Hello,

Thanks for your email, here's our narrowed down request –

We're requesting records and communications to and from Robert Ray Redfield, Anne Schuchat, and Sandra Cashman, John J. Dreyzehner and Rudolph "Rudy" Johnson in which the CDC planned for and prepared for potential U.S. cases of COVID-19 before the first of those cases occurred in the United States. For example, that would include, among other things, any talking points developed or circulated to or from these staff about preparation and planning, and mentions of testing kits, quarantine wards and field hospitals. You can exclude news clips.

Hope this helps, please let me know if you need anything else. I'm also sending this same message in the PAL system to make sure you've received it.

Best,
Jingnan
