week. It would need to be done by COB on Friday, so hoping to find time on Dr. Redfield's calendar to schedule. Can you provide some options and I'll work with the reporter to finalize? We would need at least 30-45 minutes for interview/makeup/walking to and from the studios. We would also need 30 minutes for a pre-brief at some point prior to the interview.
See additional details below – I'll update when confirmed.

Kate

Dear Teresa-

Happy New Year.

I hope you managed to take some time off over the holidays with your loved ones.

I am writing to update you that unfortunately we will no longer be able to hold the POB meeting on May 29th.

We have just been informed that the Member States plan to request that the WHO Executive Board meeting, which is usually held before the World Health Assembly, instead by held right after—on May 29-31st. As Dr Tedros must attend that as WHO DG, we are starting the process to look at other options for holding the POB in person meeting.

We hope to have some options for your consideration in the next couple weeks and will revert as soon as we do.

Many thanks for your understanding and apologies for this inconvenience,

Simona

Hi Teresa,

Here's the latest update.

We'll continue to keep the comms meeting scheduled from 2 to 2:45. We'll now use 2:45 to 3 pm for a pre-brief (with a smaller group in the room) to discuss the media interview. And from 3 to 3:15 pm (when you currently have a hold for walking from Building 19 to 21), he'll do a phone interview with Lancet. All of this can be done from DCR, and he'll still have a few minutes to spare before his 3:30 meeting.

Sound okay? If so, I'll send an updated media form with the reporter's info.

Thanks for your patience!

Kate

Kate, OADC has three events on Friday right now... this media hold, the comms meeting, and the connects interview. Maybe you can modify some to accommodate what's the most important. Take a look at the calendar and then let us know what you think. Thx -S

Good morning Kate,

We can only offer an hour for the prep and the interview on Friday, Feb. 8th from 2-3 p.m. (does not include walk time).

We will have to cancel the Bi-Weekly Communications meeting in order to accommodate the interview.

Please advise.

Thanks,
Teresa

Subject: Scheduling Request: AP-TV (On-Camera) Interview with Dr. Redfield on HIV

Hi Scott and Teresa,

We got the okay from HHS (plus support from Katherine and Kyle) to proceed with an on-camera interview request with AP-TV this week. It would need to be done by COB on Friday, so hoping to find time on Dr. Redfield's calendar to schedule. Can you provide some options and I'll work with the reporter to finalize? We would need at least 30-45 minutes for interview/makeup/walking to and from the studios. We would also need 30 minutes for a pre-brief at some point prior to the interview.
See additional details below – I'll update when confirmed.

Thanks,
Kate

Adding scheduling gurus. In summary of the messages below Dr. Redfield expressed interest in thanking the pathology lab team for work over the last week+. 15-30min drop in, plus 10min walking time there and back.

Rebecca, any urgency to the beginning of this week? We can confirm with Dr. Redfield, but I suspect any time this week or next would be fine, so long as it works for both parties. Today looks pretty full.

Best,

Hugh

I am cc'ing Inger to see if she has a time on Monday she might be available to join.

Writing to provide you with some important positive test results on this case.

An IHC assay for non-pyogenic Streptococcus species (including Streptococcus pneumoniae) demonstrated immunostaining in the lung, liver, spleen and adrenal which correlated with presence of gram-positive cocci in chains in both the lung and adrenal. PCR assay for Streptococcus species was positive in the lung, spleen, and adrenal.

This laboratory evidence, along with histopathologic findings of intravascular leukocytosis, adrenal hemorrhage, patchy bronchopneumonia in the lung, and single cell necrosis in the liver, is supportive of sepsis due to non-pyogenic Streptococcus species (which includes Streptococcus pneumoniae). Additional work including sequencing of the PCR products generated from Streptococcus pneumoniae-specific PCRs is pending.

This update reflects a lot of thoughtful, hard work by IDPB's pathologists, IHC and Molecular Pathology teams (added Julu Bhatnagar, Molecular Pathology Team lead to this email chain). Many thanks to everyone.

We will work to summarize these results and finalize the Pathology Report. We will also prepare some images that we can share with this group by early next week. We'd welcome a conference call or meeting to discuss these results with you and other leadership, and let us know if you have any follow-up questions.

Note I had separately sent Dr. Rascon an update yesterday that did not include these results, and had connected him with Jonas re submitting blood for TAC testing, but have not yet received a reply.

Just another quick update on this case for your information.

- PCR assays for influenza viruses, parainfluenza viruses, and RSV are negative on lung.
- IHC assays for leptospirosis and dengue virus are negative on liver, kidney
- IHC for select gram-negative bacterial pathogens is pending
- Working to connect Dr. Rascon with Jonas' lab for submission of blood specimens for TAC, will share the above results preliminarily with Dr. Rascon at that time.

I spoke to barb mahon who is on the unex wg and is DBD division director. She suggests TAC and her logic, pasted below, sounds right to me.

'This looks and sounds like bacterial sepsis, so unless/until infection with bacteria that commonly cause overwhelming sepsis in children is ruled out, I doubt that the unexplained disease workgroup would have useful input. It sounds like the child was treated with antibiotics before the specimens were obtained, which could certainly explain the negative cultures. Therefore, I would favor option 1: TAC as the next step.'

All – Writing to provide you with a preliminary update on IDPB's testing on this case. We also have found out that blood specimens are available, and would welcome your input on the approach for those samples.

Update on test results from IDPB:

IHC assays for Neisseria meningitidis were negative on lung and adrenal; and IHC assays for Streptococcus pyogenes and Haemophilus influenzae were negative on lung.

Next steps in IDPB:

PCR assays for influenza viruses, parainfluenza viruses, and RSV are still pending.

Given there is still concern for possible bacterial sepsis, IHC for Streptococcus pneumoniae, Neisseria meningitidis PCR, and broad-range panbacterial 16S rRNA PCR are pending.

Given the pulmonary hemorrhage, IHC assays for dengue virus and leptospirosis are pending.

I can share the above preliminary results and testing plan separately with Dr. Rascon.

Update on clinical information and other available specimens:

I just received the medical chart from Dr. Rascon and am working to review and summarize. He also indicated that are blood specimens available from the patient's hospitalization and autopsy that could be made available. Options include:

- 1) Reach out to Jonas Winchell's lab re performing TAC on these specimens
- 2) In addition to or before pursuing TAC, engaging with other SMEs involved in Unexplained Disease outbreak workgroup to review case, discuss differential, and testing approach

Welcome your preferences on the approach regarding the blood specimens, and any other questions or feedback.

Amanda, Nancy, others –

IDPB received fixed autopsy tissues from multiple organs (lungs, liver, kidneys, heart, spleen, adrenals, brain, heart) today, Tues 1/8/2019 from the 7-year old female, died in El Paso, TX in 12/2018 (IDPB 2019-0040). I added Dr. Thao Huynh, pathologist assigned to the case to this email chain for her awareness.

In IDPB, significant histopathologic findings included adrenal hemorrhage and intraalveolar hemorrhage.

Immunohistochemical (IHC) assays for Neisseria meningitidis, Streptococcus pyogenes, Haemophilus influenzae; tissue Gram stain; and PCR assays for influenza viruses, parainfluenza viruses and RSV are pending.

I will reply to this email with preliminary updates on this testing as the results become available.

Gross images of the intestinal parasites were submitted and reviewed, these appeared to be consistent with ascaris.

Along with specimens, IDPB received preliminary autopsy and death investigation findings as well as some clinical lab results. They are briefly summarized below.

Clinical information: In the few hours before transport to the hospital, the child was noted to be feverish, have a possible episode of vomiting, and developed seizure activity. In arrival at the ED in the morning 12/7, she was febrile (T 103.8 F) and in respiratory failure, and was admitted to the ICU shortly after presentation with a working diagnosis of seizures, dehydration, and rule-out sepsis. Labs provided included WBC 9.6 Hgb 8.6, Hct 25.8, Plt 104, Na 148, Cl 123, pH 7.3, Cr 0.3. She received ceftriaxone, antiepileptics, however deteriorated and was pronounced dead <24 hours after presentation.

Autopsy findings (some of this relayed previously): Preliminary gross autopsy findings included brain edema, numerous mobile adult nematodes (primarily in the small bowel), slight consolidation noted in RLL of the lung and adrenal hemorrhage.

Routine toxicology is negative, vitreous fluid had an elevated glucose (385) which he referenced as unusual for 1 day postmortem.

In addition to the rapid viral panel that was negative for flu, parafu, RSV, and adenovirus; blood, lung cultures have been negative, CSF grew Micrococcus at 5 days.

Note that at this time, tissues have not yet been received for the 8-year old male, who died in New Mexico in 12/2018, with laboratory evidence of influenza B/Victoria.

Please let me know if you have any questions regarding this information.

Sarah

Specimen submission status: Will prepare tissue blocks from all major organs to submit to IDPB for evaluation. We provided him with submission instructions and he indicated that he should be prepared to send blocks in the next few working days. He will plan to include a summary of his preliminary autopsy findings and the decedent's clinical course.

Autopsy findings: Preliminary gross autopsy findings included brain edema, and numerous mobile adult nematodes, primarily in the small bowel. No gross consolidation was noted in the lungs. Histology has not yet been reviewed.

Routine toxicology is negative, vitreous fluid had an elevated glucose (385) which he referenced as unusual for 1 day postmortem.

In addition to the rapid viral panel that was negative for flu, paraflu, RSV, and adenovirus; blood, CSF and lung cultures have been negative.

Question for you re: reporting/situational awareness: Welcome your thoughts on the best way for IDPB to coordinate/maintain situational awareness regarding these cases. We also recently received autopsy specimens from one adult death in a migrant from NM (occurred in 5/2018), and anticipate receiving specimens from these 2 more recent pediatric deaths. I had separately sent an email to Marty Cetron earlier today regarding the adult and pediatric deaths from NM (not yet notified re this TX case). For instance, I could include all those copied here, Marty Cetron, and others you might suggest on update emails on a regular basis (e.g., every other day/more frequently as needed) regarding status of specimen submission and testing at IDPB for these 3 cases; starting today.

Thanks.
Sarah

Hi Nancy –

Just to clarify - we have not yet received specimens on the New Mexico case but do anticipate they will be submitted, and will certainly work to coordinate with/notify your Center and Influenza Division as we get updates.

Your plan re connecting us with El Paso ME via email and then us speaking with him by phone sounds good; also let us know if there is anyone from the state health dept you prefer we involve or notify.

Regards,

Sarah

I did not realize you had gotten specimens on the 2nd patient but am glad that you have and definitely want to make sure we coordinate well. For the ME in Texas, I propose connecting you by email. I would suggest you talk to him by phone. Unless Kurt, he does not have a history of such collaboration with CDC and you will want to lead him through the process. Sound ok?

Shieh – thanks for looping me in on this reply. Happy to help out however I can with regards to this death in El Paso.

Dan - hope you are doing well and had a nice holiday season. For your awareness, we do also anticipate receiving fixed autopsy tissues from the 8yo Guatemalan migrant which was positive for Flu B Victoria in your lab, and have been in contact with Dr. Kurt Nolte at the New Mexico OMI regarding this case. We can certainly keep you updated on when those specimens are received, and the results of our evaluation. Let us know if you need any additional information.

Good evening-

May we get a few holds for a 15-min call this week between Dr. Redfield and Congressman Rob Wittman (R-VA)? Preferably Thursday or Friday if at all possible.

The call is in response to Rep. Wittman's recent letter to CDC on AFM. CDCW has discussed with Sherri & Kyle, and we have the green light to schedule.

Please let me know if you need more information.

Thanks!

Senator Alexander meetings with his team about every scheduling request, and that meeting is happening this morning. As soon as they have the outcome, Lucas or the scheduler will give me a call. They asked if the time frame provided was still available and I said yes. If that changes, please let me know and I'll let folks know.

No word from Moran's staff yet.

I offered the 13th to Schatz staff and will let you know what they say.

Hi Peggie,

The calendar is updated per your email below.

Once you have the locations, please share them with us so we can make sure enough travel time is allotted for each meeting.

Also, the Ebola Mock Hearing with HHS ends at 4 p.m. I'm not sure Dr. Redfield will have enough time to travel to meet with Sen. Murray on time at 4:15 p.m.

Do you think we can schedule the meeting with Sen. Murray from 4:30-5:00 p.m.?

Thanks,
Teresa

1. R3 has mentioned to Research!America his personal commitment to and concern for the vicious cycle of unemployment and economic issues experienced by those who suffer from opioid use disorder. Capito shares this concern so when R!A passed along to her staff his sentiments her office expressed interest in having the boss meet with him on that topic.

Thanks Peggie. I'm adding our scheduling team to the cc line. I'd recommend starting meetings @11am, and going thru 2pm, so if that works, we'll hold it. Once the day is built out, we'll allocate some time for his lunch.

Feel free to go direct for scheduling in the future! 😊 -Scott

Can you please share a block of times for R3 meetings on March 13? I'll reach out on the scheduling front and keep you posted.

If in the future you'd like me to reach out to others directly for blocking times, I'm happy to do so.

Please let me know your preference.

We sent to Sherri, Kyle et al late Friday when it first broke and heard back yesterday from Capt Hart that Feb 4 or 11 were preferred dates. Below is the clearance request. He also shared that it would be a day trip (~10am-3/4pm). Please let me know if you need more details. Also, ASL just approved this yesterday as well.

Thank you!

Apologies for sending multiple emails. Attached is the draft press release. The video would be shown at the afternoon event, which will take place at the American Cancer Society and will include a live broadcast. Below is a summary from the press release.

The live event and live broadcast will begin at 2:00 PM at the American Cancer Society Global Headquarters in downtown Atlanta. Public health influencers from around the country will come together to explore strategies for increasing colorectal cancer screening rates with the goal of achieving 80% screening in all communities. Speakers will include the nation's leading cancer control experts, local health care champions, survivors and special guests.

Thanks,

Subject: 30 Second Video for 80% Colorectal Cancer Screening Campaign Launch

Hi Teresa,

I'm reaching out to you in Jeremy's absence. The Division of Cancer Prevention and Control (DCPC) would like to know if Dr. Redfield can do a 30 second video spot promoting the launch of a new 80% campaign, an initiative to achieve 80% colorectal cancer screening by adults aged 50 and older. Here's a link to the current campaign: <http://nccrt.org/what-we-do/80-percent-by-2018/>. The video would be shown at the launch event at Mercedes Benz stadium on March 7. The launch is sponsored by the National Colorectal Cancer Roundtable, Fight Colorectal Cancer, American Cancer Society, Mayo Clinic, Exact Sciences, and UPS during Colorectal Cancer Awareness month.

DCPC would provide the script for Dr. Redfield. Katie Couric and other high profile people are doing similar videos.

We appreciate you considering request. Apologies for the short turnaround. Please let me know if I should reach out to someone else.

Thanks in advance.

Thanks Christina. Teresa, can you coordinate wardrobe for Dr. Redfield?

In terms of the script, since we're filming on Thursday and need to clear the script through OADC, we'll need it no later than EOD Monday.

Thanks!

Hi Ashley,

Thank you for your assistance. When do you need the suggested script? The division is planning to send us a draft script by Monday. We will need to review at the Center before sending it to you.

We need the video in landscape mode and saved as an MP4 or MOV file. The color of colorectal cancer is blue so it would be great if Dr. Redfield can wear a blue tie.

Please let me know if you have any other questions.

Thanks,
Christina

Hello, Cristina. We are working on Dr. Redfield's remarks for this filming and handling logistics with DCS. Can you send over the suggested script as soon as possible? Also, is there a specific format in which you need the video?

Thanks so much,
Ashley

Thanks very much Dr. Scales! I am copying in Matt Trumbull in our office who is handling his master schedule for consultations next week. We will definitely make this work as I know Amb. Hammer really looks forward to talking with Dr. Redfield, and seamless Ebola coordination during the Tshisekedi administration's transition is a top priority.

Hi Emily. I left you a voicemail a few minutes ago about possibly connecting Dr. Redfield with the Ambassador while both are in DC next week on 5 or 6 Feb. They've been e-mailing each other and are looking forward to connecting, so my team and I are trying to identify the correct person to help us arrange something.

Currently we're hoping to use Tuesday after 4pm, or Wednesday between 1-4pm.

We'd appreciate your assistance to help us make the connection.

Best,

Scott

Dear Susan,

Dr. Redfield and Ambassador Hammer corresponded yesterday and plan to meet in Washington next week (Ambassador's invitation). We now have dates for Dr. Redfield's trip to DC and were hoping to nail something down on the schedule. Ambassador Hammer will be in DC Mon-Friday and Dr. Redfield will be there Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb 5-6.

Can you reach out to State or connect us with the right people to schedule?

Matt, we're confirmed at 4pm for the meeting, and we're holding until 5pm, or longer if the Ambassador would like. If acceptable, we'd like to propose our Washington offices as I mentioned yesterday. It's located at 395 E St. SW (Patriot's Plaza). If that works, my colleagues Brad and Aimee on the cc line will be able to arrange for someone to meet and escort the Ambassador in.

Looking forward to hearing back from you and thanks for your continued collaboration!

Sooooo... we just discussed all of this with Scott. There's a very short notice international trip that's likely going to happen and that will impact the week of February 4 – 8. We're now suggesting 2/7 from 3 – 4 PM. The budget release is also moving from that week but could happen the next week, so that's why we're now avoiding 2/12. The bottom line is that we're trying to accommodate this request but there are a lot of things that are priority that may make it impossible to do. Can 2/7 work for you?

2/12 is great... the only thing is that is the last day he'd have to tape. So if he can't tape that day, there won't be a video. If you feel like that's a safe bet, let's do it!

Dear Ms. Cashman,

Thank you for your follow-up. We certainly understand Dr. Redfield's tight schedule, are thankful for his consideration, and appreciate the warm wishes.

I wanted to reach back to see if Dr. Redfield's schedule would permit him to send a short video of reflections and congratulations. Our WRAIR HQ media office is compiling a video with short messages from several, previous WRAIR leaders who are unable to attend in person.

We would be happy to work with your office and/or CDC-Kenya (Dr. DeCock copied) in any way.

We appreciate Dr. Redfield's consideration.

Thank you for inviting Dr. Robert Redfield to attend the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research (WRAIR) 50th Anniversary in Kenya celebration to be held on February 19 at the U.S. Embassy in Nairobi, Kenya. He is truly honored by the invitation; however, the timing is complicated and his fully committed schedule will not permit him to attend.

Dear Ms. Williams,

We are quite thankful for Dr. Redfield taking time out of his busy schedule to send a video.

In light of the heightened security alertness following the January 15 attack on the DusitD2 hotel in Nairobi, the WRAIR/Government of Kenya 50th Anniversary celebration event on Feb 19, 2019 has been postponed until further notice.

We are hopeful Dr. Redfield will proceed in sending a video. We certainly plan on sharing his video along with others when the event is rescheduled.

Thank you very much.

With best regards,

Doug

Good morning Hugh,

Dr. Salama and Dr. Ryan were both not available on Friday, Feb. 15th for the monthly call.

We rescheduled the call for Feb. 19th at 9:30 a.m. with Dr. Ryan only.

Is this acceptable? Do we need to reschedule when Dr. Salama is available?

Also, are there other topics for discussion other than Ebola?

Thanks,
Teresa

Heather and I will come to your office after this meeting. Current updates:

- Tuesday 3-4pm press prep and interviews
- Wednesday 9:30-10:30am press call; 1pm IAE round table
- Thursday? TV (unclear if R3 needs to be there)

R3 is asked to be at HHS for Tuesday and Wednesday. We'll need to give a 30min before and after each, so this will impact Amb Hammer 4pm Tuesday at CDC W.

We expect HHS/ASPA to send an updated Tic toc. Adding KLD as well.

From 3-3:30 pm tomorrow the Secretary and principals will participate in media prep.

From 3:30-4:00 pm tomorrow, they will participate in an embargoed interview with Ricardo Alonso-Zaldivar (AP), Amy Goldstein (WaPo), and Robert Pear (New York Times).

The Secretary will deliver opening remarks and then we will open it up for questions from the three reporter. The interview is embargoed until after the SOTU concludes. All reporters have agreed to these parameters.

Director Redfield should come prepared to answer questions.

Scott,

Heather and I will come to your office after this meeting. Current updates:

- Tuesday 3-4pm press prep and interviews
- Wednesday 9:30-10:30am press call; 1pm IAE round table
- Thursday? TV (unclear if R3 needs to be there)

R3 is asked to be at HHS for Tuesday and Wednesday. We'll need to give a 30min before and after each, so this will impact Amb Hammer 4pm Tuesday at CDC W.

We expect HHS/ASPA to send an updated Tic toc. Adding KLD as well.

Best,

Hugh

Would it be possible to reschedule the Monthly VTC as a 1:1 call with Ambassador Greene?

Would any of the dates/times below work for a call?

3/29 1-1:30 p.m.

If this dates are unacceptable, could you offer some dates/times beginning March 28th?

Thank you for your consideration.

Since it's a 1-1 call, would it be easier to call our office directly at 202-712-4040? If you prefer to use the bridge line you provided in the calendar invitation (1-866-692-3158 x: 81645804#), we can of course do that.

Hi Teresa,

Not a problem pulling down the March 21 VTC.

The Administrator is traveling the week of March 25 so the next available week is April 1. Could we cancel the March VTC completely and then move the April VTC to Friday the 5th? That would actually work better for us since the World Bank meetings are here in DC on Friday, April 12.

Friday, April 5 is relatively flexible right now so we can keep the 9:30am time or shift it, depending on Dr. Redfield's availability.

Thanks!

Dear all

Me again, this time on the topic of the next POB in-person meeting.

As you know, the POB has committed to holding two in-person meetings annually, to which key GPEI donors and partners are invited.

We are proposing to hold the first one in May of this year, in Geneva, and the second hopefully in New York in Q3 (around November, if possible).

For May, after much back and forth, we have identified two possible dates for this day-long meeting.

Could you please let us know which date you prefer, or if you have no preference between the two, that's even better:

The options are:

- Friday May 3
- Monday May 13

Many thanks
Simona

Good afternoon Christine,

I hope you are doing well.

I was informed we need to cancel the monthly calls with Dr. Salama and schedule bi-weekly calls with Dr. Ryan.

I will cancel Dr. Salama's calls beginning in March.

Dr. Redfield said he would make himself available over the week to schedule calls with Dr. Ryan if this time works best for him.

Could we schedule our first bi-weekly call with Dr. Rayn the week of March 18th?

Could you offer some dates/times that would work best for Dr. Ryan?

I look forward to hearing from you.

Best,
Teresa

Hope this message finds you well. I understand you might be able to help me confirm Dr. Redfield for some roll out calls for a post-SOTU announcement Wednesday. Is that the case, and would you be able to put a hold on his calendar for 1:00 – 2:00 PM ET for a round table, and also for some stakeholder calls between 2:00 and 4:30PM ET Wednesday 2/6?

I am coordinating with a few principals on their availability so don't have anything more specific to share right now, but did want to confirm Dr. Redfield is available during that window of time. Please confirm.

Subject: Dr. Redfield availability for meeting at end of December

Hi there!

I miss you guys!

Christa is thinking that we might need to schedule a meeting with Dr. Redfield towards the end of the month to discuss regional planning. Before I go down that road with her, I thought I would first check with the experts to see when he will be working given the upcoming holiday and potential for leave. I think we would need no more than an hour. Do you all have a sense of his availability the week between Christmas and New Year and the first week of January?

Thanks!

Hello Teresa

Does Dr. Redfield have 45 minutes after the 2:00-3:00 lab meeting on Thursday, January 31 to meet with Dr. Breyse (NCEH) and a couple of staff?

It would be good if Kyle could also be there- if his calendar coordinates.

We could do 3:30 – 4:15 if possible. (January 31)

Thanks

Teresa,

Ok. I will look into whether or not we have that capability. I think we were really hoping to have the principals together in one room for the mock hearing to try to create as close to the real environment as we can get...but if there is no possibility that he can make it, we can definitely try to look at other ways to participate – either video or phone. I will get back to you as soon as I have more information.

Would it be possible to move Dr. Redfield's call with the Secretary scheduled Monday, Jan. 28th from 11-11:30 a.m. to the week of Feb. 4th?

Would Feb. 4th from 11:30 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. be available?

If not, could you offer some times the week of Feb. 4th that the Secretary would be available by phone?

Thank you for your consideration.

Hi Tracie and Teresa,

Thanks so much for your help trying to get on the GA SHO's calendar today.

The SHO Assistant is jaszmin.mcdonald@dph.ga.gov and her number is (b)(6) I spoke with her last week (and was very nice) and she advised we try to talk to her today to connect with the new GA SHO Kathleen Toomey.

And to recap, the purpose of this call is :

- Congrats on the new position
- Touch base on request we had previously sent to Dr. O'Neal to try to set up an event next Wednesday with local health directors from counties included as part of the President's HIV initiative.

I'm working on finalizing some talking points for Dr. Redfield and will make sure he has them in advance of the call. Let me know if you need anything else from me!

Hugh,

Happy New Year!

Jono and I met with Kyle on Monday and it was decided that it would be good for us to meet with Dr. Redfield on an on-going basis for a few months on HIV planning. There is some thought that it should be bi-weekly. However, we might decide the frequency after the first meeting.

Kyle noted that we should have the first meeting before January 29th. Can you please let us know some times that may work on January 23 or 24?

Hugh,

Happy New Year!

Jono and I met with Kyle on Monday and it was decided that it would be good for us to meet with Dr. Redfield on an on-going basis for a few months on HIV planning. There is some thought that it should be bi-weekly. However, we might decide the frequency after the first meeting.

Kyle noted that we should have the first meeting before January 29th. Can you please let us know some times that may work on January 23 or 24?

Thanks,

Sara

Attaching his Q&A for Milken – please do not share widely.

Also adding our scheduling team to this thread, to determine whether Dr. Redfield has 30 min to spend with the Zambia NPHI group next week. I'm sure he will want to take the meeting, given his interest in the subject matter, but will confirm with him in the morning.

Thanks!

Hi Ashley,

Nancy Knight has accepted the invite Dr. Redfield deferred regarding the Milken Institute speech in Abu Dhabi in February. We understand that Dr. Redfield spoke at the Milken Institute's October 2018 plenary—is it possible to get his remarks/slides so we know what he covered and what she should reiterate?

Also, a delegation from the Zambia NPHI will be in town all of next week. We had not proposed an OD meeting but given Dr. Redfield's interest in NPHIs we're now wondering whether we should offer him one. What do you think? We could have our DGHP colleagues join as well. It may be a good chance to make the NPHI story come alive. The draft agenda is attached but we can move things around to accommodate an OD meeting.

Let me know your thoughts.

Thanks
Susan

Milken Future of Health 1 on 1 Q&A

QUESTION 1. How can we advance science and speed the development of cures?

Answer: CDC is a data-driven, science-based, service organization that finds out what works best to prevent and control health threats.

QUESTION 2. What's the best way to elevate awareness of the importance of public health?

Answer: It's important that people "see the possible" in public health. One of the biggest obstacles to achieving a major public health goal is getting people to believe it can be done.

HHS-CDC-19-0276-A-008221

QUESTION 3: How do we prepare for an aging population and promote healthy longevity?

Answer: We have to realize life expectancy is plateauing, but we can still make gains if we address social determinants of health in addition to scaling up proven public health tools.

QUESTION 4: Is a sustained culture of health possible?

Answer: Yes, if we see the possible and scale up what we know works (like vaccines) and address the different health outcomes Americans experience.

QUESTION 5: How do we leverage philanthropic capital to test ideas and fuel health innovation?

Answer: Public/private partnerships continue to be a key element in scaling up public health interventions that we know work. We have to build on the gains the private sector has made promoting its own healthy workforces.

QUESTION 6: What are the top existing public health tools we have that could significantly improve health and longevity?

Answer: Vaccines are the strongest tool, followed by losing weight, quitting smoking, screening for cancer, enhancing Electronic Health Records, and finishing the work to eliminate diseases we're close to ending for good.

QUESTION 7: Tell us about your priorities as CDC Director...

Answer: Responding to disease outbreaks, eliminating diseases, and ensuring global health security.

QUESTION 8: You're hopeful to end the AIDS epidemic in 7-10 years. Tell us about that...

Answer: My vision is to eliminate as many diseases as we can. We have to see the possible and, from a broad perspective, enhance America's diagnostic capacity.

QUESTION 9: What happened with CDC staff pulled out of Ebola zone?

Answer: The U.S. Embassy in DRC is determining security measures for all U.S.-sponsored responders, including

HHS-CDC-19-0276-A-008224

Milken Future of Health Summit One-on-One Q&A on 10/23/18

Question 1. How can we advance science and speed the development of cures?

Your Main Point: CDC is a data-driven, science-based, service organization that finds out what works best to prevent and control health threats.

Full Answer: As a data-driven, science-based, service organization, CDC studies interventions to find out what works best to prevent and control health threats. One example is our Prevention Research Centers (PRC) program has worked for decades with communities to develop effective health promotion and disease prevention strategies. Another example is how we work with non-traditional partners from academia to the private sector to health care to develop and promote vaccines.

Question 2. What's the best way to elevate awareness of the importance of public health?

Your Main Point: It's important that people see the possible in public health. One of the biggest obstacles to achieving a major public health goal is getting people to believe it can be done.

Full Answer: I think we have to tell stories that help people see the possible in public health. People need to be reminded that since 1994, child vaccines have saved more than 800,000 lives and prevented nearly 400 million illnesses. They also need to be reminded that we lost 180 children to flu this past season. The numbers are big in public health. Take chronic diseases: we continue to see heart disease, cancer, and type 2 diabetes as the leading causes of death and disability. More than half of all Americans have a chronic disease, and these people account for 90% of all health care spending. The real story is that most chronic diseases can be prevented by educating people on how to avoid key risk behaviors like tobacco use, poor nutrition, lack of physical activity, and excessive alcohol use. There's just no way the health care sector can address these issues alone.

Question 3: How do we prepare for an aging population and promote healthy longevity?

Your Main Point: We have to realize life expectancy is plateauing, but we can still make gains and avoid any more declines if we address social determinants of health, scale up proven tools, and fight the opioid crisis.

Full Answer: First we have to realize that life expectancy is plateauing. The biggest gains in life expectancy happened in the first half of the 20th century – thanks in large part to many great and bold public health initiatives. Between 1900 and 1970, we went from an average lifespan of 47 to 70! But from 1970 to 2001, we only gained 7 years of life. Since 2001, we've only gained 1 extra year in life expectancy. Second, and even more alarming is that life expectancy in the US has declined for the second year in a row – and opioid-related deaths are to blame. There are a lot of factors behind why we are not making big gains in life expectancy, but one important consideration are the social determinants of health. Social factors and environment contribute heavily to a person’s health behaviors and access to care. Those social determinants are present early in life, so we have to lay the foundation for a healthy life early on and maintain a steady course through the aging process. In addition, we have to promote preventive services like annual flu shots, cancer screenings, and links to community services. We can also use the power of existing surveillance systems to track changes in the health and quality of life indicators for older adults. It’s important to remember that people would not be living as long today if not for the gains made in public health. We need to keep investing in public health if we want to continue to improve our health, quality of life, and life expectancy.

Question 4: Is a sustained culture of health possible?

Your Main Point: Yes, if we see the possible and scale up what we know works (like vaccines) and address the different health outcomes Americans experience.

Full Answer: Absolutely! If we always work to see the possible. This starts with taking what we know works and scaling it up. Vaccines are a perfect example. They’re the strongest tool we have and a key component of public health. Consider the HPV vaccine – we now have a vaccine that can prevent 90% of the cancers caused by HPV. Since introducing the vaccine a decade ago, HPV infections have dropped significantly – by 71% in teen girls. This is an extraordinary public health victory. But again I think we’re going to have to address this from every angle, including social determinants of health. To have a “culture of health,” you have to consider that Americans experience different health outcomes depending on race, ethnicity, education, income level, and other factors. We have to make it easier for people to make healthy choices and keep making them.

Question 5: How do we leverage philanthropic capital to test ideas and fuel health innovation?

Your Main Point: Public/private partnerships continue to be a key element in scaling up public health interventions that we know work. We have to build on the gains the private sector has made promoting its own healthy workforces.

Full Answer: Public/private partnerships have been a key element in many public health victories. We have 17 vaccines that protect people across their entire lifespan. That represents decades of innovation and partnerships. I think we’ve seen over the years how the private sector has learned the value of a healthy workforce. That’s an enormous potential to tap into. A good example is the Million Hearts initiative, which has encouraged widespread adoption of healthy interventions across public health, private health care, and communities. We’re going to have to look for more opportunities for partnerships. We can’t get to where we need to be with public health investments alone.

Question 6: What are the top existing public health tools we have that, if implemented, could significantly improve health and longevity?

Your Main Point: Vaccines are strongest tool, followed by losing weight, quitting smoking, screening for cancer, enhancing Electronic Health Records, and finishing the work to eliminate diseases we're close to ending for good.

Full Answer: As I said earlier, vaccines are the strongest tool we have in public health. If everyone was fully vaccinated with available vaccines, we could significantly improve health and longevity. There are even some unexpected benefits with vaccines – we're seeing that the flu vaccine may help protect you from heart attacks, strokes, diabetes, and other chronic diseases. Another proven tool is getting people to lose weight. I've lost a good amount of weight myself since coming to CDC. But it's very critical to reach children before they start to gain significant weight. In addition, encouraging people to quit cigarette smoking protects them from the leading cause of preventable death and disability. Cancer screening is essential, especially colorectal cancer screening. If we could get screening rates to 80%, we could reduce cancer mortality by nearly 20%. And Electronic Health Records are another powerful tool for public health surveillance. Right now there is a 2-year data lag for most of the critical measures like blood pressure control. We need to narrow that lag so we can enhance the tracking, control, and treatment of chronic disease. Finally, we need to finish our efforts to eliminate diseases where we can. We're on the verge of eliminating polio, and it's critical that we see that effort and other disease elimination efforts through to the end.

Question 7: Tell us about your priorities as CDC Director?

Your Main Point: My priorities are focused on responding to disease outbreaks, eliminating diseases, and ensuring global health security.

Full Answer: My priorities are focused on responding to disease outbreaks, eliminating diseases, and ensuring global health security. We have to be ready for the next outbreak whenever and wherever it emerges. We also have to reverse the opioid epidemic. It really is the public health crisis of our time. There are many diseases we are close to eliminating or have the capacity to eliminate. The key is to see the possible, whether it's crossing the finish line with polio or ramping up vaccinations, which are our strongest public health tool. Globally, I'm deeply concerned about pandemic and seasonal flu. Flu remains our number one threat. But we also are addressing antimicrobial resistance, which threatens nearly every sector of society around the world.

Question 8: We've heard you're hopeful to end the AIDS epidemic in 7-10 years. Can you tell us about that?

Your Main Point: My vision is to eliminate as many diseases as we can. We have to see the possible and, from a broad perspective, enhance America's diagnostic capacity.

Full Answer: We're working to end many diseases. From a broader perspective, disease elimination is about seeing the possible. CDC's mission is to protect the health and safety of Americans, including fighting the AIDS epidemic. Whether it's HIV or the opioid epidemic – which is really the public health crisis of our time, I have an overall vision of enhancing America's diagnostic capacity so we can fight emerging threats and eliminate diseases any way and anywhere we can. We need to constantly see the possible. Few people thought the AIDS epidemic could be reversed in Africa, but enormous progress has been made thanks to our work with PEPFAR.

Question 9: What happened with the CDC staff being pulled out of the Ebola zone?

Your Main Point: The outbreak is occurring in a security-compromised zone and the U.S. Embassy in DRC is working to determine security measures for all U.S.-sponsored responders, including CDC.

Full Answer: We are aware that the current Ebola outbreak in the DRC is going on in a security-compromised zone with heavy cross-border movement. We know that violence against responders to the outbreak is possible. As a result, the U.S. Embassy in DRC is working to determine security measures for all U.S.-sponsored responders, including CDC.

Hi Susan,

I will send an invite.

Are there 4 members of the Zambia NPHI's delegation?
Are there other CDC participants to join the meeting?
If so, could you provide their names and I will send an invite to them?

Thanks,
Teresa

Who will escort the delegation to Dr. Redfield's conference room on the 12th floor (DCR)?

Hi, Susan,

Attaching his Q&A for Milken – please do not share widely.

Also adding our scheduling team to this thread, to determine whether Dr. Redfield has 30 min to spend with the Zambia NPHI group next week. I'm sure he will want to take the meeting, given his interest in the subject matter, but will confirm with him in the morning.

Thanks!

Ashley

Subject: Two quick things

Hi Ashley,

Nancy Knight has accepted the invite Dr. Redfield deferred regarding the Milken Institute speech in Abu Dhabi in February. We understand that Dr. Redfield spoke at the Milken Institute's October 2018 plenary—is it possible to get his remarks/slides so we know what he covered and what she should reiterate?

Also, a delegation from the Zambia NPHI will be in town all of next week. We had not proposed an OD meeting but given Dr. Redfield's interest in NPHIs we're now wondering whether we should offer him one. What do you think? We could have our DGHP colleagues join as well. It may be a good chance to make the NPHI story come alive. The draft agenda is attached but we can move things around to accommodate an OD meeting.

Let me know your thoughts.

Thanks
Susan

Hi Michael,

I hope you are well. Dr. Scott Hutchins was recently appointed as our DUS for the Research, Education and Economics Mission Area at USDA. Dr. Hutchins will be traveling to CDC and would be interested in visiting on AMR amongst other areas. Lynn Filpi mentioned that you all are considering trying to second someone on AMR in other countries. Dr. Hutchins is interested in having an international AMR strategy, so that discussion may fit in well too.

I would like to introduce you to his Chief of Staff, Kailee Tkacz and Administrative Assistant Michele Simmons copied here that will be arranging for his visits. May we trouble you to help determine the appropriate folks to meet with during his trip?

Subject: Scheduling time with Dr. Redfield for two USDA visits

Good afternoon Hugh and Seth,

NCEZID SMEs are hosting two separate visits from USDA senior leadership in the next month or so. Our office will handle all security clearances, scheduling details, and agendas as we're the primary hosts, but we'd like to see if Dr. Redfield's schedule permits him to participate in meetings with these visitors.

Dr. Scott Hutchins, the recently appointed as the Deputy Under Secretary for the Research, Education and Economics Mission Areas at USDA, will visit CDC to discuss AMR and toxoplasmosis with SMEs in NCEZID and CGH. He would also like some time to meet Dr. Redfield to discuss (b)(5)

(b)(5)
(b)(5) his visit is anticipated to take place in the afternoon of March 28th or at any point on March 29th. The visitors have some flexibility.

Dr. Mindy Brashears, Deputy Undersecretary for Food Safety, would also like to visit CDC as she is new to the role. USDA suggested April 15th or 19th for this visit. She will also meet with NCEZID SMEs about food safety collaborations during this visit.

Does Dr. Redfield's schedule allow for these meetings?

Can you reach out to see if that's feasible? Looping others that may have insight or potential prep materials to share with him to aid in that call prep.

Got it. If you want to work with us on re-scheduling a shoot, I will work with our photographers to prep but I think the key will be to get him in a relaxed mood and bring out more of his personality.

I might also offer that we set up a time to get a couple of more “relaxed” shots of him for his Twitter account or other instances where a less formal portrait is a better offering, we did this for Dr. Frieden. This could be in his office, with family pictures behind him (that would be blurred out a bit) or in the science set studio set up. Attached are two examples of official Government portraits that do a good job of showing personality as well as providing some context to the person’s job.

Let me know what you think.

Hugh or Seth:

Molly's message was passed to me as photography is part of DCS.

I don't know if you will be with Dr. Redfield when he comes to the studio tomorrow, but I would like the chance to chat a bit to find out what Dr. Redfield likes about the photo in the Director's corner in the hope that we can capture whatever that is in a portrait that is less "official – flag, dark background, etc." but is presented in a CDC or Government context, like in our "science" TV set or on the second floor of the GCC shooting out towards bldg. 21 (a popular set up for a number of leaders).

Happy to help. Regards

Good morning,

Please see below. Would it be possible to have ADM Giroir, Dr. Fauci and Dr. Redfield participate in a conference call hosted by The AIDS Institute, National Association of State and Territorial AIDS Directors, National Coalition of STD Directors, NMAC and AIDS United with their members before COB Friday?

Let me know what is possible for your principal and we will determine how to proceed. Apologize for the short notice, and thank you in advance for your wonderful help.

Steven,

If I am reading this correctly it looks like Dr. Redfield and Fauci are available TODAY between 4:00 and 5:00PM for a conference call with the HIV grassroots advocacy community. Would ADM Giroir be available at that time?

- Dr. Fauci is available between 1 pm - 3 pm and 330 pm - 6 pm.
- Dr. Redfield is available today between 4-5pm, or tomorrow between 11:30 & 1:00.

Hi Tracie,

1. Yes – please keep this week’s update for March and add one for April. We should maintain the monthly rhythm.
2. DUB must haves: John, Rebecca, and presenters.

John or Gena, please let Tracie know who the presenters will be. I assume its Mark and Steve, based on the existing invite.

Best,

Hugh

I have a couple of questions:

2. The Polio DUB, to reschedule I need to know who are the must haves for this meeting. Currently looking at the last week in May and many are out of the office that week.

Dear Teresa and Tracie,

I spoke with John this morning and due to travel schedules and the upcoming in-person POB (May 11, NYC) we'd like to proposed the following changes:

1. April Polio Update – schedule 30min on April 10, 11, or 12
 - a. We currently don't have an April update due to the scheduled DUB
2. Polio DUB – postpone from April 16 to after the POB meeting in May
 - a. The subject of this meeting isn't urgent and in light of the in-person POB is best postponed. Additionally, John is out of town on the 16th
3. POB prep – schedule 30min on May 8, 9, or 10
 - a. Purpose: to review POB materials (expected 1 week prior to meeting) and discuss CDC's positions for the in-person POB (May 11)

Many thanks,

Hugh

Hi Dr Curran ,
This is Steve Waronker the chief of ESA Anesthesiology of Emory healthcare .

I lost my son in December to an opiate overdose . The Emory magazine and hopefully a few other publications have published my essay .

I emailed Jon Lewin this am regarding Dr Redfield and his recent comments on his own personal issues with his son .

Jon told me that you know him ?

Is there anyway I might get this article in his hands to peruse ?

We are getting a lot of traction at Emory with the leadership and also with Cammie Rice and other board members.

I am not sure what direction things will move but I do know saving lives is the root of all of our motivations and aspirations .

Any help or suggestions are greatly appreciated.

Have a great weekend !

Steve

Hi this is in response to the most recent article on rapid onset sufenta for acute pain . Certainly it works well and will be yet another way to divert and kill many more people from overdosing . The fentanyl patches patches are cut and used in many unintended body orifices and the subsys expose on its ability to addict and kill has been in papers and television exposes .

If the fda approves this and or the company markets for anything other than cancer pain we are sadly moving 180 degrees from what we know will save lives

A Son, Stolen

By Steven Waronker 79C

After five years of hoping, and ultimately in vitro fertilization, our Brian joined the family. Five years younger than his brother, Jeffrey, he was our “easy” son.

He was mellow at age two. He grew quickly and was off the charts in height, weight, and smile size. He was truly a gentle giant at six-foot-five and 250 pounds. He was focused only on becoming a future Georgia Bulldog when college time came around. He loved to eat at newly found multi-ethnic food restaurants in every nook and cranny of Buford Highway.

He was our Bri Bri until his senior of high school, when things changed. The smiles became fewer and he hung around with a wilder crowd. We didn’t learn until freshman year at his beloved UGA that he had become hooked on opiates after surgery in his junior year of high school. He got help and did great for more than five years. He graduated from Kennesaw State, had a great job, and was loving life.

On December 29, 2017, he was all packed to go to LA to see the Dawgs play in the Rose Bowl when he took multiple OxyContin and never woke up.

As we prepared for the funeral, the rabbi asked me what he could share with the friends and family. I said, everything. He was astonished and happy he could talk about the opiate epidemic and acknowledge openly that it’s what took our beloved Brian at such a young age.

I am a physician of thirty years, and I did a lot of pain management in my early career. I’ve also personally experienced excruciating physical pain for long stretches, often at a level of ten on a ten-point scale due to two major lumbar spine surgeries and a host of related procedures.

At any time, I could easily have prescribed long-acting opiates for my patients’ pain, and asked my treating physicians to do the same for me. But for 99 percent of patients, myself included, there is zero need for any of these long-acting, sustained-release addictive narcotics.

Zero. So why do we have a 99 percent abuse problem?

There is no single cause for the opioid epidemic, but the abuse—and the addiction that almost inevitably follows—starts with prescription medications. High school and college kids usually get their first samples from a prescribing doctor, their mom and dad’s medicine chest, or from some opportunistic dealer who preys on poor people that he convinces to fill their own scripts for profit, not pain. Certainly, heroin and fentanyl are components of this crisis, but they often come after access to pills has been reduced and street costs have gotten too expensive. What’s being done now to stop this, and what more can we do?

Lately, media outlets have been shining a revealing light on the harrowing realities of this crisis. At the same time, more and more brave men and women are standing up for ethics and morals, at the risk of their own livelihoods, by becoming whistleblowers and exposing dubious, unethical, and perhaps illegal practices in the pharmaceutical industry.

Thanks to them, we are now more seriously questioning why opioids are so widely available to those suffering from addiction. There are many who desperately want to stop, but simply cannot in a world of such plenty. We ask how “big pharma” distributors can, in good conscience, ship huge quantities of pain pills to small towns, knowing the ultimate destinations will be big city streets. Where is the justice as pharmaceutical profits soar into the billions, at the expense of over fifty thousand innocent lives lost every year to addiction and abuse?

I could not be more grateful that questions like these are finally being asked so publicly. It will take the best-in-class of the departments and agencies of the FDA, HHS, and DEA to turn off the spigot of this poison. Our elected officials will have to commit to putting the right laws and regulations in place. This will require tremendous willpower—standing tall and not acquiescing to the huge and diverse pharma lobbyists. Talented class-action trial attorneys need to continue plowing forward relentlessly. And it will take you and me to support them all.

Our society deserves better. We deserve better. My beautiful Brian certainly deserved better.

In continuation to our conversation earlier this week, Dr. Collins is now confirmed for international travel starting the afternoon of January 22. Dr. Collins will travel directly from Europe to Rwanda.

Any chance of us coordinating a call for tomorrow, January 18 any time between 12PM and 1PM or any time after 3:15PM? If this doesn't fit into Dr. Redfield's schedule, Dr. Collins will make himself available Saturday, Sunday, or Monday afternoon.

Thanks Teresa,

I think Dr. Redfield would be open to a quick call (15min) while on Annual leave, but clearly better to do during working hours.

Best,

Hugh

Hi Hugh,

Dr. Collins is not available the week of January 21st, but could possibly schedule a call on Jan. 18th, but I advised that Dr. Redfield would be on annual leave.

His office will get back to me once they know more about his schedule.

I will follow up soon.

Thanks,

Teresa

Subject: NIH call - Collins

Hi Tracie and Teresa,

During yesterday's call with Ambassador Vrooman we learned that Dr. Francis Collins, NIH will be traveling to Rwanda and meeting with high level officials in the Government, including the Minister of Health. Dr. Redfield would like to schedule a call with him in advance of his trip January 28. Can we look for 30min on the calendar in the next two weeks? It looks like the 25th might be a good option. Ray and Inger are welcome, but if the timing is better for a 1:1 Dr. Redfield is comfortable with that option as well.

Many thanks,

Hugh

Importance: High

Hi Scott and Seth,

Please see the below proposed dates for a CDC visit by A/DASD Mark Swayne (bio attached); please let me know what date works for Dr. Redfield. This visit was 'greenlighted' by Dr. Redfield and Kyle when we met earlier this week. The intent is to discuss DoD's perspective on the DRC EVD outbreak as well as a collaborative approach to future/ongoing public health responses in insecure areas. I will help with logistics and building the agenda, but wanted to first identify a date that works for Dr. Redfield.

Other planning considerations:

1. Dr. Redfield mentioned wanting RADM Wolfe to attend, since he has met with A/DASD Swayne previously and initiated this meeting (Flo cc'd for SA/coord).
2. Mr. Swayne will be at CDC throughout the day; other potential meetings include:
 - a. Ebola focused meeting with Inger Damon, Ray Arthur, etc
 - b. Mr. Swayne offered to host an informational session about OSD-Policy/SOLIC with relevant CDC leadership and staff (e.g. the DoD WG)
 - c. Lab and EOC tours

SUBJECT: Welcome Secretary Azar and Continuation of Deputy Secretary and Division Head Meetings

As you all know, Secretary Azar recently joined HHS, and we welcome his leadership and vision. As the Secretary and his staff transition into HHS, we look forward to a smooth process.

At the request of the Secretary, and in an effort to limit disruption and advance HHS's mission during this transition period, the Deputy Secretary and division leadership will continue their regularly scheduled one-on-one meetings focused on the day-to-day management and operations of the department and the regulatory development and clearance process. Briefings to the Secretary and Deputy Secretary on Presidential initiatives, Secretarial initiatives, policy development and other unique issues will continue to be scheduled and coordinated through the counselors, the scheduling team and the HHS Executive Secretariat. The operating and staff division leaders will be contacted to schedule initial briefings with the Secretary and staff and for briefings on other issues as they arise.

We look forward to working with you all to achieve HHS's mission and once again, welcome Secretary Azar!

Eric D. Hargan
Deputy Secretary, HHS

Unfortunately we don't have any confirmed DC travel outside of April 2-4.

Would it be possible to schedule the meeting as a call on March 28th between 2:30-3:30 p.m. or March 29th between 1:30-2:30 p.m.?

Thanks,

- Tuesday 3-4pm press prep and interviews
- Wednesday 9:30-10:30am press call; 1pm IAE round table
- Thursday? TV (unclear if R3 needs to be there)

R3 is asked to be at HHS for Tuesday and Wednesday. We'll need to give a 30min before before and after each, so this will impact Amb Hammer 4pm Tuesday at CDC W.

We expect HHS/ASPA to send an updated Tic toc. Adding KLD as well.

Dr. Redfield may be in DC on March 12-15, so the options the week of the 10th are March 11th and March 15th.

Would those dates work? If so, could you offer some times after 1:30 p.m. on March 11th and anytime between 9-11 a.m. and 2:30-4:00 p.m. on March 15th?

Hi Teresa,

Hope your day is going well!

Could you help me add a 15 minute meeting for Dr. Redfield, Sherri, and Dr. Houry, on Monday 2/11, right before the SL roundtable? Dr. Houry asked for the chance to brief Dr. Redfield on updates on the Drug Free Communities program. Sherri and Kyle both approved this request.

Thanks so much for your help. Let me know if you need any more information!
Heather

Hey Heather, does Dr. Redfield have 15 minutes or so before or after SL Roundtable on Monday to chat with Deb? We need to brief him on the Drug Free Communities program.

Heather, thanks for setting this up. I know you mentioned Sherri will be there, if you all would like, feel free to extend the invitation to Anne, Kyle, and KLD as well. Anne, Sherri, Kyle have all been involved in the discussions, but KLD has not been, so may be good for her to join if available. I can reach out to Kiersten if easier, but wanted to check in with you all first.

I provided Heather more context on the DFC program earlier, but essentially is a large program we may be getting in injury from ONDCP that could be announced next week, so wanted to fill all the key people in before that. Thanks.

Brandon

Subject: RE: Global Water 2020 Meeting Request Invitation

Good afternoon Mr. Douglas,

I am following up on your request to schedule a meeting with Dr. Redfield in Atlanta to discuss the issue of the lack of access to safe water, sanitation and hygiene (WASH) in healthcare facilities (HCF) in developing countries.

Would you be available on March 28th from 11-11:45 a.m.?

Also, will anyone join you?

I look forward to hearing from you.

Kind Regards,
Teresa
